"FX Disrupted Day" means any FX Business Day on which an FX Market Disruption Event occurs.

"FX Market Disruption Event" means:

"FX Price Source Disruption" means it becomes impossible or otherwise impracticable to obtain and/or execute the relevant rate(s) required to calculate the Currency Price on the Averaging Date or Valuation Date or other relevant date, or, if different, the day on which rates for that Averaging Date or Valuation Date or other relevant date, as the case may be, would in the ordinary course be published or announced by the relevant FX Price Source.

"FX Trading Suspension or Limitation" means the suspension of and/or limitation of trading in the rate(s) required to calculate the relevant Currency Price in the Interbank Market provided that such suspension or limitation of trading is material in the opinion of the Calculation Agent.

"Inconvertibility Event" means the occurrence, as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, of any action, event or circumstance whatsoever which, from a legal or practical perspective:

- (a) has the direct or indirect effect of hindering, limiting or restricting (i) the convertibility of the relevant Subject Currency into the Base Currency, or (ii) the transfer of the Subject Currency or the Base Currency to countries other than the countries for which the Subject Currency or the Base Currency, as the case may be, is the lawful currency (including without limitation, by way of any delays, increased costs or discriminatory rates of exchange or any current or future restrictions); and/or

"Other Published Sources" means, in respect of any relevant day, that the Calculation Agent will determine the Currency Price on such relevant day on the basis of the exchange rate for one unit of the Base Currency in terms of the Subject Currency published by available recognised financial information vendors (as selected by the Calculation Agent) other than the applicable FX Price Source, at or around the applicable Valuation Time on such relevant day.

"Postponement" means, in respect of a Valuation Date or an Averaging Date, if such day (or, if applicable, if the original day on which such Valuation Date or an Averaging Date, as the case may be, is scheduled to fall (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) is postponed on account of such original day not being an FX Business Day, such postponed day) is an FX Disrupted Day, then:

- (a) where the FX Linked Instruments relate to a single Currency Price, such Valuation Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, shall be the first succeeding FX Business Day that is not an FX Disrupted Day, unless the Calculation Agent determines that each of the consecutive FX Business Days equal in number to the Maximum Days of Postponement immediately following such Scheduled Valuation Date or Scheduled Averaging Date, as the case may be, is an FX Disrupted Day. In that case, (i) that last consecutive FX Business Day shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date or the Averaging Date, as the case may be (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be an FX Disrupted Day) and (ii) the next applicable Disruption Fallback shall apply; or
- (b) where the FX Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Currency Prices, such Valuation Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, for each Currency Price not affected by the occurrence of an FX Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Valuation Date or Scheduled Averaging Date, as the case may be, and the Valuation Date for each Currency Price affected (each an "Affected Currency Price") by the occurrence of an FX Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding FX Business Day that is not an FX Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Currency Price, unless the Calculation Agent determines that each of the consecutive FX Business Days equal in number to the Maximum Days of Postponement immediately following such Scheduled Valuation Date or Scheduled Averaging Date, as the case may be, is an FX Disrupted Day. In that case for each Affected Currency Price, (i) that last consecutive FX Business Day shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date or the Averaging Date, as the case may be (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be an FX Disrupted Day) and (ii) the next applicable Disruption Fallback shall apply.

"Price Materiality Event" means, in respect of a Currency Price and a Valuation Date, Averaging Date or other relevant date, that the FX Price Source differs from the Fallback Reference Price by at least the Price Materiality Percentage (and if both an FX Price Source Disruption and a Price Materiality Event occur or exist on any day, it shall be deemed that an FX Price Source Disruption and not a Price Materiality Event occurred or existed on such day).

"Price Materiality Percentage" means the percentage specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Reference Dealers" means, in respect of each Subject Currency, four leading dealers in the relevant foreign exchange market, as determined by the Calculation Agent (or any other number of dealers as specified in the applicable Final Terms).

"Specified Financial Centre(s)" means the financial centre(s) specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Valuation Date" means:

- (a) if the applicable Final Terms specify that the EM Currency Provisions shall not apply to a Currency Price, each Valuation Date specified in the applicable Final Terms or if that is not an FX Business Day the first following day which is an FX Business Day, or, if earlier the Valuation Cut-Off Date (such day, the "Scheduled Valuation Date" corresponding to such Valuation Date). If a Valuation Date falls on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, then, subject to the applicable Final Terms, the first applicable Disruption Fallback specified as a consequence of an FX Market Disruption Event shall apply (as if an FX Market Disruption Event had occurred), or, if none is specified, Calculation Agent Determination shall be deemed to apply; or
- (b) if the applicable Final Terms specify that the EM Currency Provisions shall apply to a Currency Price, each Valuation Date specified in the applicable Final Terms (the "Scheduled Valuation Date" in respect of such Currency Price, if such day is an FX Business Day for such Currency Price, or if such day is not an FX Business Day only by reason of being an Unscheduled Holiday for such Currency Price), or the immediately preceding FX Business Day for such Currency Price, as determined by the Calculation Agent (the "Scheduled Valuation Date" in respect of such Currency Price, if such day is not an FX Business Day and is not an Unscheduled Holiday for such Currency Price), provided that such Valuation Date shall be subject to adjustment in accordance with FX Linked Condition 3 and FX Linked Condition 4.

"Valuation Time" means the Valuation Time specified in the applicable Final Terms.

3. Consequences of an FX Disrupted Day

If the Calculation Agent determines that any Valuation Date or Averaging Date is an FX Disrupted Day, then the Currency Price for such Valuation Date or Averaging Date will be determined in accordance with the terms of the first applicable Disruption Fallback. The applicable Final Terms may provide that one or more Disruption Fallbacks may apply to any Valuation Date or Averaging Date and that such applicable Disruption Fallbacks may apply concurrently or sequentially, in such manner as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

4. EM Currency Provisions: Unscheduled Holiday

- (a) If the applicable Final Terms provide that the EM Currency Provisions shall apply to a Currency Price or Fallback Reference Price, as applicable, and any Valuation Date or Averaging Date, and that Unscheduled Holidays shall be applicable, then, if the Calculation Agent determines that the relevant Scheduled Valuation Date or Scheduled Averaging Date, as applicable (each, a "Scheduled Reference Date"), is an Unscheduled Holiday for such Currency Price or Fallback Reference Price, then the Valuation Date or Averaging Date shall be postponed to the first FX Business Day falling after the Scheduled Reference Date (the "Adjusted Scheduled Reference Date"), provided that if such first FX Business Day has not occurred on or before the last day of the Maximum Days of Deferral, then the next day after the Last Deferred Day that would have been an FX Business Day but for a Unscheduled Holiday shall be deemed to be the Adjusted Scheduled Reference Date.

- (b) The following terms and expressions shall have the following meanings:

"Last Deferred Day" means, in respect of any postponement by a number of days equal to the Maximum Days of Deferral, the last day to which such day is postponed.

"Maximum Days of Deferral" means such number of calendar days (or other type of days) as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Unscheduled Holiday" means, in respect of a Currency Price or Fallback Reference Price, as applicable, a day that is not an FX Business Day and the market was not aware of such fact (by means of a public announcement or by reference to other publicly available information) until a time later than 9.00 a.m., local time in the Specified Financial Centre in respect of such Currency Price or Fallback Reference Price, two FX Business Days prior to such day.

5. EM Currency Provisions: EM Valuation Postponement

If the applicable Final Terms provide that the EM Currency Provisions shall apply to a Currency Price (which term shall include, where the Final Terms provide that the prior applicable Disruption Fallback is "Fallback Reference Price", the Currency Price determined using the applicable Fallback Reference Price) and any Valuation Date or Averaging Date, and that EM Valuation Postponement shall be applicable, then, if the Calculation Agent determines that the relevant Scheduled Reference Date (if the Scheduled Reference Date is not an Unscheduled Holiday for the Currency Price) or the Adjusted Scheduled Reference Date (if the Scheduled Reference Date is an Unscheduled Holiday for the Currency Price) is an FX Disrupted Day, then such Valuation Date or Averaging Date shall be the first FX Business Day which is not an FX Disrupted Day unless an FX Market Disruption Event continues to exist (measured from such Scheduled Reference Date or Adjusted Scheduled Reference Rate, as applicable) for a consecutive number of calendar days equal to the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement. In that case, the Currency Price will be determined on the next FX Business Day after the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement in accordance with the next applicable Disruption Fallback as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Where:

"Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement" means such number of calendar days (or other type of days) as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

6. EM Currency Provisions: EM Fallback Valuation Postponement

If the applicable Final Terms provide that the EM Currency Provisions shall apply and that EM Fallback Valuation Postponement shall be applicable and where the Final Terms provide that the prior applicable Disruption Fallback is "Fallback Reference Price", if the Calculation Agent determines that the Currency Price (as determined by reference to the applicable Fallback Reference Price) is not available on (a) the first FX Business Day following the end of the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement (where an FX Market Disruption Event has occurred or exists in respect of the Currency Price throughout the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement) or (b) on the Adjusted Scheduled Reference Date (where the Adjusted Scheduled Reference Date falls after the Last Deferred Day) then the Valuation Date or Averaging Date shall be the first succeeding FX Business Day which is not an FX Disrupted Day in respect of the Currency Price unless an FX Market Disruption Event continues to exist throughout the Fallback Maximum Period of Postponement. In that case, the Currency Price will be determined on the Last Fallback Postponement Date in accordance with the next applicable Disruption Fallback.

Where:

"Fallback Maximum Period of Postponement" means the period commencing on, and including:

- (a) if an FX Market Disruption Event has occurred or exists in respect of the Currency Price throughout the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement, the first FX Business Day following the end of the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement; or
- (b) if the Adjusted Scheduled Reference Date falls after the Last Deferred Day, the Adjusted Scheduled Reference Date, and ending on, and including, the third FX Business Day (or such other day as specified in the applicable Final Terms) following such date as specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) above, as applicable (such date, the "Last Fallback Postponement Date").

7. EM Currency Provisions: Cumulative Events

If the applicable Final Terms provide that the EM Currency Provisions shall apply to a Currency Price and any Valuation Date or Averaging Date, and that Cumulative Events shall be applicable, then the total number of consecutive calendar days during which (a) such Valuation Date or Averaging Date is deferred due to an Unscheduled Holiday, (b) an EM Valuation Postponement shall occur in respect of such Valuation Date or Averaging Date, or (c) an EM Fallback Valuation Postponement shall occur in respect of such Valuation Date or Averaging Date (or any combination of (a), (b) and (c)), shall not exceed the Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement in the aggregate. Accordingly, (i) if such Valuation Date or Averaging Date is postponed by the number of calendar days equal to the Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement owing to an EM Valuation Postponement or EM Fallback Valuation Postponement (or both), and an Unscheduled Holiday shall have occurred or be continuing on the day following the relevant Last Postponed Day that otherwise would have been an FX Business Day, then such day shall be deemed to be such Valuation Date or Averaging Date and (ii) if such Valuation Date or Averaging Date is postponed by the number of calendar days equal to the Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement owing to Unscheduled Holidays, and on the first day after the Last Postponed Day, an applicable FX Market Disruption Event shall have occurred or be continuing, then the Currency Price in respect of such Valuation Date or Averaging Date or other relevant date shall be determined in accordance with the next applicable Disruption Fallback.

Where:

"Last Postponed Day" means, in respect of any postponement by a number of days equal to the Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement, the last day to which such day is postponed; and

"Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement" means such number of calendar days (or other type of days) as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

8. Corrections to Published and Displayed Rates

- (a) In any case where a Currency Price is based on information obtained from the Reuters Monitor Money Rates Service, or any other financial information service, the Currency Price will be subject to the corrections, if any, to that information subsequently displayed by that source within one hour of the time when such rate is first displayed by such source, unless the Calculation Agent determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner that it is not practicable to take into account such correction.
- (b) Notwithstanding FX Linked Condition 8(a), in any case where the Currency Price is based on information published or announced by any governmental authority in a relevant country, the Currency Price will be subject to the corrections, if any, to that information subsequently published or announced by that source within five calendar days of the relevant date, unless the Calculation Agent determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner that it is not practicable to take into account such correction.

9. Successor Currency

Where the applicable Final Terms specify that "Successor Currency" is applicable in respect of a Currency Price, then:

- (a) each Subject Currency and Base Currency will be deemed to include any lawful successor currency to the Subject Currency or Base Currency (the "Successor Currency");

- (b) if the Calculation Agent determines that on or after the Issue Date (or such other date as specified in the applicable Final Terms) but on or before any relevant date under the Instruments on which an amount may be payable, a country has lawfully eliminated, converted, redenominated or exchanged its currency in effect on the Issue Date or any Successor Currency, as the case may be (the "Original Currency") for a Successor Currency, then for the purposes of calculating any amounts of the Original Currency or effecting settlement thereof, any Original Currency amounts will be converted to the Successor Currency by multiplying the amount of Original Currency by a ratio of Successor Currency to Original Currency, which ratio will be calculated on the basis of the exchange rate set forth by the relevant country of the Original Currency for converting the Original Currency into the Successor Currency on the date on which the elimination, conversion, redenomination or exchange took place, as determined by the Calculation Agent. If there is more than one such date, the date closest to such relevant date will be selected (or such other date as may be selected by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner);
- (c) notwithstanding paragraph (b) above but subject to paragraph (d) below, the Calculation Agent may (to the extent permitted by the applicable law), in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, select such other exchange rate or other basis for the conversion of an amount of the Original Currency to the Successor Currency and, will make such adjustment(s) that it determines to be appropriate, if any, to any variable, calculation methodology, valuation, settlement, payment terms or any other terms in respect of the Instruments to account for such elimination, conversion, redenomination or exchange of the Subject Currency or Base Currency, as the case may be; and
- (d) notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, with respect to any Subject Currency or Base Currency that is substituted or replaced by the Euro, the consequences of such substitution or replacement will be determined in accordance with applicable law.

10. Rebasing of Instruments

If the applicable Final Terms specify that "Rebasing" is applicable, then if, on or prior to any Valuation Date or Averaging Date or any other relevant date, the Calculation Agent is unable to obtain a value for a Subject Currency (because the Subject Currency and/or Base Currency ceases to exist, or for any other reason other than a temporary disruption, as determined by the Calculation Agent), the Calculation Agent may rebase the Instruments against another foreign exchange rate determined by the Calculation Agent, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, to be a comparable foreign exchange rate. If the Calculation Agent determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner that there is not such a comparable foreign exchange rate, the Issuer may take the action described in FX Linked Condition 11(a)(ii)(A) or 11(a)(ii)(B) below, provided that the words "the Additional Disruption Event" in FX Linked Condition 11(a)(ii)(A) and FX Linked Condition 11(a)(ii)(B) shall be deemed to be replaced with the words "the inability of the Calculation Agent to obtain a value for the Subject Currency".

11. Consequences of an Additional Disruption Event

If the applicable Final Terms specify that Additional Disruption Events shall be applicable, then:

- (a) following the determination by the Calculation Agent that an Additional Disruption Event has occurred, the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may take the action described in (i) or (ii) below:
 - (i) require the Calculation Agent to determine in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any of the other terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms to account for the Additional Disruption Event and determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
 - (ii) (A) in the case of Notes, give notice to Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 and redeem all, but not less than all, of the Notes, each nominal amount of Notes equal to the Calculation Amount being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or

- (B) in the case of W&C Instruments, give notice to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 and cancel the W&C Instruments. If the W&C Instruments are so cancelled the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, held by him which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Additional Disruption Event, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12;
- (b) upon the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, stating the occurrence of the Additional Disruption Event giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of the Additional Disruption Event; and
- (c) the following terms and expressions shall have the following meanings:

"Additional Disruption Event" means any of a Change in Law, a Hedging Disruption and/or an Increased Cost of Hedging.

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (or such other date as specified in the applicable Final Terms) of the Instruments (i) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (ii) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Calculation Agent determines in good faith that (A) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any relevant currency or asset, or (B) the Issuer or any affiliate(s) of the Issuer or any entity (or entities) acting on behalf of the Issuer engaged in any underlying or hedging transactions in respect of the Issuer's obligations under the Instruments will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations in relation to the Instruments (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position).

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer or any entity (or entities) acting on behalf of the Issuer engaged in any underlying or hedging transactions in respect of the Issuer's obligations in relation to the Instruments is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the currency or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to or in connection with the relevant Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s).

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the currency or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the relevant Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s), provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging.

In that case, the next Disruption Fallback specified in the definition of "Disruption Fallback" below will apply.

"Price Source" means the publication (or such other origin of reference, including an Exchange) containing (or reporting) the Specified Price (or prices from which the Specified Price is calculated) for the Commodity Reference Price (or, if there is no Specified Price for a Commodity Reference Price, such Commodity Reference Price) or otherwise in the applicable Final Terms (provided that in respect of a Commodity Index, if the relevant Commodity Reference Price is not published on such Price Source, the Calculation Agent may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, (a) use a successor page or publication or alternative source as it considers appropriate, (b) determine that such non-publication amounts to a Market Disruption Event in respect of such Commodity Index in accordance with Commodity Linked Condition 4, or (c) determine that such non-publication amounts to a Commodity Index Adjustment Event in respect of the Commodity Index, and proceed in accordance with Commodity Linked Condition 5).

"Price Source Disruption" means:

- (a) the failure of the Price Source to announce or publish the Specified Price (or the information necessary for determining the Specified Price) for the relevant Commodity Reference Price (or, if there is no Specified Price for a Commodity Reference Price, such Commodity Reference Price); or
- (b) the temporary or permanent discontinuance or unavailability of the Price Source.

"Pricing Date" means, with respect to a Commodity or a Commodity Index, each date specified as such or otherwise as provided in the applicable Final Terms (each such original date, a "Scheduled Pricing Date"), provided that if any Scheduled Pricing Date is not a Commodity Business Day for such Commodity or Commodity Index (as the case may be), then the Pricing Date for such Commodity or Commodity Index (as the case may be) will be the earlier of (a) the next following Commodity Business Day for such Commodity or Commodity Index (as the case may be), and (b) the Commodity Cut-Off Date or Commodity Index Cut-Off Date (as the case may be), and subject to adjustment as provided in Commodity Linked Condition 4 (Market Disruption and Disruption Fallback).

"Relevant Price" means for any Pricing Date, the price, expressed as a price per unit of the Commodity or the price of the Commodity Index, determined with respect to that day for the specified Commodity Reference Price calculated as provided in these Commodity Linked Conditions and the applicable Final Terms.

"Specified Price" means, in respect of a Commodity Reference Price, any of the following prices (which must be a price reported in or by, or capable of being determined from information reported in or by, the relevant Price Source) as specified in the applicable Final Terms (and, if

"Strike Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

3. Terms relating to Calculation of Prices

(a) Common Pricing

If "Common Pricing" is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be:

(i) "Applicable", then, if any Scheduled Pricing Date is not a day on which all referenced Commodity Reference Prices (for which such date would otherwise be a Pricing Date) are scheduled to be published or announced, as determined on the Trade Date of the Instruments, then the Pricing Date shall be the next following day on which all referenced Commodity Reference Prices (for which such date would otherwise be a Pricing Date) are scheduled to be published or announced, as determined on the Trade Date of the Instruments; or

(ii) "Not Applicable", then this Commodity Linked Condition 3(a) shall not apply.

If the Calculation Agent determines that a Market Disruption Event has occurred or exists on any Pricing Date in respect of any relevant Commodity (an "Affected Commodity") and/or Commodity Index (an "Affected Commodity Index"), the Relevant Price of each Commodity and/or Commodity Index within the basket which is not affected by the occurrence of a Market Disruption Event shall be determined on the Scheduled Pricing Date and the Relevant Price for each Affected Commodity or Affected Commodity Index shall be determined in accordance with the first applicable Disruption Fallback that provides a Relevant Price.

All determinations made by the Calculation Agent pursuant to this Condition will be conclusive and binding on the Holders, the Issuer and the Guarantor, except in the case of manifest error.

(b) Correction to Published Prices

For purposes of determining or calculating the Relevant Price (or any price or value published or announced on any date which is utilised for any calculation or determination in connection with the Commodity Linked Instruments), if the price published or announced on a given day and used or to be used by the Calculation Agent to determine a Relevant Price (or any price or value published or announced on any date which is utilised for any calculation or determination in connection with the Commodity Linked Instruments) is subsequently corrected and the correction is published or announced by the person responsible for that publication or announcement within 30 calendar days after the original publication or announcement (or, if earlier the day falling two Business Days preceding the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made, in each case calculated by reference to such Relevant Price (or any price or value published or announced on any date which is utilised for any calculation or determination in connection with the Commodity Linked Instruments)), the Calculation Agent may, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, use such corrected price in such calculation.

4. Market Disruption and Disruption Fallback

If, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, a Market Disruption Event (as defined below) has occurred and is continuing on any Pricing Date (or, if different, the day on which the price for that Pricing Date would, in the ordinary course, be published by the Price Source), the Relevant

Price for that Pricing Date will be determined by the Calculation Agent, in accordance with the first applicable Disruption Fallback (as set out below) that provides a Relevant Price:

(a) Market Disruption Event

"Market Disruption Event" means the occurrence of any of the following events:

- (i) with respect to all Commodities:
 - (A) Price Source Disruption;
 - (B) Commodity Trading Disruption;
 - (C) Disappearance of Commodity Reference Price;
 - (D) an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date in respect of the Commodity Reference Price; and
- (ii) with respect to all Commodities other than gold, silver, platinum or palladium:
 - (A) Material Change in Formula;
 - (B) Material Change in Content; and
 - (C) any additional Market Disruption Events as specified in the applicable Final Terms; and
- (iii) with respect to a Commodity Index:
 - (A) a temporary or permanent failure by the applicable exchange or other price source to announce or publish (I) the Commodity Reference Price (provided that the Calculation Agent may, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine that such failure (aa) shall not be a Market Disruption Event and shall instead be dealt with under paragraph (a) of the proviso to the definition of Price Source specified in Commodity Linked Condition 2, or (bb) shall instead amount to a Commodity Index Adjustment Event in respect of such Commodity Index, and proceed in accordance with Commodity Linked Condition 5 (Adjustments to a Commodity Index)) or (II) the closing price for any futures contract included in the Commodity Index;
 - (B) a material limitation, suspension or disruption of trading in one or more of the futures contracts included in the Commodity Index which results in a failure by the exchange on which each applicable futures contract is traded to report a closing price for such contract on the day on which such event occurs or any succeeding day on which it continues; or
 - (C) the closing price for any futures contract included in the Commodity Index is a "limit price", which means that the closing price for such contract for a day has increased or decreased from the previous day's closing price by the maximum amount permitted under applicable exchange rules.

(iv) Disruption Fallback

"Disruption Fallback" means a source or method that may give rise to an alternative basis for determining the Relevant Price in respect of a specified Commodity Reference Price when a Market Disruption Event occurs or exists on a day that is a Pricing Date in respect of the relevant Instrument. A Disruption Fallback is applicable if it is specified in the applicable Final Terms or, if no Disruption Fallback is specified in the applicable Final Terms, shall mean:

- (A) with respect to a relevant Commodity (in the following order):

- (i) Fallback Reference Price (if applicable);
 - (ii) Delayed Publication or Announcement and Postponement (each to operate concurrently with the other and each subject to a period of two consecutive Commodity Business Days (measured from and including the original day that would otherwise have been the Pricing Date (or, if applicable, measured from and including the day that is the original date that would otherwise have been the Pricing Date, following any adjustment on account of such original date not being a Commodity Business Day)), or, if shorter, the period commencing on, and including, the original day that would otherwise have been the Pricing Date and ending on, and including, the Commodity Cut-Off Date) provided, however, that the price determined by Postponement shall be the Relevant Price only if Delayed Publication or Announcement does not yield a Relevant Price within those two consecutive Commodity Business Days (or, if applicable, the number of Commodity Business Days (if any) falling within the period ending on the Commodity Cut-Off Date); and
 - (iii) Calculation Agent Determination;
- (B) with respect to a Commodity Index, the Calculation Agent shall determine the Relevant Price using (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms):
- (i) with respect to each futures contract included in the Commodity Index which is not affected by the Market Disruption Event, the closing prices of each such contract on the applicable determination date;
 - (ii) with respect to each futures contract included in the Commodity Index which is affected by the Market Disruption Event, but for which a Market Disruption Event ceased to exist on or prior to the Commodity Index Cut-Off Date, the closing prices of each such contract on the first day following the applicable determination date on which no Market Disruption Event is occurring with respect to such contract; and
 - (iii) with respect to each futures contract included in the Commodity Index which is affected by the Market Disruption Event, where a Market Disruption Event continues to exist as of the Commodity Index Cut-Off Date, the Calculation Agent's good faith estimate of the closing price of each such contract on the Commodity Index Cut-Off Date;

Subject as provided below, the Calculation Agent shall determine the Relevant Price by reference to the closing prices determined in (i), (ii) and (iii) above or as specified in the applicable Final Terms above using the then-current method for calculating the Commodity Reference Price.

Where (A) the original date that would otherwise have been the Pricing Date is adjusted on account of such original date not being a Commodity Business Day, and the Pricing Date would fall on or after the Commodity Index Cut-Off Date following such adjustment, or (B) a Market Disruption Event with respect to one or more futures contracts included in the Commodity Index has occurred on an applicable determination date and continues to exist as of the relevant Commodity Index Cut-Off Date for such applicable determination date, the Calculation Agent shall determine the Relevant Price on such Commodity Index Cut-Off Date. In calculating the Relevant Price as set out herein, the Calculation Agent shall use the formula for calculating the Commodity Reference Price last in effect prior to the Market Disruption Event (if applicable).

5. Adjustments to a Commodity Index

(a) Consequences of a Successor Index Sponsor or a Successor Index

If a relevant Commodity Index is (i) not calculated and announced by the Index Sponsor but is calculated and announced by a successor sponsor (the "Successor Index Sponsor") acceptable to the Issuer, or (ii) replaced by a successor index using, in the determination of the Calculation Agent, the same or a substantially similar formula for and method of calculation as used in the calculation of that Commodity Index, then in each case that index (the "Successor Index") will be deemed to be the Commodity Index.

(b) Modification and Cessation of Calculation of a Commodity Index

If on or prior to a Pricing Date (i) the relevant Index Sponsor makes a material change in the formula for or the method of calculating a relevant Commodity Index or in any other way materially modifies that Commodity Index (other than a modification prescribed in that formula or method to maintain that Commodity Index in the event of changes in constituent commodities and weightings and other routine events), or (ii) the Index Sponsor permanently cancels a relevant Commodity Index or (iii) the Index Sponsor fails to calculate and announce a relevant Commodity Index and there is no Successor Index Sponsor or Successor Index or (iv) an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs, then the Issuer may at its option (in the case of (i) and (iv)) and shall (in the case of (ii) and (iii)) (such events (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) to be collectively referred to as "Commodity Index Adjustment Events") (provided that the Calculation Agent may, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine that event (iii) (y) shall not be a Commodity Index Adjustment Event and shall instead be dealt with under paragraph (a) of the proviso to the definition of Price Source specified in Commodity Linked Condition 2, or (z) shall instead amount to a Market Disruption Event in respect of such Commodity Index, and proceed in accordance with Commodity Linked Condition 4 take the action described in (A), (B) or (C) below:

- (A) calculate the Commodity Reference Price using in lieu of the published level for that Commodity Index, the level for that Commodity Index as at the relevant determination date as determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating that Commodity Index last in effect prior to the relevant Commodity Index Adjustment Event, but using only those futures contracts that comprised that Commodity Index immediately prior to the relevant Commodity Index Adjustment Event (other than those futures contracts that have ceased to be listed on any relevant exchange);
- (B) if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate or continue to calculate such Commodity Index pursuant to (A) above, the Calculation Agent may rebase the Instruments against another index or basket of indices, as applicable, determined by the Calculation Agent, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, to be comparable to such Commodity Index, and, following such rebasing, the Calculation Agent may make such adjustment(s) that it determines to be appropriate, if any, to any one or more of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for such rebasing;
- (C)
 - (1) in the case of Notes, on giving notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Note Condition 14, redeem all (but not less than all) of the Notes, each Note being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or
 - (2) in the case of W&C Instruments, on giving notice to Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12, cancel the W&C Instruments. If the W&C Instruments are so cancelled, the Issuer will pay an amount to each

Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, held by him, which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Commodity Index Adjustment Event, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12.

Notwithstanding anything else in these Commodity Linked Conditions, in the event of an Administrator/Benchmark Event, the Calculation Agent may determine not to undertake any or all of the actions described in this Commodity Linked Condition 5.

Upon the occurrence of a Commodity Index Adjustment Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as reasonably practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, giving details of the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto, provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of such action. The Issuer shall make available for inspection by Holders copies of any such determinations.

6. Consequences of an Additional Disruption Event in respect of a Commodity Index

- (a) Following the determination by the Calculation Agent that an Additional Disruption Event has occurred in respect of a Commodity Index, the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may take the action described in (i) or (ii) below:
 - (i) require the Calculation Agent to determine in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any of the other terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms to account for the Additional Disruption Event and determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
 - (ii)
 - (A) in the case of Notes, give notice to Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 and redeem all, but not less than all, of the Notes, each nominal amount of Notes equal to the Calculation Amount being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or
 - (B) in the case of W&C Instruments, give notice to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 and cancel the W&C Instruments. If the W&C Instruments are so cancelled the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, held by him which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Additional Disruption Event, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12.
- (b) Upon the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, stating the occurrence of the Additional Disruption Event giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of the Additional Disruption Event.
- (c) The following terms and expressions shall have the following meanings:

"Additional Disruption Event" means any of a Change in Law, a Hedging Disruption, and/or an Increased Cost of Hedging (together the "Additional Disruption Events").

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (i) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (ii) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Calculation Agent determines in good faith that (A) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any relevant currency or asset, or (B) the Issuer or any affiliate(s) of the Issuer or any entity (or entities) acting on behalf of the Issuer engaged in any underlying or hedging transactions in respect of the Issuer's obligations under the Instruments will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations in relation to the Instruments (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position).

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer or any entity (or entities) acting on behalf of the Issuer engaged in any underlying or hedging transactions in respect of the Issuer's obligations in relation to the Instruments is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the commodity or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to or in connection with the relevant Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s).

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents acting on its behalf would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the commodity or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s), provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging.

- (i) require the Calculation Agent to make such determinations and/or adjustments to the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as it determines appropriate to account for the Fund Event, which may include, without limitation,
 - (A) delaying any determination date (including any Valuation Date or Averaging Date) and/or any date on which payment might otherwise have to be made under the terms of the applicable Final Terms until it determines that no Fund Event exists;
 - (B) determining that, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, one or more Fund Events may continue until or after any scheduled determination dates and/or payment dates as set out in the applicable Final Terms, and thereafter determining to fix any determination date (including any Valuation or Averaging Date) and/or date on which payment should be made, and making payment on such date of such amount as is appropriate, as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, taking into account the Fund Event, and which may be based solely on any amounts of cash that a Hypothetical Investor in the Fund actually received from the Fund during the relevant period or periods (and which may be less than any relevant net asset value published for the Fund, and may be as low as zero);

- (C) calculating the value of a Fund Interest and/or replacing a Fund Interest (the "Affected Fund Interest") with a replacement fund interest (the "Replacement Fund Interest") with a value as determined by the Calculation Agent equal to the Removal Value for the Affected Fund Interest and in a fund which in the determination of the Calculation Agent has similar characteristics, investment objectives and policies to those applicable to the Fund in respect of the Affected Fund Interest immediately prior to the occurrence of the Fund Event; or
- (ii) (A) in the case of Notes, on giving notice to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14, redeem all (but not less than all) of the Notes, each Note being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or

If the W&C Instruments are so cancelled the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, held by him which amount shall be the fair market value of a W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, taking into account the Fund Event, less the cost to the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates or agents of unwinding any underlying related hedging arrangements) plus, in the case of Warrants, if already paid, the Exercise Price, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.

If the Calculation Agent replaces an Affected Fund Interest with a Replacement Fund Interest, such replacement shall take effect on the first reasonably practicable date following the Removal Date for such Affected Fund Interest on which the Calculation Agent determines that a Hypothetical Investor could acquire the Replacement Fund Interest.

Upon the occurrence of a Fund Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as reasonably practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, giving details of the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto, provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of such action.

in other consideration) at less than the prevailing market price as determined by the Calculation Agent;

- (c) an extraordinary dividend as determined by the Calculation Agent;

- (e) any other event that may have, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, a diluting, concentrative or other on the theoretical value of relevant Fund Interests.

Following the declaration by a Fund of the terms of any Fund Potential Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent will, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine whether such Fund Potential Adjustment Event has a diluting, concentrative or other effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Fund Interest and, if so, will make the corresponding adjustment, if any, to any one or more of any of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines appropriate to account for that diluting, concentrative or other effect (provided that no adjustments will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends or liquidity relative to the relevant Fund Interest) and determine the effective date of that adjustment.

Upon the making of any such adjustment by the Calculation Agent, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as reasonably practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, stating the adjustment to any of the terms of the Terms and Conditions, and/or the applicable Final Terms and giving brief details of the Fund Potential Adjustment Event, provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

"Averaging Cut-Off Date" means:

- (a) if "Averaging Cut-Off Date (Backstopped)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Fund Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Funds and the applicable Final Terms provide that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, or on account of such date not being a Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Fund Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Funds and the applicable Final Terms provide that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, a Common Scheduled Trading Day), would have been the final Averaging Date, or, if earlier, the Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Fund Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Funds and the applicable Final Terms provide that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the Common Scheduled Trading Day) falling on or immediately preceding the second Business Day immediately preceding the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made pursuant to any calculation or determination made on the relevant Averaging Dates, provided that the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall not fall prior to the original date on which the final Averaging Date was scheduled to fall and in such case the original date shall be the Averaging Cut-Off Date; or
- (b) if "Averaging Cut-Off Date (Backstopped)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Fund Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Funds and the applicable Final Terms provide that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, or on account of such date not being a Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Fund Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Funds and the applicable Final Terms provide that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, a Common Scheduled Trading Day), would have been the final Averaging Date.

"Averaging Date" means each date specified as an Averaging Date in the applicable Final Terms or, if any such date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Scheduled Trading Day, (or, where the Fund Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Funds and the applicable Final Terms provide that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day), or, if earlier, the Averaging Cut-Off Date. If any such day is a Disrupted Day:

- (a) if "Omission" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, then such date will be deemed not to be an Averaging Date for the purposes of determining the relevant price; provided that, if through the operation of this provision there would not be an Averaging Date, then the provisions of the definition of "Valuation Date" will apply for purposes of determining the relevant price on the final Averaging Date, as if such final Averaging Date were a Valuation Date that was a Disrupted Day; or
- (b) if "Postponement" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, then the provisions of the definition of "Valuation Date" will apply for the purposes of determining the relevant price on that Averaging Date as if such Averaging Date were a Valuation Date that was a Disrupted Day irrespective of whether, pursuant to such determination, that deferred Averaging Date would fall on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
- (c) if "Modified Postponement" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms then:
 - (i) where the Fund Linked Instruments relate to a single Fund, the Averaging Date shall be the first succeeding Valid Date. If the first succeeding Valid Date has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for the Fund, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date), and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (a)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below;
 - (ii) where the Fund Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Funds and the applicable Final Terms provide that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall not be applicable, the Averaging Date for each Fund Share not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the originally designated Averaging Date (following adjustment of such date owing to the original date not being a Scheduled Trading Day, if applicable) (the "Scheduled Averaging Date") and the Averaging Date for a Fund Share affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Fund Share. If the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Fund Share has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for such Fund Share, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date) in relation to such Fund Share, and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (b)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below;
 - (iii) where the Fund Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Funds and the applicable Final Terms provide that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Averaging Date for each Fund Share not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the originally designated Averaging Date (following adjustment of such date owing to the original date not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, if applicable) (the "Scheduled Averaging Date") and the Averaging Date for a Fund Share affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Fund Share. If the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Fund Share has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date) in relation to such Fund Share, and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (c)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below; or

- (iv) where the Fund Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Funds and the applicable Final Terms provide that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Common Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Averaging Date for each Fund Share shall be the first succeeding Common Valid Date in relation to such Fund Share. If the first succeeding Common Valid Date has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date), and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (d)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below,

 - (ii) if "Barrier Event Determination Day (Extended)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each day on which the price of such Fund Share is quoted on the relevant Exchange during the relevant Observation Period, regardless of whether or not such day is a Scheduled Trading Day for such Fund Share (and if the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines that a Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Fund Share at any time on any Barrier Event Determination Day, subject to the proviso below, it shall disregard the period during which it determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner that such Market Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing for the purposes of determining whether or not a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred),

PROVIDED THAT, notwithstanding the foregoing, the scheduled Observation Period End Date shall be deemed as a Barrier Event Determination Day for all purposes, and if the price of such Fund Share is not quoted on the relevant Exchange and/or a Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Fund Share during the 15-minute period that ends at the relevant Valuation Time on the scheduled Observation Period End Date, then the Observation Period End Date will be extended until such day on which the price of such Fund Share is quoted on the relevant Exchange during a period on which no Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Fund Share, PROVIDED FURTHER THAT if no price of such Fund Share is quoted on the relevant Exchange during a period on which no Market Disruption Event is occurring by the Valuation Time on the eighth Scheduled Trading Day following the scheduled Observation Period End Date in respect of such Fund Share ("Barrier Event (intraday) Cut-Off Date"), the Calculation Agent shall determine the value of such Fund Share in accordance with paragraph (a) of the definition of "Valuation Date" as if the Barrier Event (intraday) Cut-Off Date were the Valuation Cut-Off Date, for the purposes of determining whether or not a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred; or

- (b) if the applicable Final Terms provides that the Barrier Event (closing) provisions shall apply each day specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, and if "Barrier Event Determination Day (Valuation Date Adjustment)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each such day shall be subject to adjustment as a Valuation Date as if each such day had been specified to be a "Valuation Date".

For the purpose of determining whether a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred on any day, the definition of Market Disruption Event specified in Fund Linked Condition 9 shall be amended such that (i) all references to "during the one-hour period that ends at the relevant Valuation Time" shall be deleted, and (ii) in sub-paragraph (b) each reference to "Valuation Time" and "Scheduled Closing Time" shall be construed as a reference to "Barrier Event Valuation Time (intraday)".

contracts relating to such Fund Shares or the relevant Underlying Index on any relevant Related Exchange; or

- (b) the closure on any Exchange Business Day of any relevant Exchange(s) or any Related Exchange(s) prior to its Scheduled Closing Time unless such earlier closing time is announced by such Exchange(s) or such Related Exchange(s), as the case may be, at least one hour prior to (i) the actual closing time for the regular trading session on such Exchange(s) or such Related Exchange on such Exchange Business Day or, if earlier, (ii) the submission deadline for orders to be entered into such Exchange or Related Exchange system for execution at the Valuation Time on such Exchange Business Day, which in any such case the Calculation Agent determines is material.

For the purpose of determining whether a Market Disruption Event exists in respect of a Fund Share at any time, if an event giving rise to a Market Disruption Event occurs in respect of a security included in the relevant Underlying Index at that time, then the relevant percentage contribution of that security, to the level of the relevant Underlying Index shall be based on a comparison of (a) the portion of the level of the relevant Underlying Index attributable to that security, and (b) the overall level of the relevant Underlying Index immediately before the occurrence of such Market Disruption Event.

The Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 in the case of Notes, or W&C Instruments Condition 12 in the case of W&C Instruments of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day on any day that, but for the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, would have been a Valuation Date provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such Disrupted Day.

- (d) a call by the ETF in respect of relevant Fund Shares that are not fully paid;
- (e) a repurchase by the ETF or any of its subsidiaries of relevant Fund Shares, whether out of profits or capital and whether the consideration for such repurchase is cash, securities or otherwise;
- (f) in respect of an ETF, an event that results in any shareholder rights being distributed or becoming separated from Fund Shares of common stock or other shares of the capital stock of the ETF pursuant to a shareholder rights plan or arrangement directed against hostile takeovers that provides upon the occurrence of certain events for a distribution of preferred stock, warrants, debt instruments or stock rights at a price below their market value, as determined by the Calculation Agent, provided that any adjustment effected as a result of such an event shall be readjusted upon any redemption of such rights; or
- (g) any other event that may have a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Fund Shares.

Following a Potential Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent will, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Fund Shares and, if so, will (a) make the corresponding adjustment(s), if any, to any one or more of the terms of the Terms and Conditions of the Instruments and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for that diluting or concentrative effect and (b) determine the effective date(s) of that adjustment(s). The Calculation Agent may, but need not, determine the appropriate adjustment(s) by reference to the adjustment(s) in respect of such Potential Adjustment Event made by an options exchange to options on the relevant Fund Shares traded on such options exchange.

Upon the making of any such adjustment, the Calculation Agent shall as soon as is reasonably practicable under the circumstances give notice to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 in the case of Notes or W&C Instruments Condition 12 in the case of W&C Instruments, as applicable, stating the adjustment made and giving brief details of the Potential Adjustment Event, provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

such ETF is the continuing entity and which does not result in any such reclassification or change of all such Fund Shares outstanding), (c) takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer, solicitation, proposal or other event by any entity or person to purchase or otherwise obtain 100 per cent. of the outstanding Fund Shares of the relevant ETF that results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all such Fund Shares (other than such Fund Shares owned or controlled by such other entity or person), or (d) consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange of the ETF or its subsidiaries with or into another entity in which the ETF is the continuing entity and which does not result in a reclassification or change of all such Fund Shares outstanding but results in the outstanding Fund Shares (other than Fund Shares owned or controlled by such other entity) immediately prior to such event collectively representing less than 50 per cent. of the outstanding Fund Shares immediately following such event (a "Reverse Merger"), in each case if the Merger Date is on or before the Valuation Date (or such other date as is specified in the applicable Final Terms).

"Tender Offer Date" means, in respect of a Tender Offer, the date on which voting shares in the amount of the applicable percentage threshold are actually purchased or otherwise obtained (as determined by the Calculation Agent).

If a De-Listing, Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Material Underlying Event occurs in relation to any Fund Share, the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may take the action described in (a), (b) or (c) below:

- (a) require the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, to determine the appropriate adjustment(s), if any, to be made to any one or more of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms to account for the De-Listing, Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Material Underlying Event, as the case may be, and determine the effective date(s) of that adjustment(s). The Calculation Agent may (but need not) determine the appropriate adjustment(s) by reference to the adjustment(s) in respect of the De-Listing, Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Material Underlying Event made by any options exchange to options on the relevant Fund Share traded on that options exchange;
- (b)
 - (i) in the case of Notes give notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Note Condition 14, and redeem all, but not less than all, of the Notes, each nominal amount of Notes equal to the Calculation Amount being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount, or
 - (ii) in the case of W&C Instruments cancel the W&C Instruments by giving notice to Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12. If the W&C Instruments are so cancelled the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument, or Unit, as the case may be, held by him which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Material Underlying Event, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12; or

- (c) following such adjustment to the settlement terms of options on the Fund Shares traded on such exchange(s) or quotation system(s) as the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, shall select (the "Options Exchange"), require the Calculation Agent to make a corresponding adjustment to any one or more of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms, which adjustment will be effective as of the date determined by the Calculation Agent to be the effective date of the corresponding adjustment made by the Options Exchange. If options on the Fund Shares are not traded on the Options Exchange, the Calculation Agent will make such adjustment, if any, to any one or more of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines appropriate, with reference to the rules and precedents (if any) set by the Options Exchange to account for the Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Material Underlying Event, as the case may be, that in the determination of the Calculation Agent would have given rise to an adjustment by the Options Exchange if such options were so traded.

Upon the occurrence of a Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Material Underlying Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (in the case of Notes) or W&C Instruments Condition 12 (in the case of W&C Instruments) stating the occurrence of the Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, De-listing, Insolvency or Material Underlying Event, as the case may be, giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Material Underlying Event, as the case may be.

- (iv) any failure by any Holder to promptly comply with any request of the Issuer, the Guarantor or any of their respective Affiliates to execute any document, including, without limitation, any request to execute any side letter or representation letter, in each case that the Issuer, the Guarantor or any of their respective Affiliates reasonably deems necessary or appropriate in order to comply with regulations or requests of any governmental or regulatory authorities of the Relevant Jurisdiction from time to time,

- (b) If an Additional Disruption Event occurs, the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may take the action described in (i) or (ii) below:
 - (i) require the Calculation Agent to determine in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any of the other terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms to account for the Additional Disruption Event and determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
 - (ii) (A) in the case of Notes, give notice to Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 and redeem all, but not less than all, of the Notes, each nominal amount of Notes equal to the Calculation Amount being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or

13. Application of Dividend Conditions

Fund Linked Conditions 14 and/or 15 (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) shall only apply to any Fund Linked W&C Instruments linked to Exchange Traded Funds in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "Dividend Conditions" shall be applicable.

ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR INFLATION LINKED INSTRUMENTS

1. Interpretation

If specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the terms and conditions applicable to Inflation Linked Notes shall comprise the terms and conditions of the Notes (the "Note Conditions") and the Additional Terms and Conditions for Inflation Linked Instruments set out below (the "Inflation Linked Conditions"), in each case subject to completion and/or amendment in the applicable Final Terms. The terms and conditions applicable to Inflation Linked W&C Instruments shall comprise the terms and conditions of the W&C Instruments (the "W&C Instruments Conditions") and the Inflation Linked Conditions, in each case subject to completion and/or amendment in the applicable Final Terms. In the event of any inconsistency between the Note Conditions, in the case of Notes, or the W&C Instruments Conditions, in the case of W&C Instruments, and the Inflation Linked Conditions, the Inflation Linked Conditions shall prevail. In the event of any inconsistency between (a) the Note Conditions or the W&C Instruments Conditions and/or the Inflation Linked Conditions and (b) the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall prevail. References in the Inflation Linked Conditions to "Instrument" and "Instruments" shall be deemed to be references to "Note" and "Notes" or "W&C Instrument" and "W&C Instruments" as the context admits.

2. Definitions

For the purpose of the Inflation Linked Instruments:

"Cut-Off Date" means, in respect of a Determination Date, five Business Days prior to such Determination Date, unless otherwise stated in the applicable Final Terms.

"Delayed Index Level Event" means, in respect of any Determination Date and an Inflation Index, that the relevant Inflation Index Sponsor fails to publish or announce the level of such Inflation Index (the "Relevant Level") in respect of any Reference Month which is to be utilised in any calculation or determination to be made by the Issuer in respect of such Determination Date, at any time on or prior to the Cut-Off Date.

"Determination Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"End Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Fallback Bond" means, in respect of an Inflation Index, a bond selected by the Calculation Agent and issued by the government of the country to whose level of inflation the relevant Inflation Index relates, and which pays a coupon or redemption amount which is calculated by reference to such Inflation Index, with a maturity date which falls on (a) the same day as the End Date as specified in the applicable Final Terms, (b) the next longest maturity after the End Date if there is no such bond maturing on the End Date, or (c) the next shortest maturity before the End Date if no bond defined in (a) or (b) is selected by the Calculation Agent. If the relevant Inflation Index relates to the level of inflation across the European Monetary Union, the Calculation Agent will select an inflation-linked bond that is a debt obligation of one of the governments (but not any government agency) of France, Italy, Germany or Spain and which pays a coupon or redemption amount which is calculated by reference to the level of inflation in the European Monetary Union. In each case, the Calculation Agent will select the Fallback Bond from those inflation linked bonds issued on or before the Issue Date and, if there is more than one inflation-linked bond maturing on the same date, the Fallback Bond shall be selected by the Calculation Agent from those bonds. If the Fallback Bond redeems, the Calculation Agent will select a new Fallback Bond on the same basis, but selected from all eligible bonds in issue at the time the original Fallback Bond redeems (including any bond for which the redeemed bond is exchanged).

"Inflation Index" means each inflation index specified in the applicable Final Terms and related expressions shall be construed accordingly.

"Inflation Index Sponsor" means, in relation to an Inflation Index, the entity that publishes or announces (directly or through an agent) the level of such Inflation Index which, as of the Issue Date, is the Inflation Index Sponsor specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Reference Month" means the calendar month for which the level of the Inflation Index was reported, regardless of when this information is published or announced. If the period for which the level of the Inflation Index was reported is a period other than a month, the Reference Month shall be the period for which the level of the Inflation Index was reported.

"Related Bond" means, in respect of an Inflation Index, the bond specified as such in the applicable Final Terms. If the Related Bond specified in the applicable Final Terms is "Fallback Bond", then, for any Related Bond determination, the Calculation Agent shall use the Fallback Bond. If no bond is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the Related Bond and "Fallback Bond: Not Applicable" is specified in the applicable Final Terms there will be no Related Bond. If a bond is selected as the Related Bond in the applicable Final Terms and that bond redeems or matures before the End Date, unless "Fallback Bond: Not Applicable" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Calculation Agent shall use the Fallback Bond for any Related Bond determination.

3. Inflation Index Adjustments

(a) Delay in Publication

Subject to Inflation Linked Condition 3(b), if the Calculation Agent determines that a Delayed Index Level Event in respect of an Inflation Index has occurred with respect to any Determination Date, then the Relevant Level for such Inflation Index the subject of such Delayed Index Level Event (the "Substitute Index Level") shall be determined by the Calculation Agent as follows:

- (i) if Related Bond is specified as applicable for such Inflation Index in the applicable Final Terms, the Calculation Agent shall determine the Substitute Index Level by reference to the corresponding index level determined under the terms and conditions of the relevant Related Bond; or
- (ii) if (A) Related Bond is not specified as applicable for such Inflation Index in the applicable Final Terms, or (B) the Calculation Agent is not able to determine a Substitute Index Level under (i) above, the Calculation Agent shall determine the Substitute Index Level by reference to the following formula:

$$\text{Substitute Index Level} = \text{Base Level} \times (\text{Latest Level}/\text{Reference Level})$$

where:

"Base Level" means, in respect of an Inflation Index, the level of such Inflation Index (excluding any "flash" estimates) published or announced by the relevant Inflation Index Sponsor in respect of the month which is 12 calendar months prior to the month for which the Substitute Index Level is being determined.

"Latest Level" means, in respect of an Inflation Index, the latest level of such Inflation Index (excluding any "flash" estimates) published or announced by the relevant Inflation Index Sponsor prior to the month in respect of which the Substitute Index Level is being determined.

"Reference Level" means, in respect of an Inflation Index, the level of such Inflation Index (excluding any "flash" estimates) published or announced by the relevant Inflation Index Sponsor in respect of the month that is 12 calendar months prior to the month in respect of the Latest Level.

The Issuer shall give notice to Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14, or W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, of any Substitute Index Level calculated pursuant to this Inflation Linked Condition 3.

(b) Cessation of Publication

If a level for the Inflation Index has not been published or announced for two consecutive months or the Inflation Index Sponsor announces that it will no longer continue to publish or announce the Inflation Index then the Calculation Agent shall determine a successor index (in lieu of any previously applicable Inflation Index) for the purposes of the Inflation Linked Instruments by using the following methodology:

- (i) if, at any time, a successor index has been designated by the Calculation Agent pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Related Bond, such successor index shall be designated a "Successor Index" notwithstanding that any other Successor Index may previously have been determined under paragraphs (ii), (iii) or (iv) below; or
- (ii) if a Successor Index has not been determined pursuant to Inflation Linked Condition 3(b)(i) and a notice has been given or an announcement has been made by the Inflation Index Sponsor, specifying that the Inflation Index will be superseded by a replacement Inflation Index specified by the Inflation Index Sponsor, and the Calculation Agent determines that such replacement index is calculated using the same or substantially similar formula or method of calculation as used in the calculation of the previously applicable Inflation Index, such replacement index shall be the Inflation Index for purposes of the Inflation Linked Instruments from the date that such replacement Inflation Index comes into effect; or
- (iii) if a Successor Index has not been determined pursuant to Inflation Linked Condition 3(b)(i) or Inflation Linked Condition 3(b)(ii), the Calculation Agent shall ask five leading independent dealers to state what the replacement index for the Inflation Index should be. If between four and five responses are received, and of those four or five responses, three or more leading independent dealers state the same index, this index will be deemed the "Successor Inflation Index". If three responses are received, and two or more leading independent dealers state the same index, this index will be deemed the "Successor Inflation Index". If fewer than three responses are received, the Calculation Agent will proceed to Inflation Linked Condition 3(b)(iv); or
- (iv) if no replacement index or Successor Inflation Index has been deemed under Inflation Linked Conditions 3(b)(i), 3(b)(ii) or 3(b)(iii), by the next occurring Cut-Off Date the Calculation Agent will determine an appropriate alternative index from such Cut-Off Date, and such index will be deemed a "Successor Inflation Index"; or
- (v) (A) if the Calculation Agent determines that there is no appropriate alternative index, in relation to Notes, the Issuer shall give notice to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 and redeem all (but not less than all) of the Notes, each nominal amount of Notes equal to the Calculation Amount being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or
- (B) in relation to W&C Instruments, the Issuer shall give notice to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 and cancel the W&C Instruments. If the W&C Instruments are so cancelled the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, held by him which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12.

(c) Rebasing of the Inflation Index

If the Calculation Agent determines that the Inflation Index has been or will be rebased at any time, the Inflation Index as so rebased (the "Rebased Index") will be used for purposes of determining the level of the Inflation Index from the date of such rebasing; provided, however, that the Calculation Agent shall make adjustments as are made by the calculation agent pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Related Bond, if Related Bond is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, to the levels of the Rebased Index so that the Rebased Index levels reflect the same rate of inflation as the Inflation Index before it was rebased, or, if Related Bond is not specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms the Calculation Agent shall make adjustments to the levels of the Rebased Index so that the Rebased Index levels reflect the same rate of inflation as the Inflation Index before it was rebased.

(d) Material Modification Prior to Last Occurring Cut-Off

If, on or prior to the last occurring Cut-Off Date, the Inflation Index Sponsor announces that it will make a material change to the Inflation Index then the Calculation Agent shall make any such adjustments, if Related Bond is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, consistent with adjustments made to the Related Bond, or, if Related Bond is not specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, only those adjustments to the Inflation Index necessary for the modified Inflation Index to continue as the Inflation Index.

 - (ii) "Consent Required Loan" means a Loan that is capable of being assigned or novated with the consent of the Reference Entity or the guarantor, if any, of such Loan (or the consent of the relevant borrower if the Reference Entity is guaranteeing such loan) or any agent;

- (iv) "Transferable" means an obligation that is transferable to institutional investors without any contractual, statutory or regulatory restriction, provided that none of the following shall be considered contractual, statutory or regulatory restrictions:
 - (a) contractual, statutory or regulatory restrictions that provide for eligibility for resale pursuant to Rule 144A or Regulation S promulgated under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (and any contractual, statutory or regulatory restrictions promulgated under the laws of any jurisdiction having a similar effect in relation to the eligibility for resale of an obligation);

- (v) "Maximum Maturity" means an obligation that has a remaining maturity of not greater than (a) the period specified in the applicable Final Terms or (b) if no such period is specified in the applicable Final Terms, 30 years.
- (vi) "Accelerated or Matured" means an obligation under which the total amount owed, whether by reason of maturity, acceleration, termination or otherwise is due and payable in full in accordance with the terms of such obligation, or would have been but for, and without regard to, any limitation imposed under any applicable insolvency laws; and
- (vii) "Not Bearer" means any obligation that is not a bearer instrument unless interests with respect to such bearer instrument are cleared via Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other internationally recognised clearing system.

(B) Interpretation of Provisions

- (1) If (i) either of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics "Listed", "Not Domestic Issuance" or "Not Bearer" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall be construed as though such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic had been specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Bonds and shall only be relevant if Bonds are covered by the selected Deliverable Obligation Category; (ii) the Deliverable Obligation Characteristic "Transferable" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall be construed as though such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic had been specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Deliverable Obligations that are not Loans (and shall only be relevant to the extent that obligations other than Loans are covered by the selected Deliverable Obligation Category); or (iii) any of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics "Assignable Loan", "Consent Required Loan" or "Direct Loan Participation" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall be construed as though such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic had been specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Loans and shall only be relevant if Loans are covered by the selected Deliverable Obligation Category.

- (2) If any of Payment, Borrowed Money, Loan or Bond or Loan is specified as the Deliverable Obligation Category and more than one of Assignable Loan, Consent Required Loan and Direct Loan Participation are specified as Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, the Deliverable Obligations may include any Loan that satisfies any one of such Deliverable Obligation Characteristics specified and need not satisfy all such Deliverable Obligation Characteristics.
- (3) If a Deliverable Obligation is a Relevant Guarantee, the following will apply:
 - (a) For purposes of the application of the Deliverable Obligation Category, the Relevant Guarantee shall be deemed to satisfy the same category or categories as those that describe the Underlying Obligation;
 - (b) For purposes of the application of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, both the Relevant Guarantee and the Underlying Obligation must satisfy on the relevant date or dates each of the applicable Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the applicable Final Terms from the following list: "Not Subordinated", "Specified Currency", "Not Sovereign Lender", "Not Domestic Currency" and "Not Domestic Law";
 - (c) For purposes of the application of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, only the Underlying Obligation must satisfy on the relevant date or dates each of the applicable Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the applicable Final Terms from the following list: "Listed", "Not Domestic Issuance", "Assignable Loan", "Consent Required Loan", "Direct Loan Participation", "Transferable", "Maximum Maturity", "Accelerated" or "Matured" and "Not Bearer"; and
 - (d) For purposes of the application of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics to an Underlying Obligation, references to the Reference Entity shall be deemed to refer to the Underlying Obligor.
- (4) For purposes of the application of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristic "Maximum Maturity", remaining maturity shall be determined on the basis of the terms of the Deliverable Obligation in effect at the time of making such determination and, in the case of a Deliverable Obligation that is due and payable, the remaining maturity shall be zero.
- (5) If "Financial Reference Entity Terms" and "Governmental Intervention" are specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, if an obligation would otherwise satisfy a particular Deliverable Obligation Characteristic, the existence of any terms in the relevant obligation in effect at the time of making the determination which permit the Reference Entity's obligations to be altered, discharged, released or suspended in circumstances which would constitute a Governmental Intervention, shall not cause such obligation to fail to satisfy such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic;
- (6) For purposes of determining the applicability of Deliverable Obligation Characteristics and the requirements specified in Credit Linked Note Condition 5 to a Prior Deliverable Obligation or a Package Observable Bond, any such determination shall be made by reference to the terms of the relevant obligation in effect immediately prior to the Asset Package Credit Event; and

- (7) If "Subordinated European Insurance Terms" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, if an obligation would otherwise satisfy the "Maximum Maturity" Deliverable Obligation Characteristic, the existence of any Solvency Capital Provisions in such obligation shall not cause it to fail to satisfy such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic.

"Domestic Currency" means the currency specified as such in the applicable Final Terms and any successor currency thereto (or, if no such currency is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the lawful currency and any successor currency of (a) the Reference Entity, if the Reference Entity is a Sovereign, or (b) the jurisdiction in which the Reference Entity is organised, if the Reference Entity is not a Sovereign).

Where the Entitlement is rounded down as described above, the Holders will also receive, in respect of each nominal amount of Credit Linked Notes equal to the Calculation Amount, the value of the amount of that fraction of the Deliverable Obligations obtained in calculating the Entitlement after rounding down (as determined by the Calculation Agent), as calculated by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner from such source(s) as it may select (converted if necessary into the Specified Currency by reference to such exchange rate as the Calculation Agent deems appropriate).

If an obligation by its terms represents or contemplates an obligation to pay an amount greater than the Outstanding Principal Balance of such obligation as of the Delivery Date as a result of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event or circumstance, the Outstanding Principal Balance of such obligation shall not include any additional amount that would be payable upon the occurrence or non-occurrence of such event or circumstance.

However, the giving of an Extension Notice in accordance with this sub-paragraph (d) shall not in any way preclude the subsequent giving of a Repudiation/Moratorium Extension Notice so long as the Repudiation/Moratorium Extension Condition is satisfied.

"Subordinated" will be construed accordingly. For purposes of determining whether Subordination exists or whether an obligation is Subordinated with respect to another obligation to which it is being compared, (x) the existence of preferred creditors arising by operation of law or of collateral, credit support or other credit enhancement or security arrangements shall not be taken into account, except that, notwithstanding the foregoing, priorities arising by operation of law shall be taken into account where the Reference Entity is a Sovereign and (y) in the case of the Reference Obligation or the Prior Reference Obligation, as applicable, the ranking in priority of payment shall be determined as of the date as of which it was issued or incurred (or in circumstances where the Reference Obligation or a Prior Reference Obligation is the Standard Reference Obligation and "Standard Reference Obligation" is applicable, then the priority of payment of the Reference Obligation or the Prior Reference Obligation, as applicable, shall be determined as of the date of selection) and, in each case, shall not reflect any change to such ranking in priority of payment after such date and further provided that, in respect of Senior Non-Preferred Notes, such definition shall be applied in the assessment of any Obligation without regard to how the Obligation is described by the laws of any relevant jurisdiction, including any characterisation of the Obligation as senior or unsubordinated by the laws of any relevant jurisdiction.
 - (iii) "Specified Currency" means an obligation that is payable in the currency or currencies specified as such in the applicable Final Terms (or, if Specified Currency is specified in the applicable Final Terms and no currency is so specified, any Standard Specified Currency), provided that if the euro is a Specified Currency, "Specified Currency" shall also include an obligation that was previously payable in the euro, regardless of any redenomination thereafter if such redenomination occurred as a result of action taken by a Governmental Authority of a Member State of the European Union which is of general application in the jurisdiction of such Governmental Authority.

- (iv) "Not Sovereign Lender" means any obligation that is not primarily owed to (A) a Sovereign (B) any entity or organisation established by treaty or other arrangement between two or more Sovereigns including, without limitation to the foregoing, the International Monetary Fund, European Central Bank, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, which shall include, without limitation, obligations generally referred to as "Paris Club debt".

- (viii) "Not Domestic Issuance" means any obligation other than an obligation that was issued (or reissued, as the case may be) or intended to be offered for sale primarily in the domestic market of the Reference Entity. Any obligation that is registered or, as a result of some other action having been taken for such purpose, is qualified for sale outside the domestic market of the Reference Entity (regardless of whether such obligation is also registered or qualified for sale within the domestic market of the Reference Entity) shall be deemed not to be issued (or reissued, as the case may be), or intended to be offered for sale primarily in the domestic market of the Reference Entity.

(B) Interpretation of Provisions

- (1) if either of the Obligation Characteristics "Listed" or "Not Domestic Issuance" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall be construed as though such Obligation Characteristic had been specified as an Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Bonds and shall only be relevant if Bonds are covered by the selected Obligation Category.
- (2) if an Obligation is a Relevant Guarantee, the following will apply:
 - (a) For purposes of the application of the Obligation Category, the Relevant Guarantee shall be deemed to satisfy the same category or categories as those that describe the Underlying Obligation;
 - (b) For purposes of the application of the Obligation Characteristics, both the Relevant Guarantee and the Underlying Obligation must satisfy on the relevant date or dates each of the applicable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the applicable Final Terms from the following list: "Not Subordinated", "Specified Currency", "Not Sovereign Lender", "Not Domestic Currency" and "Not Domestic Law";
 - (c) For purposes of the application of the Obligation Characteristics, only the Underlying Obligation must satisfy on the relevant date or dates each of the applicable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the applicable Final Terms from the following list: "Listed", "Not Domestic Issuance", "Assignable Loan", "Consent Required Loan", "Direct Loan Participation", "Transferable", "Maximum Maturity", "Accelerated" or "Matured" and "Not Bearer"; and

- (d) For purposes of the application of the Obligation Characteristics to an Underlying Obligation, references to the Reference Entity shall be deemed to refer to the Underlying Obligor.
- (3) if "Financial Reference Entity Terms" and "Governmental Intervention" are specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, if an obligation would otherwise satisfy a particular Obligation Characteristic, the existence of any terms in the relevant obligation in effect at the time of making the determination which permit the Reference Entity's obligations to be altered, discharged, released or suspended in circumstances which would constitute a Governmental Intervention, shall not cause such obligation to fail to satisfy such Obligation Characteristic.

"Obligation Acceleration" means one or more Obligations in an aggregate amount of not less than the Default Requirement have become due and payable before they would otherwise have been due and payable as a result of, or on the basis of, the occurrence of a default, event of default or other similar condition or event (however described), other than a failure to make any required payment, in respect of a Reference Entity under one or more Obligations.

"Obligation Currency" means the currency or currencies in which the Obligation is denominated.

"Obligation Default" means one or more Obligations in an aggregate amount of not less than the Default Requirement have become capable of being declared due and payable before they would otherwise have been due and payable as a result of, or on the basis of, the occurrence of a default, event of default, or other similar condition or event (however described), other than a failure to make any required payment, in respect of a Reference Entity under one or more Obligations.

"Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation" means the obligation of the Reference Entity (either directly or as provider of a guarantee) which is specified as the Reference Obligation with respect to the Reference Entity (if any is so specified) provided that if an obligation is not an obligation of the Reference Entity, such obligation will not constitute a valid Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation (other than for the purposes of determining the Seniority Level and for the "Not Subordinated" Obligation Characteristic or "Not Subordinated" Deliverable Obligation Characteristic) unless: (a) specified otherwise in the applicable Final Terms; or (b) the relevant Instruments constitute a Reference Obligation Only Trade.

"Outstanding Principal Amount" means with respect to Tranch Portfolio CLNs on any day, the Aggregate Nominal Amount as at the Issue Date minus the sum of all Writedown Amounts determined up to and including such day.

"Outstanding Principal Balance" of an obligation will be calculated as follows:

- (a) first, by determining, in respect of the obligation, the amount of the Reference Entity's principal payment obligations and, where "Include Accrued Interest" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms (or where neither "Include Accrued Interest" nor "Exclude Accrued Interest" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms and the Calculation Agent determines that the then-current market practice is to include accrued interest), the Reference Entity's accrued but unpaid interest payment obligations (which, in the case of a Guarantee will be the lower of (A) the Outstanding Principal Balance (including accrued but unpaid interest, where applicable) of the Underlying Obligation (determined as if references to the Reference Entity were references to the Underlying Obligor) and (B) the amount of the Fixed Cap, if any);
- (b) second, by subtracting all or any portion of such amount which, pursuant to the terms of the obligation, (A) is subject to any Prohibited Action, or (B) may otherwise be reduced as a result of the effluxion of time or the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event or circumstance (other than by way of (I) payment or (II) a Permitted Contingency) (the amount determined in sub-paragraph (a) less any amounts subtracted in accordance with this sub-paragraph (b), the "Non-Contingent Amount"); and

- (c) third, by determining the Quantum of the Claim, which shall then constitute the Outstanding Principal Balance, in each case, determined:

- (A) unless otherwise specified, in accordance with the terms of the obligation in effect on either (I) the NOPS Effective Date (or if the terms of the obligation are amended after such date but on or prior to the Delivery Date, the Delivery Date), or (II) the Valuation Date, as applicable; and
- (B) with respect to the Quantum of the Claim only, in accordance with any applicable laws (insofar as such laws reduce or discount the size of the claim to reflect the original issue price or accrued value of the obligation).

Where "Fallback Discounting" applies, then notwithstanding the foregoing, if (i) the Outstanding Principal Balance of an obligation is not reduced or discounted under subparagraph (B) above, (ii) that obligation is either a Bond that has an issue price less than ninety-five per cent of the principal redemption amount or a Loan where the amount advanced is less than ninety-five per cent of the principal repayment amount, and (iii) such Bond or Loan does not include provisions relating to the accretion over time of the amount which would be payable on an early redemption or repayment of such Bond or Loan that are customary for the applicable type of Bond or Loan as the case may be, then the Outstanding Principal Balance of such Bond or Loan shall be the lesser of (a) the Non-Contingent Amount; and (b) an amount determined by straight line interpolation between the issue price of the Bond or the amount advanced under the Loan and the principal redemption amount or principal repayment amount, as applicable.

For the purposes of determining whether the issue price of a Bond or the amount advanced under a Loan is less than ninety-five per cent of the principal redemption amount or principal repayment amount (as applicable) or, where applicable, for applying straight line interpolation:

- (x) where such Bond or Loan was issued as a result of an exchange offer, the issue price or amount advanced of the new Bond or Loan resulting from the exchange shall be deemed to be equal to the aggregate Outstanding Principal Balance of the original obligation(s) that were tendered or exchanged (the "Original Obligation(s)") at the time of such exchange (determined without regard to market or trading value of the Original Obligation(s)); and
- (y) in the case of a Bond or Loan that is fungible with a prior debt obligation previously issued by the Reference Entity, such Bond or Loan shall be treated as having the same issue price or amount advanced as the prior debt obligation.

In circumstances where a holder would have received more than one obligation in exchange for the Original Obligation(s), the Calculation Agent will determine the allocation of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Balance of the Original Obligation(s) amongst each of the resulting obligations for the purpose of determining the issue price or amount advanced of the relevant Bond or Loan. Such allocation will take into account the interest rate, maturity, level of subordination and other terms of the obligations that resulted from the exchange and shall be made by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the methodology (if any) determined by the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee.

Where: "Fallback Discounting" applies if, in respect of the Transaction Type specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Physical Settlement Matrix specifies that Fallback Discounting applies to such Transaction Type.

"Quantum of the Claim" means the lowest amount of the claim which could be validly asserted against the Reference Entity in respect of the Non-Contingent Amount if the obligation had become redeemable, been accelerated, terminated or had otherwise become due and payable at the time of the relevant determination, provided that the Quantum of the Claim cannot exceed the Non-Contingent Amount.

- (a) impossible, illegal, impracticable or is otherwise unable to Deliver for any reason on the Final Delivery Date; or
- (b) unable or impracticable to Deliver on the Final Delivery Date because (i) the relevant Holder(s) has not taken any action that is deemed necessary by the Calculation Agent (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) to enable the Issuer to Deliver and/or for the Holder(s) to take delivery of all or a portion of the Deliverable Obligations; or (ii) the Holder(s) has failed to provide know-your-customer information, sign and deliver relevant transfer documentation and/or confidentiality agreement, pay a fee to the agent to effect the transfer and/or provide any other information or documentation or make any other payment (including any taxes) as is specified under the terms of the relevant Deliverable Obligations or as is customary to provide in respect of such Deliverable Obligations, each as may be required pursuant to the definition of "Deliver" herein.

"Unwind Costs" means the amount specified in the applicable Final Terms or if "Standard Unwind Costs" are specified in the applicable Final Terms, an amount determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner equal to the sum of (without duplication) all costs, expenses (including, without limitation, loss of funding and break funding charges and fees), tax and duties incurred by the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates and/or agents in connection with the redemption or cancellation, as applicable, of the Instruments and the related termination, settlement or re-establishment of any hedge or related trading position (and any cost incurred by the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates and/or agents in sourcing the Deliverable Obligations delivered if the Issuer is unable to do so by way of a transaction entered into pursuant to the relevant Auction and to the extent that the same exceeds the Auction Final Price (if any) determined in relation to the relevant Reference Entity) (or which would have been so incurred had the Issuer and/or its Affiliates entered into and/or elected to unwind one or more such transactions, positions or arrangements), such amount to be apportioned pro rata amongst each nominal amount of Credit Linked Notes equal to the Calculation Amount set out in the applicable Final Terms.

"Valuation Date" means (i) where Physical Settlement is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, the day falling five Business Days after the Final Delivery Date, or (ii) where Cash Settlement is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, if "Single Valuation Date" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the date that is the number of Business Days specified in the applicable Final Terms after the Event Determination Date or, if the number of Business Days is not so specified, any day falling on or before the 122nd Business Day after the Event Determination Date or (following any Auction Cancellation Date or No Auction Announcement Date) after such Auction Cancellation Date or No Auction Announcement Date (in each case, as selected by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner), and if "Multiple Valuation Dates" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, each of the following dates:

- (a) the date that is the number of Business Days specified in the applicable Final Terms after the Event Determination Date, Auction Cancellation Date or No Auction Announcement Date (or, if the number of Business Days is not specified, five Business Days); and
- (b) each successive date that is the number of Business Days specified in the applicable Final Terms (or if the number of Business Days is not so specified, five Business Days) after the date on which the Calculation Agent obtains a Market Value with respect to the immediately preceding Valuation Date.

When "Multiple Valuation Dates" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the total number of Valuation Dates shall be equal to the number of Valuation Dates specified in the applicable Final Terms (or, if the number of Valuation Dates is not so specified, five Valuation Dates).

"Writedown Amount" means, with respect to a Reference Entity, the aggregate of the Incurred Loss Amounts (if any) for the related Final Price Calculation Date and any related Unwind Costs.

3. Final Redemption of Credit Linked Notes

Unless previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled, and subject to the immediately following paragraph and Credit Linked Note Conditions 4 to 6 below, each Credit Linked Note will be redeemed by the Issuer at its Final Redemption Amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms in the relevant Specified Currency on the CLN Maturity Date (or if no such provision is made in the applicable Final Terms at the outstanding principal amount thereof).

If Reference Obligation Only Trade is applicable with respect to the Instruments and the event set out in sub-paragraph (a) of the definition of Substitution Event occurs with respect to the Reference Obligation, the Calculation Agent may give notice (such notice a "Reference Obligation Only Redemption Notice") to the Issuer on any day from and including the applicable Substitution Event Date and the Issuer shall redeem each Credit Linked Note at its Final Redemption Amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms in the relevant Specified Currency (or if no such provision is made in the applicable Final Terms at the outstanding principal amount thereof) on the Reference Obligation Only Redemption Date.

4. Cash Settlement

Unless the Instruments have been previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled, if an Event Determination Date occurs (in the case of Nth-to-Default CLNs, in relation to the Nth Reference Entity in respect of which an Event Determination Date occurs) and the applicable Settlement Method is "Cash Settlement" (or a Fallback Settlement Event has occurred and the Fallback Settlement Method is "Cash Settlement"), the Calculation Agent shall give notice (such notice a "Settlement Notice") to the Issuer and the Issuer shall redeem or cancel, as applicable, all of the Instruments and pay in respect of each Instrument the Credit Event Redemption Amount on the Credit Event Redemption Date.

If an Event Determination Date occurs and the Notes are redeemed in accordance with this Credit Linked Note Condition 4, upon payment of the Credit Event Redemption Amount the Issuer shall have discharged its obligations in respect of the Instruments and shall have no other liability or obligation whatsoever in respect thereof. The Credit Event Redemption Amount may be less than the Issue Price or nominal amount of an Instrument. Any shortfall shall be borne by the Holder and no liability shall attach to the Issuer and/or the Guarantor.

5. Physical Settlement

Unless the Instruments have been previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled, if an Event Determination Date occurs (in the case of Nth-to-Default CLNs, in relation to the Nth Reference Entity in respect of which an Event Determination Date occurs) and the applicable Settlement Method is "Physical Settlement" (or a Fallback Settlement Event has occurred and the Fallback Settlement Method is "Physical Settlement"), the Calculation Agent shall give notice (such notice a "Notice of Physical Settlement") to the Issuer on or before the NOPS Cut-off Date and the Issuer shall redeem or cancel, as applicable, all of the Instruments, by Delivering (or procuring the Delivery) in respect of each Instrument the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement, subject to and in accordance with the Note Conditions and the Credit Linked Note Conditions (and in particular, Credit Linked Note Condition 9).

In the Notice of Physical Settlement, the Calculation Agent shall:

- (a) specify the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement that the Issuer shall endeavour to Deliver including, if available and applicable, the CUSIP or ISIN number (or, if such identifying number is not available or applicable, the rate and tenor) of each such Deliverable Obligation; and
- (b) specify the Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount, as applicable, or the equivalent amount in the Settlement Currency (in each case, the "Outstanding Amount") and, if different, the face amount, of each such Deliverable Obligation and the aggregate Outstanding Amount of all Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement that the Issuer shall endeavour to Deliver (the "Aggregate Outstanding Amount").

The Calculation Agent may at any time prior to any Delivery Date by delivery of a notice to the Issuer (the "NOPS Amendment Notice") amend the Notice of Physical Settlement and the Issuer shall endeavour to, pursuant to such NOPS Amendment Notice, Deliver to the Holders replacement Deliverable Obligations that are different from the Deliverable Obligations originally specified (each, a "Replacement Deliverable Obligation"). A NOPS Amendment Notice shall contain a revised detailed description of each Replacement Deliverable Obligation and shall also specify the Outstanding Amount of each Deliverable Obligation identified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or a prior NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, that is being replaced (with respect to each such Deliverable Obligation, the "Replaced Deliverable Obligation Outstanding Amount"). The Outstanding Amount of the Replacement Deliverable Obligations specified in any NOPS Amendment Notice in aggregate with the Outstanding Amount of the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any earlier NOPS Amendment Notice which, in each case, are not being replaced must not be greater than the Aggregate Outstanding Amount. Each such NOPS Amendment Notice must be effective on or prior to the Delivery Date (determined without reference to any change resulting from such NOPS Amendment Notice).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) the Calculation Agent may correct any errors or inconsistencies in the detailed description of each Deliverable Obligation contained in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, by notice to Issuer prior to the relevant Delivery Date; and (ii) if Asset Package Delivery is applicable, the Calculation Agent shall on the NOPS Effective Date, or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter (but in any case, prior to the Delivery Date), notify the Issuer of the detailed description of the Asset Package, if any, that the Issuer shall endeavour to deliver in lieu of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond, if any, specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, it being understood in each case that such notice of correction shall not constitute a NOPS Amendment Notice.

If (i) "Physical Settlement" is specified to be the Settlement Method in the applicable Final Terms (or is applicable as the Fallback Settlement Method), (ii) "Mod R" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms and (iii) Restructuring is the only Credit Event specified in a Credit Event Notice, then unless the Deliverable Obligation is a Prior Deliverable Obligation and Asset Package Delivery applies due to a Governmental Intervention, a Deliverable Obligation may only be specified (or deemed specified) in the Notice of Physical Settlement or in any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, if such Deliverable Obligation (A) is a Fully Transferable Obligation and (B) has a final maturity date not later than the applicable Restructuring Maturity Limitation Date, in each case, as of both the NOPS Effective Date and the Delivery Date.

If (i) "Physical Settlement" is specified to be the Settlement Method in the applicable Final Terms (or is applicable as the Fallback Settlement Method), (ii) "Mod Mod R" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms and (iii) Restructuring is the only Credit Event specified in a Credit Event Notice, then unless the Deliverable Obligation is a Prior Deliverable Obligation and Asset Package Delivery applies due to a Governmental Intervention, a Deliverable Obligation may only be specified (or deemed specified) in the Notice of Physical Settlement or in any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, if it (A) is a Conditionally Transferable Obligation and (B) has a final maturity date not later than the applicable Modified Restructuring Maturity Limitation Date in each case, as of both the NOPS Effective Date and the Delivery Date. Notwithstanding the foregoing, for purposes of this sub-paragraph, in the case of a Restructured Bond or Loan with a final maturity date on or prior to the 10-year Limitation Date, the final maturity date of such Bond or Loan shall be deemed to be the earlier of such final maturity date or the final maturity date of such Bond or Loan immediately prior to the relevant Restructuring.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in respect of each Credit Linked Note shall be an amount calculated in accordance with the definition of "Partial Cash Settlement Amount", provided that the Guarantor shall designate in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner which portion of the Entitlement shall be an Undeliverable Obligation, and provided that the Valuation Date, shall be the date notified as such by the Guarantor to the Issuer and the Calculation Agent.

If an Event Determination Date occurs and the Instruments are redeemed or are cancelled in accordance with this Credit Linked Note Condition 5, upon Delivery of the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement and/or payment of the Partial Cash Settlement Amount, as the case may be, the Issuer shall have discharged its obligations in respect of the Instruments and shall have no other liability or obligation whatsoever in respect thereof. The value of such Deliverable Obligations and/or the Partial Cash Settlement Amount in respect of the Instruments to be redeemed may be less than the Issue Price, nominal amount or notional amount, as applicable, of an Instrument. Any shortfall shall be borne by the Holder and no liability shall attach to the Issuer and/or the Guarantor.

6. Auction Settlement

Unless the Instruments have been previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled, if an Event Determination Date occurs (in the case of Nth-to-Default CLNs, in relation to the Nth Reference Entity in respect of which an Event Determination Date occurs) and the applicable Settlement Method is "Auction Settlement", the Calculation Agent shall give notice (such notice a "Settlement Notice") to the Issuer and the Issuer shall redeem or cancel as applicable, all of the Instruments and pay in respect of each Instrument the Auction Settlement Amount on the Auction Settlement Date unless a Fallback Settlement Event occurs (for the avoidance of doubt, in relation to the same Credit Event), in which case the Issuer shall redeem or cancel, as the case may be, the Instruments in accordance with the applicable Fallback Settlement Method.

If an Event Determination Date occurs and the Notes are redeemed or are cancelled in accordance with this Credit Linked Note Condition 6, upon payment of the Auction Settlement Amount the Issuer shall have discharged its obligations in respect of the Instruments and shall have no other liability or obligation whatsoever in respect thereof. The Auction Settlement Amount may be less than the Issue Price or nominal amount of an Instrument. Any shortfall shall be borne by the Holder and no liability shall attach to the Issuer and/or the Guarantor.

7. Suspension of Obligations

If a Credit Event Resolution Request Date occurs in relation to any Reference Entity, then, unless the Issuer otherwise elects by notice to the Holders, any obligation of the Issuer to redeem or cancel (as the case may be) or otherwise settle any Credit Linked Note or pay any amount of interest or Additional Amount (as the case may be) which would otherwise be due thereon shall, to the extent that it relates to such Reference Entity, be and remain suspended until (a) the occurrence of a DC Credit Event Announcement; (b) the occurrence of a DC No Credit Event Announcement; or (c) the occurrence of a DC Credit Event Question Dismissal (each of the events set out in (a), (b) or (c), a "DC Announcement").

Following a DC Announcement, any obligations so suspended shall resume on the second Business Day immediately following the date of such DC Announcement (with benefit being given of the full day notwithstanding when the tolling or suspension began). Any amount of interest or any Additional Amount so suspended shall, subject to Note Condition 5(E) become due and payable on the date determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner provided that such date shall not be later than 20 Business Days after the date of such DC Announcement.

No interest shall accrue on any amount of interest, any Final Redemption Amount or any other payment obligation of the Issuer so suspended.

For the avoidance of doubt, where a Postponement Notice has been delivered pursuant to Credit Linked Note Condition 8, this Credit Linked Note Condition 7 shall apply only upon the occurrence of a Credit Event Resolution Request Date and, from such time, shall supersede any suspension of payment pursuant to such Postponement Notice.

Where the applicable Final Terms specify that "Calculation Agent Determination" is applicable, this Credit Linked Note Condition 7 shall not apply to the relevant Instruments unless the Calculation Agent notifies the Issuer that this Credit Linked Note Condition 7 shall apply.

8. Interest and Additional Amounts

Following the delivery of an Extension Notice, in the case of interest bearing Credit Linked Notes and provided that an Event Determination Date has not occurred, the Issuer shall be obliged to pay interest calculated as provided in Note Condition 5 accruing from (and including) the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Scheduled Maturity Date (or, if none the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the Scheduled Maturity Date but shall only be obliged to make such payment of interest on the CLN Maturity Date and no further or other amount in respect of interest shall be payable and no additional amount shall be payable in respect of such delay.

Without prejudice to Credit Linked Note Condition 7, if "Accrual of Interest upon Credit Event" or, as the case may be, "Accrual of Additional Amounts upon Credit Event" is specified as Not Applicable in the applicable Final Terms and the Calculation Agent determines that a Credit Event, a Potential Failure to Pay or a Potential Repudiation/Moratorium has occurred or may occur on or prior to an Interest Payment Date, the Calculation Agent may notify the Issuer and where the Calculation Agent delivers any such notice (a "Postponement Notice") to the Issuer on or prior to such Interest Payment Date (in either case, the "Postponed Payment Date"), any obligation of the Issuer to pay any interest amount shall be suspended for a period of 15 Business Days following such Postponed Payment Date (or, in respect of any Postponed Payment Date scheduled to fall on the Scheduled Maturity Date, up to the CLN Maturity Date (or such shorter period as the Calculation Agent may notify the Issuer) to enable the Calculation Agent to determine whether a Credit Event has occurred.

For the avoidance of doubt, during such period of suspension pursuant to a Postponement Notice, no interest shall accrue on any amount of interest so suspended.

Where the Calculation Agent delivers a Postponement Notice to the Issuer, the Issuer shall give notice thereof as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14, provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any postponement of an Interest Payment Date.

If, prior to the expiry of such period of suspension pursuant to a Postponement Notice, a Credit Event Resolution Request Date occurs, Credit Linked Note Condition 7 shall apply and the suspension of the obligation of the Issuer to pay any interest amount pursuant to this Credit Linked Note Condition 8 shall cease to apply.

If an Event Determination Date has not occurred on or prior to such 15th Business Day or CLN Maturity Date, the interest amount shall be payable on such 15th Business Day or CLN Maturity Date (for the avoidance of doubt, no interest shall accrue on any amount of interest so suspended). If an Event Determination Date has occurred on or prior to such 15th Business Day or CLN Maturity Date, then notwithstanding Note Condition 5(E)(a), each Note shall cease to bear interest from the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Postponed Payment Date or, if the Postponed Payment Date falls on the first Interest Payment Date, no interest shall accrue on the Notes (and Note Condition 5(E) shall be deemed to be amended accordingly).

9. Partial Cash Settlement

If all or a portion of the Undeliverable Obligations or Hedge Disruption Obligations comprising the Entitlement are not Delivered for whatever reason by the Final Delivery Date, the Calculation Agent shall give notice (a "Partial Cash Settlement Notice") to the Issuer, as applicable, and the Issuer shall pay in respect of each Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, the Partial Cash Settlement Amount on the Partial Cash Settlement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, the failure by the Issuer to Deliver all or such portion of the Undeliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement on or prior to the Final Delivery Date shall not constitute an Event of Default.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, for the purposes of this Credit Linked Note Condition 9 the following terms are deemed to have the following meanings:

"Indicative Quotation" means, in accordance with the Quotation Method, each quotation obtained from a Quotation Dealer at the Valuation Time for (to the extent reasonably practicable) an amount of the Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, equal to the Quotation Amount, which reflects such Quotation Dealer's reasonable assessment of the price of such Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, based on such factors as such Quotation Dealer may consider relevant, which may include historical prices and recovery rates.

"Market Value" means, with respect to an Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, on a Valuation Date, (a) if more than three Full Quotations are obtained, the arithmetic mean of such Full Quotations, disregarding the Full Quotations having the same highest and lowest values (and, if more than one such Full Quotations have the same highest or lowest value, then one of such highest or lowest Full Quotations shall be disregarded); (b) if exactly three Full Quotations are obtained, the Full Quotations remaining after disregarding the highest and lowest Full Quotations (and, if more than one such Full Quotations have the same highest value or lowest value, then one of such highest or lowest Full Quotations shall be disregarded); (c) if exactly two Full Quotations are obtained, the arithmetic mean of such Full Quotations; (d) if fewer than two Full Quotations are obtained and a Weighted Average Quotation is obtained, such Weighted Average Quotation; (e) if Indicative Quotations are specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms and exactly three Indicative Quotations are obtained, the Indicative Quotation remaining after disregarding the highest and lowest Indicative Quotations (and, if more than one such Indicative Quotations have the same highest or lowest value, then one of such highest or lowest Indicative Quotations shall be disregarded); (f) if fewer than two Full Quotations are obtained and no Weighted Average Quotation is obtained (and, if Indicative Quotations are applicable, fewer than three Indicative Quotations are obtained) then, subject to paragraph (b) of the definition of "Quotation" below, an amount as determined by the Calculation Agent on the next Business Day on which two or more Full Quotations or a Weighted Average Quotation or, if applicable, three Indicative Quotations are obtained; and (vii) if fewer than two Full Quotations are obtained and no Weighted Average Quotation is obtained (and, if Indicative Quotations are applicable, fewer than three Indicative Quotations are obtained) on the same Business Day on or prior to the tenth Business Day following the Valuation Date, the Market Value shall be any Full Quotation obtained from a Quotation Dealer at the Valuation Time on such tenth Business Day or, if no Full Quotation is obtained, the weighted average of any firm quotations (or, if applicable, Indicative Quotations) for the Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, obtained from Quotation Dealers at the Valuation Time on such tenth Business Day with respect to the aggregate portion of the Quotation Amount for which such quotations were obtained and a quotation deemed to be zero for the balance of the Quotation Amount for which firm quotations (or, if applicable, Indicative Quotations) were not obtained on such day.

"Partial Cash Settlement Amount" is deemed to be, for each Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, an amount calculated by the Calculation Agent equal to the greater of (a) (i) the Outstanding Principal Balance, the Due and Payable Amount or the Currency Amount, as applicable, of each Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, multiplied by (ii) either (A) if one or more Auctions are held by the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee in respect of the Reference Entity, the Auction Final Price or (B) if the Calculation Agent decides (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner), the Final Price with respect to such Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, less (iii) Unwind Costs, if any (but excluding any Unwind Costs already taken into account in calculating the relevant Entitlement), and (b) zero.

"Partial Cash Settlement Date" is deemed to be the date falling three Business Days after the calculation of the Final Price or, as applicable, the date falling fifteen Business Days after the later of (a) the Final Delivery Date and (b) the Auction Final Price Determination Date.

"Quotation" means each Full Quotation, the Weighted Average Quotation and, if Indicative Quotations are specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, each Indicative Quotation obtained and expressed as a percentage with respect to a Valuation Date in the manner that follows:

- (a) The Calculation Agent shall attempt to obtain Full Quotations with respect to each Valuation Date from five or more Quotation Dealers. If the Calculation Agent is unable to obtain two or more such Full Quotations on the same Business Day within three Business Days of a Valuation Date, then on the next following Business Day (and, if necessary, on each Business Day thereafter until the tenth Business Day following the relevant Valuation Date) the Calculation Agent shall attempt to obtain Full Quotations from five or more Quotation Dealers, and, if two or more Full Quotations are not available, a Weighted Average Quotation. If two or more such Full Quotations or a Weighted Average Quotation are not available on any such Business Day and Indicative Quotations are specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, the Calculation Agent shall attempt to obtain three Indicative Quotations from five or more Quotation Dealers.
- (b) If the Calculation Agent is unable to obtain two or more Full Quotations or a Weighted Average Quotation (or, if Indicative Quotations are specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, three Indicative Quotations) on the same Business Day on or prior to the tenth Business Day following the Valuation Date, the Quotations shall be deemed to be any Full Quotation obtained from a Quotation Dealer at the Valuation Time on such tenth Business Day or, if no Full Quotation is obtained, the weighted average of any firm quotations (or, if applicable, Indicative Quotations) for the Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, obtained from Quotation Dealers at the Valuation Time on such tenth Business Day with respect to the aggregate portion of the Quotation Amount for which such quotations were obtained and a quotation deemed to be zero for the balance of the Quotation Amount for which firm quotations (or, if applicable, Indicative Quotations) were not obtained on such day.

- (c) The Calculation Agent shall determine, based on the then-current market practice in the market of the relevant Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be, whether such Quotations shall include or exclude accrued but unpaid interest. All Quotations shall be obtained in accordance with this specification or determination.
- (d) If any Quotation obtained with respect to an Accreting Obligation is expressed as a percentage of the amount payable in respect of such obligation at maturity, such Quotation will instead be expressed as a percentage of the Outstanding Principal Balance for the purposes of determining the Final Price.

"Quotation Amount" is deemed to be, with respect to each type or issue of Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be, an amount equal to the Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount (or, in either case, its equivalent in the relevant Obligation Currency converted by the Calculation Agent in a commercially reasonable manner by reference to exchange rates in effect at the time that the relevant Quotation is being obtained), as applicable, of such Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be. The Calculation Agent may in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner round up or down the Quotation Amount for the purposes of seeking a Quotation.

"Quotation Method" is deemed to be Bid.

"Reference Obligation" is deemed to be each Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be.

"Valuation Method" is deemed to be Highest unless fewer than two Full Quotations are obtained or a Weighted Average Quotation applies (or, if applicable, Indicative Quotations), in which case "Valuation Method" is deemed to be Market Value.

"Valuation Time" is the time specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, or, if no time is so specified, 11:00 a.m. in the principal trading market for the Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be.

"Weighted Average Quotation" means, in accordance with the Quotation Method, the weighted average of firm quotations obtained from Quotation Dealers at the Valuation Time, to the extent reasonably practicable, each for an amount of the Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be, with an Outstanding Principal Balance of as large a size as available but less than the Quotation Amount that in aggregate are approximately equal to the Quotation Amount.

10. Redemption following a Merger Event

If this Credit Linked Note Condition 10 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, in the event that in the determination of the Calculation Agent a Merger Event has occurred, the Issuer may give notice to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14, and redeem or cancel, as applicable, all but not less than all of the Instruments on a date selected by the Issuer and not later than 30 calendar days following the effective date of such notice at the Early Redemption Amount.

11. Credit Event Notice after M(M)R Restructuring Credit Event

If this Credit Linked Note Condition 11 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Terms and Conditions, upon the occurrence of an M(M)R Restructuring:

- (a) the Calculation Agent may deliver a Credit Event Notice in respect of an amount (the "Partial Redemption Amount") that is less than the principal amount outstanding of each Note immediately prior to the delivery of such Credit Event Notice. In such circumstances the Credit Linked Note Conditions and related provisions shall be deemed to apply to the Partial Redemption Amount only and each such Note shall be redeemed in part (such redeemed part being equal to the Partial Redemption Amount).
- (b) For the avoidance of doubt (A) the principal amount of each such Note not so redeemed in part shall remain outstanding and interest shall accrue on the principal amount outstanding of such Note as provided in Note Condition 5 (adjusted in such manner as the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines to be appropriate), (B) the Credit Linked Note Conditions and related provisions shall apply to such principal amount outstanding of such Note in the event that subsequent Credit Event Notices are delivered in respect of the Reference Entity that was the subject of the M(M)R Restructuring Credit Event and (C) once a Credit Event Notice with respect to an M(M)R Restructuring Credit Event has been delivered in respect of a Reference Entity, no further Credit Event Notices may be delivered in respect of any Reference Entity other than the Reference Entity that was the subject of the M(M)R Restructuring Credit Event.
- (c) If the provisions of this Credit Linked Note Condition 11 apply in respect of the Credit Linked Notes, on redemption of part of each such Credit Linked Note the relevant Credit Linked Note or, if the Credit Linked Notes are represented by a Global Note, such Global Note, shall be endorsed to reflect such part redemption.

12. Multiple Holder Obligation

If this Credit Linked Note Condition 12 is specified as applicable (or deemed to be applicable) in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the definition of Restructuring and related provisions, the occurrence of, agreement to, or announcement of, any of the events described in sub-paragraphs (a)(i) to (v) of the definition of "Restructuring" in Credit Linked Note Condition 2 shall not be a Restructuring unless the Obligation in respect of any such events is a Multiple Holder Obligation.

"Multiple Holder Obligation" means an Obligation that (a) at the time of the event which constitutes a Restructuring Credit Event, is held by more than three holders that are not Affiliates of each other and (b) with respect to which a percentage of holders (determined pursuant to the terms of the Obligation as in effect on the date of such event) at least equal to sixty-six and two-thirds is required to consent to the event which constitutes a Restructuring Credit Event, provided that any Obligation that is a Bond shall be deemed to satisfy the requirement in (b).

13. Successors

- (a) Where pursuant to sub-paragraph (a)(iii), (iv) or (vi) of the definition of Successor, more than one Successor has been identified, the Credit Linked Notes will be equally divided into such number of notional Credit Linked Notes as there are Successors and each Successor will be the Reference Entity for the purposes of one of such Credit Linked Notes. These Credit Linked Note Conditions shall be deemed to apply to such Credit Linked Notes and shall be construed accordingly.
- (b) Where a Credit Event occurs in respect of a Reference Entity after more than one Successor has been identified, the provisions of these Credit Linked Note Conditions shall be deemed to apply to the nominal amount represented by that Reference Entity only (the "Partial Principal Amount") and all the provisions shall be construed accordingly. Each Instrument shall thereafter be redeemed in part (such redeemed part being equal to its pro rata share of the Partial Principal Amount).
- (c) The Instruments shall remain outstanding in an amount equal to the outstanding principal amount of the Credit Linked Notes minus the Partial Principal Amount (such amount, the "Remaining Amount") and interest shall accrue on the Remaining Amount as provided for in Note Condition 5 (adjusted in such manner as the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines to be appropriate).

- (d) Any determinations (including (without limitation) as to the division of the Credit Linked Notes) and any adjustment to the applicable Final Terms relating to, connected with or as a result of the identification of more than one Successor shall be made by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner (provided that if such determinations have been made by the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee, then the Calculation Agent shall, unless (x) otherwise provided for in the applicable Final Terms or (y) "Calculation Agent Determination" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, be bound by such determinations) and, in the absence of manifest error, shall be conclusive and binding on all Holders. The applicable Final Terms may be amended and restated from time to time to reflect the effect of such determinations without the consent of the Holders and the Holders are deemed to agree to this provision by the purchase of the Instruments.
- (e) In respect of Linear Basket CLNs and Tranche Portfolio CLNs, where more than one Successor has been identified in respect of a Reference Entity pursuant to sub-paragraph (a) of the definition of Successor, the Reference Entity Notional Amount of the relevant Reference Entity will be equally divided by reference to the number of Successors and each Successor will be a Reference Entity for the purposes of the Notes.

14. Provisions taken from the ISDA supplement titled "Additional Provisions for Monoline Insurer Reference Entities" (published on September 15, 2014)

If Credit Linked Note Condition 14 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the following provisions will apply:

 - (i) the Obligation Category Borrowed Money and the Obligation Category and Deliverable Obligation Category Bond shall be deemed to include distributions payable under an Insured Instrument in the form of a pass-through certificate or similar funded beneficial interest, the Deliverable Obligation Category Bond shall be deemed to include such an Insured Instrument, and the terms "obligation" and "obligors" as used in the Credit Linked Note Conditions in respect of such an Insured Instrument shall be construed accordingly;

- (v) with respect to an Insured Instrument in the form of a pass-through certificate or similar funded beneficial interest, the term "maturity", as such term is used in the Maximum Maturity Deliverable Obligation Characteristic, shall mean the specified date by which the Qualifying Policy guarantees or insures, as applicable, that the ultimate distribution of the Certificate Balance will occur; and
 - (vi) with respect to a Qualifying Policy and an Insured Instrument, only the Qualifying Policy must satisfy on the relevant date or dates the "Not Subordinated" Obligation Characteristic or Deliverable Obligation Characteristic, if applicable.

Any provisions of an Insured Instrument limiting recourse in respect of such Insured Instrument to the proceeds of specified assets (including proceeds subject to a priority of payments) or reducing the amount of any Instrument Payments owing under such Insured Instrument shall be disregarded for the purposes of sub-paragraph (b) of the definition of "Outstanding Principal Balance" in Credit Linked Note Condition 2 provided that such provisions are not applicable to the Qualifying Policy by the terms thereof and the Qualifying Policy continues to guarantee or insure, as applicable, the Instrument Payments that would have been required to be made absent any such limitation or reduction.
- (d) Deliver. For the purposes of the definition of "Deliver" in Credit Linked Note Condition 2, "Deliver" with respect to an obligation that is a Qualifying Policy means to Deliver both the Insured Instrument and the benefit of the Qualifying Policy (or a custodial receipt issued by an internationally recognised custodian representing an interest in such an Insured Instrument and the related Qualifying Policy), and "Delivery" and "Delivered" will be construed accordingly.

 - (iv) a change in the ranking in priority of payment of (x) any Obligation under a Qualifying Policy in respect of Instrument Payments, causing the Subordination of such Obligation to any other Obligation or (y) any Instrument Payments, causing the Subordination of such Insured Instrument to any other instrument in the form of a pass-through certificate or similar funded beneficial interest issued by the Insured Obligor, it being understood that, for this purpose, Subordination will be deemed to include any such change that results in a lower ranking under a priority of payments provision applicable to the relevant Instrument Payments; or
 - (v) any change in the currency of any payment of Instrument Payments that are guaranteed or insured by the Qualifying Policy to any currency other than the lawful currency of Canada, Japan, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States of America and the euro and any successor currency to any of the aforementioned currencies (which in the case of the euro, shall mean the currency which succeeds to and replaces the euro in whole)."
- (ii) Sub-paragraph (b)(iv) of the definition of "Restructuring" in Credit Linked Note Condition 2 is hereby amended by adding "or, in the case of a Qualifying Policy and an Insured Instrument, where (A) the Qualifying Policy continues to guarantee or insure, as applicable, that the same Instrument Payments will be made on the same dates on which the Qualifying Policy guaranteed or insured that such Instrument Payments would be made prior to such event and (B) such event is not a change in the ranking in the priority of payment of the Qualifying Policy" at the end thereof.
- (iii) The definition of "Restructuring" in Credit Linked Note Condition 2 is hereby amended by the insertion of the following paragraph after the final paragraph thereof:

"For purposes of the definition of "Restructuring" in Credit Linked Note Condition 2 and if Credit Linked Note Condition 14 is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, for the purposes of the Credit Linked Note Conditions the term Obligation shall be deemed to include Insured Instruments for which the Reference Entity is acting as provider of a Qualifying Policy. In the case of a Qualifying Policy and an Insured Instrument, references to the Reference Entity in sub-paragraph (a) above shall be deemed to refer to the Insured Obligor and the reference to the Reference Entity in sub-paragraph (b) above shall continue to refer to the Reference Entity."
- (h) Fully Transferable Obligation and Conditionally Transferable Obligation. In the event that a Fully Transferable Obligation or Conditionally Transferable Obligation is a Qualifying Policy, the Insured Instrument must meet the requirements of the relevant definition. References in the definition of "Conditionally Transferable Obligation" to the "guarantor" and "guaranteeing" shall be deemed to include the "insurer" and "insuring" respectively. With respect to an Insured Instrument in the form of a pass-through certificate or similar funded beneficial interest, the term "final maturity date", as such term is used in Credit Linked Note Condition 5 and the definition of "Restructuring Maturity Limitation Date", shall mean the specified date by which the Qualifying Policy guarantees or insures, as applicable, that the ultimate distribution of the Certificate Balance will occur.
- (i) Other Provisions. For purposes of the definitions of "Credit Event" and "Deliver" in Credit Linked Note Condition 2, references to the "Underlying Obligation" and the "Underlying Obligor" shall be deemed to include "Insured Instruments" and the "Insured Obligor" respectively.

(j) Additional Definitions.

"Qualifying Policy" means a financial guaranty insurance policy or similar financial guarantee pursuant to which a Reference Entity irrevocably guarantees or insures all Instrument Payments of an instrument that constitutes Borrowed Money (modified as set forth in this Credit Linked Note Condition 14) (the "Insured Instrument") for which another party (including a special purpose entity or trust) is the obligor (the "Insured Obligor"). Qualifying Policies shall exclude any arrangement (i) structured as a surety bond, letter of credit or equivalent legal arrangement or (ii) pursuant to the express contractual terms of which the payment obligations of the Reference Entity can be discharged or reduced as a result of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event or circumstance (other than the payment of Instrument Payments);

"Instrument Payments" means (i) in the case of any Insured Instrument that is in the form of a pass-through certificate or similar funded beneficial interest, (x) the specified periodic distributions in respect of interest or other return on the Certificate Balance on or prior to the ultimate distribution of the Certificate Balance and (y) the ultimate distribution of the Certificate Balance on or prior to a specified date and (ii) in the case of any other Insured Instrument, the scheduled payments of principal and interest, in the case of both (i) and (ii) (A) determined without regard to limited recourse or reduction provisions of the type described in Credit Linked Note Condition 14(c) above and (B) excluding sums in respect of default interest, indemnities, tax gross-ups, make-whole amounts, early redemption premiums and other similar amounts (whether or not guaranteed or insured by the Qualifying Policy).

15. Provisions taken from the ISDA supplement titled "Additional Provisions for LPN Reference Entities" (published on September 15, 2014)

If Credit Linked Note Condition 15 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked Note Conditions and subject to Credit Linked Note Condition 23 (Provisions taken from the ISDA Supplement titled "Additional Provisions for Certain Russian Entities: Excluded Obligations and Excluded Deliverable Obligations" (published on March 25, 2022)) (if such Credit Linked Note Condition 23 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms), the following provisions will apply:

- (a) provisions relating to Multiple Holder Obligation will be deemed to be Not Applicable with respect to any Reference Obligation (and any Underlying Loan);
- (b) each Reference Obligation will be an Obligation, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked Note Conditions and in particular, notwithstanding that the obligation is not an obligation of the Reference Entity;
- (c) each Reference Obligation will be a Deliverable Obligation notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked Note Conditions including and in particular, notwithstanding that the obligation is not an obligation of the Reference Entity.

For the avoidance of doubt with respect to any LPN Reference Obligation that specifies an Underlying Loan or an Underlying Finance Instrument, the Outstanding Principal Balance shall be determined by reference to the Underlying Loan or Underlying Finance Instrument (as applicable) relating to such LPN Reference Obligation.

The Not Subordinated Obligation Characteristic and Deliverable Obligation Characteristic shall be construed as if no Reference Obligation was specified in respect of the Reference Entity;

- (d) the definition of "Reference Obligation" shall be deleted and the following substituted therefor:

"Reference Obligation" means, as of the Trade Date, each of the obligations listed as a Reference Obligation of the Reference Entity in the applicable Final Terms and set forth on the relevant LPN Reference Obligations List (each a "Markit Published LPN Reference Obligation"), as published by Markit Group Limited, or any successor thereto, which list is as of the Trade Date available at <http://www.markit.com/marketing/services.php>, any Additional LPN determined in accordance with sub-paragraph (e) below, and each Additional Obligation. Each Reference Obligation determined in accordance with the foregoing will be a Reference Obligation notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked Notes Conditions, and in particular, notwithstanding that the obligation is not an obligation of the Reference Entity. Standard Reference Obligation shall be Not Applicable. The proviso in the definition of "Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation" shall not apply.

It is intended that there may be more than one Reference Obligation, as a result of which all applicable references in the Credit Linked Notes Conditions to "the Reference Obligation" shall be construed as a reference to "a Reference Obligation", and all other provisions of the Credit Linked Note Conditions shall be construed accordingly.

The provisions set forth in the definitions of "Substitute Reference Obligation" and "Substitution Event" shall not be applicable to LPN Reference Obligations; and

- (e) the following additional definitions shall apply:

"Additional LPN" means any bond issued in the form of a loan participation note (a "LPN") by an entity (the "LPN Issuer") for the sole purpose of providing funds for the LPN Issuer to (a) finance a loan to the Reference Entity (the "Underlying Loan") or (b) provide finance to the Reference Entity by way of a deposit, loan or other Borrowed Money instrument (the "Underlying Finance Instrument"), provided that (i) either (x) in the event that there is an Underlying Loan with respect to such LPN the Underlying Loan satisfies the Obligation Characteristics specified in respect of the Reference Entity or (y) in the event that there is an Underlying Finance Instrument with respect to such LPN the Underlying Finance Instrument satisfies the Not Subordinated, Not Domestic Law and Not Domestic Currency Obligation Characteristics; (ii) the LPN satisfies the following Deliverable Obligation Characteristics: Transferable, Not Bearer, Specified Currency – Standard Specified Currencies, Not Domestic Law, Not Domestic Issuance; and (iii) the LPN Issuer has, as of the issue date of such obligation, granted a First Ranking Interest over or in respect of certain of its rights in relation to the relevant Underlying Loan or Underlying Finance Instrument (as applicable) for the benefit of the holders of the LPNs.

"Additional Obligation" means each of the obligations listed as an Additional Obligation of the Reference Entity in the applicable Final Terms or set forth on the relevant LPN Reference Obligations List, as published by Markit Group Limited, or any successor thereto, as of the Trade Date, which list is currently available at <http://www.markit.com/marketing/services.php>.

"First Ranking Interest" means a charge, security interest (or other type of interest having similar effect) (an "Interest"), which is expressed as being "first ranking", "first priority", or similar ("First Ranking") in the document creating such Interest (notwithstanding that such Interest may not be First Ranking under any insolvency laws of any related insolvency jurisdiction of the LPN Issuer).

"LPN Reference Obligation" means each Reference Obligation other than any Additional Obligation.

For the avoidance of doubt, any change to the issuer of an LPN Reference Obligation in accordance with its terms shall not prevent such LPN Reference Obligation constituting a Reference Obligation.

Each LPN Reference Obligation is issued for the sole purpose of providing funds for the Issuer to finance a loan to the Reference Entity. For the purposes of the Credit Linked Note Conditions each such loan shall be an Underlying Loan.

16. Deliverable Obligations Portfolio Valuation

If Credit Linked Note Condition 16 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms:

- (a) notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked Note Conditions, "Reference Obligation" shall mean:
 - (i) any obligation of a Reference Entity (either directly or as provider of a Relevant Guarantee) determined pursuant to the method described in sub-paragraph (A) (Method for Determining "Deliverable Obligations") in the definition of "Deliverable Obligation" above;
 - (ii) each Benchmark Obligation specified in the applicable Final Terms; and
 - (iii) any Substitute Benchmark Obligation,

as selected by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner and notified to the Issuer (a "Reference Obligation Notification") on or prior to the relevant Valuation Date.

In each case the Reference Obligation Notification shall describe the selected Reference Obligation in reasonable detail and shall specify the title or designation, maturity date and coupon rate. The Calculation Agent may at any time after delivering a Reference Obligation Notification but prior to the Valuation Time on the Valuation Date deliver a further Reference Obligation Notification which shall replace all prior Reference Obligation Notifications in relation to any additional or replacement Reference Obligation specified therein.

For the avoidance of doubt the Calculation Agent shall be entitled to select any of the Reference Obligations for the purposes of calculating the Final Price irrespective of their market value and, provided that (in the case of Credit Linked Note Condition 16(a)(i) only) the selected obligation(s) satisfy the Deliverable Obligation Category and Deliverable Obligation Characteristics on the date of selection, such obligation(s) may constitute the Reference Obligation for the purposes hereof notwithstanding that this is not the case subsequent to such date. For the avoidance of doubt, the Deliverable Obligation Category and Deliverable Obligation Characteristics shall not apply in respect of any Benchmark Obligation or Substitute Benchmark Obligation.

- (b) The definition of "Substitute Reference Obligation" in Credit Linked Note Condition 2 shall be amended so that each reference to "Substitute Reference Obligation" and "Non-Standard Reference Obligation" is replaced by reference to a "Substitute Benchmark Obligation" and a "Benchmark Obligation" respectively, provided that once a Benchmark Obligation has been specified as a Reference Obligation the definition of "Substitute Reference Obligation" shall not apply with respect to such Benchmark Obligation.
- (c) Sub-paragraph (b)(i) of "Method for Determining Obligations" in the definition of "Obligation" in Credit Linked Note Condition 2 shall be deleted and the following substituted therefor:

"Not Subordinated" means an obligation that is not Subordinated to (i) the most senior Benchmark Obligation in priority of payment or (ii) if no Benchmark Obligation is specified in the applicable Final Terms, any unsubordinated Borrowed Money obligation of the Reference Entity. For purposes of determining whether an obligation satisfies the

"Not Subordinated" Obligation Characteristic or Deliverable Obligation Characteristic, the ranking in priority of payment of each Benchmark Obligation shall be determined as of the later of (A) the Trade Date specified in the applicable Final Terms and (B) the date on which such Benchmark Obligation was issued or incurred and shall not reflect any change to such ranking in priority of payment after such later date.

- (d) For purposes of the Credit Linked Note Conditions:
 - (i) each reference in the Credit Linked Note Conditions to "a Deliverable Obligation" and "the Deliverable Obligation" shall be deemed to be a reference to "a Reference Obligation" and "the Reference Obligation" respectively; and
 - (ii) each reference in the Credit Linked Note Conditions to "a Delivery Date" and "the Delivery Date" shall be deemed to be a reference to the date of selection of the relevant Reference Obligation.
- (e) For the avoidance of doubt, if Credit Linked Note Condition 16 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms Credit Linked Note Condition 5 is not applicable and the Instruments shall, following the occurrence of an Event Determination Date, be settled in accordance with Credit Linked Note Condition 4, and these Credit Linked Notes Conditions shall be construed accordingly.
- (f) If the Calculation Agent selects more than one Reference Obligation, such Reference Obligations shall have an Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount (or the equivalent Currency Amount of any such amount) that, in aggregate, shall not exceed the Reference Entity Notional Amount in respect of the relevant Reference Entity.
- (g) With respect to a Reference Entity and the related Final Price Calculation Date, the "Final Price" shall be the weighted average of the Final Prices determined for each Reference Obligation in respect of the relevant Reference Entity, weighted by reference to the Reference Portfolio of each such Reference Obligation.
- (h) For the purposes of Credit Linked Note Condition 16(a)(ii), Benchmark Obligation means each Reference Obligation specified in respect of the relevant Reference Entity, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms.

17. Nth-to-Default CLNs

Where the Instruments are Nth-to-Default CLNs:

- (a) where a succession has occurred in respect of a Reference Entity (other than a Reference Entity in respect of which an Event Determination Date has occurred) and more than one Successor has been identified, the applicable Instruments will be equally divided into a number of notional Credit Linked Notes as there are Successors. Each such notional Credit Linked Notes shall include a Successor and each and every one of the Reference Entities unaffected by such succession shall apply thereto;
- (b) if "Substitution" is specified as not being applicable in the applicable Final Terms, where any Reference Entity (the "Surviving Reference Entity") (other than a Reference Entity that is subject to a succession) would be a Successor to any other Reference Entity (the "Legacy Reference Entity") pursuant to a succession, such Surviving Reference Entity shall be deemed to be a Successor to the Legacy Reference Entity; and
- (c) if "Substitution" is specified as being applicable in the applicable Final Terms, where any Reference Entity (the "Surviving Reference Entity") (other than a Reference Entity that is subject to a succession) would be a Successor to any other Reference Entity (the "Legacy Reference Entity") pursuant to a succession:
 - (i) such Surviving Reference Entity shall be deemed not to be a Successor to the Legacy Reference Entity; and

- (ii) the Replacement Reference Entity shall be deemed to be a Successor to the Legacy Reference Entity.

18. Linear Basket CLNs

Where the Notes are Linear Basket CLNs, then the provisions of these Credit Linked Note Conditions relating to redemption of Credit Linked Notes following the occurrence of an Event Determination Date, extension of maturity of Credit Linked Notes on delivery of an Extension Notice, cessation or suspension of accrual of interest or accrual and payment of interest following the Scheduled Maturity Date shall apply separately with respect to each Reference Entity and a principal amount of each Credit Linked Note corresponding to its pro rata proportion of the related Reference Entity Notional Amount. The remaining provisions of these Credit Linked Note Conditions shall be construed accordingly.

Accordingly:

- (a) the Calculation Amount of each Note shall be reduced with effect from the occurrence of an Event Determination Date by a pro rata proportion of the Reference Entity Notional Amount or, as applicable, the Partial Redemption Amount;
- (b) following the occurrence of an Event Determination Date in respect of any Reference Entity, the Notes shall be partially redeemed and the Noteholders shall receive an amount equal to a Credit Event Redemption Amount (if Credit Linked Note Condition 4 applies) or an Auction Settlement Amount (if Credit Linked Note Condition 6 applies) or shall be entitled to receive an Entitlement, or, as appropriate, Partial Cash Settlement Amount (if Credit Linked Note Condition 5 applies), in each case calculated in respect of the Reference Entity as though references to the Calculation Amount in such definitions were references to such amount divided by the number of Reference Entities as at the relevant Event Determination Date;
- (c) the definition of "CLN Maturity Date" shall operate separately in respect of each Reference Entity and a portion of the Calculation Amount of each Note corresponding to a pro rata proportion of the related Reference Entity Notional Amount, or, as applicable, the Partial Redemption Amount; and
- (d) the provisions of Credit Linked Note Condition 8 shall apply separately in respect of each Reference Entity and a portion of the Calculation Amount of each Note corresponding to a pro rata proportion of the related Reference Entity Notional Amount or, as applicable, the related Reference Entity Notional Amount.

19. Tranched Portfolio CLNs

Where the Instruments are Tranched Portfolio CLNs:

- (a) The interest amount payable per Calculation Amount on each Interest Payment Date in respect of each Note and each Interest Period shall be a pro rata proportion per Calculation Amount of an amount determined on the relevant Interest Determination Date, equal to the sum of:
 - (i) the product of: (A) the Interest Calculation Amount, (B) the Rate of Interest, and (C) the Day Count Fraction (and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention); and
 - (ii) the Deferred Coupon Adjustment Amount, if any.
- (b) If the Calculation Agent determines at any time that the Undetermined Reference Entity Notional Amount on any Interest Payment Date is greater than the Undetermined Reference Entity Notional Amount on the corresponding Interest Determination Date, the Calculation Agent may in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner make any adjustment: (i) if the determination is made on or prior to such Interest Payment Date and to the extent operationally practicable, to the interest amount payable on such Interest

Payment Date, or otherwise (ii) to the interest amount payable on any subsequent Interest Payment Date or, if the relevant interest amount is less than such shortfall, the Outstanding Principal Amount of the Notes, to account for such shortfall.

- (c) In the event that a Credit Event occurs in respect of one of the Reference Entities within the Reference Portfolio, the amount of the Aggregate Principal Amount remaining will be reduced by the Writedown Amount (itself calculated with reference to the Loss Amount), all as set out in the definitions of the Outstanding Principal Amount, Incurred Loss Amount, Loss Amount, Writedown Amount and any other relevant definitions.
- (d) Unless the Notes have been previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled, each Note will be redeemed at its Final Redemption Amount on the Final Redemption Date. Credit Linked Note Conditions 4 and 6 shall not apply.
- (e) If the Outstanding Principal Amount of the Notes is reduced to zero, the Notes will thereupon be deemed to have been redeemed in full and, without prejudice to any obligations incurred due and payable on or prior to such date, the Issuer shall have no further obligations in relation to the Notes.
- (f) Paragraph (b) of the definition of "CLN Maturity Date" shall apply if an Extension Notice is given in respect of any Reference Entity.
- (g) If any day is a Final Price Calculation Date with respect to more than one Reference Entity, the Loss Amount, the Recovery Amount, the Incurred Loss Amount and the Incurred Recovery Amount (if applicable) with respect to each Reference Entity shall be calculated in the order of delivery of the relevant Credit Event Notices or (if applicable) the order of the relevant Credit Event Resolution Request Dates or, if any of the relevant Credit Event Notices are delivered at the same time or the Credit Event Resolution Request Dates occur at the same time, in a sequential order determined by the Calculation Agent.
- (h) In relation to Tranche Portfolio CLNs where the Reference Portfolio is determined by reference to a Relevant Annex, then notwithstanding Credit Linked Note Condition 13, the Reference Portfolio from time to time (together with, in respect of each relevant Reference Entity, the elected Reference Entity weighting) shall be as determined and published from time to time by the relevant Index Sponsor, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

20. Provisions taken from the CoCo Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (published on 15 September 2014)

If Credit Linked Note Condition 20 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked Note Conditions, the following provisions will apply:

- (a) The following additional definitions shall apply:

"CoCo Provision" means, with respect to an Obligation, a provision which requires (i) a permanent or temporary reduction of the amount of principal payable at redemption or (ii) a conversion of principal into shares or another instrument, in each case, if the Capital Ratio is at or below the Trigger Percentage.

"CoCo Supplement" means the CoCo Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (published on 15 September 2014).

"Trigger Percentage" means the trigger percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms (or if no such trigger percentage is specified, 5.25 per cent.).

"Capital Ratio" means the ratio of capital to risk weighted assets applicable to the Obligation, as described in the terms thereof in effect from time to time.

- (b) A CoCo Provision shall be deemed to be a provision which permits a Governmental Intervention for all purposes under the Credit Linked Notes Conditions.
- (c) If, with respect to one or more Obligations and in relation to an aggregate amount of not less than the Default Requirement, the operation of one or more CoCo Provisions results in (i) a permanent or temporary reduction of the amount of principal payable at redemption or (ii) a conversion of principal into shares or another instrument, such event shall be deemed to constitute a Governmental Intervention falling within sub-paragraph (a) of the definition thereof.

21. Provisions taken from the 2014 Sovereign No Asset Package Delivery Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (published on 15 September 2014)

If Credit Linked Note Condition 21 is specified as applicable in respect of a Reference Entity in the applicable Final Terms, the following provision shall apply in respect of such Reference Entity for purposes of the Instruments and the Credit Linked Note Conditions:

The last paragraph of the definition of "Asset Package Credit Event" is hereby amended by the addition of the following at the end thereof: "Notwithstanding the above, it shall be deemed that no Package Observable Bond exists with respect to a Reference Entity that is a Sovereign (even if such a Package Observable Bond has been published by ISDA and accordingly, Asset Package Delivery shall not apply thereto)."

22. Provisions taken from the ISDA Supplement titled "2020 Additional Provisions for the Argentine Republic: Excluded Obligations and Excluded Deliverable Obligations" (published on 16 September 2020)

If Credit Linked Note Condition 22 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the following provisions shall apply:

Certain additional provisions or supplements may be deemed to apply to the Credit Linked Note Conditions in respect of a Reference Entity if those provisions or supplements are specified as being applicable for the relevant Reference Entity in the Credit Derivatives Physical Settlement Matrix and the provisions of the Credit Linked Note Conditions shall be construed as if those additional provisions or supplements had been included in the Credit Linked Note Conditions with such amendments as the Calculation Agent deems necessary to give effect to those provisions.

- (c) in circumstances where a Reference Entity has proposed an exchange of all or substantially all of the obligations of such Reference Entity into cash, securities and/or other assets, to reflect or account for such exchange, regardless of the credit derivatives definitions or trading standards applicable to such Reference Entity.

Any event occurring at midnight shall be deemed to have occurred immediately prior to midnight.

performing its obligations with respect to the Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s).

(B) Interpretation of Provisions

- (1) If (i) either of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics "Listed", "Not Domestic Issuance" or "Not Bearer" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall be construed as though such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic had been specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Bonds and shall only be relevant if Bonds are covered by the selected Deliverable Obligation Category; (ii) the Deliverable Obligation Characteristic "Transferable" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall be construed as though such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic had been specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Deliverable Obligations that are not Loans (and shall only be relevant to the extent that obligations other than Loans are covered by the selected Deliverable Obligation Category); or (iii) any of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics "Assignable Loan", "Consent Required Loan" or "Direct Loan Participation" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall be construed as though such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic had been specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Loans and shall only be relevant if Loans are covered by the selected Deliverable Obligation Category.
- (2) If any of Payment, Borrowed Money, Loan or Bond or Loan is specified as the Deliverable Obligation Category and more than one of Assignable Loan, Consent Required Loan and Direct Loan Participation are specified as Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, the Deliverable Obligations may include any Loan that satisfies any one of such Deliverable Obligation Characteristics specified and need not satisfy all such Deliverable Obligation Characteristics.
- (3) If a Deliverable Obligation is a Relevant Guarantee, the following will apply:
 - (a) For purposes of the application of the Deliverable Obligation Category, the Relevant Guarantee shall be deemed to satisfy the same category or categories as those that describe the Underlying Obligation;

- (5) If "Financial Reference Entity Terms" and "Governmental Intervention" are specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, if an obligation would otherwise satisfy a particular Deliverable Obligation Characteristic, the existence of any terms in the relevant obligation in effect at the time of making the determination which permit the Reference Entity's obligations to be altered, discharged, released or suspended in circumstances which would constitute a Governmental Intervention, shall not cause such obligation to fail to satisfy such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic;

- (6) For purposes of determining the applicability of Deliverable Obligation Characteristics and the requirements specified in Credit Linked W&C Condition 5 to a Prior Deliverable Obligation or a Package Observable Bond, any such determination shall be made by reference to the terms of the relevant obligation in effect immediately prior to the Asset Package Credit Event; and

 - (iv) "Bond" means any obligation of a type included in the "Borrowed Money" Obligation Category that is in the form of, or represented by, a bond, note (other than notes delivered pursuant to Loans), certificated debt security or other debt security and shall not include any other type of Borrowed Money;

"Subordinated" will be construed accordingly. For purposes of determining whether Subordination exists or whether an obligation is Subordinated with respect to another obligation to which it is being compared, (x) the existence of preferred creditors arising by operation of law or of collateral, credit support or other credit enhancement or security arrangements shall not be taken into account, except that, notwithstanding the foregoing, priorities arising by operation of law shall be taken into account where the Reference Entity is a Sovereign and (y) in the case of the Reference Obligation or the Prior Reference Obligation, as applicable, the ranking in priority of payment shall be determined as of the date as of which it was issued or incurred (or in circumstances where the Reference Obligation or a Prior Reference Obligation is the Standard Reference Obligation and "Standard Reference Obligation" is applicable, then the priority of payment of the Reference Obligation or the Prior Reference Obligation, as applicable, shall be determined as of the date of selection) and, in each case, shall not reflect any change to such ranking in priority of payment after such date and further provided that, in respect of Senior Non-Preferred Instruments, such definition shall be applied in the assessment of any Obligation without regard to how the Obligation is described by the laws of any relevant jurisdiction, including any characterisation of the Obligation as senior or unsubordinated by the laws of any relevant jurisdiction.

- (iii) "Specified Currency" means an obligation that is payable in the currency or currencies specified as such in the applicable Final Terms (or, if Specified Currency is specified in the applicable Final Terms and no currency is so specified, any Standard Specified Currency), provided that if the euro is a Specified Currency, "Specified Currency" shall also include an obligation that was previously payable in the euro, regardless of any redenomination thereafter if such redenomination occurred as a result of action taken by a Governmental Authority of a Member State of the European Union which is of general application in the jurisdiction of such Governmental Authority.
- (iv) "Not Sovereign Lender" means any obligation that is not primarily owed to (A) a Sovereign (B) any entity or organisation established by treaty or other arrangement between two or more Sovereigns including, without limitation to the foregoing, the International Monetary Fund, European Central Bank, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, which shall include, without limitation, obligations generally referred to as "Paris Club debt".

- (viii) "Not Domestic Issuance" means any obligation other than an obligation that was issued (or reissued, as the case may be) or intended to be offered for sale primarily in the domestic market of the Reference Entity. Any obligation that is registered or, as a result of some other action having been taken for such purpose, is qualified for sale outside the domestic market of the Reference Entity (regardless of whether such obligation is also registered or qualified for sale within the domestic market of the Reference Entity) shall be deemed not to be issued (or reissued, as the case may be), or intended to be offered for sale primarily in the domestic market of the Reference Entity.

(B) Interpretation of Provisions

- (1) if either of the Obligation Characteristics "Listed" or "Not Domestic Issuance" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall be construed as though such Obligation Characteristic had been specified as an Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Bonds and shall only be relevant if Bonds are covered by the selected Obligation Category.
- (2) if an Obligation is a Relevant Guarantee, the following will apply:
 - (a) For purposes of the application of the Obligation Category, the Relevant Guarantee shall be deemed to satisfy the same category or categories as those that describe the Underlying Obligation;
 - (b) For purposes of the application of the Obligation Characteristics, both the Relevant Guarantee and the Underlying Obligation must satisfy on the relevant date or dates each of the applicable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the applicable Final Terms from the following list: "Not Subordinated", "Specified Currency", "Not Sovereign Lender", "Not Domestic Currency" and "Not Domestic Law";
 - (c) For purposes of the application of the Obligation Characteristics, only the Underlying Obligation must satisfy on the relevant date or dates each of the applicable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the applicable Final Terms from the following list: "Listed", "Not Domestic Issuance", "Assignable Loan", "Consent Required Loan", "Direct Loan Participation", "Transferable", "Maximum Maturity", "Accelerated" or "Matured" and "Not Bearer"; and
 - (d) For purposes of the application of the Obligation Characteristics to an Underlying Obligation, references to the Reference Entity shall be deemed to refer to the Underlying Obligor.
- (3) if "Financial Reference Entity Terms" and "Governmental Intervention" are specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, if an obligation would otherwise satisfy a particular Obligation Characteristic, the existence of any terms in the relevant obligation in effect at the time of making the determination which permit the Reference Entity's obligations to be altered, discharged, released or suspended in circumstances which would constitute a Governmental Intervention, shall not cause such obligation to fail to satisfy such Obligation Characteristic.

"Obligation Acceleration" means one or more Obligations in an aggregate amount of not less than the Default Requirement have become due and payable before they would otherwise have been due and payable as a result of, or on the basis of, the occurrence of a default, event of default or other similar condition or event (however described), other than a failure to make any required payment, in respect of a Reference Entity under one or more Obligations.

"Obligation Currency" means the currency or currencies in which the Obligation is denominated.

"Obligation Default" means one or more Obligations in an aggregate amount of not less than the Default Requirement have become capable of being declared due and payable before they would otherwise have been due and payable as a result of, or on the basis of, the occurrence of a default, event of default, or other similar condition or event (however described), other than a failure to make any required payment, in respect of a Reference Entity under one or more Obligations.

"Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation" means the obligation of the Reference Entity (either directly or as provider of a guarantee) which is specified as the Reference Obligation with respect to the Reference Entity (if any is so specified) provided that if an obligation is not an obligation of the Reference Entity, such obligation will not constitute a valid Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation (other than for the purposes of determining the Seniority Level and for the "Not Subordinated" Obligation Characteristic or "Not Subordinated" Deliverable Obligation Characteristic) unless: (a) specified otherwise in the applicable Final Terms; or (b) the relevant Instruments constitute a Reference Obligation Only Trade.

"Outstanding Principal Balance" of an obligation will be calculated as follows:

- (a) first, by determining, in respect of the obligation, the amount of the Reference Entity's principal payment obligations and, where "Include Accrued Interest" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms (or where neither "Include Accrued Interest" nor "Exclude Accrued Interest" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms and the Calculation Agent determines that the then-current market practice is to include accrued interest), the Reference Entity's accrued but unpaid interest payment obligations (which, in the case of a Guarantee will be the lower of (A) the Outstanding Principal Balance (including accrued but unpaid interest, where applicable) of the Underlying Obligation (determined as if references to the Reference Entity were references to the Underlying Obligor) and (B) the amount of the Fixed Cap, if any);
- (b) second, by subtracting all or any portion of such amount which, pursuant to the terms of the obligation, (A) is subject to any Prohibited Action, or (B) may otherwise be reduced as a result of the effluxion of time or the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event or circumstance (other than by way of (I) payment or (II) a Permitted Contingency) (the amount determined in sub-paragraph (a) less any amounts subtracted in accordance with this sub-paragraph (b), the "Non-Contingent Amount"); and
- (c) third, by determining the Quantum of the Claim, which shall then constitute the Outstanding Principal Balance,

in each case, determined:

- (A) unless otherwise specified, in accordance with the terms of the obligation in effect on either (I) the NOPS Effective Date (or if the terms of the obligation are amended after such date but on or prior to the Delivery Date, the Delivery Date), or (II) the Valuation Date, as applicable; and
- (B) with respect to the Quantum of the Claim only, in accordance with any applicable laws (insofar as such laws reduce or discount the size of the claim to reflect the original issue price or accrued value of the obligation).

Where "Fallback Discounting" applies, then notwithstanding the foregoing, if (i) the Outstanding Principal Balance of an obligation is not reduced or discounted under sub-paragraph (B) above, (ii) that obligation is either a Bond that has an issue price less than ninety-five per cent of the principal redemption amount or a Loan where the amount advanced is less than ninety-five per cent of the principal repayment amount, and (iii) such Bond or Loan does not include provisions relating to the accretion over time of the amount which would be payable on an early redemption or repayment of such Bond or Loan that are customary for the applicable type of Bond or Loan as the case may be, then the Outstanding Principal Balance of such Bond or Loan shall be the lesser of (a) the Non-Contingent Amount; and (b) an amount determined by straight line interpolation between the issue price of the Bond or the amount advanced under the Loan and the principal redemption amount or principal repayment amount, as applicable.

For the purposes of determining whether the issue price of a Bond or the amount advanced under a Loan is less than ninety-five per cent of the principal redemption amount or principal repayment amount (as applicable) or, where applicable, for applying straight line interpolation:

- (x) where such Bond or Loan was issued as a result of an exchange offer, the issue price or amount advanced of the new Bond or Loan resulting from the exchange shall be deemed to be equal to the aggregate Outstanding Principal Balance of the original obligation(s) that were tendered or exchanged (the "Original Obligation(s)") at the time of such exchange (determined without regard to market or trading value of the Original Obligation(s)); and
- (y) in the case of a Bond or Loan that is fungible with a prior debt obligation previously issued by the Reference Entity, such Bond or Loan shall be treated as having the same issue price or amount advanced as the prior debt obligation.

In circumstances where a holder would have received more than one obligation in exchange for the Original Obligation(s), the Calculation Agent will determine the allocation of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Balance of the Original Obligation(s) amongst each of the resulting obligations for the purpose of determining the issue price or amount advanced of the relevant Bond or Loan. Such allocation will take into account the interest rate, maturity, level of subordination and other terms of the obligations that resulted from the exchange and shall be made by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the methodology (if any) determined by the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee.

Where: "Fallback Discounting" applies if, in respect of the Transaction Type specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Physical Settlement Matrix specifies that Fallback Discounting applies to such Transaction Type.

"Quantum of the Claim" means the lowest amount of the claim which could be validly asserted against the Reference Entity in respect of the Non-Contingent Amount if the obligation had become redeemable, been accelerated, terminated or had otherwise become due and payable at the time of the relevant determination, provided that the Quantum of the Claim cannot exceed the Non-Contingent Amount.

3. Automatic Exercise

- (a) Unless previously exercised or purchased and cancelled by the Issuer, each Long Credit Linked W&C Instrument will be automatically exercised on the Long Exercise Date, and each such Instrument shall entitle its Holder to receive from the Issuer on the Settlement Date the Cash Settlement Amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms (or, if no such provision is made in the applicable Final Terms, the outstanding Notional Amount thereof).
- (b) Unless previously exercised or purchased and cancelled by the Issuer, each Short Credit Linked W&C Instrument will be automatically exercised on the Short Exercise Date, and each such Instrument shall entitle its Holder to receive from the Issuer on the Settlement Date the Cash Settlement Amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms (or, if no such provision is made in the applicable Final Terms, zero).

If Reference Obligation Only Trade is applicable with respect to the Instruments and the event set out in sub-paragraph (a) of the definition of Substitution Event occurs with respect to the Reference Obligation, the Calculation Agent may give notice (such notice a "Reference Obligation Only Exercise Notice") to the Issuer on any day from and including the applicable Substitution Event Date and the Issuer shall exercise each Credit Linked Warrant or Credit Linked Certificate, as applicable, and the Holder of each such Instrument shall receive the Cash Settlement Amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms (or if no such provision is made in the applicable Final Terms (i) in respect of each Long Credit Linked W&C Instrument, the outstanding Notional Amount thereof or (ii) in respect of each Short Credit Linked W&C Instrument, zero).

4. Cash Settlement

Unless the Instruments have been previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled, if an Event Determination Date occurs (in the case of Nth-to-Default Instruments, in relation to the Nth Reference Entity in respect of which an Event Determination Date occurs) and the applicable Settlement Method is "Cash Settlement" (or a Fallback Settlement Event has occurred and the Fallback Settlement Method is "Cash Settlement"), the Calculation Agent shall give notice (such notice a "Settlement Notice") to the Issuer and the Issuer shall redeem or cancel, as applicable, all of the Instruments and pay in respect of each Instrument the Credit Event Redemption Amount on the Credit Event Redemption Date.

If an Event Determination Date occurs and the Instruments are redeemed in accordance with this Credit Linked W&C Condition 4, upon payment of the Credit Event Redemption Amount the Issuer shall have discharged its obligations in respect of the Instruments and shall have no other liability or obligation whatsoever in respect thereof. The Credit Event Redemption Amount may be less than the Issue Price or Notional Amount of an Instrument. Any shortfall shall be borne by the Holder and no liability shall attach to the Issuer and/or the Guarantor.

5. Physical Settlement

Unless the Instruments have been previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled, if an Event Determination Date occurs (in the case of Nth-to-Default Instruments, in relation to the Nth Reference Entity in respect of which an Event Determination Date occurs) and the applicable Settlement Method is "Physical Settlement" (or a Fallback Settlement Event has occurred and the Fallback Settlement Method is "Physical Settlement"), the Calculation Agent shall give notice (such notice a "Notice of Physical Settlement") to the Issuer on or before the NOPS Cut-off Date and the Issuer shall redeem or cancel, as applicable, all of the Instruments, by Delivering (or procuring the Delivery) in respect of each Instrument the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement, subject to and in accordance with the W&C Instruments Conditions and the Credit Linked W&C Conditions (and in particular, Credit Linked W&C Condition 9).

In the Notice of Physical Settlement, the Calculation Agent shall:

- (a) specify the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement that the Issuer shall endeavour to Deliver including, if available and applicable, the CUSIP or ISIN number (or, if such identifying number is not available or applicable, the rate and tenor) of each such Deliverable Obligation; and
- (b) specify the Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount, as applicable, or the equivalent amount in the Settlement Currency (in each case, the "Outstanding Amount") and, if different, the face amount, of each such Deliverable Obligation and the aggregate Outstanding Amount of all Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement that the Issuer shall endeavour to Deliver (the "Aggregate Outstanding Amount").

The Calculation Agent may at any time prior to any Delivery Date by delivery of a notice to the Issuer (the "NOPS Amendment Notice") amend the Notice of Physical Settlement and the Issuer shall endeavour to, pursuant to such NOPS Amendment Notice, Deliver to the Holders replacement Deliverable Obligations that are different from the Deliverable Obligations originally specified (each, a "Replacement Deliverable Obligation"). A NOPS Amendment Notice shall contain a revised detailed description of each Replacement Deliverable Obligation and shall also specify the Outstanding Amount of each Deliverable Obligation identified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or a prior NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, that is being replaced (with respect to each such Deliverable Obligation, the "Replaced Deliverable Obligation Outstanding Amount"). The Outstanding Amount of the Replacement Deliverable Obligations specified in any NOPS Amendment Notice in aggregate with the Outstanding Amount of the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any earlier NOPS Amendment Notice which, in each case, are not being replaced must not be greater than the Aggregate Outstanding Amount. Each such NOPS Amendment Notice must be effective on or prior to the Delivery Date (determined without reference to any change resulting from such NOPS Amendment Notice).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) the Calculation Agent may correct any errors or inconsistencies in the detailed description of each Deliverable Obligation contained in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, by notice to Issuer prior to the relevant Delivery Date; and (ii) if Asset Package Delivery is applicable, the Calculation Agent shall on the NOPS Effective Date, or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter (but in any case, prior to the Delivery Date), notify the Issuer of the detailed description of the Asset Package, if any, that the Issuer shall endeavour to deliver in lieu of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond, if any, specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, it being understood in each case that such notice of correction shall not constitute a NOPS Amendment Notice.

If (i) "Physical Settlement" is specified to be the Settlement Method in the applicable Final Terms (or is applicable as the Fallback Settlement Method), (ii) "Mod R" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms and (iii) Restructuring is the only Credit Event specified in a Credit Event Notice, then unless the Deliverable Obligation is a Prior Deliverable Obligation and Asset Package Delivery applies due to a Governmental Intervention, a Deliverable Obligation may only be specified (or deemed specified) in the Notice of Physical Settlement or in any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, if such Deliverable Obligation (A) is a Fully Transferable Obligation and (B) has a final maturity date not later than the applicable Restructuring Maturity Limitation Date, in each case, as of both the NOPS Effective Date and the Delivery Date.

If (i) "Physical Settlement" is specified to be the Settlement Method in the applicable Final Terms (or is applicable as the Fallback Settlement Method), (ii) "Mod Mod R" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms and (iii) Restructuring is the only Credit Event specified in a Credit Event Notice, then unless the Deliverable Obligation is a Prior Deliverable Obligation and Asset Package Delivery applies due to a Governmental Intervention, a Deliverable Obligation may only be specified (or deemed specified) in the Notice of Physical Settlement or in any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, if it (A) is a Conditionally Transferable Obligation and (B) has a final maturity date not later than the applicable Modified Restructuring Maturity Limitation Date in each case, as of both the NOPS Effective Date and the Delivery Date. Notwithstanding the foregoing, for purposes of this sub-paragraph, in the case of a Restructured Bond or Loan with a final maturity date on or prior to the 10-year Limitation Date, the final maturity date of such Bond or Loan shall be deemed to be the earlier of such final maturity date or the final maturity date of such Bond or Loan immediately prior to the relevant Restructuring.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in respect of each Credit Linked Warrant or Credit Linked Certificate shall be an amount calculated in accordance with the definition of "Partial Cash Settlement Amount", provided that the Guarantor shall designate in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner which portion of the Entitlement shall be an Undeliverable Obligation, and provided that the Valuation Date, shall be the date notified as such by the Guarantor to the Issuer and the Calculation Agent.

If an Event Determination Date occurs and the Instruments are redeemed or are cancelled in accordance with this Credit Linked W&C Condition 5, upon Delivery of the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement and/or payment of the Partial Cash Settlement Amount, as the case may be, the Issuer shall have discharged its obligations in respect of the Instruments and shall have no other liability or obligation whatsoever in respect thereof. The value of such Deliverable Obligations and/or the Partial Cash Settlement Amount in respect of the Instruments to be redeemed may be less than the Issue Price or Notional Amount of an Instrument. Any shortfall shall be borne by the Holder and no liability shall attach to the Issuer and/or the Guarantor.

6. Auction Settlement

Unless the Instruments have been previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled, if an Event Determination Date occurs (in the case of Nth-to-Default Instruments, in relation to the Nth Reference Entity in respect of which an Event Determination Date occurs) and the applicable Settlement Method is "Auction Settlement", the Calculation Agent shall give notice (such notice a "Settlement Notice") to the Issuer and the Issuer shall redeem or cancel as applicable, all of the Instruments and pay in respect of each Instrument the Auction Settlement Amount on the Auction Settlement Date unless a Fallback Settlement Event occurs (for the avoidance of doubt, in relation to the same Credit Event), in which case the Issuer shall redeem or cancel, as the case may be, the Instruments in accordance with the applicable Fallback Settlement Method.

If an Event Determination Date occurs and the Instruments are redeemed or are cancelled in accordance with this Credit Linked W&C Condition 6, upon payment of the Auction Settlement Amount the Issuer shall have discharged its obligations in respect of the Instruments and shall have no other liability or obligation whatsoever in respect thereof. The Auction Settlement Amount may be less than the Issue Price or Notional Amount of an Instrument. Any shortfall shall be borne by the Holder and no liability shall attach to the Issuer and/or the Guarantor.

7. Suspension of Obligations

If a Credit Event Resolution Request Date occurs in relation to any Reference Entity, then, unless the Issuer otherwise elects by notice to the Holders, any obligation of the Issuer to redeem or cancel (as the case may be) or otherwise settle any Credit Linked Warrant or Credit Linked Certificate or pay any Additional Amount which would otherwise be due thereon shall, to the extent that it relates to such Reference Entity, be and remain suspended until (a) the occurrence of a DC Credit Event Announcement; (b) the occurrence of a DC No Credit Event Announcement; or (c) the occurrence of a DC Credit Event Question Dismissal (each of the events set out in (a), (b) or (c), a "DC Announcement").

Following a DC Announcement, any obligations so suspended shall resume on the second Business Day immediately following the date of such DC Announcement (with benefit being given of the full day notwithstanding when the tolling or suspension began). Any Additional Amount so suspended shall, subject to W&C Instruments Condition 26(B) or W&C Instruments Condition 33(B), as applicable, become due and payable on the date determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner provided that such date shall not be later than 20 Business Days after the date of such DC Announcement.

No interest shall accrue on any Additional Amount, any Cash Settlement Amount or any other payment obligation of the Issuer so suspended.

For the avoidance of doubt, where a Postponement Notice has been delivered pursuant to Credit Linked W&C Condition 8, this Credit Linked W&C Condition 7 shall apply only upon the occurrence of a Credit Event Resolution Request Date and, from such time, shall supersede any suspension of payment pursuant to such Postponement Notice.

Where the applicable Final Terms specify that "Calculation Agent Determination" is applicable, this Credit Linked W&C Condition 7 shall not apply to the relevant Instruments unless the Calculation Agent notifies the Issuer that this Credit Linked W&C Condition 7 shall apply.

8. Additional Amounts

Following the delivery of an Extension Notice, in the case of additional amount bearing Credit Linked Warrants or Credit Linked Certificates and provided that an Event Determination Date has not occurred, the Issuer shall be obliged to pay Additional Amounts calculated as provided in W&C Instruments Condition 26 or W&C Instruments Condition 32, as applicable, accruing from (and including) the Additional Amount Payment Date immediately preceding the Actual Exercise Date (or, if none the Issue Date) to (but excluding) the Actual Exercise Date but shall only be obliged to make such payment of interest on the Long Exercise Date or the Short Exercise Date, as applicable, and no further or other amount in respect of interest shall be payable and no additional amount shall be payable in respect of such delay.

Without prejudice to Credit Linked W&C Condition 7, if "Accrual of Additional Amounts upon Credit Event" is specified as Not Applicable in the applicable Final Terms and the Calculation Agent determines that a Credit Event, a Potential Failure to Pay or a Potential Repudiation/Moratorium has occurred or may occur on or prior to an Additional Amount Payment Date, the Calculation Agent may notify the Issuer and where the Calculation Agent delivers any such notice (a "Postponement Notice") to the Issuer on or prior to such Additional Amount Payment Date (in either case, the "Postponed Payment Date"), any obligation of the Issuer to pay any Additional Amount shall be suspended for a period of 15 Business Days following such Postponed Payment Date (or, in respect of any Postponed Payment Date scheduled to fall on the Actual Exercise Date, up to the Long Exercise Date or the Short Exercise Date, as applicable, (or such shorter period as the Calculation Agent may notify the Issuer) to enable the Calculation Agent to determine whether a Credit Event has occurred.

For the avoidance of doubt, during such period of suspension pursuant to a Postponement Notice, no interest shall accrue on any amount of interest so suspended.

Where the Calculation Agent delivers a Postponement Notice to the Issuer, the Issuer shall give notice thereof as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12, provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any postponement of an Additional Amount Payment Date.

If, prior to the expiry of such period of suspension pursuant to a Postponement Notice, a Credit Event Resolution Request Date occurs, Credit Linked W&C Condition 7 shall apply and the suspension of the obligation of the Issuer to pay any interest amount pursuant to this Credit Linked W&C Condition 8 shall cease to apply.

If an Event Determination Date has not occurred on or prior to such 15th Business Day, Long Exercise Date or Short Exercise Date, as applicable, the Additional Amount shall be payable on such 15th Business Day, Long Exercise Date or Short Exercise Date, as applicable, (for the avoidance of doubt, no interest shall accrue on any additional amount so suspended). If an Event Determination Date has occurred on or prior to such 15th Business Day, Long Exercise Date or Short Exercise Date, as applicable, then notwithstanding W&C Instruments Condition 26(B)(a) or W&C Instruments Condition 33(B)(a), as applicable, each Instrument shall cease to accrue Additional Amounts from the Additional Amount Payment Date immediately preceding the Postponed Payment Date or, if the Postponed Payment Date falls on the first Additional Amount Payment Date, no Additional Amount shall accrue on the Instruments (and W&C Instruments Condition 26(B) or W&C Instruments Condition 33(B), as applicable shall be deemed to be amended accordingly).

9. Partial Cash Settlement

If all or a portion of the Undeliverable Obligations or Hedge Disruption Obligations comprising the Entitlement are not Delivered for whatever reason by the Final Delivery Date, the Calculation Agent shall give notice (a "Partial Cash Settlement Notice") to the Issuer, as applicable, and the Issuer shall pay in respect of each Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, the Partial Cash Settlement Amount on the Partial Cash Settlement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, the failure by the Issuer to Deliver all or such portion of the Undeliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement on or prior to the Final Delivery Date shall not constitute an Event of Default.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, for the purposes of this Credit Linked W&C Condition 9 the following terms are deemed to have the following meanings:

"Indicative Quotation" means, in accordance with the Quotation Method, each quotation obtained from a Quotation Dealer at the Valuation Time for (to the extent reasonably practicable) an amount of the Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, equal to the Quotation Amount, which reflects such Quotation Dealer's reasonable assessment of the price of such Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, based on such factors as such Quotation Dealer may consider relevant, which may include historical prices and recovery rates.

"Market Value" means, with respect to an Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, on a Valuation Date, (a) if more than three Full Quotations are obtained, the arithmetic mean of such Full Quotations, disregarding the Full Quotations having the same highest and lowest values (and, if more than one such Full Quotations have the same highest or lowest value, then one of such highest or lowest Full Quotations shall be disregarded); (b) if exactly three Full Quotations are obtained, the Full Quotations remaining after disregarding the highest and lowest Full Quotations (and, if more than one such Full Quotations have the same highest value or lowest value, then one of such highest or lowest Full Quotations shall be disregarded); (c) if exactly two Full Quotations are obtained, the arithmetic mean of such Full Quotations; (d) if fewer than two Full Quotations are obtained and a Weighted Average Quotation is obtained, such Weighted Average Quotation; (e) if Indicative Quotations are specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms and exactly three Indicative Quotations are obtained, the Indicative Quotation remaining after disregarding the highest and lowest Indicative Quotations (and, if more than one such Indicative Quotations have the same highest or lowest value, then one of such highest or lowest Indicative Quotations shall be disregarded); (f) if fewer than two Full Quotations are obtained and no Weighted Average Quotation is obtained (and, if Indicative Quotations are applicable, fewer than three Indicative Quotations are obtained) then, subject to paragraph (b) of the definition of "Quotation" below, an amount as determined by the Calculation Agent on the next Business Day on which two or more Full Quotations or a Weighted Average Quotation or, if applicable, three Indicative Quotations are obtained; and (vii) if fewer than two Full Quotations are obtained and no Weighted Average Quotation is obtained (and, if Indicative Quotations are applicable, fewer than three Indicative Quotations are obtained) on the same Business Day on or prior to the tenth Business Day following the Valuation Date, the Market Value shall be any Full Quotation obtained from a Quotation Dealer at the Valuation Time on such tenth Business Day or, if no Full Quotation is obtained, the weighted average of any firm quotations (or, if applicable, Indicative Quotations) for the Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, obtained from Quotation Dealers at the Valuation Time on such tenth Business Day with respect to the aggregate portion of the Quotation Amount for which such quotations were obtained and a quotation deemed to be zero for the balance of the Quotation Amount for which firm quotations (or, if applicable, Indicative Quotations) were not obtained on such day.

"Partial Cash Settlement Amount" is deemed to be, for each Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, an amount calculated by the Calculation Agent equal to the greater of (a) (i) the Outstanding Principal Balance, the Due and Payable Amount or the Currency Amount, as applicable, of each Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, multiplied by (ii) either (A) if one or more Auctions are held by the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee in respect of the Reference Entity, the Auction Final Price or (B) if the Calculation Agent decides (in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner), the Final Price with respect to such Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, less (iii) Unwind Costs, if any (but excluding any Unwind Costs already taken into account in calculating the relevant Entitlement), and (b) zero.

"Partial Cash Settlement Date" is deemed to be the date falling three Business Days after the calculation of the Final Price or, as applicable, the date falling fifteen Business Days after the later of (a) the Final Delivery Date and (b) the Auction Final Price Determination Date.

"Quotation" means each Full Quotation, the Weighted Average Quotation and, if Indicative Quotations are specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, each Indicative Quotation obtained and expressed as a percentage with respect to a Valuation Date in the manner that follows:

- (a) The Calculation Agent shall attempt to obtain Full Quotations with respect to each Valuation Date from five or more Quotation Dealers. If the Calculation Agent is unable to obtain two or more such Full Quotations on the same Business Day within three Business Days of a Valuation Date, then on the next following Business Day (and, if necessary, on each Business Day thereafter until the tenth Business Day following the relevant Valuation Date) the Calculation Agent shall attempt to obtain Full Quotations from five or more Quotation Dealers, and, if two or more Full Quotations are not available, a Weighted Average Quotation. If two or more such Full Quotations or a Weighted Average Quotation are not available on any such Business Day and Indicative Quotations are specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, the Calculation Agent shall attempt to obtain three Indicative Quotations from five or more Quotation Dealers.

- (b) If the Calculation Agent is unable to obtain two or more Full Quotations or a Weighted Average Quotation (or, if Indicative Quotations are specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, three Indicative Quotations) on the same Business Day on or prior to the tenth Business Day following the Valuation Date, the Quotations shall be deemed to be any Full Quotation obtained from a Quotation Dealer at the Valuation Time on such tenth Business Day or, if no Full Quotation is obtained, the weighted average of any firm quotations (or, if applicable, Indicative Quotations) for the Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligation, as the case may be, obtained from Quotation Dealers at the Valuation Time on such tenth Business Day with respect to the aggregate portion of the Quotation Amount for which such quotations were obtained and a quotation deemed to be zero for the balance of the Quotation Amount for which firm quotations (or, if applicable, Indicative Quotations) were not obtained on such day.
- (c) The Calculation Agent shall determine, based on the then-current market practice in the market of the relevant Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be, whether such Quotations shall include or exclude accrued but unpaid interest. All Quotations shall be obtained in accordance with this specification or determination.
- (d) If any Quotation obtained with respect to an Accreting Obligation is expressed as a percentage of the amount payable in respect of such obligation at maturity, such Quotation will instead be expressed as a percentage of the Outstanding Principal Balance for the purposes of determining the Final Price.

"Quotation Amount" is deemed to be, with respect to each type or issue of Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be, an amount equal to the Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount (or, in either case, its equivalent in the relevant Obligation Currency converted by the Calculation Agent in a commercially reasonable manner by reference to exchange rates in effect at the time that the relevant Quotation is being obtained), as applicable, of such Undeliverable Obligation or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be. The Calculation Agent may in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner round up or down the Quotation Amount for the purposes of seeking a Quotation.

"Quotation Method" is deemed to be Bid.

"Multiple Holder Obligation" means an Obligation that (a) at the time of the event which constitutes a Restructuring Credit Event, is held by more than three holders that are not Affiliates of each other and (b) with respect to which a percentage of holders (determined pursuant to the terms of the Obligation as in effect on the date of such event) at least equal to sixty-six and two-thirds is required to consent to the event which constitutes a Restructuring Credit Event, provided that any Obligation that is a Bond shall be deemed to satisfy the requirement in (b).

These Credit Linked W&C Conditions shall be deemed to apply to such Credit Linked Warrants or Credit Linked Certificates, as applicable, and shall be construed accordingly.
- (b) Where a Credit Event occurs in respect of a Reference Entity after more than one Successor has been identified, the provisions of these Credit Linked W&C Conditions shall be deemed to apply to the Notional Amount represented by that Reference Entity only (the "Partial Notional Amount") and all the provisions shall be construed accordingly. Each Instrument shall thereafter be redeemed in part (such redeemed part being equal to its pro rata share of the Partial Notional Amount).
- (c) The Instruments shall remain outstanding with a new Notional Amount equal to the Notional Amount prior to such redemption minus the Partial Notional Amount (such amount, the "Remaining Amount") and Additional Amounts (if applicable) shall be payable on the Remaining Amount as provided for in W&C Instruments Condition 26 or W&C Instruments Condition 33, as applicable (adjusted in such manner as the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines to be appropriate).
- (d) Any determinations (including (without limitation) as to the division of the Credit Linked Warrants or Credit Linked Certificates, as applicable) and any adjustment to the applicable Final Terms relating to, connected with or as a result of the identification of more than one Successor shall be made by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner (provided that if such determinations have been made by the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee, then the Calculation Agent shall, unless (x) otherwise provided for in the applicable Final Terms or (y) "Calculation Agent Determination" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, be bound by such determinations) and, in the absence of manifest error, shall be conclusive and binding on all Holders. The applicable Final Terms may be amended and restated from time to time to reflect the effect of such determinations without the consent of the Holders and the Holders are deemed to agree to this provision by the purchase of the Instruments.

understood that, for this purpose, Subordination will be deemed to include any such change that results in a lower ranking under a priority of payments provision applicable to the relevant Instrument Payments; or

- (iii) The definition of "Restructuring" in Credit Linked W&C Condition 2 is hereby amended by the insertion of the following paragraph after the final paragraph thereof:

"For purposes of the definition of "Restructuring" in Credit Linked W&C Condition 2 and if Credit Linked W&C Condition 14 is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, for the purposes of the Credit Linked W&C Conditions the term Obligation shall be deemed to include Insured Instruments for which the Reference Entity is acting as provider of a Qualifying Policy. With respect to an Insured Instrument in the form of a pass-through certificate or similar funded beneficial interest, the term "final maturity date", as such term is used in Credit Linked W&C Condition 5 and the definition of "Restructuring Maturity Limitation Date", shall mean the specified date by which the Qualifying Policy guarantees or insures, as applicable, that the ultimate distribution of the Certificate Balance will occur.
- (i) Other Provisions. For purposes of the definitions of "Credit Event" and "Deliver" in Credit Linked W&C Condition 2, references to the "Underlying Obligation" and the "Underlying Obligor" shall be deemed to include "Insured Instruments" and the "Insured Obligor" respectively.

Qualifying Policies shall exclude any arrangement (i) structured as a surety bond, letter of credit or equivalent legal arrangement or (ii) pursuant to the express contractual terms of which the payment obligations of the Reference Entity can be

15. Provisions taken from the ISDA supplement titled "Additional Provisions for LPN Reference Entities" (published on September 15, 2014)

If Credit Linked W&C Condition 15 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked W&C Conditions and subject to Credit Linked W&C Condition 21 (Provisions taken from the ISDA Supplement titled "Additional Provisions for Certain Russian Entities: Excluded Obligations and Excluded Deliverable Obligations" (published on March 25, 2022)) (if such Credit Linked W&C Condition 21 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms), the following provisions will apply:

- (a) provisions relating to Multiple Holder Obligation will be deemed to be Not Applicable with respect to any Reference Obligation (and any Underlying Loan);
- (b) each Reference Obligation will be an Obligation, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked W&C Conditions and in particular, notwithstanding that the obligation is not an obligation of the Reference Entity;
- (c) each Reference Obligation will be a Deliverable Obligation notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked W&C Conditions including and in particular, notwithstanding that the obligation is not an obligation of the Reference Entity.

For the avoidance of doubt with respect to any LPN Reference Obligation that specifies an Underlying Loan or an Underlying Finance Instrument, the Outstanding Principal Balance shall be determined by reference to the Underlying Loan or Underlying Finance Instrument (as applicable) relating to such LPN Reference Obligation.

The Not Subordinated Obligation Characteristic and Deliverable Obligation Characteristic shall be construed as if no Reference Obligation was specified in respect of the Reference Entity;

- (d) the definition of "Reference Obligation" shall be deleted and the following substituted therefor:

"Reference Obligation" means, as of the Trade Date, each of the obligations listed as a Reference Obligation of the Reference Entity in the applicable Final Terms and set forth on the relevant LPN Reference Obligations List (each a "Markit Published LPN Reference Obligation"), as published by Markit Group Limited, or any successor thereto, which list is as of the Trade Date available at <http://www.markit.com/marketing/services.php>, any Additional LPN determined in accordance with sub-paragraph (e) below, and each Additional Obligation. Each Reference Obligation determined in accordance with the foregoing will be a Reference Obligation notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked W&C

Conditions, and in particular, notwithstanding that the obligation is not an obligation of the Reference Entity. Standard Reference Obligation shall be Not Applicable. The proviso in the definition of "Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation" shall not apply.

It is intended that there may be more than one Reference Obligation, as a result of which all applicable references in the Credit Linked W&C Conditions to "the Reference Obligation" shall be construed as a reference to "a Reference Obligation", and all other provisions of the Credit Linked W&C Conditions shall be construed accordingly.

The provisions set forth in the definitions of "Substitute Reference Obligation" and "Substitution Event" shall not be applicable to LPN Reference Obligations; and

- (e) the following additional definitions shall apply:

"Additional LPN" means any bond issued in the form of a loan participation note (a "LPN") by an entity (the "LPN Issuer") for the sole purpose of providing funds for the LPN Issuer to (a) finance a loan to the Reference Entity (the "Underlying Loan") or (b) provide finance to the Reference Entity by way of a deposit, loan or other Borrowed Money instrument (the "Underlying Finance Instrument"), provided that (i) either (x) in the event that there is an Underlying Loan with respect to such LPN the Underlying Loan satisfies the Obligation Characteristics specified in respect of the Reference Entity or (y) in the event that there is an Underlying Finance Instrument with respect to such LPN the Underlying Finance Instrument satisfies the Not Subordinated, Not Domestic Law and Not Domestic Currency Obligation Characteristics; (ii) the LPN satisfies the following Deliverable Obligation Characteristics: Transferable, Not Bearer, Specified Currency – Standard Specified Currencies, Not Domestic Law, Not Domestic Issuance; and (iii) the LPN Issuer has, as of the issue date of such obligation, granted a First Ranking Interest over or in respect of certain of its rights in relation to the relevant Underlying Loan or Underlying Finance Instrument (as applicable) for the benefit of the holders of the LPNs.

"Additional Obligation" means each of the obligations listed as an Additional Obligation of the Reference Entity in the applicable Final Terms or set forth on the relevant LPN Reference Obligations List, as published by Markit Group Limited, or any successor thereto, as of the Trade Date, which list is currently available at <http://www.markit.com/marketing/services.php>.

"First Ranking Interest" means a charge, security interest (or other type of interest having similar effect) (an "Interest"), which is expressed as being "first ranking", "first priority", or similar ("First Ranking") in the document creating such Interest (notwithstanding that such Interest may not be First Ranking under any insolvency laws of any related insolvency jurisdiction of the LPN Issuer).

"LPN Reference Obligation" means each Reference Obligation other than any Additional Obligation.

For the avoidance of doubt, any change to the issuer of an LPN Reference Obligation in accordance with its terms shall not prevent such LPN Reference Obligation constituting a Reference Obligation.

Each LPN Reference Obligation is issued for the sole purpose of providing funds for the Issuer to finance a loan to the Reference Entity. For the purposes of the Credit Linked W&C Conditions each such loan shall be an Underlying Loan.

16. Deliverable Obligations Portfolio Valuation

If Credit Linked W&C Condition 16 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms:

- (a) notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked W&C Conditions, "Reference Obligation" shall mean:

- (ii) each Benchmark Obligation specified in the applicable Final Terms; and
- (iii) any Substitute Benchmark Obligation,

as selected by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner and notified to the Issuer (a "Reference Obligation Notification") on or prior to the relevant Valuation Date.

In each case the Reference Obligation Notification shall describe the selected Reference Obligation in reasonable detail and shall specify the title or designation, maturity date and coupon rate. The Calculation Agent may at any time after delivering a Reference Obligation Notification but prior to the Valuation Time on the Valuation Date deliver a further Reference Obligation Notification which shall replace all prior Reference Obligation Notifications in relation to any additional or replacement Reference Obligation specified therein.

For the avoidance of doubt the Calculation Agent shall be entitled to select any of the Reference Obligations for the purposes of calculating the Final Price irrespective of their market value and, provided that (in the case of Credit Linked W&C Condition 16(a)(i) only) the selected obligation(s) satisfy the Deliverable Obligation Category and Deliverable Obligation Characteristics on the date of selection, such obligation(s) may constitute the Reference Obligation for the purposes hereof notwithstanding that this is not the case subsequent to such date. For the avoidance of doubt, the Deliverable Obligation Category and Deliverable Obligation Characteristics shall not apply in respect of any Benchmark Obligation or Substitute Benchmark Obligation.

- (b) The definition of "Substitute Reference Obligation" in Credit Linked W&C Condition 2 shall be amended so that each reference to "Substitute Reference Obligation" and "Non-Standard Reference Obligation" is replaced by reference to a "Substitute Benchmark Obligation" and a "Benchmark Obligation" respectively, provided that once a Benchmark Obligation has been specified as a Reference Obligation the definition of "Substitute Reference Obligation" shall not apply with respect to such Benchmark Obligation.
- (c) Sub-paragraph (b)(i) of "Method for Determining Obligations" in the definition of "Obligation" in Credit Linked W&C Condition 2 shall be deleted and the following substituted therefor:

"Not Subordinated" means an obligation that is not Subordinated to (i) the most senior Benchmark Obligation in priority of payment or (ii) if no Benchmark Obligation is specified in the applicable Final Terms, any unsubordinated Borrowed Money obligation of the Reference Entity. For purposes of determining whether an obligation satisfies the "Not Subordinated" Obligation Characteristic or Deliverable Obligation Characteristic, the ranking in priority of payment of each Benchmark Obligation shall be determined as of the later of (A) the Trade Date specified in the applicable Final Terms and (B) the date on which such Benchmark Obligation was issued or incurred and shall not reflect any change to such ranking in priority of payment after such later date.

- (d) For purposes of the Credit Linked W&C Conditions:
 - (i) each reference in the Credit Linked W&C Conditions to "a Deliverable Obligation" and "the Deliverable Obligation" shall be deemed to be a reference to "a Reference Obligation" and "the Reference Obligation" respectively; and
 - (ii) each reference in the Credit Linked W&C Conditions to "a Delivery Date" and "the Delivery Date" shall be deemed to be a reference to the date of selection of the relevant Reference Obligation.

- (e) For the avoidance of doubt, if Credit Linked W&C Condition 16 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms Credit Linked W&C Condition 5 is not applicable and the Instruments shall, following the occurrence of an Event Determination Date, be settled in accordance with Credit Linked W&C Condition 4, and these Credit Linked W&C Conditions shall be construed accordingly.
- (f) If the Calculation Agent selects more than one Reference Obligation, such Reference Obligations shall have an Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount (or the equivalent Currency Amount of any such amount) that, in aggregate, shall not exceed the Reference Entity Notional Amount in respect of the relevant Reference Entity.
- (g) With respect to a Reference Entity and the related Final Price Calculation Date, the "Final Price" shall be the weighted average of the Final Prices determined for each Reference Obligation in respect of the relevant Reference Entity, weighted by reference to the Reference Portfolio of each such Reference Obligation.
- (h) For the purposes of Credit Linked W&C Condition 16(a)(ii), Benchmark Obligation means each Reference Obligation specified in respect of the relevant Reference Entity, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms.

17. Nth-to-Default Instruments

Where the Instruments are Nth-to-Default Instruments:

- (a) where a succession has occurred in respect of a Reference Entity (other than a Reference Entity in respect of which an Event Determination Date has occurred) and more than one Successor has been identified, the applicable Instruments will be equally divided into a number of notional Credit Linked Warrants or Credit Linked Certificate, as applicable, as there are Successors. Each such notional Credit Linked Warrants or Credit Linked Certificates, as applicable, shall include a Successor and each and every one of the Reference Entities unaffected by such succession shall apply thereto;
- (b) if "Substitution" is specified as not being applicable in the applicable Final Terms, where any Reference Entity (the "Surviving Reference Entity") (other than a Reference Entity that is subject to a succession) would be a Successor to any other Reference Entity (the "Legacy Reference Entity") pursuant to a succession, such Surviving Reference Entity shall be deemed to be a Successor to the Legacy Reference Entity; and
- (c) if "Substitution" is specified as being applicable in the applicable Final Terms, where any Reference Entity (the "Surviving Reference Entity") (other than a Reference Entity that is subject to a succession) would be a Successor to any other Reference Entity (the "Legacy Reference Entity") pursuant to a succession:
 - (i) such Surviving Reference Entity shall be deemed not to be a Successor to the Legacy Reference Entity; and
 - (ii) the Replacement Reference Entity shall be deemed to be a Successor to the Legacy Reference Entity.

19. Provisions taken from the 2014 Sovereign No Asset Package Delivery Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (published on 15 September 2014)

If Credit Linked W&C Condition 21 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked W&C Conditions, the following provisions shall apply. In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions set out in this Credit Linked W&C Condition 21 and the Credit Linked W&C Condition 15 (Provisions taken from the ISDA supplement titled "Additional Provisions for LPN Reference Entities" (published on September 15, 2014)) (if such Credit Linked W&C Condition 15 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms), the provisions set out in this Credit Linked W&C Condition 21 shall prevail:

- (a) The following additional definitions shall apply:

"Covered Reference Entity" means each entity listed below:

Entity	Restricted Debt Start Date
The Russian Federation. This includes any government ministry, agency or instrumentality of the Russian Federation, including the Ministry of Finance of the Russian Federation.	February 24, 2022

"Relevant Sanctions" means any economic or financial sanctions, trade embargoes or other similar prohibitions or restrictions on activity pursuant to any laws, regulations, orders or licenses imposed, administered or enforced from time to time by a Sanctions Authority. In respect of the European Union, the Relevant Sanctions are limited to those imposed by the European Union itself and not sanctions imposed by an individual member state.

"Restricted Debt" means any debt that is issued or incurred on or after the Restricted Debt Start Date of the applicable Covered Reference Entity (either directly or as provider of a Relevant Guarantee). In relation to a Credit Linked Instrument for which Credit Linked W&C Condition 15 (Provisions taken from the ISDA supplement titled "Additional Provisions for LPN Reference Entities" (published on September 15, 2014)) is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, Restricted Debt includes any Reference Obligation in respect of the applicable Covered Reference Entity that is issued or incurred on or after the Restricted Debt Start Date in respect of such Covered Reference Entity.

"Restricted Period" means, in respect of a Covered Reference Entity, the period from, and including, the Restricted Debt Start Date to, but excluding, the Restricted Debt End Date.

"Sanctions Authority" means any authority responsible for the imposition, administration and/or enforcement of sanctions in Canada, the European Union, Japan, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States of America.

"Secondary Trading" means the purchase, sale or dealing in debt issued or incurred by the applicable Covered Reference Entity (either directly or as provider of a Relevant Guarantee) (other than such activities that occur solely within the primary market at the time the debt is issued or incurred). In relation to a Credit Linked Instrument for which Credit Linked W&C Condition 15 (Provisions taken from the ISDA supplement titled "Additional Provisions for LPN Reference Entities" (published on September 15, 2014)) is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the reference to debt includes a LPN issued for the purpose of providing finance to the Covered Reference Entity (whether by way of deposit, loan, or another form of Borrowed Money instrument).

- (b) Unless and until the Restricted Period has ended, notwithstanding the definition of "Obligation", any obligation that is Restricted Debt shall be an "Excluded Obligation".

- (c) Unless and until the Restricted Period has ended, notwithstanding the definition of "Deliverable Obligation", any obligation that is Restricted Debt shall be an "Excluded Deliverable Obligation".
- (d) The relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee may determine whether the Restricted Period has ended in respect of any Covered Reference Entity.

22. Provisions taken from the ISDA supplement titled "Additional Provisions for the Republic of Hungary: Obligation Characteristics and Deliverable Obligation Characteristics" (published on 15 September 2014)

If Credit Linked W&C Condition 22 is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Linked W&C Conditions, the following provisions shall apply:

- (a) "Obligations" shall include any National Bank of Hungary Obligation, where:

"National Bank of Hungary Obligation" means any obligation of the National Bank of Hungary (either directly or as provider of a Relevant Guarantee) and any Successor:

- (i) which has the Obligation Characteristic "Not Subordinated", where solely for such purposes the definition of "Not Subordinated" shall be construed as if the National Bank of Hungary were the Reference Entity and no Reference Obligation has been specified;
- (ii) which is described by the Obligation Category specified in respect of the Republic of Hungary;
- (iii) which has each of the Obligation Characteristics specified in respect of the Republic of Hungary; and
- (iv) in relation to which the occurrence or existence of an Event of Default (as defined in this Condition) will cause any obligation of the Republic of Hungary in respect of Borrowed Money to become, with the lapse of any grace period and subject to any other requirements under the terms of such Borrowed Money obligation (including requirements as to the amounts of such default), immediately due and payable pursuant to the terms of such Borrowed Money obligation.

"Event of Default" means any failure by the National Bank of Hungary as issuer or obligor or guarantor of the relevant obligation, to make, when due any payment of principal or premium or prepayment charge or interest, if any, on such obligation.

For the purposes only of construing the term "National Bank of Hungary Obligation", the National Bank of Hungary shall be deemed to be a Reference Entity.

- (b) "Deliverable Obligations" shall include any National Bank of Hungary Deliverable Obligation, where:

"National Bank of Hungary Deliverable Obligation" means any obligation of the National Bank of Hungary (either directly or as provider of a Relevant Guarantee) and any Successor:

- (i) which has the Deliverable Obligation Characteristic "Not Subordinated", where solely for such purposes the definition of "Not Subordinated" shall be construed as if the National Bank of Hungary were a Reference Entity and no Reference Obligation has been specified;
- (ii) which is described by the Deliverable Obligation Category specified in respect of the Republic of Hungary;
- (iii) which has each of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics specified in respect of the Republic of Hungary; and

- (iv) in relation to which the occurrence or existence of an Event of Default (as defined in this Condition) will cause any obligation(s) of the Republic of Hungary in respect of Borrowed Money, to become, with the lapse of any grace period and subject to any other requirements under the terms of such borrowed Money obligation (including requirements as to the amounts of such default), immediately due and payable, pursuant to the terms of such Borrowed Money obligation.

23. Physical Settlement Matrix

Where a Transaction Type is specified in the applicable Final Terms in respect of any Reference Entity, then the provisions of such Final Terms shall apply with respect to such Reference Entity in accordance with the Physical Settlement Matrix as it applies to such Transaction Type, as though such Physical Settlement Matrix were set out in full in such Final Terms. Certain additional provisions or supplements may be deemed to apply to the Credit Linked W&C Conditions in respect of a Reference Entity if those provisions or supplements are specified as being applicable for the relevant Reference Entity in the Credit Derivatives Physical Settlement Matrix and the provisions of the Credit Linked W&C Conditions shall be construed as if those additional provisions or supplements had been included in the Credit Linked W&C Conditions with such amendments as the Calculation Agent deems necessary to give effect to those provisions.

24. Notices to Holders

The Issuer shall, upon receiving any of the following notices from the Calculation Agent, as soon as practicable forward a copy of such notice(s) to the Holders of the relevant Instruments:

- (a) an Extension Notice;
- (b) a Cancellation Notice;
- (c) a Credit Event Notice;
- (d) a Notice of Publicly Available Information;

- (o) (where "Calculation Agent Determination" is specified as being applicable in the applicable Final Terms) any notification from the Calculation Agent that it will apply a DC Resolution for the purposes of the relevant Instruments.

25. Calculation Agent

Any determination by the Calculation Agent of any amount or of any state of affairs, circumstance, event or other matter, or the formation of any opinion or the exercise of any discretion required or permitted to be determined, formed or exercised by the Calculation Agent pursuant to the Credit Linked W&C Conditions and related provisions shall (in the absence of manifest error) be final and binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor and the Holders and shall be without liability on the part of the Calculation Agent and without the Calculation Agent being obliged to consider the interests of the Issuer, the Guarantor or the Holders. In performing its duties pursuant to the Credit Linked W&C Conditions, the Calculation Agent shall act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Any delay, deferral or forbearance by the Calculation Agent in the performance or exercise of any of its obligations or its discretion under the Credit Linked W&C Conditions including, without limitation, the giving of any notice by it to any person, shall not affect the validity or binding nature of any later performance or exercise of such obligation or discretion, and none of the Calculation Agent, the Issuer and the Guarantor shall, in the absence of wilful misconduct and gross negligence, bear any liability in respect of, or consequent upon, any such delay, deferral or forbearance.

For the avoidance of doubt, if the applicable Final Terms specify that "Calculation Agent Determination" is applicable, then notwithstanding any provision in these Credit Linked W&C Conditions, the Issuer and the Calculation Agent shall not be bound to (although they may in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) apply any DC Resolution to the Instruments and unless the Calculation Agent notifies the Issuer that any DC Resolution shall apply to the Instruments, the Credit Linked W&C Conditions and the relevant Instruments shall be construed as if the relevant DC Resolution and the relevant DC Question was not made. If the Calculation Agent notifies the Issuer that any DC Resolution shall apply to the Instruments, the Calculation Agent shall have the power to amend or otherwise adjust any provision of these Credit Linked W&C Conditions (including, without limitation any provision relating to the timing of notices hereunder) to account for the application of such DC Resolution.

26. Change in Market Convention

The Calculation Agent may (but shall not be obliged to), without obtaining the consent of or consulting with the Holders or any other person, from time to time and at any time in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, amend any provision of these Credit Linked W&C Conditions or the Instruments:

- (a) (including but not limited to the applicable Transaction Type, Credit Events, Deliverable Obligation Category, and Deliverable Obligation Characteristics and deliverability, Reference Obligation, Successor and other provisions) to correspond with the most recently published ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions, ISDA Credit Derivatives Physical Settlement Matrix version, SRO List and/or prevailing trading standards applicable to a Reference Entity;
- (b) to incorporate and/or reflect further or alternative documents from time to time published by ISDA with respect to credit derivative transactions and/or the operation or application of determinations by the ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees which the Calculation Agent determines in a commercially reasonable manner are necessary to reflect market practice for credit derivative transactions; and/or
- (c) in circumstances where a Reference Entity has proposed an exchange of all or substantially all of the obligations of such Reference Entity into cash, securities and/or other assets, to reflect or account for such exchange, regardless of the credit derivatives definitions or trading standards applicable to such Reference Entity.

The applicable Final Terms may be amended and/or restated from time to time to reflect any such amendments without the consent of the Holders, and the Holders are deemed to agree to this provision by the purchase or acquisition of the Instruments.

27. Additional Provisions

- (a) If one or more amendments or adjustments to these Credit Linked W&C Conditions are required for one or more Series of credit linked Instruments, including any issue of Nth-to-Default Instruments or leveraged credit linked instruments, the applicable Final Terms shall set out such amendments or adjustments to these Credit Linked W&C Conditions that are necessary in order to take account of the nature of such instruments and these Credit Linked W&C Conditions shall be construed accordingly.

- (b) Any term defined or described in these Credit Linked W&C Conditions or the applicable Final Terms includes where that term is incorporated or included by reference to another document including (without limitation) where the applicability or otherwise of any particular provision is determined by reference to the Credit Derivatives Physical Settlement Matrix.
- (c) Subject to sub-paragraph (d) below, in order to determine the day on which an event occurs for purposes of these Credit Linked W&C Conditions, the demarcation of days shall be made by reference to Greenwich Mean Time (or, if the Transaction Type of the Reference Entity relates to Japan, Tokyo time), irrespective of the time zone in which such event occurred. Any event occurring at midnight shall be deemed to have occurred immediately prior to midnight.
- (d) Notwithstanding the definition of "Credit Event Notice" and sub-paragraph (c) above, if a payment is not made by the Reference Entity on its due date or, as the case may be, on the final day of the relevant Grace Period, then such failure to make a payment shall be deemed to have occurred on such day prior to midnight Greenwich Mean Time (or, if the Transaction Type of the Reference Entity relates to Japan, Tokyo time), irrespective of the time zone of its place of payment.

28. Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the determination by the Calculation Agent that an Additional Disruption Event has occurred, the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may take the action described in (i) or (ii) below:
 - (i) require the Calculation Agent to determine in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any of the other terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms to account for the Additional Disruption Event and determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
 - (ii) in the case of Credit Linked Warrants, give notice to Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 and cancel the Credit Linked Warrants. If the Credit Linked Warrants are so cancelled, the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each Credit Linked Warrant held by him, which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Additional Disruption Event, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12; or
 - (iii) in the case of Credit Linked Certificates, give notice to Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 and cancel the Credit Linked Certificates. If the Credit Linked Certificates are so cancelled, the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each Credit Linked Certificate held by him, which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Additional Disruption Event, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12.
- (b) Upon the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 stating the occurrence of the Additional Disruption Event giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of the Additional Disruption Event.

- (c) For these purposes:

"Additional Disruption Event" means any of Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, and/or Increased Cost of Hedging, in each case if specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (i) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (ii) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Calculation Agent determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner that (A) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any relevant asset, hedge or related trading position or (B) the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents will incur a materially increased cost in performing the obligations of the Issuer in relation to the Instruments (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position).

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the equity, price, credit or other risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s).

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the equity, price, credit or other risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s), provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging.

ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR PHYSICAL DELIVERY NOTES

1. Interpretation

The following provisions (the "Physical Delivery Note Conditions") apply to Notes issued by MLBV specified as being Physical Delivery Notes in the applicable Final Terms or where Physical Delivery is specified in the applicable Final Terms. Physical delivery of an Entitlement shall be in accordance with usual market practice for delivery of such Entitlement and the applicable rules and procedures of the relevant Clearing System. The applicable Final Terms may set forth further conditions for Physical Delivery Notes. For the avoidance of doubt, BAC Notes and BofA Finance Notes may not be settled by physical delivery.

References in the Physical Delivery Note Conditions to "delivery", "delivered" and "deliver" shall in the context of the delivery of the Entitlement in respect of Credit Linked Notes be deemed to be references to "Delivery", "Delivered" and "Deliver" as such terms are defined and construed in the Credit Linked Note Conditions.

Notwithstanding anything else in these Physical Delivery Note Conditions, as used in these Physical Delivery Note Conditions, "delivery" means in relation to any Entitlement, the carrying out of steps required of the Issuer (or such person (including any of its Affiliates) as it may procure to make the relevant delivery on its behalf) in order to effect the transfer of the relevant Entitlement:

- (a) to the relevant Clearing System for the credit of the account of the relevant Holder, or
- (b) in the manner specified in the relevant Final Terms or relevant Asset Transfer Notice, or
- (c) in such other commercially reasonable manner as the Issuer shall determine to be appropriate for such delivery and will, where appropriate and if practicable, notify the relevant Holder in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices), and "deliver", "delivered" and "deliverable" shall be construed accordingly. The Issuer (or such person (including its Affiliates) as it may procure to make the relevant delivery on its behalf) shall not be responsible for any delay or failure in the delivery of any Entitlement once such steps have been carried out, whether resulting from settlement periods of clearing systems, acts or omissions of registrars or otherwise and shall have no responsibility for the lawfulness of the acquisition or transfer of the Entitlement or any interest therein by any Holder or any other person.

Holders shall not be entitled to any payment, whether of interest or otherwise, on such Note as a result of any delay in the delivery of the Entitlement pursuant to these Physical Delivery Note Conditions.

Guarantor Payment of Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of Delivering any Entitlement

The Guarantor will only pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in respect of any Physical Delivery Notes issued by MLBV and any payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering any Entitlement shall constitute a complete discharge of the Guarantor's obligations in respect of such Physical Delivery Notes.

2. Delivery of Entitlement and Asset Transfer Notices

In order to obtain delivery of the Entitlement(s) in respect of any Physical Delivery Note:

- (a) if such Note is represented by a Global Note, the relevant Holder must deliver to the relevant Clearing System, with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer not later than the close of business in each place of reception on the Cut-Off Date, a duly completed Asset Transfer Notice substantially in the form set out in the English Law

Agency Agreement or New York Law Agency Agreement, as applicable (each, an "Asset Transfer Notice"). Such Asset Transfer Notice may be in electronic form or in such other manner as is acceptable to the relevant Clearing System, provided that the relevant Holder will provide a positive confirmation to the relevant Clearing System that it makes all the required certifications, representations, undertakings and authorisations, together with the provision of the required specifications in the Asset Transfer Notice, as set out in this Physical Delivery Note Condition 2; or

- (b) if such Note is in definitive form, the relevant Holder must deliver to any Paying Agent, with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer not later than the close of business in each place of receipt on the Cut-Off Date, a duly completed Asset Transfer Notice.

Forms of the Asset Transfer Notice may be obtained during normal business hours from the specified office of any Paying Agent.

An Asset Transfer Notice may only be delivered (a) if such Note is represented by a Global Note, in such manner as is acceptable to the relevant Clearing System, or (b) if such Note is in definitive form in writing or such other form acceptable to the Principal Paying Agent and such Note must be delivered together with the duly completed Asset Transfer Notice.

The Issuer shall at the risk of the relevant Holder deliver the Entitlement in respect of each Note or, in the case of Credit Linked Notes, Deliver the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner as the Issuer shall determine to be appropriate for such delivery.

All expenses including any applicable depositary charges, transaction or exercise charges, stamp duty, stamp duty reserve tax, issue, registration, securities, transfer and/or other taxes or duties (together "Expenses") arising from the redemption of the Notes and the delivery of any Entitlement shall be for the account of the relevant Holder and no delivery and/or transfer of any Entitlement shall be made until all Expenses have been paid to the satisfaction of the Issuer by the relevant Holder.

An Asset Transfer Notice must:

- (a) specify the name, address and contact telephone number of the relevant Holder and the person from whom the Issuer may obtain details for the delivery of the Entitlement if such delivery is to be made otherwise than in the manner specified in the applicable Final Terms;
- (b) in the case of Notes represented by a Global Note, specify the nominal amount of Notes which are the subject of such notice and the number of the Holder's account at the relevant Clearing System, to be debited with such Notes and irrevocably instruct and authorise the relevant Clearing System, to debit the relevant Holder's account with such Notes on or before the Maturity Delivery Date (as defined below) or, in the case of Credit Linked Notes, the Credit Settlement Date;
- (c) include an undertaking to pay all Expenses and, in the case of Notes represented by a Global Note, an authority to debit a specified account of the Holder at the relevant Clearing System, in respect thereof and to pay such Expenses;
- (d) include such details as are required by the applicable Final Terms for delivery of the Entitlement which may include account details and/or the name and address of any person(s) into whose name evidence of the Entitlement is to be registered and/or any bank, broker or agent to whom documents evidencing the Entitlement are to be delivered and specify the name and number of the Holder's account to be credited with any cash payable by the Issuer, in respect of any cash amount constituting the Entitlement or any dividends relating to the Entitlement, as a result of the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event or a Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity and the Issuer electing to pay the Disruption Cash Settlement Price or Failure to Deliver Settlement Price, as applicable, or in respect of any Partial Cash Settlement Amounts;

- (e) in the case of Notes that are sold outside the United States to non-U.S. persons pursuant to Regulation S under the Securities Act, certify that the beneficial owner of each Note is not a U.S. person (as defined by Regulation S under the Securities Act); the Note is not being redeemed within the United States or on behalf of a U.S. person; and no cash, securities or other property have been or will be delivered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person in connection with any redemption thereof;
- (f) in the case of Notes that are sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, certify that the beneficial owner of each Note is a qualified institutional buyer (a "QIB") as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act ("Rule 144A") who is also a qualified purchaser (a "QP") within the meaning of Section 3(c)(7) and as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the 1940 Act and the rules thereunder and who has executed an Investor Representation Letter and is otherwise in compliance with Rule 144A; and
- (g) authorise the production of such Asset Transfer Notice in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings.

The Asset Transfer Notice may contain certain additional representations and certifications with respect to the Entitlement and/or the beneficial owner of each Note. No Asset Transfer Notice may be withdrawn after receipt thereof by the relevant Clearing System or a Paying Agent as provided above. After delivery of an Asset Transfer Notice, the relevant Holder may not transfer the Notes which are the subject of such notice.

In the case of Notes represented by a Global Note, upon receipt of such notice, the relevant Clearing System, shall verify that the person specified therein as the Holder is the holder of the specified nominal amount of Notes according to its books.

Subject thereto, the relevant Clearing System will confirm to the Principal Paying Agent the Series number and number of Notes represented by a Global Note and the subject of such notice, the relevant account details (if applicable) and the details for the delivery of the Entitlement in respect of each such Note. Upon receipt of such confirmation, the Principal Paying Agent will inform the Issuer thereof. The relevant Clearing System, will on or before the Maturity Delivery Date or Credit Settlement Date, as the case may be, debit the securities account of the relevant Holder with the Notes the subject of the relevant Asset Transfer Notice.

Failure to properly complete and deliver or to have delivered, on behalf of the Holder, an Asset Transfer Notice may result in such notice being treated as null and void. Any determination as to whether such notice has been properly completed and delivered as provided in the Physical Delivery Note Conditions shall be made, in the case of Notes represented by a Global Note, by the relevant Clearing System, after consultation with the Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor and the relevant Holder or in the case of Notes in definitive form, by the relevant Paying Agent after consultation with the Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor and the relevant Holder.

If such Asset Transfer Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of the relevant Clearing System, or the relevant Paying Agent, in each case in consultation with the Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer, it shall be deemed to be a new Asset Transfer Notice submitted at the time such correction was delivered as provided above.

The relevant Clearing System or the relevant Paying Agent, as applicable, shall use its best efforts promptly to notify the Holder submitting an Asset Transfer Notice if, in consultation with the Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer, it has determined that such Asset Transfer Notice is incomplete or not in proper form. In the absence of negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Paying Agents, the relevant Clearing System and the Principal Paying Agent shall be liable to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in connection with such determination or the notification of such determination to a Holder.

The Entitlement will be delivered at the risk of the relevant Holder, in the manner provided above on the Maturity Date (such date, subject to adjustment in accordance with these Physical Delivery Note Conditions, the "Maturity Delivery Date") or, in the case of Credit Linked Notes, in the manner provided above on the Credit Settlement Date, provided that the Asset Transfer Notice is duly delivered to the relevant Clearing System or a Paying Agent, as the case may be, with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer, as provided above, not later than the close of business in each place of receipt on the Cut-Off Date.

If an Asset Transfer Notice is delivered to the relevant Clearing System or a Paying Agent, as the case may be, with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer, later than the close of business in each place of receipt on the Cut-Off Date, then the Entitlement will be delivered as soon as practicable after the Maturity Date (in which case, such date of delivery shall be the Maturity Delivery Date) or, in the case of Credit Linked Notes, the Credit Settlement Date at the risk of such Holder in the manner provided above. Provided that if in respect of a Note an Asset Transfer Notice is not delivered to the relevant Clearing System or a Paying Agent, as the case may be, with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer, later than the close of business in each place of receipt on the 90th calendar day following the Cut-Off Date the Issuer's obligations in respect of such Note and the Guarantor's obligations in respect of the MLBV Guarantee in respect of such Note shall be discharged and no further liability in respect thereof shall attach to the Issuer or the Guarantor. For the avoidance of doubt, in such circumstances such Holder shall not be entitled to any payment, whether of interest or otherwise, as a result of such Maturity Delivery Date or the Credit Settlement Date, as the case may be, falling after the originally designated Maturity Delivery Date or Credit Settlement Date, as the case may be, and no liability in respect thereof shall attach to the Issuer or the Guarantor.

Delivery of the Entitlement in respect of the Notes is subject to all applicable laws, regulations and practices in force on the Maturity Delivery Date or the Credit Settlement Date, as the case may be, and none of the Issuer, the Guarantor and any of its Affiliates or agents and the Paying Agents shall incur any liability whatsoever if it is unable to effect the transactions contemplated, after using all reasonable efforts, as a result of any such laws, regulations or practices. None of the Issuer, the Guarantor and any of its Affiliates or agents and the Paying Agents shall under any circumstances be liable for any acts or defaults of the relevant Clearing System in relation to the performance of their duties in relation to the Notes.

For such period of time after the Maturity Delivery Date or Credit Settlement Date, as the case may be, as any person other than the relevant Holder shall continue to be the legal owner of the securities, obligations or Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement (the "Intervening Period"), none of the Issuer, the Guarantor and any other such person shall (a) be under any obligation to deliver or procure delivery to the relevant Holder or any subsequent beneficial owner of such Note any letter, certificate, notice, circular or any other document or, except as provided herein, payment whatsoever received by that person in respect of such securities, obligations or Deliverable Obligations, (b) be under any obligation to exercise or procure exercise of any or all rights (including voting rights) attaching to such securities, obligations or Deliverable Obligations during the Intervening Period or (c) be under any liability to the relevant Holder, or any subsequent beneficial owner of such Note in respect of any loss or damage which the relevant Holder, or subsequent beneficial owner may sustain or suffer as a result, whether directly or indirectly, of that person being the legal owner of such securities, obligations or Deliverable Obligations during such Intervening Period.

Where the Entitlement comprises Shares, any dividend or other distribution in respect of such Entitlement will be payable to the party that would receive such dividend or other distribution according to market practice for a sale of the Share executed on the Maturity Delivery Date and to be delivered in the same manner as the Entitlement. Any such dividend or other distribution to be paid to a Holder shall be paid to the account specified in the relevant Asset Transfer Notice.

Where the Entitlement comprises Bonds, any interest or other distribution in respect of such Entitlement will be payable to the party that would receive such interest or other distribution according to market practice for a sale of the Bond executed on the Maturity Delivery Date and to be delivered in the same manner as the Entitlement. Any such interest or other distribution to be paid to a Holder shall be paid to the account specified in the relevant Asset Transfer Notice.

Except in the case of Credit Linked Notes, where the Entitlement is, in the determination of the Issuer, an amount other than an amount of Relevant Assets capable of being delivered, the Holders will receive an Entitlement comprising of the nearest number (rounded down) of Relevant Assets capable of being delivered by the Issuer (taking into account that a Holder's entire holding may be aggregated at the Issuer's discretion for the purpose of delivering the Entitlements), and in respect of the amount of Relevant Assets not capable of being delivered, an amount in the Specified Currency which shall be the value of the amount of the Relevant Assets so rounded down, as calculated by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner from such source(s) as it may select (converted if necessary into the Specified Currency by reference to such exchange rate as the Calculation Agent deems appropriate).

3. Entitlement Settlement Business Day and Settlement Business Day

Notwithstanding anything else in these Physical Delivery Note Conditions, if the Maturity Date or the Maturity Delivery Date or any other day on which delivery of the Entitlement pursuant to these Physical Delivery Note Conditions is required to be made is not an Entitlement Settlement Business Day or not a Settlement Business Day, then there shall be no obligation to make such delivery until the next following day which is both an Entitlement Settlement Business Day and a Settlement Business Day.

Holders shall not be entitled to any payment, whether of interest or otherwise, on such Note as a result of any delay in the delivery of the Entitlement pursuant to these Physical Delivery Note Conditions.

4. Settlement Disruption Event

The provisions of this Physical Delivery Note Condition 4 shall apply to Physical Delivery Notes issued by MLBV other than Credit Linked Notes.

If, prior to the delivery of the Entitlement in accordance with these Physical Delivery Note Conditions, a Settlement Disruption Event is subsisting, then the Maturity Delivery Date in respect of such Note shall be postponed until the next Settlement Business Day on which no Settlement Disruption Event is subsisting and notice thereof shall be given to the relevant Holder, in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices). Such Holder shall not be entitled to any payment, whether of interest or otherwise, on such Note as a result of any delay in the delivery of the Entitlement pursuant to these Physical Delivery Note Conditions. Where delivery of the Entitlement has been postponed as provided in the Physical Delivery Note Conditions, the Issuer shall not be in breach of these Conditions and no liability in respect thereof shall attach to the Issuer or the Guarantor.

For so long as delivery of the Entitlement in respect of any Note is not practicable by reason of a Settlement Disruption Event, then in lieu of physical settlement and notwithstanding any other provision hereof, the Issuer may elect in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner to satisfy its obligations in respect of the relevant Note by payment to the relevant Holder of the Disruption Cash Settlement Price not later than on the third Business Day following the date that the notice of such election (the "Election Notice") is given to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices).

5. Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity

The provisions of this Physical Delivery Note Condition 5 shall apply to Physical Delivery Notes other than Credit Linked Notes.

- (a) subject as provided elsewhere in the Physical Delivery Note Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms, any Relevant Assets which are not Affected Relevant Assets, will be delivered on the originally designated Maturity Delivery Date in accordance with the Physical Delivery Note Conditions; and

- (b) in respect of any Affected Relevant Assets, notwithstanding any other provision hereof, the Issuer may elect in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, in lieu of delivery of the Affected Relevant Assets, to pay to the relevant Holder the Failure to Deliver Settlement Price (as defined below) on the fifth Business Day following the date the Failure to Deliver Notice (as defined below) is given to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices). The Issuer shall give notice (such notice a "Failure to Deliver Notice") as soon as reasonably practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices) that the provisions of this Physical Delivery Note Condition 5 apply.

6. Option to Vary Settlement

The provisions of this Physical Delivery Note Condition 6 shall apply to Physical Delivery Notes other than Credit Linked Notes.

If the applicable Final Terms indicate that the Issuer has an option to vary settlement in respect of the Notes, the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) may in respect of each such Note, elect not to pay the relevant Holders the Final Redemption Amount or to deliver or procure delivery of the Entitlement to the relevant Holders, as the case may be, but, in lieu thereof to deliver or procure delivery of the Adjusted Entitlement or pay an amount in cash equal to the Adjusted Final Redemption Amount on the Maturity Date to the relevant Holders, as the case may be. Notification of such election will be given to Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices).

7. Additional Provisions for Credit Linked Notes

The provisions of this Physical Delivery Note Condition 7 shall apply to Credit Linked Notes issued by MLBV.

In relation to each Deliverable Obligation constituting the Entitlement the Issuer will Deliver or procure the Delivery of the relevant Deliverable Obligation as provided in Physical Delivery Note Condition 2 on the Credit Settlement Date, provided that if all or some of the Deliverable Obligations included in the Entitlement are Undeliverable Obligations and/or Hedge Disruption Obligations, then the Issuer shall continue to attempt to Deliver all or a portion of such Undeliverable Obligations or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be, on or before the 30th Business Day following the Credit Settlement Date (the "Final Delivery Date"), provided further that if all or a portion of such Undeliverable Obligations or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be, are not Delivered by the Final Delivery Date, the provisions of Credit Linked Note Condition 9 shall apply.

The Issuer will give notice of any such Exchange Event to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices). In the event that Definitive Registered W&C Instruments are issued in exchange for interests in a Global W&C Instrument, such Definitive Registered W&C Instruments shall bear, and be subject to, the relevant legend described in the Offering Circular under "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions".

Transfers of a Rule 144A Global W&C Instrument held through DTC shall be limited to transfers of such Rule 144A Global W&C Instrument, in whole but not in part, to another nominee of DTC or to a successor of DTC or such successor's nominee. For so long as the W&C Instruments are represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A

- (e) Subject as provided in these Rule 144A W&C Instruments Conditions, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the English Law Agency Agreement, a W&C Instrument in definitive form may be transferred in whole or in part. In order to effect any such transfer, (i) the holder or holders must (A) surrender the W&C Instrument for registration of the transfer of the W&C Instrument (or the relevant part of the W&C Instrument) at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent with a form of transfer duly completed and executed by the person shown as the registered holder on the Register, or its attorney duly authorised in writing and (B) complete and deposit such other certifications or evidence as may be required by the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, the Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor and (ii) the Principal W&C Instrument Agent must, after due and careful enquiry, be satisfied with the documents of title and the identity of the person making the request. Subject to the provisions above, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent will, within three London Business Days of the request (or such longer period as may be required to comply with any applicable fiscal or other laws or regulations), authenticate and deliver, or procure the authentication and delivery of, at its specified office to the transferee or (at the risk of the transferee) send by uninsured mail, to such address as the transferee may request, a new certificate representing such W&C Instrument in definitive form of the same aggregate amount of the W&C Instrument (or the relevant part of the W&C Instrument) transferred. In the case of the transfer of part only of a W&C Instrument in definitive form, a new certificate representing such W&C Instrument in definitive form in respect of the balance of the W&C Instrument not transferred will be so authenticated and delivered or (at the risk of the transferor) sent to the transferor. The Principal W&C Instrument Agent shall record such transfer, and make appropriate notations, in the Register to reflect such transfer.
- (f) Any attempted sale, transfer or exchange in which the proposed sale, transfer or exchange was not effected in accordance with the foregoing procedures shall not be valid or binding on the Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor. In addition, if any W&C Instrument Agent subsequently determines or is subsequently notified by the Issuer that (i) a sale, transfer or exchange, or attempted or purported sale, transfer or exchange, of any interest in a W&C Instrument was consummated on the basis of an incorrect certification from the transferee or purported transferee as set forth in the relevant Investor Representation Letter, (ii) the holder of any interest in a W&C Instrument was in breach, at the time given, of any representation or agreement set forth in any Investor Representation Letter or any deemed representation or agreement of such holder, or (iii) a sale, transfer or exchange, or attempted sale, transfer or exchange, of any interest in a W&C Instrument was consummated which did not comply with the transfer restrictions set forth in this Rule 144A W&C Instruments Condition 5, the purported transfer shall be absolutely null and void ab initio and shall vest no rights in the purported transferee (such purported transferee, a "Disqualified Transferee") and the last preceding holder of such interest that was not a Disqualified Transferee shall be restored to all rights as a holder thereof retroactively to the date of transfer of such interest by such holder or the Issuer may require such Disqualified Transferee to sell or transfer such interest to a permitted transferee meeting the requirements above.

Certificates represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Certificate or a Rule 144A Global Certificate shall be exercised automatically on the Actual Exercise Date in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 31(A) (Certificates other than Credit Linked Certificates) (other than Credit Linked Certificates which shall be exercisable in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 31(B) (Credit Linked Certificates)).

In the case of Rule 144A Certificates held through DTC, the exercise procedures shall be in accordance with the applicable rules and procedures of DTC and as may otherwise be set forth in the applicable Final Terms.

(d) Cash Settlement

In the case of Rule 144A Warrants or Rule 144A Certificates which are Cash Settled Warrants or Cash Settled Certificates, each such Warrant, Certificate or, if Units are specified in the applicable Final Terms, each Unit, entitles its holder, upon due exercise to receive from the Issuer on the Settlement Date the Cash Settlement Amount.

In the case of Rule 144A Global Warrants or Rule 144A Certificates held through DTC which are Cash Settled Warrants or Cash Settled Certificates, the Issuer, through the Principal W&C Instrument Agent shall on the Settlement Date pay or cause to be paid the Cash Settlement Amount (if any) for each duly exercised Warrant, Certificate or Unit, as the case may be, to the designated account at the Principal W&C Instrument Agent (or at such other account or bank as may be specified by the Principal W&C Instrument Agent). In such case, as promptly as practicable thereafter, and provided that the Principal W&C Instrument Agent is satisfied that delivery to it of funds sufficient to pay the Cash Settlement Amount will be made, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent will cause the Cash Settlement Amount to be credited to the Holder's account with the Principal W&C Instrument Agent less any Expenses.

(e) Physical Settlement

In the case of Rule 144A Warrants or Rule 144A Certificates which are Physical Delivery Warrants or Physical Delivery Certificates, as applicable, upon the exercise or deemed exercise of a Rule 144A Warrant or a Rule 144A Certificate by a Holder, and, subject to certification as to QIB and QP beneficial ownership, the Issuer shall transfer or procure the transfer on the Settlement Date of the Entitlement in respect of each Rule 144A Warrant or Rule 144A Certificate, as applicable, so exercised, subject to payment by the Holder to or to the order of the Issuer on or before the Settlement Date of the Exercise Price, if any, and any other Expenses or sums payable. For the avoidance of doubt, delivery of the Entitlement shall take place only after the Expenses (if any) have been paid by such Holder to or to the order of the Issuer. No Rule 144A Warrant or Rule 144A Certificate, as applicable, shall confer on a Holder any right to acquire the Entitlement and the Issuer is not obliged to purchase or hold the Entitlement. The delivery of the Entitlement shall be made (i) if practicable and in respect of the account of the Holder, (ii) in the manner specified in the relevant Final Terms or (iii) in such other commercially reasonable manner as the Issuer shall determine to be appropriate for such delivery and will, where appropriate and if practicable, notify the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices). By purchasing or exercising a Rule 144A Warrant or a Rule 144A Certificate, as applicable, which is a Physical Delivery Warrant or Physical Delivery Certificate, as applicable, the relevant Holder shall be deemed to have agreed to such form of settlement as provided herein and as set forth in the rules and procedures of the relevant Clearing System.

The obligation of the Issuer to deliver any Entitlement is limited to such Entitlement having the characteristics and in the form that allows delivery via the relevant Clearing System and, in the case of Shares or Fund Shares (as the case may be), does not include registration of the Holder in the share register or in the list of shareholders, and none of the Issuer, (if applicable) the Guarantor, the Calculation Agent or any other person shall have any liability for any such failure of (or delay in) registration.

Following exercise of a Rule 144A Warrant or Rule 144A Certificate, as applicable, which is subject to Physical Settlement, all dividends, if any, on the relevant Entitlement to be delivered will be payable to the party that would receive such dividend according to market practice for a sale of the Entitlement executed on the relevant Actual Exercise Date and to be delivered in the same manner as such relevant Entitlement. Any such dividends to be paid to a Holder will be paid to the account specified by the Holder in the relevant Exercise Notice.

Unless otherwise specified in the Final Terms, Rule 144A Warrants or Rule 144A Certificates, as applicable, exercised at the same time will be aggregated for the purpose of determining the aggregate Entitlements in respect of such Rule 144A Warrants or Rule 144A Certificates, as applicable, provided that the aggregate Entitlements in respect of the same Holder will be rounded down to the nearest whole unit of the Relevant Asset or each of the Relevant Assets, as the case may be, in such manner as the Calculation Agent shall determine. Therefore, fractions of the Relevant Asset or each of the Relevant Assets, as the case may be, will not be delivered and in lieu thereof a cash adjustment calculated by the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, shall be paid to the Holder.

If the relevant Holder fails to provide the required representations and certifications in the relevant Exercise Notice as of the relevant Cut-Off Date, the Issuer may, instead of delivering, or having delivered on its behalf, the Entitlement, satisfy its obligations in respect of the relevant Rule 144A Warrant or Rule 144A Certificate, as applicable, by payment to the relevant Holder of a cash amount, calculated by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner to represent the fair market value of the Entitlement on such day as shall be selected by the Issuer in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner adjusted to take account fully for any losses, expenses and costs to the Issuer and/or any affiliate of the Issuer of unwinding or adjusting any underlying or related hedging arrangements (including, but not limited to, any options or selling or otherwise realising any Relevant Asset or other relevant instruments or assets of any type whatsoever which the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates may hold as part of such hedging arrangements.)

7. Exercise Procedure in respect of Warrants

(a) Warrants represented by a Rule 144A Global Warrant held through DTC

Warrants represented by a Rule 144A Global Warrant held through DTC may only be exercised by delivery through computerised exercise instruction through DTC (via its "Deposit and Withdrawal at Custodian" or "DWAC" function) of a duly completed Exercise Notice in the form set out in the English Law Agency Agreement (copies of which form may be obtained from the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, with a copy to Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA, as the case may be, in accordance with the provisions set out in Rule 144A W&C Instrument Condition 6 (Exercise Rights) and this Rule 144A W&C Instrument Condition 7.

In the case of Warrants represented by a Rule 144A Global Warrant held through DTC, the Exercise Notice shall, unless otherwise agreed:

- (i) specify the Series of the Warrants and the number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Warrants being exercised and, if Units are specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of Units being exercised;
- (ii) specify the designated account at DTC to be debited with the Warrants being exercised;
- (iii) irrevocably instruct DTC to exercise the Warrants debited to the account of the Holder and credited to the account of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent by means of DTC's DWAC function;
- (iv) specify the designated account at DTC to be credited with the Cash Settlement Amount (if any) for each Warrant being exercised;
- (v) include an irrevocable undertaking by the Holder to pay all Expenses and an instruction from the Holders to DTC to deduct an amount in respect thereof from any Cash Settlement Amount due to such Holder and/or to debit a specified account of the Holder at DTC with an amount or amounts in respect thereof;
- (vi) in the case of FX Linked Warrants only, and only if so required by DTC, specify the number of the Holder's account at DTC of the relevant Settlement Currency to be credited with the amount due upon exercise of the Warrants;
- (vii) include a certification that each beneficial owner is a QIB and a QP; and
- (viii) authorise the production of such Exercise Notice in applicable administrative or legal proceedings, all as provided in the English Law Agency Agreement.

In addition, if the relevant Final Terms specify Physical Settlement is applicable, the Exercise Notice shall also, unless otherwise agreed:

- (i) irrevocably instruct DTC to debit on the Actual Exercise Date a specified account of the Holder with the aggregate Exercise Price(s) (if relevant) in respect of the Rule 144A Warrants being exercised and to transfer such amount to such account with DTC as shall have been specified by the Issuer to DTC for that purpose;
- (ii) include an irrevocable undertaking by the Holder to pay all Expenses incurred by reason of transfer (if any) of the Entitlement(s) to the account at DTC specified by the Holder in the relevant Exercise Notice and an instruction from the Holder to DTC to deduct an amount in respect thereof from any Physical Settlement Value due to such Holder or otherwise to debit (on or at any time after the Settlement Date) a specified account of the Holder at DTC with an amount or amounts in respect thereof;
- (iii) specify the number of the Holder's account with DTC to be credited with the relevant Entitlement(s); and
- (iv) include such details as are required by the applicable Final Terms or by DTC for delivery of the Entitlement which may include account details and/or the name and address of any person(s) into whose name evidence of the Entitlement is to be registered and/or any bank, broker or agent to whom documents evidencing the Entitlement are to be delivered and specify the name and the number of the Holder's account with DTC, to be credited with any cash payable by the Issuer, either in respect of any cash amount constituting the Entitlement or any dividends relating to the Entitlement or as a result of the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event and the Issuer electing to pay the Disruption Cash Settlement Price or the occurrence of a Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity and the Issuer electing to pay the Failure to Deliver Settlement Price as applicable, or in respect of any Partial Cash Settlement Amount.

If W&C Instruments Condition 5(C) applies, the information required to be provided in the Exercise Notice will be different from that set out above. Copies of such information required for such Exercise Notice may be obtained from the Principal W&C Instrument Agent.

Upon receipt of an Exercise Notice, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent shall verify that the person exercising the Warrants is the Holder thereof according to the records of DTC. Subject thereto, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent shall notify the Issuer of the number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Warrants being exercised and the account details, if applicable, for the payment of the Cash Settlement Amount of each Warrant being exercised. If the Warrants are American Style Warrants, upon exercise of less than all the Warrants held through DTC, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent will note such exercise on the Register and the number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Warrants so constituted shall be reduced by the redemption pro tanto of the Warrants so exercised.

Delivery of an Exercise Notice shall constitute an irrevocable election by the relevant Holder to exercise the Warrants specified. After the delivery of such Exercise Notice, such exercising Holder may not transfer such Warrants.

Any determination as to whether an Exercise Notice is duly completed and in proper form shall be made by the Principal W&C Instrument Agent in the case of Warrants represented by a Rule 144A Global Warrant held through DTC, and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and the relevant Holder. Subject as set out below, any Exercise Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form, or which is not copied to Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA, as the case may be, promptly after being delivered or sent to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent shall be null and void.

If such Exercise Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, it shall be deemed to be a new Exercise Notice submitted at the time such correction was delivered to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA, as the case may be.

If Automatic Exercise is not specified in the applicable Final Terms, any Warrants with respect to which the Exercise Notice has not been duly completed and delivered in the manner set out above by the cut-off time specified in Rule 144A Warrant Condition 6(a) (American Style Warrants), in the case of American Style Warrants, or Rule 144A Warrant Condition 6(b) (European Style Warrants), in the case of European Style Warrants, shall become void.

4. Security

4.1 Security

The obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Secured Instruments will be secured by a Deed of Charge pursuant to which:

- (a) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider charges by way of first fixed charge its rights and title in the Collateral Assets contained in one or more Collateral Accounts. The security interest granted shall be over all of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's rights in and to the Collateral Assets delivered into and held from time to time in the relevant segregated account established with the Custodian pursuant to and in accordance with the applicable terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement and the Custodian Agreement for such purpose (the "Collateral Account"), excluding any interest or distributions paid on such Collateral Assets to the extent such amounts are not held in the relevant Collateral Account; and
- (b) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider assigns by way of security its rights, title and interest in the Collateral Accounts (including, without limitation, any contractual interests or claims relating to such Collateral Accounts) and the Charged Documents, in favour of the Security Agent to hold for itself and on behalf of, the relevant Holders and the other relevant Secured Parties under the Security Agency Agreement.

Following the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, any interest or distributions paid in respect of the Collateral Assets held in the Collateral Account will be credited to the Collateral Account and will be subject to the fixed charge set forth in paragraph (a) above (and such interest or distributions shall be deemed to be MTM Collateral Assets).

4.2 Collateral Pools

Each Series of Secured Instruments will be secured by a separate Collateral Pool comprising Collateral Assets held in a segregated Collateral Account.

4.3 Initial Collateral Assets

On the Issue Date of a Series of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall:

- (a) deposit Static Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Account such that the Static Collateral Test will be satisfied on the Collateral Test Date falling on such Issue Date; and
- (b) deposit MTM Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Account such that the MTM Collateral Test will be satisfied on the Collateral Test Date falling on such Issue Date.

4.4 Adjustments to Collateral Assets

On the Collateral Business Day immediately preceding a Collateral Test Date, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent will determine:

- (a) the portion of the Marked-to-Market Derivative Hedge Value in respect of the Derivative Hedge Valuation Time for such Collateral Test Date that relates to each Non-Waived Instrument of the relevant Series of Secured Instruments and will use that value to determine the MTM Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required MTM Collateral Value; and
- (b) the Static Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required Static Collateral Nominal Amount, and will send a Collateral Test Notice to the Collateral Agent by no later than 4.30 p.m. London time on such Collateral Test Date, or such other time as may be agreed between the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Collateral Agent from time to time. On the Collateral Business Day immediately preceding a Collateral Test Date, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent will notify the relevant Instrument Agent, with a copy to the Security Agent, of the aggregate principal amount or number, as applicable, of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments as of such date.

On each Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Agent will determine the Pool Aggregate Collateral Nominal Amount and will verify that the Static Collateral Test is satisfied.

On each Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Agent will calculate the Collateral Value of the MTM Collateral Assets in the Collateral Account and verify that the MTM Collateral Test is satisfied. When determining whether the Collateral Test is satisfied on a Collateral Test Date, Collateral Assets for which instructions for the transfer to the relevant Collateral Account have been provided on or before such Collateral Test Date will be included for the purposes of such determination provided that sufficient Eligible MTM Collateral Assets and Eligible Static Collateral Assets are held in the Custodian Account to effect such transfer and Collateral Assets for which instructions for the removal from the relevant Collateral Account have been provided on or before such Collateral Test Date will be excluded for the purposes of such determination.

In determining whether the Collateral Test is satisfied, the Collateral Agent will verify that the relevant Collateral Assets comply with the eligibility criteria specified in the collateral schedule of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall be solely responsible for ensuring that the Eligibility Criteria specified in the applicable Final Terms is substantively identical to the eligibility criteria specified in the collateral schedule of the Triparty Account Control Agreement and the Collateral Agent shall not be liable to the Holders or any party for any discrepancy therein.

If, on the relevant Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Agent determines that the Collateral Test is not satisfied, the Collateral Agent will promptly send the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider a Collateral Agent Notice. On the date such Collateral Agent Notice is given, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will instruct the Collateral Agent to transfer sufficient additional Eligible MTM Collateral Assets or Eligible Static Collateral Assets (as applicable) into the relevant Collateral Account to satisfy the Collateral Test.

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will ensure that sufficient Eligible MTM Collateral Assets and Eligible Static Collateral Assets are Delivered into the relevant Collateral Account on or before each Collateral Test Date to satisfy the Collateral Test in respect of such Collateral Test Date for the relevant Series of Secured Instruments.

4.5 Substitution or withdrawal of Collateral Assets

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may, subject to the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement, withdraw and/or replace MTM Collateral Assets from the relevant Collateral Account provided that following such adjustment the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will send or cause to be sent a notice to the Collateral Agent specifying the adjustments to be made to the Collateral Pool (including inter alia the type and quantity of any MTM Collateral Assets to be deposited and/or removed).

The Issuer and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall not be entitled to withdraw and/or replace Static Collateral Assets from the relevant Collateral Account on any day, provided that the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may on any Collateral Test Date withdraw from the relevant Collateral Account an aggregate nominal amount of Static Collateral Assets equal to (a) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the total aggregate principal amount of Non-Waived Instruments that are converted into Waived Instruments or (b) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, the sum of the Notional Amount of each Non-Waived Instrument that is converted into a Waived Instrument, if, following such withdrawal on such Collateral Test Date, (x) the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied, and (y) if the Eligible Static Collateral Assets specified in the applicable Final Terms is a Basket of Eligible Debt Securities, the aggregate nominal amount of each Eligible Debt Security in the Basket of Eligible Debt Securities expressed as a percentage of the Pool Aggregate Collateral Nominal Amount on such Collateral Test Date is equal to its Eligible Debt Security Weighting.

4.6 Delegation to Secured Instruments Collateral Provider

The Issuer has, pursuant to the terms of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider Agreement, delegated to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider the role of managing each Collateral Pool to comply with the requirements of these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions (including, but not limited to, compliance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions 4.3, 4.4 and 4.5).

4.7 Required Collateral Default

Following the occurrence of a Required Collateral Default, the Collateral Agent shall send a Required Collateral Default Notice to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Agent, specifying that a Required Collateral Default has occurred. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall notify the Issuer of the Required Collateral Default Notice. The Security Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving a Required Collateral Default Notice give notice to the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent will as soon as reasonably practicable give notice in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) or in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices) to all relevant Holders of the receipt of a Required Collateral Default Notice.

4.8.1 The occurrence of one or more of the following events shall constitute a "Secured Instrument Event of Default" with respect to any Series of Secured Instruments:

- (a) in respect of Secured Notes:
 - (i) default shall be made in the payment of any amount of interest due in respect of any such Notes and the default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
 - (ii) default shall be made in the payment of any principal of any such Notes or in the delivery when due of the Entitlement in respect of any such Notes (in each case whether at maturity or upon redemption or otherwise), and such default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date;

- (c) the Issuer shall fail to perform or observe any other term, covenant or agreement contained in the Terms and Conditions applicable to any of such Secured Instruments or in the Agency Agreement for the period of 90 calendar days after the date on which written notice of such failure, requiring the Issuer, as the case may be, to remedy the same, first shall have been given to the relevant Instrument Agent (which will give notice to the Security Agent) and the Issuer by Holders of at least 33 per cent. of, (i) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the aggregate principal amount of any such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding, or, (ii) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, the aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of any such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding; or
- (d) a court having jurisdiction in the premises shall have entered a decree or order granting relief with respect to the Issuer in an involuntary proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or appointing a receiver, liquidator, trustee, assignee, custodian or sequestrator (or similar official) of the Issuer or of all or substantially all of its property or for the winding up or liquidation of its affairs, and such decree or order shall have remained in force and unstayed for a period of 60 consecutive calendar days; or
- (e) the Issuer shall institute proceedings for relief under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or any other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or shall consent to the institution of any such proceedings against it, or shall consent to the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, trustee, assignee, custodian or sequestrator (or similar official) of it or of all or substantially all of its property, or shall make an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or shall fail generally to pay its debts as they become due, or shall take any corporate action in furtherance of any of the foregoing; or
- (f) a Required Collateral Default has occurred; or
- (g) any of (i) a failure by the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to comply with or perform any undertaking or obligation to be complied with or performed by it in accordance with the Security Agency Agreement or the relevant Deed of Charge if such failure is continuing after any applicable grace period has elapsed, the expiration or termination of such Security Agency Agreement or Deed of Charge, or (ii) the failing or cessation of such Security Agency Agreement or Deed of Charge, or any security granted by the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, to be in full force and effect prior to the satisfaction of all the obligations of such party under these Secured Static/Floating W&C Instruments Conditions or (iii) the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider disaffirms, disclaims, repudiates or rejects, in whole or in part, or challenges the validity of, such Security Agency Agreement or Deed of Charge (or such action is taken by any person or entity appointed or empowered to act on the Issuer's and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's behalf).

If a Secured Instrument Event of Default shall occur and be continuing with respect to any Series of Secured Instruments, then any Holder may, at its option, send an Acceleration Notice, (together with proof of holding satisfactory to the Security Agent of the Secured Instruments obtained from the relevant Clearing System) (i) in the case of Secured Instruments held through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, through the relevant Clearing System to the relevant Instrument Agent and (ii) in the case of Secured Instruments held through The Depository Trust Corporation, directly to the relevant Instrument Agent (and in the case of either (i) or (ii), with a copy to the Security Agent).

4.8.2 The Security Agent is not obliged to act on any Acceleration Notice unless Holder(s) of at least 33 per cent. (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding have sent Acceleration Notice(s) in the manner described above and if any default is not waived in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.4 below or cured by the Issuer prior to receipt by the relevant Instrument Agent of the latest of such Acceleration Notice(s) required to exceed the 33 per cent. threshold specified above, (an "Acceleration Event" in respect of such Series of Secured Instruments). At the time and on the date when an Acceleration Event has occurred, the Acceleration Notice(s) shall be deemed to be an effective acceleration instruction (the "Acceleration Instruction") and the Security Agent shall thereby be instructed to:

- (a) deliver the notices specified in Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.1;
- (b) enforce the security constituted by the relevant Deed of Charge and distribute the proceeds (and, if applicable, physically settle the Entitlement), in each case, in accordance with its terms and the provisions of these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions and the Security Agency Agreement;
- (c) appoint a Disposal Agent, if a Disposal Agent has not already been appointed, and provide instructions to the Disposal Agent in accordance with these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions; and
- (d) perform any further actions of the Security Agent specified in these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions, the relevant Deed of Charge and the Security Agency Agreement or any reasonable incidental actions, provided that if, at any time before the Security Agent has taken any steps to enforce the security constituted by the related Security Agency Agreement and/or Deed of Charge or a judgment or decree for payment of the money due with respect to such Secured Instruments has been obtained by any Holder, the Security Agent is notified in writing by the relevant Instrument Agent that the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and its consequences have been rescinded and annulled in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.3 below, then such Acceleration Instruction shall be deemed not to have been given and the Security Agent shall be entitled to rely on any such notification from the relevant Instrument Agent without further enquiry and shall incur no liability to the Holders or any other party for any action taken or not taken prior to or as a result of such notification.

4.8.3 At any time following the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and before (i) the Security Agent has taken any steps to enforce the security constituted by the related Security Agency Agreement and/or Deed of Charge or (ii) a judgment or decree for payment of the money due with respect to such Secured Instruments has been obtained by any Holder, the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and its consequences may be rescinded and annulled upon the written consent of Holders of a majority (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments then outstanding, or by resolution adopted by a majority (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding present or represented at a meeting of Holders at which a quorum is present, as provided in the Agency Agreement, if:

- (a) (i) the Issuer has paid, or has deposited with the relevant Clearing System, a sum sufficient to pay:
 - (A) in respect of Secured Notes:
 - (1) all overdue amounts of interest on such Secured Notes;
 - (2) the principal of such Secured Notes which has become due otherwise by such declaration of acceleration; or
 - (B) in respect of Secured W&C Instruments:
 - (1) all overdue Additional Amounts on such Secured W&C Instruments;
 - (2) the Cash Settlement Amount or other termination amount of such Secured W&C Instruments which has become due otherwise than by such declaration of acceleration; or
- (ii) in the case of Secured Instruments to be settled by physical delivery, the Issuer has delivered the relevant assets to any agent appointed by the Issuer to deliver such assets to the Holders of the Non-Waived Instruments; and
- (b) all Secured Instrument Events of Default with respect to such Secured Instruments, other than the non-payment of the applicable principal amount, Cash Settlement Amount or other termination amount of such Secured Instruments which has become due solely by such declaration of acceleration, have been cured or waived as provided in Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.4 below.

No such rescission shall affect any subsequent default or impair any right consequent thereon.

- 4.8.4 Any default by the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, other than the events described in Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.1(a) or Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.1(b), and other than an event described in Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.1(c) in respect of a covenant or provision of the Terms and Conditions which cannot be amended or modified without the passing of an Extraordinary Resolution of Holders, may be waived by the written consent of Holders of a majority (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments then outstanding affected thereby, or by resolution adopted by a majority (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments then outstanding present or represented at a meeting of Holders affected thereby at which a quorum is present, as provided in the Agency Agreement. Upon any such waiver, such default shall cease to exist, and any Secured Instrument Event of Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been cured, for every purpose of the Agency Agreement, but no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereon.
- 4.8.5 Notes Condition 11 (Events of Default and Rights of Acceleration) shall not apply in respect of Secured Notes.
- 4.8.6 Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Secured Instruments Conditions or any other agreement, a holder shall not be permitted to exercise any default right with respect to any Secured Instrument or the Collateral Transaction Documents that is related, directly or indirectly, to an affiliate (as such term is defined in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k)) of the Issuer becoming subject to a receivership, insolvency, resolution or similar proceeding (an "Insolvency Proceeding"). However, nothing in this paragraph shall restrict the exercise by a holder of any default right against the Issuer with respect to the Secured Instrument that arises as a result of (i) the Issuer becoming subject to an Insolvency Proceeding, (ii) the Issuer not satisfying a payment or delivery obligation pursuant to such Secured Instrument, or (iii) the failure of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, or any transferee thereof, to satisfy a payment or delivery obligation pursuant to the Collateral Transaction Documents or any other credit enhancement that supports the Secured Instrument. After an affiliate of the Issuer becomes subject to an Insolvency Proceeding, a Holder seeking to exercise a default right against the Issuer with respect to the Secured Instrument or the Collateral Transaction Documents shall have the burden of proof, by clear and convincing evidence, that the exercise of such default right is permitted thereunder. For purposes of this paragraph, "default right" has the meaning assigned to that term in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with 12 C.F.R. § 252.81, 12 C.F.R. § 382.1 and 12 C.F.R. § 47.1, as applicable.

- 4.8.7 Nothing in the Secured Instruments Conditions or the Collateral Transaction Documents shall prohibit the transfer of the Collateral Transaction Documents, any interest or obligation in or under such Collateral Transaction Documents, or any property securing such Collateral Transaction Documents to a transferee upon or following an affiliate (as such term is defined in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k)) of the Issuer becoming subject to an Insolvency Proceeding.

4.9 Status

4.9.1 Secured Notes

Notes Condition 3 (Status of the Notes and the Guarantees) shall not apply to the Secured Notes. The Secured Notes constitute direct, limited recourse, unsubordinated and secured obligations of the Issuer and rank equally among themselves.

Notwithstanding Notes Condition 3 (Status of the Notes and the Guarantees), the obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantees shall not apply to Secured Notes. The Secured Notes are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity.

4.9.2 Secured W&C Instruments

W&C Instruments Condition 2 (Status of the W&C Instruments and MLBV Guarantee) shall not apply to the Secured W&C Instruments. The Secured W&C Instruments constitute direct, limited recourse, unsubordinated and secured obligations of the Issuer and rank equally among themselves.

Notwithstanding W&C Instruments Condition 2 (Status of the W&C Instruments and MLBV Guarantee), the obligations of the Guarantor under the MLBV Guarantee shall not apply to Secured W&C Instruments. The Secured W&C Instruments are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity.

5. Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, Collateral Agent, Custodian, Security Agent, Secured Instruments Valuation Agent and relevant Instrument Agent

In relation to each Series of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent acts solely as an agent of the Issuer, and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders. In relation to each issue of Secured Instruments, the Collateral Agent acts solely as an agent of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders or the Issuer.

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider acts as an arms-length third party and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders. For the avoidance of doubt, the Custodian does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders, the Issuer or the Security Agent.

In acting in connection with any Series of Secured Instruments, the Security Agent does not act as an advisor to or fiduciary or trustee for the Holders or any other party and nothing in any of the documents relating to the Programme shall be interpreted to constitute the Security Agent as a trustee or fiduciary of the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Holders or any other party.

All calculations and determinations made in respect of the Secured Instruments by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, Collateral Agent and Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Holders and the Security Agent (as applicable).

Each of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and Secured Instruments Valuation Agent may, with the consent of the Issuer, delegate any of their obligations and functions to a third party as provided for in the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider Agreement, Valuation Agency Agreement and each Triparty Account Control Agreement, as applicable. The Collateral Agent may delegate any of its obligations and functions to a third party as provided for in the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement.

In acting in connection with any Series of Secured Instruments, the relevant Instrument Agent shall act solely as an agent of the Issuer and will not assume any obligations towards or relationship of agency or trust for or with any of the Holders of such Secured Instruments.

6. Default, Enforcement and Realisation

6.1 Acceleration and Enforcement of Collateral

If an Acceleration Instruction has become effective, the Security Agent shall (acting in accordance with such Acceleration Instruction), as soon as reasonably practicable:

- (i) deliver a Collateral Enforcement Notice (in or substantially in the form annexed to the relevant Deed of Charge) in respect of such Series of Secured Instruments to each of the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the relevant Instrument Agent;
- (ii) deliver a Notice of Exclusive Control (in or substantially in the form annexed to the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement) in respect of the Collateral Account of such Series of Secured Instruments to the Collateral Agent;
- (iii) give notice to the relevant Instrument Agent of the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and the delivery of such Collateral Enforcement Notice and Notice of Exclusive Control and the relevant Instrument Agent will give notice of the same in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) or, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices) to all relevant Holders; and
- (iv) appoint a Disposal Agent, if a Disposal Agent has not already been appointed, and provide instructions to the Disposal Agent in accordance with the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions.

Upon delivery of the Collateral Enforcement Notice, all Secured Instruments in respect of which the Collateral Enforcement Notice is served will become immediately due and repayable at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount and, where "Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, such Secured Instruments will also be subject to settlement in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.9.

As soon as reasonably practicable following the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, the Issuer shall, and shall procure that its Affiliates that hold Waived Instruments, of the Series of Secured Instruments in respect of which the Collateral Enforcement Notice is served, submit such Waived Instruments for cancellation free of payment and, following such cancellation, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall notify the Security Agent of the principal amount or number, as applicable, of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments of such Series.

6.2 Definition of "Early Redemption/Settlement Amount"

6.2.1 Following notification of the MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds and, where "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified to be not applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds by the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) to the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.3, the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount payable in respect of a Non-Waived Instrument of such Series shall be determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent in accordance with paragraph (a) or (b) below (as applicable):

- (a) if the applicable Final Terms specify "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" to be not applicable, an amount in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured W&C Instruments) equal to the greater of zero and the sum of:
 - (i) the lesser of:
 - (A) an amount equal to the portion of the Marked-to-Market Derivative Hedge Value that relates to such Non-Waived Instrument, determined in respect of the Derivative Hedge Valuation Time for the Collateral Test Date immediately preceding the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice; and
 - (B) the difference between (I) the Adjusted MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share minus (II) such Non-Waived Instrument's pro rata share of the Derivative Hedge Termination Costs; plus
 - (ii) the difference between (A) the Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share minus (B) such Non-Waived Instrument's pro rata share of the Static Collateral Hedge Termination Costs; or
- (b) if the applicable Final Terms specify "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" to be applicable, an amount in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured W&C Instruments) equal to the greater of zero and the lesser of:
 - (i) an amount equal to the portion of the Marked-to-Market Derivative Hedge Value that relates to such Non-Waived Instrument, determined in respect of the Derivative Hedge Valuation Time for the Collateral Test Date immediately preceding the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice; and
 - (ii) the difference between (A) the MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share minus (B) the sum of (I) such Non-Waived Instrument's pro rata share of the Derivative Hedge Termination Costs, plus (II) such Non-Waived Instrument's pro rata share of the Static Collateral Hedge Termination Costs.

6.2.2 For the purposes of these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions, the following definitions will apply:

"Adjusted MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share" means the sum of the MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share plus the Excess Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.

"Collateral Enforcement Proceeds" means the sum of the MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds plus the Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds (if any), as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.

"Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share" means the sum of the MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share plus the Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share (if any), as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.

"Excess Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share" means, in respect of a Non-Waived Instrument, the greater of zero and the difference between (a) the Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share minus (b) the sum of (i) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the principal amount of such Non-Waived Instrument (equal to the specified denomination of such Non-Waived Instrument) or, in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, the Notional Amount of such Non-Waived Instrument plus (ii) such Non-Waived Instrument's pro rata share of the Static Collateral Hedge Termination Costs, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.

"MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds" means the net proceeds of realisation of, or enforcement with respect to, the relevant MTM Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool following payment of all amounts payable to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share" means, in respect of a Series of Secured Instruments, the pro rata share of the MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds attributable to each Non-Waived Instrument in such Series of Secured Instruments, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.

"Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds" means the net proceeds of realisation of, or enforcement with respect to, the relevant Static Collateral Assets (excluding, if "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is applicable, any Static Collateral Assets that are Deliverable in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.9) in a Collateral Pool following payment of all amounts (to the extent that the proceeds of realisation of the MTM Collateral Assets are insufficient to make payment of any such amounts) payable to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share" means, in respect of a Series of Secured Instruments, the pro rata share of the Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds attributable to each Non-Waived Instrument in such Series of Secured Instruments, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.

6.3 Enforcement and Realisation

Following delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice in respect of the relevant Series of Secured Instruments, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) shall enforce the security constituted by the relevant Deed of Charge relating to the relevant Collateral Pool in accordance with the terms thereof and these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions (as completed by the applicable Final Terms) and the terms of the Security Agency Agreement and will give instructions to the Disposal Agent to effect a liquidation and realisation of the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures such Series of Secured Instruments in the following manner:

- (a) if "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified not to apply in the applicable Final Terms, by liquidating or realising all Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures such Series of Secured Instruments in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.7; or
- (b) if "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms:
 - (i) firstly, by liquidating or realising the MTM Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures such Series of Secured Instruments in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.7;
 - (ii) secondly, to the extent the proceeds available following the liquidation and realisation of the MTM Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool under subparagraph (b)(i) above are insufficient to make payment of any amounts payable to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of the Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms, by liquidating or realising an amount of Static Collateral Assets sufficient to make the remainder of such payments in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.7 and such proceeds will not be distributed to Holders but will be distributed to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms, provided that if the Eligible Static Collateral Assets specified in the applicable Final Terms is a Basket of Eligible Debt Securities, the amount of each Eligible Debt Security in the Basket of Eligible Debt Securities liquidated or realised pursuant to this paragraph shall be proportionate to the Eligible Debt Security Weighting of such Eligible Debt Security; and

- (iii) thirdly, by liquidating or realising an amount of Static Collateral Assets sufficient to derive proceeds equal in value to any Hedge Termination Costs Shortfall in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.7 and such proceeds will not be distributed to Holders but will be distributed to the Secured Parties ranking after the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms, provided that if the Eligible Static Collateral Assets specified in the applicable Final Terms is a Basket of Eligible Debt Securities, the amount of each Eligible Debt Security in the Basket of Eligible Debt Securities liquidated or realised pursuant to this paragraph shall be proportionate to the Eligible Debt Security Weighting of such Eligible Debt Security, the aggregate nominal amount of Static Collateral Assets remaining in the relevant Collateral Account following such liquidation or realisation in accordance with subparagraph (b)(ii) and (iii) above, the "Remaining Static Collateral Assets". The Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall notify the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent of the Static Collateral Assets comprising the Remaining Static Collateral Assets.

6.4 Liability of the Security Agent

The Security Agency Agreement contains provisions setting out the standards of liability of the Security Agent including providing that:

- (a) in the event that any Secured Party directs the Security Agent to effect the liquidation and realisation of the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures the relevant Series of Secured Instruments in a manner that is in accordance with the exact provisions of the Acceleration Instruction, the Security Agent shall not be under any obligation to take any further action (without prejudice to its ability to instruct the Disposal Agent to liquidate and realise the Collateral Assets for the purpose of funding the Security Agent Amounts) if it reasonably believes that (i) it would not be able to recover the Security Agent Amounts that would be incurred in connection with such action from the relevant Collateral Assets or otherwise and/or (ii) it would experience an unreasonable delay in doing so; and
- (b) in the event that any Secured Party directs the Security Agent to effect the liquidation and realisation of the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures the relevant Series of Secured Instruments in a manner other than in accordance with the exact provisions of the Acceleration Instruction, the Security Agent shall not be under any obligation to take any action unless it has first been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction and, in each case, the Security Agent shall have no liability for any such failure to act.

The Security Agent will not, in the absence of its own gross negligence, fraud and wilful misconduct, have any liability in connection with its role under or for the purposes of these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions and it will have no regard to the effect of such action on individual Holders. In no event shall the Security Agent be liable for any special, indirect or consequential loss or any punitive damages including (without limitation) any lost profits.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Security Agent shall be entitled to rely without enquiry on an Acceleration Instruction delivered by the Instrument Agent and on any notice of revocation of such Acceleration Instruction pursuant to Condition 4.8.2 and shall have no obligation to monitor or verify whether the relevant threshold has been met or to monitor or verify whether any Holder that has delivered an Acceleration Notice holds Waived Instruments or Non-Waived Instruments.

6.5 Enforcement and realisation by Holders

No Holder shall be entitled to enforce a Deed of Charge or to proceed directly against the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to enforce the other provisions of a Charged Document unless the Security Agent, having become bound to so enforce or proceed, fails so to do within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Agent is prevented from enforcing a Deed of Charge by any court order. If a Holder becomes so entitled, then such Holder shall not be entitled to enforce the relevant Deed of Charge or Charged Document in the United Kingdom.

If the Security Agent becomes bound to enforce a Deed of Charge or a Charged Document and fails to do so within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Agent is prevented from enforcing a Deed of Charge by any court order, then, without prejudice to the paragraph above, Holder(s) of at least 33 per cent. (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding may remove the Security Agent and appoint a replacement Security Agent in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instrument Condition 3.7 and the terms of the Security Agency Agreement.

Neither the Issuer nor any Holder shall be entitled to enforce a Triparty Account Control Agreement or the Custodian Agreement or to proceed directly against the Collateral Agent or the Custodian to enforce the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement or the Custodian Agreement (as applicable). Neither the Collateral Agent nor the Custodian shall have any liability to the Issuer or any Holder as to the consequence of any actions taken by the Collateral Agent or Custodian (as applicable).

6.6 Application and distribution of proceeds of enforcement

6.6.1 In connection with the enforcement of the security constituted by the relevant Deed of Charge, after the realisation and liquidation of the relevant Collateral Assets specified in Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.3 in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.7, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall firstly use the proceeds of such realisation and liquidation of the MTM Collateral Assets to make payment of any amounts payable to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms. To the extent that the proceeds of the realisation and liquidation of the MTM Collateral Assets are insufficient to make payments of any amounts payable to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall use the proceeds of any realisation and liquidation of the Static Collateral Assets to make payments of any such outstanding amounts.

6.6.2 Following such payments, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall notify the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent of the MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds and, where "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified to be not applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the Static Collateral Enforcement Proceeds. The Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall then determine the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount in respect of each Non-Waived Instrument in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.2 and shall notify such amount to the Security Agent, the Disposal Agent and to the Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).

- 6.6.3 Subject as provided below, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall apply the remaining proceeds from the realisation of the relevant Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool (excluding, if "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is applicable, any Static Collateral Assets that are deliverable in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.9) in meeting the claims of Holders in respect of the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount payable under each Non-Waived Instrument which is secured by the relevant Collateral Pool. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the proceeds of any Static Collateral Assets realised or liquidated in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.3(b)(iii) will not be distributed to Holders but will be distributed to the Secured Parties ranking after the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms.

If the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share for a particular Non-Waived Instrument is greater than the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount of such Non-Waived Instrument, then such excess amount will not be distributed to such Holder but will be distributed to the Secured Parties ranking after the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms.

- 6.6.4 The Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall determine the date for distribution of the remaining proceeds to Holders in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.6.3 and shall notify such date to the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent shall notify Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).
- 6.6.5 Moneys held by the Security Agent shall be deposited in its name in an account at such bank or other financial institution as the Security Agent may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, think fit. Any interest paid by such bank or financial institution on such moneys shall be deemed to be MTM Collateral Assets.
- 6.6.6 To the extent that any proceeds from the liquidation or realisation of the relevant Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool are not in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured W&C Instruments), then such proceeds shall be converted at such rate or rates, in accordance with such method and as at such date as may reasonably be specified by the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), having regard to then-current rates of exchange. Any rate, method and date so specified shall be binding on the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Holders.

6.7 Method of realisation of Collateral Assets

Subject as may otherwise be provided for in these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions, in effecting the sales, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) may sell the relevant Collateral Assets in one single tranche or in smaller tranches as it considers appropriate in order to attempt reasonably to maximise the proceeds from such sale. The Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) may effect sales of the Collateral Assets (a) on any securities exchange or quotation service on which the Collateral Assets may be listed or quoted, (b) in the over-the-counter market or (c) in transactions otherwise than on such exchanges or in the over-the counter market.

Where the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) disposes of any Collateral Assets other than on any securities exchange or quotation service on which the Collateral Assets may be listed or quoted then:

- (a) the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall seek firm bid quotations from at least three independent dealers in assets similar in nature to the relevant Collateral Assets (and, for such purpose, it may seek quotations in respect of such Collateral Assets in their entirety or in respect of a designated part or proportion thereof, as it considers appropriate in order to maximise the proceeds of the sale of such Collateral Assets);
- (b) for the purposes of obtaining the quotations referred to in (a) above, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent may itself provide a bid in respect of the relevant Collateral Assets or any part or proportion thereof; and
- (c) the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall be authorised to accept without liability to any party in respect of each relevant part or proportion of the Collateral Assets or, as applicable, the entirety of the relevant Collateral Assets the highest quotation so obtained (which may be a quotation from the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (when providing such quotations itself, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent shall act in a commercially reasonable manner)).

Notwithstanding any other provision of these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions, following receipt by the Security Agent of notice of an Acceleration Event, the Security Agent shall be entitled in its sole discretion to instruct the Disposal Agent to liquidate, dispose or realise any of the Collateral Assets at any time and without regard to any of the provisions of the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions with respect to method, price or time of such realisation, in order to satisfy any Security Agent Amounts, and without liability to any party for any such action.

6.8 Inability to realise Collateral Assets

If the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) is unable to sell the relevant Collateral Assets on any securities exchange or quotation service on which the Collateral Assets may be listed or quoted or obtain the three quotations required for the sale of one or more Collateral Assets, in each case pursuant to Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.6, for a period of one year from the date of the relevant Acceleration Instruction (such Collateral Assets being "Non-Realised Collateral Assets"), then notwithstanding any other provision hereof, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall be entitled without liability to any party to sell such Non-Realised Collateral Assets by accepting the first available price for such Non-Realised Collateral Assets.

6.9 Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets

6.9.1 The Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) will notify the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent will notify Holders of Non-Waived Instruments of the relevant Series of Secured Instruments of the relevant Collateral Delivery Date in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices) and:

- (a) the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall aggregate the Unrounded Collateral Assets Entitlement in respect of all Non-Waived Instruments of such Series held by each such Holder and will round down each Static Collateral Asset comprising such aggregated Unrounded Collateral Assets Entitlement to the nearest tradable unit of such Static Collateral Asset (the "Entitlement" in respect of such Holder);
- (b) the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall notify the Entitlement in respect of each Holder to the Security Agent and the Disposal Agent and to the Holders in accordance with , in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices);

- (c) the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall deliver the relevant Entitlement to the Holders of the Non-Waived Instruments secured by the relevant Collateral Pool in accordance with the method of transfer of Collateral Assets specified, in respect of Secured Notes, in Physical Delivery Note Condition 2 (Delivery of Entitlement and Asset Transfer Notices) or, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, in W&C Instruments Condition 25(C)(b) or 32(C)(b), (provided that no Expenses shall be payable), as applicable (and each reference therein to "Issuer" shall be deemed to be a reference to "Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent)"); and
 - (d) the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall realise and liquidate in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.7 the number or fraction of Collateral Assets which it is not possible to deliver to a Holder following rounding by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent in accordance with sub-paragraph (a) above as notified to the Security Agent and the Disposal Agent in accordance with sub-paragraph (b) above and shall notify the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent of the amount of the proceeds of such realisation and liquidation. The Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall determine the pro rata share of the proceeds of such realisation and liquidation of each Holder whose Entitlement is subject to rounding (determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent in respect of each Holder, on the basis of the difference between the aggregated Unrounded Collateral Assets Entitlement of such Holder minus the Entitlement of such Holder) (such amount, the "Fractional Cash Amount" in respect of such Holder) and shall notify the Fractional Cash Amount in respect of each Holder to the Security Agent and the Disposal Agent and to the Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) or, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices). The Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall pay the relevant Fractional Cash Amount to each Holder.
- 6.9.2 Delivery of such Entitlement and payment of such Fractional Cash Amount shall fully extinguish the Issuer's obligations in respect of the principal amount (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) or the Notional Amount (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) of the relevant Secured Instruments, as the case may be, notwithstanding that the value of the Entitlement so delivered and Fractional Cash Amount so paid may be less than the market value and/or nominal value of the relevant Secured Instrument.
- 6.9.3 W&C Instruments Condition 5 shall not apply in respect of Secured W&C Instruments.
- 6.9.4 Physical Note Condition 3 (Entitlement Settlement Business Day and Settlement Business Day), Physical Note Condition 5 (Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity) and Physical Note Condition 6 (Option to Vary Settlement) shall not apply in respect of Secured Notes.
- 6.9.5 For the purposes of these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions, the following definitions will apply:
- "Collateral Delivery Date" means, in relation to a Series of Secured Instruments where "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is applicable, the date on which the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) intends to deliver the Entitlement to Holders.
- "Hedge Termination Costs Shortfall" means the greater of zero and an amount equal to the difference between (a) the sum of (i) the Derivative Hedge Termination Costs plus (ii) the Static Collateral Hedge Termination Costs, minus (b) the MTM Collateral Enforcement Proceeds, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.
- "Remaining Static Collateral Assets" has the meaning given in Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.3(b).
- "Relevant Number" means:

- (a) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the aggregate principal amount outstanding of Non-Waived Instruments of a Series of Secured Instruments divided by the specified denomination of each Non-Waived Instrument of such Series of Secured Instruments; and
- (b) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, the number of Non-Waived Instruments of a Series of Secured Instruments.

"Unrounded Collateral Assets Entitlement" means, for each Non-Waived Instrument in a Series of Secured Instruments, Static Collateral Assets with an aggregate nominal amount equal to the quotient of (a) the Remaining Static Collateral Assets in respect of the Collateral Pool which secures such Series of Secured Instruments, divided by (b) the Relevant Number of Non-Waived Instruments of such Series of Secured Instruments, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent, provided that if the Eligible Static Collateral Assets specified in the applicable Final Terms is a Basket of Eligible Debt Securities, and such Remaining Static Collateral Assets comprise the Basket of Eligible Debt Securities, the aggregate nominal amount of each Eligible Debt Security in the Basket of Eligible Debt Securities expressed as a percentage of the Unrounded Collateral Assets Entitlement shall be equal to the Eligible Debt Security Weighting of such Eligible Debt Security.

6.9.6 This Condition 6.9 shall not apply to Secured Instruments which are Rule 144A Instruments.

6.10 Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event

6.10.1 If, in the opinion of the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), delivery of all or some of the Static Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement using the method of delivery specified in respect of Secured Notes, in Physical Delivery Note Condition 2 (Delivery of Entitlement and Asset Transfer Notices) or, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, in W&C Instruments Condition 25(C)(b) or 32(C)(b) (as applicable and as notified to the Disposal Agent by the Security Agent), or such other commercially reasonable manner as the Security Agent, or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), has determined, is not practicable by reason of a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event having occurred and continuing on any Collateral Delivery Date, then such Collateral Delivery Date shall be postponed to the first following Collateral Business Day in respect of which there is no such Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event, provided that the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) may elect in its sole discretion and without liability to any party to deliver the Static Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement in such other commercially reasonable manner as it may select and in such event the Collateral Delivery Date shall be such day as the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) deems appropriate in connection with delivery of the Static Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement in such other commercially reasonable manner.

Where a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event affects some but not all of the Static Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement due to be delivered to a Holder, the Collateral Delivery Date for those Static Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement which are able to be delivered will be the Collateral Delivery Date on which such Static Collateral Assets are delivered.

6.10.2 If delivery of any Static Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement is not possible due to the occurrence of a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event for a period of greater than 20 Collateral Business Days, then in lieu of physical settlement and notwithstanding any other provision hereof, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall sell or realise the Undeliverable Collateral Assets in the manner set out in Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.7 and deliver the proceeds thereof to Holders.

6.10.3 If the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) is unable to either sell the Undeliverable Collateral Assets on any securities exchange or quotation service on which the Undeliverable Collateral Assets may be listed or quoted or obtain the three quotations required for the sale of the Collateral Assets, in each case pursuant to Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6.7, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall be entitled, without the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent incurring any liability to any party, to accept the first available price for such Undeliverable Collateral Assets.

The Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), shall give notice as soon as practicable to the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent will give notice as soon as practicable to Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) or, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices) that a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event has occurred. No Holder shall be entitled to any payment in respect of the relevant Non-Waived Instruments in the event of any delay in the delivery of the Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement due to the occurrence of a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event and no liability in respect thereof shall attach to the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent.

6.11 Replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent

If, following the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent fails to make the applicable calculations and determinations specified in this Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 6, or fails to notify the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent of the results of such calculations and determinations, within a reasonable time and in any event within 20 Collateral Business Days of receipt of a written request from the Security Agent and/or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) that it make such calculations and determinations, then the Security Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable appoint a replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent (a "Replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent") in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 3.7.

7. Segregation of Collateral Pools and Limited Recourse and Non-Petition

By acquiring and holding Secured Instruments, Holders will be deemed to acknowledge and agree that the obligations of the Issuer to the Holders are limited in recourse to the Collateral Assets contained in the relevant Collateral Pool securing such Series of Secured Instruments. If:

- (a) there are no relevant Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool remaining which are capable of being realised or otherwise converted into cash;
- (b) all amounts available from the relevant Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool have been applied to meet or provide for the relevant obligations specified in, and in accordance with, the provisions of the relevant Deed of Charge, the Security Agency Agreement and these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions; and
- (c) there are insufficient amounts available from the relevant Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool to pay in full, in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Deed of Charge, the Security Agency Agreement and these Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions, amounts outstanding under the Secured Instruments (including payments of principal, premium (if any) and interest),

then the Holders of such Secured Instruments shall have no further claim against the Issuer or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in respect of any amounts owing to them which remain unpaid (including, for the avoidance of doubt, payments of principal, premium (if any) and/or interest in respect of the Secured Instruments). In particular, no Holder shall be entitled to have recourse to the Collateral Assets contained in a Collateral Pool other than the Collateral Pool which secures the Secured Instruments held by such Holder. The Secured Instruments are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity and therefore Holders will have no claim against the Guarantor or any other entity in respect of any such amounts owing to them which remain unpaid.

8. Collateral Disruption Events

8.1 Consequences of a Collateral Disruption Event

If a Collateral Disruption Event occurs or is continuing in respect of Static Collateral Assets securing a Series of Secured Instruments, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent, the Issuer may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, cancel the Secured Instruments of such Series by giving notice to Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) or, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices). If the Issuer cancels the Secured Instruments, then the Issuer shall:

- (a) pay an amount in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured W&C Instruments) equal to the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (CDE) to each Holder in respect of each Non-Waived Instrument held by such Holder; and
- (b) if "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, (i) Deliver the relevant Entitlement (CDE) to each Holder and (ii) pay the Fractional Cash Amount (CDE) to each relevant Holder, in each case, in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Condition 8.4.

Payment will be made in such manner and on such date as shall be notified by the Issuer to the Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices), provided that such date shall be no later than two Business Days following the day on which the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and/or its Affiliate receives the proceeds of liquidation and realisation of all Static Collateral Assets (if any) that are required to be liquidated and realised in accordance with Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions 8.3.1 and 8.4.2 (if applicable).

8.2 Definition of "Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (CDE)"

The expression "Security Agent" shall, in relation to the relevant Secured Instruments, include any substitute or replacement entity appointed as Security Agent in respect thereof pursuant to the terms of the relevant Security Agency Agreement.

In relation to each Series of Secured Instruments, the Security Agent will enter into a Deed of Charge. Under the terms of the relevant Deed of Charge:

- (a) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will covenant to the Security Agent for itself, the Holders of the Non-Waived Instruments and the other relevant Secured Parties under the Security Agency Agreement that it will duly and punctually pay or discharge the Issuer's present and future obligations in respect of the Series of Secured Instruments to which the Deed of Charge relates and under the Charged Documents to which the Issuer is a party and the Security Agency Agreement (each the "Secured Obligations"), provided that the covenant of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to pay the Secured Obligations shall be limited to an amount equal to the proceeds of enforcement of the Collateral Assets; the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's covenant shall be satisfied only from those proceeds and the Security Agent shall have no remedy against the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in relation to such covenant other than the enforcement of the security granted by the Security Agreement(s); and
- (b) the Security Agent will hold the rights granted to it under the relevant Deed of Charge for itself, the Holders of the Non-Waived Instruments and the other relevant Secured Parties under the Security Agency Agreement.

In relation to each Series of Secured Instruments issued under these Secured Fully Floating Instrument Conditions in respect of which a Triparty Deed of Charge is executed, the Security Agent will also enter into a Korean Law Security Agreement.

In performing its role under the Programme, the Security Agent does not act as an advisor to or fiduciary or trustee for the Holders of the Secured Instruments or any other party and nothing in any of the documents relating to the Programme shall be interpreted to constitute the Security Agent as a trustee or fiduciary of the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Holders or any other party.

3.3 Secured Instruments Collateral Provider

Merrill Lynch International shall undertake the duties of Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in respect of each Series of Secured Instruments as set out in these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions and in the applicable Final Terms and as further provided for in the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider Agreement. The expression "Secured Instruments Collateral Provider" shall, in relation to the relevant Secured Instruments, include any substitute or replacement entity appointed as Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in respect thereof pursuant to the terms of the relevant Secured Instruments Collateral Provider Agreement.

3.4 Collateral Agent

3.5 Custodian

The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch shall undertake the duties of Custodian to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in respect of each Series of Secured Instruments under the terms of the Custodian Agreement to the extent to which those terms relate to the Collateral Assets. The Custodian Agreement provides for the establishment of cash accounts and securities accounts in the name of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall instruct the Custodian to open Segregated Collateral Accounts in respect of each Series of Secured Instruments and the Collateral Accounts shall be operated by the Collateral Agent in accordance with the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement. The expression "Custodian" shall include any substitute or replacement entity appointed as Custodian in respect thereof pursuant to the terms of the Custodian Agreement.

3.6 Secured Instruments Valuation Agent

Merrill Lynch International shall undertake the duties of Secured Instruments Valuation Agent in respect of the Secured Fully Floating Instruments as set out in these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions and in the applicable Final Terms and as further provided for in the Valuation Agency Agreement. The expression "Secured Floating Instruments Valuation Agent" shall, in relation to the relevant Secured Instruments, include any substitute or replacement entity (including any Replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent) appointed as Secured Instruments Valuation Agent in respect thereof pursuant to the terms of the Valuation Agency Agreement.

In making determinations and calculations under these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. In relation to each Series of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent acts solely as an agent of the Issuer, and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders.

3.7 Termination and Replacement

Each of the Collateral Transaction Documents contain, or will contain, provisions for the termination of such agreement and, as the case may be, the removal or replacement of the role of the relevant Collateral Arrangement Party appointed thereunder. Any such termination, removal and/or replacement will be effected in accordance with the provisions of such agreements and (other than in respect of the Custodian or the Collateral Agent) these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions and may be effected without the consent of Holders, provided that, in respect of the appointment of a replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instrument Condition 6.10 and the Security Agency Agreement, the Security Agent shall not be required to consider the provisions regarding the appointment of a replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent contained in the Valuation Agency Agreement. No such termination or removal shall be effective until a replacement entity has been appointed. The Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall be required to give notice to Holders of any such termination, removal and/or replacement in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices). Any reference to a Collateral Arrangement Party in these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions shall be deemed to include a reference to any entity appointed as a replacement thereof.

A replacement Collateral Arrangement Party may only be appointed when the following conditions are fulfilled: the replacement Collateral Arrangement Party (other than the replacement Custodian or Collateral Agent): (i) is an institution incorporated and in good standing in the United States of America or one of the States thereof or in a state which is, as at the date of the relevant Collateral Transaction Document, a member state of the European Union or the United Kingdom; (ii) has the requisite resources and legal capacity to perform the duties imposed upon the relevant existing Collateral Arrangement Party under the relevant Collateral Transaction Document and is a recognised provider of the services provided by such Collateral Arrangement Party; (iii) is legally qualified and has the capacity to act as successor to the relevant Collateral Arrangement Party on the terms of the relevant Collateral Transaction Document; and (iv) whose performance of its duties under the relevant Collateral Transaction Document will not cause the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to become subject to tax in any jurisdiction where such successor is incorporated, established, doing business, has a permanent establishment or is otherwise considered tax resident.

The Security Agency Agreement contains, or will contain, provisions for the termination of such agreement and the removal or replacement of the Security Agent appointed thereunder. Any such termination, removal and/or replacement will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the Security Agency Agreement and may be effected without the consent of Holders. No such termination or removal shall be effective until a replacement Security Agent has been appointed.

3.8 Notices

Where any provision of these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions requires one party to deliver a notice to another party, such notice may be delivered in any form agreed between the parties thereto, including but not limited to, by post, electronic message, fax, exchange of electronic files, SWIFT messages, messages through the relevant Clearing System or by telephone (provided that any notice given by telephone must, as soon as reasonably practicable, be confirmed in writing between the parties to such telephone conversation and failure to obtain such confirmation shall not invalidate such notice).

4. Security

4.1 Security

The obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Secured Instruments will be secured by a Deed of Charge pursuant to which:

- (a) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider charges by way of first fixed charge its rights and title in the Segregated Collateral Assets. The security interest granted shall be over all of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's rights in and to the Segregated Collateral Assets delivered into and held from time to time in the relevant segregated account(s) established with the Custodian pursuant to and in accordance with the applicable terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement and the Custodian Agreement for such purpose (each a "Segregated Collateral Account"), excluding any interest or distributions paid on such Segregated Collateral Assets to the extent such amounts are not held in the relevant Segregated Collateral Account(s); and

- (b) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider assigns by way of security its rights, title and interest in the Segregated Collateral Accounts (including, without limitation, any contractual interests or claims relating to such Segregated Collateral Accounts) and the Charged Documents, in favour of the Security Agent to hold for itself and on behalf of the relevant Holders and the other relevant Secured Parties under the Security Agency Agreement.

With respect to each Series of Secured Instruments for which a Triparty Deed of Charge is executed, the obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Secured Instruments (as owed to the Security Agent under the Parallel Debt provisions) will also be secured by a Korean Law Security Agreement.

Under each Korean Law Security Agreement, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will grant a first priority continuing security interest (Kun Jil Kwon) in favour of the Security Agent over the Korean Pledged Securities. For the avoidance of doubt, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will not grant security over the Korean Securities Account (as distinct from any securities credited to such account) or over any securities in the Korean Securities Account other than the Korean Pledged Securities for any Series of Secured Instruments.

For each Series of Secured Instruments for which a Triparty Deed of Charge has been executed, the Korean Securities which are held in the Korean Securities Account and are registered as pledged in respect of such Series of Secured Instruments (the "Korean Pledged Securities") and the Segregated Collateral Assets held in the Segregated Collateral Accounts shall be the "Collateral Assets" and such accounts shall be the "Collateral Accounts".

For each Series of Secured Instruments for which a Bilateral Deed of Charge has been executed, the Segregated Collateral Accounts shall be the "Collateral Accounts".

Following the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, any interest or distributions paid in respect of the Segregated Collateral Assets will be credited to the relevant Collateral Account and will be subject to the relevant Security Agreement.

4.2 Collateral Pools

Each Series of Secured Instruments will be secured by a separate Collateral Pool held in the Collateral Accounts.

4.3 Initial Collateral Assets

On the Issue Date of a Series of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall deposit Eligible Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Account (or, in the case of Eligible Collateral Assets held in the Korean Securities Account, shall give instructions to the Collateral Agent to procure the registration of the pledge in respect of such Eligible Collateral Assets) such that the Collateral Test will be satisfied on the Collateral Test Date falling on such Issue Date.

4.4 Adjustments to Collateral Assets

On the Secured Instrument Valuation Date for each Collateral Test Date, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent will determine the Required Collateral Value and will send a Collateral Test Notice to the Collateral Agent prior to 4.30 p.m. London time on such Collateral Test Date, or such other time as may be agreed between the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Collateral Agent from time to time. On the Secured Instrument Valuation Date for each Collateral Test Date, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent will notify the relevant Instrument Agent, with a copy to the Security Agent, of the aggregate principal amount or number, as applicable, of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments as of such date.

On each Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Agent will calculate the Collateral Value and verify that the Collateral Test is satisfied. When determining whether the Collateral Test is satisfied on a Collateral Test Date:

- (a) the Collateral Pool on the Collateral Test Date shall be included for such determination;
- (b) Eligible Collateral Assets for which instructions for the transfer to the relevant Segregated Collateral Accounts have been provided on or before such Collateral Test Date will be included for such determination to the extent such Eligible Collateral Assets have not been transferred and are not part of the Collateral Pool on the Collateral Test Date; and
- (c) Collateral Assets for which instructions for the removal from the relevant Collateral Accounts have been provided (or, in the case of Korean Pledged Securities, instructions for the removal of the pledge from the register in respect of such Korean Pledged Securities) on or before such Collateral Test Date will be excluded for the purposes of such determination if such Collateral Assets have not been transferred out of the relevant Collateral Accounts and/or released from the relevant pledge (as the case may be) on such Collateral Test Date.

Where the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider has provided the Collateral Agent with an instruction regarding the transfer and/or registration of the relevant pledge in respect of Eligible Collateral Assets and such instruction is not carried out within one Collateral Business Day of the Collateral Agent's receipt of such instruction, the Collateral Agent will notify the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider that such instruction is yet to be carried out in which case the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may elect to transfer Additional Eligible Collateral into the Segregated Collateral Accounts on or prior to the third Collateral Business Day to meet the Collateral Test.

In determining whether the Collateral Test is satisfied, the Collateral Agent will verify that the relevant Collateral Assets comply with the eligibility criteria specified in the collateral schedule of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall be solely responsible for ensuring that the Eligibility Criteria specified in the applicable Final Terms is substantively identical to the eligibility criteria specified in the collateral schedule of the Triparty Account Control Agreement and the Collateral Agent shall not be liable to the Holders or any party for any discrepancy therein.

If, on the relevant Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Agent determines that the Collateral Test is not satisfied, the Collateral Agent will promptly send the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider a Collateral Agent Notice. On the date such Collateral Agent Notice is given, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will instruct the Collateral Agent to transfer sufficient additional Eligible Collateral Assets into the relevant Collateral Account (or, in the case of Eligible Collateral Assets held in the Korean Securities Account, to instruct the Collateral Agent to register the pledge in respect of such Eligible Collateral Assets) to satisfy the Collateral Test.

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall ensure that instructions are provided to the Collateral Agent so as to ensure that sufficient Eligible Collateral Assets are Delivered into the relevant Collateral Account (or, in the case of Eligible Collateral Assets held in the Korean Securities Account, the pledge is registered in respect of such Eligible Collateral Assets) on or before each Collateral Test Date to satisfy the Collateral Test in respect of such Collateral Test Date for the relevant Series of Secured Instruments.

For the avoidance of doubt, in relation to Korean Pledged Securities and for the purposes of the Security Agreements and the Triparty Account Control Agreement, "transfers" of the relevant Collateral Assets to the Collateral Accounts may be given effect when held through accounts maintained with certain Clearing Systems as an earmarking of such Collateral Assets as pledged or as a transfer to an account maintained for or on behalf of the Security Agent and such Korean Securities shall be deemed, for the purposes of such agreements, to have been credited to the Collateral Account(s) accordingly.

4.5 Substitution or withdrawal of Collateral Assets

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may, subject to the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement, withdraw and/or replace Collateral Assets from the relevant Collateral Accounts (or, in the case of Korean Pledged Securities, release the pledge in respect of such Korean Pledged Securities) provided that following such adjustment the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will send or procure the sending of a notice to the Collateral Agent specifying the adjustments to be made to the Collateral Pool (including inter alia the type and quantity of any Eligible Collateral Assets to be deposited/registered and/or Collateral Assets to be removed/released).

4.6 Delegation to Secured Instruments Collateral Provider

The Issuer has, pursuant to the terms of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider Agreement, delegated to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider the role of managing each Collateral Pool to comply with the requirements of these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions (including, but not limited to, compliance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions 4.3, 4.4 and 4.5).

4.7 Required Collateral Default

Following the occurrence of a Required Collateral Default, the Collateral Agent shall send a Required Collateral Default Notice to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Agent, specifying that a Required Collateral Default has occurred. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall notify the Issuer of the Required Collateral Default Notice. The Security Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving a Required Collateral Default Notice give notice to the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent will as soon as reasonably practicable give notice in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices) to all relevant Holders of the receipt of a Required Collateral Default Notice.

4.8 Secured Instrument Event of Default

4.8.1 The occurrence of one or more of the following events shall constitute a "Secured Instrument Event of Default" with respect to any Series of Secured Instruments:

- (a) in respect of Secured Notes:
 - (i) default shall be made in the payment of any amount of interest due in respect of any such Notes and the default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
 - (ii) default shall be made in the payment of any principal of any such Notes or in the delivery when due of the Entitlement in respect of any such Notes (in each case whether at maturity or upon redemption or otherwise), and such default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date;
- (b) in respect of Secured W&C Instruments:
 - (i) default shall be made in the payment of any Additional Amount due in respect of any such Non-Waived Instruments and the default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
 - (ii) default shall be made in the payment of any Cash Settlement Amount or other termination amount of any such Non-Waived Instruments or in the delivery when due of the Entitlement in respect of any such Non-Waived Instruments (in each case whether at settlement or upon redemption or otherwise), and such default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
- (c) the Issuer shall fail to perform or observe any other term, covenant or agreement contained in the Terms and Conditions applicable to any of such Secured Instruments or in the Agency Agreement for the period of 90 calendar days after the date on which written notice of such failure, requiring the Issuer, as the case may be, to remedy the same, first shall have been given to the relevant Instrument Agent (which will give notice to the Security Agent) and the Issuer by Holders of at least 33 per cent. of (A) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the aggregate principal amount of any such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding or (B) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, the aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of any such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding; or

- (d) a court having jurisdiction in the premises shall have entered a decree or order granting relief with respect to the Issuer in an involuntary proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or appointing a receiver, liquidator, trustee, assignee, custodian or sequestrator (or similar official) of the Issuer or of all or substantially all of its property or for the winding up or liquidation of its affairs, and such decree or order shall have remained in force and unstayed for a period of 60 consecutive calendar days; or
- (e) the Issuer shall institute proceedings for relief under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or any other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or shall consent to the institution of any such proceedings against it, or shall consent to the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, trustee, assignee, custodian or sequestrator (or similar official) of it or of all or substantially all of its property, or shall make an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or shall fail generally to pay its debts as they become due, or shall take any corporate action in furtherance of any of the foregoing; or
- (f) a Required Collateral Default has occurred; or
- (g) any of (i) a failure by the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to comply with or perform any undertaking or obligation to be complied with or performed by it in accordance with the Security Agency Agreement or the relevant Security Agreements if such failure is continuing after any applicable grace period has elapsed, the expiration or termination of such Security Agency Agreement or Security Agreement, or (ii) the failing or cessation of such Security Agency Agreement or any relevant Security Agreement, or any security granted by the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, to be in full force and effect prior to the satisfaction of all the obligations of such party under these Secured Instruments Conditions or (iii) the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider disaffirms, disclaims, repudiates or rejects, in whole or in part, or challenges the validity of, such Security Agency Agreement or any relevant Security Agreement (or such action is taken by any person or entity appointed or empowered to act on the Issuer's and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's behalf).

If a Secured Instrument Event of Default shall occur and be continuing with respect to any Series of Secured Instruments, then any Holder may, at its option, send an Acceleration Notice (together with proof of holding satisfactory to the Security Agent of the Secured Instruments obtained from the relevant Clearing System) (i) in the case of Secured Instruments held through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, through relevant Clearing System to the relevant Instrument Agent and (ii) in the case of Secured Instruments held through The Depository Trust Corporation, directly to the relevant Instrument Agent (and in the case of either (i) or (ii), with a copy to the Security Agent).

- 4.8.2 The Security Agent is not obliged to act on any Acceleration Notice unless Holder(s) of at least 33 per cent. (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding have sent Acceleration Notice(s) to the relevant Instrument Agent, and if any default is not waived in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.4 below or cured by the Issuer prior to receipt by the relevant Instrument Agent of the latest of such Acceleration Notice(s) required to exceed the 33 per cent. threshold specified above (an "Acceleration Event" in respect of such Series of Secured Instruments). At the time and on the date when an Acceleration Event has occurred, the Acceleration Notice(s) shall be deemed to be an effective acceleration instruction (the "Acceleration Instruction") and the Security Agent shall thereby be instructed to:

- (a) deliver the notices specified in Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.1;
- (b) enforce the security constituted by the relevant Security Agreements and distribute the proceeds (and, if applicable, physically settle the Entitlement), in each case, in accordance with its terms and the provisions of these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions and the Security Agency Agreement;
- (c) appoint a Disposal Agent, if a Disposal Agent has not already been appointed, and provide instructions to the Disposal Agent in accordance with these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions; and
- (d) perform any further actions of the Security Agent specified in these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions, the relevant Security Agreements and the Security Agency Agreement or any reasonable incidental actions, provided that if, at any time before the Security Agent has taken any steps to enforce the security constituted by the related Security Agency Agreement and/or Security Agreements or a judgment or decree for payment of the money due with respect to such Secured Instruments has been obtained by any Holder, the Security Agent is notified in writing by the relevant Instrument Agent that the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and its consequences have been rescinded and annulled in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.3 below, then such Acceleration Instruction shall be deemed not to have been given and the Security Agent shall be entitled to rely on any such notification from the relevant Instrument Agent without further enquiry and shall incur no liability to the Holders or any other party for any action taken or not taken prior to or as a result of such notification.

4.8.3 At any time following the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and (i) before the Security Agent has taken any steps to enforce the security constituted by the related Security Agency Agreement and/or Security Agreements or (ii) a judgment or decree for payment of the money due with respect to such Secured Instruments has been obtained by any Holder, the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and its consequences may be rescinded and annulled upon the written consent of Holders of a majority (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments then outstanding, or by resolution adopted by a majority (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding present or represented at a meeting of Holders at which a quorum is present, as provided in the Agency Agreement, if:

- (a) (i) the Issuer has paid, or has deposited with the relevant Clearing System, a sum sufficient to pay:
 - (A) in respect of Secured Notes:
 - (1) all overdue amounts of interest on such Secured Notes;
 - (2) the principal of such Secured Notes which has become due otherwise by such declaration of acceleration; or
 - (B) in respect of Secured W&C Instruments:
 - (1) all overdue Additional Amounts on such Secured W&C Instruments;
 - (2) the Cash Settlement Amount or other termination amount of such Secured W&C Instruments which has become due otherwise than by such declaration of acceleration; or
- (ii) in the case of Secured Instruments to be settled by physical delivery, the Issuer has delivered the relevant assets to any agent appointed by the Issuer to deliver such assets to the Holders of the Non-Waived Instruments; and

- (b) all Secured Instrument Events of Default with respect to such Secured Instruments, other than the non-payment of any applicable principal amount, Cash Settlement Amount or other termination amount of such Secured Instruments which has become due solely by such declaration of acceleration, have been cured or waived as provided in Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.4 below.

No such rescission shall affect any subsequent default or impair any right consequent thereon.

4.8.4 Any default by the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, other than the events described in Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.1(a) or Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.1(b), and other than an event described in Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 4.8.1(c) in respect of a covenant or provision of the Terms and Conditions which cannot be amended or modified without the passing of an Extraordinary Resolution of Holders, may be waived by the written consent of Holders of a majority (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments then outstanding affected thereby, or by resolution adopted by a majority (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments then outstanding present or represented at a meeting of Holders affected thereby at which a quorum is present, as provided in the Agency Agreement. Upon any such waiver, such default shall cease to exist, and any Secured Instrument Event of Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been cured, for every purpose of the Agency Agreement, but no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereon.

- (a) Notes Condition 11 (Events of Default and Rights of Acceleration) shall not apply in respect of Secured Notes;
- (b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Secured Instruments Conditions or any other agreement, a holder shall not be permitted to exercise any default right with respect to any Secured Instrument or the Collateral Transaction Documents that is related, directly or indirectly, to an affiliate (as such term is defined in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k)) of the Issuer becoming subject to a receivership, insolvency, resolution or similar proceeding (an "Insolvency Proceeding"). However, nothing in this paragraph shall restrict the exercise by a holder of any default right against the Issuer with respect to the Secured Instrument that arises as a result of (i) the Issuer becoming subject to an Insolvency Proceeding, (ii) the Issuer not satisfying a payment or delivery obligation pursuant to such Secured Instrument, or (iii) the failure of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, or any transferee thereof, to satisfy a payment or delivery obligation pursuant to the Collateral Transaction Documents or any other credit enhancement that supports the Secured Instrument. After an affiliate of the Issuer becomes subject to an Insolvency Proceeding, a Holder seeking to exercise a default right against the Issuer with respect to the Secured Instrument or the Collateral Transaction Documents shall have the burden of proof, by clear and convincing evidence, that the exercise of such default right is permitted thereunder. For purposes of this paragraph, "default right" has the meaning assigned to that term in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with 12 C.F.R. § 252.81, 12 C.F.R. § 382.1 and 12 C.F.R. § 47.1, as applicable.
- (c) Nothing in the Secured Instruments Conditions or the Collateral Transaction Documents shall prohibit the transfer of the Collateral Transaction Documents, any interest or obligation in or under such Collateral Transaction Documents, or any property securing such Collateral Transaction Documents to a transferee upon or following an affiliate (as such term is defined in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k)) of the Issuer becoming subject to an Insolvency Proceeding.

4.9 Status

4.9.1 Secured Notes

Notes Condition 3 (Status of the Notes and the Guarantees) shall not apply to the Secured Notes. The Secured Notes constitute direct, limited recourse, unsubordinated and secured obligations of the Issuer and rank equally among themselves.

Notwithstanding Notes Condition 3 (Status of the Notes and the Guarantees), the obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantees shall not apply to Secured Notes. The Secured Notes are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity.

4.9.2 Secured W&C Instruments

W&C Instruments Condition 2 (Status of the W&C Instruments and MLBV Guarantee) shall not apply to the Secured W&C Instruments. The Secured W&C Instruments constitute direct, limited recourse, unsubordinated and secured obligations of the Issuer and rank equally among themselves.

Notwithstanding W&C Instruments Condition 2 (Status of the W&C Instruments and MLBV Guarantee), the obligations of the Guarantor under the MLBV Guarantee shall not apply to Secured W&C Instruments. The Secured W&C Instruments are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity.

5. Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, Collateral Agent, Custodian, Security Agent, Secured Instruments Valuation Agent and relevant Instrument Agent

In relation to each Series of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent acts solely as an agent of the Issuer, and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders. In relation to each issue of Secured Instruments, the Collateral Agent acts solely as an agent of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders or the Issuer.

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider acts as an arms-length third party and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders. For the avoidance of doubt, the Custodian does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders, the Issuer or the Security Agent.

In acting in connection with any Series of Secured Instruments, the Security Agent does not act as an advisor to or fiduciary or trustee for the Holders or any other party and nothing in any of the documents relating to the Programme shall be interpreted to constitute the Security Agent as a trustee or fiduciary of the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Holders or any other party and will not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, any of the Holders of such Secured Instruments.

All calculations and determinations made in respect of the Secured Instruments by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, Collateral Agent and Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Holders and the Security Agent (as applicable).

Each of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and Secured Instruments Valuation Agent may, with the consent of the Issuer, delegate any of their obligations and functions to a third party as provided for in the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider Agreement, Valuation Agency Agreement and the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement, as applicable. The Collateral Agent may delegate any of its obligations and functions to a third party as provided for in the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement.

In acting in connection with any Series of Secured Instruments, the relevant Instrument Agent shall act solely as an agent of the Issuer and will not assume any obligations towards or relationship of agency or trust for or with any of the Holders of such Secured Instruments.

6. Default, Enforcement and Realisation

6.1 Acceleration and Enforcement of Collateral

If an Acceleration Instruction has become effective, the Security Agent shall (acting in accordance with such Acceleration Instruction), as soon as reasonably practicable:

- (a) deliver a Collateral Enforcement Notice in respect of such Series of Secured Instruments to each of the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the relevant Instrument Agent;
- (b) deliver a Notice of Exclusive Control in respect of the Collateral Accounts of such Series of Secured Instruments to the Collateral Agent;
- (c) deliver a Notice of Intended Enforcement in respect of the Korean Securities Account to the Collateral Agent and the Collateral Agent will give notice of the same to the Korean sub-custodian;
- (d) give notice to the relevant Instrument Agent of the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and the delivery of such Collateral Enforcement Notice and Notice of Exclusive Control and the relevant Instrument Agent will give notice of the same in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices) to all relevant Holders; and
- (e) appoint a Disposal Agent, if a Disposal Agent has not already been appointed, and provide instructions to the Disposal Agent in accordance with the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions.

Upon delivery of the Collateral Enforcement Notice, all Secured Instruments in respect of which the Collateral Enforcement Notice is served will become immediately due and repayable at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount and, where "Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, such Secured Instruments will also be subject to settlement in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.8.

As soon as reasonably practicable following the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, the Issuer shall, and shall procure that its Affiliates that hold Waived Instruments, of the Series of Secured Instruments in respect of which the Collateral Enforcement Notice is served, submit such Waived Instruments for cancellation free of payment and, following such cancellation, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall notify the Security Agent of the principal amount or number, as applicable, of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments of such Series.

6.2 Enforcement and Realisation

Following delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice in respect of the relevant Series of Secured Instruments, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) shall enforce the security constituted by the relevant Security Agreements relating to the relevant Collateral Pool in accordance with the terms thereof, these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions (as completed by the applicable Final Terms) and the terms of the Security Agency Agreement and will give instructions to the Disposal Agent to:

- (a) where "Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets" is specified not to apply in the applicable Final Terms, effect a liquidation and realisation in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.6 of all the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures such Series of Secured Instruments and subsequently distribute the relevant Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share to the relevant Holders in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.5; or
- (b) where "Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, arrange for delivery of the relevant Entitlement to the relevant Holders in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.8.

6.3 Liability of the Security Agent

The Security Agency Agreement contains provisions setting out the standards of liability of the Security Agent including providing that:

- (a) in the event that any Secured Party directs the Security Agent to effect the liquidation and realisation of the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures the relevant Series of Secured Instruments in a manner that is in accordance with the exact provisions of the Acceleration Instruction, the Security Agent shall not be under any obligation to take any further action (without prejudice to its ability to instruct the Disposal Agent to liquidate and realise the Collateral Assets for the purpose of funding the Security Agent Amounts) if it reasonably believes that (i) it would not be able to recover the Security Agent Amounts that would be incurred in connection with such action from the relevant Collateral Assets or otherwise and/or (ii) it would experience an unreasonable delay in doing so; and
- (b) in the event that any Secured Party directs the Security Agent to effect the liquidation and realisation of the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures the relevant Series of Secured Instruments in a manner other than in accordance with the exact provisions of the Acceleration Instruction, the Security Agent shall not be under any obligation to take any action unless it has first been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction, and in, each case, the Security Agent shall have no liability for any such failure to act.

The Security Agent will not, in the absence of its own gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct, have any liability in connection with its role under or for the purposes of these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions and it will have no regard to the effect of such action on individual Holders. In no event shall the Security Agent be liable for any special, indirect or consequential loss or any punitive damages including (without limitation) any lost profits.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Security Agent shall be entitled to rely without enquiry on an Acceleration Instruction delivered by the Instrument Agent and on any notice of revocation of such Acceleration Instruction pursuant to Condition 4.8.2 and shall have no obligation to monitor or verify whether the relevant threshold has been met or to monitor or verify whether any Holder that has delivered an Acceleration Notice holds Waived Instruments or Non-Waived Instruments.

6.4 Enforcement and realisation by Holders

No Holder shall be entitled to enforce any Security Agreement or to proceed directly against the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to enforce the other provisions of a Charged Document unless the Security Agent, having become bound to so enforce or proceed, fails so to do within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Agent is prevented from enforcing a Security Agreement by any court order. If a Holder becomes so entitled, then such Holder shall not be entitled to enforce the relevant Security Agreement or Charged Document in the United Kingdom.

If the Security Agent becomes bound to enforce a Security Agreement or a Charged Document and fails to do so within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Agent is prevented from enforcing a Security Agreement by any court order, then, without prejudice to the paragraph above, Holder(s) of at least 33 per cent. (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding may remove the Security Agent and appoint a replacement Security Agent in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 3.7 and the terms of the Security Agency Agreement.

Neither the Issuer nor any Holder shall be entitled to enforce a Triparty Account Control Agreement or the Custodian Agreement or to proceed directly against the Collateral Agent or the Custodian to enforce the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement or the Custodian Agreement (as applicable). Neither the Collateral Agent nor the Custodian shall have any liability to the Issuer or any Holder as to the consequence of any actions taken by the Collateral Agent or Custodian (as applicable).

6.5 Application and distribution of proceeds of enforcement

6.5.1 In connection with the enforcement of the security constituted by the relevant Security Agreements, after the realisation and liquidation of the relevant Collateral Assets in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.6, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) shall instruct the Disposal Agent to use the proceeds of such realisation and liquidation of the Collateral Assets to make payment of any amounts payable to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms and to notify the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent of the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds. Following such payment the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall determine the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share (if any) in respect of each Non-Waived Instrument and shall notify such amount to the Security Agent, the Disposal Agent and to the Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).

6.5.2 Subject as provided below, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall apply the remaining proceeds from the realisation of the relevant Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool in meeting the claims of Holders in respect of the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount payable under each Non-Waived Instrument which is secured by the relevant Collateral Pool pro rata to the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share of each such Non-Waived Instrument.

6.5.3 If the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share for a particular Non-Waived Instrument is greater than the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount of such Non-Waived Instrument, then:

(a) where "NV Collateralisation" or "Max (NV, MV) Collateralisation" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, such Holder shall be entitled to receive from the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share up to the greater of:

(i) the product of (A) the Collateralisation Percentage, multiplied by (B) (I) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the principal amount of such Non-Waived Instrument or (II) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, the Notional Amount of such Non-Waived Instrument; and

(ii) the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount,

(the greater of the amounts in sub-paragraphs (i) and (ii) shall be the "NV Collateralisation Enforcement Proceeds Cap"). Any excess amount of the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share over the NV Collateralisation Enforcement Proceeds Cap will be distributed to the Secured Parties ranking after the Holders of Non-Waived Secured Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms; or

(b) where "MV Collateralisation" or "Min (NV, MV) Collateralisation" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the Holder is only entitled to receive from the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share an amount equal to the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount. Any excess amount of the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share over the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount will not be distributed to such Holder but will be distributed to the Secured Parties ranking after the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms.

6.5.4 Where the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share for a particular Secured Instrument is less than the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (such amount being a "Collateral Enforcement Loss Amount"), such Holder will not be entitled to any further recourse against the Issuer or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider for such Collateral Enforcement Loss Amount.

- 6.5.5 The Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall determine the date for distribution of the remaining proceeds to Holders in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.5.2 and shall notify such date to the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent shall notify Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).
- 6.5.6 Moneys held by the Security Agent shall be deposited in its name in an account at such bank or other financial institution as the Security Agent may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, think fit. Any interest paid by such bank or financial institution on such moneys shall be deemed to be Collateral Assets.
- 6.5.7 To the extent that any proceeds from the liquidation or realisation of the relevant Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool are not in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured W&C Instruments), then such proceeds shall be converted at such rate or rates, in accordance with such method and as at such date as may reasonably be specified by the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), having regard to then-current rates of exchange. Any rate, method and date so specified shall be binding on the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Holders.

6.6 Method of realisation of Collateral Assets

Subject as may otherwise be provided for in these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions, in effecting the sales, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) may sell the relevant Collateral Assets in one single tranche or in smaller tranches as it considers appropriate in order to attempt reasonably to maximise the proceeds from such sale. The Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) may effect sales of the Collateral Assets (a) on any securities exchange or quotation service on which the Collateral Assets may be listed or quoted, (b) in the over-the-counter market or (c) in transactions otherwise than on such exchanges or in the over-the counter market.

Where the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) disposes of any Collateral Assets other than on any securities exchange or quotation service on which the Collateral Assets may be listed or quoted then:

- (a) the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall seek firm bid quotations from at least three independent dealers in assets similar in nature to the relevant Collateral Assets (and, for such purpose, it may seek quotations in respect of such Collateral Assets in their entirety or in respect of a designated part or proportion thereof, as it considers appropriate in order to maximise the proceeds of the sale of such Collateral Assets);
- (b) for the purposes of obtaining the quotations referred to in (a) above, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent may itself provide a bid in respect of the relevant Collateral Assets or any part or proportion thereof; and
- (c) the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall be authorised to accept without liability to any party in respect of each relevant part or proportion of the Collateral Assets or, as applicable, the entirety of the relevant Collateral Assets the highest quotation so obtained (which may be a quotation from the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (when providing such quotations itself, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent shall act in a commercially reasonable manner)).

Notwithstanding any other provision of these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions, following receipt by the Security Agent of notice of an Acceleration Event, the Security Agent shall be entitled in its sole discretion, to instruct the Disposal Agent to liquidate, dispose or realise any of the Collateral Assets at any time and without regard to any of the provisions of the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions with respect to method, price or time of such realisation, in order to satisfy any Security Agent Amounts, and without liability to any party for any such action.

6.7 Inability to realise Collateral Assets

If the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) is unable to sell the relevant Collateral Assets on any securities exchange or quotation service on which the Collateral Assets may be listed or quoted or obtain the three quotations required for the sale of one or more Collateral Assets, in each case pursuant to Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.6, for a period of one year from the date of the relevant Acceleration Instruction (such Collateral Assets being "Non-Realised Collateral Assets"), then notwithstanding any other provision hereof, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall be entitled without liability to any party to sell such Non-Realised Collateral Assets by accepting the first available price for such Non-Realised Collateral Assets.

6.8 Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets

6.8.1 Where "Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, following enforcement of the relevant Security Agreements, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall:

- (a) firstly, apply any Cash held in the Collateral Account in payment of any amounts payable to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms; and
- (b) secondly, to the extent that any Cash held in the Collateral Account is insufficient to make payment of any amounts payable to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms, liquidate or realise in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.6 an amount of Collateral Assets sufficient to make the payment of the remainder of such amounts in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms, the aggregate amount of Collateral Assets remaining in the relevant Collateral Account following such distribution of Cash and liquidation or realisation in accordance with this Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.8.1, the "Remaining Collateral Assets". The Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall notify the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent of the Collateral Assets comprising the Remaining Collateral Assets.

6.8.2 The Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) will notify the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent will notify Holders of the relevant Collateral Delivery Date in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Conditions 12 (Notices) and:

- (a) the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall aggregate the Unrounded Collateral Assets Entitlement (excluding any Cash) in respect of all Non-Waived Instruments of such Series held by each such Holder and will round down such aggregated Unrounded Collateral Assets Entitlement to the nearest tradable unit of each type of Collateral Asset (the "Entitlement" in respect of such Holder);
- (b) the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall notify the Entitlement in respect of each Holder to the Security Agent and the Disposal Agent and to the Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices);

- (c) the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall deliver the relevant Entitlement to the Holders of the Non-Waived Instruments secured by the relevant Collateral Pool in accordance with the method of transfer of Collateral Assets specified in, with respect to Secured Notes, Physical Delivery Notes Condition 2 (Delivery of Entitlement and Asset Transfer Notices) or, with respect to Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 25(C)(b) or 32(C)(b) (provided that no Expenses shall be payable), as applicable (and each reference therein to "Issuer" shall be deemed to be a reference to "Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent)"); and
- (d) the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall realise and liquidate in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.6 the number or fraction of Collateral Assets which it is not possible to deliver to a Holder following rounding by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent in accordance with sub-paragraph (a) above as notified to the Security Agent and the Disposal Agent in accordance with sub-paragraph (b) above and shall notify the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent of the amount of the proceeds of such realisation and liquidation. The Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall notify the Fractional Cash Amount in respect of each Holder to the Security Agent and the Disposal Agent and to the Holders in accordance with in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices). The Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall pay the relevant Fractional Cash Amount to each Holder.

Delivery of such Entitlement and payment of such Fractional Cash Amount shall fully extinguish the Issuer's obligations in respect of the relevant Secured Instruments notwithstanding that the value of the Entitlement so delivered and Fractional Cash Amount so paid may be less than the market value and/or nominal value of the relevant Secured Instrument.

- 6.8.3 A Holder is only entitled to receive its Entitlement (and any Fractional Cash Amount) and delivery thereof is subject to Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.9. Any remaining Collateral Assets will be liquidated by the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) and the proceeds thereof distributed to the Secured Parties ranking after Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms.
- 6.8.4 Where the Entitlement for a particular Holder is less than the sum of the Early Redemption/Settlement Amounts that would be payable in respect of each Non-Waived Instrument held by such Holder if "Physical Settlement of Collateral Assets" were deemed to be not applicable (such loss amount, the "Collateral Enforcement Loss Amount"), such Holder shall not be entitled to any further recourse against the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider or any other party for such Collateral Enforcement Loss Amount.
- 6.8.5 W&C Instruments Condition 5 shall not apply in respect of Secured W&C Instruments.
- 6.8.6 Physical Delivery Notes Condition 3 (Entitlement Settlement Business Day and Settlement Business Day), Physical Delivery Notes Condition 5 (Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity) and Physical Delivery Notes Condition 6 (Option to Vary Settlement) shall not apply in respect of Secured Notes.
- 6.8.7 To the extent that any Cash in a Collateral Pool is not in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured W&C Instruments), such Cash shall be converted at such rate or rates, in accordance with such method and as at such date as may reasonably be specified by the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), having regard to then-current rates of exchange. Any rate, method and date so specified shall be binding on the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Holders.

- 6.8.8 For the purposes of these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions, the following definitions will apply:

"Collateral Delivery Date" means, in relation to a Series of Secured Instruments where "Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets" is applicable, the date on which the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) intends to deliver the Entitlement to Holders.

"Fractional Cash Amount" means, in respect of a Holder, an amount in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured W&C Instruments) determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent as the sum of:

- (a) the pro rata share of the proceeds of such realisation and liquidation of such Holder whose Entitlement is subject to rounding (determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent in respect of each Holder, on the basis of the difference between the aggregated Unrounded Collateral Assets Entitlement of such Holder minus the Entitlement of such Holder); plus
- (b) the pro rata share of any Cash comprised in the Remaining Collateral Assets of such Holder (determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent in respect of each Holder, on the basis of the aggregated Unrounded Collateral Assets Entitlement of such Holder).

"Remaining Collateral Assets" has the meaning given in Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.8.1.

"Unrounded Collateral Assets Entitlement" means, for each Non-Waived Instrument in a Series of Secured Instruments, the lesser of:

- (a) Collateral Assets with a Market Value equal to the Market Value of the Collateral Assets comprising such Non-Waived Instrument's pro rata share of the Remaining Collateral Assets, in each case, as determined by the Collateral Agent in respect of the Secured Instrument Valuation Time for the Collateral Test Date immediately preceding delivery of the Collateral Enforcement Notice; and
- (b) Collateral Assets with a Market Value determined by the Collateral Agent in respect of the Secured Instrument Valuation Time for the Collateral Test Date immediately preceding delivery of the Collateral Enforcement Notice equal to, if the applicable Final Terms specify:
 - (i) "NV Collateralisation" or "Max (NV, MV) Collateralisation" to be applicable, the greater of:
 - (A) the product of (I) the Collateralisation Percentage, multiplied by (II) (1) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the principal amount of such Non-Waived Instrument or (2) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, the Notional Amount of such Non-Waived Instrument; and
 - (B) the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount in respect of such Non-Waived Instrument; or
 - (ii) "MV Collateralisation" or "Min (NV, MV) Collateralisation" to be applicable, the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount in respect of such Non-Waived Instrument, in each case, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.

- 6.8.9 This Condition 6.8 shall not apply to Secured Instruments which are Rule 144A Instruments.

6.9 Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event

- 6.9.1 If, in the opinion of the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), delivery of all or some of the Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement using the method of delivery specified in respect of Secured Notes, in Physical Delivery Note Condition 2 (Delivery of Entitlement and Asset Transfer Notices) or, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 25(C)(b) or 32(C)(b) (as applicable and as notified to the Disposal Agent by the Security Agent), or such other commercially reasonable manner as the Security Agent, or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), has determined, is not practicable by reason of a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event having occurred and continuing on any Collateral Delivery Date, then such Collateral Delivery Date shall be postponed to the first following Collateral Business Day in respect of which there is no such Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event, provided that the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) may elect in its sole discretion and without liability to any party to deliver the Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement in such other commercially reasonable manner as it may select and in such event the Collateral Delivery Date shall be such day as the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) deems appropriate in connection with delivery of the Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement in such other commercially reasonable manner.

Where a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event affects some but not all of the Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement due to be delivered to a Holder, the Collateral Delivery Date for those Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement which are able to be delivered will be the Collateral Delivery Date on which such Collateral Assets are delivered.

- 6.9.2 If delivery of any Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement is not possible due to the occurrence of a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event for a period of greater than 20 Collateral Business Days, then in lieu of physical settlement and notwithstanding any other provision hereof, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall sell or realise the Undeliverable Collateral Assets in the manner set out in Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.6 and deliver the proceeds thereof to Holders.
- 6.9.3 If the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) is unable to either sell the Collateral Assets on any securities exchange or quotation service on which the Collateral Assets may be listed or quoted or obtain the three quotations required for the sale of the Collateral Assets, in each case pursuant to Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6.6, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) shall be entitled, without the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent incurring any liability to any party, to accept the first available price for such Collateral Assets.

The Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), shall give notice as soon as practicable to the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent will give notice as soon as practicable to Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices) that a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event has occurred. No Holder shall be entitled to any payment in respect of the relevant Non-Waived Instruments in the event of any delay in the delivery of the Collateral Assets forming part of the Entitlement due to the occurrence of a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event and no liability in respect thereof shall attach to the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent.

- 6.9.4 This Condition 6.9 shall not apply to Secured Instruments which are Rule 144A Instruments.

6.10 Replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent

If, following the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent fails to make the applicable calculations and determinations specified in this Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 6, or fails to notify the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent of the results of such calculations and determinations, within a reasonable time and in any event within 20 Collateral Business Days of receipt of a written request from the Security Agent and/or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) that it make such calculations and determinations, then the Security Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable appoint a replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent (a "Replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent") in accordance with Secured Fully Floating Instruments Condition 3.7.

7. Limited Recourse and Non-Petition

By acquiring and holding Secured Instruments, Holders will be deemed to acknowledge and agree that the obligations of the Issuer to the Holders are limited in recourse to the Collateral Assets contained in the relevant Collateral Pool securing such Series of Secured Instruments. If:

- (a) there are no relevant Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool remaining which are capable of being realised or otherwise converted into cash;
- (b) all amounts available from the relevant Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool have been applied to meet or provide for the relevant obligations specified in, and in accordance with, the provisions of the relevant Security Agreements, the Security Agency Agreement and these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions; and
- (c) there are insufficient amounts available from the relevant Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool to pay in full, in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Security Agreements, the Security Agency Agreement and these Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions, amounts outstanding under the Secured Instruments (including payments of principal, premium (if any) and interest),

then the Holders of such Secured Instruments shall have no further claim against the Issuer or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in respect of any amounts owing to them which remain unpaid (including, for the avoidance of doubt, payments of principal, premium (if any) and/or interest in respect of the Secured Instruments). In particular, no Holder shall be entitled to have recourse to the Collateral Assets contained in a Collateral Pool other than the Collateral Pool which secures the Secured Instruments held by such Holder. The Secured Instruments are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity and therefore Holders will have no claim against the Guarantor or any other entity in respect of any such amounts owing to them which remain unpaid.

8. Collateral Disruption Events

Upon the occurrence, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent, of a Collateral Disruption Event, the Issuer may at its option and in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner give notice to the Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices) and cancel all, but not less than all, of the Secured Instruments of the relevant Series at the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount on the date specified by the Issuer in the notice to Holders, provided that such date shall be no later than two Business Days following the date of such notice.

9. MTM Trigger Event

9.1 Consequences of a MTM Trigger Event

If "MTM Trigger Event" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms and a MTM Trigger Event occurs or is continuing in respect of a Series of Secured Instruments, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent, the Issuer shall:

- (a) in respect of Secured Notes, redeem all but not some only of the Secured Notes of such Series by giving notice to the Holders in accordance with Notes Condition 14 (Notices); or

- (b) in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, cancel all but not some only of the Secured W&C Instruments of such Series by giving notice to Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).

If the Issuer cancels the Secured Instruments due to the occurrence of a MTM Trigger Event, then the Issuer shall pay an amount in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured W&C Instruments) equal to the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount to each Holder in respect of each Non-Waived Instrument held by such Holder.

Payment will be made in such manner and on such date as shall be notified by the Issuer to the Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices), provided that such date shall be no later than two Business Days following the date of such notice.

4.1.1 In relation to each Series of Secured ECS Instruments:

- (a) under the terms of the Trust Deed for such Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will covenant to the Security Trustee for itself (and for and on behalf of the Secured Parties) that it will duly and punctually pay and discharge the Issuer's obligations in respect of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the Pledge Agreement, the Trust Deed, the Collateral Monitoring Agency Agreement as it relates to such Series of Secured ECS Instruments, in each case, as and when they fall due (the "Secured Obligations"), provided that the covenant of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to pay the Secured Obligations shall be limited to an amount equal to the proceeds of enforcement of the Collateral Assets; the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's covenant shall be satisfied only from those proceeds and the Security Trustee shall have no remedy against the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in relation to such covenant other than the enforcement of the security created pursuant to the applicable Pledge Agreement; and
- (b) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider undertakes to pay any and all monies, obligations and liabilities including Covered Costs (as such term is defined in the Euroclear Agreements), whether actual, contingent, present and/or future, and whether owed jointly or severally or as principal debtor, guarantor, surety or otherwise, which are now or may at any time hereafter be or become due in any manner by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider under the Euroclear Agreements (such amounts, together with the Secured Obligations, the "Secured Liabilities").

4.1.2 The obligations of the Issuer and/or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in respect of the Secured Liabilities will be secured by a Pledge Agreement or any other document designated for that purpose by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider pursuant to which the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider:

- (a) grants a first-ranking pledge (gage de premier rang/pand in eerste rang) over the Pledged Securities, in accordance with the Financial Collateral Law and Royal Decree n° 62 and/or, as the case may be, (i) the law of 2 January 1991 on the market for public debt securities and monetary policy instruments, (ii) the law of 22 July 1991 on treasury bonds and certificates of deposit or (iii) articles 5:18, 6:19 or 7:22 and articles 5:30 et seq., 6:29 et seq. and 7:35 et seq. of the Belgian Code of Companies and Associations; and in each case, to the Security Trustee to hold for itself and on behalf of the relevant Holders and the other relevant Secured Parties under the Pledge Agreement or any other document designated for that purpose by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider.

4.1.3 Euroclear Distributions that are not transferred to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider pursuant to the Collateral Transaction Documents shall, as the case may be, be booked either (i) on the Pledged Securities Account and thus constitute Pledged Securities that fall within the scope of the pledge referred to in paragraph (a) above, or (ii) on the Pledged Cash Account and thus constitute Pledged Cash that falls within the scope of transfer of title by way of security as referred to in paragraph (b) above. Following the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, any Euroclear Distributions paid in respect of the Collateral Assets held in the Secured Accounts will be credited to the Secured Accounts and will be subject to the security set forth above.

4.2 Collateral Pools

Each Series of Secured ECS Instruments will be secured by a separate Collateral Pool comprising Collateral Assets held in segregated Secured Accounts. There will be separate Euroclear Agreements, Pledge Agreement and Trust Deed in respect of each Series of Secured ECS Instruments.

4.3 Initial Collateral Assets

On or before the Issue Date of a Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the Collateral Monitoring Agent shall calculate the Required Collateral Value in respect of the Issue Date and shall notify the Security Trustee and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider of such Required Collateral Value by no later than the Notification Time on the Issue Date.

On the Issue Date of a Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee (subject to receipt of instructions) shall, no later than the Notification Time on the Issue Date, provide matching instructions to Euroclear specifying the Required Collateral Value as the "Intended Transaction Amount" pursuant to the Collateral Service Agreement. If "Autoselect" does not apply under the Euroclear Agreements, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall by the Notification Time on the Issue Date provide instructions to Euroclear to transfer Eligible Collateral Assets to the Secured Accounts such that the Collateral Test will be satisfied on the Collateral Test Date falling on such Issue Date.

4.4 Adjustments to Collateral Assets

If the aggregate number or aggregate nominal amount of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments on a Secured Instruments Valuation Date differs from the aggregate number on the immediately preceding Secured Instruments Valuation Date, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall notify the Collateral Monitoring Agent of the revised aggregate number of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments (if any) on such date.

If the Secured Instrument Market Value or any amount of accrued but unpaid interest in relation to any Non-Waived Instruments in respect of a Collateral Test Date is required to be determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall notify the Issuer and the Collateral Monitoring Agent of such Secured Instrument Market Value or such amount of accrued but unpaid interest on the Secured Instruments Valuation Date for such Collateral Test Date.

The Secured Instruments Valuation Agent will notify the Collateral Monitoring Agent of all other information relating to the relevant Series of Secured ECS Instruments which is required to be notified pursuant to the Collateral Monitoring Agency Agreement on each Secured Instruments Valuation Date for the relevant Collateral Test Date.

On or before each Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Monitoring Agent shall calculate the Required Collateral Value in respect of such Collateral Test Date and shall notify the Security Trustee, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Issuer of such Required Collateral Value by no later than the Notification Time on such Collateral Test Date.

If the Required Collateral Value for a Collateral Test Date differs from the last Required Collateral Value jointly notified via matching instructions to Euroclear as the "Intended Transaction Amount" pursuant to the Collateral Service Agreement by an amount that is greater than or equal to the Minimum Adjustment Amount (an "Intended Transaction Amount Discrepancy"), the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee shall, subject to receiving instructions and no later than the Notification Time on such Collateral Test Date if the Intended Transaction Amount Discrepancy was identified 2 hours or more before the Notification Time on such Collateral Test Date or if identified later, no later than 2 hours after opening of business on the corresponding Collateral Test Monitoring Date, provide matching instructions to Euroclear specifying the revised Required Collateral Value as the "Intended Transaction Amount" pursuant to the Collateral Service Agreement.

If "Autoselect" does not apply under the Euroclear Agreements, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall by the Notification Time on each Collateral Test Date provide instructions to Euroclear to transfer Eligible Collateral Assets to the Secured Accounts such that the Collateral Test will be satisfied in respect of such Collateral Test Date.

Euroclear will verify that the relevant Collateral Assets held in the Secured Accounts comply with the eligibility criteria set out in Annexes I and II to the CSA Terms and Conditions at such time in respect of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments. The Issuer and Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall be solely responsible for ensuring that the Eligibility Criteria specified in the applicable Final Terms is substantively identical to the eligibility criteria specified in the CSA Terms and Conditions and Euroclear and the Security Trustee shall not be liable to the Holders or any party for any discrepancy therein. The Security Trustee shall provide all Euroclear Reports received from Euroclear on each Collateral Test Date and each Collateral Test Monitoring Date to the Collateral Monitoring Agent.

If on the Collateral Test Monitoring Date corresponding to the relevant Collateral Test Date the Collateral Monitoring Agent determines that paragraph (a) of the Collateral Test was not satisfied in respect of such Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Monitoring Agent will promptly send the Issuer and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider a Collateral Shortfall Notice. Following receipt of such Collateral Shortfall Notice, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will promptly make sufficient Eligible Collateral Assets available to Euroclear to satisfy the Collateral Test and, if "Autoselect" does not apply under the Euroclear Agreements, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall provide instructions to Euroclear to transfer additional Eligible Collateral Assets into the relevant Secured Account for such purpose.

4.5 Substitution or withdrawal of Collateral Assets

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may, subject to the terms of the Pledge Agreement and the Euroclear Agreements, withdraw and/or replace Collateral Assets from the relevant Secured Account in accordance with the Euroclear Agreements provided that following such adjustment the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied and the Secured Assets continue to meet the Eligibility Criteria set out in the applicable Final Terms.

4.6 Market Value of Pledged Securities

The market value of securities comprising or to comprise the Pledged Securities shall be determined in accordance with the Euroclear Agreements (including for the avoidance of doubt any amendment agreements applicable thereto).

4.7 Delegation to Secured Instruments Collateral Provider

The Issuer has, pursuant to the terms of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider Agreement, delegated to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider the role of managing each Collateral Pool to comply with the requirements of these Secured ECS Instruments Conditions (including, but not limited to, compliance with Secured ECS Instruments Conditions 4.3, 4.4 and 4.5).

4.8 Required Collateral Default

Following the occurrence of a Required Collateral Default, the Collateral Monitoring Agent shall send a Required Collateral Default Notice to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee, specifying that a Required Collateral Default has occurred. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall notify the Issuer of the Required Collateral Default Notice. The Security Trustee shall as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving a Required Collateral Default Notice give notice to the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent will as soon as reasonably practicable give notice in accordance with, in respect of Secured ECS Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices) to all relevant Holders of the receipt of a Required Collateral Default Notice.

4.9 Secured Instrument Event of Default

- 4.9.1 The occurrence of one or more of the following events shall constitute a "Secured Instrument Event of Default" with respect to any Series of Secured ECS W&C Instruments:

- (a) in respect of Secured ECS Notes:
 - (i) default shall be made in the payment of any amount of interest due in respect of any such Notes and the default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
 - (ii) default shall be made in the payment of any principal of any such Notes (whether at maturity or upon redemption or otherwise), and such default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date;
- (b) in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments:

 - (ii) default shall be made in the payment of any Cash Settlement Amount or other termination amount of any such Non-Waived Instruments (whether at settlement or upon redemption or otherwise), and such default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
- (c) the Issuer shall fail to perform or observe any other term, covenant or agreement contained in the Terms and Conditions applicable to any of such Secured ECS Instruments or in the English Law Agency Agreement for the period of 90 calendar days after the date on which written notice of such failure, requiring the Issuer, as the case may be, to remedy the same, first shall have been given to the relevant Instrument Agent (which will give notice to the Security Trustee) and the Issuer by Holders of at least 51 per cent. of (A) in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes, the aggregate principal amount of any such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding or (B) in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments, the aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of any such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding; or
- (d) a court having jurisdiction in the premises shall have entered a decree or order granting relief with respect to the Issuer in an involuntary proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or appointing a receiver, liquidator, trustee, assignee, custodian or sequestrator (or similar official) of the Issuer or of all or substantially all of its property or for the winding up or liquidation of its affairs, and such decree or order shall have remained in force and unstayed for a period of 60 consecutive calendar days; or
- (e) the Issuer shall institute proceedings for relief under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or any other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or shall consent to the institution of any such proceedings against it, or shall consent to the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, trustee, assignee, custodian or sequestrator (or similar official) of it or of all or substantially all of its property, or shall make an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or shall fail generally to pay its debts as they become due, or shall take any corporate action in furtherance of any of the foregoing; or
- (f) a Required Collateral Default has occurred; or
- (g) any of (i) a failure by the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to comply with or perform any undertaking or obligation to be complied with or performed by it in accordance with the Trust Deed or the Pledge Agreement if such failure is continuing after any applicable grace period has elapsed, the expiration or termination of such Trust Deed or Pledge Agreement, or (ii) the failing or cessation of such Trust Deed or Pledge Agreement, or any security granted by the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, to be in full force and effect prior to the satisfaction of all the obligations of such party under these Secured ECS Instruments Conditions or (iii) the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider disaffirms, disclaims, repudiates or rejects, in whole or in part, or challenges the validity of, such Trust Deed or Pledge

Agreement (or such action is taken by any person or entity appointed or empowered to act on the Issuer's and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's behalf).

If a Secured Instrument Event of Default shall occur and be continuing with respect to any Series of Secured ECS Instruments, then any Holder may, at its option, send an Acceleration Notice (together with proof of holding satisfactory to the Security Trustee of the Secured ECS Instruments obtained from the relevant Clearing System) (i) in the case of Secured ECS Instruments held through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, through the relevant Clearing System to the relevant Instrument Agent and (ii) in the case of Secured ECS Instruments held through The Depository Trust Corporation, directly to the relevant Instrument Agent (and in the case of either (i) or (ii) with a copy to the Security Trustee).

The Security Trustee is not obliged to act on any Acceleration Instructions unless Holder(s) of at least 51 per cent. (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding have sent Acceleration Notice(s) to the relevant Instrument Agent (copied or forwarded to the Security Trustee), and if any such default is not waived in accordance with Secured ECS Instruments Condition 4.9.4 below or cured by the Issuer prior to receipt by the relevant Instrument Agent of the latest of such Acceleration Notice(s) required to exceed the 51 per cent. threshold specified above, an "Acceleration Event" shall occur in respect of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments.

4.9.2 At the time and on the date when an Acceleration Event has occurred, such Acceleration Notice(s) shall be deemed to be an effective acceleration instruction (the "Acceleration Instruction") and the Security Trustee shall thereby be instructed to:

- (a) deliver the notices specified in Secured ECS Instruments Condition 6.1;
- (b) enforce the security constituted by the Pledge Agreement and distribute the proceeds, in each case, in accordance with its terms and the provisions of these Secured ECS Instruments Conditions, the Trust Deed and the Pledge Agreement; and
- (c) perform any further actions of the Security Trustee specified in these Secured ECS Instruments Conditions, the Pledge Agreement and the Trust Deed or any reasonably incidental actions, provided that if, at any time before the Security Trustee has taken any steps (including (a) to (c) above) to enforce the security constituted by the Pledge Agreement or a judgment or decree for payment of the money due with respect to such Secured ECS Instruments has been obtained by any Holder, the Security Trustee is notified in writing by the relevant Instrument Agent that the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and its consequences have been rescinded and annulled in accordance with Secured ECS Instruments Condition 4.9.3 below, then such Acceleration Instruction shall be deemed not to have been given and the Security Trustee shall be entitled to rely on any such notification from the relevant Instrument Agent without further enquiry and shall incur no liability to the Holders or any other party for any action taken or not taken prior to or as a result of such notification.

4.9.3 At any time following the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and before (i) the Security Trustee has taken any steps (including pursuant to Secured ECS Instruments Condition 4.9.2(a) to (c) above) to enforce the security constituted by the Pledge Agreement or (ii) a judgment or decree for payment of the money due with respect to such Secured ECS Instruments has been obtained by any Holder, the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and its consequences may be rescinded and annulled upon the written consent of, or electronically approved (using the systems and procedures in place from time to time of a relevant clearing system) by, Holders of a majority (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments then outstanding, or by resolution adopted by a majority (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding present or represented at a meeting of Holders at which a quorum is present, as provided in the English Law Agency Agreement, if:

- (a) the Issuer has paid, or has deposited with the relevant Clearing System, a sum sufficient to pay:
 - (i) in respect of Secured ECS Notes:
 - (A) all overdue amounts of interest on such Secured ECS Notes;
 - (B) the principal of such Secured ECS Notes which has become due otherwise by such declaration of acceleration; or
 - (ii) in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments:
 - (A) all overdue Additional Amounts on such Secured ECS W&C Instruments;
 - (B) the Cash Settlement Amount or other termination amount of such Secured ECS W&C Instruments which has become due otherwise than by such declaration of acceleration; or
- (b) all Secured ECS Instrument Events of Default with respect to such Secured ECS Instruments, other than the non-payment of any applicable principal amount, Cash Settlement Amount or other termination amount of such Secured ECS Instruments which has become due solely by such declaration of acceleration, have been cured or waived as provided in Secured ECS Instruments Condition 4.9.4 below.

No such rescission shall affect any subsequent default or impair any right consequent thereon.

- 4.9.4 Any default by the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, other than the events described in Secured ECS Instruments Condition 4.9.1(a) or Secured ECS Instruments Condition 4.9.1(b), and other than an event described in Secured ECS Instruments Condition 4.9.1(c) in respect of a covenant or provision of the Terms and Conditions which cannot be amended or modified without the passing of an Extraordinary Resolution of Holders, may be waived by the written consent of, or electronically approved (using the systems and procedures in place from time to time of a relevant clearing system) by, Holders of a majority (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments then outstanding affected thereby, or by resolution adopted by a majority (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments then outstanding present or represented at a meeting of Holders affected thereby at which a quorum is present, as provided in the English Law Agency Agreement. Upon any such waiver, such default shall cease to exist, and any Secured Instrument Event of Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been cured, for every purpose of the English Law Agency Agreement, but no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereon.
- 4.9.5 Notes Condition 11 (Events of Default and Rights of Acceleration) shall not apply in respect of Secured ECS Notes;
- 4.9.6 Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions or any other agreement, a holder shall not be permitted to exercise any default right with respect to any Secured ECS Instrument or the Collateral Transaction Documents that is related, directly or indirectly, to an affiliate (as such term is defined in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k)) of the Issuer becoming subject to a receivership, insolvency, resolution or similar proceeding (an "Insolvency Proceeding"). However, nothing in this paragraph shall restrict the exercise by a holder of any default right against the Issuer with respect to the Secured ECS Instrument that arises as a result of (i) the Issuer becoming subject to an Insolvency Proceeding, (ii) the Issuer not satisfying a payment or delivery obligation pursuant to such Secured ECS Instrument, or (iii) the failure of the Secured ECS Instrument Collateral Provider, or any transferee thereof, to satisfy a payment or delivery obligation pursuant to the Collateral Transaction Documents or any other credit enhancement that supports the Secured ECS Instrument. After an affiliate of the Issuer becomes subject to an Insolvency Proceeding, a Holder seeking to exercise a default right against the Issuer with respect to the Secured ECS Instrument or the Collateral Transaction Documents shall have the burden of proof, by clear and convincing evidence, that the exercise of such default right is permitted thereunder. For purposes of this paragraph, "default right" has the meaning assigned to that term in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with 12 C.F.R. § 252.81, 12 C.F.R. § 382.1 and 12 C.F.R. § 47.1, as applicable.

- 4.9.7 Nothing in the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions or the Collateral Transaction Documents shall prohibit the transfer of the Collateral Transaction Documents, any interest or obligation in or under such Collateral Transaction Documents, or any property securing such Collateral Transaction Documents to a transferee upon or following an affiliate (as such term is defined in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k)) of the Issuer becoming subject to an Insolvency Proceeding.

4.10 Status

4.10.1 Secured ECS Notes

Notes Condition 3 (Status of the Notes and the Guarantees) shall not apply to the Secured ECS Notes. The Secured ECS Notes constitute direct, limited recourse, unsubordinated and secured obligations of the Issuer and rank equally among themselves.

Notwithstanding Notes Condition 3 (Status of the Notes and the Guarantees), the obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantees shall not apply to Secured ECS Notes. The Secured ECS Notes are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity.

4.10.2 Secured ECS W&C Instruments

W&C Instruments Condition 2 (Status of the W&C Instruments and MLBV Guarantee) shall not apply to the Secured ECS W&C Instruments. The Secured ECS W&C Instruments constitute direct, limited recourse, unsubordinated and secured obligations of the Issuer and rank equally among themselves.

Notwithstanding W&C Instruments Condition 2 (Status of the W&C Instruments and MLBV Guarantee), the obligations of the Guarantor under the MLBV Guarantee shall not apply to Secured ECS W&C Instruments. The Secured ECS W&C Instruments are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity.

5. Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, Secured Instruments Valuation Agent and relevant Instrument Agent

In relation to each Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent acts solely as an agent of the Issuer, and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders. In relation to each issue of Secured ECS Instruments, the Collateral Monitoring Agent acts solely as an agent of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders or the Issuer.

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider acts as an arms-length third party and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders.

All calculations and determinations made in respect of the Secured ECS Instruments by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, Euroclear, Collateral Monitoring Agent and Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Holders, the Secured Parties and the Security Trustee (as applicable).

Each of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and Secured Instruments Valuation Agent may, with the consent of the Issuer, delegate any of their obligations and functions to a third party as provided for in the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider Agreement and Valuation Agency Agreement, as applicable. The Collateral Monitoring Agent may delegate any of its obligations and functions to a third party as provided for in the Collateral Monitoring Agency Agreement.

In acting in connection with any Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the relevant Instrument Agent shall act solely as an agent of the Issuer and will not assume any obligations towards or relationship of agency or trust for or with any of the Holders of such Secured ECS Instruments.

6. Default, Enforcement and Realisation

As soon as reasonably practicable following the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, the Issuer shall, and shall procure that its Affiliates that hold Waived Instruments, of the Series of Secured ECS Instruments in respect of which the Collateral Enforcement Notice is served, submit such Waived Instruments for cancellation free of payment and, following such cancellation, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall notify the Security Trustee of the principal amount or number, as applicable, of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments of such Series.

6.2 Enforcement and Realisation

Following delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice in respect of the relevant Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the Security Trustee, acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction and instructions provided by the Instructing Holder(s), shall (subject to being indemnified and/or prefunded and/or secured to its satisfaction) enforce the security constituted by the Pledge Agreement relating to the relevant Collateral Pool in accordance with the terms thereof, these Secured ECS Instruments Conditions and the terms of the Trust Deed and the Euroclear Agreements, including effect a liquidation and realisation of all the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures such Series of Secured ECS Instruments and subsequently distribute the relevant amounts due to the relevant Holders in accordance with Secured ECS Instruments Condition 6.5.

6.3 Liability of the Security Trustee

The Pledge Agreement and the Trust Deed contain provisions setting out the standards of liability of the Security Trustee including to the effect that if any Secured Party directs the Security Trustee to effect the liquidation and realisation of the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures the relevant Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the Security Trustee shall not be under any obligation to take any further action (without prejudice to its ability to instruct or appoint an agent to dispose, liquidate and realise the Collateral Assets for the purpose of funding the Security Trustee Amounts) if it reasonably believes that (i) it would not be able to recover the Security Trustee Amounts that would be incurred in connection with such action from the relevant Collateral Assets or otherwise and/or (ii) it would experience an unreasonable delay in doing so, and provided that the Security Trustee (x) shall have no liability for any such failure to act, and (y) shall not be under any obligation to take any action unless it has first been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction.

If the Security Trustee receives an Acceleration Instruction, the Security Trustee shall be entitled to (but is not required to) pre-fund itself to its satisfaction by effecting a liquidation and realisation of some of the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures such Series of Secured ECS Instruments and retaining the proceeds for such purpose. The Security Trustee shall apply such amounts in accordance with the Order of Priority.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Security Trustee shall be entitled to rely (without enquiry and without liability to any person) on an Acceleration Instruction delivered by the Instrument Agent and on any notice of revocation of such Acceleration Instruction pursuant to Condition 4.9.2 and shall have no obligation to monitor or verify whether the relevant threshold has been met or to monitor or verify whether any Holder that has delivered an Acceleration Notice holds Waived Instruments or Non-Waived Instruments.

6.4 Enforcement and realisation by Holders

- 6.4.1 Upon receipt of an Acceleration Instruction and unless the Acceleration Event is deemed not to have occurred under Secured ECS Instruments Condition 4.9.2, the Security Trustee shall act in accordance with the written instructions provided by the Holder(s) that hold at least 51 per cent. (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of the Non-Waived Instruments outstanding (the "Instructing Holder(s)") in accordance with the terms of the Trust Deed on the instructions of the Instructing Holder(s) where either (a) the Instrument Agent certifies to the Security Trustee the identity of the Instructing Holder(s) upon which the Security Trustee can rely absolutely and without liability or (b) the Security Trustee is independently able to confirm the identity of the Instructing Holder(s) to its sole satisfaction.
- 6.4.2 No Holder shall be entitled to enforce the Pledge Agreement unless the Security Trustee, having become bound to so enforce or proceed, fails so to do within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Trustee is prevented from enforcing a Pledge Agreement by any court order.
- 6.4.3 If the Security Trustee becomes bound to enforce security constituted by the Pledge Agreement and fails to do so within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Trustee is prevented from enforcing a Pledge Agreement by any court order, then, without prejudice to the paragraph above, Holder(s) of at least 51 per cent. (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding may give notice to the Security Trustee of its removal and may appoint a replacement Security Trustee in accordance with the terms of the Trust Deed.
- 6.4.4 Holders shall not be entitled to enforce a Euroclear Agreement or to proceed directly against Euroclear to enforce the terms of the Euroclear Agreement. Euroclear shall not have any liability to any Holder as to the consequence of any actions taken by Euroclear.

6.5 Application and distribution of proceeds of enforcement

- 6.5.1 In connection with the enforcement of the security constituted by the Pledge Agreement, after the realisation and liquidation of the relevant Collateral Assets in accordance with Secured ECS

Instruments Condition 6.2, the Security Trustee (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) shall (subject to being indemnified and/or prefunded and/or secured to its satisfaction) use the proceeds of such realisation and liquidation of the Collateral Assets to make payment of any amounts payable to the Secured Parties in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms and to notify the Collateral Monitoring Agent of the Collateral Enforcement Proceeds.

- 6.5.2 Subject as provided below and the Order of Priority, the Security Trustee (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) shall apply the remaining proceeds from the realisation of the relevant Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool in meeting the claims of Holders in respect of the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount payable under each Non-Waived Instrument on a pro rata basis.
- 6.5.3 If the pro rata share payable under the Order of Priority for a particular Non-Waived Instrument is greater than the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount of such Non-Waived Instrument, then the Holder is only entitled to receive an amount equal to the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount. Any excess amounts will not be distributed to such Holder but will be distributed to the Secured Parties ranking after the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms.
- 6.5.4 Where the pro rata share under the Order of Priority for a particular Non-Waived Instrument is less than the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (such amount being a "Collateral Enforcement Loss Amount"), such Holder will not be entitled to any further recourse against the Issuer or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider for such Collateral Enforcement Loss Amount.
- 6.5.5 The Security Trustee shall determine the date for distribution of proceeds to Holders in accordance with Secured ECS Instruments Condition 6.5.2 and shall notify such date to the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent shall notify Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured ECS Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments, W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).
- 6.5.6 Moneys held by the Security Trustee may be deposited in its name in an account at such bank or other financial institution as the Security Trustee may, acting in its sole discretion, think fit. Any interest paid by such bank or financial institution on such moneys shall be deemed to be Collateral Assets.
- 6.5.7 To the extent that any proceeds from the liquidation or realisation of the relevant Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool are not in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured ECS Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments), then such proceeds may be converted at such rate or rates, in accordance with such method and as at such date as may reasonably be specified by the Security Trustee, having regard to then-current rates of exchange. Any rate, method and date so specified shall be binding on the Issuer, the Secured Parties, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Holders.

6.6 Replacement Collateral Monitoring Agent

If, following the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, the Collateral Monitoring Agent fails to make the applicable calculations and determinations specified in this Secured ECS Instruments Condition 6, or fails to notify the Security Trustee of the results of such calculations and determinations, within a reasonable time and in any event within 20 Collateral Business Days of receipt of a written request from the Security Trustee that it make such calculations and determinations, then the Security Trustee may as soon as reasonably practicable appoint a replacement Collateral Monitoring Agent.

6.7 Replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent

If, following the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent fails to make the applicable calculations and determinations specified in this Secured ECS Instruments Condition 6, or fails to notify the Security Trustee of the results of such calculations and determinations, within a reasonable time and in any event within 20 Collateral

Business Days of receipt of a written request from the Security Trustee that it make such calculations and determinations, then the Security Trustee may as soon as reasonably practicable appoint a replacement Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.

7. Segregation of Collateral Pools and Limited Recourse and Non-Petition

By acquiring and holding Secured ECS Instruments, Holders will be deemed to acknowledge and agree that the obligations of the Issuer to the Holders are limited in recourse to the Collateral Assets contained in the relevant Collateral Pool securing such Series of Secured ECS Instruments. If:

- (a) there are no relevant Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool remaining which are capable of being realised or otherwise converted into cash;
- (b) all amounts available from the relevant Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool have been applied to meet or provide for the relevant obligations specified in, and in accordance with, the provisions of the Pledge Agreement, the Trust Deed and these Secured ECS Instruments Conditions; and
- (c) there are insufficient amounts available from the relevant Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool to pay in full, in accordance with the provisions of the Pledge Agreement, the Trust Deed and these Secured ECS Instruments Conditions, amounts outstanding under the Secured ECS Instruments (including payments of principal, premium (if any) and interest), then the Holders of such Secured ECS Instruments shall have no further claim against the Issuer or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in respect of any amounts owing to them which remain unpaid (including, for the avoidance of doubt, payments of principal, premium (if any) and/or interest in respect of the Secured ECS Instruments). In particular, no Holder shall be entitled to have recourse to the Collateral Assets contained in a Collateral Pool other than the Collateral Pool which secures the Secured ECS Instruments held by such Holder. The Secured ECS Instruments are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity and therefore Holders will have no claim against the Guarantor or any other entity in respect of any such amounts owing to them which remain unpaid.

8. Collateral Disruption Events

- (b) in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments, cancel all but not some only of the Secured ECS W&C Instruments of such Series by giving notice to Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).

If the Issuer cancels the Secured ECS Instruments due to the occurrence of a MTM Trigger Event, then the Issuer shall pay an amount in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured ECS Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments) equal to the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount to each Holder in respect of each Non-Waived Instrument held by such Holder.

Payment will be made in such manner and on such date as shall be notified by the Issuer to the Holders in accordance with, in respect of Secured ECS Notes, Notes Condition 14 (Notices) and, in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices), provided that such date shall be no later than two Business Days following the date of such notice.

If the applicable Final Terms specify (a) "TORF" to be the Reference Rate or (b) otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to "TORF", "TORF" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which TORF is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, a "TORF Observation Day") the Tokyo Term Risk Free Rate ("TORF") for the applicable Specified Maturity provided by QUICK Benchmarks Inc. as administrator of the benchmark (or a successor administrator) ("TORF Administrator") to and published by, authorised distributors of TORF at approximately 5:00 p.m., Tokyo time (or any amended publication time for TORF as specified by the TORF Administrator in the TORF benchmark methodology) ("Publication Time") on such TORF Observation Day. If the applicable Final Terms specifies a Relevant Screen Page, then the rate described in the preceding sentence, as such rate appears on the Relevant Screen Page and the Relevant Time, will be used. However, if such rate as described in the preceding sentences is subsequently corrected and provided by the TORF Administrator to, and published by, authorised distributors of TORF within the longer of one hour of the time when such rate is first published by authorised distributors of TORF and the republication cut-off time for TORF, if any, as specified by the TORF Administrator in the TORF benchmark methodology, then such rate will be subject to those corrections. If "TORF" cannot be determined as described above on any TORF Observation Day, then the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Calculation Agent) (after consulting with the Issuer) shall determine "TORF" for the Specified Maturity for the applicable TORF Observation Day in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources (if any) on which such rate customarily is published by the TORF Administrator or authorised distributors or to the sources from which the TORF Administrator obtains the rate input data used by such TORF Administrator to calculate or publish such rate or rate information, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, the applicable TORF rate for the Specified Maturity that was most recently published by the administrator of such rate) for the purpose of estimating such rate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable TORF Observation Day that a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to TORF for the Specified Maturity, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(a) (Benchmark Replacement – General) will apply to all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable on the applicable Series of Notes.

In accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(a) (Benchmark Replacement – General), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have so occurred, the General Benchmark Replacement will replace TORF for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

(g) KRW CMT Rate

If the applicable Final Terms specify (a) "KRW CMT Rate" to be the Reference Rate or (b) otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to KRW CMT Rate", then "KRW CMT Rate" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which the KRW CMT Rate is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, an "KRW CMT Rate Observation Day"), the yield to maturity for the prevailing applicable period for Korean Government Treasury bonds expressed as a rate per annum as calculated by Nice P&I, Korea Asset Pricing, KIS Pricing, FN Pricing and EG Asset Pricing which appears on Reuters screen page KRKT3M = KFIA (or its successor or replacement page to the applicable page), or on such other Relevant Screen Page as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms, as of 6:00 PM Seoul time, or such other Relevant Time as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms, on such KRW CMT Rate Observation Day for the Specified Maturity, as determined by the Calculation Agent. If the page is not available, then a substitute page will be named by the Calculation Agent. If no substitute page is available, then the Calculation Agent will determine KRW CMT Rate in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable KRW CMT Rate Observation Day that a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the KRW CMT Rate for the Specified Maturity, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(a) (Benchmark Replacement – General) will apply to all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable on the applicable Series of Notes.

In accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(a) (Benchmark Replacement – General), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have so occurred, the General Benchmark Replacement will replace the KRW CMT Rate for the Specified Maturity for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

(h) Yen TIBOR

If the applicable Final Terms specify (a) "Yen TIBOR" to be the Reference Rate or (b) otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to "Yen TIBOR", "Yen TIBOR" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which Yen TIBOR is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, a "Yen TIBOR Observation Day"), the prevailing market rate in the Japan unsecured call market known as the Japanese Yen Tokyo Interbank Offered Rate administered by the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator for the Specified Maturity, as such rate appears on the Designated Yen TIBOR Page as of approximately 12:50 p.m. Tokyo time (or the amended publication time for Yen TIBOR, if any, as specified by the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator or such other Relevant Time as specified in the applicable Final Terms) on such Yen TIBOR Observation Day.

If, by approximately 12:50 p.m. Tokyo time (or the amended publication time for Yen TIBOR, if any, as specified by the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator or such other Relevant Time as specified in the applicable Final Terms) on such Yen TIBOR Observation Day, Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity in respect of such day has not been published on the Designated Yen TIBOR Page and a Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Effective Date has not occurred, then the rate for such Yen TIBOR Observation Day will be Yen TIBOR for such Specified Maturity in respect of such day, as provided by the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator and published by an authorized distributor or by the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator itself. If, by 6:00 p.m., Tokyo time (or such other final publication time as indicated by the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator), on such Yen TIBOR Observation Day, neither the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator nor an authorized distributor has provided or published Yen TIBOR for such Specified Maturity in respect of such day and a Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Effective Date has not occurred, then the rate for such Yen TIBOR Observation Day will be a rate formally recommended for use by the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator or, if no such rate is available, a rate formally recommended for use by the supervisor or competent authority that is responsible for supervising Yen TIBOR or the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator, or by a committee officially endorsed or convened by a supervisor or competent authority that is responsible for supervising Yen TIBOR or the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator, in each case during the period of non-publication of Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity and for so long as a Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Effective Date has not occurred. If no such rate is available, then Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity for such Yen TIBOR Observation Day will be the most recent rate that could have been determined in accordance with the preceding paragraph.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable Yen TIBOR Observation Day that a Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Event and related Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Effective Date have occurred with respect to Yen TIBOR for the applicable Specified Maturity, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(g) (Benchmark Replacement – Yen TIBOR) will apply to all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable on the applicable Series of Notes.

As used in the foregoing terms and provisions relating to the determination of Yen TIBOR:

"Designated Yen TIBOR Page" means the LSEG 17097 Page (or any successor or replacement page for the purpose of displaying such rate), or such other Relevant Screen Page as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator" means the JBA TIBOR Administration (or a successor administrator).

Certain other capitalised terms used in the foregoing terms and provisions relating to determination of Yen TIBOR have the meanings set forth under Additional Note Condition 4(g) (Benchmark Replacement – Yen TIBOR).

(i) EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®

If the applicable Final Terms specify (a) "EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®" to be the Reference Rate or (b) otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to "EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®", then "EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, an "EUR Swap Rate Observation Day"), the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms, as calculated and provided as of approximately 11:00 a.m., Frankfurt time (or any amended time specified by the administrator of the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® in the benchmark methodology) on such EUR Swap Rate Observation Day, by ICE Benchmark Administration ("IBA") as the administrator of the benchmark (or a successor administrator), as such rate appears on the Relevant Screen Page at approximately 12:15 p.m., Frankfurt time, or such other Relevant Time as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms, on such EUR Swap Rate Observation Day, as determined by the Calculation Agent.

If the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing on an applicable EUR Swap Rate Observation Day, and a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have not occurred with respect to such rate, then the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Calculation Agent) (after consulting with the Issuer) shall determine the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® for such Specified Maturity for such EUR Swap Rate Observation Day in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources (if any) on which such rate customarily is published by the IBA (or a successor administrator) or authorised distributors or to the sources from which IBA (or such successor administrator) obtains the swap rate input data used by IBA (or such successor administrator), to calculate such rate, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity that was most recently published by IBA (or such successor administrator)) for the purpose of estimating such rate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable EUR Swap Rate Observation Day that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap) will apply to the applicable Series of Notes including all determination of the Rate of Interest payable thereon. In accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have so occurred, the Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark Replacement will replace the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

Certain other capitalised terms used in the foregoing terms and provisions relating to determination of Constant Maturity Swap have the meanings set forth under Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap).

(j) GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®

If the applicable Final Terms specify (a) "GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®" to be the Reference Rate or (b) otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to "GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®", then "GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate® is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, a "GBP Swap Rate Observation Day"), the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms, as calculated and provided as of approximately 11:00 a.m., London time (or any amended time specified by the administrator of the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate® in the benchmark methodology) on such GBP Swap Rate Observation Day, by IBA as the administrator of the benchmark (or a successor administrator), as such rate appears on the Relevant Screen Page at approximately 12:15 p.m., London time, or such other Relevant Time as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms, on such GBP Swap Rate Observation Day, as determined by the Calculation Agent.

If the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing on an applicable GBP Swap Rate Observation Day, and a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have not occurred with respect to such rate, then the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Calculation Agent) (after consulting with the Issuer) shall determine the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate® for such Specified Maturity for such GBP Swap Rate Observation Day in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources (if any) on which such rate customarily is published by the IBA (or a successor administrator) or authorised distributors or to the sources from which IBA (or such successor administrator) obtains the swap rate input data used by IBA (or such successor administrator), to calculate such rate, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity that was most recently published by IBA (or such successor administrator)) for the purpose of estimating such rate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable GBP Swap Rate Observation Day that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap) will apply to the applicable Series of Notes including all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable thereon. In accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have so occurred, the Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark Replacement will replace the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate® for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

Certain other capitalised terms used in the foregoing terms and provisions relating to determination of Constant Maturity Swap have the meanings set forth under Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap).

(k) USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®

If the applicable Final Terms specify (a) "USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®" to be the Reference Rate or (b) otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to "USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®", then "USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, a "USD Swap Rate Observation Day"), the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms, as calculated and provided as of approximately 11:00 a.m., New York City time (or any amended time specified by the administrator of the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® in the benchmark methodology) on such USD Swap Rate Observation Day, by IBA as the administrator of the benchmark (or a successor administrator), as such rate appears on the Relevant Screen Page at approximately 12:15 p.m., New York City time, or such other Relevant Time as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms, on such USD Swap Rate Observation Day, as determined by the Calculation Agent.

If the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity in respect of any Interest Period cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing on an applicable USD Swap Rate Observation Day, and a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have not occurred with respect to such rate, then the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Calculation Agent) (after consulting with the Issuer) shall determine the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® for such Specified Maturity for such USD Swap Rate Observation Day in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources (if any) on which such rate customarily is published by the IBA (or a successor administrator) or authorised distributors or to the sources from which IBA (or such successor administrator) obtains the swap rate input data used by IBA (or such successor administrator), to calculate such rate, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity that was most recently published by IBA (or such successor administrator)) for the purpose of estimating such rate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable USD Swap Rate Observation Day that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® for the Specified Maturity, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap) will apply to the applicable Series of Notes including all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable thereon. In accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer)

has determined that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have so occurred, the Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark Replacement will replace the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

Certain other capitalised terms used in the foregoing terms and provisions relating to determination of Constant Maturity Swap have the meanings set forth under Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap).

If the applicable Final Terms specify (a) a "Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index" to be the Reference Rate or (b) otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to a "Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index", then "Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, a "Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Observation Day"), the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the Specified Currency and the Specified Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms, as calculated and published by the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider, as such rate appears on the Relevant Screen Page specified in the applicable Final Terms at approximately the Relevant Time on such Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Observation Day, as determined by the Calculation Agent. Such rate is expected to represent the mid-price for the fixed leg (for the Fixed Leg Payment Period and calculated based on the Fixed Leg Day-Count specified in the applicable Final Terms) of an interest rate swap where the floating leg is based on the Floating Leg (for the Floating Leg Payment Period and calculated based on the Floating Leg Day-Count), as calculated by the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider based on the information sources described in its methodology for the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index (the "Relevant Underlying Swap").

If the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the Specified Currency and Specified Maturity cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing on an applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Observation Day, and an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have not occurred with respect to such rate, then the rate for such Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Observation Day will be the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Calculation Agent) (after consulting with the Issuer), in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner:

- (1) If the applicable Final Terms specifies a "Primary Temporary Unavailability Fallback Rate," such rate determined as set forth in the applicable Final Terms.
- (2) a reference rate or index for the applicable Specified Maturity and Specified Currency that purports to measure prices for the fixed leg of the Relevant Underlying Swap that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, to be substantially similar to the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, and that is made available by the administrator or provider of such rate without a requirement for a subscription and/or payment of a fee;
- (3) if the applicable Final Terms specifies a "Secondary Temporary Unavailability Fallback Rate," such rate determined as set forth in the applicable Final Terms;
- (4) a reference rate or index for the applicable Specified Maturity and Specified Currency that purports to measure prices for the fixed leg of the Relevant Underlying Swap that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer)

determines, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, to be substantially similar to the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, and that is not made available by the administrator or provider of such rate or index without a requirement for a subscription and/or payment of a fee; and

- (5) if the rates specified in (1) through (4) above are not specified and/or cannot be determined, as applicable, the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) will determine the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the swap rate input data used by the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider to calculate such rate for such Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Observation Day that an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(i) (Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate) will apply to the applicable Series of Notes including all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable thereon. In accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(i) (Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have so occurred, the Alternative CMS Replacement will replace the then-current Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

As used in the foregoing terms and provisions relating to the determination of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index:

"Fixed Leg Day-Count" means the day count basis specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Fixed Leg Payment Period" means the period specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Floating Leg" means the floating leg payment period and floating leg reference rate specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Floating Leg Day-Count" means the day count basis specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Floating Leg Payment Period" means the period specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider" means ICAP Information Services Limited trading as Parameta Solutions (or a successor provider of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index).

Certain other capitalised terms used in the foregoing terms and provisions relating to the determination of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index have the meanings set forth under Additional Note Condition 4(i) (Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate).

- (m) Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing TONA) or "TONA TSR"

If the applicable Final Terms specify (a) "TONA TSR" to be the Reference Rate or (b) otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to "TONA TSR", then "TONA TSR" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which TONA TSR is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, an "JPY Swap Rate Observation Day"), the 10:00 am Tokyo time (or such other time as specified in the applicable Final Terms) Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing TONA) for the Specified Maturity, published at or around 10:30 am Tokyo time, or such other Relevant Time as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms, as provided by FTSE International Limited ("FIL") as the administrator of such rate (or a successor administrator) on such JPY Swap Rate Observation Day, as determined by the Calculation Agent. If that rate is subsequently corrected and published by the administrator or authorised distributors of such rate within the longer of (i) one hour of the time when such rate is first published by the administrator or authorised distributors of such rate and (ii) the time on such JPY Swap Rate Observation Day by which such rate is to be re-published following any corrections thereto, if any, as specified by the administrator in the benchmark methodology for such rate, then that rate will be subject to those corrections.

If TONA TSR for the Specified Maturity cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing on an applicable JPY Swap Rate Observation Day, and a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have not occurred with respect to such rate, then the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Calculation Agent) (after consulting with the Issuer) shall determine TONA TSR for such Specified Maturity for such JPY Swap Rate Observation Day in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources (if any) on which such rate customarily is published by the FIL (or a successor administrator) or authorised distributors or to the sources from which FIL (or such successor administrator) obtains the swap rate input data used by FIL (or such successor administrator), to calculate such rate, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, TONA TSR for the Specified Maturity that was most recently published by FIL (or such successor administrator)) for the purpose of estimating such rate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable JPY Swap Rate Observation Day that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to TONA TSR for the Specified Maturity, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap) will apply to the applicable Series of Notes including all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable thereon. In accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have so occurred, the Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark Replacement will replace TONA TSR for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

Certain other capitalised terms used in the foregoing terms and provisions relating to determination of Constant Maturity Swap have the meanings set forth under Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap).

(n) KRW CMS Rate

If the applicable Final Terms specify (a) "KRW CMS Rate" to be the Reference Rate or (b) otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to "KRW CMS Rate", then "KRW CMS Rate" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which the KRW CMS Rate® is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, an "KRW CMS Rate Observation Day"), mid-market rate for a Korean won deliverable interest rate swap with a term of the Specified Maturity (quoted on an Actual/365 (Fixed) day count basis) where the floating leg is based on the 91-day Korean won CD rate, equal to the arithmetic mean of the bid and ask rates, as provided by Tullett Prebon Information (or a successor information provider), which appear on the Bloomberg Page "GDCO 4572 33" against the row corresponding to the Specified Maturity (or its successor or replacement page to the applicable page), or on such other Relevant Screen Page as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms), at or around, at or around 4:00 p.m. Seoul time, or such other Relevant Time as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms, on such KRW CMS Rate Observation Day, as determined by the Calculation Agent.

If the KRW CMS rate for the Specified Maturity in respect of any KRW CMS Rate Observation Day cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing on an applicable KRW CMS Rate Observation Day, and a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have not occurred with respect to such rate (or the bid and ask rates from which such rate is calculated), then the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Calculation Agent) (after consulting with the Issuer) shall determine the KRW CMS Rate for such Specified Maturity for such KRW CMS Rate Observation Day in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources (if any) on which such rate customarily is published by Tullett Prebon Information (or any successor information provider that provides the bid and ask priced from which the KRW CMS Rate is to be calculated), or authorised distributors, or to the sources from which Tullett Prebon Information (or any such successor information provider) obtains the swap rate input data used by Tullett Prebon Information (or any such successor information provider) to calculate or publish such rate or rate information, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, the applicable KRW CMS Rate for the Specified Maturity that was most recently published by the administrator of such rate (or able to be calculated by the Calculation Agent based on the published bid and ask prices underlying such rate)) for the purpose of estimating such rate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable KRW CMS Rate Observation Day that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the to the KRW CMS Rate for the Specified Maturity (or the bid and ask rates from which such rate is calculated), then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap) will apply to the applicable Series of Notes including all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable thereon. In accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have so occurred, the Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark Replacement will replace the KRW CMS Rate for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

Certain other capitalised terms used in the foregoing terms and provisions relating to determination of the KRW CMS Rate have the meanings set forth under Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap).

(o) Constant Maturity Swap Rate

If the applicable Final Terms specify (a) "Constant Maturity Swap Rate" to be the Reference Rate or (b) otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to "Constant Maturity Swap Rate", then "Constant Maturity Swap Rate" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Rate is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, a "Constant Maturity Swap Rate Observation Day"), the swap rate in the Specified Currency for the Specified Maturity, administered and/or provided by the Designated Constant Maturity Swap Administrator (if any) or the Designated Constant Maturity Swap Provider (if any) specified in the applicable Final Terms, as such rate appears on the Relevant Screen Page specified in the applicable Final Terms at approximately the Relevant Time on such Constant Maturity Swap Rate Observation Day, as determined by the Calculation Agent.

If the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Rate for the Specified Maturity cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing on an applicable Constant Maturity Swap Rate Observation Day, and a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have not occurred with respect to such rate, then the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Calculation Agent) (after consulting with the Issuer) shall determine such Constant Maturity Swap Rate for such Specified Maturity for such Constant Maturity Swap Rate Observation Day in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources (if any) on which such rate customarily is published by the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Administrator or Constant Maturity Swap Provider, as applicable, of such Constant Maturity Swap Rate (or any successor administrator) or authorised distributors or to the sources from which the Constant Maturity Swap Administrator or Constant Maturity Swap Provider, as applicable, of such rate obtains the swap rate input data used by such Constant Maturity Swap Administrator or Constant Maturity Swap Provider, as applicable, to calculate or publish such rate or rate information, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Rate for the Specified Maturity that was most recently published by the administrator or provider of such rate for the purpose of estimating such rate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable Constant Maturity Swap Rate Observation Day that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the applicable Constant Maturity Swap rate for the Specified Maturity, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap) will apply to the applicable Series of Notes including all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable thereon. In accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have so occurred, the Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to "TEC Rate" then "TEC Rate" shall mean, for any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Day or any other day on which the applicable TEC Rate is to be observed or determined in accordance with the terms and provisions set forth in the applicable Final Terms (each such day, a "TEC Rate Observation Day"), the offered quotation (expressed as a percentage rate per annum) with a Designated Maturity calculated by the Comité de Normalisation Obligatoire (or any successor to such page or service), which appears on the Relevant Screen Page (or any successor page or service) as may be specified in the Final Terms, at or around 11:30 a.m. Paris time, or such other Relevant Time as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms, on such TEC Rate Observation Day, as determined by the Calculation Agent.

If, the TEC Rate for the Specified Maturity in respect of any TEC Rate Observation Day cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing on an applicable TEC Rate Observation Day, (i) the TEC Rate shall be determined by the Calculation Agent on the basis of the mid-market prices for each of the two reference OATs, which would have been used by the Comité de Normalisation Obligatoire (or any successor to such service) for the calculation of the TEC Rate, quoted by five Spécialistes en Valeurs du Trésor at the Relevant Time on the TEC Rate Observation Day in question; (ii) the Issuer will procure that, upon request on or after consultation with the Calculation Agent, each Spécialiste en Valeurs du Trésor provides the Calculation Agent with a quotation of its price; and (iii) the TEC Rate will be the redemption yield of the arithmetic mean of such quotations as determined by the Calculation Agent after discarding the highest and lowest of such quotations. The above mentioned redemption yield shall be determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the formula that would have been used by the Comité de Normalisation Obligatoire (or any successor to such service) for the determination of the TEC Rate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable TEC Rate Observation Day that a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the TEC Rate, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(a) (Benchmark Replacement – General) thereafter will apply to all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable on the applicable Series of Notes.

In accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(a) (Benchmark Replacement – General), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have so occurred, the General Benchmark Replacement will replace the TEC Rate for the Specified Maturity for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

The following procedures will be followed if, with respect to any U.S. CMT Rate Reference Day, the U.S. CMT Rate for the applicable Specified Maturity cannot be determined as described above:

- (3) If, by 5:00 p.m., New York City (or such other Relevant Time as specified in the applicable Final Terms) time on the applicable U.S. CMT Rate Observation Day, neither the U.S. Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or the U.S. Department of the Treasury (or any successor) has published a yield on U.S. Treasury securities at "constant maturity" for a period of the Specified Maturity, then the Calculation Agent, after consulting such sources as it deems comparable to the Designated U.S. CMT Rate Page, or any such source it deems reasonable from which to estimate the U.S. Treasury constant maturity rate for a period of the Specified Maturity, will determine the Reference Rate (or the rate used in the applicable calculation of principal, interest and/or any other amount payable in or applicable determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes, as applicable) for the applicable U.S. CMT Rate Reference Day in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner (after consulting with the Issuer), provided that if the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines there is an industry-accepted substitute or successor rate, then the Calculation Agent shall use such substitute or successor rate.
- (4) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable U.S. CMT Rate Observation Day, that a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the applicable U.S. CMT Rate for the applicable Specified Maturity, then the provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(h) (Benchmark Replacement – U.S. CMT Rate) will apply to all determinations of the Rate of Interest or other amounts payable on the applicable Series of Notes.

4. Reference Rate Discontinuance – Benchmark/Reference Rate Replacement

(a) Benchmark Replacement – General

If the applicable Final Terms for a Series of Notes specifies that (i) the Reference Rate is Compounded Daily €STR, Weighted Average Daily €STR, Compounded Daily Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, Weighted Average Daily Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, Compounded Daily Overnight TIE, Compounded Daily SONIA, Weighted Average Daily SONIA, Compounded Daily TONA, EURIBOR, the TEC Rate, Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, Federal Funds Open Rate, Federal Funds Target Rate, KRW CD 91 Rate, TORF or the KRW CMT Rate, (ii) the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to Compounded Daily €STR, Weighted Average Daily €STR, €STR, Compounded Daily Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, Weighted Average Daily Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, Compounded Daily Overnight TIE, Overnight TIE, Compounded Daily SONIA, Weighted Average Daily SONIA, SONIA, Compounded Daily TONA, TONA, EURIBOR, the TEC Rate, Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, Federal Funds Open Rate, Federal Funds Target Rate, KRW CD 91 Rate, TORF, or the KRW CMT Rate, or (iii) "Benchmark Replacement – General" provisions are applicable, this Additional Note Condition 4(a) shall apply to such Series of Notes.

(i) Occurrence of a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date.

Notwithstanding any other provisions in the applicable Conditions, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current General Benchmark for a Series of Notes prior to the applicable General Benchmark Reference Time in respect of any determination of such then-current General Benchmark required to be made under the Conditions, then the provisions set forth in this Additional Note Condition 4(a) will apply to all determinations of the Rate of Interest and/or any other amount payable on and/or any other determination of the General Benchmark that is required to be made with respect to such Notes.

In accordance with this Additional Note Condition 4(a), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a General Benchmark Transition Event and its related General Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred, the General Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current General Benchmark for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

For the avoidance of doubt, this Additional Note Condition 4(a) shall not apply with respect to the terms of a Series of Notes for which the Reference Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms is, or with respect to which the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made is to be determined by reference to BBSW, Yen TIBOR, Compounded Daily AONIA, AONIA, Compounded Daily CORRA, CORRA, Compounded Daily SARON, SARON, the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®, the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®, the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®, a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, TONA TSR, the KRW CMS Rate, a Constant Maturity Swap Rate, SOFR or Compounded Daily SOFR.

(ii) Effect of a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date.

(A) General Benchmark Replacement. If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current General Benchmark on or prior to the applicable General Benchmark Reference Time in respect of any determination of the then-current General Benchmark required to be made under the Conditions, the applicable General Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current General Benchmark for all purposes relating to the Notes in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations required to be made under the Conditions on all subsequent dates.

(B) General Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes. In connection with the implementation of a General Benchmark Replacement, the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) will have the right to make General Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

(iii) Certain Definitions.

For purposes of this Additional Note Condition 4(a):

"General Corresponding Tenor" with respect to a General Benchmark Replacement means a tenor (including overnight) having approximately the same length (disregarding Business Day adjustment) as the applicable tenor for the then-current General Benchmark.

"General Benchmark" means, initially, (i) any Reference Rate or Applicable RFR specified in the applicable Final Terms for the Specified Maturity (if applicable), whether such Reference Rate is specified to be the Reference Rate for a Series of Floating Rate Notes or any other determination is required to be made with respect to such Reference Rate or Applicable RFR or (ii) if the Reference Rate specified to be the Reference Rate for a Series of Floating Rate Notes in the applicable Final Terms is a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate, the Applicable RFR from which such Reference Rate is calculated; provided, that if a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to such Reference Rate, as applicable, or the then-current General Benchmark, then "General Benchmark" means the applicable General Benchmark Replacement.

"General Benchmark Replacement" means, where the then-current General Benchmark is EURIBOR, the KRW CD 91 Rate, TORF or the KRW CMT Rate or Screen Rate Determination otherwise is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, the General Interpolated Benchmark (if applicable) with respect to the then-current General Benchmark, plus the General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment for such General Benchmark (if applicable); provided that if the Calculation Agent cannot determine the General Interpolated Benchmark as of the General Benchmark Replacement Date, or if the then-current General Benchmark is other than EURIBOR, the KRW CR 91 Rate, TORF or the KRW CMT Rate (and Screen Rate Determination is not specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined), then "General Benchmark Replacement" means the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) as of the General Benchmark Replacement Date:

- (A) the sum of (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected or recommended by the General Relevant Governmental Body or identified through any other applicable regulatory or legislative action or guidance as the replacement for the then-current General Benchmark for the applicable General Corresponding Tenor (if any) and (b) the General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment (if any); and
- (B) solely if TORF is the then-current General Benchmark, the sum of (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected or recommended by the administrator of TORF as the replacement for TORF for the applicable General Corresponding Tenor (if any) and (b) the General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment (if any); and
- (C) the sum of (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) as the replacement for the then-current General Benchmark for the applicable General Corresponding Tenor (if any) giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for the then-current General Benchmark for floating-rate notes denominated in the Specified Currency (or, if different, the currency of the transactions that the then-current General Benchmark is designated to measure) at such time and (b) the General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment (if any).

If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that there is no such replacement rate as of the applicable General Benchmark Replacement Date, then the General Benchmark Replacement will be:

- (A) where the then-current General Benchmark is EURIBOR, the KRW CD 91 Rate, TORF, the KRW CMT Rate or Screen Rate Determination otherwise is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Calculation Agent) (after consulting with the Issuer) will determine a substitute rate or substitute rate value to be used in place of the then-current General Benchmark for the Specified Maturity for that date of determination after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources (if any) on which such rate customarily was published by the administrator or provider, as applicable, of such then-current General Benchmark or authorised distributors prior to the applicable General Benchmark Transition Event and General Benchmark Replacement Date or to the sources from which the administrator of such then-current General Benchmark obtains the rate input data used by the administrator to calculate or publish such rate or information, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, the applicable then-current General Benchmark for the Specified Maturity that was most recently published by the administrator of such rate) for the purpose of determining such substitute rate or substitute rate value;

- (B) where the then-current General Benchmark is other than EURIBOR, the KRW CD 91 Rate, TORF or the KRW CMT Rate (and Screen Rate Determination is not specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined), the then-current General Benchmark as published in respect of the first preceding Banking Day for which the then-current General Benchmark was published on the Applicable RFR Screen Page, administrator's website or other applicable website, source or service (or successor source or service) identified in the definition of the Applicable RFR set forth in Additional Note Condition 3(a) or determined in accordance with any applicable General Benchmark Conforming Changes.

"General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment" means, with respect to a General Benchmark Replacement, the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) as of the General Benchmark Replacement Date:

- (A) the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected or recommended by the General Relevant Governmental Body, or determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) in accordance with the method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment that has been selected or recommended by the General Relevant Governmental Body, in each case for the applicable Unadjusted General Benchmark Replacement;
- (B) solely if TORF is the then-current General Benchmark, spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected or recommended by the administrator of TORF or determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) in accordance with the method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment that has been selected or recommended by the administrator of TORF, in each case for the applicable Unadjusted General Benchmark Replacement; and
- (C) the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) giving due consideration to any industry-accepted spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment, for the replacement of the then-current General Benchmark with the applicable Unadjusted General Benchmark Replacement for floating-rate notes denominated in the Specified Currency (or, if different, the currency of the transactions that the then-current General Benchmark is designed to measure) at such time.

"General Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any General Benchmark Replacement, changes to (1) any date on which the Rate of Interest for any applicable Interest Period is determined, any Interest Determination Date, Calculation Days or other relevant dates on which the General Benchmark is to be determined, Specified Interest Payment Dates, other relevant dates, Business Day Conventions or Interest Periods, (2) the manner, timing and frequency of determining rates and amounts of interest that are payable on the applicable Series of Notes and the conventions relating to such determination and calculations with respect to interest, (3) the timing and frequency of making payments of interest, (4) rounding conventions, (5) tenors, and (6) any other terms or provisions of the applicable Series of Notes, in each case that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines, from time to time, to be appropriate to reflect the determination and implementation of such General Benchmark Replacement giving due consideration to any industry-accepted market practice (or, if the Issuer or its designee, after consulting with the Issuer, determines that implementation of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or determines that no market practice for use of the General Benchmark Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Issuer or its designee, after consulting with the Issuer, determines is appropriate).

"General Benchmark Replacement Date" means the earliest to occur of the following events with respect to the then-current General Benchmark:

- (A) in the case of clause (A) or (B) of the definition of "General Benchmark Transition Event," the later of (a) the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein and (b) the date on which the administrator of such General Benchmark permanently or indefinitely ceases to provide such General Benchmark;
- (B) in the case of clause (C) of the definition of "General Benchmark Transition Event," if such public statement or publication of information referenced therein indicates that the administrator or regulatory supervisor for the administrator has determined that such General Benchmark is no longer representative or otherwise not appropriate for use as a reference rate for floating-rate notes denominated in the Specified Currency: (a) at such time, the date of such public statement or publication of information referenced therein; or (b) as of a specified future date, the first date on which such General Benchmark would ordinarily have been published or provided and is non-representative by reference to the most recent statement or publication referenced therein, even if such rate continues to be published or provided on such date; or
- (C) in the case of clause (D) of the definition of "General Benchmark Transition Event," the date of such determination referenced therein.

For the avoidance of doubt, if the event giving rise to the General Benchmark Replacement Date occurs on the same day as, but earlier than, the General Benchmark Reference Time in respect of any determination, the General Benchmark Replacement Date will be deemed to have occurred prior to the General Benchmark Reference Time for such determination.

"General Benchmark Transition Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to the then-current General Benchmark:

- (A) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator or provider of such General Benchmark announcing that such administrator or provider has ceased or will cease to provide such General Benchmark, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide such General Benchmark;

- (B) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator or provider of such General Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of such General Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator or provider for such General Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator or provider for such General Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator or provider for such General Benchmark, which states that the administrator or provider of such General Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide such General Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide such General Benchmark;
- (C) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator or provider of such General Benchmark announcing that the regulatory supervisor has determined that such General Benchmark is no longer, or as of a specified future date will no longer be, representative of the underlying market and economic reality that such General Benchmark is intended to measure and that representativeness will not be restored, or such General Benchmark otherwise is not, or as of a specified future date will no longer be, appropriate for use as a reference rate for floating-rate notes denominated in the Specified Currency (or, if different, the currency of the transactions that the then-current General Benchmark is designed to measure); or
- (D) unless the applicable Final Terms specifies that "General Permanent or Indefinite Discontinuance Trigger" is not applicable, a determination by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) that such General Benchmark for the Specified Maturity (if applicable) has been permanently or indefinitely discontinued;

"General Benchmark Reference Time" with respect to any determination of a General Benchmark means the Relevant Time with respect to such General Benchmark on the relevant date of determination; provided that if a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current General Benchmark and Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has selected a General Benchmark Replacement, "General Benchmark Reference Time" will mean with respect to such General Benchmark Replacement the time determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) in accordance with the General Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes.

"General Interpolated Benchmark" with respect to a General Benchmark means the rate determined for the General Corresponding Tenor by interpolating on a linear basis between: (A) the General Benchmark for the longest period (for which the General Benchmark is available) that is shorter than the General Corresponding Tenor and (B) the General Benchmark for the shortest period (for which the General Benchmark is available) that is longer than the General Corresponding Tenor. "General Benchmark" as used in this definition means the then-applicable General Benchmark for the applicable periods specified in the foregoing sentence without giving effect to the applicable tenor (if any).

"General Relevant Governmental Body" means, with respect to any General Benchmark, the central bank, monetary authority, relevant regulatory supervisor or any similar institution with supervisory authority over the then-current General Benchmark or Specified Currency for such Series of Notes (including any committee or working group thereof sponsored, convened or endorsed by such central bank, monetary authority or relevant regulatory supervisor or similar institution).

"Unadjusted General Benchmark Replacement" means the General Benchmark Replacement excluding the General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment.

(b) Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap

If the applicable Final Terms for a Series of Notes specifies that the Reference Rate is the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®, the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®, the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®, TONA TSR, the KRW CMS Rate, a Constant Maturity Swap Rate, or that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to one or more of such rates, this Additional Note Condition 4(b) shall apply to such Series of Notes.

(i) Occurrence and Effect of a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date

Notwithstanding any other provisions in the applicable Conditions, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark for a Series of Notes prior to the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Reference Time in respect of any determination of such then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark required to be made under the Conditions, then the provisions set forth in this Additional Note Condition 4(b) will apply to all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable on and/or any other determination of the Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark that is required to be made with respect to such Notes.

In accordance with this Additional Note Condition 4(b), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and its related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred, and the Issuer or its designee has selected a Constant Maturity Swap Replacement as provided in this Additional Note Condition 4(b), such Constant Maturity Swap Replacement will replace the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

(ii) Effect of a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date.

(A) Constant Maturity Swap Replacement.

If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark prior to the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Reference Time in respect of any determination of the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark required to be made under the Conditions, the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Replacement will replace the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark for all purposes relating to the Notes in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations required to be made under the Conditions on all subsequent dates unless and until another Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Replacement. In the event that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date are determined to have occurred with respect to an applicable Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark as set forth in the preceding sentence, and the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has selected a Constant Maturity Swap Replacement as provided in this Additional Note Condition 4(b), this Additional Note Condition 4(b) will apply to any such Constant Maturity Swap Replacement and references in such provisions to the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark will mean such Constant Maturity Swap Replacement.

(B) Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Conforming Changes.

In connection with the implementation of a Constant Maturity Swap Replacement, the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) will have the right to make Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

(C) No Constant Maturity Swap Replacement.

In the event that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date are determined to have occurred in connection with the determination of an applicable Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark as set forth in the Additional Notes Condition 4(b)(ii)(A), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that there is no Constant Maturity Swap Replacement as of any relevant date of determination of such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark, then the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) will determine a substitute rate or substitute rate value to be used in place of the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark for that date of determination after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources (if any) on which such rate customarily was published by the administrator or provider, as applicable, of such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark or authorised distributors prior to the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date or to the sources from which the administrator or provider, as applicable, of such rate obtains the swap rate input data used by the administrator or provider, as applicable to calculate or publish such rate or information, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark that was most recently published by the administrator or provider of such rate (or calculated by the Calculation Agent based on the published bid and ask prices underlying such rate)) for the purpose of determining such substitute rate or substitute rate value.

(iii) Certain Definitions

For purposes of this Additional Note Condition 4(b):

"Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark" with respect to a Series of Notes means, initially, (i) the Constant Maturity Swap Rate for the Specified Currency specified in the applicable Final Terms, (ii) the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®, (iii) the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®, (iv) the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® or (v) TONA TSR, as specified to be the Reference Rate with respect to, or to be used in any other determination that is required to be made with respect to, such Series of Notes in the applicable Final Terms, in each case for the Specified Maturity, provided that if a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to such rate, or the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark, as applicable, then the "Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark" means the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Replacement.

"Constant Maturity Swap Replacement" means the sum of (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) as an industry-accepted replacement for the current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark for floating-rate notes denominated in the Specified Currency (or, if different, the currency of the transactions that the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark is designed to measure) for the applicable Series of Notes at such time and (b) the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Adjustment (if any).

"Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Adjustment" means the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) giving due consideration to any industry-accepted spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment, for the replacement of the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark with the applicable Unadjusted Constant Maturity Swap Replacement for floating-rate notes denominated in the Specified Currency (or, if different, the currency of the transactions that the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark is designed to measure) for the applicable Series of Notes at such time.

"Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any Constant Maturity Swap Replacement, changes to (1) any date on which the Rate of Interest for any applicable Interest Period is determined, any Interest Determination Dates, Calculation Days or other relevant dates on which a Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark is to be determined, Specified Interest Payment Dates, other relevant dates, Business Day Convention or Interest Periods, (2) the manner, timing and frequency of determining rates and amounts of interest that are payable on the applicable Series of Notes and the conventions relating to such determination and calculations with respect to interest, (3) the timing and frequency of making payments of interest, (4) rounding conventions, (5) tenors, and (6) any other terms or provisions of the applicable Series of Notes, in each case that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines, from time to time, to be appropriate to reflect the determination and implementation of such Constant Maturity Swap Replacement giving due consideration to any industry-accepted market practice (or, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that implementation of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or determines that no market practice for use of the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines is appropriate).

"Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date" means the earliest to occur of the following events with respect to the current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark:

- (A) in the case of clause (A) or (B) of the definition of "Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event," the later of (a) the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein and (b) the date on which the administrator of such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark permanently or indefinitely ceases to provide such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark;
- (B) in the case of clause (C) of the definition of "Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event," if such statement or publication referenced therein indicates that the administrator or regulatory supervisor for the administrator has determined that such rate is no longer representative: (a) at the date of such statement or publication referenced therein, the date of such statement or publication; or (b) as of a specified future date, the first date on which such rate would ordinarily have been published or provided and is non-representative by reference to the most recent statement or publication referenced therein, even if such rate continues to be published or provided on such date; or

- (C) in the case of clause (D) or (E) of the definition of "Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event," the date of such determination referenced therein.

For the avoidance of doubt, if the event giving rise to the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date occurs on the same day as, but earlier than, the Constant Maturity Swap Reference Time in respect of any determination, the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date will be deemed to have occurred prior to the Constant Maturity Swap Reference Time for such determination.

"Constant Maturity Swap Reference Time" with respect to any determination of a Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark means the Relevant Time with respect to such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark on the relevant date of determination; provided that if a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark and Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has selected a Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark Replacement, "Constant Maturity Swap Reference Time" will mean with respect to such Constant Maturity Swap Replacement, the time determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) in accordance with the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Conforming Changes.

"Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to the current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark:

- (A) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark announcing that such administrator has ceased or will cease to provide such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark;
- (B) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator for such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator for such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator for such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark, which states that the administrator of such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark;
- (C) a public statement or publication of information by the administrator of such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark or the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark announcing that such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark is no longer, or as of a specified future date will no longer be, representative of the underlying market and economic reality that such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark is intended to measure, and that representativeness will not be restored;
- (D) a determination by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) that such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark (or the bid and ask rates from which such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark is calculated)) has been permanently or indefinitely discontinued; or

- (E) a determination by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) that (i) such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark (or the bid and ask rates from which such rate is calculated) as published is no longer an industry-accepted rate of interest for floating-rate notes denominated in the Specified Currency at such time or (ii) such Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark (or the bid and ask rates from which such rate is calculated) as published is no longer an industry-accepted rate of interest in the derivatives market for hedging transactions related to floating rate notes denominated in the Specified Currency.

For the purpose of this clause, "Specified Currency" means the Specified Currency for the applicable Series of Notes or if different, the currency of the transactions that the then-current Constant Maturity Swap Benchmark is designated to measure.

"Unadjusted Constant Maturity Swap Replacement" means the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement excluding the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Adjustment (if any).

(c) Benchmark Replacement - SOFR

If the applicable Final Terms specifies that the Reference Rate is Compounded Daily SOFR, or Weighted Average Daily SOFR, or that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to SOFR, this Additional Note Condition 4(c) shall apply to such Series of Notes (together the "SOFR Notes").

- (i) Occurrence of a SOFR Benchmark Transition Event and related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date.

Notwithstanding any other provisions in the applicable Conditions, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a SOFR Benchmark Transition Event and related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current SOFR Benchmark with respect to a Series of Notes prior to the applicable SOFR Benchmark Reference Time in respect of any determination of the then-current SOFR Benchmark required to be made under the Conditions, then the provisions set forth in this Additional Note Condition 4(c) will apply to all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable on such Notes.

In accordance with this Additional Note Condition 4(c), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that a SOFR Benchmark Transition Event and its related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred:

- (A) if the applicable Final Terms specify "Floating Rate Notes" to be applicable, any Rate of Interest on such Series of Notes (and the applicable Reference Rate) in respect of the Interest Period relating to the above-mentioned SOFR Benchmark Reference Time and all subsequent Interest Periods will be determined (x) by reference to the relevant SOFR Benchmark Replacement multiplied by the Participation Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms, if any, plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms) the Margin, if any, or (y) as otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms; or
- (B) if the applicable Final Terms otherwise specify that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to the then-current SOFR Benchmark, the SOFR Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current SOFR Benchmark for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

(ii) Effect of a SOFR Benchmark Transition Event and Related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date.

(A) SOFR Benchmark Replacement.

If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a SOFR Benchmark Transition Event and related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current SOFR Benchmark prior to the applicable SOFR Benchmark Reference Time in respect of any determination of the then-current SOFR Benchmark required to be made under the Conditions, the applicable SOFR Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current SOFR Benchmark for all purposes relating to the Notes in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations required to be made under the Conditions on all subsequent dates.

(B) SOFR Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes.

In connection with the implementation of a SOFR Benchmark Replacement, the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) will have the right to make SOFR Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

(iii) Certain Definitions.

For purposes of this Additional Note Condition 4(c):

"ISDA Fallback Adjustment" means the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that would apply for derivatives transactions referencing the Relevant ISDA Definitions to be determined upon the occurrence of an index cessation event with respect to the SOFR Benchmark for the applicable tenor.

"ISDA Fallback Rate" means the rate that would apply for derivatives transactions referencing the Relevant ISDA Definitions to be effective upon the occurrence of an index cessation date with respect to the SOFR Benchmark for the applicable tenor excluding the applicable ISDA Fallback Adjustment.

"SOFR Benchmark" means, initially, SOFR; provided that if a SOFR Benchmark Transition Event and related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to SOFR or the then-current SOFR Benchmark, then "SOFR Benchmark" means the applicable SOFR Benchmark Replacement.

"SOFR Benchmark Replacement" means, the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) as of the SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date:

- (A) the sum of: (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected or recommended by the SOFR Benchmark Relevant Governmental Body as the replacement for the then-current SOFR Benchmark for the applicable SOFR Corresponding Tenor (if any) and (b) the SOFR Benchmark Replacement Adjustment;

- (B) the sum of: (a) the ISDA Fallback Rate and (b) the SOFR Benchmark Replacement Adjustment; and
- (C) the sum of: (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) as the replacement for the then-current SOFR Benchmark for the applicable SOFR Corresponding Tenor (if any) giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for the then-current SOFR Benchmark for U.S. dollar-denominated floating-rate notes at such time and (b) the SOFR Benchmark Replacement Adjustment.

"SOFR Benchmark Replacement Adjustment" means with respect to a SOFR Benchmark Replacement, the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) as of the applicable SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date:

- (A) the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected or recommended by the SOFR Benchmark Relevant Governmental Body or determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) in accordance with the method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment that has been selected or recommended by the SOFR Benchmark Relevant Governmental Body, in each case for the applicable Unadjusted SOFR Benchmark Replacement;
- (B) if the applicable Unadjusted SOFR Benchmark Replacement is equivalent to the ISDA Fallback Rate, then the ISDA Fallback Adjustment; or
- (C) the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) giving due consideration to any industry-accepted spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment, for the replacement of the then-current SOFR Benchmark with the applicable Unadjusted SOFR Benchmark Replacement for U.S. dollar denominated floating-rate notes at such time.

"SOFR Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any SOFR Benchmark Replacement, changes to (1) any Interest Determination Date, Interest Payment Date, other relevant date, Business Day Convention or Interest Period, (2) the manner, timing and frequency of determining the rates and amounts of interest that are payable on the applicable Series of Notes and the conventions relating to such determination and calculations with respect to interest, (3) the timing and frequency of making payments of interest, (4) rounding conventions, (5) tenors and (6) any other terms or provisions of the relevant Series of Notes, in each case that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines, from time to time, to be appropriate to reflect the implementation of such SOFR Benchmark Replacement in a manner substantially consistent with market practice (or, if the Issuer, its designee or the Calculation Agent decides that implementation of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or determines that no market practice for use of the SOFR Benchmark Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines is appropriate).

"SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date" means the earliest to occur of the following events with respect to the then-current SOFR Benchmark:

- (A) in the case of clause (A) or (B) of the definition of "SOFR Benchmark Transition Event," the later of (a) the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein and (b) the date on which the administrator of such SOFR Benchmark permanently or indefinitely ceases to provide such SOFR Benchmark; or

- (B) in the case of clause (C) of the definition of "SOFR Benchmark Transition Event," the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein.

For the avoidance of doubt, if the event giving rise to the SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date occurs on the same day as, but earlier than, the SOFR Benchmark Reference Time in respect of any determination, the SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date will be deemed to have occurred prior to the SOFR Benchmark Reference Time for such determination.

"SOFR Benchmark Transition Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to the then-current SOFR Benchmark:

- (A) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of such SOFR Benchmark announcing that such administrator has ceased or will cease to provide such SOFR Benchmark, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide such SOFR Benchmark;
- (B) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of such SOFR Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of such SOFR Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator for such SOFR Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator for such SOFR Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator for such SOFR Benchmark, which states that the administrator of such SOFR Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide such SOFR Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide such SOFR Benchmark; or
- (C) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of such SOFR Benchmark announcing that such SOFR Benchmark is no longer representative.

"SOFR Corresponding Tenor" with respect to a SOFR Benchmark Replacement means a tenor (including overnight) having approximately the same length (disregarding Business Day adjustment) as the applicable tenor for the then-current SOFR Benchmark.

"SOFR Benchmark Reference Time" with respect to any determination of the SOFR Benchmark means (A) if the SOFR Benchmark is SOFR, 3:00 p.m. (New York City time) on the date of such determination, and (B) if the SOFR Benchmark is not SOFR, the time determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) in accordance with the SOFR Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes.

"SOFR Benchmark Relevant Governmental Body" means the Federal Reserve Board and/or the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, or a committee officially endorsed or convened by the Federal Reserve Board and/or the Federal Reserve Bank of New York or any successor thereto.

"Unadjusted SOFR Benchmark Replacement" means the applicable SOFR Benchmark Replacement excluding the applicable SOFR Benchmark Replacement Adjustment.

- (d) Benchmark Replacement – BBSW and AONIA

If the applicable Final Terms for a Series of Notes specifies that (i) the Reference Rate is BBSW or Compounded Daily AONIA or (ii) the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable

Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to BBSW or AONIA, this Additional Note Condition 4(d) shall apply to such Series of Notes.

Each Noteholder is deemed to acknowledge, accept and agree to be bound by, and consents to, the determination of, substitution for and any adjustments made to BBSW and/or AONIA as described in this Additional Note Condition 4(d) (in all cases without the need for any Noteholder consent).

(i) Occurrence and Effect of a Temporary Disruption Trigger or Permanent Discontinuation Trigger

(A) If:

- (1) the Calculation Agent determines that a Temporary Disruption Trigger has occurred; or
- (2) the Issuer or its designee (after consultation with the Issuer) determines that a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger has occurred, then the Applicable Benchmark Rate for an Interest Period, whilst such Temporary Disruption Trigger is continuing or after a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger has occurred, means (in the following order of application and precedence):

- (a) where BBSW is the Applicable Benchmark Rate, if a Temporary Disruption Trigger has occurred with respect to BBSW, in the following order of precedence:
 - (i) first, the Administrator Recommended Rate;
 - (ii) then the Supervisor Recommended Rate; and
 - (iii) lastly, the Final Fallback Rate;
- (b) where AONIA is the Applicable Benchmark Rate or is used in calculations of the Applicable Benchmark Rate, or a determination of the AONIA Rate is required for the purposes of Additional Note Condition 4(d)(i)(A)(a)(i), if a Temporary Disruption Trigger has occurred with respect to AONIA, the rate for any day for which AONIA is required will be the last provided or published level of AONIA;
- (c) where a determination of the RBA Recommended Rate is required for the purposes of Additional Note Condition 4(d)(i)(A)(a)(i) or 4(d)(i)(A)(a)(ii) above, if a Temporary Disruption Trigger has occurred with respect to the RBA Recommended Rate, the rate for any day for which the RBA Recommended Rate is required will be the last rate provided or published by the Administrator of the RBA Recommended Rate (or if no such rate has been so provided or published, the last provided or published level of AONIA);
- (d) where BBSW is the Applicable Benchmark Rate, if a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger has occurred with respect to BBSW, the rate for any day for which BBSW is required on or after the Permanent Fallback Effective Date will be the first rate available in the following order of precedence:
 - (i) first, if at the time of the Permanent Fallback Effective Date with respect to BBSW, no Permanent Fallback Effective Date has occurred with respect to AONIA, the AONIA Rate;

- (ii) then, if at the time of the BBSW Permanent Fallback Effective Date, an AONIA Permanent Fallback Effective Date has occurred, an RBA Recommended Rate has been created but no Permanent Fallback Effective Date has occurred with respect to the RBA Recommended Rate, the RBA Recommended Fallback Rate; and
 - (iii) lastly, if neither Additional Note Condition 4(d)(i)(A)(d)(i) nor Additional Note Condition 4(d)(i)(A)(d)(ii) above apply, the Final Fallback Rate;
- (e) where AONIA is the Applicable Benchmark Rate or is used in calculations of the Applicable Benchmark Rate, or a determination of the AONIA Rate is required for purposes of Additional Note Condition 4(d)(i)(A)(d) above, if a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger has occurred with respect to AONIA, the rate for any day for which AONIA is required on or after the AONIA Permanent Fallback Effective Date will be the first rate available in the following order of precedence:
- (i) first, if at the time of the AONIA Permanent Fallback Effective Date, an RBA Recommended Rate has been created but no RBA Recommended Rate Permanent Fallback Effective Date has occurred, the RBA Recommended Rate; and
 - (ii) lastly, if Additional Note Condition 4(d)(i)(A)(e)(i) above does not apply, the Final Fallback Rate; and
- (f) where a determination of the RBA Recommended Rate is required for the purposes of Additional Note Condition 4(d)(i)(A)(d) or (e) above, respectively, if a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger has occurred with respect to the RBA Recommended Rate, the rate for any day for which the RBA Recommended Rate is required on or after that Permanent Fallback Effective Date will be the Final Fallback Rate.

When calculating an amount of interest in circumstances where a Fallback Rate other than the Final Fallback Rate applies, that interest will be calculated as if references to BBSW or AONIA Rate, as applicable, were references to that Fallback Rate. When calculating interest in circumstances where the Final Fallback Rate applies, the amount of interest will be calculated on the same basis as if the Applicable Benchmark Rate in effect immediately prior to the application of that Final Fallback Rate remained in effect but with necessary adjustments to substitute all references to that Applicable Benchmark Rate with corresponding references to the Final Fallback Rate.

(ii) Certain Definitions

For the purposes of this Additional Note Condition 4(d), the following definitions apply.

"Adjustment Spread" means the adjustment spread as at the Adjustment Spread Fixing Date (which may be a positive or negative value or zero and determined pursuant to a formula or methodology) that is:

- (A) determined as the median of the historical differences between BBSW and AONIA over a five calendar year period prior to the Adjustment Spread Fixing Date using practices based on those used for the determination of the Bloomberg Adjustment Spread as at the Issue Date, provided that for so long as the Bloomberg Adjustment Spread is published and determined based on the five year median of the historical differences between BBSW and AONIA, that adjustment spread will be deemed to be acceptable for the purposes of this paragraph (A); or

- (B) if no such median can be determined in accordance with paragraph (A), set using the method for calculating or determining such adjustment spread determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consultation with the Issuer) to be appropriate.

"Adjustment Spread Fixing Date" means the first date on which a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger occurs with respect to BBSW.

"Administrator" means:

- (A) in respect of BBSW, ASX Benchmarks Pty Limited;
- (B) in respect of AONIA, the Reserve Bank of Australia; and
- (C) in respect of any other Applicable Benchmark Rate, the administrator for that rate or benchmark or, if there is no administrator, the provider of that rate or benchmark, and, in each case, any successor administrator or, as applicable, any successor administrator or provider.

"Administrator Recommended Rate" means the rate formally recommended for use as the temporary replacement for BBSW by the Administrator of BBSW.

"AONIA" for the purposes of this Condition has the meaning set forth in Additional Note Condition 3(a).

"AONIA Observation Period" means the period from (and including) the date falling five Business Days prior to the first day of the relevant Interest Period (and the first Interest Period shall begin on and include the Interest Commencement Date) and ending on (but excluding) the date falling five Business Days prior to the end of such Interest Period (or the date falling five Business Days prior to such earlier date, if any, on which the Notes become due and payable).

"AONIA Rate" means, for an Interest Period and in respect of an Interest Determination Date, the rate determined by the Calculation Agent to be Fallback Rate Compounded Daily AONIA for that Interest Period and Interest Determination Date plus, if determining the AONIA Rate for the purposes of a fallback from the BBSW Rate, the Adjustment Spread.

"Applicable Benchmark Rate" means, initially, BBSW having a tenor closest to the Specified Maturity; provided that, if a Permanent Fallback Effective Date has occurred with respect to BBSW for such tenor or the then-current Applicable Benchmark Rate, then the applicable rate determined in accordance with this Additional Note Condition 4(d).

"Bloomberg Adjustment Spread" means the term adjusted AONIA spread relating to BBSW provided by Bloomberg Index Services Limited (or a successor provider as approved and/or appointed by ISDA from time to time as the provider of term adjusted AONIA and the spread) ("BISL") on the Fallback Rate (AONIA) Screen (or by other means), or provided to, and published by, authorised distributors where Fallback Rate (AONIA) Screen means the Bloomberg Screen corresponding to the Bloomberg ticker for the fallback for BBSW accessed via the Bloomberg Screen <FBAK> <GO> Page (or, if applicable, accessed via the Bloomberg Screen <HP> <GO>) or any other published source designated by BISL.

"Business Day" means any day on which commercial banks are open for general business in Sydney.

"Compounded Daily AONIA" means, with respect to an Interest Period, the rate of return of a daily compound interest investment during the AONIA Observation Period corresponding to such Interest Period (with AONIA as the reference rate for the calculation of interest) as calculated by the Calculation Agent on the fifth Business Day prior to the last day of each Interest Period, as follows:

where:

"AONIA_(i-5SBD)" means the per annum rate expressed as a decimal which is the level of AONIA provided by the Administrator and published as of 4:00 p.m. (Sydney time) or any amended publication time for the final intraday refix of such rate specified by the Administrator for AONIA in its benchmark methodology, for the Business Day falling five Business Days prior to such Business Day "i";

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀" means the number of Business Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"i" means a series of whole numbers from 1 to d₀, each representing the relevant Business Day in chronological order from (and including) the first Business Day in the relevant Interest Period to (and including) the last Business Day in such Interest Period;

"n_i" for any Business Day "i", means the number of calendar days from (and including) such Business Day "i" up to (but excluding) the following Business Day; and

"SBD" means any day on which commercial banks are open for general business in Sydney.

If, for any reason, Compounded Daily AONIA needs to be determined for a period other than an Interest Period, Compounded Daily AONIA is to be determined as if that period were an Interest Period starting on (and including) the first day of that period and ending on (but excluding) the last day of that period (which will be the applicable Interest Payment Date or the maturity date or earlier redemption date, as the case may be).

"Fallback Rate" means, where a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger for an Applicable Benchmark Rate has occurred, the rate that applies to replace that Applicable Benchmark Rate in accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(d).

"Fallback Rate Compounded Daily AONIA" means, with respect to an applicable Interest Period, a rate equal to Compounded Daily AONIA determined in accordance with Additional Note Condition 3(b)(ii)(C) ("Lag Determination Convention"), as if "Compounded Daily AONIA" were specified in the applicable Final Terms to be the Reference Rate and "Lag" were specified to be applicable. For these purposes, (i) the Applicable RFR Screen Page and Relevant Time will be as set forth in Additional Note Condition 3(a), (ii) the Interest Determination Date(s) will be the fifth Sydney Banking Day prior to the last day of that Interest Period; (iii) "p" will be five Sydney Banking Days, (iv) "D" will be 365 and (v) "Rate Cut-Off Option" will be deemed to be "Not Applicable".

If for any reason, Fallback Rate Compounded Daily AONIA needs to be determined for a period other than an Interest Period, Fallback Rate Compounded

Daily AONIA is to be determined as if that period were an Interest Period starting on (and including) the first day of that period and ending on (but excluding) the last day of that period.

"Final Fallback Rate" means, in respect of an Applicable Benchmark Rate, the rate:

- (A) determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consultation with the Issuer) as a commercially reasonable alternative for the Applicable Benchmark Rate taking into account all available information that, in good faith, it considers relevant, provided that any rate (inclusive of any spreads or adjustments) implemented by central counterparties and / or futures exchanges with representative trade volumes in derivatives or futures referencing the Applicable Benchmark Rate will be deemed to be acceptable for the purposes of this paragraph (A), together with (without double counting) such adjustment spread (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that is customarily applied to the relevant successor rate or alternative rate (as the case may be) in international debt capital markets transactions to produce an industry-accepted replacement rate for Applicable Benchmark Rate-linked floating rate notes at such time (together with such other adjustments to the Business Day Convention, interest determination dates and related provisions and definitions, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such successor rate or alternative rate for Applicable Benchmark Rate-linked floating rate notes at such time), or, if no such industry standard is recognised or acknowledged, the adjustment spread determined in accordance with a method for calculating or determining such adjustment spread determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consultation with the Issuer) to be appropriate; provided that
- (B) if and for so long as no such successor rate or alternative rate can be determined in accordance with paragraph (A), the Final Fallback Rate will be the last provided or published level of that Applicable Benchmark Rate.

"Non-Representative" means, in respect of an Applicable Benchmark Rate, that the Supervisor of that Applicable Benchmark Rate if the Applicable Benchmark Rate is BBSW, or the Administrator of the Applicable Benchmark Rate (or if AONIA is used in calculations of the Applicable Benchmark Rate) if the Applicable Benchmark Rate is AONIA or the RBA Recommended Rate:

- (A) has determined that such Applicable Benchmark Rate is no longer, or as of a specified future date will no longer be, representative of the underlying market and economic reality that such Applicable Benchmark Rate is intended to measure and that representativeness will not be restored; and
- (B) is aware that such determination will engage certain contractual triggers for fallbacks activated by pre-cessation announcements by such Supervisor (howsoever described) in contracts.

"Permanent Discontinuation Trigger" means, in respect of an Applicable Benchmark Rate:

- (A) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the Administrator of the Applicable Benchmark Rate announcing that it has ceased or that it will cease to provide the Applicable Benchmark Rate permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider, as applicable, that will continue to provide the Applicable Benchmark Rate and, in the case of BBSW, a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the Supervisor of BBSW has confirmed that cessation;

- (B) a public statement or publication of information by the Supervisor of the Applicable Benchmark Rate, the Reserve Bank of Australia (or any successor central bank for Australian dollars), an insolvency official or resolution authority with jurisdiction over the Administrator of the Applicable Benchmark Rate or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the Administrator of the Applicable Benchmark Rate which states that the Administrator of the Applicable Benchmark Rate has ceased or will cease to provide the Applicable Benchmark Rate permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide the Applicable Benchmark Rate and, in the case of BBSW and a public statement or publication of information other than by the Supervisor, a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the Supervisor of BBSW has confirmed that cessation;
- (C) a public statement by the Supervisor of the Applicable Benchmark Rate if the Applicable Benchmark Rate is BBSW, or the Administrator of the Applicable Benchmark Rate if the Applicable Benchmark Rate is AONIA (or if AONIA is used in calculations of the Applicable Benchmark Rate) or the RBA Recommended Rate, as a consequence of which the Applicable Benchmark Rate will be prohibited from being used either generally, or in respect of the Notes, or that its use will be subject to restrictions or adverse consequences to the Issuer or a Noteholder;
- (D) as a consequence of a change in law or directive arising after the Issue Date of the first Tranche of Notes of a Series, it has become unlawful for the Calculation Agent, the Issuer or any other party responsible for calculations of interest under the Conditions to calculate any payments due to be made to any Noteholder using the Applicable Benchmark Rate;
- (E) a public statement or publication of information by the Supervisor of the Applicable Benchmark Rate if the Applicable Benchmark Rate is BBSW, or the Administrator of the Applicable Benchmark Rate if the Applicable Benchmark Rate is AONIA (or if AONIA is used in calculations of the Applicable Benchmark Rate) or the RBA Recommended Rate, stating that the Applicable Benchmark Rate is Non-Representative; or
- (F) the Applicable Benchmark Rate has otherwise ceased to exist or be administered on a permanent or indefinite basis.

"Permanent Fallback Effective Date" means, in respect of a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger for an Applicable Benchmark Rate:

- (A) in the case of paragraphs (A) and (B) of the definition of "Permanent Discontinuation Trigger", the first date on which the Applicable Benchmark Rate would ordinarily have been published or provided and is no longer published or provided;
- (B) in the case of paragraphs (C) and (D) of the definition of "Permanent Discontinuation Trigger", the date from which use of the Applicable Benchmark Rate is prohibited or becomes subject to restrictions or adverse consequences or the calculation becomes unlawful (as applicable);
- (C) in the case of paragraph (E) of the definition of "Permanent Discontinuation Trigger", the first date on which the Applicable Benchmark Rate would ordinarily have been published or provided but is Non-Representative by reference to the most recent statement or publication contemplated in that paragraph and even if such Applicable Benchmark Rates continues to be published or provided on such date; or

- (D) in the case of paragraph (F) of the definition of "Permanent Discontinuation Trigger", the date that event occurs.

"RBA Recommended Fallback Rate" has the same meaning given to AONIA Rate but with necessary adjustments to substitute all references to AONIA with corresponding references to the RBA Recommended Rate.

"RBA Recommended Rate" means, in respect of any relevant day (including any day "i"), the rate (inclusive of any spreads or adjustments) recommended as the replacement for AONIA by the Reserve Bank of Australia (which rate may be produced by the Reserve Bank of Australia or another administrator) and as provided by the Administrator of that rate or, if that rate is not provided by the Administrator thereof, published by an authorised distributor in respect of that day.

"Supervisor" means, in respect of an Applicable Benchmark Rate, the supervisor or competent authority that is responsible for supervising that Applicable Benchmark Rate or the Administrator of that Applicable Benchmark Rate, or any committee officially endorsed or convened by any such supervisor or competent authority that is responsible for supervising that Applicable Benchmark Rate or the Administrator of that Applicable Benchmark Rate.

"Supervisor Recommended Rate" means the rate formally recommended for use as the temporary replacement for BBSW by the Supervisor of BBSW.

"Temporary Disruption Trigger" means, in respect of any Applicable Benchmark Rate which is required for any determination:

- (A) the Applicable Benchmark Rate has not been published by the applicable Administrator or an authorised distributor and is not otherwise provided by the Administrator, in respect of, on, for or by the time and date on which that Applicable Benchmark Rate is required; or
- (B) the Applicable Benchmark Rate is published or provided but the Calculation Agent determines that there is an obvious or proven error in that rate.

(e) Benchmark Replacement – SARON

This Additional Note Condition 4(e) shall apply to each Series of SARON Notes.

- (i) Occurrence of a SARON Index Cessation Event and a SARON Index Cessation Effective Date.

Notwithstanding any other provisions in the applicable Conditions, if the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a SARON Index Cessation Event and a SARON Index Cessation Effective Date have both occurred at or prior to the Relevant Time on an applicable Zurich Banking Day (the "Affected Zurich Banking Day") with respect to any determination of SARON for a Series of SARON Notes:

- (A) if the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that there is a SARON Recommended Replacement Rate within one Zurich Banking Day of the SARON Index Cessation Effective Date, the SARON Recommended Replacement Rate for the relevant Zurich Banking Day published on the relevant Zurich Banking Day will replace SARON for the Affected Zurich Banking Day and each applicable Zurich Banking Day thereafter, in each case giving effect to the SARON Recommended Adjustment Spread, if any; or
- (B) if the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that there is no SARON Recommended Replacement Rate within one Zurich

Banking Day of the SARON Index Cessation Effective Date, the SNB Policy Rate in respect of the relevant Zurich Banking Day will replace SARON for the Affected Zurich Banking Day and each Zurich Banking Day thereafter in each case giving effect to the SNB Adjustment Spread, if any.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the SNB Policy Rate for any Zurich Banking Day in respect of which such rate is required pursuant to Additional Note Condition 4(e)(i)(B) above has not been published on such Zurich Banking Day, then the SARON Benchmark Replacement, as determined by the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) or the Issuer's designee (after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent) will replace SARON for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of SARON Notes from and including such Zurich Banking Day unless and until a SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Event and Related SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Effective Date occur with respect to such SARON Benchmark Replacement.

(ii) Occurrence of a SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Event and SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Effective Date.

If a SARON Benchmark Replacement has been implemented pursuant to the final paragraph of Additional Note Condition 4(e)(i) and the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) or the Issuer's designee (after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent) determines that a SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Event and related SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Effective Date have occurred with respect to the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement prior to the applicable SARON Benchmark Replacement Reference Time in respect of any determination of the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement required to be made under the Conditions, then the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) or the Issuer's designee (after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent) shall determine another SARON Benchmark Replacement, which shall replace the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement for all purposes relating to the SARON Notes in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations required to be made under the Conditions on all subsequent dates, unless and until a SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Event and Related SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Effective Date occur with respect to such newly selected SARON Benchmark Replacement.

(iii) SARON Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes.

If the Calculation Agent is required to use a SARON Recommended Replacement Rate or the SNB Policy Rate pursuant to Additional Note Condition 4(e)(i)(A) or (B) for purposes of determining SARON in respect of any Zurich Banking Day, or to use a SARON Benchmark Replacement in accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(e)(ii), the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) will have the right to make SARON Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time in order to use such SARON Recommended Replacement Rate (and any SARON Recommended Adjustment Spread), the SNB Policy Rate (and any SNB Adjustment Spread) or such SARON Benchmark Replacement, as the case may be, for such purposes.

(iv) Certain Definitions.

For purposes of this Additional Note Condition 4(e):

"SARON Benchmark Replacement" means the sum of: (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) or the Issuer's designee (after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent) as the replacement for the SARON or, if a SARON Benchmark Replacement has already been selected in accordance with the final paragraph of Additional Note Condition 4(e)(i), for the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for SARON or for the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement, as applicable, for Swiss franc-denominated floating-rate debt securities at such time and (b) the SARON Benchmark Replacement Adjustment. If, in any such case, the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) or the Issuer's designee (after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent) determines that there is no such replacement rate as of the applicable SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Effective Date, then the SARON Benchmark Replacement will be SARON or the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement, as applicable, as published in respect of the first preceding Zurich Banking Day for which SARON or the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement was published on the SARON Administrator Website or on the applicable administrator's website or other applicable website, source or service (or successor source or service) determined in respect of the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement in accordance with any applicable SARON Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes.

"SARON Benchmark Replacement Adjustment" means, with respect to a SARON Benchmark Replacement, the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected by the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) or the Issuer's designee (after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent) giving due consideration to any industry-accepted spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment, for the replacement of SARON or the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement, as applicable, with a newly selected Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement for Swiss franc denominated floating-rate debt securities.

"SARON Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any SARON Recommended Replacement Rate, the SNB Policy Rate or any SARON Benchmark Replacement, as applicable, changes to (1) any Interest Determination Date, Interest Payment Date, other relevant date, Business Day Convention or Interest Period, (2) the manner, timing and frequency of determining the rates and amounts of interest that are payable on the applicable Series of Notes and the conventions relating to such determination and calculations with respect to interest, (3) the timing and frequency of making payments of interest, (4) rounding conventions, (5) tenors, and (6) any other terms or provisions of the relevant Series of Notes, in each case that the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) or the Issuer's designee (after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent) determines, from time to time, to be appropriate to reflect the implementation of such SARON Recommended Replacement Rate (and the SARON Recommended Adjustment Spread, if any), the SNB Policy Rate (and the SNB Adjustment Spread, if any) or such SARON Benchmark Replacement, as the case may be, in a manner substantially consistent with market practice (or, if the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) decides that implementation of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or determines that no market practice for use of such SARON Recommended Replacement Rate, the SNB Policy Rate or such SARON Benchmark Replacement, as the case may be, exists, in such other manner as the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines is appropriate).

"SARON Benchmark Replacement Reference Time" with respect to any determination of a SARON Benchmark Replacement means the time determined by the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) or the Issuer's designee (after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent) in accordance with the SARON Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes.

"SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Effective Date" means the earliest to occur of the following events with respect to the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement:

- (A) in the case of the occurrence of a SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Event described in clause (A) of the definition thereof, the date on which the administrator of such SARON Benchmark Replacement ceases to provide such SARON Benchmark Replacement;
- (B) in the case of the occurrence of a SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Event described in subclause (B)(1) of the definition thereof, the latest of:
 - (1) the date of such statement or publication;
 - (2) the date, if any, specified in such statement or publication as the date on which such SARON Benchmark Replacement will no longer be representative; and
 - (3) if a SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Event described in subclause (B)(2) of the definition thereof has occurred on or prior to either or both dates specified in subclauses (B)(1) and (B)(2) above, the date as of which such SARON Benchmark Replacement may no longer be used; and
 - (4) in the case of the occurrence of a SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Event described in subclause (B)(2) of the definition thereof, the date as of which such SARON Benchmark Replacement may no longer be used.

"SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to the then-current SARON Benchmark Replacement:

- (A) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of such SARON Benchmark Replacement, or by any competent authority, announcing or confirming that the administrator of such SARON Benchmark Replacement has ceased or will cease to provide such SARON Benchmark Replacement permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide such SARON Benchmark Replacement; or;
- (B) a public statement or publication of information by the administrator of such SARON Benchmark Replacement or any competent authority announcing that:
 - (1) such SARON Benchmark Replacement is no longer representative or will as of a certain date no longer be representative; or
 - (2) such SARON Benchmark Replacement may no longer be used after a certain date, which statement, in the case of this subclause (B)(2), is applicable to (but not necessarily limited to) fixed income securities.

"SARON Index Cessation Effective Date" means the earliest of:

- (A) in the case of the occurrence of a SARON Index Cessation Event described in clause (A) of the definition thereof, the date on which the SARON Administrator ceases to provide the Swiss Average Rate Overnight;
- (B) in the case of the occurrence of a SARON Index Cessation Event described in subclause (B)(1) of the definition thereof, the latest of:
 - (1) the date of such statement or publication;

- (2) the date, if any, specified in such statement or publication as the date on which the Swiss Average Rate Overnight will no longer be representative; and
 - (3) if a Saron Index Cessation Event described in subclause (B)(2) of the definition thereof has occurred on or prior to either or both dates specified in subclauses (B)(1) and (B)(2) above, the date as of which the Swiss Average Rate Overnight may no longer be used; and
- (C) in the case of the occurrence of a Saron Index Cessation Event described in subclause (B)(2) of the definition thereof, the date as of which the Swiss Average Rate Overnight may no longer be used.

"Saron Index Cessation Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events:

- (A) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the Saron Administrator, or by any competent authority, announcing or confirming that the Saron Administrator has ceased or will cease to provide the Swiss Average Rate Overnight permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Swiss Average Rate Overnight; or;
- (B) a public statement or publication of information by the Saron Administrator or any competent authority announcing that:
 - (1) the Swiss Average Rate Overnight is no longer representative or will as of a certain date no longer be representative; or
 - (2) the Swiss Average Rate Overnight may no longer be used after a certain date, which statement, in the case of this subclause (B)(2), is applicable to (but not necessarily limited to) fixed income securities.

"Saron Recommended Adjustment Spread" means, in respect of any Saron Recommended Replacement Rate, the spread (which may be positive, negative or zero), or formula or methodology for calculating such a spread,

- (A) that the Saron Recommending Replacement Rate Body has recommended be applied to such Saron Recommended Replacement Rate in the case of fixed income securities with respect to which such Saron Recommended Replacement Rate has replaced the Swiss Average Rate Overnight as the reference rate for purposes of determining the applicable rate of interest thereon; or
- (B) if the Saron Recommending Replacement Rate Body has not recommended such a spread, formula or methodology as described in clause (A) above, to be applied to such Saron Recommended Replacement Rate in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable under the circumstances, any economic prejudice or benefit (as applicable) to Noteholders as a result of the replacement of the Swiss Average Rate Overnight with such Saron Recommended Replacement Rate for purposes of determining Saron, which spread will be determined by the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer), acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, and be consistent with industry-accepted practices for fixed income securities with respect to which such Saron Recommended Replacement Rate has replaced the Swiss Average Rate Overnight as the reference rate for purposes of determining the applicable rate of interest thereon.

"SARON Recommended Replacement Rate" means the rate that has been recommended as the replacement for the Swiss Average Rate Overnight by any working group or committee in Switzerland organised in the same or a similar manner as the National Working Group on Swiss Franc Reference Rates that was founded in 2013 for purposes of, among other things, considering proposals to reform reference interest rates in Switzerland (any such working group or committee, the "SARON Recommending Replacement Rate Body").

"SNB Adjustment Spread" means, with respect to the SNB Policy Rate, the spread to be applied to the SNB Policy Rate in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable under the circumstances, any economic prejudice or benefit (as applicable) to Holders as a result of the replacement of the Swiss Average Rate Overnight with the SNB Policy Rate for purposes of determining SARON, which spread will be determined by the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) taking into account the historical median between the Swiss Average Rate Overnight and the SNB Policy Rate during the two year period ending on the date on which the SARON Index Cessation Event occurred (or, if more than one SARON Index Cessation Event has occurred, the date on which the first of such events occurred).

"SNB Policy Rate" means, with respect to any Zurich Banking Day, the policy rate of the Swiss National Bank for such Zurich Banking Day.

"Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement" means the applicable SARON Benchmark Replacement excluding the applicable SARON Benchmark Replacement Adjustment.

(f) Benchmark Replacement – CORRA

If the applicable Final Terms specifies that the Reference Rate is Compounded Daily CORRA, or that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to CORRA, this Additional Note Condition 4(f) shall apply to such Series of Notes (together, the "CORRA Notes").

- (i) Upon the occurrence of a CORRA Index Cessation Event with respect to CORRA or a CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, the terms and provisions set forth in Additional Note Conditions 4(f)(i)(A) and (B) below will apply, in the order set forth below, with respect to determinations of the Rate of Interest and the Reference Rate for the applicable series of CORRA Notes.

Notwithstanding any other provisions in the applicable Conditions, if a CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date occurs with respect to CORRA, then the rate for an applicable Interest Period in respect of which any Toronto Banking Day in respect of which CORRA is required to calculate the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period occurs on or after the CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to CORRA will be the CAD Recommended Rate, to which the Calculation Agent shall apply a spread (which may be positive or negative or zero) and make such adjustments to the CAD Recommended Rate as are necessary to account for any difference in term structure or tenor of the CAD Recommended Rate by comparison to CORRA (if any), with such spread and adjustments (if any) being determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer). If there is a CAD Recommended Rate before the end of the first Toronto Banking Day following the CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to CORRA but neither the administrator nor authorized distributors provide or publish the CAD Recommended Rate and a CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to it has not occurred, then, in respect of any day for which the CAD Recommended Rate is required, references to the CAD Recommended Rate will be deemed to be references to the last provided or published CAD Recommended Rate.

- (B) No CAD Recommended Rate or CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to CAD Recommended Rate.

If there is no CAD Recommended Rate before the end of the first Toronto Banking Day following the CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to CORRA, or there is a CAD Recommended Rate and a CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date subsequently occurs with respect to such CAD Recommended Rate, then the rate for an applicable Interest Period in respect of which any Toronto Banking Day in respect of which CORRA or the CAD Recommended Rate, as applicable, is required to calculate the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period occurs on or after the CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to CORRA or the CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to the CAD Recommended Rate, as applicable, will be Bank of Canada's Target for the overnight rate as set by the Bank of Canada and published on the Bank of Canada's website (the "BOC Target Rate"). If neither the administrator nor authorized distributors provide or publish the BOC Target Rate, then, in respect of any day for which the BOC Target Rate is required, references to the BOC Target Rate will be deemed to be references to the last provided or published BOC Target Rate.

- (ii) CORRA Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes.

In connection with the implementation of a CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) will have the right to make CORRA Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

- (iii) Certain Definitions.

For purposes of this Additional Note Condition 4(f):

"CAD Recommended Rate" means the rate (inclusive of any spreads or adjustments) recommended as the replacement for CORRA by a committee officially endorsed or convened by the Bank of Canada for the purpose of recommending a replacement for CORRA (which rate may be produced by the Bank of Canada or another administrator) and as provided by the administrator of that rate or, if that rate is not provided by the administrator thereof (or a successor administrator), published by an authorized distributor.

"CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate" means the CAD Recommended Rate, or the BOC Target Rate, as applicable.

"CORRA Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes" means such changes or adjustments to (1) the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate or the applicable fallback spread, (2) any Observation Period, Interest Payment Date, other relevant date, Business Day Convention or Interest Period, (3) the manner, timing and frequency of determining Rates of Interest and Interest Amounts that are payable on the applicable CORRA Notes and the conventions relating to such determination, (4) the timing and frequency of making payments of interest, (5) rounding conventions, (6) tenors, and (7) any other terms or provisions of the relevant Series of CORRA Notes and related definitions, in each case that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines, from time to time, and notifies to the Calculation Agent, are consistent with accepted market practice or applicable regulatory or legislative action or guidance for the use of such CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate for debt obligations comparable to the relevant Series of CORRA Notes in such circumstances.

"CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date" means, in respect of a CORRA Index Cessation Event, the first date on which CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable, is no longer provided. If CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable, ceases to be provided on the day that it is required to determine the Rate of Interest for an Interest Period pursuant to the terms of an applicable Series of CORRA Notes but it was provided at the time at which it is to be observed pursuant to the applicable Conditions of such Series of CORRA Notes (or, if no such time is specified in the terms and provisions of such series, at the time at which it is ordinarily published), then the CORRA Index Cessation Effective Date will be the next day on which the rate would ordinarily have been published.

"CORRA Index Cessation Event" means:

- (A) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator or provider of CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable, announcing that it has ceased or will cease to provide CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable; or
- (B) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator or provider of CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable, the Bank of Canada, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator or provider for CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator or provider for CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable, or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator or provider for CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable, which states that the administrator or provider of CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable, has ceased or will cease to provide CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide CORRA or the CORRA Applicable Fallback Rate, as applicable.

(g) Benchmark Replacement – Yen TIBOR

If the applicable Final Terms specifies that the Reference Rate is Yen TIBOR, or that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to Yen TIBOR, this Additional Note Condition 4(g) shall apply to such Series of Notes (together, the "Yen TIBOR Notes").

- (i) Upon the occurrence of a Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Event with respect to Yen TIBOR for the applicable Specified Maturity or a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Event with respect to a Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate, the terms and provisions set forth in Additional Note Conditions 4(g)(i)(A) – (C) below will apply, in the order set forth below, with respect to determinations of the Rate of Interest and the Reference Rate for the applicable Series of Yen TIBOR Notes. For the purposes of such terms and provisions (including the definition of "Fallback Observation Day"), references to an "Original IBOR Rate Record Day" are to that term as used on the Fallback Rate (TONA) Screen.

If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Event has occurred, the rate for a Yen TIBOR Observation Day occurring on or after the Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Effective Date will be determined as if references to Yen TIBOR for the applicable Specified Maturity were references to Fallback Rate (TONA) for the "Original IBOR Rate Record Day" that corresponds to the applicable Yen TIBOR Observation Day, as most recently provided or published as at 12:30 p.m., Tokyo time on the related Fallback Observation Day. If neither Bloomberg Index Services Limited (or a successor provider as approved and/or appointed by ISDA from time to time) provides, nor authorized distributors publish, Fallback Rate (TONA) for that "Original IBOR Rate Record Day" at, or prior to, 12:30 p.m., Tokyo time on the related Fallback Observation Day and a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to Fallback Rate (TONA) has not occurred, then the rate for such Yen TIBOR Observation Day will be Fallback Rate (TONA) as most recently provided or published, at that time for the most recent "Original IBOR Rate Record Day", notwithstanding that such day does not correspond to such Yen TIBOR Observation Day.

- (B) Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to Fallback Rate (TONA).

If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Event has occurred with respect to Fallback Rate (TONA), the rate for a Yen TIBOR Observation Day in respect of which the applicable Fallback Observation Day occurs on or after the Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to Fallback Rate (TONA) will be Compounded TONA based on the Tokyo Overnight Average Rate ("TONA") administered by the Bank of Japan (or any successor administrator), to which the Calculation Agent shall apply the most recently published spread, as at the Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to Fallback Rate (TONA), referred to in the definition of "Fallback Rate (TONA)," after making such adjustments to Compounded TONA as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be necessary to account for any difference in term structure or tenor of Compounded TONA by comparison to Fallback Rate (TONA) and by reference to the Bloomberg IBOR Fallback Rate Adjustments Rule Book and notifies to the Calculation Agent. If neither the administrator nor authorized distributors provide or publish TONA and a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to TONA has not occurred, then, in respect of any day for which TONA is required, references to TONA will be deemed to be references to the last provided or published TONA.

- (C) Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to TONA.

If a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date occurs with respect to each of Fallback Rate (TONA) and TONA, then the rate for a Yen TIBOR Observation Day in respect of which the applicable Fallback Observation Day occurs on or after the Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to Fallback Rate (TONA) (or, if later, the Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to TONA) will be the JPY Recommended Rate, to which the Calculation Agent shall apply the most recently published spread, as at the Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to Fallback Rate (TONA), referred to in the definition of "Fallback Rate (TONA)," after making such adjustments to the JPY Recommended Rate as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be necessary to account for any difference in term structure or tenor of the JPY Recommended Rate by comparison to Fallback Rate (TONA) or Compounded TONA, as applicable, and by reference to the Bloomberg IBOR Fallback Rate Adjustments Rule Book and notifies to the Calculation Agent. If there is a JPY Recommended Rate before the end of the first Tokyo Business Day following the Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to Fallback Rate (TONA) (or, if later, the end of the first Tokyo Business Day following the Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to TONA) but neither the administrator nor authorized distributors provide or publish the JPY Recommended Rate and a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to it has not occurred, then, in respect of any day for which the JPY Recommended Rate is required, references to the JPY Recommended Rate will be deemed to be references to the last provided or published JPY Recommended Rate. If there is no JPY Recommended Rate, or if a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date occurs with respect to the JPY Recommended Rate, or if the last provided or published JPY Recommended Rate is not available when one would be required, then in respect of any day for which the JPY Recommended Rate would be, or is required, references to the JPY Recommended Rate will be deemed to be references to the last provided or published TONA.

(ii) Yen TIBOR Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes.

In connection with the implementation of a Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate, the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) will have the right to make Yen TIBOR Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

(iii) Certain Definitions.

For purposes of this Additional Note Condition 4(g):

"Bloomberg IBOR Fallback Rate Adjustments Rule Book" means the IBOR Fallback Rate Adjustments Rule Book published by Bloomberg Index Services Limited (or a successor provider as approved and/or appointed by ISDA from time to time) ("BISL") as updated from time to time in accordance with its terms.

"Compounded TONA" means term-adjusted TONA compounded-in-arrears, calculated by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the methodology pursuant to which BISL calculated Fallback Rate (TONA), by reference to the Bloomberg IBOR Fallback Rate Adjustments Rule Book.

"Fallback Observation Day" means, in respect of an Interest Determination Date and the Interest Period to which such Interest Determination Date relates, the day that is two Business Days preceding the related Interest Payment Date for such Interest Period, and for the purposes hereof, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, "Business Day" shall mean day (other than a Saturday or a Sunday) on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in Tokyo, London and New York City.

"Fallback Rate (TONA)" means the term-adjusted TONA compounded-in-arrears plus the spread relating to Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity provided by BISL, as the provider of term-adjusted TONA and the spread, on the Fallback Rate (TONA) Screen (or by other means) or provided to, and published by, authorized distributors.

"Fallback Rate (TONA) Screen" means the Bloomberg Screen corresponding to the Bloomberg ticker for the fallback for Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity accessed via the Bloomberg Screen <FBAK> <GO> Page (or, if applicable, accessed via the Bloomberg Screen <HP><GO>) or any other published source designated by BISL.

"JPY Recommended Rate" means in respect of any relevant day, the rate (inclusive of any spreads or adjustments) recommended as the replacement for TONA by the Bank of Japan or a committee officially endorsed or convened by the Bank of Japan for the purpose of recommending a replacement for TONA (which rate may be produced by the Bank of Japan or another administrator) and as provided by the administrator of that rate or, if that rate is not provided by the administrator thereof (or a successor administrator), published by an authorized distributor, in respect of that day.

"Relevant Original Fixing Date" means the day on which Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity would have been observed.

"Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate" means one of Fallback Rate (TONA), TONA or the JPY Recommended Rate, as applicable.

"Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date" means, in respect of a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Event, the first date on which the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate is no longer provided. If the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate ceases to be provided on the same day that it is required to determine the Reference Rate for an Interest Period pursuant to the terms of the Notes but it was provided at the time at which it is to be observed pursuant to the terms and provisions of the Notes (or, if no such time is specified in, at the time at which it is ordinarily published), then the Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date will be the next day on which the rate would ordinarily have been published.

"Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Event" means:

- (A) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator or provider of the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate announcing that it has ceased or will cease to provide the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate; or
- (B) if the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate is:

- (2) TONA or the JPY Recommended Rate, a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator or provider of the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate, the Bank of Japan, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator or provider for the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator or provider for the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator or provider for the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate, which states that the administrator or provider of the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate has ceased or will cease to provide the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide the Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate.

"Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Effective Date" means, in respect of one or more Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Events, the first date on which Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity is no longer provided. If Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity ceases to be provided on the Relevant Original Fixing Date but it was provided at the time at which it is to be observed pursuant to the terms and provisions of the Notes, then the Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Effective Date will be the next day on which the rate would ordinarily have been published.

"Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Event" means:

- (A) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator announcing that it has ceased or will cease to provide Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide Yen TIBOR for such Specified Maturity; or

- (h) Benchmark Replacement – U.S. CMT Rate

If the applicable Final Terms specify that the Reference Rate is U.S. CMT Rate, or that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to U.S. CMT Rate, this Additional Note Condition 4(h) shall apply to such Series of Notes (together the "US. CMT Rate Notes").

(i) Occurrence of a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date.

Notwithstanding any other provisions in the applicable Conditions, if the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark with respect to a Series of Notes prior to the applicable U.S. CMT Rate Reference Time in respect of any determination of the then-current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark required to be made under the General Note Conditions, then the provisions set forth in this Additional Note Condition 4(h) will apply to all determinations of the Rate of Interest payable on such Notes.

Effect of a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and Related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date.

(A) U.S. CMT Rate Replacement.

If the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark prior to the applicable U.S. CMT Rate Reference Time in respect of any determination of the then-current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark required to be made under the General Note Conditions, the applicable U.S. CMT Rate Replacement will replace the then-current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark for all purposes relating to the Notes in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations required to be made under the General Note Conditions on all subsequent dates.

(B) U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Conforming Changes.

In connection with the implementation of a U.S. CMT Rate Replacement, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) will have the right to make U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

(C) No U.S. CMT Rate Replacement

In the event that a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date are determined to have occurred as set forth above, if the Calculation Agent (after consulting the Issuer) determines that there is no U.S. CMT Rate Replacement as of any relevant interest determination date or other date of determination of such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark, then the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) will determine a substitute rate or substitute rate value to be used in place of the applicable U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark for that interest determination date or date of determination after consulting such sources (if any) as it deems comparable to the sources described above under the determination of the U.S. CMT Rate, or any other source or data it determines to be reasonable.

(ii) Certain Definitions.

For purposes of this Additional Note Condition 4(h):

"Unadjusted U.S. CMT Rate Replacement" means the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement, excluding the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Adjustment (if any).

"U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark" means, initially, the U.S. CMT Rate for the Specified Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms, provided that if a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the U.S. CMT Rate for the Specified Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms or the then-current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark, then the "U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark" means the applicable U.S. CMT Rate Replacement.

"U.S. CMT Rate Replacement" means the sum of (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) as an industry-accepted replacement for the then-current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark for U.S. dollar-denominated floating-rate notes at such time and (b) the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Adjustment (if any).

"U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Adjustment" means with respect to a U.S. CMT Rate Replacement, the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected by the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) giving due consideration to any industry-accepted spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment, for the replacement of the then-current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark with the applicable Unadjusted U.S. CMT Rate Replacement for floating-rate notes at such time.

"U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any U.S. CMT Rate Replacement, changes to (a) any date on which the Rate of Interest for any applicable Interest Period is determined, any Interest Determination Dates, U.S. CMT Rate Reference Days, U.S. CMT Rate Observation Days or other relevant dates on which the applicable substitute or successor rate is to be determined, Specified Interest Payment Dates, other relevant dates, Business Day Convention or Interest Periods, (b) the manner, timing and frequency of determining rates and amounts of interest that are payable on the applicable Series of Notes and the conventions relating to such determination and calculations with respect to interest, (c) the timing and frequency of making payments of interest, (d) rounding conventions, (e) tenors, (f) any other terms or provisions of the applicable Series of Notes, in each case that the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines, from time to time, to be appropriate to reflect the determination and implementation of such U.S. CMT Rate Replacement giving due consideration to any industry-accepted market practice (or, if the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that implementation of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or determines that no market practice for use of the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines is appropriate).

"U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date" means the earliest to occur of the following events with respect to the current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark:

- (1) in the case of clause (1) or (2) of the definition of "U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event", the later of (a) the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein and (b) the date on which the administrator of the U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark permanently or indefinitely ceases to provide such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark;
- (2) in the case of clause (3) of the definition of "U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event", if such statement or publication referenced therein indicates that the administrator or regulatory supervisor for the administrator has determined that such rate is no longer representative: (a) at the date of such statement or publication referenced therein, the date of such statement or publication; or (b) as of a specified future date, the first date on which such rate would ordinarily have been published or provided and is non-representative by reference to the most recent statement or publication referenced therein, even if such rate continues to be published or provided on such date; or

- (3) in the case of clause (4) or (5) of the definition of "U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event", the date of such determination referenced therein.

For the avoidance of doubt, if the event giving rise to the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date occurs on the same day as, but earlier than, the U.S. CMT Rate Reference Time in respect of any determination, the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date will be deemed to have occurred prior to the U.S. CMT Rate Reference Time for such determination.

"U.S. CMT Rate Reference Time" with respect to any determination of the U.S. CMT Rate for the Specified Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms, means 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the U.S. CMT Rate Observation Day; provided that if a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) has selected a U.S. CMT Rate Replacement, "U.S. CMT Rate Reference Time" will mean with respect to such U.S. CMT Rate Replacement, the time determined by the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) in accordance with the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Conforming Changes.

"U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to the current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark:

- (1) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark announcing that such administrator has ceased or will cease to provide such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark;
- (2) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator for such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator for such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator for such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark, which states that the administrator of such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark;
- (3) a public statement or publication of information by the administrator of such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark or the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark announcing that such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark is no longer, or as of a specified future date will no longer be, representative of the underlying market and economic reality that such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark is intended to measure, and that representativeness will not be restored;
- (4) a determination by the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) that the U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark has been permanently or indefinitely discontinued; or
- (5) a determination by the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) that such U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark as published is no longer an industry-accepted rate of interest for U.S. dollar-denominated floating-rate notes at such time.

(i) Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate

If the applicable Final Terms for a Series of Notes specifies that (i) the Reference Rate is a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, (ii) the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, or (iii) "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions are applicable, this Additional Note Condition 4(i) shall apply to such Series of Notes.

(i) Occurrence and Effect of an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date.

Notwithstanding any other provisions in the applicable Conditions, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate for a Series of Notes prior to the applicable Alternative CMS Rate Reference Time in respect of any determination of such then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate required to be made under the Conditions, then the provisions set forth in this Additional Note Condition 4(i) will apply to all determinations of the Rate of Interest and/or any other amount payable on and/or any other determination of the Alternative CMS Reference Rate that is required to be made with respect to such Notes.

In accordance with this Additional Note Condition 4(i), if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) has determined that an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and its related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have occurred, the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement will replace the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate for all purposes relating to the applicable Series of Notes in respect of such determination on the applicable date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

(ii) Effect of an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date.

(A) Alternative CMS Rate Replacement.

If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate prior to the applicable Alternative CMS Rate Reference Time in respect of any determination of the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate required to be made under the Conditions, the applicable Alternative CMS Rate Replacement will replace the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate for all purposes relating to the Notes in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations required to be made under the Conditions on all subsequent dates unless and until another Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the applicable Alternative CMS Rate Replacement. In the event that an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date are determined to have occurred with respect to an applicable Alternative CMS Reference Rate as set forth in the preceding sentence, this Additional Note Condition 4(i) will apply to any such Alternative CMS Rate Replacement, and references in such provisions to the applicable Alternative CMS Reference Rate will mean such Alternative CMS Rate Replacement.

(B) Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Conforming Changes.

In connection with the implementation of an Alternative CMS Rate Replacement, the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) will have the right to make Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

(iii) Certain Definitions

For purposes of this Additional Note Condition 4(i):

"Alternative CMS Reference Rate" with respect to a Series of Notes means, initially, (i) if the applicable Final Terms for a Series of Notes specifies that the Reference Rate is a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index or that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity or (ii) otherwise, any Reference Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms for the Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, whether such Reference Rate is specified to be the Reference Rate for a Series of Floating Rate Notes or it is specified that the principal, interest and/or any other amount payable or any determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes is to be determined by reference to such Reference Rate; provided that if an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to such rate, or with respect to the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate, as applicable, then the "Alternative CMS Reference Rate" means the applicable Alternative CMS Rate Replacement.

"Alternative CMS Rate Replacement" means the alternative rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) that the Issuer or its designee has determined to be comparable to the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate, taking into account any industry-accepted replacement rate for the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate (if the Issuer or its designee determines that such an industry-accepted replacement rate exists), the underlying economic reality that the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate is intended to represent and any other information the Issuer or its designee deems relevant.

"Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any Alternative CMS Rate Replacement, changes to (1) any date on which the Rate of Interest for any applicable Interest Period is determined, any Interest Determination Dates, Calculation Days or other relevant dates on which an Alternative CMS Reference Rate is to be determined, Specified Interest Payment Dates, other relevant dates, Business Day Convention or Interest Periods, (2) the manner, timing and frequency of determining rates and amounts of interest that are payable on the applicable Series of Notes and the conventions relating to such determination and calculations with respect to interest, (3) the timing and frequency of making payments of interest, (4) rounding conventions, (5) tenors, and (6) any other terms or provisions of the applicable Series of Notes, in each case that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines, from time to time, to be appropriate to reflect the determination and implementation of such Alternative CMS Rate Replacement giving due consideration to any industry-accepted market practice (or, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that implementation of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or determines that no market practice for use of the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines is appropriate).

"Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date" means the earliest to occur of the following events with respect to the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate:

- (A) in the case of clause (A) or (B) of the definition of "Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event," the later of (a) the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein and (b) the date on which the administrator or provider of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate permanently or indefinitely ceases to provide such Alternative CMS Reference Rate;
- (B) in the case of clause (C) of the definition of "Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event," if such public statement or publication of information referenced therein indicates that the administrator or provider or regulatory supervisor for the administrator or provider of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate has determined that such rate is no longer representative: (a) at the date of such public statement or publication of information referenced therein, the date of such public statement or publication of information; or (b) as of a specified future date, the first date on which such rate would ordinarily have been published or provided and is non-representative by reference to the most recent statement or publication referenced therein, even if such rate continues to be published or provided on such date; or
- (C) in the case of clause (D) of the definition of "Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event," the date of such determination referenced therein.

For the avoidance of doubt, if the event giving rise to the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date occurs on the same day as, but earlier than, the Alternative CMS Rate Reference Time in respect of any determination, the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date will be deemed to have occurred prior to the Alternative CMS Rate Reference Time for such determination.

"Alternative CMS Rate Reference Time" means, with respect to any determination of an Alternative CMS Reference Rate, the Relevant Time with respect to such Alternative CMS Reference Rate on the relevant date of determination; provided that if an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate, "Alternative CMS Rate Reference Time" will mean, with respect to such Alternative CMS Rate Replacement, the time determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) in accordance with the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Conforming Changes.

"Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to the then-current Alternative CMS Reference Rate:

- (A) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator or provider of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate announcing that such administrator or provider has ceased or will cease to provide such Alternative CMS Reference Rate, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such public statement or publication of information, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide such Alternative CMS Reference Rate;
- (B) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator or provider of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate, the central bank for the currency of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator or provider of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator or provider of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator or provider of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate, which states that the administrator or provider of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate has ceased or will cease to provide such Alternative CMS Reference Rate permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide such Alternative CMS Reference Rate;

- (C) a public statement or publication of information by the administrator or provider of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate or the regulatory supervisor for the administrator or provider of such Alternative CMS Reference Rate announcing that such Alternative CMS Reference Rate is no longer, or as of a specified future date will no longer be, representative of the underlying market and economic reality that such Alternative CMS Reference Rate is intended to measure, and that representativeness will not be restored; or
- (D) a determination by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) that such Alternative CMS Reference Rate has been permanently or indefinitely discontinued.

5. Calculation Agent; Decisions and Determinations

If the applicable Final Terms specify that Floating Rate Note Provisions are applicable, this Additional Note Condition 5 shall apply to the applicable Series of Notes.

Calculations relating to a Series of Notes, including calculations with respect to Reference Rates, Rates of Interest, accrued interest, principal and any premium, and any other amounts payable applicable to such Series of Notes, as the case may be, will be made by the Calculation Agent. Any determination, decision or election, or any substitution for and adjustments to any Reference Rate or substitute or successor rate in respect thereof that may be made by the Issuer or, in the case of a determination, the Calculation Agent or, in all cases, any financial institution or investment bank appointed by the Issuer, or any other entity designated by the Issuer (which may be one of the Issuer's affiliates) pursuant to the Additional Note Conditions set forth in this Annex 17 (including, but not limited to, the benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4) and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or any selection (including as to the occurrence or non-occurrence of any event or circumstance):

- will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error;
- will be made in the discretion of the Calculation Agent (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner), the Issuer, any financial institution or investment bank appointed by the Issuer or the Issuer's other designee, as applicable, except if made by the Calculation Agent, any financial institution or investment bank appointed by the Issuer or the Issuer's other designee, as applicable, in connection with the benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4;
- if made by the Calculation Agent, any financial institution or investment bank appointed by the Issuer or the Issuer's other designee in connection with the benchmark transition provisions, will be made after consulting with the Issuer, and any financial institution or investment bank appointed by the Issuer or the Issuer's other designee will not make any such determination, decision or election to which the Issuer objects; and
- notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Conditions or other documentation relating to the Notes, shall become effective without the consent of the holders of the relevant Series of Notes or any other party.

If, with respect to any Series of Notes, the Issuer does not agree with any determination made by the Calculation Agent regarding administrative feasibility, as described in this Annex 17, in connection with the benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4, then the Issuer may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, remove the Calculation Agent and appoint a successor Calculation Agent.

Any determination, decision or election pursuant to the Additional Note Conditions set forth in this Annex 17 (including, but not limited to, the benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4, and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or any selection not made by any financial institution or investment bank appointed by the Issuer or the Issuer's other designee) will be made by the Issuer on the basis as described above. The Calculation Agent shall have no liability for not making any such determination, decision or election in connection with such provisions. The Issuer may designate an entity (which entity may be a calculation agent and/or the Issuer's affiliate) to make any determination, decision or election that the Issuer has the right to make in connection with the benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4.

3. Description of Product Features

Instruments issued under this Offering Circular may provide for one or more of the following product features.

Asian Option	Uses the average price of the Underlying Asset over a number of predefined periods (monthly, quarterly, annually) rather than the price at a specific time.
Autocallable	If, on an observation day, the price of the Underlying Asset is either on or above (bull) or on or below (bear) a previously defined barrier (" autocall trigger "), the product is redeemed prior to maturity.
Bearish; with a bear feature	The Instrument benefits from falling prices of the Underlying Asset
Best-of	The return of the Instrument depends on the performance of the best performing Underlying Asset.

Bullish; with a bull feature	The Instrument benefits from rising prices of the Underlying Asset.
Callable	The Issuer has the right to cancel early, however, there is no obligation to do so.
Capped participation	The Instrument has a maximum yield and may have a minimum redemption price.
Conditional coupon	A scenario exists where the coupon is not repaid (coupon at risk) or an unpaid coupon can be recouped at a later date (memory coupon).
European barrier	Only the last day closing price is relevant for monitoring the barrier.
Floor	Represents the minimum amount which is redeemed at a product's expiry, independent of the performance of the Underlying Asset.
Inverse	The Instrument performs in inverse proportion to the Underlying Asset.
Lock-in	If the lock-in level is reached, repayment is at least in a preassigned amount regardless of future development of the Underlying Asset price.
Look-back	Barrier and/or strike are set with a time delay (lookback phase).
Outperformance	Outperformance instruments allow for a disproportionate participation in the positive performance of the underlying upon maturity.
Open-end	The Instruments do not have a predetermined fixed maturity.
Partial Capital Protection	Capital protection is between 90% and 100% of the nominal value.
Participation	This indicates to what proportion the investor profits from the price performance of the Underlying Asset. This can be 1:1, over or under-proportional.
Puttable	The investor has the right to return the Instrument to the Issuer on certain days during the term.
Softcallable	The issuer has the right to cancel early, however, there is no obligation to do so.
TCM/COSI	The issuer of collateral secured instruments provides SIX Swiss Exchange with collateral covering their current value. For the investor this means protection in case of issuer default. Tri-party collateral management (TCM) offering features real-time exposure coverage and collateral substitution.
Variable Coupon	The coupon amount can vary depending on a predefined scenario.
Worst-of	The return of the Instrument depends on the performance of the worst performing Underlying Asset.

The above list of product features is not exhaustive and a particular Instrument may have other product features.

4. Mechanisms of Product Types

4.1 Capital Protection Products (SSPA Category 11)

"Capital Protection Products" are primarily targeted at investors that (i) expect the value of the Underlying Asset to increase (or, in the case of "Capital Protection Products" with a bear feature, to decrease) but (ii) cannot exclude a sharp decrease (or, in the case of "Capital Protection Products" with a bear feature, a sharp increase) of the value of the Underlying Asset throughout the term of such "Capital Protection Products".

"Capital Protection Products" provide for a specific minimum redemption amount. The level of the minimum redemption amount representing the level of capital protection indicates the percentage of the nominal or par value of the "Capital Protection Product" that the investor will be entitled to at the settlement date. The Issuer sets it at the time of the issuance and it applies only at the end of the term or at maturity. The Issuer may set the level of the minimum redemption amount representing the level of capital protection below 100% of the nominal or par value of the "Capital Protection Products" (partial capital protection). Capital protection therefore does not mean that the investor is entitled to a redemption amount equal to the full nominal or par value of the "Capital Protection Products". The potential loss is limited by the minimum redemption amount, subject to the credit risk of the Issuer.

(a) Capital Protection Notes with Participation (SSPA Category 1100)

"Capital Protection Notes with Participation" are primarily targeted at investors that (i) expect the value of the Underlying Asset and its volatility to increase (or, in the case of "Capital Protection Notes with Participation" with a bear feature, the value of the Underlying Asset to decrease) but (ii) consider a sharp decrease of the value of the Underlying Asset to be possible (or, in the case of "Capital Protection Notes with Participation" with a bear feature, a sharp increase of the value of the Underlying Asset).

"Capital Protection Notes with Participation" allow investors to participate in the performance of the Underlying Asset. If the value of the Underlying Asset has developed favourably (i.e., if the value of the Underlying Asset has increased or, in case of "Capital Protection Notes with Participation" with a bear feature, decreased), the return will exceed the minimum redemption amount of the "Capital Protection Notes with Participation".

(b) Capital Protection Notes with Barrier (SSPA Category 1130)

"Capital Protection Notes with Barrier" are primarily targeted at investors that (i) expect the value of the Underlying Asset to increase (or, in the case of "Capital Protection Notes with Barrier" with a bear feature the value of the Underlying Asset to decrease) but (ii) consider a sharp decrease of the value of the Underlying Asset to be possible (or, in the case of "Capital Protection Notes with Barrier" with a bear feature, a sharp increase of the value of the Underlying Asset) and (iii) expect that the value of the Underlying Asset will not increase above (or, in case of "Capital Protection Notes with Barrier" with a bear feature, fall below) the specified barrier throughout the term of such "Capital Protection Notes with Barrier".

"Capital Protection Notes with Barrier" allow investors to participate in the performance of the Underlying Asset up (or, in case of "Barrier Capital Protection Certificates" with a bear feature, down) to such barrier. If the value of the Underlying Asset has developed favourably (i.e., if the value of the Underlying Asset has increased or, in case of "Barrier Capital Protection Certificates" with a bear feature, decreased), the return will exceed the minimum redemption amount of the "Barrier Capital Protection Certificates" but is limited by the level of the specified barrier. In case of a breach of such barrier, the redemption amount will be reduced but be at least equal to the minimum redemption amount.

(c) Capital Protection Notes with Twin-Win (SSPA Category 1135)

"Capital Protection Notes with Twin-Win" are primarily targeted at investors that (i) expect the value of the Underlying Asset to slightly increase or fall but (ii) consider a sharp decrease of the value of the Underlying Asset to be possible and (iii) expect that the value of the Underlying Asset will not increase above a specified upper barrier and not fall below a specified lower barrier throughout the term of such "Capital Protection Notes with Twin-Win".

"Capital Protection Notes with Twin-Win" allow investors to participate in the absolute performance (positive as well as negative performance) of the Underlying Asset within the upper and lower barrier. If the value of the Underlying Asset has developed favourably (i.e., if the value of the Underlying Asset has increased or decreased but not breached either of the barriers), the return will exceed the minimum redemption amount of the "Capital Protection Notes with Twin-Win" but is limited by the level of the upper and lower barrier, respectively. In case of a breach of a barrier, the redemption amount will be reduced but be at least be equal to the minimum redemption amount.

(d) Capital Protection Notes with Coupon (SSPA Category 1140)

"Capital Protection Notes with Coupon" are primarily targeted at investors that (i) expect the value of the Underlying Asset to increase (or, in the case of "Capital Protection Notes with Coupon" with a bear feature, the value of the Underlying Asset to decrease) but (ii) consider a sharp decrease of the value of the Underlying Asset to be possible (or, in the case of "Capital Protection Notes with Coupon" with a bear feature, a sharp increase of the value of the Underlying Asset).

"Capital Protection Notes with Coupon" allow investors to participate in the performance of the Underlying Asset by receiving a periodic coupon payment. The amount of the coupon payment may be fixed or may be variable and depend on the value of the Underlying Asset at a specific date prior to each coupon payment date (variable coupon). In case of a variable coupon, the amount of the coupon payment increases (or, in case of "Capital Protection Notes with Coupon" with a bear feature, decreases) if the value of the Underlying Asset has developed favourably (i.e., if the value of the Underlying Asset has increased or, in case of "Capital Protection Notes with Coupon" with a bear feature, decreased). In case of "Capital Protection Notes with Coupon" with a fixed coupon, the payment of the coupon may depend on the value of the Underlying Asset not breaching a specified barrier (coupon at risk). If such barrier is breached, the investor will not be entitled to a coupon payment on the relevant coupon payment date.

4.2 Yield Enhancement Products (SSPA Category 12)

"Yield Enhancement Products" are primarily targeted at investors that expect (i) the value of the Underlying Asset to remain constant or to slightly increase (or, in the case of "Yield Enhancement Products" with a bear feature, to slightly decrease) and (ii) volatility of the Underlying Asset to decrease, in each case, throughout the term of the "Yield Enhancement Products".

"Yield Enhancement Products" provide for a redemption amount that is limited to a maximum amount (cap) and may provide for (fixed or variable) periodic coupon payments during the term.

"Yield Enhancement Products" may be linked to several Underlying Assets and may therefore offer a larger discount or coupon than "Yield Enhancement Products" linked to just one Underlying Asset.

The product category "Yield Enhancement Products" includes in particular the following product types:

(a) Discount Certificates (SSPA Category 1200)

"Discount Certificates" are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to move sideways or to slightly increase (or, in the case of "Discount Certificates" with a bear feature to move sideways or to slightly decrease), with falling volatility.

"Discount Certificates" are issued at a discount, i.e. a discount compared to a direct investment in the Underlying Asset. The redemption amount depends on the value of the Underlying Asset at redemption. If the value of the Underlying Asset has developed favourably (i.e., if the value of the Underlying Asset at redemption is above or, in case of "Discount Certificates" with a bear feature, below) the specified strike price (typically the initial value of the Underlying Asset), the redemption amount will be equal to such strike price.

(b) Barrier Discount Certificates (SSPA Category 1210)

"Barrier Discount Certificates" are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset (i) to remain constant or to slightly increase (or, in the case of "Barrier Discount Certificates" with a bear feature, to slightly decrease), with falling volatility, and (ii) not to fall below (or, in case of "Barrier Discount Certificates" with a bear feature, rise above) the specified barrier throughout the term of the "Barrier Discount Certificates".

"Barrier Discount Certificates" are issued at a discount, i.e. a discount compared to a direct investment in the Underlying Asset and provide for a conditional minimum redemption amount (i.e., the redemption amount is at least equal to, generally, 100% of the nominal or par value of the "Barrier Discount Certificates" if the specified barrier is not breached during the term of the "Barrier Discount Certificates").

If the value of the Underlying Asset has developed favourably (i.e., if the value of the Underlying Asset did not fall below or, in case of "Barrier Discount Certificates" with a bear feature, rise above) the specified barrier throughout the term of the "Barrier Discount Certificates" or, if the barrier is breached, the value of the Underlying Assets at redemption is at or above (or, in case of "Barrier Discount Certificates" with a bear feature, below) the specified strike price (typically the initial value of the Underlying Asset), the redemption amount will be equal to such strike price.

Multiple Underlying Assets (worst-of) enable more attractive product conditions, but with higher risk.

In contrast to "Discount Certificates" (SSPA Category 1200), the probability of receiving the maximum redemption amount under "Barrier Discount Certificates" is higher due to the conditional protection provided by the barrier, although the discount at which they are issued is generally smaller and therefore the return on an investment in "Barrier Discount Certificates" generally lower.

(c) Reverse Convertibles (SSPA Category 1220)

"Reverse Convertibles" are primarily targeted at investors that expect (i) the value of the Underlying Asset to move sideways or to slightly increase (or, in the case of "Reverse Convertibles" with a bear feature to move sideways or to slightly decrease) and (ii) falling volatility.

"Reverse Convertibles" allow investors to benefit from an enhanced return by receiving a periodic coupon payment. The redemption amount depends on the value of the Underlying Asset at the end of the term of the "Reverse Convertibles". If the value of the Underlying Asset has developed favourably (i.e., if the value of the Underlying Asset at redemption is above (or, in case of "Reverse Convertibles" with a bear feature, below) the specified strike price (typically the initial value of the Underlying Asset)), the redemption amount will be equal to such strike price.

(d) Barrier Reverse Convertibles (SSPA Category 1230)

"Barrier Reverse Convertibles" are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset (i) to remain constant or to slightly increase (or, in the case of "Barrier Reverse Convertibles" with a bear feature, to slightly decrease), with falling volatility, and (ii) not to fall below (or, in case of "Barrier Reverse Convertibles" with a bear feature, rise above) the specified barrier throughout the term of the "Barrier Reverse Convertibles".

"Barrier Reverse Convertibles" allow investors to benefit from an enhanced return by receiving a periodic coupon payment and provide for a conditional minimum redemption amount at the end of the term of the "Barrier Reverse Convertibles" (i.e., the redemption amount is at least equal to, generally, 100% of the nominal or par value of the "Barrier Reverse Convertibles" if the specified barrier is not breached during the term of the "Barrier Reverse Convertibles")

If the value of the Underlying Asset has developed favourably (i.e., if the value of the Underlying Asset did not fall below or, in case of "Barrier Reverse Convertibles" with a bear feature, rise above) the specified barrier throughout the term of the "Barrier Reverse Convertibles" or, if the barrier is breached, the value of the Underlying Assets at redemption is at or above (or, in case of "Barrier Reverse Convertibles" with a bear feature, below) the specified strike price (typically the initial value of the Underlying Asset), the redemption amount will at least be equal to, generally, 100% of the nominal or par value of the "Barrier Reverse Convertibles".

Multiple Underlying Assets (worst-of) enable more attractive product conditions, but with higher risk.

In contrast to "Reverse Convertibles" (SSPA Category 1220), the probability of receiving the maximum redemption amount under "Barrier Reverse Convertibles" is higher due to the conditional protection provided by the barrier, although the periodic coupon payment and therefore the return on an investment in "Barrier Reverse Convertibles" is generally lower.

(e) Conditional Coupon Reverse Convertibles (SSPA Category 1255)

"Conditional Coupon Reverse Convertibles" are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to remain constant or to slightly increase (or, in the case of "Conditional Coupon Reverse Convertible" with a bear feature, to slightly decrease), with falling volatility.

"Conditional Coupon Reverse Convertible" typically provide for one or more coupon payments in respect of one or more observation dates on which the value of the Underlying Asset is observed. If the value of the Underlying Asset has increased (or in the case of "Conditional Coupon Reverse Convertible" with a bear feature, decreased) to a specified threshold, investors are entitled to a coupon payment in respect of such observation date.

If the value of the Underlying Asset has increased and it exceeds (or, in case of "Conditional Coupon Reverse Convertible" with a bear feature, has decreased and falls below) a specified threshold (autocall trigger), such "Conditional Coupon Reverse Convertible" are redeemed early on the relevant autocall trigger date and investors are entitled to an early redemption amount equal to, generally, 100% of the nominal or par value of the "Conditional Coupon Reverse Convertible" plus a coupon.

(f) Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertibles (SSPA Category 1260)

"Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertibles" are primarily targeted at investors that expect (i) the value of the Underlying Asset to remain constant or to slightly increase (or, in the case of "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertibles" with a bear feature, to slightly decrease), with falling volatility, and (ii) not to fall below (or, in case of "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertibles" with a bear feature, rise above) the specified barrier throughout the term of the "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertibles".

"Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertibles" typically provide for one or more coupon payments in respect of one or more observation dates on which the value of the Underlying Asset is observed. If the value of the Underlying Asset has increased (or in the case of "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertibles" with a bear feature, decreased) to a specified threshold, investors are entitled to a coupon payment in respect of such observation date.

If the value of the Underlying Asset has increased and exceeds (or, in case of "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertibles" with a bear feature, has decreased and falls below) a specified threshold (autocall trigger), such "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertible" are redeemed early on the relevant autocall trigger date and investors are entitled to an early redemption amount equal to, generally, 100% of the nominal or par value of the "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertible" plus a coupon.

"Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertible" provide for a conditional minimum redemption amount at the end of the term of the "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertible" (i.e., the redemption amount is at least equal to, generally, 100% of the nominal or par value of the "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertible" if the specified barrier is not breached during the term).

If the value of the Underlying Asset has developed favourably (i.e., if the value of the Underlying Asset did not fall below (or, in case of "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertible" with a bear feature, rise above) the specified barrier throughout the term of the "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertible" or, if the barrier is breached, the value of the Underlying Assets at redemption is at or above (or, in case of "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertible" with a bear feature, below) the specified strike price (typically the initial value of the Underlying Asset), the redemption amount will at least be equal to, generally, 100% of the nominal or par value of the "Conditional Coupon Barrier Reverse Convertible".

4.3 Participation Products (SSPA Category 13)

"Participation Products" are primarily targeted at investors (i) that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to increase (or, in the case of "Participation Products" with a bear feature, to decrease), (ii) but are unwilling or unable to make an investment in the amount required for a direct investment achieving the desired participation in the development of the value of the Underlying Asset.

"Participation Products" generally track the performance of the Underlying Asset and enable investors to participate in the performance of the Underlying Asset. Depending on the structure of the "Participation Product", investors participate proportionately or disproportionately in the performance of the Underlying Asset. The profit an investor may achieve by investing in a "Participation Product" is theoretically unlimited, but there is the risk of total loss.

"Participation Products" can provide for a minimum redemption amount. The level of the minimal redemption amount representing the level of capital protection indicates the percentage of the nominal or par value of the "Participation Products" that the investor will be entitled to at the settlement date, provided the barrier is not reached, if applicable. If the barrier is reached or exceeded (either above or below), investors lose the minimum redemption amount (limited capital protection). The redemption in the case of "Participation Products", depending on the structure or the Underlying Asset, may be made by payment of a cash settlement amount or the physical delivery of the relevant Underlying Asset, adjusted in accordance with the ratio.

- (a) Tracker Certificates (SSPA Category 1300)

"Tracker Certificates" are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to increase (or, in the case of "Tracker Certificates" with a bear feature, to decrease). "Tracker Certificates" allow an investor to participate in the performance of one or more Underlying Assets, which can be equally or unequally weighted. The profit and loss potential of the "Tracker Certificates" corresponds largely to that of the Underlying Assets and is not limited.

(b) Outperformance Certificates (SSPA Category 1310)

"Outperformance Certificates" are primarily targeted at investors that expect (i) the value of the Underlying Asset to increase (or, in the case of "Outperformance Certificates" with a bear feature, to decrease) and (ii) the volatility to increase.

"Outperformance Certificates" allow investors to participate in the performance of the Underlying Assets.

If the defined strike price is reached, the participation of the investor is increased through a participation factor resulting in a disproportionate participation in the positive performance (or, in case of an "Outperformance Certificate" with a bear feature, in the negative performance) of the Underlying Asset. Such "Outperformance Certificates" may provide for a limit on the achievable profits (cap). The loss potential of the "Outperformance Certificates" corresponds largely to that of the Underlying Assets and there is the risk of total loss.

(c) Bonus Certificates (SSPA Category 1320)

"Bonus Certificates" are primarily targeted at investors that expect (i) the value of the Underlying Asset to move sideways or to increase (or, in the case of "Bonus Certificates" with a bear feature, to decrease) and (ii) the Underlying Asset not to reach or breach the defined barrier throughout the term of such "Bonus Certificates".

"Bonus Certificates" allow the investor to participate in the performance of the Underlying Asset and provide for a conditional minimum redemption amount at the end of the term of the "Bonus Certificates".

If the specified barrier is not reached or breached during the term of the "Bonus Certificate", the investor will receive at least the minimum redemption amount and the potential profit corresponds largely to that of the Underlying Assets and is not limited.

If the barrier is reached or breached, such "Bonus Certificates" change into "Tracker Certificates", with no capital protection. The loss potential then corresponds largely to that of the Underlying Assets and there is the risk of total loss.

(d) Bonus Outperformance Certificates (SSPA Category 1330)

"Bonus Outperformance Certificates" are primarily targeted at investors that expect (i) the value of the Underlying Asset to increase (or, in the case of "Bonus Outperformance Certificates" with a bear feature, to decrease) and (ii) the Underlying Asset not to reach or breach the specified barrier throughout the term of such "Bonus Outperformance Certificates".

"Bonus Outperformance Certificates" allow the investor to participate in the performance of the Underlying Asset and provide for a conditional minimum redemption amount at the end of the term of the "Bonus Outperformance Certificates".

If the specified barrier is not reached or breached during the term of the "Bonus Outperformance Certificate", investor will receive at least the minimum redemption amount.

Furthermore, if the defined strike price is reached, the participation of the investor is increased by a participation factor resulting in a disproportionate participation in the positive performance (or, in case of an "Bonus Outperformance Certificate" with a bear feature, in the negative performance) of the Underlying Asset and the potential profit is not limited.

If the specified barrier is reached or breached during the term of the "Bonus Outperformance Certificates", such "Bonus Outperformance Certificates" change into "Outperformance Certificates", with no capital protection. The loss potential then corresponds largely to that of the Underlying Assets and there is the risk of total loss.

(e) Twin Win Certificates (SSPA Category 1340)

"Twin Win Certificates" are primarily targeted at investors that expect (i) the value of the Underlying Asset to move sideways or to increase (or, in the case of "Twin Win Certificates" with a bear feature, to decrease or move sideways) and (ii) the Underlying Asset not to breach the defined barrier throughout the term of such "Twin Win Certificates"

"Twin Win Certificates" allow the investor to participate in the performance of the Underlying Asset. Profits are possible with both an increasing and slightly decreasing value of the Underlying Asset (or, in the case of "Twin Win Certificates" with a bear feature decreasing or slightly increasing value of the Underlying Asset).

If the value of the Underlying Asset increases above the strike price, the value of the "Twin Win Certificates" and the profit corresponds largely to that of the Underlying Assets and the potential profit is not limited.

If the value of the Underlying Assets is below the strike price, but the value of the Underlying Asset did not touch or fall below the barrier throughout the term of such "Twin Win Certificates", then the negative performance of the Underlying Asset is converted into corresponding profits for investors in the "Twin Win Certificates".

"Twin Win Certificates" provide for a conditional minimum redemption amount. The level of the minimum redemption amount representing the level of partial capital protection indicates the percentage of the nominal or par value of the "Twin Win Certificates" that the investor will be entitled to at the settlement date, provided the barrier is not reached or breached.

If the barrier is breached, such "Twin Win Certificates" change into "Tracker Certificates" and the loss potential then corresponds largely to that of the Underlying Assets and there is the risk of total loss.

4.4 Investment Products with Additional Credit Risk (SSPA Category 14)

"Investment Products with Additional Credit Risk" are affected by the occurrence of a defined credit event in respect of a reference entity or obligation. If a credit event occurs in respect of a reference entity or obligation during the term of the "Investment Products with Additional Credit Risk", they will be redeemed at a value which may be significantly below their initial value and as low as zero and investors will make a partial or total loss. An investor may consider an investment in such products if premature default of the reference entity is considered extremely unlikely.

The product category "Investment Products with Additional Credit Risk" includes in particular the following product types:

(a) Credit Linked Notes (SSPA Category 1400)

"Credit Linked Notes" are primarily targeted at investors that expect that no credit event to occur with regard to a reference entity or reference obligation. Generally, if during the term of a "Credit Linked Note" a credit event or a credit redemption event in respect of the relevant reference entity or reference entities occurs, further coupon payments and the repayment of the entire or part of the redemption amount are jeopardised as specified in the applicable terms and conditions of the respective "Credit Linked Note" (early redemption). In such case the amount investors receive may be significantly below its initial value and as low as zero and investors will make a partial or total loss. Therefore, in particular, the solvency of a specific reference entity is decisive.

Generally, if during the term of a "Credit Linked Note" no credit event or credit redemption event occurs in respect of the relevant reference entity resp. reference entities, "Credit Linked Notes" generally provide for a defined scheduled redemption amount equal to a certain percentage of the relevant outstanding principal amount specified in the applicable terms and conditions, which investors will receive on the defined scheduled maturity date, provided that the product is not redeemed prior to the scheduled maturity date.

(b) Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk (SSPA Category 1410)

"Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk" are primarily targeted at investors that (i) expect the value of the Underlying Asset to increase (or, in the case of "Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk" with a bear feature, to decrease), (ii) consider a sharp decrease of the value of the Underlying Asset to be possible (or, in the case of "Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk" with a bear feature, a sharp increase of the value of the Underlying Asset) and (iii) and expect no credit event to occur with regard to a reference entity or obligation.

"Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk" may have one or more underlying reference entities or obligations. If during the term of the "Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk" no credit event occurs in respect of the reference entity or obligation, investors will participate in the performance of the Underlying Asset. If the value of the Underlying Asset has developed favourably (i.e., if the value of the Underlying Asset has increased or, in case of "Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk" with a bear feature, decreased), the return will exceed the minimum redemption amount of the "Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk". Therefore, if no credit event occurs, "Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk" work in the same manner as the corresponding "Capital Protection Product" on which they are based.

If a credit event occurs in respect of the reference entity or obligation during the term of the "Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk", the investor loses the capital protection and the "Conditional Capital Protection Notes with Additional Credit Risk" will be redeemed at a value which may be significantly below their initial value and as low as zero and investors will make a partial or total loss.

(c) Yield Enhancement Certificates with Additional Credit Risk (SSPA Category 1420)

"Yield Enhancement Certificates with Additional Credit Risk" are primarily targeted at investors that expect (i) the value of the Underlying Asset to move sideways or to slightly increase (or, in the case of "Yield Enhancement Certificates with Additional Credit Risk" with a bear feature to slightly decrease), with falling volatility, and (ii) no credit event to occur with regard to a reference entity or obligation.

"Yield Enhancement Certificates with Additional Credit Risk" may have one or more underlying reference entities or obligations. If during the term of the "Yield Enhancement Certificates with Additional Credit Risk" no credit event occurs in respect of the reference entity or obligation, investors will receive a coupon or a discount and the "Yield Enhancement Certificates with Additional Credit Risk" will work in the same manner as the corresponding "Yield Enhancement Product" on which they are based.

If a credit event occurs in respect of the reference entity or obligation during the term of the "Yield Enhancement Certificates with Additional Credit Risk", they will be redeemed at a value which may be significantly below their initial value and as low as zero and investors will make a partial or total loss.

(d) Participation Certificates with Additional Credit Risk (SSPA Category 1430)

"Participation Certificates with Additional Credit Risk" are primarily targeted at investors that expect (i) the value of the Underlying Asset to increase (or, in the case of "Participation Certificates with Additional Credit Risk" with a bear feature, to decrease) and (ii) no credit event to occur with regard to a reference entity or obligation.

"Participation Certificates with Additional Credit Risk" may have one or more underlying reference entities or obligations. If during the term of the "Participation Certificates with Additional Credit Risk" no credit event occurs in respect of the reference entity or obligation, investors will participate in the performance of the Underlying Asset in the same manner as the corresponding "Participation Product" on which they are based.

If a credit event occurs in respect of the reference entity or obligation during the term of the "Participation Certificates with Additional Credit Risk", they will be redeemed at a value which may be significantly below their initial value and as low as zero and investors will make a partial or total loss.

4.5 Leverage Products (SSPA Category 20)

"Leverage Products" are subject to a leverage effect both in the direction of profits and losses, i.e., changes in the value of the Underlying Asset have a disproportionate effect on the value of "Leveraged Products" compared to a direct investment in the Underlying Asset. The leverage effect permits investors to use less capital compared to investing directly in the Underlying Asset.

The product category "Leverage Products" includes in particular the following product types:

(a) Warrants (SSPA Category 2100)

"Warrants" with a call feature are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset and the volatility to increase. "Warrants" with a put feature are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to decrease and volatility to increase. "Warrants" are therefore suitable for hedging and speculating.

The essential attribute of "Warrants" is the leverage effect. The leverage effect causes the value of such "Warrants" to react proportionally more strongly to changes in the value of the Underlying Asset below or above the strike price, as applicable. The leverage is the result of the fact that the invested capital in such "Warrants" is smaller than for a direct investment in the Underlying Asset. Therefore, a smaller investment may generate a leveraged positive or negative performance relative to the Underlying Asset.

(b) Spread Warrants (SSPA Category 2110)

"Spread Warrants" with a bull feature are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to increase. "Spread Warrants" with a bear feature are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to decrease.

"Spread Warrants" provide for a leverage effect, meaning the value of such "Spread Warrants" will react proportionally more strongly to changes in the value of the Underlying Asset below or above the strike price, as applicable. The leverage is the result of the fact that the invested capital in such "Spread Warrants" is smaller than for a direct investment in the Underlying Asset. Therefore, a smaller investment may generate a leveraged performance relative to the Underlying Asset.

The potential yield of an investment in "Spread Warrants" is limited, namely by the upper cap in the case of "Spread Warrants" with a bull feature and by the lower cap in the case of "Spread Warrants" with a bear feature. This means that an investor may benefit from an increase (in the case of a bull feature) or a decrease (in the case of a bear feature) of the value of the Underlying Asset up to a maximum value at the lower or upper cap, as applicable.

(c) Warrants with Knock-Out (SSPA Category 2200)

"Warrants with Knock-Out" and a call feature are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to increase. "Warrants with Knock-Out" and a put feature are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to decrease-

"Warrants with Knock-Out" provide for a leverage effect, meaning the value of such "Warrants with Knock-Out" will react proportionally more strongly to changes in the value of the Underlying Asset below or above the knock out, as applicable. The leverage is the result of the fact that the invested capital in such "Warrants with Knock-Out" is smaller than for a direct investment in the Underlying Asset. Therefore, a smaller investment may generate a leveraged performance relative to the Underlying Asset.

Volatility only has a minor effect on the value of "Warrants with Knock-Out" and also the loss of time value is marginal.

(d) Mini-Futures (SSPA Category 2210)

"Mini Futures" (long) are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to increase. "Mini Futures" (short) are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to decrease. "Mini Futures" are therefore suitable for hedging and speculating.

"Mini Futures" provide for a leverage effect, meaning the value of such "Mini Futures" will react proportionally more strongly to changes in the value of the Underlying Asset below or above the stop-loss barrier. The leverage effect is the result of the fact that the invested capital in such "Mini Futures" is smaller than for a direct investment in the Underlying Asset. Therefore, a smaller investment may generate a leveraged performance relative to the Underlying Asset.

Volatility has no influence on "Mini Futures".

(e) Constant-Leverage Certificates (SSPA Category 2300)

"Constant Leverage Certificates" (long) are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to increase. "Constant Leverage Certificates" (short) are primarily targeted at investors that expect the value of the Underlying Asset to decrease. "Constant Leverage Certificates" allow investors to make long term-leveraged investments in an Underlying Asset for which the risk and leverage effect are kept constant.

"Constant Leverage Certificates" provide for a leverage effect, meaning the value of such "Constant Leverage Certificates" will react proportionally more strongly to changes in the value of the Underlying Asset. The leverage effect is the result of the fact that the invested capital in such "Constant Leverage Certificates" is smaller than for a direct investment in the Underlying Asset. Therefore, a smaller investment may generate a leveraged performance relative to the Underlying Asset. Unlike other "Leverage Products", the leverage effect of "Constant Leverage Certificates" remains constant. A regular resetting mechanism under which the performance of the Underlying Asset is mirrored with a defined leverage factor (i.e., a constant leverage of, for example, 10), ensures that the leverage effect remains constant.

"Barrier Level" means, in respect of a Bond, such price for such Bond as is specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Bond" means the bonds or debt securities specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, which is further identified by the maturity, Bond Issuer, Bond ISIN and Bond Denomination specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Bond Denomination" means, in respect of a Bond, the amount specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Bond Early Redemption" means the Bond is redeemed in part or in full for any reason prior to its scheduled maturity date (other than due to the occurrence of a default, event of default or other similar condition or event (however described) or a failure to make any required payment).

- (a) Failure to Pay;

- (e) Obligation Acceleration;
- (f) Bond Early Redemption;
- (g) Bond Payment Reduction, in each case, as determined by the Calculation Agent.

If, in the determination of the Calculation Agent, an event constitutes a Bond Event, such event will constitute a Bond Event whether or not the occurrence of such event arises, directly or indirectly, from, or is subject to a defence based upon:

- (i) any lack or alleged lack of authority or capacity of the Bond Issuer to issue the Bond or otherwise enter into the obligations constituting the Bond;
- (ii) any actual or alleged unenforceability, illegality, impossibility or invalidity with respect to the Bond (however described);
- (iii) any applicable law, order, regulation, decree or notice (however described) or the promulgation of, or any change in, the interpretation by any court, tribunal, regulatory authority or similar administrative or judicial body with competent or apparent jurisdiction of any applicable law, order, regulation, decree or notice (however described); or

"Default Requirement" means the amount specified as such in the applicable Final Terms or its equivalent in another currency (or, if no such amount is specified, USD 10,000,000 or its equivalent in another currency) in either case, as of the date of occurrence of the relevant Bond Event.

"Exchange" means, in relation to a Bond, each securities exchange or trading market specified as such for such Bond in the applicable Final Terms (including any successor to that securities exchange or trading market) for so long as the Bonds are listed or otherwise included in that securities exchange or trading market. If the specified Exchange ceases to list or otherwise include such Bonds and the Bonds are listed or otherwise included in any other securities exchange or trading market, the Calculation Agent may acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner select an alternative securities exchange or trading market as the Exchange for such Bond and shall notify the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable.

"Exchange Business Day" means any day that is a trading day on the Exchange (or on each Exchange if more than one is specified) other than a day on which trading on that Exchange is scheduled to close prior to its regular weekday closing time.

"Failure to Pay" means, after the expiration of any applicable Grace Period (after the satisfaction of any conditions precedent to the commencement of such Grace Period), the failure by the Bond Issuer to make, when and where due, any payments in an aggregate amount of not less than the Payment Requirement under the Bond, in accordance with the terms of the Bond at the time of such failure.

"Final Accrued Interest" means, in respect of a Bond, the percentage specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Final Price (Clean)" means the arithmetic average of the ask and bid of the price of the Bond published or displayed by the Relevant Price Source at or around the Valuation Time, on the Valuation Date, or if, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, no such price can reasonably be determined or the price published or displayed by the Relevant Price Source is stale or otherwise not representative of the current market, the Calculation Agent will request five dealers selected by the Calculation Agent to provide clean quotations for the mid-price of the Bond, at or around the Valuation Time, on the Valuation Date and (A) if at least three quotations are provided, the Final Price (Clean) will be the arithmetic mean of the quotations, eliminating the highest and lowest quotations or, in the event of equality, one of the highest and one of the lowest quotations, or (B) if fewer than three quotations are provided, the Final Price (Clean) will be the price determined by the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, at or around the Valuation Time on the Valuation Date.

"Final Price (Dirty)" means, in respect of a Bond, the sum of the Final Price (Clean) and the Final Accrued Interest.

"Governmental Authority" means any de facto or de jure government (or any agency, instrumentality, ministry or department thereof), court, tribunal, administrative or other governmental authority or any other entity (private or public) charged with the regulation of the financial markets (including the central bank) in the jurisdiction of the Bond Issuer or the Bond Issuer, or any other authority which is analogous to any of the aforementioned entities.

"Grace Period" means the applicable grace period with respect to payments under and in accordance with the terms of the Bond in effect as of the Trade Date.

"Obligation Acceleration" means an aggregate nominal amount of not less than the Default Requirement has become due and payable in respect of the Bond before it would otherwise have been due and payable as a result of, or on the basis of, the occurrence of a default, event of default or other similar condition or event (however described), other than a failure to make any required payment.

"Payment Requirement" means the amount specified as such in the applicable Final Terms or its equivalent in another currency (or, if no such amount is specified, USD 1,000,000 or its equivalent in another currency) in either case as of the occurrence of the relevant Failure to Pay or Potential Failure to Pay, as applicable.

"Potential Failure to Pay" means the failure by the Bond Issuer to make, when and where due, any payments in an aggregate amount of not less than the Payment Requirement under the Bond in accordance with the terms of the Bond at the time of such failure, without regard to any grace

"Potential Repudiation/Moratorium" means the occurrence of an event described in paragraph (a) of the definition of Repudiation/Moratorium.

"Relevant Price Source" means the Bloomberg screen (or any successor or replacement service) or Reuters screen (or any successor or replacement service) specified in the applicable Final Terms, or other screen page or data source (including, without limitation, Tradeweb) specified as such in the applicable Final Terms (or any successor or replacement service or data source).

"Repudiation/Moratorium" means, with respect to a Bond, the occurrence of both of the following events:

- (a) an authorised officer of the Bond Issuer or a Governmental Authority (i) disaffirms, disclaims, repudiates or rejects, in whole or in part, or challenges the validity of, the Bond in an aggregate amount of not less than the Default Requirement or (ii) declares or imposes a moratorium, standstill, roll-over or deferral, whether de facto or de jure, with respect to the Bond in an aggregate amount of not less than the Default Requirement; and
- (b) a Failure to Pay, determined without regard to the Payment Requirement, or a Restructuring, determined without regard to the Default Requirement, with respect to the Bond occurs on or prior to the date that is the later of (i) the date that is 60 days after the occurrence of an event described in paragraph (a) above and (ii) the first payment date under the Bond after the occurrence of an event described in paragraph (a) (or, if later, the expiration date of any applicable Grace Period in respect of such payment date).

"Restructuring":

- (a) Restructuring means, with respect to a Bond and in relation to an aggregate amount of not less than the Default Requirement, any one or more of the following events occurs in a form that binds all holders of the Bond, is agreed between the Bond Issuer or a Governmental Authority and a sufficient number of holders of the Bond to bind all holders of the Bond or is announced (or otherwise decreed) by the Bond Issuer or a Governmental Authority in a form that binds all holders of such Bond (including, in each case, by way of an exchange), and such event is not expressly provided for under the terms of the Bond in effect as of the Trade Date of the Instruments:
 - (i) if applicable, a reduction in the rate or amount of interest payable or the amount of scheduled interest accruals (including by way of redenomination);
 - (ii) a reduction in the amount of principal or premium payable at redemption (including by way of redenomination);
 - (iii) a postponement or other deferral of a date or dates for either (I) the payment or accrual of interest, if applicable, or (II) the payment of principal or premium;
 - (iv) a change in the ranking in priority of payment of the Bond, causing the subordination of the Bond to any other obligation of the Bond Issuer; or
 - (v) any change in the currency of any payment of interest, principal or premium, as may be applicable, to any currency other than the lawful currency of Canada, Japan, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States of America and the euro and any successor currency to any of the aforementioned currencies (which in the case of the euro, shall mean the currency which succeeds to and replaces the euro in whole).
- (b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, none of the following shall constitute a Restructuring:

- (i) the occurrence of, agreement to or announcement of any of the events described in sub-paragraphs (i) to (v) of paragraph (a) above due to an administrative adjustment, accounting adjustment or tax adjustment or other technical adjustment occurring in the ordinary course of business; and
 - (ii) the occurrence of, agreement to or announcement of any of the events described in sub-paragraphs (i) to (v) of paragraph (a) above in circumstances where such event does not directly or indirectly result from a deterioration in the creditworthiness or financial condition of the Bond Issuer.
- (c) If an exchange has occurred, the determination as to whether one of the events described under sub-paragraphs (i) to (v) of paragraph (a) above has occurred will be based on a comparison of the terms of the Bond immediately prior to such exchange and the terms of the resulting obligations immediately following such exchange.

"Valuation Date" means, in respect of a Bond, each date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms or, if the applicable Final Terms specify "Exchange Business Day Adjustment" to be applicable and such date is not an Exchange Business Day, the immediately following Exchange Business Day, or, if earlier, the Valuation Cut-off Date.

"Valuation Time" means the time specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

3. Barrier Event

A "Barrier Event" means (and a Barrier Event shall be deemed to occur if), in respect of a Bond, the Calculation Agent determines that the Final Price (Dirty) of such Bond is less than or equal to the corresponding Barrier Level for such Bond.

4. Correction to Bond Prices

If the ask and/or bid of the price of a Bond published or displayed by the Relevant Price Source on the Valuation Date (or other relevant date, as determined by the Calculation Agent) and which is utilised for any calculation or determination made for the purposes of the Instruments (a "Relevant Calculation") is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Bond Price") is published or displayed by the Relevant Price Source no later than two business days prior to the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made pursuant to the Relevant Calculation, then such Corrected Bond Price shall be deemed to be the relevant ask or bid price for such Bond on the Valuation Date (or other relevant date, as determined by the Calculation Agent), and the Calculation Agent shall use such Corrected Bond Price in determining the relevant price and/or whether the Barrier Event has been triggered.

5. Bond-linked Adjustment Event

If a Bond is subdivided, consolidated, reclassified or altered, or any other similar event occurs, then the Issuer in its discretion may require the Calculation Agent to make such adjustments to any terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms of the Instruments (including, without limitation, the Bond Denomination and the Bond Issuer and identity of the relevant Bond) as it determines appropriate acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner to account for such event and determine the effective date of such adjustment, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that such event also results in the occurrence of a Bond Event, then the Issuer may in its discretion instead elect to early redeem the Instruments in accordance with Bond Linked Condition 7.

Upon the making of any such adjustment, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, stating the adjustment to the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms and giving brief details of the adjustment event provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

6. Bond-linked Conversion Event

If a Bond is converted into other securities (including, without limitation, in accordance with the terms of any voluntary or involuntary exchange or restructuring programme):

- (a) such securities shall be deemed to be the Bond (if applicable, any elections under the terms of any exchange or restructuring shall be made by the Calculation Agent); and
- (b) the Issuer in its discretion may require the Calculation Agent to make such adjustments to any terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms of the Instruments (including, without limitation, the Bond Denomination and the Bond Issuer and identity of the relevant Bond) as it determines appropriate acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner to account for such event and determine the effective date of such adjustment, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that such event also results in the occurrence of a Bond Event, then the Issuer may in its discretion instead elect to early redeem the Instruments in accordance with Bond Linked Condition 7.

Upon the making of any such adjustment, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices) or W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices), as applicable, stating the adjustment to the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms and giving brief details of the adjustment event provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

7. Bond-linked Early Redemption

- (a) Early Redemption Following the Occurrence of a Bond Event

If the Calculation Agent determines that a Bond Event has occurred during the period commencing on, and including, the Trade Date, and ending on, and including, the Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments), then the Issuer may in its discretion elect to.

- (i) in the case of Notes, give notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices) and redeem all, but not less than all, of the Notes, each nominal amount of Notes equal to the Calculation Amount being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or

- (ii) in the case of W&C Instruments, cancel the W&C Instruments by giving notice to Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices). If the W&C Instruments are so cancelled the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, held by him which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Bond Event, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).

Upon the occurrence of a Bond Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices) or W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices), as applicable, stating the occurrence of the Bond Event, giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such Bond Event.

(b) Extension of the Maturity Date or Settlement Date

If the Calculation Agent determines that (i) a Potential Failure to Pay has occurred or may occur on or prior to the Scheduled Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or Scheduled Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments), or (ii) a Potential Repudiation/Moratorium has occurred or may occur on or prior to the Scheduled Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or Scheduled Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments), the Issuer may in its discretion postpone the Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments) until the earlier of (x) the date on which the Calculation Agent determines that there is no continuing risk of a related Failure to Pay or Repudiation/Moratorium occurring, and (y) the date falling three months after the Scheduled Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or Scheduled Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments).

If the Issuer postpones the Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments) in accordance with the paragraph above:

- (i) the Valuation Date shall also be postponed to correspond to the postponed Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments); and
- (ii) no interest (in the case of Notes) or additional amount (in the case of W&C Instruments) shall be payable in respect of such extension.

If the Issuer elects to postpone the Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments), the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices) or W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices), as applicable, stating the occurrence of the Potential Failure to Pay or Potential Repudiation/Moratorium, as the case may be, giving details thereof and the postponement proposed to be taken in relation thereto provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such extension of the Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments).

If the Issuer provides notice of an extension of the Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments):

- (i) in the case of Notes which bear interest, all remaining interest payments under the Notes will be suspended until the postponed Maturity Date;
- (ii) in the case of W&C Instruments which pay Additional Amounts, payment of all remaining Additional Amount(s) will be suspended until the postponed Settlement Date, and, in each case, no additional interest (in the case of Notes) or additional amount (in the case of W&C Instruments) shall be payable in respect of such suspension.

If a Bond Event subsequently occurs and the Issuer elects to early redeem the Instruments:

- (i) in the case of Notes which bear interest, interest will cease to accrue with effect from, and including, the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the date on which the Issuer provides notice of an extension of the Maturity Date;
- (ii) in the case of W&C Instruments which pay Additional Amounts, Additional Amounts will cease to accrue with effect from, and including, the Additional Amount Payment Date immediately preceding the date on which the Issuer provides notice of an extension of the Settlement Date.

If a Bond Event subsequently does not occur or the Issuer elects not to early redeem the Instruments following the occurrence of a Bond Event, the suspended interest payment(s) shall be paid on the postponed Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) or the suspended Additional Amount(s) shall be paid on the postponed Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments).

8. Additional Disruption Events

- (a) "Additional Disruption Event" means any of Change in Law, Hedging Disruption and/or Increased Cost of Hedging, in each case if specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) (i) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (ii) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines that (A) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any relevant Bond or (B) the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations in relation to the Bond Linked Instruments (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on the tax position of the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates).

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the fixed income or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the Bond Linked Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s).

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the fixed income or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the Bond Linked Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s), provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging.

- (b) If an Additional Disruption Event occurs, the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may take the action described in (i) or (ii) below:
 - (i) require the Calculation Agent to determine, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms to

- account for the Additional Disruption Event and determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
- (ii) (A) in the case of Notes, give notice to Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices) and redeem all, but not less than all, of the Notes, each nominal amount of Notes equal to the Calculation Amount being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or
 - (B) in the case of W&C Instruments, give notice to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices) and cancel the W&C Instruments. If the W&C Instruments are so cancelled the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, held by him which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Additional Disruption Event, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).
- (c) Upon the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices) or W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices), as applicable, stating the occurrence of the Additional Disruption Event giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of the Additional Disruption Event.

BBSW

The website referred to above for BBSW is located on the website of the Australian Stock Exchange (the "ASX") at <https://www2.asx.com.au/connectivity-and-data/information-services/benchmarks/benchmark-data/bbsw> (the "BBSW Website").

The administrator and publisher of BBSW is ASX Benchmarks Pty Limited ("ASX Benchmarks"), a wholly owned subsidiary of ASX Limited, the company that operates several trading, clearing and settlement platforms in Australia, including the ASX. ASX Benchmarks has been the BBSW administrator since January 1, 2017.

BBSW is a forward-looking, unsecured, short-term money market rate that reflects prime bank facing credit exposure. BBSW is intended to measure the cost for highly rated banks in Australia to issue short-term securities for specified tenors. The group of banks contributing to BBSW are those operating in Australia whose short-term securities trade as a homogenous asset class and are recognised as being of the highest quality with regard to liquidity, credit and consistency of relative yield. Eligibility to contribute to BBSW is reviewed on an annual basis.

Pursuant to the applicable methodology for BBSW as provided on the BBSW Website, BBSW is calculated based on a combination of transaction data and live executable prices using a waterfall methodology comprised of three main stages. The primary layer is calculated in the following manner: (i) if the eligible trades all occur on the same trade date, the BBSW is based on a volume weighted average of all eligible trades reported to ASX Benchmarks during the rate set window or (b) if the eligible trades fall on multiple maturity dates, the BBSW is based on a weighted methodology using "least squares" to determine a "line of best fit" through the eligible trade data. When a BBSW rate cannot be determined under either methodology of the primary layer, the secondary layer will be used to determine the BBSW by sampling bid/offer spreads from approved trading venues during three different sample periods and then calculating the average midpoint for such bid/offer spreads. In the event that the secondary layer is unable to provide a BBSW rate, then the tertiary layer consisting of a fallback methodology with five stages is employed, including interpolation or extrapolation of the rate depending on the tenor to be calculated and possible reversion to the prior day's BBSW.

ASX Benchmarks publishes BBSW each business day on the BBSW Website on a 24 hour delayed basis and maintains a 10 day history of BBSW. ASX provides real time BBSW data and additional historical data through a paid subscription to ASX Benchmarks Data.

EURIBOR

The website referred to above for EURIBOR is located on the website of its administrator, EMMI at <https://www.emmi-benchmarks.eu/benchmarks/euribor/rate/> (the "EURIBOR Website").

EURIBOR was launched by EMMI to replace the interbank rates of various EU countries. EURIBOR is intended to measure the cost of wholesale funding of credit institutions in the unsecured euro money market.

Pursuant to the applicable methodology (which is reviewed by EMMI on an annual basis) as provided on the EURIBOR Website, EURIBOR is calculated based on contributions from a representative panel of financial institutions selected by the EURIBOR Oversight Committee that are active participants in the euro money markets. The information provided by each contributor follows a three-level hierarchical approach. The first level ("Level 1") consists of quotes based solely on eligible transactions in the unsecured euro money market with a minimal notional amount of 10 million euros and the contribution rate for each financial institution providing Level 1 information is calculated using a volume weighted average of the eligible transactions by tenor. The second level ("Level 2") consists of contributions based on transactions across the broader money market maturity spectrum. If a contributor has insufficient eligible transactions for a Level 1 contribution rate to be calculated for a given tenor, but it has had transactions in nearby maturities, or quite recently, a Level 2 contribution can be calculated in the following order of operations: (i) adjusted linear interpolation from adjacent EURIBOR tenors, (ii) adjusted linear interpolation from transactions at non-EURIBOR tenors and (iii) most recent historical Level 1 contributions subject to a market adjustment factor derived from EURIBOR futures. The third level ("Level 3") consists of contributions based on transactions from a range of markets closely related to the unsecured euro money market. For Level 3 contributions, each contributor uses specific input data and tailor-made modelling techniques depending on their own funding models. All Level 3 contributions must be duly documented, validated, and always applied in a consistent fashion, under the guidance of EMMI. Once the contribution rate is calculated and received from each member of the panel of financial institutions, Global Rate Set Systems, the current calculation agent for EURIBOR, determines the daily rate for each EURIBOR tenor by eliminating the highest and lowest 15% of the contribution rates and arithmetically averaging the remaining rates.

EMMI publishes EURIBOR each business day on the EURIBOR Website which contains the last 25 days of published rates on a 24 hour delayed basis and is available without charge to any person who creates an account with EMMI. Real time EURIBOR data can be obtained by paid subscription that can be purchased through the EURIBOR Website or from authorised vendors.

KRW CD 91 Rate

The website referred to above for the KRW CD 91 Rate is located on KOFIA's website at <https://www.kofiabond.or.kr>.

The KRW CD 91 Rate, which is the key short-term benchmark interest rate in Korea, is (i) calculated by KOFIA based on the basic yield data of KRW CD submitted by the top ten institutions designated by KOFIA based on the volume of KRW CD traded during the immediately preceding year (the "Submitting Institutions") as of 16:00 (Seoul time) on each business day and (ii) published by 16:30 (Seoul time) every business day by KOFIA. The top ten Submitting Institutions are designated by KOFIA every year. Historical KRW CD 91 Rate information may be obtained free of charge on the following "Statistics" section of KOFIA's website: freesis.kofia.or.kr/stat/engMain.do.

TORF

The website referred to above for TORF is located on the website of Quick Benchmarks, Inc. ("Quick"), the administrator of TORF at: <https://www.torf.co.jp/en/document/> (the "TORF Website").

Quick Corp. commenced daily publication of TORF on a prototype basis on 9 October, 2020. Quick Corp. established Quick on 18 January 2021 to be responsible for the calculation and publication of TORF. Quick commenced daily publication of TORF on a production basis (i.e., for use in transactions) on 26 April, 2021. TORF is a forward-looking term reference rate calculated by Quick for tenors of one, three and six months. Pursuant to the methodology for TORF available on the TORF Website, TORF is calculated by Quick based on the transaction rate of OIS transactions in Japanese yen, and is intended to show the risk-free rate of Japanese yen term products at the beginning of the interest rate calculation period ("fixing in advance" method). Japanese yen OIS transactions are interest rate swaps that use TONA as the reference floating interest rate. Reporting brokers—i.e., money brokers or other intermediaries selected by Quick in accordance with the procedures set out in Quick's Operational Rules—provide execution data (i.e. data regarding Japanese yen OIS transaction executed at the reporting broker) and quote data (i.e., data of orders submitted by trading participants at the reporting broker on the premise of a transaction) to Quick for the purpose of calculating TORF. The TORF reporting brokers are Ueda Tradition Securities Ltd. Tullett Prebon (Japan) Limited and Totan ICAP Co., Ltd. The execution rate or quote rate reported by reporting brokers to calculate TORF is the interest rate on the fixed interest rate side that is exchanged for TONA, which is a floating interest rate. Quick uses a waterfall methodology to prioritise the data provided by the reporting brokers and calculate TORF for the relevant tenors. The waterfall prioritises the use of execution data, followed by different categories of quote data.

Quick currently publishes TORF on a daily basis (subject to a 24-hour delay) on its website at: <https://moneyworld.jp/page/torf.html>.

KRW CMT Rate

Currently, the KRW CMT is calculated by five Korean bond appraisers (i.e., NICE P&I, Korea Asset Pricing, KIS Pricing, FnPricing, and EG Asset Pricing) respectively, and the rates are disclosed to the Bond Information Service of the Korea Financial Investment Association ("KOFIA BIS").

The KRW CMT is provided for maturities up to 3-month, 6-month, 9-month, 1-year, 1-year-and-6-month, 2-year, 3-year, 4-year, 5-year, 7-year, 10-year, 15-year, 20-year, 30-year, and 50-year. These interest rate values are calculated independently by Korean bond appraisers based on the quotes and transaction data existing on K-Bond, the KOFIA's OTC bond trading system.

ICE Swap Rates

The website referred to above for the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®, the GBP ICE SONIA Swap Rate® and the EUR ICE EURIBOR Swap Rate® (each, an "ICE Swap Rate"), is located on website of the administrator of the ICE Swap Rates, ICE Benchmark Administration Limited ("IBA"), at <https://www.theice.com/iba/ice-swap-rate> (the "ICE Swap Rate® Website").

Each ICE Swap Rate represents the mid-price for interest rate swaps (the fixed leg) and swap spreads (the applicable mid-price minus a corresponding specified government bond yield) in the applicable currency (USD, GBP and EUR) in various tenors ranging from 1 year to 30 years at particular specified times of the day. In June 2020, IBA implemented a waterfall approach for the ICE Swap Rate methodology, which each of the ICE Swap Rates follow. Subsequently, the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® was launched by IBA for use as a benchmark on 8 November, 2021 in order to aid the market's transition to SOFR and away from USD LIBOR and the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate® was launched by IBA for use as a benchmark on 14 December, 2020 in order to aid the market's transition to SONIA as the preferred near risk-free rate for use in Sterling derivatives.

To calculate the ICE Swap Rates, IBA relies on eligible, executable prices and volumes provided by regulated, electronic, trading venues and, if such trading venues do not provide sufficient eligible input data, eligible dealer to client prices and volumes displayed electronically by trading venues. If there is insufficient eligible input data to calculate a rate in accordance with the foregoing sentence, IBA uses movement interpolation, where possible for applicable tenors, to calculate a rate. Where it is not possible to calculate an ICE Swap Rate for an applicable tenor in accordance with the foregoing, then IBA's Insufficient Data Policy as set forth on the ICE Swap Rate® Website will apply and "No Publication" will be published for the ICE Swap Rate of the applicable tenor. The ICE Swap Rate for the various applicable tenors as reported on the ICE Report Center is expressed as an integer rounded to two decimal places; however, for purpose of calculations of interest with respect to the notes, such rate will be deemed to be expressed as a percentage.

The ICE Swap Rates are calculated on each weekday other than those set forth in IBA's ICE Swap Rate Holiday Calendar, which is available on the ICE Swap Rate® Website, and published in the ICE Report Center, a link to which is available on the ICE Swap Rate® Website. For any particular day, the only rate available for viewing on the ICE Report Center is the rate published for the preceding publication day.

TONA TSR

The website referred to above for TONA TSR, is located on the website of its administrator FIL at <https://www.lseg.com/en/ftse-russell/benchmarks/tokyo-swap-rate> (the "TONA TSR Website").

TONA TSR was launched by RBSL for use as a benchmark on 28 October 2021 in order to establish a representative benchmark reference rate for OIS that reference TONA. On 16 December 2024, FIL announced that administration of TONA TSR had been transferred to FIL. The TONA OIS market exists primarily within Japan. In December 2016, the Japanese Study Group on Risk-Free Reference Rates announced TONA as its preferred risk free rate for Japanese yen.

Pursuant to the applicable methodology for TONA TSR available on the TONA TSR Website, TONA TSR is calculated using a waterfall methodology comprising two levels ("Level 1" and "Level 2"). Level 1 is based on executable dealer-to-client quotes in spot starting TONA OIS contracts from Tradeweb, a dealer-to-client trading platform, subject to a threshold for input data sufficiency. Quotes are captured for spot starting TONA OIS contracts cleared by the Japan Securities Clearing Corporation ("JSCC") in respect of each tenor of TONA TSR. Input data for Level 2 comprises rates for spot starting TONA OIS contracts from two inter-dealer brokers, Tradition and TP ICAP, and Tradeweb (composite indicative rates) and (iii) any executable dealer-to-client quotes from Tradeweb that, when considered alone, are insufficient to reach the threshold for Level 1. In addition, any dealer quotes from Tradeweb that are available but, when considered alone, are insufficient to meet the threshold for Level 1 for a specific tenor of TONA TSR will be included as input data for Level 2. Use of Level 2 for determination of each benchmark tenor also is based on a threshold for input data sufficiency. TONA TSR is published as a percentage rounded to three decimal places.

TONA TSR is calculated and published on each Tokyo business day. FIL does not make publicly available historical rates for TONA TSR and has not indicated whether such information will become publicly available in the future. In order to access such information, an investor will need to obtain a paid subscription to an LSEG service such as LSEG Data and Analytics.

KRW CMS Rate

The following information relating to the KRW CMS Rate is based on limited market information available to the Issuer and its affiliates, including the Dealer.

KRW CMS represents the mid-market rate for a Korean won deliverable interest rate swap in various tenors ranging from 1 year to 30 years, where the floating leg is based on the 91-day Korean won CD rate, equal to the arithmetic mean of the live bid and ask rates, collected by Tullett Prebon Information (or a successor information provider) and provided to Bloomberg, which appear on Bloomberg Page "GDCO 4572 33" (or any successor or replacement page to the applicable page as determined by the Calculation Agent). There is no administrator or calculation methodology for the KRW CMS Rate. The Calculation Agent will determine KRW CMS as a simple arithmetic mean of the live bid and ask rates that appear on the relevant screen page at the Relevant Time.

Bloomberg provides the bid and ask rates for Korean won deliverable interest rate swaps to its subscribers on a live basis each Seoul business day and the bid and ask rates are updated throughout the day. KRW CMS for a given business day will be determined by the Calculation Agent based on the bid and ask rates provided by Bloomberg on or after 4:00 p.m. Seoul time on such business day, or such other Relevant Time as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Tullett Prebon Information does not make publicly available any historical rate information with respect to the KRW CMS Rate, or any information relating to the data/information that is used to calculate or determine the bid and ask rates that it provides to Bloomberg, the sources from which such data/information is obtained, how it calculates such bid and ask rates, or its publication practices with respect thereto. A paid subscription to an information services provider such as Bloomberg is required to obtain historical rate information relating to the bid and ask rates upon which the KRW CMS Rate is based.

Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index

The website referred to above for the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index is located on the website of its provider, ICAP Information Services Limited trading as Parameta Solutions ("ICAP"), at <https://www.parametasolutions.com/benchmark-administration/> (the "Parameta Solutions Website"). ICAP announced the launch of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index on October 7, 2025.

The Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index seeks to represent the mid-rate for interest rate swaps across different currencies and tenors, observed at a specific time of the day. The Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for a given tenor, currency and calculation date is determined by (i) collecting all tick-level mid-price data from the designated input sources, which are sourced by the relevant swaps desk disclosed in the applicable methodology on the Parameta Solutions Website, within a two-minute observation window, (ii) dividing such observation window into consecutive five-second blocks (resulting in 24 equally sized intervals), (iii) identifying all available mid-prices for each block and computing their average and (iv) calculating the average of all block-level averages to produce the final swap rate fixing. If there is insufficient primary or secondary input data for a given tenor and currency on a calculation date, the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the affected tenor(s) and currency(ies) will not be published for that calculation date.

The Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for a given tenor, currency and calculation date is calculated and published on all days when the relevant swaps desk (as specified in the applicable methodology on the Parameta Solutions Website) publishes interest rate swap prices and banks are open for business in the respective market.

AONIA

The website referred to above for AONIA is located on the website of its administrator, the Reserve Bank of Australia (the "RBA") at <https://www.rba.gov.au/statistics/cash-rate/> (the "RBA Website").

AONIA, the Interbank Overnight Cash Rate, is the (near) risk-free benchmark rate for Australian dollar-based transactions, and is used as the reference rate for Australian dollar Overnight Indexed Swaps ("OIS") and the ASX 30 Day Interbank Cash Rate Futures. AONIA is generally calculated by the RBA as the weighted average interest rate on overnight unsecured loans settled as cash transfers in the Reserve Bank Information and Transfer System ("RITS") between banks in the market for borrowing and lending Australian Dollars balances in deposit accounts provided by the RBA (the "Cash Market"). AONIA is rounded to two decimal places. The Cash Rate Procedures Manual, available through the RBA Website, describes the design of the AONIA benchmark and sets out the procedures that apply to the RBA for collecting and monitoring transaction data, how these data are used to calculate AONIA, and the processes for publishing AONIA, including where transactions involving unsecured overnight loans between banks in the Cash Market settled via cash payments in RITS may be insufficient.

AONIA is directly published by the RBA on the RBA Website in the Statistical Table F1 and is also published to market data services (Refinitiv Screen RBA30; Bloomberg RBA07) prior to 9.20 a.m. Australian Time for each day that RITS is open for interbank settlement (the "Publication Date"). AONIA is the rate applicable on the business day preceding the Publication Date. The history of AONIA is available in Statistical Table F1, which also includes data on the number and aggregate value of cash market transactions, and the range of interest rates (highest and lowest) at which banks transacted individual cash market transactions.

Under limited circumstances, the RBA may defer the publication time of AONIA. This may be due, for example, to technical problems or because more time is required to resolve a material inconsistency within the transaction data. In case of insufficient data or technical problems, AONIA is determined by fall back procedures, which include reference to the last AONIA published, or the new target for the rate for that day should one be announced by the RBA, or another rate that reflects the interest rate relevant to unsecured overnight funds for participants in the Cash Market as determined by the RBA, in its expert judgement (in accordance with the criteria set forth in the Cash Rate Procedures Manual) and based on market conditions.

€STR

The website referred to above for €STR, is located on the website of its administrator, the European Central Bank ("ECB"), at https://www.ecb.europa.eu/stats/financial_markets_and_interest_rates/euro_short-term_rate/html/index.en.html (the "€STR Website").

€STR reflects the wholesale euro unsecured overnight borrowing costs of euro area banks. €STR is based on money market transaction information collected in accordance with Regulation EU No 133/2014 (the "MMSR Regulation"). ECB relies on the data regarding overnight unsecured fixed rate deposit transactions over €1,000,000 collected in accordance with the MMSR Regulation. Four national banks assist ECB with the collection of the data required by the MMSR Regulation: the Deutsche Bundesbank, the Banco de España, the Banque de France, and the Banca d'Italia. €STR is based on the arms-length transactions conducted and settled the previous real time gross settlement system operated by the Eurosystem (or any successor system) ("T2") business day with a maturity date of T+1.

€STR is calculated as a volume-weighted trimmed mean, rounded to three decimal places. To calculate the volume-weighted trimmed mean, ECB (1) orders the transactions from the lowest to the highest rate; (2) aggregates the transactions occurring at each rate level; (3) removes the top and bottom 25 per cent. in terms of volume and (4) calculates the mean of the remaining 50 per cent. weighted distribution of rates. A pro rata calculation is then applied to ensure that precisely 50 per cent. of the total eligible volume is used to calculate the volume-weighted mean.

ECB publishes €STR no later than 9:00 a.m. CET on the next T2 Business Day. ECB publishes €STR on the €STR website and publishes historical rates dating back to October 1, 2019 in its Statistical Data Warehouse.

Overnight TIIE

The website referred to above for Overnight TIIE is located on the website of Banco de México at <https://www.banxico.org.mx> ("BdM's Website").

The Tasa de Interés Interbancaria de Equilibrio en moneda nacional ("TIIE") a plazo de un Día Hábil Bancario (Overnight Interbank Equilibrium Interest Rate for Mexican pesos for a period of one Mexican Banking Day) referred to as "TIIE de Fondeo" (Overnight TIIE) (Overnight TIIE) is calculated and published by Banco de México, the central bank of the United Mexican States, for overnight day periods. Banco de México calculates and determines the Overnight TIIE, based on transaction data, namely, wholesale overnight repurchase agreement (repo) transactions denominated in Mexican pesos with a period of one Mexican Banking Day, that are settled by banks and Mexican brokerage firms (casas de bolsa) over debt instruments issued by the Mexican Federal Government, the Mexican Bank Savings Protection Institute (IPAB) and Banco de México itself (as provided in the Circular 3/2012 "Provisions applicable to transactions of Credit Institutions, Regulated Financial Entities of Multiple Purpose that have Controlling Interest Relationship with Credit Institutions and the National Financial Institution of Agricultural-Farming, Rural, Forestry and Fishing Development" (Circular 3/2012 Disposiciones Aplicables a las Operaciones de las Instituciones de Crédito, las Sociedades Financieras de Objeto Múltiple que mantengan Vínculos Patrimoniales con Instituciones de Crédito y a la Financiera Nacional de Desarrollo Agropecuario, Rural, Forestal y Pesquero), issued by Banco de México, which was published in the Official Gazette of March 2nd 2012 (as it has been modified from time to time, the "Circular 3/2012").

Pursuant to the Circular 3/2012, Overnight TIIE is determined on each Mexican Banking Day by Banco de México as a volume-weighted median of interest rates paid on Mexican peso denominated repo transactions mentioned in the previous paragraph. For the calculation of Overnight TIIE, the Mexican Deposit Securities Institution "INDEVAL" database is filtered to remove transactions settled among institutions belonging to the same financial group. The remaining transactions determine the base sample used in the rate calculation. The volume-weighted median is calculated by ordering the transactions of the base sample from the lowest to the highest rate, thus, the first transaction is the one with the lowest interest rate of the base sample and the last operation is the one with the highest interest rate. If there are two or more transactions with the same interest rate, the transaction with the lowest amount is sorted first. Then, for each transaction of the ordered base sample the cumulative volume is calculated and expressed as a percentage of the total volume of said base sample. Overnight TIIE is then determined as the interest rate associated with the first transaction which cumulative volume represents 50 per cent. or more. At publication, the volume-weighted median is expressed in annual terms and rounded to two decimal places.

As of January 16, 2020, Banco de México publishes the Overnight TIIE on each Mexican Banking Day through the "SIAC-Banxico" system as of 5:00pm of the Mexican Banking Day on which such Overnight TIIE is determined (or through other electronic, computer or telecommunication means that Banco de México authorizes), which also appears on the BdM's Website. Overnight TIIE shall also be published in the "Diario Oficial de la Federación" (Federal Official Gazette) no later than two Mexican Banking Days after the Mexican Banking Day it was determined.

SOFR

The website referred to above for SOFR is located on the website of the SOFR Administrator at <https://apps.newyorkfed.org/markets/autorates/sofr> (the "SOFR Website").

SOFR was selected by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York ("FRBNY") in 2017 as a replacement for U.S. LIBOR and since 2018 has been published by the FRBNY and is intended to be a broad measure of the cost of borrowing cash overnight collateralised by U.S. Treasury securities. The SOFR Administrator reports that SOFR includes all trades in the Broad General Collateral Rate, plus bilateral Treasury repurchase agreement ("repo") transactions cleared through the delivery-versus-payment service offered by the Fixed Income Clearing Corporation (the "FICC"), a subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"). SOFR is filtered by FRBNY to remove a portion of the foregoing transactions considered to be "specials." According to FRBNY, "specials" are repos for specific-issue collateral which take place at cash-lending rates below those for general collateral repos because cash providers are willing to accept a lesser return on their cash in order to obtain a particular security.

SOFR is calculated as a volume-weighted median of transaction-level tri-party repo data collected from The Bank of New York Mellon, which currently acts as the clearing bank for the tri-party repo market, as well as General Collateral Finance Repo transaction data and data on bilateral U.S. Treasury repo transactions cleared through the FICC's delivery-versus-payment service. FRBNY notes that it obtains information from DTCC Solutions LLC, an affiliate of DTCC.

FRBNY currently publishes SOFR for the preceding 25 business days each business day at approximately 8:00 a.m. ET on the SOFR Website. Historical data for an earlier period can be obtained on the SOFR Website through the historical data search function.

SONIA

The website referred to above for SONIA, is located on the website of its administrator the Bank of England ("BOE") at <https://www.bankofengland.co.uk/markets/sonia-benchmark> (the "SONIA Website")

SONIA is intended to be a measure of the rate of interest paid on sterling short-term wholesale funds. SONIA was first established in March 1997 by the Wholesale Markets Brokers' Association. BOE became the Administrator for SONIA in 2016 and reformed the methodology on April 23, 2018.

SONIA is the trimmed mean of interest rates paid on eligible sterling deposit transactions, rounded to four decimal places. Eligible transactions are (1) reported to the BOE's Sterling Money Market daily collection; (2) unsecured with a maturity date of T+1; (3) executed between 00:00 and 18:00 UK time and settled the same day; and (4) at least £25,000,000 in value.

To calculate SONIA, BOE relies on data reported to its Sterling Money Market daily data collection, in accordance with the effective Form SMMD. Form SMMD is a daily, transaction-level data collection instrument for key sterling money markets. SONIA is calculated as the volume-weighted mean rate, based on the middle 50% of the volume-weighted distribution of rates.

For each London business day, SONIA is published at 9:00am UK time the following business day. Authorised redistributors of SONIA are Bloomberg, LSEG, ICE Group and SIX Financial Information Ltd. SONIA is freely available on the BOE's Interactive Statistical Database available through the SONIA Website by 10:00am the business day after it was initially published, along with historical data dating back to 1997.

TONA

The website referred to above for TONA, is located on the website of its administrator the Bank of Japan at <https://www.boj.or.jp/en/statistics/market/short/mutan/index.htm/> (the "TONA Website").

In December 2016 the Japanese Study Group on Risk-Free Reference Rates announced TONA as its preferred risk free rate for Japanese yen. TONA is administered and published by the Bank of Japan. TONA represents the rates of transactions brokered by money market brokers settled on the same day as the trade date and maturing the following business day in the Japanese uncollateralised call money market. TONA is the volume-weighted average call rate, calculated by dividing the sum of the product of each transaction volume and the corresponding rate by the sum of the overall transaction volumes.

To calculate TONA, the Bank of Japan relies on data submitted by information providers (rounded to three decimal places). As of the date of this Offering Circular, the information providers are Ueda Yagi Tanshi Co., Ltd. Central Tanshi Co., Ltd. and The Tokyo Tanshi Co., Ltd.

The Bank of Japan currently publishes on each business day, the provisional results for TONA for such business day on or after 5:15 p.m. (Japan time) (or 6:15 p.m. (Japan time), in the case of the last business days of each month except December) and the final results for TONA for the preceding business day at 10 a.m. (Japan time) at the TONA Website. Final results for TONA for every business day in 2024 and 2025 may be obtained through the same website.

The TEC Rate

The daily TEC Rate is the percentage yield (rounded to the nearest second decimal point, 0.005 per cent. being rounded upwards) of a notional French Treasury Bond (Obligation Assimilable du Trésor, "OAT") with a Designated Maturity as specified in the Final Terms, corresponding to the linear interpolation between the yield to maturity of the two actual OATs (the "Reference OATs") whose periods to maturity are closest in duration to the notional OAT with the same Designated Maturity, one Reference OAT's duration being less than the Designated Maturity and the other Reference OAT's duration being greater than the Designated Maturity.

As at the date of this Offering Circular, the TEC Rate is calculated and published by the Banque de France as the administrator of the CNO-TEC indices, pursuant to a methodology established by the Comité de Normalisation Obligatoire. Each TEC Rate is calculated on each TARGET business day from mid-market prices of the Reference OATs sourced from MTS at approximately 11:00 a.m. Paris time and is published at approximately 11:30 a.m. Paris time. The TEC Rate is disseminated through financial information service providers including Bloomberg and Refinitiv (Reuters).

The Banque de France has communicated that the administration, calculation, licensing and commercialisation of the CNO-TEC indices (including the TEC Rate) is in the process of being transferred to Euronext Paris S.A. (or an affiliate thereof) ("Euronext"). The transition is expected to take place in phases, with an initial period during which the Banque de France continues to perform the calculation, followed by a parallel run before Euronext fully assumes the role of administrator. While the methodology for the CNO-TEC indices, which remains with the Comité de Normalisation Obligatoire, is expected to remain substantively unchanged, Euronext will become the central licensing and commercial entity for the TEC Rate and the other CNO-TEC indices. The previous contractual arrangements with the Banque de France in respect of the CNO-TEC indices will be replaced by new arrangements with Euronext. In connection with such transfer, the Bloomberg, Refinitiv and other information service tickers on which the TEC Rate is displayed are expected to change. As at the date of this Offering Circular, the new tickers have not been confirmed. According to information received by the Issuer, there is expected to be no operational disruption to the ongoing calculation of the CNO-TEC indices during the transition period.

For the avoidance of doubt, references to "Notes" in the Note Conditions shall be deemed to include the Korean Notes, as the context requires.

2. Form, Denomination and Title

Note Condition 1 (Form, Denomination and Title) shall be amended by:

- (a) adding a new paragraph immediately before the paragraph "Definitions" in Note Condition 1 (Form, Denomination and Title), as follows:

"Korean Note(s)

Each Tranche of Korean Notes will be in uncertificated and dematerialised book-entry form and electronically registered on an issuer management register with the Clearing System (as defined below) in accordance with Korean Regulations. Under applicable Korean Regulations, Korean Notes are not permitted to be issued in definitive, certificated form. The Specified Denomination of the Korean Notes will be set forth in the relevant Final Terms. Any division or split-off of the Specified Denomination of any Tranche of Korean Notes will not be permitted for a period of one (1) year from, and including, the Issue Date of such Tranche of Korean Notes.

The Clearing System shall maintain a register for each Account Management Institution that is segregated into a Korean AMI Proprietary Register (with respect to Korean Notes held by such Account Management Institution) and a Korean Customer Management Register (with respect to Korean Notes held by Holders through such Account Management Institution). Account Management Institutions that hold securities on behalf of Holders shall maintain a Korean Customer Register.

Under applicable Korean Regulations, in respect of any Tranche of Korean Notes:

- (i) each person shown in the Korean AMI Proprietary Register as holding a specified principal amount of Korean Notes (each, a "Korean AMI Proprietary Register Holder"):
 - (A) will be deemed to have an interest in Korean Notes of such specified principal amount; and
 - (B) shall be able to settle transactions through account-transfer of Korean Notes in such Korean AMI Proprietary Register in accordance with applicable Korean Regulations; and
- (ii) each person shown in a Korean Customer Register as holding a specified principal amount of Korean Notes (each, a "Korean Customer Register Holder"):
 - (A) will be deemed to have an interest in Korean Notes of such specified principal amount; and
 - (B) shall be able to settle transactions through account-transfer of Korean Notes in such Korean Customer Register in accordance with applicable Korean Regulations.

Transfers of interests in the Korean Notes may also be made through account-transfer from a Korean AMI Proprietary Register Holder in the applicable Korean AMI Proprietary Register to a Korean Customer Register Holder in the applicable Korean Customer Register and vice versa (with necessary adjustments to the relevant Korean Customer Management Register).

Notwithstanding the above, in the event that a Holder requests the Clearing System (either directly or through an Account Management Institution, as applicable) (i) to issue a certificate of ownership pursuant to Article 39 of the AERS or (ii) to notify the Issuer of the Holder's status as a holder of the Korean Notes pursuant to Article 40 of the AERS, following receipt of the certificate of ownership or notification of the Holder's status to the Issuer (each a "Holder Request Event"), the Holder may exercise its rights (including rights of payment) directly against the Issuer until such time it returns the certificate of ownership or the notification period expires (each a "Holder Request Termination Event").

In respect of any particular Tranche of Korean Notes, for the period of one (1) year from, and including, the Issue Date of such Tranche of Korean Notes, (i) the Clearing System in relation to Korean AMI Proprietary Registers or (ii) Account Management Institutions in relation to Korean Customer Registers shall not permit the transfer of Korean Notes in a principal amount of less than the Specified Denomination.

For the avoidance of doubt, all calculations of interest and principal amounts payable by the Issuer hereunder shall be with reference to the Calculation Amount or Specified Denomination, as applicable, as specified in the relevant Final Terms, notwithstanding any splitting or division of the Specified Denomination by Holders of Korean Notes after one (1) year from the Issue Date of such Tranche of Korean Notes, and any rounding calculations shall be made by the Issuer in accordance with the Note Conditions with reference to the Calculation Amount or Specified Denomination specified in the relevant Final Terms, as applicable. The Issuer understands, however, that the Clearing System may apply its own rounding conventions to any funds received by it from the Issuer, and Holders may therefore receive a lesser amount through the Clearing System than the amount actually paid by the Issuer to (or to the account of) the Clearing System.

FORMS OF GUARANTEES

FORM OF MLBV GUARANTEE

This MLBV Guarantee is made on 15 May 2026 (the "MLBV Guarantee") by BANK OF AMERICA CORPORATION, a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware ("BAC").

WHEREAS:

Merrill Lynch B.V., a private limited liability company (besloten vennootschap met beperkte aansprakelijkheid) incorporated under Dutch law, having its official seat (statutaire zetel) in Amsterdam, The Netherlands and having its registered office at Amstelplein 1, Rembrandt Tower, 27th Floor, 1096 HA Amsterdam, The Netherlands, registered with the Trade Register of the Dutch Chamber of Commerce under number 56457103 ("MLBV" and the "Issuer"), BAC, BofA Finance LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, and Bank of America, N.A., a national banking association organized under the laws of the United States of America, have established a Note, Warrant and Certificate Programme (the "Programme") for the issuance of notes, warrants and certificates pursuant to which MLBV may from time to time issue notes ("Notes") (up to a maximum aggregate principal/nominal amount of €50,000,000,000 (or its equivalent in any other currency) outstanding at any one time, from time to time, under the Programme), warrants ("Warrants") and certificates ("Certificates"). The Notes (excluding the CMU Notes (as defined below) and the Korean Notes (as defined below)), Warrants and Certificates will be issued by MLBV under the terms of the Amended and Restated English Law Agency Agreement dated as of 15 May 2026 (as the same may be amended, supplemented and/or restated from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof, the "English Law Agency Agreement") among BAC, MLBV, and the Agents (as defined therein) and have the benefit of a Notes Deed of Covenant dated 15 May 2026 made by MLBV (the "Notes Deed of Covenant") or a W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant dated 15 May 2026 made by MLBV (the "W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant"), as applicable. Notes (excluding the Secured Notes (as defined below), CMU Notes and Korean Notes), Warrants (excluding the Secured Warrants (as defined below)) and Certificates (excluding the Secured Certificates (as defined below)) are collectively referred to herein as the "Guaranteed Instruments".

For the avoidance of doubt, the following instruments do not have the benefit of this MLBV Guarantee: (a) "Secured Notes," which term means Notes that are secured, in favor of noteholders, by a segregated pool of collateral assets; (b) "CMU Notes," which term means any Tranche of Notes issued in registered form and deposited with a sub-custodian for the Central Moneymarkets Unit Service operated by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority and its participants; (c) "Korean Notes," which term means any Tranche of Notes electronically registered in uncertificated and dematerialized book-entry form with the Korean Securities Depository in accordance with all applicable Korean laws, regulations and rules; (d) "Secured Warrants," which term means Warrants that are secured, in favor of holders, by a segregated pool of collateral assets and (e) "Secured Certificates," which term means Certificates secured, in favor of holders, by a segregated pool of collateral assets.

Furthermore, any Series of Guaranteed Instruments originally issued by MLBV with the benefit of a guarantee issued by BAC prior to the date hereof (each, an "Original Guarantee"), and any Guaranteed Instruments issued by MLBV on or after the date hereof which are expressed to be consolidated and form a single Series with any Guaranteed Instruments originally issued by MLBV prior to the date hereof, shall continue to be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the terms of such Original Guarantee. In addition, any Guaranteed Instruments issued by MLBV on or after the date on which BAC has granted a subsequent guarantee of such Guaranteed Instruments (in respect of which such Guaranteed Instruments will have the benefit) shall not have the benefit of this MLBV Guarantee (save (i) in relation to any Tranche of Guaranteed Instruments which are expressed to be consolidated and form a single Series with any Tranche(s) of Guaranteed Instruments which have the benefit of this MLBV Guarantee, and/or (ii) if expressly so provided in any such subsequent guarantee and/or applicable Conditions (as defined in the English Law Agency Agreement) (including, without limitation, the applicable Final Terms) of the Guaranteed Instruments).

NOW, THEREFORE, BAC, as guarantor, hereby agrees as follows:

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, BAC hereby irrevocably, fully and unconditionally guarantees, as primary obligor and not merely as surety, on an unsecured basis, to the holders (the "Holders") of Guaranteed Instruments issued by MLBV from time to time on or after the date hereof under the terms of the English Law Agency Agreement and with the benefit of the Notes Deed of Covenant or W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant, as applicable, the due and punctual payment (whether at stated maturity or settlement, upon redemption, exercise, repayment or acceleration, or otherwise, after giving effect to any applicable grace period) of (a) the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and any interest, additional amounts and all other amounts due and payable by MLBV as obligor in respect of each such Guaranteed Instrument (other than Physical Delivery Instruments) and (b) the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in respect of each such Guaranteed Instrument which is a Physical Delivery Instrument, in each case pursuant to and in accordance with the Conditions of such Guaranteed Instruments. Upon failure by MLBV to punctually pay any such amount or deliver any Entitlement in respect of any Physical Delivery Instrument when due, BAC shall forthwith on demand pay the amount not so paid or the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in respect of any Entitlement not so delivered. In the case of Physical Delivery Instruments, BAC is only obligated to make the payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering any Entitlement. This MLBV Guarantee is one of payment and not of collection.

Notwithstanding that under the terms of the Guaranteed Instruments that are Physical Delivery Instruments either (i) MLBV has the right (whether or not exercised) to vary the type of consideration due and payable or deliverable to a Holder or (ii) a Holder has the right (whether or not exercised) to vary the type of consideration due and payable or deliverable to it or (iii) MLBV is obligated to deliver non-cash consideration to Holders when the same shall become due and deliverable, BAC shall at all times be obligated only to pay an amount in cash equal to the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount (calculated pursuant to the terms of, or as specified in, the Conditions and the applicable Final Terms prepared with respect to such Guaranteed Instruments that are Physical Delivery Instruments). Any payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering any Entitlement shall constitute a complete discharge of BAC's obligations in respect of such Guaranteed Instruments that are Physical Delivery Instruments.

The obligations of BAC hereunder are unconditional, absolute and irrevocable and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, will not be released, discharged, or otherwise affected or impaired by: (a) any extension, renewal, settlement, compromise, waiver, release, or moratorium in respect of any obligation of MLBV under any Guaranteed Instrument, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise; (b) any waiver or consent, modification or amendment of or supplement to any Guaranteed Instrument; (c) any change in the corporate existence, structure or ownership of MLBV (whether by way of consolidation, amalgamation, merger, transfer, sale, lease, conveyance or otherwise), or any insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership, reorganization or other similar proceeding affecting MLBV or its assets or any resulting release or discharge of any obligation of MLBV contained in any Guaranteed Instrument; (d) the existence of any claim, counterclaim, set off, recoupment or other rights or defenses which BAC may have at any time against MLBV or any other person or entity, whether in connection with the Guaranteed Instruments or any unrelated transactions, provided that nothing herein prevents the assertion of any such claim by separate suit or compulsory counterclaim; (e) the absence of any action to enforce any of MLBV's obligations with respect to any Guaranteed Instrument; (f) any invalidity, irregularity or unenforceability relating to or against MLBV for any reason of any Guaranteed Instrument (except as may result from any applicable statute of limitations), or any provision of applicable law or regulation purporting to prohibit the payment by MLBV of the principal of or interest on any Guaranteed Instrument; (g) the rendering of any judgment against MLBV or any action to enforce the same; or (h) any act or omission to act or delay of any kind by MLBV or any other person or entity or any other circumstance whatsoever which might, but for the provisions of this paragraph, constitute a legal or equitable discharge of or defense to BAC's obligations hereunder (other than the indefeasible payment in full of all of BAC's obligations hereunder).

BAC's payment obligations under this MLBV Guarantee with respect to any Guaranteed Instruments will remain in full force and effect until the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and any interest, additional amounts and all other amounts due and payable or non-cash consideration deliverable by MLBV on such Guaranteed Instruments have been paid or delivered in full. If at any time any due and punctual payment of the principal of (and premium, if any, on) or any interest, additional amounts or other amount payable or Entitlement deliverable by MLBV on any Guaranteed Instrument is rescinded or must be otherwise restored or returned upon the insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership or reorganization of MLBV or otherwise, BAC's payment obligations hereunder with respect to such Guaranteed Instrument will be reinstated as though such payment had been due but not made at such time.

BAC hereby irrevocably waives diligence; acceptance; presentment; demand; protest; notice of protest; notice of acceleration; notice of dishonor; any notice not provided for herein; filing of claims with any court in the event of insolvency or bankruptcy of MLBV; and any right to require a proceeding first against MLBV or any other entity or person.

Upon making any payment with respect to any obligation of MLBV under this MLBV Guarantee, BAC shall be subrogated to the rights of the payee against MLBV with respect to such obligation, provided that BAC may not enforce any right of subrogation with respect to such payment so long as any amount payable or deliverable by MLBV under any Guaranteed Instrument remains unpaid or not delivered.

If acceleration of the time for payment of any amount payable or non-cash consideration deliverable by MLBV on the Guaranteed Instruments guaranteed hereunder is stayed upon the insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership or reorganization of MLBV, BAC shall forthwith on demand by the Holders pay all such amounts or the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount, as applicable, in respect of any such Guaranteed Instruments, notwithstanding any such stay.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this MLBV Guarantee, BAC, and by its acceptance of a Guaranteed Instrument, each Holder, hereby confirms that it is the intention of all such parties that the MLBV Guarantee not constitute a fraudulent conveyance under applicable fraudulent conveyance, fraudulent transfer or similar provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any comparable provision of U.S. state law. To effectuate that intention, the Holders and BAC hereby irrevocably agree that the obligations of BAC under the MLBV Guarantee are limited to the maximum amount that would not render BAC's obligations subject to avoidance under applicable fraudulent conveyance, fraudulent transfer or similar provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any comparable provision of U.S. state law.

Any demand upon BAC hereunder with respect to this MLBV Guarantee shall be made by the relevant Holder by the giving of written notice of such demand to BAC at Bank of America Corporation, Bank of America Corporate Center, Attention: Corporate Treasury - Global Funding Transaction Management, NC1-007-06-10, 100 North Tryon Street, Charlotte, North Carolina 28255-0065, U.S.A., with a copy sent to BAC at Bank of America Corporation, Legal Department, Attention: General Counsel, NC1-027-18-05, 150 North College Street, Charlotte, North Carolina 28255-0065, U.S.A.; provided, however, that delay in making such demand shall in no event affect BAC's obligations under this MLBV Guarantee.

BAC hereby represents and warrants to the Holders of the Guaranteed Instruments guaranteed by this MLBV Guarantee that this MLBV Guarantee constitutes the valid and binding obligation of BAC and is enforceable in accordance with its terms.

This MLBV Guarantee shall not be valid or become obligatory for any purpose with respect to any Guaranteed Instrument until the Global Note, the Individual Note Certificate, the Global Certificate, the individual certificate, the Global Warrant or the individual warrant certificate, as applicable, shall have been completed, authenticated and delivered as provided in the English Law Agency Agreement.

Terms and expressions defined in the applicable Conditions and English Law Agency Agreement shall have the same meanings when used in this MLBV Guarantee, except where the context otherwise requires.

This MLBV Guarantee may be terminated at any time by written notice by BAC to MLBV, and shall be effective upon receipt of such notice by MLBV or such later date as may be specified in such notice; provided, however, that notwithstanding any such termination, this MLBV Guarantee shall continue in full force and effect with respect to any payment or, subject as provided above, non-cash delivery obligations of MLBV under any Guaranteed Instruments covered by this MLBV Guarantee already in issue at the date of such termination being effective.

This MLBV Guarantee will terminate upon the merger of MLBV with and into BAC.

This MLBV Guarantee shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York applicable to agreements made and to be performed in the State of New York.

The Guaranteed Instruments are governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law, and MLBV has submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts for the purposes of determining any legal action or proceeding relating thereto. BAC has not submitted to the jurisdiction of the English courts for any such purpose, and any legal action or proceedings arising out of or relating to this MLBV Guarantee with respect to the Guaranteed Instruments shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the State of New York or the courts of the United States of America located in the Borough of Manhattan in the City and State of New York.

This MLBV Guarantee shall expire and shall no longer be effective once all amounts payable or non-cash consideration deliverable, as the case may be, on or in respect of the Guaranteed Instruments guaranteed by this MLBV Guarantee have been satisfied.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, BAC has caused this MLBV Guarantee to be executed in its corporate name by its duly authorized representative as of the date first set forth above.

The Notes will be issued by the Issuer under the terms of the New York Law Agency Agreement dated as of 15 May 2026 (as the same may be amended, supplemented and/or restated from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof, the "New York Law Agency Agreement") among BAC, the Issuer, BANA and the Agents (as defined therein).

Furthermore, any Series of Notes originally issued by the Issuer with the benefit of a guarantee issued by BAC prior to the date hereof (each, an "Original Guarantee"), and any Notes issued by the Issuer on or after the date hereof which are expressed to be consolidated and form a single Series with any Notes originally issued by the Issuer prior to the date hereof, shall continue to be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the terms of such Original Guarantee. In addition, any Notes issued by the Issuer on or after the date on which BAC has granted a subsequent guarantee of such Notes (in respect of which such Notes will have the benefit) shall not have the benefit of this BofA Finance Guarantee (save (i) in relation to any Tranche of Notes which are expressed to be consolidated and form a single Series with any Tranche(s) of Notes which have the benefit of this BofA Finance Guarantee, and/or (ii) if expressly so provided in any such subsequent guarantee and/or applicable Conditions (as defined in the New York Law Agency Agreement) (including, without limitation, the applicable Final Terms) of the Notes).

NOW, THEREFORE, BAC, as guarantor, hereby agrees as follows:

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, BAC, hereby irrevocably, fully and unconditionally guarantees, as primary obligor and not merely as surety, on an unsecured basis, to the holders (the "Holders") of Notes issued by the Issuer from time to time on or after the date hereof under the terms of the New York Law Agency Agreement the due and punctual payment (whether at stated maturity, upon redemption, repayment or acceleration, or otherwise, after giving effect to any applicable grace period) of the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and any interest and all other amounts due and payable by the Issuer as obligor in respect of each Note, when and as the same shall become due and payable, pursuant to and in accordance with the Conditions of such Notes. Upon failure by the Issuer to punctually pay any such amount when due, BAC shall forthwith on demand pay the amount not so paid at the same place and in the same manner specified that applies for payments to be made by the Issuer under such Notes. This BofA Finance Guarantee is one of payment and not of collection.

The obligations of BAC hereunder are unconditional, absolute and irrevocable and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, will not be released, discharged, or otherwise affected or impaired by: (a) any extension, renewal, settlement, compromise, waiver, release, or moratorium in respect of any obligation of the Issuer under any Note, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise; (b) any waiver or consent, modification or amendment of or supplement to any Note; (c) any change in the corporate existence, structure or ownership of the Issuer (whether by way of consolidation, amalgamation, merger, transfer, sale, lease, conveyance or otherwise), or any insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership, reorganization or other similar proceeding affecting the Issuer or its assets or any resulting release or discharge of any obligation of the Issuer contained in any Note; (d) the existence of any claim, counterclaim, set off, recoupment or other rights or defenses which BAC may have at any time against the Issuer or any other person or entity, whether in connection with the Notes or any unrelated transactions, provided that nothing herein prevents the assertion of any such claim by separate suit or compulsory counterclaim; (e) the absence of any action to enforce any of the Issuer's obligations with respect to any Note; (f) any invalidity, irregularity or unenforceability relating to or against the Issuer for any reason of any Note (except as may result from any applicable statute of limitations), or any provision of applicable law or regulation purporting to prohibit the payment by the Issuer of the principal of or interest on any Note; (g) the rendering of any judgment against the Issuer or any action to enforce the same; or (h) any act or omission to act or delay of any kind by the Issuer or any other person or entity or any other circumstance whatsoever which might, but for the provisions of this paragraph, constitute a legal or equitable discharge of or defense to BAC's obligations hereunder (other than the indefeasible payment in full of all of BAC's obligations hereunder).

BAC's obligations under this BofA Finance Guarantee with respect to any Notes will remain in full force and effect until the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and any interest and all other amounts due and payable by the Issuer on such Notes have been paid in full. If at any time any due and punctual payment of the principal of (and premium, if any, on) or any interest or other amount payable by the Issuer on any Note is rescinded or must be otherwise restored or returned upon the insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership or reorganization of the Issuer or otherwise, BAC's obligations hereunder with respect to such payment will be reinstated as though such payment had been due but not made at such time.

BAC hereby irrevocably waives diligence; acceptance; presentment; demand; protest; notice of protest; notice of acceleration; notice of dishonor; any notice not provided for herein; filing of claims with any court in the event of insolvency or bankruptcy of the Issuer; and any right to require a proceeding first against the Issuer or any other entity or person.

Upon making any payment with respect to any obligation of the Issuer under this BofA Finance Guarantee, BAC shall be subrogated to the rights of the payee against the Issuer with respect to such obligation, provided that BAC may not enforce any right of subrogation with respect to such payment so long as any amount payable by the Issuer under any Note remains unpaid.

If acceleration of the time for payment of any amount payable by the Issuer on the Notes guaranteed hereunder is stayed upon the insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership or reorganization of the Issuer, BAC shall forthwith on demand by the Holders pay all such amounts in respect of any such Notes notwithstanding any such stay.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this BofA Finance Guarantee, BAC, and by its acceptance of Notes, each Holder, hereby confirms that it is the intention of all such parties that the BofA Finance Guarantee not constitute a fraudulent conveyance under applicable fraudulent conveyance, fraudulent transfer or similar provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any comparable provision of U.S. state law. To effectuate that intention, the Holders and BAC hereby irrevocably agree that the obligations of BAC under the BofA Finance Guarantee are limited to the maximum amount that would not render BAC's obligations subject to avoidance under applicable fraudulent conveyance, fraudulent transfer or similar provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any comparable provision of U.S. state law.

Any demand upon BAC hereunder with respect to this BofA Finance Guarantee shall be made by the relevant Holder by the giving of written notice of such demand to BAC at Bank of America Corporation, Bank of America Corporate Center, Attention: Corporate Treasury - Global Funding Transaction Management, NC1-007-06-10, 100 North Tryon Street, Charlotte, North Carolina 28255-0065, U.S.A., with a copy sent to BAC at Bank of America Corporation, Legal Department, Attention: General Counsel, NC1-027-18-05, 150 North College Street, Charlotte, North Carolina 28255-0065, U.S.A.; provided, however, that delay in making such demand shall in no event affect BAC's obligations under this BofA Finance Guarantee.

BAC hereby represents and warrants to the Holders of the Notes guaranteed by this BofA Finance Guarantee that this BofA Finance Guarantee constitutes the valid and binding obligation of BAC and is enforceable in accordance with its terms.

This BofA Finance Guarantee shall not be valid or become obligatory for any purpose with respect to any Note until the Global Note or the Individual Note Certificate, as applicable, shall have been completed, authenticated and delivered as provided in the New York Law Agency Agreement.

Terms and expressions defined in the applicable Conditions of the Notes and the New York Law Agency Agreement shall have the same meanings when used in this BofA Finance Guarantee, except where the context otherwise requires.

This BofA Finance Guarantee may be terminated at any time by written notice by BAC to the Issuer, and shall be effective upon receipt of such notice by the Issuer or such later date as may be specified in such notice; provided, however, that notwithstanding any such termination, this BofA Finance Guarantee shall continue in full force and effect with respect to any payment obligations of the Issuer under any Notes covered by this BofA Finance Guarantee already in issue at the date of such termination being effective.

This BofA Finance Guarantee will terminate upon the merger of the Issuer with and into BAC.

This BofA Finance Guarantee shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York applicable to agreements made and to be performed in the State of New York.

This BofA Finance Guarantee shall expire and shall no longer be effective once all amounts payable on or in respect of the Notes guaranteed by this BofA Finance Guarantee have been satisfied.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, BAC has caused this BofA Finance Guarantee to be executed in its corporate name by its duly authorized representative as of the date first set forth above.

FORM OF CMU NOTES GUARANTEE

This CMU Notes Guarantee is made on 15 May 2026 (the "CMU Notes Guarantee") by BANK OF AMERICA CORPORATION, a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware ("BAC").

WHEREAS:

Merrill Lynch B.V., a private limited liability company (besloten vennootschap met beperkte aansprakelijkheid) incorporated under Dutch law, having its official seat (statutaire zetel) in Amsterdam, The Netherlands and having its registered office at Amstelplein 1, Rembrandt Tower, 27th Floor, 1096 HA Amsterdam, The Netherlands, registered with the Trade Register of the Dutch Chamber of Commerce under number 56457103 ("MLBV" and the "Issuer"), BAC, BofA Finance LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, and Bank of America, N.A., a national banking association organized under the laws of the United States of America, have established a Note, Warrant and Certificate Programme (the "Programme") for the issuance of notes, warrants and certificates pursuant to which MLBV may from time to time issue notes ("Notes") (up to a maximum aggregate principal/nominal amount of €50,000,000,000 (or its equivalent in any other currency) outstanding at any one time, from time to time, under the Programme), warrants ("Warrants") and certificates ("Certificates"). MLBV may from time to time issue Notes under the Programme in registered form that are deposited with a sub-custodian for the Central Moneymarkets Unit Service (the "CMU") operated by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority (the "HKMA") in accordance with all applicable Hong Kong laws, regulations and rules (such Notes, "CMU Notes"). The CMU Notes will be issued by MLBV under the terms of the Amended and Restated CMU Agency Agreement dated as of 15 May 2026 (as the same may be amended, supplemented and/or restated from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof, the "CMU Agency Agreement") among BAC, MLBV, and the Agents (as defined therein) and, to the extent applicable and not conflicting or inconsistent with the CMU Agency Agreement, the Amended and Restated English Law Agency Agreement dated as of 15 May 2026 (as the same may be amended, supplemented and/or restated from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof, the "English Law Agency Agreement"), and have the benefit of a CMU Notes Deed of Covenant dated 15 May 2026 made by MLBV (the "Deed of Covenant").

For the avoidance of doubt, any Warrants, Certificates and Notes that are not CMU Notes issued by MLBV do not have the benefit of this CMU Notes Guarantee.

Furthermore, any Series of CMU Notes originally issued by MLBV prior to the date hereof with the benefit of a guarantee issued by BAC prior to the date hereof (each, an "Original CMU Notes Guarantee"), and any CMU Notes issued by MLBV on or after the date hereof which are expressed to be consolidated and form a single Series with any CMU Notes originally issued by MLBV prior to the date hereof, shall continue to be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the terms of such Original CMU Notes Guarantee. In addition, any CMU Notes issued by MLBV on or after the date on which BAC has granted a subsequent guarantee of such CMU Notes (in respect of which such CMU Notes will have the benefit) shall not have the benefit of this CMU Notes Guarantee (save (i) in relation to any Tranche of CMU Notes which are expressed to be consolidated and form a single Series with any Tranche(s) of CMU Notes which have the benefit of this CMU Notes Guarantee, and/or (ii) if expressly so provided in any such subsequent guarantee and/or applicable Conditions (as defined in the CMU Agency Agreement) (including, without limitation, the applicable Final Terms) of the CMU Notes). In addition, for the avoidance of doubt, CMU Notes do not have the benefit of the MLBV Guarantee dated 15 May 2026 executed by BAC relating to certain Notes, Warrants and Certificates issued by MLBV under the terms of the English Law Agency Agreement (and which do not have the benefit of the CMU Agency Agreement).

NOW, THEREFORE, BAC, as guarantor, hereby agrees as follows:

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, BAC hereby irrevocably, fully and unconditionally guarantees, as primary obligor and not merely as surety, on an unsecured basis, to the holders (the "Holders") of CMU Notes issued by MLBV from time to time on or after the date hereof, under the terms of the CMU Agency Agreement and, to the extent applicable and not conflicting or inconsistent with the CMU Agency Agreement, the English Law Agency Agreement, and with the benefit of the Deed of Covenant, the due and punctual payment (whether at stated maturity, upon redemption, repayment or acceleration, or otherwise, after giving effect to any applicable grace period) of (a) the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and any interest and all other amounts due and payable by MLBV as obligor in respect of each such CMU Note (other than Physical Delivery Notes) and (b) the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in respect of each such CMU Note which is a Physical Delivery Note, in each case pursuant to and in accordance with the Conditions (as defined in the CMU Agency Agreement). Upon failure by MLBV to punctually pay any such amount or deliver any Entitlement in respect of any CMU Note that is a Physical Delivery Note when due, BAC shall forthwith on demand pay the amount not so paid or the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in respect of the Entitlement not so delivered. In the case of CMU Notes which are Physical Delivery Notes, BAC is only obligated to make the payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering the Entitlement. This CMU Notes Guarantee is one of payment and not of collection.

Notwithstanding that under the terms of the CMU Notes that are Physical Delivery Notes either (i) MLBV has the right (whether or not exercised) to vary the type of consideration due and payable or deliverable to a Holder or (ii) a Holder has the right (whether or not exercised) to vary the type of consideration due and payable or deliverable to it or (iii) MLBV is obligated to deliver non-cash consideration to Holders when the same shall become due and deliverable, BAC shall at all times be obligated only to pay an amount in cash equal to the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount (calculated pursuant to the terms of, or as specified in, the Conditions and the applicable Final Terms prepared with respect to such CMU Notes that are Physical Delivery Notes). Any payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering any Entitlement shall constitute a complete discharge of BAC's obligations in respect of such CMU Notes that are Physical Delivery Notes.

The obligations of BAC hereunder are unconditional, absolute and irrevocable and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, will not be released, discharged, or otherwise affected or impaired by: (a) any extension, renewal, settlement, compromise, waiver, release, or moratorium in respect of any obligation of MLBV under any CMU Notes, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise; (b) any waiver or consent, modification or amendment of or supplement to any CMU Notes; (c) any change in the corporate existence, structure or ownership of MLBV (whether by way of consolidation, amalgamation, merger, transfer, sale, lease, conveyance or otherwise), or any insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership, reorganization or other similar proceeding affecting MLBV or its assets or any resulting release or discharge of any obligation of MLBV contained in any CMU Notes; (d) the existence of any claim, counterclaim, set off, recoupment or other rights or defenses which BAC may have at any time against MLBV or any other person or entity, whether in connection with the CMU Notes or any unrelated transactions, provided that nothing herein prevents the assertion of any such claim by separate suit or compulsory counterclaim; (e) the absence of any action to enforce any of MLBV's obligations with respect to any CMU Notes; (f) any invalidity, irregularity or unenforceability relating to or against MLBV for any reason of any CMU Notes (except as may result from any applicable statute of limitations), or any provision of applicable law or regulation purporting to prohibit the payment by MLBV of the principal of or interest on any CMU Notes; (g) the rendering of any judgment against MLBV or any action to enforce the same; or (h) any act or omission to act or delay of any kind by MLBV or any other person or entity or any other circumstance whatsoever which might, but for the provisions of this paragraph, constitute a legal or equitable discharge of or defense to BAC's obligations hereunder (other than the indefeasible payment in full of all of BAC's obligations hereunder).

BAC's payment obligations under this CMU Notes Guarantee with respect to any CMU Notes will remain in full force and effect until the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and any interest and all other amounts due and payable have been paid or delivered in full. If at any time any due and punctual payment of the principal of (and premium, if any, on) or any interest or other amount payable or Entitlement deliverable by MLBV on any CMU Note is rescinded or must be otherwise restored or returned upon the insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership or reorganization of MLBV or otherwise, BAC's payment obligations hereunder with respect to such CMU Notes will be reinstated as though such payment had been due but not made at such time.

BAC hereby irrevocably waives diligence; acceptance; presentment; demand; protest; notice of protest; notice of acceleration; notice of dishonor; any notice not provided for herein; filing of claims with any court in the event of insolvency or bankruptcy of MLBV; and any right to require a proceeding first against MLBV or any other entity or person.

Upon making any payment with respect to any obligation of MLBV under this CMU Notes Guarantee, BAC shall be subrogated to the rights of the payee against MLBV with respect to such obligation, provided that BAC may not enforce any right of subrogation with respect to such payment so long as any amount payable or deliverable by MLBV under any CMU Notes remains unpaid or not delivered.

If acceleration of the time for payment of any amount payable or non-cash consideration deliverable by MLBV on the CMU Notes guaranteed hereunder is stayed upon the insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership or reorganization of MLBV, BAC shall forthwith on demand by the Holders pay all such amounts or the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount, as applicable, in respect of any such CMU Notes, notwithstanding any such stay.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this CMU Notes Guarantee, BAC, and by its acceptance of a CMU Note, each Holder, hereby confirms that it is the intention of all such parties that the CMU Notes Guarantee not constitute a fraudulent conveyance under applicable fraudulent conveyance, fraudulent transfer or similar provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any comparable provision of U.S. state law. To effectuate that intention, the Holders and BAC hereby irrevocably agree that the obligations of BAC under the CMU Notes Guarantee are limited to the maximum amount that would not render BAC's obligations subject to avoidance under applicable fraudulent conveyance, fraudulent transfer or similar provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any comparable provision of U.S. state law.

Any demand upon BAC hereunder with respect to this CMU Notes Guarantee shall be made by the relevant Holder by the giving of written notice of such demand to BAC at Bank of America Corporation, Bank of America Corporate Center, Attention: Corporate Treasury - Global Funding Transaction Management, NC1-007-06-10, 100 North Tryon Street, Charlotte, North Carolina 28255-0065, U.S.A., with a copy sent to BAC at Bank of America Corporation, Legal Department, Attention: General Counsel, NC1-027-18-05, 150 North College Street, Charlotte, North Carolina 28255-0065, U.S.A.; provided, however, that delay in making such demand shall in no event affect BAC's obligations under this CMU Notes Guarantee.

BAC hereby represents and warrants to the Holders of the CMU Notes guaranteed by this CMU Notes Guarantee that this CMU Notes Guarantee constitutes the valid and binding obligation of BAC and is enforceable in accordance with its terms.

This CMU Notes Guarantee shall not be valid or become obligatory for any purpose with respect to any CMU Notes until the CMU Global Registered Note or the Individual Note Certificate, as applicable, shall have been completed, authenticated and delivered, and, in the case of a CMU Global Registered Note, lodged with a sub-custodian for the CMU and registered in the name of the HKMA as nominee of the CMU, as provided in the CMU Agency Agreement.

Terms and expressions defined in the applicable Conditions and the CMU Agency Agreement shall have the same meanings when used in this CMU Notes Guarantee, except where the context otherwise requires.

This CMU Notes Guarantee may be terminated at any time by written notice by BAC to MLBV, and shall be effective upon receipt of such notice by MLBV or such later date as may be specified in such notice; provided, however, that notwithstanding any such termination, this CMU Notes Guarantee shall continue in full force and effect with respect to any payment or, subject as provided above, non-cash delivery obligations of MLBV under any CMU Notes covered by this CMU Notes Guarantee already in issue at the date of such termination being effective.

This CMU Notes Guarantee will terminate upon the merger of MLBV with and into BAC.

This CMU Notes Guarantee shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York applicable to agreements made and to be performed in the State of New York.

The CMU Notes are governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law, and MLBV has submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts for the purposes of determining any legal action or proceeding relating thereto. BAC has not submitted to the jurisdiction of the English courts for any such purpose, and any legal action or proceedings arising out of or relating to this CMU Notes Guarantee with respect to the CMU Notes shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the State of New York or the courts of the United States of America located in the Borough of Manhattan in the City and State of New York.

This CMU Notes Guarantee shall expire and shall no longer be effective once all amounts payable or non-cash consideration deliverable, as the case may be, on or in respect of the CMU Notes guaranteed by this CMU Notes Guarantee have been satisfied.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, BAC has caused this CMU Notes Guarantee to be executed in its corporate name by its duly authorized representative as of the date first set forth above.

MLBV may from time to time issue Notes under the Programme denominated in Korean won electronically registered in uncertificated and dematerialized book-entry form with the Korea Securities Depository in accordance with the Act on Electronic Registration of Stocks, Bonds, etc. of Korea, as amended from time to time, the Financial Investment Services and Capital Markets Act of Korea, as amended from time to time, and, in each case, any sub-regulations thereof (such Notes, "Korean Notes"). Korean Notes will be issued by MLBV under the terms of the Distribution and Registration Agreement dated July 20, 2023, by and among MLBV, BAC and the Distributor and Registration Agent named therein (as amended and/or supplemented and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time) (the "Distribution and Registration Agreement") and pursuant to the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" and the applicable additional terms and conditions set out in the Offering Circular dated 15 May 2026, as supplemented and amended by the "Korean Notes Conditions" set out in the Korean Notes Product Supplement included in such Offering Circular, as the same may be amended and/or supplemented from time to time, and the applicable Final Terms (collectively, the "Conditions").

For the avoidance of doubt, any Warrants, Certificates and Notes that are not Korean Notes issued by MLBV do not have the benefit of this Korean Notes Guarantee.

Furthermore, any Series of Korean Notes originally issued by MLBV with the benefit of a guarantee issued by BAC prior to the date hereof (each an "Original Korean Notes Guarantee"), and any Korean Notes issued by MLBV on or after the date hereof which are expressed to be consolidated and form a single Series with any Korean Notes originally issued by MLBV prior to the date hereof, shall continue to be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the terms of such Original Korean Notes Guarantee. In addition, any Korean Notes issued by MLBV on or after the date on which BAC has granted a subsequent guarantee of such Korean Notes (in respect of which such Korean Notes will have the benefit) shall not have the benefit of this Korean Notes Guarantee (save (i) in relation to any Tranche of Korean Notes which are expressed to be consolidated and form a single Series with any Tranche(s) of Korean Notes which have the benefit of this Korean Notes Guarantee and/or (ii) if expressly so provided in any such subsequent guarantee and/or applicable Conditions). In addition, for the avoidance of doubt, Korean Notes do not have the benefit of the MLBV Guarantee dated 15 May 2026 executed by BAC relating to Notes, Warrants and Certificates issued by MLBV under the terms of the Amended and Restated English Law Agency Agreement dated 15 May 2026 (as the same may be amended, supplemented and/or restated from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof) among BAC, MLBV and the Agents named therein.

NOW, THEREFORE, BAC, as guarantor, hereby agrees as follows:

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, BAC hereby irrevocably, fully and unconditionally guarantees, as primary obligor and not merely as surety, on an unsecured basis, to the holders (the "Holders") of Korean Notes issued by MLBV from time to time on or after the date hereof under the terms of the Distribution and Registration Agreement and pursuant to the Conditions, the due and punctual payment (whether at stated maturity, upon redemption, repayment or acceleration, or otherwise, after giving effect to any applicable grace period) of the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and any interest and all other amounts due and payable by MLBV as obligor in respect of each Korean Note, when and as the same shall become due and payable, pursuant to and in accordance with the Conditions of the Korean Notes. Upon failure by MLBV to punctually pay any such amount when due, BAC shall forthwith on demand pay the amount not so paid at the same place and in the same manner specified that applies for payments to be made by MLBV under such Korean Notes. This Korean Notes Guarantee is one of payment and not of collection.

The obligations of BAC hereunder are unconditional, absolute and irrevocable and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, will not be released, discharged, or otherwise affected or impaired by: (a) any extension, renewal, settlement, compromise, waiver, release, or moratorium in respect of any obligation of MLBV under any Korean Note, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise; (b) any waiver or consent, modification or amendment of or supplement to any Korean Note; (c) any change in the corporate existence, structure or ownership of MLBV (whether by way of consolidation, amalgamation, merger, transfer, sale, lease, conveyance or otherwise), or any insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership, reorganization or other similar proceeding affecting MLBV or its assets or any resulting release or discharge of any obligation of MLBV contained in any Korean Note; (d) the existence of any claim, counterclaim, set off, recoupment or other rights or defenses which BAC may have at any time against MLBV or any other person or entity, whether in connection with the Korean Notes or any unrelated transactions, provided that nothing herein prevents the assertion of any such claim by separate suit or compulsory counterclaim; (e) the absence of any action to enforce any of MLBV's obligations with respect to any Korean Note; (f) any invalidity, irregularity or unenforceability relating to or against MLBV for any reason of any Korean Note (except as may result from any applicable statute of limitations), or any provision of applicable law or regulation purporting to prohibit the payment by MLBV of the principal of or interest on any Korean Note; (g) the rendering of any judgment against MLBV or any action to enforce the same; or (h) any act or omission to act or delay of any kind by MLBV or any other person or entity or any other circumstance whatsoever which might, but for the provisions of this paragraph, constitute a legal or equitable discharge of or defense to BAC's obligations hereunder (other than the indefeasible payment in full of all of BAC's obligations hereunder).

BAC's payment obligations under this Korean Notes Guarantee with respect to any Korean Notes will remain in full force and effect until the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and any interest and all other amounts due and payable by MLBV on such Korean Notes have been paid in full. If at any time any due and punctual payment of the principal of (and premium, if any, on) or any interest or other amount payable by MLBV on any Korean Note is rescinded or must be otherwise restored or returned upon the insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership or reorganization of MLBV or otherwise, BAC's payment obligations hereunder with respect to such payment will be reinstated as though such payment had been due but not made at such time.

BAC hereby irrevocably waives diligence; acceptance; presentment; demand; protest; notice of protest; notice of acceleration; notice of dishonor; any notice not provided for herein; filing of claims with any court in the event of insolvency or bankruptcy of MLBV; and any right to require a proceeding first against MLBV or any other entity or person.

Upon making any payment with respect to any obligation of MLBV under this Korean Notes Guarantee, BAC shall be subrogated to the rights of the payee against MLBV with respect to such obligation, provided that BAC may not enforce any right of subrogation with respect to such payment so long as any amount payable by MLBV under any Korean Note remains unpaid.

If acceleration of the time for payment of any amount payable by MLBV on the Korean Notes guaranteed hereunder is stayed upon the insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership or reorganization of MLBV, BAC shall forthwith on demand by the Holders pay all such amounts notwithstanding any such stay.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Korean Notes Guarantee, BAC, and by its acceptance of Korean Notes, each Holder, hereby confirms that it is the intention of all such parties that the Korean Notes Guarantee not constitute a fraudulent conveyance under applicable fraudulent conveyance, fraudulent transfer or similar provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any comparable provision of U.S. state law. To effectuate that intention, the Holders and BAC hereby irrevocably agree that the obligations of BAC under the Korean Notes Guarantee are limited to the maximum amount that would not render BAC's obligations subject to avoidance under applicable fraudulent conveyance, fraudulent transfer or similar provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any comparable provision of U.S. state law.

Any demand upon BAC hereunder with respect to this Korean Notes Guarantee shall be made by the relevant Holder by the giving of written notice of such demand to BAC at Bank of America Corporation, Bank of America Corporate Center, Attention: Corporate Treasury—Global Funding Transaction Management, NC1-007-06-10, 100 North Tryon Street, Charlotte, North Carolina 28255-0065, U.S.A., with a copy sent to BAC at Bank of America Corporation, Legal Department, Attention: General Counsel, NC1-027-18-05, 150 North College Street, Charlotte, North Carolina 28255-0065, U.S.A.; provided, however, that delay in making such demand shall in no event affect BAC's obligations under this Korean Notes Guarantee.

BAC hereby represents and warrants to the Holders of the Korean Notes guaranteed by this Korean Notes Guarantee that this Korean Notes Guarantee constitutes the valid and binding obligation of BAC and is enforceable in accordance with its terms.

This Korean Notes Guarantee shall not be valid or become obligatory for any purpose with respect to any Korean Note until the issue of such Korean Note has been electronically registered on an issuer management register with the Korea Securities Depository in accordance with the Act on Electronic Registration of Stocks, Bonds, etc. of Korea, as amended from time to time, the Financial Investment Services and Capital Markets Act of Korea, as amended from time to time, and, in each case, any sub-regulations thereof.

Terms and expressions defined in the applicable Conditions of the Korean Notes and the Distribution and Registration Agreement shall have the same meanings when used in this Korean Notes Guarantee, except where the context otherwise requires.

This Korean Notes Guarantee may be terminated at any time by written notice by BAC to MLBV, and shall be effective upon receipt of such notice by MLBV or such later date as may be specified in such notice; provided, however, that notwithstanding any such termination, this Korean Notes Guarantee shall continue in full force and effect with respect to any payment obligations of MLBV under any Korean Notes covered by this Korean Notes Guarantee already in issue at the date of such termination being effective.

This Korean Notes Guarantee will terminate upon the merger of MLBV with and into BAC.

This Korean Notes Guarantee shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York applicable to agreements made and to be performed in the State of New York.

The Korean Notes are governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law, and MLBV has submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts for the purposes of determining any legal action or proceeding relating thereto. BAC has not submitted to the jurisdiction of the English courts for any such purpose, and any legal action or proceedings arising out of or relating to this Korean Notes Guarantee with respect to the Korean Notes shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the State of New York or the courts of the United States of America located in the Borough of Manhattan in the City and State of New York.

The laws of the Republic of Korea will be applicable with regard to the electronic registration of Korean Notes in the Korea Securities Depository system, the registration of Korean Notes in the Korean Customer Register and transfers of Korean Notes.

This Korean Notes Guarantee shall expire and shall no longer be effective once all amounts payable on or in respect of the Korean Notes guaranteed by this Korean Notes Guarantee have been satisfied.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, BAC has caused this Korean Notes Guarantee to be executed in its corporate name by its duly authorized representative.

The information set out below is subject to any change in or reinterpretation of the rules, regulations and procedures of DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream or Luxembourg, Clearstream, the CMU or the KSD (together, the "Book-Entry Clearing Systems") currently in effect. Investors wishing to use the facilities of any of the Book-Entry Clearing Systems are advised to confirm the continued applicability of the rules, regulations and procedures of the relevant Book-Entry Clearing System. None of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor and any agent party to the Agency Agreements will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of beneficial ownership interests in the Instruments held through the facilities of any Book-Entry Clearing System or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership interests.

Book-Entry Systems

DTC

The following is based on information furnished to MLBV by DTC:

DTC is a limited-purpose trust company organised under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organisation" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Exchange Act. DTC holds and provides asset servicing for over 3.5 million issues of U.S. and non-U.S. equity issues, corporate and municipal debt issues, and money market instruments (from over 100 countries) that DTC's participants ("Direct Participants") deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among Direct Participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerised book-entry transfers and pledges between Direct Participants' accounts. This eliminates the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations, and certain other organisations. DTC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"). DTCC is the holding company for DTC, National Securities Clearing Corporation and Fixed Income Clearing Corporation, all of which are registered clearing agencies. DTCC is owned by the users of its regulated subsidiaries. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly ("Indirect Participants"). The DTC rules applicable to its participants are on file with the SEC. More information about DTC can be found at www.dtcc.com. Information on that website is not included or incorporated by reference herein.

Purchases of Rule 144A Global Instruments held under the DTC system ("DTC Instruments") must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the DTC Instruments on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each actual purchaser of each DTC Warrant ("Beneficial Owner"), is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants' records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase. Beneficial Owners are, however, expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction. Transfers of ownership interests in the DTC Instruments are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Direct and Indirect Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in DTC Instruments, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the DTC Instruments is discontinued or as may otherwise be described in such DTC Instruments.

To facilitate subsequent transfers, all DTC Instruments deposited by Direct Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede & Co. or such other name as may be requested by an authorised representative of DTC. The deposit of DTC Warrants with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co. or such other DTC nominee do not effect any change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the DTC Instruments; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such DTC Instruments are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Direct and Indirect Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time.

Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. (nor any other DTC nominee) will consent or vote with respect to DTC Warrants unless authorised by a Direct Participant in accordance with DTC's Money Market Instrument ("MMI") Procedures. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an omnibus proxy to the relevant Issuer as soon as possible after the record date. The omnibus proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the DTC Warrants are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the omnibus proxy).

Cash payments on the DTC Warrants will be made by Cede & Co., or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorised representative of DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts upon DTC's receipt of funds and corresponding detail information from the relevant Issuer, on the applicable payment date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records. Payments by participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of those participants and not DTC or its nominee, the relevant Issuer, the U.S. Instrument Agent or any other agent or party, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements that may be in effect from time to time. Payments to Cede & Co. (or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorised representative of DTC) is the responsibility of the relevant Issuer. Disbursement of the payments to Direct Participants is the responsibility of DTC, and disbursements of the payments to the Beneficial Owners is the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

DTC may discontinue providing its services as depository with respect to the DTC Instruments at any time by giving reasonable notice to the relevant Issuer. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor depository is not obtained, the relevant Issuer will print and deliver individual instrument certificates.

The information in this section concerning DTC and DTC's book-entry system has been obtained from sources that MLBV believes to be reliable, but they take no responsibility for the accuracy thereof.

Book-Entry Ownership of and Payments in respect of DTC Instruments

If a Rule 144A Global Instrument is to be registered in the name of a nominee of DTC, the relevant Issuer will apply to DTC in order to have the Instruments represented by such Rule 144A Global Instrument accepted in its book-entry settlement system. Upon the issue of any Rule 144A Global Instrument to be held through DTC, DTC or its custodian will credit, on its internal book-entry system, the respective nominal amounts of the individual beneficial interests represented by such Rule 144A Global Instrument to the accounts of persons who have accounts with DTC. Ownership of beneficial interests in any such Rule 144A Global Instrument will be limited to Direct Participants or Indirect Participants, including the respective depositaries of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg. Ownership of beneficial interests in any such Rule 144A Global Instrument held through DTC will be shown on, and the transfer of such ownership will be effected only through, records maintained by DTC or its nominee (with respect to the interests of Direct Participants) and the records of Direct Participants (with respect to interests of Indirect Participants).

Payments in U.S. dollars in respect of a Rule 144A Global Instrument registered in the name of DTC's nominee will be made to the order of such nominee as the registered holder of such Instrument. In the case of any payment in a currency other than U.S. dollars, payment will be made to the relevant Paying Agents or the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, as applicable, on behalf of DTC's nominee and the relevant Paying Agents or the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, as applicable, will (in accordance with instructions received by it) remit all or a portion of such payment for credit directly to the beneficial holders of interests in the Rule 144A Global Instrument held through DTC in the currency in which such payment was made and/or cause all or a portion of such payment to be converted into U.S. dollars and credited to the applicable participants' account.

The relevant Issuers expect DTC to credit accounts of Direct Participants on the applicable payment date in accordance with their respective holdings as shown in the records of DTC unless DTC has reason to believe that it will not receive payment on such payment date. The relevant Issuers also expect that payments by participants to Beneficial Owners of Instruments will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers, and will be the responsibility of such participant and not the responsibility of DTC, the relevant Paying Agents or the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, as applicable, or the relevant Issuers. Payments on Instruments to DTC are the responsibility of the relevant Issuer.

Transfers of Instruments Represented by Global Instruments

Transfers of any interests in Instruments represented by a Global Instrument within DTC or a Global Instrument within Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg will be effected in accordance with the customary rules and operating procedures of the relevant clearing system. The laws in some States within the United States require that certain persons take physical delivery of securities in definitive form. Consequently, the ability to transfer Instruments represented by a Global Instrument to such persons may depend upon the ability to exchange such Instruments for Instruments in definitive form. Similarly, because DTC can only act on behalf of Direct Participants in the DTC system who in turn act on behalf of Indirect Participants, the ability of a person having an interest in Instruments represented by a Global Instrument to pledge such Instruments to persons or entities that do not participate in the DTC system or to otherwise take action in respect of such Instruments may depend upon the ability to exchange such Instruments for Instruments in definitive form. The ability of any person having a beneficial interest in Instruments represented by a Global Instrument to resell, pledge or otherwise transfer such Instruments may be impaired if the proposed transferee of such Instruments is not eligible to hold such Instruments through a Direct or Indirect participant in the DTC system.

Subject to compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to the Rule 144A Global Instruments and Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Instruments described under "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions", cross-market transfers between DTC, on the one hand, and directly or indirectly through Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg accountholders, on the other, will be effected by the relevant clearing system in accordance with its rules and through action taken by the relevant Paying Agent or W&C Instrument Agent, as applicable, and any custodian ("Custodian") with whom the relevant Global Instruments have been deposited.

On or after the Issue Date for any Instruments, transfers of such Instruments between accountholders in Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and transfers of such Instruments between participants in DTC will generally have a settlement date three business days after the trade date (T+3). The customary arrangements for delivery versus payment will apply to such transfers.

Cross-market transfers between accountholders in Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg and DTC participants will need to have an agreed settlement date between the parties to such transfer. Because there is no direct link between DTC, on the one hand, and Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg, on the other, transfers of interests in the relevant Global Instruments will be effected through the relevant Paying Agent or W&C Instrument Agent, as applicable, and the custodian receiving instructions (and where appropriate certification) from the transferor and arranging for delivery of the interests being transferred to the credit of the designated account for the transferee. In the case of cross-market transfers, settlement between Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg accountholders and DTC participants cannot be made on a delivery versus payment basis. The Instruments will be delivered on a free delivery basis and arrangements for payment must be made separately.

DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have each published rules and operating procedures designed to facilitate transfers of beneficial interests in Global Instruments among participants and accountholders of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg. However, they are under no obligation to perform or continue to perform such procedures, and such procedures may be discontinued or changed at any time. None of the Issuers, the Guarantor, the Paying Agents or the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, as applicable, and any Dealer will be responsible for any performance by DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg or their respective direct or indirect participants or accountholders of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations and none of them will have any liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of beneficial interests in the Instruments represented by Global Instruments, or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial interests.

CMU Notes - Central Moneymarkets Unit Service (the "CMU")

General

The CMU is a central depositary service provided by the Central Moneymarkets Unit of the HKMA for the safe custody and electronic trading between the members of the CMU (each a "CMU Member") of capital markets instruments (the "CMU Instruments") which are specified in the CMU Manual as capable of being held within the CMU.

The CMU is only available to CMU Instruments issued by a CMU Member or by a person for whom a CMU Member acts as agent for the purposes of lodging instruments issued by such persons. Membership of the CMU is open to all financial institutions regulated by the HKMA, the Securities and Futures Commission, the Insurance Authority or the Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Authority. For further details on the full range of the CMU's custodial services, please refer to the CMU Manual.

The CMU has an income distribution service which is a service offered by the CMU to facilitate the distribution of interest, coupon or redemption proceeds (collectively, the "income proceeds") by CMU Members who are paying agents to the legal title holders of CMU Instruments via the CMU system. Furthermore, the CMU has a corporate action platform which allows an issuer (or its agent) to make an announcement/notification of a corporate action and noteholders to submit the relevant certification. For further details, please refer to the CMU Manual.

An investor holding an interest through an account with either Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, in any Notes held in the CMU will hold that interest through the respective accounts which Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, each have with the CMU.

Book-Entry Ownership

The Issuer will apply to have the CMU Notes represented by a Global Note accepted for clearance through the CMU. Each Global Note will have a CMU Instrument Number.

Initial Issue of CMU Notes

A Global Note will be delivered on or prior to the original issue date of the Tranche to a sub-custodian for the HKMA as operator of the CMU.

Upon registration of the CMU Notes in the name of HKMA as operator of the CMU and delivery of the related Global Note to the sub-custodian for the CMU operated by the HKMA, the CMU will credit each subscriber with a nominal amount of CMU Notes equal to the nominal amount thereof for which it has subscribed and paid.

Relationship of Accountholders with the CMU

If a Global Note is lodged with a sub-custodian for or registered with the CMU, the person(s) for whose account(s) interests in such Global Note are credited as being held in the CMU in accordance with the CMU Rules shall be the only person(s) directed or deemed by the CMU as entitled to receive payments in respect of CMU Notes represented by such Global Note and the Issuer will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, such person(s) for whose account(s) interests in such Global Note are credited as being held in the CMU in respect of each amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of the CMU, as the beneficial holder of a particular nominal amount of CMU Notes represented by such Global Note must look solely to the CMU for his share of each payment so made by the Issuer in respect of such Global Note.

Payments

In respect of a Global Note held through the CMU, any payments of principal, interest (if any) or any other amounts shall be made to the CMU for the distribution to the person(s) for whose account(s) interests in the relevant Global Note are credited (as set out in the records of the CMU) at the close of business on the Clearing System Business Day immediately prior to the date for payment and, save in the case of final payment, no presentation of the relevant Global Note shall be required for such purpose. For the purposes of this paragraph, "Clearing System Business Day" means a day on which the CMU is operating and open for business. Payment made to the CMU shall discharge the obligations of the Issuer in respect of that payment.

Korean Notes – Korea Securities Depository ("KSD") system*General*

The KSD is the sole central securities depository and electronic registry of the Republic of Korea.

Interests in the Korean Notes will be shown on, and transfers thereof will be effected through, records maintained by KSD and its respective participants and depositing custodians, as described in more detail below.

The KSD, as a central depository and electronic registry, provides a deposit service, electronic registration service and settlement service, each of which is closely related to one or more back-office functions for the primary and secondary markets.

Any description herein as to payments being made or any other actions or duties being undertaken by the KSD (or its agents or operators or depositors) is based solely on the MLBV's understanding of the relevant rules and/or operations of the KSD and applicable Korean regulations. Neither MLBV nor the Guarantor makes any representation or warranty that such information is accurate or, in any event, that the KSD or participant or depositor therein will make such payments or undertake such actions or duties in accordance with such description.

*Issuance or "record" in the KSD and transfer of Korean Notes1. Issuance and record in the Issuer Management Register

Under the Act on Electronic Registration of Stocks, Bonds, etc. of Korea (No. 14096 of March 22, 2016, as amended) (the "AERS"), the KSD as registrar maintains a register for the purpose of managing notes (such as the Korean Notes) which have been issued via registration with the KSD (an "Issuer Management Register"). Under the AERS, the issuance of certain types of securities, such as the Korean Notes, in physical form is not permitted.

2. Transfer in the Korean AMI Proprietary Register and the Korean Customer Register

Under the AERS, following the issuance of the Korean Notes and establishment of the Issuer Management Register, the KSD, as electronic registry, will establish a register to enable eligible accountholders in the KSD ("Korean AMI Proprietary Register Holders") to settle their holdings of the Korean Notes through account-transfer (the "Korean AMI Proprietary Register"). Only certain qualified institutions, such as securities companies, may be Korean AMI Proprietary Register Holders under the AERS.

Investors that are not Korean AMI Proprietary Register Holders are obliged to maintain an account with a qualified account management institution (each, an "Account Management Institution") that are accountholders with the KSD. The Account Management Institution will register such holders (the "Korean Customer Register Holders" and together with the Korean AMI Proprietary Register Holders, the "Holders" and each a "Holder") on a register (each, a "Korean Customer Register") in which the Account Management Institution will (a) register the Korean Customer Register Holders holding an account with such Account Management Institution and (b) record transfers between Korean Customer Register Holders. The KSD will also maintain registers (each, a "Korean Customer Management Register") with respect to each Account Management Institution that includes each of the securities (including the Korean Notes) managed by such Account Management Institution on behalf of Korean Customer Register Holders.

Transfers of interests in the Korean Notes may also be made through account-transfer from a Korean AMI Proprietary Register Holder in the applicable Korean AMI Proprietary Register to a Korean Customer Register Holder in the applicable Korean Customer Register and vice versa (with necessary adjustments to the relevant Korean Customer Management Register).

In respect of any particular Tranche of Korean Notes, for the period of one (1) year from, and including, the Issue Date of such Tranche of Korean Notes, (i) the Clearing System in relation to Korean AMI Proprietary Registers and (ii) Account Management Institutions in relation to Korean Customer Registers shall not permit the transfer of Korean Notes in a principal amount of less than the Specified Denomination (as specified in the relevant Final Terms).

Payments

The Issuer (via the relevant Korean Notes Paying Agent) shall pay all amounts owing under the Korean Notes to (or to an account nominated by) the KSD. Following such payment, neither the Issuer nor the Guarantor shall have any responsibility or liability whatsoever for any failure by (a) the KSD in relation to (i) a Korean AMI Proprietary Register Holder (or any person that should have been registered in the Korean AMI Proprietary Register) or (ii) an Account Management Institution that holds Korean Notes on behalf of a Korean Customer Register Holder or (b) any Account Management Institution in relation to any Korean Customer Register Holder (or any person that should have been registered in a Korean Customer Register), to pass on full payment of such amount and in a timely manner. Holders who have not received full payment under the Korean Notes must seek redress from the appropriate party within the KSD system.

Other rights as "holder" for all other purposes

In the case a Holder requests the KSD (either directly or through an Account Management Institution, as applicable) (i) to issue a certificate of ownership pursuant to Article 39 of the AERS or (ii) to notify the Issuer of the Holder's status as a holder of the Korean Notes pursuant to Article 40 of the AERS, and following receipt of the certificate of ownership or notification of the Holder's status (each a "Holder Request Event"), the Holder may exercise its rights (including rights of payment) directly against the Issuer until such time it returns the certificate of ownership or the notification period expires (each a "Holder Request Termination Event"). Following a Holder Request Event, the relevant Holder may not transfer its Korean Notes until a related Holder Request Termination Event occurs.

Neither the Issuer nor the Guarantor has any responsibility or liability for the accuracy of any Korean AMI Proprietary Register, any Korean Customer Management Register or any Korean Customer Register or for the actions of the KSD, any Account Management Institution or any Holder.

Settlement

Securities settlement is the completion of confirmed debit or credit (as applicable) obligations through the delivery of securities and payment of funds in securities transactions. As the securities settlement organisation in the Republic of Korea, the KSD provides securities settlement infrastructure, controls settlement risk, and contributes to enhance the stability of the financial system in the Republic of Korea.

As a post-trading process, settlement is, in broad terms, composed of trade reporting, comparison, netting, and settlement in narrow terms. The following parties are involved in the process: the settlement organisation (the KSD), the settlement members (the securities companies) and certain regulatory bodies (the Ministry of Economy and Finance, the Financial Services Commission and the Financial Supervisory Service).

Instruments issued by MLBV

Restrictions on transfer of all Instruments issued by MLBV

None of the Instruments of any Series issued by MLBV, (if applicable) the MLBV Guarantee and, in certain cases, the securities to be delivered upon exercise or settlement of such Instruments have been, or will be, registered under the Securities Act or under any U.S. state securities laws. The Instruments of any Series issued by MLBV, (if applicable) the MLBV Guarantee and certain Entitlements do not constitute, and have not been marketed as, contracts of sale of a commodity for future delivery (or options thereon) subject to the CEA, and trading in such Instruments issued by MLBV has not been approved by the CFTC pursuant to the CEA. Neither MLBV nor the Guarantor is registered as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act").

The Instruments issued by MLBV may not be legally or beneficially owned by any U.S. person nor offered, sold, resold, traded, pledged, exercised, transferred or delivered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined herein) except, in the case of Rule 144A Instruments, in private transactions in reliance on Rule 144A ("Rule 144A") under the Securities Act to "qualified institutional buyers" ("QIBs") as defined in Rule 144A and who are also each a "qualified purchaser" (each a "QP") within the meaning of Section 3(c)(7) and as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the 1940 Act and the rules thereunder, and who, as a condition to purchasing such Instruments shall enter into and remain in compliance with an Investor Representation Letter for the benefit of the Dealer, the Issuer and the Guarantor (together with their respective affiliates and any persons controlling, controlled by or under common control with such Dealer, Issuer or Guarantor) ("Investor Representation Letter"). Consequently, except in the case of Rule 144A Instruments, any offer, sale, resale, trade, pledge, exercise, redemption, transfer or delivery of any Instruments issued by MLBV made, directly or indirectly, within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person will not be recognised. Any reoffers, resales, trades, pledges, transfers or deliveries of such Instruments, or any part thereof, offered and sold in reliance on Rule 144A will only be made in the United States and to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person that is a QIB who also is a QP, and who, as a condition to any such reoffer, resale, trade, pledge, transfer or delivery, will enter into and remain in compliance with an Investor Representation Letter.

Instruments issued by MLBV relating to commodities and commodity futures may only be offered, sold or resold in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person pursuant to one or more exemptions and/or exclusions under the CEA. MLBV reserves the right not to make payment or delivery of any Entitlement, and the Guarantor reserves the right not to make payment or pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering any Entitlement, in respect of such Rule 144A Instruments to a person in the United States or a U.S. person if such payment or, in the case of MLBV, delivery would constitute a violation of U.S. law.

Instruments issued by MLBV may be offered and sold to non-U.S. persons (including dealers or other professional fiduciaries in the United States acting on a discretionary basis for foreign beneficial owners (other than an estate or trust)), in offshore transactions (as defined by Regulation S) pursuant to Regulation S. Any reoffers, resales, trades, pledges, transfers or deliveries of the Instruments issued by MLBV, or any part thereof, offered and sold pursuant to Regulation S will only be made outside the United States and to, or for the account or benefit of, a non-U.S. person in accordance with Regulation S.

Instruments issued by MLBV other than Rule 144A Instruments and Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Instruments (and Definitive Registered Instruments Issued in Exchange Therefor)

Each purchaser of Instruments issued by MLBV (other than a Series of Rule 144A Instruments or Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Instruments (and Definitive Registered Instruments issued in exchange therefor), for itself and on behalf of any investor accounts for which it is acting as a fiduciary or agent, each of which such purchaser has the authority and sole investment discretion with respect thereto, will be deemed on purchase to represent, acknowledge, certify and agree with MLBV, the Guarantor, the Dealer (together with their respective affiliates and any persons controlling, controlled by or under common control with MLBV, the Guarantor or such Dealer) or the seller of such Instruments for itself and any person for whose account such Instruments are being purchased that:

- (i) it is not a U.S. person, is not located in the United States and is acquiring the Instruments in an offshore transaction in compliance with Regulation S;

BANK OF AMERICA CORPORATION

Bank of America Corporation ("BAC") is a Delaware corporation, a bank holding company, and a financial holding company. BAC was incorporated on 31 July 1998 (existing until it is dissolved) as a part of the merger of BankAmerica Corporation with NationsBank Corporation. BAC was initially registered with the State of Delaware, Secretary of State, Division of Corporations on 31 July 1998 under registration number 2927442. BAC operates under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, Title 8 of the Delaware Code 1953, sections 101 through 398, known as the "Delaware General Corporation Law". BAC's registered office in Delaware is at The Corporation Trust Company, Corporation Trust Center, 1209 Orange Street, Wilmington, Delaware 19801, United States. BAC's headquarters and principal place of business are located at 100 North Tryon Street, Charlotte, North Carolina 28255, United States, telephone number (704) 386-5681 and its website is <https://www.bankofamerica.com/>. BAC's objects and purposes are to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organised and incorporated in the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, as specified in paragraph 2 of BAC's Restated Certificate of Incorporation. BAC filed its Restated Certificate of Incorporation with the Delaware Secretary of State on 27 December 2019, and last amended its Restated Certificate of Incorporation on 24 July 2025. BAC's most recent Amended and Restated Bylaws are dated 26 June 2024.

Business Segment Operations

Through its various bank and nonbank subsidiaries throughout the United States and in international markets, BAC provides a diversified range of banking and nonbank financial services and products through four business segments: (1) Consumer Banking, (2) Global Wealth & Investment Management, (3) Global Banking and (4) Global Markets, with the remaining operations recorded in All Other.

Financial Consequences to Unsecured Debtholders of Single Point of Entry Resolution Strategy

BAC is subject to the TLAC Rules, which aim to improve the resiliency and resolvability of U.S. global systemically important bank holding companies ("covered BHCs"), including BAC, in the event of failure or material financial distress. The TLAC Rules include the requirement that each covered BHC maintain a minimum amount of eligible LTD and other loss-absorbing capacity. The eligible LTD would absorb the covered BHC's losses, following the depletion of its equity, upon its entry into a resolution proceeding under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or a resolution proceeding administered by the FDIC under Title II of the Financial Reform Act.

Under Title I of the Financial Reform Act, BAC is required by the Federal Reserve Board and the FDIC to periodically submit a plan for a rapid and orderly resolution under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code in the event of material financial distress or failure. BAC's preferred resolution strategy under this plan is its SPOE strategy, whereby only BAC (excluding its consolidated subsidiaries) would file for bankruptcy under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. Under this strategy, and pursuant to existing intercompany arrangements by which BAC has transferred most of its assets to a wholly-owned holding company subsidiary, which holds the equity interests in BAC's key operating subsidiaries, BAC would contribute its remaining financial assets, less a holdback to cover its bankruptcy expenses, to this wholly-owned holding company subsidiary prior to filing for bankruptcy. BAC would then file for bankruptcy under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. Pursuant to an order from the bankruptcy court under section 363 of the Bankruptcy Code, BAC, as debtor-in-possession, would transfer its subsidiaries to a newly-formed entity ("NewCo") that would be held in trust for the sole and exclusive benefit of BAC's bankruptcy estate.

Under BAC's SPOE resolution strategy, the obligations of BAC on its unsecured debt, including the BAC Notes, would not be assumed by NewCo; instead, the claims on such obligations would be left behind in the bankruptcy proceeding. After the transferred subsidiaries were stabilised, NewCo's residual value in the form of shares or proceeds from the sale of shares would be distributed to the holders of claims against the bankruptcy estate in accordance with the priority of their claims, including to holders of BAC's debt securities.

In 2013, the FDIC issued a notice describing its similar preferred "single point of entry" recapitalisation model for resolving a global systemically important banking group, such as BAC, under Title II of the Financial Reform Act. Under Title II, when a covered BHC is in default or danger of default, the FDIC may be appointed receiver in order to conduct an orderly liquidation of such institution as an alternative to resolution of the entity under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code if the U.S. Secretary of the Treasury makes certain financial distress and systemic risk determinations. Pursuant to the single point of entry recapitalisation model, the FDIC would use its power to create a "bridge entity" for the covered BHC; transfer the systemically important and viable parts of the covered BHC's business to the bridge entity; recapitalise those subsidiaries using assets of the covered BHC that have been transferred to the bridge entity; and exchange external debt claims against the covered BHC, including claims of holders of BAC debt securities and other unsecured debt, for equity in the bridge entity. This strategy would allow operating subsidiaries of the covered BHC to continue to operate and impose losses on stockholders and creditors of the covered BHC, which could include the holders of the BAC Notes and the Guarantees.

BANK OF AMERICA, N.A.

History and Business

Bank of America, N.A. ("BANA") is a national banking association formed under the laws of the United States, and authorised thereunder to transact the business of banking, and its U.S. Federal Reserve Bank Identification Number is 480228. BANA was organised on 1 March 1927 for an unlimited duration. BANA is an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BANA's main office is in the City of Charlotte, County of Mecklenburg, State of North Carolina, United States and its principal executive offices are located at 100 North Tryon Street, Charlotte, North Carolina 28255-0065, United States.

BANA's deposits at its U.S. branches that are eligible for federal deposit insurance are insured by the FDIC and are subject to FDIC insurance assessments. However, the obligations of BANA under any Note issued by BANA are not insured by the FDIC or any other regulatory agency of the United States or any other jurisdiction.

Principal Activities

BANA is primarily engaged in general consumer banking, commercial banking and trust business, offering a wide range of commercial, corporate, international, financial market, retail and fiduciary banking services. BANA's most recent articles of association are effective 13 June 2005, as amended and restated on 23 September 2020.

Regulation and Supervision

BANA operates and is subject to regulation under federal and state banking and other laws in the United States, including the U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Act (the "FDIA"), as well as the applicable laws of each of the various jurisdictions outside the United States in which it does business.

General

BANA is subject to regulation, supervision, and examination by the OCC, which is the primary regulator of U.S. national banks. In addition, BANA also is required to comply with certain laws and regulations administered by the FDIC, as the insurer of its deposits, and with respect to various aspects of BANA's activities, certain laws and regulations administered by the Federal Reserve Board. As a result, BANA's business, financial condition, and prospects can be materially affected not only by management decisions and general economic conditions, but also by applicable statutes, regulations and other regulatory pronouncements and policies promulgated by these and other regulatory agencies with jurisdiction over BANA. Furthermore, these statutes, regulations and other pronouncements and policies are intended primarily to protect its depositors and the Deposit Insurance Fund (the "DIF") of the FDIC, not to protect holders of other obligations, such as the Notes. The consumer financial products and services BANA offers are regulated by the U.S. Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (the "CFPB"), and BANA is subject to regulation and supervision by the CFPB. BANA also engages in derivatives transactions. BANA is a registered swap dealer with the CFTC and a conditionally registered security-based swap dealer with the SEC.

The following discussion describes elements of an extensive regulatory framework applicable to banks and is qualified in its entirety by the specific language of these laws and regulations. In addition, there are numerous other laws and regulations not summarized below that are applicable to BANA.

For a discussion of certain additional information regarding the regulatory framework affecting BANA, its supervision by various governmental agencies and matters related to the foregoing, reference is made to the BAC 2025 Annual Report, incorporated by reference herein. See "Documents Incorporated by Reference." Information contained in reports that BAC files with the SEC after the date of this Offering Circular, that are incorporated by reference herein, as well as in Final Terms or other supplements to this Offering Circular dated after the date of this Offering Circular, may update, supplement, change and/or supersede, from time to time, information relating to regulatory matters affecting BANA, including in the discussion below and in the BAC 2025 Annual Report, and this Offering Circular should be read in conjunction with all such reports and supplements, and the information therein relating to regulatory matters affecting BANA, for such information. If there are any conflicts, differences or inconsistencies between the information contained in this Offering Circular and in any document dated after the date of this Offering Circular and incorporated by reference in, or supplementary to, this Offering Circular, the information contained in such later dated document and such information will govern and control.

Conservatorship and Receivership Powers of the FDIC

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Improvement Act of 1991 (the "FDICIA") contains broad grounds for appointing a conservator or receiver of an FDIC-insured depository institution. In addition to insolvency and certain other grounds, a conservator or receiver may be appointed if such an institution becomes "critically undercapitalized" or if it is "undercapitalized" and (1) has no reasonable prospect of becoming "adequately capitalized," (2) fails to become "adequately capitalized" when required to do so under FDICIA's Prompt Corrective Action ("PCA") provisions, (3) fails to submit an acceptable capital restoration plan within prescribed time limits or (4) materially fails to implement an accepted capital restoration plan. In addition to being appointed conservator or receiver of a national bank by the OCC, the FDIC may appoint itself as conservator or receiver of a national bank under certain circumstances.

Under the "cross-guarantee" provisions of the FDIA, a bank insured by the FDIC can be held liable for any loss incurred by, or reasonably expected to be incurred by, the FDIC in connection with (1) the default of a commonly-controlled FDIC-insured depository institution or (2) any assistance provided by the FDIC to a commonly-controlled FDIC-insured depository institution in danger of default. The term "default" is defined to mean the appointment of a conservator or receiver for such institution, and "in danger of default" is defined generally as the existence of certain conditions indicating that a "default" is likely to occur in the absence of regulatory assistance. Under this statutory provision, BANA could be liable to the FDIC in the event of a default of, or any FDIC assistance to, any other FDIC-insured depository institution controlled by BAC. This liability to the FDIC would be subordinated in right of payment to deposit liabilities, secured obligations, or any other general or senior liabilities, including liabilities under the Notes. Imposition of this liability to the FDIC, however, could result in BANA's conservatorship or receivership.

If the FDIC was appointed as BANA's receiver, holders of the Notes would be unsecured creditors entitled to share in BANA's assets on a pari passu basis with BANA's other unsecured creditors. Holders of the Notes would be unlikely to have a claim for more than principal and interest accrued through the date of the FDIC's appointment as receiver. In any event, the amount paid on claims in respect of the Notes would depend upon, among other factors, the amount of BANA's assets available for the payment of unsecured claims. In addition to possible loss of principal, holders of the Notes might not be able, depending upon economic conditions, to reinvest amounts received in respect of the claim at a rate of interest comparable to that paid on the Notes. Moreover, holders of the Notes could experience significant delay in receiving any payment in respect of their claims, with interest not being payable during the period of any delay. In the event of BANA's insolvency, the FDIC has the discretion to use its own assets, as opposed to BANA's assets, to satisfy the claims of some, but not all, of BANA's creditors. The FDIC also has the power to transfer to a new obligor any of BANA's assets and liabilities, including the Notes, without the approval or consent of holders of the Notes or any of BANA's other creditors. In accordance with provisions of the FDICIA, the FDIC generally is required to satisfy its obligations to a bank's insured depositors at the least possible cost to the DIF.

Under the FDICIA, the FDIC may not take any action that would have the effect of increasing the losses to the DIF by protecting bank depositors for more than the insured portion of deposits (generally, at least U.S.$250,000 per customer) or bank creditors other than depositors (such as holders of the Notes). The FDIC also is authorized by the FDICIA to settle all uninsured and unsecured claims in the insolvency of an insured bank by making a final settlement payment after the declaration of insolvency. The rate of such final settlement payments would be a percentage rate determined by the FDIC reflecting an average of the FDIC's receivership recovery experience. Such a payment would constitute full payment and disposition of the FDIC's obligations to claimants, regardless of the assets of the insolvent institution actually available for distribution to creditors.

In addition, if an insured depository institution becomes insolvent and the FDIC is appointed its conservator or receiver, the FDIC may disaffirm or repudiate any contract or lease to which the institution is a party, the performance of which is determined to be burdensome, and the disaffirmance or repudiation of which is determined to promote the orderly administration of the institution's affairs. If the FDIC was to successfully contend that its power to repudiate "contracts" extends to obligations such as the Notes, the effect of any repudiation would be to accelerate the maturity of the Notes. Repudiation would result in a claim of the holders of the Notes against the receivership for principal and interest accrued through the date of the appointment of the conservator or receiver. The amount paid upon this claim would depend upon, among other factors, the amount of receivership assets available for the payment of unsecured claims and the priority of this claim relative to the priority of other unsecured creditors and depositors. If the maturity of the Notes were so accelerated, and a claim relating to the Notes were paid by the conservatorship or receivership, the holders of the Notes might not be able, depending upon economic conditions, to reinvest any amounts paid on the Notes at a rate of interest comparable to that paid on the Notes. In addition, the FDIC, as conservator or receiver, may enforce most types of contracts, including the Notes, according to their terms, notwithstanding any provision permitting the holders of the Notes to accelerate maturity.

Depositor Preference

Federal law provides that the claims of a receiver of an insured depository institution for administrative expenses and the claims of holders of deposit liabilities of the institution, including the FDIC as the subrogee of holders of insured deposits, will have priority over the claims of general unsecured creditors of the institution, including the holders of obligations such as the Notes, in the event of a liquidation or other resolution of the institution. Under FDIC rules, "administrative expenses" of a receiver include expenses, including pre-failure and post-failure obligations, incurred by a receiver in liquidating or resolving the affairs of a failed insured depository institution. Thus, those claims would receive priority over the claims of holders of the Notes in the event of BANA's liquidation or other resolution.

Orderly Liquidation Authority

Under the FDIA, the FDIC may be appointed receiver of an insured depository institution if it is insolvent or in certain other circumstances. Additionally, under the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Reform Act"), when a systemically important financial institution (a "SIFI") such as BAC is in default or danger of default, the FDIC may be appointed receiver in order to conduct an orderly liquidation of such institution. In the event of such appointment, the FDIC could, among other things, invoke the orderly liquidation authority, instead of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code, if the U.S. Secretary of the Treasury makes certain financial distress and systemic risk determinations. The orderly liquidation authority is modeled in part on the FDIA, but also adopts certain concepts from the U.S. Bankruptcy Code.

The orderly liquidation authority contains certain differences from the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. For example, in certain circumstances, the FDIC could permit payment of obligations it determines to be systemically significant (e.g., short-term creditors or operating creditors) in lieu of paying other obligations (e.g., long-term creditors) without the need to obtain creditors' consent or prior court review. The insolvency and resolution process could also lead to a large reduction or total elimination of the value of a bank holding company's ("BHC") outstanding equity, as well as impairment or elimination of certain debt.

Under the FDIC's "single point of entry" strategy for resolving SIFIs, the FDIC could replace a distressed BHC with a bridge holding company, which could continue operations and result in an orderly resolution of the underlying bank, but whose equity is held solely for the benefit of the creditors of the original BHC.

While the insolvency of BAC (whether in a bankruptcy proceeding or in a resolution under the Orderly Liquidation Authority) may not directly result in the insolvency of BANA, such a proceeding may impact BANA's solvency and BANA's ability to pay the Notes and may impact BAC's ability to serve as a continuing source of strength for BANA.

Capital, Liquidity and Operational Requirements

BAC and BANA are subject to the regulatory capital and liquidity rules issued by the Federal Reserve Board and the OCC, respectively. These rules are complex and are evolving as U.S. and international regulatory authorities propose new rules and enact amendments to existing rules. BANA seeks to manage its capital and liquidity positions to satisfy these rules and to support its business activities. These continually evolving rules are likely to influence BANA's planning processes and may require additional regulatory capital and liquidity, as well as impose additional operational and compliance costs.

BANA is subject to the OCC's minimum risk-based capital and leverage ratio guidelines imposed on national banks. In addition, the OCC may from time to time require that a bank maintain capital above the minimum levels, whether because of its financial condition or actual or anticipated growth. The guidelines establish a systematic analytical framework that makes regulatory capital requirements more sensitive to differences in risk profiles among banking organizations. Risk-based capital ratios are determined by allocating assets and the credit equivalent amounts of specified off-balance sheet exposures among four risk-weighted categories, with higher levels of capital being required for categories perceived as representing greater risk.

As part of a BHC, BANA is subject to regulatory capital rules, including Basel 3, issued by U.S. banking regulators. Basel 3 established minimum capital ratios and buffer requirements and outlined two methods of calculating risk-weighted assets ("RWA"), the "Standardized Approach" and the "Advanced Approaches." The Standardized Approach relies primarily on supervisory risk weights based on exposure type, and the Advanced Approaches determine risk weights based on internal models.

BAC's capital ratios and related information in accordance with Basel 3 Standardized Approach and Advanced Approaches are available in the BAC 2025 Annual Report. BANA's regulatory capital information in accordance with Basel 3 Standardized and Advanced Approaches is available in the BAC 2025 Annual Report. As of December 31, 2025, we meet the definition of "well capitalized" under the PCA framework.

BAC and BANA are Advanced Approaches institutions under Basel 3 and are required to report regulatory risk-based capital ratios and RWA under both the Standardized and Advanced Approaches. The lower of the capital ratios under Standardized or Advanced Approaches compared to their respective regulatory capital ratio requirements is used to assess capital adequacy, including under the PCA framework. As of the date of this Offering Circular, the minimum capital ratios to which BANA is subject include the common equity Tier 1 capital ratio of 4.5%, the Tier 1 capital ratio of 6% and the total capital ratio of 8% plus required buffers described below. As of the date of this Offering Circular, the common equity Tier 1 ("CET1") capital, Tier 1 capital and total capital ratios under the Standardized Approach were the binding ratios for BANA.

Basel 3 also established a minimum 2.5% Capital Conservation Buffer applicable to substantially all U.S. depository institutions and a discretionary Countercyclical Capital Buffer of up to 2.5% for Advanced Approaches banking organizations. In December 2020, the Federal Reserve Board voted to affirm the Countercyclical Capital Buffer amount at the current level of 0% for BHCs subject to the buffer. As of the date of this Offering Circular, the OCC has not imposed a Countercyclical Capital Buffer amount for Advanced Approaches national banks. Thus, BANA's combined regulatory minimums as of the date of this Offering Circular, are CET1 ratio of 7.0%, Tier 1 capital ratio of 8.5% and total capital ratio of 10.5%, including the capital conservation buffer of 2.5%.

BANA is subject to the Capital Conservation Buffer and, if invoked, the Countercyclical Capital Buffer. Both the Capital Conservation Buffer and the Countercyclical Capital Buffers must be comprised solely of CET1 capital. Having any one of the three risk-based capital ratios fall below the minimum required ratio plus the buffer would subject BANA to progressively more stringent restrictions (depending on the extent of the shortfall) on dividends, distributions, and discretionary compensation payments.

BANA is required to maintain a minimum Tier 1 Leverage ratio of 5% to be considered "well capitalized" under the PCA framework. The Tier 1 Leverage ratio, a non-risk based measure of capital adequacy, is defined as Tier 1 capital as a percentage of average total on-balance sheet assets less amounts deducted from Tier 1 capital.

Like other Advanced Approaches banking organizations, BANA is additionally required to calculate a supplementary leverage ratio ("SLR") which significantly differs from the Tier 1 Leverage ratio by also including certain off-balance sheet exposures within the denominator of the ratio ("Total Leverage Exposure"). The SLR represents end of quarter Tier 1 Capital to Total Leverage Exposure, with the latter defined as the sum of the daily average of on-balance sheet assets for the quarter and the average of certain off-balance sheet exposures calculated as of the last day of each month in the quarter, less applicable Tier 1 Capital deductions.

Until the end of 2025, BANA, as an insured depository institution subsidiary of a BHC, was required to maintain an SLR of at least 6% to be considered well-capitalized under the banking regulator's PCA framework. As of December 31, 2025, BANA exceeded that requirement.

On November 25, 2025, the Federal Reserve Board, OCC and FDIC issued a final rule that modified enhanced SLR requirements for bank holding companies and their insured depository institution subsidiaries. Under the final rule, static buffer requirements above the 3% minimum were replaced with a dynamic buffer requirement equal to 50% of the Global Systemically Important Bank ("G-SIB") Method 1 surcharge that applies to the bank holding company, with the buffer capped at 1% for insured depository institution subsidiaries. BAC elected to early adopt the final rule as of January 1, 2026, which decreased the regulatory minimum SLR requirement for BANA to 3.75% from 6% and removed the SLR requirement from the PCA framework.

Failure to comply with the OCC's risk-based or leverage capital guidelines, as have been or may be adopted and implemented, could subject a national bank to a variety of regulatory enforcement actions, including PCA under the FDICIA and, in the most severe cases, appointment of a conservator or receiver.

Likewise, liquidity is essential to BANA's businesses. Both BAC and BANA are subject to liquidity regulations, which include the Liquidity Coverage Ratio ("LCR") and Net Stable Funding Ratio ("NSFR") rules and liquidity metrics arising from recovery and resolution plans that BAC and BANA are periodically required to prepare.

The objective of the LCR is to promote the short-term resilience of the liquidity risk profile of financial institutions by requiring banks to hold high-quality liquid assets ("HQLA") that can be easily monetized to meet their liquidity needs for a 30 calendar-day liquidity stress scenario. The LCR is intended to improve the banking sector's ability to absorb shocks arising from financial and economic stress. The LCR is calculated as the amount of a financial institution's HQLA relative to the prescribed net cash outflows the institution could encounter over a 30 calendar-day period of significant liquidity stress, expressed as a percentage. As of December 31, 2025, BANA was in compliance with the LCR requirements.

The objective of the NSFR is to promote a more resilient banking sector and financial system by reducing the likelihood of disruptions to a banking organization's regular sources of funding that could compromise its liquidity position over a one-year period. The NSFR is intended to support the ability of banks to lend to households and businesses in both normal and adverse economic conditions and is complementary to the LCR, which focuses on short-term liquidity risks. The NSFR is calculated as the amount of a financial institution's available stable funding ("ASF") over its required stable funding, expressed as a percentage. The NSFR requires banking organizations to maintain minimum ASF to support their assets, commitments, and derivatives exposures over a one-year period. The NSFR will fluctuate due to normal business flows from customer activity. As of December 31, 2025, BANA was in compliance with the NSFR requirements.

BAC utilizes liquidity stress analysis to assist in determining the appropriate amounts of liquidity to maintain at its own level and for its subsidiaries, including BANA, to meet contractual and contingent cash outflows under a range of scenarios. The scenarios BANA considers and utilizes incorporate market-wide and company-specific events, including potential credit rating downgrades for BAC and its subsidiaries, and more severe events including potential resolution scenarios. The scenarios are based on BAC's historical experience, including BANA's, experience of distressed and failed financial institutions, regulatory guidance, and both expected and unexpected future events.

BAC is a separate and distinct legal entity from BANA and its other bank and nonbank subsidiaries. Liquidity is managed on a legal entity basis. Legal entity liquidity is an important consideration as there are legal, regulatory, contractual and other limitations on the ability to utilize liquidity from one legal entity to satisfy the liquidity requirements of another, which could result in adverse liquidity events. BAC and its subsidiaries, including BANA, are subject to laws that restrict dividend payments, or authorize regulatory bodies to block or reduce the flow of funds from those subsidiaries to BAC or other subsidiaries. BANA is subject to restrictions on its ability to lend or transact with affiliates, minimum regulatory capital and liquidity requirements and restrictions on its ability to use funds deposited with BANA in bank accounts to fund its businesses.

Regulatory Developments

On 19 March 2026, the Federal Reserve Board, OCC and the FDIC issued a notice of proposed rulemaking ("NPR") regarding risk-based capital requirements for large banking organizations. BAC is evaluating the potential impact of the proposed rules on BANA's regulatory capital requirements.

Prompt Corrective Action Under the FDICIA

BANA is subject to the PCA framework established by U.S. banking regulators. Among other things, the FDICIA provides the federal bank regulatory agencies with broad powers to take "prompt corrective action" with respect to FDIC-insured banks that do not meet certain minimum capital requirements. The extent of these powers depends upon whether the institutions in question are "well capitalized," "adequately capitalized," "undercapitalized," "significantly undercapitalized," or "critically undercapitalized." Under regulations adopted by the OCC, a national bank is considered "well capitalized" if it has (1) a total risk-based capital ratio of 10% or greater, (2) a Tier 1 risk-based capital ratio of 8% or greater, (3) common equity Tier 1 capital of 6.5% or greater, (4) a leverage ratio of 5% or greater, and (5) is not subject to any regulatory order, agreement, or directive to meet and maintain a specific capital level for any capital measure. As noted above, BANA's risk-based regulatory minimums under Basel 3 exceed the risk-based minimums to be considered "well-capitalized" under the PCA framework as of December 31, 2025.

An "adequately capitalized" national bank is one that has (1) a total risk-based capital ratio of 8% or greater, (2) a Tier 1 risk-based capital ratio of 6% or greater, (3) common equity Tier 1 capital of 4.5% or greater; (4) a leverage ratio of 4% or greater, and (5) does not meet the definition of a "well capitalized institution." A national bank is considered "undercapitalized" if it has (1) a total risk-based capital ratio of less than 8%, (2) a Tier 1 risk-based capital ratio of less than 6%, (3) common equity Tier 1 capital of less than 4.5%, or (4) a leverage ratio of less than 4%. A national bank is "significantly undercapitalized" if it has (1) a total risk-based capital ratio of less than 6%, (2) a Tier 1 risk-based capital ratio of less than 4%, (3) common equity Tier 1 capital of less than 3%, or (4) a leverage ratio of less than 3%. A national bank is "critically undercapitalized" if it has a ratio of tangible equity, as defined in the OCC's regulations, to total assets of 2% or less.

If a bank is undercapitalized, its holding company is required to guarantee that the institution will comply with any capital restoration plan submitted to and approved by the OCC in an amount equal to the lesser of (1) 5% of the institution's total assets at the time the institution became undercapitalized or (2) the amount which is necessary, or would have been necessary, to bring the institution into compliance with all applicable capital standards as of the time the institution fails to comply with the capital restoration plan.

As set forth above, with respect to the capital ratios discussed above, as of the date of this Offering Circular, BANA is considered "well capitalized". Similarly, under the guidelines applicable to financial holding companies, as of the date of this Offering Circular, BAC was considered "well-capitalized." If the Federal Reserve Board finds that BANA or any other U.S. bank subsidiary is not "well-capitalized" or "well-managed," BAC would be required to enter into an agreement with the Federal Reserve to comply with all applicable capital and management requirements, which may result in additional limitations or conditions relating to BANA's activities.

Derivatives Activities

BAC's derivatives businesses are subject to extensive regulation globally, including under the Financial Reform Act, the EU Markets in Financial Instruments Directive and Regulation, the European Market Infrastructure Regulation, analogous U.K. regulatory regimes and similar regulatory regimes in other jurisdictions. These regulations, among other things, require clearing and exchange trading of certain derivatives; establish capital, margin, reporting, registration and business conduct requirements for certain market participants; set position limits on certain derivatives and set out derivatives trading transparency requirements.

In addition, many G20 jurisdictions, including the U.S., EU, U.K. and Japan, have adopted resolution stay regulations to address concerns that the close-out of derivatives and other financial contracts could impede orderly resolution of G-SIBs. Generally, these regulations require amendment of certain financial contracts to provide for contractual recognition of stays of termination rights under various statutory resolution regimes and a stay on the exercise of cross-default rights based on an affiliate's entry into insolvency proceedings. Resolution regulations may also require contractual recognition by the counterparty that amounts owed to them may be written down or converted into equity as part of a bail in. As resolution stay regulations of a particular jurisdiction applicable to BANA go into effect, BANA will amend impacted financial contracts in compliance with such regulations either as a regulated entity or as a counterparty facing a regulated entity in such jurisdiction.

Transactions with Affiliates

Pursuant to Sections 23A and 23B of the Federal Reserve Act, as implemented by the Federal Reserve Board's Regulation W, BANA is subject to restrictions that limit certain types of transactions between BANA and its nonbank affiliates. In general, U.S. banks are subject to quantitative and qualitative limits on extensions of credit, purchases of assets and certain other transactions involving their nonbank affiliates. Additionally, transactions between U.S. banks and their nonbank affiliates are required to be on arm's length terms and must be consistent with standards of safety and soundness.

The Volcker Rule

The Volcker Rule prohibits insured depository institutions and companies affiliated with insured depository institutions (collectively, "banking entities") from engaging in short-term proprietary trading of certain securities, derivatives, commodity futures and options for their own account. The Volcker Rule also imposes limits on banking entities' investments in, and other relationships with, hedge funds and private equity funds. The Volcker Rule provides exemptions for certain activities, including market making, underwriting, hedging, trading in government obligations, insurance company activities and organizing and offering hedge funds and private equity funds. The Volcker Rule also clarifies that certain activities are not prohibited, including acting as agent, broker or custodian. A banking entity with significant trading operations, such as BAC, is required to maintain a detailed compliance program to comply with the restrictions of the Volcker Rule.

Consumer Regulations

BANA's consumer businesses are subject to extensive regulation and oversight by U.S. federal and state authorities. BANA is subject to numerous federal consumer protection laws, including the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, Home Mortgage Disclosure Act, Fair Housing Act, Electronic Fund Transfer Act, Fair Credit Reporting Act, Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act, prohibitions on unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or practices, Truth in Lending Act, Truth in Savings Act and the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act.

Deposit Insurance

Deposits placed at U.S. domiciled banks are insured by the FDIC, subject to limits and conditions of applicable U.S. law and the FDIC's regulations. Pursuant to the Financial Reform Act, FDIC insurance coverage limits are $250,000 per depositor, per insured bank for each account ownership category. All insured depository institutions are required to pay assessments to the FDIC in order to fund the DIF.

The FDIC is required to maintain a statutory minimum ratio of the DIF to insured deposits in the United States of at least 1.35% and has established a long-term goal of a 2% DIF ratio. As of the date of this Offering Circular, the DIF satisfied the statutory minimum ratio, but it has not reached the FDIC's long-term goal. In October 2022, the FDIC adopted a restoration plan that includes an increase in deposit insurance assessments across the industry of two basis points. The FDIC has indicated that it intends to maintain such assessment rates for the foreseeable future. Deposit insurance assessment rates are subject to change by the FDIC and will be impacted by the overall economy and the stability of the banking industry as a whole. The FDIC also has the authority to charge special assessments from time to time, including in connection with systemic risk events. For example, on November 16, 2023, the FDIC issued its final rule to impose a special assessment to recover the loss to the DIF resulting from the closure of Silicon Valley Bank and Signature Bank, the amount of which has been substantially reduced. The FDIC started collecting the special assessment at an annual rate of approximately 13.4 basis points over an initial eight-quarter assessment period, beginning with the first quarter of 2024. The FDIC currently projects that it will collect the special assessment for an additional two quarters beyond the initial eight-quarter period, at a lower rate.

Compliance with Anti-Money Laundering Law and Economic Sanctions

BANA is also subject to extensive laws, rules and regulations in the U.S. and in the other jurisdictions in which it operates regarding bribery and corruption, know-your-customer requirements, anti-money laundering, embargo programs and economic sanctions. For example, BANA is subject to the U.S. Bank Secrecy Act ("BSA"), which contains anti-money laundering and financial transparency laws designed to detect and deter money laundering and the financing of terrorism, as well as record-keeping, reporting, due diligence and customer verification requirements, various sanctions programs administered and enforced by the U.S. Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control and foreign jurisdictions, which target entities or individuals that are, or are located in countries that are, involved in activities, such as terrorism, hostilities, drug trafficking or human rights violations and the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the U.K. Bribery Act, relating to corrupt and illegal payments to government officials and others.

In December 2024, the OCC issued a consent order against BANA for certain deficiencies related to its BSA and sanctions compliance programs requiring certain corrective actions to enhance them. BAC continues to respond to requests for information from other regulators, relating to certain aspects of its BSA, anti-money laundering and economic sanctions compliance programs. As of the date of this Offering Circular, BAC has been working to enhance these programs and has already completed steps in that process.

Resolution and Recovery Planning

The FDIC requires BANA to submit a resolution plan that must describe how the insured depository institution would be resolved under the bank resolution provisions of the FDIA. The FDIC requires resolution plan submissions every two years, with interim supplements required in non-submission years. As of the date of this Offering Circular, a covered insured depository institution, such as BANA, that is affiliated with a G-SIB is not required to provide an interim supplement. BANA's next full resolution plan after the date of this Offering Circular is due 1 July 2026. For more information on BAC's and BANA's resolution planning, please see pages 5 to 6 of the BAC 2025 Annual Report.]

ERISA MATTERS

Any discussion of United States federal tax issues set forth in this Offering Circular was written in connection with the promotion and marketing of the Instruments by BAC, BANA, BofA Finance, MLBV, the Dealers and the Managers (as applicable). Such discussion was not intended or written to be legal or tax advice to any person and was not intended or written to be used, and it cannot be used, by any person for the purpose of avoiding any United States federal tax penalties that may be imposed on such person. Each person considering an investment in the Instruments should seek advice based on its particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

BAC and certain affiliates of BAC may each be considered a "party in interest" within the meaning of the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), or a "disqualified person" within the meaning of the Code with respect to employee benefit plans subject to Section 406 of ERISA and individual retirement accounts, Keoghs and other plans subject to Section 4975 of the Code (collectively, "Covered Plans"), or to have a similar relationship with governmental, church or non-U.S. plans that are subject to U.S. federal, state, local or non-U.S. laws that are substantially similar to Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (collectively, "Other Plans"). Certain transactions between such a Covered Plan and a party in interest or disqualified person may result in "prohibited transactions" within the meaning of ERISA and the Code, and certain transactions between an Other Plan and a person with a similar relationship to an Other Plan may be similarly prohibited under other U.S. federal, state, local or non-U.S. laws, unless such transactions are effected pursuant to an applicable exemption.

In addition, certain regulatory requirements applicable under ERISA could cause investments by a Covered Plan in the Instruments (whether directly or indirectly) to be deemed to include not only the purchased Instruments but also an undivided interest in each of the underlying assets of the relevant Issuer. In the absence of an applicable exception to this general rule, the relevant Issuer could be considered to hold assets of the investing Covered Plan ("plan assets") such that the relevant Issuer and persons providing services in connection with such plan assets might be considered "parties in interest" or "disqualified persons" with respect to the investing Covered Plan and could be governed by the fiduciary responsibility provisions of Title I of ERISA and subject to the prohibited transaction provisions referenced above. If this were the case, certain actions taken by the relevant Issuer or service provider regarding those plan assets could be deemed to be a breach of such Issuer's or service provider's fiduciary obligations under Title I of ERISA or a prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code. Similarly, investments by an Other Plan in the Instruments (whether directly or indirectly) may cause the relevant Issuer to be considered to hold assets of the investing Other Plan pursuant to other U.S. federal, state, local or non-U.S. laws and subject the relevant Issuer and persons providing services in connection with such assets to similar fiduciary and prohibited transaction requirements pursuant to such laws.

Under ERISA and various prohibited transaction class exemptions ("PTCEs") issued by the U.S. Department of Labor, exemptive relief may be available for direct or indirect prohibited transactions resulting from the purchase, holding or disposition of the Instruments by or on behalf of, or with the plan assets of, Covered Plans. Those exemptions include PTCE 96-23 (for certain transactions determined by in-house asset managers), PTCE 95-60 (for certain transactions involving insurance company general accounts), PTCE 91-38 (for certain transactions involving bank collective investment funds), PTCE 90-1 (for certain transactions involving insurance company pooled separate accounts), and PTCE 84-14 (for certain transactions determined by independent qualified professional asset managers). In addition, Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(d)(20) of the Code provide statutory exemptive relief for certain arm's-length transactions with a person that is a party in interest solely by reason of providing services to employee benefit plans or being an affiliate of such a service provider. There may be similar exemptive relief under other U.S. federal, state, local or non-U.S. laws for transactions by or on behalf of, or with the assets of, Other Plans.

Because BAC and certain of its affiliates may be considered a party in interest or disqualified person with respect to many Covered Plans, or a person with a similar relationship to many Other Plans, the Instruments may not be purchased, held or disposed of by any Covered Plan or Other Plan, any entity whose underlying assets include plan assets by reason of any Covered Plan's investment in the entity or assets of an Other Plan by reason of any Other Plan's investment in the entity, or any person investing on behalf of or with plan assets of any Covered Plan or on behalf of or with assets of any Other Plan, unless such purchase, holding or disposition is eligible for statutory or administrative exemptive relief or such purchase, holding or disposition is otherwise not prohibited. Any purchaser, including any fiduciary purchasing on behalf of a Covered Plan or Other Plan, transferee or holder of the Instruments will be deemed to have represented, in its corporate and its fiduciary capacity, by its purchase and holding of the securities that either (a) it is not a Covered Plan or Other Plan or an entity whose underlying assets include plan assets by reason of any Covered Plan's investment in the entity or an entity whose underlying assets include assets of an Other Plan by reason of any Other Plan's investment in the entity, and is not purchasing such securities on behalf of or with plan assets of any Covered Plan or on behalf of or with any assets of an Other Plan; or (b) its purchase, holding and disposition are eligible for exemptive relief or such purchase, holding and disposition are not prohibited by ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (or in the case of an Other Plan any substantially similar U.S. federal, state, local or non-U.S. law). In addition, any acquisition, purchase or holding of the Instruments by or on behalf of any Covered Plan or Other Plan, or with the plan assets of any Covered Plan or assets of any Other Plan, may be conditioned on BAC and the relevant Issuer's obtaining comfort to its or their satisfaction that such acquisition, purchase or holding will not cause any assets of the relevant Issuer to be treated as plan assets for the purposes of ERISA or any regulation or other guidance thereunder (or in the case of an Other Plan, as assets of the Other Plan under any other U.S. federal, state, local or non-U.S. law).

A fiduciary purchasing Instruments on behalf of or with plan assets of any Covered Plan should determine whether the investment is in accordance with the documents and instruments governing the plan and the applicable provisions of ERISA and the Code relating to a fiduciary's duties to the plan including, without limitation, the prudence, diversification, delegation of control and prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA and the Code. A person purchasing Instruments on behalf of or with assets of an Other Plan should make the same determination in light of any U.S. federal, state, local or non-U.S. laws applicable to such plan. Due to the complexity of the rules discussed in this section and the penalties that may be imposed upon persons involved in fiduciary breaches or non-exempt prohibited transactions, it is particularly important that fiduciaries or other persons considering purchasing Instruments on behalf of or with plan assets of any Covered Plan (or on behalf of or with assets of any Other Plan) consult with their legal and tax counsel regarding the potential consequences of the investment and the availability of exemptive relief. In this regard, each purchaser, subsequent transferee and holder of any Instrument hereunder will be deemed to make certain representations. See "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions". In addition, any purchaser, including any fiduciary purchasing on behalf of a Covered Plan or Other Plan, transferee or holder of the Instruments will be deemed to have represented, in its corporate and its fiduciary capacity, by its purchase and holding of the securities that none of the relevant Issuer or any of its affiliates are or will be deemed to be a fiduciary (under Section 3(21) of ERISA or under any similar laws) with respect to the decision to acquire, hold or dispose of the Instruments and that none of the relevant Issuer or any of its affiliates is undertaking to provide investment advice or give advice in a fiduciary capacity with respect to such decision.

TAXATION

The following comments are of a general nature and apply only to the jurisdiction stated, are based on the Issuers' understanding of current law and practice and are included in this Offering Circular solely for information purposes. These comments are not intended to be, nor should they be regarded as, legal or tax advice. The precise tax treatment of a holder of an instrument that is either a Note, Warrant or Certificate will depend for each issue on the terms of the Notes, Warrants or Certificates, as specified in the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" or the "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments" (as applicable), as amended and supplemented by the applicable Final Terms under the law and practice at the relevant time. Prospective holders of Notes, Warrants or Certificates should consult their own tax advisers in all relevant jurisdictions to obtain advice about their particular tax treatment in relation to such Notes, Warrants or Certificates.

UNITED STATES FEDERAL INCOME TAXATION

General

Except with respect to the discussion under "Instruments Issued by MLBV —Rule 144A Instruments", the following is a summary of certain United States federal income tax considerations applicable to an investment in the Instruments by holders who are United States Aliens (as defined in Condition 9 of the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes") who are the original purchasers of the Instruments and who have not purchased, and do not hold, the Instruments in connection with a United States trade or business. For United States federal income tax purposes, Notes issued by BofA Finance will be treated as if they were issued by BAC. Accordingly, throughout this tax discussion, references to "Notes issued by BAC" will also include Notes issued by BofA Finance. In addition, for purposes of the following discussion, it is assumed that no Instruments in bearer form are issued.

If an entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for United States federal income tax purposes holds the Instruments, the United States federal income tax treatment of a partner generally will depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. A partner of a partnership holding the Instruments should consult its own tax advisor regarding the United States federal income tax consequences to the partner of the acquisition, ownership and disposition by the partnership of the Instruments.

In addition, this summary is for general information only, and does not purport to discuss all aspects of United States federal income taxation that may be important to a particular holder in light of its circumstances or to holders subject to special tax rules, such as trusts, estates, controlled foreign corporations, foreign controlled foreign corporations, passive foreign investment companies, personal holding companies, or the beneficiaries or shareholders of such entities.

Notes Issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance

Notes Other Than Structured Notes

In respect of Notes issued by BAC and BANA other than Notes that are specified as "Structured Notes" in the applicable Final Terms, under the United States federal income tax laws as in effect on the date of this Offering Circular, and subject to the discussion below, payments of principal and interest (including original issue discount), if any, by the Issuer or any Paying Agent (acting in its capacity as such) to any holder of such Note who is a United States Alien holder generally will not be subject to United States federal income or withholding tax, in the case of interest (including original issue discount), provided that:

- (a) such holder does not actually or constructively own 10 per cent. or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Issuer entitled to vote;
- (b) such holder is not a controlled foreign corporation for United States federal income tax purposes that is related to the Issuer (directly or indirectly) through stock ownership;
- (c) the interest is not received by a bank on an extension of credit made pursuant to a loan agreement entered into in the ordinary course of its trade or business;

- (d) the principal and interest is not effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States; and
- (e) either (i) the holder provides the Issuer (or any paying agent) with a statement which sets forth its address, and certifies, under penalties of perjury, that it is not a United States person (which certification generally may be made on a United States Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E (or successor form)) or (ii) a financial institution holding the Note on behalf of the holder certifies, under penalties of perjury (which certification generally may be made on an IRS Form W-8IMY or W-8BEN-E (or successor form)), that it has received and will provide the Issuer (or the paying agent) with a statement described in (i) above (the "Certification Requirement").

Payments of interest to United States Alien holders not meeting the requirements set forth above are subject to withholding at a rate of 30 per cent. unless (A) the holder is engaged in a trade or business in the United States and the holder provides a properly executed IRS Form W-8ECI (or successor form) certifying that the payments are effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, or (B) the holder provides a properly executed IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E (or other applicable IRS Form W-8 or successor form) claiming an exemption from, or reduction in the rate of, withholding under the benefit of a tax treaty. To claim benefits under an income tax treaty, a United States Alien holder must obtain a taxpayer identification number and certify as to its eligibility under the appropriate treaty's limitations on benefits article. In addition, special rules may apply to claims for treaty benefits made by holders that are entities rather than individuals. Under Section 871(h)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), payments of certain types of contingent interest to a United States Alien holder (or any foreign partnership without regard to its status as a United States Alien) may be subject to United States withholding tax equal to 30 per cent. of each such payment (or such lower amounts as provided by treaty). If any Note not specified as a Structured Note in the applicable Final Terms bears contingent interest, the applicable Final Terms will specify if interest payments on such Notes are subject to any United States withholding taxes.

Structured Notes

Certain Notes issued by BAC and BANA will be specified as "Structured Notes" in the applicable Final Terms. The applicable Final Terms will indicate whether the Issuer will withhold or does not intend to withhold any United States taxes in respect of any payments on Structured Notes. Except to the extent specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer or its agent generally intends to withhold on all payments designated as "interest" in the applicable Final Terms (and other amounts subject to withholding) on Structured Notes that are not treated as indebtedness for United States federal income tax purposes, without being required to pay any Additional Tax Amounts with respect to amounts withheld. Except to the extent specified in the Final Terms, while the United States federal income and withholding tax treatment of a Structured Note will generally depend on the particular terms of such Note, subject to the discussion below, the Issuer generally does not intend to withhold United States federal income tax with respect to payments on Structured Notes that are treated as indebtedness for United States federal income tax purposes, including payments of principal and interest (including original issue discount), if any, by the Issuer or any Paying Agent (acting in its capacity as such) to any holder of such a Note who is a United States Alien, provided that, in the case of interest (including original issue discount), the requirements of (a) through (e) under "Notes Other Than Structured Notes" above are met for such Notes. All holders should consult the applicable Final Terms as to the Issuer's intention with respect to withholding. Except to the limited extent set forth in the Terms and Conditions and the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer does not assume any liability for the payment of any tax which it withholds on Structured Notes or any additional amount in respect thereof.

Special rules may apply to the extent that any portion of a payment is treated as a U.S.-source dividend or "dividend equivalent" for certain United States federal income tax purposes. The Issuer (or an applicable withholding agent) will withhold on such payments to the extent required by law. A dividend equivalent payment is treated as a dividend from sources within the United States and such payments generally would be subject to a 30 per cent. United States withholding tax (or less under an applicable treaty, if any) if paid to a United States Alien holder. Under United States Department of the Treasury (the "U.S. Treasury") regulations issued pursuant to Code Section 871(m), payments (including deemed payments) with respect to equity-linked instruments ("ELIs") that are "specified ELIs" may be treated as dividend equivalents if such specified ELIs reference an interest in a United States "underlying security", which is generally any interest in an entity taxable as a corporation for United States federal income tax purposes if a payment with respect to such interest could give rise to a U.S.-source dividend.

A specified ELI is an ELI that: (i) if it is classified as "simple," has a "delta" equal to 0.80 or greater with respect to a United States underlying security at the time it is issued, or (ii) if it is classified as "complex," meets a substantial equivalence test at the time it is issued. The regulations provide that the delta of an ELI is the ratio of the change in the fair market value of the ELI to a small change in the fair market value of the property referenced by the ELI. The regulations are extremely complex, and significant aspects of the application of the regulations to the Instruments are uncertain. Specified ELIs generally do not include (1) ELIs issued prior to January 1, 2027 that are not delta-one instruments, or (2) ELIs that are treated as referencing a "qualified index." However, it is possible that Instruments could be treated as deemed reissued for United States federal income tax purposes upon the occurrence of certain events affecting the reference asset or the Instruments, and following such occurrence the Instruments could be treated as subject to withholding on dividend equivalent payments.

A qualified index is a passive index that (1) is based on a diverse basket of publicly traded securities, (2) is widely used by numerous market participants, and (3) meets certain specified requirements set forth in the applicable U.S. Treasury regulations. The qualified index determination is made on the first business day of the calendar year in which the ELI is issued. If, in connection with the purchase of an ELI that references an index, a taxpayer enters into one or more transactions that reduce exposure to components of the index, the ELI is not treated as referencing a qualified index.

If any payments are treated as dividend equivalents subject to withholding, the Issuer (or an applicable withholding agent) would be entitled to withhold taxes at a rate of 30 per cent. on such payments without being required to pay any Additional Tax Amounts with respect to amounts so withheld.

If the terms of any Structured Note provides that all or a portion of the dividends paid in respect of United States underlying securities that are treated as U.S.-source dividends ("Underlying U.S.-Source Dividends") are reinvested in such underlying securities during the term of the Structured Note, the terms of the Structured Note may also provide that only 70 per cent. of any such Underlying U.S.-Source Dividends that are treated as a deemed dividend equivalent payment will be reinvested. The remaining 30 per cent. of any such Underlying U.S.-Source Dividends that are treated as a deemed dividend equivalent payment will be treated, solely for U.S. federal income tax purposes, as having been withheld from the gross dividend equivalent payment due to the holder and remitted to the IRS on behalf of the holder. In such case, the Issuer will withhold such amounts without regard to either any applicable treaty rule or the classification of a holder as a U.S. or a non-U.S. investor for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Each holder acknowledges and agrees that in the event that a Structured Note references an index which includes any United States underlying securities, then regardless of whether the relevant index is a net price return, a price return or a total return index, the payments on the Structured Note (including any amounts deemed reinvested in the Structured Note) will reflect the gross dividend payments paid by the Issuer less applicable withholding tax amounts in respect of such gross dividends, which in the case of U.S.-source dividends, will be paid by or on behalf of the Issuer to the IRS in accordance with the withholding tax rules under Code Section 871(m).

The United States federal income and withholding tax consequences applicable to certain Structured Notes are uncertain. No statutory, judicial, or administrative authority directly addresses the characterisation of such Notes or notes similar to such Notes for United States federal income, withholding, or other tax purposes. All holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the United States federal income and withholding tax consequences to them of holding such Notes.

The IRS has released a notice (the "Notice") in which it sought comments on the taxation of financial instruments referred to as "prepaid forward contracts". According to the Notice, the IRS and U.S. Treasury are considering whether a holder of such an instrument should be required to accrue ordinary income on a current basis, regardless of whether any payments are made prior to maturity. The IRS and U.S. Treasury are also considering additional issues, including whether foreign holders of such instruments should be subject to withholding tax on any deemed income accruals. It is not possible to determine what guidance the IRS and U.S. Treasury will ultimately issue, if any, and whether any such guidance would be retroactive. Any such guidance may affect the United States federal income and withholding tax treatment of Structured Notes.

In general, United States backup withholding and information reporting may apply to payments on Notes issued by BAC and held by a United States Alien holder unless the United States Alien holder complies with applicable certification procedures to establish that it is not a United States person and BAC does not have actual knowledge or reason to know that the certification is false (or such holder otherwise establishes an exemption); provided, however, interest paid to a United States Alien holder with respect to a Note that is treated as indebtedness for United States federal income tax purposes will generally be reported to the IRS on an annual basis. The treatment of Notes for purposes of United States backup withholding tax and information reporting requirements will generally depend on the particular terms of such Note, the characteristics of the person or entity making a payment and the payee, and the circumstances of payment. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the backup withholding tax and information reporting rules.

Instruments Issued by MLBV

General

While the United States federal income and withholding tax treatment of an Instrument issued by MLBV will generally depend on the particular terms of such Instrument, MLBV, except as otherwise indicated in the applicable Final Terms or as described below, generally does not intend to withhold United States federal income tax with respect to payments (other than payments treated as U.S.-source dividends or "dividend equivalents" pursuant to United States federal income tax law), including payments of principal and interest (including original issue discount), if any, by MLBV or any Paying Agent or W&C Instrument Agent (acting in its capacity as such) outside the United States to any holder of an Instrument who is a United States Alien.

Special rules may apply to payments treated as contingent interest or as dividends for certain United States federal income tax purposes.

As noted above, special rules may apply to the extent that any portion of a payment or deemed payment is treated as a U.S.-source dividend or "dividend equivalent" for certain United States federal income tax purposes. MLBV (or an applicable withholding agent) will withhold on such payments to the extent required by law. A dividend equivalent payment is treated as a dividend from sources within the United States and such payments generally would be subject to a 30 per cent. United States withholding tax (or less under an applicable treaty, if any) if paid to a United States Alien holder. Under U.S. Treasury regulations issued pursuant to Code Section 871(m), payments (including deemed payments) with respect to ELIs that are "specified ELIs" may be treated as dividend equivalents if such specified ELIs reference an interest in a United States "underlying security", which is generally any interest in an entity taxable as a corporation for United States federal income tax purposes if a payment with respect to such interest could give rise to a United States source dividend.

A specified ELI is an ELI that: (i) if it is classified as "simple," has a "delta" equal to 0.80 or greater with respect to a United States underlying security at the time it is issued, or (ii) if it is classified as "complex," meets a substantial equivalence test at the time it is issued. The regulations provide that the delta of an ELI is the ratio of the change in the fair market value of the ELI to a small change in the fair market value of the property referenced by the ELI. The regulations are extremely complex, and significant aspects of the application of the regulations to the Instruments are uncertain. Specified ELIs generally do not include (1) ELIs issued prior to January 1, 2027 that are not delta-one instruments or (2) ELIs that are treated as referencing a "qualified index." However, it is possible that Instruments could be treated as deemed reissued for United States federal income tax purposes upon the occurrence of certain events affecting the reference asset or the Instruments, and following such occurrence the Instruments could be treated as subject to withholding on dividend equivalent payments.

A qualified index is a passive index that (1) is based on a diverse basket of publicly traded securities, (2) is widely used by numerous market participants, and (3) meets certain specified requirements set forth in the applicable U.S. Treasury regulations. The qualified index determination is made on the first business day of the calendar year in which the ELI is issued. If, in connection with the purchase of an ELI that references an index, a taxpayer enters into one or more transactions that reduce exposure to components of the index, the ELI is not treated as referencing a qualified index.

If any payments are treated as dividend equivalents subject to withholding, MLBV (or an applicable withholding agent) would be entitled to withhold taxes without being required to pay any Additional Tax Amounts with respect to amounts so withheld.

If the terms of any Instrument provides that all or a portion of any Underlying U.S.-Source Dividends are reinvested in the relevant underlying securities during the term of the Instrument, the terms of the Instrument may also provide that only 70 per cent. of any such Underlying U.S.-Source Dividends that are treated as a deemed dividend equivalent payment will be reinvested. The remaining 30 per cent. of any such Underlying U.S.-Source Dividends that are treated as a deemed dividend equivalent payment will be treated, solely for U.S. federal income tax purposes, as having been withheld from the gross dividend equivalent payment due to the holder and remitted to the IRS on behalf of the holder. In such case, MLBV (or an applicable withholding agent) will withhold such amounts without regard to either any applicable treaty rule or the classification of a holder as a U.S. or a non-U.S. investor for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Each holder acknowledges and agrees that in the event that an Instrument references an index which includes any United States underlying securities, then regardless of whether the relevant index is a net price return, a price return or a total return index, the payments on the Instrument (including any amounts deemed reinvested in the Instrument) will reflect the gross dividend payments paid by MLBV less applicable withholding tax amounts in respect of such gross dividends, which in the case of U.S.-source dividends, will be paid by or on behalf of MLBV to the IRS in accordance with the withholding tax rules under Code Section 871(m).

Neither MLBV nor the Guarantor assumes any liability for the payment of any tax which it is required to withhold or any additional amount in respect thereof, except that in certain circumstances set forth in Condition 9 (Taxation) of the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes", Additional Tax Amounts may be paid with respect to a Note in connection with taxes. The United States federal income and withholding tax consequences of certain Instruments linked to Reference Item(s) are uncertain. No statutory, judicial, or administrative authority directly addresses the characterisation of such Instruments or securities similar to such Instruments for United States federal income, withholding, or other tax purposes. All holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the United States federal income and withholding tax consequences to them of holding such Instruments.

As noted above, the IRS released the Notice in which it sought comments on the taxation of financial instruments referred to as "prepaid forward contracts". According to the Notice, the IRS and U.S. Treasury are considering whether a holder of such an instrument should be required to accrue ordinary income on a current basis, regardless of whether any payments are made prior to maturity. The IRS and U.S. Treasury are also considering additional issues, including whether foreign holders of such instruments should be subject to withholding tax on any deemed income accruals. It is not possible to determine what guidance the IRS and U.S. Treasury will ultimately issue, if any, and whether any such guidance would be retroactive. Any such guidance may affect the United States federal income and withholding tax treatment of the Instruments.

A United States Alien holder generally will not be subject to United States federal income tax on any gain realised on the sale, exchange, or retirement of an Instrument (other than gains treated as U.S.-source dividends or "dividend equivalents" pursuant to United States federal income tax law), provided that (a) the gain is not effectively connected with the conduct of trade or business within the United States, or a permanent establishment maintained in the United States if certain tax treaties apply, (b) in the case of a United States Alien holder that is an individual, the United States Alien holder is not present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year of the sale, exchange or retirement of the Instrument, (c) the Instrument is not a "United States real property interest" for United States federal income tax purposes, and (d) the United States Alien holder is not subject to tax pursuant to certain provisions of United States federal income tax law applicable to certain expatriates.

In general, United States backup withholding and information reporting should not apply to payments on the Instruments (except with respect to dividends or dividend equivalents) held by a United States Alien holder and received outside the United States through a non-United States bank or other non-United States financial institution. Proceeds of sales and payments on the Instruments received within the United States or through certain United States related financial institutions may be subject to backup withholding and information reporting unless the United States Alien holder complies with applicable certification procedures to establish that it is not a United States person and MLBV does not have actual knowledge or reason to know that the certification is false (or such holder otherwise establishes an exemption). The treatment of Instruments for purposes of United States backup withholding tax and information reporting requirements will generally depend on the particular terms of such Instrument, the characteristics of the person or entity making a payment and the payee, and the circumstances of payment. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the backup withholding tax and information reporting rules.

Rule 144A Instruments

The following is a summary of certain United States federal income tax considerations applicable to the acquisition, ownership, and disposition of certain Rule 144A Instruments (including Rule 144A Instruments that are represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Instrument). The following discussion is not exhaustive of all possible tax considerations. This summary is based upon the Code, regulations promulgated under the Code by U.S. Treasury (including proposed and temporary regulations), rulings, current administrative interpretations and official pronouncements of the IRS, and judicial decisions, all as currently in effect and all of which are subject to differing interpretations or to change, possibly with retroactive effect. No assurance can be given that the IRS would not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of the tax consequences described below.

This summary is for general information only, and does not purport to discuss all aspects of United States federal income taxation that may be relevant to a particular holder in light of its investment or tax circumstances or to holders subject to special tax rules, such as partnerships (or entities or arrangements treated as partnerships for United States federal income purposes), subchapter S corporations, or other pass-through entities, banks, financial institutions, tax-exempt entities, insurance companies, regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts, trusts or estates, dealers in securities or currencies, traders in securities that have elected to use the mark-to-market method of accounting for their securities, certain accrual method taxpayers subject to special tax accounting rules as a result of their use of financial statements, persons holding a Rule 144A Instrument as part of an integrated investment, including a "straddle", "hedge", "constructive sale", or "conversion transaction", persons whose functional currency for tax purposes is not the United States dollar, persons holding a Rule 144A Instrument in a tax-deferred or tax-advantaged account, corporations subject to the corporate alternative minimum tax on adjusted financial statement income, and persons subject to the alternative minimum or medicare contribution tax provisions of the Code. This summary does not include any description of the tax laws of any state or local governments, or of any foreign government, that may be applicable to a particular holder.

This summary is directed solely to United States Holders (as defined below) that, except as otherwise specifically noted, will purchase a Rule 144A Instrument upon original issuance and will hold the Rule 144A Instrument as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code, which generally means property held for investment.

Holders should consult their own tax advisor concerning the United States federal income tax consequences to them of acquiring, owning, and disposing of a Rule 144A Instrument, as well as any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local, foreign, or other tax jurisdiction and the possible effects of changes in United States federal or other tax laws.

As used herein, the term "United States Holder" means a beneficial owner of a Rule 144A Instrument that is for United States federal income tax purposes:

- a citizen or resident of the United States; or
- a corporation (including an entity treated as a corporation for United States federal income tax purposes) created or organised in or under the laws of the United States or of any state of the United States or the District of Columbia.

Rule 144A Instruments which guarantee the return of principal

The following is a summary of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences that will apply to United States Holders of Rule 144A Instruments that are not subject to a loss of principal ("Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments").

The references to "interest" in this section mean "interest" as understood under the Code and related U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder. The statements do not take account of any different definitions of "interest" or "principal" which may be created by the terms and conditions of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments or any related documentation. In particular, any premium element of the redemption amount of any Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments redeemable at a premium and any additional amounts payable under the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments may constitute a payment of interest.

Payment of Stated Interest

Except as described below in the case of interest on a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument issued with original issue discount, as defined below under "—Original Issue Discount," stated interest on a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument generally will be included in the income of a United States Holder as interest income at the time it is accrued or is received in accordance with the United States Holder's regular method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes and will be ordinary income.

Original Issue Discount

Some of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments may be issued with original issue discount ("OID"). United States Holders of Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments issued with OID, other than short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments with a maturity of one year or less from its date of issue (after taking into account the last possible date that the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument could be outstanding under its terms), will be subject to special tax accounting rules, as described in greater detail below. For tax purposes, OID is the excess of the "stated redemption price at maturity" of a debt instrument over its "issue price." The "stated redemption price at maturity" of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is the sum of all payments required to be made on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument other than "qualified stated interest" payments, as defined below. The "issue price" of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is generally the first offering price to the public at which a substantial amount of the issue was sold (ignoring sales to bond houses, brokers, or similar persons or organisations acting in the capacity of underwriters, placement agents, or wholesalers). The term "qualified stated interest" generally means stated interest that is unconditionally payable in cash or property (other than debt instruments of the issuer), or that is treated as constructively received, at least annually at a single fixed rate or, under certain circumstances, at a variable rate. If a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument bears interest during any accrual period at a rate that differs from the rate applicable during any other accrual period of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (for example, Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments with teaser rates or interest holidays), interest payable at the lowest stated fixed rate generally is qualified stated interest and the excess, if any, is included in the stated redemption price at maturity for purposes of determining whether the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will be issued with OID.

A United States Holder of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument with a maturity of more than one year from its date of issue that has been issued with OID (an "OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument") is generally required to include any qualified stated interest payments in income as interest at the time such interest is accrued or is received in accordance with the United States Holder's regular accounting method for tax purposes, as described above under "—Payment of Stated Interest." A United States Holder of an OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is also generally required to include in income the sum of the daily accruals of the OID for the OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument for each day during the taxable year (or portion of the taxable year) in which the United States Holder held the OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, regardless of such holder's regular method of accounting. Thus, a United States Holder may be required to include OID in income in advance of the receipt of some or all of the related cash payments. The daily portion is determined by allocating the OID for each day of the accrual period. An accrual period may be of any length and the accrual periods may even vary in length over the term of the OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, provided that each accrual period is no longer than one year and each scheduled payment of principal or interest occurs either on the first day of an accrual period or on the final day of an accrual period. The amount of OID allocable to an accrual period is equal to the excess of: (1) the product of the "adjusted issue price" of the OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument at the beginning of the accrual period and its yield to maturity (computed generally on a constant yield method and compounded at the end of each accrual period, taking into account the length of the particular accrual period) over (2) the amount of any qualified stated interest allocable to the accrual period. OID allocable to a final accrual period is the difference between the amount payable at maturity, other than a payment of qualified stated interest, and the adjusted issue price at the beginning of the final accrual period. Special rules will apply for calculating OID for an initial short accrual period. The "adjusted issue price" of an OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument at the beginning of any accrual period is the sum of the issue price of the OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument plus the amount of OID allocable to all prior accrual periods reduced by any payments received on the OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument that were not qualified stated interest. Under these rules, a United States Holder generally will have to include in income increasingly greater amounts of OID in successive accrual periods.

If the excess of the "stated redemption price at maturity" of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument over its "issue price" is less than 1/4 of 1% of the debt instrument's stated redemption price at maturity multiplied by the number of complete years from its issue date to its maturity, or weighted average maturity in the case of Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments with more than one principal payment ("de minimis OID"), the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is not treated as issued with OID. The weighted average maturity is the sum of the following amounts determined for each payment under the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument other than a payment of qualified stated interest: (i) the number of complete years from the issue date of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument until the payment is made, multiplied by (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of the payment and the denominator of which is the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument's stated redemption price at maturity. A United States Holder generally must include the de minimis OID in income at the time payments, other than qualified stated interest, on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments are made in proportion to the amount paid (unless the United States Holder makes the election described below under "—Election to Treat All Interest as Original Issue Discount"). Any amount of de minimis OID that is included in income in this manner will be treated as capital gain.

Variable Rate Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments

In the case of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument that provides for one or more variable rates, special rules apply. A Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will qualify as a "variable rate debt instrument" under U.S. Treasury regulations if (i) the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument's issue price does not exceed the total noncontingent principal payments by more than the lesser of: (a) 0.015 multiplied by the product of the total noncontingent principal payments and the number of complete years to maturity from the issue date, or (b) 15% of the total noncontingent principal payments; (ii) the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument provides for stated interest, compounded or paid at least annually, only at one or more qualified floating rates, a single fixed rate and one or more qualified floating rates, a single objective rate, or a single fixed rate and a single objective rate that is a qualified inverse floating rate and (iii) except as provided in (i) above, the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument does not provide for contingent principal payments.

Generally, a rate is a qualified floating rate if: (i) (a) variations in the value of the rate can reasonably be expected to measure contemporaneous variations in the cost of newly borrowed funds in the currency in which the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is denominated; or (b) the rate is equal to such a rate multiplied by either a fixed multiple that is greater than 0.65 but not more than 1.35 or a fixed multiple greater than 0.65 but not more than 1.35 increased or decreased by a fixed rate, and (ii) the value of the rate on any date during the term of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is set no earlier than three months prior to the first day on which that value is in effect and no later than one year following that first day. If a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument provides for two or more qualified floating rates that are within 0.25 percentage points of each other on the issue date or otherwise can reasonably be expected to have approximately the same values throughout the term of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, the qualified floating rates together constitute a single qualified floating rate. A Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will not have a variable rate that is a qualified floating rate, however, if the variable rate of interest is subject to one or more minimum or maximum rate floors or ceilings or one or more governors limiting the amount of increase or decrease unless such floor, ceiling, or governor is fixed throughout the term of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument or is not reasonably expected as of the issue date to significantly affect the yield on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument.

Generally, a rate is an objective rate if (i) the rate is not a qualified floating rate, (ii) the rate is determined using a single fixed formula that is based on objective financial or economic information that is not within the control of the issuer or a related party, and (iii) the value of the rate on any date during the term of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is set no earlier than three months prior to the first day on which that value is in effect and no later than one year following that first day. If it is reasonably expected that the average value of the variable rate during the first half of the term of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will be either significantly less than or significantly greater than the average value of the rate during the final half of the term of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, then the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will not have a variable rate that is an objective rate. An objective rate is a qualified inverse floating rate if that rate is equal to a fixed rate minus a qualified floating rate and variations in the rate can reasonably be expected to inversely reflect contemporaneous variations in the qualified floating rate.

A Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will also have a variable rate that is a single qualified floating rate or an objective rate if interest on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is stated at a fixed rate for an initial period of one year or less followed by either a qualified floating rate or an objective rate for a subsequent period, and the value of the qualified floating rate or objective rate is intended to approximate the fixed rate (which is presumed if (a) the fixed rate and (b) the qualified floating rate or objective rate have values on the issue date of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument that do not differ by more than 0.25 percentage points).

In the case of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument that provides for stated interest that is unconditionally payable at least annually at a variable rate that is a single qualified floating rate or objective rate, or one of those rates after a single fixed rate for an initial period of one year or less (as described above), all stated interest on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is treated as qualified stated interest. In that case, both the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument's yield to maturity and qualified stated interest will be determined, solely for purposes of calculating the accrual of OID, if any, as though the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will bear interest in all periods throughout its term (in the case of a single qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate) at a fixed rate generally equal to the value of the rate on the issue date or, in the case of an objective rate (other than a qualified inverse floating rate), the rate that reflects the yield to maturity that is reasonably expected for the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (the "fixed rate substitute"). A United States Holder should then recognise OID, if any, that is calculated based on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument's assumed yield to maturity. If the interest actually accrued or paid during an accrual period exceeds or is less than the assumed fixed interest, the qualified stated interest allocable to that period is increased or decreased, as applicable.

If a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument provides for stated interest at (x) multiple qualified floating rates or (y) one or more qualified floating rates or a qualified inverse floating rate in addition to a single fixed rate (other than a single fixed rate for an initial period of one year or less (as described above)), the interest and OID accruals on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument must be determined by (i) determining a fixed rate substitute for each qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate provided under the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (as described above), (ii) constructing the equivalent fixed rate debt instrument, using the fixed rate substitutes, (iii) determining the amount of qualified stated interest and OID with respect to the equivalent fixed rate debt instrument, and (iv) making appropriate adjustments to qualified stated interest or OID for actual variable rates during the applicable accrual period.

In the case of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument that provides for stated interest either at one or more qualified floating rates or at a qualified inverse floating rate and also provides for stated interest at a single fixed rate other than at a single fixed rate for an initial period (as described above), the interest and OID accruals on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument must be determined by using the method described above. However, the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will be treated, for purposes of the first three steps of the determination, as if the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument had provided for a qualified floating rate, or a qualified inverse floating rate, rather than the fixed rate. The qualified floating rate, or qualified inverse floating rate, that replaces the fixed rate must be such that the fair market value of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument as of the issue date approximates the fair market value of an otherwise identical debt instrument that provides for the qualified floating rate, or qualified inverse floating rate, rather than the fixed rate.

Acquisition Premium

If a United States Holder purchases an OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument for an amount greater than its adjusted issue price (as determined above) at the purchase date and less than or equal to the sum of all amounts, other than qualified stated interest, payable on the OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument after the purchase date, the excess is "acquisition premium". Under these rules, in general, the amount of OID which must be included in income for the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument for any taxable year (or any portion of a taxable year in which the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is held) will be reduced (but not below zero) by the portion of the acquisition premium allocated to the period. The amount of acquisition premium allocated to each period is determined by multiplying the OID that otherwise would have been included in income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the excess of the cost over the adjusted issue price of the OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument and the denominator of which is the excess of the OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument's stated redemption price at maturity over its adjusted issue price.

Amortizable Bond Premium

If a United States Holder purchases a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (including an OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument) for an amount in excess of the sum of all amounts payable on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument after the purchase date, other than qualified stated interest, such holder will be considered to have purchased such Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument with "amortizable bond premium" equal in amount to such excess. A United States Holder may elect to amortize such premium as an offset to interest income using a constant yield method over the remaining term of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument based on the United States Holder's yield to maturity with respect to the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument.

A United States Holder generally may use the amortizable bond premium allocable to an accrual period to offset interest required to be included in the United States Holder's income under its regular method of accounting with respect to the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument in that accrual period. If the amortizable bond premium allocable to an accrual period exceeds the amount of interest allocable to such accrual period, such excess would be allowed as a deduction for such accrual period, but only to the extent of the United States Holder's prior interest inclusions on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument that have not been offset previously by bond premium. Any excess is generally carried forward and allocable to the next accrual period.

If a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument may be redeemed by us prior to its maturity date, the amount of amortizable bond premium will be based on the amount payable at the applicable redemption date, but only if use of the redemption date (in lieu of the stated maturity date) results in a smaller amortizable bond premium for the period ending on the redemption date.

An election to amortize bond premium applies to all taxable debt obligations held by the United States Holder at the beginning of the first taxable year to which the election applies and thereafter acquired by the United States Holder and may be revoked only with the consent of the IRS. Generally, a holder may make an election to include in income its entire return on a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (i.e., the excess of all remaining payments to be received on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument over the amount paid for the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument by such holder) in accordance with a constant yield method based on the compounding of interest, as discussed below under "—Election to Treat All Interest as Original Issue Discount". If a holder makes such an election for a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument with amortizable bond premium, such election will result in a deemed election to amortize bond premium for all of the holder's debt instruments with amortizable bond premium and may be revoked only with the permission of the IRS.

A United States Holder that elects to amortize bond premium will be required to reduce its tax basis in the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument by the amount of the premium amortized during its holding period. OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments purchased at a premium will not be subject to the OID rules described above. If a United States Holder does not elect to amortize bond premium, the amount of bond premium will be included in its tax basis in the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument. Therefore, if a United States Holder does not elect to amortize bond premium and it holds the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument to maturity, the premium generally will be treated as capital loss when the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument matures.

Market Discount

If a United States Holder purchases a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument for an amount that is less than its stated redemption price at maturity, or, in the case of an OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, its adjusted issue price, such holder will be considered to have purchased the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument with "market discount". Any payment, other than qualified stated interest, or any gain on the sale, exchange, retirement, or other disposition of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument with market discount generally will be treated as ordinary interest income to the extent of the market discount not previously included in income that accrued on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument during such holder's holding period. In general, market discount is treated as accruing on a straight-line basis over the term of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument unless an election is made to accrue the market discount under a constant yield method. In addition, a United States Holder may be required to defer, until the maturity of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument or its earlier disposition in a taxable transaction, the deduction of a portion of the interest paid on any indebtedness incurred or maintained to purchase or carry the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument in an amount not exceeding the accrued market discount on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument.

A United States Holder may elect to include market discount in income currently as it accrues (on either a straight-line or constant yield basis), in lieu of treating a portion of any gain realized on a sale, exchange, retirement, or other disposition of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument as ordinary income. If an election is made to include market discount on a current basis, the interest deduction deferral rule described above will not apply. If a United States Holder makes such an election, it will apply to all market discount debt instruments acquired by such holder on or after the first day of the first taxable year to which the election applies. The election may not be revoked without the consent of the IRS. United States Holders should consult with their own tax advisors before making this election.

If the difference between the stated redemption price at maturity of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument or, in the case of an OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, its adjusted issue price, and the amount paid for the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is less than 1/4 of 1% of the debt instrument's stated redemption price at maturity or, in the case of an OID Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, its adjusted issue price, multiplied by the number of remaining complete years to the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument's maturity ("de minimis market discount"), the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument is not treated as issued with market discount.

Generally, a holder may make an election to include in income its entire return on a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (i.e., the excess of all remaining payments to be received on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument over the amount paid for the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument by such holder) in accordance with a constant yield method based on the compounding of interest, as discussed below under "—Election to Treat All Interest as Original Issue Discount". If a holder makes such an election for a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument with market discount, the holder will be required to include market discount in income currently as it accrues on a constant yield basis for all market discount debt instruments acquired by such holder on or after the first day of the first taxable year to which the election applies, and such election may be revoked only with the permission of the IRS.

Election to Treat All Interest as Original Issue Discount

A United States Holder may elect to include in income all interest that accrues on a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument using the constant-yield method applicable to OID described above, subject to certain limitations and exceptions. For purposes of this election, interest includes stated interest, acquisition discount, OID, de minimis OID, market discount, de minimis market discount, and unstated interest, as adjusted by any amortizable bond premium or acquisition premium, each as described herein. If this election is made for a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, then, to apply the constant-yield method: (i) the issue price of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will equal its cost, (ii) the issue date of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will be the date it was acquired, and (iii) no payments on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will be treated as payments of qualified stated interest. A United States Holder must make this election for the taxable year in which the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument was acquired, and may not revoke the election without the consent of the IRS. United States Holders should consult with their own tax advisors before making this election.

Short-Term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments

Some of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments may be issued with maturities of one year or less from the date of issue (after taking into account the last possible date that the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument could be outstanding under its terms), which we refer to as short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments. U.S. Treasury regulations provide that no payments of interest on a short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument are treated as qualified stated interest. Accordingly, in determining the amount of discount on a short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, all interest payments, including stated interest, are included in the short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument's stated redemption price at maturity.

In general, individual and certain other United States Holders using the cash basis method of tax accounting are not required to include accrued discount on short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments in income currently unless they elect to do so, but they are required to include any stated interest in income as the interest is received, except to the extent already included under such election. However, a cash basis United States Holder will be required to treat any gain realised on a sale, exchange, or retirement of the short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument as ordinary income to the extent such gain does not exceed the discount accrued with respect to the short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, which will be determined on a straight-line basis unless the holder makes an election to accrue the discount under the constant-yield method, through the date of sale, exchange or retirement. Any gain in excess of this amount will be treated as short-term capital gain. Any loss recognised will be treated as a capital loss. In addition, a cash basis United States Holder that does not elect to include accrued discount in income currently will not be allowed to deduct any of the interest paid or accrued on any indebtedness incurred or maintained to purchase or carry a short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (in an amount not exceeding the deferred income), but instead will be required to defer deductions for such interest until the deferred income is realised upon the maturity of the short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument or its earlier disposition in a taxable transaction. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a cash-basis United States Holder of a short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument may elect to include accrued discount in income on a current basis. If this election is made, the limitation on the deductibility of interest described above will not apply.

A United States Holder using the accrual method of tax accounting generally will be required to include accrued discount on a short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument in income on a current basis, on either a straight-line basis or, at the election of the holder, under the constant-yield method based on daily compounding.

Regardless of whether a United States Holder is a cash-basis or accrual-basis holder it may elect to include accrued "acquisition discount" with respect to a short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument in income on a current basis. Acquisition discount is the excess of the remaining redemption amount of the short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument at the time of acquisition over the purchase price. Acquisition discount will be treated as accruing on a straight-line basis or, at the election of the holder, under a constant yield method based on daily compounding. If a United States Holder elects to include accrued acquisition discount in income, the rules for including accrued discount will not apply. In addition, the market discount rules described above will not apply to short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments.

Sale, Exchange, or Retirement of Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments

Upon the sale, exchange, retirement, or other disposition of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, a United States Holder will recognise gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount realised upon the sale, exchange, retirement, or other disposition (less an amount equal to any accrued and unpaid interest, which will be included in income as interest income for U.S. federal income tax purposes as described above) and the United States Holder's adjusted tax basis in the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument. The amount realised by the United States Holder will include the amount of any cash and the fair market value of any other property received for the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument. A United States Holder's adjusted tax basis in a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument generally will be the cost of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument to such United States Holder, increased by any OID, market discount, de minimis OID, de minimis market discount, or any discount with respect to a short-term Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument previously included in income with respect to the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, and decreased by the amount of any premium previously amortized to reduce interest on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument and the amount of any payment (other than a payment of qualified stated interest) received in respect of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument.

Except as discussed above with respect to market discount, or as described below with respect to Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments subject to contingencies, gain or loss realised on the sale, exchange, retirement, or other disposition of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument generally will be capital gain or loss and will be long-term capital gain or loss if the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument has been held for more than one year. Net long-term capital gain recognised by an individual United States Holder is generally taxed at preferential rates. The ability of United States Holders to deduct capital losses is subject to limitations under the Code.

Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments Subject to Contingencies

Certain of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments may provide for an alternative payment schedule or schedules applicable upon the occurrence of a contingency or contingencies, other than a remote or incidental contingency, whether such contingency relates to payments of interest or of principal. In addition, certain of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments may contain provisions permitting them to be redeemed prior to their stated maturity at the option of MLBV and/or at the option of the holder. Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments containing these features may be characterised as "contingent payment debt instruments" for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

If the Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments are properly characterised as contingent payment debt instruments for U.S. federal income tax purposes (a "CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument"), such CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments generally will be subject to U.S. Treasury regulations governing contingent payment debt instruments. Under those regulations, a United States Holder will be required to report OID based on a "comparable yield" and a "projected payment schedule", both as described below, established by us for determining interest accruals and adjustments with respect to the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument. A United States Holder that does not use the "comparable yield" and follow the "projected payment schedule" to calculate its OID on a CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument must timely disclose and justify the use of other estimates to the IRS. No payments on a contingent payment debt instrument are treated as qualified stated interest.

A "comparable yield" with respect to a CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument generally is the yield at which we could issue a fixed-rate debt instrument with terms similar to those of the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (taking into account for this purpose the level of subordination, term, timing of payments, and general market conditions, but ignoring any adjustments for liquidity or the riskiness of the contingencies with respect to the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument). Notwithstanding the foregoing, a comparable yield must not be less than the applicable U.S. federal rate based on the overall maturity of the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument.

A "projected payment schedule" with respect to a CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument generally is a series of projected payments, the amount and timing of which would produce a yield to maturity on that CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument equal to the comparable yield. This projected payment schedule will consist of a projection for tax purposes of each non-contingent and contingent payment.

Based on the comparable yield and the projected payment schedule of the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments, a United States Holder of a CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (regardless of its tax accounting method) generally will be required to accrue as OID the sum of the daily portions of interest on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument for each day in the taxable year on which the holder held the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, adjusted upward or downward to reflect the difference, if any, between the actual and projected amount of any contingent payments on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, as set forth below. The daily portions of interest for a CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument are determined by allocating to each day in an accrual period the ratable portion of interest on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument that accrues in the accrual period. The amount of interest on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument that accrues in an accrual period is the product of the comparable yield on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (adjusted to reflect the length of the accrual period) and the adjusted issue price of the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument at the beginning of the accrual period. The adjusted issue price of a CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument at the beginning of the first accrual period will equal its issue price (as described above). For any subsequent accrual period, the adjusted issue price will be (i) the sum of the issue price of the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument and any interest previously accrued on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument by a holder (without regard to any positive or negative adjustments, described below) minus (ii) the amount of any projected payments on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument for previous accrual periods.

A United States Holder of a CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument generally will be required to include in income OID in excess of actual cash payments received for certain taxable years. In addition to the accrued OID, a United States Holder will be required to recognise interest income equal to the amount of any positive adjustment for a CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument for the taxable year in which a contingent payment is paid (including a payment of interest at maturity). A positive adjustment is the excess of actual payments in respect of contingent payments over the projected amount of contingent payments. A United States Holder also will be required to account for any "negative adjustment" for a taxable year in which a contingent payment is paid. A negative adjustment is the excess of the projected amounts of contingent payments over actual payments in respect of the contingent payments. A net negative adjustment is the amount by which total negative adjustments in a taxable year exceed total positive adjustments in such taxable year. A net negative adjustment (i) will first reduce the amount of interest for the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument that a United States Holder would otherwise be required to include in income in the taxable year, and (ii) to the extent of any excess, will result in an ordinary loss equal to that portion of the excess as does not exceed the excess of (a) the amount of all previous interest inclusions under the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument over (b) the total amount of the United States Holder's net negative adjustments treated as ordinary loss on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument in prior taxable years. A net negative adjustment is not treated as a deductible miscellaneous itemised deduction under Section 67 of the Code. Any net negative adjustment in excess of the amounts described above in (i) and (ii) will be carried forward to offset future interest income on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument or to reduce the amount realised on a sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition of the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument.

If a contingent payment becomes fixed (within the meaning of applicable U.S. Treasury regulations) more than six months before its due date, a positive or negative adjustment, as appropriate, is made to reflect the difference between the present value of the amount that is fixed and the present value of the projected amount. The present value of each amount is determined by discounting the amount from the date the payment is due to the date the payment becomes fixed, using a discount rate equal to the comparable yield. If all contingent payments on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument become fixed, substantially contemporaneously, applicable U.S. Treasury regulations provide that, with regard to contingent payments that become fixed on a day that is more than six months before their due date, United States Holders should take into account positive or negative adjustments in respect of such contingent payments over the period to which they relate in a reasonable manner. For purposes of the preceding sentence, a payment (including an amount payable at maturity) will be treated as fixed if (and when) all remaining contingencies with respect to it are remote or incidental within the meaning of the applicable U.S. Treasury regulations. A United States Holder's tax basis in the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument and the character of any gain or loss on the sale of the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument will also be affected. United States Holders should consult their tax advisors concerning the application of these special rules, including as to what would be a "reasonable manner" in their particular situation.

Upon a sale, exchange, retirement, or other disposition of a CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, a United States Holder generally will recognise taxable gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount realised on the sale, exchange, retirement, or other disposition and that holder's tax basis in the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument. A United States Holder's tax basis in a CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument generally will equal the cost of that CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument, increased by the amount of OID previously accrued by the holder for that CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument (without regard to any positive or negative adjustments) and reduced by any projected payments for previous periods on the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments. A United States Holder generally will treat any gain as interest income, and will treat any loss as ordinary loss to the extent of the excess of previous interest inclusions over the total negative adjustments previously taken into account as ordinary losses, and the balance as long-term or short-term capital loss depending upon the United States Holder's holding period for the CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instrument. The deductibility of capital losses by a United States Holder is subject to limitations.

United States Holders considering the purchase of CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments with these features should carefully examine the applicable supplement and should consult their own tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences to a United States Holder of the purchase, ownership and disposition of such CPDI Rule 144A Return of Principal Guaranteed Instruments.

Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instruments

Although there is no statutory, judicial, or administrative authority directly addressing the characterisation of a Rule 144A Instrument that does not guarantee the return of principal ("Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instruments"), the relevant Issuer intends to treat each Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument for all tax purposes as a single financial contract linked to the underlying index or shares. This discussion assumes that a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument constitutes a single financial contract linked to the underlying Reference Item for United States federal income tax purposes. If a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument does not constitute a single financial contract, the tax consequences described below would be materially different.

This characterisation of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument is not binding on the IRS or the courts. No statutory, judicial, or administrative authority directly addresses the characterisation of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument or any similar instruments for United States federal income tax purposes, and no ruling is being requested from the IRS with respect to its proper characterisation and treatment. Due to the absence of authorities on point, significant aspects of the United States federal income tax consequences of an investment in a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument are not certain, and no assurance can be given that the IRS or any court will agree with the characterisation and tax treatment described herein. Accordingly, holders are urged to consult their tax advisor regarding all aspects of the United States federal income tax consequences of an investment in a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument, including possible alternative characterisations.

As noted above, the IRS released the Notice in which it sought comments on the taxation of financial instruments referred to as "prepaid forward contracts". According to the Notice, the IRS and U.S. Treasury are considering whether a holder of such an instrument should be required to accrue ordinary income on a current basis, regardless of whether any payments are made prior to maturity or settlement. The IRS and U.S. Treasury are also considering additional issues, including whether foreign holders of such instruments should be subject to withholding tax on any deemed income accruals. It is not possible to determine what guidance the IRS and U.S. Treasury will ultimately issue, if any, and whether any such guidance would be retroactive. Any such guidance may affect the United States federal income and withholding tax treatment of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument.

Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisor concerning the impact and the significance of the above considerations. The relevant Issuer intends to continue treating a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument for United States federal income tax purposes in the manner described herein unless and until such time as the relevant Issuer, the IRS or U.S. Treasury determines, that some other treatment is more appropriate.

Unless otherwise stated, the following discussion is based on the characterisation described above. The discussion in this section assumes that there is a significant possibility of a significant loss of principal on an investment in a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument.

The relevant Issuer will not attempt to ascertain whether any of the entities whose stock is included in an underlying index or the issuer of any underlying shares is a "passive foreign investment company" ("PFIC") within the meaning of Section 1297 of the Code or a "financial asset" within the meaning of Section 1260 of the Code. If any of the entities whose stock is included in the underlying index or the issuer of any underlying shares were so treated, certain adverse United States federal income tax consequences could possibly apply. Holders should consult their tax advisor regarding the possible consequences to them in this regard.

Although the United States federal income tax treatment of any additional amounts paid with respect to a Reference Item linked Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument is uncertain, the relevant Issuer intends to take the position, and the following discussion assumes, that any such additional amounts constitute taxable ordinary income to a United States Holder at the time received or accrued in accordance with the holder's regular method of accounting.

Subject to the final sentence of this paragraph, upon receipt of a cash payment on the settlement date or upon a sale or exchange of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument prior to settlement, a United States Holder generally should recognise capital gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount realised and the holder's basis in the Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument. This capital gain or loss generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if the United States Holder held the Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument for more than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. For this purpose, however, the relevant Issuer can provide no assurance on the proper treatment of the portion of the cash settlement amount, if any, equal to a fixed percentage p.a. of the issue price (the "outperformance payment") and the IRS may successfully assert that any amount attributable to the outperformance payment should be treated as ordinary income rather than as part of the amount realised.

Due to the absence of authorities that directly address the proper tax treatment of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument, prospective investors are urged to consult their tax advisor regarding all possible alternative tax treatments of an investment in a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument. For example, the IRS could seek to treat a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument as a single debt instrument. If the IRS were successful in that regard, the timing and character of income on a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument would be affected significantly. In that case, if a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument has a term that exceeds one year, it would generally be treated as a contingent payment debt instrument, in which case, a United States Holder would be required to accrue interest currently over the term of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument. In addition, any gain a United States Holder might recognise upon the settlement or upon a sale or exchange of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument prior to settlement would be ordinary income and any loss recognised by a holder at such time would be ordinary loss to the extent of interest that same holder included in income in the current or previous taxable years in respect of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument, and thereafter, would be capital loss. If the Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument is treated as a single debt instrument that has a term of no more than one year, it would be treated as a single contingent short-term debt instrument, which would also result in tax consequences that are different from those described above. Other alternative United States federal income tax characterisations of a Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument are possible, which, if applied, also could affect the timing and the character of a United States Holder's income or loss.

In general, backup withholding may apply in respect of the amounts paid to a United States Holder, unless such United States Holder provides proof of an applicable exemption or a correct taxpayer identification number, or otherwise complies with applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules. In addition, information returns will be filed with the IRS in connection with payments on the Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument as well as in connection with the proceeds from a sale, exchange, or other disposition of the Rule 144A Return of Principal Not Guaranteed Instrument, unless the United States Holder provides proof of an applicable exemption from the information reporting rules. Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules will be allowed as a refund or a credit against a United States Holder's United States federal income tax liability provided the required information is furnished to the IRS.

The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act

The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act ("FATCA") (Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code) imposes a 30 per cent. United States withholding tax on certain United States source payments, including interest (and original issue discount), dividends (and dividend equivalents), or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gain, profits, and income ("Withholdable Payments"), if paid to a foreign financial institution (including amounts paid to a foreign financial institution on behalf of a holder), unless such institution enters into an agreement with U.S. Treasury to collect and provide to U.S. Treasury substantial information regarding United States account holders, including certain account holders that are foreign entities with United States owners, with such institution. An Instrument may constitute an account for these purposes. The legislation also generally imposes a withholding tax of 30 per cent. on Withholdable Payments made to a non-financial foreign entity unless such entity provides the withholding agent with a certification that it does not have any substantial United States owners or a certification identifying the direct and indirect substantial United States owners of the entity. Under certain circumstances, a holder may be eligible for refunds or credits of such taxes.

In addition, under FATCA, "passthru payments" made by a foreign financial institution to "recalcitrant holders" or non-compliant foreign financial institutions are subject to a 30 per cent. United States withholding tax. A "recalcitrant holder" generally is a holder of an account with a foreign financial institution that fails to comply with reasonable requests for information that will help enable the relevant foreign financial institution to comply with its reporting requirements (an Instrument may constitute an account for these purposes). Pursuant to U.S. Treasury regulations, a passthru payment is any Withholdable Payment and any "foreign passthru payment", which has yet to be defined. Under the regulations, the 30 per cent. United States withholding tax on "recalcitrant holders" or non-compliant foreign financial institutions may be imposed on United States source payments (e.g. dividend equivalent payments) made by an Issuer or any Paying Agent with respect to the Instruments and on non-United States source payments made after the second anniversary of the date of publication in the United States Federal Register of final regulations defining the term "foreign passthru payment" by an Issuer or any Paying Agent with respect to the Instruments.

If the relevant Issuer or any Paying Agent determines withholding is appropriate with respect to the Instruments, the relevant Issuer or such Paying Agent will withhold tax at the applicable statutory rate without being required to pay any Additional Tax Amounts with respect to amounts so withheld. However, the withholding tax will not be imposed on payments pursuant to an Instrument giving rise to Withholdable Payments solely because payments are treated as dividend equivalent payments if the Instrument is outstanding on or before the date that is six months after the date on which obligations similar to the Instrument become subject to the dividend equivalent rules. In addition, payments on an Instrument will not be treated as "foreign passthru payments" if such Instrument is outstanding on or before the date that is six months after the date on which final regulations defining the term "foreign passthru payment" are filed with the United States Federal Register. Foreign financial institutions and non-financial foreign entities located in jurisdictions that have an intergovernmental agreement with the United States governing FATCA may be subject to different rules. Holders are urged to consult with their own tax advisors regarding the possible implications of FATCA on their investment in the Instruments.

DUTCH TAXATION

This summary solely addresses the principal Dutch tax consequences of the acquisition ownership and disposal of Notes, Warrants or Certificates (together referred to as "Instruments") issued on or after the date of this Offering Circular and does not purport to describe every aspect of taxation that may be relevant to a particular holder. Tax matters are complex, and the tax consequences of an offering under the Programme to a particular holder of the Instruments will depend in part on such holder's circumstances. Accordingly, a holder is urged to consult his own tax advisor for a full understanding of the tax consequences of an offering under the Programme to him, including the applicability and effect of Dutch tax laws.

Where in this summary English terms and expressions are used to refer to Dutch concepts, the meaning to be attributed to such terms and expressions shall be the meaning to be attributed to the equivalent Dutch concepts under Dutch tax law. Where in this summary the terms "the Netherlands" and "Dutch" are used, these refer solely to the European part of the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

This summary assumes that the Issuer is organised, and that its business will be conducted, in the manner outlined in this Offering Circular. A change to such organisational structure or to the manner in which the Issuer conducts its business may invalidate the contents of this summary, which will not be updated to reflect any such change.

This summary is based on the tax law of the Netherlands (unpublished case law not included) as it stands at the date of this Offering Circular. The tax law upon which this summary is based is subject to changes, possibly with retroactive effect. Any such change may invalidate the contents of this summary, which will not be updated to reflect such change.

The summary in this Dutch taxation paragraph does not address the Dutch tax consequences for a holder of Instruments who:

- (i) is a person who may be deemed an owner of Instruments for Dutch tax purposes pursuant to specific statutory attribution rules in Dutch tax law;
- (ii) is, although in principle subject to Dutch corporation tax, in whole or in part, specifically exempt from that tax in connection with income from Instruments;
- (iii) is an investment institution as defined in the Dutch Corporation Tax Act 1969;
- (iv) is an entity that, although in principle subject to Dutch corporation tax, is fully or partly exempt from Dutch corporation tax;
- (v) owns Instruments in connection with a membership of a management board or a supervisory board, an employment relationship, a deemed employment relationship or management role;
- (vi) has a substantial interest in the Issuer or a deemed substantial interest in the Issuer for Dutch tax purposes. Generally, a person holds a substantial interest if (a) such person – either alone or, in the case of an individual, together with his partner or any of his relatives by blood or by marriage in the direct line (including foster-children) or of those of his partner for Dutch tax purposes – owns or is deemed to own, directly or indirectly, 5 per cent. or more of the shares or of any class of shares of the Issuer, or rights to acquire, directly or indirectly, such an interest in the shares of the Issuer or profit participating certificates relating to 5 per cent. or more of the annual profits or to 5 per cent. or more of the liquidation proceeds of the Issuer, or (b) such person's shares, rights to acquire shares or profit participating certificates in the Issuer are held by him following the application of a non-recognition provision; or
- (vii) is for Dutch tax purposes taxable as a corporate entity and resident of Aruba, Curaçao or Sint Maarten.

Withholding tax

All payments under the Instruments may be made free from withholding or deduction of or for any taxes of whatever nature imposed, levied, withheld or assessed by the Netherlands or any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in the Netherlands, except that Dutch withholding tax may apply (a) with respect to payments of interest made or deemed to be made by the Issuer if the interest payments are made or deemed to be made to a related party which (i) is resident in a low-tax or non-cooperative jurisdiction as specifically listed in an annually updated Dutch regulation, (ii) has a permanent establishment in any such jurisdiction to which the interest is attributable, (iii) is neither resident in the Netherlands nor in a low-tax or non-cooperative jurisdiction, and is entitled to the interest with the main purpose or one of the main purposes to avoid withholding tax of another person, (iv) is a hybrid entity, or (v) is not resident in any jurisdiction, within the meaning of the Dutch Withholding Tax Act 2021 (Wet bronbelasting 2021), or (vi) is a reverse hybrid entity within the meaning of art. 2, paragraph 12 of the Netherlands Corporate Income Tax Act 1969 (Wet op de vennootschapsbelasting 1969), or (b) where Instruments are issued under such terms and conditions that such Instruments are capable of being classified as equity of the Issuer for Dutch tax purposes or actually function as equity of the Issuer within the meaning of article 10, paragraph 1, letter d of the Dutch Corporation Tax Act 1969 and where Instruments are issued that are redeemable in exchange for, convertible into or linked to shares or other equity instruments issued or to be issued by the Issuer or an entity related to the Issuer (for example, the taxable basis for Dutch dividend withholding tax purposes may include (i) the par value of the shares issued upon exercise of the Warrants to the extent that it does not appear that a contribution, recognised for Dutch dividend withholding tax purposes, has been made or will be made or (ii) proceeds of any amounts paid in respect of a repurchase or redemption of Warrants or of a cash settlement of Warrants, and consequently, Dutch dividend withholding tax at a rate of 15% may be due in respect of (a part of) such par value or proceeds, subject to possible relief).

Taxes on income and capital gains

Resident holders of Instruments

A holder of Instruments who is resident or deemed to be resident in the Netherlands for Dutch tax purposes is fully subject to Dutch income tax if he is an individual or fully subject to Dutch corporation tax if it is a corporate entity, or an entity, including an association, a partnership and a mutual fund, taxable as a corporate entity, as described in the summary below.

Individuals deriving profits or deemed to be deriving profits from an enterprise

Any benefits derived or deemed to be derived from or in connection with Instruments that are attributable to an enterprise from which an individual derives profits, whether as an entrepreneur or pursuant to a co-entitlement to the net value of an enterprise, other than as a shareholder, are generally subject to Dutch income tax at progressive rates up to 49.5%.

Individuals deriving benefits from miscellaneous activities

Any benefits derived or deemed to be derived from or in connection with Instruments that constitute benefits from miscellaneous activities by an individual are generally subject to Dutch income tax at progressive rates up to 49.5%.

An individual may, inter alia, derive or be deemed to derive benefits from or in connection with Instruments that are taxable as benefits from miscellaneous activities if his investment activities go beyond regular active portfolio management.

Other individuals

A holder of Instruments whose situation has not been discussed before in this section "Dutch taxation - Taxes on income and capital gains – Resident holders of Instruments", must record the Instruments as assets that are held in box 3 for the purposes of the Netherlands Income Tax Act 2001 (Wet inkomstenbelasting 2001). Taxable income with regard to the Instruments is then determined on the basis of a certain deemed return (rendement) on the holder's yield basis (rendementsgrondslag) at the beginning of the calendar year insofar the yield basis exceeds a certain threshold (€59,357 for an individual taxpayer and €118,714 in case of a "qualifying partner" (statutory defined term)) (heffingvrij vermogen), rather than on the basis of income actually received or gains actually realised. Such yield basis is determined as the fair market value of certain qualifying savings and investments held by the holder of the Instruments, less the fair market value of certain qualifying debts at the beginning of the calendar year. The deemed return (rendement) is determined on separate deemed return percentages for bank savings, other investments and liabilities. For the calendar year 2026, the deemed return percentage for other investments (including the Instruments) is 6.00%. Subject to certain anti-abuse provisions, the product of an amount equal to (a) the total deemed return (rendement) divided by the yield basis (rendementsgrondslag) and (b) the yield basis (rendementsgrondslag) minus the threshold (heffingvrij vermogen), forms the individual's taxable income from savings and investments. The taxable income from savings and investments so computed is taxed at the prevailing statutory rate of 36%.

The Dutch Supreme Court has ruled that box 3 taxation as outlined above is in violation of article 1 of the First Protocol to the European Convention on Human Rights (right to property) and of article 14 of the European Convention on Human Rights (prohibition of discrimination), where the deemed return is higher than the actual nominal return on the assets and liabilities, including unrealised changes in value of such assets and liabilities. In these cases, the Dutch Supreme Court has ruled that legal redress should be provided to the party concerned. The Dutch legislator has introduced new legislation to take away the violations. Holders of Instruments that are taxed in box 3 for Dutch individual income tax purposes with respect to their Instruments are recommended to consult a professional tax advisor.

Corporate entities

Any benefits derived or deemed to be derived from or in connection with Instruments that are held by a corporate entity, or an entity, including an association, a partnership and a mutual fund, taxable as a corporate entity, are generally subject to Dutch corporation tax.

General

A holder of Instruments will not be deemed to be resident in the Netherlands for Dutch tax purposes by reason only of the execution and/or enforcement of the documents relating to the issue of Instruments or the performance by the Issuer of its obligations under such documents or under the Instruments.

Non-resident Holders of Instruments

Individuals

If a holder of Instruments is an individual who is neither resident nor deemed to be resident in the Netherlands for purposes of Dutch income tax, he will not be subject to Dutch income tax in respect of any benefits derived or deemed to be derived from or in connection with Instruments, except if:

- (i) he derives profits from an enterprise, whether as an entrepreneur or pursuant to a co-entitlement to the net value of such enterprise, other than as a shareholder, and such enterprise is carried on, in whole or in part, through a permanent establishment or a permanent representative in the Netherlands, and his Instruments are attributable to such permanent establishment or permanent representative;
- (ii) he derives benefits or is deemed to derive benefits from or in connection with Instruments that are taxable as benefits from miscellaneous activities performed in the Netherlands; or
- (iii) he derives profits pursuant to the entitlement to a share in the profits of an enterprise, other than as a holder of securities, which is effectively managed in the Netherlands and to which enterprise his Instruments are attributable.

Corporate entities

If a holder of Instruments is a corporate entity, or an entity, including an association, a partnership and a mutual fund, taxable as a corporate entity, which is neither resident nor deemed to be resident in the Netherlands for purposes of Dutch corporation tax, it will not be subject to Dutch corporation tax in respect of any benefits derived or deemed to be derived from or in connection with Instruments, except if:

- (i) it derives profits from an enterprise directly which is carried on, in whole or in part, through a permanent establishment or a permanent representative in the Netherlands, and to which permanent establishment or permanent representative its Instruments are attributable; or
- (ii) it derives profits pursuant to a co-entitlement to the net value of an enterprise which is managed in the Netherlands, other than as a holder of securities, and to which enterprise its Instruments are attributable.

General

If a holder of Instruments is neither resident nor deemed to be resident in the Netherlands, such holder will for Dutch tax purposes not carry on or be deemed to carry on an enterprise, in whole or in part, through a permanent establishment or a permanent representative in the Netherlands by reason only of the execution and/or enforcement of the documents relating to the issue of Instruments or the performance by the Issuer of its obligations under such documents or under Instruments.

Gift and inheritance taxes

No Dutch gift tax or Dutch inheritance tax will arise with respect to an acquisition or deemed acquisition of Instruments by way of gift by, or upon the death of, a holder of Instruments who is neither resident nor deemed to be resident in the Netherlands for purposes of Dutch gift tax or Dutch inheritance tax except if, in the event of a gift whilst not being a resident nor being a deemed resident in the Netherlands for purposes of Dutch gift tax or Dutch inheritance tax, the holder of Instruments becomes a resident or a deemed resident in the Netherlands and dies within 180 days after the date of the gift.

For purposes of Dutch gift tax and Dutch inheritance tax, a gift of Instruments made under a condition precedent is deemed to be made at the time the condition precedent is satisfied.

Registration taxes and duties

No Dutch registration tax, transfer tax, stamp duty or any other similar documentary tax or duty, other than court fees, is payable in the Netherlands in respect of or in connection with the execution and/or enforcement (including by legal proceedings and including the enforcement of any foreign judgment in the courts of the Netherlands) of the documents relating to the issue of Instruments, the performance by the Issuer of its obligations under such documents or under Instruments, or the transfer of Instruments, except that Dutch real property transfer tax may be due upon an acquisition, in connection with Instruments, of real property situated in the Netherlands, (an interest in) an asset that qualifies as real property situated in the Netherlands, or (an interest in) a right over real property situated in the Netherlands, for the purposes of Dutch real property transfer tax or where Instruments are issued under such terms and conditions that they represent (an interest in) an asset that qualifies as real property situated in the Netherlands, for the purposes of Dutch real property transfer tax.

LUXEMBOURG TAXATION

The following summary is of a general nature and is included herein solely for information purposes. It is based on the laws presently in force in Luxembourg, though it is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice. Unless otherwise indicated, all information contained in this section is based on laws, regulations, practice and decisions in effect in Luxembourg at the date of this Offering Circular. Any changes could apply retroactively and could affect the continued validity of this summary.

This summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all potential Luxembourg tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to invest in, own or dispose of the Instruments and is not intended as tax advice to any particular investor. This information also does not take into account the specific circumstances of particular investors. Prospective investors in the Notes, the Warrants and the Certificates (together referred to as "Instruments"), should therefore consult their own professional advisers as to the effects of state, local or foreign laws, including Luxembourg tax law, to which they may be subject.

This overview assumes that each transaction with respect to the Instruments is at arm's length. It also assumes that the relevant Issuer or Guarantor is at all times not a tax resident in Luxembourg for Luxembourg tax purposes.

Where in this summary English terms and expressions are used to refer to Luxembourg concepts, the meaning to be attributed to such terms and expressions shall be the meaning to be attributed to the equivalent Luxembourg concepts under Luxembourg tax law.

The summary in this Luxembourg taxation paragraph does not address the Luxembourg tax consequences for a holder of Instruments who:

- (i) is an investor as defined in a specific laws (such as the law of 11 May 2007 on family estate management companies, as amended, the law of 17 December 2010 on undertakings for collective investment, as amended, the law of 13 February 2007 on specialised investment funds, as amended, the law of 23 July 2016 on reserved alternative investment funds, the law of 22 March 2004 on securitisation, as amended, the law of 15 June 2004 on venture capital vehicles, as amended, or the law of 13 July 2005 on pension saving companies and associations);

- (ii) is, although in principle subject to Luxembourg tax, in whole or in part, specifically exempt from tax;
- (iii) owns Instruments in connection with a membership of a management board or a supervisory board, an employment relationship, a deemed employment relationship or management role; or
- (iv) has a substantial interest in the Issuer or a deemed substantial interest in the Issuer for Luxembourg tax purposes. Generally, a person holds a substantial interest if such person owns or is deemed to own, directly or indirectly, 10 per cent. or more of the shares or interest in an entity.

Withholding Tax

Subject to the law of 23 December 2005 as amended (the "23 December 2005 Law") mentioned below, all payments under Instruments may be made free from withholding or deduction of or for any taxes of whatever nature imposed, levied, withheld or assessed in Luxembourg.

Under the 23 December 2005 Law, payments of interest or similar income made or ascribed by a Luxembourg paying agent to or for the benefit of an individual beneficial owner who is resident of Luxembourg will be subject to a withholding tax of 20 per cent. (the "20 per cent. Withholding Tax").

Taxes on Income and Capital Gains

(i) Non-resident Instrument holders

Non-resident Instrument holders, not having a permanent establishment or a permanent representative, to which the Instruments or income thereon are attributable, are not subject to Luxembourg income taxes on interest accrued or received, redemption premiums or issue discounts, under the Instruments nor on capital gains realised on the disposal or redemption of the Instruments.

(ii) Resident Instrument holders

Individuals

A resident individual acting in the course of the management of a professional or business undertaking must include any interest accrued or received, any redemption premium or issue discount, as well as any gain realised on the sale or disposal in any form whatsoever, of the Instruments, in its taxable income for Luxembourg income tax purposes.

A resident Instrument holder, acting in the course of the management of his/her private wealth, is subject to Luxembourg income tax in respect of interest or similar income received (such as premiums or issue discounts) under the Instruments, except if tax is levied on such payments in accordance with the 23 December 2005 Law.

Pursuant to the 23 December 2005 Law, Luxembourg resident individuals acting in the course of the management of their private wealth can opt to self-declare and pay a 20 per cent. tax (the "20 per cent. Self-Declared Tax") on interest payments made by paying agents located in an EU Member State other than Luxembourg or a Member State of the European Economic Area other than an EU Member State.

The 20 per cent. Withholding Tax or the 20 per cent. Self-Declared Tax will be in full discharge of income tax if the beneficial owner is an individual acting in the course of the management of his/her private wealth.

A gain realised by an individual Instrument holder, acting in the course of the management of his/her private wealth, upon the sale or disposal, in any form whatsoever, of Instruments is not subject to Luxembourg income tax, provided this sale or disposal took place more than six months after the Instruments were acquired. However, any portion of such gain corresponding to accrued but unpaid interest income is subject to Luxembourg income tax, except if tax is levied on such interest in accordance with the 23 December 2005 Law.

Corporations

A corporate resident holder of Instruments must include any benefit accrued or received, any redemption premium or issue discount, as well as any gain realised on the sale or disposal, in any form whatsoever, of the Instruments, in its taxable income for Luxembourg income tax purposes.

Net Wealth Tax

Corporate holders of Instruments resident in Luxembourg and non-resident corporate holders of Instruments that maintain a permanent establishment or permanent representative in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg to which or to whom such Instruments are attributable are subject to annual net wealth tax on their unitary value (i.e., non-exempt assets minus liabilities and certain provisions as valued according to valuation rules), levied at a rate of 0.5% if the unitary value does not exceed EUR 500,000,000 and 0.05% on the portion of the unitary value that exceeds EUR 500,000,000, in respect of the Instruments.

Individuals are not subject to Luxembourg net wealth tax.

Inheritance and Gift Tax

Where Instruments are transferred for non-consideration:

- (i) no Luxembourg inheritance tax is levied on the transfer of the Instruments upon the death of a holder of Instruments in cases where the deceased was not a resident of Luxembourg for inheritance tax purposes;
- (ii) by way of gift, Luxembourg gift tax will be levied in the event that the gift is made pursuant to a notarial deed signed before a Luxembourg notary or if the transfer agreement is registered in Luxembourg.

Other Taxes and Duties

It is not compulsory that the Instruments be filed, recorded or enrolled with any court or other authority in Luxembourg. No registration tax, transfer tax, capital tax, stamp duty or any other similar documentary tax or duty be paid in respect of or in connection with the issue of Instruments, the performance by the Issuer of its obligations under Instruments, or the transfer of Instruments.

A fixed or ad valorem registration duty in Luxembourg may however apply (i) upon voluntary registration of the Instruments before the Registration Duties, Estates and VAT Authority in Luxembourg, or (ii) if the Instruments are (a) enclosed to a compulsorily registrable deed under Luxembourg law or (b) deposited with the official records of a notary.

SWITZERLAND

The following is a summary based on legislation as of the date of this Offering Circular. It does not aim to be a comprehensive description of all the Swiss tax considerations that may be relevant for a decision to invest in Instruments. The tax treatment for each investor depends on the particular situation. All investors are advised to consult with their professional tax advisors as to the respective Swiss tax consequences of the purchase, ownership, disposition, lapse, exercise or redemption of Instruments (or options embedded therein) in light of their particular circumstances.

Swiss Federal Stamp Taxes

The issuance of Instruments to the initial holders at the original offering price (primary market) is not subject to Swiss federal issuance stamp tax (Emissionsabgabe) or Swiss federal securities turnover tax (Umsatzabgabe), although the issuance of Instruments classified as fund-like instruments may be subject to Swiss federal securities turnover tax of up to 0.3 per cent. on the offering price, but only if a Swiss securities dealer (as defined in the Swiss federal stamp tax act) is a party or an intermediary to the transaction and no exemption applies.

Dealings in Instruments (secondary market) classified as pure derivative financial instruments (such as pure call and put options, including low exercise price options with maturities not exceeding twelve months, pure futures with maximum pre-financings of 25 per cent., fully-funded Instruments which statically replicate an index or a basket of at least five different shares and with a fixed maturity or annual redemption right) are not subject to Swiss federal securities turnover tax. Dealings in other Instruments may be subject to Swiss federal securities turnover tax of up to 0.3 per cent. on the consideration paid if a Swiss securities dealer (as defined in the Swiss federal stamp tax act) is a party or an intermediary to the transaction and no exemption applies.

The physical delivery of an Instrument at exercise or redemption to the holder of such Instrument may be subject to Swiss federal securities turnover tax of (i) 0.3 per cent., in the event that a security issued by an issuer outside Switzerland is delivered and (ii) 0.15 per cent., in the event that a security issued by a Swiss domestic issuer is delivered, in each case, only if a Swiss domestic securities dealer (as defined in the Swiss Federal Stamp Tax Act) is a party or an intermediary to the delivery and no exemption applies.

Swiss Withholding Tax

Payments under the Instruments are currently not subject to Swiss federal withholding tax provided that the relevant Issuer is at all times resident and effectively managed outside Switzerland for Swiss withholding tax purposes.

After a previously proposed Swiss withholding tax reform by the Swiss Federal Council, which particularly aimed to introduce a paying-agent system, received negative responses in the consultation procedure, the Swiss Federal Council decided to abandon the reform of the Swiss federal withholding tax to a paying-agent based regime. Subsequently, the Swiss Federal Council in 2021 proposed a new draft bill to pursue a reform of the Swiss withholding tax regime. The key measure from a withholding tax perspective is the abolishment of withholding tax on most forms of interest payments, namely bond interest payments. This new legislation was, however, rejected in a referendum. While, as a result of this successful referendum, the existing system of withholding tax remains in place for the time being, it cannot be excluded that a paying agent-based regime could be implemented in the future. If in the future a new paying agent-based regime were to be enacted (as contemplated by the previously proposed withholding tax reforms) and were to result in the deduction or withholding of Swiss withholding tax on any payments of interest under the Instruments by any person in Switzerland, the holder of such Instruments would not be entitled to receive any additional amounts as a result of such deduction.

Income Taxation

Non-Swiss resident Holders

A holder of an Instrument who is not resident in Switzerland and who during the tax year has not engaged in a trade or business carried on through a permanent establishment or fixed place of business in Switzerland and who is not subject to Swiss taxation for any other reason, will not be subject to income tax in Switzerland in respect of such Instrument.

Instruments held as Private Assets by a Swiss resident Holder

(a) Structured Notes

If an Instrument is classified as a structured note, its income taxation depends on whether the bond and the derivative financial instrument(s) embedded therein are recorded separately from each other and whether the Instrument is classified as a structured note with or without a predominant one-time interest payment:

Non-transparent derivative financial instruments: If the embedded bond is not recorded separately from the embedded derivative financial instrument(s), the Instrument classifies as a non-transparent structured note and any return over the initial investment classifies as a taxable interest payment. Non-transparent derivative financial instruments generally include a predominant one-time interest payment and are taxed in accordance with the principles set forth below under "Transparent derivative financial instruments with a predominant one-time interest payment".

Transparent derivative financial instruments without a predominant one-time interest payment: If the embedded bond is recorded separately from the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) and the yield-to-maturity predominantly derives from periodic interest payments and not from a one-time-interest-payment (see below "Transparent derivative financial instruments with a predominant one-time interest payment"), then any periodic interest payment and the one-time interest payment is taxed when paid to the holder of the Instrument. A gain, including interest accrued, or a loss, as the case may be, realised on the sale of an Instrument is a tax-free private capital gain or a non-tax-deductible private capital loss, as applicable (see below "Capital Gains Taxation - Instruments held as Private Assets by a Swiss resident Holder"). The same applies if the Instrument is redeemed except that interest accrued is taxed when paid.

Transparent derivative financial instruments with a predominant one-time interest payment: If the embedded bond is recorded separately from the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) and the yield-to-maturity predominantly derives from a one-time interest payment such as an original issue discount or a repayment premium and not from periodic interest payments, then any periodic interest payments and upon the sale or redemption of the Instrument, the difference between the value of the embedded bond at redemption or sale, as applicable, and its value at issuance or secondary market purchase, as applicable, converted, in each case, into Swiss Francs at the exchange rate prevailing at the time of redemption or sale, issuance or purchase, respectively (modified differential taxation method) constitutes taxable income. A value decrease on the embedded bond respectively realised on the sale or redemption of the Instrument may be offset against any gains (including periodic interest payments) realised within the same taxation period from all instruments with a predominant one-time interest payment. Any residual return realised on the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) is a tax-free private capital gain, and any residual loss is a non-tax-deductible private capital loss, respectively (see below "Capital Gains Taxation - Instruments held as Private Assets by a Swiss resident Holder").

(b) Bonds

Bonds without a predominant one-time interest payment: If an Instrument classifies as a pure bond without a predominant one-time interest payment (the yield-to-maturity predominantly derives from periodic interest payments and not from a one-time-interest-payment), Swiss resident private investors will be taxed on the periodic and any one-time interest payments, converted into Swiss Francs at the exchange rate prevailing at the time of payment. A gain, including interest accrued, or a loss, as the case may be, realised on the sale of an Instrument is a tax-free private capital gain or a non-tax-deductible private capital loss, as applicable (see below "Capital Gains Taxation - Instruments held as Private Assets by a Swiss resident Holder").

Bonds with a predominant one-time interest payment: If an Instrument classifies as a pure bond with a predominant one-time interest payment (the yield-to-maturity predominantly derives from a one-time-interest-payment such as an original issue discount or a repayment premium and not from periodic interest payments), Swiss resident private investors will be taxed on any periodic interest payments and on any gains, including capital and foreign exchange gains, realised on the Instruments (differential taxation method).

(c) Pure Derivative financial instruments

Periodic and one-time dividend equalisation payments realised on an Instrument which classifies as a pure derivative financial instrument (such as pure call and put options, including low exercise price options with a maturity not exceeding one year, pure futures, static certificates replicating an index or a basket of at least five shares and with a fixed maturity or an annual redemption right) and which is held as part of their private assets constitute taxable investment income. Any other return will be classified as a tax-exempt capital gain or a non-tax deductible capital loss (see below "Capital Gains Taxation - Instruments held as Private Assets by a Swiss resident Holder").

(d) Low Exercise Price Options

According to the current practice of the Swiss Federal Tax Administration, low exercise price options are given if the underlying of an option has been pre-financed by at least 50 per cent. at the time of issuance.

For low exercise price options with a maturity exceeding one year the interest component of the low exercise price option (i.e. issue discount) constitutes taxable investment income. Any other return will be classified as a tax-exempt capital gain or a non-tax deductible capital loss (see below "Capital Gains Taxation - Instruments held as Private Assets by a Swiss resident Holder").

(e) Fund-like instruments

An Instrument classified as a fund-like instrument will be considered a pass-through instrument for Swiss tax purposes if dividend and interest income (less attributable costs) from, and capital gains and losses (less costs attributable) realised on, the underlying investments, are reported and distributed separately. Under such conditions, an individual holding a fund-like Instrument as part of private assets only receives taxable income (which he or she must report annually) over such portion of the distributions (if the fund is distributing the income realised on the underlying investments) or earnings credits (if the fund is reinvesting the income realised on the underlying investment) as derive from dividends and interest (less attributable costs) on the underlying instruments. Any distributions or credits deriving from capital gains realised on the underlying investments constitute a tax-free private capital gain and any respective loss on the underlying investments is a non-tax-deductible private capital loss. Any gain realised within a taxation period on the sale of a fund-like instrument (including accrued dividends and interest) is exempt from income taxation as a private capital gain, and, conversely, any loss realised a non-tax-deductible capital loss (see below "Capital Gains Taxation - Instruments held as Private Assets by a Swiss resident Holder").

Instruments held as Assets of a Swiss Business

Corporate entities and individuals who hold Instruments as part of a trade or business in Switzerland, in the case of residents abroad carried on through a permanent establishment or a fixed place of business in Switzerland, are required to recognise any payments on, and any capital gains or losses realised on the sale or redemption of, such Instruments (irrespective of their classification) in their income statement for the respective taxation period and will be taxed on any net taxable earnings for such period.

The same taxation treatment also applies to Swiss-resident individuals who, for income tax purposes, are classified as "professional securities dealers" for reasons of, inter alia, frequent dealing and leveraged investments in securities.

Capital Gains Taxation

Instruments held as Private Assets by a Swiss resident Holder

A gain or a loss, as the case may be, realised by an individual resident in Switzerland for tax purposes upon the sale or other disposal of an Instrument held as part of his or her private assets is a tax-free private capital gain or a non-tax deductible capital loss, as applicable, unless such individual is classified, for income tax purposes, as "professional securities dealers" for reasons of, inter alia, frequent dealing and leveraged investments in securities. If an individual is classified as "professional securities dealer" he or she will be taxed in accordance with the principles set forth below under "Instruments held as Assets of a Swiss Business". Concerning the bifurcation of a tax-exempt capital gains component or non-tax deductible capital loss component, as the case may be, from taxable income components of an Instrument see the bifurcation principles set forth above with regard to the different instruments under "Income Taxation - Instruments held as Private Assets by a Swiss resident Holder").

Instruments held as Assets of a Swiss Business

Capital gains realised on Instruments held as Assets of a Swiss Business are taxed in accordance with the taxation principles set forth above under "Income Taxation - Instruments held as Assets of a Swiss Business").

Gift, Inheritance and Estate Taxes

Subject to an applicable tax treaty in an international scenario, transfers of Instruments may be subject to cantonal and/or communal inheritance tax, estate tax or gift tax if the deceased person has had his or her last domicile in Switzerland, or the donor is resident in Switzerland, or, in the case of a foreign deceased or resident person, the transfer involves an unincorporated business in Switzerland and Instruments are held as part of such business or a cantonal/communal gift/inheritance/estate tax is levied based on movable property in its territory. No such taxes exist at the federal level. Tax rates depend upon the existing relationship (i.e. the relationship between the deceased and the heirs, or between the donor and the donee) and the size of the inheritance or gift and the relevant Swiss canton/commune. Interspousal gifts and gifts to descendants and inheritances collected by the surviving spouse and descendants are frequently exempt or taxed at very low rates (approximately up to 7 per cent.). Gifts and inheritances received from unrelated persons attract rates ranging from approximately 20 per cent. to 55 per cent. The taxable base is usually the market value of the property transferred.

Net Worth and Capital Taxes

A holder of Instruments who is an individual resident in Switzerland for tax purposes or is a non-Swiss resident holding Instruments as part of a Swiss business operation or a Swiss permanent establishment is required to report Instruments as part of private wealth or as part of Swiss business assets, as the case may be, and is subject to annual cantonal and/or communal private wealth tax on any net taxable wealth (including the Instruments), in the case of non-Swiss resident individual holding Instruments as part of a Swiss business operation or a Swiss permanent establishment to the extent the aggregate taxable wealth is allocable to Switzerland. Incorporated holders of Instruments are subject to cantonal and communal capital tax on net taxable equity, in the case of non-Swiss resident person holding Instruments as part of a Swiss permanent establishment, to the extent the aggregate taxable equity is allocable to Switzerland. No net worth and capital taxes exist at the federal level.

Swiss Facilitation of the Implementation of the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act

Switzerland has concluded an intergovernmental agreement with the U.S. to facilitate the implementation of FATCA. The agreement ensures that the accounts held by U.S. persons with Swiss financial institutions are disclosed to the U.S. tax authorities either with the consent of the account holder or by means of group requests within the scope of administrative assistance. Information will not be transferred automatically in the absence of consent, and instead will be exchanged only within the scope of administrative assistance on the basis of the double taxation agreement between the U.S. and Switzerland. On 20 September 2019, the protocol of amendment to the double taxation treaty between Switzerland and the United States entered into force, allowing competent authorities in the United States to request all the information on U.S. accounts without a declaration of consent or nonconsenting nonparticipating financial institutions, in accordance with the information reported in aggregated form. On 27 June 2024, the United States and Switzerland signed a new FATCA agreement. Under this agreement, the competent tax authorities of both parties shall annually exchange information in respect of reportable accounts on an automatic basis. Implementation of the new FATCA agreement requires national law to be amended in Switzerland. According to the current schedule, Switzerland's change of model should come into force on 1 January 2027.

Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters

Switzerland has concluded a multilateral agreement with the European Union on the international automatic exchange of information (the "AEOI") in tax matters. The agreement became effective as of 1 January 2017 and applies to all 27 EU member states. Also on 1 January 2017 the multilateral competent authority agreement on the automatic exchange of financial account information (the "MCAA"), and based on the MCAA, a number of bilateral AEOI agreements with other countries became effective. Based on such agreements and the implementing laws of Switzerland, Switzerland collects data in respect of financial assets, including, as the case may be, Instruments, held in, and income derived thereon and credited to, accounts or deposits with a paying agent in Switzerland for the benefit of individuals resident in an EU member state or resident in a treaty state. In accordance with such multilateral agreements and bilateral agreements and the implementing laws of Switzerland, Switzerland has begun to exchange data so collected, and such data may include data about payments made in respect of the Instruments. Switzerland has signed and intends to sign further AEOI agreements with further countries, which, subject to ratification, will become effective at a later date. An up-to-date list of the AEOI agreements of Switzerland in effect or signed and becoming effective can be found on the website of the State Secretariat for International Financial Matters (<https://www.sif.admin.ch/sif/en/home.html>).

UNITED KINGDOM TAXATION

The following is a summary of the United Kingdom withholding tax treatment of payments under the Instruments, of certain other United Kingdom tax considerations relating to the acquiring, holding, exercising or disposing of Instruments and of certain aspects of the United Kingdom stamp duty and stamp duty reserve tax treatment of the issue, transfer and exercise of Instruments. It is based on current United Kingdom tax law and HM Revenue & Customs' ("HMRC") published practice. The comments only apply to Holders that are the beneficial owners of Instruments who acquire and hold Instruments as an investment and do not apply to certain classes of person (such as UK tax resident companies, unit trusts, open-ended investment companies, persons connected with the relevant Issuer and persons carrying on a trade of dealing in financial instruments) to whom special rules may apply. The comments are intended as a general guide and should be treated with appropriate caution, particularly since the precise provisions of the Final Terms could alter the tax treatment of any given Instruments. This summary is not intended to be exhaustive and does not cover any issues or taxes not expressly covered; nor should it be considered legal or tax advice to any person. The summary does not take into account the effect of any overriding anti-avoidance principles or legislation that may apply to Holders in their particular circumstances or to any wider arrangements to which they may be a party. Each potential purchaser is advised to consult its own tax adviser as to the United Kingdom tax consequences attributable to acquiring, holding, exercising and disposing of Instruments and as to other United Kingdom and non-United Kingdom applicable taxes.

The references to "interest" in this United Kingdom taxation section mean "interest" as understood in United Kingdom tax law. The statements do not take account of any different definitions of "interest" or "principal" which may prevail under any other law or which may be created by the terms and conditions of the Instruments or any related documentation. In particular, any premium element of the redemption amount of any Instruments redeemable at a premium and any additional amounts payable under W&C Instruments may constitute a payment of interest.

Individuals who have only been UK tax resident for a relatively short time may want to take further advice given the changes made by Finance Act 2025.

In particular, such purchasers may want to consider which Instruments do or do not benefit from a non-United Kingdom situs treatment for the purposes of relevant United Kingdom taxes. In particular, such potential purchasers should be aware that Instruments held through CREST in the form of CDIs are likely to be treated as UK situs assets for certain UK tax purposes.

United Kingdom Withholding Tax on Instruments

There should be no requirement for United Kingdom tax to be withheld on payments under the Instruments which do not have a United Kingdom source.

W&C Instruments

Holders not within the charge to United Kingdom corporation tax

The following applies to Holders who are resident in the United Kingdom, other than Holders who are within the charge to corporation tax. Each potential purchaser of W&C Instruments is advised to consult its own tax adviser as to the United Kingdom tax consequences of acquiring, holding, exercising and disposing of W&C Instruments as the taxation of W&C Instruments is particularly complex and sensitive to the precise terms of the relevant W&C Instrument.

Qualifying options

The United Kingdom tax treatment of W&C Instruments will depend upon the particular facts and circumstances of the Holder. The following paragraphs relate only to W&C Instruments which satisfy the following conditions:

- (a) there are no additional amounts payable under the terms of the W&C Instrument;
- (b) the W&C Instruments are not designed to produce a return equivalent to money invested at interest;

- (c) there is no floor or other minimum amount payable under the terms of the W&C Instruments;
- (d) the return on the W&C Instruments is calculated with direct reference to fluctuations in the value of an underlying Reference Item or Items; and
- (e) the W&C Instruments constitute either options or futures for UK tax purposes.

On the assumption that the Holder will hold the W&C Instruments as investment assets, the UK tax treatment will also depend upon whether or not they are "qualifying options". A W&C Instrument will not be a "qualifying option" unless either:

- (a) it is listed on a "recognised stock exchange" or a "recognised futures exchange" for the purposes of section 144(8) TCGA (as defined below); or
- (b) it is a "financial option" for the purposes of that section.

W&C Instruments which constitute "qualifying options" for the purposes of section 143 of the Taxation of Chargeable Gains Act 1992 ("TCGA") are generally assets to the disposal and exercise of which the TCGA applies. Accordingly, a disposal or exercise of such W&C Instruments by a Holder may give rise to a chargeable gain or allowable loss for the purposes of the United Kingdom taxation of chargeable gains.

In circumstances where a "qualifying option" is exercised and settled by Physical Delivery, generally the exercise will not be treated as a disposal giving rise to chargeable gains or allowable losses. Instead, the acquisition and exercise of the option is treated as a single transaction and the cost of acquiring the option is treated as part of the cost of acquiring the underlying asset acquired on exercise.

Any potential Holder should note, however, that, even if a W&C Instrument satisfies all of the conditions set out above it may in certain circumstances be subject to a different tax treatment from that outlined above for United Kingdom tax purposes. The United Kingdom tax treatment will depend on its precise terms and in certain limited circumstances income tax treatment may apply.

Other W&C Instruments

Where W&C Instruments do not satisfy the conditions for the treatment set out above different and complex United Kingdom tax considerations may apply. The W&C Instrument may be treated as a debt security, in which case potential purchasers should refer to the section below entitled "Notes", however further considerations may affect the analysis, depending on the terms of the W&C Instrument. Potential Holders should take their own UK tax advice.

Notes

Holders not within the charge to United Kingdom corporation tax

The following applies to Holders who are resident in the United Kingdom, other than Holders who are within the charge to corporation tax. Each potential purchaser of Notes is advised to consult its own tax adviser as to the United Kingdom tax consequences of acquiring, holding and disposing of Notes.

Interest

Any interest, discount or premium payable on the Notes will generally be subject to United Kingdom income tax by direct assessment even where paid without withholding.

Accrued Income Scheme

Holders that are UK resident individuals should have regard to the provisions of the Accrued Income Scheme (the "Scheme") which may apply to Holders transferring Notes that bear interest or to persons to whom such Notes are transferred. The charge to tax on income that may arise as a result of the Scheme will be in respect of an amount representing interest on the Notes which has accrued and has not been paid during the period they are held. This amount will be taken into account in determining any chargeable gain or loss arising on a disposal of the Notes.

However, where a Note constitutes a "variable rate security" for the purposes of the Scheme, the amount of accrued interest deemed to be received as income by a Holder upon transfer would be such amount as is just and reasonable in the circumstances, and the transferee will not be entitled to any credit under the Scheme to set against any actual or deemed interest that is received or is deemed received by the transferee after the transfer.

Taxation of discount and premium

Generally where the amount payable on maturity, or any other occasion when the Note can be redeemed (other than those which are ignored because they satisfy the "third party option condition" or the "commercial protection condition" for the purposes of section 431 of the Income Tax (Trading and Other Income) Act 2005 ("ITTOIA")), and ignoring any interest then payable, will or may exceed the issue price by more than 0.5 per cent. of the redemption amount for each year in the redemption period, up to a maximum of 30 years, those Notes will constitute deeply discounted securities, subject to certain exceptions. It is not considered that Notes would be regarded as deeply discounted securities merely by reason of the fact that they are denominated in a currency other than sterling. Where Notes constitute "deeply discounted securities", a Holder of such Notes may be liable to United Kingdom income tax on any profits (generally, the amount by which any sum payable on the transfer or redemption of the Note exceeds its acquisition price) made on the sale or other disposal (including redemption) of such Notes.

Where Notes are issued at a redemption premium as opposed to being issued at a discount, then where such premium does not constitute a payment of interest such Notes may constitute "deeply discounted securities" (as mentioned above).

Notes which are "deeply discounted securities" are qualifying corporate bonds and are therefore not subject to capital gains tax.

Notes which constitute "excluded indexed securities" for the purposes of section 433 ITTOIA, notwithstanding that they may satisfy the above requirements, will not generally be treated as "deeply discounted securities" and therefore any gain will, subject to the specific terms of the Notes and the Holder's personal circumstances, generally be within the charge to United Kingdom tax on capital gains. A security will only be an "excluded indexed security" for these purposes if both: (i) a number of anti-avoidance rules or other income tax rules do not apply; and (ii) the amount payable on redemption is determined by applying to the amount for which the Notes were issued the percentage change (if any) over the Note's redemption period in (a) the value of chargeable assets (within the meaning of section 433 ITTOIA) of a particular description, or (b) an index of the value of such assets. The fact that a Note may provide for a minimum amount payable on redemption not exceeding 10 per cent. of the issue price will not prevent it from satisfying this requirement and any interest payable on redemption is ignored in determining the amount payable on redemption for these purposes.

Capital gains tax

Where Notes (other than "deeply discounted securities") are denominated in sterling and are not capable of conversion into, or redemption in or by reference to any foreign currency they may be treated as qualifying corporate bonds so that no United Kingdom taxation on chargeable gains or allowable losses will arise on any sale, redemption or other disposal. This depends upon the Notes comprising "normal commercial loans" at all times (for the purposes of section 117(1) TCGA) which may not be the case where, for example, the Notes contain a right to acquire other shares or securities, or to a return which depends on the results of the Issuer's business or any part of it or to excluded indexed securities. A Note which carries a return expressed in sterling which is determined by reference to the value at any time of any other currency or asset will not be treated as being denominated in sterling for these purposes, and accordingly will not be a qualifying corporate bond.

Where Notes are denominated in a currency other than sterling or do not comprise normal commercial loans, then provided they are not deeply discounted securities they will generally be chargeable assets for the purposes of United Kingdom capital gains tax with the result that any gain or loss arising on a disposal may, depending on the Holder's personal circumstances, give rise to a charge to United Kingdom tax on capital gains or an allowable loss.

Holders not resident in the United Kingdom

Payments on the Instruments that have a United Kingdom source may be subject to income tax by direct assessment even when paid without withholding or deduction.

However, where such payments received without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom tax constitute interest or annual payments, such amounts will not be chargeable in the hands of a Holder (other than certain trustees) who is not resident for tax purposes in the United Kingdom unless that Holder carries on a trade, profession or vocation in the United Kingdom through a United Kingdom branch or agency or, in the case of a company, a permanent establishment in connection with which such amounts are received or to which the Instruments are attributable.

Where payments on Instruments have been paid under deduction of United Kingdom income tax, Holders who are not resident in the United Kingdom may be able to recover part of the tax deducted if that is provided for in an applicable double tax treaty between the country of residence of the Holder and the United Kingdom. Holders may also be entitled to a reduction in the rate of or exemption from tax on United Kingdom source payments if provided for in an applicable double tax treaty between the country of residence of the Holder and the United Kingdom.

Holders not resident in the United Kingdom will not be within the charge to United Kingdom tax on chargeable gains in respect of any Instruments save broadly where Instruments are held in or used for the purposes of a trade carried on by the non-resident through a branch or agency or, in the case of a company, a permanent establishment, and subject also to certain rules that apply in the case of (i) non-resident persons holding the Instruments in connection with certain types of UK real estate businesses; and (ii) individuals that are temporary non-residents.

United Kingdom Stamp Duty and Stamp Duty Reserve Tax ("SDRT")

Issue

No stamp duty or SDRT should arise on the issue of Instruments.

Transfer

Stamp duty is chargeable on written instruments, and so if transfers of Instruments are effected through a Clearing System otherwise than by way of written instrument then no stamp duty should arise in respect of such a transfer. If a written instrument is used in respect of a transfer by way of sale, then any such instrument which is executed in the United Kingdom or which (if not executed in the United Kingdom) relates to any matter or thing done or to be done in the United Kingdom may be subject to stamp duty unless the Instruments constitute "exempt loan capital", that is they are exempt under section 79 of the Finance Act 1986. Stamp duty would be charged at 0.5 per cent. of the sale consideration. If the consideration paid for a transfer of such Instruments is £1,000 or less and the instrument transferring the Instruments includes an appropriate certificate the stamp duty payable will be reduced to nil.

The Issuers do not intend to keep or maintain any register of securities in the United Kingdom and on the basis that no such register is kept or maintained in the United Kingdom, no SDRT should generally (and subject to the following paragraph) be payable in respect of any agreement to transfer Instruments.

SDRT at 0.5 per cent. may be payable in relation to any agreement to transfer Instruments that provide for Physical Delivery either mandatorily or at the option of the Holder, or otherwise give the Holder the right to acquire stock, shares or loan capital (or interests in or rights arising out of stock, shares or loan capital) in certain bodies corporate incorporated in the United Kingdom or with a United Kingdom connection unless such stock, shares or loan capital would qualify as "exempt loan capital". A body corporate will have a United Kingdom connection for these purposes if (i) a register of the relevant stock, shares or loan capital is kept in the United Kingdom by or on behalf of the body corporate; or (ii) the shares are "paired" with shares in a United Kingdom incorporated body corporate within the meaning of s 99(6B) FA 1986. In addition, SDRT at 0.5% may apply to agreements to transfer certain Instruments if those Instruments satisfy all of the following three conditions: (i) they are held through in CREST in the form of CDIs; (ii) they are not listed on a "recognised stock exchange" within the meaning of section 1005 Income Tax Act 2007; and (iii) they do not constitute "exempt loan capital".

Where Instruments are issued in bearer form which (i) are denominated in sterling or in respect of which there is an option for repayment in sterling or in one or more other currencies (unless that option is exercisable only by the holder) and (ii) are not loan capital; a transfer by delivery in the United Kingdom of any such Instrument may attract a compulsory bearer instrument duty at 1.5 per cent. of the value of such Instrument.

Exercise and redemption

United Kingdom stamp duty may be required to be paid in relation to the transfer of an asset (such as stock or marketable securities) following the exercise of a Physical Delivery Warrant or Physical Delivery Certificate or following redemption of a Physical Delivery Note. SDRT may be payable in respect of the agreement to transfer an asset pursuant to a Physical Delivery Warrant or Physical Delivery Certificate following the exercise of the Warrant or Certificate or pursuant to a Physical Delivery Note in connection with redemption of the Note. However, any such liability to SDRT will be cancelled (or, if already paid, will be repaid) if the instrument effecting the transfer is chargeable with stamp duty (or is otherwise required to be stamped) and has been duly stamped within six years of the agreement being made or, in the case of a conditional agreement, within six years of all conditions being satisfied.

HONG KONG TAXATION – CMU NOTES

The following is a general description of certain Hong Kong tax considerations relation to the CMU Notes. As each Tranche of the CMU Notes may be subject to different tax treatment in Hong Kong due to the specific terms and conditions of such Tranche, the following is only a generic overview of Hong Kong tax aspects that may be of relevance with respect to the possible tax treatment of CMU Notes. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the CMU Notes, whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere. Prospective purchasers of CMU Notes should consult their own tax advisors as to which countries' tax laws could be relevant to acquiring, holding and disposing of CMU Notes and receiving payments of interest, principal and/or other amounts under the CMU Notes and the consequences of such actions under the tax laws of those countries. This description is based upon the law as in effect and applied on the date of this Offering Circular, as well as on the current tax practice, and is subject to any changes in laws and their interpretation that may take effect after such date, including changes with retroactive effect.

Withholding Tax

No withholding tax is payable in Hong Kong in respect of payments of principal or interest on the CMU Notes or in respect of any capital gains arising from the sale of the CMU Notes.

Profits Tax

Hong Kong profits tax is chargeable on every person carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong in respect of profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong from such trade, profession or business (excluding profits arising from the sale of capital assets).

Interest on the CMU Notes may be deemed to be profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong from a trade, profession or business carried on in Hong Kong in the following circumstances:

- (a) interest on the CMU Notes is derived from Hong Kong and is received by or accrues to a corporation carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong;
- (b) interest on the CMU Notes is derived from Hong Kong and is received by or accrues to a person, other than a corporation, carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong and is in respect of the funds of that trade, profession or business;
- (c) interest on the CMU Notes is received by or accrues to a financial institution (as defined in the Inland Revenue Ordinance (Cap. 112) of Hong Kong) (the "IRO") and arises through or from the carrying on by the financial institution of its business in Hong Kong; or
- (d) interest on the CMU Notes is received by or accrues to a corporation, other than a financial institution, and arises through or from the carrying on in Hong Kong by the corporation of its intra-group financing business (within the meaning of section 16(3) of the IRO).

Sums received by or accrued to a financial institution by way of gains or profits arising through or from the carrying on by the financial institution of its business in Hong Kong from the sale, disposal and redemption of CMU Notes will be subject to Hong Kong profits tax. Sums received by or accrued to a corporation, other than a financial institution, by way of gains or profits arising through or from the carrying on in Hong Kong by the corporation of its intra-group financing business (within the meaning of section 16(3) of the IRO) from the sale, disposal or other redemption of CMU Notes will be subject to Hong Kong profits tax.

Sums derived from the sale, disposal or redemption of CMU Notes will be subject to Hong Kong profits tax where received by or accrued to a person, other than a financial institution, who carries on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong and the sum has a Hong Kong source unless otherwise exempted. The source of such sums will generally be determined by having regard to the manner in which the CMU Notes are acquired and disposed of.

In addition, the Inland Revenue (Amendment) (Taxation on Specified Foreign-sourced Income) Ordinance 2022 of Hong Kong (the "Amendment Ordinance") came into effect on 1 January 2023. Under the Amendment Ordinance, certain foreign-sourced interest on the CMU Notes accrued to an MNE entity (as defined in the Amendment Ordinance) carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong is regarded as arising in or derived from Hong Kong and subject to Hong Kong profits tax when it is received in Hong Kong. The Amendment Ordinance also provides for relief against double taxation in respect of certain foreign-sourced income and transitional matters.

In certain circumstances, Hong Kong profits tax exemptions (such as concessionary tax rates) may be available. Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors to ascertain the applicability of any exemptions to their individual position.

Stamp Duty – Registered Notes

No stamp duty is payable on the issue of CMU Notes. Stamp duty may be payable on any transfer of CMU Notes if the relevant transfer is required to be registered in Hong Kong. Stamp duty will, however, not be payable on any transfer of CMU Notes provided that either:

- (a) such CMU Notes are denominated in a currency other than the currency of Hong Kong and are not repayable in any circumstances in the currency of Hong Kong; or
- (b) such CMU Notes constitute loan capital (as defined in the Stamp Duty Ordinance (Cap. 117) of Hong Kong).

With effect from 17 November 2023, if stamp duty applies to the transfer of CMU Notes required to be registered in Hong Kong and which are not otherwise exempt, it will be payable at the rate of 0.2 per cent. (of which 0.1 per cent. is payable by the seller and 0.1 per cent. is payable by the purchaser) normally by reference to the consideration or its value, whichever is higher. In addition, stamp duty is payable at the fixed rate of HK$5 on each instrument of transfer executed in relation to any transfer of the CMU Notes if the relevant transfer is required to be registered in Hong Kong.

Estate Duty

The Revenue (Abolition of Estate Duty) Ordinance 2005 commenced operation on 11th February 2006. Estates of persons who pass away on or after the commencement date of that ordinance are not subject to Hong Kong estate duty.

KOREAN TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a summary of the taxation treatment under current Korean tax laws as at the date of this Offering Circular. It relates only to the position of Korean residents or corporations who are the absolute owners of the Korean Notes and may not apply to certain classes of persons such as dealers, custodians or other third parties who hold the Korean Notes on behalf of other persons. It is a general guide, is not intended to be exhaustive and should be treated with appropriate caution. Prospective purchasers of Korean Notes who are in any doubt as to their tax position should consult their own professional advisers on the tax implications of an investment in the Korean Notes for their particular circumstances.

According to the tax laws presently in effect in the Republic of Korea, interest income earned by residents of the Republic of Korea or domestic corporations ("Residents") is generally subject to Korean taxation.

In the case of interest payments on bonds issued by a domestic corporation, 14 per cent. of the individual income tax or corporate income tax will be withheld, and local income tax, which is 10 per cent. of such individual income tax or corporate income tax, will also be withheld for both individual investors or corporate investors. In the case of interest payments on bonds issued by a foreign corporation such as the Korean Notes, if there is any paying agent of the foreign issuer in Korea, such paying agent would be obliged to withhold individual income tax or corporate income tax (both of which will be subject to the same withholding tax rates as above but net of any income taxes paid in a foreign jurisdiction) and the local income tax from the payments on the bonds such as the Korean Notes. Such withholding obligation may be delegated by a written agreement to another entity in the payment chain such as the KSD, or a securities company which as AMI of the Korean Notes receives the payment on behalf of its customers (i.e., ultimate owners of the Korean Notes) from the KSD, although there is uncertainty whether such delegation of withholding obligation is allowed under Korean tax laws.

Corporate investors may be entitled to foreign tax credit when they make tax filings. Individual investors may also be entitled to foreign tax credit, if they make annual tax filings.

No offers, sales, re-sales or deliveries of any Instruments, or distribution of any offering material relating to any Instruments, may be made in or from any jurisdiction except in circumstances which will result in compliance with any applicable laws and regulations and which will not impose any obligation on the Issuers and the Guarantor.

UNITED STATES

Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance

None of the Notes issued by BAC (the "BAC Notes"), the Notes issued by BANA (the "BANA Notes"), the Notes issued by BofA Finance (the "BofA Finance Notes") and the BofA Finance Guarantee have been, or will be, registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or under any U.S. state securities laws and may not be offered, sold, resold, traded, transferred, pledged, delivered or redeemed, directly or indirectly, within the United States of America (including the U.S. states and the District of Columbia), its territories, its possessions and other areas subject to its jurisdiction (the "United States") or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (other than distributors) except in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act ("Regulation S"), upon registration under the Securities Act or pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. The BAC Notes, the BANA Notes, the BofA Finance Notes and the BofA Finance Guarantee will be offered in "offshore transactions" (within the meaning of Regulation S) outside the United States to non-U.S. persons in accordance with Regulation S.

BAC and BofA Finance (by virtue of the BofA Finance Guarantee) are Category 2 issuers for the purposes of Regulation S. BANA is a Category 3 issuer for the purposes of Regulation S. The BANA Notes are being offered and sold in reliance upon an exemption from registration provided in Section 3(a)(2) of the Securities Act, have not been and will not be registered under the rules of the U.S. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (the "OCC") and will be offered and sold only outside the United States in compliance with Regulation S (as such Regulation is incorporated into the regulations of the OCC pursuant to 12 C.F.R. Section 16.5(g)).

By purchasing BAC Notes, BANA Notes or BofA Finance Notes of any Tranche, holders will be deemed to have represented and agreed that (i) if such purchase is made prior to the expiration of the applicable Distribution Compliance Period, they are not a U.S. person or purchasing such Notes for the account or benefit of a U.S. person, other than a distributor, and they are purchasing such Notes in an "offshore transaction" in accordance with Regulation S, and (ii) such purchaser will not sell or otherwise transfer such Notes except in accordance with Regulation S, upon registration under the Securities Act, or pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

Each Dealer in respect of the BAC Notes, the BANA Notes or the BofA Finance Notes has represented and agreed, and each further dealer or distributor in respect of BAC Notes, BANA Notes or BofA Finance Notes will be required to represent and agree, that it has not offered or sold any Notes of any identifiable Tranche issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, as applicable, and will not offer or sell any Notes of any identifiable Tranche issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, as applicable, (i) as part of its distribution at any time, or (ii) otherwise until 40 days after the completion of the distribution of such Tranche (the "Distribution Compliance Period") as determined, and certified to the Dealer, by the Principal Paying Agent, or in the case of Notes issued on a syndicated basis, the Lead Manager within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. Accordingly, each Dealer has further represented and agreed, and each further dealer or distributor will be required to further represent and agree, that it, its affiliates or any persons acting on its or their behalf has not offered or sold and will not offer or sell any Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, as applicable, at any time except in accordance with Regulation S, it and they have not engaged and will not engage in any directed selling efforts with respect to any Note issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, as applicable, and it and they have complied and will comply with the offering restrictions requirements of Regulation S. Each Dealer who has purchased Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, as applicable, of a Tranche (or in the case of a sale of a Tranche of BAC Notes, BANA Notes or BofA Finance Notes, as applicable, issued to or through more than one Dealer, each of such Dealers as to the BAC Notes, BANA Notes or BofA Finance Notes, as applicable, of such Tranche purchased by or through it) shall determine and notify in writing to the Principal Paying Agent the completion of its distribution of the BAC Notes, BANA Notes or BofA Finance Notes, as applicable, of such Tranche. On the basis of such notification or notifications, the Principal Paying Agent has agreed to notify such Dealer or Dealers in writing of the end of the Distribution Compliance Period with respect to such Tranche of BAC Notes, BANA Notes or BofA Finance Notes, as applicable.

In addition, until 40 days after the completion of the distribution of all Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, as the case may be, comprising any Tranche, any offer or sale of such Notes within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering of such Tranche of Notes) may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

Each Dealer has further agreed, and each further dealer or distributor in respect of Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, as applicable, will be required to agree, that during the applicable Distribution Compliance Period, at or prior to confirmation of a sale of such Notes, it will have sent to each distributor, dealer, person receiving a selling concession, fee, or other remuneration, or purchaser that purchases Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, as applicable, from it (whether upon original issue or in any secondary transaction) during the Distribution Compliance Period a confirmation or other notice substantially the following effect:

As to BAC Notes or BofA Finance Notes: "The Notes covered hereby have not been registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or under any U.S. state securities laws. The Notes may not be offered, sold, resold, traded, pledged, redeemed, transferred or delivered, directly or indirectly, in the absence of such registration or unless such transaction is exempt from, or not subject to, such registration. The Notes are being offered and sold outside the United States in compliance with Regulation S under the Securities Act and may not be offered, sold or otherwise transferred within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (i) as part of their distribution at any time or (ii) otherwise until 40 days after the completion of the distribution of Notes comprising any Tranche, as determined, and certified to the Dealers, by the Principal Paying Agent, or in the case of Notes issued on a syndicated basis, the Lead Manager, except in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act. Terms used above have the meanings given to them by Regulation S."

As to BANA Notes: "The Notes covered hereby have not been registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or under any U.S. state securities laws. In addition, the Notes covered hereby have not been registered under the regulations of the U.S. Comptroller of the Currency (the "OCC") relating to securities offerings by national banks (12 C.F.R Part 16). The Notes may not be offered, sold, resold, traded, pledged, redeemed, transferred or delivered, directly or indirectly, in the absence of such registration or unless such transaction is exempt from, or not subject to, such registration. The Notes are being offered and sold outside the United States in compliance with Regulation S under the Securities Act, as such regulation is incorporated into the regulations of the OCC by 12 C.F.R. Section 16.5(g), and may not be offered, sold or otherwise transferred within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (i) as part of their distribution at any time or (ii) otherwise until 40 days after the completion of the distribution of Notes comprising any Tranche, as determined, and certified to the Dealers, by the Principal Paying Agent, or in the case of Notes issued on a syndicated basis, the Lead Manager, except in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act, as such regulation is incorporated into the regulations of the OCC. Terms used above have the meanings given to them by Regulation S."

In the case of any BANA Notes issued in accordance with Regulation S, during the Distribution Compliance Period, beneficial interests in such BANA Notes will be represented by a Temporary Global Registered Note. After the expiration of the Distribution Compliance Period, beneficial interests in such Temporary Global Registered Note may be exchanged for beneficial interests in a Permanent Global Registered Note upon certification that those interests are owned by non-U.S. persons.

None of the BAC Notes, the BANA Notes, the BofA Finance Notes and the BofA Finance Guarantee constitute, or have been marketed as, contracts of sale of a commodity for future delivery (or options thereon) subject to the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act of 1936, as amended (the "CEA"), and trading in the BAC Notes, the BANA Notes, the BofA Finance Notes or the BofA Finance Guarantee have not been approved by the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the "CFTC") pursuant to the CEA.

Notes issued by MLBV and W&C Instruments

None of the Notes issued by MLBV (the "MLBV Notes"), the W&C Instruments of any Series, the related MLBV Guarantee and, in certain cases, any securities to be delivered upon exercise or settlement of the MLBV Notes or the W&C Instruments, as the case may be, have been, or will be, registered under the Securities Act or any U.S. state securities laws. The MLBV Notes, the W&C Instruments, the related MLBV Guarantee (if applicable) and certain Entitlements do not constitute, and have not been marketed as, contracts of sale of a commodity for future delivery (or options thereon) subject to the CEA, and trading in the MLBV Notes or W&C Instruments has not been approved by the CFTC pursuant to the CEA. Unless a Series of MLBV Notes or W&C Instruments is eligible for sale to qualified institutional buyers ("QIBs") as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act ("Rule 144A") who are also qualified purchasers ("QPs") within the meaning of Section 3(c)(7) and as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and the rules thereunder, in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons who satisfy such criteria, and otherwise in compliance with Rule 144A, no MLBV Notes or W&C Instruments of any Series, or interests therein, may at any time be offered, sold, resold, traded, pledged, exercised, transferred or delivered, directly or indirectly, in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person (other than distributors) or to others for offer, sale, resale, trade, pledge, exercise, transfer or delivery, directly or indirectly, in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person (other than distributors). Each Dealer has agreed, and each further dealer or distributor in respect of an issue of Notes or W&C Instruments will be required to agree, and each holder and each legal and beneficial owner of Notes or W&C Instruments will be deemed on purchase to agree, not to engage in hedging transactions with regard to the Notes or W&C Instruments unless in compliance with the Securities Act.

If a Rule 144A Instrument eligible for sale in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons is concurrently eligible for sale to non-U.S. persons pursuant to Regulation S under the Securities Act, any person exercising such Instrument will be required to represent either that it is a QIB who is also a QP or that it is not a U.S. person. See "Annex 11A – Additional Terms and Conditions for Rule 144A Notes", "Annex 11B – Additional Terms and Conditions for Rule 144A W&C Instruments" and "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions".

Each QIB who is also a QP, as a condition to purchasing Rule 144A Instruments, or any legal or beneficial interests therein, will be obliged to enter into and remain in compliance with an Investor Representation Letter executed for the benefit of the Dealer, the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor (together with their respective affiliates and any persons controlling, controlled by or under common control with such Dealer, the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor), pursuant to which it will agree, among other things, that any resales of such Rule 144A Instruments may be effected only to or through the relevant Issuer or the Dealer to another QIB who is also a QP to whom notice is given that the transfer is being made in reliance on Rule 144A and who executes an Investor Representation Letter and Rule 144A Instruments relating to commodities and commodity futures may only be offered, sold or resold in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person pursuant to one or more applicable exemptions and/or exclusions under the CEA. The relevant Issuer and the Guarantor reserve the right not to make payment or delivery in respect of such Rule 144A Instrument to a person in the United States or a U.S. person if such payment or delivery would constitute a violation of U.S. law.

Prior to the delivery of the Entitlement by the Issuer or payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount by the Guarantor in respect of a Physical Delivery Instrument (other than a Rule 144A Instrument) the holder thereof will be required to represent that, inter alia, it is not a U.S. person, the Instrument was not exercised on behalf of a U.S. person and no cash, securities or other property has been or will be delivered within the United States or its possessions or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person in connection with any exercise thereof. In respect of Notes issued by MLB, see "Annex 10 – Additional Terms and Conditions for Physical Delivery Notes", in respect of Certificates, see W&C Instruments Condition 32 (Collection Notices and Settlement (Certificates)), in respect of Warrants, see W&C Instruments Condition 25 (Exercise Procedure (Warrants)), and in each case, see "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions".

In connection with each issue of MLB Notes or W&C Instruments (other than Rule 144A Instruments), each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further dealer or distributor in respect of an issue of MLB Notes or W&C Instruments will be required to represent and agree, that without the prior written agreement of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor, it will not at any time offer, sell, resell, trade, pledge, exercise, transfer or deliver, directly or indirectly, MLB Notes or W&C Instruments, as applicable, of such Series in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person (other than distributors (as defined in Regulation S)) or to others for offer, sale, resale, trade, pledge, exercise, transfer or delivery, directly or indirectly, in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any such U.S. person (other than distributors). Each Dealer has agreed, and each further dealer or distributor in respect of an issue of Rule 144A Instruments will also be required to agree, and any person purchasing such Rule 144A Instruments must agree, to send each person who purchases any such Rule 144A Instruments from it at or prior to the confirmation of sale, a written confirmation (which shall include the definitions of "United States" and "U.S. person" set forth herein) stating that the MLB Notes or the W&C Instruments, as applicable, the MLB Guarantee and certain of the securities to be delivered upon exercise or settlement of the MLB Notes or W&C Instruments, as applicable, have not been registered under the Securities Act or any U.S. state securities laws, and any trading in the MLB Notes or the W&C Instruments, as applicable, has not been approved by the CFTC pursuant to the CEA, and stating that such purchaser agrees that it will not at any time offer, sell, resell, trade, pledge, exercise, transfer or deliver MLB Notes or W&C Instruments, as applicable, directly or indirectly, in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person (other than distributors) unless effected to or through the relevant Issuer or the Dealer to another QIB who is also a QP who executes an Investor Representation Letter and otherwise in compliance with Rule 144A. Each of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor has agreed to sales by MLI to BofA Securities, Inc. or one of its affiliates for re-sale (a) to persons in the United States and (b) to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, in either case, who are QIBs and also QPs and who enter into and remain in compliance with an Investor Representation Letter, and otherwise in compliance with Rule 144A and the restrictions set forth herein.

Any person purchasing MLB Notes or W&C Instruments of any Series (other than a Series of Rule 144A Instruments) must agree or will be deemed on purchase to represent, acknowledge, certify and agree with the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer and the seller of such MLB Notes or W&C Instruments, as applicable, for itself and any person for whose account such MLB Notes or W&C Instruments, as applicable, are being purchased that: (i) it is not a U.S. person, is not located in the United States and was not solicited to purchase such MLB Notes or W&C Instruments, as applicable, while present in the United States, and is acquiring the MLB Notes or W&C Instruments in an offshore transaction in compliance with Regulation S; (ii) it will not at any time offer, sell, resell, trade, pledge, exercise, transfer or deliver, directly or indirectly, any MLB Notes or W&C Instruments, as applicable, in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person (other than distributors) or to others for offer, sale, resale, trade, pledge, exercise, transfer or delivery, directly or indirectly, in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person (other than distributors); and (iii) it is not purchasing any MLBV Notes or W&C Instruments, as applicable, of such Series for the account or benefit of any U.S. person (other than distributors).
