This document (the "Offering Circular") constitutes an offering circular in respect of the Programme (as defined below). Instruments (as defined below) issued on or after the date of this Offering Circular are issued subject to the provisions herein. This Offering Circular does not constitute a base prospectus for the purpose of Article 8 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (as amended or superseded, "EU Prospectus Regulation") or the POATRs (as defined below). This Offering Circular supersedes and replaces the Offering Circular dated 15 May 2025.

The Instruments (as defined below) issued from time to time under this Offering Circular are derivative financial instruments and do not constitute a participation in a collective investment scheme in the meaning of the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act ("CISA"). They are neither subject to authorisation nor supervision by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority ("FINMA"). Accordingly, investors do not benefit from the specific investor protection provided under the CISA and are exposed to the credit risk of the relevant Issuer (as defined below) and (if applicable) the Guarantor (as defined below).

This Offering Circular has been approved as a base prospectus on 15 May 2026 by SIX Exchange Regulation Ltd. ("SER") in its capacity as review body pursuant to article 52 of the Swiss Financial Services Act of 15 June 2018, as amended (the "FinSA") (in such capacity, the "Swiss Review Body").

Under the terms of the Note, Warrant and Certificate Programme (the "Programme"), Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"), Bank of America, N.A. ("BANA") and BofA Finance LLC ("BofA Finance") may from time to time issue notes ("Notes") and Merrill Lynch B.V. ("MLBV") may from time to time issue Notes, warrants ("Warrants") or certificates ("Certificates" and, together with Warrants, "W&C Instruments" and, together with Notes, "Instruments"). BAC in its capacity as an issuer, BANA, BofA Finance and MLBV are collectively referred to as the "Issuers" and each an "Issuer". Instruments of any kind may be issued including, but not limited to, Instruments relating to a specified index or a basket of indices ("Index Linked Instruments"), a specified share or a basket of shares ("Share Linked Instruments"), a specified global depositary receipt ("GDR") or American depositary receipt ("ADR") or a basket of GDRs and/or ADRs ("GDR/ADR Linked Instruments"), a specified currency or a basket of currencies ("FX Linked Instruments"), a specified commodity or commodity index or a basket of commodities and/or commodity indices ("Commodity Linked Instruments"), a specified fund or a basket of funds ("Fund Linked Instruments"), a specified inflation index or a basket of inflation indices ("Inflation Linked Instruments"), the credit of a specified entity or entities ("Credit Linked Instruments") and, in the case of Warrants, a specified share of a company listed on the Saudi Stock Exchange (Tadawul) or a basket of such shares ("Saudi Share Linked Warrants"), a specified bond or a basket of bonds ("Bond Linked Instruments") or any combination of the foregoing or, in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance and MLBV, Notes relating to a specified preference share ("Preference Share Linked Notes") (and each such underlying asset or basis of reference, a "Reference Item").

Instruments may also bear interest (in the case of Notes) or pay additional amounts (in the case of W&C Instruments). MLBV may also issue W&C Instruments that are secured, in favour of Holders of the W&C Instruments, by a segregated pool of collateral assets with a custodian or collateral service agent (the "Secured W&C Instruments"). MLBV may also issue Notes that are secured, in favour of Noteholders, by a segregated pool of collateral assets with a custodian or collateral service agent (the "Secured Notes" and together with the Secured W&C Instruments, the "Secured Instruments"). Each issue of Notes will be issued on the terms set out herein which are relevant to such Notes under "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" on pages 282 to 337 and the additional Terms and Conditions on pages 503 to 548, pages 570 to 696, pages 770 to 782 and pages 804 to 987 (the "Note Conditions") and each issue of Warrants and Certificates will be issued on the terms set out herein which are relevant to such W&C Instruments under "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments" on pages 449 to 501 and the additional Terms and Conditions on pages 503 to 622, pages 697 to 769 and pages 783 to 987 (the "W&C Instruments Conditions") and, in each case, on such additional terms as may be set out in the applicable final terms (the "Final Terms"). Further, MLBV may issue cash settled exchangeable notes ("Exchangeable Notes"). Each issue of Exchangeable Notes will be issued on the terms set out herein which are relevant to such Exchangeable Notes under the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" on pages 357 to 397 (the "Exchangeable Note Conditions") and on such additional terms as may be set out in the applicable Final Terms. In respect of MLBV, references herein to "Notes" shall be deemed to include Exchangeable Notes, as applicable. Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York. Instruments issued by MLBV, and any non-contractual obligations arising out of them, will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law.

BAC (in such capacity, the "Guarantor") has in: (a) a guarantee dated 15 May 2026 (the "BofA Finance Guarantee"), irrevocably and unconditionally guaranteed the payment obligations in respect of the Notes issued by BofA Finance from time to time under the Programme on or after the date of this Offering Circular; (b) a guarantee dated 15 May 2026 (the "MLBV Guarantee"), irrevocably and unconditionally guaranteed the payment and non-cash delivery obligations in respect of the Instruments (other than the Secured Instruments, CMU Notes (as defined below) and Korean Notes (as defined below)) issued by MLBV from time to time under the Programme on or after the date of this Offering Circular; (c) a guarantee dated 15 May 2026 (the "CMU Notes Guarantee"), irrevocably and unconditionally guaranteed the payment and non-cash delivery obligations in respect of the CMU Notes issued by MLBV from time to time under the Programme on or after the date of this Offering Circular; and (d) a guarantee dated 15 May 2026 (the "Korean Notes Guarantee"), irrevocably and unconditionally guaranteed the payment obligations in respect of the Korean Notes issued by MLBV from time to time under the Programme on or after the date of this Offering Circular and, together with the BofA Finance Guarantee, the MLBV Guarantee and the CMU Notes Guarantee, the "Guarantees" and each, a "Guarantee" (see the section entitled "Forms of Guarantees"). If MLBV fails to satisfy its non-cash delivery obligations under its Instruments guaranteed by the Guarantor pursuant to the MLBV Guarantee or its CMU Notes guaranteed by the Guarantor pursuant to the CMU Notes Guarantee, the Guarantor is only obliged to pay a cash amount instead of delivering the Entitlement (as defined below). The Guarantees will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York. Notes issued by BANA and Secured Instruments issued by MLBV will not benefit from any Guarantee.

The maximum aggregate principal/nominal amount of all Notes issued by MLBV from time to time and outstanding under the Programme will not exceed €50,000,000,000 (or its equivalent in any other currency), subject to increase as described in the English Law Programme Agreement (as defined under "Offering and Sale" below). The maximum aggregate principal/nominal amount of all Notes issued by BAC from time to time and outstanding under the Programme will not exceed U.S.$25,000,000,000 (or its equivalent in any other currency), subject to increase as described in the New York Law Programme Agreement (as defined under "Offering and Sale" below). The maximum aggregate principal/nominal amount of all Notes to be issued by BANA from time to time and outstanding under the Programme will not exceed U.S.$15,000,000,000 (or its equivalent in any other currency), subject to increase as described in the New York Law Programme Agreement. The maximum aggregate principal/nominal amount of all Notes issued by BofA Finance from time to time and outstanding under the Programme will not exceed U.S.$15,000,000,000 (or its equivalent in any other currency), subject to increase as described in the New York Law Programme Agreement.

The Dealers under the Programme are specified in the section entitled "Overview of the Programme" (along with any additional Dealer appointed under the Programme from time to time, the "Dealers" and, each a "Dealer").

Application has been made to the Luxembourg Stock Exchange for Instruments issued under the Programme to be admitted to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market and to be listed on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. The Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market is not a regulated market for the purposes of Directive 2014/65/EU on Markets in Financial Instruments (as amended or superseded, "MiFID II"). The Programme provides that Instruments may be listed or admitted to trading, as the case may be, on such further or other stock exchanges or markets as the relevant Issuer and the Dealer(s) may agree.

Application has also been made to the London Stock Exchange plc (the "London Stock Exchange") for Instruments under the Programme to be admitted to trading on the International Securities Market of the London Stock Exchange (the "ISM"). The ISM is not a regulated market for the purposes of MiFID II.

Application has also been made to the Vienna Stock Exchange for Instruments issued under the Programme to be admitted to trading on the multilateral trading facility operated by Wiener Börse AG (the "Vienna MTF"). The Vienna MTF is not a regulated market for the purposes of MiFID II.

Application may be made for Instruments issued under the Programme to be admitted to trading on Nasdaq First North Sweden, which is a multilateral trading facility (the "Nasdaq First North Sweden"). The Nasdaq First North Sweden is not a regulated market for the purposes of MiFID II.

The applicable Final Terms will specify whether the Instruments are to be listed (and, if so, on which stock exchange(s) and/or market(s)) or will be unlisted Instruments.

In respect of Instruments constituting structured products within the meaning of Article 3(a)(4) of the FinSA ("Structured Products") and which are intended to be marketed and offered in Switzerland to private clients within the meaning of the FinSA, the relevant Issuer will set forth all information which may be required to be disclosed in a key information document (Basisinformationsblatt) in a separate document referred to as a "Key Information Document" and the relevant Issuer reserves the right to prepare such separate document for any other Instruments constituting Structured Products. In the absence of such separate document, Instruments constituting Structured Products shall not be marketed, offered or sold to any private client in Switzerland other than in the context of a portfolio management agreement within the meaning of Article 58(2) FinSA and Article 83 of the Swiss Financial Services Ordinance of 6 November 2019, as amended (the "FinSO").

Certain U.S. Restrictions and Other Disclosure. The Instruments, the Guarantees and, in certain cases, any securities to be delivered upon exercise or settlement of the Instruments (if any) have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or under any U.S. state securities laws, and the Notes issued by BANA have not been and will not be registered under the rules and regulations of the U.S. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (the "OCC"). The Instruments, the Guarantees and certain Entitlements (as defined herein) do not constitute, and have not been marketed as, contracts of sale of a commodity for future delivery (or options thereon) subject to the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act of 1936, as amended (the "CEA"), and trading in the Instruments has not been approved by the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the "CFTC") pursuant to the CEA.

The Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance and (if applicable) the BofA Finance Guarantee are being offered and sold only to non-U.S. persons in transactions outside the United States in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act ("Regulation S"). The Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance and (if applicable) the BofA Finance Guarantee may not be offered, sold, resold, traded, transferred, pledged, assigned, delivered, exercised or redeemed, directly or indirectly, at any time within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person (other than distributors) unless registered under the Securities Act or pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

The Notes issued by BANA may also be offered or sold in reliance upon the exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act provided by Section 3(a)(2) thereof and will be offered and sold pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the OCC in compliance with Regulation S as such regulation is incorporated into the regulations of the OCC pursuant to 12 C.F.R. Section 16.5(g).

The Instruments (other than Rule 144A Instruments) issued by MLBV, and certain Entitlements (if any) relating to such Instruments, and (if applicable) the MLBV Guarantee are being offered and sold only to non-U.S. Persons in transactions outside the United States in accordance with Regulation S. The Instruments (other than Rule 144A Instruments) issued by MLBV, and certain Entitlements (if any) relating to such Instruments, may not be legally or beneficially owned by U.S. persons at any time nor offered, sold or delivered in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. MLBV may offer and sell Instruments of certain issues within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, if such persons are reasonably believed by MLBV to be qualified institutional buyers (each a "QIB") as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act ("Rule 144A") who are also each a qualified purchaser (each a "QP") within the meaning of Section 3(c)(7) and as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the 1940 Act and the rules thereunder and who have executed an Investor Representation Letter (as defined herein) prior to acquiring any interest in such Instruments, such Instruments being referred to in this Offering Circular as "Rule 144A Instruments". Each purchaser of Rule 144A Instruments is hereby notified that the offer and sale of such Rule 144A Instruments is being made in reliance upon the exemption from the securities registration requirements of the Securities Act provided by Rule 144A and upon the relevant exemptions from U.S. state securities laws and any other applicable laws of other jurisdictions, and that such Rule 144A Instruments are not transferable except as provided under "Offering and Sale" below.

In certain circumstances, exercise or settlement of Instruments will be conditional upon certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership or, in the case of a Series (as defined in the Note Conditions, the Exchangeable Note Conditions or the W&C Instrument Conditions, as applicable) of Rule 144A Instruments, that the holder (and any person on whose behalf the holder is acting) is a QIB and a QP. See "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" on pages 282 to 337 and "Additional Terms and Conditions for Rule 144A Notes" on pages 777 to 782. See "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments" on pages 449 to 501 and "Additional Terms and Conditions for Rule 144A W&C Instruments" on pages 783 to 797.

Rule 144A Instruments relating to commodities and commodity futures may only be offered, sold or resold in or into the United States pursuant to one or more applicable exemptions and/or exclusions under the CEA. MLBV and the Guarantor reserve the right not to make payment or, in the case of MLBV, delivery of the Entitlement, as applicable, in respect of any such Rule 144A Instruments to a person in the United States or a U.S. person if such payment or delivery would constitute a violation of U.S. law.

Hedging transactions involving any Warrants may not be conducted unless in compliance with the Securities Act.

Investors in the Instruments will be deemed to have made or be required to make certain acknowledgements, representations and warranties in connection with purchasing the Instruments. See "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions" on pages 1053 to 1074. Rule 144A Instruments will, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, be sold through BofA Securities, Inc. or one of its affiliates, which in each case is a registered broker dealer in the United States.

None of the Issuers have registered as an investment company pursuant to the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"), nor under any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder. Unless otherwise indicated, as used in this Offering Circular, "U.S. person" has the meaning ascribed to it by Regulation S under the Securities Act.

For a description of certain further restrictions on offers and sales of the Instruments and on the distribution of this Offering Circular, see "Offering and Sale" on pages 1131 to 1164.

The Notes issued by BAC are unsecured and are not and will not be savings accounts, deposits or other obligations of, or otherwise guaranteed by, BANA or any other banking or nonbanking affiliate of BAC. The Notes issued by BANA are unsecured and are not and will not be savings accounts or deposits and are not obligations of or guaranteed by BAC or any other banking or nonbanking affiliate of BAC. The Notes issued by BofA Finance are unsecured and are not and will not be savings accounts or deposits of, and are not obligations of, or guaranteed by, BANA or any other banking or nonbanking affiliate of BAC. Under applicable U.S. law, the Notes issued by BANA are and will be subordinated to claims of its depositors and other creditors, as described herein. The Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance are not and will not be insured by the U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (the "FDIC"), the Deposit Insurance Fund or any other insurer or governmental agency or instrumentality.

BAC is incorporated in Delaware, United States, is registered as a bank holding company under, and is a financial holding company within the meaning of, the U.S. Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended. BAC is not licensed as a bank or a credit institution in the United States or any other jurisdiction, and, under applicable U.S. laws, is not required to be so licensed in order to issue or guarantee any Instruments under the Programme. BAC's principal banking subsidiary is BANA. BANA is a national banking association formed under the laws of the United States and authorised thereunder to transact the business of banking. Other than BANA, none of BAC's other banking subsidiaries acts as issuer or guarantor of any Instruments issued under the Programme.

Each issue of Instruments will be issued in the form set out in "Form of the Instruments" on pages 206 to 212.

IMPORTANT – EEA RETAIL INVESTORS - If the Final Terms in respect of any Instruments include a legend entitled "Prohibition of Sales to EEA Retail Investors", the Instruments are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area ("EEA"). For these purposes, a "retail investor" means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97, as amended (the "Insurance Distribution Directive"), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the EU Prospectus Regulation. Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended, the "EU PRIIPs Regulation") for offering or selling the Instruments or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Instruments or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the EU PRIIPs Regulation.

Notwithstanding the above paragraph, in the case where the Final Terms in respect of any Instruments include a legend entitled "Prohibition of Sales to EEA Retail Investors" but where the Issuer subsequently prepares and publishes a key information document under the EU PRIIPs Regulation in respect of such Instruments, then following such publication, the prohibition on the offering, sale or otherwise making available the Instruments to a retail investor as described in the above paragraph and in such legend shall no longer apply.

IMPORTANT – UK RETAIL INVESTORS - If the Final Terms in respect of any Instruments include a legend entitled "Prohibition of Sales to UK Retail Investors", the Instruments are not intended to be offered, sold, distributed or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold, distributed or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the United Kingdom ("UK"). For these purposes, a "retail investor" means a person who is neither: (i) a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (the "EUWA"); nor (ii) a qualified investor as defined in paragraph 15 of Schedule 1 to the Public Offers and Admissions to Trading Regulations 2024 (the "POATRs"). Consequently no disclosure document required by the FCA Product Disclosure Sourcebook ("DISC") for offering, selling or distributing the Instruments or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been prepared and therefore offering, selling or distributing the Instruments or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the UK may be unlawful under DISC and the Consumer Composite Investments (Designated Activities) Regulations 2024 (the "CCI Regulations").

Notwithstanding the above paragraph, in the case where the Final Terms in respect of any Instruments include a legend entitled "Prohibition of Sales to UK Retail Investors" but where the Issuer subsequently prepares and publishes a disclosure document as required by product disclosure rules made by the Financial Conduct Authority under the CCI Regulations in respect of such Instruments, then following such publication, the prohibition on the offering, sale, distribution or otherwise making available the Instruments to a retail investor as described in the above paragraph and in such legend shall no longer apply.

Prospective purchasers of Instruments should ensure that they understand the nature of the relevant Instruments and the extent of their exposure to risks and that they consider the suitability of the relevant Instruments as an investment in light of their own circumstances and financial condition. Instruments involve a high degree of risk and potential investors should be prepared to sustain a total loss of the purchase price of their Instruments. See "Risk Factors" on pages 48 to 138.

BofA Securities

IMPORTANT NOTICES

This Offering Circular is a "prospectus" for the purposes of the admission to listing on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading of the Instruments on the Euro MTF in accordance with Part IV of the Luxembourg law on prospectuses for securities, dated July 16, 2019, and the rules and regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. This document does not constitute a base prospectus for the purposes of Article 8 of the EU Prospectus Regulation or the POATRs. This Offering Circular is not a prospectus for the purposes of Section 12(a)(2) or any other provision of or rule under the Securities Act. This Offering Circular is a base prospectus within the meaning of Article 45 of the FinSA and has been approved as such by SER in its capacity as Swiss Review Body. The Instruments issued hereunder will not be admitted to trading on any trading venue in Switzerland.

Instruments may also be listed on the ISM which is not a "regulated market" for the purposes of MiFID II. The ISM is a market designated for qualified investors (as prescribed in Regulation 16 of the POATRs). The London Stock Exchange, as a "Recognised Investment Exchange", does not make assessments of investor eligibility. Given that under Regulation 16 of the POATRs, only qualified investors are permitted to trade on the ISM and no qualified investor is permitted to trade on behalf of persons who are not themselves qualified investors, financial intermediaries acting for investors are responsible for ensuring that only investors who are qualified investors as prescribed by Regulation 16 of the POATRs are permitted to trade on the ISM. Instruments admitted to trading on the ISM are not admitted to the Official List of the Financial Conduct Authority (the "FCA"). The London Stock Exchange has not approved or verified the contents of this Offering Circular. This Offering Circular comprises admission particulars for the purposes of the admission to trading of the Instruments on the ISM.

Subject as provided in the applicable Final Terms, the only persons authorised to use this Offering Circular in connection with an offer of Instruments are the persons named in the applicable Final Terms as the relevant Issuer or the relevant Dealer(s) or Manager(s), as the case may be.

Information contained in this Offering Circular which is sourced from a third party has been accurately reproduced and, as far as each Issuer and the Guarantor is aware and is able to ascertain from information published by the relevant third party, no facts have been omitted which would render the reproduced information inaccurate or misleading. Each Issuer has also identified the source(s) of such information.

The applicable Final Terms (if applicable) will specify the nature of the responsibility taken by the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor (if applicable) for the information relating to the Reference Item to which the relevant Instruments relate and which is contained in such Final Terms.

No person is or has been authorised by BAC, BANA, BofA Finance, MLBV, Merrill Lynch International ("MLI"), BofA Securities Europe SA ("BofASE") or any other Dealer to give any information or to make any representation not contained in or not consistent with this Offering Circular or any other information supplied in connection with the Programme and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by BAC, BANA, BofA Finance, MLBV, MLI, BofASE or any other Dealer of an issue of Instruments.

This Offering Circular is to be read and construed in conjunction with all documents which are, or are deemed to be, incorporated herein by reference (see "Documents Incorporated by Reference" on pages 17 to 27). This Offering Circular shall be read and construed on the basis that such documents are incorporated in and form part of this Offering Circular.

The Instruments of each issue may be sold by the relevant Issuer and/or any Dealer at such time and at such prices as the relevant Issuer and/or the Dealer(s) may select. There is no obligation upon the relevant Issuer or any Dealer to sell all of the Instruments of any issue. The Instruments of any issue may be offered or sold from time to time in one or more transactions in the over-the-counter market or otherwise at prevailing market prices or in negotiated transactions, at the discretion of the relevant Issuer.

Subject as provided in the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes", the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" and the "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments", as applicable, each Issuer shall have complete discretion as to what type of Instruments it issues and when.

Apart from BAC, BANA, BofA Finance and MLBV, no other party has independently verified the information contained herein. Accordingly, no representation, warranty or undertaking, express or implied, is made and no responsibility or liability is accepted by any Dealer as to the accuracy or completeness of the information contained in this Offering Circular or any other information provided by BAC, BANA, BofA Finance and/or MLBV. No Dealer accepts any liability in relation to the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Offering Circular or any other information provided by BAC, BANA, BofA Finance and/or MLBV in connection with the Programme.

Neither this Offering Circular nor any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any Instruments (a) is intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation or (b) should be considered as a recommendation by BAC, BANA, BofA Finance and/or MLBV or any Dealer that any recipient of this Offering Circular or any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any Instruments should purchase any Instruments. Each investor contemplating purchasing any Instruments should make its own independent investigation of the financial condition and affairs, and its own appraisal of the creditworthiness, of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor (if applicable). Neither this Offering Circular nor any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any issue of Instruments constitutes an offer or an invitation by or on behalf of BAC, BANA, BofA Finance and/or MLBV or any Dealer or any other person to subscribe for or to purchase any Instruments.

Neither the delivery of this Offering Circular nor the offering, sale or delivery of any Instruments shall in any circumstances imply that the information contained herein concerning BAC, BANA, BofA Finance and/or MLBV is correct at any time subsequent to the date hereof or that any other information supplied in connection with the Programme is correct as of any time subsequent to the date indicated in the document containing the same. No Dealer undertakes to review the financial condition or affairs of BAC, BANA, BofA Finance and/or MLBV during the life of the Programme or to advise any investor in the Instruments of any information coming to their attention.

This Offering Circular does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any Instruments in any jurisdiction in which such offer or solicitation is not authorised or to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such offer or solicitation, and no action is being taken to permit an offering of the Instruments or the distribution of this Offering Circular in any jurisdiction where any such action is required. The distribution of this Offering Circular and the offer or sale of Instruments may be restricted by law in certain jurisdictions. None of BAC, BANA, BofA Finance, MLBV and any Dealer represents that this Offering Circular may be lawfully distributed, or that any Instruments may be lawfully offered, in compliance with any applicable registration or other requirements in any jurisdiction, or pursuant to an exemption available thereunder, or assumes any responsibility for facilitating any such distribution or offer. In particular, unless specifically indicated to the contrary in the applicable Final Terms, no action has been taken by BAC, BANA, BofA Finance, MLBV or any Dealer which is intended to permit a public offering of any Instruments or distribution of this Offering Circular in any jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required. Accordingly, no Instruments may be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, and neither this Offering Circular nor any advertisement or other offering material may be distributed or published in any jurisdiction, except under circumstances that will result in compliance with any applicable laws and regulations. Persons into whose possession this Offering Circular or any Instruments may come must inform themselves about, and observe, any such restrictions on the distribution of this Offering Circular and the offering and sale of Instruments. In particular, there are restrictions on the distribution of this Offering Circular and the offer or sale of Instruments in the United States, the EEA (including Austria, Denmark, Finland, France, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Poland, and Spain), the United Kingdom, Argentina, Bahamas, Bermuda, Brazil, Cayman Islands, Chile, China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Dubai International Finance Centre, El Salvador, Guatemala, Guernsey, Honduras, Hong Kong, Isle of Man, Israel, Jamaica, Japan, Jersey, Kazakhstan, Mauritius, Mexico, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Oman, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Portugal, Qatar, Singapore, South Africa, South Korea, St. Kitts and Nevis, Switzerland, Taiwan, Thailand, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, Uruguay and Venezuela, and such other restrictions as may be required in connection with the offering and sale of a particular Series of Instruments, including the restrictions in connection with the offering and sale of Low Exercise Price Warrants that are linked to a share or an index listed on an exchange in certain jurisdictions including China, Indonesia, Malaysia, Taiwan, Thailand and Vietnam (see "Offering and Sale" on pages 1131 to 1164). In particular, the Instruments, the Guarantees and, in certain cases, any securities to be delivered upon exercise or settlement of the Instruments (if any) have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act.

This Offering Circular has been prepared on the basis that any offer of Instruments in any Member State of the EEA (each, a "Member State") will be made pursuant to an exemption under the EU Prospectus Regulation from the requirement to publish a prospectus for offers of Instruments. Accordingly any person making or intending to make an offer in that Member State of Instruments which are the subject of an offering contemplated in this Offering Circular as completed by the applicable Final Terms in relation to the offer of those Instruments may only do so in circumstances in which no obligation arises for the relevant Issuer or any Dealer to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the EU Prospectus Regulation or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the EU Prospectus Regulation, in each case, in relation to such offer. None of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and any Dealer have authorised, nor do they authorise, the making of any offer of Instruments in circumstances in which an obligation arises for the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) or any Dealer to publish or supplement a prospectus for such offer.

This Offering Circular has been prepared on the basis that any offer of Instruments in the United Kingdom will be of a kind specified in Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the POATRs. Accordingly any person making or intending to make an offer of Instruments in the United Kingdom which are the subject of an offering contemplated in this Offering Circular as completed by the applicable Final Terms in relation to the offer of those Instruments may only do so if the offer is of a kind specified in Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the POATRs. None of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and any Dealer have authorised, nor do they authorise, the making of any offer of Instruments in circumstances in which an obligation arises for the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) or any Dealer to publish or supplement a prospectus for such offer.

The contents of this Offering Circular have not been reviewed and will not be reviewed by the Securities and Futures Commission (the "SFC") or any other regulatory authority in Hong Kong and prospective investors are advised to exercise caution in relation to the Instruments. If you are in any doubt about any of the contents of this document, you should obtain independent professional advice.

No Notes issued by MLBV or W&C Instruments (other than Rule 144A Instruments), or any interests therein, may at any time be offered, sold, resold, traded, pledged, assigned, delivered or otherwise transferred, exercised or redeemed, directly or indirectly, in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons and any offer, sale, resale, trade, pledge, assignment, delivery or other transfer, exercise or redemption made, directly or indirectly, within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person will not be recognised. See "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions" and "Offering and Sale". No Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance may be offered, sold, resold, traded, transferred, pledged, delivered, exercised or redeemed, directly or indirectly, in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person (other than distributors) except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. The Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance will be subject to certain restrictions on transfer – see "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions" and "Offering and Sale".

Certain Instruments (other than Rule 144A Instruments) may provide investors with exposure to publicly traded securities of entities which are the subject of U.S. sanctions regulations, including restrictions pursuant to the Office of Foreign Assets Control's ("OFAC") Non-SDN Chinese Military-Industrial Complex Companies List ("CMIC List") established under Executive Order 13959, as amended by Executive Order 14032 of June 3, 2021 (the "CMIC Sanctioned Securities"). The CMIC List identifies Chinese entities involved in China's military-industrial base. As these Instruments are publicly traded securities that are derivative of CMIC Sanctioned Securities, U.S. Persons are prohibited from trading (purchasing and selling) in these Instruments. These prohibitions extend to the trading (purchase and sale) of these Instruments by U.S. Persons in the secondary market. For the purposes of prohibitions relating to the CMIC List only, United States persons are defined under 31 CFR Part 586.307 as any United States citizen, lawful permanent resident alien, entity organized under the laws of the United States or any jurisdiction within the United States (including foreign branches), or any person in the United States. In this respect, each Issuer reserves the right to take all necessary and appropriate actions to comply with U.S. sanctions regulations including through the reporting to OFAC of any attempts by U.S. persons, that the Issuer becomes aware of, to engage in prohibited transactions of these Instruments which fall outside the relevant divestment period (OFAC FAQ 1048). Investors should seek independent legal and sanctions advice prior to investing in these Instruments.

None of the Instruments and the Guarantees have been, nor will they be, registered under the Securities Act or any U.S. state securities laws or, with respect to Notes issued by BANA, the applicable rules and regulations of the OCC. None of the Instruments and the Guarantees have been approved or disapproved by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), the OCC or any other securities commission or other regulatory authority in the United States, nor have the foregoing authorities reviewed or passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this Offering Circular. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offence in the United States. The Instruments, the Guarantees and certain Entitlements do not constitute, and have not been marketed as, contracts of sale of a commodity for future delivery (or options thereon) subject to the CEA, and trading in the Instruments has not been approved by the CFTC pursuant to the CEA.

This Offering Circular is being submitted on a confidential basis in the United States to a limited number of QIBs who are also QPs for informational use solely in connection with the consideration of the purchase of the Rule 144A Instruments. It may not be copied or reproduced in the United States in whole or in part nor may it be distributed or any of its contents disclosed to anyone in the United States other than the prospective investors to whom it is originally submitted.

For the avoidance of doubt, no Instruments which are derivative of CMIC Sanctioned Securities have been or will be sold on the basis of Rule 144A. Each purchaser or holder of interests in the Instruments will be deemed, by its acceptance or purchase of any such Instruments, to have made, or will be required to make, certain representations and agreements as set out in "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions" and "Offering and Sale".

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, each holder and beneficial owner of the Instruments (and each employee, representative, or other agent of each holder and beneficial owner of the Instruments) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the transactions described herein and all materials of any kind that are provided to the holder or beneficial owner of the Instruments relating to such tax treatment and tax structure (as such terms are defined in United States Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4). This authorisation of tax disclosure is retroactively effective to the commencement of discussions with holders or beneficial owners of the Instruments regarding the transactions contemplated herein.

None of BAC, BANA, BofA Finance and MLBV has investigated, and none has or may have access to information that would permit it to ascertain, whether any company which has issued equity, debt or other instruments to which any Instruments relate is for United States tax purposes a passive foreign investment company, a controlled foreign corporation, a foreign controlled foreign corporation, a publicly-traded partnership or other type of pass-through entity. Prospective investors in any Instruments that are U.S. taxpayers should consult their own advisers concerning United States tax considerations relevant to an investment in such Instruments.

If Instruments are linked to Reference Items that are Shares of one or more United States issuers, such Shares must be registered with the SEC. In addition, if Instruments are linked to Reference Items that are (i) Shares of one or more United States issuers or (ii) indices comprised of stock, Shares or other securities of United States issuers, such United States issuers must be, at the time of the issuance of the relevant Instruments, a reporting issuer under the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). If Instruments are linked to Reference Items that are ADRs, such ADRs must be listed or admitted to trading on a U.S. securities exchange registered under the Exchange Act or included in the OTC Bulletin Board Service operated by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc.

Korean Notes: In respect of any particular Tranche of Korean Notes (as defined below), any division or split-off of the Specified Denomination of such Korean Notes will not be permitted for a period of one (1) year from, and including, the issue date of such Tranche of Korean Notes.

In this Offering Circular, references to "U.S.$", "$" and "U.S. dollars" are to United States Dollars; references to "A$" are to Australian dollars; references to "EUR", "Euro", "euro" and "€" are to the lawful single currency of the member states of the European Union that have adopted and continue to retain a common single currency through monetary union in accordance with European Union treaty law (as amended from time to time); references to "Japanese Yen," "Yen," "JPY," and "¥" are to the currency of Japan; references to "Korean won" or "KRW" are to Korean won; and references to "CNY" are to Chinese Renminbi, the lawful currency of the People's Republic of China (including any lawful successor to the CNY).

In connection with the issue of any Tranche of Notes, the Dealer or Dealers (if any) named as the Stabilising Manager(s) (or persons acting on behalf of any Stabilising Manager(s)) in the applicable Final Terms may over-allot Notes or effect transactions with a view to supporting the market price of the Notes at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail. However, stabilisation may not necessarily occur. Any stabilisation action may begin on or after the date on which adequate public disclosure of the terms of the offer of the relevant Tranche of Notes is made and, if begun, may cease at any time, but it must end no later than the earlier of 30 calendar days after the issue date of the relevant Tranche of Notes and 60 calendar days after the date of the allotment of the relevant Tranche of Notes. Any stabilisation action or over-allotment must be conducted by the relevant Stabilising Manager(s) (or persons acting on behalf of any Stabilising Manager(s)) in accordance with all applicable laws and rules.

CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements included or incorporated by reference in this Offering Circular constitute "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act and Section 21E of the Exchange Act. These statements can be identified by the fact that they do not relate strictly to historical or current facts. These statements often use words such as "anticipates", "targets", "expects", "hopes", "estimates", "intends", "plans", "goals", "believes", "continue", and other similar expressions, or future or conditional verbs such as "will", "may", "might", "should", "would" and "could".

All forward-looking statements, by their nature, are subject to risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ materially from those set forth in these forward-looking statements. As a large, international financial services company, BAC and its subsidiaries face risks that are inherent in the businesses and market places in which they operate. Information regarding important factors that could cause BAC's future financial performance to vary from that described in its forward-looking statements is contained in the BAC 2025 Annual Report (as defined below), which is incorporated by reference in this Offering Circular, under the captions "Item 1A. Risk Factors" and "Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and in the BAC 31 March 2026 Quarterly Report (as defined below), which is incorporated by reference into this Offering Circular, under the caption "Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations".

Investors should not place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the dates they are made.

All subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements attributable to the relevant Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor, or any person on its behalf, are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements contained or referred to in this section. Except to the extent required by applicable law or regulation, the relevant Issuer and (if applicable) the Guarantor undertake no obligation to update these forward-looking statements to reflect the impact of circumstances or events that arise after the date of this Offering Circular or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.

Pursuant to Article 69(3) FinSA, investors are hereby cautioned that any forward-looking statements contained in this Offering Circular are not historical in nature but are forward-looking based on information and assumptions the Issuers consider to be reasonable. Such statements are inherently uncertain and subject to a variety of circumstances, many of which are beyond the Issuers' control and could cause actual results to differ materially from what the Issuers anticipate. Due to the uncertainty of future developments, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the Issuers do not assume any liability in respect of or in connection with any forward-looking statements contained herein.

To the extent that this Offering Circular is used in connection with an issue or offering of Instruments under the Programme in circumstances where the EU Prospectus Regulation or the POATRs does not apply, the following documents, which may be produced or issued from time to time after the date hereof, shall upon publication be deemed to form part of this Offering Circular:

- (i) BAC's annual report on Form 10-K and proxy statements of BAC filed with the SEC after the date of this Offering Circular; and
- (ii) any other reports filed by BAC with the SEC pursuant to Sections 13(a), 13(c), 14 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act (other than, with respect to these reports, information that is furnished but deemed not to have been filed under the rules of the SEC) and the rules and regulations thereunder subsequent to the date of the financial statements included in the BAC 2025 Annual Report including, without limitation, any quarterly report on Form 10-Q not incorporated by reference into this Offering Circular.

No separate financial statements of BANA are included or incorporated in the Offering Circular. BANA is not required under applicable United States law and regulations thereunder to publish stand-alone financial statements prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("U.S. GAAP"). BAC, as the parent company, consolidates BANA in its consolidated financial statements. In addition, BANA is not required to file reports under the Exchange Act with the SEC.

BANA prepares and files with the OCC on a quarterly basis reports called "Consolidated Reports of Condition and Income for a Bank with Domestic and Foreign Offices" (the "Call Reports"). Each Call Report consists of a balance sheet, income statement, statement of changes in equity capital and other supporting schedules as of the end of, and for, the period to which that Call Report relates. The Call Reports are prepared in accordance with regulatory reporting requirements issued by the U.S. Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council (the "FFIEC"), which may differ in some cases from U.S. GAAP. While the Call Reports are regulatory documents, and do not provide audited financial disclosure about BANA, they nevertheless provide important information concerning BANA's financial condition and results of operations and other financial information about BANA, including its consolidated subsidiaries. Certain portions of the Call Reports are not publicly available. The publicly available portions of BANA's Call Reports are available on the FFIEC's website at <https://cdr.ffiec.gov/public>.

Following publication of this Offering Circular a supplement may be prepared by the Issuers and the Guarantor. Statements contained in any such supplement (or contained in any document incorporated by reference therein) shall, to the extent applicable (whether expressly, by implication or otherwise), be deemed to modify or supersede statements contained in this Offering Circular or in a document which is incorporated by reference in this Offering Circular. Any statement so modified or superseded shall not, except as so modified or superseded, constitute a part of this Offering Circular.

Investors in the Instruments shall be deemed to have notice of all information contained in the documents incorporated by reference into this Offering Circular, as if all such information were included in this Offering Circular. Investors who have not previously reviewed such information should do so in connection with their purchase of Instruments.

The Issuers and (if applicable) the Guarantor will, in the event of any significant new factor, material mistake or inaccuracy relating to information included in this Offering Circular which is capable of affecting the assessment of any Instruments, prepare a supplement to this Offering Circular or publish a new offering circular for use in connection with any subsequent issue of Instruments.

OVERVIEW OF THE PROGRAMME

This overview must be read as an introduction to this Offering Circular. Any decision to invest in any Instruments should be based on a consideration of this Offering Circular as a whole, including the documents incorporated by reference.

Words and expressions defined in the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" or in the "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments", as applicable, and in the remainder of this Offering Circular shall have the same meanings in this overview. BAC, BANA and BofA Finance may issue Notes; MLBV may issue Notes, Warrants and Certificates. Warrants and Certificates are together referred to as "W&C Instruments" and Notes, Certificates and Warrants are together referred to as "Instruments".

Issuers:	Bank of America Corporation ("BAC") Bank of America, N.A. ("BANA") BofA Finance LLC ("BofA Finance") Merrill Lynch B.V. ("MLBV") BAC is a corporation organised under the laws of the State of Delaware (United States), a bank holding company and a financial holding company. Through various bank and non-bank subsidiaries throughout the United States and in international markets, BAC provides a diversified range of banking and nonbank financial services and products worldwide. BANA is a national banking association formed under the laws of the United States and authorised thereunder to transact the business of banking. BANA is an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of BAC and is primarily engaged in general consumer banking, commercial banking and trust business offering a wide range of commercial, corporate, international, financial market, retail and fiduciary banking services. BofA Finance is a limited liability company formed under the laws of the State of Delaware (United States) and a direct, wholly-owned finance subsidiary of BAC. Its purpose is to provide BAC and/or BAC's other subsidiaries with financing by issuing debt securities to investors and lending the net proceeds therefrom to BAC and/or those subsidiaries. MLBV is a private limited liability company incorporated under Dutch law. The main activity of MLBV consists of issuing notes, certificates, warrants and other securities to investors, the proceeds of which are loaned to Group (as defined below) companies.
Guarantor (in respect of Notes issued by BofA Finance and Instruments (other than Secured Instruments) issued by MLBV):	Bank of America Corporation (in such capacity, the " Guarantor ")
Description:	Note, Warrant and Certificate Programme
Guarantees:	The payment obligations under the Notes issued by BofA Finance are unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by the Guarantor upon and subject to the terms set out in the BofA Finance Guarantee. The payment and non-cash delivery obligations under the Instruments issued by MLBV (other than Secured Instruments, CMU Notes and Korean Notes) are unconditionally and

Principal Paying Agent: Citibank, N.A., London Branch

Registrar: Citibank Europe plc

In respect of CMU Notes:

- CMU Lodging and Citicorp International Limited
Paying Agent:

- CMU Registrar: Citicorp International Limited
- CMU Transfer Agent: Citicorp International Limited
- In respect of Korean Notes:
- Korean Notes Paying Agent: Citibank Korea Inc., or as specified in the relevant Final Terms.
- Korean Notes Registration Agent: Hana Securities Co., Ltd. or as specified in the relevant Final Terms.
- Distributor: Hana Securities Co., Ltd. or as specified in the relevant Final Terms.

Issue Price: Notes may be issued on a fully-paid or partly-paid basis at an issue price which is at par or a discount to, or a premium over, par. The issue price will be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Terms of Notes: Notes issued by MLBV, BofA Finance and BANA may be denominated in any currency specified in the applicable Final Terms with any agreed maturity, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and/or regulatory restrictions.

Notes issued by BAC may be denominated in any currency specified in the applicable Final Terms with an original maturity of not less than 365 days (one year), subject to compliance with all applicable legal and/or regulatory restrictions.

Notes may: (i) bear interest at a fixed or floating rate; (ii) not bear interest; (iii) have an interest amount or rate and/or a redemption amount determined or calculated by reference to one or more underlying assets or bases of reference such as indices (including equity, bond, commodity or inflation indices), currency exchange rates, shares, GDRs or ADRs, fund shares or units, commodities or the credit of one or more underlying entities (each such underlying asset or basis of reference, a "Reference Item" and any Reference Item linked Notes, "Reference Item Linked Notes"); (iv) reference any combination of the foregoing; (v) (in respect of Notes issued by MLBV only) be redeemed by physical delivery ("Physical Delivery Notes") of specified asset(s); (vi) (in respect of Notes issued by MLBV only) be cash settled exchangeable Notes; and/or (vii) have such other terms and conditions as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Any Notes issued by BAC must satisfy certain eligibility criteria under the rules of the Federal Reserve Board relating to total loss-absorbing capacity (see Risk Factor "BAC is subject to the Federal Reserve Board's final rules requiring holding companies of U.S. global systemically important banking organizations ("GSIBs") to maintain minimum amounts of long-term debt meeting specified eligibility requirements").

Interest periods, interest rates and the terms of and/or amounts payable on redemption will be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

The applicable Final Terms will indicate either that the relevant Notes may not be redeemed prior to their stated maturity (other than in specified instalments (if applicable), for taxation reasons, following an Event of Default and acceleration of the Notes, or (if applicable) following an Additional Disruption Event), or that such Notes will be redeemable at the option of the relevant Issuer and/or the Noteholders. The redemption of any BAC Note that is long-term debt satisfying certain eligibility criteria ("eligible LTD") under the final total loss-absorbing capacity rules of the U.S. Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the "Federal Reserve Board") will require the prior approval of the Federal Reserve Board if after such redemption BAC would fail to satisfy its requirements as to eligible LTD or total loss-absorbing capacity under such rules.

Settlement:

Settlement may be by way of cash payment ("Cash Settled") or, if specified in the applicable Final Terms and only in respect of Notes issued by MLBV, physical delivery ("Physical Delivery"). Rule 144A Notes that are also Secured Notes or Exchangeable Notes will be Cash Settled only. In respect of Physical Delivery Notes, in order to receive the relevant asset(s), a Noteholder must deliver an Asset Transfer Notice on or prior to a specified cut-off time, which may include certain representations and certifications of the relevant parties, and pay all taxes, duties and/or expenses arising from delivery of the relevant assets. For certain Physical Delivery Notes, if certain disruption events occur on settlement, the relevant settlement date may be postponed and in certain circumstances MLBV will be entitled to make payment of a cash amount in lieu of physical delivery.

The MLBV Guarantee and CMU Notes Guarantee provide that, in the case of Physical Delivery Notes issued by MLBV, the Guarantor will be obliged only to pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering any Entitlement as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Negative Pledge:

None

Cross Default:

None

Events of Default:

Terms of the Notes contain, among others, events of default covering non-payment or non-delivery (if applicable) and relating to the insolvency of the relevant Issuer.

Taxation:

The relevant Issuer or the Guarantor (if applicable) will, subject to certain limitations and exceptions (set forth in Condition 9 of the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes"), pay to Noteholders who are United States Aliens or (in the case of Notes issued by MLBV) a Netherlands Non-resident (each as defined in Condition 9 of the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes") such additional amounts as may be necessary so that every net payment of principal or interest or other amount with respect to the Notes or (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or MLBV) the relevant Guarantee after deduction or withholding for or on account of any present or future tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed upon such Noteholders or by reason of the making of such payment, by the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable) or any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, will not be less than the amount provided for in the Notes or the relevant Guarantee (as applicable) to be then due and payable, except as provided in Condition 9 of the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes".

In respect of W&C Instruments:

Issuer:	MLBV
Dealers:	BofA Securities Europe SA Merrill Lynch International W&C Instruments may also be issued to other dealers and third parties.
Principal W&C Instrument Agent:	Citibank, N.A., London Branch
Registrar:	Citibank Europe plc
Issue Price:	W&C Instruments may be issued at such price as shall be determined by MLBV or the Dealer appointed in respect of the issue. The issue price will be specified in the applicable Final Terms.
Terms of W&C Instruments:	MLBV may from time to time issue Warrants and Certificates. The terms of any issue of W&C Instruments may be linked to one or more underlying assets or bases of reference such as indices (including equity, bond, commodity or inflation indices), currency exchange rates, shares, GDRs or ADRs, fund shares or units, commodities or the credit of one or more underlying entities (each such underlying asset or basis of reference, a " Reference Item " and any Reference Item linked W&C Instruments, " Reference Item Linked W&C Instruments " and, together with any Reference Item Linked Notes, " Reference Item Linked Instruments ") or any combination of the foregoing and W&C Instruments may be issued on such terms as may be determined by MLBV and specified in the applicable Final Terms. W&C Instruments may or may not pay additional amounts as specified in the applicable Final Terms.
Settlement:	W&C Instruments may be Cash Settled or, if specified in the applicable Final Terms, settlement may be by way of physical delivery (" Physical Delivery "). Rule 144A W&C Instruments that are also Secured Instruments will be Cash Settled only. Any W&C Instruments which are settled by way of physical delivery may be subject to representations and certifications as set out in the applicable Exercise Notice or Collection Notice. For certain Physical Delivery W&C Instruments, if certain disruption events occur on settlement, the relevant settlement date may be postponed and in certain circumstances MLBV will be entitled to make payment of a cash amount in lieu of physical delivery. The MLBV Guarantee provides that, in the case of Physical Delivery W&C Instruments, the Guarantor will be obliged only to pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering any Entitlement as specified in the applicable Final Terms.
Exercise Rights:	European Style Warrants are only exercisable on the Exercise Date. American Style Warrants are exercisable on any Exercise Business Day during the Exercise Period.

The applicable Final Terms will specify whether or not Warrants will be automatically exercised.

The applicable Final Terms will specify if Warrants may be automatically exercised early (as a result of an Issuer Call, a mandatory early exercise or a Holder put).

Certificates will be automatically exercised on the Exercise Date. In the case of Physical Delivery Certificates, in order to receive the Entitlement in respect of a Certificate, the Holder must deliver a Collection Notice prior to a specified cut-off time and pay all taxes, duties and/or expenses arising from such delivery.

The applicable Final Terms will specify if the Exercise Date for Certificates may be brought forward (as a result of an Issuer Call, a mandatory early exercise or a Holder Put Option).

Expenses and Taxation:

A holder of a W&C Instrument must pay all taxes, duties and/or expenses arising from the exercise and settlement of such W&C Instrument and/or if applicable, delivery of the Entitlement. MLBV shall not be liable for tax, duty, withholding or other payment which may arise as a result of the ownership, transfer, exercise or enforcement of any W&C Instrument and all payments will be made subject to any such tax, duty, withholding or other payment.

Secured Instruments

Secured Notes and Secured W&C Instruments:

Secured Instruments will be issued by MLBV and will be secured by a segregated pool of collateral assets with a custodian or collateral service agent (the "Collateral Assets") provided by Merrill Lynch International in its capacity as collateral provider (the "Secured Instruments Collateral Provider"). For a further overview of Secured Instruments, see "Description of the Collateral Arrangements Relating to Secured Instruments" and "Description of the Collateral Arrangements relating to Secured Euroclear Collateral Service (ECS) Instruments".

The Secured Instruments will not be guaranteed by the Guarantor.

Reference Item Linked Instruments

Index Linked Instruments (including Instruments linked to Index-Linked Contracts):

Amounts payable in respect of Index Linked Instruments will be calculated by reference to one or more Indices. The Index may reference or be comprised of equities, bonds, property, currency exchange rates or other assets or bases of reference.

If "Physical Settlement" is specified as applicable to the Index Linked Conditions in the relevant Final Terms, Index Linked Instruments may also provide for settlement by physical delivery of a specified amount of units, interests or shares of one or more Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs), subject to payment of the relevant Exercise Price (in case of Warrants) and any other amounts payable.

Index Linked Instruments may be subject to early redemption or cancellation, as applicable, or adjustment if an Index is modified or cancelled and there is no successor index acceptable to the Calculation Agent, if the Index's Sponsor fails to calculate and announce the Index, if the Index or its administrator is not authorised under applicable law with the effect that the Issuer, the Calculation Agent or any affiliate engaged in hedging transactions is not permitted to use the Index, if certain market disruption events occur, or if certain events (such as illegality, disruptions or cost increases) occur with respect to the relevant Issuer's and/or any Affiliate's hedging arrangements.

If certain disruption events occur with respect to valuation of an Index, such valuation may be postponed and/or may be made by the Calculation Agent. Payments may also be postponed.

If specified in the applicable Final Terms, amounts payable (or assets that are deliverable) in respect of the Instruments will be calculated by reference to an Index-Linked Contract for an Index specified in the applicable Final Terms as an "Applicable Index". An Applicable Index may reference or be comprised of equities, bonds, property, currency exchange rates or other assets or bases of reference.

Share Linked Instruments:

Amounts payable in respect of Share Linked Instruments will be calculated by reference to a single Share or basket of Shares. Share Linked Instruments may also provide for settlement by physical delivery of a specified amount of Shares of one or more companies, subject to payment of the Exercise Price (in case of Warrants) and any other amounts payable.

Share Linked Instruments may, at the discretion of the relevant Issuer, be subject to early redemption or cancellation, as applicable, or adjustment (including valuation and in certain circumstances Share substitutions) if certain corporate events (such as events affecting the value of a Share (including Share divisions or consolidations, extraordinary dividends and capital calls), de-listing of a Share, insolvency, merger or nationalisation of a Share issuer, a tender offer or redenomination of a Share) occur, if certain events (such as illegality, disruptions or cost increases) occur with respect to the relevant Issuer's and/or any Affiliate's hedging arrangements, or if insolvency filings are made with respect to a Share issuer.

In addition, Share Linked Instruments that reference a Share which is a stapled share (a "Stapled Share") may, at the discretion of the relevant Issuer, be subject to early redemption or cancellation, as applicable, or adjustment if certain events occur in respect of the component shares (the "Component Shares") of the Stapled Share or the issuers thereof, or if the Stapled Share is subject to a de-stapling.

If certain disruption events occur with respect to valuation of a Share, such valuation may be postponed and/or may be made by the Calculation Agent. Payments may also be postponed.

GDR/ADR Linked Instruments:

Amounts payable in respect of GDR/ADR Linked Instruments will be calculated by reference to a single global depositary receipt ("GDR") or American depositary receipt ("ADR") or a basket of GDRs and/or ADRs. GDR/ADR Linked Instruments may also provide for settlement by physical delivery of a specified amount of GDRs and/or ADRs subject to payment of the relevant Exercise Price (in the case of Warrants) and any other amounts payable.

GDR/ADR Linked Instruments may, at the discretion of the relevant Issuer, be subject to early redemption or cancellation, as applicable, or adjustment (including valuation and in certain circumstances GDR/ADR substitutions) if certain corporate events

(such as events affecting the value of a GDR and/or ADR (including GDR, ADR or underlying share divisions or consolidations, extraordinary dividends and capital calls), delisting of a GDR, ADR or underlying share, insolvency, merger or nationalisation of an underlying share issuer, a tender offer or redenomination of a GDR, ADR and/or underlying share) occur, if certain events (such as illegality, disruptions or cost increases) occur with respect to the relevant Issuer's and/or any Affiliate's hedging arrangements, or if insolvency filings are made with respect to an underlying share issuer.

FX Linked Instruments:

Amounts payable in respect of FX Linked Instruments will be calculated by reference to the rate of exchange of a single currency or basket of currencies. FX Linked Instruments may also provide for settlement by physical delivery of a specified amount of the relevant currencies, subject to payment of the relevant Exercise Price (in the case of Warrants) and any other amounts payable.

If certain disruption events occur with respect to a rate of exchange of a single currency or basket of currencies, such valuation may be postponed and/or may be made by the Calculation Agent.

Commodity Linked Instruments:

Amounts payable in respect of Commodity Linked Instruments will be calculated by reference to a single Commodity and/or Commodity Index or basket of Commodities and/or Commodity Indices. Commodity Linked Instruments may also provide for settlement by physical delivery of a specified amount of Commodities, subject to payment of the relevant Exercise Price (in the case of Warrants) and any other amounts payable.

If certain disruption events occur with respect to valuation of a Commodity or futures or options contracts relating to such Commodity, such valuation may be postponed and/or may be made by the Calculation Agent. Commodity Linked Instruments linked to a Commodity Index may be subject to adjustment if the Commodity Index is modified or cancelled and there is no successor acceptable to the Calculation Agent, if the Commodity Index's sponsor fails to calculate and announce the Index or if the Commodity Index or its administrator is not authorised under applicable law with the effect that the Issuer, the Calculation Agent or any affiliate engaged in hedging transactions is not permitted to use the Commodity Index.

Fund Linked Instruments:

Amounts payable in respect of Fund Linked Instruments will be calculated by reference to units, interests or shares in a single Fund or basket of Funds. Fund Linked Instruments may also provide for settlement by physical delivery of a specified amount of units, interests or shares of one or more Funds, subject to payment of the relevant Exercise Price (in the case of Warrants) and any other amounts payable.

Fund Linked Instruments may, at the discretion of the relevant Issuer, be subject to early redemption or cancellation, as applicable, or adjustment (including as to valuations and fund substitutions) if certain corporate events (such as insolvency (or an analogous event) or nationalisation of a Fund; litigation against, or regulatory events occurring with respect to, a Fund; suspensions of Fund subscriptions or redemptions; certain changes in net asset value or violations of leverage restrictions of a Fund; Fund reporting disruptions; or modifications to the investment objectives or changes in the nature or administration of a Fund) occur, if certain valuation or settlement disruption events occur with respect to a Fund, or if certain events (such as illegality, disruptions or cost increases) occur with respect to the relevant Issuer's and/or any Affiliate's hedging arrangements.

Fund Linked Instruments linked to Exchange Traded Funds may be subject to early redemption or cancellation, as applicable, or adjustment (including as to valuation) if certain corporate events (such as events affecting the value of a Fund Share including share divisions or consolidation, de-listing of a Fund Share, insolvency, merger or nationalisation of a Fund Share issuer, or a tender offer of a Fund Share) or modifications of its investment objectives occur or if certain events occur with respect to the relevant Issuer's and/or Affiliate's hedging arrangements.

If certain disruption events occur with respect to valuation of a Fund Share in respect of an Exchange Traded Fund, such valuation may be postponed and/or may be made by the Calculation Agent. Payments may also be postponed.

Inflation Linked Instruments: Amounts payable in respect of Inflation Linked Instruments will be calculated by reference to a single Inflation Index or basket of Inflation Indices.

Inflation Linked Instruments may be subject to early redemption or cancellation, as applicable, and/or adjustment if an Inflation Index is modified or cancelled and there is no successor index acceptable to the Calculation Agent, or if the Inflation Index Sponsor fails to calculate and announce the Index.

Credit Linked Instruments: Amounts payable and/or deliverable in respect of Credit Linked Instruments will be calculated by reference to the credit of a specified entity or entities.

If an Event Determination Date occurs during the Notice Delivery Period, the Credit Linked Instruments will be redeemed or cancelled, as the case may be, and the relevant Issuer will: (a) where "Auction Settlement" is specified as being applicable in the Final Terms and subject to the occurrence of a Fallback Settlement Event, pay the Auction Settlement Amount, (b) if "Cash Settlement" is specified in the applicable Final Terms or a Fallback Settlement Event has occurred and the Fallback Settlement Method is Cash Settlement, pay the Credit Event Redemption Amount or (c) if "Physical Settlement" is specified as being applicable in the Final Terms or a Fallback Settlement Event has occurred and the Fallback Settlement Method is Physical Settlement, deliver the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement.

Saudi Share Linked Warrants: Amounts payable in respect of Saudi Share Linked Warrants will be calculated by reference to the notional liquidation by a Hypothetical Dealer of a Hedge Position corresponding to a single Share or basket of Shares listed on the Saudi Stock Exchange (Tadawul) during the relevant Execution Period commencing on the Valuation Date.

Saudi Share Linked Warrants may, at the discretion of MLB, be subject to early settlement or cancellation, as applicable, or adjustment (including valuation and in certain circumstances Share substitutions) if certain corporate events (such as events affecting the value of a Share (including Share divisions or consolidations, extraordinary dividends and capital calls), de-listing of a Share, insolvency, merger or nationalisation of a Share issuer, a tender offer or redenomination of a Share) occur, if certain events (such as illegality, any disruptions, cost increases, or Saudi Arabian-specific regulatory or other events) occur with respect to MLBV's and/or any Affiliate's hedging arrangements, or if insolvency filings are made with respect to a Share issuer.

Bond Linked Instruments:

Amounts payable in respect of Bond Linked Instruments will be calculated by reference to a single Bond or basket of Bonds.

Bond Linked Instruments may, at the discretion of the relevant Issuer, be subject to early redemption or cancellation, as applicable, or adjustment if certain events occur.

If certain disruption events occur with respect to Bond Linked Instruments, such Bond Linked Instruments may be redeemed early or the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms may be adjusted by the Calculation Agent.

Preference Share Linked Notes:

Amounts payable in respect of Preference Share Linked Notes will be calculated by reference to Preference Shares issued by the Preference Share Issuer. Preference Share Linked Notes may not be settled by physical delivery of any Preference Shares.

If "Mandatory Early Redemption" is specified as "Applicable" in the applicable Final Terms and the Calculation Agent determines that an automatic early redemption event has occurred under the terms and conditions of the Preference Shares, the Preference Share Linked Notes shall be subject to mandatory early redemption.

Preference Share Linked Notes may, at the discretion of the relevant Issuer, be subject to early redemption if certain corporate events occur (such as merger, nationalisation or insolvency of the Preference Share Issuer, including the institution of insolvency filings against the Preference Share Issuer), if there is an adjustment to the terms and conditions of the Preference Shares or amounts or values thereunder in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Preference Shares or if certain events (such as illegality, disruptions or cost increases) occur with respect to the relevant Issuer's and/or any Affiliate's hedging arrangements.

If certain disruption events occur with respect to valuation of a Preference Share, such valuation may be postponed and/or may be made by the Calculation Agent. Payments under the Preference Share Linked Notes may also be postponed.

Exchangeable Notes

Exchangeable Notes:

Exchangeable Notes will be issued by MLBV and will give Noteholders the right to require MLBV to exchange such Exchangeable Notes during any applicable Exchange Period, subject to the satisfaction of any applicable Exchange Conditions, for a Cash Amount (such amount based on the prevailing volume-weighted average price of the Shares of the reference Company during a specified period following the relevant Exchange Date).

If the Exchange Rights are not exercised by Noteholders during an applicable Exchange Period and/or any applicable Exchange Condition is not satisfied, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed at their Final Redemption Amount on the Maturity Date (unless previously redeemed or purchased by MLBV, the Guarantor or any of their respective Affiliates) pursuant to the Exchangeable Note Conditions, which will be calculated by reference to the price of the Shares at the relevant time.

General:

Form and Transfer of Instruments:

Global Instruments and Clearing Systems

Generally, each Tranche of Instruments (other than CMU Notes and Korean Notes) will at all times be represented by a global warrant, a global certificate or a global note in registered form (the "Global Instrument"), as applicable.

Generally, each Global Instrument which is to be issued into and transferred through accounts at Euroclear Bank SA/NV ("Euroclear") and/or Clearstream Banking, S.A. ("Clearstream, Luxembourg") will be deposited on the issue date specified in the applicable Final Terms with: (a) in the case of Instruments (other than Notes intended to be held under the New Safekeeping Structure (the "NSS")), a common depository (the "Common Depository") (which shall at all times be an entity located outside the United Kingdom) for Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg or (b) in the case of Notes intended to be held under the NSS for Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg, a common safekeeper (the "Common Safekeeper").

Rule 144A Instruments which are to be issued into and transferred through accounts at The Depository Trust Company ("DTC" and, together with Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg, the "Clearing Systems" and each a "Clearing System") will be constituted by a Global Instrument which will be registered in the name of a nominee of DTC and held by the Principal Paying Agent or Principal W&C Instrument Agent, as applicable, as custodian for DTC.

CREST Depository Interests

In certain circumstances, investors may also hold interests in the Instruments through Euroclear UK & International Limited ("CREST") through the issuance of dematerialised depository interests (i.e. securities without any physical document of title which are distinct from the Instruments), held, settled and transferred through CREST (the "CDIs"), representing the interests in the relevant Instruments underlying the CDIs. CDIs are independent securities constituted under English law and transferred through CREST and will be issued by CREST Depository Limited pursuant to the global deed poll dated 25 June 2001 (as subsequently modified, supplemented and/or restated) (the "CREST Deed Poll"). Neither the Instruments nor any rights attached to the Instruments will be issued, settled, held or transferred within the CREST system other than through the issue, settlement, holding or transfer of CDIs. Holders of CDIs (the "CDI Holders") will not be entitled to deal directly in the Instruments and, accordingly, all dealings in the Instruments will be effected through CREST in relation to the holding of CDIs. Investors should note that the CDIs are the result of the CREST settlement mechanics and are not the subject of this Offering Circular.

CMU Notes

Generally, each Tranche of CMU Notes will at all times be represented by a global note in registered form ("CMU Global Registered Note").

Generally, each CMU Global Registered Note will be deposited on the issue date specified in the applicable Final Terms with a sub-custodian for the Central Moneymarkets Unit Service ("CMU") operated by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority.

So long as the CMU Notes are represented by the CMU Global Registered Note and the CMU Global Registered Note is held by a sub-custodian of the CMU, transfers of beneficial interests in the CMU Notes may be effected only through the records maintained by the CMU and its participants in accordance with the rules and operating procedures of the CMU and its participants.

For these purposes, "CMU Notes" means any Tranche of Notes issued in registered form and deposited with a sub-custodian for the CMU in accordance with all applicable Hong Kong laws, regulations and rules.

Korean Notes

In certain circumstances, Notes issued by MLBV will be electronically registered in uncertificated and dematerialised book-entry form with the Korea Securities Depository (the "KSD") in accordance with all applicable Korean laws, regulations and rules (each such Series of Notes, the "Korean Notes"). Under applicable Korean Regulations, Korean Notes are not permitted to be issued in definitive, certificated form.

Title to Korean Notes will be transferred through the KSD.

Status of the Instruments:

The Instruments (other than Secured Instruments) issued by MLBV will constitute direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured obligations of MLBV and rank equally among themselves and rank equally (subject to such exceptions as are from time to time provided by applicable laws) with all other present and future direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured indebtedness (in the case of Notes) or obligations (in the case of W&C Instruments) of MLBV.

The Notes issued by BofA Finance will constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BofA Finance and will rank equally in right of payment with all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BofA Finance from time to time outstanding, except obligations that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law. BofA Finance is a finance subsidiary of BAC and has no operations other than those related to the issuance, administration and repayment of its debt securities that are guaranteed by BAC. In addition, BofA Finance will have no assets available for distributions to holders of Notes issued by BofA Finance if they make claims in respect of such Notes in a bankruptcy, resolution or similar proceeding. Accordingly, any recoveries by such holders will be limited to those available under BAC's guarantee of such Notes. Holders of Notes issued by BofA Finance will have recourse only to a single claim against BAC and its assets under BAC's guarantee of the Notes, and holders of the Notes should accordingly assume that in any bankruptcy, resolution or similar proceeding, they would not have any priority over, and should be treated equally with, the claims of all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BAC, including claims of holders of unsecured senior debt securities issued by BAC.

The Notes issued by BANA will constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BANA and will rank equally in right of payment with all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BANA from time to time outstanding, except certain obligations, including deposit liabilities and other creditors, that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law. The Notes issued by BANA are not savings accounts or deposits and are not insured by the FDIC. In the event of liquidation or other resolution of BANA by the FDIC, as receiver, claims of BANA's depositors, claims for certain administrative expenses of the receiver and the holders of secured obligations (to the extent of the assets securing such obligations) will be entitled to a priority in right of payment over the claims of BANA's general creditors, including holders of Notes issued by BANA under the Programme.

The Notes issued by BAC will constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BAC and will rank equally in right of payment with all of BAC's other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations from time to time outstanding, except obligations that are subject to priorities or preferences by law.

Because BAC is a holding company, BAC's right to participate in any distribution of the assets of any subsidiary upon such subsidiary's liquidation or reorganisation or otherwise is subject to the prior claims of creditors of that subsidiary, except to the extent BAC may itself be recognised as a creditor of that subsidiary. Accordingly, BAC's obligations under its Notes will be structurally subordinated to all existing and future liabilities of its subsidiaries, and claimants under the Notes issued by BAC should look only to BAC's assets for payments. Further, creditors of BAC's subsidiaries recapitalised pursuant to BAC's resolution plan generally would be entitled to payment of their claims from the assets of the subsidiaries, including BAC's contributed assets. In addition, the BAC Notes will be unsecured and therefore in a bankruptcy or similar proceeding will effectively rank junior to BAC's secured obligations to the extent of the value of the assets securing such obligations.

The Secured Instruments constitute direct, limited recourse, unsubordinated and secured obligations of MLBV and rank equally among themselves.

Status of the Guarantees:

The Guarantees will rank equally in right of payment with all of BAC's other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations, except obligations that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law.

Because BAC is a holding company, BAC's right to participate in any distribution of the assets of any subsidiary upon such subsidiary's liquidation or reorganisation or otherwise is subject to the prior claims of creditors of that subsidiary, except to the extent BAC may itself be recognised as a creditor of that subsidiary. Accordingly, BAC's obligations under the Guarantees will be structurally subordinated to all existing and future liabilities of its subsidiaries, and claimants should look only to BAC's assets for payments. Further, creditors of BAC's subsidiaries recapitalised pursuant to BAC's resolution plan generally would be entitled to payment of their claims from the assets of the subsidiaries, including BAC's contributed assets. In addition, the Guarantees will be unsecured and therefore in a bankruptcy or similar proceeding will effectively rank junior to BAC's secured obligations to the extent of the value of the assets securing such obligations.

Approval, listing and admission to trading:

In respect of Instruments (other than in respect of Korean Notes) issued under the Programme during the 12 months from the date of this Offering Circular, application may be made for the admission to (a) trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market and listing on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange; (b) trading and listing on the ISM; (c) trading and listing on the Vienna MTF; and (d) trading and listing on the Nasdaq First North Sweden of such Instruments.

Notes may be listed and/or admitted to trading on such other or further exchange(s) and/or market(s) as determined by the relevant Issuer.

Governing Law:

The Instruments issued by MLBV, and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with them, will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law. Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, United States. Each Guarantee will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, United States.

Rating:

The Programme has no rating. If any issue of Notes under the Programme is to be rated, the rating of such Notes will be specified in the applicable Final Terms. Any such rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency.

Selling Restrictions:

There are restrictions on the offer, sale and transfer of the Instruments in the United States, the EEA (including Austria, Denmark, Finland, France, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Poland and Spain), the United Kingdom, Argentina, Bahamas, Bermuda, Brazil, Cayman Islands, Chile, China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dubai International Finance Centre, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Guernsey, Honduras, Hong Kong, Isle of Man, Israel, Jamaica, Japan, Jersey, Kazakhstan, Mauritius, Mexico, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Oman, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Portugal, Qatar, Singapore, South Africa, South Korea, St. Kitts and Nevis, Switzerland, Taiwan, Thailand, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, Uruguay and Venezuela, and such other restrictions as may be required in connection with the offering and sale of a particular Series of Instruments, including the restrictions in connection with the offering and sale of Low Exercise Price Warrants that are linked to a share or an index listed on an exchange in certain jurisdictions including China, Indonesia, Malaysia, Taiwan, Thailand and Vietnam (see "Offering and Sale").

Risk Factors:

In the course of conducting their business operations, BAC and its subsidiaries (together, the "Group"), including MLBV, BANA and BofA Finance, are exposed to a variety of risks, some of which are inherent in the financial services industry and others of which are more specific to their own businesses, and that are material for purposes of assessing the risks associated with investing in the Instruments. See "Risk Factors" for more information regarding these risks.

POTENTIAL INVESTORS MUST REVIEW THE APPLICABLE FINAL TERMS TO ASCERTAIN WHAT THE RELEVANT REFERENCE ITEM(S) ARE AND TO SEE HOW THE CASH SETTLEMENT AMOUNT, FINAL REDEMPTION AMOUNT OR ENTITLEMENT, AS THE CASE MAY BE, PAYABLE AND/OR DELIVERABLE ON THE INSTRUMENTS AND ANY INTEREST PAYMENTS (IN THE CASE OF NOTES) OR ANY ADDITIONAL AMOUNT PAYMENTS (IN THE CASE OF W&C INSTRUMENTS) ARE DETERMINED AND WHEN SUCH AMOUNTS ARE PAYABLE AND/OR DELIVERABLE, AS THE CASE MAY BE, BEFORE MAKING ANY DECISION TO PURCHASE ANY INSTRUMENTS.

SUMMARY FOR FINSA PURPOSES

The following summary constitutes a summary within the meaning of articles 40(3) and 43 FinSA which is to be understood as an introduction to this Offering Circular and is qualified in its entirety by, and should be read in conjunction with, the more detailed information appearing elsewhere in this Offering Circular. In particular, investors should carefully consider the discussion of certain risks affecting the Issuers and the Guarantor under the section headed "Risk Factors" and the financial information included and/or incorporated by reference in this Offering Circular before making an investment decision. Investors have to base their investment decision on the information as set out in this Offering Circular in its entirety, including the documents incorporated by reference, and not merely on this summary.

Investors should be aware that pursuant to Article 69 FinSA the liability for the information contained in this summary is limited to instances where such information is misleading, inaccurate or inconsistent when read together with the other parts of the Offering Circular.

Capitalized terms, which are being used in this summary, but are not defined, have the meaning given to them elsewhere in this Offering Circular.

This summary has been prepared and is being provided solely for the purpose of and with respect to Instruments that are publicly offered in Switzerland and that do not fall within an exemption from the prospectus requirements under the ("Swiss Non-Exempt Public Offers"). This summary must not be used for any other purpose or in any other context than for which it is prepared and provided. This summary does not apply to, must not be used for or in connection with, and does not constitute, any offer or invitation for subscription of the Instruments to, or any solicitation by, any person in any jurisdiction other than Switzerland.

Key Information on the Instruments

The key information on the Instruments for a specific public offer of Instruments in Switzerland will be set out in the relevant Final Terms.

The relevant Final Terms for such Instruments will be filed with the Swiss Review Body and published in accordance with the FinSA as soon as the Final Terms for such Instrument are available. Such Final Terms are not subject to review or approval by the Swiss Review Body.

Key Information on the Public Offer

The key information on a specific public offer in Switzerland will be set out in the relevant Final Terms. The Instruments will not be admitted to trading on any trading venue in Switzerland.

Approval of Offering Circular

This Offering Circular has been dated and approved as a base prospectus on 15 May 2026 by SER in its capacity as review body pursuant to Article 52 of the FinSA.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Instruments involves substantial risks and is a riskier investment than an investment in ordinary debt or equity securities. The Instruments are not equivalent to investing directly in the Reference Items (if any).

Each of BAC (in its capacity as Issuer and in its capacity as Guarantor, with respect to Instruments other than Secured Instruments), BANA, BofA Finance and/or MLBV, as applicable, believes that the following factors, as applicable, may affect its ability to fulfil its obligations in respect of its relevant Instruments issued under the Programme, or the Guarantees, and/or are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with its Instruments issued under the Programme. All of these factors are contingencies which may or may not occur, and none of BAC, BANA, BofA Finance or MLBV is in a position to express a view on the likelihood of any such contingency occurring.

Each of BAC (in its capacity as Issuer and in its capacity as Guarantor, with respect to Instruments other than Secured Instruments), BANA, BofA Finance and MLBV believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in the relevant Instruments issued under the Programme as of the date of this Offering Circular, but the inability of the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor (if applicable) to pay any cash amounts or, in the case of MLBV, to deliver the Entitlement or, in the case of BAC as guarantor of Physical Delivery Instruments issued by MLBV, to pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount, may occur for other reasons, and none of BAC, BANA, BofA Finance or MLBV represents that the statements below regarding the risks of holding any such Instruments are exhaustive. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to any of BAC (in its capacity as Issuer and in its capacity as Guarantor, with respect to Instruments other than Secured Instruments), BANA, BofA Finance or MLBV or that any of BAC (in its capacity as Issuer and in its capacity as Guarantor, with respect to Instruments other than Secured Instruments), BANA, BofA Finance or MLBV currently believes to be immaterial could also have a material impact on their respective businesses, results of operations and financial conditions or the relevant Instruments. The Final Terms in respect of an issue of Instruments may contain additional Risk Factors in respect of such Instruments. Prospective investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this Offering Circular and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision. Whether certain factors apply to a particular issue of Instruments may be related to the relevant Issuer and/or the type, structure and applicable Conditions of such issue.

Terms used in this section and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings given to them in the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes", the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" or the "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments", as applicable (together the "Conditions" and references herein to "relevant Conditions" shall be construed accordingly).

Organisation of the Risk Factors

1. Risk Factors Relating to the Relevant Issuer's and (with respect to the Instruments other than Secured Instruments) the Guarantor's Ability to Fulfil Their Respective Obligations Under the Relevant Instruments or the Guarantees, as applicable
2. Risk Factors Relating to BAC and the Group and to the Group's Businesses and Industry
3. Risks Relating to the Instruments Generally
4. Risks Relating to Notes
5. Risks Relating to Exchangeable Notes

1. Risk Factors Relating to the Relevant Issuer's and (with respect to the Instruments other than Secured Instruments) the Guarantor's Ability to Fulfil Their Respective Obligations Under the Relevant Instruments or the Guarantees, as applicable

BAC is the ultimate parent company of the Bank of America group of companies (BAC and its consolidated subsidiaries, the "Group"). BANA, BofA Finance and MLBV are part of the Group, and, as such, may be affected by uncertain or unfavourable economic, market, legal and other conditions that are likely to affect BAC as a whole.

BofA Finance is a finance vehicle whose principal purpose is to provide BAC and/or BAC's other subsidiaries with financing by issuing debt securities to investors and lending the net proceeds therefrom to BAC and/or those subsidiaries. MLBV is a finance vehicle whose principal purpose is to raise debt or enter into financial contracts to assist the financing activities of its affiliates. Accordingly, neither BofA Finance nor MLBV has any trading assets or generates any significant net income.

The payment and non-cash delivery obligations under Instruments issued by MLBV (other than in respect of Secured Instruments, CMU Notes and Korean Notes) under the Programme are guaranteed unconditionally and irrevocably pursuant to, and subject to the terms of, the MLBV Guarantee. The payment obligations under the Notes issued by BofA Finance under the Programme are guaranteed unconditionally and irrevocably pursuant to, and subject to the terms of, the BofA Finance Guarantee. The payment and non-cash delivery obligations under the CMU Notes issued by MLBV under the Programme are guaranteed unconditionally and irrevocably pursuant to, and subject to the terms of, the CMU Notes Guarantee. The payment obligations under the Korean Notes issued by MLBV under the Programme are guaranteed unconditionally and irrevocably pursuant to, and subject to the terms of, the Korean Notes Guarantee. As a result, if the Guarantor's financial condition were to deteriorate, the value of such Instruments (other than Secured Instruments) may be adversely affected and BofA Finance, MLBV and investors in such Instruments (other than Secured Instruments) may suffer direct and materially adverse consequences. Accordingly, prospective investors in such Instruments (other than Secured Instruments) should review, inter alia, the factors below regarding BAC, the Group (as defined above) and the Group's businesses and industry, which may affect the relevant Issuer's ability to repay its obligations and BAC's ability to fulfil its obligations under the applicable Guarantee.

Payments on the Instruments are subject to the credit risk of the relevant Issuer and (other than in respect of Secured Instruments) BAC, in its capacity as the Guarantor, and actual or perceived changes in the relevant Issuer's or BAC's creditworthiness are expected to affect the value of the Instruments (other than Secured Instruments).

The amounts payable or, in the case of MLBV, deliverable on the Instruments at maturity, redemption, settlement, expiration, exercise or any payment date are dependent upon the ability of the relevant Issuer and (other than in respect of Secured Instruments) BAC, in its capacity as the Guarantor, to repay (or, in the case of Physical Delivery Instruments issued by MLBV, deliver) their respective obligations on the applicable maturity date, redemption date, settlement date, expiration date, exercise date or any payment date (as applicable). If the relevant Issuer and (other than in respect of Secured Instruments) BAC, in its capacity as the Guarantor, are not able to fulfil their respective obligations under the Instruments to Holders, investors will be unsecured (other than in respect of Secured Instruments) and will not have the protection of the FDIC, the U.S. Deposit Insurance Fund, the UK Financial Services Compensation Scheme or any other government or governmental agency, or insurance protection scheme in any jurisdiction. In such case, the return on the Instruments (other than Secured Instruments) will be reduced and may be zero. This will be the case even if the value of the Reference Item (if any) increases (or decreases, as the case may be) after the pricing date. No assurance can be given as to what the financial condition of the relevant Issuer or (other than in respect of Secured Instruments) BAC, in its capacity as the Guarantor, will be on the applicable maturity date, redemption date, settlement date, expiration date or exercise date. If the relevant Issuer and (other than in respect of Secured Instruments) BAC, in its capacity as Guarantor, become unable to meet their respective obligations under the Instruments at maturity, redemption, settlement, expiration, exercise or any payment date (as applicable), investors may not receive the amounts payable or, in the case of Physical Delivery Instruments issued by MLBV, deliverable under the terms of the Instruments.

Furthermore, the value of the Instruments (other than Secured Instruments) is expected to be affected, in part, by investors' general appraisal of the relevant Issuer's or BAC's creditworthiness and actual or anticipated changes in the relevant Issuer's or BAC's credit ratings prior to the maturity date, redemption date, settlement date, expiration date or exercise date (as applicable) may adversely affect the value of the Instruments (other than Secured Instruments). Such perceptions are generally influenced by the ratings accorded to BAC's outstanding securities by standard statistical rating services. A reduction (or anticipated reduction) in the rating, if any, accorded to outstanding debt securities of BAC by one of these rating agencies could result in a reduction in the trading value of the Instruments (other than Secured Instruments). As the return on the Instruments depends upon factors in addition to the ability of the relevant Issuer or (other than in respect of Secured Instruments) BAC, in its capacity as the Guarantor, to pay its respective obligations, an improvement in these credit ratings will not reduce the other investment risks related to such Instruments. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold any of the Instruments and may be subject to suspension, change, or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency.

BofA Finance is a finance subsidiary and, as such, has no independent assets, operations or revenues; MLBV is a finance vehicle and, as such, does not have any trading assets or generate significant income

BofA Finance is a finance subsidiary of BAC, has no operations other than those related to the issuance, administration and payment of its obligations under its securities that are guaranteed by BAC, including the Notes, and is dependent upon BAC and/or BAC's other subsidiaries to meet its obligations under the Notes in the ordinary course. However, BofA Finance will have no assets available for distributions to holders of its Notes if they make claims in respect of such Notes in a bankruptcy, resolution or similar proceeding. Accordingly, any recoveries by such holders in respect of such claims in any such proceeding will be limited to those available under BAC's guarantee of such BofA Finance Notes, and any obligations under that guarantee will rank equally in right of payment with all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BAC, except obligations that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law, and senior in right of payment to BAC's subordinated obligations. Holders of the BofA Finance Notes will have recourse only to a single claim against BAC and its assets under BAC's guarantee of such Notes, and holders of the BofA Finance Notes should accordingly assume that in any bankruptcy, resolution or similar proceeding, they would not have priority over, and should be treated equally with, the claims of all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BAC, including claims of holders of unsecured senior debt securities issued by BAC.

All material assets of MLBV are obligations of one or more Group companies. If BAC or any other Group companies incurs losses with respect to any of its activities (irrespective of whether those activities relate to MLBV or not) the ability of such company to fulfil its obligations to MLBV could be impaired, thereby exposing holders of Instruments issued by MLBV to a risk of loss.

The Notes are not deposits or savings accounts and are not insured by the FDIC or any other governmental agency or instrumentality. In addition, BANA's obligations under the Notes issued by it will not be guaranteed by BAC or any other entity.

The Notes are not deposits or savings accounts and are not insured by the FDIC or any other governmental agency or instrumentality. Although the payment obligations under the BofA Finance Notes are guaranteed by BAC, the BANA Notes are solely obligations of BANA and are not obligations of, or guaranteed by, any other entity, including BAC.

The BANA Notes are subordinated to the claims of BANA's depositors and certain other preferred claims.

BANA is an insured depository institution under applicable U.S. federal law. Under applicable U.S. law, in the event of BANA's liquidation or other resolution as an insured depository institution, the claims of its depositors (including claims by the FDIC, as the subrogee of insured depositors), certain claims for administrative expenses of the receiver and the claims of holders of secured obligations (to the extent of the value of the assets securing such obligations) are entitled to priority over the claims of BANA's other unsecured general or senior creditors (including holders of obligations such as the BANA Notes). In any of the foregoing events, BANA may not have sufficient assets to pay amounts due on the Notes. Consequently, if Holders of the Notes receive any payments, they may receive less than Holders of secured debt, depositors and other preferred claims.

The FDIC has broad powers as receiver for an insolvent insured depository institution to override the acceleration rights of the Holders.

Notwithstanding any provisions of the BANA Notes, if BANA were to become insolvent, the FDIC, as receiver of an insolvent insured depository institution, has the right to transfer or direct the transfer of the obligations of the BANA Notes to any entity selected by the FDIC, and such assuming institution shall expressly assume the obligation of the due and punctual payment of the unpaid principal, interest and premium, if any, on the BANA Notes and the due and punctual performance of all covenants and conditions. Any such transfer and assumption shall supersede and void any default, acceleration or subordination which may have occurred, or which may occur due or related to such transaction, plan, transfer or assumption, pursuant to the provisions of the BANA Notes; except that any interest and principal previously due, other than by reason of acceleration, and not paid shall, in the absence of a contrary agreement by the holder, be deemed to be immediately due and payable as of the date of such transfer and assumption, together with interest from its original due date at the applicable rate specified in the BANA Notes. In addition, the FDIC, as conservator or receiver, may disaffirm or repudiate any contract or lease to which BANA is a party, the performance of which is determined to be burdensome, and the disaffirmance or repudiation of which is determined to promote the orderly administration of BANA's affairs. If the FDIC was to successfully contend that its power to repudiate "contracts" extends to obligations such as the BANA Notes, the effect of any repudiation would be to accelerate the maturity of the BANA Notes.

BANA is subject to extensive regulatory requirements that may affect its ability to fulfil its obligations under the BANA Notes.

BANA is subject to regulation, supervision, and examination by the Office of the Comptroller of Currency (the "OCC") and the FDIC.

BANA is subject to the regulatory capital and liquidity rules issued by the Federal Reserve and the OCC, respectively, including the OCC's minimum risk-based capital and leverage ratio guidelines imposed on national banks, and U.S. Basel III rules. These rules are complex and are evolving as U.S. and international regulatory authorities propose new rules and enact amendments to existing rules. These continually evolving rules are likely to influence BANA's planning processes and may require additional regulatory capital and liquidity, as well as impose additional operational and compliance costs.

Additional information regarding the regulatory framework applicable to BANA is discussed in the BAC 2025 Annual Report under the heading "Item 1. Business" and in this Offering Circular under the heading "Bank of America, N.A. – Regulation and Supervision".

2. Risk Factors Relating to BAC and the Group and to the Group's Businesses and Industry

When used in this Offering Circular, and as required by the context, "BAC" may refer to Bank of America Corporation individually, Bank of America Corporation and its consolidated subsidiaries or certain of Bank of America Corporation's subsidiaries or affiliates, individually or collectively.

In the course of conducting its business operations, BAC is exposed to a variety of risks, some of which are inherent in the financial services industry and others of which are more specific to BAC's own businesses. Material risk factors, of which BAC is aware, that could affect BAC's businesses, results of operations and financial condition are described in the BAC 2025 Annual Report under the caption "Item 1A. Risk Factors". Additional factors that could affect BAC's businesses, results of operations and financial condition are discussed in the BAC 2025 Annual Report under the heading "Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and the BAC 31 March 2026 Quarterly Report under the heading "Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations".

Any risk factor described in the BAC 2025 Annual Report or in any of BAC's other SEC filings could by itself, or together with other factors, materially adversely affect BAC's liquidity, cash flows, competitive position, business, reputation, results of operations, capital position or financial condition, including by materially increasing BAC's expenses or decreasing BAC's revenues, which could result in material losses.

BAC's ability to make payments under its Guarantees or the BAC Notes will depend upon its receipt of funds from its subsidiaries, and applicable law and regulations, and actions taken under BAC's resolution plan, could restrict the ability of its subsidiaries to transfer such funds

BAC is a holding company and conducts substantially all of its operations through its subsidiaries. BAC's ability to make payments under its Guarantees or the BAC Notes, as applicable, depends upon its receipt from its subsidiaries of dividends and other distributions, loans, advances and other payments. Any inability of these subsidiaries to transfer funds, pay dividends or make payments to BAC may adversely affect its cash flow, liquidity and financial condition. Many of these subsidiaries, including bank and broker-dealer subsidiaries, are subject to laws that restrict dividend payments or authorise regulatory bodies to block or reduce the flow of funds from those subsidiaries to BAC or to its other subsidiaries. In addition, BAC's bank and broker-dealer subsidiaries are subject to restrictions on their ability to lend or transact with affiliates, minimum regulatory capital and liquidity requirements and restrictions on their ability to use funds deposited with them in bank or brokerage accounts to fund their businesses. Lower earnings in BAC's subsidiaries can reduce the amount of funds available to BAC as a holding company.

Adverse business and economic conditions, including changes in interest and currency exchange rates, illiquidity or volatility in areas where BAC has concentrated credit risk, and a failure in or breach of BAC's operational or security systems or infrastructure could affect BAC's businesses and results of operations. Intercompany arrangements BAC has entered into in connection with its resolution planning could restrict the amount of funding available to it from its subsidiaries under certain adverse conditions, as described below under "A resolution under BAC's 'single point of entry' resolution strategy could materially adversely affect BAC's liquidity and financial condition and BAC's ability to pay its obligations on its securities and its ability to make payments under the Guarantees or the BAC Notes, as applicable." These restrictions could prevent BAC's subsidiaries from paying dividends or making other distributions to BAC or otherwise providing funds to BAC that it needs in order to make payments under its Guarantees or the BAC Notes, as applicable. In addition, BAC's right to participate in any distribution of assets of any of its subsidiaries upon such subsidiary's liquidation or otherwise, will be subject to the prior claims of creditors of that subsidiary, except to the extent that any of BAC's claims as a creditor of such subsidiary may be recognised.

A resolution under BAC's single point of entry resolution strategy could materially adversely affect BAC's liquidity and financial condition and BAC's ability to pay its obligations on its securities and its ability to make payments under the Guarantees or the BAC Notes, as applicable

BAC, as the parent holding company, is required to submit a plan to the FDIC and the Federal Reserve Board every two years describing BAC's resolution strategy under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code in the event of material financial distress or failure. BAC's preferred resolution strategy is a "single point of entry" ("SPOE") strategy, whereby only BAC (the parent holding company) would file for bankruptcy under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. Certain key operating subsidiaries would be provided with sufficient capital and liquidity to operate through severe stress and to enable such subsidiaries to continue operating or be wound down in a solvent manner following a bankruptcy of BAC, as the parent holding company. BAC has entered into intercompany arrangements resulting in the contribution of most of its capital and liquidity to key subsidiaries. Pursuant to these arrangements, if BAC's liquidity resources deteriorate so severely that resolution becomes imminent, it will no longer be able to draw liquidity from its key subsidiaries and will be required to contribute its remaining financial assets to a wholly-owned holding company subsidiary. This could adversely affect BAC's liquidity and financial condition, including the ability to meet its payment obligations on its securities, including the BAC Notes and the Guarantees.

If the FDIC and the Federal Reserve Board jointly determine that BAC's resolution plan is not credible, they could impose more stringent capital or liquidity requirements or restrictions on BAC's growth, activities or operations. BAC could also be required to take certain actions that could impose operating costs and result in the divestiture of assets or restructuring of businesses and subsidiaries.

Under Title II of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 (the "Financial Reform Act"), when a global systemically important banking organisation ("G-SIB"), such as BAC, is in default or danger of default, the FDIC may be appointed as receiver to conduct an orderly liquidation and could, among other things, invoke the orderly liquidation authority, instead of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code, if the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Treasury makes certain financial distress and systemic risk determinations. Also, the FDIC could replace BAC with a bridge holding company, which could continue operations and result in an orderly resolution of the underlying bank, but whose equity would be held solely for the benefit of BAC's creditors. The FDIC's "single point of entry" strategy may result in holders of BAC's securities, including the BAC Notes or the Guarantees suffering greater losses than would have been the case under a bankruptcy proceeding or a different resolution strategy. If BAC is resolved under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or the FDIC's orderly liquidation authority, third-party creditors of BAC's subsidiaries may receive significant or full recoveries on their claims, while holders of BAC's securities, including the BAC Notes and the Guarantees, could face significant or complete losses.

If BAC enters a resolution proceeding, holders of BAC's debt securities, including the BAC Notes, and equity securities would be at risk of absorbing BAC's losses

If BAC enters a resolution proceeding under either the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or Title II of the Financial Reform Act, BAC's losses would be imposed first on holders of BAC's equity securities and thereafter on the holders of BAC's unsecured debt, including the BAC Notes, and some or all of such securities could be significantly reduced or eliminated as a result of such resolution proceeding.

Under BAC's SPOE resolution strategy, and the single point of entry strategy preferred by the FDIC under Title II of the Financial Reform Act, the value that would be distributed to holders of BAC's unsecured debt, including the BAC Notes, may not be sufficient to repay all or part of the principal amount and interest on such debt, and holders of such debt could receive no consideration at all under these resolution scenarios. Either of these resolution strategies could result in holders of BAC's debt securities being in a worse position and suffering greater losses than would have been the case under a different resolution strategy. Although SPOE is BAC's preferred resolution strategy, neither BAC nor a bankruptcy court would be obliged to follow BAC's SPOE strategy. Additionally, the FDIC is not obliged to follow its SPOE strategy to resolve BAC under Title II of the Financial Reform Act. For more information regarding the financial consequences of any such resolution proceeding, see "Bank of America Corporation – Financial Consequences to Unsecured Debtholders of Single Point of Entry Resolution Strategy".

BAC is subject to the Federal Reserve Board's final rules requiring holding companies of U.S. global systemically important banking organisations ("G-SIBs") to maintain minimum amounts of long-term debt meeting specified eligibility requirements

Under the rules of the Federal Reserve Board relating to total loss-absorbing capacity (the "TLAC Rules"), BAC, as a U.S. G-SIB, is required to, among other things, maintain minimum amounts of unsecured external long-term debt satisfying certain eligibility criteria ("eligible LTD") and other loss-absorbing capacity for the purpose of absorbing BAC's losses in a resolution proceeding under either the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or Title II of the Financial Reform Act. Any senior long-term debt issued must include terms required by the TLAC Rules in order to qualify as eligible LTD. Actions required to comply with the TLAC Rules could impact BAC's funding and liquidity risk management plans.

BAC's obligations on the BAC Notes and under the Guarantees will be structurally subordinated to liabilities of BAC's subsidiaries

Because BAC is a holding company, its right to participate in any distribution of the assets of any subsidiary (including BofA Finance, BANA and MLBV) upon such subsidiary's liquidation or reorganisation or otherwise, is subject to the prior claims of creditors of that subsidiary, except to the extent that BAC may itself be recognised as a creditor of that subsidiary. As a result, BAC's obligations under the BAC Notes or under the Guarantees will be structurally subordinated to all existing and future liabilities of BAC's subsidiaries, and claimants under the BAC Notes or the Guarantees should look only to BAC's assets for payment. Further creditors of BAC's subsidiaries recapitalised pursuant to BAC's resolution plan generally would be entitled to payment of their claims from the assets of the subsidiaries, including BAC's contributed assets. In addition, any obligations of BAC under the BAC Notes and the Guarantees will be unsecured and, therefore, in a bankruptcy or similar proceeding, will effectively rank junior to BAC's secured obligations to the extent of the value of the assets securing such obligations.

Holders of the BAC Notes and claimants under the Guarantees could be at greater risk of being structurally subordinated if BAC sells or conveys all or substantially all of its assets to one or more of its majority-owned subsidiaries

If BAC sells or conveys all or substantially all of its assets to one or more direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiaries of BAC, the subsidiary or subsidiaries will not be required to assume BAC's obligations under the BAC Notes or the Guarantees, and BAC will remain the sole obligor on such BAC Notes and the Guarantees. In such event, creditors of any such subsidiary or subsidiaries would have additional assets from which to recover on their claims while holders of BAC Notes and claimants under the Guarantees would be structurally subordinated to creditors of such subsidiary or subsidiaries with respect to such assets.

The U.S. banking regulators have adopted rules mandating the inclusion of contractual stay provisions in certain financial contracts, which are intended to mitigate the risk of destabilising closeouts of such contracts on the resolution of BAC and its subsidiaries. The inclusion of these provisions into the Instruments could materially adversely affect the rights of Holders against the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor or, in the case of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in a resolution scenario

In the fall of 2017, the Federal Reserve Board, the FDIC and the U.S. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency issued rules ("QFC Stay Rules") designed to improve the resolvability and resilience of U.S.

G-SIBs and the U.S. operations of foreign G-SIBs, by mitigating the risk of destabilising closeouts of qualified financial contracts ("QFCs") in resolution. BAC and its subsidiaries, including BANA, BofA Finance, MLBV and MLI as the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, are "covered entities" subject to the QFC Stay Rules. Certain of the Instruments, the Guarantees and the Collateral Transaction Documents for Secured Instruments may qualify as QFCs.

The QFC Stay Rules seek to eliminate impediments to the orderly resolution of a G-SIB both in a scenario where resolution proceedings are instituted by the U.S. regulatory authorities under the U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Act or the Orderly Liquidation Authority under Title II of the Financial Reform Act ("OLA") (together, the "U.S. Special Resolution Regimes"), as well as in a scenario where the G-SIB is resolved under ordinary insolvency proceedings under applicable bankruptcy or insolvency laws. To address this, the QFC Stay Rules require covered entities to ensure that their QFCs subject to the QFC Stay Rules (i) contain an express contractual recognition of the statutory stay-and-transfer provisions of the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes and (ii) do not contain cross-default rights against the covered entity based on an affiliate becoming subject to any type of insolvency proceeding or restrictions on the transfer of any related credit enhancements (including a guarantee) issued by an affiliate of the covered entity following that affiliate's entry into insolvency proceedings.

Acknowledgement of U.S. Special Resolution Regimes

To address the QFC Stay Rules requirements, the Instruments contain an express contractual recognition that in the event the Issuer, the Guarantor or, in the case of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, the transfer of the Instruments, the Guarantees or the Collateral Transaction Documents will be effective to the same extent as the transfer would be effective under such U.S. Special Resolution Regime. In addition, the Instruments contain an express contractual recognition that in the event the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider or any of their affiliates becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, default rights against the Issuer, the Guarantor or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider with respect to the Instruments, the Guarantees or the Collateral Transaction Documents are permitted to be exercised to no greater extent than they could be exercised under such U.S. Special Resolution Regime. For this purpose, "default rights" include the right to terminate, liquidate or accelerate a QFC or demand payment or delivery thereunder, and may, therefore, include the right of a Holder to exercise an American Style Warrant or to exercise an Investor Put.

Under current law, BAC, as a Delaware corporation and U.S. entity, and its subsidiaries, BANA, as a national banking association and BofA Finance LLC, as a Delaware limited liability company and U.S. entity, are eligible to be placed into proceedings under OLA if certain determinations are made by the applicable U.S. regulatory authorities. However, MLBV, and MLI, as the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, are not eligible to be placed into proceedings under the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes as each is a non-U.S. entity. For more information, please see the risk factors "A resolution under BAC's single point of entry resolution strategy could materially adversely affect BAC's liquidity and financial condition and BAC's ability to pay its obligations on its securities and its ability to make payments under the Guarantees or the BAC Notes, as applicable" and "If BAC enters a resolution proceeding, holders of BAC's debt securities, including the BAC Notes, and equity securities would be at risk of absorbing BAC's losses", "Resolution Planning" on pages 5 to 6 of the BAC 2025 Annual Report on Form 10-K, "Insolvency and the Orderly Liquidation Authority" on page 6 of the BAC 2025 Annual Report on Form 10-K and the risk factors under the caption "Item 1A Risk Factors – Liquidity" on pages 9 to 11 of the BAC 2025 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

If an investor is in any doubt about the effect of any proceedings under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime on such Instruments, such investor should take advice from such professional advisers as it deems necessary.

In an Insolvency, there may be a transfer of the Guarantees and other Credit Enhancements and cross-default rights may be eliminated

The Instruments explicitly provide that the Guarantees and the Collateral Transaction Documents may be transferred to another entity as transferee upon or following the Guarantor or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider becoming subject to a resolution, restructuring, reorganisation or similar proceeding (an "Insolvency Proceeding"). This is not limited to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, and would also include, for example, a proceeding under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy

Code. It is possible, although not required, that in connection with a resolution or restructuring of the Guarantor or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Guarantor or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider (or the relevant insolvency official) may seek to transfer certain of its guarantee or other credit support obligations to another entity.

In addition, the Secured Instruments explicitly provide that a Holder will not be permitted to exercise any default right with respect to any Secured Instrument or the related Collateral Transaction Documents that is related, directly or indirectly, to an affiliate of the Issuer becoming subject to an Insolvency Proceeding. This would include an Insolvency Proceeding with respect to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider. However, there is an exception to this limitation where the default right arises as a result of (i) the Issuer becoming subject to an Insolvency Proceeding, (ii) the Issuer not satisfying a payment or delivery obligation pursuant to such Secured Instrument, or (iii) the failure of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, or any transferee thereof, to satisfy a payment or delivery obligation pursuant to the Collateral Transaction Documents or any other credit enhancement that supports the Secured Instrument. After an affiliate of the Issuer becomes subject to an Insolvency Proceeding, a Holder seeking to exercise a default right against the Issuer with respect to the Secured Instrument or the Collateral Transaction Documents shall have the burden of proof, by clear and convincing evidence, that the exercise of such a default right is permitted thereunder. For this purpose, the definition of default right would not include an on-demand termination right, such as the exercise of an American Style Warrant or an Investor Put.

Holders may be affected by the risk that the obligations of the Guarantor or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may be transferred to another entity in the event the Guarantor or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider enters into resolution, restructuring or similar proceedings or that the obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantees or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider under the Collateral Transaction Documents will not be transferred to another entity while other liabilities and assets of the Guarantor or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider are transferred in connection with such measures

Investors should be aware that the taking of resolution measures with respect to the Guarantor or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider or even the suggestion of the potential taking of resolution measures in respect of the Guarantor or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider could have a material adverse effect on the rights of Holders, and could lead to a loss of some or all of the investment. Holders may not be able to anticipate the exercise of any resolution measures and will have very limited rights to challenge such measures, even where such measures have resulted in the transfer of the Guarantees or the Collateral Transaction Documents.

3. Risks Relating to the Instruments Generally

Investors risk losing all of their investment in the Instruments

Potential investors should be aware that depending on the terms of the relevant Instruments (i) they may receive no or a limited amount of interest, (ii) payments may occur at a different time than expected and (iii) except in the case of Instruments that are structured to pay a minimum amount equal to (or nearly equal to) the amount invested on the maturity date/settlement date, they may lose all or a substantial portion of their investment if the value of the Reference Item(s) does not move in the anticipated direction.

Investors in Instruments, which are structured to pay a minimum amount equal to (or nearly equal to) the amount invested on the maturity date/settlement date, may still be subject to loss of some or all of their investment if the relevant Issuer and (if applicable) the Guarantor are subject to bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings or some other event occurs which impairs the ability of the relevant entity to meet its obligations under the Instruments and (if applicable) the Guarantees. An investor may also lose some or all of its investment if it seeks to sell the relevant Instruments prior to their scheduled maturity or settlement, and the sale price of the Instruments in the secondary market is less than the initial investment or the relevant Instruments are subject to certain adjustments in accordance with the terms and conditions of such Instruments that may result in the scheduled amount to be paid or, in the case of MLBV, asset(s) to be delivered upon redemption or settlement being reduced to or being valued at an amount less than an investor's initial investment.

The Instruments may not be a suitable investment for all investors

Each potential investor in the Instruments must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

- (a) have sufficient knowledge and experience to evaluate the Instruments, the merits and risks of investing in the Instruments and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Offering Circular or any applicable supplement and all the information contained in the applicable Final Terms;
- (b) have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the Instruments and the impact the Instruments will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- (c) have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Instruments, including Instruments with amounts payable in one or more currencies, or where the Settlement Currency or Specified Currency of the Instruments is different from the potential investor's currency;
- (d) have knowledge of and access to appropriate analytical resources to analyse quantitatively the effect (or value) of any redemption, cap, floor, or other features of the Instruments, and the resulting impact upon the value of the Instruments;
- (e) understand thoroughly the terms of the Instruments and be familiar with any relevant indices and financial markets; and
- (f) be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

The Instruments are complex financial instruments. A potential investor should not invest in Instruments unless it has the expertise (either alone or with a financial adviser) to evaluate how such Instruments will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of those Instruments and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio.

In addition, an investment in Index Linked Instruments, Share Linked Instruments, GDR/ADR Linked Instruments, FX Linked Instruments, Commodity Linked Instruments, Fund Linked Instruments, Inflation Linked Instruments, Credit Linked Instruments, Saudi Share Linked Warrants, Preference Share Linked Notes, Bond Linked Instruments or other Reference Item Linked Instruments, may entail significant risks not associated with investments in conventional securities such as debt or equity securities, including, but not limited to, the risks set out in "Risks relating to the Structure of a Particular Issue of Instruments" below.

The Instruments (other than Secured Instruments) are unsecured obligations

Save in respect of Secured Instruments (in respect of which see "Risks relating to Secured Instruments" below), the Instruments issued by MLBV constitute direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured obligations of MLBV and rank equally among themselves and rank equally (subject to exceptions as are from time to time provided by applicable laws) with all other present and future direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured indebtedness or obligations, as applicable, of MLBV.

The Notes issued by BAC will constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BAC and will rank equally with all of BAC's other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations from time to time outstanding, except obligations that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law. See "Risk Factors Relating to BAC and the Group and to the Group's Businesses and Industry" above and "Bank of America Corporation – Financial Consequences to Unsecured Debtholders of Single Point of Entry Resolution Strategy".

The Notes issued by BANA will constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BANA and will rank equally with all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BANA from time to time outstanding, except obligations, including deposit liabilities, that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law.

The Notes issued by BofA Finance will constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BofA Finance and will rank equally with all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BofA Finance from time to time outstanding, except obligations that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law.

The obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantees, save for such exceptions as may be provided by applicable laws and regulations or judicial order, will rank pari passu with its other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations.

The yield on the Instruments may be less than the yield on a conventional debt security of comparable maturity

Any yield that an investor may receive on the Instruments, which may be negative, may be less than the return an investor would earn if the investor purchased a conventional debt security with the same maturity date. As a result, an investment in the Instruments may not reflect the full opportunity cost to an investor when factors that affect the time value of money, such as inflation, are considered. Investors should consider such factors before deciding to purchase Instruments.

Inflation may adversely affect the return on the Instruments

The real return (or yield) on an investment in the Instruments may be reduced by inflation. Consequently, the higher the rate of inflation, the lower the real yield on any Instrument will be.

If the terms and conditions of the Instruments provide that some or all of the principal shall be repaid at maturity, such scheduled principal repayment will not provide protection from the effect of inflation. After adjustment for inflation, the real return (or yield) on the Instruments at maturity could be negative.

More generally, if the inflation rate is equal to or greater than the yield under an Instrument, the real yield a holder of such Instrument will achieve may be zero or even negative.

Accordingly, inflation may have a negative effect on the value of and return on the Instruments. Holders should consider the potential impact of inflation (including if the rate of inflation is anticipated to rise over the term of the Instruments) before purchasing the Instruments.

Movements in the level or price of a Reference Item (if any) will affect the performance of the Instruments

The level or price of the Reference Item may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices and the timing of changes in the relevant level or price of the Reference Item (if any). This may affect the actual yield to investors, even if the average level or price of the Reference Item (if any) during the life of the Instruments is consistent with investors' expectations. In general, the earlier the change in the level or price of the Reference Item (if any), the greater the effect on the yield of the Instruments.

Leverage will magnify the effect of changes in the Reference Item

If the formula used to determine any amount payable and/or non-cash consideration deliverable contains a multiplier or leverage factor, then the percentage change in the value of the Instrument will be greater than any positive and/or negative performance of the Reference Item(s). As such, a leverage feature can magnify losses in adverse market conditions or reduce positive gains in positive market conditions. Any Instruments which include such multiplier or leverage factor represent a very speculative and risky form of investment since any change in the value of the Reference Item(s) carries the risk of a correspondingly higher change in the value of the Instruments.

For Tranche Portfolio CLNs, the Implicit Portfolio Size of the Reference Portfolio is likely to be significantly larger than the nominal amount of the Notes. Accordingly, the credit risk of investors in the Notes in relation to the Reference Portfolio is leveraged. The value of such Notes may be more volatile, and credit losses in respect of such Notes may be greater than would be the case in the absence of such leverage. The value of such Notes may also be adversely affected by changes in the relative value of different tranches of credit risk on the Reference Portfolio. Such relative value changes may occur as a result of, for example, changes in assumptions used by market participants to model the credit risk of the Reference Portfolio, as well as changes in the supply of and demand for credit protection in relation to each such tranche.

A postponement of valuation or determination due to a Market Disruption Event and Disrupted Day may have an adverse effect on the value of the Instruments

If the Instruments include provisions dealing with the occurrence of a Market Disruption Event or a failure of an exchange or related exchange to open on a Valuation Date, an Averaging Date, a Pricing Date or other observation date on which the level, price, rate or other value of the relevant Reference Item is to be observed and the Calculation Agent determines that a Market Disruption Event or such failure has occurred or exists on any relevant date, any consequential postponement of the relevant date or any alternative provisions for valuation provided in the Instruments may have an adverse effect on the value of the Instruments or of any amounts payable (or deliverable, as applicable) under the Instruments.

The occurrence of a Payment Disruption Event may lead to a delayed and/or physical delivery and/or payment in an alternate currency to the specified currency or settlement currency of the Instruments

If a Payment Disruption Event is applicable to an Instrument, as specified in the applicable Final Terms, then, in the event that the Calculation Agent determines, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, that an event that (i) prevents, restricts or delays the relevant Issuer from converting or delivering relevant currencies, (ii) imposes capital or exchange controls or (iii) implements changes to laws relating to foreign investment (a "Payment Disruption Event") has occurred, then the relevant exercise or payment date (as applicable) in respect of the Instruments may be postponed until the earlier of (i) five Business Days (or such other number of Business Days as may be determined by the Issuer and notified to Holders) after the date on which the Payment Disruption Event is no longer occurring and (ii) five Business Days following the Payment Event Cut-Off Date (the "Postponed Date"). No accrued interest will be payable in respect of any such postponement and no Event of Default in respect of the Instruments will result from such postponement.

Notwithstanding the Issuer's right to postpone the relevant exercise or payment date (as applicable) in respect of the Instruments, the Issuer may (i) make payment(s) in an alternate currency to the specified currency or settlement currency of the Instruments, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, or (ii) in the case of Share Linked Instruments or Index Linked Instruments, deliver Shares or Fund Shares (as applicable) in lieu of cash settlement. In such scenarios, the Issuer's obligations under the Instruments shall be satisfied and discharged in full and no further amounts shall be due and payable by the Issuer in respect thereof. Therefore, the return on the Instruments may be negatively affected if:

- (a) payment(s) made in an alternate currency are less than if such payment(s) were made in the anticipated specified currency or settlement currency due to unfavourable conversion rates into such alternate currency, or
- (b) the Shares or Fund Shares (as applicable) to be delivered are worthless, or the Holder is exposed to fluctuations in the price of the Shares or Fund Shares (as applicable) to be delivered after the date of the determination to make such delivery in lieu of cash settlement until their actual respective delivery. Additionally, the Holder may be unable to sell such Shares or Fund Shares (as applicable), or may be unable to sell them at a price equal to the cash payment that would have been payable but for the occurrence of the Payment Disruption Event.

Alternatively, partial payments or physical delivery of (i) Shares in lieu of cash settlement of Share Linked Instruments or (ii) Fund Shares in lieu of cash settlement of Index Linked Instruments (where "Physical Settlement" is specified as applicable to the Index Linked Conditions in the relevant Final Terms) may, in the relevant Issuer's determination (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner), be made during such period (after deduction for any expenses).

In the event that a Payment Disruption Event is still continuing on the Payment Event Cut-Off Date, then the relevant Issuer may make payments in an alternate currency and shall have no further obligations under the Instruments.

Therefore, in a case where Payment Disruption Event is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, such amounts payable to the Holder may be lower than expected due to unfavourable conversion rates into such other currency.

The occurrence of a CNY Payment Disruption Event may lead to a delayed and/or payment in another currency

If a CNY Payment Disruption Event is applicable to an Instrument, as specified in the applicable Final Terms, then, in the event that the Calculation Agent determines, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, that any of the following events has occurred: (i) an event that makes it impossible or impractical for the relevant Issuer to convert any amounts in CNY due in respect of the Instruments in the general CNY foreign exchange market in the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s), (ii) an event that makes it impossible or impractical for the relevant Issuer to deliver CNY between accounts inside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s) or from an account inside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s) to an account outside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s) or from an account outside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s) to an account inside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s), or (iii) the general CNY foreign exchange market in the relevant CNY Settlement Centre becomes illiquid as a result of which the relevant Issuer cannot obtain sufficient CNY in order to satisfy its payment obligations (in whole or in part) under the Instruments (each, a "CNY Payment Disruption Event"), then the relevant exercise or payment date (as applicable) in respect of the Instruments may be postponed until the earlier of (i) five Business Days (or such other number of Business Days as may be determined by the Issuer and notified to Holders) after the date on which the CNY Payment Disruption Event is no longer occurring or (ii) five Business Days following the Payment Event Cut-Off Date. No accrued interest will be payable in respect of any such postponement and no Event of Default in respect of the Instruments will result from such postponement.

If "Payment of Equivalent Amount" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the relevant Issuer may make payment of the equivalent amount of the relevant Interest Amount, Fixed Coupon Amount, Final Redemption Amount, Additional Amount, Cash Settlement Amount or other amount payable under the Instruments in another currency as specified in the applicable Final Terms and such amounts payable to the Holder may be lower than expected due to unfavourable conversion rates into such other currency.

In the event that a CNY Payment Disruption Event is still continuing on the Payment Event Cut-Off Date, then the relevant Issuer may make payments in an alternate currency and shall have no further obligations under the Instruments and such amounts payable to the Holder may be lower than expected due to unfavourable conversion rates into such other currency.

Risks relating to Instruments denominated in CNY

All payments in CNY under the Instruments will be made solely by credit or transfer to a CNY account maintained by the payee with a bank in the CNY Settlement Centre in accordance with the prevailing rules and regulations and in accordance with the Conditions. The relevant Issuer shall not be required to make payment by any other means (including in any other currency or in bank notes, by check or draft or by transfer to a bank account in the People's Republic of China (excluding the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, the Macau Special Administrative Region and Taiwan) ("PRC") or anywhere else other than the CNY Settlement Centre).

CNY is not completely freely convertible at present. The PRC government continues to regulate conversion between CNY and foreign currencies despite the significant reduction over the years by such government of its control over routine foreign exchange transactions under current accounts. However, remittance of CNY by foreign investors into the PRC for purposes such as capital contributions, known as capital account items, is generally only permitted upon obtaining specific approvals from, or completing specific registrations or filings with, the relevant authorities on a case-by-case basis and subject to a strict monitoring system. Regulations in the PRC on the remittance of CNY into the PRC for settlement of capital account items are developing gradually.

There is only limited availability of CNY outside the PRC, which may affect the liquidity of the Instruments and the Issuer's ability to source CNY outside the PRC to fulfil its payment obligations under the Instruments. As a result of the restrictions by the PRC government on cross-border CNY fund flows, the availability of CNY outside the PRC is limited. While the People's Bank of China (the "PBoC") has entered into agreements on the clearing of CNY business with financial institutions in a number of financial centres and cities (the "CNY Clearing Banks") including, but not limited to, Hong Kong and are in the process of establishing CNY clearing and settlement mechanisms in several other jurisdictions (the "Settlement Arrangements"), the current size of CNY-denominated financial assets outside the PRC is limited. There are also restrictions imposed by the PBoC on CNY business participating banks in respect of cross-border CNY settlement, such as those relating to direct transactions with PRC enterprises. CNY business participating banks do not have direct CNY liquidity support from the PBoC.

The CNY Clearing Banks only have access to onshore liquidity support from the PBoC for the purpose of squaring open positions of participating banks for limited types of transactions, including open positions resulting from conversion services for corporations relating to cross-border trade settlement. The relevant CNY Clearing Bank is not obliged to square for participating banks any open positions as a result of other foreign exchange transactions or conversion services and the participating banks will need to source CNY from outside the PRC to square such open positions.

Although it is expected that the offshore CNY market will continue to grow in depth and size, its growth is subject to many constraints as a result of PRC laws and regulations on foreign exchange. There is no assurance that no new PRC regulations will be promulgated or the Settlement Arrangements with the CNY Clearing Banks will not be terminated or amended in the future which will have the effect of restricting availability of CNY offshore. The limited availability of CNY outside the PRC may affect the liquidity of Instruments denominated in CNY. To the extent the Issuer is required to source CNY in the offshore market to service the Instruments, there is no assurance that the Issuer will be able to source such CNY on satisfactory terms, if at all.

The value of CNY against foreign currencies fluctuates and is affected by changes in the People's Republic of China and international political and economic conditions and by many other factors. As a result, foreign exchange fluctuations between an investor's home currency and CNY may affect investors who intend to convert gains or losses from the sale or redemption of the Instruments into their home currency. Developments and the perception of risks in other countries, especially emerging market countries, may adversely affect the exchange rates of CNY against other foreign currencies.

The PRC government has gradually liberalised the regulation of interest rates in recent years. Further liberation may increase interest rate volatility. Instruments denominated in CNY may carry a fixed interest rate. Consequently, the trading price of such CNY Instruments will vary with fluctuations in interest rates. A holder of Instruments denominated in CNY may receive less than the amount invested if it seeks to sell the Instruments prior to their scheduled maturity and the sale price of the Instruments in the secondary market is less than the investor's initial investment.

If a Currency Substitution Event with respect to the Instruments occurs, adjustments may be made to the economic terms of the Instruments which may result in a reduced investment return

In the event of a Currency Substitution Event in respect of Notes: (a) issued by BAC, BAC may undertake any currency conversion as it determines appropriate based on relevant factors; (b) issued by MLBV or BofA Finance, the relevant Issuer may make adjustments to the economic terms of the relevant Notes, including, without limitation, to the exercise, settlement, valuation, calculation and payment terms, in either case, to preserve the economic terms of the Notes or account for the material adverse effect on related hedging arrangements; or (c) issued by any relevant Issuer, such relevant Issuer may redeem the Notes early on such day as shall be notified to the Holders at an early redemption amount that accounts for the Currency Substitution Event.

In the event of a Currency Substitution Event in respect of W&C Instruments, MLBV may (a) make adjustments to the economic terms of the relevant W&C Instruments, including, without limitation, to the exercise, settlement, valuation, calculation and payment terms to preserve the economic terms of the W&C Instruments or account for the material adverse effect on related hedging arrangements, or (b) settle the W&C Instruments early on such day as shall be notified to the Holders at an early settlement amount that accounts for the Currency Substitution Event.

Any such action may reduce the value of the Instruments and may result in the amounts paid or non-cash consideration delivered under the Instruments being less than what would have been paid or delivered if the adjustments had not been made or the early redemption or settlement (as applicable) had not occurred, and may be less, or significantly less, than the initial investment.

The relevant Issuer may make certain modifications to the Instruments or the applicable Agency Agreement without the consent of the Holders

The Conditions provide that in the case of Instruments, the relevant Agent and the relevant Issuer may, without the consent of Holders, agree to any modification which in the opinion of the relevant Issuer is (a) not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Holders, (b) of a formal, minor or technical nature,

(c) made to correct a manifest or proven error or omission or (d) made to comply with mandatory provisions of law.

In the case of the applicable Agency Agreement, the relevant Agent and the relevant Issuer may, without the consent of Holders, agree to (i) any modification or amendment (subject to certain specific exceptions) of the applicable Agency Agreement which is, in the opinion of the relevant Issuer, (a) not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Holders, (b) of a formal, minor or technical nature, (c) made to correct a manifest or proven error or omission or (d) made to comply with mandatory provisions of law.

At meetings of Holders, the decision of the majority will bind all Holders

The applicable Agency Agreement and the Conditions contain provisions for calling meetings of Holders to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Holders, including Holders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and Holders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority.

The applicable Agency Agreement and the Conditions also contain provisions that allow Holders to consider certain matters affecting their interests generally through a written consent of the Holders. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Holders, including Holders who did not vote on the written consent and Holders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority on the relevant written consent.

At meetings of Holders and in a written consent of the Holders, the decision of the requisite majority will bind all relevant Holders, even if such Holder disagrees with such decision, or such modification or amendment has an adverse effect of the affected Instruments, and any nonconsenting Holder will have no recourse, other than to attempt to sell its affected Instruments.

There may be conflicts of interest between the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or their respective Affiliates and the Holders

The relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or any of their respective Affiliates or agents may engage in activities (including financial or other business transactions) that may result in conflicts of interests between their and their respective Affiliates' or agents' financial interests on the one hand and the interests of the Holders on the other hand. In the ordinary course of their business activities, the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or any of their respective Affiliates or agents may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. These investments and securities activities may involve securities and/or instruments of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) or their Affiliates and could influence secondary trading (if any) in such securities and/or instruments, or otherwise could be adverse to the interests of a beneficial owner of such securities and/or instruments. The relevant Dealer or its Affiliates that have a lending relationship with the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor (if applicable) routinely hedge their credit exposure to the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor (if applicable) consistent with their customary risk management policies. The relevant Dealer or its Affiliates may also make investment recommendations and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of the Reference Item(s) underlying any Instruments or other instruments and may hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long and/or short positions in such Reference Item(s) or instruments.

In addition, the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or their Affiliates may also engage in trading activities (including hedging activities) related to the Reference Item(s) underlying any Instruments and other instruments or derivative products based on or related to the Reference Item(s) underlying any Instruments for their proprietary accounts or for other accounts under their management. These trading activities may present a conflict of interest between Holders of the Instruments and the interests of the relevant Issuer, Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer or their respective affiliates, as applicable. These trading activities, if they influence the price/value of the Reference Item(s) underlying the Instruments or secondary trading (if any) in the Instruments, could be adverse to Holders' interests as an owner of such Instruments. The relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or any of their respective Affiliates or agents may also issue other derivative instruments in respect of the Reference Item(s) underlying Instruments. The relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or any of their respective Affiliates or agents may also act as underwriter in connection with future offerings of Shares or other securities related to an issue of Instruments or may act as financial adviser to certain companies whose Shares or other securities are included in a basket of Shares or other securities or which are reference entities, or in a commercial banking capacity for any such companies. Such activities could present certain conflicts of interest, could influence the prices of such Shares or other securities and could adversely affect the value of such Instruments.

From time to time during the term of any Instruments and in connection with the determination of the payments on the Instruments, the relevant Issuer or its Affiliates also may enter into hedging transactions or adjust or close out existing hedging transactions. The relevant Issuer or its Affiliates also may enter into hedging transactions relating to other Instruments that the relevant Issuer may issue, some of which may have returns calculated in a manner related to that of a particular Series of Instruments. The relevant Issuer or its Affiliates will price these hedging transactions with the intent to realise a profit, considering the risks inherent in these hedging activities, whether the value of the Instruments increases or decreases. However, these hedging activities may result in a profit that is more or less than initially expected, or could result in a loss.

Where the Instruments are offered to third parties, as the Dealer(s) and any distributors act pursuant to a mandate granted by the relevant Issuer and they receive fees on the basis of the services performed and the outcome of the placement of the Instruments, potential conflicts of interest could arise.

In addition, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Calculation Agent is an Affiliate of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor (if applicable) and in such capacity may make certain determinations and calculate amounts payable or deliverable to Holders. The Calculation Agent may make such determinations using data which is not easily obtainable by a Holder of the Instruments. Under certain circumstances, the Calculation Agent, as an Affiliate of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor (if applicable), having to fulfil its responsibilities as calculation agent for the Instruments could give rise to potential conflicts of interest between the Calculation Agent and the Holders, especially as BAC controls the Calculation Agent. None of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) or any of their Affiliates will have any obligation to consider the interests of the Holders in taking any action that might affect the value of the Instruments.

In addition, if the Instruments are linked to a proprietary index, such index will generally be developed, owned, calculated and maintained by MLI, BofASE or their respective Affiliates, which would be responsible for the composition, calculation and maintenance of such index. Potential conflicts of interest may exist in the internal teams and divisions of MLI, BofASE or their respective Affiliates. For example, one team may calculate and publish the level of the proprietary index, while another team within the organisation may issue or promote/sell products linked to such index or the underlying index components. In addition, a further team within the organisation may have trading positions in or relating to instruments and assets to which the performance of the proprietary index is directly or indirectly linked (including any underlying index component). In addition, the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), MLI, BofASE or their respective Affiliates may be active and significant participants in, or act as market maker in relation to, a wide range of markets for currencies, commodities, securities and derivatives. Such activities may be undertaken on such a scale as to affect, either temporarily or on a longer term basis, the price of such investments which may impact adversely the level of the proprietary index and therefore, the value of, and returns on, the Instruments. None of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer, MLI, BofASE or their respective agents or Affiliates will have any duty or obligation to take into account any impact on the performance of the proprietary index when effecting transactions in such markets. In addition, MLI or BofASE as the index sponsor and index calculation agent, or Affiliates of MLI or BofASE may enter into transactions referencing or relating to the proprietary index with one or more counterparties or may engage in proprietary trading in such index or securities, options, futures, derivatives or other instruments relating to such proprietary index or the underlying index components (including such trading as it or its Affiliates deems appropriate, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, to hedge its market risk with respect to such proprietary index or any transaction relating to such index) for their accounts, for business reasons, or for other accounts under its or their management. MLI or BofASE, as index sponsor, and its Affiliates may enter into such hedging transactions with a view to a profit or other financial gain. In addition, any such trading may affect the level of the proprietary index and consequently, the amounts payable or deliverable under any Instrument referencing or relating to such index. Such trading may be effected at any time, including on or near determination, setting, resetting or other calculation dates for the proprietary index or the underlying index components, or the pricing, setting or resetting of any other valuation dates for any Instrument linked to such index.

Any additional risk factors relating to additional conflicts of interest with respect to a specific Series of Instruments will be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

The secondary market price of the Instruments may be less than the Issue Price

Investors should note that, in certain circumstances immediately following the issue of the Instruments or at any time prior to maturity, the secondary market price of the Instruments may be less than the Issue Price, reflecting the fees to be paid to distributor(s) included in the Issue Price, hedging and other costs for the Instruments, if applicable, changes to the relevant Issuer's or (if applicable) the Guarantor's credit spreads and changes in the level of the Reference Item. These factors, together with various credit, market and economic factors over the term of the Instruments, are expected to reduce the price at which an investor may be able to sell the Instruments in any secondary market and will affect the value of the Instruments in complex and unpredictable ways. See also "There may be conflicts of interest between the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or their respective Affiliates and Holders" above.

A Holder may not receive the Entitlement relating to a Physical Delivery Instrument issued by MLBV if it fails to deliver the required notice and pay Expenses relating to such Physical Delivery Instrument

In order to receive the Entitlement in respect of a Physical Delivery Note issued by MLBV, the holder of such Note must (i) duly deliver to the Clearing System and/or Paying Agents, as specified in the Final Terms, a duly completed Asset Transfer Notice on or prior to the relevant time on the Cut-Off Date and (ii) pay the relevant Expenses. As used in the Conditions, "Expenses" includes any applicable depositary charges, transaction or exercise charges, stamp duty reserve tax, issue, registration, securities transfer and/or other taxes arising from the redemption, exercise and settlement (as applicable) of such Instruments and/or the delivery of the Entitlement.

In order to receive the Entitlement in respect of a Physical Delivery W&C Instrument issued by MLBV, the holder of such W&C Instrument must (i) deliver or send to the Clearing System and/or Paying Agents, as specified in the Final Terms, (a) a duly completed Exercise Notice on or prior to the relevant time on the Expiration Date (in the case of a Warrant) or (b) a duly completed Collection Notice on or prior to the relevant time on the Cut-Off Date (in the case of a Certificate) and (ii) pay the relevant Expenses.

Failure by a Holder properly to complete and deliver an Asset Transfer Notice, Exercise Notice or Collection Notice, as the case may be, or to procure that its agent does so on its behalf, may result in such notice being treated as null and void. This may result in a delay in delivery of the Entitlement, or MLBV being unable to deliver the Entitlement. Failure to pay the Expenses will have the same consequences to a Holder.

In the case of Physical Delivery Instruments issued by MLBV, settlement may be delayed or made in cash if certain events arise

In the case of Physical Delivery Instruments (other than Credit Linked Instruments) issued by MLBV, if a Settlement Disruption Event occurs or exists on the Maturity Delivery Date (in the case of Notes) or Settlement Date (in the case of W&C Instruments), settlement will be postponed until the next date on which no Settlement Disruption Event occurs. MLBV in these circumstances has the right to pay the Disruption Cash Settlement Price in lieu of delivering the Entitlement. Such a determination may have an adverse effect on the value of the relevant Instruments. In addition, if "Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, and in the opinion of the Calculation Agent it is impossible or impracticable to deliver some or all of the Relevant Assets comprising the Entitlement when due as a result of illiquidity in the market for the Relevant Assets, MLBV has the right to pay the Failure to Deliver Settlement Price in lieu of delivering those Relevant Assets. Any Disruption Cash Settlement Price or Failure to Deliver Settlement Price may be significantly less than Holders expected to receive prior to such Settlement Disruption Event or Calculation Agent determination.

Holders have no claim against any Reference Item(s), and the return on a Reference Item Linked Instrument, if any, may be less than the return on an investment directly in the Reference Item(s)

An Instrument will not represent a claim against any Reference Item(s) and, in the event of any loss, a Holder will not have recourse under an Instrument to any Reference Item(s). If a Reference Item is comprised of the same asset as a Collateral Asset in respect of a Series of Secured Instruments, a Holder may have recourse to such Collateral Asset under the relevant Secured Instruments (see the risk factors set out in the section entitled "Risks relating to Secured Instruments"). The investment return on the Instruments, if any, may be less than a comparable investment directly in the Reference Item(s), or the components included in any Reference Item(s). In contrast to an investment in the Instruments, a direct investment in the Reference Item(s) or the components of the Reference Item(s) would allow an investor to receive the full benefit of any appreciation or depreciation, as the case may be, in the value of such Reference Item(s) or these components.

The Guarantor will only pay cash under the MLBV Guarantee and the CMU Notes Guarantee

In relation to Physical Delivery Instruments (other than Secured Instruments and CMU Notes) issued by MLBV, under the MLBV Guarantee, and to Physical Delivery Notes that are also CMU Notes issued by MLBV, under the CMU Notes Guarantee, the Guarantor will only pay an amount in cash equal to the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount specified in the applicable Final Terms. Such cash payment will constitute a complete discharge of the Guarantor's obligations in relation to such Physical Delivery Instruments or such Physical Delivery Notes, as applicable. Consequently, Holders of Physical Delivery Instruments issued by MLBV anticipating delivery of the Entitlement may instead be obliged to receive an amount in cash equal to the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount specified in the applicable Final Terms.

MLBV may have the right to vary settlement

If so indicated in the applicable Final Terms for Instruments issued by MLBV, MLBV has an option to vary settlement in respect of the Instruments. If exercised by MLBV, Physical Delivery Instruments may be cash settled or Cash Settled Instruments may be physically settled. Exercise of such option may affect the value of the Instruments.

In the case of illegality as determined by the relevant Issuer, and to the extent permitted by applicable law, the relevant Issuer may redeem or cancel the Instruments, as applicable

If the relevant Issuer determines in good faith that the performance of either its obligations under the Instruments or its hedging arrangements, or in the case of Instruments guaranteed by BAC, the obligations of BAC under the applicable Guarantee has or will become illegal in whole or in part for any reason, then the relevant Issuer may redeem or cancel the Instruments, as applicable. Additionally, in the case of W&C Instruments in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" shall be applicable, MLBV may cancel the relevant W&C Instruments if it determines that (i) after taking commercially reasonable efforts or steps, MLBV, BAC or any of their respective Affiliates, is unable to comply or ensure compliance with any applicable laws, rules, regulations, governmental orders, directions or requirements of governmental or regulatory authorities which are applicable to the relevant W&C Instruments or are applicable to MLBV, BAC or such relevant Affiliates as a result of having issued the relevant W&C Instruments, including any requirements as to an investor's eligibility to acquire or continue to hold the relevant W&C Instruments, or (ii) MLBV, BAC or any of their respective Affiliates has suffered, will or is likely to suffer regulatory sanction, penalty, reputational harm or other material adverse consequence in connection with the issuance of the relevant W&C Instruments and/or the performance of its obligations under the W&C Instruments.

If, in the case of illegality and to the extent permitted by applicable law, the relevant Issuer redeems or cancels the Instruments, then the relevant Issuer will, in the case of Notes, redeem each Note at the Early Redemption Amount together (if appropriate) with interest accrued to (but excluding) the date of redemption, or in the case of W&C Instruments, pay an amount to each Holder equal to the Early Settlement Amount of each Instrument, which may be less than the purchase price of the Instruments and may in certain circumstances be zero.

It is not possible to predict whether or not a circumstance giving rise to the right to redeem or cancel the Instruments early for illegality reasons may occur and so lead to circumstances in which the relevant Issuer is able to elect to redeem or cancel the Instruments, and if so whether or not the relevant Issuer will elect to exercise such option to redeem or cancel the Instruments, as applicable.

A United States federal withholding tax may be imposed on payments made by the relevant Issuer with respect to the Instruments to certain holders

A 30 per cent. United States withholding tax may be imposed on certain payments made by a foreign financial institution that enters into an agreement with the United States Department of the Treasury (the "U.S. Treasury") to collect and provide to the U.S. Treasury substantial information regarding United States account holders, including certain account holders that are foreign entities with United States owners, with such institution. An Instrument may constitute an account for these purposes.

Pursuant to U.S. Treasury regulations, the 30 per cent. United States withholding tax may be imposed on (i) certain United States source payments made by the relevant Issuer or any Paying Agent with respect to the Instruments and (ii) certain non-United States source payments made by the relevant Issuer or any Paying Agent with respect to the Instruments after the second anniversary of the date of publication in the United States Federal Register of final regulations defining the term "foreign passthru payment", in each case, to "recalcitrant holders", which are generally holders that do not comply with the relevant Issuer's request for information to enable it to comply with the tax legislation, and to non-compliant foreign financial institutions. In the event withholding is required under the legislation, neither the relevant Issuer nor any Paying Agent will pay any Additional Tax Amounts with respect to the amount so withheld, and consequently, Holders may receive a reduced return on their Instruments.

A United States withholding tax may be imposed on certain payments made to MLBV in which case MLBV may be entitled to redeem or cancel the Instruments prior to maturity

A 30 per cent. United States withholding tax may be imposed on certain United States source payments made to a foreign financial institution, unless such institution enters into an agreement with the U.S. Treasury to collect and provide to the U.S. Treasury substantial information regarding United States account holders, including certain account holders that are foreign entities with United States owners, with such institution. An Instrument may constitute an account for these purposes.

If MLBV determines in good faith that it has, or there is a substantial likelihood that it will, become subject to withholding imposed on a payment made to it on account of MLBV's inability to comply with the legislation's reporting requirements (provided that such inability to comply with the reporting requirements is attributable to non-compliance by any Holder of such Instruments (or a foreign withholding agent (if any) in the chain of custody of payments made to the Holders) with MLBV's requests for certifications or identifying information), it may redeem or cancel the Instruments held by non-compliant and compliant Holders at their Early Redemption Amount (in the case of Notes) or at their Early Settlement Amount (in the case of W&C Instruments).

United States federal tax may be withheld from payments with respect to Instruments that are treated as "dividend equivalents". This may have an adverse effect on the value and liquidity of the Instruments. In addition, if any payment with respect to Instruments would be treated as a "dividend equivalent", the relevant Issuer would be entitled to redeem or cancel the Instruments at any time prior to maturity, settlement, expiration or exercise

A "dividend equivalent" payment is treated as a dividend from sources within the United States and such payments generally would be subject to a 30 per cent. United States withholding tax if paid to a United States Alien holder. Under U.S. Treasury regulations issued pursuant to Code Section 871(m), payments or deemed payments with respect to equity-linked instruments ("ELIs") that are "specified ELIs" may be treated as dividend equivalents if such specified ELIs reference an interest in a United States "underlying security," which is generally any interest in an entity taxable as a corporation for United States federal income tax purposes if a payment with respect to such interest could give rise to a United States source dividend. Specified ELIs generally do not include (1) ELIs issued prior to 1 January 2027 that are not delta-one instruments or (2) ELIs that are treated as referencing a "qualified index." However, it is possible that Instruments could be treated as deemed reissued for United States federal income tax purposes upon the occurrence of certain events affecting the reference asset or the Instruments, and following such occurrence the Instruments could be treated as subject to withholding on dividend equivalent payments.

A qualified index is a passive index that (1) is based on a diverse basket of publicly traded securities, (2) is widely used by numerous market participants, and (3) meets certain specific requirements set forth in the applicable U.S. Treasury regulations. The qualified index determination is made on the first business day of the calendar year in which the ELI is issued. If, in connection with the purchase of an ELI that references an index, a taxpayer enters into one or more transactions that reduce exposure to components of the index, the ELI is not treated as referencing a qualified index.

If any payments are treated as dividend equivalents subject to withholding, the relevant Issuer (or an applicable withholding agent) would be entitled to withhold taxes without being required to pay any Additional Tax Amounts with respect to amounts so withheld. In that case, actual payments on the Instruments may be substantially less than the amounts specified in their terms.

In addition, if any payment with respect to the Instruments (or any payment with respect to a direct or indirect hedging arrangement entered into by the relevant Issuer or any of its Affiliates relating to the Instruments) would be treated as a dividend equivalent, the relevant Issuer would be entitled to redeem or cancel the Instruments, in whole, but not in part, at any time prior to maturity, settlement, expiration or exercise at their Early Redemption Amount (in the case of Notes) or Early Settlement Amount (in the case of W&C Instruments), as determined by the Calculation Agent in its discretion. These amounts could be significantly less than the holder's initial investment, and could be as low as zero.

The value of the Instruments could be adversely affected by a change in English law or administrative practice or by a change in New York law

The Conditions of the Instruments issued by MLBV are based on English law in effect as at the date of issue of the relevant Instruments. The Conditions of the Notes issued by BAC and BofA Finance and the Guarantees are based on the laws of the State of New York in effect as at the date of issue of the relevant Instruments. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change to English law or administrative practice or change to the laws of the State of New York, as applicable, after the date of issue of the relevant Instruments and any such change could materially adversely impact the value of, or the amounts paid under, any Instruments affected by it.

Transfers of Rule 144A Instruments are restricted

Issue and transfers of Rule 144A Instruments issued by MLBV may be made only to purchasers in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons that have executed and delivered an Investor Representation Letter for the benefit of the Dealer, MLBV and the Guarantor pursuant to which such purchaser must certify, among other things, that such purchaser is a QIB who is also a QP. A transfer or attempted transfer of any Rule 144A Instrument which does not comply with the applicable transfer restrictions shall be absolutely null and void ab initio and shall vest no rights in the purported transferee.

In the event of unexpected early redemption or settlement of the Instruments, depending on the terms and conditions of the Instruments, Holders could lose some or all of their investment

The Instruments may be redeemed prior to their scheduled maturity date or settlement date (as applicable) due to the occurrence of certain events outside of the Issuer's control. In such case, Holders will receive the Early Redemption Amount (in respect of Notes) or the Early Settlement Amount (in respect of W&C Instruments).

Depending on the terms and conditions of the Notes, the Early Redemption Amount (in the case of Notes other than Exchangeable Notes) may be calculated in different ways. Unless the terms of the Notes provide that the Early Redemption Amount will be an amount equal to the Final Redemption Amount, or "Linear", "Compounding", "Modified Linear" or "Modified Compounding" (in respect of Zero Coupon Notes) is applicable or the Notes are Preference Share Linked Notes, the Early Redemption Amount will be an amount equal to the fair market value of such Note. In addition, the Early Settlement Amount of a W&C Instrument will be an amount equal to the fair market value of such W&C Instrument.

The Early Redemption Amount or Early Settlement Amount (as applicable) will be determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to such factors as the Calculation Agent may consider to be appropriate and may be less than what a Holder paid for it and could be as low as zero (provided that where the Early Redemption Amount in respect of a Note is specified to be "Market Value (90 per cent. floor)", in no event shall the Early Redemption Amount of each Note be less than 90 per cent. of the Specified Denomination, or, in the case of a Partly Paid Note, less than 90 per cent. of the amount paid up in respect of such Note or, in the case of a Zero Coupon Note, less than 90 per cent. of the Amortised Face Amount of such Note). Furthermore, the Early Redemption Amount or Early Settlement Amount (as applicable) may be reduced by certain costs, for example, costs associated with unwinding any hedging arrangements, the related funding thereof, (or, in the case of W&C Instruments in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" shall be applicable) costs to a Hypothetical Broker Dealer or the Issuer and/or its Affiliates or agents, as applicable, of terminating, liquidating or unwinding the Applicable Hedge Positions and/or the related funding thereof, may be deducted from the fair market value, which may further reduce the relevant Early Redemption Amount or Early Settlement Amount (as applicable).

In the case of Exchangeable Notes, the Early Redemption Amount shall be the higher of (a) the Specified Denomination and (b) the fair value per Exchangeable Note. The Early Redemption Amount will be determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to such factors as specified in the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

Accordingly, a Holder may lose some or all of its investment upon early redemption of the Notes by payment of the Early Redemption Amount or early settlement of the W&C Instruments by payment of the Early Settlement Amount (as applicable).

Risks associated with benchmark reform

The EU Regulation 2016/1011 on indices used as benchmarks in financial instruments and financial contracts or to measure the performance of investment funds (the "EU Benchmarks Regulation") and the EU Benchmarks Regulation as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (as amended) (the "UK Benchmarks Regulation", and together with the EU Benchmarks Regulation, the "Benchmarks Regulations") are key elements of regulatory reform.

Certain types of benchmarks, which may include interest rates and indices, including equity, commodity, "proprietary" indices or strategies and other non-exchange traded indices, may be within scope of one or both of the Benchmarks Regulations as "benchmarks" where they are used to determine the amount payable under, or the value of, certain financial instruments (including (i) in the case of the EU Benchmarks Regulation, Instruments listed on an EU regulated market or an EU multilateral trading facility and (ii) in the case of the UK Benchmarks Regulation, Instruments listed on a UK recognised investment exchange or a UK multilateral trading facility) and where they meet certain criteria, including, for some benchmarks, exceeding specific use thresholds.

On 1 January 2026, the EU Benchmarks Regulation was amended to significantly reduce its scope. In-scope benchmarks are now only:

- benchmarks that are categorised as "critical" or "significant" under the EU Benchmarks Regulation;
- EU Paris-aligned Benchmarks (as defined in the EU Benchmarks Regulation);
- EU Climate Transition Benchmarks (as defined in the EU Benchmarks Regulation); and
- certain commodity benchmarks.

Other EU-administered benchmarks may be voluntarily brought within scope upon request by the benchmark's administrator, subject to use thresholds. Although the scope of the EU Benchmarks Regulation has been significantly reduced, certain benchmarks may fulfil the criteria above and may therefore remain in-scope.

The European Securities and Markets Authority ("ESMA") maintains a public register of approved EU and non-EU benchmark administrators pursuant to the EU Benchmarks Regulation (the "ESMA Register").

The EU Benchmarks Regulation covers contribution of input data to an in-scope benchmark, the administration of an in-scope benchmark, and the use of an in-scope benchmark in the European Union, and requires administrators of in-scope benchmarks to comply with extensive requirements relating to benchmark administration.

The EU Benchmarks Regulation could have a material adverse impact on the value of and return on Instruments linked to an in-scope benchmark. Among other things, the EU Benchmarks Regulations: (a) prohibits new use by EU supervised entities of critical benchmarks, in-scope commodity benchmarks, EU Climate Transition Benchmarks and EU Paris-aligned Benchmarks whose administrators are not included on the ESMA Register (ii) prohibits new use by EU supervised entities of newly categorised "significant" benchmarks that are the object of a public notice issued under Article 24a(6) of the EU Benchmarks Regulation, and (iii) requires any such benchmark to be replaced in existing securities within six months (where possible). Furthermore, the methodology or other terms of a critical benchmark could be changed to comply with the requirements of the EU Benchmarks Regulation, or mandatory substitution of any benchmark (including those that are not in scope of the EU Benchmarks Regulation more broadly) with a replacement benchmark could be imposed in certain circumstances.

The scope of the UK Benchmarks Regulation is broader than that of the EU Benchmarks Regulation. Amongst other things, the UK Benchmarks Regulation requires UK benchmark administrators to be authorised or registered as such and to comply with extensive requirements relating to benchmark administration. It also prohibits (subject to applicable transitional provisions) certain uses by UK supervised entities of (a) benchmarks provided by UK administrators that are not authorised or registered in accordance with the UK Benchmarks Regulation and (b) benchmarks provided by non-UK administrators where (i) the administrator's regulatory regime has not been determined to be "equivalent" to that of the UK, (ii) the administrator has not been recognised in accordance with the UK Benchmarks Regulation, and (iii) the benchmark has not been endorsed in accordance with the UK Benchmarks Regulation.

In December 2025, the UK launched a consultation on a new regime for benchmarks and benchmark administrators, which will replace the UK Benchmarks Regulation when it enters into force. According to the consultation, the proposed new Specified Authorised Benchmarks Regime ("SABR") will be significantly narrower in scope than the UK Benchmarks Regulation and will only apply to benchmarks and administrators that are designated as systemically important to UK financial markets. The consultation closed on 11 March 2026 and further timescales for introduction of the new SABR are not known.

The Benchmarks Regulations could have a material adverse impact on the value of and return of Instruments linked to a benchmark. In accordance with the Index Linked Conditions, Instruments which reference an affected benchmark may be subject to adjustment of the interest or other payment provisions in certain circumstances, including: (i) discontinuation of the relevant benchmark, (ii) in the case of the EU Benchmarks Regulation, the inability of the benchmark's administrator to obtain or retain the necessary approval to remain on the ESMA Register or, in the case of the UK Benchmarks Regulation, the inability of the benchmark's administrator to obtain or retain authorisation or registration (or, in the case of a third-country benchmark, a lack of equivalence, recognition or endorsement), (iii) issuance of a public notice under Article 24a(6) of the EU Benchmarks Regulation in respect of the benchmark and (iv) replacement with a successor or replacement benchmark.

Any such changes could reduce or increase the rate or level or affect the volatility of the published rate or level, and (depending on the type of Underlying) could lead to adjustments to the terms of the Instruments (including determination by the Calculation Agent of the rate or level in its discretion), or, if no adjustments are made, the early redemption or cancellation of the Instruments.

4. Risks Relating to Notes

Events for which acceleration rights under the Notes of BAC and MLBV may be exercised are more limited than those available pursuant to the terms of the relevant Issuer's outstanding senior debt securities issued prior to 1 January 2017

In response to the TLAC Rules, BAC, among other things, has limited the circumstances under which the payment of the principal amount of senior debt securities (including the BAC Notes issued under the Programme on or after 24 January 2017) can be accelerated by the holders (unless specified otherwise in the applicable Final Terms). MLBV has also limited the circumstances under which the payment of the principal amount of the MLBV Notes issued under the Programme on or after 24 January 2017 can be accelerated by the holders (unless specified otherwise in the applicable Final Terms).

All or substantially all of BAC's outstanding senior debt securities issued prior to 1 January 2017, including BAC's outstanding senior notes issued under the Programme prior to 24 January 2017, and MLBV's outstanding senior notes issued prior to 24 January 2017, including outstanding senior notes issued by MLBV under the Programme prior to such date (the "Pre-2017 Senior Debt Securities"), provide acceleration rights for non-payment or bankruptcy. The Pre-2017 Senior Debt Securities issued by BAC also provide acceleration rights if BAC defaults in the performance of its covenants in those senior debt securities or the applicable indenture or agency agreement. The Pre-2017 Senior Debt Securities issued by MLBV also provide acceleration rights if the Guarantor defaults in the performance of its covenants in the applicable guarantee or the applicable agency agreement. In addition, the Pre-2017 Senior Debt Securities issued by BAC do not require a 30-day cure period before a non-payment of principal becomes an event of default and acceleration rights become exercisable with respect to such non-payment.

However, payment of the principal amount of Notes of BAC and MLBV issued on or after 24 January 2017:

- may be accelerated only (i) if the relevant Issuer defaults in the payment of the principal of or interest on those Notes and, in each case, the default continues for a period of 30 days, or (ii) upon the relevant Issuer's voluntary or involuntary bankruptcy and, in the case of the relevant Issuer's involuntary bankruptcy, the default continues for a period of 60 days; and
- may not be accelerated, in the case of BAC Notes, if BAC defaults in the performance of any other covenants contained in the BAC Notes or the applicable agency agreement; and
- may not be accelerated, in the case of MLBV Notes, if the Guarantor defaults in the performance of any other covenants contained in the applicable guarantee or the applicable agency agreement.

As a result of these differing provisions, if BAC, in the case of BAC Notes, or the Guarantor, in the case of MLBV Notes, breaches or otherwise defaults in the performance of a covenant (other than a payment covenant) that is applicable both to the Notes of BAC and MLBV and the Pre-2017 Senior Debt Securities, the Pre-2017 Senior Debt Securities would have acceleration rights that would not be available to the holders of Notes of BAC and MLBV. In addition, if BAC fails to pay principal when due with respect to the BAC Notes and the Pre-2017 Senior Debt Securities, an event of default would occur immediately with respect to the Pre-2017 Senior Debt Securities (and the exercise of acceleration rights could proceed immediately in accordance with the provisions of the applicable agency agreement as in effect at the time of their issuance), while the holders of the BAC Notes must wait for the 30-day cure period to expire before such non-payment of principal becomes an Event of Default and any acceleration rights are triggered with respect to such non-payment. Any repayment of the principal amount of Pre-2017 Senior Debt Securities following the exercise of acceleration rights in circumstances in which such rights are not available to the holders of the relevant Notes of BAC and MLBV, could adversely affect the relevant Issuer's ability to make timely payments on the relevant Notes of BAC and MLBV thereafter.

Failure by a Holder to pay instalments in respect of Partly Paid Notes may result in the Holder losing all of his investment

BAC, BANA, BofA Finance or MLBV may issue Notes where the issue price is payable in more than one instalment. Failure to pay BAC, BANA, BofA Finance or MLBV, as the case may be, any subsequent instalment could result in a Holder losing all of his investment.

Notes for which the Specified Currency is other than U.S. Dollars permit the Issuer to make payments in U.S. Dollars if the Issuer determines the Specified Currency is unavailable

The terms of any Notes for which the Specified Currency is other than U.S. Dollars provide that the Issuer has the right to make a payment in U.S. Dollars instead of the Specified Currency, if at or about the time when the payment on the Notes comes due, the Specified Currency is subject to decreased availability or is unavailable, as set out in Condition 8(B) (Unavailability of Currency) of the Terms and Conditions of the Notes. In addition, if the Specified Currency for a Note has been replaced by a new currency, the Issuer will have the option to choose whether it makes payments on such Note in the replacement currency or in U.S. Dollars. In either case, the exchange rate used to make payments in U.S. Dollars may be based on limited information and would involve significant discretion on the part of the Issuer's exchange rate agent that will determine the amount of U.S. Dollars to be paid, and which may be an affiliate of the Issuer. As a result, the value of the payment in U.S. Dollars may be less than the value of the payment that would have been received in the Specified Currency if the Specified Currency had been available, which could adversely affect the value of, return on and market for the affected Notes. The exchange rate agent generally will not have any liability for its determinations. Any payment in respect of Notes so made in U.S. Dollars where the required payment is in an unavailable Specified Currency will not constitute an Event of Default.

An investor may bear currency exchange risk in a lawsuit for payment on a Note denominated or payable in a currency other than U.S. Dollars

The Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance will be governed by New York law. Under Section 27 of the New York Judiciary Law, a state court in the State of New York rendering a judgment on Notes denominated or payable in a Specified Currency other than U.S. Dollars would be required to render the judgment in the Specified Currency.

In turn, the judgment would be converted into U.S. Dollars at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of entry of the judgment. Consequently, in a lawsuit for payment on the Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, a Noteholder would bear currency exchange risk until judgment is entered, which could be a long time. In courts outside of New York, Noteholders may not be able to obtain judgment in a Specified Currency other than U.S. Dollars. For example, a judgment for money in an action based on Notes denominated in a Specified Currency other than U.S. Dollars in many other U.S. federal or state courts ordinarily would be enforced in the United States only in U.S. Dollars. The date and method used to determine the rate of conversion of the Specified Currency into U.S. Dollars will depend on various factors, including which court renders the judgment.

The conversion of the Specified Currency into U.S. Dollars in any such case, could result in the value of the relevant payment in U.S. Dollars being less than it would have been if payment had been made in the applicable Specified Currency, which, in turn, could adversely affect the return on and value of the affected Notes.

Notes may be subject to optional redemption by the relevant Issuer, which may limit their market value

An optional redemption feature of Notes is likely to limit their market value. During any period when the relevant Issuer may elect to redeem Notes, the market value of those Notes may be impacted by the price at which they can be redeemed. This also may be true prior to any redemption period.

It is more likely that the relevant Issuer may be expected to redeem Notes when its comparable cost of borrowing is lower than the interest rate on the Notes. At those times, a Holder generally would not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Notes being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

Redemption at the option of a Noteholder may be subject to the rules and procedures of the relevant Clearing System

Where Notes are held through a clearing system, the exercise of any right to require redemption of the Notes will be subject to the rules and procedures of the relevant clearing system or relevant Instrument Agent. There may be circumstances in which the relevant clearing system, the relevant Instrument Agent or the Issuer are unable to give effect to the redemption of Notes due to the operational procedures of the relevant clearing system. In any such case, the Holder's ability to exercise its put option may be delayed or redemption may not be possible at all prior to the scheduled maturity of the Notes.

Notes issued at a substantial discount or premium may be volatile

The market value of Notes (including Zero Coupon Notes) issued at a substantial discount from, or premium to, their principal amount may fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest-bearing securities. Generally, the longer the remaining term of the Notes, the greater the price volatility as compared to conventional interest-bearing securities with comparable maturities. Therefore, investors may not be able to sell such Notes at all or may not be able to sell them at prices at or above the original issue price.

Notes issued by BANA, BofA Finance and MLBV will not have the benefit of any cross-default or cross-acceleration with other indebtedness of BANA, BofA Finance or MLBV, as applicable, or BAC; events of bankruptcy or insolvency or resolution proceedings relating to BAC and covenant breach by BAC will not constitute an event of default with respect to the guaranteed Notes of BofA Finance or MLBV

Notes issued by BANA, BofA Finance and MLBV will not have the benefit of any cross-default or cross-acceleration with other indebtedness of BANA, BofA Finance or MLBV, as applicable, or BAC. In addition, events of bankruptcy or insolvency or resolution or similar proceedings relating to BAC will not constitute an event of default with respect to the Notes of BofA Finance or MLBV that are guaranteed by BAC. Furthermore, it will not constitute an event of default with respect to the Notes of BofA Finance or MLBV if the guarantee thereof by BAC ceases to be in full force and effect for any reason. Therefore, events of bankruptcy or insolvency or resolution or similar proceedings relating to BAC (in the absence of any such event occurring with respect to BofA Finance or MLBV) will not permit the Notes of BofA Finance or MLBV to be declared due and payable. In addition, a breach of a covenant by BAC (including, for example, a breach of BAC's covenants with respect to mergers or the sale of all or substantially all its assets), will not permit the Notes of BofA Finance or MLBV to be declared due and payable. The value investors receive on these Notes may be significantly less than what they otherwise would have received had the Notes been declared due and payable immediately upon certain events of bankruptcy or insolvency or resolution or similar proceedings relating to BAC or the breach of a covenant by BAC or upon BAC's Guarantee ceasing to be in full force and effect.

5. Risks relating to Exchangeable Notes

The Company to which the underlying Shares relate will not have participated in the preparation of the applicable Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Exchangeable Notes

The Company will not have participated in the preparation of the applicable Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Exchangeable Notes, and none of MLBV as Issuer, the Guarantor or any Dealer will make any investigation or enquiry in connection with such offering with respect to any information concerning the Company contained in such Final Terms or in the documents from which such information was extracted. Neither MLBV nor the Guarantor controls the Company and neither is responsible for any disclosure made by the Company. Consequently, there can be no assurance that all events occurring prior to the relevant issue date (including events that would affect the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of the publicly available information described in this paragraph or in any applicable Final Terms) that would affect the trading price of the relevant Share(s) will have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning the Company could affect the trading price of the Shares and therefore the trading price of the Exchangeable Notes or amounts payable thereunder.

Exchangeable Notes may be redeemed prior to their Maturity Date

The Exchangeable Note Conditions provide that the Exchangeable Notes are redeemable at MLBV's option in certain limited circumstances. In such circumstances, an investor may be compelled to exercise its Exchange Rights earlier than it might otherwise have chosen to do so.

In addition, upon the occurrence of a Nationalisation or Delisting or, if specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms, a Change in Law or if option contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on Eurex or an Alternative Options Exchange and certain events occur as a result of which such option contracts are settled in accordance with the Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures or the corporate actions procedures of an Alternative Options Exchange, as the case may be, for example following the occurrence of a significant corporate action by the Company, MLBV will be obliged to or, following the occurrence of a Change in Law where specified in the applicable Final Terms, MLBV may elect to redeem the Exchangeable Notes early.

Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

Risks attached to the exercise of the Exchange Right

Investors should be aware that the Exchangeable Notes that may be redeemed at the option of the Noteholder during certain times at the Cash Amount bear additional risk. The value of the Cash Amount will vary depending on the performance during certain specified periods of the underlying Shares, over which MLBV has no control, and therefore the Cash Amount may be lower or substantially lower than the value of the Exchangeable Notes when they were initially purchased or when the Exchange Rights were exercised.

There is a limited period during which the Noteholders may exercise Exchange Rights

A Noteholder will have the right to require his or her Exchangeable Notes to be redeemed by MLBV in accordance with the Exchangeable Note Conditions, upon which, MLBV will procure that the exchanging Noteholder receives a Cash Amount (such amount based on the prevailing volume-weighted average price of the Shares during a specified period following the relevant Exchange Date). The Exchange Right may only be exercised by a Noteholder during limited periods and subject to the satisfaction of any applicable Exchange Conditions, each as described in Exchangeable Note Condition 7 (Exchange of Exchangeable Notes). If the Exchange Rights are not exercised by Noteholders during an applicable Exchange Period and/or any applicable Exchange Condition is not satisfied, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed at their Final Redemption Amount on the Maturity Date (unless previously redeemed or purchased by MLBV, the Guarantor or any of their respective Affiliates) pursuant to the Conditions, which will be calculated by reference to the price of the Shares at the relevant time.

Holders of Exchangeable Notes have limited anti-dilution protection

The Exchange Price at which the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed will be adjusted if there is a payment of a dividend which affects such Shares, but only in the situations and only to the extent provided under the Exchange Note Conditions.

There is no requirement that there should be an adjustment for every other corporate or other event that may affect the value of the Shares. Events in respect of which no adjustment is made may adversely affect the value of the Shares and, therefore, adversely affect the value of the Exchangeable Notes.

In particular, to the extent specified as applicable in respect of any Series of Exchangeable Notes, as long as there are option contracts in respect of the Shares traded on Eurex and under the Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures there is an adjustment made by Eurex to such options contracts, there will be an adjustment of the Exchange Price to reflect the adjustments effected by Eurex following a corporate action, other than a Dividend, Nationalisation or Delisting or, if specified as applicable in respect of any Series of Exchangeable Notes, a Change in Law.

Additionally, to the extent specified as applicable in respect of any Series of Exchangeable Notes, if option contracts in respect of the Shares are not traded on Eurex but are traded on an alternative options exchange, the Calculation Agent will adjust the Exchange Price to reflect any adjustment effected in respect of any options contracts by such alternative options exchange following a corporate action, other than a Dividend, Delisting or Nationalisation or, if specified as applicable in respect of any Series of Exchangeable Notes, a Change in Law.

Furthermore, upon the occurrence of a Nationalisation and/or a Delisting, MLBV shall, and upon the occurrence of Change in Law (if applicable), MLBV may elect to, redeem all but not some only of the Exchangeable Notes outstanding at the Automatic Early Redemption Amount, and no adjustment shall be made to the Exchange Price.

To the extent that an adjustment (or no adjustment as the case may be) is made to the Exchange Price upon the occurrence of any corporate action in accordance with the Exchange Note Conditions applicable to any Series of Exchangeable Notes, such adjustment (or lack of adjustment as the case may be) may have a material adverse impact on the price or value of the Exchangeable Notes and may materially adversely impact the level of any applicable Cash Amount, Automatic Early Redemption Amount or Final Redemption Amount.

Holders of Exchangeable Notes bear the risk of fluctuation in the price of the Shares

The market price of the Exchangeable Notes is expected to be affected by fluctuations in the market price of the Shares, and it is impossible to predict whether the price of the Shares will rise or fall. The share price of listed companies can be highly volatile and their shares may have limited liquidity at certain times. In addition, equity market conditions may affect the price and market liquidity of Shares regardless of the performance of the Company. Equity market conditions are affected by many factors, such as such as interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments, the political factors and company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, shareholder structure and distribution policy, changes in investor sentiment towards particular market sectors and the demand for and supply of capital. Trading in the Shares by other investors, such as large purchases or sales of the Shares, may also affect the Share Price. Accordingly, the market price of Shares (and therefore, the Cash Amount receivable on any exercise of the Exchange Rights or any Automatic Early Redemption Amount or Final Redemption Amount) may not reflect the underlying value of the Company's investments. The Company's results and prospects from time to time may be below the expectations of market analysts and investors. Any decline in the market price of the underlying Shares at any time may accordingly have an adverse effect on the market price of the Exchangeable Notes and may have a corresponding negative impact on any Cash Amount, Automatic Early Redemption Amount or Final Redemption Amount payable in respect of the Exchangeable Notes. These factors are not within MLBV's or the Guarantor's control and may result in a decline in the value of the Exchangeable Notes.

In addition, for the purposes of calculating the Cash Amount payable on any exercise of Exchange Rights, the Exchange Date by reference to which the relevant Cash Amount is calculated will, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, be the Business Day immediately following the last day of the Exchange Period in which the Exchange Right was exercised. If so, Noteholders will be exposed to any decline in the market price of the Shares between the Exchange Notice Delivery Date and the Exchange Date, which decline may have a corresponding negative impact on the Cash Amount payable in respect of such Exchangeable Notes.

Holders of Exchangeable Notes will not receive physical Shares and will have no shareholder rights

Holders of the Exchangeable Notes upon exercise of their Exchange Rights will not receive any Shares and will not have any voting rights, nor any right to receive dividends or other distributions or any other rights with respect to such Shares. Neither MLBV nor the Guarantor is required under the Conditions to deliver any Shares at any point.

Exchangeable Notes do not represent a claim against or an investment in the Company and investors will not have any right of recourse under the Exchangeable Notes to the Company or the Shares. Exchangeable Notes are not in any way sponsored, endorsed or promoted by the Company and the Company has no obligation to take into account the consequences of its actions for any Noteholders. Accordingly, the Company may take any actions in respect of such Shares without regard to the interests of the investors in the Exchangeable Notes, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Exchangeable Notes and may adversely impact the value of any Cash Amount, Automatic Early Redemption Amount or Final Redemption Amount payable in respect of the Exchangeable Notes.

6. Risks Relating to Korean Notes

There may be delay in transfers of Korean Notes

Holders may only transfer their holdings of Korean Notes to an entity that is a "financial institution" for purposes of the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (Section 1471 through 1474 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended) and the Common Reporting Standard contained in Part II.B of the Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters approved by the Council of the Organisation for Economic Co-Operation and Development on 15 July 2014, as amended from time to time (each, a "Tax Financial Institution"). Each Holder will be required to undertake: (i) to procure that, prior to transferring its holding of Korean Notes, the transferee provides Tax Documentation (as defined in the Korean Notes Product Supplement) applicable to such transferee to MLBV, the Guarantor or a party designated by MLBV or the Guarantor (a "Designated Party") and (ii) that it shall not transfer its holding of Korean Notes until it has received confirmation from MLBV, the Guarantor or such Designated Party as to the sufficiency of such Tax Documentation, including confirmation that the transferee has identified itself as a Tax Financial Institution.

Accordingly, any delay in (x) a transferee providing Tax Documentation to MLBV, the Guarantor or a Designated Party or (y) MLBV, the Guarantor or a Designated Party confirming the sufficiency of Tax Documentation, could result in a delay in the transfer of the Korean Notes from a Holder to such transferee.

7. Risks Relating to W&C Instruments

Certain factors affecting the value and trading price of W&C Instruments

Either (1) in the case of Cash Settled W&C Instruments, the Cash Settlement Amount or (2) in the case of Physical Delivery W&C Instruments, the value of the Entitlement less (in the case of Warrants) the Exercise Price (the "Physical Settlement Value") at any time prior to expiration (in the case of a Warrant) or exercise (in the case of a Certificate) is typically expected to be less than the trading price of such W&C Instruments at that time. The difference between the trading price and the Cash Settlement Amount or the Physical Settlement Value, as the case may be, will reflect, among other things, the "time value" of the W&C Instruments. The "time value" of the W&C Instruments will depend partly upon the length of the period remaining to expiration (in the case of a Warrant) or exercise (in the case of a Certificate) and expectations concerning the price or level of the Reference Item(s). W&C Instruments offer hedging and investment diversification opportunities but also pose some additional risks with regard to interim value. The interim value of the W&C Instruments varies with the price or level of the Reference Item(s), as well as by a number of other interrelated factors, including those specified herein.

Before exercising W&C Instruments, Holders should carefully consider, among other things, (i) the trading price of the W&C Instruments, (ii) the price or level and volatility of the Reference Item(s), (iii) the time remaining to expiration (in the case of a Warrant) or exercise (in the case of a Certificate), (iv) in the case of Cash Settled W&C Instruments, the probable range of Cash Settlement Amounts, (v) any change(s) in interim interest rates and dividend yields if applicable, (vi) any change(s) in currency exchange rates and (vii) any related transaction costs.

An optional exercise or mandatory early exercise feature in W&C Instruments is likely to limit their market value. In the case of an optional exercise feature, during any period when MLBV may elect to exercise W&C Instruments, the market value of those W&C Instruments generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be exercised. This also may be true prior to any exercise period. In the case of a mandatory early exercise feature, if the relevant Mandatory Early Exercise Event occurs the W&C Instruments will be exercised prior to their originally designated exercise or expiration date. Potential investors should be aware that in certain circumstances, an optional exercise or mandatory early exercise of the W&C Instruments by MLBV may result in a loss of all or a substantial portion of their investment.

In the case of Secured Instruments, the market value of the Secured Instruments will be affected by, among other things, the Collateral Assets which secure the relevant Series of W&C Instruments.

There are no Events of Default in relation to W&C Instruments other than Secured Instruments

Other than in respect of Secured Instruments, the Conditions of the W&C Instruments do not provide for any events of default. If MLBV defaults on any obligation under the W&C Instruments prior to the Settlement Date, Holders of Instruments other than Secured Instruments will be able to claim against the Guarantor under the MLBV Guarantee, but will have no right to declare all of the remaining obligations of MLBV in respect of the relevant Series of W&C Instruments to be immediately due and payable.

8. Risks Relating to Warrants

There will be a time lag between the time a Holder gives instructions to exercise and the time the applicable Cash Settlement Amount relating to such exercise is determined, and such time lag could decrease the Cash Settlement Amount

In the case of any exercise of Warrants, there will be a time lag between the time a Holder gives instructions to exercise and the time the applicable Cash Settlement Amount (in the case of Cash Settled Warrants) relating to such exercise is determined. Any such delay between the time of exercise and the determination of the Cash Settlement Amount will be specified in the Conditions of the W&C Instruments. However, such delay could be significantly longer, particularly in the case of a delay in exercise of Warrants arising from any daily maximum exercise limitation (in the case of American Style Warrants), the occurrence of a Market Disruption Event or failure of an exchange or related exchange to open (if applicable) or following the imposition of any exchange controls or other similar regulations affecting the ability to obtain or exchange any relevant currency in the case of FX Linked Warrants or other Warrants in respect of which "Exchange Rate" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms. The applicable Cash Settlement Amount may change significantly during any such period between exercise and determination of the Cash Settlement Amount, and such movement or movements could decrease the Cash Settlement Amount of the Warrants being exercised and may result in such Cash Settlement Amount being zero.

Holders may have to tender a specified number of Warrants at any one time in order to exercise

If so indicated in the applicable Final Terms, a Holder must tender or hold a specified number of Warrants at any one time in order to exercise. Thus, Holders with fewer than the specified minimum number of Warrants will either have to sell their Warrants or purchase additional Warrants, incurring transaction costs in each case, in order to realise their investment. Furthermore, holders of such Warrants incur the risk that there may be differences between the trading price of such Warrants and the Cash Settlement Amount (in the case of Cash Settled Warrants) or the Physical Settlement Value (in the case of Physical Delivery Warrants (as defined below)) of such Warrants. Therefore it may cost an investor more to purchase additional Warrants than the value of the increase in the Cash Settlement Amount or Physical Settlement Value, as the case may be, attributable to such additional Warrants.

The number of American Style Warrants exercisable on any date other than the Expiration Date may be limited to a maximum number

In the case of American Style Warrants, if so indicated in the applicable Final Terms, the relevant Issuer will have the option to limit the number of American Style Warrants exercisable on any date (other than the Expiration Date) to the maximum number specified in the applicable Final Terms and, in conjunction with such limitation, to limit the number of American Style Warrants exercisable by any person or group of persons (whether or not acting in concert) on such date. In the event that the total number of American Style Warrants being exercised on any date (other than the Expiration Date) exceeds such maximum number and the relevant Issuer elects to limit the number of American Style Warrants exercisable on such date, a Holder may not be able to exercise on such date all American Style Warrants that such Holder desires to exercise. In any such case, the number of American Style Warrants to be exercised will be reduced until the total number of American Style Warrants exercised on that date no longer exceeds the maximum, such American Style Warrants being selected at the discretion of the relevant Issuer or in any other manner specified in the applicable Final Terms. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the American Style Warrants tendered for exercise but not exercised on such date will be automatically exercised on the next date on which American Style Warrants may be exercised, subject to the same daily maximum limitation and delayed exercise provisions.

9. Risks Relating to the Market Generally

Set out below is a description of the principal market risks, including liquidity risk, exchange rate risk, interest rate risk and credit risk that may have an impact on an investment in the Instruments.

Many factors will determine the price of the Instruments in the secondary market and such market may be illiquid

It is not possible to predict the price at which Instruments will trade in the secondary market or whether such market will be liquid or illiquid. Each Issuer may, but is not obliged to, list or admit to trading an issue of Instruments on a securities exchange or market. If the Instruments are not listed or admitted to trading on any securities exchange or market, pricing information for the Instruments may be more difficult to obtain and the liquidity of the Instruments may be adversely affected. If the relevant Issuer does list or admit to trading an issue of Instruments, there can be no assurance that at a later date, the Instruments will not be delisted or that trading on such securities exchange or market will not be suspended. In the event of a de-listing or suspension of listing or trading on a securities exchange or market, the relevant Issuer will use its reasonable efforts to list or admit to trading the Instruments on another securities exchange or market, unless it concludes it would be unduly burdensome to do so. Also, in the case of American Style Warrants to the extent Warrants of a particular issue are exercised, the number of Warrants of such issue outstanding will decrease, resulting in a diminished liquidity for the remaining Warrants of such issue. A decrease in the liquidity of an issue of Warrants may cause, in turn, an increase in the volatility associated with the price of such issue of Warrants.

The relevant Issuer cannot assure holders of the Instruments that a trading or secondary market for their Instruments will develop or, if one develops, it will be maintained.

The relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), or any of BAC's Affiliates may, but is not obliged to, at any time purchase Instruments at any price in the open market or by tender or private treaty for their own account for business reasons or in connection with their hedging arrangements. Any Instruments so purchased may be held or resold or surrendered for cancellation. The relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), or any of BAC's Affiliates may, but is not obliged to, be a market-maker for an issue of Instruments. Even if the relevant Issuer or such other entity is a market-maker for an issue of Instruments, the secondary market for such Instruments may be limited and any market-maker may discontinue making a market for such Instruments at any time without giving notice. These activities may affect the price of such obligations or securities in a manner that would be adverse to a Holder's investment in the Instruments. The relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and BAC's Affiliates have not considered, and are not required to consider, the interests of investors as Holders in connection with entering into any of the above mentioned transactions.

The market value of the Instruments may be less than the principal amount of the Instruments. The market for, and market value of, the Instruments may be affected by a number of factors. These factors include:

- (a) the complexity and volatility of the Reference Item(s) or formula or other basis of reference applicable to the Instruments;
- (b) the method of calculating amounts payable, including any dividend rates or yield or other securities or financial instruments applicable to the securities payable and/or deliverable, or other consideration, if any, in respect of the Instruments;
- (c) the time remaining to the expiration (in the case of Warrants), exercise (in the case of Certificates) or redemption (in the case of Notes) of the Instruments;
- (d) the aggregate amount or number of Instruments outstanding;
- (e) the redemption, repayment or settlement features of the Instruments;
- (f) the value of other securities linked to the Reference Item(s) or formula or other basis of reference applicable to the Instruments;
- (g) the level, direction and volatility of market interest rates generally;
- (h) the general economic conditions of the capital markets, as well as geopolitical conditions and other financial, political, regulatory and judicial events that affect the financial markets generally, may affect the value of the Reference Item(s) and the Instruments;
- (i) any market-making activities with respect to the Instruments; and
- (j) the possibility that investors may be unable to hedge their exposure to risks relating to their Instruments.

In addition, certain Instruments may be designed for specific investment objectives or strategies and, therefore, may have a more limited secondary market and experience more price volatility. Holders may not be able to sell such Instruments readily or at prices that will enable them to realise their anticipated yield. No investor should purchase Instruments unless such investor understands and is able to bear the risk that such Instruments may not be readily saleable, that the value of such Instruments will fluctuate over time, that such fluctuations may be significant and that such investor may lose all or a substantial portion of the purchase price of the Instruments.

Often, the only way to obtain liquidity in respect of a Holder's investment in an issue of Instruments prior to maturity will be to sell such Instruments. At that time, there may be a very illiquid market for the Instruments or no market at all. For Instruments that have specific investment objectives or strategies, the applicable trade market may be more limited, and the price may be more volatile, than for other Instruments. Holders may not be able to sell such Instruments readily or at prices that will enable them to realise their anticipated yield. To the extent that an issue of Instruments is or becomes illiquid, an investor may have to exercise such Instruments (in the case of American Style Warrants) or wait until the Exercise Date (in the case of European Style Warrants or Certificates) or the Maturity Date (in the case of Notes) of such Instruments to realise value. If an investor sells its Instruments prior to exercise (in the case of American Style or European Style Warrants or Certificates) or prior to maturity (in the case of Notes), it may lose some or all of its investment. No investor should purchase Instruments unless such investor understands and is able to bear the risk that such Instruments may not be readily saleable, that the value of such Instruments will fluctuate over time, that such fluctuations may be significant, and that such investor may lose all or a substantial portion of the purchase price of the Instruments.

Investors may be subject to foreign exchange exposure and the Instruments may become subject to exchange controls

In the case of Cash Settled Instruments, the relevant Issuer will pay the Cash Settlement Amount (in the case of W&C Instruments) or Final Redemption Amount (in the case of the Notes) in respect of the Instruments in the Settlement Currency or Specified Currency specified in the applicable Final Terms. This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if an investor's financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the "Investor's Currency") other than the Settlement Currency or Specified Currency, as applicable (the "Settled Currency"). These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of the Settled Currency or revaluation of the Investor's Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Investor's Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Investor's Currency relative to the Settled Currency would decrease (i) the Investor's Currency-equivalent yield on the Instruments, (ii) the Investor's Currency equivalent value of the Cash Settlement Amount or Final Redemption Amount (as applicable) in respect of the Instruments and (iii) the Investor's Currency equivalent market value of the Instruments, as applicable. These risks generally depend on factors over which the relevant Issuer and (if applicable) the Guarantor have no control, such as economic and political events and the supply of and demand for the relevant currencies in the global markets. In recent years, exchange rates between many currencies have been highly volatile. This volatility may continue and could spread to other currencies in the future.

Government and monetary authorities may impose exchange controls (as some have done in the past) that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate. As a result, the Cash Settlement Amount (in the case of Cash Settled W&C Instruments) or the Final Redemption Amount (in the case of Notes) that investors may receive may be less than expected or zero.

The relevant Issuer will not adjust Instruments denominated or payable in a currency other than the Investor's Currency to compensate for changes in foreign currency exchange rates.

Except as described in the Terms and Conditions of the relevant Instruments, the relevant Issuer will not make any adjustment in or change to the terms of any Instruments denominated or payable in currencies other than the Investor's Currency for changes in the foreign currency exchange rate for the relevant Specified Currency for any Instruments, including any devaluation, revaluation, or imposition of exchange or other regulatory controls or taxes, or for other developments affecting the relevant currency or currencies. Consequently, investors in Instruments denominated or payable in currencies other than the Investor's Currency will bear the risk that their investment may be affected adversely by these types of events.

Government policy can adversely affect currency exchange rates and an investment in an Instrument denominated or payable in a currency other than the Investor's Currency

Currency exchange rates either can float or be fixed by sovereign governments. Governments or governmental bodies, including the European Central Bank, may intervene from time to time in their economies to alter the exchange rate or exchange characteristics of their currencies. For example, a central bank may intervene to devalue or revalue a currency or to replace an existing currency. In addition, a government may impose regulatory controls or taxes to affect the exchange rate of its currency or may issue a new currency or replace an existing currency. As a result, the amounts payable on and rate of return of an Instrument with a Settled Currency other than the Investor's Currency could be affected significantly and unpredictably by governmental actions. Even in the absence of governmental action directly affecting currency exchange rates, political or economic developments in the country or region issuing the Settled Currency for an Instrument with a Settled Currency other than the Investor's Currency or elsewhere could result in significant and sudden changes in the exchange rate between the Investor's Currency and the Settled Currency. Changes in exchange rates could affect the value of such Instruments as participants in the global currency markets move to buy or sell the Settled Currency of Investor's Currency in reaction to these developments.

If a governmental authority imposes exchange controls or other conditions, such as taxes on the exchange or transfer of the Settled Currency, there may be limited availability of the Settled Currency for payment on the Instruments denominated in such currency at their maturity or on any other payment date. In addition, the ability of a Holder to move currency freely out of the country in which payment in the currency is received or to convert the currency at a freely determined market rate could be limited by governmental actions which may negatively impact the return on and value of the Instruments.

In certain circumstances the relevant Issuer will not be obliged to maintain the listing of Instruments which are specified as being listed in the applicable Final Terms

When the relevant Issuer specifies in the applicable Final Terms that a Series of Instruments is to be admitted to trading on the Euro MTF market operated by the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and admitted to listing on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and/or listed or admitted to trading by any other relevant stock exchange or market, the relevant Issuer expects, but is not obliged, to maintain such listing of the Instruments on such exchange(s) or market(s). Changed circumstances, including changes in listing requirements, could result in a suspension or removal of any such listing, or cause the relevant Issuer to conclude that continued listing of the Instruments on such exchange(s) or market(s) is unduly burdensome, and such de-listing may adversely affect the liquidity of the Instruments and/or otherwise negatively affect an investor's ability to hold such Instruments.

Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) Instruments are legal investments for it, (ii) Instruments can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Instruments. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Instruments under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

Holding CREST Depository Interests

Investors may hold the Instruments through CREST. CREST allows Holders to hold instruments in a dematerialised form rather than holding physical instruments. Instead of issuing physical instruments, CREST issues CDIs, representing the interests in the relevant Instruments underlying the CDIs (the "Underlying Instruments"). CDI Holders will hold, or have an interest in, a separate legal instrument and will not be the legal owners of the Instruments. The rights of CDI Holders to the Instruments are represented by the relevant entitlements against CREST Depository Limited (the "CREST Depository") on behalf of which CREST International Nominees Limited (the "CREST Nominee") holds interests in the Instruments. Accordingly, rights under the Instruments cannot be enforced by CDI Holders directly against the relevant Issuer; instead they must be enforced indirectly through CREST and certain companies acting as intermediary depositaries and custodians. The enforcement of rights under the Instruments will be subject to the local law of the relevant intermediaries. This could result in an elimination or reduction in the payments that otherwise would have been made in respect of the Instruments in the event of any insolvency or liquidation of any of the relevant intermediaries, in particular where the Instruments held in clearing systems are not held in special purpose accounts and are fungible with other securities held in the same accounts on behalf of other customers of the relevant intermediaries. If such risk should materialise, Holders may receive reduced payments under the Instruments and may not recover their investment in full or at all, which could pose a material risk for Holders.

CDIs are constituted under English law and transferred through CREST and will be issued by the CREST Depository pursuant to the CREST Deed Poll. The rights of the CDI Holders will be governed by the arrangements between CREST, Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg and the relevant Issuer, including the CREST Deed Poll. Potential investors should note that the provisions of the CREST Deed Poll, the CREST Manual issued by Euroclear UK & International Limited (including the CREST International Manual dated 14 April 2008) as amended, modified, varied or supplemented from time to time (the "CREST Manual") and the CREST Rules contained in the CREST Manual applicable to the CREST

International Settlement Links Service (the "CREST Rules") contain indemnities, warranties, representations and undertakings to be given by CDI Holders, and limitations on the liability of the CREST Depository. CDI Holders are bound by such provisions and may incur liabilities resulting from a breach of any such indemnities, warranties, representations and undertakings in excess of the amounts originally invested by them. As a result, the rights of, and returns received by, CDI Holders, may differ from those of holders of Instruments which are not represented by CDIs. This could have an adverse effect on the payments received under the Instruments by Holders.

In addition, CDI Holders may be required to pay fees, charges, costs and expenses to the CREST Depository in connection with the use of the CREST International Settlement Links Service (the "CREST International Settlement Links Service"). These will include the fees and expenses charged by the CREST Depository in respect of the provision of services by it under the CREST Deed Poll and any taxes, duties, charges, costs or expenses which may be or become payable in connection with the holding of the Instruments through the CREST International Settlement Links Service.

Potential investors should note that the Issuers, the Guarantor, the Dealers, the Agents or the Registrar will not have any responsibility for the performance by any intermediaries or their respective direct or indirect participants or accountholders of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations. The CDIs are not the subject of this Offering Circular.

10. Risks Relating to the Structure of a Particular Issue of Instruments

A wide range of Instruments may be issued under the Programme. A number of these Instruments may have features which contain particular risks for potential investors. Set out below is a description of the most common features.

(a) General risks relating to Reference Item Linked Instruments

Reference Item Linked Instruments represent an investment linked to the economic performance of the relevant Reference Item(s) and potential investors should note that the return (if any) on their investment in such Instruments will depend upon the performance of such Reference Item(s).

An Instrument will not represent a claim against any Reference Item(s) and, in the event of any loss, a Holder will not have recourse under an Instrument to any Reference Item(s). The investment return on the Instruments, if any, may be less than a comparable investment directly in the Reference Item(s), or the components included in any Reference Item(s). In contrast to an investment in the Instruments, a direct investment in the Reference Item(s) or the components of the Reference Item(s) would allow an investor to receive the full benefit of any appreciation or depreciation, as the case may be, in the value of such Reference Item(s) or these components.

Potential investors should also note that whilst the market value of such Instruments is linked to such Reference Item(s) and will be influenced (positively or negatively) by such Reference Item(s), any change in the market value of such Instruments may not be comparable to changes in the market value of the Reference Item(s). It is impossible to predict how the market value of the relevant Reference Item(s) will vary over time. In addition, in contrast to a direct investment in the relevant Reference Item(s), such Instruments represent the right to receive payment of the Cash Settlement Amount(s) or the Final Redemption Amount(s) and/or, in the case of MLB, delivery of the Entitlement, as the case may be, as well as periodic payments of interest or additional amounts (if specified in the applicable Final Terms), all or some of which and the value of which will be determined by reference to the performance of the relevant Reference Item(s) but which are likely to differ from and may be less than the return on a direct investment in the same Reference Items(s).

As the amounts payable and/or, in the case of MLB, non-cash consideration deliverable in respect of Reference Item Linked Instruments are linked to the performance of the relevant Reference Item(s), a purchaser of such an Instrument must generally be correct about the direction, timing and magnitude of an anticipated change in the value of the relevant Reference Item(s). Assuming all other factors are held constant, the lower the value of such an Instrument and the shorter the remaining term to expiration (in the case of a Warrant), exercise (in the case of a Certificate) or redemption (in the case of a Note), the greater the risk that purchasers of such Instrument will lose all or part of their investment.

Depending on the terms of the relevant Instruments, Reference Item Linked Instruments may be redeemed/settled on the maturity date/settlement date at an amount that is equal to (or nearly equal to), greater than or less than the amount invested. Except for Reference Item Linked Instruments that are structured to redeem/settle at a minimum amount on the maturity date/settlement date, investors in Reference Item Linked Instruments may risk losing their entire investment if the value of the relevant Reference Item(s) does not move in the anticipated direction. Regardless of the terms of the Instrument, all payments thereon are subject to the relevant Issuer's and (if applicable) the Guarantor's credit risk and their respective ability to pay their relevant obligations on the applicable payment dates.

POTENTIAL INVESTORS MUST REVIEW THE APPLICABLE FINAL TERMS TO ASCERTAIN WHAT THE RELEVANT REFERENCE ITEM(S) (IF ANY) ARE AND TO SEE HOW THE CASH SETTLEMENT AMOUNT, FINAL REDEMPTION AMOUNT OR THE ENTITLEMENT, AS THE CASE MAY BE, AND ANY INTEREST PAYMENTS (IN THE CASE OF NOTES) OR ANY ADDITIONAL AMOUNT PAYMENTS (IN THE CASE OF W&C INSTRUMENTS) ARE DETERMINED AND WHEN SUCH AMOUNTS ARE PAYABLE AND/OR DELIVERABLE, AS THE CASE MAY BE, BEFORE MAKING ANY DECISION TO PURCHASE ANY INSTRUMENTS.

Risks relating to Instruments which are linked to emerging market Reference Item(s)

Where the terms and conditions of the Instruments reference one or more emerging market Reference Item(s), investors in such Instruments should be aware that the political and economic situation in countries with emerging economies or stock markets may be undergoing significant evolution and rapid development, and such countries may lack the social, political and economic stability characteristics of more developed countries, including a significant risk of currency value fluctuation. Such instability may result from, among other things, authoritarian governments, or military involvement in political and economic decision-making, including changes or attempted changes in governments through extra-constitutional means; popular unrest associated with demands for improved political, economic or social conditions; internal insurgencies; hostile relations with neighbouring countries; and ethnic, religious and racial disaffections or conflict. Certain of such countries may have in the past failed to recognise private property rights and have at times nationalised or expropriated the assets of private companies. As a result, the risks from investing in those countries, including the risks of nationalisation or expropriation of assets, may be heightened. In addition, unanticipated political or social developments may affect the values of a Reference Item investment in those countries. The small size and inexperience of the securities markets in certain countries and the limited volume of trading in securities may make the emerging market Reference Item(s) illiquid and more volatile than investments in more established markets. There may be little financial or accounting information available with respect to local issuers, and as a result it may be difficult to assess the value or prospects of the Reference Item(s).

The relevant Issuer may redeem early or settle a Series of Instruments if an Additional Disruption Event occurs, causing the investor to lose some or all of its investment in such Series of Instruments

If Additional Disruption Events are specified as applicable in the Final Terms for the applicable Series of Instruments of the relevant Issuer, and one or more Additional Disruption Event(s) occurs with respect to that Series of Instruments, the relevant Issuer may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, cause the early redemption or settlement of such Series of Instruments in accordance with the applicable Conditions. If the relevant Issuer elects to redeem early or settle the Instruments as a result of an Additional Disruption Event, the amount payable or other consideration deliverable to the Holders may be significantly less than the investor's initial investment, and may be as low as zero. Additional Disruption Events include, among others, as specified in the applicable Final Terms and described in the applicable Conditions, (1) Change in Law, (2) Increased Cost of Hedging and (3) Hedging Disruption.

Past performance of a Reference Item is not indicative of future performance

Any information about the past performance of a Reference Item should not be regarded as indicative of any future performance of such Reference Item, or as an indication of the range of, or trends or fluctuations in, the price or value of such Reference Item that may occur in the future. It is not possible to predict the future value of the Instruments based on such past performance. Since a profitable investment may be based on a particular trend or pattern in the performance of the Reference Item(s) which has been demonstrated historically, if the actual results are materially different from the historical performance, investors may not realize the returns which they expect to receive from investing in the Instruments. Furthermore, depending on the pay out features of the Instruments, investors may realize a partial or total loss of their investment.

There are risks where the Instruments have a "barrier" feature

If the calculation of any amount payable under the Instruments depends on the level, value or price of the Reference Item(s) satisfying a "barrier" during a specified period or specified date(s) during the term of the Instruments, such amount payable may alter dramatically depending on whether the barrier is satisfied (as applicable). This means an investor may receive less (or, in certain cases, more) if the level, value or price of the Reference Item(s) satisfies a barrier, than if it comes close to the barrier but does not satisfy the barrier, and in certain cases, investors may receive no Interest, Fixed Coupon Amounts, Additional Amounts or may receive physical delivery of Entitlement on settlement instead of payment of cash amount (or vice versa) and/or may realize a partial or total loss of their investment.

There are risks where settlement of the Instruments depends only on the final performance or final value

If the Instruments determine the settlement amount based on the performance, level, value or price of the Reference Item(s) as at the final valuation date only (rather than in respect of multiple periods throughout the term of the Instruments) then investors may not benefit from any movement in level, value or price of the Reference Item(s) during the term of the Instruments that is not maintained in the final performance, level, value or price as at the final valuation date. In such scenario, the return on the Instruments may be lower than expected.

Leverage will magnify the effect of changes in the Reference Item(s)

"Leverage" refers to the use of financial techniques to adjust the exposure to the Reference Item(s). A leverage feature will magnify or diminish the impact of the performance of the Reference Item(s) to cause a greater or lower return on the Instruments than would otherwise be the case in the absence of leverage. As such, a leverage feature can magnify losses in adverse market conditions or reduce gains in positive market conditions. The inclusion of a leverage feature in excess of 100 per cent. (or 1.00) in the Instruments means that the Instruments will be more speculative and riskier than in the absence of such feature, since smaller changes in the performance of the Reference Item(s) can reduce (or increase) the return on the Instruments by more than if the Instruments did not contain a leverage feature. Conversely, if the leverage feature is set below 100 per cent. (or 1.00), the participation in the performance of the Reference Item(s) will be limited and you will not be able to benefit from the full extent of the appreciation in the value of the Reference Item(s). In either event, a leverage feature may lead to unfavourable return on your investment in your Instruments.

There are risks where the Instruments include a "cap" feature and/or a "floor"

Where the terms and conditions of the Instruments provide that the amount payable or non-cash consideration deliverable is subject to a pre-defined cap, an investor's ability to participate in any positive change in the value of the Reference Item(s) (or any positive change in floating interest rates) will be limited, no matter how much the level, price or other value of the Reference Item(s) (or floating interest rates) rises above the cap level over the life of the Instruments. Additionally, instruments that include a "floor", whereby the amount payable or non-cash consideration deliverable is subject to a pre-defined minimum amount, will typically also include a cap which limits the participation of the Instruments to the potential upside performance of the Reference Item(s). Accordingly, the value of or return on the Instruments may be significantly less than if the investor had purchased the Reference Item(s) directly (or invested in instruments which pay an uncapped floating rate of interest).

There are risks where Interest Amounts, Fixed Coupon Amounts or Additional Amounts payable throughout the term of the Instruments are conditional on certain performance criteria

If so provided in the applicable terms and conditions of the Instruments, the payment of Interest Amounts, Fixed Coupon Amounts or Additional Amounts will be conditional on the value or performance of the Reference Item(s). The amount payable may be zero on an interest, coupon, or payment date if the Reference Item(s) does not perform in accordance with the terms of the Instruments. It is possible that the Reference Item(s) never meets the performance criteria, meaning that an investor will not receive any coupon at all for the lifetime of the Instruments.

There are risks where the Instruments have a "worst-of" feature

Where the terms and conditions of the Instruments include a "worst-of" feature, investors will be exposed to the performance of the Reference Item(s) which has the worst performance, rather than the basket as a whole. This means that, regardless of how the other Reference Item(s) perform, if the worst performing Reference Item in the basket fails to meet a relevant threshold or barrier for the payment of any amount, investors may receive no payments or could lose some or all of their investment.

There are risks where the Instruments have an "averaging" feature

Where the terms and conditions of the Instruments include an averaging feature, the return on the Instruments will depend on a level, price or other applicable value of the Reference Item(s) which is determined based on the arithmetic average of the applicable levels, prices or other applicable values of the Reference Item(s) on the specified averaging dates, rather than on one valuation date. This means that if the applicable level, price or value of the Reference Item(s) dramatically changes on one or more of the averaging dates, the level, price or other applicable value of the Reference Item(s) (and therefore the return on the Instruments) may be significantly less than it would have been if the amount payable or non-cash consideration deliverable had been calculated by reference to a single value taken on a single valuation date.

Disclosure in relation to Reference Item(s) may not be up to date

In respect of any amounts payable for Instruments linked to Reference Item(s), disclosure in relation to the Reference Item(s) as set forth in the applicable Final Terms will have been extracted from publicly available sources. In addition, Instruments may be issued by the relevant Issuer and held by the Dealer or its affiliates (or in the case of MLBV Instruments, by MLBV) on their own account prior to the date of their purchase by an investor ("Inventory Securities"). In such cases, disclosure in relation to the Reference Item(s) to which the Instruments may be linked (if any) as set forth in the applicable Final Terms will have been extracted from publicly available sources but will not have been prepared or verified by, or on behalf of, the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor or the Dealer (or any affiliate or subsidiary of the Dealer). Such information may be out of date and no updated information thereon will be provided. If there has been any change in the Reference Item(s) since the date of the applicable Final Terms, this may have an adverse effect on the pay-out and/or value of the relevant Instruments. Moreover, any change in the situation or condition of the Issuer and/or the Guarantor since the date of the applicable Final Terms will not be disclosed and may have an adverse effect on the value of the relevant Instruments held by the investor.

(b) Risks associated with baskets comprised of various components as Reference Items

Exposure to performance of basket and its components

Where the Instruments are linked to or reference a basket of assets, the investors in such Instruments are exposed to the performance of such basket. The investors will bear the risk of the performance of each of the basket components. See, as applicable, the risk factors set out in the sections entitled "Risks relating to Index Linked Instruments", "Risks relating to Share Linked Instruments", "Risks relating to GDR/ADR Linked Instruments", "Risks relating to FX Linked Instruments and other Instruments in respect of which "Exchange Rate" is specified to be applicable", "Risks relating to Commodity Linked Instruments", "Risks relating to Fund Linked Instruments", "Risks relating to Inflation Linked Instruments", "Risks relating to Credit Linked Instruments", "Risks relating to Saudi Share Linked Warrants" and "Risks relating to Bond Linked Instruments".

A high correlation of basket components may have a significant effect on amounts payable

Some Instruments are linked to baskets of Reference Items where the performance of such Reference Items tends to move in the same direction, or correlate, as a result of changes in market conditions, such as a change in interest rates. Correlation of basket components indicates the level of interdependence among the individual basket components with respect to their performance. If, for example, all of the basket components originate from the same sector and the same country, a high positive correlation may generally be assumed. Past rates of correlation may not be determinative of future rates of correlation:

investors should be aware that, though basket components may not appear to be correlated based on past performance, it may be that they suffer the same adverse performance following a general downturn or other economic or political event. Where the basket components are subject to high correlation, any move in the performance of the basket components will exaggerate the performance of the Instruments.

The negative performance of a single basket component may outweigh a positive performance of one or more other basket components

Investors in Instruments must be aware that even in the case of a positive performance of one or more basket components, the performance of the basket as a whole may be negative if the performance of the other basket components is negative to a greater extent, subject to the Conditions of the relevant Instruments.

A small basket, or an unequally weighted basket, will generally leave the basket more vulnerable to changes in the value of any particular Reference Item

The performance of a basket that includes a smaller number of Reference Items will generally, subject to the terms and conditions of the relevant Instruments, be more affected by changes in the value of any particular Reference Item included therein than a basket that includes a greater number of Reference Items.

The performance of a basket that gives greater weight to some Reference Items will generally, subject to the terms and conditions of the relevant Instruments, be more affected by changes in the value of any such particular Reference Item included therein than a basket that gives relatively equal weight to each Reference Item.

A change in composition of a basket may have an adverse effect on basket performance

Where the Instruments grant the Calculation Agent the right, in certain circumstances, to adjust the composition of the basket, investors should be aware that any replacement basket component may perform differently from the original basket component, which may have an adverse effect on the performance of the basket which will in turn have an adverse effect on the value of the Instruments.

(c) Risks relating to Instruments linked to certain References Item(s)

(i) Risks relating to Index Linked Instruments

Factors affecting the performance of Indices may adversely affect the value of the Instruments

Indices are comprised of a synthetic portfolio of shares, bonds, currency exchange rates, commodities, property or other assets, and as such, the performance of an Index is dependent upon the performance of components of such Index, which may include interest rates, currency developments, political factors, market factors such as the general trends in capital markets or broad based indices and (in the case of shares) company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, shareholder structure and distribution policy. If an Index does not perform as expected, this will materially and adversely affect the value of Index Linked Instruments.

Returns on the Instruments do not reflect a direct investment in underlying shares or other assets comprising the Index

The return payable on Instruments that reference Indices may not reflect the return a potential investor would realise if it actually owned the relevant assets comprising the components of the Index or owned a different form of interest in the relevant Index. For example, if the components of the Indices are shares, Holders will not receive any dividends paid or distributions made on those shares and will not participate in the return on those dividends or distributions unless the relevant Index takes such dividends into account for purposes of calculating the relevant level. Similarly, Holders will not have any voting rights in the underlying shares or any other assets which may comprise the components of the relevant Index. Accordingly, Holders of Instruments that reference Indices as Reference Items may receive a lower payment upon redemption/settlement of such Instruments than any return such Holder would have received if it had invested in the components of the Index directly or other comparable instruments linked to the Index.

Decrement Indices

If the Index has a "decrement" feature, the return on such Index will be calculated by reinvesting net dividends or gross dividends (depending on the type and rules of such Index) paid by its components and by subtracting on a daily basis a pre-defined amount (a "Synthetic Dividend"). The Synthetic Dividend may be defined as a percentage of the index level or as a fixed number of index points. Investors should note that any of the following factors, where applicable, could adversely affect the value of and return on Instruments linked to a "decrement" index.

An Index with a "decrement" feature will underperform a "total return" index that is used as a base index to calculate such Index since the latter is calculated without the deduction of a Synthetic Dividend. Similarly, where such Index tracks the performance of a single component security, the Index will underperform a direct investment in such component security as such investment would benefit from dividends paid by the component security without the deduction of a Synthetic Dividend.

An Index with a "decrement" feature will underperform the corresponding "price return" index if the amount of dividends paid by the components of such Index is less than the amount of the Synthetic Dividend deducted. Where such Index tracks the performance of a single component security, the Index will underperform a direct investment in such component security as such investment would benefit from dividends paid by the component security without the deduction of a Synthetic Dividend.

Where the Synthetic Dividend is defined as a fixed number of index points (as opposed to a percentage of the index level), the Synthetic Dividend yield (calculated as the ratio of the fixed index point decrement to the relevant decrement index level) will increase in a falling equities market as the Synthetic Dividend is a fixed amount. In such scenario, the fixed deduction will have a greater negative impact on the index level of the relevant Index than if the Synthetic Dividend was defined as a percentage of the index level. It is even possible that in a steeply falling market scenario the index level could become negative, since the amount of decrement expressed in index points will not vary with the level of the decrement index.

Holders may receive physical delivery of Fund Shares of one or more Index-Related ETFs in lieu of payment of cash amounts

Where "Physical Settlement" is specified as applicable to the Index Linked Conditions in the relevant Final Terms, the relevant Issuer may redeem the Index Linked Instruments at their maturity by delivering Fund Shares of one or more Index-Related ETFs to the investor. In such case, investors will receive such Fund Shares rather than a monetary amount upon maturity. Holders will, therefore, be exposed to such Index-Related ETFs and the risks associated with such Fund Shares. The investor should not assume that he or she will be able to sell such Fund Shares for a specific price after the redemption/settlement of the Instruments, and in particular not for the purchase price of the Index Linked Instruments. Under certain circumstances the Fund Shares may only have a very low value or may, in fact, be worthless, in which case see "Investors risk losing all of their investment in the Instruments" above. Holders may also be subject to certain documentary or stamp taxes in relation to the delivery and/or disposal of such Fund Shares. The holding of such Fund Shares instead of the Instruments may adversely affect the Holder's tax position.

A change in the composition or discontinuance of an Index could adversely affect the market value of the Instruments

The sponsor of any Index can add, delete or substitute the components of such Index or make other methodological changes that could change the level of one or more components. The changing of components of any Index may affect the level of such Index as a newly added component may perform significantly worse or better than the component it replaces, which in turn may affect the payments made by the relevant Issuer to the Holders of the Index Linked Instruments. The sponsor of any such Index may also alter, discontinue or suspend calculation or dissemination of such Index. The sponsor of an Index will have no involvement in the offer and sale of the Index Linked Instruments and will have no obligation to any Holder of such Instruments. Accordingly, the sponsor of an Index may take any actions in respect of such Index without regard to the interests of the Holder of the Instruments, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Index Linked Instruments.

Exposure to Index Modification, Index Cancellation, Index Disruption, Administrator/Benchmark Event and correction of Index levels

The Calculation Agent has broad discretion to make certain determinations and adjustments, to replace the original Reference Item with another and/or to cause early redemption/settlement of the Index Linked Instruments, any of which may be adverse to Holders in connection with Index Modification, Index Cancellation, Index Disruption and Administrator/Benchmark Event. The Calculation Agent may determine that the consequence of any such event is to make adjustments to the Index Linked Instruments, or to replace such Index with another or to cause early redemption/settlement of the Index Linked Instruments. The Calculation Agent may (subject to the terms and conditions of the relevant Index Linked Instruments) also amend the relevant Index level due to corrections in the level reported by the Index Sponsor. The consequences of such amendments could adversely affect the market value of the Index Linked Instruments.

There are additional risks in relation to "Proprietary Indices" or "Strategies"

See "There may be conflicts of interest between the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or their respective Affiliates and the Holders" above.

There are additional risks in relation to "Constant Maturity Yield Indices"

Holders of Index Linked Instruments in respect of which the Index is a "Constant Maturity Yield Index" should note additional risks in relation to such Index Linked Instruments.

Such Indices are designed to represent the theoretical constant-maturity yields at a fixed target maturity for designated central government, sovereigns, supranational and agencies or corporate issuers. The level of such Indices depends on the availability and pricing of a limited number of eligible bonds at any time, the accuracy and timeliness of their evaluated prices, and the assumptions inherent in the methodology used such as interpolation, compounding and settlement conventions. Therefore such level may differ from investor expectations for market yields for the target maturity and this may have a significant adverse impact on the performance of the Index Linked Instruments.

The yield of bonds referenced by a Constant Maturity Yield Index is impacted by various factors including prevailing interest rates; see "Risks relating to Bond Linked Instruments" below.

Constant Maturity Yield Indices may have a limited operating history and levels published for periods prior to the start date may have been retrospectively simulated by the Index Sponsor on a hypothetical basis and will not have been verified by an independent third party or the Issuer. Performance inferred from a retrospective simulation may not reflect actual market conditions and therefore this historical performance is purely theoretical and should not be relied upon as indicative of future performance.

In addition, such Constant Maturity Yield Indices are owned, calculated, administered and published by an independent provider. There is a risk that publication of the levels of the Index is not as reliable, and that there is a greater likelihood of interruptions or discontinuation of publication, when compared to that of more established benchmarks. The Index Sponsor may adjust components or amend methodologies without regard to the interests of the Holder of the Instruments, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Index Linked Instruments.

There are additional risks in relation to "Non-Exchange Traded Indices"

Holders of Index Linked Instruments in respect of which the Index is a "Non-Exchange Traded Index" should note additional risks in relation to such Index Linked Instruments.

Such Indices are comprised of a synthetic portfolio of components or assets, and as such, the performance of a Non-Exchange Traded Index may be dependent upon macroeconomic factors relating to the components or assets that underlie such Non-Exchange Traded Index, such as interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments, political factors, as well as the index composition, which may change over time.

In addition, such Non-Exchange Traded Indices are owned, calculated, administered and published by an independent provider. There is a risk that publication of the levels of the Index is not as reliable, and that there is a greater likelihood of interruptions or discontinuation of publication, when compared to that of more established Indices. The Index Sponsor may adjust components or assets or amend methodologies without regard to the interests of the Holder of the Instruments, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Index Linked Instruments.

There are additional risks in relation to Commodity Indices

See "Additional risks in relation to the "rolling" of commodity futures contracts (including commodity futures contracts which are components of a Commodity Index)" below.

Specific risks relating to Index Linked Instruments in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" shall be applicable

Holders of Index Linked Instruments in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" shall be applicable should note that all payments made by MLBV will be made subject to deductions to account for any costs and taxes which a hypothetical broker dealer, directly or indirectly, could incur in connection with any hedging arrangements which such hypothetical broker dealer could make in order to hedge such Index Linked Instruments.

Further, certain Index Linked Instruments in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" shall be applicable ("Index Linked LE PWs"), the issuance, sale, transfer and/or holding of which may be subject to laws and regulations of the relevant jurisdiction in which the underlying index of such Index Linked LE PWs is listed and traded ("Relevant Jurisdiction"). Purchasers of such Index Linked LE PWs are required to comply with the applicable laws and regulations of the Relevant Jurisdiction.

In order to ensure compliance with these laws and regulations, each purchaser of the relevant Index Linked LE PWs is deemed to represent, warrant, agree and undertake on an ongoing basis its full compliance with the relevant selling restrictions and transfer restrictions applicable to the Relevant Jurisdiction set out in the "Offering and Sale" section of this Offering Circular, and agree and undertake to provide any additional disclosure or information that MLBV, MLI, BAC and/or their respective affiliates reasonably deem necessary or appropriate in order to comply with the regulations or requests from any governmental or regulatory authorities of the Relevant Jurisdiction from time to time.

Failure of any Holder to comply with the relevant selling restrictions or transfer restrictions applicable to the Relevant Jurisdiction and/or failure to provide MLBV and/or its affiliates promptly with the information described above and/or execute any document that MLBV, MLI, BAC and/or their respective affiliates reasonably deem necessary or appropriate in order to comply with the regulations or requests from any governmental or regulatory authorities of the Relevant Jurisdiction from time to time (each an "LEPW Non-compliance Event") will, if LE PW Non-compliance Event is specified as applicable in the Final Terms for the relevant Index Linked LE PWs, be an Additional Disruption Event which gives MLBV the right to make appropriate adjustments to the Terms and Conditions of the relevant Index Linked LE PWs or cancel such Index Linked LE PWs early.

Furthermore, if Regulatory Order is specified as applicable in the Final Terms for the relevant Index Linked LE PWs, in the event that a governmental or regulatory authority of the Relevant Jurisdiction has requested MLBV, MLI and/or their respective affiliates or agent to terminate or modify the relevant Index Linked LE PWs, any Applicable Hedge Positions or any Related Hedging Arrangement relating thereto, or otherwise imposes material requirements on the foregoing, the MLBV Guarantee, the holders or related documents, an Additional Disruption Event will occur which gives MLBV the right to make appropriate adjustments to the Terms and Conditions of the relevant Index Linked LE PWs or cancel such Index Linked LE PWs early.

Any adjustment and/or early termination of the relevant Index Linked LE PWs may result in the loss of some or all of the purchaser's investment.

Further, the adjustment and/or early termination right applies to the entire series of the relevant Index Linked LE PWs. Any breach by a single Holder may trigger adjustment and/or early termination of the entire series of such Index Linked LE PWs. Holders who are not in breach will also be affected as their holdings in the same series of such Index Linked LE PWs will be subject to adjustment and/or early termination caused by the breach of such other Holder.

There are additional risks in relation to Index-Linked Contracts

Holders of Index Linked Instruments in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "Additional Terms and Conditions for Index-Linked Contracts" shall be applicable should note that they are exposed to the performance of the Index-Linked Contracts which, in turn, will be driven by the level of the underlying Index.

There will be a correlation between the level of an Index and the price at which an Index-Linked Contract trades on the relevant futures or options exchange, and Holders will therefore be exposed to the performance of the Index.

However, Holders should also be aware that the expectations of dealers in Index-Linked Contracts of the level of the Index on the date(s) on which the settlement amount of an Index-Linked Contract is determined may also have an impact on the price of Index-Linked Contracts on the Index. For example, if the expectation of dealers in options contracts is that the level of the Index will be lower on a future date when the settlement amount of the options contract is to be determined than the current level of the Index, this may result in the price of the options contract falling (in the case of a call option) or rising (in the case of a put option) even where the current level of the Index is rising. Moreover, because the settlement amount of many options contracts is a multiple of the difference between the level of the Index on a future date and the strike, a relatively small change in the level of an Index may result in a proportionately much larger change in the price of the options contract.

If the expectation of dealers in futures contracts is that the settlement price of the Index on the date(s) on which the settlement amount of the futures contract is determined will be lower than the forward price of the Index specified in the contract, this may result in the price of the futures contract falling (in the case of buyers of the futures contract) or rising (in the case of sellers of the futures contract) even where the current level of the Index is rising. Moreover, because the settlement amount of many futures contracts is a multiple of the difference between the settlement price and the forward price, a relatively small change in the level of an Index may result in a proportionately much larger change in the price of the futures contract.

Index Linked Instruments are not sold or promoted by an Index or the sponsor of such Index

Instruments linked to an Index are not sponsored, endorsed, sold, or promoted by such Index or the sponsor of such Index. The sponsor of an Index makes no representation whatsoever, whether express or implied, either as to the results to be obtained from the use of such Index or the levels at which such Index stands at any particular time on any particular date. Neither an Index nor sponsor of such Index shall be liable (whether in negligence or otherwise) to any person for any error in such Index. A sponsor of an Index is under no obligation to advise any person of any error in such Index. A sponsor of an Index does not make any representation whatsoever, whether express or implied, as to the advisability of investing or assuming any risk in connection with the Instruments linked to such Index.

The relevant Issuer, BAC and BAC's Affiliates are not liable for the actions or omissions of the sponsor of an Index, any information concerning an Index, the performance of such Index or use thereof in connection with the Index Linked Instruments

None of the relevant Issuer, BAC and any of BAC's Affiliates is liable to the Holders of Index Linked Instruments for any act or failure to act by a sponsor of an Index in connection with the calculation, adjustment, or maintenance of such Index. Although the Calculation Agent will obtain information concerning an Index from publicly available sources it believes reliable, it will not independently verify this information. Accordingly, no representation, warranty, or undertaking (express or implied) is made and no responsibility is accepted by the relevant Issuer, BAC, any of BAC's Affiliates or the Calculation Agent as to the accuracy, completeness, and timeliness of information concerning such Index. In addition, none of the relevant Issuer, BAC, any of BAC's Affiliates and the Calculation Agent makes any representation whatsoever, whether express or implied, as to the performance of any Index which is linked to the Instruments, any data included in, or omitted from, such Index, or the use of such Index in connection with the Index Linked Instruments.

(ii) Risks relating to Share Linked Instruments

No issuer of the relevant Share(s) will have participated in the preparation of the applicable Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Share Linked Instruments

No Share Company or Companies will have participated in the preparation of the applicable Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Share Linked Instruments and none of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and any Dealer will make any investigation or enquiry in connection with such offering with respect to any information concerning any such Share Company or Companies contained in such Final Terms or in the documents from which such information was extracted. Neither the relevant Issuer nor the Guarantor (if applicable) controls any Share Company or Companies and are not responsible for any disclosure, misstatements or omissions made by any Share Company or Companies. Consequently, there can be no assurance that all events occurring prior to the relevant issue date (including events that would affect the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of the publicly available information described in this paragraph or in any applicable Final Terms) that would affect the trading price of the relevant Share(s) will have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning such Share Company or Companies could affect the trading price of the Share(s) and therefore the trading price of the Share Linked Instruments or amounts paid or delivered under the Share Linked Instruments.

In respect of Shares which are Stapled Shares, the risks described above also apply to Component Shares or, as the case may be, Component Share Companies and, unless the context otherwise requires, should be read as if references to a "Share" or "Share Company" were references to a "Component Share" or "Component Share Company".

Factors affecting the performance of Shares may adversely affect the value of the Share Linked Instruments

The performance of Shares is dependent upon macroeconomic factors, such as interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments, political factors and company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, shareholder structure and distribution policy. These factors are not within the relevant Issuer's or (if applicable) the Guarantor's control and may result in a decline in the value of the Share Linked Instruments.

Holders have no claim against the Share Company or Companies or recourse to the Shares

Share Linked Instruments do not represent a claim against or an investment in any Share Company or Companies and investors will not have any right of recourse under the Share Linked Instruments to any such company or the Shares. Share Linked Instruments are not in any way sponsored, endorsed or promoted by any Share Company or Companies and such companies have no obligation to take into account the consequences of their actions for any Holders. Accordingly, the Share Company or Companies may take any actions in respect of such Share without regard to the interests of the investors in the Share Linked Instruments, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Share Linked Instruments.

In respect of Shares which are Stapled Shares, the risks described above also apply to Component Shares or, as the case may be, Component Share Companies and, unless the context otherwise requires, should be read as if references to a "Share" or "Share Company" were references to a "Component Share" or "Component Share Company".

Determinations made by the Calculation Agent in respect of Potential Adjustment Events, Merger Events, Tender Offers, (save in respect of Component Shares) De-listings, Nationalisations, Announcement Events, Insolvencies, (in the case of Shares that are Stapled Shares) De-stapling Events and Additional Disruption Events may have an adverse effect on the value of the Share Linked Instruments

Upon determining that a Potential Adjustment Event, Merger Event, Tender Offer, (save in respect of a Component Share) De-listing, Nationalisation, Announcement Event, Insolvency, (in the case of a Share that is a Stapled Share) De-stapling Event or Additional Disruption Event has occurred in relation to an underlying Share or, in respect of any Share that is a Stapled Share, a Component Share, or Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be), the Calculation Agent has broad discretion to make certain determinations to account for such event including to (i) make adjustments to the terms of the Share Linked Instruments and/or (ii) (in the case of a Merger Event, Tender Offer, Delisting, Nationalisation, Announcement Event, Insolvency, De-stapling Event or Additional Disruption Event) cause early redemption/settlement of the Share Linked Instruments, any of which determinations may have an adverse effect on the value of the Share Linked Instruments. In particular, in the event that the Share Linked Instruments are early settled/redeemed, the amount payable to Holders may be significantly less than the investor's initial investment, and may be as low as zero.

If Announcement Event is specified to be applicable, the Calculation Agent may exercise the broad discretions described in the paragraph above based on a public announcement by the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) or a third party of an intention to take an action or enter into a transaction that would, if taken or consummated prior to final valuation of the Share Linked Instruments, constitute a Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-Listing, Nationalisation or De-stapling Event, regardless of whether the action or transaction is taken or consummated prior to final valuation of the Share Linked Instruments or at all.

Potential Adjustment Events include (a) a sub-division, consolidation or re-classification of the Shares or, in respect of any Share that is a Stapled Share, Component Shares, (b) an extraordinary dividend, (c) a call of the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) that are not fully paid, (d) a repurchase by the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be), or an affiliate thereof, of the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be), (e) a separation of rights from the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be), (f) any event having a dilutive or concentrative effect on the value of the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be), or (g) in respect of any Share that is a Stapled Share, the making of any amendment or supplement to the terms of the Stapled Share Principles. Additional Disruption Events include (1) a change in applicable law since the Trade Date that makes it illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) or more expensive for the relevant Issuer to hedge its obligations under the relevant Share Linked Instruments, (2) an insolvency filing by or on behalf of any issuer of the relevant Share(s) or Component Shares (as the case may be), (3) Increased Cost of Hedging and (4) Hedging Disruption.

Holders may receive physical delivery of Shares in lieu of payment of cash amounts

Where the Share Linked Instruments include the right of the relevant Issuer, subject to the fulfilment of a particular condition, to redeem the Share Linked Instruments at their maturity by delivering Shares to the investor, the investors will receive such Shares rather than a monetary amount upon maturity. Holders will, therefore, be exposed to the Share Company or Companies and the risks associated with such Shares. The investor should not assume that he or she will be able to sell such Shares for a specific price after the redemption/settlement of the Share Linked Instruments, and in particular not for the purchase price of the Share Linked Instruments. Under certain circumstances the Shares may only have a very low value or may, in fact, be worthless, in which case see "Investors risk losing all of their investment in the Instruments" above. Holders may also be subject to certain documentary or stamp taxes in relation to the delivery and/or disposal of such Shares. The holding of such Shares instead of the Share Linked Instruments may adversely affect the Holder's tax position.

Holders will have no voting rights and may have no right to receive dividends or distributions in respect of the relevant Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be)

Except as provided in the relevant Conditions in relation to Physical Delivery Instruments, Holders of Share Linked Instruments will not have voting rights or any other rights with respect to the relevant Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) to which such Share Linked Instruments relate.

Unless the "Dividend Conditions" are applicable for Share Linked Instruments, Holders of Share Linked Instruments will not have rights to receive dividends or distributions. As a result, the return on the Share Linked Instruments may not reflect the return an investor would realise if the investor actually owned those relevant Shares and received the dividends paid or other distributions made in connection with them.

Specific risks relating to Shares which are Stapled Shares

A Share which is a Stapled Share comprises a number of Component Shares and is traded on the relevant Exchange as if it were a single security. Each of the Component Shares may not be traded or transferred separately. Stapled share structures can be complex and any distributions payable may be made up of several components with different tax, legal or other consequences. There may be limited liquidity in a Stapled Share in the secondary market. These factors may all affect the value of a Stapled Share, and in turn, may adversely affect the value of and return on the Share Linked Instruments with such Stapled Share as a Reference Item.

Specific risks relating to Share Linked Instruments in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" shall be applicable

Share Linked Instruments in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" shall be applicable are linked to the value of specified Shares during a specified period. If cash dividends are declared and paid on such Shares during such specified period, Holders of such Share Linked Instruments shall receive such amounts, less deductions for local taxes (including withholding taxes). Holders of such Share Linked Instruments should note that they will not acquire any interest in or right to acquire the relevant Shares, and will not in any way have any rights with respect to the relevant Shares (including voting rights). There is no obligation on MLBV or any of its Affiliates to purchase, sell, hold, deliver, pledge or transfer any such Shares. In addition, the Additional Amount(s) and/or the Cash Settlement Amount (if any) due to Holders of such Share Linked Instruments will generally be payable in a currency other than the currency in which the relevant Shares are denominated; as a result, the returns to Holders will be subject to exchange rate risk as well.

Holders of such Share Linked Instruments should note that following the occurrence of any Potential Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent may make certain determinations in respect of such Share Linked Instruments, such as the issue of additional Share Linked Instruments to Holders or the issue to Holders of new Share Linked Instruments linked to the relevant Share or the share capital or other securities of another company created as a result of a spin-off or other similar transaction relating to the relevant Share Company or the distribution of a cash amount to Holders or the adjustment of the terms and conditions of such Share Linked Instruments, in each case, to account for the diluting or concentrative effect of such Potential Adjustment Event. Holders of such Share Linked Instruments should note that none of MLBV, the Guarantor (if applicable) and any of their respective affiliates are in a position to advise or give assurance to the Holders as to the impact to the economic, legal or tax position of such Holders as a result of such determinations or actions to the Holders. Holders of such Share Linked Instruments should consult their own business, accounting, regulatory, legal, tax and other professional advisers with respect to any consequences or considerations (whether relating to tax or otherwise) which may be relevant to or which may result from any such determinations or actions.

Holders of such Share Linked Instruments should also note that all payments made by MLBV (other than additional amounts) will be made subject to deductions to account for any costs and taxes which a hypothetical broker dealer, directly or indirectly, could incur in connection with any hedging arrangements which such hypothetical broker dealer could make in order to hedge such Share Linked Instruments.

The Share Linked Instruments may give exposure to a specified China A share traded through the China Connect Service. Holders of such Share Linked Instruments should also note the specific risks relating to China Connect Share LEPU set out in the paragraph below.

Specific Risks relating to Share Linked Instruments in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" and "China Connect Share LEPU Conditions" shall be applicable

Share Linked Instruments in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" and "China Connect Share LEPU Conditions" shall be applicable are linked to the value of specified A shares traded through "China Connect". "China Connect" refers to the Shanghai-HK Connect and/or the Shenzhen-HK Connect as the case may be. China Connect is a securities trading and clearing links programme, initially developed by the Shanghai Stock Exchange ("SSE"), the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited ("SEHK"), the China Securities Depository and Clearing Corporation and the Hong Kong Securities Clearing Company Limited for the establishment of mutual market access between SSE and SEHK ("Shanghai-HK Connect"). Shanghai-HK Connect is a platform for foreign investors to invest in eligible A shares listed and traded on the SSE. Following the launch of the Shanghai-HK Connect in November 2014 and the joint announcement made by the China Securities Regulatory Commission ("CSRC") and the Securities and Futures Commission ("SFC") on 16 August 2016, a similar securities trading and clearing links programme for giving mutual market access between the Shenzhen Stock Exchange ("SZSE") and the SEHK has been launched ("Shenzhen-HK Connect").

Shenzhen-HK Connect extends the current arrangements of Shanghai-HK Connect by linking up the SZSE and the SEHK. Shenzhen-HK Connect is a platform for foreign investors to invest in eligible A shares listed and traded on the SZSE. MLBV or its Affiliates may (but are not obliged to) hedge MLBV's obligations under such Share Linked Instruments through China Connect.

China Connect has some unique features and restrictions, including (without limitation) daily quota restrictions, eligibility criteria for A shares that can be traded through China Connect, and restrictions on the ability of an investor to take up certain types of rights issuances through China Connect, and restrictions on investor eligibility for trading A shares listed on the ChiNext Market of the SZSE ("ChiNext Shares") through the Shenzhen-HK Connect. Trading through China Connect is also subject to the laws, regulations, rules and guidelines published or applied by the exchanges, clearing systems and regulators in Hong Kong and the PRC which provide services in relation to and/or regulate activities relating to China Connect ("China Connect Rules").

China Connect has been launched since 2014 and is subject to further development. There is no assurance as to whether or how such developments may affect an investment in securities traded through China Connect. Also, the interpretation and application of the China Connect Rules is untested and there is uncertainty as to how they will be applied.

Holders of such Share Linked Instruments should note that these potential restrictions and uncertainties relating to China Connect may trigger a Hedging Disruption, a Potential Adjustment Event or an Additional Disruption Event, or may lead to adjustments to the terms or early termination of such Share Linked Instruments, and any disruption to or early closure of China Connect may trigger a Market Disruption Event, all as provided for in the China Connect Share LEPW Conditions.

Additional risks associated with investing in Instruments linked to ChiNext Share

ChiNext is a board market of SZSE for innovative enterprises and other growing start-ups. The rules and regulations regarding securities traded on ChiNext are less stringent in terms of profitability and share capital than those in respect of the SZSE Main Board Market or the SZSE SME Board Market. As such, securities traded on ChiNext will be subject to higher market volatility than securities traded on the Main Board Market or the SME Board Market of SZSE. Holders of Instruments linked to ChiNext Share will be exposed to a higher underlying market volatility.

Currently, the Rules of SEHK restrict the buying and selling of ChiNext Shares traded through the Shenzhen-HK Connect to institutional professional investors (as defined in the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571) of Hong Kong) ("Institutional Professional Investors") only. Accordingly, purchase of any Instruments over ChiNext Share will be limited to Institutional Professional Investors only.

Trading of China A shares through China Connect may be subject to laws and regulations in the PRC and Hong Kong (each a "Relevant Jurisdiction"). Further, any purchase, offer or sale of LEPWs linked to ChiNext Shares traded through China Connect ("ChiNext Share LEPW") will be subject to ChiNext Share Connect Selling Restrictions as set out in the "Offering and Sale" of this Offering Circular.

In order to ensure compliance with these laws and regulations, each purchaser of a ChiNext Share LEPW is deemed to represent, warrant, agree and undertake its full compliance with the ChiNext Share Connect Selling Restrictions set out in the "Offering and Sale" of this Offering Circular. Failure of any Holder to comply with the ChiNext Share Connect Selling Restrictions (an "LEPW Non-compliance Event") will be an Additional Disruption Event which gives MLBV the right to make appropriate adjustments to the Terms and Conditions of such LEPWs or cancel such LEPWs early.

Furthermore, in the event that a governmental or regulatory authority of any Relevant Jurisdiction has requested MLBV, MLI and/or their respective affiliates or agents to terminate or modify the LEPWs, any Applicable Hedge Positions or any Related Hedging Arrangement relating thereto, or otherwise imposes material requirements on the foregoing, the MLBV Guarantee, the holders or related documents, an Additional Disruption Event will occur which gives MLBV the right to make appropriate adjustments to the Terms and Conditions of the LEPWs or cancel the LEPWs early.

Any adjustment and/or early termination of the LEPWs may result in the loss of some or all of the purchaser's investment.

Further, the adjustment and/or early termination right applies to the entire series of the LEPWs. Any breach by a single Holder may trigger adjustment and/or early termination of the entire series of the LEPWs. Holders who are not in breach will also be affected as their holdings in the same series of LEPWs will be subject to adjustment and/or early termination caused by the breach of such other Holder.

Specific risks relating to Share Linked Instruments linked to a share listed and/or traded on a stock exchange in a jurisdiction (a "Relevant Jurisdiction") in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" shall be applicable ("LEPW")

In respect of LEPWs issued by MLB, the issuance, sale, transfer and/or holding of such LEPWs may be subject to laws and regulations in the Relevant Jurisdiction. Purchasers of LEPWs are required to comply with the applicable laws and regulations of the Relevant Jurisdiction.

In order to ensure compliance with these laws and regulations, each purchaser of a LEPW is deemed to represent, warrant, agree and undertake on an ongoing basis its full compliance with the relevant selling restrictions and transfer restrictions applicable to the Relevant Jurisdiction set out in the "Offering and Sale" section of this Offering Circular, and agree and undertake to provide any additional disclosure or information that MLB, MLI, BAC and/or their respective affiliates reasonably deem necessary or appropriate in order to comply with the regulations or requests from any governmental or regulatory authorities of the Relevant Jurisdiction from time to time.

Failure of any Holder to comply with the relevant selling restrictions or transfer restrictions applicable to the Relevant Jurisdiction and/or failure to provide MLB and/or its affiliates promptly with the information described above and/or execute any document that MLB, MLI, BAC and/or their respective affiliates reasonably deem necessary or appropriate in order to comply with the regulations or requests from any governmental or regulatory authorities of the Relevant Jurisdiction from time to time (each an "LEPW Non-compliance Event") will, if LEWP Non-compliance Event is specified as applicable in the Final Terms for the applicable Series of LEWP, be an Additional Disruption Event which gives MLB the right to make appropriate adjustments to the Terms and Conditions of the LEPWs or cancel the LEPWs early.

Furthermore, if Regulatory Order is specified as applicable in the Final Terms for the applicable Series of LEWP, in the event that a governmental or regulatory authority of the Relevant Jurisdiction has requested MLB, MLI and/or their respective affiliates or agent to terminate or modify the LEPWs, any Applicable Hedge Positions or any Related Hedging Arrangement relating thereto, or otherwise imposes material requirements on the foregoing, the MLB Guarantee, the holders or related documents, an Additional Disruption Event will occur which gives MLB the right to make appropriate adjustments to the Terms and Conditions of the LEPWs or cancel the LEPWs early.

Any adjustment and/or early termination of the LEPWs may result in the loss of some or all of the purchaser's investment.

Further, the adjustment and/or early termination right applies to the entire series of the LEPWs. Any breach by a single Holder may trigger adjustment and/or early termination of the entire series of the LEPWs. Holders who are not in breach will also be affected as their holdings in the same series of LEPWs will be subject to adjustment and/or early termination caused by the breach of such other Holder.

(iii) Risks relating to GDR/ADR Linked Instruments

Exposure to risk that redemption amounts do not reflect direct investment in the shares underlying the Depositary Receipts

There are important differences between the rights of holders of ADRs or GDRs (ADRs and GDRs, together, "Depositary Receipts") and the rights of holders of the stock of the issuer of underlying shares represented by such Depositary Receipts. A Depositary Receipt is a security that represents capital stock of the relevant underlying share issuer. The relevant Deposit Agreement for the Depositary Receipt sets out the rights and responsibilities of the Depositary (being the issuer of the Depositary Receipt), the underlying share issuer and holders of the Depositary Receipt which may be different from the rights of holders of the underlying shares. For example, the underlying share issuer may make distributions in respect of its underlying shares that are not passed on to the holders of its Depositary Receipts. Any such differences between the rights of holders of the Depositary Receipts and holders of the underlying shares of the underlying share issuer may be significant and may materially and adversely affect the value of the relevant GDR/ADR Linked Instruments.

Exposure to the risk of non-recognition of beneficial ownership of the underlying shares represented by Depositary Receipts and therefore generally do not include dividends

The legal owner of the underlying shares represented by Depositary Receipts is the custodian bank which at the same time is the issuing agent of the Depositary Receipts. Depending on the jurisdiction under which the Depositary Receipts have been issued and the jurisdiction to which the custodian agreement is subject, it is possible that the corresponding jurisdiction would not recognise the purchaser of the Depositary Receipts as the actual beneficial owner of the underlying shares. Particularly in the event that the custodian becomes insolvent or that enforcement measures are taken against the custodian, it is possible that an order restricting free disposition could be issued with respect to the underlying shares represented by Depositary Receipts or that such shares are realised within the framework of an enforcement measure against the custodian. If this is the case, the holder of the Depositary Receipt loses the rights under the underlying shares and the GDR/ADR Linked Instruments would become worthless. See "Investors risk losing all of their investment in the Instruments" above.

Potential exposure to risks of emerging markets

Depositary Receipts often represent shares of underlying share issuers based in emerging market jurisdictions. In such case, there are risks relating to GDR/ADR Linked Instruments linked to Depositary Receipts which represent such underlying shares. See "Risks relating to Instruments which are linked to emerging market Reference Item(s)" above.

Adjustment to the terms and conditions or replacement of the Reference Item following certain corporate events in relation to the underlying shares represented by Depositary Receipts may materially and adversely affect the value of the Instruments

Following certain corporate events specified in the terms and conditions of the relevant GDR/ADR Linked Instruments relating to the underlying shares represented by Depositary Receipts or the relevant issuer of such underlying shares, such as a merger where the relevant company is not the surviving entity, the amount Holders of GDR/ADR Linked Instruments will receive, if any, at maturity of such Instruments may be adjusted by the Calculation Agent or the affected underlying shares and Depositary Receipts may be replaced by another Reference Item. The occurrence of such corporate events and the consequential adjustments may materially and adversely affect the value of the GDR/ADR Linked Instruments.

Holdings of GDR/ADR Linked Instruments are exposed to changes in the rate of exchange between the currency of the Depositary Receipt and the underlying share

Where the currency of the Depositary Receipt is different from that of the underlying share, represented by a Depositary Receipt, Holders of Instruments linked to such Depositary Receipt may be exposed not only to the performance of the Depositary Receipt but also to the performance of the relevant foreign currency of the underlying share, which cannot be predicted. See "Factors affecting the performance of the relevant foreign exchange rate may adversely affect the value of the Instruments" below.

(iv) Risks relating to FX Linked Instruments and other Instruments in respect of which "Exchange Rate" is specified to be applicable

Factors affecting the performance of the relevant foreign exchange rate may adversely affect the value of the Instruments

In the case of FX Linked Instruments or any other Instruments in respect of which "Exchange Rate" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, any changes to the foreign exchange rate(s) to which such Instruments are linked will affect the nature and value of the investment return on such Instruments. The performance of foreign exchange rates is dependent upon the supply and demand for currencies in the international foreign exchange markets, which are subject to international and domestic political factors, economic factors (including inflation rates in the countries concerned, interest rate differences between the respective countries), economic forecasts, currency convertibility and safety of making financial investments in the currency concerned, speculation and measures taken by governments and central banks. Measures taken by governments and central banks include, without limitation, imposition of regulatory controls or taxes, issuance of a new currency to replace an existing currency, alteration of the exchange rate or exchange characteristics by devaluation or revaluation of a currency or imposition of exchange controls with respect to the exchange or transfer of a Specified Currency or Settlement Currency that would affect exchange rates and the availability of a Specified Currency or Settlement Currency which would affect the return on such an Instrument or the ability of the relevant Issuer to make delivery in the Specified Currency or Settlement Currency.

BAC is a major foreign exchange dealer and is subject to conflicts of interest

Investors should note that BAC and its Affiliates (including Merrill Lynch International) are regular participants in the foreign exchange markets and in the ordinary course of their business may effect transactions for their own account or for the account of their customers and hold long and short positions in currencies and related derivatives, including in the currencies of the relevant foreign exchange rate(s). Such transactions may affect the relevant foreign exchange rate(s) and the market price, liquidity or value of the Instruments and could be adverse to the interests of Holders. Neither BAC nor any of its Affiliates has any duty to enter into such transactions in a manner which is favourable to Holders.

Currencies of emerging markets jurisdictions pose particular risks

Instruments (including FX Linked Instruments) which expose the investor to emerging market currencies may experience greater volatility and less certainty as to the future levels of such emerging market currencies or their rate of exchange as against other currencies. See "Risks relating to Instruments which are linked to emerging market Reference Item(s)" above.

(v) Risks relating to Commodity Linked Instruments

An investment in Commodity Linked Instruments entails significant risks in addition to those associated with investments in a conventional debt security.

Ownership of the Commodity Linked Instruments will not entitle an investor to any rights with respect to any futures contracts or Commodities included in or tracked by the Reference Item(s)

An investor will not own or have any beneficial or other legal interest in, and will not be entitled to any rights with respect to, any of the Commodities or commodity futures contracts included in such Reference Item(s). Neither the relevant Issuer nor the Guarantor (if applicable) will invest in any of the Commodities or commodity futures contracts included in such Reference Item(s) on behalf or for the benefit of the Holders.

Factors affecting the performance of Commodities may adversely affect the value of the Commodity Linked Instruments; Commodity prices may be more volatile than other asset classes

The prices of Commodities may be volatile and may fluctuate substantially if, for example, natural disasters or catastrophes, such as hurricanes, fires, or earthquakes, affect the supply or production of such Commodities. Commodity prices also fluctuate due to general macro-economic forces and general market movements. The price of Commodities may also fluctuate substantially if conflict or war affects the supply or production of such Commodities. If any amount payable in respect of a Commodity Linked Instrument is linked to the price of a Commodity, any change in the price of such Commodity may result in the reduction of the amount of such payment in respect of such Commodity Linked Instrument. The reduction in the amount payable on the redemption/settlement of the Instrument may result, in some cases, in a Holder receiving a smaller sum on redemption/settlement of the Commodity Linked Instrument than the amount originally invested in such Commodity Linked Instrument.

Commodity Linked Instruments may reference physical commodities or commodity contracts, and Commodity Indices may include commodity contracts that are not traded on regulated exchanges

Commodities comprise both (i) "physical" commodities, which need to be stored and transported, and which are generally traded at a "spot" price, and (ii) commodity contracts, which are agreements either to (a) buy or sell a set amount of an underlying physical commodity at a predetermined price and delivery period (which may be referred to as a delivery month), or to (b) make and receive a cash payment based on changes in the price of the underlying physical commodity.

Commodity Indices are typically based solely on futures contracts traded on regulated futures exchanges; however, a Commodity Index may include over-the-counter contracts traded on trading facilities outside the United States that are subject to lesser degrees of regulation or, in some cases, no substantive regulation. Accordingly, trading in such contracts, and the manner in which prices and volumes are reported by the relevant trading facilities, may not be subject to the provisions of, and the protections afforded by, the applicable regulations governing regulated futures exchanges. As a result, the trading of contracts on such facilities and the inclusion of such contracts in a Commodity Index may be subject to certain risks not presented by most exchange-traded futures contracts, including risks related to the liquidity and price histories of the relevant contracts, and any Instruments which reference any such commodity contracts may have reduced liquidity or greater price volatility or be subject to more extensive market disruptions.

Commodity Linked Instruments which are linked to commodity futures contracts may provide a different return from Commodity Linked Instruments linked to the relevant physical commodity and will have certain other risks

The price of a futures contract on a commodity will generally be at a premium or at a discount to the spot price of the underlying commodity. This discrepancy is due to such factors as (i) the need to adjust the spot price due to related expenses (e.g., warehousing, transport and insurance costs) and (ii) different methods being used to evaluate general factors affecting the spot and the futures markets. In addition, and depending on the commodity, there can be significant differences in the liquidity of the spot and the futures markets. Accordingly, Commodity Linked Instruments which are linked to commodity futures contracts may provide a different return from Commodity Linked Instruments linked to the relevant physical commodity.

Investments in futures contracts involve certain other risks, including potential illiquidity. A holder of a futures position may find that such position becomes illiquid because certain commodity exchanges limit fluctuations in such futures contract prices pursuant to "daily limits". Once the price of a particular futures contract has increased or decreased by an amount equal to the daily limit, positions in the contract can neither be taken nor liquidated unless holders are willing to effect trades at or within the limit. This could prevent a holder from promptly liquidating unfavourable positions and subject it to substantial losses. Futures contract prices in various commodities occasionally have exceeded the daily limit for several consecutive days with little or no trading. Any such losses in such circumstances could have a negative adverse effect on the return of any Commodity Linked Instruments the Reference Item of which is the affected futures contract. There can be no assurance that any such disruption or any other force majeure (such as an act of God, fire, flood, severe weather conditions, act of governmental authority or a labour dispute or shortage) will not have an adverse effect on the value of or trading in the Reference Item(s), or the manner in which it is calculated, and therefore, the value of the Instruments.

In the case of a direct investment in commodity futures contracts, the invested capital may be applied in whole or in part by way of collateral in respect of the future claims of the respective counterparties under the commodity futures contracts. Such capital will generally bear interest, and the interest yield will increase the return of the investor making such direct investment. However, Holders of Instruments linked to the price of commodity futures contracts do not participate in such interest yields from the hypothetical fully collateralised investment in commodity futures contracts.

Additional risks in relation to the "rolling" of commodity futures contracts (including commodity futures contracts which are components of a Commodity Index)

Commodity contracts have a predetermined expiration date, which is the date on which trading of the commodity contract ceases. Holding a commodity contract until expiration will result in delivery of the underlying physical commodity or the requirement to make or receive a cash settlement. Alternatively, "rolling" the commodity contracts means that the commodity contracts that are nearing expiration (the "near-dated commodity contracts") are sold before they expire and commodity contracts that have an expiration date further in the future (the "longer-dated commodity contracts") are purchased. Investments in commodities apply "rolling" of the component commodity contracts in order to maintain an ongoing exposure to such commodities.

"Rolling" can affect the value of an investment in commodities in a number of ways, including:

- (i) The investment in commodity contracts may be increased or decreased through "rolling":
Where the price of a near-dated commodity contract is greater than the price of the longer-dated commodity contract (the commodity is said to be in "backwardation"), then "rolling" from the former to the latter will result in exposure to a greater number of the longer-dated commodity contract being taken. Therefore, any loss or gain on the new positions for a given movement in the prices of the commodity contract will be greater than if one had synthetically held the same number of commodity contracts as before the "roll". Conversely, where the price of the near-dated commodity contract is lower than the price of the longer-dated commodity contract (the commodity is said to be in "contango"), then "rolling" will result in exposure to a smaller number of the longer-dated commodity contract being taken. Therefore, any gain or loss on the new positions for a given movement in the prices of the commodity contract will be less than if one had synthetically held the same number of commodity contracts as before the "roll".
- (ii) Where a commodity contract is in contango (or, alternatively, backwardation) it may be expected to (though it may not) have a negative (or, alternatively, positive) effect over time:
Where a commodity contract is in "contango", the price of the longer-dated commodity contract will generally be expected to (but may not) decrease over time as it nears expiry. In such event, rolling is generally expected to have a negative effect on an investment in the commodity contract. Where a commodity contract is in "backwardation", the price of the longer-dated commodity contract will generally be expected to (but may not) increase over time as it nears expiry. In such event, the investment in the relevant commodity contract can generally be expected to be positively affected.

Commodity indices are indices which track the performance of a basket of commodity contracts on certain commodities, depending on the particular index. The weighting of the respective commodities included in a commodity index will depend on the particular index, and is generally described in the relevant index rules of the index. Commodity indices apply "rolling" of the component commodity contracts in order to maintain an ongoing exposure to such commodities. Specifically, as a commodity contract is required to be rolled pursuant to the relevant index rules, the commodity index is calculated as if exposure to the commodity contract was liquidated and exposure was taken to another (generally longer-dated) commodity contract for an equivalent exposure. Accordingly, the same effects as described above with regard to "rolling" on the value of a Commodity Reference Item also apply with regard to the index level of a Commodity index.

Legal and regulatory changes relating to the Commodities may lead to adjustment to, or early redemption or settlement of, the Commodity Linked Instruments, and could adversely affect the return on and value of the Commodity Linked Instruments

The legal and regulatory regimes of Commodities in many jurisdictions, including, in particular, the United States and Europe, may change in ways that could increase the level of regulation of markets and market participants, reduce liquidity, increase market volatility and increase the costs of participating in the commodity or futures markets which could negatively affect an interest in Commodity Linked Instruments.

In the United States, the regulation of commodity transactions is subject to ongoing modification by governmental and judicial action. For example, the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") has interpreted the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act"), which was enacted in July 2010, to require the CFTC to impose limits on the size of positions that can be held by market participants in futures contracts and OTC derivatives on certain physical commodities. The CFTC's rules providing for such position limits have been, and may in the future be, subject to litigation challenging their validity, the potential final outcome of which cannot be known at this time. While the ultimate scope and effect of any final and implemented position limit rules are not yet known, these limits will likely restrict the ability of many market participants to trade in the commodities markets to the same extent as they have in the past, including affecting their ability to enter into or maintain hedge positions in the applicable commodity or futures contracts. These rules and various other legislative and regulatory requirements may, among other things, reduce liquidity, increase market volatility, and increase costs in these markets. These consequences could adversely affect the applicable Reference Item and the Commodity Linked Instruments.

In addition, other governmental or regulatory bodies (such as the European Commission) have proposed or may propose in the future legislation or regulations containing restrictions similar to those contemplated by the Dodd-Frank Act, or other legislation or regulations containing other restrictions that could adversely impact the liquidity of, and increase the costs of, participating in the commodities markets. In Europe, the European Market Infrastructure Regulation ("EMIR") and its accompanying technical standards, as well as MiFID II and its implementing measures, seek to address concerns in relation to the monitoring of counterparty credit risk of OTC derivatives market participants, transparency and liquidity in financial markets. For example, under the recast MiFID II and the accompanying Markets in Financial Instruments Regulation ("MiFIR"), there are requirements to establish position limits on trading commodity derivatives. The implementing regulations and technical standards are currently subject to review and consultation and the scope of the final rules remains unclear.

Any such changes to the legal and regulatory regime in relation to Commodities may adversely affect the relevant Issuer's obligations in respect of any underlying or hedging transactions in relation to the Commodity Linked Instruments, or may make it unlawful or infeasible, in whole or in part, for any reason for the relevant Issuer to access the commodity markets for purposes of managing commodity market risk, which may lead to adjustment to, or early redemption/settlement of, the Commodity Linked Instruments. In the event of an early redemption/settlement, any early settlement amount or early redemption amount may be less than the purchase price of the Commodity Linked Instruments, and may be zero.

In addition, any such changes to the legal and regulatory regime in relation to Commodities could have an adverse impact on the price of a Commodity, or the return on a Commodity Index, and the return on and value of the Commodity Linked Instruments.

Data sourcing and calculation risks associated with a Commodity Index and the commodity contracts underlying a Commodity Index may adversely affect the value of the Commodity Index

The closing level of a Commodity Index or the prices of commodity contracts underlying such Commodity Index will be calculated based on price data that are subject to potential errors in data sources or other errors that may affect the closing levels published by the relevant sponsor of a Commodity Index or the prices published by the relevant price source(s) for such underlying commodity contracts, as applicable. Also, there may be errors in any other data sourced by the sponsor of a Commodity Index. Such errors could adversely affect the closing level of the Commodity Index on any given day, which could in turn have an adverse effect on the value of the Commodity Linked Instruments and any amount payable under the Commodity Linked Instruments. There can be no assurance that any error or discrepancy on the part of any data source or sponsor will be corrected or revised or that the sponsor of a Commodity Index will incorporate any such correction or revision into the calculation of such Commodity Index. None of the sponsor of a Commodity Index, the relevant Issuers and the Guarantor makes any representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the correctness or completeness of that information or takes any responsibility for the accuracy of such data or the impact of any inaccuracy of such data on the relevant level of such Commodity Index, or on the value of any commodity contracts included in such Commodity Index.

(vi) Risks relating to Fund Linked Instruments

No Fund will have participated in the preparation of the applicable Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Fund Linked Instruments

No Fund will have participated in the preparation of the applicable Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Fund Linked Instruments and none of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and any Dealer will make any investigation or enquiry in connection with such offering with respect to any information concerning any such Fund contained in such Final Terms or in the documents from which such information was extracted. Neither the relevant Issuer nor the Guarantor (if applicable) controls any Fund or is responsible for any disclosure, misstatements or omissions made by any Fund. Consequently, there can be no assurance that all events occurring prior to the relevant issue date (including events that would affect the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of the publicly available information or in any applicable Final Terms) that would affect the net asset value of units (or fund interest) in the relevant Fund(s) or, the share price of the Fund Shares of the relevant Exchange Traded Fund(s) ("ETFs"), will have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning such Fund could affect the net asset value of units (or fund interest) in such Fund, or the share price of the Fund Shares of such ETFs, and therefore the trading price of the Fund Linked Instruments or amounts paid or delivered under the Fund Linked Instruments.

A Fund may be subject to Fund Events which may adversely impact the value of Fund Linked Instruments

If certain events specified as Fund Events occur, the Calculation Agent may replace the Fund by other Funds and thereafter the amount payable in respect of the Fund Linked Instruments will depend on and be calculated by reference to the performance of an alternate asset. This may have a considerable impact on the value of the Fund Linked Instruments and the amount payable in respect of the Fund Linked Instruments. Alternatively, any determination dates and payment dates may be changed by the Calculation Agent, or the amount paid per Fund Linked Instrument may be based on the only cash amounts that an investor in the fund actually received, which might be as low as zero.

Risk from composition and changes to a Fund

The management company of a Fund can, without regard to the interests of the investors in the Fund Linked Instruments, add, delete or substitute any Funds by reference to which the value of a Fund is calculated or make other methodological changes that could change the investment profile of a Fund. The management company may also determine to discontinue a Fund. If a Fund is discontinued, it may be replaced by other assets and/or the Fund Linked Instruments may be redeemed or exercised early.

In the event that a Fund is materially modified or permanently cancelled or the management company fails to calculate or announce the net asset value of a Fund, the Calculation Agent either will make such adjustments to any variable, calculation methodology, valuation, settlement, payment terms or any other terms and conditions of the Fund Linked Instruments as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for the effect on the Fund Linked Instruments of such events, or may redeem or exercise the Fund Linked Instruments early. Any of these decisions or determinations may adversely impact the value of the Fund Linked Instruments. In the event that the Fund Linked Instruments are early settled/redeemed, the amount payable to an investor may be less than the investor's initial investment, and may be as low as zero.

Funds may be subject to transfer restrictions and illiquidity

Funds and the assets thereof may be subject to transfer restrictions arising by way of applicable securities laws or otherwise. Such restrictions may mean that purchasers of the Fund Linked Instruments are not entitled to acquire interests in the Funds directly. Holders of units or shares in a Fund may have the right to transfer or withdraw their investment in the Funds only at certain times and upon completion of certain documentary formalities and such rights may be subject to suspension or alteration. These circumstances may affect the net asset value of the Funds in question. Potential investors should familiarise themselves with the features of the Funds in this regard.

Events which affect the value of a Fund will affect the value of Fund Linked Instruments

The occurrence of any of the following events could materially and adversely affect the value of shares or units in a Fund, and have a consequent material and adverse effect on the value of Fund Linked Instruments:

- Valuation: The valuation of Funds is generally controlled by the management company of the Fund. Valuations are performed in accordance the terms and conditions governing the Fund. Such valuations may be based upon the unaudited financial records of the Fund and any accounts pertaining thereto. Such valuations may be preliminary calculations of the net asset values of the Fund and accounts. The Fund may hold a significant number of investments which are illiquid or otherwise not actively traded and in respect of which reliable net asset values may be difficult to obtain. In consequence, the management company may vary certain quotations for such investments held by the Fund in order to reflect its judgement as to the fair value thereof. Therefore, valuations may be subject to subsequent adjustment upward or downward. Uncertainties as to the valuation of Fund assets and/or accounts may have an adverse effect on the net asset value of the Fund where such judgements regarding valuations prove to be incorrect.

- Trading charges: The performance of a Fund will be affected by the charges incurred thereby relating to the investments of such Fund. The Fund may engage in short-term trading which may result in increased turnover and associated higher than normal brokerage commissions and other expenses.
- Legal and regulatory changes: Future changes to applicable law or regulation may be adverse to a Fund.
- Investment risk: All investments risk the loss of capital and/or the diminution of investment returns. A Fund may utilise (inter alia) strategies such as short-selling, leverage, securities lending and borrowing, investment in sub-investment grade or non-readily realisable investments, uncovered options transactions, options and futures transactions and foreign exchange transactions and the use of concentrated portfolios, each of which could, in certain circumstances, magnify adverse market developments and losses.
- Illiquidity: A Fund may make investments in markets that are volatile and/or illiquid and it may be difficult or costly for positions therein to be opened or liquidated.
- Performance risk: No assurance can be given relating to the present or future performance of a Fund. The performance of a Fund is dependent on the performance of the management company thereof. Certain management companies may utilise analytical models upon which investment decisions are based. No assurance can be given that these persons will succeed in meeting the investment objectives of the Fund, that any analytical model used thereby will prove to be correct or that any assessments of the short-term or long-term prospects, volatility and correlation of the types of investments in which the Funds have invested or will invest will prove accurate.
- Effect of exchange rates and exchange controls: The net asset value of a Fund could be adversely affected not only by hedging costs and changes in exchange rates, but also by local exchange control regulations and other limitations, including currency exchange limitations and political and economic developments in the relevant countries.
- Market risks: The markets in which a Fund invests may prove to be highly volatile from time to time as a result of, for example, sudden changes in government policies on taxation and currency repatriation or changes in legislation relating to the value of foreign ownership in companies, and this may affect the net asset value at which a Fund may liquidate positions to meet repurchase requests or other funding requirements.
- Hedging risks: A Fund may in certain cases employ various hedging techniques to reduce the risk of investment positions. A substantial risk remains, nonetheless, that such techniques will not always be available and when available, will not always be effective in limiting losses. A Fund may take substantial unhedged positions.
- Interest rate risks: The values of securities held by a Fund (or by any underlying Fund) tend to be sensitive to interest rate fluctuations and unexpected fluctuations in interest rates could cause the corresponding net asset values of a Fund's positions to move in directions which were not initially anticipated. To the extent that interest rate assumptions underlie the hedge ratios implemented in hedging a particular position, fluctuations in interest rates could invalidate those underlying assumptions and expose a Fund to losses.
- Absence of regulation: A Fund will generally not be regulated under the laws of any country or jurisdiction. As a result, certain protections of such laws (which, among other things, may require investment companies to have disinterested directors, require securities to be held in custody and segregated, regulate the relationship between the investment company and its adviser and mandate investor approval before fundamental investment policies may be changed) do not apply to a Fund. This absence of regulation may adversely affect the performance of a Fund.
- Suspension of trading: A securities exchange typically has the right to suspend or limit trading in any instrument traded on that exchange. A suspension could render it impossible for a Fund to liquidate positions and thereby expose a Fund to losses.

- Dependence on key individuals: The success of a Fund is dependent on the expertise of its managers. The loss of one or more individuals could have a material adverse effect on the ability of a Fund manager to direct a fund's portfolio, resulting in losses for a Fund and a decline in the value of a Fund. Indeed, certain fund managers may have only one principal, without whom the relevant Fund manager could not continue to operate.
- Experience of Fund managers: Certain Funds may be managed by investment managers who have managed hedge funds for a relatively short period of time. The previous experience of such investment managers is typically in trading proprietary accounts of financial institutions or managing unhedged accounts of institutional asset managers or other investment firms. As such investment managers do not have direct experience in managing Funds or hedge funds, including experience with financial, legal or regulatory considerations unique to Fund management, and there is generally less information available on which to base an opinion of such managers' investment and management expertise, investments with such investment managers may be subject to greater risk and uncertainty than investments with more experienced Fund managers.
- Risk of fraud: There is a risk that a Fund manager could divert or abscond with the assets, fail to follow agreed-upon investment strategies, provide false reports of operations or engage in other misconduct.
- Performance compensation payable to Fund managers: The performance-based compensation paid to a Fund manager is typically calculated on a basis that includes unrealised appreciation and may consequently be greater than if such compensation were based solely on realised gains. Each Fund generally calculates its own performance compensation based on its individual performance, irrespective of increases in the overall value of the Fund. Furthermore, when the Fund is rebalanced and an unprofitable underlying asset is removed, the loss carried forward by such Fund's trading is eliminated for purposes of calculating subsequent performance compensation due to the Fund manager of any replacement underlying asset. Thus, there may be substantial incentive compensation due to the relevant Fund manager even during a period when the portfolio of assets is incurring significant losses.
- Concentration risk: As many hedge funds have the authority to concentrate their investments in securities of a single issuer or industry, the overall adverse impact on one or more components of the fund, and correspondingly on the value of the Fund, of adverse movements in the value of such securities could be considerably greater than if the Fund were not permitted to concentrate their investments. Moreover, a number of hedge funds included as components in a Fund might accumulate substantial positions in the same or related instruments at the same time. As information regarding the actual investments made by such funds is not generally available, the management company will be unable to identify any such accumulations, which could expose the relevant Fund to the risk of sudden and severe declines.
- Risks of leverage: A Fund may borrow without limitation and typically utilises various lines of credit and other forms of leverage. In addition, certain of a Fund's investment strategies (primarily those utilising derivative instruments) may involve indirect forms of leverage. While leverage presents opportunities for increasing a Fund's total return, it increases the potential risk of loss as well. Any event which adversely affects the value of an investment by a Fund is magnified to the extent that such investment is leveraged. Leverage can have a similar effect on issuers in which a Fund invests. The use of leverage by a Fund could result in substantial losses which would be greater than if leverage had not been used. A Fund's assets may be further leveraged or hedged by the use of derivatives. In addition, investments of a fund may include investments in partnerships and other pooled investment vehicles, which themselves employ leverage to a significant extent. Such investments are subject to the same leverage risks as described above and a Fund could lose its entire investment. As a general matter, the banks and dealers that provide financing to a fund can apply essentially discretionary margin, haircut, financing and security and collateral valuation policies. Changes by banks and dealers in these policies may result in large margin calls, loss of financing and forced liquidations of positions at disadvantageous net asset values.
- Non-deductible taxes: As Funds may be resident in so-called off-shore jurisdictions, which have not entered into any double taxation conventions with other countries, any income of such Fund may be subject to taxation in the countries of origin. If such taxes are non-deductible due to the fact that such Funds are not subject to income taxation in their countries of residence, the Fund's net income may be reduced which may have a negative impact on the performance of such Fund.

- Investment criteria: It may be difficult to specify precisely or comprehensively the strategies of a Fund. As a result, it may not sometimes be clear whether or not a Fund fulfils the investment criteria set out in its offering document.
- Risks of equity investments: The investment orientation of a Fund may be based to a significant extent on equity investments. Investment in equity securities to aggressively seek capital appreciation is speculative and is generally perceived to encompass greater risks than those involved in connection with an investment in debt securities of comparable issuers.
- Risks of fixed income investments: A Fund may invest in fixed income securities and, therefore, may be exposed to the risk of default by the issuers of such securities. Such default may result in delays in payment, or non-payment of interest or principal when due. Furthermore, the net asset value of fixed income securities may also fluctuate with changes in prevailing interest rates and/or in the creditworthiness of the issuer, and these fluctuations may result in a loss of capital by a Fund.
- Risks of collective investment schemes: Some Funds may invest in other collective investment schemes. Investment in schemes of this type may afford the investor less transparency in respect of the ultimate assets of the scheme.
- Large transactions: Large subscriptions and redemptions may result in the liquidation or dilution of fund assets that may affect the net asset value of such Fund.
- Emerging markets: A Fund may invest in securities of governments of, or companies domiciled in, less-developed or emerging markets. See "Risks relating to Instruments which are linked to emerging market Reference Item(s)" above. Custody arrangements in such countries may also present enhanced risk.
- Risks of repos: A Fund may use repurchase agreements. Under a repurchase agreement, a security is sold to a buyer and at the same time the seller of the security agrees to buy back the security at a later date at a higher net asset value. In the event of a bankruptcy or other default of the transferor of securities in a repurchase agreement, a Fund could experience delays in liquidating the underlying securities and losses, including possible declines in the value of the collateral during the period while it seeks to enforce its rights thereto; possible subnormal levels of income and lack of access to income during this period and the expenses of enforcing its rights. In the case of a default by the transferee of securities in a repurchase agreement, the management company bears the risk that the transferee may not deliver the securities when required.
- Risks of currency speculation: A Fund may engage in exchange rate speculation. Foreign exchange rates have been highly volatile in recent years. The combination of volatility and leverage gives rise to the possibility of large profit but also carries a high risk of loss. In addition, there is counterparty credit risk since foreign exchange trading is done on a principal to principal basis.
- Risks of commodity futures: Commodity futures prices can be highly volatile. As a result of the low margin deposits normally required in futures trading, an extremely high degree of leverage is typical of a futures trading account. As a result, a relatively small price movement in a futures contract may result in substantial losses to the investor. Like other leveraged investments, a futures transaction may result in losses in excess of the amount invested.
- Risks of derivative instruments: A Fund may use derivative instruments, such as collateralised debt obligations, stripped mortgage-backed securities, options and swaps. There are uncertainties as to how the derivatives market will perform during periods of unusual price volatility or instability, market illiquidity or credit distress. Substantial risks are also involved in borrowing and lending against such instruments. The prices of these instruments are volatile, market movements are difficult to predict and financing sources and related interest rates are subject to rapid change. One or more markets may move against the positions held by a Fund, thereby causing substantial losses. Most of these instruments are not traded on exchanges but rather through an informal network of banks and dealers. These banks and dealers have no obligation to make markets in these instruments and may apply essentially discretionary margin and credit requirements (and thus, in effect, force a Fund to close out its relevant positions). In addition, such instruments carry the additional risk of failure to perform by the counterparty to the transaction. Government policies, especially those of the Federal Reserve Board and non-U.S. central banks, have profound effects on interest and exchange rates which, in turn, affect prices of derivative instruments. Many other unforeseeable events, including actions by various government agencies and domestic and international political events, may cause sharp market fluctuations.

- Risks of short selling: A Fund may sell securities short. Short selling exposes a Fund to theoretically unlimited risk due to the lack of an upper limit on the price to which a security may rise. Short selling involves the sale of borrowed stock. If a stock loan is called, the short seller may be forced to repurchase the stock at a loss. In addition, some traders may attempt to profit by forcing short sellers to incur a loss. Traders may make large purchases of a stock that has been sold short. The large purchases are intended to drive up the stock price, and cause the short sellers to incur losses. By doing this, the traders hope that the short sellers will limit their losses by repurchasing the stock and force the stock price even higher.
- Risks of arbitrage: The use of arbitrage strategies by a Fund in no respect should be taken to imply that such strategies are without risk. Substantial losses may be incurred on "hedge" or "arbitrage" positions, and illiquidity and default on one side of a position may effectively result in the position being transformed into an outright speculation. Every arbitrage strategy involves exposure to some second order risk of the market, such as the implied volatility in convertible bonds or warrants, the yield spread between similar term government bonds or the net asset value spread between different classes of stock for the same underlying firm. Further, there are few examples of "pure" arbitrage Funds. Most Funds also employ limited directional strategies which expose them to market risk.
- Credit risk: Many of the markets in which a Fund effects its transactions are "over-the-counter" or "inter-dealer" markets. The participants in these markets are typically not subject to credit evaluation and regulatory oversight as are members of "exchange based" markets. To the extent that a Fund invests in swaps, derivatives or synthetic instruments, or other over-the-counter transactions in these markets, such Fund may take a credit risk with regard to parties with which it trades and also may bear the risk of settlement default. These risks may differ materially from those involved in exchange-traded transactions, which generally are characterised by clearing organisation guarantees, daily marking-to-market and settlement, and segregation and minimum capital requirements applicable to intermediaries. Transactions entered into directly between two counterparties generally do not benefit from these protections, which in turn may subject a Fund to the risk that a counterparty will not settle a transaction in accordance with its terms and conditions because of a dispute over the terms of the contract or because of a credit or liquidity problem. Such "counterparty risk" is increased for contracts with longer maturities when events may intervene to prevent settlement. The ability of a Fund to transact business with any one or any number of counterparties, the lack of any independent evaluation of the counterparties or their financial capabilities, and the absence of a regulated market to facilitate settlement, may increase the potential for losses.
- Risks relating to controlling stakes: A Fund may take controlling stakes in companies. The exercise of control over a company imposes additional risks of liability for environmental damage, product defects, failure to supervise and other types of related liability.
- Price volatility: The market price of Fund Linked Instruments may be volatile and may depend on the time remaining to the redemption date or settlement date (as applicable) and the volatility of the price of Fund share(s) or unit(s). The price of Fund share(s) or unit(s) may be affected by the economic, financial and political events in one or more jurisdictions, including factors affecting the exchange(s) or quotation system(s) on which any units in the Fund or Funds may be traded.

As the shares of certain Funds may only be redeemable on certain dates, there is a risk of delays or defaults in payment

The shares of a Fund may only be redeemable on certain redemption dates, subject to the prescribed notice period in respect of such Fund. This gives rise to a time delay between the execution of an order for redemption and payment of the proceeds on such redemption. If the Fund becomes insolvent following the date on which a redemption order would have to be notionally placed or the Calculation Agent determines that the relevant Fund would fail to pay to any shareholder in cash the full redemption proceeds owing to them if they redeemed their shares on the relevant date, an adjustment may be made by the Calculation Agent when calculating the return on the Fund Linked Instruments to the net asset value per share of the relevant Fund, thereby reducing the return on the Fund Linked Instruments.

In the case of Fund Linked Instruments linked to ETFs, if the Calculation Agent determines that an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day has occurred at any relevant time, any such determination may have an effect on the timing of valuation and consequently the value of the Instruments and/or may delay settlement in respect of the Fund Linked Instruments. Potential investors should review the relevant Conditions and the applicable Final Terms to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Fund Linked Instruments.

In the case of Fund Linked Instruments linked to ETFs, following the declaration by the ETF of the occurrence of any Potential Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent will, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical relevant Fund Shares and, if so, will (i) make the corresponding adjustment, if any, to any of the terms of the relevant Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines appropriate to account for that diluting or concentrative effect and (ii) determine the effective date of that adjustment. Such adjustment may have an adverse effect on the value and liquidity of the affected Fund Linked Instruments.

In addition, in the case of Fund Linked Instruments linked to ETFs, if a Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-Listing, Material Underlying Event, Nationalisation or Insolvency occurs in relation to any Fund Share, the relevant Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may take the action described in (i) or (ii) below:

- (i) require the Calculation Agent to determine, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any of the relevant Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms to account for the Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-Listing, Material Underlying Event, Nationalisation or Insolvency and determine the effective date of that adjustment. Such adjustment may have an adverse effect on the value and liquidity of the affected Fund Linked Instruments; or
- (ii) redeem or cancel, as applicable, all of the Fund Linked Instruments. In the event of such redemption or cancellation the amount payable to an investor may be less than the investor's initial investment, and may be as low as zero.

The Fund Linked Instruments are not sold or promoted by any ETF Party

The Fund Linked Instruments are not regulated, sponsored, endorsed, underwritten, guaranteed, sold, marketed, or promoted by any ETF issuer or its affiliates (including for sake of clarity, any underwriters, custodians, and distributors) or the sponsor or owner of any underlying index or other component (each an "ETF Party"). No ETF Party has passed on, or makes any representation, warranty, or guarantee, to the owners of the Fund Linked Instruments or any member of the public regarding, the suitability, advisability, results to be obtained, or legality, of investing in the Fund Linked Instruments, or as to the Fund Linked Instruments' descriptions, disclosures, or disclaimers. No ETF Party has any obligation or liability in connection with the operation, marketing, trading or sale of the Fund Linked Instrument. Third party trademarks are property of their respective owners.

NO ETF PARTY MAKES ANY WARRANTIES AND BEARS NO LIABILITY (WHETHER IN NEGLIGENCE OR OTHERWISE) WITH RESPECT TO THE FUND LINKED INSTRUMENTS, OR ANY UNDERLYING ETF, INDEX, OR OTHER COMPONENT, (INCLUDING WITHOUT LIMITATION: THEIR QUALITY, ACCURACY, TIMELINESS, COMPLETENESS; FOR ERRORS, OMISSIONS, UNAVAILABILITY, OR INTERRUPTIONS THEREIN; AS TO MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE OR USE), OR FOR ANY DIRECT, SPECIAL, PUNITIVE, INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, OR LOST PROFITS.

(vii) Risks relating to Inflation Linked Instruments

A relevant consumer price index or other formula linked to a measure of inflation to which the Instruments are linked may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with other indices. Any movement in the level of the index may result in a reduction of the interest payable on the Inflation Linked Instruments, and in the case of Inflation Linked Instruments with a settlement/redemption amount linked to inflation, in a reduction of the amount payable on settlement/redemption which in some cases could be less than the amount originally invested.

The timing of changes in the relevant consumer price index or other formula linked to the measure of inflation comprising the relevant index or indices may affect the actual yield to investors on the Inflation Linked Instruments, even if the average level is consistent with their expectations.

An index to which interest payments on an Inflation Linked Instrument and/or the redemption amount of an Inflation Linked Instrument are linked is only one measure of inflation for the relevant jurisdiction, and such index may not correlate perfectly with the rate of inflation experienced by Holders in such jurisdiction.

(viii) Risks relating to Credit Linked Instruments

General risks relating to Credit Linked Instruments

The relevant Issuer may issue Credit Linked Instruments where the amount payable is dependent upon whether certain events ("Credit Events") have occurred in respect of one or more Reference Entity/Entities and, if so, on the value of certain specified assets of such Reference Entity/Entities or where, if one or more Credit Events have occurred, on redemption the relevant Issuer's obligation is to deliver certain specified assets.

Holders of any such Credit Linked Instruments should be aware that depending on the terms of the Credit Linked Instruments (i) they may receive no or a limited amount of interest or additional amounts, (ii) the payment of the redemption amount, interest or additional amounts or delivery of any specified assets may occur at a different time than expected and (iii) they may lose all or a substantial portion of their investment.

The market price of Credit Linked Instruments may be volatile and will be affected by, amongst other things, the time remaining to the redemption date or settlement date, as applicable, prevailing credit spreads and the creditworthiness of the Reference Entity/Entities which in turn may be affected by the economic, financial and political events in one or more jurisdictions. Risks relating to Credit Linked Instruments may be correlated or compounded and such correlation and/or compounding may result in increased volatility in the value of such Credit Linked Instruments and/or in increased losses for Holders of such Credit Linked Instruments.

Actions of Reference Entities (for example, merger or demerger or the repayment or transfer of indebtedness) may adversely affect the value of any Credit Linked Instruments. The views of market participants and/or legal counsel may differ as to how the terms of market standard credit default swaps, and the corresponding terms of any Credit Linked Instruments, should be interpreted in the context of such actions, or such terms may operate in a manner contrary to the expectations of market participants and/or adversely to the interests of holders of any Credit Linked Instruments. Holders of any Credit Linked Instruments should be aware that the Reference Entities to which the value of such Credit Linked Instruments are exposed, and the terms of such exposure, may change over the term of such Credit Linked Instruments. Reference Entities may not be subject to regular reporting requirements under Luxembourg securities laws and may report information in accordance with different disclosure and accounting standards. Consequently, the information available for such Reference Entities may be different from, and in some cases less than, the information available for entities that are subject to the reporting requirements under the Luxembourg securities laws. None of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the Calculation Agent and any of their respective affiliates make any representation as to the accuracy or completeness of any information available with respect to the Reference Entities.

Holders may be affected by Credit Events that occur before the Issue Date

Holders of Credit Linked Instruments may suffer a loss of some or all of their investment if one or more Credit Events occur on or after the Credit Event Backstop Date (which may fall prior to the Issue Date). None of the Calculation Agent, the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and any of their respective affiliates has any responsibility to avoid or mitigate the effects of a Credit Event that has taken place prior to the Issue Date.

There may be increased risks associated with Nth-to-Default Instruments

Where the Credit Linked Instruments are Nth-to-Default Instruments, the relevant Credit Linked Instruments will be subject to redemption in full as described above upon the occurrence of a Credit Event in relation to the Nth Reference Entity in relation to which an Event Determination Date has occurred. With Nth-to-Default Instruments, the credit risk to holders of the Instruments may be increased as a result of, amongst other things, the concentration of Reference Entities in a particular industry sector or geographic area, or the exposure of the Reference Entities to similar financial or other risks.

There may be increased risks associated with Tranche Portfolio CLNs

If a Credit Event occurs in respect of a Reference Entity that results in an Incurred Loss Amount, the Outstanding Principal Amount of the Credit Linked Notes shall be reduced by the sum of the lesser of: (a) the Outstanding Principal Amount; and (b) the relevant Settlement Amount, which amount may be at a considerable discount to par and could be zero and interest will cease to accrue from the immediately preceding Interest Payment Date with respect to an amount equal to the relevant Settlement Amount with respect to such Reference Entity and Credit Event.

If following the occurrence of a Credit Event, the Outstanding Principal Amount of the Credit Linked Notes is reduced to zero, the Credit Linked Notes will be redeemed early. An investor therefore risks losing all of its principal and interest.

Further, if on an Interest Determination Date, the Calculation Agent determines that a potential Credit Event has occurred or a Credit Event has occurred which, in either case, could result in the determination of an Incurred Loss Amount, then interest shall be deferred in an amount which would have accrued on the Reference Entity Notional Amount of the relevant affected Reference Entity until the actual Settlement Amount can be determined and, in such cases, any interest which would have been paid had the relevant potential Credit Event or Credit Event been determined in the same Interest Period shall be paid on a deferred basis on the Interest Payment Date following the date on which the relevant Settlement Amount has been determined.

Since payment under the Credit Linked Notes is linked to the credit of the Reference Portfolio, Holders will be exposed to the credit risk of the Reference Entity to the full extent of the principal amount of their Credit Linked Notes. Holders will have no right to vote or exercise any other right or remedy with respect to any Reference Entity or any of its obligations.

The relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the Dealer(s) and the Calculation Agent have no duty to disclose use of non-public information with respect to any Reference Entity

The relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the Dealer(s), the Calculation Agent or any of their respective Affiliates may have acquired, or during the term of the Credit Linked Instruments may acquire, non-public information with respect to the Reference Entity/Entities that they may not disclose. Potential investors must therefore make an investment decision based upon their own due diligence and purchase the Credit Linked Instruments in the knowledge that non-public information which the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the Dealer(s), the Calculation Agent or any of their respective Affiliates may have will not be disclosed to investors. None of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the Dealer(s), the Calculation Agent and any of their respective Affiliates is under any obligation (i) to review on the Holders' behalf, the business, financial conditions, prospects, creditworthiness, status or affairs of the Reference Entity/Entities or conduct any investigation or due diligence into the Reference Entity/Entities or (ii) other than as may be required by applicable rules and regulations relating to the Credit Linked Instruments, to make available (a) any information relating to the Credit Linked Instruments or (b) any non-public information they may possess in respect of the Reference Entity/Entities.

An investor has no rights with respect to the Reference Entity in respect of any Credit Linked Instruments

None of the Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) or the Dealer have the ability to control or predict the actions of the Reference Entity, including actions that could affect the value of any Credit Linked Instruments. No amounts paid with respect to the Credit Linked Instruments will be paid to the Reference Entity; the Reference Entity will not be involved in the offering of the Credit Linked Instruments in any way; and the Reference Entity will not have any obligation to consider any investor's interest as a Holder of the Credit Linked Instruments in taking any actions that might affect the value of the Credit Linked Instruments. As a Holder of the Credit Linked Instruments, an investor will not have voting rights, rights to receive distributions or any other rights or remedies with respect to any obligations of the Reference Entity.

An investor may be exposed to the risks associated with the business operations of the Reference Entity or Reference Entities Potential investors in the Credit Linked Instruments should ensure that they are aware of, understand and are capable of accepting all risks associated with the business operations of the Reference Entity or Reference Entities (as applicable). In particular, but without limitation, such potential investors should be aware that any Reference Entity may have previously been the subject of economic sanctions imposed by agencies of the United States of America. Were such to be the case in the future, Holders of the Credit Linked Instruments may be subject to various risks, including that the Credit Linked Instruments might be subject to either early redemption or delayed payment in circumstances where the imposition of such sanctions results in the occurrence of a Credit Event or where the Issuer of the Credit Linked Instruments is or will be prevented from undertaking hedging activities or performing its obligations in respect of the Credit Linked Instruments. In case of early redemption, such early redemption may be at a value which is less than the par amount of the Credit Linked Instruments and less than the amount of the investor's investment in the Credit Linked Instruments. Any deferral of payments may be of indefinite duration and investors may not be compensated for such deferral or may be compensated at a rate which results in a loss to such investors.

A Credit Event may occur even if the relevant Issuer does not suffer any loss

The relevant Issuer's obligations in respect of Credit Linked Instruments are irrespective of the existence or amount of the relevant Issuer's and/or any Affiliates' credit exposure to a Reference Entity and the relevant Issuer and/or any Affiliate need not suffer any loss nor provide evidence of any loss as a result of the occurrence of a Credit Event.

Risks relating to Physical Settlement

Where the Credit Linked Instruments provide that the applicable Settlement Method is "Physical Settlement", or a Fallback Settlement Event has occurred and the Fallback Settlement Method is "Physical Settlement", the relevant Issuer may determine that the specified assets to be delivered are either (a) assets which (i) for any reason (including, without limitation, failure of the relevant clearing system or due to any law, regulation, court order or market conditions or the non-receipt of any requisite consents with respect to the Delivery of assets which are loans) it is impossible or illegal to deliver on the specified settlement date or (ii) it is impracticable to Deliver on the specified settlement date because (1) the relevant holder(s) has not taken any action that is deemed necessary by the Calculation Agent to enable such Delivery or (2) the holder(s) has failed to provide know-your-customer information sign and deliver relevant transfer documentation and/or confidentiality agreement, pay a fee to the agent to effect the transfer and/or provide any other information or documentation or make any other payment (including taxes) specified under the terms of the relevant specified asset or as is customary to provide in respect of such specified asset or (b) assets which the relevant Issuer and/or any Affiliate and/or agent has not received under the terms of any transaction and/or trading position entered into by the relevant Issuer and/or such Affiliate and/or agent to hedge the relevant Issuer's obligations in respect of the Credit Linked Instruments.

Any such determination may delay settlement in respect of the Credit Linked Instruments and/or cause the obligation to deliver such specified assets to be replaced by an obligation to pay a cash amount which, in either case, may affect the value of the Credit Linked Instruments and, in the case of payment of a cash amount, will affect the timing of the valuation of such Credit Linked Instruments and as a result, the amount payable on redemption. Potential investors should review the relevant Conditions and the applicable Final Terms to ascertain whether and how such provisions should apply to the Credit Linked Instruments.

In the case of Physical Settlement, where the Reference Obligation is a loan, in order for the Delivery of the loan (or an interest in the loan) to be effected, the Reference Obligation must be capable of being transferred to the Holder in accordance with its terms and the Holders must have the capacity to hold such loan (or loan interest).

In the event that a Governmental Intervention Credit Event or certain Restructuring Credit Events which, in each case, constitute an Asset Package Credit Event occurs, the assets that may be delivered to the Holders may include the Asset Package received or retained by a Relevant Holder in place of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond in connection with such Asset Package Credit Event. Such Asset Package may be comprised of illiquid assets and/or may be worth significantly less than the original Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond prior to such Asset Package Credit Event. If the Relevant Holder is offered, receives and retains nothing, the Asset Package shall be deemed to be zero. In these circumstances, Holders may lose all or a substantial portion of their investment.

Risks relating to Cash Settlement

If the applicable Settlement Method is "Cash Settlement", or a Fallback Settlement Event has occurred and the Fallback Settlement Method is "Cash Settlement", then, following the occurrence of a Credit Event, the Calculation Agent will be required to seek quotations in respect of selected obligations of the affected Reference Entity. Such quotations may not be available, or the level of such quotations may be substantially reduced as a result of illiquidity in the relevant markets or as a result of factors other than the credit risk of the affected Reference Entity (for example, liquidity constraints affecting market dealers). Accordingly, any quotations so obtained may be significantly lower than the value of the relevant obligation which would be determined by reference to (for example) the present value of related cashflows. Quotations may be deemed to be zero in the event that no such quotations are available. This could result in a lower or zero recovery rate for investors in such Credit Linked Instruments.

If the relevant Issuer has discretion to choose the portfolio of obligations to be valued or delivered following a Credit Event in respect of a Reference Entity, it is likely that the portfolio of obligations selected will be obligations of the Reference Entity with the lowest market value that are permitted to be selected pursuant to the terms of any relevant Credit Linked Instruments. This could result in a lower recovery value and hence greater losses for investors in such Credit Linked Instruments.

Risks relating to Auction Settlement

If, in relation to any Credit Linked Instruments, "Auction Settlement" is applicable, and a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee publishes auction settlement terms in respect of a Reference Entity (and the relevant seniority of the Reference Obligation), then the Calculation Agent will determine the Auction Settlement Amount in accordance with such auction settlement terms. The losses determined pursuant to a market auction process may be greater than the losses which would have been determined in the absence of the auction. In particular, the auction process may be affected by technical factors or operational errors which would not otherwise apply or may be the subject of actual or attempted manipulation. Auctions may be conducted by ISDA or by a relevant third party. None of the Calculation Agent, the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and any of their respective affiliates has any responsibility for verifying that any auction price is reflective of current market values for establishing any auction methodology or for verifying that any auction has been conducted in accordance with its rules. If the Dealer, the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the Calculation Agent or any of their respective Affiliates participates in any auction for the purposes of such an auction, then it will do so without regard to the interests of the holders of the Credit Linked Instruments. Such participation may have a material effect on the outcome of the relevant auction. Where the terms of any Credit Linked Instruments state "M(M)R Restructuring" to be applicable and the relevant Credit Event is an M(M)R Restructuring, several concurrent but separate Auctions may occur with respect to such Reference Entity and such Credit Event. In certain circumstances, the relevant Issuer may apply specific Parallel Auction Settlement Terms notifying Holders of the relevant Instruments. The Auction Final Price may be based on one or more obligations of the Reference Entity having a final maturity date different from the Restructured Bond or Loan and this may affect the Auction Settlement Amount determined in respect of the Credit Linked Instruments. In the event of a Governmental Intervention Credit Event or certain Restructuring Credit Events which constitute an Asset Package Credit Event, the Auction Final Price may be determined by reference to the value of the Asset Package received or retained by a Relevant Holder in place of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond in connection with such Asset Package Credit Event. Such Asset Package may be worth significantly less than the original Package Observable Bond prior to such Asset Package Credit Event and may result in a significantly lower Auction Settlement Amount being payable to the Holders than would have been the case following the relevant Credit Event had the Auction Final Price been determined only by reference to Deliverable Obligations.

Settlement of Credit Linked Instruments may not occur until six months or more after a Credit Event

In accordance with the Credit Linked Note Conditions and Credit Linked W&C Conditions, settlement of Credit Linked Instruments may occur up to six months or more after a Credit Event. The date for settlement will be determined in accordance with the Credit Linked Note Conditions, Credit Linked W&C Conditions and the relevant Final Terms. During this period holders will be exposed to settlement risk (including, without limitation, credit risk of the Issuer and, other than in the case of Secured Instruments, the Guarantor, liquidity risk, legal risk and certain market risks). See risk factors "Risk Factors Relating to the Relevant Issuer's and (with respect to the Instruments other than Secured Instruments) the Guarantor's Ability to Fulfil Their Respective Obligations Under the Relevant Instruments", "Risk Factors Relating to BAC and the Group and to the Group's Businesses and Industry" and "Risks Relating to the Market Generally" above for further detail on these dimensions of settlement risk.

Unwind costs may be deducted from the amounts payable to Holders of Credit Linked Instruments

Investors should note that amounts paid or delivered in respect of any Credit Linked Instruments may take into account Unwind Costs which are determined by the Calculation Agent to be equal to all costs, expenses, taxes and duties, incurred by the relevant Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates and/or agents in connection with the redemption or cancellation of the Credit Linked Instruments and the related termination, settlement or re-establishment of any hedge or related trading position.

The determinations of the Calculation Agent are binding on Holders

The determination by the Calculation Agent of any amount or of any state of affairs, circumstance, event or other matter, or the formation of any opinion or the exercise of any discretion required or permitted to be determined, formed or exercised by the Calculation Agent shall (in the absence of manifest error) be final and binding on the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and the holders. In performing its duties pursuant to the Credit Linked Instruments, the Calculation Agent shall act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. In making any determinations expressed to be made by it, for example as to substitute Reference Obligations or Successors, the Calculation Agent is under no obligation to consider the interests of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) or the Holders. If the Final Terms specify that "Calculation Agent Determination" is applicable, the relevant Issuer and the Calculation Agent may, but will not be required to apply any DC Resolution to any Credit Linked Instruments unless the Calculation Agent notifies the relevant Issuer that any DC Resolution shall apply to such Credit Linked Instruments.

Holders should note that the Calculation Agent may modify the terms of any Credit Linked Instruments without the consent of the Holders of such Instruments to account for any DC Resolution.

Risks relating to the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees

The institutions represented on the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee owe no duty to the holders of Credit Linked Instruments and have the ability to make determinations that may materially affect the holders of Credit Linked Instruments. The Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee will be able to make determinations without action or knowledge of the holders of Credit Linked Instruments. Holders of Credit Linked Instruments will have no role in the composition of the Credit Derivatives

Determinations Committee. Separate criteria apply with respect to the selection of dealer and non-dealer institutions to serve on the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee and the holders of Credit Linked Instruments will have no role in establishing such criteria. In addition, the composition of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee will change from time to time in accordance with the DC Rules, as the term of an institution may expire or an institution may be required to be replaced. To the extent applicable, the Credit Linked Instruments will be subject to the determinations made by such selected institutions in accordance with the DC Rules.

Holders of Credit Linked Instruments will have no recourse against either the institutions serving on the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee or any external reviewers. Institutions serving on the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee and the external reviewers, among others, disclaim any duty of care or liability arising in connection with the performance of duties or the provision of advice under the DC Rules, except in the case of gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct. Furthermore, the institutions on the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee do not owe any duty to the holders of Credit Linked Instruments and the holders of Credit Linked Instruments will be prevented from pursuing claims with respect to actions taken by such institutions under the DC Rules.

Holders of Credit Linked Instruments should also be aware that institutions serving on the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee have no duty to research or verify the veracity of information on which a specific determination is based. In addition, the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee is not obliged to follow previous determinations and, therefore, could reach a conflicting determination on a similar set of facts. If the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) or the Calculation Agent or any of their respective Affiliates serve as a member of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee at any time, then they will act without regard to the interests of the holders of Credit Linked Instruments.

Holders of Credit Linked Instruments are responsible for obtaining information relating to deliberations of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee. Notices of questions referred to the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee, meetings held to deliberate such questions and the results of binding votes will be published on the ISDA website and none of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the Calculation Agent and any of their respective affiliates shall be obliged to inform the holders of Credit Linked Instruments of such information (other than as expressly provided in respect of such Instruments).

Holders of Credit Linked Instruments should also be aware that following the occurrence of a Credit Event Resolution Request Date in respect of a Reference Entity, any obligation of the relevant Issuer to redeem or cancel or otherwise settle any such Instruments or pay any amount in respect thereof may be suspended until the occurrence of a DC Credit Event Announcement, a DC No Credit Event Announcement or a DC Credit Event Question Dismissal.

Risks relating to the Physical Settlement Matrix

Holders of Credit Linked Instruments should be aware that the terms applicable to each Reference Entity incorporate the terms of the Physical Settlement Matrix for the Transaction Type specified in respect of such Reference Entity.

Risks relating to Short Credit Linked W&C Instruments

Holders of Short Credit Linked W&C Instruments should be aware that under the terms of such Credit Linked Instruments the Holders are purchasing credit protection on the relevant Reference Entity/Entities and consequently they may only receive a payout where such Short Credit Linked W&C Instruments are exercised following the occurrence of a Credit Event. If no Credit Event occurs during the life of the Short Credit Linked W&C Instruments then such Short Credit Linked W&C Instruments shall expire worthless unless otherwise provided in the terms of such Short Credit Linked W&C Instruments. In certain circumstances where an M(M)R Restructuring Credit Event has occurred, Holders may be entitled to deliver a Credit Event Notice to the relevant Issuer. None of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor, the Calculation Agent and any of their respective affiliates shall have any obligation to inform the Holders at any time when they may be entitled to deliver such Credit Event Notice.

Risks relating to amendments in accordance with market convention or otherwise

Calculation Agent's powers to amend terms without Holders' consent

Holders should note that the Calculation Agent may (but shall not be obliged to) from time to time, without obtaining their consent or consulting them:

- (i) amend fundamental credit-linked provisions (including but not limited to the applicable Transaction Type, Credit Events, Deliverable Obligation Category, Deliverable Obligation Characteristics and deliverability, Reference Obligation, Successor and other provisions) in the Credit Linked Note Conditions and Credit Linked W&C Conditions or other provisions of the Instruments to correspond with those specified as applicable for a particular Reference Entity in the most recently published ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions, ISDA Credit Derivatives Physical Settlement Matrix version, SRO List and/or prevailing trading standards applicable to such Reference Entity;
- (ii) amend any provision of the Credit Linked Note Conditions, Credit Linked W&C Conditions or the Instruments to incorporate and/or reflect further or alternative documents from time to time published by ISDA with respect to credit derivative transactions and/or the operation or application of determinations by the ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees which the Calculation Agent determines are necessary to reflect market practice for credit derivative transactions; and/or
- (iii) in circumstances where a Reference Entity has proposed an exchange of all or substantially all of the obligations of such Reference Entity into cash, securities and/or other assets, elect to make certain amendments to any provision of the Credit Linked Note Conditions, the Credit Linked W&C Conditions or the Instruments to reflect or account for such exchange, regardless of the credit derivatives definitions or trading standards applicable to such Reference Entity, as set out in Credit Linked Note Condition 28 (Change in Market Convention) and Credit Linked W&C Condition 26 (Change in Market Convention).
- (ix) Risks relating to Saudi Share Linked Warrants

No issuer of the relevant Share(s) will have participated in the preparation of the applicable Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants

No issuer of the relevant Share(s) will have participated in the preparation of the applicable Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants and none of MLBV, the Guarantor and any Dealer will make any investigation or enquiry in connection with such offering with respect to any information concerning any such issuer of Shares contained in such Final Terms or in the documents from which such information was extracted. Neither MLBV nor the Guarantor controls any issuer of the relevant Share(s) or is responsible for any disclosure made by any issuer of the relevant Share(s). Consequently, there can be no assurance that all events occurring prior to the relevant issue date (including events that would affect the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of the publicly available information described in this paragraph or in any applicable Final Terms) that would affect the trading price of the relevant Share(s) will have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning such an issuer of relevant Share(s) could affect the trading price of the Share(s) and therefore the trading price of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants or amounts paid or delivered under the Saudi Share Linked Warrants.

Exposure to value of Shares and notional liquidation of the Shares over a valuation period

Saudi Share Linked Warrants are issued at a price linked to the value of the underlying Shares on particular trading days during a fixing period. On settlement a Holder will not receive the principal amount of its investment but instead will receive an amount calculated as the weighted average sale price of the Shares over a valuation period commencing on the Valuation Date (or such other price as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms) less deductions for local taxes (if any) and other costs which would have been incurred had the Shares been held by a Saudi resident investor directly and less deductions for any other taxes and costs associated with MLBV's hedging position. The valuation period will be the number of days commencing on/and including the valuation date that would have been required for a holder of the Shares to complete the sale of the equivalent position on the securities exchange on which such Shares are primarily traded. Depending on the performance of the Shares, the value of the Shares at settlement may be substantially lower than when the Saudi Share Linked Warrants were initially purchased. There is no assurance that the Cash Settlement Amount on settlement will be equal to or more than the purchase price of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants. In the worst case, the Saudi Share Linked Warrants may settle at zero, exposing investors to the full loss of their initial investment. If investors have any doubt on the risk level implied, they should consult a professional investment adviser. Further, generally returns to investors in Saudi Share Linked Warrants will be payable in U.S. Dollars or another currency other than the currency in which the Shares are denominated. Changes in the rate of exchange between the currency in which the underlying Shares are denominated and that in which returns are payable to Holders will affect the return to investors. See "Exposure to changes in the rate of exchange between the currency of the Shares and Settlement Currency" below.

Factors affecting the performance of Shares may adversely affect the value of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants

The performance of Shares is dependent upon macroeconomic factors, such as interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments, political factors and company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, shareholder structure and distribution policy. These factors are not within MLBV's or the Guarantor's control and may result in a decline in the value of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants. Neither MLBV nor the Guarantor makes any representation or warranty about, or guarantee of, the performance of the Shares. Past performance of the Shares cannot be considered to be either a guarantee of, or necessarily a guide to, future performance. The value of the Shares may go down as well as up during the term of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants. Saudi Share Linked Warrants are linked to Shares listed in an emerging market which may make the Shares less liquid and more volatile than investments in more established markets. See "Risks relating to Instruments which are linked to emerging market Reference Item(s)" above.

Exposure to changes in the rate of exchange between the currency of the Shares and Settlement Currency

Where the currency of the Shares is different from that of the Settlement Currency, Holders of Saudi Share Linked Warrants linked to such Shares may be exposed not only to the performance of the Shares but also to the performance of the relevant foreign currency of the Shares, which cannot be predicted. Saudi Share Linked Warrants may be linked to the Saudi Arabian Riyal which may experience volatility and uncertainty as to its future levels or its rate of exchange as against other currencies (including the Settlement Currency). See "Risks relating to Instruments which are linked to emerging market Reference Item(s)" and "Factors affecting the performance of the relevant foreign exchange rate may adversely affect the value of the Instruments" above.

Holders have no claim against the issuer of the relevant Share(s) or recourse to the Shares or the Hedge Positions

Saudi Share Linked Warrants do not represent a claim against or an investment in any issuer of the relevant Share(s) and investors will not have any right of recourse under the Saudi Share Linked Warrants to any such company or the Shares or MLBV's Hedge Positions. Saudi Share Linked Warrants are not in any way sponsored, endorsed or promoted by any issuer of the relevant Share(s) and such companies have no obligation to take into account the consequences of their actions for any Holders. Accordingly, the issuer of a Share may take any actions in respect of such Share without regard to the interests of the investors in the Saudi Share Linked Warrants, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants.

Determinations made by the Calculation Agent in respect of Potential Adjustment Events, Merger Events, Tender Offers, De-listings, Nationalisations, Insolvencies and Additional Disruption Events may have an adverse effect on the value of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants

Upon determining that a Potential Adjustment Event, Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Additional Disruption Event has occurred in relation to an underlying Share or Share Company, the Calculation Agent has broad discretion to make certain determinations to account for such event including to (i) make adjustments to the terms of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants, (ii) distribute additional Instruments or cash payments to Holders and/or (iii) (in the case of a Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Additional Disruption Event) cause early settlement of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants, any of which determinations may have an adverse effect on the value of the Saudi Share Linked Warrants.

Potential Adjustment Events include (a) a sub-division, consolidation or re-classification of the Shares, (b) an extraordinary dividend, (c) a call of the Shares that are not fully paid, (d) a repurchase by the issuer, or an affiliate thereof, of the Shares, (e) a separation of rights from the Shares or (f) any event having a dilutive or concentrative effect on the value of the Shares. Additional Disruption Events include (a) a trading failure and (b) if specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, (i) a change in applicable law since the Trade Date that makes it (A) illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of the Shares or (B) more expensive for MLBV to hedge its obligations under the relevant Saudi Share Linked Warrants, (ii) an insolvency filing by or on behalf of any issuer of the relevant Share(s) and/or (iii) a disruption or increased cost of hedging.

Holders will have no voting rights in respect of the relevant Shares

Holders of Saudi Share Linked Warrants will not have voting rights or any other rights with respect to the relevant Shares to which such Saudi Share Linked Warrants relate.

(x) Risks relating to Bond Linked Instruments

No Bond Issuer will have participated in the preparation of the applicable Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Bond Linked Instruments

No Bond Issuer will have participated in the preparation of the applicable Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Bond Linked Instruments and none of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and any Dealer will make any investigation or enquiry in connection with such offering with respect to any information concerning any such Bond Issuer contained in such Final Terms or in the documents from which such information was extracted. Neither the relevant Issuer nor the Guarantor (if applicable) controls any Bond Issuer and are not responsible for any disclosure, misstatements or omissions made by any Bond Issuer. Consequently, there can be no assurance that all events occurring prior to the relevant issue date (including events that would affect the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of the publicly available information described in any applicable Final Terms) that would affect the trading price of the relevant Bond(s) will have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning such Bond Issuers could affect the trading price of the Bond(s) and therefore the trading price of the Bond Linked Instruments or amounts paid or delivered under the Bond Linked Instruments.

Factors affecting the performance of Bonds may adversely affect the value of the Bond Linked Instruments

The performance of Bonds is dependent upon macroeconomic factors, such as interest and price levels on the capital markets, rates of inflation, credit ratings, currency developments, political factors, country-specific factors such as economic stability, sovereign debts, changes in public policies, and, in relation to corporate issuers of Bonds, company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, shareholder structure and distribution policy. In particular, the performance of Bonds is sensitive to interest rate fluctuations which can cause the Bond's price to move in directions that adversely affect the market value of the Bond Linked Instruments. These factors are not within the relevant Issuer's or (if applicable) the Guarantor's control and may result in a decline in the value of the Bond Linked Instruments.

Holders have no claim against the Bond Issuer

Bond Linked Instruments do not represent a claim against or an investment in any Bond Issuer and investors will not have any right of recourse under the Bond Linked Instruments to any such Bond Issuer. Bond Linked Instruments are not in any way sponsored, endorsed or promoted by any Bond Issuers and such entities have no obligation to take into account the consequences of their actions for any Holders. Accordingly, the Bond Issuers may take any actions in respect of such Bond without regard to the interests of the investors in the Bond Linked Instruments, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Bond Linked Instruments.

Holders may receive physical delivery of Bonds in lieu of payment of cash amounts

Where the Bond Linked Instruments include the right of the relevant Issuer, subject to the fulfilment of a particular condition, to redeem the Bond Linked Instruments at their maturity by delivering Bonds to the investor, the investors will receive such Bonds rather than a monetary amount upon maturity. Holders will, therefore, be exposed to the Bond Issuer(s) and the risks associated with such Bonds. The investor should not assume that he or she will be able to sell such Bonds for a specific price after the redemption/settlement of the Bonds Linked Instruments, and in particular not for the purchase price of the Bond Linked Instruments. Under certain circumstances the Bonds may only have a very low value or may, in fact, be worthless, in which case see "Investors risk losing all of their investment in the Instruments" above. Holders may also be subject to certain documentary or stamp taxes in relation to the delivery and/or disposal of such Bonds. The holding of such Bonds instead of the Bond Linked Instruments may adversely affect the Holder's tax position.

Holders will have no voting rights and no rights to receive interest or distributions in respect of the relevant Bonds

Holders of Bond Linked Instruments will not have rights with respect to the relevant Bonds, including rights to vote in meetings of bondholders or to receive interest. As a result, the return on the Bond Linked Instruments may not reflect the return an investor would realise if the investor actually owned those relevant Bonds and received the interest paid or other distributions made in connection with them.

The determinations of the Calculation Agent are binding on Holders

The determination by the Calculation Agent of any amount or of any state of affairs, circumstance, event or other matter, or the formation of any opinion or the exercise of any discretion required or permitted to be determined, formed or exercised by the Calculation Agent shall (in the absence of manifest error) be final and binding on the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and the Holders. In performing its duties pursuant to the Bond Linked Instruments, the Calculation Agent shall act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. In making any determinations expressed to be made by it, for example as to whether a Bond Event has occurred, the Calculation Agent is under no obligation to consider the interests of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) or the Holders.

Investors should note that when determining whether a Bond Event has occurred, the Calculation Agent will not be bound by decisions of any Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee and therefore may reach a different conclusion from a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee or participants in the credit default swap market generally. Investing in Bond Linked Instruments is not equivalent to investing in market standard credit default swap transactions.

Occurrence of a bond-linked adjustment event or a bond-linked conversion event

In the event that the Calculation Agent determines that a Bond is subdivided, consolidated, reclassified or altered, or any other similar event occurs or a Bond is converted into other securities, under Bond Linked Conditions 5 and 6, the relevant Issuer in its discretion may require the Calculation Agent to make adjustments to any terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms of the Instruments (including, without limitation, the Bond Denomination and the Bond Issuer and identity of the relevant Bond) as it determines appropriate. The adjustments made by the Calculation Agent may have an adverse effect on the value of the Bond Linked Instruments.

Holders of such Bond Linked Instruments should note that none of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) nor any of their respective affiliates are in a position to advise or give assurance to the Holders as to the impact to the economic, legal or tax position of such Holders as a result of such determinations or actions to the Holders. Holders of such Bond Linked Instruments should consult their own business, accounting, regulatory, legal, tax and other professional advisers with respect to any consequences or considerations (whether relating to tax or otherwise) which may be relevant to or which may result from any such determinations or actions.

Early redemption or settlement following the occurrence of a Bond Event

If the Calculation Agent determines that a Bond Event has occurred, the Issuer may elect to early redeem or cancel the Bond Linked Instruments prior to the scheduled maturity date or settlement date, in the case of Notes, at the Early Redemption Amount, or in the case of W&C Instruments, by payment to each Holder of an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount of each Bond Linked Instrument, which may be less than the purchase price of the Bond Linked Instruments and might be zero. See risk factors "In the event of unexpected early redemption or settlement of the Instruments, depending on the terms and conditions of the Instruments, Holders could lose some or all of their investment" above.

Broadly speaking, Bond Events are events which are indicative of a deterioration in the creditworthiness or financial condition of the Bond Issuer. Therefore, in addition to the credit risk of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor (if applicable), an investor will also be exposed to the credit risk of the Bond Issuer of the Bond to which the Bond Linked Instruments are linked. The occurrence of Bond Events is unpredictable and there can be no assurance that a Bond Event will not occur. The past or current performance of a Bond Issuer is not necessarily indicative of future performance.

In the event of the relevant Issuer electing to early redeem or cancel the Bond Linked Instruments following the occurrence of a specified Bond Event, Holders could potentially lose all or a significant part of their investment and accrued but unpaid interest or additional amounts (if applicable) will not be paid.

Holders may be affected by Bond Events that occur before the Issue Date

Holders of Bond Linked Instruments may suffer a loss of some or all of their investment if one or more Bond Events occur on or after the Trade Date (which may fall prior to the Issue Date). None of the Calculation Agent, the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and any of their respective affiliates has any responsibility to avoid or mitigate the effects of a Bond Event that has taken place prior to the Issue Date.

Payments or deliveries on the Bond Linked Instruments may be deferred or suspended

In certain circumstances, for example where a potential failure to pay exists as at the scheduled redemption or settlement of the Bond Linked Instruments, payment of the redemption or settlement amount of the Bond Linked Instruments (or assets deliverable) and/or interest or additional amounts (if applicable) on the Bond Linked Instruments may be deferred for a period up to three months without compensation to the Holders. During this period holders will be exposed to settlement risk (including, without limitation, credit risk of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor (if applicable), liquidity risk, legal risk and certain market risks). See risk factors "Risk Factors Relating to the Relevant Issuer's and (with respect to the Instruments other than Secured Instruments) the Guarantor's Ability to Fulfil Their Respective Obligations Under the Relevant Instruments", "Risk Factors Relating to BAC and the Group and to the Group's Businesses and Industry" and "Risks Relating to the Market Generally" above for further detail on these dimensions of settlement risk.

If the Calculation Agent subsequently determines that a Bond Event has occurred and the Issuer elects to redeem or cancel the Bond Linked Instruments, the Early Redemption Amount (in respect of Notes) or Early Settlement Amount (in respect of W&C Instruments) will be payable instead of the amount payable or assets deliverable on the scheduled maturity or settlement date. Moreover, interest or additional amounts (if applicable) will cease to accrue from the Interest Payment Date or Additional Amount Payment Date immediately preceding the date on which the Issuer provided notice of an extension of redemption or settlement. Therefore if this were to occur Holders could potentially lose all or a significant part of their investment and will not receive suspended interest or additional amounts (if applicable).

(xi) Risks relating to Secured Instruments (other than Secured ECS Instruments)

References to "Secured Instruments" in this "Risks relating to Secured Instruments" means Instruments where the applicable Final Terms specifies Annex 13 or Annex 14 to be applicable.

Holders of Secured Instruments do not have recourse to the Guarantees

The Secured Instruments will be limited recourse obligations of MLBV secured by a separate Collateral Pool for each Series and will not be obligations or responsibilities of, or guaranteed by, the Guarantor or any other person or entity. Therefore a Holder of Secured Instruments will not be able to claim under the terms of the Guarantees against the Guarantor for any unpaid amounts and any such shortfall will not constitute an unsecured claim by such Holder of Secured Instruments against the Guarantor.

Limitations of the Security Interest under each Deed of Charge

The security granted by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider under each Deed of Charge is a security interest over (i) the Collateral Account in which the Collateral Assets are held (although investors should note the remaining provisions of this section relating to Collateral Assets held through a clearing system) and does not extend to any interest or distributions paid on such Collateral Assets (to the extent such amounts are not held in the relevant Collateral Account) and (ii) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's rights under the Charged Documents, to the extent those rights relate to the relevant Series of Secured Instruments.

No security interest will be granted by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider over any of its rights under any agreement under which it acquires any Collateral Assets (including, without limitation, any hedging agreements). This means that the Security Agent will not have the ability to compel the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to enforce its rights (or to enforce such rights on behalf of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider) under any agreement against a counterparty to such agreement.

The Collateral Assets will be secured (other than Collateral Assets which are Korean Securities) in favour of the Secured Parties pursuant to a fixed charge which is intended to create a security interest in the Collateral Assets in favour of the Secured Parties to secure MLBV's obligations in respect of the relevant Series of Secured Instruments. Collateral Assets which are Korean Securities will be secured in favour of the Security Agent (who will hold for itself and on behalf of the relevant Holders and the other relevant Secured Parties under the Security Agency Agreement) pursuant to a pledge created in accordance with Korean law. However, where the Collateral Assets are held through a clearing system (either directly or through a sub-custodian), the interests which the Collateral Agent will hold and which are traded in the clearing system are not the physical Collateral Assets themselves but a series of contractual rights against such clearing system. These rights consist of (a) the Collateral Agent's rights as a participant against the clearing system, (b) the rights of the clearing system against the common depositary and (c) the rights of the common depositary against the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider of the Collateral Assets. As a result, where the Collateral Assets are held in a clearing system, the security in respect of a Series of Secured Instruments may take the form of an assignment of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's rights against the Collateral Agent under the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement rather than a charge over the Collateral Assets themselves.

A court may characterise the security created under a Deed of Charge as a floating charge rather than a fixed charge

Notwithstanding that the Collateral Provider purports to create a "fixed" charge over the collateral under the Deed of Charge, there is a risk that a court would characterise it as a "floating" charge. The distinction between a fixed charge and a floating charge depends on a number of factors, including the extent of the control exercised over the collateral by the collateral taker. It is a mixed question of fact and law. If a fixed charge is recharacterised as floating charge, the claims of (a) the unsecured creditors of the Collateral Provider in respect of that part of the chargor's net property which is ringfenced under the Insolvency Act 1986 (the "Insolvency Act") and (b) certain statutorily defined preferential creditors of the Collateral Provider, would have priority over the rights of the Security Agent to the proceeds of enforcement of the relevant Collateral Assets. As a result, the full amount of the proceeds of enforcement of the relevant Collateral Assets may not be available to pay holders of the Secured Instruments, resulting in a loss for investors.

A failure to register the security created under a Deed of Charge could mean that it is void against a liquidator, administrator or creditor of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider

In accordance with section 859A of the Companies Act 2006, relevant particulars of the Deed of Charge (together with a certified copy of the relevant instrument) must be delivered to the Registrar of Companies for registration within 21 days beginning with the date after the day on which the relevant security is created, failing which the security will be void against a liquidator, administrator and any creditor of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, except where the Deed of Charge constitutes a "financial collateral arrangement" under the Financial Collateral Arrangements (No. 2) Regulations 2003 (the "Financial Collateral Regulations"), in which case the registration requirement is disapplied pursuant to the Financial Collateral Regulations. Uncertainty in respect of the meaning of key terms in the Financial Collateral Regulations including "possession" and "control" means that there is a legal risk that a court would not characterise the security granted under the Deed of Charge as a financial collateral arrangement. If the Deed of Charge were not to be registered in accordance with section 859A of the Companies Act and did not constitute a financial collateral arrangement under the Financial Collateral Regulations, investors would be exposed to the potentially severe consequences of a failure to register.

Limitations of the security interest (Kun Jil Kwon) under each Korean Law Security Agreement

The security interest granted by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in the form of a pledge under each Korean Law Security Agreement is a first priority continuing security interest over securities in the Korean Securities Account in favour of the Security Agent as pledgee and does not extend to any interest or distributions paid on such securities.

Under Korean law, a pledge only secures claims held by the pledgee. As the Security Agent is not a Holder of Secured Instruments and therefore has no direct claim against the Issuer in relation to the amounts or Entitlement due to Holders of Secured Instruments, the Triparty Deed of Charge creates a parallel debt arrangement whereby the Security Agent has the same claims against the Issuer as the Holders of Secured Instruments of such Series of Secured Instruments have against the Issuer. The Korean Law Security Agreement then grants the pledge in favour of the Security Agent (who holds the pledge for the benefit of itself and the Holders of Secured Instruments of such Series of Secured Instruments) which upon acceleration of the Instruments, can enforce the security in accordance with the terms of the Korean Law Security Agreement. Investors should be aware that, as far as the Issuer is aware, a parallel debt arrangement has not been tested in a Korean court.

Enforcement of each Korean Law Security Agreement will be by way of transfer of the relevant Collateral Assets (which are Korean Securities). In certain cases, such transfer may require the consent, approval or authorisation of a governmental and/or regulatory body and such consent, approval or authorisation may be delayed or not be granted.

Holders are exposed to the operational risks related to the collateral arrangements and the structure of the Collateral Accounts

The Collateral Agent may, to the extent permitted in accordance with the terms of the Custodian Agreement and the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement entered into with the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, hold certain cash and/or securities sub-accounts with other custodial entities ("sub-custodians"). Collateral Assets which, pursuant to the terms of the Secured W&C Instruments Conditions, the Custodian Agreement and the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement, are to be held with the Collateral Agent in a Collateral Account may therefore in practice be held by the Collateral Agent in sub-accounts with sub-custodians. Where the Collateral Assets are held by a sub-custodian on behalf of the Collateral Agent, they will be held pursuant to separate agreements which may vary in relation to any particular sub-custodian and which may not be governed by English law. Security interests in respect of the Collateral Assets also may be created pursuant to separate agreements which may not be governed by English law (such as the Korean Law Security Agreement). A sub-custodian, securities depository or clearing system may have a lien or rights of set-off with respect to the Collateral Assets held with them in relation to any of their fees and/or expenses. If such fees and/or expenses are not paid, such sub-custodian, securities depository or clearing system may exercise such lien or rights of set-off and this may adversely affect the amounts that are available for distribution to Holders.

The Collateral Agent shall exercise reasonable care in selecting and continuing to use a sub-custodian in each relevant country in light of customary or established rules, practices and procedures then prevailing in each such country, but shall otherwise have no responsibility with respect to the performance by such sub-custodian (other than a sub-custodian that is an affiliate of the Collateral Agent) of its duties or in the event of its insolvency or dissolution. Accordingly, a Holder of Secured Instruments will be exposed to, amongst other things, the risk of any potential operational disruption or any other adverse impact related to the Collateral Agent and any sub-custodian (including disruption caused by any insolvency proceedings which may be commenced in respect of the Collateral Agent and/or any such sub-custodians).

Neither MLBV nor any Holder shall be entitled to enforce a Triparty Account Control Agreement or the Custodian Agreement or to proceed directly against the Collateral Agent or the Custodian to enforce the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement or the Custodian Agreement, as applicable. Neither the Collateral Agent nor the Custodian has any liability to MLBV or any Holder as to the consequence of any actions taken by the Collateral Agent or Custodian, as applicable.

The Collateral Assets may be insufficient to pay all amounts due to Holders of the Secured Instruments

The security provided for a Series of Secured Instruments is limited to the Collateral Assets constituting the Collateral Pool applicable to such Series. The amount of Collateral Assets constituting such Collateral Pool will depend on, amongst other things, in respect of the Secured Instruments issued (a) under the Additional Terms and Conditions for Secured Static/Floating Instruments set out in Annex 13 of the Offering Circular ("Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions"), the MTM Collateral Specified Percentage and the Static Collateral Specified Percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms and (b) under the Additional Terms and Conditions for Secured Fully Floating Instruments set out in Annex 14 to the Offering Circular ("Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions"), the Collateralisation Percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms. There is no guarantee that the Collateral Assets will be sufficient to ensure that, following enforcement of the relevant Security Agreements, the amounts available for distribution or the value of the Collateral Assets available to be delivered by the Security Agent will be sufficient to pay all amounts due to a Holder of Secured Instruments in respect of the relevant Series of Secured Instruments (see "Shortfall on Realisation of Collateral Assets and Limited Recourse of Holders of Secured Instruments"). In addition the claim of a Holder of Secured Instruments may differ from the value of the Collateral Assets due to the application and distribution of proceeds on enforcement in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms or if Collateral Assets are liquidated and realised by the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent on its behalf rather than being physically delivered due to a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event (see Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions 6.7 and 6.10 and Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions 6.6 and 6.9).

A lack of diversification of Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool may impact the value of the Collateral Assets

If the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool on which such Series of Secured Instruments are secured in respect of (a) the MTM Collateral Assets, may be limited to one or a few assets or types of assets depending on the relevant Eligibility Criteria, and (b) the Static Collateral Assets, if comprising of a single debt security, will be limited to one type of asset or, if comprising of a basket of debt securities, will be limited to a few assets of the same type.

If the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool on which the Series of Secured Instruments are secured may be limited to one or a few assets or types of assets depending on the relevant Eligibility Criteria.

Low diversification of Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool may increase the risk that the value of Collateral Assets deliverable on early redemption or early settlement (if physical settlement is applicable) and that the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets may be less than the sums due to the relevant Holder of Secured Instruments under the relevant Secured Instruments. If the Collateral Pool is comprised of a limited number of different types of assets, any depreciation in the value of such assets and the realisation or delivery, as the case may be, of the Collateral Assets in the corresponding Collateral Pool will have a proportionally larger impact on any shortfall as the amount recovered in respect of the Collateral Assets on their sale will be dependent on the then-current market value of a smaller range of Collateral Assets.

None of MLBV, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Security Agent or the Collateral Agent is under any obligation to ensure that any relevant Eligibility Criteria provide for the diversification of Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool.

Collateral Assets may be illiquid

Depending on the relevant Eligibility Criteria, certain of the Collateral Assets may not be admitted to trading on any public market and may be illiquid and not easily realisable in certain market circumstances. Where there is limited liquidity in the secondary market relating to Collateral Assets, in the event of enforcement the Security Agent, or the Disposal Agent on its behalf, may not be able to readily sell such Collateral Assets to a third party or may only be able to sell such Collateral Assets at a discounted value.

Potential correlation between the value of the Collateral Assets and the creditworthiness of certain entities

Depending on the Eligibility Criteria applicable to a Series of Secured Instruments, the Collateral Assets relating to such Series could be composed of assets whose value may be positively correlated with the creditworthiness of MLBV and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in that adverse economic factors which apply to one may apply to the others, or the default or decline in the creditworthiness of one may itself adversely affect the others.

Where the value of the Collateral Assets is positively correlated with the creditworthiness of MLBV and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, for example where the Collateral Assets consist of securities (such as debt or equities) issued by other financial institutions, a default by MLBV in relation to its obligations under the Secured Instruments may be associated with a fall in the value of Collateral Assets securing such Secured Instruments.

Difference between the calculation of Marked-to-Market Derivative Hedge Value and Secured Instrument Market Value and calculation of a Secured Instrument's value for other purposes

The Marked-to-Market Derivative Hedge Value is the market value of the Derivative Hedge in respect of the Secured Instruments to which the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent as the present value of the future payment obligations of the Issuer under such Secured Instruments minus the present value of the future cash flows of the Static Collateral Assets that secure such Secured Instruments, taking into account such factors as the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent considers to be appropriate in its discretion, including without limitation:

- (a) spot and forward market prices or values for the underlying asset(s) of the Derivative Hedge and other relevant economic variables (including, without limitation, interest rates and, if applicable, exchange rates) at the relevant time;
- (b) the correlation between the market prices or value of the underlying asset(s) of the Derivative Hedge and other relevant economic variables at the relevant time;
- (c) historic and implied volatility of the market prices or value of the underlying asset(s) of the Derivative Hedge;
- (d) the remaining time until expiry of the Derivative Hedge;
- (e) internal pricing models;
- (f) prices at which other market participants might bid for options or other instruments similar to the Derivative Hedge; and
- (g) the valuation using relevant economic variables of the cash flows and/or coupon payments of the Static Collateral Assets that secure such Secured Instruments.

The Derivative Hedge hedges part of MLBV's payment obligations under the Secured Instruments. However, there may be a difference between the sum of the Marked-to-Market Derivative Hedge Value plus the nominal amount of the Secured Instruments and the value of the Secured Instrument as determined for other purposes, including, without limitation, any determination as to its Cash Settlement Amount.

The Secured Instrument Market Value is the market value of the relevant Secured Instrument to which the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply, which will take into account MLBV's creditworthiness and will be determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent by reference to such factors as the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent considers to be appropriate including, without limitation:

- (a) market prices or values for any underlying asset(s) to which the Secured Instruments are linked and other relevant economic variables (such as interest rates and, if applicable, exchange rates) at the relevant time;
- (b) the remaining term of the Secured Instruments until their scheduled maturity and final redemption or scheduled exercise and final settlement, as applicable;
- (c) internal pricing models; and

- (d) prices at which other market participants might bid for securities similar to the Secured Instruments.

There may be a difference between the Secured Instrument Market Value and the value of the Secured Instrument as determined for other purposes, including, without limitation, any determination as to its Cash Settlement Amount.

The value of the Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool may decline prior to any adjustment

If the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, on each Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Agent shall verify whether (a) the Pool Aggregate Nominal Amount is greater than or equal to the Static Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required Static Collateral Nominal Amount for a Collateral Pool (the "Static Collateral Test") and (b) the Collateral Value is greater than or equal to the MTM Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required Collateral Value for a Collateral Pool (the "MTM Collateral Test").

If the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, on each Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Agent shall verify whether the Collateral Value is greater than or equal to the Required Collateral Value for a Collateral Pool (the "Collateral Test").

Where it is not possible to provide such verification or the Static Collateral Test, the MTM Collateral Test or the Collateral Tests, as applicable, are not met, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may be required to deliver, or procure the delivery of, additional or replacement Collateral Assets to the Collateral Account such that after such adjustment of Collateral Assets, the Static Collateral Test, the MTM Collateral Test or the Collateral Test, as applicable, will be satisfied. Prior to such adjustment, the Holders of Secured Instruments will be exposed to a decline in the Pool Aggregate Nominal Amount or the Collateral Value, as applicable, and there is also a risk that the Collateral Assets may not meet the relevant Eligibility Criteria.

Substitution of Collateral Assets may affect the value of the Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool

If the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may withdraw and/or replace MTM Collateral Assets from any Collateral Account provided that following such adjustment the applicable MTM Collateral Test continues to be satisfied. Neither the Issuer nor the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider are entitled to withdraw and/or replace Static Collateral Assets, provided that the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may withdraw from the relevant Collateral Account an aggregate nominal amount of Static Collateral Assets equal to (a) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the total aggregate principal amount of Non-Waived Instruments that are converted into Waived Instruments or (b) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, the sum of the Notional Amount of each Non-Waived Instrument that is converted into a Waived Instrument, if, following such withdrawal, (x) the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied, and (y) if the Eligible Static Collateral Assets specified in the Final Terms are a Basket of Eligible Debt Securities, the aggregate nominal amount of each Eligible Debt Security is equal to the percentage weighting for each such Eligible Debt Security within the Basket of Eligible Debt Securities, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

If the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may withdraw and/or replace Collateral Assets from any Collateral Account provided that following such adjustment the applicable Collateral Test continues to be satisfied.

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may give instructions for the substitution of MTM Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable, any number of times over the term of the Secured Instruments and is not required to obtain the consent of any other party prior to effecting the proposed substitution of MTM Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable. Until any further adjustments to the MTM Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable, have occurred, the value of the MTM Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets held in a Collateral Account securing a Series of Secured Instruments may be less than it would have been were it not for the substitution of the MTM Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable. Also, in spite of the contractual restrictions on the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's ability to withdraw and/or replace MTM Collateral Assets, Static Collateral Assets and Collateral Assets, there are no practical restrictions on the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's ability to withdraw assets from the scope of the security.

MLBV may early redeem or cancel and early settle the Secured Instruments upon a Collateral Disruption Event

Secured Instruments will be subject to Collateral Disruption Events, including, but not limited to: (a) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider being unable to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) or futures or option contracts it deems necessary to obtain Collateral Assets, or (ii) freely realise, recover, remit, receive, re-patriate or transfer the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) or futures or option contract(s) or any relevant hedge positions relating to the Collateral Assets; (b) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider incurring a material increase in certain costs related to (a)(i) and (a)(ii); or (c) MLBV is unable to find a substitute or replacement Collateral Arrangement Party or Security Agent. This may increase the possibility (in comparison with Instruments which are not secured) of the Secured Instruments being early redeemed or cancelled and settled early. Upon the occurrence of a Collateral Disruption Event, MLBV may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, redeem or cancel and settle, as applicable, all of the relevant Secured Instruments (a) in respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply, at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (CDE) and, where Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets is specified to apply in the applicable Final Terms, deliver the Entitlement (CDE); or (b) in respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply, at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount.

Further, following the early redemption or cancellation and early settlement, as applicable, of the Secured Instruments, a Holder of Secured Instruments may not be able to reinvest the redemption or settlement proceeds at an equivalent rate of return to the Secured Instruments being redeemed or settled and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other available investments at the time they contemplate investing in Secured Instruments.

The Secured Instruments will be automatically early redeemed or cancelled and settled early upon a Collateral Trigger Event

Under the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions, if "Collateral Trigger Event" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the relevant Secured Instruments will be subject to early redemption or cancellation following the occurrence of a Collateral Trigger Event. The Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall determine that a Collateral Trigger Event has occurred if, at any time during business hours on a London business day during the relevant observation period, the value of a Secured Instrument of the relevant series is (a) if "less than the Collateral Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than the Collateral Trigger Level or (b) if "less than or equal to the Collateral Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than or equal to the Collateral Trigger Level. The Collateral Trigger Level will be specified in the applicable Final Terms. Upon the occurrence of a Collateral Trigger Event, MLBV will cancel and settle all of the relevant Secured Instruments at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (CTE) and, where "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified to apply in the applicable Final Terms, deliver the Entitlement (CTE).

The value of the relevant Secured Instrument will be determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent as an amount equal to the sum of (x) the intra-day market value of the portion of the option that relates to such Secured Instrument and (y) the intra-day market value of the relevant Static Collateral Assets that relate to such Secured Instrument, by reference to such factors as the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent considers appropriate in its discretion. As MLBV and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent are affiliates, a potential conflict of interest may arise between the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent and the Holders of Secured Instruments in respect of these determinations. See "Potential Conflicts of Interest between Holders of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent" below.

If a Collateral Trigger Event has occurred the value of all or some of the Collateral Assets forming the Collateral Pool will have lost a substantial proportion of their value. Therefore on early cancellation of the Instruments as a result of such Collateral Trigger Event, the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (CTE) payable or Entitlement (CTE) deliverable may be significantly less than the investor's initial investment.

In addition, if a Collateral Trigger Event is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, it may increase the possibility (in comparison with Instruments which are not secured) of the Secured Instruments being redeemed or cancelled and settled early, as applicable. Following such early redemption or cancellation and early settlement, as applicable, a Holder of Secured Instruments may not be able to reinvest the redemption or settlement proceeds at an equivalent rate of return to the Secured Instruments being redeemed or settled and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other available investments at the time they contemplate investing in Secured Instruments.

The Secured Instruments will be automatically early redeemed or cancelled and settled early upon a MTM Trigger Event

Under the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions, if "MTM Trigger Event" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the relevant Secured Instruments will be subject to early cancellation following the occurrence of a MTM Trigger Event. The Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall determine that a MTM Trigger Event has occurred if, at any time between 5.00 a.m. Sydney time to 5.00 p.m. New York City time (or such other times specified in the applicable Final Terms) on a business day during the relevant observation period, the market value of a Secured Instrument of the relevant series is (a) if "less than the MTM Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than the MTM Trigger Level or (b) if "less than or equal to the MTM Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than or equal to the MTM Trigger Level. The MTM Trigger Level will be specified in the applicable Final Terms. Upon the occurrence of a MTM Trigger Event, MLBV will redeem or cancel and settle all of the relevant Secured Instruments at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount.

The market value of the relevant Secured Instrument will be determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent by reference to such factors as the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent considers appropriate in its discretion. Given that MLBV and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent are affiliates, a potential conflict of interest may arise between the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent and the Holders of Secured Instruments in respect of these determinations. See "Potential Conflicts of Interest between Holders of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent" below.

If a MTM Trigger Event has occurred the Secured Instruments will have lost a substantial proportion of their value. Therefore on early cancellation of the Secured Instruments as a result of such MTM Trigger Event, the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount payable may be significantly less than the investor's initial investment.

In addition, if "MTM Trigger Event" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, it may increase the possibility (in comparison with Instruments which are not secured) of the Secured Instruments being early redeemed or cancelled and settled early, as applicable. Following such early redemption or cancellation and early settlement, as applicable, a Holder of Secured Instruments may not be able to reinvest the redemption or settlement proceeds at an equivalent rate of return to the Secured Instruments being redeemed or settled and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other available investments at the time they contemplate investing in Secured Instruments.

Investors are exposed to the credit risk of the issuer(s) of the Static Collateral Assets

In respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply, the value of the Secured Instruments is expected to be affected by the creditworthiness of an issuer of the Static Collateral Assets and actual or anticipated changes in the credit ratings of an issuer of the Static Collateral Assets.

In respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply, Collateral Disruption Events also include certain events which are indicative of a default or material decline in the creditworthiness of an issuer of the Static Collateral Assets. In such circumstances, upon any early redemption or cancellation and early settlement of Secured Instruments by MLBV, it is likely that the market value of the Static Collateral Assets will be low and may be zero, thereby having a material adverse impact on the returns to investors. Therefore, such Secured Instruments explicitly bear the credit risk of an issuer of the Static Collateral Assets and any guarantor of such issuer's obligations under the Static Collateral Assets.

The market value of a Secured Instrument may be affected negatively when the probability of, or the market's perception of the probability of, a Collateral Disruption Event occurring in respect of an issuer of the Static Collateral Assets increases, even if a Collateral Disruption Event does not actually occur.

No investigations, searches or other enquiries have been made by or on behalf of the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider or the Security Agent in respect of the Static Collateral Assets or an issuer or any guarantor of the Static Collateral Assets. No representations or warranties, express or implied, have been given by the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider or the Security Agent or any other person on their behalf in respect of the Static Collateral Assets or an issuer or any guarantor in respect of the Static Collateral Assets. Investors should conduct their own investigation and analysis with respect to the creditworthiness of an issuer and any guarantor of the Static Collateral Assets.

An issuer or any guarantor of the Static Collateral Assets may be a publicly reporting company and financial and other information with respect to the issuer or any guarantor may be available from publicly available sources. Publicly available information in relation to an issuer or any guarantor of the Static Collateral Assets may be incomplete, inaccurate or misleading. None of MLBV, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider or the Security Agent gives any assurance as to the accuracy or completeness of any information available with respect to an issuer or any guarantor of the Static Collateral Assets or that all events that would affect the creditworthiness of an issuer or any guarantor of the Static Collateral Assets have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of, or failure to disclose, material future events concerning the issuer or any guarantor of the Static Collateral Assets could affect its creditworthiness and therefore the market value of the Secured Instruments, the likelihood of a Collateral Disruption Event occurring and the resulting Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (CDE) or, if "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the value of the Static Collateral Assets delivered to Holders.

Risks related to an Acceleration Event and enforcement of the security following a Secured Instrument Event of Default

If a Secured Instrument Event of Default has occurred and is continuing with respect to any Series of Secured Instruments, then any Holder may, at its option, send an Acceleration Notice (together with proof of holding satisfactory to the Security Agent) (i) in the case of Secured Instruments held through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, through the relevant Clearing System to the relevant Instrument Agent and (ii) in the case of Secured Instruments held through The Depository Trust Corporation, directly to the relevant Instrument Agent (and in the case of either (i) and (ii), with a copy to the Security Agent). The Security Agent is under no obligation to act on any Acceleration Notice unless Holder(s) of at least 33 per cent. (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments (which, unless notified in writing by the Issuer and/or its Affiliates to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, shall not include any Secured Instruments held by the Issuer or its Affiliates) have sent Acceleration Notice(s) to the relevant Instrument Agent (copied to the Security Agent), and if any default is not waived or cured by the Issuer in accordance with the relevant Secured Instruments Conditions (an "Acceleration Event" in respect of such Series of Secured Instruments).

At the time and on the date when an Acceleration Event has occurred, such Acceleration Notice(s) shall be deemed to be an effective acceleration instruction (the "Acceleration Instruction") and the Security Agent shall (acting in accordance with such Acceleration Instruction), among other things, deliver a Collateral Enforcement Notice to MLBV, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the relevant Instrument Agent upon which all Secured Instruments in respect of which such Collateral Enforcement Notice is served will become immediately due and repayable at their applicable Early Redemption/Settlement Amount. The Collateral Agent shall also, upon receipt of a Notice of Intended Enforcement (as defined under the Korean Law Security Agreement) from the Security Agent, forward such notice to the relevant sub-custodian.

No Holder shall be entitled to enforce any relevant Security Agreement or to proceed directly against the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to enforce the other provisions of a Charged Document unless the Security Agent, having become bound to so enforce or proceed, fails so to do within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Agent is prevented from enforcing any relevant Security Agreement by any court order. If a Holder becomes so entitled, then such Holder shall not be entitled to enforce the relevant Security Agreement or Charged Document in the United Kingdom.

Where the Collateral Assets consist of debt securities, shares or other tradable securities, liquidation of all the Collateral Assets simultaneously may increase the risk that the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets may be less than the sums due to the relevant Holder of Secured Instruments under the relevant Secured Instruments because liquidation of all the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool at the same time could, in particular market circumstances, lead to a reduction in the market value of some or all of the Collateral Assets.

While Secured Instruments do not have the benefit of any cross-default or cross-acceleration with other Series of Secured Instruments, the events giving rise to the occurrence of a Secured Instrument Event of Default in respect of one Series are likely to simultaneously cause a Secured Instrument Event of Default to occur in relation to other Series of Secured Instruments. As multiple Series of Secured Instruments may be secured by similar types of Collateral Assets, the simultaneous liquidation of similar Collateral Assets for multiple Series of Secured Instruments may reduce the market value of those Collateral Assets thereby increasing the risk that the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets may be less than the sums due to the relevant Holder of Secured Instruments under the relevant Secured Instruments.

In addition, following the realisation of the Collateral Assets, an investor may not be able to reinvest any redemption or settlement proceeds or, where applicable, any Collateral Assets that it receives at an equivalent rate of return to the Secured Instruments that have become immediately due and payable following the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other available investments at the time they contemplate investing in Secured Instruments.

Limitations on the entitlement of a Holder of Secured Instruments on enforcement and subordination to payment of expenses and other payments

If the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, following the enforcement of the relevant Deed of Charge, the rights of a Holder of Secured Instruments to be paid amounts from the proceeds of such enforcement and the realisation of the related Collateral Assets will be limited to the applicable Early Redemption/Settlement Amount and, where Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets is applicable, the delivery of the Entitlement.

If the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, and, following the enforcement of the relevant Security Agreements, each Secured Instrument's share of the proceeds of enforcement (following payment of the Secured Parties ranking above the Holders in the Order of Priority) is greater than the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount, then the rights of a Holder of Secured Instruments to be paid amounts from the proceeds of such enforcement and the realisation of the related Collateral Assets (or, where "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is applicable, the market value of Collateral Assets that a Holder is entitled to receive delivery of) will be limited to: (a) where "NV Collateralisation" or "Max (NV, MV) Collateralisation" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the greater of: (i) the product of (A) the Collateralisation Percentage, multiplied by (B) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the aggregate principal amount or, in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, the Notional Amount, of the Non-Waived Instruments; and (ii) the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount; and (b) where "MV Collateralisation" or "Min (NV, MV) Collateralisation" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Early Redemption/Settlement Amount.

Following the early redemption or settlement of the Secured Instruments, a Holder of Secured Instruments may not be able to reinvest the settlement proceeds at an equivalent rate of return to the Secured Instruments being redeemed or settled and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other available investments at the time they contemplate investing in Secured Instruments.

A Holder's entitlement on enforcement and realisation of the related Collateral Assets will be subordinated to and therefore rank behind claims relating to any amounts payable to Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holder of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms and any rights of preference existing by operation of law.

Shortfall on Realisation of Collateral Assets, Limited Recourse of a Holder of Secured Instruments and inadequacy of collateral

The security provided for a Series of Secured Instruments is limited to the Collateral Assets constituting the Collateral Pool applicable to such Series together with the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's right, benefit, interest and title, present and future, in, under and to the Charged Documents (to the extent they relate to such Series). The value realised for the Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool or, where (a) in the event that the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral" is applicable, and (b) in the event that the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets on Enforcement is applicable, the value of the Collateral Assets delivered, upon enforcement of the relevant Security Agreements may be less than the amounts due to a Holder of Secured Instruments in respect of the relevant Series of Secured Instruments and as a result, investors may lose all or a substantial portion of their investment. The level of risk will particularly depend on the Eligibility Criteria and, if the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments on the collateralisation method (either MV Collateralisation, NV Collateralisation, Max (MV, NV) Collateralisation or Min (MV, NV) Collateralisation) as specified in the applicable Final Terms).

The Collateral Assets may suffer a fall in value between the time at which the relevant Security Agreement becomes enforceable and the time at which the Collateral Assets are realised in full or, where (a) in the event that the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets on Enforcement is applicable, and (b) in the event that the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments, Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets on Enforcement is applicable, the Collateral Assets are delivered. In extraordinary circumstances, the Collateral Assets forming part of the Collateral Pool available at the time at which a Security Agreement becomes enforceable could lose all or a substantial proportion of their value by the time of realisation and distribution or delivery, as applicable. Moreover, the security created in respect of the Secured Instruments may be unperfected for a variety of reasons, including the failure to make required filings and, as a result, Holders may not have priority over other creditors as anticipated.

If there is any shortfall in amounts due to a Holder of Secured Instruments in accordance with the Secured Instruments Conditions then such Holder of Secured Instruments shall have no further claim against MLBV, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider or the Security Agent in respect of such amounts which remain unpaid following enforcement of each relevant Security Agreement (including, for the avoidance of doubt, payments of redemption amounts or settlement amounts or additional amounts in respect of the Secured Instruments). In such a scenario, as the Guarantees are not applicable to Secured Instruments, a Holder of the Secured Instruments will have no further claim against any entity in respect of any shortfall in amounts due to it.

If physical delivery of Collateral Assets applies on enforcement and a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event occurs or exists, there may be a delay in delivery of the Collateral Assets or the Collateral Assets may be sold in lieu of delivery

If the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments and Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets is specified to be applicable, upon enforcement of a Deed of Charge, the Security Agent will not sell, or cause to be sold, the Static Collateral Assets (unless there is a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event or to the extent required in order to pay any amounts payable to Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms that have not been met by the sale of MTM Collateral Assets) but will procure delivery of the Static Collateral Assets to each Holder of Secured Instruments in the manner set out in the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions.

If the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply to a Series of Secured Instruments and Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets is specified in respect of a Series of Secured Instruments, upon enforcement of a Security Agreement, the Security Agent will not sell, or cause to be sold, the Collateral Assets (unless there is a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event or to the extent required in order to pay any amounts payable to Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of Secured Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms) but will procure delivery of the Collateral Assets to each Holder of Secured Instruments in the manner set out in the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions.

If, in the opinion of the Disposal Agent, delivery of all or some of the Static Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable, forming part of the Entitlement is not practicable by reason of a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event having occurred or continuing on any Collateral Delivery Date, then settlement will be postponed until the next Collateral Business Day on which there is no Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event. If delivery of any of the Static Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable, forming part of the Entitlement is not possible due to the occurrence of a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event for a period of greater than 20 Collateral Business Days, the Disposal Agent will sell or realise the undeliverable Static Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable, in lieu of physical settlement. The amount received by a Holder of Secured Instruments following such sale of Static Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable may be lower than the amount which a Holder of Secured Instruments would have received if the relevant Static Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable, had been delivered to it and the Holder of Secured Instruments held the relevant Static Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable, to the maturity date of such assets or sold such assets at a different point in time.

Risk of a delay in the realisation of the Collateral Assets in the event of the insolvency of the Security Agent or any Collateral Arrangement Party

The insolvency of MLBV will constitute a Secured Instrument Event of Default, which may trigger early redemption or settlement of any Secured Instruments issued by MLBV. In these circumstances, or in the event of the insolvency of the Security Agent or any Collateral Arrangement Party, the realisation of the Collateral Assets may be delayed either by the appointment of an insolvency administrator or other insolvency official in relation to the relevant party or by measures ordered by a competent court.

In addition, in the case of an insolvency of a member of the Group, it is possible that MLBV, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Agent that are members of the Group may also each be insolvent. Such circumstances may lead to a delay in the administrative processes involved in the realisation of the Collateral Assets. However, as the entities responsible for the enforcement of the Security Agreements and the realisation of the Collateral Assets, namely the Custodian, the Collateral Agent, the Security Agent and the Disposal Agent are not part of the Group, the impact of any insolvency of a member of the Group on such enforcement and realisation should be less material than it would have been if the Custodian, the Collateral Agent, the Security Agent and/or the Disposal Agent were part of the Group.

The initial Custodian, the initial Collateral Agent, and the initial Security Agent are affiliates of one another and it is possible that the Disposal Agent will also be an affiliate, and in the event of the insolvency of one such entity it is possible that another of those entities may also be insolvent. Such circumstances may lead to a delay in the realisation of the Collateral Assets. The Custodian Agreement, Triparty Account Control Agreement, and the Security Agency Agreement will contain provisions permitting the replacement of the Custodian, Collateral Agent, and Security Agent, as applicable, in certain circumstances, including following insolvency, as further provided in such agreements and the Secured Instrument.

If there is a delay in the realisation of the Collateral Assets due to the insolvency of any of these entities, such Collateral Assets could depreciate in value resulting in a shortfall in the amounts returned to Holders of Secured Instruments.

Potential Conflicts of Interest between Holders of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent and certain pricing services

As the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent are the same legal entity and are affiliates of MLBV, potential conflicts of interest may arise between the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent and the Holders of Secured Instruments, including with respect to the making of certain determinations and the exercise of certain discretions (including as to the calculation of and determinations relating to (a) the Marked-to-Market Derivative Hedge Value, (b) in respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply: (i) the MTM Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required MTM Collateral Value; (ii) the Static Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required Static Collateral Nominal Amount; and (iii) (if applicable) a Collateral Trigger Event or a MTM Trigger Event, and (c) in respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply: (i) the Secured Instrument Market Value; and (ii) the Required Collateral Value). In addition, whilst the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent are obliged to carry out their duties and functions in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, neither the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider nor the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent acts or will act as a fiduciary or as an advisor to the Holder of Secured Instruments in respect of their duties as Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and Secured Instruments Valuation Agent, respectively.

Further, when calculating the Market Value and Market Value (ex. interest) in respect of Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool, if the Collateral Agent cannot obtain the price of such Collateral Assets from the relevant pricing information services as of the Collateral Valuation Time on the relevant Collateral Test Date, it shall determine the price using estimated prices from an alternative pricing service utilised by the Collateral Agent for such purpose in the ordinary course of its business. As at the date of this Offering Circular, such alternative pricing service is PriceServe®, which is affiliated with the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent thereby giving rise to a potential conflict of interest.

A failure by the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent to perform its obligations following an Acceleration Event may adversely affect the amount the Holders of the Secured Instruments may recover

Following a Secured Instrument Event of Default and subsequent Acceleration Event, the Security Agent will (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) enforce the security under each relevant Security Agreement upon the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice and will give instructions to the Disposal Agent to: (a) liquidate and realise the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures a Series of Secured Instruments and subsequently distribute the relevant Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share to the relevant Holders of Secured Instruments or (b) where, in respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply, Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms or where, in respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply, Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, arrange for delivery of the relevant Entitlement to the relevant Holder of Secured Instruments, in each case in accordance with the Order of Priority.

A failure by the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent to perform its obligations with respect to the Collateral Assets or to perform its obligations in a timely or efficient manner may adversely affect the realisation of the Collateral Assets and the amount distributable or deliverable to Holders of Secured Instruments. Accordingly, in the event of a Secured Instrument Event of Default and subsequent Acceleration Event, the amount that Holders of the Secured Instruments recover may be adversely affected.

The Security Agent may be entitled not to act following an Acceleration Event if it believes that it will be unable to recover certain amounts or is not indemnified and/or secured or pre-funded by the Holders

Following a Secured Instrument Event of Default and subsequent Acceleration Event, the Security Agent shall be under no obligation to take any action to liquidate or realise any Collateral Assets, if (a) in the event that it is directed by the requisite percentage of Holders of the Secured Instruments to effect such liquidation or realisation in accordance with the exact provisions of an Acceleration Instruction (the form of which is scheduled to the English Law Agency Agreement) it reasonably believes that it would not be able to recover Security Agent Amounts (being amounts incurred by it in respect of exceptional duties) or would experience an unreasonable delay in doing so; or (b) in the event that it is directed by a Secured Party to effect such liquidation or realisation other than in accordance with the exact provisions of an Acceleration Instruction (the form of which is scheduled to the English Law Agency Agreement) it has not been indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction by the Holders of the Secured Instruments.

In any such event, the Security Agent may decide not to take any action and such inaction will not constitute a breach by it of its obligations under the Security Agency Agreement, the Security Agreements or the Secured Instruments Conditions. Consequently, if applicable, the Holders of the Secured Instruments would have to either arrange for such indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding, accept the consequences of such inaction by the Security Agent or appoint a replacement Security Agent. Holders of at least 33 per cent., in respect of Secured Notes, in aggregate principal amount or, in respect of Secured W&C Instruments, in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable), of Non-Waived Instruments outstanding may remove the Security Agent and appoint a replacement Security Agent. Holders of the Secured Instruments should be prepared to bear the costs associated with any such indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding and/or the consequences of any such inaction by the Security Agent and/or the replacement of the Security Agent. Such inaction by the Security Agent will not entitle Holders of the Secured Instruments to take action in the United Kingdom directly against the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to pursue remedies for any breach by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider of the Security Agreements, the Secured Instruments Conditions or Charged Documents. Any consequential delay in the liquidation or realisation of the Collateral Assets may adversely affect the amount distributable or deliverable to Holders of Secured Instruments.

No Fiduciary duties

In performing their duties under the Programme, none of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Custodian, the Collateral Agent, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent or the Disposal Agent will act as a fiduciary or as an advisor to the Holders of Instruments in respect of their respective duties and do not act as a trustee for the Holders of Instruments. In performing its role under the Programme, the Security Agent does not act as an advisor to or fiduciary or trustee for the Holders of the Secured Instruments (either as a Series or individually) or any other party and nothing in any of the documents relating to the Programme shall be interpreted to constitute the Security Agent as a trustee or fiduciary of the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Holders of the Secured Instruments or any other party.

(xii) Risks relating to Secured Euroclear Collateral Service (ECS) Instruments

Holders of Secured ECS Instruments do not have recourse to the Guarantees

The Secured ECS Instruments will be limited recourse obligations of MLBV secured by a separate Collateral Pool for each Series and will not be obligations or responsibilities of, or guaranteed by, the Guarantor or any other person or entity. Therefore a Holder of Secured ECS Instruments will not be able to claim under the terms of the Guarantees against the Guarantor for any unpaid amounts and any such shortfall will not constitute an unsecured claim by such Holder of Secured ECS Instruments against the Guarantor.

Limitations of the security interest under each Pledge Agreement

The Collateral Assets will be transferred into the Secured Accounts, each of which is a "Single Pledgor Pledged Account" in the Euroclear System, which accounts will be secured in favour of the Security Trustee (for its own account and for the account of the Holders and the other Secured Parties) pursuant to the relevant Belgian law governed Pledge Agreement. The Secured Accounts will be opened in the name of the Security Trustee in the Euroclear System.

The security granted by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider under each Pledge Agreement is (i) a first-ranking pledge (gage de premier rang/pand in eerste rang) over the Pledged Securities and does not extend to any interest or distributions paid on such Pledged Securities (to the extent such amounts are not held in the relevant Secured Accounts) and (ii) a transfer of title (transfert de propriété à titre de garantie/eigendomsoverdracht ten titel van zekerheid) of the Pledged Cash.

No security interest will be granted by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider over any of its rights under any agreement under which it acquires any Collateral Assets (including, without limitation, any hedging agreements). This means that the Security Trustee will not have the ability to compel the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to enforce its rights (or to enforce such rights on behalf of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider) under any agreement against a counterparty to such agreement.

Under Belgian law, a pledge on fungible securities in the Euroclear System is not considered a pledge on any specific securities themselves, but on the co-proprietary rights of the account holder in a pool of fungible securities, and on a personal right of the account holder against Euroclear (and possibly the issuer) to reclaim in kind the portion of those securities to which it is entitled; these rights are subject to the proportional rights of other claimants in the same pool of fungible securities.

Third party creditors of a Euroclear account holder (such as the Security Trustee) are not entitled to claim the securities credited to a segregated Euroclear account which is designated for the purpose of holding collateral for the account of the represented party. This only applies to the extent that such Euroclear account holder has complied with its legal and contractual obligations of segregation of securities held for its own account and securities held for the account of the represented party.

The security interest created by the relevant Pledge Agreement will not necessarily have the priority and ranking provided for in such Pledge Agreement; in particular, there may be liens created by force of law which will take priority over the security interest created by the relevant Pledge Agreement. In order to create a valid and perfected pledge over the Pledged Securities, such Pledged Securities must be transferred to a special account in the books of Euroclear. The pledge on the Pledged Securities will only be created and perfected provided that such Pledged Securities have been and remain credited to the Secured Account. Moreover, the Belgian Financial Collateral Law further provides that a security interest will only be validly created and perfected upon the collateral provider's dispossession of the collateral by the beneficiary of a pledge. To effect this required dispossession of the Pledged Securities, in addition to transfer of the Pledged Securities to the Secured Account, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider should not have control over the Pledged Securities. The validity of the pledge could be compromised if the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider has control over the Pledged Securities. In general, this means that the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider should not be able to give instructions in relation to the Pledged Securities without the prior written consent of the Security Trustee or, if the Security Trustee has granted the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider the right to deal with the Pledged Securities, it should have the ability to revoke that right at any moment. If the requirement of dispossession is not continuously met, the validity and enforceability of the Holders' security interest in the Pledged Securities will be impaired and Holders may be unable to recover the amounts due to them under the Secured ECS Instruments on an enforcement on the security.

A failure to register the security created under a Pledge Agreement could mean that it is void against a liquidator, administrator or creditor of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider

In accordance with section 859A of the Companies Act 2006, relevant particulars of any charge created by an English company (together with a certified copy of the relevant instrument) must be delivered to the Registrar of Companies for registration within 21 days beginning with the date after the day on which the relevant security is created, failing which the security will be void against a liquidator, administrator and any creditor of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, except where the charge constitutes a "financial collateral arrangement" under the Financial Collateral Arrangements (No. 2) Regulations 2003 (the "Financial Collateral Regulations"), in which case the registration requirement is disapplied pursuant to the Financial Collateral Regulations. The term "charge" for these purposes includes security interests governed by a foreign law that would be characterised for English law purposes as a mortgage or charge. The security interest created by the Belgian law governed Pledge Agreement could therefore be characterised by an English court as a mortgage or charge over Eligible Collateral delivered by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to the Security Trustee. Moreover, uncertainty in respect of the meaning of key terms in the Financial Collateral Regulations including "possession" and "control" means that there is a legal risk that a court would not characterise the security granted under the Pledge Agreement as a financial collateral arrangement. If the Pledge Agreement were not to be registered in accordance with section 859A of the Companies Act and did not constitute a financial collateral arrangement under the Financial Collateral Regulations, investors would be exposed to the potentially severe consequences of a failure to register.

A court may characterise the security created under a Pledge Agreement as a floating charge rather than a fixed charge

If an English court were to characterise the security interest created by the Belgian law governed Pledge Agreement as a charge, there is a risk that a court would characterise it as a "floating" charge rather than as a "fixed" charge. The distinction between a fixed charge and a floating charge depends on a number of factors, including the extent of the control exercised over the collateral by the collateral taker. It is a mixed question of fact and law. If a charge is characterised as floating charge, the claims of (a) the unsecured creditors of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in respect of that part of the chargor's net property which is ringfenced under the Insolvency Act 1986 (the "Insolvency Act") and (b) certain statutorily defined preferential creditors of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, would have priority over the rights of the Security Trustee to the proceeds of enforcement of the relevant Collateral

Assets. As a result, the full amount of the proceeds of enforcement of the relevant Collateral Assets may not be available to pay holders of the Secured Instruments, resulting in a loss for investors.

Holders are exposed to the operational and legal risks related to the collateral arrangements and the structure of the Secured Accounts

The Issuer will appoint Collateral Arrangement Parties under the Collateral Transaction Documents to perform custodial, operational and administrative functions relating to the Collateral Assets. A failure by any Collateral Arrangement Party to perform its duties and obligations under the Collateral Transaction Documents, or the occurrence of any adverse event in relation to those entities, may adversely affect the amount payable to a Holder following realisation of the Collateral Assets. Accordingly, a Holder of Secured ECS Instruments will be exposed to, amongst other things, the risk of any potential operational disruption, the failure of the Collateral Transaction Documents to be legally binding or any other adverse impact related to a Collateral Arrangement Party (including disruption caused by any insolvency proceedings which may be commenced in respect of a Collateral Arrangement Party). Other than the Security Trustee, none of the Collateral Arrangement Parties acts as a fiduciary or trustee for the benefit of the Holders.

Holders will not be entitled to enforce the Collateral Monitoring Agent Agreement or the Euroclear Agreements or to proceed directly against Euroclear, the Collateral Monitoring Agent or the Security Trustee to enforce the terms of the relevant Collateral Transaction Document. Holders will not be entitled to enforce the relevant Pledge Agreement unless the Security Trustee fails to enforce within a reasonable time or the Security Trustee is prevented from enforcing the Pledge Agreement by any court order.

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee will notify Euroclear via matching instructions of the "Intended Transaction Amount" that is required to be collateralised by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider under the Euroclear Agreements. While there is a contractual requirement for the parties to provide matching instructions to Euroclear that specify the Required Collateral Value calculated by the Collateral Monitoring Agent as the "Intended Transaction Amount", in practice there is a risk that an incorrect "Intended Transaction Amount" is notified to Euroclear or that one or more of the parties fail to notify Euroclear of an increase in the Required Collateral Value, each of which could result in insufficient Collateral Assets being held in the Secured Accounts.

Moreover, certain thresholds (i.e., the Minimum Margin Amount in the Euroclear Agreements and the Minimum Adjustment Amount in the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions) must be exceeded for the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee to notify Euroclear of any increase in the "Intended Transaction Amount" and/or for Collateral Assets to be transferred into the Secured Accounts. Therefore, there is a risk that the value of the Collateral Assets held in the Secured Accounts is lower than the Required Collateral Value determined by the Collateral Monitoring Agent, which may increase the likelihood of a shortfall on enforcement resulting in Holders suffering a loss.

In the event of insolvency of Euroclear, the Pledged Cash will become part of the estate of Euroclear subject to the claims of its creditors. The claim for repayment of the Pledged Cash would be unsecured and rank pari passu with the other claims in the Euroclear insolvent estate that are not secured through a contractual arrangement or by operation of law.

In the event of insolvency of the Security Trustee and since the Security Trustee has become the owner of the receivable against Euroclear following the transfer of title to the Pledged Cash by way of security, the Pledged Cash would become part of the estate of the Security Trustee and, accordingly, would become available to meet the claims of the Security Trustee's creditors upon insolvency of the Security Trustee.

Market Value in respect of the Pledged Securities

The market value in respect of the Pledged Securities will be determined in accordance with the Euroclear Agreements (including for the avoidance of doubt any amendment agreements applicable thereto). Some of the securities comprising or to comprise the Pledged Securities may be illiquid and the price provided by Euroclear may be inaccurate or out of date. In addition, in some cases a third party valuation agent may provide specific market values for certain securities comprising or to comprise the Pledged Securities. Such third party valuation agent is regularly appointed by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider or its affiliates to perform services on its behalf so, while it is an independent entity, it has a close relationship with the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and this may give rise to potential conflicts of interest between such third party valuation agent and the Holders in relation to the determination of the market value of such securities.

Furthermore, as with any service provider, the third party valuation agent may make mistakes regarding the determination of the market value of such securities. Moreover, in some cases the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may itself provide specific market values for certain securities comprising or to comprise the Pledged Securities which gives rise to a conflict of interest between the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and Holders. Such market values will be used by Euroclear for the purposes of crediting securities to or debiting securities from the relevant Secured Accounts. There is a risk that the actual market value of certain Pledged Securities credited to the relevant Secured Account is lower than the market value of such Pledged Securities as determined by Euroclear, the third party valuation agent or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider. In such circumstances, the proceeds of realisation of the Pledged Securities (or, if applicable, the value of Pledged Securities delivered to Holders) may be lower than expected, which may increase the likelihood of a shortfall resulting in Holders suffering a loss.

The Collateral Assets may be insufficient to pay all amounts due to Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments

The security in relation to a Series of Secured ECS Instruments is limited to the Collateral Assets constituting the Collateral Pool applicable to such Series. The amount of Collateral Assets constituting such Collateral Pool will depend on, amongst other things, the Collateralisation Percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms for each Series of Secured ECS Instruments. There is no guarantee that the Collateral Assets will be sufficient to ensure that, following enforcement of the relevant Pledge Agreement, the amounts available for distribution or the value of the Collateral Assets available to be distributed by the Security Trustee will be sufficient to pay all amounts due to a Holder of Secured ECS Instruments in respect of the relevant Series of Secured ECS Instruments (see "Shortfall on realisation of Collateral Assets and limited recourse of Holders of Secured ECS Instruments").

Investors should conduct their own investigation and analysis with respect to Eligible Collateral Assets including the creditworthiness of issuers of Eligible Collateral Assets. The Collateral Arrangement Parties and their respective affiliates have no obligation to keep investors informed as to any matters with respect to the Collateral Assets.

A lack of diversification of Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool may impact the value of the Collateral Assets

The Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool on which such Series of Secured ECS Instruments are secured may be limited to one or a few assets or types of assets depending on the relevant Eligibility Criteria.

Low diversification of Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool may increase the risk that the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets may be less than the sums due to the relevant Holder of Secured ECS Instruments. If the Collateral Pool is comprised of a limited number of different types of assets, any depreciation in the value of such assets and the realisation of the Collateral Assets in the corresponding Collateral Pool will have a proportionally larger impact on any shortfall as the amount recovered in respect of the Collateral Assets on their sale will be dependent on the then-current market value of a smaller range of Collateral Assets.

None of MLBV or the Collateral Arrangement Parties is under any obligation to ensure that any relevant Eligibility Criteria provide for the diversification of Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool.

Collateral Assets may be illiquid

Depending on the relevant Eligibility Criteria, certain of the Collateral Assets may not be admitted to trading on any public market and may be illiquid and not easily realisable in certain market circumstances. Where there is limited liquidity in the secondary market relating to Collateral Assets, in the event of enforcement the Security Trustee may not be able to readily sell such Collateral Assets to a third party or may only be able to sell such Collateral Assets at a discounted value.

In addition, there may be confidentiality undertakings and/or transfer restrictions in relation to some of the securities comprised in the Collateral Assets and/or the underlying assets in respect of such securities.

This in turn may affect the ability of relevant parties to realise the value of the Collateral Assets and/or reduce their market value and/or determine their value.

Potential correlation between the value of the Collateral Assets and the creditworthiness of certain entities

Depending on the Eligibility Criteria applicable to a Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the Collateral Assets relating to such Series could be composed of assets whose value may be positively correlated with the creditworthiness of MLBV and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in that adverse economic factors which apply to one may apply to the others, or the default or decline in the creditworthiness of one may itself adversely affect the others.

Where the value of the Collateral Assets is positively correlated with the creditworthiness of MLBV and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, for example where the Collateral Assets consist of securities (such as debt or equities) issued by other financial institutions, a default by MLBV in relation to its obligations under the Secured ECS Instruments may be associated with a fall in the value of Collateral Assets securing such Secured ECS Instruments.

Moreover, it may be possible that some of the securities which are eligible in accordance with the relevant Eligibility Criteria include securities where MLBV or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider is arranger and/or has other roles in relation to those securities, including, without limitation, paying agent, calculation agent, account bank, noteholder representative, collateral manager, trustee. There is a risk that the insolvency of MLBV or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may cause disruptions in respect of such Collateral Assets that could delay the repayment or realisation of such Collateral Assets and/or reduce their market value.

Substitution of Collateral Assets may affect the value of the Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may withdraw and/or replace Collateral Assets from any Secured Account in accordance with the Euroclear Agreements provided that the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied. The composition of Collateral Assets held in a Secured Account securing a Series of Secured ECS Instruments will change following substitution, which may result in a Holder receiving less on an enforcement than it would have were it not for the substitution of Collateral Assets. This could occur for example where the substitute Collateral Asset proves to have a lower realisable market value on enforcement than the substituted Collateral Asset, or if the substitution leads to greater concentration risk in the Collateral Assets held in the Secured Accounts.

MLBV may early redeem or cancel and early settle the Secured ECS Instruments upon a Collateral Disruption Event Secured ECS Instruments will be subject to Collateral Disruption Events, including, but not limited to: (a) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider being unable to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) or futures or option contracts it deems necessary to obtain Collateral Assets, or (ii) freely realise, recover, remit, receive, re-patriate or transfer the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) or futures or option contract(s) or any relevant hedge positions relating to the Collateral Assets; (b) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider incurring a material increase in certain costs related to (a)(i) and (a)(ii); or (c) MLBV is unable to find a substitute or replacement Collateral Arrangement Party or Security Trustee. This may increase the possibility (in comparison with Instruments which are not secured) of the Secured ECS Instruments being early redeemed or cancelled and settled early. Upon the occurrence of a Collateral Disruption Event, MLBV may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, redeem or cancel and settle, as applicable, all of the relevant Secured ECS Instruments at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount, which may be significantly less than the investor's initial investment.

Further, following the early redemption or cancellation and early settlement, as applicable, of the Secured ECS Instruments, a Holder of Secured ECS Instruments may not be able to reinvest the redemption or settlement proceeds at an equivalent rate of return to the Secured ECS Instruments being redeemed or settled and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other available investments at the time they contemplate investing in Secured ECS Instruments.

MLBV may early redeem or cancel and early settle the Secured ECS Instruments upon a Third Party Event Secured ECS Instruments will be subject to Third Party Events, including, but not limited to: (a) Euroclear's failure to follow instructions from the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider; (b) failure of the Collateral Monitoring Agent to notify the Security Trustee of the Required Collateral Value, or the Security Trustee's failure to provide matching instructions to Euroclear; (c) Euroclear, the Collateral Monitoring Agent or the Security Trustee failing to comply with or perform any agreement or obligation under the relevant Collateral Transaction Document; (d) termination of any Collateral Transaction Document; (e) Euroclear, the Collateral Monitoring Agent or the Security Trustee disaffirming, disclaiming, repudiating, rejecting, or challenging the validity of any Collateral Transaction Document; (f) unilateral amendments to the terms of any Collateral Transaction Document by Euroclear, the Collateral Monitoring Agent or the Security Trustee, resulting in the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider failing to comply with its regulatory obligations, or (g) any of these parties being closed for business for 14 continuous days (excluding legal holidays) or announcing an intention to cease business permanently. This may increase the possibility (in comparison with Instruments which are not secured) of the Secured ECS Instruments being early redeemed or cancelled and settled early. Upon the occurrence of a Third Party Event, MLBV may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, redeem or cancel and settle, as applicable, all of the relevant Secured ECS Instruments at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount, which may be significantly less than the investor's initial investment.

Further, following the early redemption or cancellation and early settlement, as applicable, of the Secured ECS Instruments, a Holder of Secured ECS Instruments may not be able to reinvest the redemption or settlement proceeds at an equivalent rate of return to the Secured ECS Instruments being redeemed or settled and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other available investments at the time they contemplate investing in Secured ECS Instruments.

The Secured ECS Instruments will be automatically early redeemed or cancelled and settled early upon a MTM Trigger Event

Under the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions, if "MTM Trigger Event" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the relevant Secured ECS Instruments will be subject to early cancellation following the occurrence of a MTM Trigger Event. The Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall determine that a MTM Trigger Event has occurred if, at any time between 5.00 a.m. Sydney time to 5.00 p.m. New York City time (or such other times specified in the applicable Final Terms) on a business day during the relevant observation period, the market value of a Secured Instrument of the relevant Series is (a) if "less than the MTM Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than the MTM Trigger Level or (b) if "less than or equal to the MTM Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than or equal to the MTM Trigger Level. The MTM Trigger Level will be specified in the applicable Final Terms. Upon the occurrence of a MTM Trigger Event, MLBV will redeem or cancel and settle all of the relevant Secured ECS Instruments at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount.

The market value of the relevant Secured Instrument will be determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent by reference to such factors as the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent considers appropriate in its discretion. Given that MLBV and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent are affiliates, a potential conflict of interest may arise between the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent and the Holders of Secured ECS Instruments in respect of these determinations.

If a MTM Trigger Event has occurred the Secured ECS Instruments will have lost a substantial proportion of their value. Therefore on early cancellation of the Secured ECS Instruments as a result of such MTM Trigger Event, the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount payable may be significantly less than the investor's initial investment.

In addition, if "MTM Trigger Event" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, it may increase the possibility (in comparison with Instruments which are not secured) of the Secured ECS Instruments being early redeemed or cancelled and settled early, as applicable. Following such early redemption or cancellation and early settlement, as applicable, a Holder of Secured ECS Instruments may not be able to reinvest the redemption or settlement proceeds at an equivalent rate of return to the Secured ECS Instruments being redeemed or settled and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other available investments at the time they contemplate investing in Secured ECS Instruments.

Risks related to an Acceleration Event and enforcement of the security following a Secured Instrument Event of Default

If a Secured Instrument Event of Default has occurred and is continuing with respect to any Series of Secured ECS Instruments, then any Holder may, at its option, send an Acceleration Notice (together with proof of holding satisfactory to the Security Agent) (i) in the case of Secured ECS Instruments held through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, through the relevant Clearing System to the relevant Instrument Agent and (ii) in the case of Secured ECS Instruments held through The Depository Trust Corporation, directly to the relevant Instrument Agent (and in the case of either (i) or (ii) with a copy to the Security Trustee).

The Security Trustee is not obliged to act on any Acceleration Notice unless the Holder(s) of at least 51 per cent. (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding have sent Acceleration Notice(s) to the relevant Instrument Agent (forwarded or copied to the Security Agent), and if any default is not waived in accordance with the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions or cured by the Issuer in accordance with the Secured Instruments Conditions, an "Acceleration Event" in respect of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments.

At the time and on the date when an Acceleration Event has occurred, such Acceleration Notice(s) shall become effective (the "Acceleration Instruction") and the Security Trustee shall (acting in accordance with such Acceleration Instruction and subject to being indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction), among other things, deliver a Collateral Enforcement Notice to MLBV, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Collateral Monitoring Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent upon which all Secured ECS Instruments in respect of which such Collateral Enforcement Notice is served will become immediately due and repayable at their applicable Early Redemption/Settlement Amount.

No Holder shall be entitled to enforce the relevant Pledge Agreement unless the Security Trustee, having become bound to so enforce or proceed, fails so to do within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Trustee is prevented from enforcing the relevant Pledge Agreement by any court order.

Where the Collateral Assets consist of debt securities, shares or other tradable securities, liquidation of all the Collateral Assets simultaneously may increase the risk that the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets may be less than the sums due to the relevant Holder of Secured ECS Instruments under the relevant Secured ECS Instruments because liquidation of all the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool at the same time could, in particular market circumstances, lead to a reduction in the market value of some or all of the Collateral Assets.

While Secured ECS Instruments do not have the benefit of any cross-default or cross-acceleration with other Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the events giving rise to the occurrence of a Secured Instrument Event of Default in respect of one Series are likely to simultaneously cause a Secured Instrument Event of Default to occur in relation to other Series of Secured ECS Instruments. As multiple Series of Secured ECS Instruments may be secured by similar types of Collateral Assets, the simultaneous liquidation of similar Collateral Assets for multiple Series of Secured ECS Instruments may reduce the market value of those Collateral Assets thereby increasing the risk that the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets may be less than the sums due to the relevant Holder of Secured ECS Instruments under the relevant Secured ECS Instruments.

In addition, following the realisation of the Collateral Assets, an investor may not be able to reinvest any redemption or settlement proceeds or, where applicable, any Collateral Assets that it receives at an equivalent rate of return to the Secured ECS Instruments that have become immediately due and payable following the occurrence of an Acceleration Event and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other available investments at the time they contemplate investing in Secured ECS Instruments.

The Security Trustee is entitled not to act following an Acceleration Event if it has not been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded by the Holders

Following a Secured Instrument Event of Default and subsequent Acceleration Event, the Security Trustee shall be under no obligation to take any action to liquidate or realise any Collateral Assets if it has not first been indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction by the Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments.

In any such event, the Security Trustee may decide not to take any action and such inaction will not constitute a breach by it of its obligations under the any Collateral Transaction Document. Consequently, if applicable, the Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments would have to either arrange for such indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding, accept the consequences of such inaction by the Security Trustee or appoint a replacement Security Trustee. Holders of at least 51 per cent. (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of Non-Waived Instruments outstanding may remove the Security Trustee and appoint a replacement Security Trustee. Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments should be prepared to bear the costs associated with any such indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding and/or the consequences of any such inaction by the Security Trustee and/or the replacement of the Security Trustee. Any consequential delay in the liquidation or realisation of the Collateral Assets may adversely affect the amount distributable to Holders of Secured ECS Instruments.

If the Security Trustee fails to enforce the security or fails to apply the proceeds of enforcement for any reason, the Holders will be unable to recover the amounts due to them until such time as the security is enforced and the proceeds thereof are distributed (although the Holders will have the right to remove the Security Trustee and appoint a replacement Security Trustee).

Holders should note that the Security Trustee is entitled to (but is not required to) liquidate some of the Collateral Assets and retain the proceeds in order to pre-fund itself to its satisfaction before taking any further action. A partial liquidation of Collateral Assets in this manner may result in a lower market price for the Collateral Assets than a liquidation of the entirety of the Collateral Assets and may adversely affect the amount distributable to Holders of Secured ECS Instruments.

A failure by the Security Trustee to perform its obligations following an Acceleration Event may adversely affect the amount the Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments may recover

Following a Secured Instrument Event of Default and subsequent Acceleration Event, the Security Trustee will (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) enforce the security under the relevant Pledge Agreement upon the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice and will liquidate and realise the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures a Series of Secured ECS Instruments and subsequently distribute the relevant Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share to the relevant Holders of Secured ECS Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority.

A failure by the Security Trustee to perform its obligations with respect to the Collateral Assets or to perform its obligations in a timely or efficient manner may adversely affect the realisation of the Collateral Assets and the amount distributable to Holders of Secured ECS Instruments. Accordingly, in the event of a Secured Instrument Event of Default and subsequent Acceleration Event, the amount that Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments recover may be adversely affected.

Shortfall on realisation of Collateral Assets, limited recourse of Holders of Secured ECS Instruments and inadequacy of collateral

The security provided for a Series of Secured ECS Instruments is limited to the Collateral Assets constituting the Collateral Pool applicable to such Series. The value realised for the Collateral Assets in the relevant Collateral Pool upon enforcement of the relevant Pledge Agreement may be less than the amounts due to a Holder of Secured ECS Instruments and as a result investors may lose all or a substantial portion of their investment. The level of risk will particularly depend on the Eligibility Criteria, the Collateralisation Percentage and on the collateralisation method specified in the applicable Final Terms.

The Collateral Assets may suffer a fall in value between the time at which the relevant Pledge Agreement becomes enforceable and the time at which the Collateral Assets are realised in full. In extraordinary circumstances, the Collateral Assets forming part of the Collateral Pool available at the time at which a Pledge Agreement becomes enforceable could lose all or a substantial proportion of their value by the time of realisation and distribution. Moreover, the security created in respect of the Secured Instruments may be unperfected for a variety of reasons, including a failure to continuously dispossess the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider of the Collateral Assets, and, as a result, Holders may not have priority over other creditors as anticipated.

If there is any shortfall in amounts due to a Holder of Secured ECS Instruments in accordance with the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions then such Holder of Secured Instruments shall have no further claim against MLBV, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider or the Security Trustee in respect of such amounts which remain unpaid following enforcement of the relevant Pledge Agreement (including, for the avoidance of doubt, payments of redemption amounts or settlement amounts or additional amounts in respect of the Secured Instruments). In such a scenario, as the Guarantees are not applicable to Secured ECS Instruments, a Holder of the Secured ECS Instruments will have no further claim against any entity in respect of any shortfall in amounts due to it.

Risk of a delay in the realisation of the Collateral Assets in the event of the insolvency of the Security Trustee or any Collateral Arrangement Party

The insolvency of MLBV will constitute a Secured Instrument Event of Default, which may trigger early redemption or settlement of any Secured ECS Instruments issued by MLBV. In these circumstances, or in the event of the insolvency of the Security Trustee or any Collateral Arrangement Party, the realisation of the Collateral Assets may be delayed either by the appointment of an insolvency administrator or other insolvency official in relation to the relevant party or by measures ordered by a competent court.

In addition, in the case of an insolvency of a member of the Group, it is possible that MLBV and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may also each be insolvent. Such circumstances may lead to a delay in the administrative processes involved in the realisation of the Collateral Assets. However, as the entities responsible for the enforcement of the Pledge Agreement and the realisation of the Collateral Assets, namely Euroclear and the Security Trustee are not part of the Group, the impact of any insolvency of a member of the Group on such enforcement and realisation should be less material than it would have been if Euroclear and/or the Security Trustee were part of the Group.

The initial Security Trustee and the initial Collateral Monitoring Agent are affiliates of one another and in the event of the insolvency of one such entity it is possible that another of those entities may also be insolvent. Such circumstances may lead to a delay in the realisation of the Collateral Assets. The Collateral Monitoring Agency Agreement and the applicable Trust Deed will contain provisions permitting the replacement of the Security Trustee and the Collateral Monitoring Agent, as applicable, in certain circumstances, including following insolvency, as further provided in such agreements and the Secured ECS Instrument Conditions.

If there is a delay in the realisation of the Collateral Assets due to the insolvency of any of these entities, such Collateral Assets could depreciate in value resulting in a shortfall in the amounts returned to Holders of Secured ECS Instruments.

Potential Conflicts of Interest between Holders of Secured ECS Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent

As the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent are the same legal entity and are affiliates of MLBV, potential conflicts of interest may arise between the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent and the Holders of Secured ECS Instruments, including with respect to the making of certain determinations and the exercise of certain discretions (including as to the calculation of and determinations relating to Secured ECS Instruments to which the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions apply. In addition, whilst the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent are obliged to carry out their duties and functions in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, neither the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider nor the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent acts or will act as a fiduciary or as an advisor to the Holder of Secured ECS Instruments in respect of their duties as Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and Secured Instruments Valuation Agent, respectively.

(xiii) Risks relating to Preference Share Linked Notes

Factors affecting the performance of the Preference Share Underlyings may adversely affect the value of the Preference Share Linked Notes

The relevant Issuer may issue Preference Share Linked Notes where the amount payable on redemption is determined by reference to the changes in the value of the preference shares (the "Preference Shares") issued by Preface Holdings Limited (the "Preference Share Issuer"). The Preference Shares will be linked to the economic performance of an underlying reference item or items including shares, indices, funds or exchange traded funds or baskets of shares, indices, funds or exchange traded funds (each a "Preference Share Underlying" and together, the "Preference Share Underlyings") and the value of the Preference Shares may fluctuate up or down depending on the performance of the relevant Preference Share Underlyings as set out in the Private Placement Memorandum of the relevant issue of Preference Shares (see "Description of the Preference Share Issuer and the Preference Shares" for details) and as specified in the applicable Final Terms. If, as a result of the performance of the Preference Share Underlyings, the performance of the Preference Shares is negative, the value of the Preference Share Linked Notes will be adversely affected. Purchasers of Preference Share Linked Notes risk losing all or a part of their investment if the value of the Preference Shares declines.

Preference Share Linked Notes may be subject to early redemption

Preference Share Linked Notes will be subject to early redemption if (i) an Early Redemption Event occurs, or (ii) Redemption at the Option of the Issuer is specified as "Applicable" in the applicable Final Terms and the relevant Issuer gives notice to the Noteholders that it will redeem the Preference Share Linked Notes. In these circumstances the relevant Issuer may redeem the Preference Share Linked Notes at (i) the Early Redemption Amount or (ii) the Optional Redemption Amount (as applicable). Following such early redemption, a Holder of Preference Share Linked Notes may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an equivalent rate of return to the Preference Share Linked Notes being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other available investments at the time they contemplate investing in Preference Share Linked Notes.

The taxation applicable to Preference Share Linked Notes may be subject to change

The basis and rate of taxation in respect of Preference Share Linked Notes and reliefs depend on each investor's individual circumstances and could change at any time. This could have a negative impact on the return of the Preference Share Linked Notes. Prospective investors should seek their own independent tax advice as to the possible tax treatment of redemption payments (such term including early or final redemption) received on Preference Share Linked Notes prior to investing.

Exposure to the Preference Share Underlyings

The Preference Share Underlyings may include, shares, indices, funds or exchange traded funds or baskets of shares, indices, funds or exchange traded funds, as may be determined by the Preference Share Issuer and specified in the Private Placement Memorandum of the relevant issue of Preference Shares. The composition of the relevant Preference Share Underlyings may be designed to change over time as a result of performance or other factors.

Prospective investors shall consider the risk factors set out in "Risks Relating to the Structure of a Particular Issue of Instruments" in respect of the risks involved in investing in Reference Item Linked Instruments. In considering these risk factors, prospective investors shall construe each reference to an Instrument as a reference to the Preference Shares and the relevant references to Reference Items as references to the Preference Share Underlyings of the same asset class.

Conflicts of interest may arise when Merrill Lynch International acts in different roles in respect of the Preference Share Linked Notes and Preference Shares

Merrill Lynch International is appointed by the Preference Share Issuer to act as calculation agent in respect of each class of Preference Shares. The calculation agent in respect of the Preference Shares has wide discretionary powers under the terms and conditions of the Preference Shares. For example, upon the occurrence of certain events relating to the Preference Share Issuer, the Preference Share Underlyings or the hedging arrangements in respect of the Preference Share Linked Notes and/or the Preference Shares, the calculation agent may determine that the Preference Shares shall be early redeemed. An early redemption of the Preference Shares will result in an Early Redemption Event occurring under the Preference Share Linked Notes and that may result in prospective investors receiving less than their initial investments.

Merrill Lynch International will also act as structuring agent in respect of the Preference Shares and arranger in respect of the Preference Share Linked Notes. In performing such roles, Merrill Lynch International may enter into hedging arrangements in respect of the Preference Share Linked Notes and the Preference Shares as a principal. Merrill Lynch International may thus acquire positions in the Preference Share Underlyings and its interests may not necessarily align with the interests of prospective investors.

Merrill Lynch International is an Affiliate of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor. By virtue of the different roles performed by it, potential conflicts of interest may arise when Merrill Lynch International acts in such capacities. Please see the risk factor headed "There may be conflicts of interest between the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or their respective Affiliates and the Holders" for additional details.

11. Risks Relating to Floating Rate Notes

(a) Risks relating to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to a Reference Rate and/or AONIA, CORRA, €STR, Overnight TIIE, SOFR, SONIA, SARON or TONA

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to a Reference Rate and/or AONIA, CORRA, €STR, Overnight TIIE, SOFR, SONIA, SARON or TONA (together, "Reference Rate Notes").

Reference Rate Notes bear additional risks

If the Notes bear interest by reference to a Reference Rate and/or AONIA, CORRA, €STR, Overnight TIIE, SOFR, SONIA, SARON or TONA for some or all of the term of the Notes, there will be additional significant risks not associated with a conventional fixed-rate note. These risks include fluctuation of the interest rates and the possibility that investors will receive an amount of interest that is lower than expected, which could affect the market value of an investment in such Reference Rate Notes. The Issuer has no control over a number of factors, including economic, financial, and political events, that are important in determining the existence, magnitude, and longevity of market volatility and other risks and their impact on the value of, or payments made on, the Reference Rate Notes. Volatility of rates may adversely impact the return on or market value of such Reference Rate Notes.

The Issuer or its affiliates may publish research reports that could affect the market value of the Reference Rate Notes

The Issuer or one or more of its affiliates, at present or in the future, may publish research reports with respect to movements in interest rates generally, or any Reference Rate and/or AONIA, CORRA, €STR, Overnight TIIE, SOFR, SONIA, SARON or TONA that may be used for the Reference Rate Notes specifically. This research may be modified from time to time without notice and may express opinions or provide recommendations that are inconsistent with purchasing or holding the Reference Rate Notes. Any of these activities may adversely affect the market value of the Reference Rate Notes.

The unavailability of certain Reference Rates may result in the effective application of a fixed rate of interest for the applicable Reference Rate Notes.

In the event that (i) any Reference Rate other than TORF, a TEC Rate or any Swap Rate or (ii) any Applicable RFR that is used in the calculation of a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate, as applicable and in each case as described in the Terms and Conditions of the Notes, is unavailable on any date of determination, but the applicable provisions for a replacement rate (if any) have not been triggered, the last published level of such Reference Rate or Applicable RFR or, in certain cases, the applicable Reference Rate for the previous Interest Period (depending on the terms and conditions for such Reference Rate), may be used as the Reference Rate for such date of determination. Furthermore, in the event that (i) any Reference Rate other than a Swap Rate or a TEC Rate or (ii) any Applicable RFR other than SOFR, as applicable, that is used in the calculation of a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate is unavailable and the applicable provisions for a replacement rate have been triggered, but a replacement rate cannot be determined under such provisions, then the last available rate will be used as the base rate under the final fallback provisions, which may result in the effective application of a fixed rate of interest for the life of the applicable Reference Rate Notes based on such last available rate.

Regulation of certain "benchmark" rates may adversely affect the value of, return on and trading market for Reference Rate Notes that bear interest by reference to such rates

Previously, certain interest rates which are deemed to be "benchmark" rates have been the subject of national, international and other regulatory guidance, reform and other actions. This has resulted in regulatory reform and changes to existing benchmarks. Such reform of benchmarks includes the EU Benchmarks Regulation and the UK Benchmarks Regulation, which apply to the provision of benchmarks, the contribution of input data to a benchmark and the use of a benchmark within the EU and the UK, respectively. Please also see the risk factor headed Risks Relating to the Instruments Generally – Risks associated with benchmark reform for additional detail. The Benchmarks Regulations could have a material impact on any Reference Rate Notes referencing a benchmark, in particular, if the methodology or other terms of the benchmark are changed in order to comply with the requirements of the Benchmarks Regulations. Such changes could, amongst other things, have the effect of reducing, increasing or otherwise affecting the volatility of the published rate or level of the relevant benchmark.

In addition, in the future, benchmark rates, including BBSW, EURIBOR, TORF, the KRW CD91 Rate, Yen TIBOR, the Constant Maturity Swap rates and the Applicable RFRs, could be subject to further regulatory scrutiny, reform efforts and/or other actions. Any such regulatory scrutiny, reform efforts and/or other actions could increase the costs and risks of administering or otherwise participating in the setting of a "benchmark" and complying with applicable regulations or requirements. Such factors may have the effect of discouraging market participants from continuing to administer or contribute to certain "benchmarks", trigger changes in the rules or methodologies used in certain "benchmarks" or lead to the elimination, discontinuance or obsolescence of certain "benchmarks". Following the implementation of reforms, the manner of administration of benchmarks may change, with the result that they may perform differently than in the past, or the benchmark could be eliminated or discontinued entirely, or there could be other consequences that cannot be predicted. Even prior to the implementation of any changes, uncertainty as to the nature of potential alternative reference rates and as to the nature and effect of potential changes to such benchmark may adversely affect such benchmark during the term of the relevant Notes, as well as the value of, the return on and/or trading market for Notes linked to such benchmark. Any of the foregoing consequences could have a material adverse effect on the Rate of Interest on, value of, return on and trading market for any Notes linked to such a "benchmark" rate.

Historical rates are not an indication of future rates

In the past, certain Reference Rates (and the Applicable RFRs used in calculation of certain Reference Rates) that may be used for the Reference Rate Notes have experienced significant fluctuations. Investors should note that historical levels, fluctuations and trends of the Reference Rates (or the Applicable RFRs used in calculation of certain Reference Rates) are not necessarily indicative of future levels. Any historical upward or downward trend in the applicable Reference Rate (or the Applicable RFR from which such Reference Rate is calculated) is not an indication that such Reference Rate (or such Applicable RFR) is more or less likely to increase or decrease at any time. Future levels of a Reference Rate or Applicable RFR may bear little or no relation to the historical actual or historical indicative Reference Rate or Applicable RFR, respectively, data. Prior observed patterns, if any, in the behaviour of market variables and their relation to any Reference Rate or Applicable RFR, such as correlations, may change in the future. In addition, to the extent that any pre-publication historical data is published with respect to a Reference Rate or Applicable RFR, production of such historical indicative data inherently involves assumptions, estimates and approximations. No future performance of any Reference Rate or Applicable RFRs may be inferred from any of the historical actual or historical indicative Reference Rate or Applicable RFR, respectively, data. If an investor bases its decision to purchase Reference Rate Notes, in whole or in part, on prior performance of the applicable Reference Rate or Applicable RFR and related inferences regarding future performance of such Reference Rate or Applicable RFR, and the Reference Rate or Applicable RFR performs differently than such prior performance, the returns on or market price of affected Notes may be adversely affected.

Negative benchmark rates would reduce the rate of interest on the Reference Rate Notes

The Rate of Interest for each Interest Period for a Series of Floating Rate Notes will be equal to the applicable Reference Rate multiplied by the applicable Participation Rate, if any, plus or minus the applicable Margin, if any. Changes in the applicable Reference Rate (or the Applicable RFR upon which such Reference Rate is based will affect the rate at which Floating Rate Notes accrue interest and the amount of interest payments on Floating Rate Notes.

To the extent that the applicable Reference Rate is less than 0.00% for any Interest Period, such negative Reference Rate will negatively affect the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period, subject to the Minimum Interest Rate (if applicable) as set out in the applicable Final Terms for such Interest Period.

(b) Risks relating to BBSW Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to BBSW ("BBSW Notes").

Regulation, reform and the actual or potential discontinuation of BBSW may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for affected BBSW Notes.

Interest rate benchmarks (such as BBSW) have been and continue to be the subject of national and international regulatory guidance and proposals for reform in Australia and internationally. These reforms may cause such benchmarks to perform differently than in the past, to disappear entirely, or have other consequences which cannot be predicted. Any such consequence as it relates to BBSW could have a material adverse effect on the BBSW Notes.

Although many of the Australian reforms were designed to support the reliability and robustness of BBSW, it is not possible to predict with certainty whether, and to what extent, BBSW will continue to be supported or the extent to which related regulations, rules, practices or methodologies may be amended going forward. This may cause BBSW to perform differently than it has in the past, and may have other consequences which cannot be predicted. For example, it is possible that these changes could cause BBSW to cease to exist, to become commercially or practically unworkable, or to become more or less volatile or liquid. Any such changes could have a material adverse effect on the BBSW Notes.

If a Temporary Disruption Event occurs with respect to BBSW, BBSW will be determined in accordance with alternative methods, and if a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger and related Permanent Fallback Effective Date occur with respect to BBSW, the applicable Fallback Rate for BBSW may not be a suitable replacement for BBSW.

On 13 September 2021, the Reserve Bank of Australia (the "RBA") announced its requirement that floating rate notes issued on or after 1 December 2022, referencing BBSW must contain at least one "robust" and "reasonable and fair" fallback rate for BBSW if it permanently ceases to exist.

The Australian Financial Markets Association ("AFMA") published the "AFMA Fallback Language Template for Floating Rate Notes" on 1 November 2022 (the "AFMA Market Guidelines", as amended from time to time) for voluntary use in contracts that reference BBSW to assist market participants to meet the requirements of the RBA's updated criteria. The fallback provisions relating to BBSW set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(d) are based on the AFMA Market Guidelines (the "BBSW Fallback Provisions"). The BBSW Fallback Provisions distinguish between temporary and permanent triggers affecting BBSW. If a Temporary Disruption Trigger occurs in respect of the BBSW, the Rate of Interest for any day on which that Temporary Disruption Trigger is continuing will be the Rate of Interest determined, in the first instance, with preference given to the Administrator Recommended Rate (which is a rate formally recommended for use as the replacement for BBSW by the administrator of such rate). The second preference will be given to the Supervisor Recommended Rate (which is a rate formally recommended for use as the replacement for BBSW by the supervisor of the administrator for BBSW). Finally, preference will be given to the Final Fallback Rate.

The terms of the BBSW Notes provide for a waterfall of alternative rates to be used to determine the Rate of Interest on the BBSW Notes if a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger and a related Permanent Fallback Effective Date occur with respect to BBSW. The first alternative rate to BBSW in the waterfall is the AONIA Rate, which is equal to Compounded Daily AONIA plus the Adjustment Spread (each as defined in the BBSW Fallback Provisions). Investors should be aware that, while BBSW is a forward-looking term rate based on observed bid and offer rates for Australian prime bank eligible securities (which rates may incorporate a premium for credit risk), AONIA is an overnight, risk free cash rate and, if the AONIA Rate is the applicable Fallback Rate, will be applied to calculate interest by compounding observed rates in arrear at or near the end of the applicable Interest Period and adding the Adjustment Spread (which may be positive or negative or zero). The second alternative rate to BBSW in the waterfall is the RBA Recommended Fallback Rate, which is the rate (inclusive of any spreads or adjustments) recommended as the replacement for AONIA by the Reserve Bank of Australia and is applicable when a permanent Fallback Effective Date occurs with respect to AONIA. If the RBA Recommended Rate is not available at the time of a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger with respect to AONIA and related Permanent Fallback Effective Date, or if an RBA Recommended Rate is available at such time and a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger and related Permanent Fallback Effective Date subsequently occur with respect to it, the next alternative rate in the waterfall is the Final Fallback Rate, which is the rate determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) as a commercially reasonable alternative for the Applicable Benchmark Rate taking into account all available information that, in good faith, the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) considers relevant, together with (without double counting) such spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that is customarily applied to the relevant successor rate or alternative rate (as the case may be) in international debt capital markets transactions to produce an industry-accepted replacement rate for AONIA-linked floating rate notes at such time. Uncertainty with respect to market conventions related to the calculation of these BBSW fallback rates and whether any alternative reference rate is a suitable replacement or successor for BBSW may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the BBSW Notes.

There can be no assurance that the characteristics of any of the alternative rates for AONIA will be similar to those of BBSW, or that any such alternative rate will produce the economic equivalent of BBSW as a reference rate for interest on an applicable Series of BBSW Notes. Although the BBSW Fallback Provisions provide for the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) to make certain term and spread adjustments to the applicable Fallback Rate in order to produce an industry-accepted replacement rate for BBSW, such adjustments will not necessarily make the alternative rate equivalent to BBSW.

In addition to the spread adjustments that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) may make to an applicable Fallback Rate, the terms of the BBSW Notes expressly authorize the Issuer or its designee, after consulting with the Issuer, in connection with implementation of an applicable Fallback Rate to make certain changes to the terms and provisions of the applicable Series of BBSW Notes with respect to, among other things, the determination of Interest Periods and the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest and other administrative matters. The application of an Applicable Benchmark Rate, including any spread adjustment that may be made to such rate by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer), and any implementation by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) of any other applicable changes to the terms and provisions of a Series of BBSW Notes in connection with the implementation of an applicable Fallback Rate, could result in adverse consequences to the Rate of Interest or the amount of interest payable on the applicable Series of BBSW Notes, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such Notes and the price at which investors may be able to sell such Notes.

Moreover, certain determinations, decisions and elections with respect to the applicable Fallback Rate, any term or spread adjustments to the applicable Fallback Rate, and any other changes to the terms and provisions of an applicable Series of BBSW notes in connection with the implementation of an applicable Fallback Rate, or the occurrence or non-occurrence of a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger, may require the exercise of discretion and the making of subjective judgements by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer). Any determination, decision or election made by the Issuer or its designee pursuant to the BBSW Fallback Provisions will, if made by the Issuer, be made in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner and, if made by the Issuer's designee, be made after consultation with the Issuer and, in each case, will become effective without consent from the investors in the affected Series of BBSW Notes or any other party. The Issuer may designate an entity to make any determination, decision or election that the Issuer has the right to make in connection with the BBSW Fallback Provisions. Any designee that the Issuer may appoint in connection with these determinations, decisions or elections may be the Issuer's affiliate. When performing such functions, potential conflicts of interest may exist between the Issuer, its designee and investors in the applicable Series of BBSW Notes and making such potentially subjective determinations may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the applicable Series of BBSW Notes. All determinations by the Issuer or its designee in the Issuer's or its discretion will be conclusive for all purposes and binding on the Issuer and investors in the applicable Series of BBSW Notes absent manifest error. Investors should consult their own independent advisors and make their own assessment about the potential risks imposed by BBSW reforms and the potential for BBSW to be discontinued in making any investment decision with respect to any BBSW Notes.

(c) Risks relating to EURIBOR Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to the Euro Interbank Offered Rate ("EURIBOR Notes").

EURIBOR is subject to the Benchmarks Regulations. See the discussion of the risks in the risk factor "Regulation of certain "benchmark" rates may adversely affect the value of, return on and trading market for Reference Rate Notes that bear interest by reference to such rates."

EURIBOR has been reformed such that it is based on a hybrid methodology. On 13 September 2018, the working group on euro risk-free rates recommended the new euro short-term rate ("€STR") as the new risk free rate for the euro area. €STR was published for the first time on 2 October 2019. In addition, in response to regulatory scrutiny and applicable legal requirements, the European Money Markets Institute ("EMMI"), as administrator of the Euro Interbank Offered Rate ("EURIBOR"), conducted a series of consultations on a proposed reformed hybrid methodology for EURIBOR. In July 2019, EMMI published its EURIBOR Benchmark Statement setting forth its reformed hybrid methodology and received regulatory authorisation for the continued administration of EURIBOR. Although EURIBOR has been reformed in order to comply with the terms of the EU Benchmarks Regulation, its future remains uncertain. It is not known how long EURIBOR will continue in its current form. Any of these developments could have a material adverse effect on the value and the return on EURIBOR Notes.

The euro risk-free rate working group for the euro area has published a set of guiding principles and high level recommendations for the fallback provisions in, among other things, new euro denominated cash products (including floating-rate debt securities) referencing EURIBOR. The guiding principles indicate, among other things, that continuing to reference EURIBOR in relevant contracts (without robust fallback provisions) may increase the risk to the euro area financial system. On 11 May 2021, the euro risk-free rate working group published its recommendations on EURIBOR fallback trigger events and €STR-based fallback rates. €STR has a different methodology and other important differences from EURIBOR and has little historical track record and may be subject to changes in its methodology.

In order to address the effect of any discontinuance of EURIBOR, EURIBOR Notes include certain fallback provisions. With respect to any series of EURIBOR Notes, if the Issuer or its designee, after consulting with the Issuer, determines that a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to EURIBOR, the applicable General Benchmark Replacement will replace EURIBOR for all purposes relating to such Notes. See the discussion of risks in the risk factor "Risks relating to General Benchmark Transition Provisions Set Forth in Additional Note Condition 4(a)" below. This may, among other things, result in the application of backward-looking €STR compounded in arrears, whereas EURIBOR is expressed on the basis of a forward-looking term and includes a risk element based on interbank lending.

Furthermore, if EURIBOR is discontinued or ceases to be published, there can be no assurances that the Issuer and other market participants will be adequately prepared for such discontinuance or cessation, which may have an unpredictable impact on contractual mechanics (including, but not limited to, the interest rate with respect to particular Series of EURIBOR Notes), among other adverse consequences.

(d) Risks relating to TORF Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to TORF ("TORF Notes").

The information regarding TORF that QUICK Benchmarks Inc., the administrator of TORF, makes publicly available may be limited

On its website, the Quick Benchmarks, Inc. ("Quick") provides a link to a third-party website that provides historical Tokyo Term Risk Free Rate ("TORF") rates on a daily basis for the preceding 180 days and a weekly basis for the preceding year. In order to obtain historical TORF rates from earlier periods, users must request such information from Quick. As a result, an investor may find it more difficult to obtain historical TORF data than data relating to certain other reference rates. In addition, the historical TORF data available through such third-party website may be published on a delayed basis. In addition, Quick may make changes to the rate information or other rate information that it makes publicly available.

TORF is a new rate with a limited history, and the future performance of TORF cannot be predicted based on historical performance or other available information

The daily publication of TORF began on a prototype basis on 9 October 2020 and on a production basis (i.e., for use in transactions) on 26 April 2021, and, therefore, it has a limited history. All TORF rate information relating to dates prior to 26 April 2021 is prototype rate information, which Quick published only as a reference to be used for preparation of the future administrative framework of TORF and was not intended for use in financial contracts. The future performance of TORF cannot be predicted based on the very limited historical and prototype data that is available. Future levels of TORF may bear little or no relation to the historical actual or historical indicative TORF data. Prior observed patterns, if any, in the behaviour of market variables and their relation to TORF, such as correlations, may change in the future. While some pre-publication historical TORF rate data have been released by Quick, production of such historical indicative TORF data inherently involves assumptions, estimates and approximations. No future performance of TORF may be inferred from any of the historical actual or historical indicative TORF data. Hypothetical or historical performance data are not indicative of, and have no bearing on, the potential performance of TORF.

In addition, the methodology Quick uses to calculate TORF relies on input data from a small number of institutions, which may lead to a delay of publication of TORF. According to Quick's website, data for calculating TORF is provided by reporting brokers designated by Quick. According to the most recent available information on Quick's website, there are three reporting brokers. In order to calculate TORF, at least two reporting brokers must report data to Quick. There may be cases where Quick may delay the publication of TORF until 6:30 p.m. Tokyo time. If only one or no reporting brokers report data to Quick by 5:30 p.m. Tokyo time, the previous day's TORF will be published as TORF for the relevant day by 6:30 p.m. Tokyo time. In addition, the methodology relies on data from OIS market, so depending on the sufficiency of market liquidity of the underlying Overnight Index Swap ("OIS") market, it may impair the robustness of TORF as a financial benchmark.

In addition, because TORF is a new rate with limited history, it may be less robust than more established benchmarks. On 15 March 2023, JBA TIBOR Administration published its paper "Results of Public Consultation on fallback issues for JBA TIBOR" (the "Yen TIBOR Fallbacks Paper") in which it discussed the suitability of TORF as a potential fallback rate to the Yen TIBOR Rate. The Yen TIBOR Fallbacks Paper reported that certain market participants expressed concerns with the suitability of TORF as a fallback rate for Yen TIBOR, stating "the liquidity and transaction volume of the underlying markets of TORF are extremely low, resulting in a significantly limited amount of market data for the rate calculation. In many cases, TORF continues to rely on the previous day's data, instead of the market data of current day. As long as such situation continues, uncertainty as a benchmark in terms of the reliability and robustness remains for [TORF]." On 30 September 2025, Quick published its paper "Result of a Periodic Review of TORF Operational Framework" (the "Results of TORF Review") in which Quick concluded that TORF maintains required representativeness as an interest rate benchmark but also identified a number of trends that raise questions regarding TORF's robustness and reliability. In the Results of TORF Review, Quick compared historical TORF rates against historical Japan Securities Clearing Corporation ("JSCC") published settlement rates, which are the rates used by JSCC to calculate margins for interest rate swap transactions and are calculated by obtaining quotes from information vendors and broker dealers. In 2024, the maximum and average difference between TORF for one-, three- and six-month tenors and JSCC published settlement rates for the corresponding tenors increased as compared to 2023, with the maximum and average difference for the one-month tenors being particularly prominent. Although there are methodological differences between TORF and JSCC published settlement rates, which may contribute to some of the differences in published rates, any increases in the differences between the two rates could indicate potential issues with TORF's representativeness of JPY OIS market. In addition, the Results of TORF Review indicates that Quick frequently is not able to calculate one-, three- and six-month TORF based on transaction data from the current day, resulting in re-publication of the official rate for the previous day as the official rate for the succeeding day. In the calculation of TORF, Quick does not use indicative quotes not based on the premise of transactions, and only uses rates based on actual transactions or indicative quotes based on the premise of transactions. Re-publication of the previous day's official rate was reported as follows: 72.7% of 2024 publication dates for one-month TORF (as compared to 86.6% of publication dates in 2023), 26.1% of 2024 publication dates for three-month TORF (as compared to 35.0% of publication dates in 2023) and 12.3% of 2024 publication dates for six-month TORF (as compared to 36.2% of publication dates in 2023). Further, the Results of TORF Review states that the percentage of transactions by reporting brokers (i.e., the brokers reporting OIS swap data used in the calculation of TORF) as a percentage of the overall one-, three- and six-month JPY OIS market decreased in 2024 (approximately 10% in 2024 as compared to approximately 30% in 2023), could indicate potential issues with TORF's representativeness of JPY OIS market. In addition, errors in calculations were identified in the Results of TORF Review. These inaccuracies were a result of miscommunications between a reporting broker and Quick during the data correction process in the Quick system. Revision of the published rate was not made since the difference between the published rate and the accurate rate was lower than the criteria defined in the Revised Policy, "In the event of a significant impact on the level of Official Rates". If any of these issues or trends persist or increase, the reliability and robustness of TORF may be questioned. In light of trends and factors identified in the Yen TIBOR Fallbacks Paper and the Results of TORF Review, it appears there is meaningful risk that TORF may be modified or discontinued, which could have an adverse impact on the liquidity for the affected Notes.

See the discussion of risks in the risk factor "Risks relating to General Benchmark Transition Provisions Set Forth in Additional Note Condition 4(a)" below for a discussion of the General Benchmark Transition Provisions that would be applicable if TORF is discontinued. In this regard, as of the date of this Offering Circular, no General Benchmark Replacement or General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment have been identified with respect to TORF, and there is uncertainty with respect to such General Benchmark Replacement and General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment and when they may be identified.

The composition and characteristics of TORF are not the same as those of JPY LIBOR, and TORF is not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for JPY LIBOR

In Japan, there are several candidates for alternative reference rates to replace the London interbank Offered Rate for Japanese yen ("JPY LIBOR"), which ceased publication following 31 December 2021, and one of such candidates is TORF. The composition and characteristics of TORF are not the same as JPY LIBOR and TORF is not the economic equivalent of JPY LIBOR. While JPY LIBOR included the cost of bank credit risk since it was calculated based on the submissions of panel banks of rates they can borrow unsecured funds in the interbank market, TORF is a risk free rate since it is a benchmark calculated based on the uncollateralised overnight call rate which involves almost no credit risk of financial institutions. The main characteristic of TORF is that it does not rely on rates provided by panel banks but uses Japanese yen OIS transaction rates. A Japanese yen OIS transaction is, according to Quick, a transaction where the value of the compounded uncollateralised overnight call rate is used to pay the floating interest rate or variable interest rate and swapped with a fixed rate. As a result, there can be no assurance that TORF will perform in the same way as JPY LIBOR would have at any time, including, without limitation, as a result of changes in interest and yield rates in the market, bank credit risk, market volatility or global or regional economic, financial, political, regulatory, judicial or other events. For the same reasons, TORF is not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for JPY LIBOR.

TORF may be modified or discontinued, which could adversely affect the return on, value of or market for the TORF Notes

Quick (or any successor administrator) may make methodological or other changes that could change the value of TORF, including changes related to the method by which TORF is calculated, eligibility criteria applicable to the transactions used to calculate TORF, or timing related to the publication of TORF. In addition, TORF is published by Quick based on data received from sources other than the Issuer, and the Issuer has no control over the methods of calculation, publication schedule, rate revision practices or availability of TORF. If the manner in which TORF is calculated is changed, that change may result in a reduction of the amount of interest payable on the TORF Notes, which may adversely affect the trading prices of the TORF Notes. The administrator of TORF may withdraw, modify, amend, suspend or discontinue the calculation or dissemination of TORF in its sole discretion and without notice and has no obligation to consider the interests of investors in the TORF Notes in calculating, withdrawing, modifying, amending, suspending or discontinuing TORF. For purposes of the formula used to calculate interest with respect to the TORF Notes, TORF in respect of a particular Interest Period will not be adjusted for any modifications or amendments to TORF data that Quick (or any successor administrator) may publish after the Calculation Agent has determined TORF for such Interest Period.

There can be no guarantee that TORF will not be modified or discontinued in a manner that is materially adverse to an investor in the TORF Notes. If the manner in which TORF is calculated is changed or if TORF is discontinued, that change or discontinuance could reduce or otherwise negatively impact the amount of interest that accrues on the TORF Notes, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the TORF Notes.

The secondary trading market for TORF Notes may be limited

As of the date of this Offering Circular, the Issuer is not aware of TORF having been widely used as a reference rate for floating-rate or other types of notes, and it may not be widely used as such in the future. As a result, as of the date of this Offering Circular, very little or no market exists for Japanese yen-denominated corporate notes using TORF as a reference rate. If TORF does not prove to be widely used as a benchmark in securities that are similar or comparable to the TORF Notes, the trading price of the TORF Notes may be lower than those of debt securities with interest rates based on rates that are more widely used.

The market continues to develop in relation to TORF as a reference rate for floating rate and other types of notes

The market continues to develop in relation to TORF as a base rate as an alternative to JPY LIBOR. In particular, market participants may use an alternative reference rates based on TONA, including for example a compounded average of TONA calculated in arrears, as well as the TONA Averages and TONA Index published by the Quick. In addition, the Tokyo Interbank Offered Rate ("Yen TIBOR"), an existing reference rate, is expected to continue to be used by market participants. The market or a significant part thereof may adopt a TONA-based rate or Yen TIBOR. If the market adopts a TONA-based rate, Yen TIBOR or another reference rate, that would likely adversely affect the market price of the TORF Notes.

(e) Risks relating to KRW CD 91 Rate Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to the KRW CD 91 Rate, being the rate for Korean won certificates of deposit with a 91-day maturity (including ones with a maturity between 80 and 100 days) ("KRW CD 91 Rate Notes").

The long-term future of the KRW CD 91 Rate is uncertain

The KRW CD 91 Rate is calculated based on the basic yield data of the Korean won certificates of deposit issued by Korean banks with credit rating of AAA or higher with a 91-day maturity (including ones with a maturity between 80 and 100 days) ("KRW CD") submitted by the top ten institutions designated by the Korea Financial Investment Association ("KOFIA") based on the volume of KRW CD traded during the immediately preceding year. It has been reported that the volume of KRW CD issuances has diminished in recent years, and the long-term future of the KRW CD 91 Rate is uncertain, as discussed below. On 26 February 2021, the Financial Services Commission of Korea (the "FSC") and the Bank of Korea announced that a market participant task force on benchmark interest rate reform had picked an overnight repo rate as the new KRW risk-free rate. Furthermore, on September 2021, the Financial Supervisory Service (the executive arm of the FSC) designated the Korea Overnight Financing Repo Rate (the "KOFR") as a critical benchmark which has been published by the Korea Securities Depository since November 2021 and announced on December 2021 that the FSC will try to have the 91-day Korean won certificate of deposit ("CD") rate replaced by the KOFR in the market in the medium to long term. On 28 March 2022, the Korea Exchange listed KOFR futures, and on 25 August 2023, the first trading of KOFR overnight index swaps for a 1-month tenor took place. However, the trading volume of derivatives based on the KOFR was not deemed sufficient. Accordingly, on 10 December 2024, the FSC and the Bank of Korea announced a plan to reform the benchmark interest rate as well as support measures to promote the KOFR, such as issuing KOFR floating rate notes and expanding KOFR overnight index swap transactions. Since the expansion of the trading volume of derivatives based on the KOFR will determine the success of the development of the KOFR 3-month benchmark, it is expected that the success of the development of alternative benchmarks for the CD yield, which is a forward-looking type, will be determined following this timeline. However, it is anticipated that additional time will be needed because, before determining the activation of the derivatives market, the KOFR floating-rate note market itself is not yet fully active.

On 30 March 2026, the FSC announced that, considering its less frequent usage, the CD rate will be removed from the status of a critical statutory benchmark at the end of 2030 to clearly demonstrate the government's willingness to make a transition in benchmark rate from the CD rate to KOFR. In connection with this announcement, the FSC encouraged financial companies to make voluntary efforts to transition away from CD rate-based transactions. In addition, the FSC has set targets to increase the use of KOFR in floating-rate notes. Although the FSC has not announced a specific timeline for mandatory transition away from CD rate, this announcement indicates that there is significant uncertainty with respect to its publication and use following 2030. In addition, the foregoing factors could reduce liquidity in the CD market underlying the KRW CD 91 Rate, which could result in increased volatility in the KRW CD 91 Rate, or make such rate more susceptible to manipulation and/or lead to the early cessation of KRW CD 91 Rate before 2030. Any of these developments could have a material adverse effect on the value and the return on KRW CD 91 Rate Notes.

(f) Risks relating to the Applicable RFRs (other than Federal Funds (Effective) Rate) generally

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes for which Compounded Daily or Weighted Average Daily is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined other than Notes for which the applicable Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate is calculated by reference to the Federal Funds (Effective) Rate. With respect to such Notes, the applicable Reference Rate will be calculated by reference to AONIA, CORRA, €STR, Overnight TIE, SOFR, SONIA, SARON or TONA, in accordance with the Additional Note Conditions that are specified in Annex 17 and the applicable Final Terms to be applicable to the applicable Reference Rate and Notes bearing interest by reference thereto.

The Applicable RFRs may be more volatile than other benchmark or market rates

Daily changes in the Applicable RFRs have, on occasion, been more volatile than daily changes in other benchmark or market rates during corresponding periods. In addition, although changes in the Compounded Daily Reference Rates and Weighted Average Daily Reference Rates generally are not expected to be as volatile as changes in the Applicable RFRs upon which such rates are based on a daily basis, the return on, value of and market for the Notes bearing interest by reference to a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate may fluctuate more than floating-rate debt securities with interest rates based on less volatile rates.

The market continues to develop in relation to the Applicable RFRs as reference rates for floating rate and other types of Notes

The market continues to develop in relation to the Applicable RFRs as reference rates in the capital markets as alternatives to the relevant interbank offered rates. In particular, market participants and other relevant working groups are still exploring alternative reference rates based on the Applicable RFRs. For example, the administrators of €STR, SOFR, SONIA, SARON and TONA (or authorised market participants) have published compounded indices and/or compounded averages based on such rates. In addition, Quick Corp. publishes TORF, which seeks to measure the market's forward expectation of an average TONA over a designated term and could be used as an alternative to other reference rates based on TONA.

The relevant market or a significant part thereof may adopt an application of an Applicable RFR that differs significantly from that set out in the applicable Final Terms and the Additional Note Conditions for a particular Series of Notes. The Issuer may in the future also issue Notes referencing an Applicable RFR that differs materially in terms of interest determination when compared with any previous Notes referencing such Applicable RFR. The development of the Applicable RFRs as interest reference rates for the relevant bond markets, and the continued development of potentially competing rates – whether based on the Applicable RFRs or otherwise – as well as continued development of the market infrastructure for adopting such rates, could result in reduced liquidity or increased volatility or could otherwise affect the market price of any Notes that reference an Applicable RFR issued under the Programme from time to time.

As of the date of this Offering Circular, there are multiple market conventions with respect to the implementation of the Applicable RFRs as reference rates for floating rate debt securities or other securities. The manner of adoption or application of Applicable RFRs in the relevant bond markets may differ materially compared with the application and adoption of Applicable RFRs in other markets, such as the derivative and loan markets. Investors should carefully consider how any mismatch between the adoption of such Applicable RFRs in the bond, loan and derivatives markets may impact any hedging or other financial arrangement which they may put in place in connection with any acquisition, holding or disposal of Notes referencing an Applicable RFR.

The Applicable RFRs may be modified or discontinued, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such Notes.

The Applicable RFRs, which will be used in the calculation of a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate, as so stated in the applicable Final Terms and the applicable Terms and Conditions, and the RFR Compounded Indices, which will be used in the calculation of a Compounded Daily Reference Rate as so stated in the applicable Final Terms and the applicable Terms and Conditions, are relatively new rates published by the third-party administrators based on data received by such administrators from sources other than the Issuer, and the Issuer has no control over the methods of calculation, publication schedule, rate revision practices or availability of such Applicable RFRs and RFR Compounded Indices at any time.

The applicable administrator of an Applicable RFR may make methodological or other changes that could change the value of such Applicable RFR, including changes related to the method by which such Applicable RFR is calculated, eligibility criteria applicable to the transactions used to calculate the Applicable RFR, or timing related to the publication of the Applicable RFR (which may include withdrawing, suspending or discontinuing the calculation or dissemination of the Applicable RFR). In addition, the applicable administrator of an Applicable RFR may make any or all of these changes in its sole discretion and without notice, and it has no obligation to consider the interests of investors in any Notes referencing such Applicable RFR in calculating, withdrawing, modifying, amending, suspending or discontinuing such Applicable RFR. There can be no guarantee that the Applicable RFR will not be modified or discontinued in a manner that is materially adverse to an investor in a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate that is determined by reference to such Applicable RFR. If the manner in which an Applicable RFR is calculated is changed or if an Applicable RFR is discontinued, that change or discontinuance could reduce or otherwise negatively impact the amount of interest that accrues on an applicable Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate that is determined by reference to such Applicable RFR, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such Series of Notes.

For purposes of the formula used to calculate interest with respect to a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate that is determined by reference to an Applicable RFR, the Applicable RFR in respect of a particular date will not be adjusted for any modifications or amendments to Applicable RFR data that the applicable administrator of such Applicable RFR may publish after the interest rate for that day has been determined in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Notes.

Any failure of an Applicable RFR to gain or maintain market acceptance could adversely affect the return on or value of a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate that is determined by reference to such Applicable RFR and result in a limited secondary trading market for such Series of Notes.

As overnight risk-free cash rates, the Applicable RFRs do not measure bank-specific credit risk and, as a result, are less likely to correlate with the unsecured short-term funding costs of banks. This may mean that market participants would not consider the Applicable RFRs a suitable substitute or successor for the relevant interbank offered rates (such as LIBOR (which has been discontinued), BBSW or the Interbank Equilibrium Interest Rate (TIIE) for tenors longer than overnight), which may, in turn, lead to lessened market acceptance of the Applicable RFRs. As of the date of this Offering Circular, limited market precedent exists for floating-rate debt securities that use rates based on AONIA, €STR, Overnight TIIE, SARON and TONA as the reference rate.

To the extent an Applicable RFR does not gain market acceptance as a benchmark for floating rate debt securities, or to the extent such market acceptance declines, the return on and value of a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate that is determined by reference to such Applicable RFR and the price at which investors can sell such Notes in the secondary market could be adversely affected. In addition, investors in such a Series of Notes may not be able to sell such Notes at all or may not be able to sell such Notes at prices that will provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that continue to have a developed secondary market, and may consequently suffer from increased pricing volatility and market risk. Further, investors wishing to sell any Notes linked to an Applicable RFR in the secondary market will have to make assumptions as to the future performance of such Applicable RFR during the interest payment period in which they intend the sale to take place. As a result, investors may suffer from increased pricing volatility and market risk.

(g) Risks relating to TONA Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to TONA ("TONA Notes").

The information regarding TONA that the Bank of Japan makes publicly available may be limited

On its website, the Bank of Japan makes available certain information relating to the uncollateralised overnight call rate (also referred to as the Tokyo Overnight Average Rate ("TONA")), including certain information relating to the sources of input data for TONA and how such data is collected and analysed to produce TONA. However, the Bank of Japan does not publish a detailed methodology describing such input data and analysis, its policies and procedures relating to the collection of input data and production of TONA, or how such policies and procedures may change in the future. As a result, investors in the TONA Notes may find it more difficult to obtain information relating to TONA than certain other reference rates, which could adversely affect the market for the affected Notes.

The composition and characteristics of TONA are not the same as those of JPY LIBOR, and TONA is not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for JPY LIBOR

In December 2016, the Japanese Study Group on Risk-Free Reference Rates announced TONA as its preferred risk-free rate for Japanese Yen. The composition and characteristics of TONA are not the same as those of JPY LIBOR. TONA measures the rates of transactions settled on the same day as the trade date and maturing the following business day in the uncollateralised call money market. TONA represents the weighted average of call rates for uncollateralised overnight transactions in Japanese Yen. TONA is not the economic equivalent of JPY LIBOR. While TONA currently is an overnight rate, JPY LIBOR was a forward-looking rate that represents interbank funding for a specified term. As a result, there can be no assurance that TONA will perform in the same way as JPY LIBOR would have at any time, including, without limitation, as a result of changes in interest and yield rates in the market, bank credit risk, market volatility or global or regional economic, financial, political, regulatory, judicial or other events. For the same reasons, TONA is not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for JPY LIBOR. Any failure of TONA to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the value of and market for the affected Notes.

(h) Risks relating to AONIA Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Reference Rate Notes for which the Reference Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms is Compounded Daily AONIA ("AONIA Notes"). Investors should carefully consider the following discussion of risks before investing in any such Notes.

The composition and characteristics of AONIA are not the same as those of BBSW, and AONIA is not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for BBSW.

The composition and characteristics of AONIA are not the same as those of BBSW. While BBSW is a forward-looking term rate based on observed bid and offer rates for Australian prime bank eligible securities (which rates may incorporate a premium for credit risk), AONIA is an overnight, risk free cash rate and is not the economic equivalent of BBSW. As a result, there can be no assurance that AONIA will perform in the same way as BBSW would have at any time, including, without limitation, as a result of changes in interest and yield rates in the market, bank credit risk, market volatility or global or regional economic, financial, political, regulatory, judicial or other events. For the same reasons, AONIA is not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for BBSW. Any failure of AONIA to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the value of and market for the affected Series of AONIA Notes.

The applicable Fallback Rate for AONIA Notes may not be a suitable replacement for AONIA.

The terms of the AONIA Notes provide for a waterfall of alternative rates to be used to determine the Rate of Interest on the AONIA Notes if a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger and a related Permanent Fallback Effective Date occur with respect to AONIA. The first alternative rate to AONIA in the waterfall is the RBA Recommended Rate, which is the rate (inclusive of any spreads or adjustments) recommended as the replacement for AONIA by the Reserve Bank of Australia. If the RBA Recommended Rate is not available at the time of a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger with respect to AONIA and related Permanent Fallback Effective Date, or if an RBA Recommended Rate is available at such time and a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger and related Permanent Fallback Effective Date subsequently occur with respect to it, the next alternative rate in the waterfall is the Final Fallback Rate, which is the rate determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) as a commercially reasonable alternative for the Applicable Benchmark Rate taking into account all available information that, in good faith, the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) considers relevant, together with (without double counting) such spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that is customarily applied to the relevant successor rate or alternative rate (as the case may be) in international debt capital markets transactions to produce an industry-accepted replacement rate for AONIA-linked floating rate notes at such time. Uncertainty with respect to market conventions related to the calculation of these AONIA fallback rates and whether either alternative reference rate is a suitable replacement or successor for AONIA may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the AONIA Notes.

There can be no assurance that the characteristics of any of the alternative rates for AONIA will be similar to those of AONIA, or that any such alternative rate will produce the economic equivalent of the applicable AONIA rate as a reference rate for interest on an applicable Series of AONIA Notes. Although the AONIA fallback provisions provide for the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) to make certain term and spread adjustments to the applicable Fallback Rate in order to attempt to make the resulting rate comparable to AONIA, such adjustments will not necessarily make the alternative rate equivalent to the applicable AONIA rate.

In addition to the spread adjustments that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) may make to an applicable Fallback Rate, the terms of the compounded AONIA Notes expressly authorize the Issuer or its designee, after consulting with the Issuer, in connection with implementation of an applicable Fallback Rate to make certain changes to the terms and provisions of the applicable Series of AONIA Notes with respect to, among other things, the determination of Interest Periods and the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest and other administrative matters. The application of an Applicable Benchmark Rate, including any spread adjustment that may be made to such rate by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer), and any implementation by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) of any other applicable changes to the terms and provisions of a Series of AONIA Notes in connection with the implementation of an applicable Fallback Rate, could result in adverse consequences to the Rate of Interest or the amount of interest payable on such AONIA Notes, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such AONIA Notes and the price at which investors may be able to sell such AONIA Notes.

Moreover, certain determinations, decisions and elections with respect to the applicable Fallback Rate, any spread adjustments to the applicable Fallback Rate, and any other changes to the terms and provisions of an applicable Series of AONIA Notes in connection with the implementation of an applicable Fallback Rate, or the occurrence or non-occurrence of a Permanent Discontinuation Trigger, may require the exercise of discretion and the making of subjective judgements by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer). Any determination, decision or election made by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) pursuant to the fallback provisions with respect to AONIA will, if made by the Issuer, be made in the Issuer's sole discretion and, if made by the Issuer's designee, be made after consultation with the Issuer and, in each case, will become effective without consent from the investors in the affected Series of AONIA notes or any other party. The Issuer may designate an entity to make any determination, decision or election that the Issuer has the right to make in connection with the AONIA fallback provisions. Any designee that the Issuer may appoint in connection with these determinations, decisions or elections may be the Issuer's affiliate. When performing such functions, potential conflicts of interest may exist between the Issuer, its designee and investors in the applicable Series of AONIA Notes and making such potentially subjective determinations may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such Series of AONIA Notes. All determinations by the Issuer or its designee in the Issuer's or its discretion will be conclusive for all purposes and binding on the Issuers and investors in the applicable Series of AONIA Notes absent manifest error.

(i) Risks relating to CORRA Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Reference Rate Notes for which the Reference Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms is the Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA") or Compounded Daily CORRA Notes generally (together, "CORRA Notes"). Investors should carefully consider the following discussion of risks before investing in any such Notes.

The composition and characteristics of CORRA are not the same as those of CDOR, and CORRA is not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for CDOR.

In October 2020, the mandate of the Canadian Alternative Reference Rate working group ("CARR") of the Bank of Canada was expanded to contemplate a primary objective of supporting the adoption of, and transition to, CORRA as a key financial benchmark for Canadian derivatives and securities, and to analyze the current status of the Canadian Dollar Offered Rate ("CDOR"). The composition and characteristics of CORRA are not the same as those of CDOR. CORRA measures the cost of overnight general collateral funding in Canadian dollars using Government of Canada treasury bills and bonds as collateral for repurchase transactions. CORRA is not the economic equivalent of CDOR. While CORRA is a secured rate, CDOR is an unsecured rate. And, while CORRA is an overnight rate, CDOR is a committed bank lending rate or "executable rate" at which contributing banks are obligated to lend funds to corporate borrowers with existing committed credit facilities referencing CDOR, and which is calculated using submitted rates from a panel of contributor banks. As a result, there can be no assurance that CORRA will perform in the same way as CDOR would have at any time, including, without limitation, as a result of changes in interest and yield rates in the market, bank credit risk, market volatility or global or regional economic, financial, political, regulatory, judicial or other events. For the same reasons, CORRA is not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for CDOR. For example, daily changes in CORRA have, on occasion, been more volatile than daily changes in other benchmark or market rates, such as CDOR, during corresponding periods. See also "Any failure of CORRA to maintain market acceptance could adversely affect the return on or value of the compounded CORRA Notes and result in a limited secondary trading market for the compounded CORRA Notes" below.

The Applicable Fallback Rate for Compounded Daily CORRA Notes may not be a suitable replacement for CORRA.

The terms of the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes provide for a waterfall of alternative rates to be used to determine the rate of interest on the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes if an Index Cessation Event and a related Index Cessation Effective Date occur with respect to CORRA. The first alternative rate to CORRA in the waterfall is the CAD Recommended Rate, which is the rate recommended as the replacement for CORRA by a committee officially endorsed or convened by the Bank of Canada for the purpose of recommending a replacement for CORRA. If the CAD Recommended Rate is not available at the time of an Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to CORRA, or if a CAD Recommended Rate is available at such time and an Index Cessation Effective Date subsequently occurs with respect to it, the next alternative rate in the waterfall is the BOC Target Rate, which is the Bank of Canada's target for the overnight rate as set by the Bank of Canada and published on the Bank of Canada's website. Uncertainty with respect to market conventions related to the calculation of these CORRA fallback rates and whether either alternative reference rate is a suitable replacement or successor for CORRA may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes.

There can be no assurance that the characteristics of any of the alternative rates for CORRA will be similar to those of CORRA, or that any such alternative rate will produce the economic equivalent of the applicable CORRA rate as a reference rate for interest on an applicable Series of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes. Although the CORRA fallback provisions provide for the relevant Issuer or the relevant Issuer's designee (after consulting with the relevant Issuer) to make certain term and spread adjustments to the Applicable Fallback Rate in order to attempt to make the resulting rate comparable to CORRA, such adjustments will not necessarily make the alternative rate equivalent to the applicable CORRA rate.

In addition to the term and spread adjustments that the relevant Issuer or the relevant Issuer's designee (after consulting with the relevant Issuer) may make to an Applicable Fallback Rate, the terms of the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes expressly authorize the relevant Issuer or the relevant Issuer's designee, after consulting with the relevant Issuer, in connection with implementation of an Applicable Fallback Rate to make certain changes to the terms and provisions of the applicable Series of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes with respect to, among other things, the determination of Interest Periods and the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest and other administrative matters. The application of an Applicable Fallback Rate, including any term and/or spread adjustments that may be made to such rate by the Issuer or the Issuer's designee (after consulting with the relevant Issuer), and any implementation by the relevant Issuer or the relevant Issuer's designee (after consulting with the relevant Issuer) of any other applicable changes to the terms and provisions of a Series of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes in connection with the implementation of an Applicable Fallback Rate, could result in adverse consequences to the interest rate or the amount of interest payable on the CORRA Notes, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such CORRA Notes and the price at which Holders may be able to sell such CORRA Notes.

Moreover, certain determinations, decisions and elections with respect to the Applicable Fallback Rate, any term or spread adjustments to the Applicable Fallback Rate, and any other changes to the terms and provisions of an applicable Series of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes in connection with the implementation of an Applicable Fallback Rate, or the occurrence or non-occurrence of an Index Cessation Event, may require the exercise of discretion and the making of subjective judgements by the relevant Issuer or the relevant Issuer's designee (after consulting with the relevant Issuer). Any determination, decision or election made by the relevant Issuer or the relevant Issuer's designee pursuant to the fallback provisions with respect to CORRA will, if made by the relevant Issuer, be made in the relevant Issuer's sole discretion and, if made by the relevant Issuer's designee, be made after consultation with the relevant Issuer and, in each case, will become effective without consent from the Holders in the affected Compounded Daily CORRA Notes or any other party. The relevant Issuer may designate an entity to make any determination, decision or election that the relevant Issuer has the right to make in connection with the CORRA fallback provisions. Any designee that the relevant Issuer may appoint in connection with these determinations, decisions or elections may be the relevant Issuer's affiliate. When performing such functions, potential conflicts of interest may exist between the relevant Issuer, the relevant Issuer's designee and Holders of the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes and making such potentially subjective determinations may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes. All determinations by the relevant Issuer or the relevant Issuer's designee in the Issuer's or the relevant Issuer's designee's discretion will be conclusive for all purposes and binding on the relevant Issuer and Holders in the applicable Compounded Daily CORRA Notes absent manifest error.

Any failure of CORRA to maintain market acceptance could adversely affect the return on or value of the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes and result in a limited secondary trading market for the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes.

As a rate based on transactions secured by Government of Canada treasury bills and bonds, CORRA does not measure unsecured corporate credit risk and, as a result, is less likely to correlate with the unsecured short-term funding costs of corporations. This may mean that market participants would not consider CORRA a suitable substitute or successor for CDOR, which may, in turn, lead to lessened market acceptance of CORRA.

To the extent market acceptance for CORRA as a benchmark for Reference Rate Notes declines, the return on and value of the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes and the price at which Holders can sell the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes in the secondary market could be adversely affected. In addition, Holders in the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes may not be able to sell the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes at all or may not be able to sell the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes at prices that will provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that continue to have a developed secondary market, and may consequently suffer from increased pricing volatility and market risk.

The methodology for calculating compounded CORRA for other Compounded Daily CORRA Notes that the relevant Issuer may issue may change, and the relevant Issuer may in the future issue other Compounded Daily CORRA Notes that differ materially in terms of interest determination when compared with any previous Compounded Daily CORRA Notes. The continued development of CORRA as a reference rate for the capital markets, as well as continued development of CORRA-based rates for such market and the market infrastructure for adopting such rates, could result in reduced liquidity or increased volatility or could otherwise affect the market price of any Compounded Daily CORRA Notes from time to time.

CORRA may be modified or discontinued, which could adversely affect the return on, value of or market for affected compounded CORRA Notes.

The Bank of Canada, which has been the administrator of CORRA since June 2020 and which commenced publishing the CORRA Compounded Index in April 2021, may make methodological or other changes that could change the value of CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index, including changes related to the method by which CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index are calculated, eligibility criteria applicable to the transactions used to calculate CORRA, or timing related to the publication of CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index. If the manner in which CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index are calculated is changed, such change may result in a reduction of the amount of interest payable on Compounded Daily CORRA Notes, which may adversely affect the trading prices of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes. The administrator of CORRA and the CORRA Compounded Index may withdraw, modify, amend, suspend or discontinue the calculation or dissemination of CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index in its sole discretion and without notice and has no obligation to consider the interests of investors in Compounded Daily CORRA Notes in calculating, withdrawing, modifying, amending, suspending or discontinuing CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index. For purposes of the formula used to calculate interest with respect to a Series of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes, neither CORRA nor the CORRA Compounded Index, as applicable, in respect of a particular date will not be adjusted for any modifications or amendments to CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index data that the administrator of CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index may publish after the interest rate on compounded CORRA Notes for that day has been determined in accordance with the Conditions.

There can be no guarantee that either CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index will not be modified or discontinued in a manner that is materially adverse to a Holder in Compounded Daily CORRA Notes. If the manner in which CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index is calculated is changed, or if CORRA or the CORRA Compounded Index are discontinued, such change or discontinuance could reduce or otherwise negatively impact the amount of interest that accrues on a Series of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such Series of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes.

The market continues to develop in relation to CORRA as a reference rate for Floating Rate Notes.

The market continues to develop in relation to CORRA as a reference rate for Floating Rate Notes. The market or a significant part thereof may adopt an application of CORRA that differs significantly from that set out and used in the terms and provisions relating to the Compounded Daily CORRA Notes. The use of the specific formula used to calculate compounded CORRA with respect to a Series of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes may not be widely adopted by other market participants, if at all. If the market adopts a different calculation method, that would likely adversely affect the market price of the applicable Series of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes.

In the future, the relevant Issuer may also issue Notes referencing compounded CORRA that differ materially in terms of interest determination when compared with any previous Notes referencing compounded CORRA. The development of compounded CORRA as a reference rate for the Canadian bond markets, as well as continued development of the market infrastructure for adopting such rates, could result in reduced liquidity or increased volatility or could otherwise affect the market price of any Compounded Daily CORRA Notes.

The manner of adoption or application of CORRA in the Canadian bond market may differ materially compared with the application and adoption of CORRA in other markets, such as the derivatives and loan markets. Investors should carefully consider how any mismatch between the adoption of CORRA in the bond, loan and derivatives markets may impact any hedging or other financial arrangement which they may put in place in connection with any acquisition, holding or disposal of Compounded Daily CORRA Notes.

(j) Risks relating to Compounded Daily Overnight TIE Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to Compounded Daily Overnight TIE ("Compounded Daily Overnight TIE Notes").

The information regarding Overnight TIE (which is used in the calculation of the Compounded Daily Overnight TIE) that Banco de México makes publicly available is limited.

Banco de México calculates and determines the Tasa de Interés Interbancaria de Equilibrio en moneda nacional ("TIIE") a plazo de un Día Hábil Bancario (Overnight Interbank Equilibrium Interest Rate for Mexican pesos) referred to as TIIE de Fondeo (Overnight TIIE) ("Overnight TIIE"), based on transaction data, namely, wholesale overnight repurchase agreement (repo) transactions denominated in Mexican pesos with a period of one Mexican Banking Day, that are settled by banks and Mexican brokerage firms (casas de bolsa) over debt instruments issued by the Mexican Federal Government, the Mexican Bank Savings Protection Institute (IPAB) and Banco de México itself (as provided in the Circular 3/2012 "Provisions applicable to transactions of Credit Institutions, Regulated Financial Entities of Multiple Purpose that have Controlling Interest Relationship with Credit Institutions and the National Financial Institution of Agricultural-Farming, Rural, Forestry and Fishing Development" (Circular 3/2012 Disposiciones Aplicables a las Operaciones de las Instituciones de Crédito, las Sociedades Financieras de Objeto Múltiple que mantengan Vínculos Patrimoniales con Instituciones de Crédito y a la Financiera Nacional de Desarrollo Agropecuario, Rural, Forestal y Pesquero), issued by Banco de México, which was published in the Official Gazette of March 2nd 2012 (as it has been modified from time to time, the "Circular 3/2012")); however the detail of such transaction data is not available to the public and as a result, investors in the Compounded Daily Overnight TIIE Notes may find it more difficult to obtain information relating to Overnight TIIE than certain other reference rates, which could adversely affect the market for the Compounded Daily Overnight TIIE Notes.

The characteristics of Overnight TIIE are different from those of previously available TIIEs for periods other than overnight.

As of January 16, 2020, Banco de México began to calculate and publish Overnight TIIE, with the purpose of having an interest rate consistent with international standards and principles for a near risk free rate.

As previously described, Overnight TIIE is calculated based on transaction data, derived from a base sample of wholesale overnight repurchase agreement transactions denominated in Mexican pesos with a period of one Mexican Banking Day (provided that Circular 3/2012 allows Banco de México to use information obtained from companies that manage systems that facilitate securities transaction that are authorized by the Mexican National Banking and Securities Commission (Comisión Nacional Bancaria y de Valores) or interest rate quotes for repo transactions to create a base sample in case Banco de México is not able to obtain the base sample of settled transactions). Overnight TIIE is calculated in accordance with Circular 3/2012 (which was amended by means of certain Circular 4/2023 published in the "Diario Oficial de la Federación" (Federal Official Gazette) on April 13, 2023. Due to the transition for the cessation of TIIE rates for periods other than overnight, as of January 1, 2024, the prohibition to use TIIE rates for 91-day and 182-day periods in new transactions became effective and as of January 1, 2025, the same prohibition became effective to TIIE rate for a 28-day period.

As of those dates, respectively, a new methodology (based on Overnight TIIE) to calculate TIIE rates for 28-day, 91-day and 182-day periods became effective and such TIIE rates for periods other than overnight may only be used for transactions that were formalized prior to such dates and only until the expiration of such transactions (in each case, published by Banco de México as calculated under the new methodology).

In this regard, the composition and characteristics of Overnight TIIE are not the same as the previously existing and available TIIE rates published by Banco de México for periods other than overnight, which were formerly calculated using commercial bank quotes.

As a result, there is no assurance that Overnight TIIE will perform in the same way as the former TIIE rates for periods other than overnight, including, without limitation, as a result of changes in interest and yield rates in the market, bank credit risk, market volatility or global or regional economic, financial, political, regulatory, judicial or other events. In this regard, Overnight TIIE is not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for TIIE rates for prior 28-day, 91-day and 182-day periods. Any failure of Overnight TIIE to gain a comparable level of market acceptance as the former TIIE rates for periods other than overnight could adversely affect the value of and market for Compounded Daily Overnight TIIE Notes.

(k) Risks relating to SOFR Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to SOFR ("SOFR Notes").

The selection of a SOFR Benchmark Replacement could adversely affect the return on, value of or market for affected SOFR Notes

If the Issuer or its designee, after consulting with the Issuer, determines that a SOFR Benchmark Transition Event and related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to SOFR, the applicable SOFR Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current SOFR Benchmark (which will be a rate based on SOFR at the original issue date of the relevant SOFR Notes) for all purposes relating to such SOFR Notes. If a particular SOFR Benchmark Replacement or SOFR Benchmark Replacement Adjustment cannot be determined, then the next-available SOFR Benchmark Replacement or SOFR Benchmark Replacement Adjustment will apply. These replacement rates and adjustments may be selected or formulated by (i) the SOFR Benchmark Replacement Relevant Governmental Body (such as the ARRC), (ii) the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. ("ISDA") or any successor thereto or (iii) in certain circumstances, the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Issuer's affiliate), after consulting with the Issuer.

In addition, the terms of the SOFR Notes expressly authorize the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Issuer's affiliate), after consulting with the Issuer, in connection with a SOFR Benchmark Replacement to make SOFR Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes with respect to, among other things, the determination of Interest Periods and the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest and other administrative matters. The application of a SOFR Benchmark Replacement and SOFR Benchmark Replacement Adjustment, and any implementation of SOFR Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes, could result in adverse consequences to the Rate of Interest or amount of interest payable on the SOFR Notes, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such SOFR Notes and the price at which investors may be able to sell such SOFR Notes.

Moreover, certain determinations, decisions and elections with respect to the SOFR Benchmark Replacement and any SOFR Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes, or the occurrence or non-occurrence of a SOFR Benchmark Transition Event, may require the exercise of discretion and the making of subjective judgments by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer). Any determination, decision or election made by the Issuer or its designee pursuant to the SOFR benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(c) will, if made by the Issuer, be made in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner and, if made by the Issuer's designee, be made after consultation with the Issuer and, in each case, will become effective without consent from the holders of the affected SOFR Notes or any other party. The Issuer may designate an entity to make any determination, decision or election that the Issuer has the right to make in connection with the SOFR benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(c). Any designee that the Issuer may appoint in connection with these determinations, decisions or elections may be the Issuer's affiliate. When performing such functions, potential conflicts of interest may exist between the Issuer, its designee and investors in the SOFR Notes and making such potentially subjective determinations may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the SOFR Notes. All determinations by the Issuer or its designee in the Issuer's or the designee's discretion will be conclusive for all purposes and binding on the Issuer and investors in the applicable SOFR Notes absent manifest error.

Further, (i) the composition and characteristics of any SOFR Benchmark Replacement for a Series of SOFR Notes will not be the same as those of the applicable SOFR rate for a Series of SOFR Notes, the SOFR Benchmark Replacement will not be the economic equivalent of SOFR, there can be no assurance that the SOFR Benchmark Replacement will perform in the same way as SOFR would have at any time and there is no guarantee that the SOFR Benchmark Replacement will be a comparable substitute for SOFR (each of which means that a SOFR Benchmark Transition Event could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the applicable Series of SOFR Notes), (ii) any failure of the SOFR Benchmark Replacement to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the relevant Series of SOFR Notes, (iii) the SOFR Benchmark Replacement may have a very limited history and the future performance of the SOFR Benchmark Replacement may not be able to be predicted based on historical performance, (iv) the secondary trading market for debt securities linked to the SOFR Benchmark Replacement may be limited and (v) the administrator of the SOFR Benchmark Replacement may make changes that could change the value of the SOFR Benchmark Replacement or discontinue the SOFR Benchmark Replacement and would not have any obligation to consider the interests of investors in the relevant Series of SOFR Notes in doing so.

(l) Risks relating to SARON Notes

The following discussions of risks relate to Floating Rate Notes for which Compounded Daily is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined and the Compounded Daily Reference Rate is specified in the applicable Final Terms as Compounded Daily SARON (any such Notes, "SARON Notes").

Use of a SARON Recommended Replacement Rate, the SNB Policy Rate or a SARON Benchmark Replacement could adversely affect the return on, value of or market for affected SARON Notes.

For SARON Notes, if for any Zurich Banking Day in any SARON Observation Period, the Swiss Average Rate Overnight is no longer representative or may no longer be used or is no longer provided by the SARON Administrator, the Calculation Agent will use the fallback provisions set out in Additional Note Condition 4(e), which include using the rate, if any, that has been recommended as the replacement for the Swiss Average Rate Overnight by any working group or committee in Switzerland organised in the same or a similar manner as the National Working Group on Swiss Franc Reference Rates that was founded in 2013 for purposes of, among other things, considering proposals to reform reference interest rates in Switzerland (i.e., a SARON Recommended Replacement Rate and giving effect to the SARON Recommended Adjustment Spread, if any). If no such rate has been recommended within one Zurich Banking Day, the Calculation Agent will use the SNB Policy Rate (giving effect to the SNB Adjustment Spread, if any) for such Zurich Banking Day in place of the Swiss Average Rate Overnight for purposes of determining the applicable Reference Rate for the relevant Interest Period.

If, with respect to an applicable Series of SARON Notes, the benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(e) have been triggered and the SNB Policy Rate for any Zurich Banking Day in respect of which such rate is required pursuant to Additional Note Condition 4(e)(i)(B) has not been published on such Zurich Banking Day, the SARON Benchmark Replacement will replace SARON for all purposes relating to such SARON Notes from and including such Zurich Banking Day. Any such SARON Benchmark Replacement and SARON Benchmark Replacement Adjustment will be selected the Issuer, after consulting with the Calculation Agent, or its designee (which may be the Issuer's affiliate), after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent.

The benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(e) expressly authorise the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer), in connection with the implementation of a SARON Recommended Replacement Rate (and the SARON Recommended Adjustment Spread, if any) or the SNB Policy Rate (and the SNB Adjustment Spread, if any), to make SARON Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes to the terms and provisions of an applicable Series of SARON Notes. In addition, the benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(e) expressly authorise the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent), in connection with the implementation of a SARON Benchmark Replacement (and related SARON Benchmark Replacement Adjustment, if any), to make SARON Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes to the terms and provisions of an applicable Series of SARON Notes. Any SARON Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes implemented under benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(e) may include changes with respect to, among other things, the determination of Interest Periods and the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest and other administrative matters. The application of a SARON Recommended Replacement Rate (and the SARON Recommended Adjustment Spread, if any), the SNB Policy Rate (and the SNB Adjustment Spread, if any) or a SARON Benchmark Replacement (and related SARON Benchmark Replacement Adjustment, if any), and any implementation of SARON Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes, could result in adverse consequences to the Rate of Interest or amount of interest payable on the SARON Notes, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such SARON Notes, and the price at which investors may be able to sell such SARON Notes.

Moreover, certain determinations, decisions and elections with respect to any SARON Recommended Replacement Rate (and the SARON Recommended Adjustment Spread, if any), the SNB Policy Rate (and the SNB Adjustment Spread, if any), or any SARON Benchmark Replacement and any SARON Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes, or the occurrence or non-occurrence of a SARON Index

Cessation Event or a SARON Benchmark Replacement Transition Event, may require the exercise of discretion and the making of subjective judgements by the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer), the Issuer (after consulting with the Calculation Agent) or the Issuer's designee (after consulting with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent). Any determination, decision or election made by the Calculation Agent, the Issuer or its designee pursuant to the benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(e) will, if made by the Calculation Agent or Issuer, be made in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner (and, if applicable, after consulting with the Issuer or the Calculation Agent, respectively) and, if made by the Issuer's designee, be made after consultation with the Issuer and the Calculation Agent and, in each case, will become effective without consent from the Holders of the affected SARON Notes or any other party. The Issuer may designate an entity to make any determination, decision or election that the Issuer has the right to make in connection with the benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(e). Any designee that the Issuer may appoint in connection with these determinations, decisions or elections may be the Issuer's affiliate. When performing such functions, potential conflicts of interest may exist between the Issuer, its designee (or the Calculation Agent, as the case may be) and Holders of the SARON Notes, and making such potentially subjective determinations may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the SARON Notes. All determinations by the Issuer or its designee or the Calculation Agent in the Issuer's, the designee's or the Calculation Agent's discretion will be conclusive for all purposes and binding on the Issuer and the Holders of the applicable SARON Notes absent manifest error.

Further, (i) the composition and characteristics (including, potentially, the tenor) of any SARON Recommended Replacement Rate, the SNB Policy Rate or any SARON Benchmark Replacement for a Series of SARON Notes will not be the same as those of the Swiss Average Rate Overnight as at the relevant Issue Date, (ii) any such replacement rate will not be the economic equivalent of the Swiss Average Rate Overnight as at the relevant Issue Date, (iii) there can be no assurance that any such replacement rate will perform in the same way as the Swiss Average Rate Overnight as at the relevant Issue Date would have at any time and (iv) there is no guarantee that any such replacement rate will be a comparable substitute for the Swiss Average Rate Overnight as at the relevant Issue Date (each of which means that application of the SARON benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(e) could result in interest payments that are substantially lower than, or that do not otherwise correlate over time with, the payments of interest that would have been made if the Swiss Average Rate Overnight remained available in the same form as it was in as at the relevant Issue Date and could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the applicable Series of SARON Notes). In addition, any failure of any SARON Recommended Replacement Rate, the SNB Policy Rate or any SARON Benchmark Replacement for a Series of SARON Notes to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the relevant Series of SARON Notes. Any SARON Recommended Replacement Rate or SARON Benchmark Replacement may have a very limited history and the future performance of such SARON Recommended Replacement Rate or SARON Benchmark Replacement may not be able to be predicted based on historical performance. The secondary trading market for debt securities linked to any SARON Recommended Replacement Rate, the SNB Policy Rate or any SARON Benchmark Replacement may be limited. The administrator of any SARON Recommended Replacement Rate, the SNB Policy Rate or any SARON Benchmark Replacement may make changes that could change the value of, or could discontinue, such SARON Recommended Replacement Rate or SARON Benchmark Replacement and would not have any obligation to consider the interests of investors in the relevant Series of SARON Notes in doing so.

In addition, in the case of SARON Notes that are admitted to trading and listed, if the relevant stock exchange is unable to admit floating rate notes to trading and listing with respect to which the interest rate is based on the applicable SARON Recommended Replacement Rate or SARON Benchmark Replacement, the use of such SARON Recommended Replacement Rate or SARON Benchmark Replacement may result in the delisting of such SARON Notes.

Any such consequences could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the applicable Series of SARON Notes).

(m) Risks Relating to U.S. CMT Rate Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Reference Rate Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to the U.S. CMT Rate ("U.S. CMT Rate Notes").

The U.S. CMT Rate will be affected by a number of factors and may be volatile

The U.S. CMT Rate will depend on a number of factors, including, but not limited to: (i) supply and demand of U.S. treasury securities with a period remaining to maturity roughly equivalent to the applicable Specified Maturity; (ii) sentiment regarding underlying strength in the U.S. and global economies; (iii) sentiment regarding credit quality in U.S. and global credit markets; (iv) central bank policy regarding interest rates; (v) inflation and expectations concerning inflation; (vi) performance of capital markets; and (vii) any statements from U.S. government officials regarding the potential cessation of the U.S. constant maturity treasury rate for the applicable Specified Maturity. These and other factors may have a negative effect on the performance of the U.S. CMT Rate for the applicable Specified Maturity, which would negatively affect the return on, value of and market for a Series of U.S. CMT Rate Notes.

The U.S. CMT Rate may be modified or discontinued, which could adversely affect the return on, value of or market for affected U.S. CMT Rate Notes

The U.S. Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (or a successor), as administrator of the U.S. CMT Rate, may make methodological or other changes that could change the value of the U.S. CMT Rate, including changes related to the method by which the U.S. CMT Rate is calculated or timing related to the publication of the U.S. CMT Rate. The administrator of the U.S. CMT Rate may withdraw, modify, amend, suspend or discontinue the calculation or dissemination of the U.S. CMT Rate in its sole discretion and without notice and has no obligation to consider the interests of investors in the U.S. CMT Rate Notes in calculating, withdrawing, modifying, amending, suspending or discontinuing the U.S. CMT Rate.

The U.S. CMT Rate will be determined by the Calculation Agent in certain circumstances, which may involve the exercise of discretion by the Calculation Agent

If on any U.S. CMT Rate Observation Day, the Treasury Constant Maturity rate for the Designated CMT Maturity is no longer displayed on the Designated U.S. CMT Rate Page, or is not published by 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on such U.S. CMT Rate Observation Day, and that rate or a rate that the Calculation Agent determines to be comparable to the rate formerly displayed on the Designated U.S. CMT Rate Page is not published by either the U.S. Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or the United States Department of the Treasury (or any successor), then the Calculation Agent, after consulting such sources as it deems comparable to the Designated U.S. CMT Rate Page, or any such source it deems reasonable from which to estimate the U.S. Treasury constant maturity rate for a period of the Specified Maturity, will determine the Reference Rate (or the rate used in the applicable calculation of principal, interest and/or any other amount payable in or applicable determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes, as applicable) for the applicable U.S. CMT Rate Reference Day in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.

This method of determining the U.S. CMT Rate may result in interest payments (or other amount payable in or applicable determination required to be made with respect to the applicable Series of Notes, as applicable) on the U.S. CMT Rate Notes that are higher than, lower than or that do not otherwise correlate over time with the relevant payments that would have been made on the U.S. CMT Rate Notes if the U.S. CMT Rate had been published in accordance with the United States Treasury's usual policies and procedures governing the determination and publication of such rate and appeared on the Designated U.S. CMT Rate Page by 5:00 p.m., New York City time on such U.S. CMT Rate Observation Day. This could adversely affect the rate of interest (or other applicable amounts payable) on the affected U.S. CMT Rate Notes, which, in turn, could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such affected U.S. CMT Rate Notes and the price at which investors may be able to sell such affected U.S. CMT Rate Notes. In addition, as the Calculation Agent is an affiliate of the Issuer and the Guarantor (if applicable), the foregoing determinations or actions may present the Calculation Agent with a conflict of interest. See "There may be conflicts of interest between the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or their respective Affiliates and the Holders" above.

If a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date are determined to have occurred with respect to the U.S. CMT Rate, the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement may not be a suitable replacement for such rate

If the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the U.S. CMT Rate and a Series of U.S. CMT Rate Notes, then the applicable U.S. CMT Rate Replacement will replace the U.S. CMT Rate for such Series of Notes for all purposes relating to the relevant Notes in respect of all determinations on such date and for all determinations on all subsequent dates. The U.S. CMT Rate Replacement will be the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) as an industry-accepted replacement for the current U.S. CMT Rate Benchmark for U.S. dollar-denominated floating-rate notes at such time, plus the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Adjustment (if any). After determination of the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement, interest or other applicable amounts payable on the U.S. CMT Rate Notes will no longer be determined by reference to the U.S. CMT Rate, but instead will be determined by reference to the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement. If the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that there is no such replacement rate as of any applicable date of determination, then the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) will determine a substitute rate or substitute rate value to be used in place of the U.S. CMT Rate for that date of determination after consulting such sources (if any) as the Issuer or the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources used to determine the U.S. CMT Rate or any other source or data it determines to be reasonable.

There is no assurance that any U.S. CMT Rate Replacement will be similar to the initial U.S. CMT Rate in any respect as it is determined and published by the United States Treasury as of the date hereof, or that any U.S. CMT Rate Replacement will produce the economic equivalent of such U.S. CMT Rate as a reference rate for determining the interest rate (or other applicable amount payable) on the U.S. CMT Rate Notes, or otherwise be a suitable replacement or successor for such rate. In addition, it is possible that, at the time of the occurrence of a U.S. CMT Rate Transition Event and related U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Date, no industry-accepted interest rate as a replacement for the U.S. CMT Rate will exist and there may be disagreement regarding the selection of a replacement rate for such U.S. CMT Rate. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the determination of the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement will become effective without the consent of the holders of the Notes. Moreover, although the U.S. CMT Rate benchmark transition provisions provide for a U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Adjustment to be added to the Unadjusted U.S. CMT Rate Replacement, such U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Adjustment may be zero or negative, and there is no guarantee that the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Adjustment (if any) will make the Unadjusted U.S. CMT Rate Replacement equivalent to the U.S. CMT Rate as it is calculated and published by the United States Treasury as of the date hereof.

In addition, the terms of the U.S. CMT Rate Notes expressly authorise the Issuer and the Calculation Agent (after consulting with the Issuer), in connection with the implementation of a U.S. CMT Rate Replacement (and the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Adjustment, if any), to make U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Conforming Changes to the terms and conditions of an applicable Series of U.S. CMT Rate Notes. Any U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Conforming Changes implemented under benchmark transition provisions may include changes with respect to, among other things, the determination of Interest Periods and the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest and other administrative matters. The application of a U.S. CMT Rate Replacement (and the U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Adjustment, if any), and any implementation of U.S. CMT Rate Replacement Conforming Changes, could result in adverse consequences to the Rate of Interest or amount of interest (or any other applicable amount) payable on the U.S. CMT Rate Notes, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such U.S. CMT Rate Notes, and the price at which investors may be able to sell such U.S. CMT Rate Notes. In addition, as the Calculation Agent is an affiliate of the Issuer and the Guarantor (if applicable), the foregoing determinations or actions may present the Calculation Agent with a conflict of interest. See "There may be conflicts of interest between the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the relevant Dealer and/or their respective Affiliates and the Holders" above.

(n) Risks Relating to Swap Rate Notes

The following discussions of risks relate to Floating Rate Notes for which the applicable Final Terms specify EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®, a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®, USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®, Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing TONA), the KRW CMS Rate or the Constant Maturity Swap Rate (such rates together, the "Swap Rates") to be the Reference Rate and Floating Rate Notes for which the applicable Final Terms specifies Additional Note Condition 4(i) (Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate) will be applicable (such Notes, the "Swap Rate Notes").

Certain of the following discussions of risks relate to sub-categories of Swap Rate Notes, including Floating Rate Notes for which the applicable Final Terms specify the Reference Rate to be:

- GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®, USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®, the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index (if the Floating Leg specified in the applicable Final Terms is SOFR) or Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing TONA) (such rates, together, the "RFR Swap Rates" and such Notes, the "RFR Swap Rate Notes");
- GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®, USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® or EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® (such rates together, the "ICE Swap Rates" and such Notes, the "ICE Swap Rate Notes");
- Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing TONA) (such rate, "TONA TSR" and such Notes, "TONA TSR Notes");
- EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® and the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index (if the Floating Leg specified in the applicable Final Terms is EURIBOR) (each such rate, a "EUR Swap Rate" and such Notes, "EUR Swap Rate Notes");
- a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the Specified Currency specified in the applicable Final Terms (each such rate, a "Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index" and such Notes, "Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes");
- KRW CMS Rate (such rate, the "KRW CMS Rate" and such Notes, the "KRW CMS Rate Notes"); and
- Constant Maturity Swap Rate for the Specified Currency specified in the applicable Final Terms (each such rate, a "Specified CMS Rate" and such Notes, "Specified CMS Rate Notes").

In addition, the discussion of risks set forth below under the headings:

- "Risks Relating to Alternative CMS Rate Transition Provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(i)" relates to Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes and any Series of Notes for which the applicable Final Terms specifies Additional Note Condition 4(i) (Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate) will be applicable (such Notes, the "Alternative CMS Rate Notes"); and
- "Risks Relating to Constant Maturity Swap Transition Provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(b)" relates to all Swap Rate Notes other than Alternative CMS Rate Notes.

(i) Risks Relating to RFR Swap Rate Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to RFR Swap Rate Notes. Investors should carefully consider the following discussion of risks before investing in any such Notes.

The RFR Swap Rates are new benchmarks, and the future performance of the RFR Swap Rates cannot be predicted based on the limited historical information available.

ICE Benchmark Administration ("IBA") began publication of the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® on 8 November, 2021 and the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate® on 14 December 2020. On 28 October 2021, the Refinitiv Benchmark Services (UK) Limited ("RBSL") announced publication of TONA TSR, for available tenors, as a production benchmark (and on 16 December 2024, FTSE International Limited ("FIL") announced that administration of TONA TSR had been transferred from RBSL to FIL). Parameta Solutions, the data and analytics division of TP ICAP Group ("ICAP"), announced the launch of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index on 7 October 2025, which includes USD swap rates referencing SOFR, with the initial draft of its underlying methodology being approved on 29 August 2025. As a result, there is limited historical information on which to evaluate the performance of the RFR Swap Rates or on which to base a prediction as to their future performance, which may bear little or no relation to such limited information. The limited historical information is not necessarily indicative of the future performance of the RFR Swap Rates or the value of the RFR Swap Rate Notes, and any historical upward or downward trend in the level of the RFR Swap Rates during any period is not an indication that the level of the applicable benchmark is more or less likely to increase or decrease over the term of the applicable RFR Swap Rate Notes. The actual future levels of the RFR Swap Rates may be lower than any available historical data, and this could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the affected Notes. An investment in the RFR Swap Rate Notes may involve more risk than investing in Notes linked to benchmarks or indices with established performance records, where a longer history of performance may be available so that investors have more information on which to base an investment decision.

The composition of the RFR Swap Rates is not the same as the USD LIBOR ICE Swap Rate®, the Sterling LIBOR ICE Swap Rate® or the Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing 6-month JPY interbank offered rates from London banks) (together, the "LIBOR Swap Rates"), as applicable, and the RFR Swap Rates are not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for the LIBOR Swap Rates.

The composition of the RFR Swap Rates is not the same as the LIBOR Swap Rates, and the RFR Swap Rates are not expected to be a comparable substitute or replacement for the LIBOR Swap Rates.

The USD LIBOR ICE Swap Rate® seeks to represent the mid-price for the semi-annual fixed leg of an interest rate swap where the floating leg is based on three-month USD LIBOR payable quarterly, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months. The USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate® seeks to represent the annual fixed leg of an interest rate swap where the floating leg is based on a compounded average of the daily SOFR administered by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (the "New York Fed") (or any successor administrator) compounded in arrears for twelve months payable annually using standard market conventions, calculated on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed, with a year presumed to comprise 360 days. The Parameta Solutions USD Swap Rate Index seeks to represent the annual fixed leg of an interest rate swap where the floating leg is based on SOFR, compounded in arrears on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed, with a year presumed to comprise 360 days and annual payments.

The Sterling LIBOR ICE Swap Rate seeks to represent the mid-price for the semi-annual fixed leg of an interest rate swap where the floating leg is based on three-month or six-month Sterling LIBOR payable quarterly, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months. The SONIA ICE Swap Rate seeks to represent the annual fixed leg of an interest rate swap where the floating leg is based on a compounded average of the daily SONIA administered by the BOE (or any successor administrator) compounded in arrears for twelve months payable annually using standard market conventions, calculated on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed, with a year presumed to comprise 360 days.

RBSL ceased publication of the Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing 6-month JPY interbank offered rates from London banks) ("JPY LIBOR TSR") following 30 December, 2021. Prior to its cessation, JPY LIBOR TSR measured the fixed leg of a swap referencing 6 month JPY LIBOR, determined using input data from a panel of seven banks. The Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing TONA) is a benchmark rate for OIS referencing TONA, and differs in significant respects from JPY LIBOR TSR. TONA, the rate referenced in the swap transactions that Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing TONA) is designed to represent, measures the rates of transactions settled on the same day as the trade date and maturing the following business day in the uncollateralised call money market. TONA represents the weighted average of call rates for uncollateralised overnight transactions in Japanese yen.

The composition and characteristics of the SOFR, SONIA and TONA rates described above and underlying the RFR Swap Rates are not the same as those of three-month USD LIBOR, three-month or six-month Sterling LIBOR or six-month JPY LIBOR, as applicable, nor are such SOFR, SONIA and TONA rates the economic equivalent of three-month USD LIBOR, three-month or six-month Sterling LIBOR or six-month JPY LIBOR, as applicable. Thus, the RFR Swap Rates have been designed with respect to swap transactions referencing rates that differ in significant respects from the rates referenced in the swap transactions with respect to which the LIBOR Swap Rates were designed. As a result, the Rate of Interest on and value of the RFR Swap Rate Notes may perform differently over time from the manner in which the interest rate and value of debt securities with comparable terms and provisions that were linked to the applicable LIBOR Swap Rates would have performed. In addition, any failure of the RFR Swap Rates to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the value of and market for the affected Notes.

The secondary trading market for the RFR Swap Rate Notes may be limited.

Publication of the RFR Swap Rates began recently, and, as of the date of this Offering Circular, use of these rates as reference rates for floating-rate notes is limited. In addition, the RFR Swap Rates may not be widely used as such in the future. If the RFR Swap Rates do not prove to be widely used as a benchmark in securities that are similar or comparable to the RFR Swap Rate Notes, a trading market for the Swap Rate Notes may fail to develop or be maintained, and the trading price of the Swap Rate Notes may be lower than those of debt securities with rates of interest based on rates that are more widely used.

(ii) Risks Relating to ICE Swap Rate Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to ICE Swap Rate Notes.

A lack of input data may impact IBA's ability to calculate and publish the ICE Swap Rates for one or more tenors.

The input data for the ICE Swap Rates is based on swaps referencing SOFR, SONIA or EURIBOR, as applicable, as the floating leg. The ICE Swap Rates are dependent on receiving sufficient eligible input data, from the trading venue sources identified by IBA in accordance with the "Waterfall" methodology for each applicable ICE Swap Rate tenor. The ability of the applicable trading venues to provide sufficient eligible input data in accordance with the Waterfall methodology depends on, among other things, there being a liquid market in swap contracts referencing SOFR, SONIA or EURIBOR, as applicable, on such trading venues, which in turn depends, among other things, on there being a liquid market in loans, floating rate debt securities and other financial contracts referencing SOFR, SONIA or EURIBOR, as applicable. Because SOFR's and SONIA's use as a reference rate for financial contracts began relatively recently and the related market for SOFR and SONIA-based swaps is relatively new, there is limited information on which to assess potential future liquidity in SOFR and SONIA-based swap markets or in the market for SOFR and SONIA-based financial contracts more generally.

With respect to the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®, although EURIBOR has been reformed in order to comply with the terms of the EU Benchmarks Regulation, it is not known how long EURIBOR will continue in its current form. On 13 September 2018, the working group on euro risk-free rates recommended €STR as the new risk free rate for the euro area. €STR was published for the first time on 2 October 2019. In its "€STR Annual Methodology Review" published in December 2025, the ECB stated that €STR has established itself as a highly credible and robust benchmark and that the futures market based on the €STR is growing, complementing the €STR overnight index swaps market. In addition, in July 2024 IBA commenced publication of its EUR €STR ICE Swap Rate®, a swap rate benchmark intended to measure swaps on €STR, indicating market demand for €STR-based swap rates. As a result, there is uncertainty with regards to the future liquidity in EURIBOR-based swap markets or in the market for EURIBOR-based financial contracts more generally.

If the market for SOFR, SONIA and EURIBOR-based swap contracts is not sufficiently liquid, or if the liquidity in such market proves to be volatile, this could result in the inability of IBA to calculate the ICE Swap Rates on certain occasions, which could materially adversely affect the reliability of ICE Swap Rates, and could adversely affect the return on and value of the ICE Swap Rate Notes and the price at which an investor is able to sell such Notes in the secondary market, if any. In addition, if SOFR, SONIA or EURIBOR does not maintain market acceptance for use as reference rates for USD, sterling or euro-denominated financial contracts, as applicable, uncertainty about SOFR, SONIA or EURIBOR may adversely affect the return on and the value of the ICE Swap Rate Notes.

The information regarding the ICE Swap Rates that IBA makes publicly available is limited.

Certain information and materials relating to the ICE Swap Rates are available on IBA's website at <https://www.theice.com/iba/ice-swap-rate> (including any successor or replacement source, the "ICE Swap Rate® Website"). IBA does not make publicly available historical rates for the ICE Swap Rates and has not indicated whether such information will become publicly available in the future. Furthermore, the relevant Issuer has no information on which to base any expectation that any such information will become publicly available in the future. In order to access such information, an investor in the ICE Swap Rate Notes will need to obtain a paid subscription to an IBA service such as Bloomberg Professional Services. In addition, if IBA (or any successor administrator) changes its practices and makes additional rate information available in the future, there can be no assurance that IBA (or any successor administrator) would continue the practice of making such information publicly available. As a result of this limited publicly available information, it may be difficult for an investor to determine the applicable ICE Swap Rate for a specific date or dates, which could have an adverse impact on the liquidity of the affected Notes.

(iii) Risks Relating to TONA TSR Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to TONA TSR Notes.

A lack of input data may impact FIL's ability to calculate and publish TONA TSR for one or more tenors.

Because TONA TSR is a new reference rate, all potential limitations of such rate are not known. However, FIL has identified certain potential limitations on TONA TSR. FIL has stated that determination of TONA TSR is dependent on receiving sufficient input data—consisting of (i) dealer quotes taken from Tradeweb, a dealer-to-client trading platform, and (ii) indicative rates for spot starting TONA OIS contracts cleared by the JSCC taken from two inter-dealer brokers, (Tradition and TP ICAP) and Tradeweb (composite rates)—from the input data sources for each applicable TONA TSR tenor. In this regard, the ability of the dealer-to-client trading platforms and inter-dealer brokers to provide accurate input data relies on there being a liquid market in TONA OIS contracts. In addition, FIL has stated that technical problems or extreme market events may lead to insufficient input data for determination of TONA TSR and that, in order for TONA TSR to be a reliable reference rate for TONA OIS rates both of the following conditions should be satisfied: (i) there is liquidity in the market for TONA OIS cleared by JSCC and (ii) the input data from the sources (Tradeweb, Tradition and TP ICAP) are representative of this TONA OIS liquidity. If either of such conditions is not satisfied, this could materially adversely affect the reliability of TONA TSR. The existence of a liquid market for TONA OIS contracts depends, among other things, on there being a liquid market in loans, floating rate notes and other financial contracts referencing TONA. Because TONA's use as a reference rate for financial contracts began relatively recently and the related market for TONA-based OIS is relatively new, there is limited information on which to assess potential future liquidity in TONA-based OIS markets or in the market for TONA-based financial contracts more generally. If the market for TONA-based OIS contracts is not sufficiently liquid, or if the liquidity in such market proves to be volatile, this could result in the inability of FIL to calculate TONA TSR on certain occasions and could adversely affect the return on and value of the TONA TSR Notes and the price at which an investor in the TONA TSR Notes is able to sell the TONA TSR Notes in the secondary market, if any. In addition, if TONA does not achieve and maintain market acceptance for use as reference rates for Japanese yen-denominated financial contracts, uncertainty about TONA may adversely affect the return on and the value of the TONA TSR Notes.

The information regarding TONA TSR that FIL makes publicly available is limited.

Certain Information and materials relating to TONA TSR are available on the website of London Stock Exchange Group plc (the indirect parent company of FIL) ("LSEG") at <https://www.lseg.com/en/ftse-russell/benchmarks/tokyo-swap-rate> (including any successor or replacement source, the "TONA TSR Website"). Hyperlinks to additional pages on the TONA TSR Website or other portions of LSEG's website that provide additional information are available in certain of such information and materials. As of the date of this Offering Circular, FIL does not make publicly available historical rates for TONA TSR and has not indicated whether such information will become publicly available in the future. Furthermore, the Issuer has no information on which to base any expectation that any such information will become publicly available in the future. In order to access such information, an investor in the TONA TSR Notes will need to obtain a paid subscription to an LSEG service such as LSEG Data and Analytics. In addition, if FIL/LSEG (or any successor administrator) changes its practices and makes additional rate information available in the future, there can be no assurance that FIL/LSEG (or any such successor administrator) would continue the practice of making such information publicly available. As a result of this limited publicly available information, it may be difficult for an investor in the TONA TSR Notes to determine the Rate of Interest on the TONA TSR Notes for a specific date or dates.

(iv) Risks Relating to EUR Swap Rate Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to EUR Swap Rate Notes.

Regulation, reform and the actual or potential discontinuation of EURIBOR may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for EUR Swap Rate Notes.

The EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate® and the Parameta Solutions EUR Swap Rate Index (which is the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for which the Specified Currency is euro and the Floating Leg is EURIBOR) are designed to represent the fixed rate of interest payable on a hypothetical interest rate swap whose floating leg is based on three- or six-month EURIBOR. EURIBOR has been reformed such that it is based on a hybrid methodology. On 13 September 2018, the working group on euro risk-free rates recommended €STR as the new risk free rate for the euro area. €STR was published for the first time on 2 October 2019. In addition, in response to regulatory scrutiny and applicable legal requirements, the EMMI, as administrator of EURIBOR, conducted a series of consultations on a proposed reformed hybrid methodology for EURIBOR. In July 2019, EMMI published its EURIBOR Benchmark Statement setting forth its reformed hybrid methodology and received regulatory authorisation for the continued administration of EURIBOR. Although EURIBOR has been reformed in order to comply with the terms of the EU Benchmarks Regulation, its future remains uncertain. It is not known how long EURIBOR will continue in its current form. At this time, there is still uncertainty as to what rate or rates may become market accepted alternatives to EURIBOR, and it is impossible to predict the effect of any such alternatives on the value of EURIBOR, and therefore, the values of, and the method of calculating, any EUR Swap Rate. Any of these developments could have a material adverse effect on the value and the return on the EUR Swap Rate Notes.

(v) Risks Relating to Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes.

The Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index is a new series of swap rate indices, and the future performance of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index cannot be predicted based on the limited historical information available.

ICAP announced the launch of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index on October 7, 2025, with the initial draft of its underlying methodology being approved on August 29, 2025. As a result, there is limited historical information on which to evaluate the performance of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for an applicable Specified Maturity and Specified Currency or on which to base a prediction as to its future performance, which may bear little or no relation to such limited information. The limited historical information is not necessarily indicative of the future performance of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for an applicable Specified Maturity and Specified Currency or the value of Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes, and any historical upward or downward trend in the level of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for an applicable Specified Maturity and Specified Currency during any period is not an indication that the level of the applicable index is more or less likely to increase or decrease over the term of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes. Prior observed patterns, if any, in the behavior of the market variables and their relation to the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for an applicable Specified Maturity and Specified Currency, such as correlations, may change in the future. The actual future levels of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for an applicable Specified Maturity and Specified Currency may be lower than any available historical data. An investment in the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes may involve more risk than investing in notes linked to benchmarks or indices with established performance records, where a longer history of performance may be available so that investors have more information on which to base an investment decision.

Any failure of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for an applicable Specified Maturity and Specified Currency to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the value of the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes and the price at which investors can sell such notes in the secondary market, if any.

The Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index is a new series of swap rate indices and, as of the date of this Offering Circular, no significant market exists for floating-rate notes using a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index as a reference rate. Other index providers offer or are developing products that may be perceived as competing or will compete with the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index. It is possible that market participants will prefer one of these competing products and that such competing products may be more widely accepted in the marketplace than the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index.

The Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index may fail to gain wide market acceptance as a result of any of the foregoing, among other factors, and any such failure could adversely affect the value of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes and the price at which investors can sell such Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes in the secondary market, if any. If the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for an applicable Specified Maturity and Specified Currency does not prove to be widely used as a reference rate for debt securities that are similar or comparable to the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes, the trading price of such Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes may be lower than the trading prices of debt securities with interest rates based on rates that are more widely used. Investors in the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes may not be able to sell such notes at all or may not be able to sell such notes at prices that will provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed secondary market, and may consequently suffer from increased pricing volatility and market risk.

The Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Indices are not administered benchmark rates and are not subject to regulation.

Certain swap rate benchmarks, such as the ICE Swap Rates and TONA TSR, are administered by regulated benchmark administrators such as IBA and FIL. Such swap rate benchmarks are subject to regulation under applicable law, including the UK Benchmarks Regulation and EU Benchmarks Regulation. Regulated swap rate benchmarks generally must be calculated pursuant to a methodology and meet certain standards relating to, among other matters, methodology, representativeness, input data and governance and oversight. Neither the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Indices nor the tick-level mid-price data from which the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Indices are calculated are administered by a regulated benchmark administrator, and they are not subject to regulation. As a result, the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider has wide discretion with respect to the methodology it uses to calculate the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Indices, the data/information that it uses to calculate or determine the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Indices, the sources from which it obtains such data/information and other matters. As a result, it is possible that the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Indices may be less robust, less representative and/or more susceptible to manipulation than regulated benchmarks published by regulated benchmark administrators. In addition, the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Indices may be more easily influenced by a single transaction or price quotation or small number of transactions or price quotations than typically would be the case for a regulated swap rate benchmark administered by a regulated benchmark administrator. These factors may make performance of the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index more unpredictable, which could have a material adverse effect on the value of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes.

A lack of input data may impact the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider's ability to calculate and publish the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for one or more tenors.

As of the date of this Offering Circular, the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider publishes two series of indices designed to measure the rates for swaps on EURIBOR and SOFR. The input data for these rates is indicative tick-level mid-price data for swaps on EURIBOR or SOFR as the floating leg, sourced from ICAP (as the primary input source) and TP (as the secondary input source). In the future, the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider may publish additional series of indices designed to measure the rates for swaps on other rates as the floating leg, which may be calculated based on input data comparable to the existing series of indices. Each Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index is or will be dependent on receiving sufficient eligible input data from the applicable swaps desk identified in the methodology published by the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider for each applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index tenor. The ability of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider to source sufficient eligible input data in accordance with its methodology depends on, among other things, there being a liquid market in swap contracts referencing EURIBOR or SOFR, as applicable, or any other floating leg for swaps underlying additional indices that the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider may publish in the future, which in turn depends, among other things, on there being a liquid market in loans, floating rate debt securities and other financial contracts referencing EURIBOR, SOFR or any such other floating leg.

With respect to the Parameta Solutions EUR Swap Rate Index (which is the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for which the Specified Currency is euro and the Floating Leg is EURIBOR), although EURIBOR has been reformed in order to comply with the terms of the EU Benchmarks Regulation, it is not known how long EURIBOR will continue in its current form. On 13 September 2018, the working group on euro risk-free rates recommended €STR as the new risk free rate for the euro area. €STR was published for the first time on 2 October 2019. In its "€STR Annual Methodology Review" published in December 2025, the ECB stated that €STR has established itself as a highly credible and robust benchmark and that the futures market based on the €STR is growing, complementing the €STR overnight index swaps market. In addition, in July 2024 IBA commenced publication of its EUR €STR ICE Swap Rate®, a swap rate benchmark intended to measure swaps on €STR, indicating market demand for €STR-based swap rates. As a result, there is uncertainty with regards to the future liquidity in EURIBOR-based swap markets or in the market for EURIBOR-based financial contracts more generally.

The floating leg for swaps intended to be measured by any future series of indices published by the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider also may be subject to uncertainty or volatility.

If the market for SOFR or EURIBOR-based swap contracts, or for swap contracts referencing the floating leg for swaps intended to be measured by any future series of indices published by the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider, is not sufficiently liquid, or if the liquidity in such market proves to be volatile, this could result in the inability of the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider to calculate the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index on certain occasions, which could materially adversely affect the reliability of such Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, and could adversely affect the return on and value of Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes and the price at which an investor is able to sell such Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes in the secondary market, if any. In addition, if SOFR or EURIBOR, or the applicable floating leg for swaps intended to be measured by any future series of indices published by the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider, does not maintain (or, if applicable, achieve) market acceptance for use as a reference rate for financial contracts in the applicable Specified Currency, uncertainty about SOFR, EURIBOR or such other floating leg may adversely affect the return on and the value of Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes.

Regulation, reform and the actual or potential discontinuation of the floating leg for the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes.

Over the past decade, certain interest rates, such as EURIBOR, which are deemed to be "benchmark" rates have been the subject of national, international and other regulatory guidance, reform and other actions, as described above. This has resulted in regulatory reform and changes to many existing benchmarks. In addition, in many markets new benchmark reference rates, such as €STR and SOFR, have increasingly been adopted as replacements for benchmarks that previously were market standard rates, such as EURIBOR and LIBOR. There may be uncertainty with respect to the applicable floating leg for swaps intended to be measured by any future series of indices published by the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider, as well as what rate or rates may become market accepted alternatives to existing rates, and it is impossible to predict the effect of any such uncertainty or alternatives on the value of the floating leg of such Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, and therefore, the values of, and the method of calculating, such Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index. Any of these developments could have a material adverse effect on the value and the return on the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes.

If the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity does not appear on the applicable Relevant Screen Page at the Relevant Time, and an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have not occurred, the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index will be determined by the Issuer or its designee using alternative methods, which may involve the temporary use of alternative reference rates for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity (which may not be a suitable substitute for the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index) and/or the exercise of significant discretion by the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Calculation Agent).

If the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity does not appear on the Relevant Screen Page at the Relevant Time on an applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Observation Day (for example, as a result of insufficient liquidity in the underlying applicable swap contracts market) and an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have not occurred with respect to the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, the applicable Reference Rate for such Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Observation Day will be the first of the following alternatives that can be determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner: (i) first, if the applicable Final Terms specifies a "Primary Temporary Unavailability Fallback Rate," such rate determined in the manner set forth in the applicable Final Terms, (ii) second, if the applicable Final Terms does not specify a "Primary Temporary Unavailability Fallback Rate," or if the "Primary Temporary Unavailability Fallback Rate" cannot be determined, a reference rate or index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity that purports to measure the Relevant Underlying Swap (as defined in Additional Note Condition 2(i)) that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, to be substantially similar to the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, and that is made available by the administrator or provider of such rate without a requirement for a subscription and/or payment of a fee, (iii) third, if the applicable Final Terms specifies

a "Secondary Temporary Unavailability Fallback Rate," such rate determined in the manner set forth in the applicable Final Terms, (iv) fourth, if the applicable Final Terms does not specify a "Secondary Temporary Unavailability Fallback Rate," or if the "Secondary Temporary Unavailability Fallback Rate" cannot be determined, a reference rate or index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity that purports to measure the Relevant Underlying Swap that the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be substantially similar to the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, and that is not made available by the administrator or provider of such rate without a requirement for a subscription and/or payment of a fee and (v) if no rate can be determined in accordance with the preceding alternatives, the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) will determine, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the swap rate input data used by the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider to calculate such rate for such Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable. In each case, no adjustments will be made to any rate determined in accordance with such alternative methods to account for any historical economic or other differences between such substitute rate and the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity.

There can be no assurance that any rate determined in accordance with the alternative methods described above will be similar to the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity as it is determined and published by the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider, nor can there be any assurance that any rate determined in accordance with such alternative methods will correlate closely with such applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index over time or be governed by a similar methodology as such applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, or will produce the economic equivalent of such applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index as a reference rate for determining the Rate of Interest on the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes. Use of the alternative methods described above may result in interest payments on the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes that are higher than, lower than or that do not otherwise correlate over time with the interest payments that would have been made on the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes if the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for the applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity had been published in accordance with the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Provider's usual policies and procedures governing the determination and publication of such rate and appeared on the Relevant Screen Page at the specified time. In addition, in determining the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index in this manner, the Issuer or its designee may have economic interests that are adverse to the Holder's interests.

(vi) Risks Relating to KRW CMS Rate Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to KRW CMS Rate Notes.

Regulation, reform and the actual or potential discontinuation of the 91-day Korean won CD rate underlying the KRW CMS Rate may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for KRW CMS Rate Notes

Over the past decade, certain interest rates, such as LIBOR and EURIBOR, which are deemed to be "benchmark" rates have been the subject of national, international and other regulatory guidance, reform and other actions. This has resulted in regulatory reform and changes to—and cessation of—many existing benchmarks. In addition, in many markets new benchmark reference rates, such as SOFR, SONIA and TONA, have increasingly been adopted as replacements for LIBOR, EURIBOR and other benchmarks that previously were market standard rates.

The 91-day Korean won certificate of deposit ("CD") rate is the floating rate leg for swap transaction upon which the KRW CMS Rate is based. It has been reported that the volume of Korean won CD transactions has diminished in recent years, and that the long-term future of the CD rate is uncertain, as discussed below. On 26 February 2021, the FSC and the Bank of Korea announced that a market participant task force on benchmark interest rate reform had picked an overnight repo rate as the new risk-free rate. Furthermore, the FSC designated KOFR as a critical benchmark which has been published by the Korea Securities Depository since November 2021 (<http://www.kofr.kr>) and announced on December 2021 that the FSC will try to have the CD rate replaced by KOFR in the market in the medium to long term. On 28 March 2022, the Korea Exchange listed KOFR futures, and on 25 August 2023, the first trading of KOFR overnight index swaps for a 1-month tenor took place. However, the trading volume of derivatives based on the KOFR was not deemed sufficient. Accordingly, on 10 December 2024, the FSC and the Bank of Korea announced a plan to reform the benchmark interest rate as well as support measures to promote the KOFR, such as issuing KOFR floating-rate notes and expanding KOFR overnight index swap transactions. Since the expansion of the trading volume of derivatives based on the KOFR will determine the success of the development of the KOFR 3-month benchmark, it is expected that the success of the development of alternative benchmarks for the CD yield, which is a forward-looking type, will be determined following this timeline. However, it is anticipated that additional time will be needed because, before determining the activation of the derivatives market, the KOFR floating-rate note market itself is not yet fully active.

On 30 March 2026, the FSC announced that, considering its less frequent usage, the CD rate will be removed from the status of a critical statutory benchmark at the end of 2030 to clearly demonstrate the government's willingness to make a transition in benchmark rate from the CD rate to KOFR. In connection with this announcement, the FSC encouraged financial companies to make voluntary efforts to transition away from CD rate-based transactions. In addition, the FSC has set targets to increase the use of KOFR in floating-rate notes. Although the FSC has not announced a specific timeline for mandatory transition away from CD rate, this announcement indicates that there is significant uncertainty with respect to its publication and use following 2030. In addition, the foregoing factors could reduce liquidity in the CD market underlying the KRW CMS Rate, which could result in increased volatility in the CD Rate, or make such rate more susceptible to manipulation and/or lead to the early cessation of the CD Rate before 2030. It is impossible to predict the effect of these factors on the value of the CD Rate, and therefore, the values of, and the method of calculating, the KRW CMS Rate, and such factors and uncertainty could result in more frequent non-publication or cessation of the KRW CMS Rate. Any of these developments could have a material adverse effect on the value and the return on KRW CMS Rate Notes.

Publicly available information regarding the bid and ask rates from which the KRW CMS Rate is calculated is limited

The KRW CMS Rate is calculated as the arithmetic mean of the bid and ask rates for a Korean won deliverable interest rate swap with a term of the Specified Maturity (quoted on an Actual/365 (Fixed) day count basis) where the floating leg is based on the 91-day Korean won CD rate, as provided by Tullett Prebon Information and appearing on Bloomberg Page "GDCO 4572 33". Tullett Prebon Information does not make publicly available any historical rate information with respect to the KRW CMS Rate, or any information relating to the data/information that is used to calculate or determine the bid and ask rates that it provides to Bloomberg, the sources from which such data/information is obtained, how it calculates such bid and ask rates, or its publication practices with respect thereto. A paid subscription to an information services provider such as Bloomberg is required to obtain historical rate information relating to the bid and ask rates upon which the KRW CMS Rate is based. As a result of this extremely limited publicly available information, it may be difficult for an investor in the KRW CMS Rate Notes to analyse potential risks relating to such rate or determine the Rate of Interest on the KRW CMS Rate Notes for a specific date or dates.

The KRW CMS Rate is not an administered rate and is not subject to regulation

Certain swap rate benchmarks, such as the ICE Swap Rates and TONA TSR, are administered by regulated benchmark administrators such as IBA and RBSL. Such swap rate benchmarks are subject to regulation under applicable law, including the UK Benchmarks Regulation and EU Benchmarks Regulation. Regulated swap rate benchmarks generally must be calculated pursuant to a methodology and meet certain standards relating to, among other matters, methodology, representativeness, input data and governance and oversight. Neither the KRW CMS Rate nor the bid and ask rates from which the KRW CMS rate is calculated are administered by a regulated benchmark administrator, and they are not subject to regulation. As a result, Tullett Prebon Information, the provider of the bid and ask rates from which the KRW CMS Rate is calculated has wide discretion with respect to the methodology it uses to calculate such bid and ask rates, the data/information that it uses to calculate or determine such bid and ask rates, the sources from which it obtains such data/information and other matters. As a result, it is possible that the KRW CMS Rate may be less robust, less representative and/or more susceptible to manipulation than regulated benchmarks published by regulated benchmark administrators. In addition, the KRW CMS Rate may be more easily influenced by a single transaction or price quotation or small number of transactions or price quotations than typically would be the case for a regulated swap rate benchmark administered by a regulated benchmark administrator. These factors may make performance of the KRW CMS Rate more unpredictable, which could have a material adverse effect on the value and the return on the KRW CMS Rate Notes.

(vii) Risks Relating to Specified CMS Rate Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Specified CMS Rate Notes.

The Specified CMS Rate may be a new rate and, if so, the composition and characteristics might not be the same as other swap rates for the Specified Currency.

The Specified CMS Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms may have existed for a limited amount of time prior to issuance of the applicable Specified CMS Rate Notes. In such a case, there may be very limited historical information on which to evaluate the performance of such Specified CMS Rate or on which to base a prediction as to its future performance, which may bear little or no relation to such limited information. The very limited historical information will not necessarily be indicative of the future performance of such Specified CMS Rate or the value of the Specified CMS Rate Notes, and any historical upward or downward trend in the level of such Specified CMS Rate during any period will not be an indication that the level of such rate is more or less likely to increase or decrease over the term of the applicable Series of Specified CMS Rate Notes. The actual future levels of a Specified CMS Rate may be lower than any available historical data, and this could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the affected Specified CMS Rate Notes. An investment in Specified CMS Rate Notes may involve more risk than investing in Notes linked to benchmarks, rates or indices with established performance records, where a longer history of performance may be available so that investors have more information on which to base an investment decision.

If the Specified CMS Rate is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be the Reference Rate, there may already be one or more swap rates used for the Specified Currency ("Existing Swap Rates"). The composition and characteristics of a Specified CMS Rate may not be the same as any Existing Swap Rates for the Specified Currency, and the Specified CMS Rate may not be the economic equivalent, or a comparable substitute or replacement for, such Existing Swap Rates.

The Existing Swap Rate(s) with respect to a Specified CMS Rate may seek to represent a rate that differs in significant respects from the rate underlying swap transactions that such Specified CMS Rate seeks to measure. For example, a Specified CMS Rate may seek to represent the fixed rate leg of an interest rate swap where the floating leg is based on a risk-free rate, whereas the Existing Swap Rate may seek to measure the fixed rate leg of an interest rate swap where the floating leg is based on a forward-looking term rate that includes a credit risk component. In addition, the Existing Swap Rate may refer to different day count and payment conventions from those referred to by the applicable Specified CMS Rate. Thus, it is possible that a Specified CMS Rate will have been designed with respect to swap transactions that differ in fundamental and significant respects from the rate referenced in the swap transactions with respect to which the Existing Swap Rates were designed. As a result, the Rate of Interest on and value of Specified CMS Rate Notes may perform differently over time from the manner in which the interest rate and value of debt securities with comparable terms and provisions that were linked to the Existing Swap Rates would perform.

Regulation, reform and the actual or potential discontinuation of the floating rate leg for the applicable Specified CMS Rate may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for Specified CMS Rate Notes.

Over the past decade, certain interest rates, such as LIBOR and EURIBOR, which are deemed to be "benchmark" rates have been the subject of national, international and other regulatory guidance, reform and other actions. This has resulted in regulatory reform and changes to many existing benchmarks. In addition, in many markets new benchmark reference rates, such as SOFR, SONIA, €STR and TONA, have increasingly been adopted as replacements for LIBOR, EURIBOR and other benchmarks that previously were market standard rates. At this time, there is still uncertainty as to the floating rate leg with respect to a Specified CMS Rate, and what rate or rates may become market accepted alternatives to existing rates, and it is impossible to predict the effect of any such uncertainty or alternatives on the value of the Specified CMS Rate, and therefore, the values of, and the method of calculating, the Specified CMS Rate. Any of these developments could have a material adverse effect on the value and the return on the Specified CMS Rate Notes.

The information regarding the Specified CMS Rate that the Designated Constant Maturity Swap Administrator or the Designated Constant Maturity Swap Provider, as applicable, makes publicly available may be extremely limited.

Certain information and materials relating to the Specified CMS Rate may be available on the website of the Designated Constant Maturity Swap Administrator or the Designated Constant Maturity Swap Provider, as applicable. Any such information that is made available may be extremely limited. For example, such website may not provide historical rate information with respect to the Specified CMS Rate and may not provide any information relating to the data/information that is used to calculate or determine the Specified CMS Rate, the sources from which such data/information is obtained, how the Specified CMS Rate is calculated, and publication practices with respect thereto. A paid subscription to an information services provider such as Bloomberg or FIL/LSEG may be required to obtain historical rate information relating to the applicable Specified CMS Rate. In addition, if the Designated Constant Maturity Swap Administrator or the Designated Constant Maturity Swap Provider, as applicable, does provide any information relating to the applicable Specified CMS Rate, such Designated Constant Maturity Swap Administrator or the Designated Constant Maturity Swap Provider may change its practices in the future and cease providing such information. If the publicly available information relating to the applicable Specified CMS Rate is limited, it may be difficult for an investor in the Specified CMS Rate Notes to analyse potential risks relating to such rate or determine the Rate of Interest on the Specified CMS Rate Notes for a specific date or dates.

The Specified CMS Rate may not be an administered rate and may not be subject to regulation.

Certain swap rate benchmarks, such as the ICE Swap Rates and TONA TSR, are administered by regulated benchmark administrators such as IBA and FIL. Such swap rate benchmarks are subject to regulation under applicable law, including the UK Benchmarks Regulation and EU Benchmarks Regulation. Regulated swap rate benchmarks generally must be calculated pursuant to a methodology and meet certain standards relating to, among other matters, methodology, representativeness, input data and governance and oversight. The Specified CMS Rate may not be administered by a regulated benchmark administrator and may not be subject to regulation. As a result, the publisher or provider of Specified CMS Rate may have wide discretion with respect to the methodology it uses to calculate such Specified CMS Rate, the data/information that it uses to calculate or determine the Specified CMS Rate, the sources from which it obtains such data/information and other matters. As a result, it is possible that an applicable Specified CMS Rate may be less robust, less representative and/or more susceptible to manipulation than regulated benchmarks published by regulated benchmark administrators. In addition, depending on the methodology used by the publisher or provider of an applicable Specified CMS Rate and the liquidity of the market for swaps that such Specified CMS Rate is designed to measure, such Specified CMS Rate may be more easily influenced by a single transaction or price quotation or small number of transactions or price quotations than typically would be the case for a regulated swap rate benchmark administered by a regulated benchmark administrator. These factors may make performance of an applicable Specified CMS Rate more unpredictable, which could have a material adverse effect on the value and the return on the Specified CMS Rate Notes.

(viii) Risk Relating to Swap Rate Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to all Swap Rate Notes.

The Swap Rates may be modified or discontinued, which could adversely affect the return on, value of or market for the Swap Rate Notes.

The applicable administrator, publisher or provider for any Swap Rate (or any successor administrator) may make methodological or other changes that could change the value of an applicable Swap Rate, including changes related to the method by which such rate is calculated, eligibility criteria applicable to the transactions used to calculate such rate, including the trading venues for such transactions, or timing related to the determination or publication of such rate, or may cease the calculation or dissemination of such rate. Depending on the circumstances, such change or cessation could be implemented with little or no public notice or consultation. Any such changes may result in a reduction of the applicable Swap Rate and, in turn, reduce the amount of interest payable on the Swap Rate Notes, which may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the Swap Rate Notes. In addition, the Swap Rates are determined by the applicable administrator based on data received from sources other than the Issuer, and the Issuer does not have any control over the methods of calculation, publication schedule, rate revision practices or availability of such data.

The relevant Issuer or its affiliates may publish research reports that could affect the market value of the Swap Rate Notes.

The relevant Issuer or one or more of its affiliates may, at present or in the future, publish research reports with respect to movements in interest rates generally, or certain Swap Rates specifically. This research may be modified from time to time without notice and may express opinions or provide recommendations that are inconsistent with purchasing or holding Notes with Rates of Interest determined by reference to certain Swap Rates. Any of these activities may affect the market value of the Swap Rate Notes.

If an applicable Swap Rate (other than a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index) does not appear on the applicable Relevant Screen Page at the Relevant Time, and a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have not occurred, such Swap Rate will be determined by the Calculation Agent (which is one of the Issuer's affiliates) using alternative methods, which will involve the exercise of discretion by the Calculation Agent.

If an applicable Swap Rate (other than a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index) does not appear on the Relevant Screen Page at the specified time on an applicable Interest Determination Date (for example, as a result of insufficient liquidity in the underlying applicable swap contracts market) and a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have not occurred with respect to such Swap Rate, the Calculation Agent will determine such Swap Rate for such applicable Interest Determination Date in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, after consulting such sources as it deems comparable to the Designated Swap Rate Page or to the sources from which the administrator, publisher or provider of such rate obtains the swap rate input data used by the administrator, publisher or provider to calculate such rate, or any other source or data it determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, the applicable Swap Rate that was most recently published by the administrator of such rate) for the purpose of estimating such rate. This method of determining a Swap Rate (other than a Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index) may result in interest payments on the Swap Rate Notes (other than Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Notes) that are higher than, lower than or that do not otherwise correlate over time with the interest payments that would have been made on such Swap Rate Notes if such Swap Rate had been published in accordance with the administrator, publisher or provider of such Swap Rate's (or any successor administrator's) usual policies and procedures governing the determination and publication of such rate and appeared on the Relevant Screen Page at the specified time. In addition, in determining the Swap Rate in this manner, the Calculation Agent may have economic interests that are adverse to the Holder's interests.

(ix) Risks Relating to Constant Maturity Swap Transition Provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(b)

The following discussion of risks relates to Additional Note Condition 4(b) (Benchmark Replacement – Constant Maturity Swap), which is applicable to all Swap Rate Notes other than Alternative CMS Rate Notes. For the avoidance of doubt, investors in Alternative CMS Rate Notes should read the discussion under "Risks Relating to Alternative CMS Rate Transition Provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(i)" rather than the discussion of risks set forth in this section.

If a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date are determined to have occurred with respect to an applicable Swap Rate, the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement may not be a suitable replacement for such rate and will become effective without the consent of the Holders of the affected Notes.

If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the applicable Swap Rate, then the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Replacement will replace the Swap Rate for all purposes relating to the Swap Rate Notes in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations on all subsequent dates. The Constant Maturity Swap Replacement will be the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) as an industry-accepted replacement for the applicable Swap Rate for floating-rate notes denominated in the same currency as such Swap Rate at such time, plus the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Adjustment (if any). After determination of the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement, or such substitute rate or substitute rate value, as applicable, interest on the Swap Rate Notes will no longer be determined by reference to the applicable Swap Rate, but instead will be determined by reference to the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Replacement. If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that there is no such industry-accepted replacement rate as of any applicable date of determination, then the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) will determine a substitute rate or substitute rate value to be used in place of the applicable Swap Rate for that date of determination after consulting such sources as the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) deems comparable to the sources (if any) on which such rate customarily was published by the administrator or provider, as applicable, of such Swap Rate or authorised distributors prior to the applicable Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date or to the sources from which the administrator or provider, as applicable, of such rate obtains the swap rate input data used by the administrator or provider, as applicable to calculate or publish such rate or information, or any other source or data the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines to be reasonable (including, if applicable, the applicable Swap Rate that was most recently published by the administrator or provider of such rate) for the purpose of determining such substitute rate or substitute rate value.

There is no assurance that any Constant Maturity Swap Replacement (or, if the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that there is no Constant Maturity Swap Replacement, the substitute rate or substitute rate value determined by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer)) will be similar to the initial stated Swap Rate in any respect as it is determined and published by the applicable administrator, publisher or provider of such Swap Rate as of the date of this Offering Circular, or that any Constant Maturity Swap Replacement will produce the economic equivalent of the Swap Rate as a reference rate for determining the Rate of Interest on the Swap Rate Notes or otherwise be a suitable replacement or successor for such rate. In addition, it is possible that, at the time of the occurrence of a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date, no industry-accepted interest rate as a replacement for the applicable Swap Rate will exist and there may be disagreement regarding the selection of a replacement rate for such Swap Rate. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the determination of the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement will become effective without the consent of the Holders of the Notes or any other party. Use of the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement may result in interest payments on the Swap Rate Notes that are higher than, lower than or that do not otherwise correlate over time with the interest payments that would have been made on such Swap Rate Notes in the absence of a Constant Maturity Swap Transition Event and related Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Date.

In addition, although the benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(b) provide for a Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Adjustment to be added to the Unadjusted Constant Maturity Swap Replacement, such Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Adjustment may be zero or negative, and there is no guarantee that the Constant Maturity Swap Replacement Adjustment (if any) will make the Unadjusted Constant Maturity Swap Replacement equivalent to the initial stated Swap Rate as it is calculated and published by the applicable administrator, publisher or provider of such Swap Rate as of the date of this Offering Circular.

(x) Risks Relating to Alternative CMS Rate Transition Provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(i)

Risks Relating to Alternative CMS Rate Transition Provisions

The following discussion of risks relates to Additional Note Condition 4(i) (Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate), which is applicable to Alternative CMS Rate Notes. For the avoidance of doubt, investors in Swap Rate Notes other than Alternative CMS Rate Notes should read the discussion under "Risks Relating to Constant Maturity Swap Transition Provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(b)" rather than the discussion of risks set forth in this section.

If an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date are determined to have occurred with respect to an applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index or another Reference Rate for which "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions are specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement may not be a suitable replacement for such rate and will become effective without the consent of the Holders of the affected Notes.

If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index specified in the applicable Final Terms, or with respect to any other Reference Rate with respect to which the applicable Final Terms specifies "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions to be applicable, then the applicable Alternative CMS Rate Replacement will replace such rate for all purposes relating to the Alternative CMS Rate Notes in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations on all subsequent dates. The Alternative CMS Rate Replacement will be the alternative rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) that the Issuer or its designee has determined to be comparable to the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, or to such other Reference Rate with respect to which the applicable Final Terms specifies "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions to be applicable, as the case may be, taking into account any industry-accepted replacement rate for such rate (if the Issuer or its designee determines that such an industry-accepted replacement rate exists), the underlying economic reality that such rate is intended to represent and any other information the Issuer or its designee deems relevant. After determination of the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement, interest on the Alternative CMS Rate Notes will no longer be determined by reference to the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, or to such other Reference Rate with respect to which the applicable Final Terms specifies "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions to be applicable, as the case may be, but instead will be determined by reference to the applicable Alternative CMS Rate Replacement.

There is no assurance that any Alternative CMS Rate Replacement will be similar to the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, or to such other Reference Rate with respect to which the applicable Final Terms specifies "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions to be applicable, as the case may be, in any respect as it is determined and published by the administrator or provider, as applicable, of such rate as of the date of this Offering Circular, or that any Alternative CMS Rate Replacement will produce the economic equivalent of such rate as a reference rate for determining the Rate of Interest on the applicable Alternative CMS Rate Notes or otherwise be a suitable replacement or successor for such rate. In addition, it is possible that, at the time of the occurrence of an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date, no industry-accepted interest rate as a replacement for the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, or for such other Reference Rate with respect to which the applicable Final Terms specifies "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions to be applicable, as the case may be, will exist and there may be disagreement regarding the selection of a replacement rate for such rate. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the determination of the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement will become effective without the consent of the Holders of the Alternative CMS Rate Notes or any other party. Use of the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement may result in interest payments on the Alternative CMS Rate Notes that are higher than, lower than or that do not otherwise correlate over time with the interest payments that would have been made on such Alternative CMS Rate Notes in the absence of an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date. In addition, in determining the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement, the Issuer or its designee may have economic interests that are adverse to the Holder's interests.

The Alternative CMS Rate Replacement will not include any adjustment to account for historical economic or other differences between the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement and the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index (or other Reference Rate for which "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions are specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms).

As discussed above, if an Alternative CMS Rate Transition Event and related Alternative CMS Rate Replacement Date are determined to have occurred with respect to an applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index or another Reference Rate for which "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions are specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement may not be a suitable replacement for such rate. For example, the term structure and/or tenor of the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement may differ from the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, or such other Reference Rate with respect to which the applicable Final Terms specifies "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions to be applicable, as the case may be, may seek to measure a different relevant underlying swap transaction and/or may be calculated pursuant to a methodology that differs significantly from the methodology for such rate(s). As a result of these or other factors, it is possible that the historical published values for the Alternative CMS Replacement may have been lower, on average and/or on all or most publication dates, than the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index, or such other Reference Rate with respect to which the applicable Final Terms specifies "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions to be applicable, as the case may be. Nonetheless, no adjustments will be made to the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement to account for any historical economic or other differences between such substitute rate and the applicable Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index (or such other Reference Rate with respect to which the applicable Final Terms specifies "Benchmark / Reference Rate Replacement – Alternative CMS Rate" provisions to be applicable, as the case may be), and the Alternative CMS Rate Replacement will become effective without the consent of the Holders of the affected Notes.

(o) Risks Relating to Yen TIBOR Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to Yen TIBOR ("Yen TIBOR Notes").

Regulation, reform, and the potential or actual discontinuation of Yen TIBOR may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the Notes.

Yen TIBOR and certain other rates or indices which are deemed to be "benchmarks" are the subject of ongoing regulatory guidance and proposals for reform in Japan and internationally. Some of these reforms are already effective, while others are still to be implemented. These reforms may cause such "benchmarks" to perform differently than in the past or to be discontinued entirely and may have other consequences that cannot be predicted. Although the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator has implemented certain reforms to the methodology and governance for Yen TIBOR, there can be no assurance that Yen TIBOR will not be further reformed, modified or discontinued. Yen TIBOR is a forward-looking term benchmark designed to reflect prevailing rates for the Japanese unsecured call market over specified tenors, calculated by the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator based on submission rates from reference banks. In recent years, many other forward-looking term rates calculated based on reference bank submissions have been discontinued, including all currency-tenor pairs of the London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR), the Canadian Dollar Offered Rate (CDOR) and the Bloomberg Short-Term Bank Yield Index (BSBY). Among the issues contributing to the decisions to cease such rates, official and private sector commentary, including from the Financial Stability Board and relevant regulatory bodies in the United States, the UK and Canada, often cited a lack of executed transactions in the applicable underlying market from which to calculate such rates. The Financial Stability Board stated that "when the conditions in the local market do not allow pure transaction rates, i.e., ones derived mechanically from transacted data without use of expert judgement ... rates [should be] derived on a waterfall of different data types: underlying market transactions first, then transactions in related markets, then committed quotes, and then indicative quotes." The volume of executed transactions in the Japanese yen unsecured call markets is extremely limited. According to the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator's March 31, 2026 "Result of a Periodic Review of the JBA TIBOR Operational Framework" (the "Periodic Review"), no more than one percent of the rate submissions for the one-, three- and six-month tenors of Yen TIBOR during the period from January 6, 2025 through December 30, 2025 were based on executed transactions. As a result, reference banks submitting quotes to the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator rely heavily on indicative quotes. According to the Periodic Review, approximately 99% of the rate submissions for the one-, three- and six-month tenors of Yen TIBOR during the same period were based on indicative quotes or second-level inputs. The low volume of executed transactions in the Japanese yen unsecured call markets and resulting reliance on indicative quotes for rate submissions to the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator may indicate a lack of robustness of Yen TIBOR, which could make it more likely that Yen TIBOR will cease in the future. In addition, such reliance on indicative quotes may make Yen TIBOR more susceptible to manipulation than a rate calculated primarily on the basis of observable, executed transactions in the underlying market.

In addition, there a number of competing references rates exist in the Japanese market, including TONA and TORF. The adoption of TONA in the Japanese market reflects a trend in many international markets, supported be relevant regulatory authorities, toward the adoption of overnight risk-free rates in place of forward-looking term benchmarks that seek to represent an element of bank credit risk. In certain other markets, such as the United States, the UK and Canada, such overnight risk-free rates have been widely adopted. If TONA, TORF or any other rates become more widely adopted, then market acceptance of Yen TIBOR could lessen, which could adversely affect the liquidity of the notes and could make it more likely that Yen TIBOR would cease.

In addition, the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator has stated that the definition or the calculation method of Yen TIBOR may be reviewed in the future, and the publication of Yen TIBOR may be suspended in response to the changes in the unsecured call markets in Japan.

At this time, it is not possible to predict the effect of any such trends or changes, any establishment of alternative reference rates or any other reforms to Yen TIBOR that may be implemented.

If the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer) determines that a Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Event has occurred with respect to Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity, the Issuer or its designee will determine a Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate and related adjustments to such rate and other terms and provisions of the Yen TIBOR Notes in accordance with Additional Note Condition 4(g) (Benchmark Replacement – Yen TIBOR), which shall be binding on the Issuer and the investors in the Yen TIBOR Notes. In so acting, the Issuer or its designee would assume no obligations or relationship of agency or trust, including, but not limited to, any fiduciary duties or obligations, for or with any of the investors in the Yen TIBOR Notes. Any of the factors noted above could adversely affect the Rate of Interest on the Yen TIBOR Notes, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the Notes.

The Yen TIBOR Applicable Fallback Rate for Yen TIBOR may not be a suitable replacement for Yen TIBOR.

The terms of the Yen TIBOR Notes will provide for a waterfall of alternative rates to be used to determine the Rate of Interest on the Yen TIBOR Notes if a Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Event and a related Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Effective Date occur with respect to Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity. The first alternative rate in the waterfall is Fallback Rate (TONA), which is a term-adjusted rate calculated by reference to the TONA, compounded-in-arrears and adjusted by a spread relating to Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity. Fallback Rate (TONA) is to be provided by BISL or a successor. If a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Event and a related Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date occur with respect to Fallback Rate (TONA), the second alternative rate in the waterfall is Compounded TONA, which represents term-adjusted TONA compounded-in-arrears, plus a spread relating to Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity, calculated by the Calculation Agent by reference to the Bloomberg IBOR Fallback Rate Adjustments Rule Book. Yen TIBOR is a forward-looking term benchmark designed to reflect prevailing rates for the Japanese unsecured call market over specified tenors, calculated by the Yen TIBOR Benchmark Administrator based on submission rates from reference banks, whereas Fallback Rate (TONA) and Compounded TONA are rates based on overnight TONA (which represents the weighted average of call rates for uncollateralized overnight transactions in Japanese yen) compounded in arrears. As a result, Fallback Rate (TONA) and Compounded TONA may not be suitable replacements or successors for Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity. Uncertainty with respect to whether these alternative reference rates are suitable replacements or successors for relating to Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the Notes.

If both Fallback Rate (TONA) and Compounded TONA are not available at the time of a Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Event and related Yen TIBOR Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity, or if a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Event and related Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date occur with respect to such rates, the third alternative rate in the waterfall is the JPY Recommended Rate, which is the rate set by Bank of Japan or a committee officially endorsed or convened by the Bank of Japan at the time of a Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Event and related Yen TIBOR Fallback Index Cessation Effective Date. The JPY Recommended Rate has not been established as of the date of this Offering Circular, and it is not possible to predict the potential composition or characteristics of the JPY Recommended Rate, which may not be a suitable replacement or successor for Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity.

There is no assurance that the characteristics of any of the alternative rates for Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity will be similar to those of Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity. Such alternative rate will not produce the economic equivalent of Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity as a reference rate for interest on the Notes. Although Additional Note Condition 4(g) (Benchmark Replacement – Yen TIBOR) provides for term and spread adjustments to TONA-based and other rates in order to attempt to make the resulting rate comparable to Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity, such adjustments will not make the alternative rate equivalent to Yen TIBOR for the Specified Maturity.

(p) Risks Relating to KRW CMT Rate Notes

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes that reference or bear interest by reference to the KRW CMT Rate ("KRW CMT Rate Notes").

Regulation, reform and the actual or potential discontinuation of the KRW CMT Rate may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for KRW CMT Rate Notes.

In the past, when the Korean Financial Benchmark Act (the "Financial Benchmark Act") was introduced in response to the EU BMR, the Financial Supervisory Service reviewed the KRW CMT Rate as a potential critical benchmark for designation and management. However, the KRW CMT Rate has not yet been designated as a key benchmark under the Financial Benchmark Act, nor have the Korean bond appraisers that calculate this benchmark been designated as a critical benchmark calculation agency. It is unclear whether KRW CMT Rate will be designated as a key benchmark under the Financial Benchmark Act in the future. The Financial Benchmark Act could have a material impact on any KRW CMT Rate Notes, in particular, if the methodology or other terms of the KRW CMT Rate are changed in order to comply with the requirements of the Financial Benchmark Act. Such changes could, amongst other things, have the effect of reducing, increasing or otherwise affecting the volatility of the published rate or level of the KRW CMT Rate.

(q) Risks relating to Notes for which Compounded Daily or Weighted Average Daily is specified in the Applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Reference Rate is to be determined

The following discussion of risks relates to Floating Rate Notes and Notes for which Compounded Daily or Weighted Average Daily is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Reference Rate is to be determined (including, for the avoidance of doubt, such Notes for which Index Determination is specified as the Determination Convention).

Where Compounded Daily or Weighted Average Daily is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Reference Rate is to be determined, the Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate, as applicable, will be based on a compounded average of the Applicable RFR, which is relatively new in the marketplace.

Where Compounded Daily or Weighted Average Daily is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Reference Rate is to be determined, for each Interest Period, the Rate of Interest on the relevant Series of Notes will be based on a compounded or simple weighted average of the Applicable RFR calculated as described in Additional Note Condition 3(b). For this and other reasons, the Rate of Interest on such a Series of Notes during any Interest Period may not be the same as the rate of interest on other investments bearing interest at a rate based on the Applicable RFR that use an alternative method to determine the applicable Rate of Interest. Further, if the Applicable RFR in respect of a particular date that is used to calculate the applicable Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate, as applicable, with respect to a Series of Notes is negative, the inclusion of the Applicable RFR in the calculation of the applicable Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate, as applicable, for the applicable Interest Period will reduce the Rate of Interest and the interest payable on such Series of Notes for such Interest Period.

The method for calculating a rate of interest based upon a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate (for example, conditions relating to payment delays, observation periods/lookbacks and/or lockout/suspension periods) in market precedents varies. In addition, limited market precedent exists for securities that use certain Compounded Daily Reference Rates (in particular those based on AONIA, CORRA, €STR, Overnight TIIE, SARON and TONA) and Weighted Average Daily Reference Rates as the reference rate. The variation in the market practice could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the Notes using a Compounded Daily Reference Rate and Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate. In addition, the specific formula and related Determination Conventions (for example, Payment Delay, Observation Period, Lag, Rate Cut-Off or Index Determination), if any, used for a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate and Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate that the Issuer may issue may not be widely adopted (or not be adopted at all) or may not continue to be utilized by other market participants. Adoption by the market of, or transition by the market to, a different calculation method from the formula and Determination Convention, if any, applicable to a particular Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate likely would adversely affect the market value of such Series of Notes.

In addition, if the Determination Convention with respect to a Note is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be Index Determination, the Compounded Daily Reference Rate will be determined by reference to one of the following compounded indices (as specified in the applicable Final Terms), each of which began publication only recently: the SOFR Index (which began publication 20 March, 2020), SONIA Compounded Index (which began publication 3 August, 2020), the TONA Compounded Index (which began publication 15 March, 2021), the €STR Compounded Index (which began publication 15 April 2021) or the CORRA Compounded Index (which began publication April 2021) (together, the "RFR Compounded Indices"). As of the date of this Offering Circular, the TONA Compounded Index and the €STR Compounded Index have not been widely adopted by market participants, and it may not be widely adopted in the future. If the market adopts a different calculation method, it would likely adversely affect the market value of the applicable Series of Notes.

Interest payments due on a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate will be determined only at the end of the relevant Interest Period.

Interest payments due on a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate will be determined only at the end of the relevant Interest Period. Therefore, investors in any Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate will not know the amount of interest payable with respect to each Interest Period until shortly prior to the related Interest Payment Date, and it may be difficult for investors in such Notes to estimate reliably the amounts of interest that will be payable on each such Interest Payment Date at the beginning of or during the relevant Interest Period. In addition, some investors may be unwilling or unable to trade such Notes without changes to their information technology systems, both of which could adversely impact the liquidity and trading price of any Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate.

With respect to a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate and for which the applicable Determination Convention is Payment Delay or Rate Cut-Off, it will not be possible to calculate accrued interest with respect to any period until after the applicable Rate Cut-Off Date or the end of such period, as applicable.

With respect to a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate and for which the applicable Determination Convention is Payment Delay or Rate Cut-Off, because the Applicable RFR in respect of a given day generally will not be published until the Banking Day immediately following such day, it will not be possible to calculate accrued interest with respect to any period for such Notes until after the Rate Cut-Off Date or the end of such period, which may adversely affect the ability to trade such Notes in the secondary market.

With respect to a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using a Determination Convention for which a Rate Cut-Off Date is applicable, pursuant to the formula used to determine the applicable Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate for such Series of Notes for an applicable Interest Period, the Applicable RFR used in such calculation for any day from, and including, the applicable Rate Cut-Off Date to, but excluding, the relevant Interest Payment Date (or Maturity or Optional Redemption Date, if applicable) will be the Applicable RFR for the applicable Rate Cut-Off Date, determined in accordance with the provisions of the applicable Determination Convention.

The formula used to determine the Reference Rate for any Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using the Payment Delay Determination Convention employs a Rate Cut-Off Date for the final Interest Period. In addition, the formula used to determine the Reference Rate for any Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using the Rate Cut-Off Determination Convention employs, and the formula used to determine the Reference Rate for any Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using the Lag Determination Convention may employ, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms, a Rate Cut-Off Date for each Interest Period with respect to such Notes.

A holder of any Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using the Payment Delay Determination Convention will not receive the benefit of any increase in the level of the Applicable RFR on any date subsequent to the applicable Rate Cut-Off Date in connection with the determination of the interest payable with respect to the final Interest Period. A holder of any Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using the Rate Cut-Off Determination Convention or, if the applicable Final Terms specifies that a Rate Cut-Off Date is applicable, the Lag Determination Convention, will not receive the benefit, in connection with the determination of the interest payable with respect to any Interest Period, of any increase in the level of the Applicable RFR on any date subsequent to the applicable Rate Cut-Off Date. The amount of interest that may otherwise be payable with respect to a particular Interest Period for an applicable Series of Notes may be reduced as a result of the application of an applicable Rate Cut-Off Date.

Holders of a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using the Payment Delay Determination Convention will receive payments of interest on a delayed basis.

The Interest Payment Dates for any Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using the Payment Delay Determination Convention with respect to the determination of the Rate of Interest and interest payments will be two Business Days (or such other number of Business Days as the Issuer may specify in the applicable Final Terms) after the Interest Period Demarcation Date at the end of each Interest Period for such Series. This convention differs from the interest payment convention that has been used historically for floating-rate debt securities with rates of interest based on other benchmark or market rates, such as LIBOR, where interest typically has been paid on a fixed day that immediately follows the final day of the applicable Interest Period. As a result, holders of a Series of Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using the Payment Delay Determination Convention will receive payments of interest on a delayed basis as compared to traditional floating-rate debt securities without the Payment Delay Determination Convention in which they previously may have invested.

Risks Relating to a TEC Rate

The following discussion of risks relates to Notes linked to a TEC Rate.

A TEC Rate represents the actuarial yield rate of a hypothetical French government bond with a constant maturity as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

As at the date of this Offering Circular, the CNO-TEC indices (including a TEC Rate) are calculated and administered by the Banque de France pursuant to a methodology established by the Comité de Normalisation Obligatoire. The Banque de France has communicated that the administration, calculation, licensing and commercialisation of the CNO-TEC indices (including a TEC Rate) is in the process of being transferred to Euronext Paris S.A. (or an affiliate thereof) ("Euronext"). While the methodology for the CNO-TEC indices is expected to remain substantively unchanged, Euronext will progressively assume the role of index administrator, and the Banque de France will progressively step out of such role. In connection with such transfer, the information service pages on which a TEC Rate is displayed (including, without limitation, the Bloomberg and Reuters/Refinitiv ticker codes) may change to reflect the new administrator. As at the date of this Offering Circular, the new ticker codes have not been confirmed. Investors should be aware that the transfer of administration to Euronext, including any change to information service pages or ticker codes, may affect the manner in which a TEC Rate is observed or determined pursuant to the terms and conditions of Notes linked to a TEC Rate. The provisions of the Notes provide for observation of a TEC Rate on the Relevant Screen Page (or any successor page or service), and accordingly the Calculation Agent will observe a TEC Rate on such page as may be applicable from time to time, including any successor page maintained by or on behalf of Euronext (or any further successor administrator).

The potential discontinuation or replacement of a TEC Rate could arise from changes in market conditions, regulatory developments, or shifts in the financial policies of the French government. Such changes could lead to a TEC Rate performing differently than in the past, becoming unavailable, or being replaced by an alternative reference rate. The volatility of a TEC Rate is influenced by various factors affecting interest rates generally, including but not limited to: (i) changes to the financial condition or credit rating of the French government; (ii) the actual or perceived credit quality of the French government; (iii) sentiment regarding the French, EU and global economies; (iv) expectations regarding the level of price inflation; (v) sentiment regarding credit quality in the French, EU and global credit markets; (vi) central bank policy regarding interest rates; and (vii) performance of capital markets.

Investors should be aware that any modifications to the calculation or publication of a TEC Rate could affect the value and performance of the Notes linked to a TEC Rate. Additionally, the potential for discontinuation or replacement of a TEC Rate with an alternative reference rate could introduce uncertainties and risks similar to those associated with other rates that have been subject to benchmark reform. In particular, the transfer of the role of administrator from the Banque de France to Euronext may result in operational or administrative changes, including changes to the publication time, the information service pages or screens on which a TEC Rate is published, or the commercial terms on which access to a TEC Rate is made available. While no disruption to the ongoing calculation of the CNO-TEC indices is expected to result from such transfer, there can be no assurance that the transition will not adversely affect the availability, value or performance of a TEC Rate or that the methodology will not be modified in the future by the Comité de Normalisation Obligatoire or any successor body. The terms and conditions of the Notes include fallback provisions (including provisions relating to General Benchmark Transition Events) which would apply in the event of the permanent discontinuation or non-representativeness of a TEC Rate. See the discussion of risks in the risk factor "Risks relating to General Benchmark Transition Provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(a)" below.

(r) Risks relating to General Benchmark Transition Provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(a)

The following discussion of risks relates to Additional Note Condition 4(a) (Benchmark Replacement – General), which is applicable to the following types of Notes (such Notes, "General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes"):

- (i) Floating Rate Notes and Notes for which the Reference Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms is Compounded Daily €STR, Weighted Average Daily €STR, Compounded Daily Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, Weighted Average Daily Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, Compounded Daily SONIA, Weighted Average Daily SONIA, Compounded Daily TONA, Compounded Daily Overnight TIIE, EURIBOR, the Federal Funds Open Rate, the Federal Funds Target Rate, the TEC Rate, the KRW CD 91 Rate, TORF or the KRW CMT Rate;
- (ii) Notes for which any of the Reference Rates identified in (i) above or €STR, the Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, SONIA or TONA, Overnight TIIE, EURIBOR, the KRW CD 91 Rate, TORF or the KRW CMT Rate is otherwise to be used in the calculation of any amounts due under such Notes; and
- (iii) Notes for which "Benchmark Replacement - General" provisions are specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms.

The selection of a General Benchmark Replacement could adversely affect the return on, value of or market for affected Notes

If, with respect to a Series of General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes, the Issuer or its designee, after consulting with the Issuer, determines that a General Benchmark Transition Event and related General Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the General Benchmark set forth in the applicable Final Terms for such Series as of the Issue Date of such Series, the applicable General Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current General Benchmark for all purposes relating to such Notes. If a particular General Benchmark Replacement or General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment cannot be determined, then the next-available General Benchmark Replacement or General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment will apply. These replacement rates and adjustments may be selected or formulated by (i) the General Relevant Governmental Body or (ii) in certain circumstances, the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Issuer's affiliate), after consulting with the Issuer.

In addition, the terms of the General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes expressly authorise the Issuer or its designee (which may be the Issuer's affiliate), after consulting with the Issuer, in connection with a General Benchmark Replacement to make General Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes with respect to, among other things, the determination of Interest Periods and the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest and other administrative matters. The application of a General Benchmark Replacement and General Benchmark Replacement Adjustment, and any implementation of General Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes, could result in adverse consequences to the Rate of Interest or amount of interest payable on the General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes, which could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for such General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes, and the price at which investors may be able to sell such General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes.

Moreover, certain determinations, decisions and elections with respect to the General Benchmark Replacement and any General Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes, or (where applicable) the occurrence or non-occurrence of a General Benchmark Transition Event, may require the exercise of discretion and the making of subjective judgements by the Issuer or its designee (after consulting with the Issuer). Any determination, decision or election made by the Issuer or its designee pursuant to the general benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(a) will, if made by the Issuer, be made in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner and, if made by the Issuer's designee, be made after consultation with the Issuer and, in each case, will become effective without consent from the Holders of the affected General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes or any other party. The Issuer may designate an entity to make any determination, decision or election that the Issuer has the right to make in connection with the general benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(a). Any designee that the Issuer may appoint in connection with these determinations, decisions or elections may be the Issuer's affiliate. When performing such functions, potential conflicts of interest may exist between the Issuer, its designee (or the Calculation Agent, as the case may be) and Holders of the General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes and making such potentially subjective determinations may adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes. All determinations by the Issuer or its designee in the Issuer's or the designee's discretion will be conclusive for all purposes and binding on the Issuer and the Holders of the applicable General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes absent manifest error.

Further, (i) the composition and characteristics of any General Benchmark Replacement for a Series of General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes will not be the same as those of the General Benchmark set forth in the applicable Final Terms for such Series as of the Issue Date of such Series, the General Benchmark Replacement will not be the economic equivalent of such General Benchmark for a Series of General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes, there can be no assurance that such General Benchmark Replacement will perform in the same way as such General Benchmark for a Series of General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes would have at any time and there is no guarantee that the General Benchmark Replacement will be a comparable substitute for such General Benchmark for a Series of General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes (each of which means that a General Benchmark Transition Event could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for the applicable Series of General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes), (ii) any failure of the General Benchmark Replacement to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the relevant Series of General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes, (iii) the General Benchmark Replacement may have a very limited history and the future performance of the General Benchmark Replacement may not be able to be predicted based on historical performance, (iv) the secondary trading market for debt securities linked to the General Benchmark Replacement may be limited and (v) the administrator of the General Benchmark Replacement may make changes that could change the value of the General Benchmark Replacement or discontinue the General Benchmark Replacement and would not have any obligation to consider the interests of investors in the relevant Series of General Benchmark Replacement Provision Notes in doing so.

DESCRIPTION OF THE COLLATERAL ARRANGEMENTS RELATING TO SECURED INSTRUMENTS

The following is a description of the security and collateral arrangements in relation to Instruments (such Instruments being hereinafter referred to as Secured Instruments) to which the Secured Instruments Conditions are specified as being applicable in the applicable Final Terms.

Terms used but not otherwise defined in this description shall have the meaning given to them in the relevant Secured Instruments Conditions.

1. General

MLBV may issue Secured Notes and Secured W&C Instruments. References herein to "Issuer" shall be to MLBV.

Each Series of Secured Instruments will be issued by the Issuer and will be secured by a pool of collateral assets, segregated in the books and records of the Custodian, provided by Merrill Lynch International in its capacity as Secured Instruments Collateral Provider (the "Secured Instruments Collateral Provider"). The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider has entered into a custody agreement with The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch (in such capacity, the "Custodian"), which provides for the establishment of cash accounts and securities accounts in the name of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider. For each Series of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall instruct The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch (in such capacity, the "Collateral Agent") to open segregated collateral accounts (each, a "Segregated Collateral Account") in accordance with the provisions of a triparty account control agreement to be entered into between the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Collateral Agent and the Security Agent (as defined below) (each, a "Triparty Account Control Agreement"). Secured Instruments may be issued under the (a) Additional Terms and Conditions for Secured Static/Floating Instruments set out in Annex 13 to the Offering Circular ("Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions"), pursuant to which the Segregated Collateral Assets will be separated into MTM Collateral Assets and Static Collateral Assets and (b) Additional Terms and Conditions for Secured Fully Floating Instruments set out in Annex 14 to the Offering Circular ("Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions" and, together with the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions, the "Secured Instruments Conditions"). Each Series of Secured Instruments issued under the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions will benefit from a deed of charge (each a "Bilateral Deed of Charge"), which will be governed by English law, granted by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider. Each Series of Secured Instruments issued under the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions will benefit from either a Bilateral Deed of Charge or a triparty deed of charge (each a "Triparty Deed of Charge" and together with each Bilateral Deed of Charge, each a "Deed of Charge"), which will be governed by English law, granted by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider. Under each Deed of Charge, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will grant first ranking security over the securities contained in the Segregated Collateral Account for the relevant Series of Secured Instruments (the "Segregated Collateral Assets").

Each Series of Secured Instruments issued under the Secured Fully Floating Instrument Conditions for which a Triparty Deed of Charge is executed will also benefit from a security agreement which will be governed by the laws of the Republic of Korea (each a "Korean Law Security Agreement" and together with the Triparty Deed of Charge for the relevant Series of Secured Instruments, the "Security Agreement(s)") granted by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider.

For each Series of Secured Instruments issued under the Secured Fully Floating Instrument Conditions for which a Bilateral Deed of Charge is executed and for each Series of Secured Instruments issued under the Secured Static / Floating Instrument Conditions, "Security Agreement" shall mean only the Bilateral Deed of Charge for such Series of Secured Instruments.

Under each Korean Law Security Agreement, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will grant a first priority continuing security interest (Kun Jil Kwon) in favour of the Security Agent over Korean law governed securities ("Korean Securities") held by it in a local securities account through the Korean sub-custodian designated by the Custodian (the "Korean Securities Account"). For the avoidance of doubt, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will not grant security over the Korean Securities Account (as distinct from any securities credited to such account) or over any securities in the Korean Securities Account other than the Korean Pledged Securities for any Series of Secured Instruments.

The Korean Securities Account is an account of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider which is already opened. All Korean Securities held by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, whether used as collateral for a trade or not are held within the Korean Securities Account. Therefore, any Korean Securities over which the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider grants security in relation to a series of Secured Instruments will be commingled with un-encumbered Korean Securities held by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider for its own account and any Korean Securities subject to a first priority continuing security interest (Kun Jil Kwon) in connection with other series of Secured Instruments or other secured borrowing of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider or any of its affiliates. In addition to the identification of the Korean Pledged Securities in the books and records of the Security Agent for each Series of Secured Instruments, the pledge when recorded against the specific Korean Pledged Securities will record the specific Series of MLBV Notes for which the security has been granted.

For each Series of Secured Instruments for which a Triparty Deed of Charge has been executed, the Korean Securities which are held in the Korean Securities Account and are registered as pledged in respect of such Series of Secured Instruments (the "Korean Pledged Securities") and the Segregated Collateral Assets held in the Segregated Collateral Accounts shall be the "Collateral Assets" and such accounts shall be the "Collateral Accounts".

For each Series of Secured Instruments for which a Bilateral Deed of Charge has been executed, the Segregated Collateral Assets held in the Segregated Collateral Accounts shall be the "Collateral Assets" and such accounts shall be the "Collateral Accounts".

2. Appointment of a Security Agent

In relation to each Series of Secured Instruments, The Bank of New York Mellon has been appointed as security agent (the "Security Agent") and has undertaken to carry out the duties of Security Agent in respect of such Secured Instruments under a New York law governed security agency agreement entered into between, inter alia, the Issuers, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Agent (the "Security Agency Agreement").

In relation to each Series of Secured Instruments, the security granted under each relevant Security Agreement (except the Korean Law Security Agreement) will be granted in favour of the Security Agent or any successor thereto on behalf of itself and the relevant Holders of the Secured Instruments and the other relevant Secured Parties (as defined in the relevant Secured Instruments Conditions) under the Security Agency Agreement. The security granted under the Korean Law Security Agreement will be granted in favour of the Security Agent or any successor thereto only.

In performing its role under the Programme, the Security Agent does not act as an advisor to or fiduciary or trustee for the Holders of the Secured Instruments (either as a Series or individually) or any other party and nothing in any of the documents relating to the Programme shall be interpreted to constitute the Security Agent as a trustee or fiduciary of the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Holders of the Secured Instruments or any other party.

3. Nature of Collateral Assets

The Collateral Assets held in the Collateral Accounts and secured pursuant to the relevant Security Agreements are together referred to as the "Collateral Pool".

(a) Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions

In respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply, a Collateral Pool shall be made up of (i) Static Collateral Assets and (ii) MTM Collateral Assets.

The Static Collateral Assets shall comprise of (x) a single debt security (an "Eligible Debt Security") or a basket of Eligible Debt Securities (a "Basket of Eligible Debt Securities") issued by the relevant entity or entities and having the ISIN(s) specified in the applicable Final Terms and (y) debt securities that satisfy all of the Eligibility Criteria (as defined below) applicable to a certain class or type of Eligible MTM Collateral Assets (as defined below) as specified in the applicable Final Terms. Such Static Collateral Assets are referred to as "Eligible Static Collateral Assets". The MTM Collateral Assets may comprise of any of the following:

- cash;
- debt securities (including, but not limited to, government bonds, corporate bonds, covered bonds and asset backed securities);
- equity securities, shares, units or interests in a fund; and/or
- any other negotiable financial instruments in book entry-form.

The MTM Collateral Assets must satisfy the eligibility criteria (the "Eligibility Criteria") specified in the applicable Final Terms relating to such Series of Secured Instruments. MTM Collateral Assets satisfying the relevant Eligibility Criteria are referred to as "Eligible MTM Collateral Assets".

The Eligibility Criteria specified in the applicable Final Terms will set out the criteria which must be met for MTM Collateral Assets to constitute Eligible MTM Collateral Assets and may include limitations on the type of MTM Collateral Assets that may be held, the maturity of the MTM Collateral Assets, the liquidity of the MTM Collateral Assets, requirements regarding the jurisdiction of the issuer of the MTM Collateral Assets or its guarantor or the credit rating of the obligor of the MTM Collateral Assets and/or any other limitations, restrictions and/or requirements concerning the MTM Collateral Assets as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Notwithstanding the Eligibility Criteria specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms in respect of a Series of Secured Instruments, the Collateral Agent shall be obliged to refer only to the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement in determining whether the MTM Collateral Assets comply with the eligibility criteria set out in the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement.

(b) Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions

In respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply, a Collateral Pool shall be made up of Collateral Assets comprising of any of the following:

- cash;
- debt securities (including, but not limited to, government bonds, corporate bonds, covered bonds and asset backed securities);
- equity securities, shares, units or interests in a fund; and/or
- any other negotiable financial instruments in book entry-form.

The Collateral Assets must satisfy the eligibility criteria (the "Eligibility Criteria") specified in the applicable Final Terms relating to such Series of Secured Instruments. Collateral Assets satisfying the relevant Eligibility Criteria are referred to as "Eligible Collateral Assets".

The Eligibility Criteria specified in the applicable Final Terms will set out the criteria which must be met for Collateral Assets to constitute Eligible Collateral Assets and may include limitations on the type of Collateral Assets that may be held, the maturity of the Collateral Assets, the liquidity of the Collateral Assets, requirements regarding the jurisdiction of the issuer of the Collateral Assets or its guarantor or the credit rating of the obligor of the Collateral Assets and/or any other limitations, restrictions and/or requirements concerning the Collateral Assets as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Notwithstanding the Eligibility Criteria specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms in respect of a Series of Secured Instruments, the Collateral Agent shall be obliged to refer only to the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement in determining whether the Collateral Assets comply with the eligibility criteria set out in the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement.

4. Limited Recourse and Non-Petition

By acquiring and holding Secured Instruments, Holders of the Secured Instruments will be deemed to acknowledge and agree that the obligations of the Issuer to the Holders of the Secured Instruments are limited in recourse to the Collateral Assets contained in the relevant Collateral Pool securing such Series of Secured Instruments. In particular, the Collateral Assets contained in any other Collateral Pool will not be available to pay amounts due in respect of any Secured Instruments which are not secured by that Collateral Pool. The Secured Instruments are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity and therefore Holders of the Secured Instruments will have no claim against the Guarantor or any other entity in respect of any such amounts owing to them which remain unpaid.

5. Valuation of Collateral

In order to ensure that a Series of Secured Instruments is collateralised in accordance with its terms, on each Issue Date and relevant Collateral Business Day (each such test date being a "Collateral Test Date"), the actual value of the Collateral Assets will be tested against the required value of the Collateral Assets to be held in the Collateral Accounts to secure the relevant Series of Secured Instruments, as determined in accordance with the provisions of the applicable Secured Instruments Conditions. Merrill Lynch International shall undertake the duties of Secured Instruments valuation agent (the "Secured Instruments Valuation Agent") under the terms of a valuation agency agreement (the "Valuation Agent Agreement"), pursuant to which it will determine values relating to the collateral and provide them to the Collateral Agent as described below:

(a) Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions

On the Collateral Business Day immediately preceding the Collateral Test Date, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent will determine and will send to the Collateral Agent a Collateral Test Notice notifying it of the following: (a) in respect of the Static Collateral Assets, the Static Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required Static Collateral Nominal Amount; and (b) in respect of the MTM Collateral Assets, the MTM Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required MTM Collateral Value. On each Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Agent shall: (a) in respect of the Static Collateral Assets, determine the Pool Aggregate Collateral Nominal Amount and verify if such amount is greater than or equal to the Static Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required Static Collateral Nominal Amount (the "Static Collateral Test"); and (b) in respect of the MTM Collateral Assets, determine the Collateral Value of the MTM Collateral Assets in the Collateral Account and verify if such value is greater than or equal to the MTM Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required MTM Collateral Value (the "MTM Collateral Test").

(i) Static Collateral Assets

(A) Pool Aggregate Collateral Nominal Amount

The Pool Aggregate Collateral Nominal Amount in respect of a Collateral Pool on a relevant date, is an amount in USD (the "Collateral Valuation Currency"), equal to the aggregate nominal amount of the Static Collateral Assets held in the Collateral Account on the relevant date, as determined by the Collateral Agent.

(B) Static Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required Static Collateral Nominal Amount

The Static Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required Static Collateral Nominal Amount is the percentage, as specified in the applicable Final Terms, of, in respect of a Collateral Pool which secures a Series of Secured Instruments and any relevant date, (a) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the total aggregate principal amount of the Non-Waived Instruments of such Series of Secured Instruments; and (b) in respect of Secured Instruments, that are Secured W&C Instruments, the sum of the Notional Amount of each Non-Waived Instrument of such Series of Secured Instruments, each as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.

(ii) MTM Collateral Assets

(A) Collateral Value

The Collateral Value is, in respect of a Collateral Pool and a Collateral Test Date, an amount, expressed in the Collateral Valuation Currency, equal to the sum of the value of the Eligible MTM Collateral Asset in such Collateral Pool on such Collateral Test Date, as determined by the Collateral Agent in accordance with the Collateral Valuation Method.

The Collateral Agent shall calculate the Collateral Value as of the relevant Collateral Valuation Time in the Collateral Valuation Currency. Where the currency of denomination of a Collateral Asset is other than the Collateral Valuation Currency, the Collateral Agent shall convert the value of such Collateral Asset (or other relevant values) at the spot rate equal to the WM/Refinitiv London closing spot mid-rate (16:00 BST/GMT) available on the publication day falling immediately prior to the applicable Collateral Test Date or, in the event that such spot rate is unavailable on such publication day, an alternative spot rate provided by the exchange rate services used generally by the Collateral Agent for such purposes.

(B) MTM Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required MTM Collateral Value

The MTM Collateral Specified Percentage of the Required MTM Collateral Value is the percentage, as specified in the applicable Final Terms, of, in respect of a Collateral Pool and a Collateral Test Date, the greater of zero and the sum of each portion of the Marked-to-Market Derivative Hedge Value at the relevant time that relates to a Non-Waived Instrument of the relevant Series of Secured Instruments which are secured by such Collateral Pool, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent.

(C) Collateral Valuation Method

The Collateral Agent shall use the following methods for valuing the Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool (the "Collateral Valuation Method"):

- (i) if "Margin Method" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the value of any Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool on a Collateral Test Date shall be an amount equal to the quotient of (a) the Market Value of such Collateral Assets on such Collateral Test Date, divided by (b) the applicable Margin Percentage for such Eligible Collateral Class, as determined by the Collateral Agent; and

- (ii) if "Valuation Percentage Method" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the value of the Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool on a Collateral Test Date, shall be an amount equal to the product of (a) the Market Value multiplied by (b) the Valuation Percentage for such Eligible Collateral Class, as determined by the Collateral Agent.

(b) Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions

On the Secured Instrument Valuation Date for each Collateral Test Date, the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent will determine the Required Collateral Value and will send the Collateral Agent a Collateral Test Notice notifying it of such Required Collateral Value. On each Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Agent shall calculate the Collateral Value and verify if such value is greater than or equal to the Required Collateral Value (the "Collateral Test").

(i) Collateral Value

The Collateral Value is an amount equal to the sum of the value of the Collateral Assets in such Collateral Pool in such Collateral Test Date, as determined by the Collateral Agent in accordance with the applicable Collateral Valuation Method.

The Collateral Agent shall calculate the Collateral Value as of the relevant Collateral Valuation Time in the Collateral Valuation Currency. Where the currency of denomination of a Collateral Asset is other than the Collateral Valuation Currency, the Collateral Agent shall convert the value of such Collateral Asset (or other relevant values) at the spot rate equal to the WM/Refinitiv London closing spot mid-rate (16:00 BST/GMT) available on the publication day falling immediately prior to the applicable Collateral Test Date or, in the event that such spot rate is unavailable on such publication day, an alternative spot rate provided by the exchange rate services used generally by the Collateral Agent for such purposes.

(ii) Required Collateral Value

The Required Collateral Value will be calculated by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent on the Issue Date and on each Secured Instrument Valuation Date, as follows:

- (A) where "MV Collateralisation" is specified as being the Type of Collateralisation applicable in the applicable Final Terms relating to a Series of Secured Instruments, the Required Collateral Value shall be equal to the product of (a) the Collateralisation Percentage, (b) the Secured Instrument Market Value and (c) the Relevant Number of Non-Waived Instruments of such Series;
- (B) where "NV Collateralisation" is specified as being the Type of Collateralisation applicable in the applicable Final Terms relating to a Series of Secured Instruments, the Required Collateral Value shall be equal to the product of (a) the Collateralisation Percentage and (b) the total aggregate principal amount or nominal value, as applicable, of the Non-Waived Instruments of such Series;
- (C) where "Min (MV, NV) Collateralisation" is specified as being the Type of Collateralisation applicable in the applicable Final Terms relating to a Series of Secured Instruments, the Required Collateral Value shall be equal to the lower of (a) the product of (1) the Collateralisation Percentage, (2) the Secured Instrument Market Value and (3) the Relevant Number of Non-Waived Instruments and (b) the product of (1) the Collateralisation

Percentage and (2) the total aggregate principal amount or nominal value, as applicable, of the Non-Waived Instruments of such Series; or

- (D) where "Max (MV, NV) Collateralisation" is specified as being the Type of Collateralisation applicable in the applicable Final Terms relating to a Series of Secured Instruments, the Required Collateral Value shall be equal to the greater of (a) the product of (1) the Collateralisation Percentage, (2) the Secured Instrument Market Value and (3) the Relevant Number of Non-Waived Instruments and (b) the product of (1) the Collateralisation Percentage and (2) the total aggregate principal amount or nominal value, as applicable, of the Non-Waived Instruments of such Series.

"Relevant Number" means:

- (a) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, the aggregate principal amount outstanding of Non-Waived Instruments of a Series of Secured Instruments divided by the specified denomination of each Non-Waived Instrument of such Series of Secured Instruments; and
- (b) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, the number of Non-Waived Instruments of such Series of Secured Instruments.

The Collateralisation Percentage relating to a Series of Secured Instruments will be specified in the applicable Final Terms and may specify a different Collateralisation Percentage in respect of different Collateral Test Dates.

6. Adjustments to Collateral Pool and Collateral Agent Notice

(a) Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions

If on the relevant Collateral Test Date the Collateral Agent determines that the Collateral Test is not satisfied, the Collateral Agent will promptly send to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider a Collateral Agent Notice. On the date such Collateral Agent Notice is given, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will instruct the Collateral Agent to transfer sufficient additional Eligible MTM Collateral Assets or Eligible Static Collateral Assets (as applicable) into the relevant Collateral Account to satisfy the Collateral Test.

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will ensure that sufficient Eligible MTM Collateral Assets and Eligible Static Collateral Assets are Delivered into the relevant Collateral Account on or before each Collateral Test Date to satisfy the Collateral Test in respect of such Collateral Test Date for the relevant Series of Secured Instruments.

(b) Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions

If on the relevant Collateral Test Date the Collateral Agent determines that the Collateral Test is not satisfied, the Collateral Agent will promptly send the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider a Collateral Agent Notice. On the date such Collateral Agent Notice is given, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will instruct the Collateral Agent to transfer sufficient additional Eligible Collateral Assets into the relevant Collateral Account (or, in the case of Eligible Collateral Assets held in the Korean Securities Account, to instruct the Collateral Agent to register the pledge in respect of such Eligible Collateral Assets) to satisfy the Collateral Test.

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall ensure that instructions are provided to the Collateral Agent so as to ensure that sufficient Eligible Collateral Assets are Delivered into the relevant Collateral Account (or, in the case of Eligible Collateral Assets held in the Korean Securities Account, the pledge is registered in respect of such Eligible Collateral Assets) on or before each Collateral Test Date to satisfy the Collateral Test in respect of such Collateral Test Date for the relevant Series of Secured Instruments.

For the avoidance of doubt, in relation to Korean Pledged Securities and for the purposes of the Security Agreements and the Triparty Account Control Agreement, "transfers" of the relevant Collateral Assets to the Collateral Accounts may be given effect when held through accounts maintained with certain Clearing Systems as an earmarking of such Collateral Assets as pledged or as a transfer to an account maintained for or on behalf of the Security Agent and such Korean Securities shall be deemed, for the purposes of such agreements, to have been credited to the Collateral Account(s) accordingly.

7. Waived Instruments

In respect of all Secured Instruments held by the Issuer or its Affiliates, including but not limited to, in its capacity as market maker, the Issuer or its Affiliates will be deemed to have waived their rights (a) to receive the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets securing such Series of Secured Instruments (and where "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, delivery of the Static Collateral Assets) following the enforcement of the relevant Security Agreement and Charged Documents or the redemption or cancellation, as applicable, of such Series of Secured Instruments following the occurrence of a Collateral Asset Default and (b) to give an Acceleration Notice on the occurrence of a Secured Instrument Event of Default ("Waived Instruments").

As a consequence, when making various calculations under the Secured Instruments Conditions, including the Required MTM Collateral Value and the Required Static Collateral Nominal Amount (under the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions) and the Required Collateral Value (under the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions), the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall only take into account the value of the Secured Instruments that are not subject to such waiver (any such Secured Instruments being "Non-Waived Instruments").

8. Collateral Substitution

(a) Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may, subject to the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement, withdraw and/or replace MTM Collateral Assets from the relevant Collateral Account provided that following such adjustment the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will send or cause to be sent a notice to the Collateral Agent specifying the adjustments to be made to the Collateral Pool (including inter alia the type and quantity of any MTM Collateral Assets to be deposited and/or removed).

The Issuer and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall not be entitled to withdraw and/or replace Static Collateral Assets from the relevant Collateral Account, on any day provided that the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may on any Collateral Test Date withdraw from the relevant Collateral Account an aggregate nominal amount of Static Collateral Assets equal to the sum of the Notional Amount of each Non-Waived Instrument that is converted into a Waived Instrument if, following such withdrawal, (a) the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied, and (b) if the Eligible Static Collateral Assets specified in the applicable Final Terms are a Basket of Eligible Debt Securities, the aggregate nominal amount of each Eligible Debt Security is equal to the percentage weighting for each such Eligible Debt Security within the Basket of Eligible Debt Securities as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(b) Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may, subject to the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement, withdraw and/or replace Collateral Assets from the relevant Collateral Accounts (or, in the case of Korean Pledged Securities, release the pledge in respect of such Korean Pledged Securities) provided that following such adjustment the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied. The Secured Instruments

Collateral Provider will send or cause to be sent a notice to the Collateral Agent specifying the adjustments to be made to the Collateral Pool (including inter alia the type and quantity of any Eligible Collateral Assets to be deposited/registered and/or Collateral Assets to be removed/released).

9. Early redemption or settlement following the occurrence of a Collateral Disruption Event

(a) Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions

If the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent determines that a Collateral Disruption Event has occurred or is continuing, the Issuer may in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner redeem or cancel all of the relevant Secured Instruments at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (CDE) or, if "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, deliver Static Collateral Assets that make up the Entitlement (CDE) in accordance with the Secured Instruments Conditions. The Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (CDE) will be calculated on the basis of (i) if "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified not to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the market value of the Derivative Hedge entered into by the Issuer and/or its Affiliates to hedge the Issuer's payment obligations plus the proceeds of the liquidation and realisation of the Static Collateral, less any of the hedge unwind costs of the Issuer and/or its Affiliates and costs of realising the Collateral Assets or (ii) if the applicable Final Terms specify "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" to be applicable, the market value of the Derivative Hedge entered into by the Issuer and/or its Affiliates to hedge the Issuer's payment obligations less any hedge unwind costs of the Issuer and/or its Affiliates and costs of realising the Collateral Assets.

Collateral Disruption Events are defined in the Secured Instruments Conditions and include, but are not limited to: (i) a Collateral Asset Default occurs or is continuing, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent; or (ii) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider being (A) unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to acquire the necessary Collateral Assets or (B) subject to materially increased costs in acquiring Collateral Assets; or (iii) the Issuer being unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to find a suitable substitute or replacement Collateral Arrangement Party (as defined below) following the termination of the relevant agreements or resignation or removal, for any reason, of any Collateral Arrangement Party.

(b) Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions

If the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent determines that a Collateral Disruption Event has occurred or is continuing, the Issuer may in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner redeem or cancel all of the relevant Secured Instruments at the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount following the occurrence of a Collateral Disruption Event. The Early Redemption/Settlement Amount will be calculated on the basis of the fair market value of such Secured Instrument less any hedge unwind costs of the Issuer and/or its Affiliates.

Collateral Disruption Events are defined in the Secured Instruments Conditions and include, but are not limited to: (i) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider being (A) unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to acquire the necessary Collateral Assets or (B) subject to materially increased costs in acquiring Collateral Assets; or (ii) the Issuer being unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to find a suitable substitute or replacement Collateral Arrangement Party (as defined below) following the termination of the relevant agreements or resignation or removal, for any reason, of any Collateral Arrangement Party.

For the avoidance of doubt, the occurrence of a Collateral Disruption Event will not constitute a Secured Instrument Event of Default.

10. Early redemption or settlement following the occurrence of a Collateral Trigger Event under the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions

If a "Collateral Trigger Event" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent determines that a Collateral Trigger Event has occurred or is continuing, the Issuer shall redeem or cancel all of the relevant Secured Instruments at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (CTE) and, if "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, deliver Static Collateral Assets that make up the Entitlement (CTE) (including payment of any Fractional Cash Amount (CTE)) in accordance with the Secured Instruments Conditions. The Early Redemption/Settlement Amount (CTE) will be calculated on the basis of (i) if "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified not to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the intra-day market value of the Derivative Hedge entered into by the Issuer and/or its Affiliates to hedge the Issuer's payment obligations plus the proceeds of the liquidation and realisation of the Static Collateral, less any of the hedge unwind costs of the Issuer and/or its Affiliates and costs of realising the Collateral Assets or (ii) if the applicable Final Terms specify "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" to be applicable, the intra-day market value of the Derivative Hedge entered into by the Issuer and/or its Affiliates to hedge the Issuer's payment obligations less any hedge unwind costs of the Issuer and/or its Affiliates and costs of realising the Collateral Assets.

A Collateral Trigger Event shall have occurred if the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent determines that, at any time on a day during the relevant observation period, the value of a Secured Instrument of the relevant Series is (a) if "less than the Collateral Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than the Collateral Trigger Level or (b) if "less than or equal to the Collateral Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than or equal to the Collateral Trigger Level. The Collateral Trigger Level will be specified in the applicable Final Terms. The value of the relevant Secured Instruments will be determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent as an amount equal to the sum of (x) the intra-day market value of the portion of the Derivative Hedge that relates to such Secured Instruments and (y) the intra-day market value of the relevant Static Collateral Assets that relate to such Secured Instruments.

The intra-day market value of the Derivative Hedge and of the Static Collateral Assets shall be determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent by reference to such factors as it considers to be appropriate in its discretion, including without limitation:

- (a) in respect of the Derivative Hedge, the present value of the future payment obligations of the Issuer under the relevant Secured Instruments minus the present value of the future cash flows of the Static Collateral Assets that secure such Secured Instruments, and taking into account:
 - (i) spot and forward market prices or values for the underlying asset(s) of the Derivative Hedge and other relevant economic variables (such as interest rates and exchange rates);
 - (ii) the correlation between the market prices or value of the underlying asset(s) of the Derivative Hedge and other relevant economic variables;
 - (iii) historic and implied volatility of the market prices or value of the underlying asset(s) of the Derivative Hedge;
 - (iv) the remaining time until expiry of the Derivative Hedge;
 - (v) internal pricing models;
 - (vi) prices at which other market participants might bid for similar Derivative Hedge; and
 - (vii) the valuation using relevant economic variables of the cash flows and/or coupon payments of the Static Collateral Assets that secure such Secured Instruments;
- (b) in respect of the relevant Static Collateral Assets:

- (i) bid prices (if available) for a nominal amount of such Static Collateral Assets equal to the minimum nominal amount that may be quoted for bids on the screen page specified in the applicable Final Terms; and
- (ii) internal pricing models.

11. Early redemption or settlement following the occurrence of a MTM Trigger Event under the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions

If a "MTM Trigger Event" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent determines that a MTM Trigger Event has occurred or is continuing, the Issuer shall redeem or cancel all of the relevant Secured Instruments at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount in accordance with the Secured Instruments Conditions.

A MTM Trigger Event shall have occurred if the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent determines that, at any time between 5.00 a.m. Sydney time to 5.00 p.m. New York City time (or such other times specified in the applicable Final Terms) on a business day during the relevant observation period, the market value of a Secured Instrument of the relevant Series is (a) if "less than the MTM Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than the MTM Trigger Level or (b) if "less than or equal to the MTM Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than or equal to the MTM Trigger Level. The MTM Trigger Level will be specified in the applicable Final Terms. The market value of a Secured Instrument shall be determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent by reference to such factors as it considers to be appropriate in its discretion, including without limitation:

- (a) market prices or values for any underlying asset(s) to which the Secured Instruments are linked and other relevant economic variables (such as interest rates and, if applicable, exchange rates) at the relevant time;
- (b) the remaining term of the Secured Instruments until their scheduled exercise and final settlement;
- (c) internal pricing models; and
- (d) prices at which other market participants might bid for securities similar to the Secured Instruments.

12. Default in provision of Collateral Assets

A "Required Collateral Default" shall occur if, following receipt by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider of a Collateral Agent Notice which indicates that the Collateral Test is not satisfied (or will not be satisfied after taking into account any adjustments specified in a Collateral Test Notice), (a) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider fails to instruct the Collateral Agent to transfer sufficient additional Eligible Collateral Assets; (b) the additional necessary Eligible Collateral Assets are not Delivered into the relevant Collateral Account on the next Collateral Business Day; and/or (c) in the case of Eligible Collateral Assets held in the Korean Securities Account, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider fails to instruct the Collateral Agent to register the pledge and/or such pledge is not actually registered and such failure results in the Collateral Test not being satisfied for one Collateral Business Day following the delivery of such Collateral Agent Notice.

Following the occurrence of a Required Collateral Default, the Collateral Agent will send a notice (a "Required Collateral Default Notice") to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Agent, specifying that a Required Collateral Default has occurred. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall notify the Issuer of the Required Collateral Default Notice. The Security Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving a Required Collateral Default Notice give notice to the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent will give notice as soon as reasonably practicable to all relevant Holders of the receipt of a Required Collateral Default Notice.

13. Secured Instrument Event of Default

The Secured Instruments are subject to various events of default (each a "Secured Instrument Event of Default"), including, but not limited to, (i) the Issuer's failure to pay Additional Tax Amounts and Cash Settlement Amounts or to deliver any Entitlement, (ii) insolvency proceedings against the Issuer, (iii) the occurrence of a Required Collateral Default, or (iv) a failure by the Issuer and/or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to comply with or perform its obligations under the Security Agency Agreement or any relevant Security Agreement.

If a Secured Instrument Event of Default occurs and is continuing with respect to any Series of Secured Instruments, then any Holder may, at its option, send an Acceleration Notice (together with proof of satisfactory holding) (i) in the case of Secured Instruments held through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, through the relevant Clearing System to the relevant Instrument Agent and (ii) in the case of Secured Instruments held through The Depository Trust Corporation, directly to the relevant Instrument Agent (and in the case of either (i) or (ii), with a copy to the Security Agent).

The Security Agent is not obliged to act on any Acceleration Notice unless Holder(s) of at least 33 per cent. (a) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, in aggregate principal amount of such Non-Waived Instruments or (b) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable), of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding have sent Acceleration Notice(s) to the relevant Instrument Agent (with a copy to the Security Agent), and if any default is not waived or cured in accordance with the Secured Instruments Conditions (an "Acceleration Event" in respect of such Series of Secured Instruments).

At the time and on the date when an Acceleration Event has occurred, the Acceleration Notice(s) shall be deemed to be an effective acceleration instruction (the "Acceleration Instruction"), and the Security Agent shall thereby be instructed to, inter alia, enforce the security constituted by the relevant Security Agreements and distribute the proceeds (and, if applicable, physically settle the Entitlement), in each case, in accordance with its terms, the Secured Instruments Conditions and the Security Agency Agreement.

Upon an effective Acceleration Instruction, the Security Agent shall (acting in accordance with such Acceleration Instruction), inter alia, as soon as reasonably practicable, (i) deliver a Collateral Enforcement Notice to each of the Issuer, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the relevant Instrument Agent, (ii) give notice to the relevant Instrument Agent of, inter alia, the occurrence of an Acceleration Event, upon which the relevant Instrument Agent will give notice of the same to all relevant Holders, and (iii) appoint a Disposal Agent, if a Disposal Agent has not already been appointed.

14. Collateral Enforcement

(a) Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions

Following delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) shall enforce the security constituted by the relevant Deed of Charge relating to the relevant Collateral Pool in accordance with the terms thereof and the Secured Instruments Conditions and the terms of the Security Agency Agreement and will give instructions to the Disposal Agent to effect a liquidation and realisation of the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures such Series of Secured Instruments: (i) by liquidating or realising all Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool; or (ii) where "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms: (A) firstly, by liquidating or realising the MTM Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool in accordance with the Secured Instruments Conditions; (B) secondly, to the extent the proceeds available following the liquidation and realisation of the MTM Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool are insufficient to make payment of any amounts payable to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of the Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms, by liquidating or realising an amount of Static Collateral Assets sufficient to make the remainder of such payments in accordance with Secured Instruments; and (C) thirdly, by liquidating or realising an amount of Static Collateral Assets to cover any outstanding hedge unwind costs; provided that, in the case of (B) and (C), if the Static Collateral Assets are a Basket of Eligible Debt Securities, the amount of each Eligible Debt Security liquidated or realised should be proportionate to the percentage weighting for each such Eligible Debt Security within the Basket of Eligible Debt Securities as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

The Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent) will (i) liquidate or realise the MTM Collateral Assets and, if applicable, the Static Collateral Assets and distribute the relevant Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share to the relevant Holders or (ii) where "Physical Delivery of Static Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, arrange for delivery of the Entitlement to the relevant Holders, in each case in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms and the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions.

(b) Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions

Following receipt of a Collateral Enforcement Notice, the Security Agent (acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction) shall enforce the security constituted by the relevant Security Agreements relating to the relevant Collateral Pool in accordance with the terms thereof and the Secured Instruments Conditions and the terms of the Security Agency Agreement and will give instructions to the Disposal Agent to (i) liquidate or realise the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool and subsequently distribute the relevant Collateral Enforcement Proceeds Share to the relevant Holders or (ii) where "Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, arrange for delivery of the relevant Entitlement to the relevant Holders, in each case in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms and the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions.

15. Enforcement and realisation by Holders

No Holder shall be entitled to enforce a Security Agreement or to proceed directly against the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to enforce the other provisions of a Charged Document unless the Security Agent, having become bound to so enforce or proceed, fails so to do within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Agent is prevented from enforcing a Security Agreement by any court order. If a Holder becomes so entitled, then such Holder shall not be entitled to enforce the relevant Security Agreement or Charged Document in the United Kingdom.

If the Security Agent becomes bound to enforce a Security Agreement or a Charged Document and fails to do so within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Agent is prevented from enforcing a Security Agreement by any court order, then, without prejudice to the paragraph above, Holder(s) of at least 33 per cent. (a) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured Notes, in aggregate principal amount of such Non-Waived Instruments or (b) in respect of Secured Instruments that are Secured W&C Instruments, in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable), of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding may remove the Security Agent and appoint a replacement Security Agent in accordance with the Secured Instruments Conditions and the terms of the Security Agency Agreement.

Neither the Issuer nor any Holder shall be entitled to enforce a Triparty Account Control Agreement or the Custodian Agreement or to proceed directly against the Collateral Agent or the Custodian to enforce the terms of the relevant Triparty Account Control Agreement or the Custodian Agreement (as applicable). Neither the Collateral Agent nor the Custodian shall have any liability to the Issuer or any Holder as to the consequence of any actions taken by the Collateral Agent or Custodian (as applicable).

16. Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event

Where "Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, in certain circumstances, if, in the opinion of the Security Agent or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), delivery of all or some of the Static Collateral Assets (in respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Static/Floating Instruments Conditions apply) or the Collateral Assets (in respect of Secured Instruments to which the Secured Fully Floating Instruments Conditions apply) forming part of the Entitlement is not possible for a specified period of time, then the Security Agent, or the Disposal Agent (acting on behalf of and at the instruction of the Security Agent), in lieu of physical settlement, may sell or realise such undeliverable Static Collateral Assets or Collateral Assets, as applicable, and deliver the proceeds thereof to Holders.

17. Replacement of Collateral Arrangement Parties

Each of the Collateral Transaction Documents contains, or will contain, provisions for the termination of such agreement and, as the case may be, the removal or replacement of the role of the relevant party appointed thereunder (each a "Collateral Arrangement Party"). Any such termination, removal and/or replacement will be effected in accordance with the provisions of such agreements and (other than in respect of the Custodian or the Collateral Agent) the Secured Instruments Conditions and may be effected without the consent of Holders. No such termination or removal shall be effective until a replacement entity has been appointed. The Secured Instruments Valuation Agent shall be required to give notice to Holders of any such termination, removal and/or replacement.

A replacement Collateral Arrangement Party may only be appointed when the following conditions are fulfilled: the replacement Collateral Arrangement Party (other than the replacement Custodian or Collateral Agent): (i) is an institution incorporated and in good standing in the United States of America or one of the States thereof or in a state which is, as at the date of the relevant Collateral Transaction Document, a member state of the European Union or the United Kingdom; (ii) has the requisite resources and legal capacity to perform the duties imposed upon the relevant existing Collateral Arrangement Party under the relevant Collateral Transaction Document and is a recognised provider of the services provided by such Collateral Arrangement Party; (iii) is legally qualified and has the capacity to act as successor to the relevant Collateral Arrangement Party on the terms of the relevant Collateral Transaction Document; and (iv) whose performance of its duties under the relevant Collateral Transaction Document will not cause the Issuer and/or Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to become subject to tax in any jurisdiction where such successor is incorporated, established, doing business, has a permanent establishment or is otherwise considered a tax resident. The Security Agency Agreement contains, or will contain, provisions for the termination of such agreement and the removal or replacement of the Security Agent appointed thereunder. Any such termination, removal and/or replacement will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the Security Agency Agreement and may be effected without the consent of Holders. No such termination or removal shall be effective until a replacement Security Agent has been appointed.

DESCRIPTION OF THE COLLATERAL ARRANGEMENTS RELATING TO SECURED EUROCLEAR COLLATERAL SERVICE (ECS) INSTRUMENTS

The collateral for Secured ECS Instruments will be held in Euroclear. The collateral for all other Secured Instruments is held with The Bank of New York, London Branch.

The following is a description of the security and collateral arrangements in relation to Instruments (such Instruments being hereinafter referred to as Secured ECS Instruments) to which the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions are specified as being applicable in the applicable Final Terms, and is subject to the detailed terms of the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions.

Terms used but not otherwise defined in this description shall have the meaning given to them in the relevant Secured ECS Instruments Conditions.

1. General

MLBV may issue Secured ECS Notes and Secured ECS W&C Instruments. References herein to "Issuer" shall be to MLBV. Secured ECS Instruments will be issued under the Additional Terms and Conditions for Secured ECS Instruments set out in Annex 14A to the Offering Circular ("Secured ECS Instruments Conditions").

Each Series of Secured ECS Instruments will be issued by the Issuer and will be secured by a segregated pool of cash and securities (the "Collateral Assets") provided by Merrill Lynch International in its capacity as secured instruments collateral provider (the "Secured Instruments Collateral Provider") held in cash and securities collateral accounts in the Euroclear System (each, a "Secured Account"). In order to secure the Issuer's obligations in respect of the Secured ECS Instruments and the Collateral Transaction Documents and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider's obligations under the Euroclear Agreements (the "Secured Liabilities"), the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will enter into security arrangements with third parties under the Collateral Transaction Documents for the relevant Series of Secured ECS Instruments. Such third parties will be specified in the applicable Final Terms for each Series of Secured ECS Instruments.

The Collateral Transaction Documents for each Series of Secured ECS Instruments will include (but are not limited to):

- (a) a pledge agreement (the "Pledge Agreement") governed by Belgian law, under which the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider grants security over Collateral Assets held in the Secured Accounts in the Euroclear System in favour of a security trustee (the "Security Trustee") for the benefit of the Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments and the other Secured Parties;
- (b) a trust deed (the "Trust Deed") governed by English law, under which the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider appoints the Security Trustee to hold the security constituted by the Pledge Agreement in favour of the Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments and the other Secured Parties and perform certain other functions;
- (c) a collateral monitoring agent agreement (the "Collateral Monitoring Agent Agreement") governed by English law, under which the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider appoints a collateral monitoring agent (the "Collateral Monitoring Agent") to calculate the Required Collateral Value and perform the Collateral Test (as described below) in respect of the Secured ECS Instruments and perform certain other functions; and
- (d) the Euroclear Agreements, which relate to the operation of the Secured Accounts and Euroclear's role as triparty agent in respect of the Secured Accounts. The Euroclear Agreements comprise the Euroclear Terms and Conditions, the Collateral Service Agreement (which is governed by English law) and the Single Pledgor Pledged Account Agreement (which is governed by Belgian law).

Copies of the Euroclear Agreements, the Collateral Monitoring Agency Agreement, the Trust Deed and the Pledge Agreement are available for inspection by Holders during normal business hours at the offices of the relevant Instrument Agent.

2. Nature of the Security

The Collateral Assets will be transferred into the Secured Accounts (each of which is a segregated "Single Pledgor Pledged Account" in the Euroclear System), which will be secured in favour of the Security Trustee (for its own account and for the account of the Holders and the other Secured Parties) pursuant to the relevant Pledge Agreement. The Secured Accounts will be opened in the name of the Security Trustee in the Euroclear System. The security granted by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider under the relevant Pledge Agreement is (a) a first-ranking pledge (gage de premier rang/pand in eerste rang) over the Pledged Securities and does not extend to any interest or distributions paid on such Pledged Securities (to the extent such amounts are not held in the relevant Secured Accounts) and (b) a transfer of title (transfert de propriété à titre de garantie/eigendomsoverdracht ten titel van zekerheid) of Cash.

3. Operation of the Secured Accounts

The Euroclear System is a securities clearing and settlement system operated in Brussels by Euroclear. The Secured Accounts will be held in the Euroclear System in Belgium in the name of the Security Trustee, as a direct participant in Euroclear.

Euroclear provides a triparty collateral service in relation to the Secured Accounts for the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee in accordance with the terms of the Euroclear Agreements. Euroclear's triparty collateral service has three primary features: (a) the processing of operations (such as adjustments and substitution of Collateral Assets) relating to the Secured Accounts; (b) marking to market securities that are (or are proposed to become) Collateral Assets; and (c) supplying reports to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee (which are forwarded to the Collateral Monitoring Agent).

"Autoselect" is an option offered by Euroclear under the Euroclear Agreements. If "Autoselect" is chosen by the Security Trustee and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, Euroclear will process certain operations such as adjustments to the type and number of the Collateral Assets automatically without further manual instructions from the Security Trustee and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider. If "Autoselect" does not apply, manual instructions will be required from the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and, in some cases, the Security Trustee for Euroclear to process certain operations such as adjustments to the type and number of the Collateral Assets.

4. Nature of Collateral Assets

The Collateral Assets held in the Secured Accounts and secured pursuant to a Pledge Agreement are together referred to as the "Collateral Pool". In respect of Secured ECS Instruments, a Collateral Pool shall be made up of Collateral Assets comprising:

- any currency accepted by Euroclear for deposit ("Cash"); and/or
- securities standing from time to time to the credit of the pledged securities account (the "Pledged Securities Account") and all right, title and interest of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider relating to or arising from such securities ("Pledged Securities").

The Collateral Assets must satisfy the eligibility criteria (the "Eligibility Criteria") specified in the applicable Final Terms relating to such Series of Secured ECS Instruments. Collateral Assets satisfying the relevant Eligibility Criteria are referred to as "Eligible Collateral Assets".

The Eligibility Criteria specified in the applicable Final Terms will set out the criteria which must be met for Collateral Assets to constitute Eligible Collateral Assets and may include limitations on the type of Collateral Assets that may be held, the maturity of the Collateral Assets, the liquidity of the Collateral Assets, requirements regarding the jurisdiction of the issuer of the Collateral Assets or its guarantor or the credit rating of the obligor of the Collateral Assets, the concentration of Collateral Assets in a particular sector(s) or jurisdiction(s) and/or any other limitations, restrictions and/or requirements concerning the Collateral Assets as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms. The Issuer may refer in the applicable Final Terms to the eligibility criteria set out in the Euroclear Agreements, in which case these shall be annexed to the applicable Final Terms.

Notwithstanding the Eligibility Criteria specified in the applicable Final Terms in respect of a Series of Secured ECS Instruments, Euroclear shall be obliged to refer only to the terms of the Euroclear Agreements in determining whether the Collateral Assets comply with the eligibility criteria set out in the Euroclear Agreements.

5. Segregation between Collateral Pools, Limited Recourse and Non-Petition

By acquiring and holding Secured ECS Instruments, Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments will be deemed to acknowledge and agree that the obligations of the Issuer to the Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments are limited in recourse to the Collateral Assets contained in the relevant Collateral Pool securing such Series of Secured ECS Instruments. In particular, the Collateral Assets contained in any other Collateral Pool will not be available to pay amounts due in respect of any Secured ECS Instruments which are not secured by that Collateral Pool. The Secured ECS Instruments are not guaranteed by the Guarantor or any other entity and therefore Holders of the Secured ECS Instruments will have no claim against the Guarantor or any other entity in respect of any such amounts owing to them which remain unpaid.

6. Valuation of Collateral and Determination of the Required Collateral Value

In order to ensure that a Series of Secured ECS Instruments is collateralised in accordance with its terms, on the Issue Date and each Collateral Business Day (each such test date being a "Collateral Test Date"), the market value of the Collateral Assets, which may be discounted under the Euroclear Agreements as described below, will be tested against the required value of the Collateral Assets to be held in the Collateral Accounts to secure the Secured Liabilities, as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions. This process is known as the "Collateral Test" and is described in more detail below. The Collateral Monitoring Agent will calculate the Required Collateral Value based on information provided by Merrill Lynch International in its capacity as secured instruments valuation agent (the "Secured Instruments Valuation Agent") and will perform the Collateral Test.

The Collateral Test will be satisfied on a Collateral Test Date if the Collateral Monitoring Agent determines that the report provided by Euroclear for the final hourly optimisation run by Euroclear on such Collateral Test Date reports a "Margined Value" of "Collateral Securities" and/or "Collateral Cash" (each as defined in the Collateral Service Agreement) for such Collateral Pool that is greater than or equal to the Required Collateral Value (as defined below) less a minimum adjustment amount specified in the applicable Final Terms. Even if the foregoing test is not satisfied on a Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Test will still be satisfied for such Collateral Test Date if the Collateral Monitoring Agent determines that the report provided by Euroclear for any hourly optimisation run by Euroclear prior to 1.00 p.m. London time on the Collateral Monitoring Test Date for such Collateral Test Date reports a "Margined Value" of "Collateral Securities" and/or "Collateral Cash" for such Collateral Pool that is greater than or equal to the Required Collateral Value less a minimum adjustment amount specified in the applicable Final Terms. If required to perform the Collateral Test, the Collateral Monitoring Agent will convert the Required Collateral Value into the collateral valuation currency specified in the applicable Final Terms at prevailing spot rates.

(a) "Margined Value" of "Collateral Securities" and/or "Collateral Cash"

Euroclear will use the "Margined Value" (as defined in the Collateral Service Agreement) of eligible securities and cash held in the Secured Accounts to determine and report the market value of Collateral Assets, which may be discounted as described below, in the Secured Accounts to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee, which will in turn provide such reports to the Collateral Monitoring Agent. On a daily basis, Euroclear will calculate the Margined Value of Pledged Securities and Cash held in the Secured Accounts relating to the Secured ECS Instruments pursuant to the Euroclear Agreements. When calculating the Margined

Value of a security, Euroclear first determines the "Market Value" (as defined in a Collateral Service Agreement) of the security by marking the security to market based on pricing information obtained in the ordinary course of business using certain specified methods and sources. If the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee have entered into one or more relevant amendment agreements to the Collateral Service Agreement, the "Market Value" of certain Collateral Assets may be determined by a third party other than Euroclear or by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider. If specified by the Security Trustee and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider in Annex II of the Collateral Service Agreement, Euroclear then reduces the Market Value of the security or the amount of the cash by its applicable "Margin Percentage" or "Haircut Percentage" (each as defined in the Collateral Service Agreement) and converts the result into the currency in which Euroclear reports the balance of the Secured Accounts. The application of any relevant "Margin Percentage" or "Haircut Percentage" is designed to mitigate potential depreciation in value of the relevant Collateral Asset in the period between the last valuation of the Collateral Asset and the realisation of such Collateral Asset following any enforcement.

(b) Required Collateral Value

To perform the Collateral Test in respect of a Collateral Test Date, the "Margined Value" of Collateral Assets held in the Secured Accounts reported by Euroclear is compared by the Collateral Monitoring Agent against the Required Collateral Value. The Required Collateral Value of the Securities is the value of Collateral Assets that, after taking into account certain discounts on the market value of Collateral Assets (if applicable) and the minimum adjustment amount specified in the applicable Final Terms, are required to be held in the Secured Accounts. On or before each Collateral Test Date, the Required Collateral Value is calculated by the Collateral Monitoring Agent and notified to the Security Trustee, the Issuer and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider. The Required Collateral Value may fluctuate during the term of the Secured ECS Instruments.

The type of collateralisation methodology (the "Type of Collateralisation") used to calculate the required value of the collateral for the relevant Series of Secured ECS Instruments (the "Required Collateral Value") is specified in the applicable Final Terms. The Required Collateral Value in respect of a Collateral Test Date will be calculated by the Collateral Monitoring Agent as follows:

- (i) if "NV Collateralisation" is specified as the "Type of Collateralisation" in the applicable Final Terms, the product of (i) the Collateralisation Percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms, multiplied by (ii) (A) in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes, the total aggregate principal amount of the Non-Waived Instruments of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments or (B) in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments, the sum of the Notional Amount of each outstanding Non-Waived Instrument of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments;
- (ii) if "NV Collateralisation plus Accrued Interest" is specified as the "Type of Collateralisation" in the applicable Final Terms, the product of (i) the Collateralisation Percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms, multiplied by (ii) (A) in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes, the total aggregate principal amount of the Non-Waived Instruments of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments or (B) in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments, the sum of the Notional Amount of each outstanding Non-Waived Instrument of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments, in each case, plus the aggregate amount of any interest or additional amount, as applicable, accrued but unpaid in relation to the Non-Waived Instruments as of such Collateral Test Date, such amount of accrued but unpaid interest or additional amount, as applicable, being determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent;

- (iii) if "MV Collateralisation" is specified as the "Type of Collateralisation" in the applicable Final Terms, the product of (i) the Collateralisation Percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms, multiplied by (ii) the Secured Instrument Market Value (as defined below) in respect of such Collateral Test Date of the relevant Series of Secured ECS Instruments, multiplied by (iii) the Relevant Number of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments;
- (iv) if "Min (MV, NV) Collateralisation" is specified as the "Type of Collateralisation" in the applicable Final Terms, the lower of:
 - (1) the product of (A) the Collateralisation Percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms, multiplied by (B) the Secured Instrument Market Value in respect of such Collateral Test Date of the relevant Series of Secured ECS Instruments, multiplied by (C) the Relevant Number of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments; and
 - (2) the product of (A) the Collateralisation Percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms, multiplied by (B) (I) in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes, the total aggregate principal amount of the Non-Waived Instruments of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments or (II) in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments, the sum of the Notional Amount of each outstanding Non-Waived Instrument of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments; or
- (v) if "Max (MV, NV) Collateralisation" is specified as the "Type of Collateralisation" in the applicable Final Terms, the greater of:
 - (1) the product of (A) the Collateralisation Percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms, multiplied by (B) the Secured Instrument Market Value in respect of such Collateral Test Date of the relevant Series of Secured ECS Instruments, multiplied by (C) the Relevant Number of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments; and
 - (2) the product of (A) the Collateralisation Percentage specified in the applicable Final Terms, multiplied by (B) (I) in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes, the total aggregate principal amount of the Non-Waived Instruments of such Series of Instruments or (II) in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments, the sum of the Notional Amount of each outstanding Non-Waived Instrument of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments.

Certain information required to calculate the Required Collateral Value will be provided to the Collateral Monitoring Agent by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent, including: (i) the aggregate number or aggregate nominal amount of outstanding Non-Waived Instruments, (ii) in respect of a Series of Secured ECS Instruments in relation to which "MV Collateralisation", "Min (MV, NV) Collateralisation" or "Max (MV, NV) Collateralisation" is applicable, the amount determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent as the market value applicable to a Secured ECS Instrument as of the time of the most recently valuation on the Collateral Business Day immediately preceding the relevant Collateral Test Date (the "Secured Instrument Market Value"), (iii) in respect of a Series of Secured ECS Instruments in relation to which "NV Collateralisation plus Accrued Interest" is applicable, the aggregate amount of any interest or additional amount, as applicable, accrued but unpaid in relation to the Non-Waived Instruments.

7. Adjustments to Collateral Pool and Collateral Shortfall Notice

The Collateral Monitoring Agent will notify the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee of the Required Collateral Value for each Collateral Test Date. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee will in turn provide matching instructions to Euroclear specifying the Required Collateral Value if it is different from the value recorded by Euroclear for such transaction (the "Intended Transaction Amount").

If "Autoselect" applies under the Euroclear Agreements and Euroclear determines that a deficit in Collateral Assets exists under the Euroclear Agreements based on the "Intended Transaction Amount" last jointly notified to Euroclear, Euroclear will automatically attempt to select available eligible securities to correct the deficit and will transfer those securities to the Secured Accounts. If "Autoselect" does not apply under the Euroclear Agreements, Euroclear will report the deficit to the Security Trustee and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will provide instructions to Euroclear to transfer additional eligible securities or cash into the Secured Accounts.

If on the business day immediately following a Collateral Test Date (the "Collateral Test Monitoring Date") corresponding to the relevant Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Monitoring Agent determines that the Collateral Test was not satisfied in respect of such Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Monitoring Agent will promptly send the Issuer and the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider a collateral shortfall notice (the "Collateral Shortfall Notice"). Following receipt of such Collateral Shortfall Notice, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will promptly make sufficient Eligible Collateral Assets available to Euroclear to satisfy the Collateral Test and, if "Autoselect" does not apply under the Euroclear Agreements, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider will provide instructions to Euroclear to transfer additional Eligible Collateral Assets into the relevant Secured Account for such purpose.

8. Waived Instruments

In respect of all Secured ECS Instruments held by the Issuer or its Affiliates, including but not limited to, in its capacity as market maker (if applicable), and, in respect of each such Secured ECS Instrument, the Issuer or its Affiliates shall be deemed to have waived its rights (a) to receive the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets securing such Series of Secured ECS Instruments following the enforcement of the Pledge Agreement and (b) to give an Acceleration Notice on the occurrence of a Secured Instrument Event of Default ("Waived Instruments").

As a consequence, when making various calculations under the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions (including the Required Collateral Value), the Collateral Monitoring Agent shall only take into account the Secured ECS Instruments that are not subject to such waiver (any such Secured ECS Instruments being "Non-Waived Instruments").

9. Collateral Substitution

The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider may, subject to the terms of the Pledge Agreement and the Euroclear Agreements, withdraw and/or replace Collateral Assets from the relevant Secured Account in accordance with the Euroclear Agreements provided that following such adjustment the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied and the Secured Assets continue to meet the Eligibility Criteria set out in the Final Terms.

10. Early redemption or settlement following the occurrence of a Collateral Disruption Event

Upon the occurrence, as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent of a Collateral Disruption Event (as defined below), the Issuer may at its option and in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner give notice to the Holders and cancel all but not some only of the Secured ECS Instruments of the relevant Series at the type of Early Redemption/Settlement Amount specified in the applicable Final Terms and on the date specified by the Issuer in the notice to Holders, provided that such date shall be no later than two Business Days following the date of such notice.

Collateral Disruption Events are defined in the Secured Instruments Conditions and include, but are not limited to: (i) the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider being (A) unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to acquire the necessary Collateral Assets or (B) subject to materially increased costs in acquiring Collateral Assets; (ii) the Issuer being unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to find a suitable substitute or replacement Collateral Arrangement Party (as defined below) following the termination of the relevant agreements or resignation or removal, for any reason, of any Collateral Arrangement Party or (iii) an event beyond the control of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider as a result of which Eligible Collateral Assets have not been settled into the relevant Secured Account within the regular settlement period for such Eligible Collateral Assets under normal market conditions.

"Early Redemption/Settlement Amount" means, in respect of a Secured ECS Instrument,

- (a) if "Redemption at 100%" is specified as the "Early Redemption/Settlement Amount" in the applicable Final Terms, an amount in the Specified Currency equal to the principal amount (in respect of Secured ECS Notes) or in the Settlement Currency equal to the Notional Amount (in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments) of such Secured ECS Instrument, excluding any accrued but unpaid interest;
- (b) if "Redemption with Accrued Interest" is specified as the "Early Redemption/Settlement Amount" in the applicable Final Terms, (i) in respect of Secured ECS Notes, an amount in the Specified Currency equal to the principal amount of such Secured ECS Note, plus any accrued but unpaid interest to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption, or (ii) in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments, an amount in the Settlement Currency equal to the Notional Amount of such Secured ECS W&C Instrument, plus any accrued but unpaid additional amount to (but excluding) the date fixed for payment, in each case such amount of accrued but unpaid interest or additional amount, as applicable, being determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent; or
- (c) if "Fair Market Value" is specified as the "Early Redemption/Settlement Amount" in the applicable Final Terms, an amount in the Specified Currency (in respect of Secured ECS Notes) or Settlement Currency (in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments) equal to the greater of zero and the fair market value of such Secured ECS Instrument, less the costs to the Issuer and/or its Affiliates or agents of unwinding any underlying related hedging arrangements (including any costs of funding in respect of such hedging arrangements) in respect of such Secured ECS Instrument, each as determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. The fair market value of such Secured ECS Instrument shall be calculated by reference to such factors as the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent considers to be appropriate including, without limitation:
 - (i) market prices or values for any underlying asset(s) to which the Secured ECS Instruments are linked and other relevant economic variables (such as interest rates and, if applicable, exchange rates) at the relevant time;
 - (ii) the remaining term of the Secured ECS Instruments until, in respect of Secured ECS Notes, their scheduled maturity date and final redemption, or, in respect of Secured ECS W&C Instruments, their scheduled exercise and final settlement;
 - (iii) internal pricing models; and
 - (iv) prices at which other market participants might bid for securities similar to the Secured ECS Instruments.

11. Early redemption or settlement following the occurrence of a Third Party Event

Upon the occurrence of a Third Party Event, a Required Collateral Default (as defined below) and certain other events of default (relating to the obligations of the Issuer and/ or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider under the Trust Deed and Pledge Agreement) shall be deemed not to constitute a Secured Instrument of Default for a period not to exceed 30 days. The Issuer may at its option and in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner give notice to the Holders and cancel all but not some only of the Secured ECS Instruments of the relevant Series at the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount on the date specified by the Issuer in the notice to Holders, provided that such date shall be no later than two Business Days following the date of such notice.

Third Party Events are defined in the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions and, broadly speaking, relate to failures of third parties involved in providing the security arrangements (such as Euroclear) which are outside the control of Secured Instruments Collateral Provider.

12. Early redemption or settlement following the occurrence of a MTM Trigger Event

If an "MTM Trigger Event" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms and the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent determines that a MTM Trigger Event has occurred or is continuing, the Issuer shall redeem or cancel all of the relevant Secured ECS Instruments at their Early Redemption/Settlement Amount in accordance with the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions.

A MTM Trigger Event shall have occurred if the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent determines that, at any time between 5.00 a.m. Sydney time to 5.00 p.m. New York City time (or such other times specified in the applicable Final Terms) on a business day during the relevant observation period, the market value of a Secured ECS Instrument of the relevant Series is (a) if "less than the MTM Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than the MTM Trigger Level or (b) if "less than or equal to the MTM Trigger Level" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, less than or equal to the MTM Trigger Level. The MTM Trigger Level will be specified in the applicable Final Terms. The market value of a Secured ECS Instrument shall be determined by the Secured Instruments Valuation Agent by reference to such factors as it considers to be appropriate in its discretion, including without limitation:

- (a) market prices or values for any underlying asset(s) to which the Secured ECS Instruments are linked and other relevant economic variables (such as interest rates and, if applicable, exchange rates) at the relevant time;
- (b) the remaining term of the Secured ECS Instruments until their scheduled exercise and final settlement;
- (c) internal pricing models; and
- (d) prices at which other market participants might bid for securities similar to the Secured ECS Instruments.

13. Default in provision of Collateral Assets

A "Required Collateral Default" shall occur if, following receipt by the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider of a Collateral Shortfall Notice which indicates that the Collateral Test is not satisfied (or will not be satisfied after taking into account any adjustments specified in a Collateral Test Notice), the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider fails to instruct Euroclear to transfer sufficient additional Eligible Collateral Assets into the relevant Secured Accounts to satisfy the Collateral Test and/or Deliver the additional necessary Eligible Collateral Assets and/or insufficient Eligible Collateral Assets are available so as to enable Euroclear to automatically satisfy the Collateral Test or to give effect to any such instruction when given, and in either case the Collateral Test is not satisfied for two Collateral Business Days following the delivery of such Collateral Shortfall Notice, unless provided otherwise in the Final Terms and provided that no default shall occur if the default is as a result of a technical or operational issue of the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, Euroclear or otherwise and such default has been remedied or waived within 15 Collateral Business Days (or such number of Collateral Business Days specified in the applicable Final Terms).

Following the occurrence of a Required Collateral Default, the Collateral Monitoring Agent will send a notice (a "Required Collateral Default Notice") to the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider and the Security Trustee, specifying that a Required Collateral Default has occurred. The Secured Instruments Collateral Provider shall notify the Issuer of the Required Collateral Default Notice. The Security Trustee shall as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving a Required Collateral Default Notice give notice to the relevant Instrument Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent will give notice as soon as reasonably practicable to all relevant Holders of the receipt of a Required Collateral Default Notice.

14. Secured ECS Instruments Events of Default

The Secured ECS Instruments are subject to various events of default (each a "Secured Instrument Event of Default"), including, but not limited to, (i) the Issuer's failure to pay Additional Tax Amounts and Cash Settlement Amounts, (ii) insolvency proceedings against the Issuer, (iii) the occurrence of a Required Collateral Default, or (iv) a failure by the Issuer and/or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider to comply with or perform its obligations under the relevant Trust Deed or the relevant Pledge Agreement.

If a Secured Instrument Event of Default has occurred and is continuing with respect to any Series of Secured ECS Instruments, then any Holder may, at its option, send an Acceleration Notice (together with proof of holding satisfactory to the Security Trustee) (i) in the case of Secured Instruments held through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, through the relevant Clearing System to the relevant Instrument Agent and (ii) in the case of Secured Instruments held through The Depository Trust Corporation, directly to the relevant Instrument Agent (and in the case of either (i) or (ii) with a copy to the Security Trustee).

The Security Trustee is not obliged to act on any Acceleration Notice unless the Holder(s) of at least 51 per cent. (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS Notes) in aggregate principal amount or (in respect of Secured ECS Instruments that are Secured ECS W&C Instruments) in aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding have sent Acceleration Notice(s) to the relevant Instrument Agent (forwarded or copied to the Security Trustee), and if any default is not waived in accordance with the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions or cured by the Issuer in accordance with the Secured Instruments Conditions subject to the Security Trustee being indemnified and/or prefunded and/or secured to its satisfaction, at which time and date (an "Acceleration Event" in respect of such Series of Secured ECS Instruments).

At the time and on the date when an Acceleration Event has occurred, such Acceleration Notice(s) shall be deemed to be an effective acceleration instruction (the "Acceleration Instruction") and the Security Trustee shall thereby be instructed to, among other things, enforce the security constituted by the relevant Pledge Agreement.

Upon an effective Acceleration Instruction, the Security Trustee shall (acting in accordance with such Acceleration Instruction and subject to being indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction), among other things, deliver a Collateral Enforcement Notice to MLBV, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, the Collateral Monitoring Agent and the relevant Instrument Agent upon which all Secured ECS Instruments in respect of which such Collateral Enforcement Notice is served will become immediately due and repayable at their applicable Early Redemption/Settlement Amount.

15. Enforcement and realisation and distribution of proceeds

Following delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice in respect of the relevant Series of Secured ECS Instruments, the Security Trustee, acting in accordance with an Acceleration Instruction and instructions provided by the Holders that hold at least 51 per cent. in aggregate principal amount or aggregate Notional Amount or by number (as applicable) of the Non-Waived Instruments outstanding (the "Instructing Holder(s)"), will (subject to being indemnified and/or prefunded and/or secured to its satisfaction) enforce the security constituted by the Pledge Agreement relating to the relevant Collateral Pool in accordance with the terms thereof, the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions and the terms of the Trust Deed and the Euroclear Agreements. This will include liquidating or realising Collateral Assets in accordance with the Secured ECS Instruments Conditions.

The Security Trustee will act on the instructions of the Instructing Holder(s) where either (a) the Instrument Agent certifies to the Security Trustee the identity of the Instructing Holder(s) upon which the Security Trustee can rely absolutely and without liability; or (b) the Security

Trustee is independently able to confirm the identity of the Instructing Holder(s) to its sole satisfaction.

The Security Trustee will not be obliged to act unless it has first been indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction and shall be entitled to (but is not required to) pre-fund itself to its satisfaction by effecting a liquidation and realisation of some of the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool which secures such Series of Secured ECS Instruments and retaining the proceeds for such purpose. The Security Trustee shall apply such amounts in accordance with the Order of Priority.

The Security Trustee will use the proceeds of such realisation and liquidation of the Collateral Assets to make payment of any amounts payable to the Secured Parties ranking prior to the Holders of Non-Waived Instruments in accordance with the Order of Priority. Following such payment Holders will be entitled to receive the pro rata share of any remaining proceeds attributable to each Non-Waived Instrument held by such Holder provided that such amount does not exceed the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount. Where the pro rata share of the remaining proceeds for a particular Non-Waived Instrument is less than the Early Redemption/Settlement Amount, the Holder will not be entitled to any further recourse against the Issuer or the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider for such shortfall.

16. Enforcement and realisation by Holders

No Holder shall be entitled to enforce the Pledge Agreement unless the Security Trustee, having become bound to so enforce or proceed, fails so to do within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Trustee is prevented from enforcing a Pledge Agreement by any court order.

If the Security Trustee becomes bound to enforce security constituted by the Pledge Agreement and fails to do so within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing or the Security Trustee is prevented from enforcing a Pledge Agreement by any court order, then, without prejudice to the paragraph above, Holder(s) of at least 51 per cent. in aggregate principal amount or aggregate Nominal Amount or by number (as applicable) of such Non-Waived Instruments outstanding may give notice to the Security Trustee of its removal and may appoint a replacement Security Trustee in accordance with Secured ECS Instruments Conditions and the terms of the Trust Deed.

Holders shall not be entitled to enforce a Euroclear Agreement or to proceed directly against Euroclear to enforce the terms of any Euroclear Agreement. Euroclear shall not have any liability to any Holder as to the consequence of any actions taken by Euroclear.

17. Replacement of Collateral Arrangement Parties

Each of the Collateral Transaction Documents will contain provisions for the termination of such agreement and, as the case may be, the resignation, termination, removal or replacement of the relevant collateral arrangement party ("Collateral Arrangement Party") appointed thereunder. Any such resignation, termination, removal and/or replacement will be effected in accordance with the provisions of such agreements and may be effected without the consent of Holders. Other than in respect of Euroclear, no such resignation, termination or removal shall be effective until a replacement entity has been appointed. Notice of any such resignation, termination, removal and/or replacement of any Collateral Arrangement Party shall be given to Holders.

DESCRIPTION OF THE PREFERENCE SHARE ISSUER AND THE PREFERENCE SHARES

The following is an overview of the Preference Share Issuer and the Preference Shares.

1. The Preference Share Issuer

Preface Holdings Limited (the "Preference Share Issuer") is a Jersey private company and was incorporated under the Companies (Jersey) Law 1991 on 5 March 2020 (with registration number 131121). Preface Holdings Limited is governed by the laws of Jersey and has its registered office at 15 Esplanade, St Helier, Jersey JE1 1RB.

The sole business activity of the Preference Share Issuer is to (i) issue redeemable preference shares (the "Preference Shares") under its preference share programme (the "Preference Shares Programme"); and (ii) enter into hedging arrangements to hedge the exposure under the Preference Shares. Accordingly, the Preference Share Issuer does not have any trading assets and generates limited net income. The Preference Share Issuer does not have a credit rating.

As at the date of this Offering Circular, the Preference Share Issuer has two (2) ordinary shares in issue. The Preference Share Issuer may issue further shares with such rights or restrictions as may be determined by special resolution and the unissued shares for the time being in the capital of the Preference Share Issuer are at the disposal of the directors on such terms as they think proper. The ordinary shares of the Preference Share Issuer are held by Hawksford Nominees Jersey Limited (one (1) ordinary share) and Hawksford Fiduciaries Jersey Limited (one (1) ordinary share), each acting as a nominee of Hawksford Trustees Jersey Limited who serves as the trustee of The Preface Charitable Trust.

The Preference Shares may be offered and issued to investors pursuant to the terms agreed with the Preference Share Issuer. Merrill Lynch International acts as structuring agent in order to facilitate the offer and issue by the Preference Share Issuer of Preference Shares as well as calculation agent in respect of the Preference Shares. Other service providers act as registrar and corporate administrator to the Preference Share Issuer or in respect of the Preference Shares, as applicable.

A copy of the Preference Share Issuer's constitutional documents (the "Articles of Association") and the terms and conditions of the Preference Shares (as contained in the principal memorandum of the Preference Share Issuer relating to the issuance of Preference Shares (the "Principal Memorandum") and the relevant Supplemental Memorandum (as defined below) in respect of the Preference Shares) are available to investors in the Preference Share Linked Notes on written request (free of charge) from the registered office of the Preference Share Issuer and from the distributor of the relevant Preference Share Linked Notes.

2. Documents for Inspection

Copies of the Articles of Association will be available for inspection at the registered office of the Preference Share Issuer, in each case during normal business hours on any weekday (Saturdays, Sundays and public holidays excepted) for 14 days following the date of each Supplemental Memorandum (as defined below).

The Private Placement Memorandum can be obtained by any interested investors from Merrill Lynch International.

3. Documents on Display

Copies of the Principal Memorandum, any applicable Supplemental Memorandum relating to a Series of Preference Shares, the Articles of Association and, after publication thereof, the annual accounts of the Preference Share Issuer may be obtained from the corporate administrator at its registered office (15 Esplanade, St Helier, Jersey JE1 1RB) on request.

4. The Preference Shares

Preference Shares may be issued from time to time by the Preference Share Issuer in a Series under the Preference Shares Programme. Each Series of Preference Shares may have different features which are set out in the Principal Memorandum and a Series specific supplemental memorandum (the "Supplemental Memorandum", and together with the Principal Memorandum, the "Private Placement Memorandum").

The Preference Shares issued under the Preference Shares Programme may pay an automatic early redemption amount, an early redemption amount, an optional redemption amount and, unless previously redeemed or cancelled, will pay a final redemption amount at maturity which may be linked to the performance of one or more Preference Share Underlyings which may include, but will not be limited to shares, indices, mutual funds or exchange traded funds, or baskets of shares or indices, mutual funds or exchange traded funds. The composition of the relevant Preference Share Underlyings may be designed to change over time as a result of performance or other factors.

The Supplemental Memorandum applicable to a particular Series of Preference Shares will specify the redemption amount(s) and when any such amount is payable and the terms based on which it is calculated.

The Preference Shares will not be exchangeable through CREST (or any other clearing system) and will not be listed or admitted to trading on any stock exchange. Therefore, no information relating to the past or future performance of the Preference Shares or their volatility will be available.

The Private Placement Memorandum also provides that the Preference Share Issuer may redeem the Preference Shares early if:

- (a) the performance of the Preference Share Issuer's obligations under the relevant Series of Preference Shares or any arrangements made to hedge the Preference Share Issuer's obligations under the Preference Shares or in respect of any hedging arrangements in relation to any Preference Share Linked Notes, has or will become, in whole or in part, unlawful, illegal or otherwise contrary to any present or future law, rule, regulation, judgment, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative, judicial or regulatory authority or powers, or any change in the interpretation thereof that is applicable to the Preference Share Issuer or any of the Preference Share Issuer's Affiliates; or
- (b) an event has occurred and/or is existing that constitutes an early redemption event or is an event triggering an early redemption of the relevant Series of Preference Shares.

5. The Preference Share Underlyings

The performance of the Preference Shares depends on the performance of the Preference Share Underlying or Underlyings to which the relevant Preference Shares are linked.

Investors should review the relevant Private Placement Memorandum and other constitutional documents and consult with their own business, accounting, regulatory, legal, tax and other professional advisers with respect to any consequences or considerations (whether relating to tax or otherwise) which may be relevant to or which may result from investment in the Preference Share Linked Notes.

FORM OF THE INSTRUMENTS

Words and expressions defined in the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes", the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" or "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments", as applicable, shall have the same meanings in this Form of the Instruments.

Form of the Notes

Registered Notes

If the applicable Final Terms specify that Notes issued by MLBV are eligible for sale exclusively in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined below) pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), the Notes sold (a) in the United States to qualified institutional buyers within the meaning of Rule 144A ("Rule 144A") under the Securities Act ("QIBs") who are also each a qualified purchaser (each a "QP") within the meaning of Section 3(c)(7) and as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act") and the rules thereunder or (b) to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons who are QIBs and who are also QPs will be represented by a Rule 144A Global Note (the "Rule 144A Global Notes") which will be in registered form and either (i) deposited with the Principal Paying Agent as a custodian for, and registered in the name of a nominee of, The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"); or (ii) deposited with, and registered in the name of a nominee of, the Common Depositary.

Unless otherwise indicated, as used in this Offering Circular, "U.S. person" has the meaning ascribed to it by Regulation S under the Securities Act. Notes which may be sold as described above to U.S. persons who are QIBs and who are also QPs in reliance on Rule 144A are referred to in this Offering Circular as "Rule 144A Notes", which term shall also include, where the context requires, Rule 144A Notes sold as described in the succeeding paragraph that are represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Note (as defined below). Exchangeable Notes may also be sold to U.S. persons who are QIBs and who are also QPs in reliance on Rule 144A and will be represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Note (as defined below) and, where the context requires, references to Rule 144A Notes in this Offering Circular shall be deemed to include such Exchangeable Notes.

If specified in the applicable Final Terms, Notes and Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV may be sold (a) pursuant to Rule 144A (i) to persons in the United States who are QIBs and who are also QPs or (ii) to or for the account or benefit of U.S. persons who are QIBs and who are also QPs and (b) in either case, concurrently outside the United States to non-U.S. persons pursuant to Regulation S. Such Notes will be represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Note (the "Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Note") together with the attached or incorporated Terms and Conditions of the Notes and the applicable Final Terms. Such Exchangeable Notes will be represented by (i) a Regulation S global exchangeable note and (ii) a Rule 144A global exchangeable note, the "Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Exchangeable Note") together with the attached or incorporated Terms and Conditions of the Exchangeable Notes and the applicable Final Terms. The Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Note and the Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Exchangeable Note will be in registered form and deposited on or around the relevant issue date with, and registered in the name of a nominee for, the Common Depositary for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system.

BAC Notes, BofA Finance Notes and BANA Notes are to be issued into and transferred through accounts at Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, as applicable, and are not eligible for sale in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons.

If Notes or Exchangeable Notes are to be issued into and transferred through accounts at Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system or the CMU, as applicable, and are not eligible for sale in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of U.S. persons, such Tranche of Notes will be issued in registered form and will be represented at issuance by a global registered note (a "Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Note", in the case of Notes issued by BAC or BofA Finance into Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, or a "Temporary Global Registered Note" exchangeable for a "Permanent Global Registered Note" under the circumstances described below, in the case of Notes issued by BANA into Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, or a "CMU Global Registered Note", in the case of Notes issued into the CMU, or a "Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Exchangeable Note" in the case of Exchangeable Notes issued into Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, and together with the Rule 144A Global Note, the Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Note, the Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Exchangeable Note, the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Note, the Temporary Global Registered Note, the Permanent Global Registered Note, and the CMU Global Registered Note, the "Global Notes" and each, a "Global Note") together with the attached or incorporated Terms and Conditions of the Notes or Terms and Conditions of the Exchangeable Notes, as applicable, and the applicable Final Terms.

Each Temporary Global Registered Note, each Permanent Global Registered Note, each Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Note and each Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Exchangeable Note will be deposited on or around the relevant issue date with either (a) the Common Depositary for Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, in the case of a Temporary Global Registered Note, Permanent Global Registered Note, Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Note or Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Exchangeable Note not intended to be issued under the NSS, and registered in the name of a nominee of the Common Depositary, or (b) the Common Safekeeper for Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, in the case of a Temporary Global Registered Note, Permanent Global Registered Note, Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Note or Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Exchangeable Note intended to be issued under the NSS, and registered in the name of a nominee of the Common Safekeeper. Each CMU Global Registered Note will be deposited on or around the relevant issue date with a sub-custodian for the CMU and registered in the name of the Hong Kong Monetary Authority as operator of the CMU as a nominee for the CMU.

Notes or Exchangeable Notes may in certain circumstances be issued in definitive form ("Definitive Registered Notes") represented by individual note certificates ("Individual Note Certificates") together with the attached or incorporated Terms and Conditions of the Notes or Terms and Conditions of the Exchangeable Notes, as applicable, and the applicable Final Terms.

The NSS form allows Notes in registered form to be issued and held in a manner which will permit them to be recognised as eligible collateral for monetary policy of the central banking system for the euro (the "Eurosystem") and intra-day credit operations by the Eurosystem either upon their issue or at any other time prior to the applicable maturity date. However, such recognition will depend upon the European Central Bank (the "ECB") being satisfied that Eurosystem eligibility criteria have been met. The European Central Bank (the "ECB") has published on its webpage information on its collateral eligibility criteria. Among other criteria, the information published by the ECB indicates that, effective as of 8 February 2018, unsecured debt instruments issued by credit institutions, such as BANA, or their closely-linked entities, such as BAC and BofA Finance, that are not established in the member states of the European Union are not Eurosystem eligible. Therefore, as of the date of this Offering Circular, the Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance will not be recognised as eligible collateral for Eurosystem monetary and intraday credit operations.

Beneficial interests in a Temporary Global Registered Note will be exchangeable for interests in a Permanent Global Registered Note after the expiration of the related Distribution Compliance Period (as defined in "Offering and Sale" of this Offering Circular) and upon receipt by the Principal Paying Agent of the applicable certifications of non-U.S. beneficial ownership in the form set out in the New York Law Agency Agreement.

Beneficial interests in a Global Note will be exchangeable for Definitive Registered Notes represented by Individual Note Certificates if: (1) an Event of Default (as defined herein) occurs and is continuing, (2) either (a) in the case of Notes represented by Rule 144A Global Notes held through DTC, either DTC has notified MLBV that it is unwilling or unable to continue as a depositary for such Rule 144A Global Notes held through DTC and no alternative clearing system is available, or DTC has ceased to be a "clearing agency" registered under the Exchange Act, and no alternative clearing system is available, or (b) in the case of Temporary Global Registered Notes, Permanent Global Registered Notes, Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Notes and other Notes registered in the name of a nominee of the Common Depositary or in the case of CMU Global Registered Notes, the relevant Issuer has been notified that both Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system or in the case of CMU Global Registered Notes, the CMU, have been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 calendar days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or have announced an intention permanently to cease business or have in fact done so and, in any such case, no successor clearing system is available, or (3) the relevant Issuer, after notice to the Principal Paying Agent or in the case of CMU Global Registered Notes, the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent, as applicable, determines to issue the Notes in definitive form. The relevant Issuer will give notice of any such event specified above to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 (Notices). In no event shall Temporary Global Registered Notes be exchangeable for Definitive Registered Notes prior to the expiration of the applicable Distribution Compliance Period and the receipt of applicable certifications of non-U.S. beneficial ownership.

Whenever the Global Note is to be exchanged for Individual Note Certificates, the relevant Issuer shall procure that Individual Note Certificates will be issued in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Global Note within five business days of the delivery by or on behalf of the registered holder of the Global Note, DTC or such other relevant clearing systems, to the Principal Paying Agent or in the case of CMU Global Registered Note, the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent, of such information as is required to complete and deliver such Individual Note Certificates (including, without limitation, the names and addresses of the persons in whose names the Individual Note Certificates are to be registered and the principal amount of each such person's holding) against the surrender of the Global Note at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent or in the case of CMU Global Registered Note, the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent, as applicable.

Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the New York Law Agency Agreement (in the case of Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance), the English Law Agency Agreement (in the case of Notes (other than CMU Notes) issued by MLBV) or the CMU Agency Agreement (in the case of CMU Notes issued by MLBV) and, in each case, the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of Notes scheduled thereto, and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any holder, but against such indemnity as the Principal Paying Agent or the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent, as applicable, may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

If:

- (a) Individual Note Certificates have not been delivered by 5.00 p.m. (London time) or 5.00 p.m. (Hong Kong time) in the case of CMU Notes on the thirtieth calendar day after they are due to be issued and delivered in accordance with the terms of the Global Note; or
- (b) any of the Notes represented by a Global Note (or any part of it) has become due and payable in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Notes or the date for final redemption of the Notes has occurred and, in either case, payment in full of the amount of principal falling due with all accrued interest thereon has not been made to the holder of the Global Note in accordance with the terms of the Global Note on the due date for payment, then the Global Note (including the obligation to deliver Individual Note Certificates) will become void at 5.00 p.m. (London time) or, in the case of CMU Notes, 5.00 p.m. (Hong Kong time), on such thirtieth calendar day (in the case of (a) immediately above) or at 5.00 p.m. (London time) or, in the case of CMU Notes, 5.00 p.m. (Hong Kong time), on such due date (in the case of (b) immediately above) and the holder of the Global Note will have no further rights thereunder (but without prejudice to the rights which the holder of the Global Note or others may have under the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant (as defined under "Terms and Conditions of the Notes") or, in the case of CMU Notes, the CMU Notes Deed of Covenant (as defined under "Terms and Conditions of the Notes")). With respect to Notes issued by MLBV, under the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant or the CMU Notes Deed of Covenant (as the case may be), persons shown in the records of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg or the CMU and/or any other relevant clearing system as being entitled to an interest in a Global Note will acquire directly against MLBV all those rights to which they would have been entitled if, immediately before the Global Note became void, they were entered in the Register as the holder of Notes in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of Notes they were shown as holding in the records of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg or the CMU and/or any other relevant clearing system. For the avoidance of doubt, Holders of Notes held through DTC are not entitled to the benefit of the direct rights under the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant or the CMU Notes Deed of Covenant.

Korean Notes

The foregoing shall not apply to Korean Notes.

Korean Notes will be electronically registered in uncertificated and dematerialised book-entry form with the Korea Securities Depository in accordance with all applicable Korean laws, regulations and rules. Under applicable Korean Regulations, Korean Notes are not permitted to be issued in definitive, certificated form.

Form of the Warrants

Registered Warrants

If the applicable Final Terms specify that Warrants are eligible for sale exclusively in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, the Warrants sold (a) in the United States to QIBs who are also each a QP within the meaning of Section 3(c)(7) and as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the 1940 Act and the rules thereunder or (b) to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons who are QIBs and who are also QPs will be represented by a Rule 144A Global Warrant (the "Rule 144A Global Warrant") which will be in registered form and either (i) deposited with the Principal W&C Instrument Agent as a custodian for, and registered in the name of a nominee of, DTC; or (ii) deposited with, and registered in the name of a nominee of, the Common Depositary.

Warrants which may be sold as described above to U.S. persons who are QIBs and who are also QPs in reliance on Rule 144A are referred to in this Offering Circular as "Rule 144A Warrants", which term shall also include, where the context requires, Rule 144A Warrants sold as described in the succeeding paragraph that are represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Warrant (as defined below).

If specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Warrants may be sold (a) pursuant to Rule 144A (i) to persons in the United States who are QIBs and who are also QPs or (ii) to or for the account or benefit of U.S. persons who are QIBs and who are also QPs and (b) in either case, concurrently outside the United States to non-U.S. persons pursuant to Regulation S. Such Warrants will be represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Warrant (the "Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Warrant") which will be in registered form and deposited with, and registered in the name of a nominee for, the Common Depositary.

If the Warrants are to be issued into and transferred through accounts at Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, and are not eligible for sale in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, such Series of Warrants will on issue be constituted by a global warrant in registered form (the "Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant", together with the Rule 144A Global Warrants and the Regulations S/Rule 144A Global Warrants, the "Global Warrants" and each, a "Global Warrant") which will be deposited with, and registered in the name of the nominee of, the Common Depositary.

Each Rule 144A Global Warrant, Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Warrant and Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant will be exchangeable in whole, but not in part, for individual warrant certificates ("individual warrant certificates") in a form to be agreed between the relevant Issuer and the Principal W&C Instrument Agent representing Warrants in definitive form ("Definitive Registered Warrants"), only upon the occurrence of an Exchange Event. For these purposes, "Exchange Event" means that (a) in the case of Warrants represented by a Rule 144A Global Warrant held through DTC, either DTC has notified the Issuer that it is unwilling or unable to continue as a depositary for that Rule 144A Global Warrant held through DTC and no alternative clearing system is available, or DTC has ceased to be a "clearing agency" registered under the Exchange Act, and no alternative clearing system is available, (b) in the case of Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrants and other Warrants registered in the name of a nominee of the Common Depositary, the relevant Issuer has been notified that both Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 calendar days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or have announced an intention permanently to cease business or have in fact done so and, in any such case, no successor clearing system is available or (c) the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor has or will become subject to adverse tax consequences which would not be suffered were the Warrants held in definitive form. The relevant Issuer will give notice of any such Exchange Event to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).

Whenever a Global Warrant is to be exchanged for individual warrant certificates, such individual warrant certificates shall be issued in equal number to the number of Warrants represented by the Global Warrant within five business days of the delivery, by or on behalf of the Holder, DTC or such other relevant clearing system, to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent of such information as is required to complete and deliver such individual warrant certificates (including, without limitation, the names and addresses of the persons in whose names the individual warrant certificates are to be registered and the number or notional amount of each such person's holding) against the surrender of the Global Warrant at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent.

Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement and the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of Warrants scheduled thereto and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any Holder, but against such indemnity as the Principal W&C Instrument Agent may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

If:

- (a) individual warrant certificates have not been issued and delivered by 5.00 p.m. (London time) on the thirtieth calendar day after the date on which the same are due to be issued and delivered in accordance with the terms of the Global Warrant; or
- (b) the date for final settlement of the Warrants has occurred and payment in full of the amount due has not been made to the Holder on the due date for payment in accordance with the terms of the Global Warrant, then the Global Warrant (including the obligation to deliver individual warrant certificates) will become void at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such thirtieth calendar day (in the case of (a) immediately above) or at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such due date (in the case of (b) immediately above) and the Holder of the Global Warrant will have no further rights thereunder (but without prejudice to the rights which the Holder of the Global Warrant or others may have under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant (as defined under "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments")). Under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant, each Holder is entitled to exercise or enforce in respect of each Warrant held by him, the rights and obligations attaching to the relevant Warrant as set out in, and subject to, the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant, the W&C Instruments Conditions and the applicable Final Terms issued in respect of such Warrants. For the avoidance of doubt, Holders of Warrants held through DTC are not entitled to the benefit of the direct rights under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant.

Form of the Certificates

Registered Certificates

If the applicable Final Terms specify that Certificates are eligible for sale exclusively in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, the Certificates sold (a) in the United States to QIBs who are also QPs within the meaning of Section 3(c)(7) and as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the 1940 Act and the rules thereunder or (b) to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons who are QIBs and also QPs will be represented by a Rule 144A Global Certificate (the "Rule 144A Global Certificates", together with the Rule 144A Global Warrants, the "Rule 144A Global W&C Instruments", and together with the Rule 144A Global Notes, the "Rule 144A Global Instruments") which will be in registered form and either (i) deposited with the Principal W&C Instrument Agent as a custodian for, and registered in the name of a nominee of, DTC; or (ii) deposited with, and registered in the name of a nominee of, the Common Depositary.

Certificates which may be sold as described above to U.S. persons who are QIBs and who are also QPs in reliance on Rule 144A are referred to in this Offering Circular as "Rule 144A Certificates", (and together with the Rule 144A Warrants, the "Rule 144A W&C Instruments"), which term shall also include, where the context requires, Rule 144A Certificates sold as described in the succeeding paragraph that are represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Certificate (as defined below).

If specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Certificates may be sold (a) pursuant to Rule 144A (i) to persons in the United States who are QIBs and who are also QPs or (ii) to or for the account or benefit of U.S. persons who are QIBs and who are also QPs and (b) in either case, concurrently outside the United States to non-U.S. persons pursuant to Regulation S. Such Certificates will be represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Certificate (the "Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Certificate", together with the Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Warrants, the "Regulation S/Rule 144A Global W&C Instruments", and together with the Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Notes, the "Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Instruments") which will be in registered form and deposited with, and registered in the name of a nominee for, the Common Depositary.

If the Certificates are to be issued into and transferred through accounts at Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, and are not eligible for sale in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, such Certificates will be issued in registered form and will be represented by a global registered certificate ("Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificates", together with the Rule 144A Global Certificates and the Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Certificates, the "Global Certificates" and each, a "Global Certificate"), as specified in the applicable Final Terms. Each Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate will be deposited on or around the relevant Issue Date with, and registered in the name of the nominee for, the Common Depositary.

Each Global Certificate will be exchangeable in whole, but not in part, for individual certificates ("individual certificates"), representing Certificates in definitive form ("Definitive Registered Certificates" and, together with Definitive Registered Notes and Definitive Registered Warrants, "Definitive Registered Instruments"), if (a) in the case of Certificates represented by Rule 144A Global Certificates held through DTC, either DTC has notified the Issuer that it is unwilling or unable to continue as a depositary for such Rule 144A Global Certificates held through DTC and no alternative clearing system is available, or DTC has ceased to be a "clearing agency" registered under the Exchange Act, and no alternative clearing system is available, (b) in the case of Global Registered Certificates and other Certificates registered in the name of a nominee of the Common Depositary, the relevant Issuer has been notified that both Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 calendar days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or have announced an intention permanently to cease business or have in fact done so and, in any such case, no successor clearing system is available and/or (c) in the case of Rule 144A Global Certificates and Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Certificates, the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor has or will become subject to adverse tax consequences which would not be suffered were the Certificates held in definitive form. The relevant Issuer will give notice of any such Exchange Event to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12 (Notices).

Whenever a Global Certificate is to be exchanged for individual certificates, the relevant Issuer shall procure that individual certificates will be issued in number or notional amount equal to the number or notional amount of the Global Certificates then outstanding within five business days of the delivery, by or on behalf of the registered holder of the Global Certificate, DTC or such other relevant clearing system, to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent of such information as is required to complete and deliver such individual certificates (including, without limitation, the names and addresses of the persons in whose names the individual certificates are to be registered and the number or notional amount of each such person's holding) against the surrender of the Global Registered Certificate at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent.

Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement and the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of Certificates scheduled thereto and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any Holder, but against such indemnity as the Principal W&C Instrument Agent may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

If:

- (a) individual certificates have not been delivered by 5.00 p.m. (London time) on the thirtieth calendar day after they are due to be issued and delivered in accordance with the terms of the Global Certificate; or
- (b) the date for final settlement of the Certificates has occurred and payment in full of all amounts due has not been made to the Holder of the Global Certificate on the due date for payment in accordance with the terms of the Global Certificate, then the Global Certificate (including the obligation to deliver individual certificates) will become void at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such thirtieth calendar day (in the case of (a) immediately above) or at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such due date (in the case of (b) immediately above) and the Holder of the Global Certificate will have no further rights thereunder (but without prejudice to the rights which the holder of the Global Certificate or others may have under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant). Under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant, each Holder is entitled to exercise or enforce in respect of each Certificate held by him, the rights and obligations attaching to the relevant Certificate as set out in, and subject to, the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant, the W&C Instruments Conditions and the applicable Final Terms issued in respect of such Certificates. For the avoidance of doubt, Holders of Certificates held through DTC are not entitled to the benefit of the direct rights under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant.

CREST Depository Interests

Following their delivery into a clearing system, interests in Instruments may be delivered, held and settled in CREST by means of the creation of CDIs representing the interests in the relevant Instruments. The CDIs will be issued by the CREST Depository to CDI Holders and will be governed by English law.

The CDIs will represent indirect interests in the interest of the CREST Nominee in the Instruments. Pursuant to the CREST Manual, Instruments held in global form may be settled through CREST, and the CREST Depository will issue CDIs. The CDIs will be independent securities, constituted under English law which may be held and transferred through CREST.

Interests in the Underlying Instruments will be credited to the CREST Nominee's account with Euroclear and the CREST Nominee will hold such interests as nominee for the CREST Depository which will issue CDIs to the relevant CREST participants.

Each CDI will be treated by the CREST Depository as if it were one Instrument, for the purposes of determining all rights and obligations and all amounts payable in respect thereof. The CREST Depository will pass on to CDI Holders any interest or other amounts received by it as holder of the Underlying Instruments on trust for such CDI Holder. CDI Holders will also be able to receive from the CREST Depository notices of meetings of holders of Instruments and other relevant notices issued by the Issuer.

Transfers of interests in Instruments by a CREST participant to a participant of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg will be effected by cancellation of the CDIs and transfer of an interest in such Underlying Instruments to the account of the relevant participant with Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg.

The CDIs will have the same ISIN as the ISIN of the Underlying Instruments and will not require a separate listing on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange.

Prospective subscribers for Instruments represented by CDIs are referred to Chapter 3 of the CREST Manual which contains the form of the CREST Deed Poll entered into by the CREST Depository. The rights of the CDI Holders will be governed by the arrangements between CREST, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and the Issuer including the CREST Deed Poll (in the form contained in Chapter 3 of the CREST International Manual (which forms part of the CREST Manual)) executed by the CREST Depository. These rights may be different from those of holders of Instruments which are not represented by CDIs.

If issued, CDIs will be delivered, held and settled in CREST, by means of the CREST International Settlement Links Service. The settlement of the CDIs by means of the CREST International Settlement Links Service has the following consequences for CDI Holders:

1. CDI Holders will not be the legal owners of the Instruments. The CDIs are separate legal instruments from the Underlying Instruments to which they relate and represent an indirect interest in such Underlying Instruments;
2. the Underlying Instruments themselves (as distinct from the CDIs representing indirect interests in such Underlying Instruments) will be held in an account with a custodian. The custodian will hold the Underlying Instruments through a clearing system. Rights in the Underlying Instruments will be held through custodial and depository links through the appropriate clearing systems. The legal title to the Underlying Instruments or to interests in the Underlying Instruments will depend on the rules of the clearing system in or through which the Underlying Instruments are held;

3. rights under the Underlying Instruments cannot be enforced by CDI Holders except indirectly through the intermediary depositories and custodians described above. The enforcement of rights under the Underlying Instruments will therefore be subject to the local law of the relevant intermediary. The rights of CDI Holders to the Underlying Instruments are represented by the entitlements against the CREST Depository which (through the CREST Nominee) holds interests in the Underlying Instruments. This could result in an elimination or reduction in the payments that otherwise would have been made in respect of the Underlying Instruments in the event of any insolvency or liquidation of a relevant intermediary, in particular where the Underlying Instruments held in clearing systems are not held in special purpose accounts and are fungible with other securities held in the same accounts on behalf of other customers of the relevant intermediaries;
4. the CDIs issued to CDI Holders will be constituted and issued pursuant to the CREST Deed Poll. CDI Holders will be bound by all provisions of the CREST Deed Poll and by all provisions of or prescribed pursuant to the CREST Manual and the CREST Rules and CDI Holders must comply in full with all obligations imposed on them by such provisions;
5. potential investors should note that the provisions of the CREST Deed Poll, the CREST Manual and the CREST Rules contain indemnities, warranties, representations and undertakings to be given by CDI Holders and limitations on the liability of the issuer of the CDIs, the CREST Depository;
6. CDI Holders may incur liabilities resulting from a breach of any such indemnities, warranties, representations and undertakings in excess of the money invested by them. The attention of potential investors is drawn to the terms of the CREST Deed Poll, the CREST Manual and the CREST Rules, copies of which are available from CREST;
7. potential investors should note that CDI Holders may be required to pay fees, charges, costs and expenses to the CREST Depository in connection with the use of the CREST International Settlement Links Service. These will include the fees and expenses charged by the CREST Depository in respect of the provision of services by it under the CREST Deed Poll and any taxes, duties, charges, costs or expenses which may be or become payable in connection with the holding of the CDIs through the CREST International Settlement Links Service; and
8. potential investors should note that the Issuers, the Guarantor, the Dealers, the Agents, the Registrar or their respective advisers will not have any responsibility for the performance by any intermediaries or their respective direct or indirect participants or accountholders of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations.

FORM OF FINAL TERMS OF THE NOTES

[IMPORTANT - PROHIBITION OF SALES TO EEA RETAIL INVESTORS - The Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area ("EEA"). For these purposes, a "retail investor" means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU, as amended or superseded ("MiFID II"); (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97, as amended or superseded (the "Insurance Distribution Directive"), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the EU Prospectus Regulation (as defined below). Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended or superseded, the "EU PRIIPs Regulation") for offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the EU PRIIPs Regulation.]¹

[IMPORTANT - PROHIBITION OF SALES TO UK RETAIL INVESTORS - The Notes are not intended to be offered, sold, distributed or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold, distributed or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the UK (as defined below). For these purposes, a "retail investor" means a person who is neither: (i) a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018; nor (ii) a qualified investor as defined in paragraph 15 of Schedule 1 to the Public Offers and Admissions to Trading Regulations 2024 (the "POATRs"). Consequently no disclosure document required by the FCA Product Disclosure Sourcebook ("DISC") for offering, selling or distributing the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been prepared and therefore offering, selling or distributing the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the UK may be unlawful under DISC and the Consumer Composite Investments (Designated Activities) Regulations 2024.]²

[PROHIBITION OF OFFERING AND MARKETING TO SWISS PRIVATE CLIENTS - The Notes are not intended to be offered, sold, marketed or otherwise made available to and shall not be offered, sold, marketed or otherwise made available to any private client in Switzerland other than in the context of a portfolio management agreement within the meaning of article 58(2) of the Swiss Financial Services Act ("FinSA") and article 83 of the Swiss Financial Services Ordinance ("FinSO"). No key information document within the meaning of article 58 FinSA (or equivalent document) has been prepared with respect to the Notes.]³

[The Notes [and the BofA Finance Guarantee]⁴ may not be offered, sold, resold, traded, transferred, pledged, assigned, delivered, exercised or redeemed, directly or indirectly, at any time within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person (other than distributors) unless registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") or pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act.]⁵

[The Notes are intended to qualify as eligible debt securities within the meaning of the final total loss-absorbing capacity rules of the U.S. Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System regarding, among other things, the minimum levels of unsecured eligible long-term debt and other loss-absorbing capacity that certain U.S. bank holding companies, including Bank of America Corporation, are required to maintain. [The Notes are being offered by Merrill Lynch International ("MLI") or BofA Securities Europe SA ("BofASE") subject to prior sale, when, as and if delivered to and accepted by MLI or BofASE and to certain other conditions. Notes sold in the United States will be sold through BofA Securities, Inc., a registered broker-dealer. MLI or BofASE reserves the right to withdraw, cancel or modify such offer and to reject orders in whole or in part.

No person is authorised to give any information or to make any representation not contained in or not consistent with this document or any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or the Notes and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer, [the Guarantor,] the Principal Paying Agent or any other person. This document does not constitute, and may not be used for the purposes of, an offer or solicitation by anyone in any jurisdiction in which such offer or solicitation is not authorised or to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such offer or solicitation and no action is being taken to permit an offering of the Notes or the distribution of this document in any jurisdiction where any such action is required.

The delivery of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular does not at any time imply that the information contained herein or in the Offering Circular concerning the Issuer [and/or the Guarantor] is correct at any time subsequent to the date hereof or that any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or the Notes is correct as of any time subsequent to the date indicated in the document containing the same. [None of][Neither] MLI[,], [nor] BofASE [and BofA Securities, Inc.] undertakes to review the financial condition or affairs of the Issuer [and/or the Guarantor] during the life of the Programme. Investors should review, inter alia, the most recently published annual financial statements, if any, of the Issuer [and the Guarantor] when deciding whether or not to purchase any Notes.

The Notes create options which are either exercisable by the relevant holder or which will be automatically exercised as provided herein. The Notes will be exercised or will be exercisable in the manner set forth herein and in the Offering Circular. The Notes are subject to restrictions on transfer. Holders of Notes may not transfer the Notes except as permitted under the Securities Act and applicable state securities laws and subject to the transfer restrictions set forth in the Offering Circular. Any transfer of a Rule 144A Note in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person must be made to or through the Issuer or the Dealer to a person that is a QIB/QP that executes an Investor Representation Letter and otherwise in accordance with the applicable transfer restrictions set forth in the Offering Circular. See "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions" in the Offering Circular.

Neither these Final Terms, the Offering Circular nor any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any Notes (i) is intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation or (ii) should be considered as a recommendation by the Issuer, [the Guarantor,] MLI[,] [or] BofASE [or BofA Securities, Inc.] that any recipient of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular or any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any Notes should purchase any Notes. Each investor contemplating purchasing any Notes should make its own independent investigation of the financial condition and affairs, and its own appraisal of the creditworthiness, of the Issuer [and the Guarantor]. No representation is made to any offeree or purchaser of the Notes regarding the legality of an investment therein by such offeree or purchaser under any applicable legal investment or similar laws or regulations. The contents of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular are not to be construed as legal, business or tax advice. Each prospective investor should consult his or her attorney or business and tax advisor as to legal, business and tax advice.

Each person receiving these Final Terms and the Offering Circular acknowledges that (i) such person has been afforded an opportunity to request from the Issuer [and the Guarantor] and to review all additional information concerning the Issuer [and the Guarantor] and the terms of the Notes that it considers to be necessary to verify the accuracy of, or to supplement, the information contained herein, (ii) such person has not relied on the Initial Purchaser (as defined below) or any person affiliated with the Initial Purchaser in connection with its investigation of the accuracy of such information or its investment decision, (iii) none of the Issuer, [the Guarantor] and the Initial Purchaser has made any due diligence inquiry with respect to the Reference Item (if applicable) in connection with the offering of the Notes, (iv) the Issuer, [the Guarantor] and the Initial Purchaser and their affiliates may obtain material non-public information regarding the Reference Item (if applicable) or any affiliate of the Reference Item (if applicable), and none of the Issuer, [the Guarantor,] the Initial Purchaser and any such affiliate undertakes to disclose any such information to subsequent purchasers of Notes and (v) no person has been authorised to give any information or to make any representation concerning the Issuer, [the Guarantor] or the Notes other than as contained herein or in the Offering Circular and, if given or made, any such other information or representation should not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer, [the Guarantor] or the Initial Purchaser.²⁴

[Each offeree is authorised to use these Final Terms and the Offering Circular solely for the purpose of considering the purchase of the Notes described herein. [The Issuer, [the Guarantor] and any of MLI[,] [or] BofASE [or BofA Securities, Inc.], as initial purchaser (the "Initial Purchaser"), reserve the right to reject any offer to purchase, in whole or in part, for any reason, or to sell less than all of the Notes.]²⁵ These Final Terms and the Offering Circular are personal to the offeree to whom they have been delivered and do not constitute an offer to any other person or to the public in general to subscribe for or otherwise acquire the Notes. Distribution of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular to any person other than the offeree and those persons, if any, retained to advise the offeree in connection with its purchase of the Notes is unauthorised, and any disclosure of any of their contents, without the prior written consent of the Issuer[,] [and] [the Guarantor] and the Initial Purchaser, is prohibited.]²⁶

[Nothing herein should be considered to impose on the recipient of these Final Terms any limitation on disclosure of the tax treatment or tax structure of the transactions or matters described herein.]²⁷

The Issuer [and the Guarantor] reserve[s] the right to reject any offer to purchase, in whole or in part, for any reason, or to sell less than all of the Notes.

[The following alternative language applies if the first tranche of an issue of Notes which is being increased was issued under the Original Base Prospectus/Offering Circular (as defined below).]

Terms used herein shall be deemed to be defined as such for the purposes of the Terms and Conditions set forth in the [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular] dated [15 September 2009] [22 June 2010] [22 June 2011] [24 May 2012] [9 January 2013] [15 November 2013] [12 November 2014] [11 November 2015] [10 May 2016] [24 January 2017] [19 May 2017] [18 May 2018] [16 May 2019] [14 May 2020] [14 May 2021] [13 May 2022] [15 May 2023] [15 May 2024] [15 May 2025] (the "Original [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular]") which are incorporated by reference in the Offering Circular dated 15 May 2026 (the "Offering Circular") as supplemented by the supplement(s) to the Offering Circular approved by the Luxembourg Stock Exchange from time to time, which are available at www.luxse.com. This document constitutes the Final Terms of the Notes described herein and must be read in conjunction with the Offering Circular and any supplements thereto, including the Terms and Conditions incorporated by reference in the Offering Circular as supplemented. Full information on the Issuer[, the Guarantor] and the offer of the Notes is only available on the basis of the combination of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular and any supplements thereto (including those sections of the Original [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular] incorporated by reference therein). The Original [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular] and the Offering Circular and the supplement(s) to the Offering Circular are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the registered office of the relevant Dealer and at the specified office of the applicable Paying Agent and in electronic form on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's website (www.luxse.com).]

References herein to numbered Conditions are to the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" set forth in the [Offering Circular] [Original [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular]] and words and expressions defined in such terms and conditions shall bear the same meaning in these Final Terms, save as where otherwise expressly provided. [References in the Offering Circular to "Instruments" and related references (including, but not limited to, "Instrument Agents") shall, for the purposes of the issue of the Notes, save where the context otherwise requires, be deemed to be references to "Securities" (including "Security Agents").]

Prospective investors should note that the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" set out in the [Offering Circular] [Original [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular]] and any non-contractual obligations arising out of, or in connection with, the Notes are governed by, and construed in accordance with, [English law] [the laws of the State of New York]³⁷ [, and the relevant Guarantee] is governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York].

No person has been authorised to give any information or make any representation not contained in or not consistent with these Final Terms, or any other information supplied in connection with the Notes and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer[, the Guarantor] or any Dealer.

By investing in the Notes each investor represents that:

- (a) Non-Reliance. It is acting for its own account, and it has made its own independent decisions to invest in the Notes and as to whether the investment in the Notes is appropriate or proper for it based upon its own judgement and upon advice from such advisers as it has deemed necessary. It is not relying on any communication (written or oral) of the Issuer[, the Guarantor] or any Dealer as investment advice or as a recommendation to invest in the Notes, it being understood that information and explanations related to the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" shall not be considered to be investment advice or a recommendation to invest in the Notes. No communication (written or oral) received from the Issuer[, the Guarantor] or any Dealer shall be deemed to be an assurance or guarantee as to the expected results of the investment in the Notes.

- (b) Assessment and Understanding. It is capable of assessing the merits of and understanding (on its own behalf or through independent professional advice), and understands and accepts, the terms and conditions and the risks of the investment in the Notes. It is also capable of assuming, and assumes, the risks of the investment in the Notes.
- (c) Status of Parties. None of the Issuer[, the Guarantor] and any Dealer is acting as fiduciary for or adviser to it in respect of the investment in the Notes.

[These Final Terms shall also serve as a Confirmation by [name of applicable permitted dealer in the United States] pursuant to Rule 10b-10 of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and any other applicable rules and regulations.]³⁸

SUMMARY

INTRODUCTION AND WARNINGS

This Summary should be read as an introduction to these Final Terms. Any decision to invest in the Notes should be based on consideration of the Offering Circular (which includes the documents incorporated by reference therein) and these Final Terms as a whole by the investor.

Any liability for information contained in this Summary is limited to cases where this Summary is misleading, inaccurate or inconsistent when read together with the other parts of the Final Terms and the Offering Circular.

The Notes do not constitute a participation in a collective investment scheme in the meaning of the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act. Therefore, the Notes are not subject to approval, registration or supervision by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority ("FINMA"). Accordingly, neither the Notes nor holders of the Notes benefit from protection under the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act or supervision by FINMA and investors are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer [and Guarantor].

This Summary has been prepared and is being provided solely for the purpose of an offer of the Notes in Switzerland pursuant to the Swiss Financial Services Act ("FinSA") and it must not be used for any other purpose or in any other context than for which it is prepared and provided. This Summary does not apply to, must not be used for or in connection with, and does not constitute, any offer or invitation for subscription of the Instruments to, or any solicitation by, any person in any jurisdiction other than Switzerland.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE NOTES

The following are the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" which will be endorsed on, incorporated by reference into or attached to each Global Note (as defined below) and each individual note certificate (an "Individual Note Certificate") representing a Registered Note (as defined below) in definitive form (a "Definitive Registered Note"), and in the case of Individual Note Certificates only if permitted by the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority (if any) and agreed by the relevant Issuer, as applicable, and the relevant Dealer at the time of issue but, if not so permitted and agreed, such Individual Note Certificate will have endorsed thereon or attached thereto such Terms and Conditions. The applicable Final Terms (as defined below) in relation to any Tranche (as defined below) of Notes may specify other terms and conditions (including the Additional Terms and Conditions described below) which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with the following Terms and Conditions, replace or modify the following Terms and Conditions for the purpose of such Tranche of Notes. The applicable Final Terms (or the relevant provisions thereof) will be endorsed upon, or attached to, each Global Note and Individual Note Certificate, as applicable.

This Note is one of a Series (as defined below) of notes (the "Notes") issued by whichever of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"), Bank of America, N.A. ("BANA"), BofA Finance LLC ("BofA Finance") or Merrill Lynch B.V. ("MLBV") is specified as the Issuer in the applicable Final Terms (the "Issuer"), and references to the Issuer shall be construed accordingly.

References herein to the "Notes" shall be references to the Notes of a Series and shall mean:

- (a) in relation to any Registered Note represented by a global Note (a "Global Note"), units of each Specified Denomination in the Specified Currency;
- (b) any Global Note; and
- (c) any Definitive Registered Notes issued in exchange for a Global Note.

References herein to a Global Note shall include any Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Note, CMU Global Registered Note, Temporary Global Registered Note or Permanent Global Registered Note (as defined below) in respect of a Series of Notes.

Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance have the benefit of a New York Law Agency Agreement dated 15 May 2026 (such agency agreement as amended and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the "New York Law Agency Agreement") which is governed by the laws of the State of New York and made among BAC, in its capacity as Issuer and as Guarantor, BANA, in its capacity as Issuer, and BofA Finance, in its capacity as Issuer, Citibank, N.A., London Branch as principal paying agent (the "Principal Paying Agent"), Citibank Europe plc as registrar (the "Registrar") and the other agents named therein.

Any additional or successor paying agents appointed under the New York Law Agency Agreement, together with the Principal Paying Agent, are referred to herein as the "BAC/BANA/BofA Finance Paying Agents".

Notes issued by MLBV have the benefit of an Amended and Restated English Law Agency Agreement dated 15 May 2026 (such agency agreement as amended and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the "English Law Agency Agreement") which is governed by English law and made among MLBV, in its capacity as Issuer, BAC in its capacity as Guarantor, the Principal Paying Agent, the Registrar and the other agents named therein.

CMU Notes issued by MLBV have the benefit of an Amended and Restated CMU Agency Agreement dated 15 May 2026 (such agency agreement as amended and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the "CMU Agency Agreement" and, together with the New York Law Agency Agreement and the English Law Agency Agreement, the "Agency Agreements") which is governed by English law made among MLBV, in its capacity as Issuer, BAC, in its capacity as Guarantor and Citicorp International Limited, as CMU Lodging and Paying Agent (the "CMU Lodging and Paying Agent"), Registrar (the "CMU Registrar") and Transfer Agent (the "CMU Transfer Agent").

Any additional or successor paying agents appointed under the English Law Agency Agreement, together with the Principal Paying Agent, are referred to herein as the "MLBV Paying Agents". The BAC/BANA/BofA Finance Paying Agents and the MLBV Paying Agents are referred to herein as the "Paying Agents".

References herein to the "applicable Agency Agreement" shall mean (i) the New York Law Agency Agreement, in the case of Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, or (ii) the English Law Agency Agreement, in the case of Notes (other than CMU Notes) issued by MLBV, or (iii) the CMU Agency Agreement and the applicable provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement, in the case of CMU Notes issued by MLBV, as applicable.

References herein to the "Agents" are to the Registrar and the Paying Agents and any reference to an "Agent" is to any one of them.

With respect to CMU Notes only, a reference herein to the "Registrar" shall be construed to include the CMU Registrar and/or the CMU Transfer Agent, as applicable, and a reference to the "Principal Paying Agent" or a "Paying Agent" shall be construed to include the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent and references to "Agents" or an "Agent" shall be construed accordingly.

The applicable Final Terms (the "Final Terms") for the Notes (or the relevant provisions thereof) are set out in Part A of the Final Terms attached to, endorsed on or constituting a part of the Note which supplement these Terms and Conditions (the "Terms and Conditions", or the "Conditions") and may specify other terms and conditions which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with these Terms and Conditions, replace or modify these Terms and Conditions for the purposes of the Note. References to the "applicable Final Terms" are to Part A of the Final Terms (or the relevant provisions thereof) attached to, endorsed on or constituting a part of the Note.

The additional Terms and Conditions (the "Additional Terms and Conditions") contained in Annex 1 in the case of Index Linked Notes (together with Annex 16 where Index-Linked Contracts are referenced), Annex 2 in the case of Share Linked Notes, Annex 4 in the case of GDR/ADR Linked Notes, Annex 5 in the case of FX Linked Notes, Annex 6 in the case of Commodity Linked Notes, Annex 7 in the case of Fund Linked Notes, Annex 8 in the case of Inflation Linked Notes, Annex 9A in the case of Credit Linked Notes, Annex 10 in the case of Physical Delivery Notes, Annex 11A in the case of Rule 144A Notes, Annex 13, Annex 14 or Annex 14A in the case of Secured Notes (each as defined below), Annex 15 in the case of Preference Share Linked Notes, Annex 17 in the case of Notes for which "Floating Rate Note Provisions" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms and/or Annex 19 in the case of Bond Linked Notes, will apply to, and form part of the Terms and Conditions of the Notes if and to the extent specified in the applicable Final Terms.

The payment obligations and/or delivery obligations in respect of the Notes (other than Secured Notes (as defined below), CMU Notes or Korean Notes) issued by MLBV are unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by BAC (in such capacity, the "Guarantor") pursuant to a guarantee (the "MLBV Guarantee") dated 15 May 2026 executed by BAC. For the avoidance of doubt, the Notes issued by BANA and the Secured Notes issued by MLBV are not guaranteed by BAC, and Holders of such Notes will not be able to claim under the terms of any Guarantee (as defined below) for any unpaid amounts and any such shortfall will not constitute an unsecured claim by such Holder of such Notes against the Guarantor. The payment obligations in respect of the Notes issued by BofA Finance are unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by the Guarantor pursuant to a guarantee (the "BofA Finance Guarantee") dated 15 May 2026 executed by BAC. The payment obligations and/or delivery obligations in respect of the CMU Notes issued by MLBV are unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by the Guarantor pursuant to a guarantee (the "CMU Notes Guarantee") dated 15 May 2026 executed by BAC. The payment obligations in respect of the Korean Notes issued by MLBV are unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by the Guarantor pursuant to a guarantee (the "Korean Notes Guarantee") and, together with the MLBV Guarantee, BofA Finance Guarantee and CMU Notes Guarantee, the "Guarantees" and each, a "Guarantee") dated 15 May 2026 executed by BAC. In respect of any Physical Delivery Notes, BAC will only pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount (as defined below) instead of delivering the Entitlement (as defined in Annex 10) if MLBV fails to satisfy its delivery obligations under the Notes (if any), and any payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount shall constitute a complete discharge of BAC's obligations under the MLBV Guarantee or CMU Notes Guarantee, as applicable, in respect of the relevant Physical Delivery Notes.

Any reference to "Noteholders" or "Holders" shall mean the person in whose name a Registered Note is registered and in relation to any Notes represented by a Global Note.

As used herein, "Tranche" means Notes which are identical in all respects (including as to listing and admission to trading) and "Series" means a Tranche of Notes together with any further Tranche or Tranches of Notes which are (i) expressed to be consolidated and form a single series and (ii) identical in all respects (including as to listing and admission to trading) save for, if applicable, the amount, issue price, interest commencement date and date of first payment of interest thereon.

The Holders of the Notes issued by MLBV and held through Euroclear Bank SA/NV ("Euroclear") and/or Clearstream Banking, S.A. ("Clearstream, Luxembourg") and/or the CMU are entitled to the benefit of the Notes Deed of Covenant dated 15 May 2026 (the "MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant") or in the case of CMU Notes, the Deed of Covenant dated 15 May 2026 (the "CMU Notes Deed of Covenant"), in each case made by MLBV. The original of the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant is held by a common depositary for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg (each as defined below) (the "Common Depositary") and the original of the CMU Notes Deed of Covenant is held by the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent at its specified office. For the avoidance of doubt, Holders of Notes issued by MLBV and held through The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") are not entitled to the benefit of the direct rights under the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant or the CMU Notes Deed of Covenant.

Copies of the New York Law Agency Agreement are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the specified office of each BAC/BANA/BofA Finance Paying Agent. Copies of the English Law Agency Agreement and the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the specified office of each of the MLBV Paying Agents. Copies of the English Law Agency Agreement, the CMU Agency Agreement and the CMU Notes Deed of Covenant are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the specified office of the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent. Copies of the BofA Finance Guarantee and the MLBV Guarantee are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the specified offices of the Principal Paying Agent. Copies of the applicable Final Terms are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the specified office of the relevant Dealer and the applicable Paying Agents only by a Holder (as defined in Condition 1 or "Annex 11A – Additional Terms and Conditions for Rule 144A Notes" as applicable) holding one or more Notes and such Holder must produce evidence satisfactory to the Issuer or the relevant Paying Agent as to its holding of such Notes and identity. The Offering Circular and, in the case of Notes admitted to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF, the applicable Final Terms will also be published on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.luxse.com). Final Terms relating to Notes listed and/or admitted to trading on any other stock exchange or market will be published in accordance with the rules and regulations of such stock exchange or market.

The Noteholders are deemed to have notice of, are entitled to the benefit of and are bound by all the provisions of the applicable Agency Agreement, the relevant Guarantee (if applicable), the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant (if applicable) or the CMU Notes Deed of Covenant (if applicable) and the applicable Final Terms which are applicable to them. Certain provisions in these Terms and Conditions include summaries of, and are subject to, the detailed provisions of the applicable Agency Agreement, the relevant Guarantee (if applicable) and the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant (if applicable).

Words and expressions defined in the applicable Agency Agreement or used in the applicable Final Terms shall have the same meanings where used in these Terms and Conditions unless the context otherwise requires or unless otherwise stated and provided that, in the event of inconsistency between the applicable Agency Agreement and the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms will prevail.

1. Form, Denomination and Title

The Notes will be issued in registered form ("Registered Notes") and, in the case of Individual Note Certificates, serially numbered, in the Specified Currency and the Specified Denomination(s) specified in the applicable Final Terms subject to compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements. Notes of one Specified Denomination may not be exchanged for Notes of another Specified Denomination, or subdivided or reissued in a smaller denomination.

The Notes issued by MLBV, BANA or BofA Finance may be Fixed Rate Notes, Floating Rate Notes, Zero Coupon Notes, Index Linked Interest Notes, Share Linked Interest Notes, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, FX Linked Interest Notes, Commodity Linked Interest Notes, Fund Linked Interest Notes, Inflation Linked Interest Notes, interest bearing Credit Linked Notes, Bond Linked Interest Notes or a combination of any of the foregoing, or, in the case of MLBV, the Notes may be Preference Share Linked Notes, depending on the Interest Basis specified in the applicable Final Terms. The Notes issued by BAC may be Fixed Rate Notes, Floating Rate Notes or Zero Coupon Notes, or a combination of any of the foregoing, depending on the Interest Basis specified in the applicable Final Terms, in each case subject to the limitations or restrictions on the general conditions identified herein for these types of Notes. The Notes issued by BAC must be eligible debt securities within the meaning of the final rules of the U.S. Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the "Federal Reserve Board") relating to, among other things, establishing total loss-absorbing capacity standards and requiring minimum amounts of unsecured external long-term debt (the "TLAC Rules").

The Notes issued by MLBV, BANA or BofA Finance may be Instalment Notes, Partly Paid Notes, Index Linked Redemption Notes (together with Index Linked Interest Notes, "Index Linked Notes"), Share Linked Redemption Notes (together with Share Linked Interest Notes, "Share Linked Notes"), GDR/ADR Linked Redemption Notes (together with GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, "GDR/ADR Linked Notes"), FX Linked Redemption Notes (together with FX Linked Interest Notes, "FX Linked Notes"), Commodity Linked Redemption Notes (together with Commodity Linked Interest Notes, "Commodity Linked Notes"), Fund Linked Redemption Notes (together with Fund Linked Interest Notes, "Fund Linked Notes"), Inflation Linked Redemption Notes (together with Inflation Linked Interest Notes, "Inflation Linked Notes"), Credit Linked Notes, Bond Linked Redemption Notes (together with Bond Linked Interest Notes, "Bond Linked Notes") or a combination of any of the foregoing, or, (in the case of MLBV) the Notes may be Preference Share Linked Notes, depending upon the Redemption/Payment Basis specified in the applicable Final Terms. The Notes issued by MLBV may be secured by a segregated pool of Collateral Assets with a custodian or collateral service provider (the "Secured Notes"). The Notes issued by BAC (which may include Instalment Notes) must be eligible debt securities within the meaning of the TLAC Rules.

If the applicable Final Terms of MLBV Notes specify "Physical Delivery Notes" to be applicable, the Note may be redeemed by delivery of the Entitlement, and "Annex 10 – Additional Terms and Conditions for Physical Delivery Notes" shall apply. BAC Notes and BofA Finance Notes may not be "Physical Delivery Notes" or redeemed by delivery of the Entitlement.

Subject as set out below, title to Registered Notes shall, subject to mandatory rules of law, pass by registration in the Register that the Issuer shall procure to be kept by the Registrar in accordance with the provisions of the applicable Agency Agreement.

For so long as any of the Notes are represented by a Global Note held on behalf of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, each person (other than Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg) who is for the time being shown in the records of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as the holder of a particular nominal amount of such Notes (in which regard any certificate or other document issued by Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as to the nominal amount of such Notes standing to the account of any person shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes save in the case of manifest or proven error) shall be treated by the Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Notes (other than Secured Notes) issued by MLBV and Notes issued by BofA Finance), the Registrar and the Paying Agents, as applicable, as the holder of such nominal amount of such Notes for all purposes other than with respect to the payment of principal, premium (if any) or interest or any other amounts payable on, or (if applicable) deliveries in respect of, such nominal amount of such Notes, for which purpose the registered holder of the relevant Global Note shall be treated by the Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Notes (other than Secured Notes) issued by MLBV or Notes issued by BofA Finance), the Registrar and any Paying Agent, as applicable, as the holder of such nominal amount of such Notes in accordance with and subject to the terms of the relevant Global Note (and the expression "Holder" and related expressions shall be construed accordingly).

For so long as any of the CMU Notes are represented by a Global Note lodged with the CMU, each person who is for the time being shown in the records of the CMU as the holder (other than Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system) of a particular nominal amount of the CMU Notes (in which regard the records of the CMU (in the absence of manifest error) shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes save in the case of manifest or proven error) shall be treated by MLBV as the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Registrar and the Paying Agents, as applicable, as the holder of such nominal amount of such CMU Notes for all purposes other than with respect to the payment of principal, premium (if any) or interest or any other amounts payable on, or (if applicable) deliveries in respect of, such nominal amount of such CMU Notes, for which purpose the registered holder of the relevant Global Note shall be treated by MLBV as the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Registrar and any Paying Agent, as applicable, as the holder of such nominal amount of such CMU Notes in accordance with and subject to the terms of the relevant Global Note (and in relation to CMU Notes, the expression "Holder" and related expressions shall be construed accordingly).

Any reference herein to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg shall, whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any additional or alternative clearing system approved by the Issuer and the Principal Paying Agent from time to time. In such event, any provisions herein relating to the rules, procedures, practices or operational mechanics of Euroclear and/or Clearstream shall apply mutatis mutandis to reflect the rules, procedures, practices or operational mechanics of such additional or alternative clearing system.

2. Exchange and Transfer of Notes

(A) Exchange of Notes

In the case of an exchange of a Global Note for one or more Individual Note Certificates, the Registrar will reflect any such exchange on the Register, and one or more new Individual Note Certificates will be issued to the designated transferee or transferees by the Principal Paying Agent.

(B) Exchange of Temporary Global Registered Notes for Permanent Global Registered Notes

Interests in each Temporary Global Registered Note will be exchangeable, free of charge to the Holder, following expiration of the applicable Distribution Compliance Period, in whole or in part, upon certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership in the form set out in the New York Law Agency Agreement, for interests in a Permanent Global Registered Note or, if (1) an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, (2) the Issuer has been notified that both Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 calendar days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or have announced an intention permanently to cease business or have in fact done so and, in any such case, no successor clearing system is available, or (3) the Issuer, after notice to the Principal Paying Agent, determines to issue the Notes in definitive form, for Definitive Registered Notes, as the case may be.

Each Permanent Global Registered Note will be exchangeable, free of charge to the Holder, in whole but not in part, for Definitive Registered Notes if: (1) an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, (2) the Issuer has been notified that both Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 calendar days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or have announced an intention permanently to cease business or have in fact done so and, in any such case, no successor clearing system is available, or (3) the Issuer, after notice to the Principal Paying Agent, determines to issue the Notes in definitive form.

(C) Notes held in Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg or the CMU

Notes (other than CMU Notes) which are represented by a Global Note will be transferable only in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, and CMU Notes which are represented by a Global Note will be transferred only in accordance with the CMU Rules.

(D) Transfer of Definitive Registered Notes and Global Notes

Subject to Condition 2(G) (Exchange and Transfer of Notes - Closed Periods), transfers of Definitive Registered Notes or Global Notes are effected upon the surrender (at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent) of the Individual Note Certificates or Global Note, as applicable, to be transferred together with the form of transfer endorsed on such Individual Note Certificates or Global Note, as applicable (or another form of transfer substantially in the same form and containing the same representations and certifications (if any), unless otherwise agreed by the Issuer), duly completed and executed by the person shown as the registered Holder on the Register, or its attorney duly authorised in writing, and such other evidence as the Principal Paying Agent may reasonably require. The Registrar will reflect any such transfer on the Register in respect of the holding being transferred. In the case of the transfer of all of a holding of Notes represented by one Individual Note Certificate or Global Note, as applicable, the Principal Paying Agent will cancel the Individual Note Certificate or Global Note, as applicable, surrendered by the transferor, and one new Individual Note Certificate or Global Note, as applicable, will be issued to the designated transferee (following the transferee's surrender of any existing Individual Note Certificate or Global Note, as applicable, in respect of Notes of that Series). In the case of a transfer of part only of a holding of Notes represented by one Individual Note Certificate, a new Individual Note Certificate will be issued to the designated transferee (following the transferee's surrender of any existing Individual Note Certificate in respect of Notes of that Series) and a further new Individual Note Certificate in respect of the balance of the holding not transferred shall be issued to the transferor. In the case of a transfer of Definitive Registered Notes of a Series to a transferee who is already a Holder of Notes of such Series, a new Individual Note Certificate representing the enlarged holding shall only be issued against surrender of the Individual Note Certificate representing the existing holding. No beneficial owner of an interest in a Global Note will be able to transfer such interest, except as described above in Condition 2(B) (Exchange and Transfer of Notes – Notes held in Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg or the CMU).

(E) Exercise of Options or Partial Redemption in Respect of Notes

In the case of an exercise of an Issuer Call or Investor Put in respect of, or a partial redemption of, a holding of Notes represented by a Global Note, the Registrar shall make such entries in the Register to reflect the exercise of such option or in respect of the balance of the holding not redeemed.

In the case of an exercise of an Issuer Call or Investor Put in respect of, or a partial redemption of, a holding of Definitive Registered Notes represented by a single Individual Note Certificate, a new Individual Note Certificate shall be issued to the Holder to reflect the exercise of such option or in respect of the balance of the holding not redeemed. In the case of a partial exercise of an option resulting in Definitive Registered Notes of the same holding having different terms, separate Individual Note Certificates shall be issued in respect of those Notes of that holding that have the same terms. New Individual Note Certificates shall only be issued against surrender of the existing Individual Note Certificate to the Principal Paying Agent.

(F) Delivery of New Individual Note Certificates and Global Notes

Each new Individual Note Certificate or Global Note to be issued pursuant to this Condition 2 (Exchange and Transfer of Notes) shall be available for delivery within three Business Days of receipt of the form of transfer and surrender of the Individual Note Certificate or Global Note, as applicable, for exchange. Delivery of the new Individual Note Certificate(s) or Global Note, as applicable, shall be made at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent to whom delivery or surrender of such request for exchange, form of transfer, or Individual Note Certificate or Global Note shall have been made or, at the option of the Holder making such delivery or surrender as aforesaid and as specified in the relevant request for exchange, form of transfer or otherwise in writing, be mailed by uninsured post at the risk of the Holder entitled to the new Individual Note Certificate or Global Note (as applicable) to such address as may be so specified, unless such Holder requests otherwise and pays in advance to the Principal Paying Agent the costs of such other method of delivery and/or such insurance as it may specify.

(G) Closed Periods

No Holder may require the transfer of Notes to be registered:

- (a) during the period beginning on the Record Date and ending on the due date for redemption of, or payment of any Instalment Amount, or amount of interest, in respect of, that Note;
- (b) during the period beginning on the Record Date and ending on the date on which Notes may be called for redemption by the Issuer at its option pursuant to Condition 7(D) (Redemption, Repayment and Repurchase – Redemption at the Option of the Issuer (Issuer Call));
- (c) after any such Note has been called for redemption;
- (d) during the period beginning on the Record Date and ending on the date fixed for any meeting of Noteholders, or any adjourned meeting of Noteholders;
- (e) during the period of seven calendar days ending on (and including) any Record Date; or
- (f) if the Registrar learns that the proposed transfer or exchange would violate any legend contained on the face of such Global Note or Individual Note Certificate.

Unless otherwise specified, as used herein "Record Date" means (i) in respect of any Definitive Registered Notes, the close of business (London time) or, in the case of CMU Notes, (Hong Kong time) on the 15th calendar day and (ii) in respect of any Global Notes, the close of business on the Relevant Clearing System Business Day, in each case, prior to the applicable due date for redemption of a Note, or the payment of any Instalment Amount or amount of interest in respect of a Note, or the date fixed for any meeting, or adjourned meeting, of Holders of Notes, where "Relevant Clearing System Business Day" means a day on which the relevant Clearing System through which the Notes are held is open for business.

For the avoidance of doubt, this Condition 2(G) (Exchange and Transfer of Notes - Closed Periods) shall not apply to or restrict the Issuer's ability to purchase an outstanding Series of Notes pursuant to Condition 7(L) (Redemption, Repayment and Repurchase - Repurchases).

(H) Exchange or Transfer Free of Charge

Exchange and transfer of Notes on registration, transfer, partial redemption, partial repayment, settlement or exercise of an option (as applicable) shall be effected without charge by or on behalf of the Issuer or the Principal Paying Agent, but upon payment by the Holder of any tax or other governmental charges that may be imposed in relation to it (or the giving of such indemnity as the Principal Paying Agent may require).

3. Status of the Notes and the Guarantees

(A) Status of the Notes and Guarantees

Other than Secured Notes, the Notes issued by MLBV will constitute direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured obligations of MLBV and rank equally among themselves and rank equally (subject to exceptions as are from time to time provided by applicable laws and regulations) with all other present and future direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured obligations of MLBV.

The Notes issued by BofA Finance will constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BofA Finance and will rank equally in right of payment with all of BofA

Finance's other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations from time to time outstanding, except obligations that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law.

In respect of Notes issued by BofA Finance or MLBV, the applicable Guarantees will rank equally in right of payment with all of BAC's other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations, except obligations that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law.

The Notes issued by BAC will constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BAC and will rank equally in right of payment with all of BAC's other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations from time to time outstanding, except obligations that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law.

The Notes issued by BANA will constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of BANA and will rank equally in right of payment with all of BANA's other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations from time to time outstanding, except certain obligations, including deposit liabilities and other creditors, that are subject to any priorities or preferences by law.

(B) Terms of the Guarantees

In accordance with, and subject to the terms of, the MLBV Guarantee, the Guarantor has unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed to the Holders of Notes (other than Secured Notes, CMU Notes and Korean Notes) issued by MLBV the due and punctual payment of (i) any and all amounts payable by MLBV as obligor in respect of such Notes (other than Physical Delivery Notes) issued by MLBV and (ii) in respect of any Physical Delivery Notes issued by MLBV, the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount (as defined below) when and as the same shall become due and payable or when the same shall become due for delivery, as the case may be, pursuant to the Conditions and to the extent provided in the MLBV Guarantee. In accordance with, and subject to the terms of, the CMU Notes Guarantee, the Guarantor has unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed to the Holders of CMU Notes issued by MLBV the due and punctual payment of (i) any and all amounts payable by MLBV as obligor in respect of such CMU Notes and (ii) in respect of any Physical Delivery Notes that are CMU Notes issued by MLBV, the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount, when and as the same shall become due and payable or when the same shall become due for delivery pursuant to the Conditions and to the extent provided in the CMU Notes Guarantee. The Guarantor is only obliged to pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount instead of delivering the Entitlement if MLBV fails to satisfy its delivery obligations under any Physical Delivery Notes. The "Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount" in respect of each Note or CMU Note issued by MLBV means an amount calculated pursuant to the terms of, or as specified in, the applicable Final Terms (or, in respect of each Credit Linked Note, as set out in Credit Linked Note Condition 5 (Physical Settlement) of "Annex 9A – Additional Terms and Conditions for Credit Linked Notes") or, if not specified in the applicable Final Terms, an amount equal to the fair market value of the Entitlement in respect of such Note or such CMU Note on any date notified as such by the Guarantor to MLBV and the Calculation Agent, less Associated Costs, all as determined by the Guarantor acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Any payment by the Guarantor of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivery of the Entitlement if MLBV has failed to deliver the Entitlement shall constitute a complete discharge of the Guarantor's obligations in respect of such Physical Delivery Notes.

In accordance with, and subject to the terms of, the BofA Finance Guarantee, the Guarantor has unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed to the Holders of Notes issued by BofA Finance, the due and punctual payment of any and all amounts payable by BofA Finance as obligor in respect of the Notes issued by BofA Finance.

4. Redenomination

(A) Redenomination

If the country issuing the currency that is the Specified Currency or Settlement Currency, as applicable, for a Series of Notes becomes, or announces its intention to become, a member state of the European Union which adopts the euro as its lawful currency in accordance with the Treaty Establishing the European Community, as amended from time to time (such treaty, the "EC Treaty" and such member state, a "Participating Member State"), the Issuer may, without the consent of the Noteholders on giving prior notice to the Principal Paying Agent, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and at least 30 calendar days' prior notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices), elect that, with effect from the Redenomination Date specified in the notice, the Notes shall be redenominated in euro.

The election will have effect as follows:

- (a) the Notes shall be deemed to be redenominated in euro in the denomination of €0.01 with a nominal amount for each Note equal to the nominal amount of that Note in the Specified Currency, converted into euro at the Established Rate, provided that, if the Issuer determines, with the agreement of the Principal Paying Agent, that the then market practice in respect of the redenomination in euro of internationally offered securities is different from the provisions specified above, such provisions shall be deemed to be amended so as to comply with such market practice and the Issuer shall promptly notify the Noteholders, the stock exchange (if any) on which the Notes may be listed, and the Paying Agents of such deemed amendments;
- (b) the amount of interest due in respect of the Notes will be calculated by reference to the aggregate nominal amount of Notes presented for payment by the relevant Holder and the amount of such payment shall be rounded down to the nearest €0.01;
- (c) if Definitive Registered Notes are required to be issued after the Redenomination Date, they shall be issued at the expense of the Issuer, in the denominations of €1,000, €10,000, €100,000 and (but only to the extent of any remaining amounts less than €1,000 or such smaller denominations as the Principal Paying Agent may approve) €0.01 and such other denominations as the Principal Paying Agent shall determine and notify to the Noteholders;
- (d) after the Redenomination Date, all payments in respect of the Notes, other than payments of interest (if any) in respect of periods commencing before the Redenomination Date, will be made solely in euro as though references in the Notes to the Specified Currency were to euro. Payments will be made in euro by credit or transfer to a euro account (or any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) specified by the payee or, at the option of the payee, by a euro cheque; and
- (e) if the Notes are Fixed Rate Notes and interest for any period ending on or after the Redenomination Date is required to be calculated for a period ending other than on an Interest Payment Date, it will be calculated:
 - (i) in the case of the Notes represented by a Global Note, by applying the Rate of Interest to the aggregate outstanding nominal amount of the Notes represented by such Global Note; and
 - (ii) in the case of Definitive Registered Notes, by applying the Rate of Interest to the Calculation Amount,
 - (iii) and, in each case, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention. Where the Specified Denomination of a Fixed Rate Note in definitive form is a multiple of the Calculation Amount, the amount of interest payable in respect of such Fixed Rate Note shall be the product of the amount (determined in the manner provided above) for the Calculation Amount and the amount by which the Calculation Amount is multiplied to reach the Specified Denomination, without any further rounding.

In connection with such redenomination, the Issuer, after consultation with the Principal Paying Agent, may make such other changes to the Conditions applicable to the relevant Notes, including, without limitation, with respect to any Business Day, Day Count Fraction, or other conventions as it may decide, so as to conform them to the then market practice in respect of euro-denominated debt securities issued in the Euromarkets, which are held in international clearing systems.

Any such changes will not take effect until the next following Interest Payment Date (in the case of interest bearing Notes) or the specified date (in the case of Zero Coupon Notes), as applicable, after the Noteholders have been given notice in accordance with Condition 14.

The circumstances and consequences described in this Condition 4 and any resulting amendment to the Conditions of the Notes will not entitle any Noteholder (i) to any legal remedy, including, without limitation, redemption, rescission, notice, repudiation, adjustment, or renegotiation of the Notes, or (ii) to raise any defence or make any claim (including, without limitation, claims of breach, force majeure, frustration of purpose, or impracticability) or any other claim for compensation, damages or any other relief.

(B) Definitions

In the Terms and Conditions, the following expressions have the following meanings:

"Established Rate" means the rate for the conversion of the Specified Currency (including compliance with rules relating to roundings in accordance with applicable European Community regulations) into euro established by the Council of the European Union pursuant to Article 123 of the Treaty.

"euro" means the lawful single currency of the member states of the European Union that have adopted and continue to retain a common single currency through monetary union in accordance with European Union treaty law (as amended from time to time).

"Redenomination Date" means (in the case of interest-bearing Notes) any date for payment of interest under the Notes or (in the case of Zero Coupon Notes) any date, in each case specified by the Issuer in the notice given to the Noteholders pursuant to Condition 4(A) (Redenomination) above and which falls on or after the date on which the country of the Specified Currency first becomes a Participating Member State.

5. Interest

(A) Day Count Fraction

"Day Count Fraction" means, in respect of the calculation of an amount of interest in accordance with this Condition 5 (Interest):

- (a) if "Actual/Actual (ICMA)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms:
 - (i) in the case of Notes where the number of days in the relevant period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (the "Accrual Period") is equal to or shorter than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the number of days in such Accrual Period divided by the product of (1) the number of days in such Determination Period and (2) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year assuming interest were payable in respect of the whole of that year;

- (ii) in the case of Notes where the Accrual Period is longer than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the sum of:
 - (A) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the Determination Period in which the Accrual Period begins divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year assuming interest were payable in respect of the whole of that year; and
 - (B) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the next Determination Period divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year assuming interest were payable in respect of the whole of that year;
- (b) if "Actual/Actual (ISDA)" or "Actual/Actual" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365 (or, if any portion of that Interest Period falls in a leap year, the sum of (1) the actual number of days in that portion of the Interest Period falling in a leap year divided by 366 and (2) the actual number of days in that portion of the Interest Period falling in a non-leap year divided by 365);
- (c) if "Actual/365 (Fixed)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365;
- (d) if "Actual/365 (Sterling)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365 or, in the case of an Interest Payment Date falling in a leap year, 366;
- (e) if "Actual/360" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360;
- (f) if "30/360 (ICMA)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (such number of days being calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months) divided by 360;
- (g) if "30/360", "360/360" or "Bond Basis" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \left[\frac{360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1) + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360} \right]$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Interest Period, unless such number is 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Interest Period, unless such number would be 31 and D₁ is greater than 29, in which case D₂ will be 30;

- (h) if "30E/360" or "Eurobond Basis" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \left[\frac{360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1) + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360} \right]$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Interest Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Interest Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30; or

- (i) if "30E/360 (ISDA)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \left[\frac{360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1) + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360} \right]$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day included in the Interest Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Interest Period, unless (i) that day is the last day of February or (ii) such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Interest Period, unless (i) that day is the last day of February but not the Maturity Date or (ii) such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30.

In these Terms and Conditions:

"Determination Period" means each period from (and including) a Determination Date to (but excluding) the next Determination Date (including, where either the Interest Commencement Date or the final Interest Payment Date is not a Determination Date, the period commencing on the first Determination Date prior to, and ending on the first Determination Date falling after, such date); and

"sub-unit" means, with respect to any currency other than euro and U.S. Dollars, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, with respect to euro and U.S. Dollars, one cent.

(B) Interest on Fixed Rate Notes

Except as provided in the applicable Final Terms, each Fixed Rate Note bears interest on its outstanding principal amount from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date at the rate(s) per annum equal to the Rate(s) of Interest. Interest will be payable in arrear on the Interest Payment Date(s) in each year up to (and including) the Maturity Date or any other date specified for redemption.

Except as provided in the applicable Final Terms, if a Fixed Coupon Amount is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the amount of interest payable in respect of each Note on each Interest Payment Date in respect of the Fixed Interest Period ending on (but excluding) such date will amount to the Fixed Coupon Amount as specified irrespective of any calculation based on the applicable Rate of Interest and any applicable Day Count Fraction (if any). Payments of interest on any Interest Payment Date will, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms, amount to the Broken Amount so specified.

If "Unadjusted" is specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to any Interest Payment Date, any Interest Payment Date falling on a day which is not a Business Day will not be adjusted in accordance with any Business Day Convention, and the relevant Fixed Interest Period (as defined below) will accordingly not be adjusted. In such event, payment of any amounts will be made in accordance with the provisions of Condition 6(C) (Payments – Payment Day).

If "Adjusted" is specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to any Interest Payment Date, any Interest Payment Date falling on a day which is not a Business Day will be adjusted in accordance with the Business Day Convention specified in the applicable Final Terms, and the relevant Fixed Interest Period will be adjusted accordingly. For these purposes, the provisions of Condition 5(C)(a) below relating to Business Day Conventions shall apply mutatis mutandis where "Business Day" has the meaning assigned to it in Condition 18 (Business Days).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if "Adjusted" is specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to any Interest Payment Date, and the applicable Final Terms specify that:

- (i) "Adjusted Interest Payment at Redemption" is not applicable in connection with any redemption of such Note (whether at maturity, upon early redemption or repayment or otherwise), the final Interest Payment Date and final Fixed Interest Period shall be treated as if "Unadjusted" had been specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to such Interest Payment Date and no additional interest will be payable on such Note on the date of any such redemption, and only interest accrued to the applicable scheduled Maturity Date or any other date specified for redemption will be payable;
- (ii) "Adjusted Interest Payment at Redemption" is applicable, in connection with any redemption of such Note (whether at maturity, upon early redemption or repayment or otherwise), interest for the final Fixed Interest Period on such Note will be accrued to, but excluding, the adjusted redemption date, as a result of and pursuant to any adjustment of an Interest Payment Date and Fixed Interest Period pursuant to the foregoing.

As used in these Terms and Conditions, "Fixed Interest Period" means the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the next (or first) Interest Payment Date.

In respect of each Note while it is represented by a Global Note, the Interest Amount payable on such Interest Payment Date in respect of each Fixed Interest Period shall be calculated by the Calculation Agent by applying the Rate of Interest to the aggregate outstanding nominal amount of the Notes represented by such Global Note and in each case multiplying such product by the Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention.

If interest is required to be calculated for a period other than (i) a Fixed Interest Period or (ii) where an applicable Fixed Coupon Amount or Broken Amount is specified in the applicable Final Terms, interest shall be calculated in respect of any period by applying the Rate of Interest to:

- (i) in the case of Fixed Rate Notes which are represented by a Global Note, the aggregate outstanding nominal amount of the Fixed Rate Notes represented by such Global Note or, if they are Partly Paid Notes, the aggregate amount paid up; or
- (ii) in the case of Fixed Rate Notes in definitive form, the Calculation Amount;

and, in each case, multiplying such product by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention. Where the Specified Denomination of a Fixed Rate Note in definitive form is a multiple of the Calculation Amount, the amount of interest payable in respect of such Fixed Rate Note shall be the product of the amount (determined in the manner provided above) for the Calculation Amount and the amount by which the Calculation Amount is multiplied to reach the Specified Denomination, without any further rounding.

- (C) Interest on Floating Rate Notes, Index Linked Interest Notes, Share Linked Interest Notes, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, FX Linked Interest Notes, Commodity Linked Interest Notes, Fund Linked Interest Notes, Inflation Linked Interest Notes and Bond Linked Interest Notes

- (a) Interest Payment Dates and Interest Periods

Each Floating Rate Note, Index Linked Interest Note, Share Linked Interest Note, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Note, FX Linked Interest Note, Commodity Linked Interest Note, Fund Linked Interest Note, Inflation Linked Interest Note and Bond Linked Interest Note bears interest on its outstanding nominal amount (or, if it is a Partly Paid Note, the amount paid up) from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date. Interest will be payable in arrear on the "Interest Payment Date(s)", which shall mean either:

- (i) the Specified Interest Payment Date(s) in each year specified in the applicable Final Terms; or
- (ii) if no Specified Interest Payment Date(s) is/are specified in the applicable Final Terms, each date which falls the number of months or other period specified as the Specified Period in the applicable Final Terms after the preceding Interest Payment Date or, in the case of the first Interest Payment Date, after the Interest Commencement Date.

Interest will be payable in respect of each "Interest Period" (which expression shall, in these Terms and Conditions, mean (except as otherwise provided in Additional Note Condition 3(b)(ii)(A) in Annex 17), the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date, in the case of the initial Interest Period) to (but excluding) the next Interest Payment Date or the first Interest Payment Date, as the case may be, or, in the case of the final Interest Period, the redemption date (whether at maturity or any earlier redemption date)) (subject to adjustment (if applicable) as described below).

If "Unadjusted" is specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to any Interest Payment Date, and such Interest Payment Date is not a Business Day, then such Interest Payment Date will not be adjusted in accordance with any Business Day Convention (and, consequently, the relevant Interest Period will not be adjusted). In such event, payments of interest due shall be made in accordance with the provisions of Condition 6(C) (Payments - Payment Day), with no additional interest accruing or payable as a result of the non-Business Day.

If (x) there is no numerically corresponding day in the calendar month in which an Interest Payment Date should occur or (y) "Adjusted" is specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to any Interest Payment Date or Interest Period Demarcation Date (as defined in Additional Note Condition 3(b)(ii)(A) and applicable with respect to Series of Notes for which the Reference Rate is a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using "Payment Delay" as the Determination Convention (as defined in Additional Note Condition 3(b)(ii)(A)) and such Interest Payment Date or Interest Period Demarcation Date, as applicable, falls on a day which is not a Business Day, such Interest Payment Date or Interest Period Demarcation Date, as applicable, will be adjusted in accordance with the Business Day Convention specified in the applicable Final Terms (and, consequently, the relevant Interest Period will be adjusted). With respect to Series of Notes for which the Reference Rate is a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate using the Payment Delay Determination Convention, if the scheduled final Interest Period Demarcation Date (which will be the Maturity Date or other redemption date falling on such final Interest Period Demarcation Date) falls on a day that is not a Business Day, such final Interest Period Demarcation Date (and the related Maturity Date or other redemption date falling on such final Interest Period Demarcation Date) will be postponed to such succeeding Business Day. In each case, interest will accrue to, but excluding, the adjusted Interest Payment Date or adjusted Interest Period Demarcation Date, as the case may be. If the Business Day Convention specified is:

- (1) in any case where Specified Periods are specified in accordance with Condition 5(C)(a)(ii) above, the Floating Rate Convention, such Interest Payment Date (i) in the case of (x) above, shall be the last day that is a Business Day in the relevant month and the provisions of (B) shall apply mutatis mutandis or (ii) in the case of (y) above, shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event (A) such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day and (B) each subsequent Interest Payment Date shall be the last Business Day in the month which falls the Specified Period after the preceding applicable Interest Payment Date occurred; or
- (2) the Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day; or
- (3) the Modified Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date or Interest Period Demarcation Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event such Interest Payment Date or Interest Period Demarcation Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day; or

- (4) the Preceding Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day, where "Business Day" has the meaning assigned to it in Condition 18 (Business Days).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in respect of a Floating Rate Note, Index Linked Interest Note, Share Linked Interest Note, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Note, FX Linked Interest Note, Commodity Linked Interest Note, Fund Linked Interest Note, Inflation Linked Interest Note or Bond Linked Interest Note, if "Adjusted" is specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to any Interest Payment Date, and the applicable Final Terms in respect of such Note specify that:

- (A) "Adjusted Interest Payment at Redemption" is not applicable, in connection with any redemption of such Note (whether at maturity, upon early redemption or repayment or otherwise), the final Interest Payment Date and final Interest Period shall be treated as if "Unadjusted" had been specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to such Interest Payment Date and no additional interest will be payable on such Note on the date of any such redemption, and only interest accrued to the applicable scheduled Maturity Date or any other date specified for redemption will be payable.
- (B) "Adjusted Interest Payment at Redemption" is applicable, in connection with any redemption of such Note (whether at maturity, upon early redemption or repayment or otherwise), interest for the final Interest Period on such Note will be accrued to, but excluding, the adjusted redemption date, as a result of and pursuant to any adjustment of an Interest Payment Date and Interest Period pursuant to the foregoing.

If the applicable Final Terms specifies any Note will bear interest by reference to a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate for any Interest Period, and Payment Delay, Lag or Rate Cut-Off is specified as the applicable Determination Convention, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Conditions or in the applicable Final Terms, and provided that the applicable Note is not redeemed prior to the commencement of the initial Interest Period during which such Note is specified to bear interest by reference to such Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily, if the first day of such Interest Period otherwise would fall on a day that is not a Banking Day in respect of the Applicable RFR from which the applicable Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate is calculated, then the first day of such Interest Period shall be postponed to the next day which is such a Banking Day.

(b) Rate of Interest

Except as otherwise provided pursuant to the applicable benchmark transition provisions set forth in Additional Note Condition 4(a) (with respect to EURIBOR, the KRW CD 91 Rate, the KRW CMT Rate, TORF, the Federal Funds Open Rate, the Federal Funds Target Rate and Compounded Daily Reference Rates or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rates based on €STR, the Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, Overnight TIIE, the TEC Rate, SONIA and TONA), Additional Note Condition 4(b) (with respect to the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®, GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®, USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®, Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing TONA) or "TONA TSR", KRW CMS Rate and Constant Maturity Swap Rate), Additional Note Condition 4(c) (with respect to Compounded Daily SOFR or Weighted Average Daily SOFR), Additional Note Condition 4(d) (with respect to BBSW and Compounded Daily AONIA), Additional Note Condition 4(e) (with respect to Compounded Daily SARON), Additional Note Condition 4(f) (with respect to Compounded Daily CORRA), and Additional Note Condition 4(g) (with respect to Yen TIBOR), Additional Note Condition 4(h) (with respect to U.S. CMT Rate) and Additional Note Condition 4(i) (with respect to any Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index) in Annex 17 (such provisions, as applicable to a Series of Notes, the "benchmark transition provisions"), the Rate of Interest payable from time to time in respect of a Series of Floating Rate Notes, Index Linked Interest Notes, Share Linked Interest Notes, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, FX Linked Interest Notes, Commodity Linked Interest Notes, Fund Linked Interest Notes, Inflation Linked Interest Notes and Bond Linked Interest Notes will be determined (a) in accordance with Condition 5(C)(b)(i) or 5(C)(b)(ii), as applicable, as specified in the applicable Final Terms, together with the Additional Note Conditions set forth in Annex 17 that are specified in such Annex or in the applicable Final Terms to be applicable with respect to the applicable Reference Rate and Notes bearing interest by reference thereto and/or as specified in the applicable Final Terms or (b) in the manner as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

For purposes of this Condition 5:

"Calculation Amount" means the amount specified in the applicable Final Terms;

"Margin" means the percentage or number of basis points specified in the applicable Final Terms to be added to or subtracted from the applicable Reference Rate in accordance with Condition 5;

"Participation Rate" means the percentage (or number), as specified in the applicable Final Terms, by which the applicable Reference Rate is multiplied in order to calculate the applicable Rate of Interest in accordance with this Condition 5(C)(b); and

"Reference Rate" means one or more of the following interest rates, as specified in the Final Terms:

- BBSW;
- EURIBOR;
- KRW CD 91 Rate;
- TORF;
- KRW CMT Rate;
- Yen TIBOR;
- EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®;
- GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®;
- USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®;
- Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index;
- TONA TSR;
- KRW CMS Rate;

- Constant Maturity Swap Rate;
- Compounded Daily AONIA;
- Compounded Daily CORRA;
- Compounded Daily €STR;
- Weighted Average Daily €STR;
- Compounded Daily Federal Funds (Effective) Rate;
- Weighted Average Daily Federal Funds (Effective) Rate;
- Compounded Daily SOFR;
- Weighted Average Daily SOFR;
- Compounded Daily SONIA;
- Weighted Average Daily SONIA;
- Compounded Daily SARON;
- Compounded Daily TONA;
- Compounded Daily Overnight TIIE;
- Federal Funds (Effective) Rate;
- Federal Funds Open Rate;
- Federal Funds Target Rate;
- the TEC Rate;
- U.S. CMT Rate; or
- any other rate specified to be the Reference Rate in the applicable Final Terms.

The applicable Reference Rate will be determined in accordance with Condition 5(C)(b)(i) or 5(C)(b)(ii), as applicable, specified in the applicable Final Terms, and the Additional Note Conditions that are specified in Annex 17 to be applicable with respect to such Reference Rate and Notes bearing interest by reference thereto and/or as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(i) Screen Rate Determination for Floating Rate Notes

Where Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined with respect to a particular Series of Notes, except as otherwise provided pursuant to the applicable benchmark transition provisions set forth in Annex 17, the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will be equal to the applicable Reference Rate (expressed as a percentage rate per annum) for the Specified Maturity and, if applicable, the Specified Currency for such Series of Notes, determined in accordance with Additional Note Condition 2 and such further Additional Note Conditions that are specified in Annex 17 and the applicable Final Terms to be applicable to the applicable Reference Rate and Notes bearing interest by reference thereto, multiplied by the Participation Rate, if any, plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms) the Margin, if any, all as determined by the Calculation Agent.

(ii) Determination of Rate of Interest of Floating Rate Notes with a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate

Where Compounded Daily or Weighted Average Daily is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, except as otherwise provided pursuant to the applicable benchmark transition provisions set forth in Annex 17, the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will be equal to the applicable Compounded Daily or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate determined in accordance with Additional Note Condition 3 and such further Additional Note Conditions that are specified in Annex 17 and the applicable Final Terms to be applicable to the applicable Reference Rate and Notes bearing interest by reference thereto, multiplied by the Participation Rate, if any, plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms) the Margin, if any, all as determined by the Calculation Agent.

(c) Minimum or Maximum Rate of Interest

If the applicable Final Terms specifies a minimum rate at which the Notes bear interest (a "Minimum Interest Rate") or a maximum rate at which the Notes bear interest (a "Maximum Interest Rate"), then the Rate of Interest shall in no event be greater than the Maximum Interest Rate or be less than the Minimum Interest Rate so specified.

(d) Determination of Rate of Interest and Calculation of Interest Amounts

The Calculation Agent, in the case of Floating Rate Notes, Index Linked Interest Notes, Share Linked Interest Notes, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, FX Linked Interest Notes, Commodity Linked Interest Notes, Fund Linked Interest Notes, Inflation Linked Interest Notes and Bond Linked Interest Notes, will, at or as soon as practicable after each time at which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, determine the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period with respect to the applicable Note. In the case of Floating Rate Notes, Index Linked Interest Notes, Share Linked Interest Notes, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, FX Linked Interest Notes, Commodity Linked Interest Notes, Fund Linked Interest Notes, Inflation Linked Interest Notes and Bond Linked Interest Notes, the Calculation Agent will notify the Principal Paying Agent of the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period as soon as practicable after calculating the same.

The Calculation Agent, in the case of Floating Rate Notes, Index Linked Interest Notes, Share Linked Interest Notes, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, FX Linked Interest Notes, Commodity Linked Interest Notes, Fund Linked Interest Notes, Inflation Linked Interest Notes and Bond Linked Interest Notes, will calculate the amount of interest (the "Interest Amount") payable on the Notes for the relevant Interest Period (unless the Interest Amount is specified in the applicable Final Terms, in which case the Interest Amount shall be such amount) by applying the Rate of Interest to:

- (i) in the case of Floating Rate Notes, Index Linked Interest Notes, Share Linked Interest Notes, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, FX Linked Interest Notes, Commodity Linked Interest Notes, Fund Linked Interest Notes, Inflation Linked Interest Notes or Bond Linked Interest Notes which are represented by a Global Note, the aggregate outstanding nominal amount of the Notes represented by such Global Note (or, if they are Partly Paid Notes, the aggregate amount paid up); or

- (ii) in the case of Floating Rate Notes, Index Linked Interest Notes, Share Linked Interest Notes, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, FX Linked Interest Notes, Commodity Linked Interest Notes, Fund Linked Interest Notes, Inflation Linked Interest Notes or Bond Linked Interest Notes in definitive form, the Calculation Amount, and, in each case, multiplying such product by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure in accordance with Condition 6(G). Where the Specified Denomination of a Floating Rate Note, Index Linked Interest Note, Share Linked Interest Note, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Note, FX Linked Interest Note, Commodity Linked Interest Note, Fund Linked Interest Note, Inflation Linked Interest Note or Bond Linked Interest Note in definitive form is a multiple of the Calculation Amount, the Interest Amount payable in respect of such Note shall be the product of the amount (determined in the manner provided above) for the Calculation Amount and the amount by which the Calculation Amount is multiplied to reach the Specified Denomination, without any further rounding. In such case, the Calculation Agent will notify the Principal Paying Agent of the Interest Amount for the relevant Interest Period as soon as practicable after calculating the same.

(e) Notification of Rate of Interest and Interest Amounts

The Principal Paying Agent and/or the Calculation Agent will cause the relevant Rate of Interest and Interest Amount for each Interest Period and the relevant Interest Payment Date to be notified to the Issuer and any securities or stock exchange on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes, Index Linked Interest Notes, Share Linked Interest Notes, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, FX Linked Interest Notes, Commodity Linked Interest Notes, Fund Linked Interest Notes, Inflation Notes or Bond Linked Interest Linked Interest Notes are for the time being listed as soon as reasonably practicable after their determination. In connection with any such Notes listed on any securities exchange, the Principal Paying Agent and/or the Calculation Agent will notify such securities exchange of the Rate or Interest, the Interest Payment Date and each Interest Amount no later than the first day of the commencement of each new Interest Period, or, in respect of the Notes for which the Reference Rate is a Compounded Daily Reference Rate or Weighted Average Daily Reference Rate, as soon as reasonably practicable after the determination of such Rate of Interest and the Interest Amount. Both the Interest Amount and the Interest Payment Date subsequently may be amended (and/or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without prior notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the Interest Period in accordance with the provisions hereof. Any such amendment will be notified as soon as reasonably practicable to each securities or stock exchange (if the rules of such securities or stock exchange so require) on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes, Index Linked Interest Notes, Share Linked Interest Notes, GDR/ADR Linked Interest Notes, FX Linked Interest Notes, Commodity Linked Interest Notes, Fund Linked Interest Notes, Inflation Linked Interest Notes or Bond Linked Interest Notes are for the time being listed and to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices). In addition, if, with respect to a Series of Notes, a substitute, alternative or replacement rate with respect to the Reference Rate for such Series is determined pursuant to and in accordance with the applicable benchmark transition provisions (as defined in Condition 5(C)(b)), and as specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer shall provide, or cause to be provided, as soon as practicable after such determination, notice of such substitute or alternative rate to the applicable Holders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices).

(f) Certificates to be final

Except as otherwise provided in Additional Note Condition 3 set forth in Annex 17, all certificates, communications, opinions, determinations, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of the provisions of this Condition 5(C), whether by the Principal Paying Agent or, if applicable, the Calculation Agent, shall (in the absence of negligence, wilful default, bad faith, manifest error or proven error) be binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Notes issued by MLBV), the Principal Paying Agent, the Calculation Agent (if applicable), the other Paying Agents, the Registrar and all Noteholders and (in the absence of wilful default or bad faith) no liability to the Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Notes issued by MLBV) or the Noteholders shall attach to the Principal Paying Agent or the Calculation Agent (if applicable) in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by it of its powers, duties and discretions pursuant to such provisions.

(D) Interest on Partly Paid Notes

In the case of Partly Paid Notes (other than Partly Paid Notes which are Zero Coupon Notes), interest will accrue as aforesaid on the paid-up nominal amount of such Notes and otherwise as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(E) Cessation of Interest Accrual; Accrual of interest if Payment of Principal is Improperly Withheld or Refused

Each Note (or in the case of the redemption of part only of a Note, that part only of such Note) will cease to bear interest (if any) from the date of its redemption unless, upon due presentation thereof, payment of principal is improperly withheld or refused. In such event, interest will continue to accrue until whichever is the earlier of:

- (a) the date on which all amounts due in respect of such Note have been paid and/or all assets deliverable in respect of such Note have been delivered; and
- (b) five calendar days after the date on which the full amount of the moneys payable in respect of such Note has been received by the Principal Paying Agent, and/or all assets in respect of such Note have been received by any agent appointed by the Issuer to deliver such assets to Noteholders and notice to that effect has been given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices), provided that if:

- (c) "Accrual of Interest upon Credit Event" is specified as Not Applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each Note shall cease to bear interest from the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Event Determination Date, or if the Event Determination Date is an Interest Payment Date such Interest Payment Date (or, in the case of the Event Determination Date falling on or after the Scheduled Maturity Date (which is an Interest Payment Date), the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Scheduled Maturity Date) or, if the Event Determination Date falls prior to the first Interest Payment Date, no interest shall accrue on the Notes; or
- (d) "Accrual of Interest upon Credit Event" is specified as being Applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each Note shall cease to bear interest from the Event Determination Date.

6. Payments

(A) Method of Payment

Payments of principal, interest and any other amounts due on the Notes shall be made to the person shown on the Register on the Record Date. Payments in respect of each Note shall be made in the relevant Specified Currency by transfer to an account in the Specified Currency maintained by the payee with a bank in the principal financial centre of the country of such Specified Currency (or, if the Specified Currency is euro, any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred), as provided to the Registrar by the person shown on the Register for such purpose.

Payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment, but without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 9 (Taxation).

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Condition 6(A) (Payments – Method of Payment), payments in CNY will be made solely by credit or transfer to a CNY account maintained by the payee with a bank in the CNY Settlement Centre in accordance with applicable laws, rules, regulations and guidelines.

(B) Payments in respect of Registered Notes

(a) Payments in respect of Definitive Registered Notes

Payments of principal, instalments of principal (if any) and interest in respect of Definitive Registered Notes will be made in the manner provided in paragraph (A) above to the person shown in the Register on the Record Date.

(b) Payments in respect of Global Notes

All payments in respect of a Global Note will be made to the person shown in the Register on the Record Date.

The person shown in the Register on the Record Date shall be the only person entitled to receive payments in respect of Notes represented by such Global Note and the Issuer and the Guarantor (in the case of Notes issued by MLBV or BofA Finance), will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, to such person in respect of each amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as the beneficial holder of a particular nominal amount of Notes represented by such Global Note must look solely to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, for such person's share of each payment so made by the Issuer or, as the case may be, the Guarantor (in the case of Notes issued by MLBV or BofA Finance).

Payments of principal, interest and any other amounts due in respect of CMU Notes will be made to the CMU for the distribution, on the order of the person in whose name a CMU Note is registered, to the person(s) for whose account(s) interests in the relevant CMU Note are credited as being held with the CMU in accordance with the CMU Rules at the relevant time and payment made in accordance thereof shall discharge the obligations of the Issuer or the Guarantor in respect of such payments.

Each of the persons shown in the records of the CMU, as the beneficial holder of a particular nominal amount of the CMU Notes represented by a Global Note, must look solely to the CMU for its share of each payment so made by MLBV as the Issuer, or as the case may be, the Guarantor, in respect of such Global Note.

Notwithstanding any provision of these Conditions to the contrary, payments on any Temporary Global Registered Note before the expiration of the applicable Distribution Compliance Period will be made only against presentation of certificates as to non-beneficial ownership in the form set out in the New York Law Agency Agreement. No payment falling due after the expiration of the applicable Distribution Compliance Period will be made on any Temporary Global Registered Note unless exchange for an interest in a Permanent Global Registered Note or for Definitive Registered Notes, as applicable, is improperly withheld or refused.

(C) Payment Day

If the date scheduled for payment of any amount in respect of any Note is not a Payment Day, the Holder thereof shall not be entitled to payment of the amount due until (i) if "Following" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the next following Payment Day or (ii) if "Modified Following" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the next following Payment Day unless that Payment Day falls in the next calendar month, in which case the first preceding Payment Day. If any date for payment is postponed as a result of a non-Payment Day, the Holder shall not be entitled to further interest or other payment in respect of such postponement. For the avoidance of doubt, whether a Fixed Interest Period or Interest Period is adjusted (and thus whether additional days are included in such period for the accrual of interest) will be determined in accordance with the applicable Business Day Convention as described in Condition 5. For these purposes, "Payment Day" means any day (other than a Saturday or Sunday) on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchanges and foreign currency deposits) in:

- (a) (1) for any sum payable in a Specified Currency other than euro or CNY, the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Specified Currency (if other than London (in the case of Notes other than CMU Notes)), (2) for any sum payable in euro, a day on which the real time gross settlement system operated by the Eurosystem or any successor system (the "T2") is open for the settlement of payments in euro or (3) for any sum payable in CNY, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the CNY Settlement Centre;
- (b) each Additional Financial Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms, provided that if the Additional Financial Centre is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be or to include "T2", then Payment Day shall also be a day on which the T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro;
- (c) London and (in the case of Notes issued by BAC and BofA Finance) New York City (each in the case of Notes other than CMU Notes); and
- (d) Hong Kong (in the case of CMU Notes).

(D) Interpretation of principal and interest

- (a) Any reference in these Terms and Conditions to principal in respect of the Notes shall be deemed to include, as applicable:
 - (i) any Additional Tax Amounts which may be payable with respect to principal under Condition 9 (Taxation);
 - (ii) the Final Redemption Amount of the Notes;
 - (iii) the Early Redemption Amount of the Notes;
 - (iv) the Optional Redemption Amount(s) (if any) of the Notes;
 - (v) the Failure to Deliver Settlement Price (if any) in respect of the Notes;
 - (vi) the Disruption Cash Settlement Price (if any) in respect of the Notes;
 - (vii) the Credit Event Redemption Amount (if any) in respect of the Notes;
 - (viii) the Partial Cash Settlement Amount (if any) in respect of the Notes;
 - (ix) in relation to Notes redeemable in instalments, the Instalment Amounts;
 - (x) in relation to Zero Coupon Notes, the Amortised Face Amount (as defined in Condition 7(G)(c)); and

- (xi) any premium and any other amounts (other than interest) which may be payable by the Issuer under or in respect of the Notes.
- (b) Any reference in these Terms and Conditions to interest in respect of the Notes shall be deemed to include, as applicable, any Additional Tax Amounts which may be payable with respect to interest under Condition 9 (Taxation).
- (c) Any principal, interest or other amount payable under these Terms and Conditions shall never be less than zero.
- (d) If "Trading in Units" is specified to be applicable in the relevant Final Terms, one Note (of the Specified Denomination) will be equal to one Unit. Notes will be tradable by reference to the number of Notes being traded (each having the Specified Denomination) instead of the aggregate nominal amount of Notes being traded.

(E) Definition of Affiliate

"Affiliate" means, in relation to any entity (the "First Entity"), any entity controlled, directly or indirectly, by the First Entity, any entity that controls, directly or indirectly, the First Entity or any entity directly or indirectly under common control with the First Entity. For these purposes "control" means ownership of a majority of the voting power of an entity.

(F) Payment Disruption

(a) Occurrence of a Payment Disruption Event or a CNY Payment Disruption Event

If the applicable Final Terms specifies "Payment Disruption Event" or "CNY Payment Disruption Event" to be applicable, then, in the event that the Calculation Agent, at any time and from time to time, determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, that a Payment Disruption Event or a CNY Payment Disruption Event, as the case may be, has occurred, then the Calculation Agent shall as soon as practicable notify the Holders of the relevant Notes of the occurrence of such Payment Disruption Event or CNY Payment Disruption Event, as the case may be, in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices).

(b) Consequences of a Payment Disruption Event

Once a Payment Disruption Event has occurred:

(i) Postponement of relevant dates

The Issuer may postpone the Interest Payment Date, the Maturity Date or any other date on which the Notes may be redeemed or any amount that would otherwise be due and payable (such date, the "Affected Payment Date") in respect of the relevant Notes until the earlier of (i) five Business Days (or such other number of Business Days as may be determined by the Issuer and notified to the Holders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices)) after the date on which the Payment Disruption Event is no longer occurring and (ii) five Business Days following the Payment Event Cut-Off Date (the "Postponed Date"). Noteholders shall not be entitled to further interest or other payment in respect of such postponement and no Event of Default in respect of the Notes will result from such postponement.

In the event that a Payment Disruption Event is still continuing on the Payment Event Cut-Off Date, then the Issuer may make payments in accordance with Condition 6(F)(b)(ii).

(ii) Issuer's option to vary settlement

Notwithstanding the Issuer's right to postpone the date(s) for payments and/or redemption in accordance with Condition 6(F)(b)(i), the Issuer may, if practicable (and to the extent lawful), and acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner:

- (A) make payments due to be made in the Subject Currency in the Base Currency or in U.S. dollars or euros, converted from the Subject Currency into the Base Currency, U.S. dollars or euros, as applicable, at a rate reasonably selected by the Calculation Agent;
- (B) make payments due to be made in the Base Currency in the Subject Currency or in U.S. dollars or euros, disregarding any obligation to convert amounts into the Base Currency;
- (C) if the Base Currency is not available, as determined by the Issuer acting in good faith and in a reasonable manner, the Issuer shall make payments of the relevant Interest Amount, Fixed Coupon Amount, Final Redemption Amount or other amount payable in U.S. dollars at a rate reasonably selected by the Calculation Agent in full and final settlement of its obligations to pay such amounts in respect of the Notes;
- (D) in the case of Share Linked Notes or Index Linked Notes (where "Physical Settlement" is specified as applicable to the Index Linked Conditions in the relevant Final Terms), deliver the Shares or Fund Shares, respectively in lieu of cash settlement; or
- (E) in the case of Share Linked Notes or Index Linked Notes (where "Physical Settlement" is specified as applicable to the Index Linked Conditions in the relevant Final Terms) which reference a basket of Shares or Indices, respectively, elect to satisfy in part its obligation to pay the amounts as may be due and payable under the relevant Notes by making partial payment(s) or partial deliveries, as the case may be (the "Partial Distributions"). Any Partial Distribution made by the Issuer to the Holders will be calculated and/or determined by the Calculation Agent acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner and shall be paid and/or delivered to the Holders pro rata (as far as possible, subject to any necessary adjustments for rounding) to the proportion of the Notes of the same Series held by the relevant Holder. In the event that any Partial Distribution is made by the Issuer, the Calculation Agent may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, make any such corresponding adjustment to any variable relevant to the redemption or payment terms of the relevant Notes as it deems necessary and shall notify the relevant Holders thereof in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices).

Any payments or deliveries made in accordance with this Condition 6(F)(b)(ii) shall satisfy and discharge in full (in the case of payments or deliveries made in accordance with paragraphs (A) to (D)) and in part (in the case of Partial Distributions made in accordance with paragraph (E)) the Issuer's obligation to pay the Interest Amount, Fixed Coupon Amount, Final Redemption Amount or other amount in respect of which the Payment Disruption Event has arisen, and no further amounts shall be due and payable by the Issuer in respect thereof.

(c) Consequences of a CNY Payment Disruption Event

Once a CNY Payment Disruption Event has occurred:

- (i) Postponement of relevant dates

If "Date Postponement" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, then Condition 6(F)(b)(i) shall apply, provided that the reference therein to "Payment Disruption Event" shall be construed as a reference to "CNY Payment Disruption Event".

(ii) Payment of Equivalent Amount

If "Payment of Equivalent Amount" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, and the Calculation Agent determines that a CNY Payment Disruption Event has occurred in relation to the Issuer's obligations under the relevant Notes to pay any Interest Amount, Fixed Coupon Amount, Final Redemption Amount or other amount in respect of the relevant Notes on the relevant Interest Payment Date, Maturity Date, or such other date on which any amount in respect of the relevant Notes shall be due and payable (such date, the "Affected Payment Date"), then the Issuer may, on giving notice to Holders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) as soon as practicable and in any event prior to the date on which the payment of the Equivalent Amount is due and payable to the Holders, make payment of the Equivalent Amount of the relevant Interest Amount, Fixed Coupon Amount, Final Redemption Amount or such other amount payable (if applicable) in full and final settlement of its obligations to pay such Interest Amount, Fixed Coupon Amount, Final Redemption Amount or such other amount, as the case may be, in respect of the relevant Notes.

Notwithstanding the foregoing:

- (A) if both "Payment of Equivalent Amount" and "Date Postponement" are specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, and if the Issuer decides to exercise its right of postponement pursuant to Condition 6(F)(c)(i) and payment of the Equivalent Amount pursuant to this Condition 6(F)(c)(ii), the Equivalent Amount in respect of the relevant Interest Amount, Fixed Coupon Amount, Final Redemption Amount or other amount (if applicable) in respect of the relevant Notes shall be due and payable on the Postponed Date instead of the Affected Payment Date;
- (B) if (x) only the "Payment of Equivalent Amount" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, or (y) both "Payment of Equivalent Amount" and "Date Postponement" are specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms and the Issuer decides only to exercise the right of payment of the Equivalent Amount pursuant to this Condition 6(F)(c)(ii) but not its right of postponement pursuant to Condition 6(F)(c)(i), then no Postponed Date shall apply and the Equivalent Amount in respect of the relevant Interest Amount, Fixed Coupon Amount, Final Redemption Amount or other amount (if applicable) in respect of the relevant Notes shall be due and payable on (i) the Affected Payment Date (in the case of Notes other than those issued by BAC) or (ii) in the case of Notes issued by BAC, the later of (I) the Affected Payment Date and (II) two Business Days after notice is given to Holders in accordance with Condition 6(F)(a); and
- (C) in the event of Date Postponement, Holders shall not be entitled to further interest or other payment in respect of such postponement and no Event of Default in respect of the Notes will result from such postponement.

For the purposes of this Condition 6(F) (Payments – Payment Disruption):

"Base Currency" has the meaning given to it in "Annex 5 – Additional Terms and Conditions for FX Linked Instruments", or if no currency is specified, U.S. Dollars;

"CNY" means Chinese Renminbi, the lawful currency of the People's Republic of China (including any lawful successor currency to the CNY);

"CNY Payment Disruption Event" means the occurrence of any of the following events:

1. an event that makes it impossible or impractical for the Issuer to convert any amounts in CNY due in respect of the Notes in the general CNY foreign exchange market in the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s), other than where such impossibility or impracticality is due solely to the failure of the Issuer to comply with any law, rule or regulation enacted by any Governmental Authority (unless such law, rule or regulation is enacted after the relevant Trade Date, and it is impossible or impractical for the Issuer, due to an event beyond its control, to comply with such law, rule or regulation) (a "CNY Inconvertibility Event");
2. an event that makes it impossible or impractical for the Issuer to deliver CNY (i) between accounts inside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s), (ii) from an account inside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s) to an account outside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s) (including, if applicable, to another CNY Settlement Centre), or (iii) from an account outside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s) to an account inside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s), other than where such impossibility or impracticality is due solely to the failure of the Issuer to comply with any law, rule or regulation enacted by any Governmental Authority (unless such law, rule or regulation is enacted after the Trade Date and it is impossible or impractical for the Issuer, due to an event beyond its control, to comply with such law, rule or regulation) (a "CNY Non-Transferability Event"); and
3. the general CNY foreign exchange market in the relevant CNY Settlement Centre becomes illiquid as a result of which the Issuer cannot obtain sufficient CNY in order to satisfy its payment obligations (in whole or in part) under the Notes (a "CNY Non-Availability Event");

"CNY Settlement Centre" means the financial centre(s) specified as such in the applicable Final Terms;

"Equivalent Amount" means, in respect of the relevant Interest Amount, Fixed Coupon Amount, Final Redemption Amount or other amount payable (if applicable) on the relevant Affected Payment Date (for these purposes, the "Relevant Amount"), an amount in the Base Currency (or, if the Base Currency is not available, as determined by the Issuer acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, in U.S. Dollars) determined by the Calculation Agent by converting the Relevant Amount into the Base Currency using the Equivalent Amount Settlement Rate for the relevant Affected Payment Date;

"Equivalent Amount Settlement Rate" means, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, in respect of any relevant day, the spot exchange rate on such day between CNY and the Base Currency, determined by the Calculation Agent, taking into account all available information which the Calculation Agent deems relevant (including, but not limited to, pricing information obtained from the CNY non-deliverable market outside the People's Republic of China and/or the CNY foreign exchange market in the People's Republic of China);

"Governmental Authority" means any de facto or de jure government (or any agency or instrumentality thereof), court, tribunal, administrative or other governmental authority or any other entity (private or public) charged with the regulation of the financial markets (including the central bank) of the People's Republic of China, the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region and any other CNY Settlement Centre;

"impractical" or "impracticability" means, in respect of any action to be taken by the Issuer, that the Issuer and/or its Affiliates would incur a materially increased amount of taxes, duties, expenses or fees (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) to perform such action, or the Issuer and/or any Affiliates would be in breach of any law, rule, regulation, guideline or internal policy of the Issuer and/or its Affiliates, if such action were to be performed;

"Payment Disruption Event" means:

- (i) the occurrence of either (a) an Inconvertibility Event and/or (b) a Non-Transferability Event (each as defined in "Annex 5 – Additional Terms and Conditions for FX Linked Instruments");
- (ii) the imposition by the Subject Currency Jurisdiction (or any political or regulatory authority thereof) of any capital controls, or the publication of any notice of an intention to do so, which the Calculation Agent determines in good faith is likely materially to affect the Notes, and notice thereof is given by the Issuer to the Holders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices); or
- (iii) the implementation by the Subject Currency Jurisdiction (or any political or regulatory authority thereof) or the publication of any notice of an intention to implement any changes to the laws or regulations relating to foreign investment in the Subject Currency Jurisdiction (including, but not limited to, changes in tax laws and/or laws relating to capital markets and corporate ownership), which the Calculation Agent determines are likely to affect materially the Issuer's ability to hedge its obligations under the Notes;

"Payment Event Cut-Off Date" means the date which is ten calendar days after the Affected Payment Date;

"Subject Currency" has the meaning given to it in "Annex 5 – Additional Terms and Conditions for FX Linked Instruments", or if not otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Specified Currency or Settlement Currency (as applicable);

"Subject Currency Jurisdiction" has the meaning given to it in "Annex 5 – Additional Terms and Conditions for FX Linked Instruments".

(G) Rounding

For the purposes of any calculations required pursuant to these Conditions (unless otherwise specified elsewhere in these Conditions or in the applicable Final Terms), (i) all percentages resulting from such calculations, including determinations of any Reference Rate except for BBSW, Compounded Daily AONIA, Compounded Daily SARON, Compounded Daily SOFR or Weighted Average Daily SOFR, in accordance with the Additional Note Conditions set forth in Annex 17, shall be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point (with halves being rounded up) or, if the applicable Final Terms specifies "Alternative Rounding" to be applicable, such other number of decimal places or such other rounding convention as is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be the "Alternative Rounding Convention", (ii) all percentages resulting from determinations of Compounded Daily SOFR or Weighted Average Daily SOFR in accordance with the Additional Note Conditions set forth in Annex 17 shall be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, for example, 9.876541% (or .09876541) being rounded down to 9.87654% (or .0987654) and 9.876545% (or .09876545) being rounded up to 9.87655% (or .0987655), (iii) all percentages resulting from determinations of BBSW, Compounded Daily AONIA or Compounded Daily SARON in accordance with the Additional Note Conditions set forth in Annex 17 shall be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one ten-thousandth of a percentage point (i.e. rounded to the fourth decimal place when expressed in percentage), (iv) all figures shall be rounded to seven significant figures (with halves being rounded up) and (v) all currency amounts that fall due and payable shall be rounded to the nearest Sub-unit of such currency (with halves being rounded up), except in the case of Japanese yen, which, if the applicable Final Terms specifies "JPY Rounding Down" to be applicable, shall be rounded down to the nearest Japanese yen or, if the applicable Final Terms specifies "JPY Rounding Up" to be applicable, shall be rounded up to the nearest Japanese yen (with JPY 0.5 being rounded up).

7. Redemption, Repayment and Repurchase

(A) Redemption at Maturity

Unless previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled as provided below, each Note (other than a Credit Linked Note) will be redeemed by the Issuer at its Final Redemption Amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms in the relevant Specified Currency on the Maturity Date or, if the Notes issued by MLBV are specified as Physical Delivery Notes in the applicable Final Terms, by delivery of the Entitlement (subject as provided in "Annex 10 – Additional Terms and Conditions for Physical Delivery Notes") specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms on the Maturity Date.

(B) Redemption for Tax Reasons

The Issuer may redeem the Notes, in whole, but not in part, at any time prior to maturity at their Early Redemption Amount, together, if appropriate, with accrued interest to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption, if: (i) the Issuer or (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance and (other than Secured Notes) MLBV) the Guarantor shall determine that the Issuer would be required to pay Additional Tax Amounts, as provided in Condition 9 (Taxation), on the occasion of the next payment due with respect to the Notes; (ii) any payment or deemed payment as determined for United States tax purposes with respect to the Notes or with respect to a direct or indirect hedging arrangement entered into by the Issuer or any of its Affiliates relating to the Notes may be treated as a dividend or "dividend equivalent" for United States tax purposes (such event being a "U.S. Withholding Tax Event"); or (iii) in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance and (other than Secured Notes) MLBV, on the occasion of the next payment due in respect of the Notes, the Guarantor would be unable to procure the Issuer to make payment and, in making such payment itself under the relevant Guarantee, the Guarantor would be required to pay Additional Tax Amounts as provided in Condition 9 (Taxation).

Notice of intention to redeem Notes pursuant to this Condition 7(B) (Redemption, Repayment and Repurchase - Redemption for Tax Reasons) will be given at least once in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) not less than 30 calendar days nor more than 60 calendar days prior to the date fixed for redemption, provided that no such notice of redemption shall be given earlier than 90 calendar days prior to the effective date of such change or amendment and that at the time notice of such redemption is given, such obligation to pay such Additional Tax Amounts remains in effect and cannot be avoided by the applicable Issuer taking reasonable measures available to it. From and after any redemption date, if monies for the redemption of Notes shall have been made available for redemption on such redemption date, such Notes shall cease to bear interest, if applicable, and the only right of the holders of such Notes shall be to receive payment of the Early Redemption Amount and, if appropriate, all unpaid interest accrued to such redemption date.

(C) Redemption for Tax Compliance Reasons

MLBV may, at its option, redeem the Notes, in whole or in part, at any time prior to maturity, at their Early Redemption Amount, together, if appropriate, with accrued interest to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption, if MLBV determines in good faith that it has, or there is a substantial likelihood that it will, become subject to withholding imposed on a payment made to it on account of MLBV's inability to comply with the reporting requirements imposed by the FATCA Provisions (as defined below), provided that such inability to comply with the reporting requirements is attributable to non-compliance by any Holder of such Notes (or a foreign withholding agent (if any) in the chain of custody of payments made to the Holders) with MLBV's requests for certifications or identifying information (such redemption, a "Redemption for Tax Compliance Reasons"). Upon a Redemption for Tax Compliance Reasons, Notes held by compliant Holders, in addition to those held by non-compliant Holders, may be redeemed.

Notice of intention to redeem Notes pursuant to this Condition 7(C) will be given in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) not less than 30 calendar days nor more than 60 calendar days prior to the date fixed for redemption. From and after any redemption date, if monies for the redemption of Notes shall have been made available for redemption on such redemption date, such Notes shall cease to bear interest, if applicable, and the only right of the holders of such Notes shall be to receive payment of the Early Redemption Amount and, if appropriate, all unpaid interest accrued to such redemption date.

As used in these Terms and Conditions, the term "FATCA Provisions" means Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code (or any successor provisions), any regulation, pronouncement, or agreement thereunder, official interpretations thereof, or any law implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto whether currently in effect or as published and amended from time to time, and any intergovernmental agreement entered into in connection with the implementation of such provisions of the Code.

(D) Redemption at the Option of the Issuer (Issuer Call)

If Issuer Call is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer may, having given:

- (a) not less than 30 calendar days' and not more than 60 calendar days' notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) (or such other notice period as is specified in the applicable Final Terms); and
- (b) not less than one London Business Day's notice to the Principal Paying Agent before giving notice as referred to in (a) above, unless the Principal Paying Agent consents to a shorter notice period,

(which notices shall be irrevocable and shall specify the date fixed for redemption), redeem all or some only of the Notes then outstanding on any Optional Redemption Date and at the Optional Redemption Amount(s) specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms together, if appropriate, with interest accrued to (but excluding) the relevant Optional Redemption Date. Any such redemption must be of a nominal amount not less than the Minimum Redemption Amount and/or not more than the Maximum Redemption Amount in each case as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms. In the case of a partial redemption of Notes, the Notes to be redeemed ("Redeemed Notes") will be selected individually by lot, in the case of Redeemed Notes represented by Individual Note Certificates, and in accordance with any applicable laws and the rules of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg (to be reflected in the records of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg as either a pool factor or a pro-rata reduction in nominal amount at their discretion), in the case of Redeemed Notes represented by a Global Note, not more than 60 calendar days prior to the date fixed for redemption (such date of selection being hereinafter called the "Selection Date"). In the case of Redeemed Notes represented by Individual Note Certificates, a list of the serial numbers of such Redeemed Notes will be published in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) not less than 30 calendar days prior to the date fixed for redemption. No exchange of the relevant Global Note will be permitted during the period from (and including) the Selection Date to (and including) the date fixed for redemption pursuant to this paragraph (D) and notice to that effect shall be given by the Issuer to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) at least five calendar days' prior to the Selection Date.

For the purposes of this Condition "New York Business Day" means a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in New York City.

The Issuer shall provide notice of redemption pursuant to this Condition 7(D) (Redemption at the Option of the Issuer (Issuer Call)) as follows:

- (a) to the Noteholders, not less than 30 calendar days' and not more than 60 calendar days' notice in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) (or such other notice period as is specified in the applicable Final Terms); and
- (b) to the Principal Paying Agent not less than one London Business Day's notice before giving notice as referred to in (a) above, unless the Principal Paying Agent consents to a shorter notice period, which notices shall be irrevocable and shall specify the date fixed for redemption,

(E) Redemption at the Option of the Noteholders (Investor Put)

If Investor Put is specified in the applicable Final Terms, upon the Holder of any Note giving to the Issuer in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) not less than 30 nor more than 60 calendar days' notice (or such other notice period as is specified in the applicable Final Terms) the Issuer will, upon the expiry of such notice, and provided that such redemption is permitted by, and can be effected in accordance with, the rules and procedures of the relevant Clearing System and the Principal Paying Agent, redeem, subject to, and in accordance with, the terms specified in the applicable Final Terms, such Note on the Optional Redemption Date and at the Optional Redemption Amount together, if appropriate, with interest accrued to (but excluding) the Optional Redemption Date. It may be that before an Investor Put can be exercised, certain conditions and/or circumstances will need to be satisfied. Where relevant, the provisions detailing such conditions and/or circumstances to be satisfied will be set out in the applicable Final Terms.

If the Note is represented by an Individual Note Certificate and held outside Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, to exercise the right to require redemption of the Note the Holder of the Note must deliver at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent at any time during normal business hours of the Principal Paying Agent falling within the notice period, a duly signed and completed notice of exercise (a "Put Notice") in which the Holder must specify a bank account (or, if payment is required by cheque, an address) to which payment is to be made under this Condition 7 (Redemption, Repayment and Repurchase) accompanied by the relevant Individual Note Certificate(s) or evidence satisfactory to the Principal Paying Agent that the Individual Note Certificate(s) will, following delivery of the Put Notice, be held to its order or under its control.

If the Note is represented by a Global Note or is in definitive form and held through Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, to exercise the right to require redemption of the Note the Holder of the Note must, within the notice period, give notice to the Principal Paying Agent of such exercise in accordance with the standard procedures of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg (which may include notice being given on its instruction by Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg or the Common Depositary or its nominee or common safekeeper, as the case may be, for them to the Principal Paying Agent by electronic means) in a form acceptable to Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg from time to time and, if the Note is represented by a Global Note, at the same time present or procure the presentation of the relevant Global Note to the Principal Paying Agent for notation accordingly. If the Note is represented by a Global Note held through DTC or is otherwise held by the Holder of the Note in definitive form, to exercise the right to require redemption of the Note the Holder of the Note must deliver at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent at any time during normal business hours of the Principal Paying Agent falling within the notice period, a duly signed and completed Put Notice.

The form of Put Notice (for the time being current) shall be obtainable during normal business hours from the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent.

Any Put Notice or other notice given in accordance with the standard procedures of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg given by a Holder of any Note pursuant to this paragraph (E) shall be irrevocable except where, prior to the due date of redemption, an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing in which event such Holder, at its option, may elect by notice to the Issuer to withdraw the notice given pursuant to this paragraph (E) and instead to declare such Note forthwith due and payable pursuant to Condition 11 (Events of Default and Rights of Acceleration).

(F) Exercise of Options or Partial Redemption in respect of Definitive Registered Notes

See Condition 2(E) above for information about the issuance of new Individual Note Certificates in the event of an exercise of an Issuer Call or Investor Put in respect of, or a partial redemption of, a holding of Definitive Registered Notes.

(G) Early Redemption Amounts

The "Early Redemption Amount" means the amount which shall be determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with (a), (b), (c) or (d) below as applicable:

- (a) in the case of a Note (other than a Zero Coupon Note, an Index Linked Note, a Share Linked Note, a GDR/ADR Linked Note, an FX Linked Note, a Commodity Linked Note, a Fund Linked Note, an Inflation Linked Note, a Credit Linked Note, a Preference Share Linked Note or a Bond Linked Note) with a Final Redemption Amount equal to 100 per cent. of its outstanding nominal amount, the Early Redemption Amount shall be the Final Redemption Amount thereof;
- (b) in the case of a Note other than those described in sub-paragraph (a) above or sub-paragraphs (c) or (d) below, the Early Redemption Amount payable in respect of such Note shall be the amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms, or if no such amount or manner is specified in the applicable Final Terms, its nominal amount, provided that if "Market Value less Associated Costs (no floor)" or "Market Value less Associated Costs (90 per cent. floor)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the Early Redemption Amount, the Early Redemption Amount in respect of each Note of the Specified Denomination shall be an amount determined by the Calculation Agent on or around the second Business Day immediately preceding the due date for the early redemption of such Note, which represents the fair market value of such Note (taking into account all factors which the Calculation Agent determines to be relevant) less Associated Costs, and provided that, in the case of redemption pursuant to Condition 11 (Events of Default and Rights of Acceleration), no account shall be taken of the financial condition of the Issuer which shall be presumed to be able to perform fully its obligations in respect of the Notes, and provided further that, if "Market Value less Associated Costs (90 per cent. floor)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the Early Redemption Amount, in no event shall the Early Redemption Amount of each Note (in the case of an Instalment Note, when aggregated with the sum of any Instalment Amounts already paid in respect of such Note) be less than 90 per cent. of the Specified Denomination of such Note, or, in the case of a Partly Paid Note, 90 per cent. of the amount paid up in respect of such Note;
- (c) in the case of a Zero Coupon Note (other than an Index Linked Note, a Share Linked Note, a GDR/ADR Linked Note, an FX Linked Note, a Commodity Linked Note, a Fund Linked Note, an Inflation Linked Note, a Credit Linked Note, a Preference Share Linked Note or a Bond Linked Note), at an amount per Note of the Specified Denomination (the "Amortised Face Amount") determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with (i), (ii), (iii) or (iv) below, as applicable, provided that if the early redemption date falls prior to the Accretion Start Date, the Early Redemption Amount will be equal to 100 per cent. of its Calculation Amount:

- (i) if "Linear" is specified to be applicable in the Final Terms, in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{Early Redemption Amount per Note} = RP \times [1 + (AY \times y)]$$

- (ii) if "Compounded" is specified to be applicable in the Final Terms, in accordance with the following formula :

$$\text{Early Redemption Amount per Note} = RP \times (1 + AY)^y$$

- (iii) if "Modified Linear" is specified to be applicable in the Final Terms, in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{Early Redemption Amount per Note} = RP \times \left[1 + \sum_{i=1}^n (\text{Accretion Yield}_i \times y_i) \right]$$

- (iv) if "Modified Compounded" is specified to be applicable in the Final Terms, in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{Early Redemption Amount per Note} = RP \times \left[\prod_{i=1}^n (1 + \text{Accretion Yield}_i)^{y_i} \right]$$

where:

" $\sum$ " means the summation of the terms specified in the relevant formula, pursuant to which the values of the expression appearing to the right of the $\sum$ symbol are added together for each of $i=1$ to $i=n$, taken over the range of values (if any) indicated above and below the $\sum$ symbol;

" $\prod$ " means the mathematical operation of product, pursuant to which the values of the expression appearing to the right of the $\prod$ symbol are multiplied together for each of $i=1$ to $i=n$, over the range of such values indicated above and below the $\prod$ symbol;

"Accretion Period" means a period from (and including) an Accretion Period Demarcation Date (or in respect of the first Accretion Period, the Accretion Start Date) to (and excluding) the next Accretion Period Demarcation Date (or in respect of the final Accretion Period, the Maturity Date or the early redemption date (as the case may be));

"Accretion Period Demarcation Date" means each date as specified in the applicable Final Terms;

"Accretion Start Date" means the date as specified in the applicable Final Terms, or if not so specified, the Issue Date;

"Accretion Yield_i" means for each Accretion Period_i, the Accretion Yield specified for such Accretion Period_i in the applicable Final Terms expressed as a decimal, as specified in the applicable Final Terms;

"AY" means the Accrual Yield expressed as a decimal, as specified in the applicable Final Terms;

"i" means a series of whole numbers from one to "n", each representing a separate Accretion Period (each an "Accretion Period_i");

"n" means the number of Accretion Periods from (and including) the first Accretion Period to (and including) the Accretion Period in which the Maturity Date or the early redemption date (as the case may be) falls;

"RP" means the Reference Price, as specified in the applicable Final Terms;

"y" is a fraction the numerator of which is equal to the number of days (calculated on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of 12 months of 30 days each) from (and including) the Accretion Start Date of the first Tranche of the Notes to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption or (as the case may be) the date upon which such Note becomes due and repayable and the denominator of which is 360, or on such other calculation basis specified as a "Day Count Fraction in relation to Early Redemption Amounts and late payment" in the Final Terms, and provided further that, if "Market Value less Associated Costs (90 per cent. floor)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the Early Redemption Amount, in no event shall the Early Redemption Amount of each Note be less than 90 per cent. of the Amortised Face Amount; and

"y_i" means, in respect of an Accretion Period_i, a fraction the numerator of which is equal to the number of days (calculated on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of 12 months of 30 days each) from (and including) the first day of the Accretion Period_i, to (but excluding) the Accretion Period Demarcation Date falling at the end of such Accretion Period_i (or, in respect of the final Accretion Period_i, the earlier of the date fixed for redemption or (as the case may be) the date upon which such Note becomes due and repayable) and the denominator of which is 360, or on such other calculation basis specified as a "Day Count Fraction in relation to Early Redemption Amounts and late payment" in the Final Terms, and provided further that, if "Market Value less Associated Costs (90 per cent. floor)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the Early Redemption Amount, in no event shall the Early Redemption Amount of each Note be less than 90 per cent. of the Amortised Face Amount; or or on such other calculation basis as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms, and provided further that, if "Market Value less Associated Costs (90 per cent. floor)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the Early Redemption Amount, in no event shall the Early Redemption Amount of each Note be less than 90 per cent. of the Amortised Face Amount; or

- (d) in the case of a Preference Share Linked Note, in accordance with the definition of "Early Redemption Amount" set out in Annex 15.

(H) Automatic Early Redemption Event

If Automatic Early Redemption is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, then unless previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled, if an Automatic Early Redemption Event as specified in the applicable Final Terms occurs, the Issuer will give notice to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) and the Notes will be redeemed in whole, but not in part, on the Automatic Early Redemption Date as specified in the applicable Final Terms at the Automatic Early Redemption Amount as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(I) Instalments

Instalment Notes will be redeemed in the Instalment Amounts and on the Instalment Dates, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.. In the case of early redemption, the Early Redemption Amount will be determined pursuant to paragraph (G) above.

(J) Partly Paid Notes

Partly Paid Notes will be redeemed, whether at maturity, early redemption or otherwise, in accordance with the provisions of this Condition 7 (Redemption, Repayment and Repurchase) and the applicable Final Terms.

(K) Illegality

In the event that the Issuer determines in good faith that (i) the performance of the Issuer's obligations under the Notes or that any arrangements made to hedge the Issuer's obligations under the Notes or (ii) in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLBV, the performance by the Guarantor of any of its obligations under the applicable Guarantee in respect of the Notes (except for Secured Notes), has or will become, in whole or in part, unlawful, illegal or otherwise contrary to any present or future law, rule, regulation, judgment, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative, judicial or regulatory authority or powers, or any change in the interpretation thereof that is applicable to the Issuer and/or the Guarantor, the Issuer may (but will have no obligation), at its discretion, by giving, at any time, not less than 10 nor more than 30 calendar days' notice to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) (which notice shall be irrevocable), elect that such Notes be redeemed, in whole but not in part, on the date specified by the Issuer, each Note being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount together (if appropriate) with interest accrued to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption.

(L) Repurchases

The Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLBV) or any of their affiliates may purchase at any time and from time to time outstanding Notes by tender, in the open market or by private agreement. Such Notes may be held, reissued, resold or, at the option of the Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor, surrendered to any Paying Agent for cancellation.

(M) Cancellations

All Notes which are redeemed will forthwith be cancelled. All Notes so cancelled and any Notes purchased and cancelled pursuant to paragraph (L) above shall be forwarded to the Principal Paying Agent and cannot be reissued or resold.

(N) Late payment on Zero Coupon Notes

If the amount payable in respect of any Zero Coupon Note upon redemption of such Zero Coupon Note pursuant to paragraphs (A), (B), (C), (D) or (E) above or upon its becoming due and repayable as provided in Condition 11 (Events of Default and Rights of Acceleration) is improperly withheld or refused, the amount due and repayable in respect of such Zero Coupon Note shall be the amount calculated as provided in paragraph (G)(c) above as though the references therein to the date fixed for the redemption or the date upon which such Zero Coupon Note becomes due and payable were replaced by references to the date which is the earlier of:

- (a) the date on which all amounts due in respect of such Zero Coupon Note have been paid; and
- (b) five calendar days after the date on which the full amount of the moneys payable in respect of such Zero Coupon Notes has been received by the Principal Paying Agent and notice to that effect has been given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices).

(O) Regulatory Approvals

The redemption, repayment or repurchase of any Note issued by BAC that is long-term debt satisfying certain eligibility criteria ("eligible LTD") under the TLAC Rules of the Federal Reserve Board prior to its stated maturity date will require the prior approval of the Federal Reserve Board if after such redemption, repayment or repurchase BAC would fail to satisfy its requirements as to eligible LTD or total loss-absorbing capacity under such TLAC Rules.

8. Currency Substitution and Unavailability

(A) Occurrence of a Currency Substitution Event

In the event that the Calculation Agent, in its discretion, determines that any Relevant Governmental Authority (as defined below) of a country, bloc of countries or other applicable sovereign entity or entities (each, an "Applicable Jurisdiction") announces or in any event effects (whether pursuant to legislation enacted for such purpose in the Applicable Jurisdiction, in accordance with or in breach of applicable international treaties, or in any other manner), or (based on any publicly available information which the Calculation Agent reasonably considers relevant) there is a substantial likelihood that it will effect, within the next 90 days, the replacement of the lawful currency (the "Initial Currency") of an Applicable Jurisdiction with a substitute currency ("Substitute Currency") (for the avoidance of doubt, including circumstances in which a country (a "Departing Country") within a bloc of countries in a currency union passes legislation (or a Relevant Governmental Authority thereof announces that it will pass legislation or otherwise seeks) to effect or does effect the withdrawal of such Departing Country from the currency bloc and the replacement of the currency of the currency union with another currency as the official currency of the Departing Country), or where a relevant Clearing System withdraws (or announces its intention to withdraw) acceptance of the Specified Currency or Settlement Currency for settlement and payments under the Notes (any such event being a "Currency Substitution Event"), and:

- (a) the calculation of amounts to be paid or assets to be delivered under any Note is linked to one or more Reference Item(s), and the currency by which the Reference Item(s) and/or any component(s) thereof is priced, quoted or traded is (or, in the Issuer's reasonable opinion is likely to be), as a result of the Currency Substitution Event, redenominated from the Initial Currency into the Substitute Currency; and/or
- (b) the calculation of amounts to be paid or assets to be delivered under any Note is linked to one or more floating rates of interest based on or related to amounts denominated in the Initial Currency; and/or
- (c) the Hedging Arrangements (as defined below) in respect of any Note have been materially adversely affected by (A) the Currency Substitution Event and/or (B) capital controls or other restrictions imposed by a Relevant Governmental Authority of the Applicable Jurisdiction, and the Hedging Party (as defined below) is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to alter or modify the Hedging Arrangements and/or establish alternate Hedging Arrangements to fully account for the material adverse effect of (A) and/or (B) above, and/or
- (d) such event would materially disrupt or impair the Issuer's ability to meet its payment or delivery obligations under the Notes, and/or
- (e) in the event that the currency in which the Issuer would otherwise be obliged to make any payments of principal, interest or other amounts payable on any Note is not available to the Issuer for making payment or payments,

then, unless otherwise provided in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer may take the action described in (x) or (y) below:

- (x) (A) in the case of Notes issued by BAC, require the Calculation Agent to undertake such currency conversion as the Issuer determines appropriate, based on the relevant official conversion rate or at an appropriate market rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent to be prevailing as of any relevant time and date, and such currency conversion shall be notified to each Holder of the relevant Notes, or (B) in the case of Notes issued by MLBV or BofA Finance, require the Calculation Agent to make such adjustments, in its discretion, as shall be notified to each Holder of the relevant Notes, to the exercise, settlement, valuation, calculation, payment (including the Specified Currency and/or Settlement Currency) and/or any other Terms and Conditions of the Note as the Issuer determines appropriate to (i) (in all cases other than (c) above) preserve the economic terms of such Notes as of the Issue Date, including, without limitation, making any currency conversion necessary as part of any such adjustment based on the relevant official conversion rate or at an appropriate market rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent to be prevailing as of any relevant time and date, or (ii) (in the case of (c) above) account for the material adverse effect on the Hedging Arrangements and in order to effect a commercially reasonable result; or

- (y) redeem such Notes on such day as shall be notified to the relevant Holders at their Early Redemption Amount as provided in Condition 7(G) and as specified in the applicable Final Terms together with (if appropriate) any accrued and unpaid interest (up to, but excluding, the date fixed for redemption).

For the avoidance of doubt, the circumstances and consequences described in this Condition 8 (Currency Substitution and Unavailability) and any resulting or alternative adjustments to the exercise, settlement, valuation, calculation, payment and/or any other Terms and Conditions of the Notes will not entitle any Holder of such Notes (A) to any legal remedy, including, without limitation, rescission, repudiation, or renegotiation of the Notes, or (B) to raise any defence or make any claim (including, without limitation, claims of breach, force majeure, frustration of purpose, or impracticability) or any other claim for compensation, damages, or any other relief.

For the purposes of this Condition 8 (Currency Substitution and Unavailability):

"Hedging Arrangements" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (a) positions or contracts in securities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange or (b) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) in order to hedge individually or on a portfolio basis the Issuer's obligations under any Note.

"Hedging Party" means, the Issuer or any of the Issuer's affiliate(s) or any entity (or entities) acting on the Issuer's behalf engaged in any underlying or hedging transactions relating to any Note and/or underlying market measure(s) in respect of the Issuer's obligations under the Note.

"Relevant Governmental Authority" means, in relation to any Applicable Jurisdiction, any de facto or de jure government (or any agency or instrumentality thereof), court, tribunal, administrative or other governmental authority or any other entity (private or public) charged with the regulation of the financial markets (including the central bank) of such Applicable Jurisdiction.

(B) Unavailability of Currency

If, at or about the time of payment of any principal of, premium, if any, interest, or any other amounts payable with respect to any Series of Notes, the applicable Specified Currency or Settlement Currency, as applicable, for such Series is not legal tender for the payment of public and private debts in the country that issued such Specified Currency or Settlement Currency at the Issue Date of such Series of Notes or is otherwise unavailable to the Issuer, and such Specified Currency or Settlement Currency has been replaced by another currency that has become legal tender for the payment of public and private debts in such country (a "Replacement Currency"), any amount payable pursuant to such Series of Notes may be paid, at the Issuer's option, in the Replacement Currency or in U.S. Dollars, at a rate of exchange which takes into account the conversion, at the rate prevailing on the most recent date on which official conversion rates were quoted or set by the national government or other authority responsible for issuing the Replacement Currency, from the applicable Specified Currency or Settlement Currency to the Replacement Currency or to U.S. Dollars, if applicable, and, if necessary, the conversion of the Replacement Currency into U.S. Dollars at the rate prevailing on the date of such conversion. In this circumstance, the Issuer will appoint a financial institution to act as exchange rate agent for purposes of making the required conversions in accordance with prevailing market practice and the terms of the applicable Series of Notes and with any applicable arrangements between the Issuer and the exchange rate agent.

With respect to a Series of Notes that is not denominated in U.S. Dollars, if (a) the Specified Currency is unavailable or (b) as a result of current or proposed economic sanctions affecting banks in the country where the Specified Currency is recognised as the lawful currency, countermeasures to such sanctions or changes in the government of such country (each such event, a "Decreased Availability Event"), at a time of payment of any principal, premium, if any, interest, or any other amounts payable with respect to such Series of Notes, the availability to the Issuer or Guarantor of such Specified Currency from one or more sources in the international markets previously used by the Issuer or Guarantor for the purpose of such payment has decreased as compared to the availability of such Specified Currency as at the most recent Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the announcement or publicity regarding such Decreased Availability Event (or, in the case of the first Interest Payment Date, as applicable, as compared to the availability of such Specified Currency as at the Issue Date), and in the case of either (a) or (b) such Specified Currency has not been replaced, then, in either such case, the Issuer or Guarantor, as applicable, may satisfy its obligations to holders of such Series of Notes by making the relevant payment of principal, premium, if any, interest, or any other amounts payable with respect to such Series of Notes on the date of payment in U.S. Dollars. The amount of such payment made in U.S. Dollars will be determined by an exchange rate agent to be appointed by the Issuer and/or the Guarantor on the basis of the market exchange rate, such rate being equal to the highest mid-exchange rate quotation in The City of New York received by the exchange rate agent at approximately 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the second business day preceding the applicable payment date from three recognised foreign exchange dealers for the purchase by the quoting dealer of the Specified Currency for U.S. Dollars for settlement on the applicable payment date in a tradable amount consistent with accepted market practice.

One of the dealers providing quotations may be the exchange rate agent unless the exchange rate agent is an affiliate of the Issuer or the Guarantor. If no mid-exchange rate quotations are available, the exchange rate agent will determine the market exchange rate in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner in accordance with acceptable market practice and the terms of the applicable Series of Notes and with any applicable arrangements between the Issuer and/or the Guarantor, as applicable and the exchange rate agent.

The above provisions do not apply if the applicable Specified Currency for a Series of Notes is unavailable because it has been replaced by the euro, in which case Condition 4 (Redenomination) shall apply with respect to such Series.

Any payment made in U.S. Dollars or an applicable Replacement Currency as described above where the required payment is in an unavailable Specified Currency will not constitute an Event of Default.

The exchange rate agent to be appointed by the Issuer or the Guarantor may be one of the Issuer's or Guarantor's affiliates, and, from time to time after the initial appointment of an exchange rate agent, the Issuer and/or the Guarantor, as applicable, may appoint one or more different exchange rate agents for an applicable Series of Notes without consent from the holders of such Series of Notes and without notifying such holders of the change. The exchange rate agent will determine the applicable rate of exchange that would apply to a payment made in U.S. Dollars or a Replacement Currency, acting in good faith or a commercially reasonable manner, unless the applicable Final Terms state that any such determination requires the Issuer's or the Guarantor's approval. Absent manifest error, those determinations will be final and binding on holders of the applicable Series of Notes, the Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer and Guarantor.

For purposes of this Condition 8(B), unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the term "business day" means any weekday that is not a legal holiday in New York, New York or Charlotte, North Carolina and is not a day on which banking institutions in those cities are authorised or required by law or regulation to be closed.

9. Taxation

The Issuer or (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLBV) the Guarantor will, subject to certain limitations and exceptions (set forth below), pay to a Noteholder who is a United States Alien or (in the case of Notes issued by MLBV) a Netherlands Non-resident (each as defined below) such additional amounts ("Additional Tax Amounts") as may be necessary so that every net payment of principal or interest or other amount with respect to the Notes or (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLBV) the applicable Guarantee after deduction or withholding for or on account of any present or future tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed upon such Noteholder or by reason of the making of such payment, by the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable) or any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, will not be less than the amount provided for in the Notes or the relevant Guarantee (as applicable) to be then due and payable, as the case may be. Neither the Issuer nor (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLBV) the Guarantor shall be required to make any payment of Additional Tax Amounts for or on account of:

- (a) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge which would not have been imposed but for (i) the existence of any present or former connection between such Noteholder (or between a fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member or shareholder of, or possessor of a power over, such Noteholder if such Noteholder is an estate, trust, partnership or corporation) and the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, including, without limitation, such Noteholder (or such fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member, shareholder or possessor) being or having been a citizen or resident or treated as a resident of the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, or being or having been present or engaged in a trade or business in the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, or having or having had a permanent establishment in the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, or (ii) the presentation of a Note for payment on a date more than 15 calendar days after the date on which such payment became due and payable or the date on which payment thereof is duly provided for, whichever occurs later;
- (b) any estate, inheritance, gift, sales, transfer, excise, wealth or personal property tax or any similar tax, assessment or other governmental charge;
- (c) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of such Noteholder's past or present status as a personal holding company, foreign personal holding company, passive foreign investment company, private foundation, or other tax-exempt entity, foreign controlled foreign corporation, or controlled foreign corporation for United States tax purposes or a corporation which accumulates earnings to avoid United States federal income tax;
- (d) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge which is payable otherwise than by withholding from payments of principal or interest or other amount with respect to the Notes;
- (e) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed as a result of such Noteholder's past or present status as the actual or constructive owner of 10 per cent. or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Issuer entitled to vote;
- (f) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed as a result of such Noteholder being a bank receiving payments on an extension of credit made pursuant to a loan agreement entered into in the ordinary course of its trade or business;
- (g) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge which would not have been imposed but for the failure to comply with certification, information or other reporting requirements concerning the nationality, residence, identity or connection with the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, of the Noteholder or of the beneficial owner of such Note, if such compliance is required by statute or by Regulation of the U.S. Department of the Treasury or of the relevant Netherlands authority (as applicable), as the case may be, as a precondition to relief or exemption from such tax, assessment or other governmental charge;

- (h) in the case of Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, any tax, assessment, or other government charge imposed on a payment of principal or interest (or any other payment) on any Note which is an Index Linked Note, Share Linked Note, GDR/ADR Linked Note, FX Linked Note, Commodity Linked Note, Fund Linked Note, Inflation Linked Note, Credit Linked Note, Preference Share Linked Note, Bond Linked Note or Note linked to other Reference Item(s) and in respect of which the Holder may not receive at least 90 per cent. of the Specified Denomination per Note (or, in the case of a Partly Paid Note, 90 per cent. of the amount paid up in respect of such Note or, in the case of a Zero Coupon Note, 90 per cent. of the Amortised Face Amount of such Note);
- (i) any tax, assessment, or governmental charge imposed solely because the payment is to be made by a particular Paying Agent or a particular office of a Paying Agent and would not be imposed if made by another agent or by another office of this agent;
- (j) any tax, assessment, or other governmental charge that is imposed or withheld by reason of the application of Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code (or any successor provisions), any regulation, pronouncement, or agreement thereunder, official interpretations thereof, or any law implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto, whether currently in effect or as published and amended from time to time, or any intergovernmental agreement entered into in connection with the implementation of such provisions of the Code;
- (k) any tax deducted, withheld or imposed in connection with the Dutch Withholding Tax Act 2021 (Wet bronbelasting 2021) as amended from time to time;
- (l) any tax, assessment, or other governmental charge that is imposed or withheld by reason of the payment being treated as a dividend or "dividend equivalent" for United States or Dutch tax purposes; or
- (m) any combination of paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), (j), (k) and (l) above,

nor shall Additional Tax Amounts be paid to any United States Alien or Netherlands Non-resident (as applicable), as the case may be, which is a fiduciary or partnership or other than the sole beneficial owner of the Note to the extent a beneficiary or settlor with respect to such fiduciary or a member of such partnership or a beneficial owner of the Note would not have been entitled to payment of the Additional Tax Amounts had such beneficiary, settlor, member or beneficial owner been the Holder of the Note.

The term "United States Alien" means any corporation, partnership, entity, individual, or fiduciary that is for United States federal income tax purposes (1) a foreign corporation, (2) a foreign partnership to the extent one or more of the members of which is, for United States federal income tax purposes, a foreign corporation, a non-resident alien individual, or a foreign estate or trust, (3) a non-resident alien individual, or (4) a foreign estate or trust.

The term "Netherlands Non-resident" means any individual, corporation, partnership or any other entity that for Netherlands tax purposes is a non-resident individual, non-resident corporation, non-resident partnership or any other non-resident entity.

10. Prescription

The Notes issued by MLBV will become void unless presented for payment or delivery within a period of ten years (in the case of principal) and five years (in the case of interest) after the Relevant Date (as defined below) therefor.

As used herein, the "Relevant Date" means the date on which such payment or delivery first becomes due, except that, if the full amount of any moneys payable has not been duly received by the Principal Paying Agent on or prior to such due date, it means the date on which, the full amount of such moneys having been so received, notice to that effect is duly given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices).

Under New York's statute of limitations generally, for Notes issued by BAC, Notes issued by BANA and Notes issued by BofA Finance and/or, in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance, the payment obligations of the Guarantor evidenced by the BofA Finance Guarantee of such Notes and/or, in the case of Notes issued by MLB, the payment obligations of the Guarantor evidenced by the MLB Guarantee, CMU Notes Guarantee or Korean Notes Guarantee (as applicable) of such Notes, any legal action to enforce the payment obligations of the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor, as applicable, must be commenced within six years after payment is due. Thereafter, such payment obligations will generally become unenforceable.

11. Events of Default and Rights of Acceleration

(A) Notes issued by MLB

The occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to any Series of Notes issued by MLB shall constitute an "Event of Default" with respect to such Series:

- (a) default shall be made in the payment of any amount of interest due in respect of any such Notes and the default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
- (b) default shall be made in the payment of any principal of any such Notes or in the delivery when due of the Entitlement in respect of any such Notes (in each case whether at maturity or upon redemption or otherwise), and such default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
- (c) MLB shall fail to perform or observe any other term, covenant or agreement contained in the Terms and Conditions applicable to any of such Notes or in the English Law Agency Agreement for the period of 90 calendar days after the date on which written notice of such failure, requiring MLB to remedy the same, first shall have been given to the Principal Paying Agent and MLB by Holders of at least 33 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of any such Notes outstanding; or
- (d) a court having jurisdiction in the premises shall have entered a decree or order granting relief with respect to MLB in an involuntary proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or appointing a receiver, liquidator, trustee, assignee, custodian or sequestrator (or similar official) of MLB of all or substantially all of its property or for the winding up or liquidation of its affairs, and such decree or order shall have remained in force and unstayed for a period of 60 consecutive calendar days; or
- (e) MLB shall institute proceedings for relief under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or any other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or shall consent to the institution of any such proceedings against it, or shall consent to the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, trustee, assignee, custodian or sequestrator (or similar official) of it or of all or substantially all of its property, or shall make an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or shall fail generally to pay its debts as they become due, or shall take any corporate action in furtherance of any of the foregoing; or
- (f) any other events of default specified for a Series of Notes in the Final Terms.

If an Event of Default shall occur and be continuing with respect to any Series of Notes issued by MLB, then the Holders of at least 33 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of such Notes outstanding may, at their option, declare such Notes to be due and payable immediately at the Early Redemption Amount, together with interest, if any, accrued thereon by written notice to MLB, the Guarantor (if applicable) and the Principal Paying Agent at its main office in London, and if any such default is not waived in accordance with Condition 11(F) or cured by MLB or the Guarantor (if applicable), as the case may be, prior to receipt of such written notice, such Notes shall become and be immediately due and payable at the Early Redemption Amount, together with the interest, if any, accrued on such Notes.

An Event of Default will not occur and there will not be any right to accelerate payment of principal, the interest accrued, or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) of any Series of Notes of MLBV as a result of a covenant breach by the Guarantor (if applicable).

(B) Notes issued by BAC

The occurrence of any of the following events with respect to any Series of Notes issued by BAC shall constitute an "Event of Default" with respect to such Series:

- (a) BAC shall fail to pay the principal amount of any of such Notes when due whether at maturity or upon early redemption or otherwise, and continuance of such default for a period of 30 calendar days; or
- (b) BAC shall fail to pay any instalment of interest, other amounts payable, or Additional Tax Amounts on any of such Notes for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
- (c) a court having jurisdiction in the premises shall enter a decree or order for relief in respect of BAC in an involuntary case or proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganisation, or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or appointing a receiver, liquidator, conservator, assignee, custodian, trustee, or sequestrator (or similar official) of BAC or for any substantial part of its property or ordering the winding-up or liquidation of its affairs and such decree or order shall remain unstayed and in effect for a period of 60 consecutive calendar days; or
- (d) BAC shall commence a voluntary case or proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, liquidation, receivership, reorganisation, or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or shall consent to the entry of an order for relief in an involuntary case under any such law, or shall consent to the appointment of or taking possession by a receiver, liquidator, conservator, assignee, trustee, custodian, or sequestrator (or similar official) of BAC or for any substantial part of its property, or shall make any general assignment for the benefit of creditors, or shall admit in writing its inability to pay its debts as they become due or shall take any corporate action in furtherance of any of the foregoing; or
- (e) any other events of default specified for a Series of Notes in the Final Terms.

If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing with respect to any Series of Notes issued by BAC, then the Noteholders of at least 25.00 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of such Notes outstanding, by written notice to BAC, the Registrar and the Principal Paying Agent, may declare such Notes to be due and payable immediately at the Early Redemption Amount (together with accrued and unpaid interest (if any) to (but excluding) the date of repayment and Additional Tax Amounts (if any) thereon) and if any such Event of Default is not waived, in accordance with Condition 11(F), prior to or shall continue at the time of receipt of such written notice, such amounts shall become immediately due and payable. Upon payment of such amounts, all of BAC's obligations in respect of payment of principal of, interest on, or any other amounts then payable (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) on such Notes shall terminate. Interest on overdue principal, interest or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) shall accrue from the date on which such principal, interest or any other amounts then payable (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) were due and payable to the date such principal, interest or any other amounts payable (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) are paid or duly provided for, at the rate borne by such Notes (to the extent payment of such interest shall be legally enforceable).

There will not be any right to accelerate payment of principal, the interest accrued, or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) of any Series of Notes issued by BAC other than as described in the preceding paragraph. In addition, for the avoidance of doubt, unless otherwise specified in the Final Terms and, unless contemplated by Condition 11(B)(a) or Condition 11(B)(b) and the preceding paragraph with respect to a Series of Notes issued by BAC, there shall not be any right to accelerate payment of principal, the interest accrued, or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) of any Series of Notes issued by BAC as a result of the failure on the part of BAC to observe or perform any covenants or agreements on the part of BAC contained in such Series of Notes or the Agency Agreement. Further, for the avoidance of doubt, if an Event of Default as described in Condition 11(B)(e) is specified in the Final Terms for a Series of Notes issued by BAC, there will be no right to accelerate payment of principal, the interest accrued, or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) of such Series of Notes on the terms described in the preceding paragraph unless such acceleration rights are granted specifically in the Final Terms for such Series of Notes.

(C) Notes issued by BofA Finance

The occurrence of any of the following events with respect to any Series of Notes issued by BofA Finance shall constitute an "Event of Default" with respect to such Series:

- (a) BofA Finance shall fail to pay the principal amount of any of such Notes when due whether at maturity or upon early redemption or otherwise, and continuance of such default for a period of 30 calendar days; or
- (b) BofA Finance shall fail to pay any instalment of interest, other amounts payable, or Additional Tax Amounts on any of such Notes for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
- (c) a court having jurisdiction in the premises shall enter a decree or order for relief in respect of BofA Finance in an involuntary case or proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganisation, or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or appointing a receiver, liquidator, conservator, assignee, custodian, trustee, or sequestrator (or similar official) of BofA Finance or for any substantial part of its property or ordering the winding-up or liquidation of its affairs and such decree or order shall remain unstayed and in effect for a period of 60 consecutive calendar days; or
- (d) BofA Finance shall commence a voluntary case or proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, liquidation, receivership, reorganisation, or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or shall consent to the entry of an order for relief in an involuntary case under any such law, or shall consent to the appointment of or taking possession by a receiver, liquidator, conservator, assignee, trustee, custodian, or sequestrator (or similar official) of BofA Finance or for any substantial part of its property, or shall make any general assignment for the benefit of creditors, or shall admit in writing its inability to pay its debts as they become due or shall take any corporate action in furtherance of any of the foregoing; or
- (e) any other events of default specified for a Series of Notes in the Final Terms.

If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing with respect to any Series of Notes issued by BofA Finance, then the Noteholders of at least 33.00 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of such Notes outstanding, by written notice to BofA Finance, the Guarantor, the Registrar and the Principal Paying Agent, may declare such Notes to be due and payable immediately at the Early Redemption Amount (together with accrued and unpaid interest (if any) to (but excluding) the date of repayment and Additional Tax Amounts (if any) thereon) and if any such Event of Default is not waived, in accordance with Condition 11(F), or cured by BofA Finance or the Guarantor, prior to or shall continue at the time of receipt of such written notice, such amounts shall become immediately due and payable. Upon payment of such amounts, all of BofA Finance's obligations in respect of payment of principal of, interest on, or any other amounts then payable (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) on such Notes shall terminate. Interest on overdue principal, interest or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) shall accrue from the date on which such principal, interest or any other amounts then payable (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) were due and payable to the date such principal, interest or any other amounts payable (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) are paid or duly provided for, at the rate borne by such Notes (to the extent payment of such interest shall be legally enforceable).

An Event of Default will not occur and there will not be any right to accelerate payment of principal, the interest accrued, or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) of any Series of Notes of BofA Finance as a result of a covenant breach by the Guarantor.

(D) Notes issued by BANA

The occurrence of any of the following events with respect to any Series of Notes issued by BANA shall constitute an "Event of Default" with respect to such Series:

- (a) BANA shall fail to pay the principal amount of any of such Notes when due whether at maturity or upon early redemption or otherwise, and continuance of such default for a period of 30 calendar days; or
- (b) BANA shall fail to pay any instalment of interest, other amounts payable, or Additional Tax Amounts on any of such Notes for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
- (c) a court having jurisdiction in the premises shall enter a decree or order for relief in respect of BANA in an involuntary case or proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganisation, or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or appointing a receiver, liquidator, conservator, assignee, custodian, trustee, or sequestrator (or similar official) of BANA or for any substantial part of its property or ordering the winding-up or liquidation of its affairs and such decree or order shall remain unstayed and in effect for a period of 60 consecutive calendar days;
- (d) BANA shall commence a voluntary case or proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, liquidation, receivership, reorganisation, or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or shall consent to the entry of an order for relief in an involuntary case under any such law, or shall consent to the appointment of or taking possession by a receiver, liquidator, conservator, assignee, trustee, custodian, or sequestrator (or similar official) of BANA or for any substantial part of its property, or shall make any general assignment for the benefit of creditors, or shall admit in writing its inability to pay its debts as they become due or shall take any corporate action in furtherance of any of the foregoing; or
- (e) any other events of default specified for a Series of Notes in the Final Terms.

If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing with respect to any Series of Notes issued by BANA, then the Noteholders of at least 25.00 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of such Notes outstanding, by written notice to BANA, the Registrar and the Principal Paying Agent, may declare such Notes to be due and payable immediately at the Early Redemption Amount (together with accrued and unpaid interest (if any) to (but excluding) the date of repayment and Additional Tax Amounts (if any) thereon) and if any such Event of Default is not waived, in accordance with Condition 11(F), prior to or shall continue at the time of receipt of such written notice, such amounts shall become immediately due and payable. Upon payment of such amounts, all of BANA's obligations in respect of payment of principal of, interest on, or any other amounts then payable (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) on such Notes shall terminate. Interest on overdue principal, interest or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) shall accrue from the date on which such principal, interest or any other amounts then payable (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) were due and payable to the date such principal, interest or any other amounts payable (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) are paid or duly provided for, at the rate borne by such Notes (to the extent payment of such interest shall be legally enforceable).

There will not be any right to accelerate payment of principal, the interest accrued, or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) of any Series of Notes issued by BANA other than as described in the preceding paragraph. In addition, for the avoidance of doubt, unless otherwise specified in the Final Terms and, unless contemplated by Condition 11(D)(a) or Condition 11(D)(b) and the preceding paragraph with respect to a Series of Notes issued by BANA, there shall not be any right to accelerate payment of principal, the interest accrued, or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) of any Series of Notes issued by BANA as a result of the failure on the part of BANA to observe or perform any covenants or agreements on the part of BANA contained in such Series of Notes or the Agency Agreement. Further, for the avoidance of doubt, if an Event of Default as described in Condition 11(D)(e) is specified in the Final Terms for a Series of Notes issued by BANA, there will be no right to accelerate payment of principal, the interest accrued, or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) of such Series of Notes on the terms described in the preceding paragraph unless such acceleration rights are granted specifically in the Final Terms for such Series of Notes.

- (E) At any time after any Series of Notes has become due and payable following a declaration of acceleration made in accordance with this Condition 11 and before a judgment or decree for payment of the money due with respect to such Notes has been obtained by any Noteholder of such Notes, such declaration and its consequences may be rescinded and annulled upon the written consent of Noteholders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Notes then outstanding, or by resolution adopted by a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Notes outstanding present or represented at a meeting of Noteholders of such Notes at which a quorum is present, as provided in the applicable Agency Agreement, if:
- (i) (A) the Issuer has paid, or has deposited with the relevant Clearing System, a sum sufficient to pay:
 - (1) all overdue amounts of interest on such Notes;
 - (2) the principal of such Notes which has become due otherwise than by such declaration of acceleration; or
 - (B) in the case of Notes to be redeemed by physical delivery, the Issuer has delivered the relevant Entitlement to any agent appointed by the Issuer to deliver such Entitlement to the Noteholders; and
 - (ii) all Events of Default with respect to such Notes, other than the non-payment of the principal of such Notes which has become due solely by such declaration of acceleration, have been cured or waived as provided in Condition 11(F) below.

No such rescission shall affect any subsequent default or impair any right consequent thereon.

- (F) Any default by the Issuer or (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLBV) the Guarantor, other than the events described in Condition 11(A)(a), Condition 11(A)(b), Condition 11(B)(a) or Condition 11(B)(b), or Condition 11(C)(a) or Condition 11(C)(b) or 11(D)(D)(a) or 11(D)(D)(b) may be waived by the written consent of Noteholders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Notes then outstanding affected thereby, or by resolution adopted by a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Notes then outstanding present or represented at a meeting of Noteholders of such Notes affected thereby at which a quorum is present, as provided in the applicable Agency Agreement. Upon any such waiver, such default shall cease to exist, and any Event of Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been cured, for every purpose of the applicable Agency Agreement, but no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereon.

12. Replacement of Notes

Should any Note be lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed, it may be replaced at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent upon payment by the claimant of such costs and expenses as may be incurred in connection therewith and on such terms as to evidence and indemnity as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Notes must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

13. Paying Agents, Registrar and Calculation Agent

(A) Paying Agents and Registrar

The names of the initial Paying Agent and the Registrar and their initial specified offices are as set out at the end of these Terms and Conditions.

The Issuer and (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLB) the Guarantor are entitled to vary or terminate the appointment of any Paying Agent or the Registrar and/or appoint additional or other Paying Agents or Registrars and/or approve any change in the specified office through which any Paying Agent or Registrar acts, provided that:

- (a) there will at all times be a Principal Paying Agent and a Registrar (which, in the case of the Registrar, shall be an entity with a specified office outside the United Kingdom);
- (b) so long as the Notes are listed on any stock exchange or admitted to listing by any other relevant authority, there will at all times be a Paying Agent, which may be the Principal Paying Agent, with a specified office in such place as may be required by the rules and regulations of the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority;
- (c) there will at all times be a Paying Agent (which may be the Principal Paying Agent) in a jurisdiction within Europe other than any jurisdiction in which the Issuer, or, in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLB, the Guarantor, is incorporated;
- (d) so long as there is any Tranche of CMU Notes outstanding, there will be at all times a CMU Lodging and Paying Agent; and
- (e) to the extent required in connection with the Notes, there shall at all times be a Calculation Agent.

Notice of any variation, termination, appointment or change in the Paying Agents or the Registrar will be given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such variation, termination or changes.

In acting under the applicable Agency Agreement, the Paying Agents and the Registrar act solely as agents of the Issuer and (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLB) the Guarantor and do not assume any obligation to, or relationship of agency or trust with, any Noteholders. The applicable Agency Agreement contains provisions permitting any entity into which any Paying Agent or the Registrar is merged or converted or with which it is consolidated or to which it transfers all or substantially all of its assets to become the successor paying agent or registrar, as applicable.

(B) Calculation Agent

In relation to each issue of Notes, the Calculation Agent (whether it be Merrill Lynch International, BofA Securities Europe SA or another entity) acts solely as agent of the Issuer and (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLBV) the Guarantor and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Noteholders.

The Calculation Agent may, with the consent of the Issuer, delegate any of its obligations and functions to a suitably competent third party of good standing as it deems appropriate.

(C) Determinations by the Issuer and Calculation Agent

All calculations, determinations and other exercises of discretion made in respect of the Notes by the Issuer and Calculation Agent shall be made in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.

All calculations, determinations and other exercises of discretion made in respect of the Notes by the Calculation Agent shall (save in the case of negligence, wilful default or bad faith, manifest error or proven error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Issuer, (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLBV) the Guarantor, the Paying Agents, and the Noteholders. The Calculation Agent shall promptly notify the Issuer and the Principal Paying Agent upon any such calculations and determinations, and (in the absence of negligence, wilful default or bad faith) no liability to the Issuer, (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or (other than Secured Notes) MLBV) the Guarantor, the Paying Agents or the Noteholders shall attach to the Calculation Agent in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by it of its powers, duties and discretions pursuant to such provisions.

14. Notices

All notices regarding the Notes will be deemed to be validly given:

- (a) if, in respect of notices to Holders of Definitive Registered Notes, mailed to them at their respective addresses in the Register. Such notices will be deemed to have been given on the fourth weekday (being a day other than a Saturday or a Sunday) after the date of mailing;
- (b) if, in respect of any Notes that are admitted to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF and listed on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange require, published in a leading newspaper having general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be the Luxemburger Wort) and/or on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.luxse.com). Any such notice will be deemed to have been given on the date of the first publication or, where required to be published in more than one newspaper, on the date of the first publication in all required newspapers;
- (c) if, in respect of any Notes that are admitted to trading on, and listed on any other stock exchange or are admitted to trading by another relevant authority, if delivered in accordance with the rules and regulations of the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority; or
- (d) as otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Until such time as any Individual Note Certificates are issued, there may, so long as any Global Notes representing the Notes are held in their entirety on behalf of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, be substituted for such publication in such newspaper(s) or such website(s) (in accordance with this Condition 14) the delivery of the relevant notice to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable for communication by them to the Holders of the Notes and, in addition, for so long as any Notes are listed on a stock exchange or are admitted to trading by another relevant authority and the rules of that stock exchange or relevant authority so require, such notice will be published on the website of the relevant stock exchange or relevant authority and/or in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the place or places required by those rules. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given to the Holders of the Notes on the day on which such notice was given to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable.

Notices to be given by any Noteholder shall be in writing and given by lodging the same, together with, in the case of Definitive Registered Notes, the related Individual Note Certificate (if applicable), with the Principal Paying Agent. Whilst any of the Notes are represented by a Global Note, such notice may be given by any Holder of a Note to the Principal Paying Agent through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, in such manner as the Principal Paying Agent and Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, may approve for this purpose.

Until such time as any Individual Note Certificates are issued, so long as any Global Notes representing the CMU Notes are lodged with the CMU, all notices regarding such CMU Notes may be given by delivery to the CMU for communication by them to the Holders of the CMU Notes. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given to the Holders of the CMU Notes on the day on which such notice is delivered to the CMU.

15. Meetings of Noteholders, Modification and Waiver

(A) Meeting of Noteholders

The applicable Agency Agreement contains provisions for convening meetings of the Holders of Notes of a particular Series to consider any matter affecting their interests, including the sanctioning by Extraordinary Resolution of a modification of such Notes or any of the provisions of the applicable Agency Agreement.

(a) Notes issued by BAC, BANA and BofA Finance

In the case of Notes issued by BAC, BANA or BofA Finance, such a meeting may be convened by the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor (if applicable) and shall be convened by the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor (if applicable) if required in writing by the Noteholders holding not less than 10 per cent. in nominal amount of the Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding. The quorum at any such meeting for passing an Extraordinary Resolution is one or more persons present and holding or representing in the aggregate more than 50 per cent. in principal amount of the Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned meeting the percentage of the aggregate principal amount of the Notes expressly stated in the notice reconvening the adjourned meeting, except that at any meeting the business of which includes the modification of certain provisions of the Notes (including modifying the date of maturity of the Notes or any date for payment of interest thereon, reducing or cancelling the amount of principal or the Rate of Interest payable in respect of the Notes or altering the currency of payment of the Notes except, in each case, in accordance with these Conditions), the quorum shall be one or more persons present and holding or representing not less than three-quarters in principal amount of the Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned such meeting one or more persons present and holding or representing not less than one-quarter in principal amount of the Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding.

An Extraordinary Resolution passed at any meeting of the Holders of the Notes of a particular Series shall be binding on all the Holders of Notes of such Series, whether or not they are present at the meeting.

An Extraordinary Resolution may also be effected in writing signed or electronically approved using the systems and procedures in place from time to time of a relevant Clearing System by or on behalf of all the Noteholders.

(b) Notes issued by MLBV

In the case of Notes issued by MLBV, such a meeting may be convened by MLBV or the Guarantor (if applicable) and shall be convened by MLBV or the Guarantor (if applicable) if required in writing by the Noteholders holding not less than 33 per cent. in nominal amount of the Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding. The quorum at any such meeting for passing an Extraordinary Resolution is one or more persons present and holding or representing in the aggregate not less than 50 per cent. in nominal amount of the Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned meeting one or more persons present whatever the nominal amount of the Notes so held or represented, except that at any meeting the business of which includes the modification of certain provisions of the Notes (including modifying the date of maturity of the Notes or any date for payment of interest thereon, reducing or cancelling the amount of principal or the Entitlement or the Rate of Interest payable in respect of the Notes or altering the currency of payment of the Notes except, in each case, in accordance with these Conditions), the quorum shall be one or more persons present and holding or representing not less than two-thirds in nominal amount of the Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned such meeting one or more persons present and holding or representing not less than one-third in nominal amount of the Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding.

An Extraordinary Resolution passed at any meeting of the Holders of the Notes of a particular Series shall be binding on all the Holders of Notes of such Series, whether or not they are present at the meeting.

An Extraordinary Resolution may also be effected in writing signed or electronically approved using the systems and procedures in place from time to time of a relevant Clearing System by or on behalf of all the Noteholders.

(B) Modification of Agency Agreements and Notes Without Noteholder Consent

Modification of Notes

The Principal Paying Agent and the relevant Issuer may agree, without the consent of the Noteholders to any modification (except as mentioned above) of the Notes which is, in the opinion of the Issuer:

- (a) not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders; or
- (b) of a formal, minor or technical nature; or
- (c) made to correct a manifest or proven error or omission; or
- (d) made to comply with mandatory provisions of law.

Any such modification shall be binding on the Noteholders and any such modification shall be notified to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) as soon as practicable thereafter.

Modification of Agency Agreements

The applicable Agency Agreement may be amended by the parties thereto without the consent of Noteholders if, in the opinion of the Issuer, the modification is:

- (a) not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders; or
- (b) of a formal, minor or technical nature; or
- (c) made to correct a manifest or proven error or omission; or
- (d) made to comply with mandatory provisions of law.

Any such modification shall be binding on Noteholders and shall be notified to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 (Notices) as soon as practicable thereafter.

16. Further Issues

The Issuer shall be at liberty from time to time without the consent of the Noteholders to create and issue further Notes of any Series or Tranche having terms and conditions the same as the Notes or the same in all respects save for, if applicable, the amount, issue price, interest commencement date and date of the first payment of interest thereon, and for the avoidance of doubt, references in the Conditions of such Notes to "Issue Date" shall be to the issue date of the first Tranche of any Series of Notes and so that the same shall be consolidated and form a single Series with the outstanding Series of Notes.

17. Consolidation or Merger

(A) Notes issued by MLBV or BofA Finance

The relevant Issuer or the Guarantor (if applicable) may not consolidate with, or sell or convey all or substantially all of its assets to, or merge with or into any other entity, other than in the case of the Guarantor, a sale or conveyance of all or substantially all of its assets to one or more Subsidiaries (as defined below), unless (i) (a) in the case of the relevant Issuer, either the relevant Issuer shall be the continuing company, or the successor entity (if other than the relevant Issuer) shall expressly assume the due and punctual payment of all amounts or delivery of all assets, as the case may be, (including Additional Tax Amounts as provided in Condition 9 (Taxation)) payable or deliverable, as applicable, with respect to the Notes, according to their tenor, and the due and punctual performance and observance of all of the obligations under the Conditions to be performed by the relevant Issuer by an amendment to the applicable Agency Agreement executed by, inter alios, such successor entity, the Guarantor, the Registrar and the Principal Paying Agent, and (b) in the case of the Guarantor, the Guarantor shall be the continuing company, or the successor entity (if other than the Guarantor) shall be organised and existing under the laws of the United States or a state thereof or the District of Columbia and such successor entity shall expressly assume the due and punctual payment of all amounts (including Additional Tax Amounts as provided in Condition 9 (Taxation)) payable with respect to the relevant Guarantee by the execution of a new guarantee of like tenor and (ii) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no Event of Default under Condition 11 (Events of Default and Rights of Acceleration), and no event which, with notice or lapse of time or both, would become such an Event of Default shall have happened and be continuing. In case of any such consolidation, merger, sale or conveyance and upon any such assumption by the successor entity, such successor entity shall succeed to and be substituted for the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may be, with the same effect as if it had been named herein as the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may be, and the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may be, except in the event of a conveyance by way of lease, shall be relieved of any further obligations under the Conditions, the applicable Agency Agreement and the relevant Guarantee, as applicable.

"Subsidiary" means any entity of which more than 50% of the voting power of the outstanding ownership interests (excluding ownership interests entitled to voting power only by reason of the happening of a contingency) shall at the time be owned, directly or indirectly, by the Guarantor, or one or more Subsidiaries, or by the Guarantor and one or more Subsidiaries. For this purpose, "voting power" means power to vote in an ordinary election of directors (or, in the case of an entity that is not a corporation, ordinarily to appoint or approve the appointment of entities holding similar positions).

(B) Notes issued by BAC and BANA

The relevant Issuer may not consolidate with, or sell or convey all or substantially all of its assets to, or merge with or into any other entity, other than a sale or conveyance of all or substantially all of its assets to one or more Subsidiaries (as defined below), unless (i) either the Issuer shall be the continuing entity, or the successor entity (if other than the Issuer) shall be organised and existing under the laws of the United States or a state thereof or the District of Columbia and such successor entity shall expressly assume the due and punctual payment of all amounts (including Additional Tax Amounts as provided in Condition 9 (Taxation)) payable with respect to the Notes, according to their tenor, and the due and punctual performance and observance of all of the obligations under the Conditions to be performed by the Issuer by an amendment to the New York Law Agency Agreement executed by, inter alios, such successor entity, the Registrar and the Principal Paying Agent, and (ii) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no Event of Default under Condition 11 (Events of Default and Rights of Acceleration), and no event which, with notice or lapse of time or both, would become such an Event of Default shall have happened and be continuing. In case of any such consolidation, merger, sale or conveyance and upon any such assumption by the successor entity, such successor entity shall succeed to and be substituted for the Issuer with the same effect as if it had been named herein as the Issuer, and the Issuer, except in the event of a conveyance by way of lease, shall be relieved of any further obligations under the Conditions and the New York Law Agency Agreement.

"Subsidiary" means any entity of which more than 50% of the voting power of the outstanding ownership interests (excluding ownership interests entitled to voting power only by reason of the happening of a contingency) shall at the time be owned, directly or indirectly, by the Issuer, or one or more Subsidiaries, or by the Issuer and one or more Subsidiaries. For this purpose, "voting power" means power to vote in an ordinary election of directors (or, in the case of an entity that is not a corporation, ordinarily to appoint or approve the appointment of entities holding similar positions).

18. Business Days

In these Terms and Conditions, "Business Day" means a day on which:

- (A) in the case of Notes other than CMU Notes, commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in London and (in the case of Notes issued by BofA Finance or BAC) New York City and each Additional Business Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms, provided that if the Additional Business Centre is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be or to include "T2", then Business Day shall also be a day on which the T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro;
- (B) in the case of CMU Notes, commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in Hong Kong and each Additional Business Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms, provided that if the Additional Business Centre is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be or to include "T2", then Business Day shall also be a day on which the T2 is open for settlement of payments in euro; and
- (C) also (1) for any sum payable in a Specified Currency other than euro or CNY, commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the principal financial centre(s) of the country of the relevant Specified Currency (if other than London (in the case of Notes other than CMU Notes) and any Additional Business Centre and which if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars shall be Sydney or Auckland respectively) or (2) for any sum payable in euro, a day on which the T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro, or (3) for any sum payable in CNY, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the CNY Settlement Centre.

19. Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999

In the case of Notes issued by MLB, no person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of the Notes under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999, but this does not affect any right or remedy of any person which exists or is available apart from that Act.

20. Governing Law and Submission to Jurisdiction

(A) Governing law

The English Law Agency Agreement, the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant and the Notes issued by MLBV and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with the English Law Agency Agreement, the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant and such Notes (including without limitation any dispute, controversy, proceedings or claim of whatever nature (whether contractual, non-contractual or otherwise) arising out of or in any way relating to the English Law Agency Agreement, the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant and the Notes issued by MLBV or their respective formation) shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with English law.

The New York Law Agency Agreement, the Notes issued by BofA Finance, BANA and BAC and the Guarantees shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, United States, applicable to agreements made and to be performed wholly within such jurisdiction without regard to principles of conflicts of laws.

(B) Submission to jurisdiction

In relation to any legal action or proceedings ("Proceedings") arising out of or in connection with the Notes issued by MLBV, (other than in respect of the Security Agreements or relevant Charged Documents relating to any Secured Instruments as specified therein), the courts of England have exclusive jurisdiction and MLBV and the Noteholders submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts. MLBV and the Noteholders waive any objection to Proceedings in the English courts on the grounds of venue or that the Proceedings have been brought in an inconvenient forum.

In relation to Proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Notes issued by BofA Finance, the courts of the State of New York or the courts of the United States of America located in the Borough of Manhattan in the City and State of New York have exclusive jurisdiction and BofA Finance and the Noteholders submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of such courts of the State of New York or courts of the United States of America solely for the purposes of any legal action or proceeding brought to enforce BofA Finance's obligations under the New York Law Agency Agreement or the Notes issued by BofA Finance. BofA Finance and the Noteholders waive any objection to such courts of the State of New York or courts of the United States of America on the grounds of venue or that the Proceedings have been brought in an inconvenient forum.

In relation to Proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Notes issued by BAC, the courts of the State of New York or the courts of the United States of America located in the Borough of Manhattan in the City and State of New York have exclusive jurisdiction and BAC and the Noteholders submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of such courts of the State of New York or courts of the United States of America solely for the purposes of any legal action or proceeding brought to enforce BAC's obligations under the New York Law Agency Agreement or the Notes issued by BAC. BAC and the Noteholders waive any objection to such courts of the State of New York or courts of the United States of America on the grounds of venue or that the Proceedings have been brought in an inconvenient forum.

In relation to Proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Notes issued by BANA, the courts of the State of New York or the courts of the United States of America located in the Borough of Manhattan in the City and State of New York have exclusive jurisdiction and BANA and the Noteholders submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of such courts of the State of New York or courts of the United States of America solely for the purposes of any legal action or proceeding brought to enforce BANA's obligations under the New York Law Agency Agreement or the Notes issued by BANA. BANA and the Noteholders waive any objection to such courts of the State of New York or courts of the United States of America on the grounds of venue or that the Proceedings have been brought in an inconvenient forum.

For greater certainty, the Guarantor has not submitted to the jurisdiction of the English courts in the Guarantees, and claims under the Guarantees are required to be instituted in the courts of the State of New York or the courts of the United States of America located in the Borough of Manhattan in the City and State of New York, United States.

(C) Express Acknowledgement of the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes

In the event the Issuer, the Guarantor or, in respect of Secured Notes, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, becomes subject to a proceeding under the U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Act or Title II of the U.S. Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (each, a "U.S. Special Resolution Regime"), the transfer of the Notes and/or the applicable Guarantee (together, the "Relevant Obligations"), and the transfer of any interest and obligation in or under, and any property securing, the Relevant Obligations, from the Issuer, the Guarantor or, in respect of Secured Notes, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, respectively, will be effective to the same extent as the transfer would be effective under such U.S. Special Resolution Regime if the Relevant Obligations, and any interest and obligation in or under, and any property securing, the Relevant Obligations, were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States. In the event the Issuer, the Guarantor, or, in respect of Secured Notes, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, or any of their affiliates (as such term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k)) becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, default rights against the Issuer, the Guarantor or, in respect of Secured Notes, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, with respect to the Relevant Obligations are permitted to be exercised to no greater extent than such default rights could be exercised under such U.S. Special Resolution Regime if the Relevant Obligations were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States. For purposes of this paragraph, "default right" has the meaning assigned to that term in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 252.81, 12 C.F.R. § 382.1 and 12 C.F.R. § 47.1, as applicable.

(D) Appointment of Process Agent

MLBV hereby appoints Bank of America, National Association, London Branch currently at 2 King Edward Street, London EC1A 1HQ (Att: General Counsel EMEA) as its agent in England to receive service of process in any Proceedings in England. If for any reason such process agent ceases to act as such or no longer has an address in England, MLBV agrees to appoint a substitute process agent and to notify the Holders of such appointment. Nothing herein shall affect the right to serve process in any other manner permitted by law.

BAC hereby appoints CT Corporation System at 28 Liberty Street, New York, New York 10005 as its agent upon whom process may be served in any suit, action, or proceeding relating to or arising out of the New York Law Agency Agreement or the Notes issued by BAC.

BofA Finance hereby appoints CT Corporation System at 28 Liberty Street, New York, New York 10005 as its agent upon whom process may be served in any suit, action, or proceeding relating to or arising out of the New York Law Agency Agreement or the Notes issued by BofA Finance.

BANA hereby appoints CT Corporation System at 28 Liberty Street, New York, New York 10005 as its agent upon whom process may be served in any suit, action, or proceeding relating to or arising out of the New York Law Agency Agreement or the Notes issued by BANA.

FORM OF FINAL TERMS OF THE CASH SETTLED EXCHANGEABLE NOTES

[IMPORTANT - PROHIBITION OF SALES TO EEA RETAIL INVESTORS] - The Exchangeable Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area ("EEA"). For these purposes, a "retail investor" means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU, as amended or superseded ("MiFID II"); (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97, as amended or superseded (the "Insurance Distribution Directive"), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the EU Prospectus Regulation (as defined below). Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended or superseded, the "EU PRIIPs Regulation") for offering or selling the Exchangeable Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Exchangeable Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the EU PRIIPs Regulation.¹

[IMPORTANT - PROHIBITION OF SALES TO UK RETAIL INVESTORS] - The Exchangeable Notes are not intended to be offered, sold, distributed otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold, distributed or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the UK (as defined below). For these purposes, a "retail investor" means a person who is neither: (i) a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018; nor (ii) a qualified investor as defined in paragraph 15 of Schedule 1 to the Public Offers and Admissions to Trading Regulations 2024. Consequently no disclosure document required by the FCA Product Disclosure Sourcebook ("DISC") for offering, selling or distributing the Exchangeable Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been prepared and therefore offering, selling or distributing the Exchangeable Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the UK may be unlawful under DISC and the Consumer Composite Investments (Designated Activities) Regulations 2024.²

[PROHIBITION OF OFFERING AND MARKETING TO SWISS PRIVATE CLIENTS] - The Exchangeable Notes are not intended to be offered, sold, marketed or otherwise made available to and shall not be offered, sold, marketed or otherwise made available to any private client in Switzerland other than in the context of a portfolio management agreement within the meaning of article 58(2) of the Swiss Financial Services Act ("FinSA") and article 83 of the Swiss Financial Services Ordinance ("FinSO"). No key information document within the meaning of article 58 FinSA (or equivalent document) has been prepared with respect to the Exchangeable Notes.³

[Notification under Section 309B(1) of the Securities and Futures Act 2001 (the "SFA")]: The Exchangeable Notes are capital markets products other than prescribed capital markets products (as defined in the Securities and Futures (Capital Markets Products) Regulations 2018) and Specified Investment Products (as defined in the Monetary Authority of Singapore (the "MAS") Notice SFA 04-N12: Notice on the Sale of Investment Products and MAS Notice FAA-N16: Notice on Recommendations on Investment Products).⁴

[Include the following warning for all Exchangeable Notes where capital is at risk:

INVESTING IN THE EXCHANGEABLE NOTES PUTS YOUR CAPITAL AT RISK. YOU MAY LOSE SOME [OR ALL] OF YOUR INVESTMENT.]

The Offering Circular referred to below (as completed by these Final Terms) has been prepared on the basis that any offer of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes (the "Exchangeable Notes") in any Member State of the European Economic Area (each, a "Member State") will be made pursuant to an exemption under Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (as amended or superseded, the "EU Prospectus Regulation") from the requirement to publish a prospectus for offers of the Exchangeable Notes. Accordingly any person making or intending to make an offer of the Exchangeable Notes in that Member State may only do so in circumstances in which no obligation arises for the Issuer or any Dealer to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the EU Prospectus Regulation or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the EU Prospectus Regulation, in each case, in relation to such offer. Neither the Issuer nor any Dealer has authorised, nor do they authorise, the making of any offer of Exchangeable Notes in any other circumstances.

The Offering Circular referred to below (as completed by these Final Terms) has been prepared on the basis that any offer of Exchangeable Notes in the United Kingdom (the "UK") will be of a kind specified in Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the POATRs. Accordingly any person making or intending to make an offer of the Exchangeable Notes in the UK may only do so where the offer is of a kind specified in Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the POATRs. Neither the Issuer nor any Dealer has authorised, nor do they authorise, the making of any offer of Exchangeable Notes in any other circumstances.

[Neither this document nor any other offering or marketing material relating to the Exchangeable Notes constitutes a prospectus as such term is understood pursuant to the Swiss Financial Services Act ("FinSA") and neither this document nor any other offering or marketing material relating to the Exchangeable Notes may be publicly distributed or otherwise made publicly available in Switzerland, except in instances where such marketing, offering or distribution does not require the publication of a prospectus pursuant to the FinSA.]⁵

The Exchangeable Notes are unsecured and are not and will not be savings accounts, deposits or obligations of, or otherwise guaranteed by, any bank. The Exchangeable Notes do not evidence deposits of Bank of America, N.A. or any other bank and are not insured by the U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Deposit Insurance Fund or any other insurer or governmental agency or instrumentality.

Neither the Exchangeable Notes nor the MLBV Guarantee have been or will be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") or under any U.S. state securities laws.

[The Exchangeable Notes may not be offered, sold, resold, traded, transferred, pledged, delivered or redeemed, directly or indirectly, at any time within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person. For the purposes hereof, "U.S. person" has the meaning ascribed to it by Regulation S under the Securities Act.]⁶

[The Exchangeable Notes will be eligible for sale concurrently (a) in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined herein), in either case to qualified institutional buyers (each, a "QIB") as defined in Rule 144A ("Rule 144A") under the Securities Act who are also qualified purchasers (each, a "QP") within the meaning of Section 3(a)(7) and as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"), and the rules thereunder, and

⁶ Include in the case of Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV other than Regulation S/Rule 144A Exchangeable Notes.

(b) outside the United States to non-U.S. persons in reliance on Regulation S under the Securities Act, in each case subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein and in the Conditions (described below) and the accompanying Offering Circular.

[The Exchangeable Notes will be represented by a Regulation S global exchangeable note and a Rule 144A global exchangeable Note (a "Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Exchangeable Note") which will be deposited with Citibank Europe plc, as common depositary for Euroclear Bank SA/NV ("Euroclear") and Clearstream Banking, S.A. ("Clearstream, Luxembourg") and will be exchangeable for Definitive Registered Notes in the limited circumstances described in the Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Exchangeable Note. Beneficial interests in the Exchangeable Notes will be shown on, and transfers thereof will be effected only through, records maintained in book-entry form by Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg. The English Law Agency Agreement (as defined in the Conditions) provides that it and the Notes will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law. The MLBV Guarantee is governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York.]

Each purchaser of Exchangeable Notes being offered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person (as defined herein) is hereby notified that the offer and sale of such Exchangeable Notes is being made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act pursuant to Rule 144A and the 1940 Act. The MLBV Guarantee has not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act. The Issuer will offer and sell Exchangeable Notes within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person through BofA Securities, Inc. or one of its affiliates, which in each case is a U.S. registered broker dealer, in private transactions exclusively to persons reasonably believed to be QIBs who are also each a QP, and who, as a condition to purchasing the Exchangeable Notes will enter into and remain in compliance with an Investor Representation Letter for the benefit of [BofA Securities, Inc.,] [Merrill Lynch International ("MLI")], [BofA Securities Europe SA ("BofASE")], the Issuer and Bank of America Corporation (the "Guarantor") (together with their respective affiliates and any persons controlling, controlled by or under common control with [BofA Securities, Inc.] the Issuer and the Guarantor). The exercise of the Exchangeable Notes by, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person will be conditional upon such holder (and any person on whose behalf the holder is acting) being a QIB and a QP. See "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" and "Annex 11A - Additional Terms and Conditions for Rule 144A Notes" in the [Original] Offering Circular. Investors in the Exchangeable Notes will be deemed to have made or will be required to make certain representations and warranties in connection with purchasing the Exchangeable Notes. See "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions" of the accompanying Offering Circular.]⁷

Except as provided above, the Exchangeable Notes are being offered by MLI or BofASE subject to prior sale, when, as and if delivered to and accepted by MLI or BofASE and to certain other conditions. Exchangeable Notes sold in the United States will be sold through BofA Securities, Inc., a registered broker-dealer. MLI or BofASE reserves the right to withdraw, cancel or modify such offer and to reject orders in whole or in part.

No person is authorised to give any information or to make any representation not contained in or not consistent with this document or any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or the Exchangeable Notes and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Principal Paying Agent or any other person. This document does not constitute, and may not be used for the purposes of, an offer or solicitation by anyone in any jurisdiction in which such offer or solicitation is not authorised or to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such offer or solicitation and no action is being taken to permit an offering of the Exchangeable Notes or the distribution of this document in any jurisdiction where any such action is required.

The delivery of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular does not at any time imply that the information contained herein or in the Offering Circular concerning the Issuer and/or the Guarantor is correct at any time subsequent to the date hereof or that any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or the Exchangeable Notes is correct as of any time subsequent to the date indicated in the document containing the same. [None of][Neither] MLI[,] [nor] BofASE [and BofA Securities, Inc.] undertakes to review the financial condition or affairs of the Issuer [and/or the Guarantor] during the life of the Programme. Investors should review, inter alia, the most recently published annual financial statements, if any, of the Issuer and the Guarantor when deciding whether or not to purchase any Exchangeable Notes.

The Exchangeable Notes create options which are either exercisable by the relevant holder or which will be automatically exercised as provided herein. The Exchangeable Notes will be exercised or will be exercisable in the manner set forth herein, in the Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions and in the Offering Circular. The Exchangeable Notes are subject to restrictions on transfer. Holders of Exchangeable Notes may not transfer the Exchangeable Notes except as permitted under the Securities Act and applicable state securities laws and subject to the transfer restrictions set forth in the Offering Circular. Any transfer of a Rule 144A Note in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person must be made to or through the Issuer or the Dealer to a person that is a QIB/QP that executes an Investor Representation Letter and otherwise in accordance with the applicable transfer restrictions set forth in the Offering Circular. See "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions" in the Offering Circular.

[Neither these Final Terms, the Offering Circular nor any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any Exchangeable Notes (i) is intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation or (ii) should be considered as a recommendation by the Issuer, the Guarantor, MLI[,] [or] BofASE [or BofA Securities, Inc.] that any recipient of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular or any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any Exchangeable Notes should purchase any Exchangeable Notes. Each investor contemplating purchasing any Exchangeable Notes should make its own independent investigation of the financial condition and affairs, and its own appraisal of the creditworthiness, of the Issuer and the Guarantor. No representation is made to any offeree or purchaser of the Exchangeable Notes regarding the legality of an investment therein by such offeree or purchaser under any applicable legal investment or similar laws or regulations. The contents of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular are not to be construed as legal, business or tax advice. Each prospective investor should consult his or her attorney or business and tax advisor as to legal, business and tax advice.]

Each person receiving these Final Terms and the Offering Circular acknowledges that (i) such person has been afforded an opportunity to request from the Issuer and the Guarantor and to review all additional information concerning the Issuer and the Guarantor and the terms of the Exchangeable Notes that it considers to be necessary to verify the accuracy of, or to supplement, the information contained herein, (ii) such person has not relied on the Initial Purchaser (as defined below) or any person affiliated with the Initial Purchaser in connection with its investigation of the accuracy of such information or its investment decision, (iii) none of the Issuer, the Guarantor and the Initial Purchaser has made any due diligence inquiry with respect to the Shares in connection with the offering of the Exchangeable Notes, (iv) the Issuer, the Guarantor and the Initial Purchaser and their affiliates may obtain material non-public information regarding the Shares or any affiliate of the Company, and none of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Initial Purchaser and any such affiliate undertakes to disclose any such information to subsequent purchasers of Exchangeable Notes and (v) no person has been authorised to give any information or to make any representation concerning the Issuer, the Guarantor or the Exchangeable Notes other than as contained herein or in the Offering Circular and, if given or made, any such other information or representation should not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer, the Guarantor or the Initial Purchaser.]⁸

[Each offeree is authorised to use these Final Terms and the Offering Circular solely for the purpose of considering the purchase of the Exchangeable Notes described herein. [The Issuer, [the Guarantor] and any of MLI[,] [or] BofASE [or BofA Securities, Inc.], as initial purchaser (the "Initial Purchaser"), reserve the right to reject any offer to purchase, in whole or in part, for any reason, or to sell less than all of the Exchangeable Notes.]⁹ These Final Terms and the Offering Circular are personal to the offeree to whom they have been delivered and do not constitute an offer to any other person or to the public in general to subscribe for or otherwise acquire the Exchangeable Notes. Distribution of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular to any person other than the offeree and those persons, if any, retained to advise the offeree in connection with its purchase of the Exchangeable Notes is unauthorised, and any disclosure of any of their contents, without the prior written consent of the Issuer, the Guarantor and the Initial Purchaser, is prohibited.]¹⁰

[Nothing herein should be considered to impose on the recipient of these Final Terms any limitation on disclosure of the tax treatment or tax structure of the transactions or matters described herein.]¹¹

The Issuer and the Guarantor reserve the right to reject any offer to purchase, in whole or in part, for any reason, or to sell less than all of the Exchangeable Notes.

[AVAILABLE INFORMATION]

In order to satisfy the information requirements of Rule 144A in connection with permitted resales and transfers, the Issuer and the Guarantor have agreed to furnish, upon the request of any holder or beneficial owner of a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Exchangeable Note offered and sold in reliance on Rule 144A, such information as is specified in paragraph (d)(4) of Rule 144A under the Securities Act to such holder or beneficial owner or to a prospective purchaser of such Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Exchangeable Note in order to permit such holder or beneficial owner to comply with the requirements of Rule 144A in connection with the resale, unless, at the time of such request, the Issuer is subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), or is exempt from the registration requirements of Section 12(g) of the Exchange Act pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) under the Exchange Act. This information may be obtained during normal business hours on any weekday at the specified office of the applicable Paying Agent.]¹²

The purchase of Exchangeable Notes involves substantial risks and is suitable only for investors who have the knowledge and experience in financial and business matters necessary to enable them to evaluate the risks and the merits of an investment in the Exchangeable Notes. Before making an investment decision, prospective purchasers of Exchangeable Notes should ensure that they understand the nature of the Exchangeable Notes and the extent of their exposure to risks and that they consider carefully, in the light of their own financial circumstances, financial condition and investment objectives, all the information set forth in the Offering Circular (including the section headed "Risk Factors" thereof) and these Final Terms.

[For a description of the key features and mechanics of the Instrument, including loss potential, see also description of the instrument under the corresponding SSPA code in "Annex 18: Swiss Product Description" in the Offering Circular.]¹³

[Unregulated Instruments: The Instruments do not constitute a participation in a collective investment scheme within the meaning of the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act. Therefore, the Exchangeable Notes are not subject to approval, registration or supervision by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA or any other regulatory authority in Switzerland. Accordingly, potential purchasers do not have the benefit of the specific investor protection provided under the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act and are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer [and Guarantor].]¹⁴

References herein to numbered Conditions are to the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" set forth in the [Offering Circular] [Original Offering Circular] and words and expressions defined in such terms and conditions shall bear the same meaning in these Final Terms, save as where otherwise expressly provided.

Prospective investors should note that the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" set out in the [Offering Circular] [Original Offering Circular] and any non-contractual obligations arising out of, or in connection with, the Exchangeable Notes are governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law, and the MLBV Guarantee is governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York.

No person has been authorised to give any information or make any representation not contained in or not consistent with these Final Terms, or any other information supplied in connection with the Exchangeable Notes and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer, the Guarantor or any Dealer.

By investing in the Exchangeable Notes each investor represents that:

- (a) Non-Reliance. It is acting for its own account, and it has made its own independent decisions to invest in the Exchangeable Notes and as to whether the investment in the Exchangeable Notes is appropriate or proper for it based upon its own judgement and upon advice from such advisers as it has deemed necessary. It is not relying on any communication (written or oral) of the Issuer, the Guarantor or any Dealer as investment advice or as a recommendation to invest in the Exchangeable Notes, it being understood that information and explanations related to the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" shall not be considered to be investment advice or a recommendation to invest in the Exchangeable Notes. No communication (written or oral) received from the Issuer, the Guarantor or any Dealer shall be deemed to be an assurance or guarantee as to the expected results of the investment in the Exchangeable Notes.

- (b) Assessment and Understanding. It is capable of assessing the merits of and understanding (on its own behalf or through independent professional advice), and understands and accepts, the terms and conditions and the risks of the investment in the Exchangeable Notes. It is also capable of assuming, and assumes, the risks of the investment in the Exchangeable Notes.
- (c) Status of Parties. None of the Issuer, the Guarantor and any Dealer is acting as fiduciary for or adviser to it in respect of the investment in the Exchangeable Notes.

[These Final Terms shall also serve as a Confirmation by [name of applicable permitted dealer in the United States] pursuant to Rule 10b-10 of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and any other applicable rules and regulations.]¹⁶

INTRODUCTION AND WARNINGS
This Summary should be read as an introduction to these Final Terms. Any decision to invest in the Exchangeable Notes should be based on consideration of the Offering Circular (which includes the documents incorporated by reference therein) and these Final Terms as a whole by the investor. Any liability for information contained in this Summary is limited to cases where this Summary is misleading, inaccurate or inconsistent when read together with the other parts of the Final Terms and the Offering Circular. The Exchangeable Notes do not constitute a participation in a collective investment scheme in the meaning of the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act and are not licensed by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority ("FINMA") thereunder. Accordingly, neither the Exchangeable Notes nor holders of the Exchangeable Notes benefit from protection under the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act or supervision by FINMA and investors are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer and Guarantor. This Summary has been prepared and is being provided solely for the purpose of an offer of the Exchangeable Notes in Switzerland pursuant to the Swiss Financial Services Act ("FinSA") and it must not be used for any other purpose or in any other context than for which it is prepared and provided. This Summary does not apply to, must not be used for or in connection with, and does not constitute, any offer or invitation for subscription of the Instruments to, or any solicitation by, any person in any jurisdiction other than Switzerland. You are about to purchase a product that is not simple and may be difficult to understand.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE CASH SETTLED EXCHANGEABLE NOTES

The following are the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" which will be endorsed on, incorporated by reference into or attached to each Global Note (as defined below) and each individual note certificate (an "Individual Note Certificate") representing a Registered Note (as defined below) in definitive form (a "Definitive Registered Note"), and in the case of Individual Note Certificates only if permitted by the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority (if any) and agreed by the Issuer and the relevant Dealer at the time of issue but, if not so permitted and agreed, such Individual Note Certificate will have endorsed thereon or attached thereto such Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions. The applicable Final Terms (as defined below) in relation to any Tranche (as defined below) of Exchangeable Notes (as defined below) may specify other Exchangeable Note terms and conditions which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with the following Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions, replace or modify the following Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions for the purpose of such Tranche of Exchangeable Notes. The applicable Final Terms (or the relevant provisions thereof) will be endorsed upon, or attached to, each Global Note and Individual Note Certificate, as applicable.

This Exchangeable Note is one of a Series (as defined below) of cash settled exchangeable notes (the "Exchangeable Notes") issued by Merrill Lynch B.V. ("MLBV" or the "Issuer"), and references to the Issuer shall be construed accordingly. References herein to the "Exchangeable Notes" shall be references to the Exchangeable Notes of a Series and shall mean:

- (a) in relation to any Registered Note represented by a global Note (a "Global Note"), units of each Specified Denomination in the Specified Currency;
- (b) any Global Note; and
- (c) any Definitive Registered Notes issued in exchange for a Global Note.

References herein to a "Global Note" shall include any Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Exchangeable Note (as defined below) or any Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Exchangeable Note (as defined below) in respect of a Series of Exchangeable Notes.

Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV have the benefit of an Amended and Restated English Law Agency Agreement dated 15 May 2026 (such agency agreement as amended and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the "English Law Agency Agreement") which is governed by English law and made among MLBV in its capacity as Issuer, Bank of America Corporation ("BAC") in its capacity as Guarantor, Citibank, N.A., London Branch in its capacity as principal paying agent and transfer and exchange agent (the "Principal Paying Agent"), Citibank Europe plc in its capacity as registrar (the "Registrar") and the other agents named therein.

References herein to the "Principal Paying Agent" and the "Registrar" shall include any additional or successor principal paying agent or registrar appointed pursuant to the English Law Agency Agreement.

References herein to the "Agents" are to the Registrar and the Principal Paying Agent, and any reference to an "Agent" is to any one of them.

The applicable Final Terms (the "Final Terms") for the Exchangeable Notes (or the relevant provisions thereof) are set out in Part A of the Final Terms attached to, endorsed on or constituting a part of the Exchangeable Note which supplement these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions (the "Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions", the "Exchange Note Conditions" and the "Conditions") and may specify other Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions, replace or modify these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions for the purposes of the Exchangeable Note. References to the "applicable Final Terms" are to Part A of the Final Terms (or the relevant provisions thereof) attached to, endorsed on or constituting a part of the Exchangeable Note.

The additional Terms and Conditions (the "Additional 144A Terms and Conditions") contained in Annex 11A will apply to, and form part of the Terms and Conditions of the Exchangeable Notes represented by a Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Exchangeable Note if and to the extent specified in the applicable Final Terms.

The payment of the Final Redemption Amount, Cash Amounts (as defined below), interest, and all other amounts payable in respect of Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV are unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by BAC (in such capacity, the "Guarantor") pursuant to a guarantee (the "MLBV Guarantee") dated 15 May 2026 executed by BAC.

Any reference to "Noteholders" or "Holders" shall mean the person in whose name a Registered Note is registered and in relation to any Exchangeable Notes represented by a Global Note, shall be construed as provided below.

As used herein, "Tranche" means Exchangeable Notes which are identical in all respects (including as to listing and admission to trading) and "Series" means a Tranche of Exchangeable Notes together with any further Tranche or Tranches of Exchangeable Notes which are (i) expressed to be consolidated and form a single series and (ii) identical in all respects (including as to listing and admission to trading) except for their respective Issue Dates, Interest Commencement Dates (if applicable) and/or Issue Prices (each as defined below).

The Holders of the Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV are entitled to the benefit of the Notes Deed of Covenant (the "MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant") dated 15 May 2026 and made by MLBV. The original of the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant is held by a common depositary for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg (each as defined below) (the "Common Depositary").

Copies of the English Law Agency Agreement, the MLBV Guarantee and the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent. Copies of the applicable Final Terms are available for viewing and can be obtained at the specified office of the relevant Dealer and the Principal Paying Agent only by a Holder (as defined in Condition 1 or "Annex 11A – Additional Terms and Conditions for Rule 144A Notes") as applicable) holding one or more Exchangeable Notes and such Holder must produce evidence satisfactory to the Issuer or the Principal Paying Agent as to its holding of such Exchangeable Notes and identity. The Offering Circular and any supplement thereto and, in the case of Exchangeable Notes admitted to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF, the applicable Final Terms will also be published on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.luxse.com). Final Terms relating to Exchangeable Notes listed and/or admitted to trading on any other stock exchange or market will be published in accordance with the rules and regulations of such stock exchange or market.

The Noteholders are deemed to have notice of, are entitled to the benefit of, and are bound by, all the provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement, the MLBV Guarantee, the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant and the applicable Final Terms which are applicable to them. The statements in these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions include summaries of, and are subject to, the detailed provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement.

Words and expressions defined in the English Law Agency Agreement or used in the applicable Final Terms shall have the same meanings where used in these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions unless the context otherwise requires or unless otherwise stated and provided that, in the event of inconsistency between the English Law Agency Agreement and the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms will prevail.

1. Form, Denomination and Title

The Exchangeable Notes are issued in registered form ("Registered Notes") and, in the case of Individual Note Certificates, serially numbered, in the Specified Currency and the Specified Denomination(s) specified in the applicable Final Terms, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements. Exchangeable Notes of one Specified Denomination may not be exchanged for Exchangeable Notes of another Specified Denomination, or subdivided or reissued in a smaller denomination.

The Exchangeable Notes may either bear interest at a fixed rate ("Fixed Rate Exchangeable Notes") or they will not bear interest as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Subject as set out below, title to Registered Notes shall, subject to mandatory rules of law, pass by registration in the Register that the Issuer shall procure to be kept by the Registrar in accordance with the provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement.

For so long as any of the Exchangeable Notes are represented by a Global Note held on behalf of Euroclear Bank SA/NV ("Euroclear") and/or Clearstream Banking, S.A. ("Clearstream, Luxembourg"), each person (other than Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg) who is for the time being shown in the records of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as the Holder of a particular nominal amount of such Exchangeable Notes (in which regard any certificate or other document issued by Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as to the nominal amount of such Exchangeable Notes standing to the account of any person shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes save in the case of manifest or proven error) shall be treated by the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Registrar and the Paying Agents, as applicable, as the Holder of such nominal amount of such Exchangeable Notes for all purposes other than with respect to the payment of principal, premium (if any), Cash Amounts or interest or any other amounts payable on such nominal amount of such Exchangeable Notes, for which purpose the registered holder of the relevant Global Note shall be treated by the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Registrar and any Paying Agent, as applicable, as the Holder of such nominal amount of such Exchangeable Notes in accordance with and subject to the terms of the relevant Global Note (and the expression "Holder" and related expressions shall be construed accordingly).

Any reference herein to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, shall whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any additional or alternative clearing system approved by the Issuer and the Principal Paying Agent from time to time.

2. Exchange of Global Note and Transfer

(a) Exchange of Global Note

In the case of an exchange of a Global Note for one or more Individual Note Certificates, the Registrar will reflect any such exchange on the Register, and one or more new Individual Note Certificates will be issued to the designated transferee or transferees.

(b) Exchangeable Notes held in Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg

Exchangeable Notes which are represented by a Global Note will be transferable only in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be.

(c) Transfer of Definitive Registered Notes and Global Notes

Subject to Condition 2(f) (Closed Periods), transfers of Definitive Registered Notes or Global Notes are effected upon the surrender (at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent) of the Individual Note Certificates or Global Note, as applicable, to be transferred together with the form of transfer endorsed on such Individual Note Certificates or Global Note, as applicable (or another form of transfer substantially in the same form and containing the same representations and certifications (if any), unless otherwise agreed by the Issuer), duly completed and executed by the person shown as the registered holder on the Register, or its attorney duly authorised in writing, and such other evidence as the Principal Paying Agent may reasonably require. The Registrar will reflect any such transfer on the Register. In the case of the transfer of all of a holding of Exchangeable Notes represented by one Individual Note Certificate or Global Note, as applicable, the Principal Paying Agent will cancel the Individual Note Certificate or Global Note, as applicable, surrendered by the transferor, and one new Individual Note Certificate or Global Note, as applicable, will be issued to the designated transferee (following the transferee's surrender of any existing Individual Note Certificate or Global Note, as applicable, in respect of Exchangeable Notes of that Series). In the case of a transfer of part only of a holding of Exchangeable Notes represented by one Individual Note Certificate, a new Individual Note Certificate will be issued to the designated transferee (following the transferee's surrender of any existing Individual Note Certificate in respect of Exchangeable Notes of that Series) and a further new Individual Note Certificate in respect of the balance of the holding not transferred shall be issued to the transferor. In the case of a transfer of Definitive Registered Notes of a Series to a transferee who is already a Holder of such Series, a new Individual Note Certificate representing the enlarged holding shall only be issued against surrender of the Individual

Note Certificate representing the existing holding. No beneficial owner of an interest in a Global Note will be able to transfer such interest, except as described above in Condition 2(b) (Exchange of Global Note and Transfer - Exchangeable Notes held in Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg).

(d) Exercise of Options or Partial Redemption in Respect of Exchangeable Notes

In the case of a partial redemption of, a holding of Exchangeable Notes represented by a Global Note including, for the avoidance of doubt, a partial redemption following exercise by a Noteholder of the Exchange Right pursuant to Condition 7(a) (Exchange Period and Exchange Price), the Registrar shall make such entries in the Register to reflect the exercise of such option or in respect of the balance of the holding not redeemed.

In the case of a partial redemption of, a holding of Definitive Registered Notes represented by a single Individual Note Certificate, a new Individual Note Certificate shall be issued to the Holder to reflect the balance of the holding not redeemed. New Individual Note Certificates shall only be issued against surrender of the existing Individual Note Certificate to the Principal Paying Agent.

(e) Delivery of New Individual Note Certificates and Global Notes

Each new Individual Note Certificate or Global Note to be issued pursuant to this Condition 2 (Exchange of Global Note and Transfer) shall be available for delivery within three Business Days of receipt of the form of transfer and surrender of the Individual Note Certificate or Global Note, as applicable, for exchange. Delivery of the new Individual Note Certificate(s) or Global Note, as applicable, shall be made at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent to whom delivery or surrender of such request for exchange, form of transfer, or Individual Note Certificate or Global Note shall have been made or, at the option of the Holder making such delivery or surrender as aforesaid and as specified in the relevant request for exchange, form of transfer or otherwise in writing, be mailed by uninsured post at the risk of the Holder entitled to the new Individual Note Certificate or Global Note (as applicable) to such address as may be so specified, unless such Holder requests otherwise and pays in advance to the Principal Paying Agent the costs of such other method of delivery and/or such insurance as it may specify.

(f) Closed Periods

No Holder may require the transfer of Exchangeable Notes to be registered:

- (i) during the period beginning on the Record Date and ending on the due date for redemption of, or payment of any amount of interest, in respect of, that Exchangeable Note;
- (ii) after any such Exchangeable Note has been called for redemption;
- (iii) during the period beginning on the Record Date and ending on the date fixed for any meeting of Noteholders, or any adjourned meeting of Noteholders;
- (iv) during the period of seven calendar days ending on (and including) any Record Date; or
- (v) if the Registrar learns that the proposed transfer or exchange would violate any legend contained on the face of such Global Note or Individual Note Certificate.

Unless otherwise specified, as used herein "Record Date" means (i) in respect of any Definitive Registered Notes, the close of business (London time) on the 15th calendar day and (ii) in respect of any Global Notes, the close of business on the Relevant Clearing System Business Day, in each case, prior to the applicable due date for redemption of an Exchangeable Note, or the payment of any amount of interest in respect of an Exchangeable Note, or the date fixed for any meeting, or adjourned meeting, of holders of Exchangeable Notes, where "Relevant Clearing System Business Day" means a day on which the relevant Clearing System through which the Exchangeable Notes are held is open for business.

For the avoidance of doubt, this Condition 2(f) (Exchange of Global Note and Transfer - Closed Periods) shall not apply to or restrict the Issuer's ability to purchase an outstanding Series of Exchangeable Notes pursuant to Condition 11 (Redemption and Purchase).

(g) Exchange or Transfer Free of Charge

Exchange and transfer of Exchangeable Notes on registration, transfer, partial redemption, partial repayment, settlement or exercise of an option (as applicable) shall be effected without charge by or on behalf of the Issuer or the Principal Paying Agent, but upon payment by the Holder of any tax or other governmental charges that may be imposed in relation to it (or the giving of such indemnity as the Principal Paying Agent may require).

3. Status of the Exchangeable Notes and the MLBV Guarantee

The Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV constitute direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured obligations of MLBV and rank equally among themselves and rank equally (subject to exceptions as are from time to time provided by applicable laws and regulations) with all other present and future direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured obligations of MLBV.

In respect of Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV, the obligations of the Guarantor under the MLBV Guarantee, save for such exceptions as may be provided by applicable laws and regulations or judicial order, will rank pari passu with its other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations.

Terms of the MLBV Guarantee

Under the MLBV Guarantee, the Guarantor has unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed to the holders of Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV under the terms of the English Law Agency Agreement, the due and punctual payment of any and all amounts payable by MLBV as obligor in respect of such Exchangeable Notes when and as the same shall become due and payable pursuant to the Exchangeable Note Conditions and to the extent provided in the MLBV Guarantee.

4. Redenomination

(A) Redenomination

Where redenomination is specified in the applicable Final Terms as being applicable, the Issuer may, without the consent of the Noteholders on giving prior notice to the Principal Paying Agent, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and at least 30 calendar days' prior notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices), elect that, with effect from the Redenomination Date specified in the notice, the Exchangeable Notes shall be redenominated in euro.

The election will have effect as follows:

- (a) the Exchangeable Notes shall be deemed to be redenominated in euro in the denomination of €0.01 with a nominal amount for each Exchangeable Note equal to the nominal amount of that Exchangeable Note in the Specified Currency, converted into euro at the Established Rate, provided that, if the Issuer determines, with the agreement of the Principal Paying Agent, that the then market practice in respect of the redenomination in euro of internationally offered securities is different from the provisions specified above, such provisions shall be deemed to be amended so as to comply with such market practice and the Issuer shall promptly notify the Noteholders, the stock exchange (if any) on which the Exchangeable Notes may be listed, and the Paying Agents of such deemed amendments;

- (b) the amount of interest due in respect of the Exchangeable Notes will be calculated by reference to the aggregate nominal amount of Exchangeable Notes presented for payment by the relevant Holder and the amount of such payment shall be rounded down to the nearest €0.01;
- (c) if Definitive Registered Notes are required to be issued after the Redenomination Date, they shall be issued at the expense of the Issuer, in the denominations of €100,000 or any incremental amounts of €1,000 and (but only to the extent of any remaining amounts less than €100,000 or any incremental amounts of €1,000 or such other smaller denominations as the Principal Paying Agent may approve) €0.01 and such other denominations as the Principal Paying Agent shall determine and notify to the Noteholders;
- (d) the payment obligations contained in any Exchangeable Notes issued prior to the Redenomination Date will become void on the date on which the Issuer gives notice (the "Redenomination Notice") that replacement euro-denominated Exchangeable Notes are available for exchange (provided that such securities are so available) and no payments will be made in respect of them, although those Exchangeable Notes will continue to constitute valid exchange obligations of the Issuer. New euro-denominated Exchangeable Notes will be issued in exchange for Exchangeable Notes denominated in the Specified Currency in such manner as the Principal Paying Agent may specify and as shall be notified to the Noteholders in the Redenomination Notice. No Redenomination Notice may be given less than 15 calendar days prior to any date for payment of principal or interest (if any) on the Exchangeable Notes;
- (e) after the Redenomination Date, all payments in respect of the Exchangeable Notes, other than payments of interest (if any) in respect of periods commencing before the Redenomination Date, will be made solely in euro as though references in the Exchangeable Notes to the Specified Currency were to euro. Payments will be made in euro by credit or transfer to a euro account (or any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) specified by the payee or, at the option of the payee, by a euro cheque;
- (f) if the Exchangeable Notes are Fixed Rate Exchangeable Notes and interest for any period ending on or after the Redenomination Date is required to be calculated for a period ending other than on an Interest Payment Date, it will be calculated:
 - (i) in the case of the Exchangeable Notes represented by a Global Note, by applying the Rate of Interest to the aggregate outstanding nominal amount of the Notes represented by such Global Note; and
 - (ii) in the case of Definitive Registered Notes, by applying the Rate of Interest to the Calculation Amount, and, in each case, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention. Where the Specified Denomination of a Fixed Rate Exchangeable Note in definitive form is a multiple of the Calculation Amount, the amount of interest payable in respect of such Fixed Rate Exchangeable Note shall be the product of the amount (determined in the manner provided above) for the Calculation Amount and the amount by which the Calculation Amount is multiplied to reach the Specified Denomination, without any further rounding;

- (g) such other changes shall be made to this Condition 4 (Redenomination) as the Issuer may decide, after consultation with the Paying Agents and as may be specified in the notice, to conform it to conventions applicable to instruments denominated in euro.

(B) Definitions

In these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions, the following expressions have the following meanings:

"Established Rate" means the rate for the conversion of the Specified Currency (including compliance with rules relating to roundings in accordance with applicable European Community regulations) into euro established by the Council of the European Union pursuant to Article 123 of the Treaty.

"euro" means the lawful single currency of the member states of the European Union that have adopted and continue to retain a common single currency through monetary union in accordance with European Union treaty law (as amended from time to time).

"Redenomination Date" means (in the case of interest-bearing Exchangeable Notes) any date for payment of interest under the Exchangeable Notes or (in the case of Exchangeable Notes which do not bear interest) any date, in each case specified by the Issuer in the notice given to the Noteholders pursuant to Condition 4(A) (Redenomination) above and which falls on or after the date on which the country of the Specified Currency first participates in the third stage of European economic and monetary union.

"Related Exchange" has the meaning given to it in Condition 9 (Disrupted Days);

"Relevant Announcement Date" means (i) in respect of an early redemption of the Exchangeable Notes pursuant to Condition 11(c) (Settlement of Options Contracts) the date of announcement of settlement of all relevant options contracts in respect of the Shares traded on the Related Exchange, (ii) in respect of a Nationalisation, the date of the first public announcement to nationalise (whether or not subsequently amended) that leads to the Nationalisation, (iii) in the case of a Delisting, the date of the first public announcement by the Relevant Stock Exchange that the Shares will cease to be listed, traded or publicly quoted, whichever is earlier, and (iv) in respect of a Change in Law, the date on which the Issuer determines that a Change in Law has occurred or on which the Issuer or any of its Affiliates receives a notice from a Hedging Counterparty that it has determined that a Change in Law has occurred;

"Relevant Currency" means the currency in which the Shares are denominated or, if at the relevant time or for the purposes of the relevant calculation or determination, such currency is no longer the currency in which the Shares are quoted or dealt in on the Relevant Stock Exchange for the Shares, the currency in which the Shares are quoted or dealt in on such Relevant Stock Exchange at such time;

"Relevant Date" means, in respect of any Exchangeable Note, the date on which any payment in respect of it first becomes due except that, if the full amount of the moneys payable has not been duly received by the Principal Paying Agent on or prior to such due date, it means the date on which, the full amount of such moneys having been so received, notice to that effect is duly given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices);

"Relevant Exchange Ratio" has the meaning given to it in Condition 7(d) (Cash Amount);

"Relevant Page" means "Bloomberg FX Fixings" (page BFIX) on Bloomberg or, if not available from Bloomberg, such other information service provider (as determined by the Calculation Agent) that at the relevant time displays the relevant information;

"Relevant Screen Page" means the relevant screen page specified as such in the applicable Final Terms;

"Relevant Stock Exchange" means (i) in respect of the Shares, the exchange specified as such in the Final Terms or its successor or any substitute exchange to which trading in the Shares has temporarily or permanently relocated, as determined by the Calculation Agent, and (ii) in respect of any Security (other than the Shares), or, as the case may be, option, warrant, or other right or asset, the principal stock exchange or securities market on which such Securities, or, as the case may be, options, warrants, or other rights or assets are then listed, admitted to trading or quoted or dealt in;

"Scheduled Closing Time" has the meaning given to it in Condition 9 (Disrupted Days);

"Scheduled Trading Day" means any day on which the Relevant Stock Exchange and the Related Exchange are both scheduled to be open for trading for their regular trading sessions;

"Securities" means any securities including, without limitation, shares in the capital of the Company, or options, warrants or other rights to subscribe for or purchase or acquire shares in the capital of the Company;

"Settlement Cycle" has the meaning given to it in Condition 8(g) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares);

"Share Price" means in relation to a determination of a daily Share Price or Daily Cash Amount in respect of a Scheduled Trading Day, the Volume Weighted Average Price of a Share on the relevant Scheduled Trading Day;

"Share Reference Price" means the simple arithmetic average (rounded to four decimal places, with 0.00005 being rounded upwards) of the daily Volume Weighted Average Price of a Share on each consecutive Scheduled Trading Day equal to the number of consecutive Scheduled Trading Days (each an "Initial Averaging Date"), subject to Condition 9 (Disrupted Days), specified in the applicable Final Terms under the heading "Initial Averaging Period" commencing on and including the date specified in the applicable Final Terms under the heading "Initial Averaging Commencement Date", as determined by the Calculation Agent and notified by or on behalf of the Issuer to the Noteholders as soon as practicable following such determination (such notice shall be given in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) and shall specify the Share Reference Price, the resulting Exchange Price and the initial Relevant Exchange Ratio based on that Exchange Price);

"Shareholders" means the holders of Shares;

"Shares" means the Shares (specified in the applicable Final Terms) in the capital of the Company (the "Original Underlying Shares") subject to adjustment pursuant to Condition 8 (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares);

"Specified Currency" means the currency specified as such in the applicable Final Terms;

"Specified Denomination" means the specified denomination specified in the applicable Final Terms;

"Trading Disruption" has the meaning given to it in Condition 9 (Disrupted Days);

"Treaty" means the treaty establishing the European Community, as amended from time to time;

"Valuation Time" has the meaning given to it in Condition 9 (Disrupted Days); and

"Volume Weighted Average Price" means, in respect of a Share, Security, option, warrant or other right or asset, on any Scheduled Trading Day, the volume-weighted average price of a Share, Security, option, warrant or other right or asset on the Relevant Stock Exchange as published by or derived (in the case of an Original Underlying Share from the order book volume weighted average price per Share on such Scheduled Trading Day, as published for that day on the Relevant Screen Page as specified in the applicable Final Terms (or any successor page or ticker for the Shares on the Relevant Stock Exchange) on the Bloomberg information system (or any successor thereto) (using the volume weighted average price labelled "custom" (or any successor label) after (A) having selected "Condition Codes": "Auto" (and deselected all other Condition Codes) of the Menu "99) Edit Custom Condition Codes" and (B) having selected the relevant Scheduled Trading Day and the relevant opening and closing times of the Relevant Stock Exchange, as determined by the Calculation Agent, or (in the case of a Security (other than an Original Underlying Share in respect of which the Relevant Stock Exchange is the same as in respect of the Original Underlying Share), options, warrants or other rights or assets) from the equivalent Bloomberg page (as determined by the Calculation Agent) for such Securities, options, warrants or other rights or assets in respect of the Relevant Stock Exchange in respect thereof, if any or, in case there is no such Bloomberg page, such other source (if any) as shall be determined in good faith to be appropriate by the Calculation Agent on such Scheduled Trading Day, provided that if on any such Scheduled Trading Day (the "Affected Scheduled Trading Day") such price is not available or cannot otherwise be determined as provided above, the Volume Weighted Average Price of a Share, Security, option, warrant or other right or asset, in respect of such Scheduled Trading Day shall be the Volume Weighted Average Price, determined as provided above, on the immediately succeeding Scheduled Trading Day on which the same can be so determined, and further provided that if the Volume Weighted Average Price cannot be so determined on each of the five Scheduled Trading Days immediately succeeding the Affected Scheduled Trading Day, the Calculation Agent shall determine the Volume Weighted Average Price in good faith.

References to any act or statute or any provision of any act or statute shall be deemed also to refer to any statutory modification or re-enactment thereof or any statutory instrument, order or regulation made thereunder or under such modification or re-enactment.

Any determination by the Calculation Agent appointed by the Issuer in any of the circumstances contemplated in these Conditions shall (save in the case of a manifest error) be final and binding on the Issuer and the Noteholders.

6. Interest

(A) Day Count Fraction

"Day Count Fraction" means, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, in respect of the calculation of an amount of interest in accordance with this Condition 6 (Interest):

- (a) if "Actual/Actual (ICMA)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms:
- (i) in the case of Exchangeable Notes where the number of days in the relevant period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (the "Accrual Period") is equal to or shorter than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the number of days in such Accrual Period divided by the product of (1) the number of days in such Determination Period and (2) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year assuming interest were payable in respect of the whole of that year; or
 - (ii) in the case of Exchangeable Notes where the Accrual Period is longer than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the sum of:
 - (A) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the Determination Period in which the Accrual Period begins divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year assuming interest were payable in respect of the whole of that year; and
 - (B) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the next Determination Period divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year assuming interest were payable in respect of the whole of that year;
- (b) if "30E/360" or "Eurobond Basis" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Interest Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Interest Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30;

- (c) if "30/360", "360/360" or "Bond Basis" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \left[\frac{360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1) + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360} \right]$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Interest Period, unless such number is 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Interest Period, unless such number would be 31 and D₁ is greater than 29, in which case D₂ will be 30.

In these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions:

"Determination Period" means each period from (and including) a Determination Date to (but excluding) the next Determination Date (including, where either the Interest Commencement Date or the final Interest Payment Date is not a Determination Date, the period commencing on the first Determination Date prior to, and ending on the first Determination Date falling after, such date); and

"sub-unit" means, with respect to any currency other than euro and U.S. Dollars, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, with respect to euro and U.S. Dollars, one cent.

(B) Interest on Fixed Rate Exchangeable Notes

Except as provided in the applicable Final Terms, each Fixed Rate Exchangeable Note bears interest on its outstanding principal amount from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date at the rate(s) per annum equal to the Rate(s) of Interest. Interest will be payable in arrear on the Interest Payment Date(s) in each year up to (and including) the Maturity Date or any other date specified for redemption.

Except as provided in the applicable Final Terms, if a Fixed Coupon Amount is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the amount of interest payable in respect of each Exchangeable Note on each Interest Payment Date in respect of the Fixed Interest Period ending on (but excluding) such date will amount to the Fixed Coupon Amount as specified irrespective of any calculation based on the applicable Rate of Interest and any applicable Day Count Fraction (if any). Payments of interest on any Interest Payment Date will, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms, amount to the Broken Amount so specified.

If "Unadjusted" is specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to any Interest Payment Date, any Interest Payment Date falling on a day which is not a Business Day will not be adjusted in accordance with any Business Day Convention, and the relevant Fixed Interest Period (as defined below) will accordingly not be adjusted. In such event, payment of any amounts will be made in accordance with the provisions of Condition 12(c) (Payments – Payment Day).

If "Adjusted" is specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to any Interest Payment Date, any Interest Payment Date falling on a day which is not a Business Day will be adjusted in accordance with the Business Day Convention specified in the applicable Final Terms, and the relevant Fixed Interest Period will be adjusted accordingly. For these purposes, where "Business Day" has the meaning assigned to it in Condition 23 (Business Days) and if an Interest Payment Date falls on a day which is not a Business Day, if the Business Day Convention specified is:

- (a) the Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day; or
- (b) the Modified Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day; or
- (c) the Preceding Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day.

As used in these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions, "Fixed Interest Period" means the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the next (or first) Interest Payment Date.

If interest is required to be calculated for a period other than a Fixed Interest Period or where an applicable Fixed Coupon Amount or Broken Amount is specified in the applicable Final Terms, interest shall be calculated in respect of any period by applying the Rate of Interest to:

- (i) in the case of Fixed Rate Exchangeable Notes which are represented by a Global Note, the aggregate outstanding nominal amount of the Fixed Rate Exchangeable Notes represented by such Global Note; or
- (ii) in the case of Fixed Rate Exchangeable Notes in definitive form, the Calculation Amount;

and, in each case, multiplying such product by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention. Where the Specified Denomination of a Fixed Rate Exchangeable Note in definitive form is a multiple of the Calculation Amount, the amount of interest payable in respect of such Fixed Rate Exchangeable Note shall be the product of the amount (determined in the manner provided above) for the Calculation Amount and the amount by which the Calculation Amount is multiplied to reach the Specified Denomination, without any further rounding.

(C) Accrual of interest

Each Exchangeable Note will cease to bear interest (if any) from the date of its redemption unless, upon due presentation thereof, payment of principal is improperly withheld or refused. In such event, interest will continue to accrue until whichever is the earlier of:

- (a) the date on which all amounts due in respect of such Exchangeable Note have been paid; and
- (b) five calendar days after the date on which the full amount of the moneys payable in respect of such Exchangeable Note has been received by the Principal Paying Agent and notice to that effect has been given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices).

7. Exchange of Exchangeable Notes

This Condition 7 shall apply if "Exchange Right" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms.

(a) Exchange Period and Exchange Price

- (i) The Issuer grants to each Noteholder the right (the "Exchange Right") exercisable at any time during any Exchange Period, subject, if applicable, to any Exchange Condition having been satisfied, to require the Exchangeable Note(s) held by it to be redeemed in accordance with the provisions of Condition 7(b) (Procedure for Exercise of Exchange Rights).

- (ii) For the purposes of these Conditions, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

"Exchange Condition" means any condition specified as such in the applicable Final Terms under the heading "Exchange Condition".

"Exchange Period" means each of the period(s) specified in the applicable Final Terms provided that, if during any Exchange Period, the Issuer has given notice to Noteholders of its intention to redeem the Exchangeable Notes as provided in Condition 11(g) (Change in Law), the Exchange Period shall expire on the Relevant Announcement Date.

- (iii) The Exchange Rights may not be exercised in respect of an Exchangeable Note which has been declared immediately due and repayable pursuant to Condition 15 (Events of Default).

(b) Procedure for Exercise of Exchange Rights

Exchange Rights may be exercised by a Noteholder during any Exchange Period and subject to any Exchange Condition specified in the applicable Final Terms having been satisfied, by delivering to the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent (with a copy to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable), during its usual business hours, by a duly completed and signed notice of exchange (an "Exchange Notice") in the form (for the time being current) obtainable from the Principal Paying Agent together with any Individual Note Certificate (if any) which has been issued in respect of the Exchangeable Notes. The date on which such Exchange Notice and Individual Note Certificate are delivered as aforesaid are referred to as the "Exchange Notice Delivery Date".

If such delivery is made after the end of normal business hours or on a day which is not a business day in the place of the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent, the Exchange Notice Delivery Date shall be deemed for all purposes of these Conditions to have been made on the next following such business day. For the purposes of this paragraph, "business day" means a day other than a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday on which banks are generally open for business.

Exchange Rights shall be exercised subject in each case to any applicable fiscal or other laws or regulations applicable in the jurisdiction in which the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent is located.

Any determination as to whether an Exchange Notice has been duly completed and properly delivered shall be made by the Principal Paying Agent and shall, save in the case of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Paying Agents and the relevant Noteholder.

An Exchange Notice, once delivered, shall be irrevocable.

A Noteholder must pay all taxes, if any, imposed on it and arising by reference to any disposal or deemed disposal of an Exchangeable Note or interest therein in connection with the exercise of Exchange Rights by it.

(c) Redemption of the exchanged Exchangeable Note(s) by the Issuer

Upon the valid exercise of the Exchange Right by a Noteholder, the Issuer will redeem the relevant Exchangeable Note(s) on the Exchange Redemption Date at the Cash Amount calculated in accordance with Condition 7(d) (Cash Amount).

(d) Cash Amount

- (i) Upon any valid exercise of Exchange Rights by a Noteholder with respect to one or more Exchangeable Notes, the Issuer shall redeem each Exchangeable Note, in respect of which the Exchange Right has been exercised, at its Cash Amount on the relevant Exchange Redemption Date (and, for the avoidance of doubt, regardless of whether the Exchange Redemption Date falls before, on, or after the Maturity Date), subject to the provisions of Condition 7(d)(ii). The Issuer will pay the Cash Amount in respect of each Exchangeable Note in respect of which the Exchange Right has been exercised on the relevant Exchange Redemption Date in accordance with Condition 12 (Payments).

In these Conditions:

"Cash Amount" means, in respect of all Averaging Dates relating to the relevant Exchange Date and each Specified Denomination in the Specified Currency of Exchangeable Notes in respect of which the relevant Noteholder shall have exercised Exchange Rights, the sum (rounded to two decimal places, with 0.005 being rounded upwards) of the Daily Cash Amounts, where "Daily Cash Amount" or "DCA" means an amount in the Specified Currency calculated by the Calculation Agent for each Averaging Date relating to such Exchange Date in respect of each such Specified Denomination of the Exchangeable Notes in the Specified Currency, in accordance with the following formula:

$$DCA = \frac{1}{N} \times RER_n \times P_n$$

Where:

N = the number of Averaging Dates specified in the applicable Final Terms under the heading "Cash Amount Averaging Dates";

P_n = the Share Price on such Averaging Date; and

RER_n = the Relevant Exchange Ratio prevailing on such Averaging Date

"Averaging Date" means, subject to an adjustment for Disrupted Days pursuant to Condition 9 (Disrupted Days), each consecutive Scheduled Trading Day equal to the number of consecutive Scheduled Trading Days specified in the applicable Final Terms under the heading "Cash Amount Averaging Period" commencing on the number of Scheduled Trading Days following the relevant Exchange Date specified in the applicable Final Terms under the heading "Specified Cash Amount Averaging Commencement Date".

"Exchange Date" shall be, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Business Day immediately following the last day of the Exchange Period in which the Exchange Right was exercised.

"Relevant Exchange Ratio" means, in respect of the relevant date, the result (rounded to five decimal places with 0.000005 being rounded upwards) of the division of the Specified Denomination of Exchangeable Notes in respect of which the relevant Noteholder shall have exercised Exchange Rights by the Exchange Price in effect on such day.

"Share Price" is defined in Condition 5 (Definitions).

"Volume Weighted Average Price" is defined in Condition 5 (Definitions).

"VWAP" means the Volume Weighted Average Price.

- (ii) If following the valid exercise by a Noteholder of its Exchange Right and prior to the relevant Exchange Redemption Date an event occurs as a result of which the Exchangeable Notes, subject to the Exchange Notice, would otherwise fall to be redeemed in accordance with Condition 10(a) (Nationalisation or Delisting), Condition 11(c) (Settlement of Options Contracts) or Condition 11(g) (Change in Law) had the Noteholder not exercised its Exchange Right, the Issuer shall redeem the Exchangeable Notes at the Automatic Early Redemption Amount (and not the Cash Amount) on the Automatic Early Redemption Date.

8. Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares

- (a) The Calculation Agent will, unless otherwise so specified in the applicable Final Terms, adjust the Exchange Price and/or the Shares as follows:
 - (i) If options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on Eurex and Eurex adjusts such options contracts following or as a result of any corporate actions, the Calculation Agent shall, to the extent required and with effect as of the same date, adjust, as relevant:
 - (A) the Exchange Price of the Exchangeable Notes, in circumstances where the exercise prices of options contracts in respect of the Shares are adjusted by Eurex; and/or
 - (B) the Shares, in circumstances where any securities or package of securities are being substituted for the Shares as the securities underlying options contracts in respect of the Shares, to reflect the adjustments effected by Eurex (for the avoidance of doubt the Exchange Price, or, as the case may be, the Shares, shall be adjusted using, but not recalculating, such adjustment ratio or similar or other adjustment as was published by Eurex), provided that:

- (A) in relation to Dividends, the Calculation Agent shall make the adjustments as set out in Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares) instead of any corresponding or other adjustments in respect of such Dividends under the applicable Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures, if any;
- (B) in relation to any Nationalisation or Delisting, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed in accordance with Condition 10 (Nationalisation or Delisting), or, in relation to any Illegality, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed in accordance with Condition 11(h) (Illegality) or, if specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms, in relation to a Change in Law, the Exchangeable Notes will (if so elected by the Issuer) be redeemed in accordance with Condition 11(g) (Change in Law) or will otherwise be subject to adjustment in accordance with Condition 11(g) (Change in Law) instead of any corresponding or other adjustment in respect of such Nationalisation or Delisting or Illegality or Change in Law under the applicable Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures, if any; and
- (C) in relation to any event as a result of which options contracts in respect of the Shares are settled in the circumstances the subject of Condition 11(c) (Settlement of Options Contracts), the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed subject to and in accordance with such Condition 11(c) (Settlement of Options Contracts) and no adjustment (if any) under the applicable Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures will be made.

Any adjustment made pursuant to this paragraph shall become effective on the same date as any corresponding adjustments made by Eurex (other than an adjustment pursuant to Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares), which shall become effective as provided in Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares)).

If no options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on Eurex but are traded on any other exchange or quotation system which serves as the principal place of trading for options contracts and futures contracts in respect of the Shares (such other exchange or quotation system as aforesaid, being, only in circumstances where no options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on Eurex but options contracts are traded on such other exchange or quotation system as aforesaid, the "Alternative Options Exchange"), the Calculation Agent shall, to the extent required, adjust the Exchange Price and/or, as the case may be, the Shares to reflect the adjustments effected in respect of any options contracts relating to the Shares by the Alternative Options Exchange, provided that:

- (A) in relation to Dividends, the Calculation Agent shall make the adjustments as set out in Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares) instead of any corresponding or other adjustments in respect of such Dividends under the standard corporate actions procedures of the Alternative Options Exchange in effect at the relevant time, if any;
- (B) in relation to any Nationalisation or Delisting, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed in accordance with Condition 10 (Nationalisation or Delisting), or, in relation to any Illegality, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed in accordance with Condition 11(h) (Illegality), or, if specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms, in relation to a Change in Law, the Exchangeable Notes will (if so elected by the Issuer) be redeemed in accordance with Condition 11(g) (Change in Law) or will otherwise be subject to adjustment in accordance with Condition 11(g) (Change in Law) instead of any corresponding or other adjustment in respect of such Nationalisation or Delisting or Illegality or Change in Law under the standard corporate actions procedures of the Alternative Options Exchange in effect at the relevant time, if any; and
- (C) in relation to any event as a result of which options contracts in respect of the Shares are settled in the circumstances the subject of Condition 11(c) (Settlement of Options Contracts), the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed subject to and in accordance with such Condition 11(c) (Settlement of Options Contracts) and no adjustment (if any) under the standard corporate actions procedures of the Alternative Options Exchange in effect at the relevant time will be made.

Any adjustment made pursuant to this paragraph shall become effective on the same date as any corresponding adjustments made by the Alternative Options Exchange (other than an adjustment pursuant to Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares)) which shall become effective as provided in Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares)).

If no options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on Eurex or an Alternative Options Exchange, and any event which would have triggered an adjustment under the Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures last published occurs, the Calculation Agent will determine which adjustment, if any, should be made to the Exchange Price, and/or, as the case may be, the Shares, with reference to the rules and any precedents (if any) set by Eurex to account for the effect of such event that in the determination of the Calculation Agent, would have given rise to an adjustment by Eurex if such options contracts were so traded, provided that:

- (A) in relation to Dividends, the Calculation Agent shall make the adjustments as set out in Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares) instead of any corresponding or other adjustments in respect of such Dividends under the applicable Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures, if any;
- (B) in relation to any Nationalisation or Delisting, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed in accordance with Condition 10 (Nationalisation or Delisting), or, in relation to any Illegality, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed in accordance with Condition 11(h) (Illegality), or, if specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms, in relation to a Change in Law, the Exchangeable Notes will (if so elected by the Issuer) be redeemed in accordance with Condition 11(g) (Change in Law) or will otherwise be subject to adjustment in accordance with Condition 11(g) (Change in Law) instead of any corresponding or other adjustment in respect of such Nationalisation or Delisting or Illegality or Change in Law under the Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures, if any; and
- (C) in relation to any event as a result of which options contracts in respect of the Shares are settled in the circumstances the subject of Condition 11(c) (Settlement of Options Contracts), the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed subject to and in accordance with such Condition 11(c) (Settlement of Options Contracts) and no adjustment (if any) under the applicable Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures will be made.

Any adjustment made pursuant to this paragraph shall become effective as determined by the Calculation Agent on the date such adjustment would have been effective under the Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures as aforesaid.

- (ii) If, prior to the Maturity Date (A) an Ex-Date in respect of any Dividend (a "Relevant Dividend") falls in a Relevant Period; or (B) no Ex-Date in respect of an Ordinary Cash Dividend falls in a Relevant Period, the Calculation Agent shall calculate the adjustment to the Exchange Price in accordance with the following formula (instead of any corresponding or other adjustment under the Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures or the procedures of an Alternative Options Exchange as the case may be):

$$X_n = X_o \times R$$

Where:

- X_n = the adjusted Exchange Price;
- X_o = the Exchange Price on the Relevant Record Date;
- R = $(S_{prev} - D) / (S_{prev} - T)$;
- S_{prev} = the Closing Price of a Share on the Relevant Record Date;
- D = (i) where an Ex-Date in respect of a Dividend falls in a Relevant Period, the Dividend Amount or (ii) where no Ex-Date in respect of an Ordinary Cash Dividend falls in a Relevant Period, zero; and
- T = the applicable Dividend Threshold

Notwithstanding the above:

- (x) if S_{prev} is less than or equal to T , or if S_{prev} is less than or equal to D , R shall instead be determined by the Calculation Agent.

- (iii) For the purposes of calculating the adjustment to the Exchange Price pursuant to the formula in Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares):
 - (A) if no Ex-Date in respect of an Ordinary Cash Dividend falls in a Relevant Period or (where the Relevant Dividend is an Ordinary Dividend) the Dividend Amount is less than the applicable Dividend Threshold, the Exchange Price will be adjusted upwards;
 - (B) where the Relevant Dividend is an Ordinary Dividend (x) if the Dividend Amount exceeds the relevant Dividend Threshold, the Exchange Price will be adjusted downwards; and (y) if the Dividend Amount is equal to the relevant Dividend Threshold, no adjustment to the Exchange Price shall be required to be made;
 - (C) where the Relevant Dividend is a Special Cash Dividend, the Exchange Price will be adjusted downwards.
- (iv) For the purposes of adjustment to the Exchange Price pursuant to Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares):
 - (A) any adjustment to the Exchange Price shall take effect on the Relevant Adjustment Date (or, if later, on the first date on which the Fair Market Value of the Relevant Dividend as aforesaid can be determined); and
 - (B) the Fair Market Value of any Relevant Dividend shall be determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith at the Relevant Adjustment Date.
- (v) Definitions:

"Dividend" means any Ordinary Cash Dividend or Special Cash Dividend;

"Dividend Amount" means, in respect of any Dividend, the Fair Market Value per Share of such Dividend on the Relevant Record Date;

"Dividend Threshold" means (i) (other than in respect of a Special Cash Dividend) in respect of each Relevant Period, the Reference Amount on a per Share basis specified to be paid in the Relevant Period provided that, if more than one Ex-Date has occurred in a Relevant Period, the Dividend Threshold shall apply to the first such Ex-Date to occur and the Dividend Threshold in respect of any subsequent Ex-Date occurring in such Relevant Period shall be zero; and (ii) in respect of a Special Cash Dividend, the Dividend Threshold shall be zero;

"Ex-Date" means the first Scheduled Trading Day on which the Shares are traded ex- the Relevant Dividend on the Relevant Stock Exchange;

"Ordinary Cash Dividend" means (i) any Ordinary Dividend which is, or may at the election of a Shareholder be, paid or made in cash, such Ordinary Dividend being treated as an Ordinary Cash Dividend in the amount of such cash; or (ii) any issue or delivery of Shares (or other assets or property) by the Company to its Shareholders which is announced or expressed as a Dividend or which is in lieu of a Dividend in cash (whether or not a cash Dividend amount is announced) and which is an Ordinary Dividend, such issue or delivery being treated as an Ordinary Cash Dividend in an amount equal to the Volume Weighted Average Price of such Shares or, as the case may be, the Fair Market Value of such assets or property on the first date on which the Shares are traded ex-the relevant entitlement on the Relevant Stock Exchange (or if later the first date on which the number of Shares or, as the case may be, other assets or property which may be issued or delivered is, or is capable of being, determined);

"Ordinary Dividend" means any Dividend which does not (or would not) result in an adjustment to the options contracts in respect of the Shares pursuant to the

Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures or the rules of the Alternative Option Exchange (if any);

"Reference Amount" has the meaning ascribed to it in the applicable Final Terms;

"Relevant Adjustment Date" means each Ex-Date in respect of a Relevant Dividend and, if no Ex-Date in respect of an Ordinary Cash Dividend falls in a Relevant Period, the first Scheduled Trading Day following the end of such Relevant Period. If no Ex-Date in respect of an Ordinary Cash Dividend falls in a Relevant Period, for the purposes of the Relevant Adjustment Date falling on the first Scheduled Trading Day of the following Relevant Period, the Dividend Threshold shall be deemed to be equal to the Dividend Threshold in respect of such Relevant Period in which no Ex-Date in respect of an Ordinary Cash Dividend occurred;

"Relevant Period" has the meaning ascribed to it in the applicable Final Terms;

"Relevant Record Date" means the Scheduled Trading Day which immediately precedes the Relevant Adjustment Date; and

"Special Cash Dividend" means any dividend in cash which is declared by the Company to be a special dividend, an extraordinary dividend and/or a return of capital (or is otherwise not declared to be an ordinary dividend).

- (b) Adjustments in accordance with Condition 8(a)(i) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares) will become effective as specified in Condition 8(a)(i) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares). Adjustments in accordance with Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares) shall become effective as specified in Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares). Adjustments in accordance with this Condition 8 (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares) (including Condition 8(a)(ii) (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares)) will not be made, if the effective date for such adjustments is later than, in the case of Exchangeable Notes in respect of which Exchange Rights have been exercised, the last Averaging Date (where the Cash Amount is to be paid in respect of such exercise).
- (c) All adjustments to the Exchange Price will be calculated by the Calculation Agent. Any adjustment to the Exchange Price determined will, if necessary, be rounded to four decimal places, with 0.00005 being rounded upwards, and any subsequent adjustments shall be made on the basis of such adjusted Exchange Price, so rounded.
- (d) The Issuer will give notice to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) of any adjustment to the Exchange Price pursuant to this Condition 8 (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares) as soon as reasonably practicable.
- (e) If any share price relevant for any calculation of a price or Cash Amount in accordance with this Condition 8 (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares) (other than Condition 8(a)(ii)) is subsequently corrected by the Relevant Stock Exchange and the correction is published within less than one Settlement Cycle after the original publication, the Issuer shall notify the Noteholders of the corrected Share Price or Cash Amount and any necessary further adjustment of the terms of the Exchangeable Notes.
- (f) For the avoidance of doubt, no adjustment will be made to the Exchange Price where Shares or other securities (including rights, warrants and options) are issued, offered, exercised, allotted, purchased, appropriated, modified or granted to, or for the benefit of, employees or former employees (including the personal service company of any such employee or directors holding or formerly holding executive office) or their spouses or relatives, in each case, of the Company or any associated company or its or their Affiliates or to a trustee or trustees to be held for the benefit of any such person, or any other member of the Company's group savings plan, in any such case pursuant to any share or option scheme (including for the avoidance of doubt any share capital increase of the Company reserved for employees and related schemes or any successor or similar scheme) or pursuant to any dividend reinvestment plan or similar plan or scheme.

- (g) As used in these Conditions:

"Settlement Cycle" means the period of dealing days following a trade in the Shares on the Relevant Stock Exchange in which settlement will customarily occur according to the rules of the Relevant Stock Exchange.

9. Disrupted Days

If any Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day:

- (a) if "Omission" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, then such date will be deemed not to be an Averaging Date for the purposes of determining the relevant price; provided that, if through the operation of this provision there would not be an Averaging Date, then the provisions of the definition of "Valuation Date" will apply for purposes of determining the relevant price on the final Averaging Date, as if such final Averaging Date were a Valuation Date that was a Disrupted Day; or
- (b) if "Postponement" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, then the provisions of the definition of "Valuation Date" will apply for the purposes of determining the relevant price on that Averaging Date as if such Averaging Date were a Valuation Date that was a Disrupted Day irrespective of whether, pursuant to such determination, that deferred Averaging Date would fall on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
- (c) if "Modified Postponement" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms then the Averaging Date shall be the first succeeding Valid Date. If the first succeeding Valid Date has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for the Share, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date), and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below, and, for the purposes of these Conditions "Valid Date" means a Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day and on which another Averaging Date does not or is deemed not to occur.

The following definitions shall apply:

"Averaging Cut-Off Date" means the eighth Scheduled Trading Day immediately following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, or on account of such date not being a Scheduled Trading Day, would have been the final Averaging Date, or, if earlier, the Scheduled Trading Day falling on or immediately preceding the second Business Day immediately preceding the date on which payment of any amount may have to be made pursuant to any calculation or determination made on the relevant Averaging Dates, provided that the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall not fall prior to the original date on which the final Averaging Date was scheduled to fall;

"Disrupted Day" means any Scheduled Trading Day on which the Relevant Stock Exchange for the Shares or the Related Exchange fails to open for trading during its regular trading session (a "Failure to Open") or on which a Market Disruption Event has occurred, as determined by the Calculation Agent;

"Early Closure" means the closure on any Exchange Business Day of the Relevant Stock Exchange or the Related Exchange prior to its Scheduled Closing Time unless such earlier closing time is announced by such Relevant Stock Exchange or Related Exchange at least one hour prior to the earlier of (i) the actual closing time for the regular trading session on such Relevant Stock Exchange or, as the case may be, the Related Exchange on such Exchange Business Day and (ii) the submission deadline for orders to be entered into the system of the Relevant Stock Exchange or, as the case may be, Related Exchange for execution at the Valuation Time on such Exchange Business Day;

"Exchange Disruption" means any event (other than an Early Closure) that disrupts or impairs (as determined by the Calculation Agent) the ability of market participants in general (i) to effect transactions in, or obtain market values for, the Shares on the Relevant Stock Exchange or (ii) to effect transactions in, or obtain market values for, futures or options contracts relating to the Shares on the Related Exchange;

"Market Disruption Event" means, in relation to a Share, each of (i) Trading Disruption, (ii) Exchange Disruption or (iii) Early Closure, but in respect of (i) and (ii) only if the Calculation Agent determines that such event is material at any time during the one hour period that ends at the Valuation Time for such Share;

"Related Exchange" means Eurex or any Alternative Options Exchange, as the case may be;

"Scheduled Closing Time" means, in respect of the Relevant Stock Exchange or the Related Exchange and a Scheduled Trading Day, the scheduled weekday closing time of such Relevant Stock Exchange or, as the case may be, Related Exchange on such Scheduled Trading Day, without regard to after hours or any other trading outside of the regular trading session hours;

"Scheduled Valuation Date" means any original date that, but for the occurrence of an event causing a Disrupted Day, would have been a Valuation Date;

"Trading Disruption" means any suspension of or limitation imposed on trading by the Relevant Stock Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise and whether by reason of movements in price exceeding limits permitted by the Relevant Stock Exchange or, as the case may be, Related Exchange or otherwise (i) relating to the Shares on the Relevant Stock Exchange, or, as the case may be, (ii) in futures or options contracts relating to the Shares on the Related Exchange;

"Valuation Cut-Off Date" means the eighth Scheduled Trading Day immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date or, if earlier, the Scheduled Trading Day falling on or immediately preceding the second Business Day immediately preceding the date on which payment of any amount may have to be made pursuant to any calculation or determination made on such Valuation Date, provided that the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall not fall prior to the original date on which such Valuation Date was scheduled to fall;

"Valuation Date" means each Valuation Date specified in the applicable Final Terms or if that is not a Scheduled Trading Day the immediately following Scheduled Trading Day. If such day is a Disrupted Day, then, the Valuation Date shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days up to, and including, the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day. In that case, or if such Valuation Date falls on the Valuation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for such Share, (i) the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, determine the relevant price in accordance with its good faith estimate of the relevant price as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date; and

"Valuation Time" means the Scheduled Closing Time in respect of the relevant Scheduled Trading Day.

10. Nationalisation or Delisting

- (a) If a Nationalisation and/or Delisting occurs, the Issuer shall, by providing notice to Noteholders of the occurrence of such event in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) within five Business Days of the Relevant Announcement Date specifying the Automatic Early Redemption Date which notice shall be irrevocable, redeem all but not only some of the outstanding Exchangeable Notes at their Automatic Early Redemption Amount on the Automatic Early Redemption Date. The Issuer shall give notice of the Automatic Early Redemption Amount to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) as soon as reasonably practicable after the determination thereof and in any event not later than the date falling five Business Days prior to the Automatic Early Redemption Date.
- (b) The following definitions shall apply:

"Delisting" means, in respect of any relevant Shares:

- (i) in the case where the Relevant Stock Exchange is not located in the United States, such Relevant Stock Exchange announces that pursuant to the rules of such Relevant Stock Exchange, such Shares cease (or will cease) to be listed, traded or publicly quoted on the Relevant Stock Exchange for any reason (other than by reason of a merger, takeover or other special circumstances as contemplated by the Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures) and are not immediately re-listed, re-traded or re-quoted on an exchange or quotation system located in the same country as the Relevant Stock Exchange (or, where the Relevant Stock Exchange is within the European Union, in a member state of the European Union); or
- (ii) in the case where the Relevant Stock Exchange is located in the United States, such Relevant Stock Exchange announces that pursuant to the rules of such Relevant Stock Exchange, such Shares cease (or will cease) to be listed, traded or publicly quoted on the Relevant Stock Exchange for any reason (other than by reason of a merger, takeover or other special circumstances as contemplated by the Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures) and are not immediately re-listed, re-traded or re-quoted on any of the New York Stock Exchange, the American Stock Exchange, the NASDAQ Global Select Market or the NASDAQ Global Market (or their respective successors).

If the Shares are immediately re-listed, re-traded or re-quoted on any exchange or quotation system, such exchange or quotation system shall be deemed to be the Relevant Stock Exchange in respect of such Shares.

"Nationalisation" means that, as determined by the Calculation Agent, all the Shares or all or substantially all the assets of the Company are nationalised, expropriated or are otherwise required to be transferred to any governmental agency, authority, entity or instrumentality thereof.

11. Redemption and Purchase

- (a) Redemption at Maturity
 - (i) Unless previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled in accordance with these Conditions or in respect of which Exchange Rights have been exercised as herein provided, each Exchangeable Note will be redeemed by the Issuer at its Final Redemption Amount on the Maturity Date.
 - (ii) In these Conditions, "Final Redemption Amount" means, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, in respect of each Specified Denomination of Exchangeable Notes, the sum (rounded to two decimal places, with 0.005 being rounded upwards) of the Maturity Daily Cash Amounts, where "Maturity Daily Cash Amount" or "MDCA" means an amount in the Specified Currency calculated by the Calculation Agent for each Maturity Averaging Date in respect of each Specified Denomination of the Exchangeable Notes, in accordance with the following formula:

$$MDCA = \frac{1}{N} \times \text{Max} (MRER_n \times MP_n; SD)$$

Where:

SD	=	Specified Denomination;
N	=	the number of Maturity Averaging Dates specified in the applicable Final Terms under the heading: "Maturity Averaging Dates";
Max	=	the greater of the amounts separated by the semi-colon inside the brackets;
MP _n	=	the Share Price on such Maturity Averaging Date; and
MRER _n	=	the Relevant Exchange Ratio prevailing on such Maturity Averaging Date

"Maturity Averaging Date" means, subject to adjustment for Disrupted Days pursuant to Condition 9 (Disrupted Days), each consecutive Scheduled Trading Day equal to the number of consecutive Scheduled Trading Days specified in the applicable Final Terms under the heading "Maturity Averaging Period" commencing on the number of Scheduled Trading Days before the Maturity Date specified in the applicable Final Terms under the heading "Specified Maturity Averaging Commencement Date".

(b) Redemption at the Option of the Issuer

If specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer may, on giving not less than 45 nor more than 60 calendar days' notice (an "Optional Redemption Notice") (which notice shall be irrevocable) to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices), redeem all, but not less than all, of the Exchangeable Notes for the time being outstanding on the date specified in the Optional Redemption Notice at their Early Redemption Amount if, at any time, the aggregate nominal amount of the Exchangeable Notes outstanding is equal to or less than 15 per cent. of the aggregate nominal amount of the Exchangeable Notes originally issued (for which purpose, any further Exchangeable Notes issued pursuant to Condition 21 (Further Issues) and consolidated and forming a single series with the Exchangeable Notes shall also be deemed to have been 'originally issued').

(c) Settlement of Options Contracts

If options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on the Related Exchange, and any event occurs as a result of which all such relevant options contracts are settled (including in accordance with the Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures or, in the case of an Alternative Options Exchange, the standard corporate actions procedures of the Alternative Options Exchange in effect at the relevant time, for example following the occurrence of a merger or takeover as provided in the Eurex Corporate Actions Procedures and other than as a result of a Nationalisation, a Delisting or a Change in Law) the Issuer shall give notice to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) within ten Business Days of the Relevant Announcement Date (which notice shall be irrevocable) and shall thereafter redeem all, but not less than all, of the outstanding Exchangeable Notes at their Automatic Early Redemption Amount on the Automatic Early Redemption Date. The Issuer shall give notice of the Automatic Early Redemption Amount to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) as soon as reasonably practicable after the determination thereof and in any event not later than the date falling five Business Days prior to the Automatic Early Redemption Date.

(d) Nationalisation, or Delisting

Upon the occurrence of a Nationalisation or a Delisting, Condition 10(a) (Nationalisation or Delisting) shall apply.

(e) Redemption for Tax Reasons

The Issuer may redeem the Exchangeable Notes, in whole, but not in part, at any time prior to maturity at their Early Redemption Amount if: (i) the Issuer or the Guarantor shall determine that the Issuer would be required to pay Additional Tax Amounts, as provided in Condition 14 (Taxation), on the occasion of the next payment due with respect to the Exchangeable Notes; (ii) any payment or deemed payment as determined for United States tax purposes with respect to the Exchangeable Notes or with respect to a direct or indirect hedging arrangement entered into by the Issuer or any of its Affiliates relating to the Exchangeable Notes may be treated as a dividend or "dividend equivalent" for United States tax purposes (such event being a "U.S. Withholding Tax Event"); or (iii) on the occasion of the next payment due in respect of the Exchangeable Notes, the Guarantor would be unable to procure the Issuer to make payment and, in making such payment itself under the MLBV Guarantee, the Guarantor would be required to pay Additional Tax Amounts as provided in Condition 14 (Taxation).

Notice of intention to redeem Exchangeable Notes pursuant to this Condition 11(e) (Redemption for Tax Reasons) will be given at least once in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) not less than 30 calendar days nor more than 60 calendar days prior to the date fixed for redemption, provided that no such notice of redemption shall be given earlier than 90 calendar days prior to the effective date of such change or amendment and that at the time notice of such redemption is given, such obligation to pay such Additional Tax Amounts remains in effect and cannot be avoided by the Issuer taking reasonable measures available to it. From and after any redemption date, if monies for the redemption of Exchangeable Notes shall have been made available for redemption on such redemption date, such Exchangeable Notes shall cease to bear interest, if applicable, and the only right of the holders of such Exchangeable Notes shall be to receive payment of the Early Redemption Amount and, if appropriate, all unpaid interest accrued to such redemption date.

(f) Redemption for Tax Compliance Reasons

MLBV may, at its option, redeem the Exchangeable Notes, in whole or in part, at any time prior to maturity, at their Early Redemption Amount, together, if appropriate, with accrued interest to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption, if MLBV determines in good faith that it has, or there is a substantial likelihood that it will, become subject to withholding imposed on a payment made to it on account of MLBV's inability to comply with the reporting requirements imposed by the FATCA Provisions (as defined below), provided that such inability to comply with the reporting requirements is attributable to non-compliance by any Holder of such Exchangeable Notes (or a foreign withholding agent (if any) in the chain of custody of payments made to the Holders) with MLBV's requests for certifications or identifying information (such redemption, a "Redemption for Tax Compliance Reasons"). Upon a Redemption for Tax Compliance Reasons, Exchangeable Notes held by compliant Holders, in addition to those held by non-compliant Holders, may be redeemed.

Notice of intention to redeem Exchangeable Notes pursuant to this Condition 11(f) will be given in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) not less than 30 calendar days nor more than 60 calendar days prior to the date fixed for redemption. From and after any redemption date, if monies for the redemption of Exchangeable Notes shall have been made available for redemption on such redemption date, such Exchangeable Notes shall cease to bear interest, if applicable, and the only right of the holders of such Exchangeable Notes shall be to receive payment of the Early Redemption Amount and, if appropriate, all unpaid interest accrued to such redemption date.

As used in these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions, the term "FATCA Provisions" means Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code (or any successor provisions), any regulation, pronouncement, or agreement thereunder, official interpretations thereof, or any law implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto whether currently in effect or as published and amended from time to time, and any intergovernmental agreement entered into in connection with the implementation of such provisions of the Code.

(g) Change in Law

If Change in Law is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, then if a Change in Law occurs, the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may take the action described in (i) or (ii) below:

- (i) require the Calculation Agent to determine in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of the terms of these Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms to account for the Change in Law and determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
- (ii) give notice to Holders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) and redeem all, but not less than all, of the Exchangeable Notes at the Automatic Early Redemption Amount on the Automatic Early Redemption Date.

Upon the occurrence of a Change in Law, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) stating the occurrence of the Change in Law, giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of the actions which may be taken in respect of such Change in Law under these Conditions.

(h) Illegality

If the Issuer determines in good faith that (i) the performance of the Issuer's obligations under the Exchangeable Notes or that any arrangements made to hedge the Issuer's obligations under the Exchangeable Notes or the performance by the Guarantor of any of its obligations under the MLBV Guarantee in respect of the Exchangeable Notes, has or will become, in whole or in part, unlawful, illegal or otherwise contrary to any present or future law, rule, regulation, judgment, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative, judicial or regulatory authority or powers, or any change in the interpretation thereof that is applicable to the Issuer and/or the Guarantor, the Issuer may, at its discretion, by giving, at any time, not less than 10 nor more than 30 calendar days' notice to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) (which notice shall be irrevocable), elect that such Exchangeable Notes be redeemed, in whole but not in part, on the date specified by the Issuer, each Exchangeable Note being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount.

(i) Repurchases

The Issuer, the Guarantor or any of their Affiliates may purchase at any time and from time to time outstanding Exchangeable Notes by tender, in the open market or by private agreement. Such Exchangeable Notes may be held, reissued, resold or, at the option of the Issuer or the Guarantor, surrendered to the Principal Paying Agent for cancellation.

(j) Cancellations

All Exchangeable Notes which are redeemed or in respect of which Exchange Rights are exercised will forthwith be cancelled. All Exchangeable Notes so cancelled and any Exchangeable Notes purchased and cancelled pursuant to Condition 11(i) (Repurchases) cannot be reissued or resold.

(k) Multiple Notices

If more than one notice of redemption is given pursuant to this Condition 11, the first of such notices to be given shall prevail.

12. Payments

(a) Method of Payment

Payments of principal, Cash Amounts, interest and any other amounts due on the Exchangeable Notes shall be paid to the person shown on the Register on the Record Date. Payments in respect of each Exchangeable Note shall be made in the relevant Specified Currency by transfer to an account in the Specified Currency maintained by the payee with a bank in the principal financial centre of the country of such Specified Currency (or, if the Specified Currency is euro, any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred), as provided to the Registrar by the person shown on the Register for such purposes. Payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment, but without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 14 (Taxation).

(b) Payments in respect of Exchangeable Notes

(i) Payments in respect of Definitive Registered Notes

Payments of principal, and interest in respect of Definitive Registered Notes will be made in the manner provided in paragraph (a) above to the person shown in the Register on the Record Date.

(ii) Payments in respect of Global Notes

All payments in respect of a Global Note will be made to the person shown in the Register on the Record Date.

The person shown in the Register on the Record Date shall be the only person entitled to receive payments in respect of Exchangeable Notes represented by such Global Note and the Issuer and any Guarantor, will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, to such person in respect of each amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as the beneficial holder of a particular nominal amount of Exchangeable Notes represented by such Global Note must look solely to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, for such person's share of each payment so made by the Issuer or the Guarantor.

(c) Payment Day

If the date scheduled for payment of any amount in respect of any Exchangeable Note is not a Payment Day, the Holder thereof shall not be entitled to payment of the amount due until (i) if "Following" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the next following Payment Day or (ii) if "Modified Following" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the next following Payment Day unless that Payment Day falls in the next calendar month, in which case the first preceding Payment Day, in the relevant place and shall not be entitled to further interest or other payment in respect of such delay or amendment. For these purposes, "Payment Day" means any day (other than a Saturday or Sunday) on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchanges and foreign currency deposits) in:

- (i) the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Specified Currency (or in the case of an amount payable in euro, a day on which the real time gross settlement system operated by the Eurosystem or any successor system (the "T2") is open for the settlement of payments in euro;

- (ii) each Additional Financial Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms, provided that if the Additional Financial Centre is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be or to include "T2", then Payment Day shall also be a day on which the T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro; and
- (iii) London.
- (d) Interpretation of Principal and Interest
 - (i) Any reference in these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions to principal in respect of the Exchangeable Notes shall be deemed to include, as applicable:
 - (A) any Additional Tax Amounts which may be payable with respect to principal under Condition 14 (Taxation);
 - (B) the Final Redemption Amount of the Exchangeable Notes;
 - (C) the Early Redemption Amount of the Exchangeable Notes;
 - (D) the Automatic Early Redemption Amount of the Exchangeable Notes;
 - (E) the Cash Amount of the Exchangeable Notes;
 - (F) any premium and any other amounts (other than interest) which may be payable by the Issuer under or in respect of the Exchangeable Notes.
 - (ii) Any reference in these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions to interest in respect of the Exchangeable Notes shall be deemed to include, as applicable, any Additional Tax Amounts which may be payable with respect to interest under Condition 14 (Taxation).
 - (iii) Any principal, interest or other amount payable under these Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions shall never be less than zero.
 - (iv) If "Trading in Units" is specified to be applicable in the relevant Final Terms, one Exchangeable Note (of the Specified Denomination) will be equal to one Unit. Exchangeable Notes will be tradable by reference to the number of Exchangeable Notes being traded (each having the Specified Denomination) instead of the aggregate nominal amount of Exchangeable Notes being traded.
- (e) Definition of Affiliate

"Affiliate" means, in relation to any entity (the "First Entity"), any entity controlled, directly or indirectly, by the First Entity, any entity that controls, directly or indirectly, the First Entity or any entity directly or indirectly under common control with the First Entity. For these purposes "control" means ownership of a majority of the voting power of an entity.

13. Currency Substitution Event

If the Calculation Agent, in its discretion, determines that any Relevant Governmental Authority (as defined below) of a country, bloc of countries or other applicable sovereign entity or entities (each, an "Applicable Jurisdiction") announces or in any event effects (whether pursuant to legislation enacted for such purpose in the Applicable Jurisdiction, in accordance with or in breach of applicable international treaties, or in any other manner) or (based on any publicly available information which the Calculation Agent reasonably considers relevant) there is a substantial likelihood that it will effect within the next 90 days, the replacement of the lawful currency (the "Initial Currency") of an Applicable Jurisdiction with a substitute currency ("Substitute Currency") (for the avoidance of doubt, including circumstances in which a country (a "Departing Country") within a bloc of countries in a currency union passes legislation (or a Relevant Governmental Authority thereof announces that it will pass legislation or otherwise seeks) to effect or does effect the withdrawal of such Departing Country from the currency bloc and the replacement of the currency of the currency union with another currency as the official currency of the Departing Country), or where a relevant Clearing System withdraws (or announces its intention to withdraw) acceptance of the Specified Currency for settlement and payments under the Exchangeable Notes (any such event being a "Currency Substitution Event"), and:

- (a) the calculation of the Cash Amount and any amounts to be paid under any Exchangeable Note by reference to the Share(s) and the currency by which the Share(s) is priced, quoted or traded is (or, in the Issuer's reasonable opinion is likely to be), as a result of the Currency Substitution Event, redenominated from the Initial Currency into the Substitute Currency; and/or
- (b) the calculation of amounts to be paid or assets to be delivered under any Exchangeable Note is linked to one or more floating rates of interest based on or related to amounts denominated in the Initial Currency; and/or
- (c) the Hedging Arrangements (as defined below) in respect of any Exchangeable Note have been materially adversely affected by (A) the Currency Substitution Event and/or (B) capital controls or other restrictions imposed by a Relevant Governmental Authority of the Applicable Jurisdiction, and the Hedging Party (as defined below) is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to alter or modify the Hedging Arrangements and/or establish alternate Hedging Arrangements to fully account for the material adverse effect of (A) and/or (B) above, and/or
- (d) such event would materially disrupt or impair the Issuer's ability to meet its payment or delivery obligations under the Exchangeable Notes; and/or
- (e) in the event that the currency in which the Issuer would otherwise be obliged to make any payments of principal, interest or other amounts payable on any Exchangeable Note is not available to the Issuer for making payment or payments,

then, unless otherwise provided in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer may take the action described in (x) or (y) below:

- (x) require the Calculation Agent to make such adjustments, in its discretion, as shall be notified to each Holder of the relevant Exchangeable Notes, to the exercise, settlement, valuation, calculation, payment (including the Specified Currency and/or Settlement Currency) and/or any other Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions as the Issuer determines appropriate to (i) (in all cases other than (c) above) preserve the economic terms of such Exchangeable Notes as of the Issue Date, including, without limitation, making any currency conversion necessary as part of any such adjustment based on the relevant official conversion rate or at an appropriate market rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent to be prevailing as of any relevant time and date, or (ii) (in the case of (c) above) account for the material adverse effect on the Hedging Arrangements and in order to effect a commercially reasonable result; or
- (y) redeem such Exchangeable Notes on such day as shall be notified to the relevant Noteholders at their Early Redemption Amount.

For the avoidance of doubt, the circumstances and consequences described in this Condition 13 (Currency Substitution Event) and any resulting or alternative adjustments to the exercise, settlement, valuation, calculation, payment and/or any other Exchangeable Note Terms and Conditions will not entitle any Holder of such Exchangeable Notes (A) to any legal remedy, including, without limitation, rescission, repudiation, or renegotiation of the Exchangeable Notes, or (B) to raise any defence or make any claim (including, without limitation, claims of breach, force majeure, frustration of purpose, or impracticability) or any other claim for compensation, damages, or any other relief.

For the purposes of this Condition 13 (Currency Substitution Event):

"Hedging Arrangements" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (a) positions or contracts in securities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange or (b) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) in order to hedge individually or on a portfolio basis the Issuer's obligations under any Exchangeable Note.

"Hedging Party" means the Issuer or any of the Issuer's Affiliate(s) or any entity (or entities) acting on the Issuer's behalf engaged in any underlying or hedging transactions relating to any Exchangeable Note and/or underlying market measure(s) in respect of the Issuer's obligations under the Exchangeable Note.

"Relevant Governmental Authority" means, in relation to any Applicable Jurisdiction, any de facto or de jure government (or any agency or instrumentality thereof), court, tribunal, administrative or other governmental authority or any other entity (private or public) charged with the regulation of the financial markets (including the central bank) of such Applicable Jurisdiction.

14. Taxation

The Issuer or the Guarantor will, subject to certain limitations and exceptions (set forth below), pay to a Noteholder who is a United States Alien or a Netherlands Non-resident (each as defined below) such additional amounts ("Additional Tax Amounts") as may be necessary so that every net payment of principal or interest or other amount with respect to the Exchangeable Notes or the MLBV Guarantee after deduction or withholding for or on account of any present or future tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed upon such Noteholder or by reason of the making of such payment, by the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable) or any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, will not be less than the amount provided for in the Exchangeable Notes or the MLBV Guarantee (as applicable) to be then due and payable, as the case may be. Neither the Issuer nor the Guarantor shall be required to make any payment of Additional Tax Amounts for or on account of:

- (a) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge which would not have been imposed but for (i) the existence of any present or former connection between such Noteholder (or between a fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member or shareholder of, or possessor of a power over, such Noteholder if such Noteholder is an estate, trust, partnership or corporation) and the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, including, without limitation, such Noteholder (or such fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member, shareholder or possessor) being or having been a citizen or resident or treated as a resident of the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, or being or having been present or engaged in a trade or business in the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, or having or having had a permanent establishment in the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, or (ii) the presentation of a Exchangeable Note for payment on a date more than 15 calendar days after the date on which such payment became due and payable or the date on which payment thereof is duly provided for, whichever occurs later;
- (b) any estate, inheritance, gift, sales, transfer, excise, wealth or personal property tax or any similar tax, assessment or other governmental charge;
- (c) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of such Noteholder's past or present status as a personal holding company, foreign personal holding company, passive foreign investment company, private foundation, or other tax-exempt entity, foreign controlled foreign corporation, or controlled foreign corporation for United States tax purposes or a corporation which accumulates earnings to avoid United States federal income tax;
- (d) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge which is payable otherwise than by withholding from payments of principal or interest or other amount with respect to the Exchangeable Notes;
- (e) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed as a result of such Noteholder's past or present status as the actual or constructive owner of 10 per cent. or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Issuer entitled to vote;

- (f) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed as a result of such Noteholder being a bank receiving payments on an extension of credit made pursuant to a loan agreement entered into in the ordinary course of its trade or business;
- (g) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge which would not have been imposed but for the failure to comply with certification, information or other reporting requirements concerning the nationality, residence, identity or connection with the United States or the Netherlands (as applicable), as the case may be, of the Noteholder or of the beneficial owner of such Exchangeable Note, if such compliance is required by statute or by Regulation of the U.S. Department of the Treasury or of the relevant Netherlands authority (as applicable), as the case may be, as a precondition to relief or exemption from such tax, assessment or other governmental charge;
- (h) any tax, assessment, or governmental charge imposed solely because the payment is to be made by a particular Paying Agent or a particular office of a Paying Agent and would not be imposed if made by another agent or by another office of this agent;
- (i) any tax, assessment, or other governmental charge that is imposed or withheld by reason of the application of Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code (or any successor provisions), any regulation, pronouncement, or agreement thereunder, official interpretations thereof, or any law implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto, whether currently in effect or as published and amended from time to time, or any intergovernmental agreement entered into in connection with the implementation of such provisions of the Code;
- (j) any tax deducted, withheld or imposed in connection with the Dutch Withholding Tax Act 2021 (Wet bronbelasting 2021) as amended from time to time;
- (k) any tax, assessment, or other governmental charge that is imposed or withheld by reason of the payment being treated as a dividend or "dividend equivalent" for United States or Dutch tax purposes; or
- (l) any combination of paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), (j) and (k) above,

nor shall Additional Tax Amounts be paid to any United States Alien or Netherlands Non-resident (as applicable), as the case may be, which is a fiduciary or partnership or other than the sole beneficial owner of the Exchangeable Note to the extent a beneficiary or settlor with respect to such fiduciary or a member of such partnership or a beneficial owner of the Exchangeable Note would not have been entitled to payment of the Additional Tax Amounts had such beneficiary, settlor, member or beneficial owner been the Holder of the Exchangeable Note.

The term "United States Alien" means any corporation, partnership, entity, individual, or fiduciary that is for United States federal income tax purposes (1) a foreign corporation, (2) a foreign partnership to the extent one or more of the members of which is, for United States federal income tax purposes, a foreign corporation, a non-resident alien individual, or a foreign estate or trust, (3) a non-resident alien individual, or (4) a foreign estate or trust.

The term "Netherlands Non-resident" means any individual, corporation, partnership or any other entity that for Netherlands tax purposes is a non-resident individual, non-resident corporation, non-resident partnership or any other non-resident entity.

15. Events of Default

- (a) The occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to any Series of Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV shall constitute an "Event of Default" with respect to such Series:

- (i) default shall be made in the payment of any amount of interest due in respect of any such Exchangeable Notes and the default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
- (ii) default shall be made in the payment of any principal, Cash Amount or other amount in respect of any such Exchangeable Notes (in each case whether at maturity or upon redemption or otherwise), and such default continues for a period of 30 calendar days after the due date; or
- (iii) MLBV shall fail to perform or observe any other term, covenant or agreement contained in the Terms and Conditions applicable to any of such Exchangeable Notes or in the English Law Agency Agreement for the period of 90 calendar days after the date on which written notice of such failure, requiring MLBV to remedy the same, first shall have been given to the Principal Paying Agent and MLBV by Holders of at least 33 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of any such Exchangeable Notes outstanding; or
- (iv) a court having jurisdiction in the premises shall have entered a decree or order granting relief with respect to MLBV in an involuntary proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or appointing a receiver, liquidator, trustee, assignee, custodian or sequestrator (or similar official) of MLBV of all or substantially all of its property or for the winding up or liquidation of its affairs, and such decree or order shall have remained in force and unstayed for a period of 60 consecutive calendar days; or
- (v) MLBV shall institute proceedings for relief under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or any other similar law now or hereafter in effect, or shall consent to the institution of any such proceedings against it, or shall consent to the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, trustee, assignee, custodian or sequestrator (or similar official) of it or of all or substantially all of its property, or shall make an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or shall fail generally to pay its debts as they become due, or shall take any corporate action in furtherance of any of the foregoing; or
- (vi) any other events of default specified for a Series of Exchangeable Notes in the applicable Final Terms.

If an Event of Default shall occur and be continuing with respect to any Series of Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV, then the Holders of at least 33 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of such Exchangeable Notes outstanding may, at their option, declare such Exchangeable Notes to be due and payable immediately at the Early Redemption Amount, by written notice to MLBV, the Guarantor and the Principal Paying Agent at its main office in London, and if any such default is not waived in accordance with Condition 15(c) or cured by MLBV or the Guarantor, as the case may be, prior to receipt of such written notice, such Exchangeable Notes shall become and be immediately due and payable at the Early Redemption Amount.

An Event of Default will not occur and there will not be any right to accelerate payment of principal, the interest accrued, or any other amounts then payable thereon (and Additional Tax Amounts, if any) of any Series of Exchangeable Notes as a result of a covenant breach by the Guarantor.

- (b) At any time after any Series of Exchangeable Notes has become due and payable following a declaration of acceleration made in accordance with this Condition 15 (Events of Default) and before a judgment or decree for payment of the money due with respect to such Exchangeable Notes has been obtained by any Noteholder of such Exchangeable Notes, such declaration and its consequences may be rescinded and annulled upon the written consent of Noteholders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Exchangeable Notes then outstanding, or by resolution adopted by a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Exchangeable Notes outstanding present or represented at a meeting of Noteholders of such Exchangeable Notes at which a quorum is present, as provided in the English Law Agency Agreement, if:

- (i) the Issuer has paid, or has deposited with the relevant Clearing System, a sum sufficient to pay:
 - (A) all overdue amounts of interest on such Exchangeable Notes;
 - (B) the principal of such Exchangeable Notes which has become due otherwise than by such declaration of acceleration; and
- (ii) all Events of Default with respect to such Exchangeable Notes, other than the non-payment of the principal of such Exchangeable Notes which has become due solely by such declaration of acceleration, have been cured or waived as provided in Condition 15(c) below.

No such rescission shall affect any subsequent default or impair any right consequent thereon.

- (c) Any default by the Issuer or the Guarantor, other than the events described in Condition 15(a)(i), Condition 15(a)(ii), Condition 15(b)(i) or Condition 15(b)(ii) may be waived by the written consent of Noteholders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Exchangeable Notes then outstanding affected thereby, or by resolution adopted by a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Exchangeable Notes then outstanding present or represented at a meeting of Noteholders of such Exchangeable Notes affected thereby at which a quorum is present, as provided in the English Law Agency Agreement. Upon any such waiver, such default shall cease to exist, and any Event of Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been cured, for every purpose of the English Law Agency Agreement, but no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereon.

16. Prescription

The Exchangeable Notes will become void unless presented for payment within a period of ten years (in the case of principal) and five years (in the case of interest) after the Relevant Date (as defined in Condition 5 (Definitions)) therefor.

Claims in respect of any other amounts payable in respect of the Exchangeable Notes shall be prescribed and become void unless made within ten years following the Relevant Date.

Under New York's statute of limitations generally, the payment obligations of the Guarantor evidenced by the MLBV Guarantee of such Exchangeable Notes must be commenced within six years after payment is due. Thereafter, such payment obligations will generally become unenforceable.

17. Replacement of Exchangeable Notes

Should any Exchangeable Notes be lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed, it may be replaced at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent upon payment by the claimant of such costs and expenses as may be incurred in connection therewith and on such terms as to evidence and indemnity as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Exchangeable Notes must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

18. Paying Agents, Registrar and Calculation Agent

- (a) Principal Paying Agent and Registrar

The Issuer and the Guarantor are entitled to vary or terminate the appointment of the Principal Paying Agent or the Registrar and/or appoint additional or other Principal Paying Agents or Registrars and/or approve any change in the specified office through which any Principal Paying Agent or Registrar acts, provided that:

- (i) there will at all times be a Principal Paying Agent and a Registrar (which, in the case of the Registrar, shall be an entity with a specified office outside the United Kingdom);
- (ii) so long as the Exchangeable Notes are listed on any stock exchange or admitted to listing by any other relevant authority, there will at all times be a Principal Paying Agent, with a specified office in such place as may be required by the rules and regulations of the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority;
- (iii) there will at all times be a Principal Paying Agent in a jurisdiction within Europe other than any jurisdiction in which the Issuer or the Guarantor is incorporated; and
- (iv) there shall at all times be a Calculation Agent.

Notice of any variation, termination, appointment or change in the Principal Paying Agent or the Registrar will be given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such variation, termination or changes.

In acting under the English Law Agency Agreement, the Principal Paying Agent and the Registrar act solely as agents of the Issuer and the Guarantor and do not assume any obligation to, or relationship of agency or trust with, any Noteholders. The English Law Agency Agreement contains provisions permitting any entity into which the Principal Paying Agent or the Registrar is merged or converted or with which it is consolidated or to which it transfers all or substantially all of its assets to become the successor paying agent or registrar, as applicable.

(b) Calculation Agent

In relation to each issue of Exchangeable Notes, the Calculation Agent (whether it be Merrill Lynch International, BofA Securities Europe SA or another entity) acts solely as agent of the Issuer and the Guarantor and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Noteholders.

The Calculation Agent may, with the consent of the Issuer, delegate any of its obligations and functions to a third party as it deems appropriate.

(c) Determinations by the Issuer and Calculation Agent

All calculations, determinations and other exercises of discretion made in respect of the Exchangeable Notes by the Issuer and Calculation Agent shall be in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.

All calculations, determinations and other exercises of discretion made in respect of the Exchangeable Notes by the Calculation Agent shall (save in the case of negligence, wilful default, bad faith, manifest error or proven error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Agents and the Noteholders. The Calculation Agent shall promptly notify the Issuer and the Principal Paying Agent upon any such calculations and determinations, and (in the absence of negligence, wilful default, bad faith, manifest error or proven error) no liability to the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Agents or the Noteholders shall attach to the Calculation Agent in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by it of its powers, duties and discretions pursuant to such provisions.

19. Meetings of Noteholders, Modifications and Waivers

- (a) The English Law Agency Agreement contains provisions for convening meetings of the Holders of Exchangeable Notes of a particular Series to consider any matter affecting their interests, including the sanctioning by Extraordinary Resolution of a modification of such Exchangeable Notes or any of the provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement. Such a meeting may be convened by the Issuer or the Guarantor and shall be convened by the Issuer or the Guarantor if required in writing by the Noteholders holding not less than 33 per cent. in nominal amount of the Exchangeable Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding. The quorum at any such meeting for passing an Extraordinary Resolution is one or more persons present and holding or representing in the aggregate not less than 50 per cent. in nominal amount of the Exchangeable Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned meeting one or more persons present whatever the nominal amount of the Exchangeable Notes so held or represented, except that at any meeting the business of which includes the modification of certain provisions of the Exchangeable Notes (including modifying the date of maturity of the Exchangeable Notes or any date for payment of interest thereon, reducing or cancelling the amount of principal or the rate of interest payable in respect of the Exchangeable Notes, altering the currency of payment of the Exchangeable Notes, modifying the provisions relating to, or cancelling, the Exercise Rights (other than a reduction to the Exercise Price), increasing the Exercise Price (other than an adjustment made in accordance with these Conditions) except, in each case, in accordance with these Conditions, the quorum shall be one or more persons present and holding or representing not less than two-thirds in nominal amount of the Exchangeable Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned such meeting one or more persons present and holding or representing not less than one-third in nominal amount of the Exchangeable Notes of the affected Series for the time being outstanding.

An Extraordinary Resolution passed at any meeting of the Holders of the Exchangeable Notes of a particular Series shall be binding on all the Holders of Exchangeable Notes of such Series, whether or not they are present at the meeting.

An Extraordinary Resolution may also be effected in writing signed or electronically approved using the systems and procedures in place from time to time of a relevant Clearing System by or on behalf of all the Holders.

- (b) The English Law Agency Agreement may be amended by the parties thereto without the consent of Noteholders if, in the opinion of the Issuer, the modification is:
- (i) not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders; or
 - (ii) of a formal, minor or technical nature; or
 - (iii) made to correct a manifest or proven error or omission; or
 - (iv) made to comply with mandatory provisions of law.

Any such modification shall be binding on the Noteholders and any such modification shall be notified to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) as soon as practicable thereafter.

- (c) The Principal Paying Agent and the Issuer may agree, without the consent of the Noteholders to any modification of the Exchangeable Notes which is, in the opinion of the Issuer:
- (i) not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders; or
 - (ii) of a formal, minor or technical nature; or
 - (iii) made to correct a manifest or proven error or omission ;or
 - (iv) made to comply with mandatory provisions of law.

Any such modification shall be binding on the Noteholders and any such modification shall be notified to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 20 (Notices) as soon as practicable thereafter.

20. Notices

All notices regarding the Exchangeable Notes will be deemed to be validly given:

- (a) if, in respect of notices to Holders of Definitive Registered Notes, mailed to them at their respective addresses in the Register. Such notices will be deemed to have been given on the fourth weekday (being a day other than a Saturday or a Sunday) after the date of mailing;
- (b) if, in respect of any Exchangeable Notes that are admitted to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF and listed on the Official List, of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange require, published in a leading newspaper having general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be the Luxemburger Wort) and/or published on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.luxse.com). Any such notice will be deemed to have been given on the date of the first publication or, where required to be published in more than one newspaper, on the date of the first publication in all required newspapers;
- (c) if, in respect of any Exchangeable Notes that are admitted to trading on, and listed on any other stock exchange or are admitted to trading by another relevant authority, if delivered in accordance with the rules and regulations of the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority; or
- (d) as otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Until such time as any Individual Note Certificates are issued, there may, so long as any Global Notes representing the Exchangeable Notes are held in their entirety on behalf of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, be substituted for such publication in such newspaper(s) or such website(s) (in accordance with this Condition 20) the delivery of the relevant notice to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable for communication by them to the Holders of the Exchangeable Notes and, in addition, for so long as any Exchangeable Notes are listed on a stock exchange or are admitted to trading by another relevant authority and the rules of that stock exchange or relevant authority so require, such notice will be published on the website of the relevant stock exchange or relevant authority and/or in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the place or places required by those rules. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given to the Holders of the Exchangeable Notes on the day on which such notice was given to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable.

Notices to be given by any Noteholder shall be in writing and given by lodging the same, together with, in the case of Definitive Registered Notes, the related Individual Note Certificate (if applicable), with the Principal Paying Agent. Whilst any of the Exchangeable Notes are represented by a Global Note, such notice may be given by any Holder of an Exchangeable Note to the Principal Paying Agent through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, in such manner as the Principal Paying Agent and Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, may approve for this purpose.

21. Further Issues

The Issuer shall be at liberty from time to time without the consent of the Noteholders to create and issue further Exchangeable Notes of any Series or Tranche having terms and conditions the same as the Exchangeable Notes or the same in all respects save for, if applicable, the amount, issue price, interest commencement date and date of the first payment of interest thereon, and for the avoidance of doubt, references in the Conditions of such Exchangeable Notes to "Issue Date" shall be to the issue date of the first Tranche of any Series of Exchangeable Notes and so that the same shall be consolidated and form a single Series with the outstanding Series of Exchangeable Notes.

22. Consolidation or Merger

The Issuer or the Guarantor may not consolidate with, or sell or convey all or substantially all of its assets to, or merge with or into any other entity, other than in the case of the Guarantor, a sale or conveyance of all or substantially all of its assets to one or more Subsidiaries (as defined below), unless (i) (a) in the case of the Issuer, either the Issuer shall be the continuing company, or the successor entity (if other than the Issuer) shall expressly assume the due and punctual payment of all amounts (including Additional Tax Amounts as provided in Condition 14 (Taxation)) payable with respect to the Exchangeable Notes, according to their tenor, and the due and punctual performance and observance of all of the obligations under the Conditions to be performed by the Issuer by an amendment to the English Law Agency Agreement executed by, inter alios, such successor entity, the Guarantor, the Registrar and the Principal Paying Agent, and (b) in the case of the Guarantor, the Guarantor shall be the continuing company, or the successor entity (if other than the Guarantor) shall be organised and existing under the laws of the United States or a state thereof or the District of Columbia and such successor entity shall expressly assume the due and punctual payment of all amounts, including Additional Tax Amounts as provided in Condition 14 (Taxation) payable or deliverable, as applicable, with respect to the MLBV Guarantee by the execution of a new MLBV Guarantee of like tenor and (ii) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no Event of Default under Condition 15 (Events of Default), and no event which, with notice or lapse of time or both, would become such an Event of Default shall have happened and be continuing. In case of any such consolidation, merger, sale or conveyance and upon any such assumption by the successor entity, such successor entity shall succeed to and be substituted for the Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may be, with the same effect as if it had been named herein as the Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may be, and the Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may be, except in the event of a conveyance by way of lease, shall be relieved of any further obligations under the Conditions, the English Law Agency Agreement and the MLBV Guarantee, as applicable.

"Subsidiary" means any entity of which more than 50 per cent of the voting power of the outstanding ownership interests (excluding ownership interests entitled to voting power only by reason of the happening of a contingency) shall at the time be owned, directly or indirectly, by the Guarantor, or one or more Subsidiaries, or by the Guarantor and one or more Subsidiaries. For this purpose, "voting power" means power to vote in an ordinary election of directors (or, in the case of an entity that is not a corporation, ordinarily to appoint or approve the appointment of entities holding similar positions).

23. Business Days

In these Terms and Conditions, "Business Day" means a day which is:

- (a) a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in London and each Additional Business Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms, provided that if the Additional Business Centre is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be or to include "T2", then Business Day shall also be a day on which the T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro; and
- (b) also (1) for any sum payable in a Specified Currency other than euro, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Specified Currency (if other than London) or (2) for any sum payable in euro, a day on which the T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro.

24. Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999

No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of the Exchangeable Notes under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999, but this does not affect any right or remedy of any person which exists or is available apart from that Act.

25. Governing Law and Submission to Jurisdiction

- (a) Governing law

The English Law Agency Agreement, the MLBV Exchangeable Notes Deed of Covenant and the Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with the English Law Agency Agreement, the MLBV

Notes Deed of Covenant and such Exchangeable Notes (including without limitation any dispute, controversy, proceedings or claim of whatever nature (whether contractual, non-contractual or otherwise) arising out of or in any way relating to the English Law Agency Agreement, the MLBV Notes Deed of Covenant and the Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV or their respective formation) shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law.

The MLBV Guarantee shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, United States, applicable to agreements made and to be performed wholly within such jurisdiction without regard to principles of conflicts of laws.

(b) Submission to jurisdiction

In relation to any legal action or proceedings ("Proceedings") arising out of or in connection with the Exchangeable Notes issued by MLBV, the courts of England have exclusive jurisdiction and MLBV and the Noteholders submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts. MLBV and the Noteholders waive any objection to Proceedings in the English courts on the grounds of venue or that the Proceedings have been brought in an inconvenient forum.

For greater certainty, the Guarantor has not submitted to the jurisdiction of the English courts in the MLBV Guarantee, and claims under the MLBV Guarantee are required to be instituted in the courts of the State of New York or the courts of the United States of America located in the Borough of Manhattan in the City and State of New York, United States.

(c) Express Acknowledgement of the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes

In the event the Issuer or the Guarantor becomes subject to a proceeding under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act or Title II of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (each, a "U.S. Special Resolution Regime"), the transfer of the Exchangeable Notes and/or the MLBV Guarantee (together, the "Relevant Obligations"), and the transfer of any interest and obligation in or under, and any property securing, the Relevant Obligations, from the Issuer or the Guarantor, respectively, will be effective to the same extent as the transfer would be effective under such U.S. Special Resolution Regime if the Relevant Obligations, and any interest and obligation in or under, and any property securing, the Relevant Obligations, were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States. In the event the Issuer or the Guarantor, or any of their affiliates (as such term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k)) becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, default rights against the Issuer or the Guarantor with respect to the Relevant Obligations are permitted to be exercised to no greater extent than such default rights could be exercised under such U.S. Special Resolution Regime if the Relevant Obligations were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States. For purposes of this paragraph, "default right" has the meaning assigned to that term in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 252.81, 12 C.F.R. § 382.1 and 12 C.F.R. § 47.1, as applicable.

(d) Appointment of Process Agent

MLBV hereby appoints Bank of America, National Association, London Branch currently at 2 King Edward Street, London EC1A 1HQ (Att: General Counsel EMEA) as its agent in England to receive service of process in any Proceedings in England. If for any reason such process agent ceases to act as such or no longer has an address in England, MLBV agrees to appoint a substitute process agent and to notify the Holders of such appointment. Nothing herein shall affect the right to serve process in any other manner permitted by law.

USE OF PROCEEDS OF THE NOTES

The net proceeds from the sale of the Notes issued by BAC will be used for general corporate purposes, including, without limitation, BAC's working capital needs; the funding of investments in, or extensions of credit to, its subsidiaries; possible investments in, or acquisitions of assets and liabilities of, other financial institutions or other businesses; possible reductions, redemptions or repurchases of outstanding indebtedness; possible repayments on outstanding indebtedness; or otherwise in the ordinary course of BAC's business. From time to time BAC may engage in additional capital financings of a character and in amounts that it will determine in light of its needs at such time or times and in light of prevailing market conditions. If BAC elects at the time of issuance of Notes to make different or more specific use of proceeds other than those set forth in this Offering Circular, BAC will describe that use in the applicable Final Terms.

BANA intends to use the net proceeds from the sale of the Notes for general corporate purposes, including, without limitation, BANA's working capital needs; the funding of investments in, or extensions of credit to, its subsidiaries; possible investments in, or acquisitions of assets and liabilities of, other financial institutions or other businesses; possible reductions, redemptions or repurchases of outstanding indebtedness; possible repayments on outstanding indebtedness; or otherwise in the ordinary course of BANA's business. From time to time BANA may engage in additional capital financings of a character and in amounts that it will determine in light of its needs at such time or times and in light of prevailing market conditions. If BANA elects at the time of issuance of Notes to make different or more specific use of proceeds other than those set forth in this Offering Circular, BANA will describe that use in the applicable Final Terms.

BofA Finance intends to lend the net proceeds from the sale of the Notes to BAC and/or BAC's other subsidiaries. BAC expects that it and/or its subsidiaries will use the proceeds from these loans to provide additional funds for operations and for other general corporate purposes. In addition, BofA Finance may use a portion of net proceeds from the sale of the Notes to hedge its obligations under the Notes by entering into hedging arrangements with one or more affiliates. If BofA Finance elects at the time of issuance of Notes to make different or more specific use of proceeds other than those set forth in this Offering Circular, BofA Finance will describe that use in the applicable Final Terms.

MLBV intends to use the net proceeds from the issue and sale of the Notes for general corporate purposes, including making general loans to affiliates which may use such proceeds for their general corporate purposes. If MLBV elects at the time of issuance of Notes to make different or more specific use of proceeds other than those set forth in this Offering Circular, MLBV will describe that use in the applicable Final Terms.

FORM OF FINAL TERMS OF THE W&C INSTRUMENTS

[IMPORTANT - PROHIBITION OF SALES TO EEA RETAIL INVESTORS - The W&C Instruments are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area ("EEA"). For these purposes, a "retail investor" means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU, as amended or superseded ("MiFID II"); (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97, as amended or superseded (the "Insurance Distribution Directive"), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the EU Prospectus Regulation (as defined below). Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended or superseded, the "EU PRIIPs Regulation") for offering or selling the W&C Instruments or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the W&C Instruments or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the EU PRIIPs Regulation.]¹

[IMPORTANT - PROHIBITION OF SALES TO UK RETAIL INVESTORS - The W&C Instruments are not intended to be offered, sold, distributed or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold, distributed or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the UK (as defined below). For these purposes, a "retail investor" means a person who is neither: (i) a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018; nor (ii) a qualified investor as defined in paragraph 15 of Schedule 1 to the Public Offers and Admissions to Trading Regulations 2024. Consequently no disclosure document required by the FCA Product Disclosure Sourcebook ("DISC") for offering, selling or distributing the W&C Instruments or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been prepared and therefore offering, selling or distributing the W&C Instruments or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the UK may be unlawful under DISC and the Consumer Composite Investments (Designated Activities) Regulations 2024.]²

[PROHIBITION OF OFFERING AND MARKETING TO SWISS PRIVATE CLIENTS - The W&C Instruments are not intended to be offered, sold, marketed or otherwise made available to and shall not be offered, sold, marketed or otherwise made available to any private client in Switzerland other than in the context of a portfolio management agreement within the meaning of article 58(2) of the Swiss Financial Services Act ("FinSA") and article 83 of the Swiss Financial Services Ordinance ("FinSO"). No key information document within the meaning of article 58 FinSA (or equivalent document) has been prepared with respect to the W&C Instruments.]³

[Notification under Section 309B(1) of the Securities and Futures Act 2001 (the "SFA"): The W&C Instruments are prescribed capital markets products (as defined in the Securities and Futures (Capital Markets Products) Regulations 2018) and Excluded Investment Products (as defined in the Monetary Authority of Singapore (the "MAS") Notice SFA 04-N12: Notice on the Sale of Investment Products and MAS Notice FAA-N16: Notice on Recommendations on Investment Products).]⁴

[Notification under Section 309B(1) of the Securities and Futures Act 2001 (the "SFA"): The W&C Instruments are capital markets products other than prescribed capital markets products (as defined in the Securities and Futures (Capital Markets Products) Regulations 2018) and Specified Investment Products (as defined in the Monetary Authority of Singapore (the "MAS") Notice SFA 04-N12: Notice

[Include the following warning for all W&C Instruments where capital is at risk:

INVESTING IN THE W&C INSTRUMENTS PUTS YOUR CAPITAL AT RISK. YOU MAY LOSE SOME [OR ALL] OF YOUR INVESTMENT.]

The Offering Circular referred to below (as completed by these Final Terms) has been prepared on the basis that any offer of W&C Instruments in any Member State of the European Economic Area (each, a "Member State") will be made pursuant to an exemption under Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (as amended or superseded, the "EU Prospectus Regulation") from the requirement to publish a prospectus for offers of the W&C Instruments. Accordingly any person making or intending to make an offer of the W&C Instruments in that Member State may only do so in circumstances in which no obligation arises for the Issuer or any Dealer to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the EU Prospectus Regulation or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the EU Prospectus Regulation, in each case, in relation to such offer. Neither the Issuer nor any Dealer has authorised, nor do they authorise, the making of any offer of W&C Instruments in any other circumstances.

The Offering Circular referred to below (as completed by these Final Terms) has been prepared on the basis that any offer of W&C Instruments in the United Kingdom (the "UK") will be of a kind specified in Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the POATRs. Accordingly any person making or intending to make an offer of the W&C Instruments in the UK may only do so if the offer is of a kind specified in Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the POATRs. Neither the Issuer nor any Dealer has authorised, nor do they authorise, the making of any offer of W&C Instruments in any other circumstances.

[Neither this document nor any other offering or marketing material relating to the W&C Instruments constitutes a prospectus as such term is understood pursuant to the Swiss Financial Services Act ("FinSA") and neither this document nor any other offering or marketing material relating to the W&C Instruments may be publicly distributed or otherwise made publicly available in Switzerland, except in instances where such marketing, offering or distribution does not require the publication of a prospectus pursuant to the FinSA.]⁷

The W&C Instruments [are unsecured and]⁸ are not and will not be savings accounts, deposits or obligations of, or otherwise guaranteed by, any bank. The W&C Instruments do not evidence deposits of Bank of America, N.A. or any other bank and are not insured by the U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Deposit Insurance Fund or any other insurer or governmental agency or instrumentality.

⁶ Remove references to the Guarantor and the MLBV Guarantee wherever the W&C Instruments to be issued are Secured W&C Instruments. For fungible and straddle trades, references herein should reflect the applicable guarantee.

[Each purchaser of W&C Instruments being offered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person (as defined herein) is hereby notified that the offer and sale of such W&C Instruments is being made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act ("Rule 144A") and the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"). [The MLBV Guarantee has not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act.]⁹ The Issuer will offer and sell W&C Instruments within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person through BofA Securities, Inc. or one of its affiliates, which in each case is a U.S. registered broker dealer, in private transactions exclusively to persons reasonably believed to be qualified institutional buyers (each a "QIB") as defined in Rule 144A who are also each a qualified purchaser (each a "QP") within the meaning of Section 3(c)(7) and as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the 1940 Act, and the rules thereunder, and who, as a condition to purchasing the W&C Instruments will enter into and remain in compliance with an Investor Representation Letter for the benefit of BofA Securities, Inc., the Issuer [and Bank of America Corporation (the "Guarantor")]¹⁰ (together with their respective affiliates and any persons controlling, controlled by or under common control with BofA Securities, Inc., the Issuer [and the Guarantor]). The exercise of the W&C Instruments by, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person will be conditional upon such holder (and any person on whose behalf the holder is acting) being a QIB and a QP. See "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments" and "Annex 11B - Additional Terms and Conditions for Rule 144A W&C Instruments" in the [Original] Offering Circular. Investors in the W&C Instruments will be deemed to have made or will be required to make certain representations and warranties in connection with purchasing the W&C Instruments. See "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions" in the accompanying Offering Circular.

The Rule 144A W&C Instruments will be represented by a global warrant or certificate (a "Rule 144A Global W&C Instrument"), which will be deposited with Citibank Europe plc, as common depositary for Euroclear Bank SA/NV ("Euroclear") and Clearstream Banking, S.A. ("Clearstream, Luxembourg") or with the Principal W&C Instrument Agent as a custodian for The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), and will be exchangeable for W&C Instruments in definitive registered form in the limited circumstances described in the Rule 144A Global W&C Instrument. Beneficial interests in the W&C Instruments will be shown on, and transfers thereof will be effected only through, records maintained in book-entry form by Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg or DTC, as the case may be. The English Law Agency Agreement (as defined in the Conditions) provides that it and the W&C Instruments will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law. [The MLBV Guarantee is governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York.]]¹¹

[The W&C Instruments[, the MLBV Guarantee] and, in certain cases, the Entitlement have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or under any U.S. state securities laws. The W&C Instruments [and the MLBV Guarantee] may not be offered, sold, resold, traded, transferred, pledged, delivered, exercised or redeemed, directly or indirectly, at any time within the United States, its territories, its possessions and other areas subject to its jurisdiction or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person (as defined by Regulation S under the Securities Act) (other than distributors).]¹²

[The W&C Instruments will be eligible for sale concurrently (a) in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined herein), in either case to qualified institutional buyers (each, a "QIB") as defined in Rule 144A ("Rule 144A") under the Securities Act, as amended (the "Securities Act") who are also qualified purchasers (each, a "QP") within the meaning of Section 3(c)(7) and as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"), and the rules thereunder, and (b) outside the United States to non-U.S. persons in reliance on Regulation S under the Securities Act, in each case subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein and in the Conditions (described below) and the accompanying Offering Circular.

¹⁰ Include in the case of Rule 144A W&C Instruments other than Secured W&C Instruments.

¹¹ Include in the case of Rule 144A W&C Instruments other than Regulation S/Rule 144A W&C Instruments.

¹² Include in the case of all W&C Instruments other than Rule 144A W&C Instruments and Regulation S/Rule 144A W&C Instruments.

Such W&C Instruments will be represented by a global warrant or certificate (a "Regulation S/Rule 144A Global W&C Instrument") which will be deposited with Citibank Europe plc, as common depositary for Euroclear Bank SA/NV ("Euroclear") and Clearstream Banking, S.A. ("Clearstream, Luxembourg") and will be exchangeable for W&C Instruments in definitive registered form in the limited circumstances described in the Regulation S/Rule 144A Global W&C Instrument. Beneficial interests in the W&C Instruments will be shown on, and transfers thereof will be effected only through, records maintained in book-entry form by Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg. The English Law Agency Agreement (as defined in the Conditions) provides that it and the W&C Instruments will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law. [The MLBV Guarantee is governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York.]

Each purchaser of W&C Instruments being offered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person is hereby notified that the offer and sale of such W&C Instruments is being made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act pursuant to Rule 144A and the 1940 Act. [The MLBV Guarantee has not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act.]¹³ The Issuer will offer and sell W&C Instruments within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person through BofA Securities, Inc. or one of its affiliates, which in each case is a U.S. registered broker dealer, in private transactions exclusively to persons reasonably believed to be QIBs who are also each a QP, and who, as a condition to purchasing the W&C Instruments will enter into and remain in compliance with an Investor Representation Letter for the benefit of BofA Securities, Inc., the Issuer [and Bank of America Corporation (the "Guarantor")]¹⁴ (together with their respective affiliates and any persons controlling, controlled by or under common control with BofA Securities, Inc., the Issuer [and the Guarantor])¹⁵. The exercise of the W&C Instruments by, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person will be conditional upon such holder (and any person on whose behalf the holder is acting) being a QIB and a QP. See "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments" and "Annex 11B - Additional Terms and Conditions for Rule 144A W&C Instruments" in the [Original] Offering Circular. Investors in the W&C Instruments will be deemed to have made or will be required to make certain representations and warranties in connection with purchasing the W&C Instruments. See "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions" in the accompanying Offering Circular.]¹⁶

[The W&C Instruments are being offered by Merrill Lynch International ("MLI") or BofA Securities Europe SA ("BofASE") subject to prior sale, when, as and if delivered to and accepted by MLI or BofASE and to certain other conditions. W&C Instruments sold in the United States will be sold through BofA Securities, Inc., a registered broker-dealer. MLI or BofASE reserves the right to withdraw, cancel or modify such offer and to reject orders in whole or in part.

No person is authorised to give any information or to make any representation not contained in or not consistent with this document or any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or the W&C Instruments and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer, [the Guarantor,] the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or any other person. This document does not constitute, and may not be used for the purposes of, an offer or solicitation by anyone in any jurisdiction in which such offer or solicitation is not authorised or to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such offer or solicitation and no action is being taken to permit an offering of the W&C Instruments or the distribution of this document in any jurisdiction where any such action is required.

The delivery of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular does not at any time imply that the information contained herein or in the Offering Circular concerning the Issuer [and/or the Guarantor] is correct at any time subsequent to the date hereof or that any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or the W&C Instruments is correct as of any time subsequent to the date indicated in the document containing the same. [None of][Neither] MLI[,] [nor] BofASE [and BofA Securities, Inc.] undertakes to review the financial condition or affairs of the Issuer [and/or the Guarantor] during the life of the Programme. financial statements, if any, of the Issuer [and the Guarantor] when deciding whether or not to purchase any W&C Instruments.

The W&C Instruments create options which are either exercisable by the relevant holder or which will be automatically exercised as provided herein. The W&C Instruments will be exercised or will be exercisable in the manner set forth herein and in the Offering Circular. The W&C Instruments are subject to restrictions on transfer. Holders of W&C Instruments may not transfer the W&C Instruments except as permitted under the Securities Act and applicable state securities laws and subject to the transfer restrictions set forth in the Offering Circular. Any transfer of a Rule 144A W&C Instrument in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person must be made to or through the Issuer or the Dealer to a person that is a QIB/QP that executes an Investor Representation Letter and otherwise in accordance with the applicable transfer restrictions set forth in the Offering Circular. See "Notice to Purchasers and Holders of Instruments and Transfer Restrictions" in the Offering Circular.

Neither these Final Terms, the Offering Circular nor any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any W&C Instruments (i) is intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation or (ii) should be considered as a recommendation by the Issuer, [the Guarantor,] MLI[,] [or] BofASE [or BofA Securities, Inc.] that any recipient of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular or any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any W&C Instruments should purchase any W&C Instruments. Each investor contemplating purchasing any W&C Instruments should make its own independent investigation of the financial condition and affairs, and its own appraisal of the creditworthiness, of the Issuer [and the Guarantor]. No representation is made to any offeree or purchaser of the W&C Instruments regarding the legality of an investment therein by such offeree or purchaser under any applicable legal investment or similar laws or regulations. The contents of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular are not to be construed as legal, business or tax advice. Each prospective investor should consult his or her attorney or business and tax advisor as to legal, business and tax advice.

Each person receiving these Final Terms and the Offering Circular acknowledges that (i) such person has been afforded an opportunity to request from the Issuer [and the Guarantor] and to review all additional information concerning the Issuer [and the Guarantor] and the terms of the W&C Instruments that it considers to be necessary to verify the accuracy of, or to supplement, the information contained herein, (ii) such person has not relied on the Initial Purchaser (as defined below) or any person affiliated with the Initial Purchaser in connection with its investigation of the accuracy of such information or its investment decision, (iii) none of the Issuer, the Guarantor and the Initial Purchaser has made any due diligence inquiry with respect to the Reference Item (if applicable) in connection with the offering of the W&C Instruments, (iv) the Issuer, the Guarantor and the Initial Purchaser and their affiliates may obtain material non-public information regarding the Reference Item (if applicable) or any affiliate of the Reference Item (if applicable), and none of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Initial Purchaser and any such affiliate undertakes to disclose any such information to subsequent purchasers of W&C Instruments and (v) no person has been authorised to give any information or to make any representation concerning the Issuer, the Guarantor or the W&C Instruments other than as contained herein or in the Offering Circular and, if given or made, any such other information or representation should not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer, [the Guarantor] or the Initial Purchaser.¹⁷

[Each offeree is authorised to use these Final Terms and the Offering Circular solely for the purpose of considering the purchase of the W&C Instruments described herein. [The Issuer, the Guarantor and any of MLI[,] [or] BofASE [or BofA Securities, Inc.], as initial purchaser (the "Initial Purchaser"), reserve the right to reject any offer to purchase, in whole or in part, for any reason, or to sell less than all of the W&C Instruments.]¹⁸ These Final Terms and the Offering Circular are personal to the offeree to whom they have been delivered and do not constitute an offer to any other person or to the public in general to subscribe for or otherwise acquire the W&C Instruments. Distribution of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular to any person other than the offeree and those persons, if any, retained to advise the offeree in connection with its purchase of the W&C Instruments is unauthorised, and any disclosure of

The Issuer [and the Guarantor] reserve[s] the right to reject any offer to purchase, in whole or in part, for any reason, or to sell less than all of the W&C Instruments.

[AVAILABLE INFORMATION

In order to satisfy the information requirements of Rule 144A in connection with permitted resales and transfers, the Issuer [and the Guarantor] have agreed to furnish, upon the request of any holder of a Rule 144A W&C Instrument or of a beneficial interest therein, such information as is specified in paragraph (d)(4) of Rule 144A under the Securities Act to such holder or beneficial owner or to a prospective purchaser of such Rule 144A W&C Instrument in order to permit such holder or beneficial owner to comply with the requirements of Rule 144A in connection with the resale, unless, at the time of such request, the Issuer is subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), or is exempt from the registration requirements of Section 12(g) of the Exchange Act pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) under the Exchange Act. This information may be obtained during normal business hours on any weekday at the specified office of the applicable Instrument Agent.]²¹

The purchase of W&C Instruments involves substantial risks and is suitable only for investors who have the knowledge and experience in financial and business matters necessary to enable them to evaluate the risks and the merits of an investment in the W&C Instruments. Before making an investment decision, prospective purchasers of W&C Instruments should ensure that they understand the nature of the W&C Instruments and the extent of their exposure to risks and that they consider carefully, in the light of their own financial circumstances, financial condition and investment objectives, all the information set forth in the Offering Circular (including the section headed "Risk Factors" thereof) and these Final Terms.

[For a description of the key features and mechanics of the Instrument, including loss potential, see also description of the instrument under the corresponding SSPA code in "Annex 18: Swiss Product Description" in the Offering Circular.]²²

[Unregulated Instruments: The W&C Instruments do not constitute a participation in a collective investment scheme within the meaning of the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act. Therefore, the W&C Instruments are not subject to approval, registration or supervision by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA or any other regulatory authority in Switzerland. Accordingly, potential purchasers do not have the benefit of the specific investor protection provided under the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act and are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer [and Guarantor].]²³

PART A – CONTRACTUAL TERMS

Terms used herein shall be deemed to be defined as such for the purposes of the Terms and Conditions set forth in the Offering Circular dated 15 May 2026 (the "Offering Circular") as supplemented by the supplement(s) to the Offering Circular approved by the Luxembourg Stock Exchange from time to time, which are available at www.luxse.com. This document constitutes the Final Terms of the W&C Instruments described herein and must be read in conjunction with the Offering Circular and any supplements thereto. Full information on the Issuer[, the Guarantor] and the offer of the W&C Instruments is only available on the basis of the combination of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular and any supplements thereto. The Offering Circular and the supplement(s) to the Offering Circular are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the registered office of the relevant Dealer and at the specified office(s) of the applicable W&C Instrument Agent(s) and in electronic form on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's website (www.luxse.com).

[The following alternative language applies if the first tranche of an issue which is being increased was issued under the Original Base Prospectus/Offering Circular (as defined below).]

Terms used herein shall be deemed to be defined as such for the purposes of the Terms and Conditions set forth in the [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular] dated [15 September 2009] [22 June 2010] [22 June 2011] [24 May 2012] [9 January 2013] [15 November 2013] [12 November 2014] [11 November 2015] [10 May 2016] [24 January 2017] [19 May 2017] [18 May 2018] [16 May 2019] [14 May 2020] [14 May 2021] [13 May 2022] [15 May 2023] [15 May 2024] [15 May 2025] (the "Original [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular]") which are incorporated by reference in the Offering Circular dated 15 May 2026 (the "Offering Circular") as supplemented by the supplement(s) to the Offering Circular approved by the Luxembourg Stock Exchange from time to time, which are available at www.luxse.com. This document constitutes the Final Terms of the W&C Instruments described herein and must be read in conjunction with the Offering Circular and any supplements thereto, including the Terms and Conditions incorporated by reference in the Offering Circular as supplemented. Full information on the Issuer, the Guarantor and the offer of the W&C Instruments is only available on the basis of the combination of these Final Terms and the Offering Circular and any supplements thereto (including those sections of the Original [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular] incorporated by reference therein). The Original [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular] and the Offering Circular and the supplement(s) to the Offering Circular are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the registered office of the relevant Dealer and at the specified office(s) of the applicable W&C Instrument Agent(s) and in electronic form on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's website (www.luxse.com).]

References herein to numbered Conditions are to the "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments" set forth in the [Offering Circular] [Original [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular]] and words and expressions defined in such terms and conditions shall bear the same meaning in these Final Terms, save as where otherwise expressly provided. [References in the Offering Circular to "Instruments" and related references (including, but not limited to, "W&C Instruments" and "Principal W&C Instrument Agent") shall, for the purposes of the issue of the W&C Instruments, save where the context otherwise requires, be deemed to be references to "Securities" (including "W&C Securities" and "Security Agents").]

Prospective investors should note that the "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments" set out in the [Offering Circular] [Original [Base Prospectus/Offering Circular]] and any non-contractual obligations arising out of, or in connection with, the W&C Instruments are governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law [and the MLBV Guarantee is governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York].

No person has been authorised to give any information or make any representation not contained in or not consistent with these Final Terms, or any other information supplied in connection with the W&C Instruments and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer[, the Guarantor] or any Dealer.

By investing in the W&C Instruments each investor represents that:

- (a) Non-Reliance. It is acting for its own account, and it has made its own independent decisions to invest in the W&C Instruments and as to whether the investment in the W&C Instruments is appropriate or proper for it based upon its own judgement and upon advice from such advisers as it has deemed necessary. It is not relying on any communication (written or oral) of the Issuer[, the Guarantor] or any Dealer as investment advice or as a recommendation to invest in the W&C Instruments, it being understood that information and explanations related to the "Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments" shall not be considered to be investment advice or a recommendation to invest in the W&C Instruments. No communication (written or oral) received from the Issuer[, the Guarantor] or any Dealer shall be deemed to be an assurance or guarantee as to the expected results of the investment in the W&C Instruments.

- (b) Assessment and Understanding. It is capable of assessing the merits of and understanding (on its own behalf or through independent professional advice), and understands and accepts, the terms and conditions and the risks of the investment in the W&C Instruments. It is also capable of assuming, and assumes, the risks of the investment in the W&C Instruments.
- (c) Status of Parties. None of the Issuer[, the Guarantor] and any Dealer is acting as fiduciary for or adviser to it in respect of the investment in the W&C Instruments.

[These Final Terms shall also serve as a Confirmation by [name of applicable permitted dealer in the United States] pursuant to Rule 10b-10 of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and any other applicable rules and regulations.]²⁵

These Final Terms relate to the Series of W&C Instruments as set out in "Specific Provisions for each Series" below. References herein to "W&C Instruments" shall be deemed to be references to the relevant [Warrants/Certificates] that are the subject of these Final Terms and references to "W&C Instruments" and "W&C Instrument" shall be construed accordingly.

INTRODUCTION AND WARNINGS
This Summary should be read as an introduction to these Final Terms. Any decision to invest in the W&C Instruments should be based on consideration of the Offering Circular (which includes the documents incorporated by reference therein) and these Final Terms as a whole by the investor. Any liability for information contained in this Summary is limited to cases where this Summary is misleading, inaccurate or inconsistent when read together with the other parts of the Final Terms and the Offering Circular. The W&C Instruments do not constitute a participation in a collective investment scheme in the meaning of the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act and are not licensed by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority ("FINMA") thereunder. Accordingly, neither the W&C Instruments nor holders of the W&C Instruments benefit from protection under the Swiss Collective Investment Schemes Act or supervision by FINMA and investors are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer [and Guarantor]. This Summary has been prepared and is being provided solely for the purpose of an offer of the W&C Instruments in Switzerland pursuant to the Swiss Financial Services Act ("FinSA") and it must not be used for any other purpose or in any other context than for which it is prepared and provided. This Summary does not apply to, must not be used for or in connection with, and does not constitute, any offer or invitation for subscription of the Instruments to, or any solicitation by, any person in any jurisdiction other than Switzerland. You are about to purchase a product that is not simple and may be difficult to understand.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE W&C INSTRUMENTS

The following is the text of the Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments which will apply to each issue of W&C Instruments and which will include the Additional Terms and Conditions (as defined below) if and to the extent specified in the applicable Final Terms.

This warrant ("Warrants") or certificate ("Certificates") and together with Warrants, the "W&C Instruments", as specified in the applicable Final Terms, is issued by Merrill Lynch B.V. ("MLBV" or the "Issuer"). References in these Terms and Conditions to "W&C Instrument", "W&C Instruments", "Warrant", "Warrants", "Certificate" and "Certificates" will be construed accordingly.

The W&C Instruments are issued pursuant to an Amended and Restated English Law Agency Agreement dated 15 May 2026 (such agency agreement as amended and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the "English Law Agency Agreement") which is governed by English law among, inter alios, MLB, Bank of America Corporation ("BAC" or the "Guarantor") as guarantor, Citibank, N.A., London Branch as principal W&C Instrument agent (in such capacity, the "Principal W&C Instrument Agent"), which expression shall include any successor principal W&C Instrument agent, and Citibank Europe plc as registrar in respect of Warrants and Certificates (the "Registrar") and the other agents named therein.

Any additional or successor W&C Instrument agents appointed under the English Law Agency Agreement, together with the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, are referred to herein as the "W&C Instrument Agents".

Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA shall undertake the duties of calculation agent (the "Calculation Agent") in respect of the W&C Instruments unless another entity is so specified as the calculation agent in the applicable Final Terms. The expression Calculation Agent shall, in relation to the relevant W&C Instruments, include such other specified calculation agent.

The applicable Final Terms (the "Final Terms") for the W&C Instruments supplement these Terms and Conditions (the "Terms and Conditions", or the "Conditions") and may specify other terms and conditions which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with these Terms and Conditions, supplement, replace or modify these Terms and Conditions for the purposes of the W&C Instruments. References herein to the "applicable Final Terms" are to Part A (including, if applicable, any annex or appendix thereto) of the Final Terms or each Final Terms (in the case of any further instruments issued pursuant to Condition 14 (Further Issues) and forming a single Series with the W&C Instruments) (which for the avoidance of doubt may be issued in respect of more than one Series of W&C Instruments) attached to the Global W&C Instrument or to the Definitive W&C Instrument, as the case may be, or constituting a part of such W&C Instruments and made available as provided in the preceding paragraph insofar as it relates to the W&C Instruments.

The additional Terms and Conditions (the "Additional Terms and Conditions") contained in Annex 1 in the case of Index Linked W&C Instruments (together with Annex 16 where Index-Linked Contracts are referenced), Annex 2 in the case of Share Linked W&C Instruments, Annex 3 in the case of Low Exercise Price Warrants, Annex 4 in the case of GDR/ADR Linked W&C Instruments, Annex 5 in the case of FX Linked W&C Instruments, Annex 6 in the case of Commodity Linked W&C Instruments, Annex 7 in the case of Fund Linked W&C Instruments, Annex 8 in the case of Inflation Linked W&C Instruments, Annex 9B in the case of Credit Linked W&C Instruments, Annex 11B in the case of Rule 144A W&C Instruments, Annex 12 in the case of Saudi Share Linked Warrants, Annex 13 in the case of Secured Static/Floating Instruments Annex 14 in the case of Secured Fully Floating Instruments, Annex 14A in the case of Secured ECS W&C Instruments and/or Annex 19 in the case of Bond Linked W&C Instruments (each as defined below) will apply to, and form part of the Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments if and to the extent specified in the applicable Final Terms.

The applicable Final Terms for the W&C Instruments are attached to or incorporated by reference into the Global W&C Instrument or endorsed on the Definitive W&C Instruments, as the case may be.

"Series" means W&C Instruments which are identical in all respects (including as to listing and admission to trading), together with any further W&C Instruments which are (i) expressed to be consolidated and form a single series and (ii) identical in all respects (including as to listing and admission to trading) except for their respective Issue Dates and/or Issue Prices.

Any reference to "W&C Instrument holders" or "Holders" in relation to any W&C Instruments shall mean the holders of the W&C Instruments.

Other than in respect of the Secured W&C Instruments, the payment of all amounts payable and/or delivery of non-cash consideration deliverable by the Issuer in respect of the W&C Instruments are unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by BAC pursuant to the guarantee dated 15 May 2026, as executed by BAC (the "MLBV Guarantee"). BAC will only pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount instead of delivering the Entitlement if MLBV fails to satisfy its delivery obligations under the W&C Instruments (if any), and the payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount shall constitute a complete discharge of BAC's obligations under the MLBV Guarantee, in respect of the relevant W&C Instruments. For the avoidance of doubt, the Secured W&C Instruments issued by MLBV are not guaranteed by BAC and Holders of such Secured W&C Instruments will not be able to claim under the terms of the MLBV Guarantee for any unpaid amounts and any such shortfall will not constitute an unsecured claim by such Holder of Secured W&C Instruments against the Guarantor.

The W&C Instrument holders are entitled to the benefit of the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant (the "W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant") dated 15 May 2026 and made by the Issuer. The original of the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant is held by a common depositary for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg (each as defined below) (the "Common Depositary"). For the avoidance of doubt, Holders of W&C Instruments held through The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") are not entitled to the benefit of the direct rights under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant.

Copies of the English Law Agency Agreement and copies of the MLBV Guarantee are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the specified offices of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent. Copies of the applicable Final Terms will be available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the specified offices of the relevant Dealer and the Principal W&C Instrument Agent only by a Holder (as defined in Condition 1(C), or "Annex 11B – Additional Terms and Conditions for Rule 144A W&C Instruments" as applicable) holding one or more W&C Instruments and such Holder must produce evidence satisfactory to the Issuer or the Principal W&C Instrument Agent as to its holding of such W&C Instruments and its identity. The Offering Circular and, in the case of W&C Instruments admitted to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF, the applicable Final Terms will also be published on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.luxse.com). Final Terms relating to W&C Instruments listed and/or admitted to trading on any other stock exchange or market will be published in accordance with the rules and regulations of such stock exchange or market.

The Holders are deemed to have notice of or are entitled to the benefit of and are bound by all the provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement, the MLBV Guarantee (if applicable), the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant and the applicable Final Terms which are applicable to them.

Words and expressions defined in the English Law Agency Agreement or used in the applicable Final Terms shall have the same meanings where used in these Terms and Conditions unless the context otherwise requires or unless otherwise stated and provided that, in the event of inconsistency between the English Law Agency Agreement and the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms will prevail.

1. Form, Type, Title and Transfer

(A) Form

W&C Instruments may be issued in registered form ("Registered W&C Instruments") or uncertificated or dematerialised form. Registered W&C Instruments will be represented by Global W&C Instruments or Definitive W&C Instruments, in accordance with these Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments.

(B) Type

The W&C Instruments relate to a specified Index or basket of Indices ("Index Linked W&C Instruments"), a specified Share or basket of Shares ("Share Linked W&C Instruments"), a specified American depositary receipt (an "ADR") and/or global depositary receipt (a "GDR") representing interests in a share (the "Underlying Share") or basket of such GDRs and/or ADRs ("GDR/ADR Linked W&C Instruments"), a specified currency or basket of currencies ("FX Linked W&C Instruments"), a specified commodity or commodity index or basket of commodities and/or commodity indices ("Commodity Linked W&C Instruments"), a specified fund share or unit or basket of fund shares or units ("Fund Linked W&C Instruments"), a specified inflation index ("Inflation Linked W&C Instruments"), a specified share of a company listed on the Saudi Stock Exchange (Tadawul) or basket of such shares ("Saudi Share Linked Warrants"), the credit of a specified reference entity or reference entities ("Credit Linked W&C Instruments"), a specified Bond or basket of Bonds ("Bond Linked W&C Instruments") or any other or further type of instruments as is specified in the applicable Final Terms. The W&C Instruments issued by MLBV may be secured by a segregated pool of Collateral Assets with a custodian or collateral service provider (the "Secured W&C Instruments").

The applicable Final Terms will indicate whether settlement shall be by way of cash payment ("Cash Settled W&C Instruments") or physical delivery ("Physical Delivery W&C Instruments") and whether averaging ("Averaging") will apply to the W&C Instruments.

If Averaging is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms will state the relevant Averaging Dates and, in respect of Index Linked Instruments and Share Linked Instruments, if an Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day, whether Omission, Postponement or Modified Postponement applies.

References in these Terms and Conditions, unless the context otherwise requires, to Cash Settled W&C Instruments shall be deemed to include references to Physical Delivery W&C Instruments, which include an option (as set out in the applicable Final Terms) at the Issuer's election to request cash settlement of such W&C Instrument and where settlement is to be by way of cash payment, and references in these Terms and Conditions, unless the context otherwise requires, to Physical Delivery W&C Instruments shall be deemed to include references to Cash Settled W&C Instruments which include an option (as set out in the applicable Final Terms) at the Issuer's election to request physical delivery of the relevant underlying asset in settlement of such W&C Instrument and where settlement is to be by way of physical delivery.

W&C Instruments may, if so specified and provided for in the applicable Final Terms, allow Holders to elect for settlement by way of cash payment or by way of physical delivery or by such other method of settlement as is specified in the applicable Final Terms. Those W&C Instruments where the Holder has elected for cash payment will be Cash Settled W&C Instruments and those W&C Instruments where the Holder has elected for physical delivery will be Physical Delivery W&C Instruments. The rights of a Holder as described in this paragraph may be subject to the Issuer's right to vary settlement if so indicated in the applicable Final Terms.

(C) Title to W&C Instruments

Subject as set out below, title to Registered W&C Instruments will, subject to mandatory rules of law, pass by registration in the Register that the Issuer shall procure to be kept by the Registrar in accordance with the provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement.

In the case of W&C Instruments that are represented by a Global W&C Instrument, each person who is for the time being shown in the records of a Clearing System as the holder of a particular number or Notional Amount, as the case may be, of W&C Instruments (in which regard any certificate or other document issued by such Clearing System as to the number or Notional Amount, as the case may be, of W&C Instruments standing to the account of any person shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes save in the case of manifest or proven error) shall be treated by the Issuer, the Guarantor and any W&C Instrument Agent as the holder of such number or Notional Amount, as the case may be, of W&C Instruments for all purposes other than with respect to the payment of principal or additional amounts on such number, or Nominal amount, as the case may be, of such W&C Instruments, for which purpose the person recorded in the Register shall be treated by the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Registrar and any W&C Instrument Agent as the Holder of such number or Notional Amount, as the case may be, of such W&C Instruments in accordance with and subject to the terms of the relevant W&C Instrument (and the expression "Holder" and related expressions shall be construed accordingly).

An individual certificate ("individual certificate") will be issued to each holder of Definitive Registered Certificates in registered form in respect of its registered holding. An individual warrant certificate ("individual warrant certificate") will be issued to each holder of Definitive Registered Warrants in registered form in respect of its registered holding. Each individual certificate and individual warrant certificate will be numbered serially with an identifying number which will be recorded in the register. Each holder for the time being registered in the Register (or in the case of a joint holding, the first named thereof) shall be treated by the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Registrar and any W&C Instrument Agent as the Holder of such number, or nominal amount, as the case may be, of such W&C Instruments in accordance with and subject to the terms of the relevant W&C Instrument (and the expression "Holder" and related expressions shall be construed accordingly).

(D) Transfers of W&C Instruments

(a) Global W&C Instruments

W&C Instruments that are represented by a Global W&C Instrument held through a Clearing System, will be transferable only in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of such Clearing System.

(b) Definitive W&C Instruments in registered form

Subject to Condition 30(C) (Closed Periods in respect of Definitive Registered Certificates) transfers of Definitive Registered Certificates in registered form are effected upon (i) the surrender (at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) of the individual certificate representing such Definitive Registered Certificates to be transferred together with the form of transfer (which shall be available at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) endorsed on such individual certificate (or another form of transfer substantially in the same form and containing the same representations and certifications (if any), unless otherwise agreed by the Issuer), duly completed and executed by the person shown as the registered holder in the Register, or its attorney duly authorised in writing, and any other evidence as the Principal W&C Instrument Agent may reasonably require, (ii) the recording of such transfer in the Register and (iii) issuance of a new individual certificate or certificates to the transferee or transferees. Subject to Condition 23(D) (Closed Periods in respect of Definitive Registered Warrants), transfers of Definitive Registered Warrants in registered form are effected upon (i) the surrender (at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) of the individual warrant certificate representing such Definitive Registered Warrants to be transferred together with the form of transfer (which shall be available at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) endorsed on such individual warrant certificate (or another form of transfer substantially in the same form and containing the same representations and certifications (if any), unless otherwise agreed by the Issuer), duly completed and executed by the person shown as the registered holder in the Register, or its attorney duly authorised in writing, and any other evidence as the Principal W&C Instrument Agent may reasonably require, (ii) the recording of such transfer in the Register and (iii) issuance of a new individual warrant certificate or certificates to the transferee or transferees.

2. Status of the W&C Instruments and MLBV Guarantee

Other than the Secured W&C Instruments, the W&C Instruments constitute direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank equally among themselves and rank equally (subject to such exceptions as are from time to time provided by applicable laws) with all other present and future direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Issuer.

The obligations of the Guarantor under the MLBV Guarantee, save for such exceptions as may be provided by applicable laws and regulations or judicial order, will rank equally with its other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations.

3. MLBV Guarantee

Under the MLBV Guarantee, the Guarantor has unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed to the Holders, the due and punctual payment of (i) any and all amounts payable by the Issuer as obligor in respect of the W&C Instruments (except for Secured W&C Instruments which it does not guarantee) and/or (ii) in respect of Physical Delivery W&C Instruments (which term, as it relates to the MLBV Guarantee and the Guarantor does not include Secured W&C Instruments), the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount (as defined below), when and as the same shall become due and payable or when the same shall become due for delivery, as the case may be, pursuant to the Conditions and to the extent provided in the MLBV Guarantee. The Secured W&C Instruments will not have the benefit of the MLBV Guarantee. In respect of Physical Delivery W&C Instruments, the Guarantor is only obliged to pay an amount in cash equal to the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount instead of delivering any Entitlement if the Issuer fails to satisfy its payment or delivery obligations under the Physical Delivery W&C Instruments (if any). The "Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount" in respect of each W&C Instrument, other than any Secured W&C Instruments, means an amount calculated pursuant to the terms of, or as specified in, the applicable Final Terms (or, in respect of each Credit Linked W&C Instruments, as set out in Condition 5 (Physical Settlement) of "Annex 9B - Additional Terms and Conditions for Credit Linked W&C Instruments") or, if not specified in the applicable Final Terms, an amount equal to the fair market value of the Entitlement in respect of such W&C Instrument on any date notified as such by the Guarantor to the Issuer and the Calculation Agent, less Associated Costs, all as determined by the Guarantor acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Any payment by the Guarantor of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of the Entitlement shall constitute a complete discharge of the Guarantor's obligations in respect of such Physical Delivery W&C Instruments.

4. Definitions

For the purposes of these Terms and Conditions, the following general definitions will apply:

"Actual Exercise Date" means the Exercise Date (in the case of European Style Warrants or Certificates), or, subject to Condition 25(F)(a)(ii), the date during the Exercise Period on which the Warrant is actually or is deemed exercised (in the case of American Style Warrants (as more fully set out in Condition 24(A)(a)).

"Affiliate" means in relation to any entity (the "First Entity"), any entity controlled, directly or indirectly, by the First Entity, any entity that controls, directly or indirectly, the First Entity or any entity directly or indirectly under common control with the First Entity. For these purposes "control" means ownership of a majority of the voting power of an entity.

"Aggregate Notional Amount" has the meaning given to it in the applicable Final Terms.

"Associated Costs" means, in respect of each W&C Instrument, an amount per W&C Instrument equal to such W&C Instrument's pro rata share of the total amount of any and all costs associated or incurred by the Issuer and/or its Affiliates including, without limitation, any costs associated with unwinding any funding relating to the W&C Instruments and any costs associated with unwinding any hedge positions in relation to the W&C Instruments, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.

"Business Day" means:

(A) a day (other than a Saturday or Sunday) on which:

- (i) commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for business (including dealings in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in London and each relevant Business Day Centre(s), specified in the applicable Final Terms, provided that if the Business Day Centre(s) is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be or to include "T2", then Business Day shall also be a day on which the real time gross settlement system operated by the Eurosystem or any successor system (the "T2") is open for the settlement of payments in euro; and
- (ii) each relevant Clearing System is open for business; and
- (iii) either (1) in relation to a sum payable other than in euro or CNY, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Settlement Currency (if other than London and any Business Centre(s) and which if the Settlement Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars shall be Sydney or Auckland, respectively) or (2) in relation to any sum payable in euro, a day on which the T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro, or (3) in relation to any sum payable in CNY, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region.

"Cash Settlement Amount" means, in relation to a Cash Settled W&C Instrument, the amount (which may never be less than zero) which the Holder is entitled to receive on the Settlement Date in the Settlement Currency in relation to each such W&C Instrument, or, in the case of Warrants, if Units are specified in the applicable Final Terms, each Unit, as the case may be, as determined by the Calculation Agent pursuant to the provisions set out in the applicable Final Terms. The Cash Settlement Amount will be rounded to the nearest two decimal places (or, in the case of Japanese Yen, the nearest whole unit) in the relevant Settlement Currency, with 0.005 (or, in the case of Japanese Yen, half a unit) being rounded upwards, and with W&C Instruments exercised at the same time by the same Holder being aggregated for the purpose of determining the aggregate Cash Settlement Amounts payable in respect of such W&C Instruments.

"Clearing System" means Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Clearstream, Luxembourg" means Clearstream Banking, S.A.

"Definitive Registered Certificates" means an individual certificate (as defined in Condition 29 (Form of Certificates)).

"Definitive Registered Warrants" means an individual warrant certificate (as defined in Condition 22 (Form of Warrants)).

"Definitive W&C Instruments" means the Definitive Registered Certificates and the Definitive Registered Warrants.

"Entitlement" means, in relation to a Physical Delivery W&C Instrument (other than a Credit Linked W&C Instrument), or, in the case of Warrants, if Units are specified in the applicable Final Terms, each Unit, as the case may be, the quantity of the Relevant Asset or the Relevant Assets, as the case may be, which a Holder is entitled to receive on the Settlement Date in respect of each such W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, following payment of the Expenses, and, in the case of Warrants, the Exercise Price, which quantity will be rounded down as provided in Condition 24(C) or 31(A), as determined by the Calculation Agent and includes any documents evidencing such Entitlement.

"ESMA" means the European Securities and Markets Authority.

"EU Benchmarks Regulation" means Regulation (EU) 2016/2011, as amended.

"Euroclear" means Euroclear Bank SA/NV.

"Euroclear/CBL Global W&C Instruments" means the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificates and the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrants, each a "Euroclear/CBL Global W&C Instrument".

"Exercise Price" means the price specified as the Exercise Price in the applicable Final Terms.

"FATCA Provisions" means Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code (or any successor provisions), any regulation, pronouncement, or agreement thereunder, official interpretations thereof, or any law implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto, whether currently in effect or as published and amended from time to time, and any intergovernmental agreement entered into in connection with the implementation of such provisions of the Code.

"Final Value" means, in respect of an Underlying, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Underlying Closing Value of such Underlying on the Valuation Date (or where a "Final Valuation Date" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Underlying Closing Value of such Underlying on the Final Valuation Date), subject to adjustment in accordance with the applicable Conditions applicable to the Underlying.

"Global W&C Instrument" means (a) in the case of an issue of Warrants, the Global Warrant (as defined in Condition 22 (Form of Warrants)) representing such Warrants and (b) in the case of an issue of Certificates, the Global Certificate (as defined in Condition 29 (Form of Certificates))) representing such Certificates.

"Initial Value" means, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms,

- (a) in respect of an Index, the Initial Level of the Index as defined in and subject to the Index Linked Conditions;
- (b) in respect of a Share or an ADR/GDR, the Initial Price of the Share or ADR/GDR (as applicable) as defined in and subject to the Share Linked Conditions;
- (c) in respect of a Fund Share, the Initial Price of the Fund Share as defined in and subject to the Fund Linked Conditions.

"London Business Day" means a day (other than a Saturday or a Sunday) on which banks and foreign exchange markets are open for general business in London.

"Mandatory Early Exercise Cash Settlement Amount" means, in respect of a Mandatory Early Exercise Date, such amount specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Mandatory Early Exercise Cash Settlement Date" means, in respect of a Mandatory Early Exercise Date, such date specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Mandatory Early Exercise Date" means each Mandatory Early Exercise Date specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Mandatory Early Exercise Event" means each Mandatory Early Exercise Event specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Notional Amount" has the meaning given to it in the applicable Final Terms.

"Performance" means, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, in respect of an Underlying and any relevant date, an amount (expressed as a percentage) determined by the Calculation Agent as being equal to (a) the Underlying Closing Value of such Underlying on such date, divided by (b) the Initial Value of such Underlying.

"Register" means the register held by the Registrar in respect of Registered W&C Instruments.

"Regulation S" means Regulation S under the Securities Act.

"Relevant Assets" means the assets comprising the Entitlement, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Settlement Business Day" means any day on which the relevant Clearing System is (or, but for the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event, would have been) open for the acceptance and execution of settlement instructions.

"Settlement Date" has the meaning given in the applicable Final Terms.

"Underlying" means each Reference Item specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Underlying Closing Value" means, unless specified in the applicable Final Terms,

- (a) in respect of an Index and any relevant date, the Index Closing Level of the Index as defined in and subject to the Index Linked Conditions on such date;
- (b) in respect of a Share or an ADR/GDR and any relevant date, the Share Closing Price of the Share or ADR/GDR (as applicable) as defined in and subject to the Share Linked Conditions on such date;
- (c) in respect of a Fund Share and any relevant date, the Fund Share Closing Price of the Fund Share as defined in and subject to the Fund Linked Conditions on such date.

"Underlying Intraday Value" means, unless specified in the applicable Final Terms,

- (a) in respect of an Index, the Index Level of the Index as defined in and subject to the Index Linked Conditions;
- (b) in respect of a Share or an ADR/GDR, the Share Price of the Share or ADR/GDR (as applicable) as defined in and subject to the Share Linked Conditions;
- (c) in respect of a Fund Share, the Fund Share Price of the Fund Share as defined in and subject to the Fund Linked Conditions.

"Unit" has meaning given in the applicable Final Terms.

"United States" means the United States of America (including the states and the District of Columbia), its territories and possessions.

"U.S. person" has the meaning ascribed to it by Regulation S under the Securities Act.

"Worst Performing Underlying" means unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, in respect of a basket of Underlyings and any relevant date, the Underlying with the lowest Performance on such date, as determined by the Calculation Agent (provided that if two or more Underlyings have the same lowest Performance on such date, the Calculation Agent shall determine which Underlying shall be the Worst Performing Underlying for such date, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, and such Underlying shall be the Worst Performing Underlying for such date).

5. General provisions relating to Physical Settlement in respect of W&C Instruments (other than Credit Linked W&C Instruments and Rule 144A W&C Instruments)

The provisions of Conditions 5(A), 5(B) and 5(C) apply to W&C Instruments other than Credit Linked W&C Instruments.

(A) Settlement Disruption

If, following the exercise of Physical Delivery W&C Instruments, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, delivery of the Entitlement using the method of delivery specified in the applicable Final Terms is not practicable by reason of a Settlement Disruption Event (as defined below) having occurred and continuing on any Settlement Date, then such Settlement Date for such W&C Instruments shall be postponed to the first following Settlement Business Day in respect of which there is no such Settlement Disruption

Event, provided that the Issuer may elect in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner to satisfy its obligations in respect of the relevant W&C Instruments or Unit, as the case may be, by delivering the Entitlement using such other commercially reasonable manner as it may select and in such event the Settlement Date shall be such day as the Issuer deems appropriate in connection with delivery of the Entitlement in such other commercially reasonable manner. For the avoidance of doubt, where a Settlement Disruption Event affects some but not all of the Relevant Assets comprising the Entitlement, the Settlement Date for the Relevant Assets not affected by the Settlement Disruption Event will be the originally designated Settlement Date. In the case of Warrants, in the event that a Settlement Disruption Event will result in the delivery on a Settlement Date of some but not all of the Relevant Assets comprising the Entitlement, the Calculation Agent shall determine in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the appropriate pro rata portion of the Exercise Price to be paid by the relevant Holder in respect of that partial settlement. For so long as delivery of the Entitlement is not practicable by reason of a Settlement Disruption Event, then in lieu of physical settlement and notwithstanding any other provision hereof, the Issuer may elect in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner to satisfy and discharge its obligations in respect of the relevant W&C Instruments or Unit, as the case may be, by payment to the relevant Holder of the Disruption Cash Settlement Price (as defined below) not later than on the third Business Day following the date that notice of such election is given to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices). The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices) that a Settlement Disruption Event has occurred provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such Settlement Disruption Event. No Holder shall be entitled to any payment in respect of the relevant W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, in the event of any delay in the delivery of the Entitlement due to the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event and no liability in respect thereof shall attach to the Issuer or the Guarantor.

For the purposes hereof:

"Disruption Cash Settlement Price" in respect of any relevant W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, shall be the fair market value of such W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, (taking into account, where the Settlement Disruption Event affected some but not all of the Relevant Assets comprising the Entitlement and such non-affected Relevant Assets have been duly delivered as provided above, the value of such duly delivered Relevant Assets), less Associated Costs, plus, in the case of Warrants and if already paid, the Exercise Price (or, whereas provided above some Relevant Assets have been delivered, and a pro rata portion thereof has been paid, such pro rata portion), all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner; and

"Settlement Disruption Event" means, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, an event beyond the control of the Issuer as a result of which the Issuer cannot make delivery of the Relevant Asset(s) using the method specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(B) Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity

If "Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms and, following the exercise of Physical Delivery W&C Instruments, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, it is impossible or impracticable to deliver, when due, some or all of the Relevant Assets (the "Affected Relevant Assets") comprising the Entitlement, where such failure to deliver is due to illiquidity in the market for the Relevant Assets (a "Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity"), then:

- (a) subject as provided elsewhere in the Conditions, any Relevant Assets which are not Affected Relevant Assets, will be delivered on the originally designated Settlement Date and, in the case of Warrants, the Calculation Agent shall determine in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the appropriate pro rata portion of the Exercise Price to be paid by the relevant Holder in respect of that partial settlement; and

- (b) in respect of any Affected Relevant Assets, in lieu of physical settlement and notwithstanding any other provision hereof, the Issuer may elect in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner to satisfy its obligations in respect of the relevant W&C Instruments or Unit, as the case may be, by payment to the relevant Holder of the Failure to Deliver Settlement Price (as defined below) on the fifth Business Day following the date that notice of such election is given to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices). The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices) that the provisions of this Condition 5(B) apply.

For the purposes hereof:

"Failure to Deliver Settlement Price" means, in respect of any relevant W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, the fair market value of such W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be (taking into account, the Relevant Assets comprising the Entitlement which have been duly delivered as provided above), less Associated Costs, plus, in the case of Warrants and if already paid, the Exercise Price (or, whereas provided above some Relevant Assets have been delivered, and a pro rata portion thereof has been paid, such pro rata portion), all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.

(C) Issuer's Option to Vary Settlement

If the applicable Final Terms indicate that the Issuer has an option to vary settlement in respect of the W&C Instruments, upon a valid exercise of W&C Instruments in accordance with these Terms and Conditions, the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) may, in respect of each such W&C Instrument or Unit elect not to pay the relevant Holders the Cash Settlement Amount or not to deliver or procure delivery of the Entitlement, as the case may be, to the relevant Holders but, in lieu thereof to deliver or procure delivery of the Adjusted Entitlement or pay an amount in cash equal to the Adjusted Cash Settlement Amount on the Settlement Date to the relevant Holders. Notification of such election will be given to Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices) no later than 10.00 a.m. (London time) on the second Business Day following the Actual Exercise Date.

For the purposes hereof:

"Adjusted Entitlement" means, in respect of any relevant W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, the quantity of the Relevant Asset or the Relevant Assets which, prior to any rounding, has a fair market value equal to the Cash Settlement Amount as determined by the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner on or around the date notified to Holders by the Issuer in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices). If the Issuer elects to deliver or procure delivery of the Adjusted Entitlement, then the Adjusted Entitlement shall be deemed to be the Entitlement for the purposes of the Conditions and shall be subject to rounding in accordance with Condition 24(C) or 31(A).

"Adjusted Cash Settlement Amount" means, in respect of any relevant W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, the fair market value of the Entitlement as determined by the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner on or around the date notified to Holders by the Issuer in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices).

6. General provisions relating to Settlement

(A) General Provisions

None of the Issuer, (if applicable) the Guarantor, the Calculation Agent, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and the Registrar shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation of any Cash Settlement Amount or of any Entitlement.

Exercise of the W&C Instruments is subject to all applicable laws, regulations and practices in force on the relevant Exercise Date and none of the Issuer, (if applicable) the Guarantor or any of its Affiliates, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and the Registrar shall incur any liability whatsoever if it is unable to effect the transactions contemplated, after using all reasonable efforts, as a result of any such laws, regulations or practices. None of the Issuer, (if applicable) the Guarantor or any of its Affiliates, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and the Registrar shall under any circumstances be liable for any acts or defaults of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg in relation to the performance of their duties in relation to the W&C Instruments.

The purchase of W&C Instruments does not confer on any holder of such W&C Instruments any rights (whether in respect of voting, distributions or otherwise) attaching to any Relevant Asset.

(B) Payment Day

If the date scheduled for payment of any amount in respect of any W&C Instrument is not a Payment Day, the Holder thereof shall not be entitled to payment until (i) if "Following" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the next following Payment Day or (ii) if "Modified Following" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the next following Payment Day unless that Payment Day falls in the next calendar month, in which case the first preceding Payment Day, in the relevant place and shall not be entitled to further interest or other payment in respect of such delay or amendment. For these purposes, "Payment Day" means any day (other than a Saturday or Sunday) on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchanges and foreign currency deposits) in:

- (a) the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Settlement Currency (or (A) in the case of an amount payable in euro, a day on which the T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro or (B) in the case of an amount payable in CNY, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the CNY Settlement Centre);
- (b) each Additional Financial Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms, provided that if the Additional Financial Centre is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be or to include "T2", then Payment Day shall also be a day on which the T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro; and
- (c) London.

(C) Payment Disruption

(a) Occurrence of a Payment Disruption Event or a CNY Payment Disruption Event

If the applicable Final Terms specify "Payment Disruption Event" or "CNY Payment Disruption Event" to be applicable, in the event that the Calculation Agent, at any time and from time to time, determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner that a Payment Disruption Event or a CNY Payment Disruption Event, as the case may be, has occurred, then the Calculation Agent shall as soon as practicable notify the Holders of the relevant W&C Instruments of the occurrence of such Payment Disruption Event or CNY Payment Disruption Event, as the case may be, in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices).

(b) Consequences of a Payment Disruption Event

Once a Payment Disruption Event has occurred:

- (i) Postponement of relevant dates

The Issuer may postpone the Exercise Date, the Settlement Date or any other date on which the W&C Instruments may be exercised or redeemed or any amount that would otherwise be due and payable (such date, the "Affected Payment Date") in respect of the relevant W&C Instruments, until the earlier of (i) five Business Days (or such other number of Business Days as may be determined by the Issuer and notified to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices)) after the date on which the Payment Disruption Event is no longer occurring and (ii) five Business Days following the Payment Event Cut-Off Date (the "Postponed Date"). Holders shall not be entitled to any other payment in respect of such postponement.

In the event that a Payment Disruption Event is still continuing on the Payment Event Cut-Off Date, then the Issuer may make payments in accordance with Condition 6(C)(b)(ii).

(ii) Issuer's option to vary settlement

Notwithstanding the Issuer's right to postpone the date(s) for payments and/or redemption in accordance with Condition 6(C)(b)(i), the Issuer may, if practicable (and to the extent lawful), and acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner:

- (A) make payments due to be made in the Subject Currency in the Base Currency or in U.S. dollars or euros, converted from the Subject Currency into the Base Currency, U.S. dollars or euros, as applicable, at a rate reasonably selected by the Calculation Agent;
- (B) make payments due to be made in the Base Currency in the Subject Currency or in U.S. dollars or euros, disregarding any obligation to convert amounts into the Base Currency;
- (C) if the Base Currency is not available, as determined by the Issuer acting in good faith and in a reasonable manner, the Issuer shall make payments of the relevant Additional Amount, Cash Settlement Amount or other amount payable in U.S. dollars at a rate reasonably selected by the Calculation Agent in full and final settlement of its obligations to pay such amounts in respect of the W&C Instruments;
- (D) in the case of Share Linked W&C Instruments or Index Linked W&C Instruments (where "Physical Settlement" is specified as applicable to the Index Linked Conditions in the relevant Final Terms), deliver the Shares or Fund Shares, respectively in lieu of cash settlement; or
- (E) in the case of Share Linked W&C Instruments or Index Linked W&C Instruments (where "Physical Settlement" is specified as applicable to the Index Linked Conditions in the relevant Final Terms) which reference a basket of Shares or Indices, respectively, elect to satisfy in part its obligation to pay the amounts as may be due and payable under the relevant W&C Instruments by making partial payment(s) or partial deliveries, as the case may be (the "Partial Distributions"). Any Partial Distribution made by the Issuer to the Holders will be calculated and/or determined by the Calculation Agent acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner and shall be paid and/or delivered to the Holders pro rata (as far as possible, subject to any necessary adjustments for rounding) to the proportion of the W&C Instruments of the same Series held by the relevant Holder. In the event that any Partial Distribution is made by the Issuer, the Calculation Agent may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, make any such corresponding adjustment to any variable relevant to the redemption or payment terms of the relevant W&C Instruments as it deems necessary and shall notify the relevant Holders thereof in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices).

Any payments or deliveries made in accordance with this Condition 6(C)(b)(ii) shall satisfy and discharge in full (in the case of payments or deliveries made in accordance with paragraphs (A) to (D)) and in part (in the case of Partial Distributions made in accordance with paragraph (E)) the Issuer's obligation to pay the Cash Settlement Amount or other amount in respect of which the Payment Disruption Event has arisen, and no further amounts shall be due and payable by the Issuer in respect thereof.

(c) Consequences of a CNY Payment Disruption Event

Once a CNY Payment Disruption Event has occurred:

(i) Postponement of relevant dates

If "Date Postponement" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, then Condition 6(C)(b)(i) shall apply, provided that the reference therein to "Payment Disruption Event" shall be construed as a reference to "CNY Payment Disruption Event".

(ii) Payment of Equivalent Amount

If "Payment of Equivalent Amount" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, and the Calculation Agent determines that a CNY Payment Disruption Event has occurred in relation to the Issuer's obligations under the relevant W&C Instruments to pay any Additional Amount, Cash Settlement Amount or other amount in respect of the relevant W&C Instruments on the relevant Additional Amount Payment Date, Settlement Date or such other date on which any amount in respect of the relevant W&C Instruments shall be due and payable (such date, the "Affected Payment Date"), then the Issuer may, on giving notice to Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices) as soon as practicable and in any event prior to the date on which the payment of the Equivalent Amount is due and payable to the Holders, make payment of the Equivalent Amount of the relevant Additional Amount, Cash Settlement Amount or such other amount payable (if applicable) in full and final settlement of its obligations to pay such Additional Amount, Settlement Amount or other amount in respect of the relevant W&C Instruments.

Notwithstanding the foregoing:

- (A) if both "Payment of Equivalent Amount" and "Date Postponement" are specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, and if the Issuer decides to exercise its right of postponement pursuant to Condition 6(C)(c)(i) and payment of the Equivalent Amount pursuant to this Condition 6(C)(c)(ii), the Equivalent Amount in respect of the relevant Additional Amount, Cash Settlement Amount or other amount (if applicable) in respect of the relevant W&C Instruments shall be due and payable on the Postponed Date instead of the Affected Payment Date;
- (B) if (x) only the "Payment of Equivalent Amount" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, or (y) both "Payment of Equivalent Amount" and "Date Postponement" are specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms and the Issuer decides only to exercise the right of payment of the Equivalent Amount pursuant to this Condition 6(C)(c)(ii) but not its right of postponement pursuant to Condition 6(C)(c)(i), then no Postponed Date shall apply and the Equivalent Amount in respect of the relevant Additional Amount, Cash Settlement Amount or other amount (if applicable) in respect of the relevant W&C Instruments shall be due and payable on the Affected Payment Date; and

- (C) in the event of Date Postponement, Holders shall not be entitled to further Additional Amounts or other payment in respect of such postponement.

For the purposes of this Condition 6(C):

"Base Currency" has the meaning given to it in "Annex 5 – Additional Terms and Conditions for FX Linked Instruments", or if no currency is specified, U.S. Dollars;

"CNY" means Chinese Renminbi, the lawful currency of the People's Republic of China (including any lawful successor currency to the CNY);

"CNY Payment Disruption Event" means the occurrence of any of the following events:

- (a) an event that makes it impossible or impractical for the Issuer to convert any amounts in CNY due in respect of the W&C Instruments in the general CNY foreign exchange market in the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s), other than where such impossibility or impracticality is due solely to the failure of the Issuer to comply with any law, rule or regulation enacted by any Governmental Authority (unless such law, rule or regulation is enacted after the relevant Trade Date, and it is impossible or impractical for the Issuer, due to an event beyond its control, to comply with such law, rule or regulation) (a "CNY Inconvertibility Event");
- (b) an event that makes it impossible or impractical for the Issuer to deliver CNY (i) between accounts inside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s), (ii) from an account inside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s) to an account outside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s) (including, if applicable, to another CNY Settlement Centre), or (iii) from an account outside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s) to an account inside the relevant CNY Settlement Centre(s), other than where such impossibility or impracticality is due solely to the failure of the Issuer to comply with any law, rule or regulation enacted by any Governmental Authority (unless such law, rule or regulation is enacted after the Trade Date and it is impossible or impractical for the Issuer, due to an event beyond its control, to comply with such law, rule or regulation) (a "CNY Non-Transferability Event"); and
- (c) the general CNY foreign exchange market in the relevant CNY Settlement Centre becomes illiquid as a result of which the Issuer cannot obtain sufficient CNY in order to satisfy its payment obligations (in whole or in part) under the W&C Instruments (a "CNY Non-Availability Event");

"CNY Settlement Centre" means the financial centre(s) specified as such in the applicable Final Terms;

"Equivalent Amount" means, in respect of the relevant Additional Amount, Cash Settlement Amount or other amount payable (if applicable) on the relevant Affected Payment Date (for these purposes, the "Relevant Amount"), an amount in the Base Currency (or, if the Base Currency is not available, as determined by the Issuer acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, in U.S.

Dollars) determined by the Calculation Agent by converting the Relevant Amount into the Base Currency using the Equivalent Amount Settlement Rate for the relevant Affected Payment Date;

"Equivalent Amount Settlement Rate" means, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, in respect of any relevant day, the spot exchange rate on such day between CNY and the Base Currency, determined by the Calculation Agent, taking into account all available information which the Calculation Agent deems relevant (including, but not limited to, pricing information obtained from the CNY non-deliverable market outside the People's Republic of China and/or the CNY foreign exchange market in the People's Republic of China);

"Governmental Authority" means any de facto or de jure government (or any agency or instrumentality thereof), court, tribunal, administrative or other governmental authority or any other entity (private or public) charged with the regulation of the financial markets (including the central bank) of the People's Republic of China, the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region and any other CNY Settlement Centre;

"impractical" or "impracticality" means, in respect of any action to be taken by the Issuer, that the Issuer and/or its Affiliates would incur a materially increased amount of taxes, duties, expenses or fees (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) to perform such action, or the Issuer and/or any Affiliates would be in breach of any law, rule, regulation, guideline or internal policy of the Issuer and/or its Affiliates, if such action were to be performed;

"Payment Disruption Event" means:

- (a) the occurrence of either (a) an Inconvertibility Event and/or (b) a Non-Transferability Event (each as defined in "Annex 5 – Additional Terms and Conditions for FX Linked Instruments");
- (b) the imposition by the Subject Currency Jurisdiction (or any political or regulatory authority thereof) of any capital controls, or the publication of any notice of an intention to do so, which the Calculation Agent determines in good faith is likely materially to affect the W&C Instruments, and notice thereof is given by the Issuer to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices); or
- (c) the implementation by the Subject Currency Jurisdiction (or any political or regulatory authority thereof) or the publication of any notice of an intention to implement any changes to the laws or regulations relating to foreign investment in the Subject Currency Jurisdiction (including, but not limited to, changes in tax laws and/or laws relating to capital markets and corporate ownership), which the Calculation Agent determines are likely to affect materially the Issuer's ability to hedge its obligations under the W&C Instruments;

"Payment Event Cut-Off Date" means the date which is ten calendar days after the Affected Payment Date;

"Subject Currency" has the meaning given to it in "Annex 5 – Additional Terms and Conditions for FX Linked Instruments", or if not otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Settlement Currency; and

"Subject Currency Jurisdiction" has the meaning given to it in "Annex 5 – Additional Terms and Conditions for FX Linked Instruments".

(D) Early Settlement Amount

The "Early Settlement Amount" means the amount which shall be determined by the Calculation Agent and specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms, or if no such amount or manner is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Early Settlement Amount in respect of each W&C Instrument or each Unit, as the case may be, shall be the amount determined in accordance with (i) or (ii) below, as applicable:

- (i) in the case of a W&C Instrument other than described in sub-paragraph (ii) below, an amount determined by the Calculation Agent on or around the second Business Day immediately preceding the due date for the early settlement of such W&C Instrument, which represents the fair market value of such W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be (taking into account all factors which the Calculation Agent determines to be relevant) less Associated Costs, plus, in the case of Warrants and if already paid by or on behalf of the Holder, the Exercise Price, as determined by the Calculation Agent acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner; or
- (ii) in the case of a W&C Instrument in respect of which the applicable Final Terms specify that the "LEPW Conditions" shall be applicable, an amount determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the definition of "Early Settlement Amount (LEPW)" set out in Annex 3.

7. Currency Substitution Event

In the event that the Calculation Agent, in its discretion, determines that any Relevant Governmental Authority (as defined below) of a country, bloc of countries or other applicable sovereign entity or entities (each, an "Applicable Jurisdiction") announces or in any event effects (whether pursuant to legislation enacted for such purpose in the Applicable Jurisdiction, in accordance with or in breach of applicable international treaties, or in any other manner) or (based on any publicly available information which the Calculation Agent reasonably considers relevant) there is a substantial likelihood that it will effect within the next 90 days, the replacement of the lawful currency (the "Initial Currency") of an Applicable Jurisdiction with a substitute currency ("Substitute Currency") (for the avoidance of doubt, including circumstances in which a country (a "Departing Country") within a bloc of countries in a currency union passes legislation (or a Relevant Governmental Authority thereof announces that it will pass legislation or otherwise seeks) to effect or does effect the withdrawal of such Departing Country from the currency bloc and the replacement of the currency of the currency union with another currency as the official currency of the Departing Country), or where a relevant Clearing System withdraws (or announces its intention to withdraw) acceptance of the Settlement Currency for settlement and payments under the W&C Instruments (any such event being a "Currency Substitution Event"), and:

- (a) the calculation of amounts to be paid or assets to be delivered under any W&C Instrument is linked to one or more Reference Items, and the currency by which the Reference Item(s) and/or any component(s) thereof is priced, quoted or traded is (or, in the Issuer's reasonable opinion is likely to be), as a result of the Currency Substitution Event, redenominated from the Initial Currency into the Substitute Currency; and/or
- (b) the calculation of amounts to be paid or assets to be delivered under any W&C Instrument is linked to one or more floating rates of interest based on or related to amounts denominated in the Initial Currency; and/or
- (c) the Hedging Arrangements (as defined below) in respect of any W&C Instrument have been materially adversely affected by (A) the Currency Substitution Event and/or (B) capital controls or other restrictions imposed by a Relevant Governmental Authority of the Applicable Jurisdiction, and the Hedging Party (as defined below) is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to alter or modify the Hedging Arrangements and/or establish alternate Hedging Arrangements to fully account for the material adverse effect of (A) and/or (B) above; and/or
- (d) such event would materially disrupt or impair the Issuer's ability to meet its payment or delivery obligations under the W&C Instruments; and/or

- (e) in the event that the currency in which the Issuer would otherwise be obliged to make any payments of principal, interest or other amounts payable on any W&C Instrument is not available to the Issuer for making payment or payments, then, unless otherwise set out in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer may take the action described in (x) or (y) below:

- (x) require the Calculation Agent to make such adjustments, in its discretion, as shall be notified to each Holder of the relevant W&C Instruments, to the exercise, settlement, valuation, calculation, payment (including the Specified Currency and/or Settlement Currency) and/or any other Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instrument as the Issuer determines appropriate to (i) (in all cases other than (c) above) preserve the economic terms of such W&C Instruments as of the Issue Date, including, without limitation, making any currency conversion necessary as part of any such adjustment based on the relevant official conversion rate or at an appropriate market rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent to be prevailing as of any relevant time and date, or (ii) (in the case of (c) above) account for the material adverse effect on the Hedging Arrangements and in order to effect a commercially reasonable result; or
- (y) cancel such W&C Instruments on such day as shall be notified to the relevant Holders and pay an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount (taking into account the Currency Substitution Event and its consequences as described above, as determined by the Calculation Agent acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) to the Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument.

For the avoidance of doubt, the circumstances and consequences described in this Condition 7 (Currency Substitution Event) and any resulting or alternative adjustments to the exercise, settlement, valuation, calculation, payment and/or any other Terms and Conditions of the applicable W&C Instrument will not entitle any Holder of such W&C Instruments (A) to any legal remedy, including, without limitation, rescission, repudiation, or renegotiation of the W&C Instrument, or (B) to raise any defence or make any claim (including, without limitation, claims of breach, force majeure, frustration of purpose, or impracticability) or any other claim for compensation, damages, or any other relief.

For the purposes of this Condition 7 (Currency Substitution Event):

"Hedging Arrangements" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (a) positions or contracts in securities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange or (b) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) in order to hedge individually or on a portfolio basis the Issuer's obligations under any W&C Instrument.

"Hedging Party" means, the Issuer or any of its affiliate(s) or any entity (or entities) acting on the Issuer's behalf engaged in any underlying or hedging transactions relating to any W&C Instrument and/or underlying market measure(s) in respect of the Issuer's obligations under the W&C Instrument.

"Relevant Governmental Authority" means, in relation to any Applicable Jurisdiction, any de facto or de jure government (or any agency or instrumentality thereof), court, tribunal, administrative or other governmental authority or any other entity (private or public) charged with the regulation of the financial markets (including the central bank) of such Applicable Jurisdiction.

8. Cancellation for Tax Reasons and Tax Compliance Reasons

(A) Cancellation for Tax Reasons

The Issuer may cancel the W&C Instruments, in whole, but not in part, at any time at their Early Settlement Amount (as defined in Condition 6(D) (Early Settlement Amount) above) if the Issuer shall determine that any payment or deemed payment as determined for United States tax purposes with respect to the W&C Instruments or with respect to a direct or indirect hedging arrangement entered into by the Issuer or any of its Affiliates relating to the W&C Instruments may be treated as a dividend or "dividend equivalent" for United States tax purposes (such event being a "U.S. Withholding Tax Event").

(B) Cancellation for Tax Compliance Reasons

The Issuer may, at its option, cancel the W&C Instruments, in whole or in part, at any time, at their Early Settlement Amount, if the Issuer determines in good faith that it has, or there is a substantial likelihood that it will, become subject to withholding imposed on a payment made to it on account of the Issuer's inability to comply with the reporting requirements imposed by the FATCA Provisions, provided that such inability to comply with the reporting requirements is attributable to non-compliance by any Holder of such W&C Instruments (or a foreign withholding agent (if any) in the chain of custody of payments made to the Holders) with the Issuer's requests for certifications or identifying information (such cancellation, a "Cancellation for Tax Compliance Reasons"). Upon a Cancellation for Tax Compliance Reasons, W&C Instruments held by compliant Holders, in addition to those held by non-compliant Holders, may be cancelled.

Notice of intention to cancel W&C Instruments will be given in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices) not less than 30 calendar days nor more than 60 calendar days prior to the date fixed for cancellation. Payment will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices).

9. Illegality

In the event that the Issuer determines in good faith that (i) the performance of the Issuer's obligations under the W&C Instruments or that any arrangements made to hedge the Issuer's obligations under the W&C Instruments or (ii) the performance by the Guarantor of any of its obligations under the MLBV Guarantee in respect of the W&C Instruments (except for Secured W&C Instruments to which the MLBV Guarantee does not apply), has or will become, in whole or in part, unlawful, illegal or otherwise contrary to any present or future law, rule, regulation, judgment, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative, judicial or regulatory authority or powers, or any change in the interpretation thereof that is applicable to the Issuer and/or (if applicable) the Guarantor, the Issuer may, at its discretion, cancel the W&C Instruments by giving notice to Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices).

Should any one or more of the provisions contained in these Terms and Conditions be or become invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected thereby.

If the Issuer cancels the W&C Instruments then the Issuer will, if and to the extent permitted by applicable law, pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or each Unit, as the case may be, held by such Holder, which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount (notwithstanding such illegality). Payment will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices).

10. Repurchases

The Issuer, (if applicable) the Guarantor or any of their Affiliates may purchase W&C Instruments at any time and from time to time outstanding W&C Instruments by tender in the open market or by private agreement. Such W&C Instruments may be held, reissued, resold or at the option of the Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor, surrendered to any W&C Instrument Agent for cancellation.

11. Agents, Determinations, Modifications and Meeting Provisions

(A) Principal W&C Instrument Agent and Registrar

The names of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and the Registrar and their initial specified offices are as set out in the applicable Final Terms.

The Issuer and (if applicable) the Guarantor are entitled to vary or terminate the appointment of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or the Registrar and/or to appoint additional or other W&C Instrument agents or Registrars and/or approve any change in the specified office through which the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, Registrar or any other W&C Instrument agent acts, provided that:

- (i) at all times there will be a Principal W&C Instrument Agent and a Registrar (which, in the case of the Registrar, shall be an entity with a specified office outside of the United Kingdom);
- (ii) so long as any W&C Instruments are listed on any stock exchange or admitted to listing by any other relevant authority, there will at all times be an W&C Instrument Agent, which may be the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, with a specified office in such place as may be required by the rules and regulations of the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority;
- (iii) there will at all times be an W&C Instrument agent (which may be the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) in a jurisdiction within Europe other than any jurisdiction in which the Issuer is incorporated;
- (iv) so long as any of the W&C Instruments are represented by a Rule 144A Global W&C Instrument held through DTC, there shall be a U.S. Instrument Agent; and
- (v) there shall at all times be a Calculation Agent.

Notice of any variation or termination of appointment and of any changes in the specified office of any W&C Instrument Agent or the Registrar will be given to Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices) provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such variation, termination or changes.

In acting under the English Law Agency Agreement, each W&C Instrument Agent and the Registrar acts solely as agent of the Issuer and (if applicable) the Guarantor and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders and any determinations and calculations by the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or Registrar in respect of the W&C Instruments shall (save in the case of manifest or proven error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Issuer, (if applicable) the Guarantor and the Holders.

(B) Calculation Agent

In relation to each issue of W&C Instruments, the Calculation Agent (whether it be Merrill Lynch International, BofA Securities Europe SA or another entity) acts solely as agent of the Issuer and (if applicable) the Guarantor and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders.

The Calculation Agent may, with the consent of the Issuer, delegate any of its obligations and functions to a suitably competent third party of good standing as it deems appropriate.

(C) Determinations by the Issuer and the Calculation Agent in respect of W&C Instruments

All calculations, determinations and other exercises of discretion made in respect of the W&C Instruments by the Calculation Agent and the Issuer shall be made in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.

All calculations, determinations and other exercises of discretion made in respect of the W&C Instruments by the Calculation Agent shall (save in the case of negligence, wilful default or bad faith, manifest error or proven error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and the Holders. The Calculation Agent shall promptly notify the Issuer and the Principal W&C Instrument Agent upon any such calculations and determinations, and (in the absence of negligence, wilful default or bad faith) no liability to the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or the Holders shall attach to the Calculation Agent in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by it of its powers, duties and discretions pursuant to such provisions.

(D) Modifications and Meetings Provisions

The English Law Agency Agreement contains provisions for convening meetings of the Holders to consider any matter affecting their interests, including the sanctioning by Extraordinary Resolution of a modification of the Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments or any of the provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement. Such a meeting may be convened by the Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor and shall be convened by the Issuer if required in writing by the Holders holding not less than 33 per cent. (by number or by aggregate Notional Amount, as applicable) of the W&C Instruments of the relevant Series for the time being remaining unexercised. The quorum at any such meeting for passing an Extraordinary Resolution is one or more persons present and holding or representing in the aggregate not less than 50 per cent. (by number or by percentage of aggregate Notional Amount, as applicable) of the W&C Instruments of the relevant Series for the time being unexercised, or at any adjourned meeting one or more persons present whatever the number or aggregate Notional Amount, as applicable, of the W&C Instruments so held or represented by them, except that at any meeting the business of which includes the modification of certain provisions of the Terms and Conditions of the W&C Instruments (including modifying the Exercise Date, reducing or cancelling the Cash Settlement Amount or the Entitlement or the additional amount payable (if applicable) or altering the Cash Settlement Currency), the quorum shall be one or more persons present and holding or representing not less than two-thirds (by number or by aggregate Notional Amount, as applicable) of the W&C Instruments of the relevant Series for the time being unexercised, or at any adjourned such meeting one or more persons present and holding or representing not less than one-third (by number or by aggregate Notional Amount, as applicable) of the W&C Instruments of the relevant Series for the time being unexercised. An Extraordinary Resolution passed at any meeting of the Holders shall be binding on all Holders, whether or not they are present at the meeting.

An Extraordinary Resolution may also be effected in writing signed or electronically approved using the systems or procedures in place from time to time at a relevant Clearing System by or on behalf of all the Holders.

Modification of W&C Instruments

The Principal W&C Instrument Agent and the Issuer may agree, without the consent of the Holders, to any modification (except as mentioned above) of the W&C Instruments which is, in the opinion of the Issuer:

- (a) not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Holders; or
- (b) of a formal, minor or technical nature; or
- (c) made to correct a manifest or proven error or omission; or
- (d) to comply with mandatory provisions of the law.

Any such modification shall be binding on the Holders and any such modification shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices) as soon as practicable thereafter.

Modification of English Law Agency Agreement

The English Law Agency Agreement may be amended by the parties thereto without the consent of the Holders if, in the opinion of the Issuer, the modification is:

- (a) not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Holders; or
- (b) of a formal, minor or technical nature; or
- (c) made to correct a manifest or proven error or omission; or

- (d) made to comply with mandatory provisions of the law.

Any such modification shall be binding on the Holders and any such modification shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices) as soon as practicable thereafter.

12. Notices

- (a) In the case of W&C Instruments represented by a Global W&C Instrument, all notices to Holders shall be valid: (i) if delivered to each relevant Clearing System, for communication by them to the Holders; (ii) if and so long as the W&C Instruments are admitted to trading on, and listed on any stock exchange or are admitted to trading by another relevant authority, if delivered in accordance with the rules and regulations of the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority; and (iii) as otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms.

If the W&C Instruments are admitted to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF and listed on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange require, notices shall be published in a leading newspaper having general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be the Luxemburger Wort) and/or on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.luxse.com).

- (b) In the case of Definitive W&C Instruments, notices to the Holders will be deemed to be validly given if posted to the Holders of such Definitive W&C Instruments at their respective addresses in the Register.
- (c) Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given: (i) in the case of W&C Instruments admitted to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF and listed on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, on the date of first publication, or where required to be published in more than one newspaper, on the date of the first publication in all required newspapers; (ii) in the case of W&C Instruments which are held through a Clearing System, on the day on which such notice is delivered to the relevant Clearing System; (iii) in the case of W&C Instruments which are not held through a Clearing System, on the second Business Day following such publication; (iv) or in the case of Definitive W&C Instruments, if sent by post, on the fourth weekday (being a day other than Saturday or Sunday) after the date of mailing.

13. Expenses and Taxation

- (a) A Holder of W&C Instruments must pay all taxes, duties and/or expenses, including any applicable depositary charges, transaction or exercise charges, stamp duty, stamp duty reserve tax, issue, registration, securities transfer and/or other taxes or duties arising from the exercise and settlement of such W&C Instruments and/or, if applicable, the delivery of the Entitlement pursuant to the terms of such W&C Instruments (together "Expenses").
- (b) The Issuer shall not be liable for or otherwise obliged to pay any tax, duty, withholding or other payment which may arise as a result of the ownership, transfer, exercise or enforcement of any W&C Instrument by any person and all payments made by the Issuer shall be made subject to any such tax, duty, withholding or other payment which may be required to be made, paid, withheld or deducted.

14. Further Issues

The Issuer shall be at liberty from time to time without the consent of Holders to create and issue further W&C Instruments of any Series or Tranche, and for the avoidance of doubt, references in the Conditions of such W&C Instruments to "Issue Date" shall be to the issue date of the first Tranche of any Series of W&C Instruments so as to be consolidated with and form a single Series with the outstanding Series of W&C Instruments.

15. Substitution of the Issuer, Consolidation and Merger

(A) Substitution of the Issuer

The Issuer, or any previous substituted company or other entity, may, at any time, without the consent of the Holders, substitute for itself as principal obligor under the W&C Instruments any company or other entity (the "Substitute") being the Guarantor or any of its other subsidiaries, subject to:

- (i) (except in the case where the Substitute is the Guarantor), the W&C Instruments (other than the Secured W&C Instruments) being guaranteed by the Guarantor on the same terms, mutatis mutandis, as the W&C Instruments (other than the Secured W&C Instruments);
- (ii) all actions, conditions and things required to be taken, fulfilled and done (including the obtaining of any necessary consents) to ensure that the W&C Instruments represent legal, valid and binding obligations of the Substitute having been taken, fulfilled and done and are in full force and effect;
- (iii) the Substitute shall have become party to the English Law Agency Agreement, with any appropriate consequential amendments, as if it had been an original party to it from the date of substitution;
- (iv) the Substitute and the Issuer shall have obtained legal opinions from independent legal advisers of recognised standing in the country of incorporation or other form of organisation of the Substitute, and (if the Guarantor is not the Substitute and other than in respect of Secured W&C Instruments) the States of Delaware and New York and England, that the obligations of the Substitute and (if the Guarantor is not the Substitute and other than in respect of Secured W&C Instruments) the Guarantor are legal, valid and binding obligations, that all consents and approvals as aforesaid have been obtained;
- (v) the Issuer shall have given at least 30 calendar days' prior notice of the date of such substitution to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices);
- (vi) each stock exchange or market on which the W&C Instruments are listed or admitted to trading shall have confirmed that, following the proposed substitution by the Substitute, the W&C Instruments will continue to be listed or admitted to trading on such stock exchange(s) or such market(s), as the case may be; and
- (vii) if appropriate, the Substitute shall have appointed a process agent as its agent in England to receive service of process on its behalf in relation to any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the W&C Instruments.

(B) Consolidation or Merger

The Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor may not consolidate with, or sell or convey all or substantially all of its assets to, or merge with or into any other entity, other than in the case of the Guarantor, a sale or conveyance of all or substantially all of its assets to one or more Subsidiaries (as defined below), unless (a) in the case of the Issuer, either the Issuer shall be the continuing company, or the successor entity (if other than the Issuer) shall expressly assume the due and punctual payment of all amounts or delivery of all assets, as the case may be, payable or deliverable, as applicable, with respect to the W&C Instruments, according to their tenor, and the due and punctual performance and observance of all of the obligations under the Conditions to be performed by the Issuer by an amendment to the English Law Agency Agreement executed by, inter alios, such successor entity, the Guarantor and the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, and (b) in the case of the Guarantor and, with respect to W&C Instruments other than Secured W&C Instruments, the Guarantor shall be the continuing company, or the successor entity (if other than the Guarantor) shall be organised and existing under the laws of the United States or a state thereof or the District of Columbia and such successor entity shall expressly assume (i) the due and punctual payment of all amounts payable with respect to the MLBV Guarantee by the execution of a new guarantee of like tenor. In case of any such consolidation, merger, sale or conveyance and upon any such assumption by the successor entity, such successor entity shall succeed to and be substituted for the Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor, as the case may be, with the same effect as if it had been named herein as the Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor, as the case may be, and the Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor, as the case may be, except in the event of a conveyance by way of lease, shall be relieved of any further obligations under the Conditions, the English Law Agency Agreement and (if applicable) the MLBV Guarantee, as applicable.

"Subsidiary" means any entity of which more than 50% of the voting power of the outstanding ownership interests (excluding ownership interests entitled to voting power only by reason of the happening of a contingency) shall at the time be owned, directly or indirectly, by the Guarantor, or one or more Subsidiaries, or by the Guarantor and one or more Subsidiaries. For this purpose, "voting power" means power to vote in an ordinary election of directors (or, in the case of an entity that is not a corporation, ordinarily to appoint or approve the appointment of entities holding similar positions).

(C) Transfer Upon Insolvency

Nothing in this Condition 15 (Substitution of the Issuer, Consolidation and Merger) shall prohibit the transfer of the MLBV Guarantee or any interest or obligation of the Guarantor in or under the MLBV Guarantee to another entity as transferee as part of the resolution, restructuring, or reorganisation of the Guarantor upon or following the Guarantor becoming subject to a receivership, insolvency, liquidation, resolution, or similar proceeding.

16. Governing Law and Submission to Jurisdiction

(A) Governing law

The W&C Instruments, Global W&C Instruments, Definitive W&C Instruments, the English Law Agency Agreement and the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant and any non-contractual obligations arising out of the W&C Instruments, Global W&C Instruments, Definitive W&C Instruments, the English Law Agency Agreement and the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant (including without limitation any dispute, controversy, proceedings or claim of whatever nature (whether contractual, non-contractual or otherwise) arising out of or in any way relating to the W&C Instruments, Global W&C Instruments, Definitive W&C Instruments, the English Law Agency Agreement and the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant or their respective formation) shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law.

The MLBV Guarantee is governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, United States, applicable to agreements made and to be performed wholly within such jurisdiction without regard to principles of conflicts of laws.

(B) Submission to jurisdiction

In relation to any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the W&C Instruments and the Global W&C Instruments ("Proceedings"), (other than in respect of the Security Agreements and relevant Charged Documents relating to any Secured Instruments as specified therein), the courts of England have exclusive jurisdiction and the Issuer and the Holders submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts. The Issuer and the Holders waive any objection to Proceedings in the English courts on the grounds of venue or that the Proceedings have been brought in an inconvenient forum.

For greater certainty, the Guarantor has not submitted to the jurisdiction of the English courts in the MLBV Guarantee, and claims under the MLBV Guarantee are required to be instituted in the courts of the State of New York or the courts of the United States of America located in the Borough of Manhattan in the City and State of New York, United States.

(C) Express Acknowledgement of the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes

In the event the Issuer, the Guarantor or, in respect of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, becomes subject to a proceeding under the U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Act or Title II of the U.S. Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (each, a "U.S. Special Resolution Regime"), the transfer of the Instruments and/or the MLBV Guarantee (together, the "Relevant Obligations"), and the transfer of any interest and obligation in or under, and any property securing, the Relevant Obligations, from the Issuer, the Guarantor or, in respect of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, respectively, will be effective to the same extent as the transfer would be effective under such U.S. Special Resolution Regime if the Relevant Obligations, and any interest and obligation in or under, and any property securing, the Relevant Obligations, were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States. In the event the Issuer, the Guarantor or, in respect of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, or any of their affiliates (as such term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k)) becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, default rights against the Issuer, the Guarantor or, in respect of Secured Instruments, the Secured Instruments Collateral Provider, with respect to the Relevant Obligations are permitted to be exercised to no greater extent than such default rights could be exercised under such U.S. Special Resolution Regime if the Relevant Obligations were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States. For purposes of this paragraph, "default right" has the meaning assigned to that term in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 252.81, 12 C.F.R. § 382.1 and 12 C.F.R. § 47.1, as applicable.

(D) Appointment of Process Agent

The Issuer hereby appoints Bank of America, National Association, London Branch currently at 2 King Edward Street, London EC1A 1HQ (Att: General Counsel EMEA) as its agent in England to receive service of process in any Proceedings in England. If for any reason such process agent ceases to act as such or no longer has an address in England, the Issuer agrees to appoint a substitute process agent and to notify the Holders of such appointment. Nothing herein shall affect the right to serve process in any other manner permitted by law.

17. Adjustments for European Economic and Monetary Union

The Issuer may, without the consent of the Holders, on giving notice to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices):

- (a) elect that, with effect from the Adjustment Date specified in the notice, certain terms of the W&C Instruments shall be redenominated in euro.

The election will have effect as follows:

- (i) where the Settlement Currency of the W&C Instruments is the National Currency Unit of a country which is participating in the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union, such Settlement Currency shall be deemed to be an amount of euro converted from the original Settlement Currency into euro at the Established Rate, subject to such provisions (if any) as to rounding as the Calculation Agent may decide and as may be specified in the notice, and after the Adjustment Date, all payments of the Cash Settlement Amount in respect of the W&C Instruments will be made solely in euro as though references in the W&C Instruments to the Settlement Currency were to euro;
- (ii) where the Exchange Rate and/or any other terms of these Terms and Conditions are expressed in or, in the case of the Exchange Rate, contemplate the exchange from or into, the currency (the "Original Currency") of a country which is participating in the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union, such Exchange Rate and/or any other terms of these Terms and Conditions shall be deemed to be expressed in or, in the case of the Exchange Rate, converted for or, as the case may be into, euro at the Established Rate; and

- (iii) such other changes shall be made to these Terms and Conditions as the Issuer may decide, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, to conform them to conventions then applicable to instruments expressed in euro; and/or
- (b) require that the Calculation Agent make such adjustments to the Multiplier and/or, in the case of Warrants, the Exercise Price and/or any other terms of these Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may determine to be appropriate to account for the effect of the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union on the Multiplier and/or, in the case of Warrants, the Exercise Price and/or such other terms of these Terms and Conditions.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, none of the Issuer, any of its Affiliates or agents, the Calculation Agent, any W&C Instrument Agent and the Registrar shall be liable to any Holder or other person for any commissions, costs, losses or expenses in relation to or resulting from the transfer of euro or any currency conversion or rounding effected in connection therewith.

In this Condition, the following expressions have the following meanings:

"Adjustment Date" means a date specified by the Issuer in the notice given to the Holders pursuant to this Condition which falls on or after the date on which the country of the Original Currency first participates in the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union pursuant to the Treaty;

"Established Rate" means the rate for the conversion of the Original Currency (including compliance with rules relating to rounding in accordance with applicable European Community regulations) into euro established by the Council of the European Union pursuant to first sentence of Article 1091(4) of the Treaty;

"euro" means the lawful single currency of the member states of the European Union that have adopted and continue to retain a common single currency through monetary union in accordance with European Union treaty law (as amended from time to time);

"National Currency Unit" means the unit of the currency of a country, as those units are defined on the date on which the country of the Original Currency first participates in European Economic and Monetary Union; and

"Treaty" means the treaty establishing the European Community, as amended from time to time.

18. Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999

The W&C Instruments do not confer on any third party any rights under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 (the "Act") to enforce any term of the W&C Instruments, but this does not affect any right or remedy of a third party which exists or is available apart from the Act.

19. Determination of Rate Reference Items

If so specified in the applicable Final Terms, amounts payable or any determination required to be made in respect of a Series of W&C Instruments may be determined directly or indirectly by reference to EURIBOR, BBSW, the Federal Funds (Effective) Rate, the Federal Funds Open Rate, the Federal Funds Target Rate, KRW CD 91 Rate, TORF, the KRW CMT Rate, Yen TIBOR, the EUR EURIBOR ICE Swap Rate®, the GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate®, the USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate®, the Parameta Solutions Swap Rate Index for an applicable Specified Currency and Specified Maturity, the Tokyo Swap Rate (for swaps referencing TONA) or

20. Terms applicable to Warrants only

Conditions 21 (Definitions (Warrants)), 22 (Form of Warrants), 23 (Style and Title (Warrants)), 24 (Exercise Rights (Warrants)), 25 (Exercise Procedure (Warrants)) and 26 (Additional Amounts) apply to Warrants only.

21. Definitions (Warrants)

For the purposes of the Warrants:

"Exercise Business Day" means a day that is a Business Day and, in the case of an Index Linked Warrant or Share Linked Warrant, a Scheduled Trading Day.

"Exercise Period" has the meaning given in the applicable Final Terms.

"Expiration Date" means the last Exercise Business Day of the Exercise Period.

"Index Linked Warrant" means a Warrant relating to a specified index or a basket of indices.

"In-The-Money" means:

- (a) in the case of a Cash Settled Warrant, the Cash Settlement Amount in respect of such Warrant is greater than zero; and
- (b) in the case of a Physical Delivery Warrant, the value of the Entitlement on the Actual Exercise Date for such Warrant is greater than the Exercise Price as determined by the Calculation Agent.

"Physical Delivery Warrant" means a Warrant redeemed by physical delivery; and

"Share Linked Warrant" means a Warrant relating to a specified share or a basket of shares.

22. Form of Warrants

If the Warrants are to be issued into and transferred through accounts at Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, and are not eligible for sale in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, such Series of Warrants will on issue be constituted by a global registered warrant (the "Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant"), which will be deposited with, and registered in the name of the nominee of, the Common Depositary.

The Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrants are referred to herein as the "Global Warrants" and each a "Global Warrant".

Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrants will be exchangeable in whole, but not in part, for individual warrant certificates:

- (a) on the expiry of such period of notice as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms; or

- (b) at any time, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms; or
- (c) if the Issuer has been notified that both Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 calendar days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or have announced an intention permanently to cease business or have in fact done so and, in any such case, no successor clearing system is available; or
- (d) if the Issuer or the Guarantor has or will become subject to adverse tax consequences which would not be suffered were the Warrants held in definitive form.

Whenever the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant is to be exchanged for individual warrant certificates, such individual warrant certificates shall be issued in equal number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) to the number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Warrants represented by the Global Warrant within five Business Days of the delivery, by or on behalf of the registered holder of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent of such information as is required to complete and deliver such individual warrant certificates (including, without limitation, the names and addresses of the persons in whose names the individual warrant certificates are to be registered and the principal amount of each such person's holding) against the surrender of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent.

Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement and the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of Warrants scheduled thereto and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any Holder, but against such indemnity as the Principal W&C Instrument Agent may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

If:

- (a) individual warrant certificates have not been delivered by 5.00 p.m. (London time) on the thirtieth calendar day after they are due to be issued and delivered in accordance with the terms of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant; or
- (b) the date for final settlement of the Warrants has occurred and payment in full of all amounts due has not been made to the Holder of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant on the due date for payment in accordance with the terms of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant, then the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant (including the obligation to deliver individual warrant certificates) will become void at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such thirtieth calendar day (in the case of (a) above) or at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such due date (in the case of (b) above) and the holder of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant will have no further rights thereunder (but without prejudice to the rights which the holder of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant or others may have under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant). Under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant, each Holder is entitled to exercise or enforce in respect of each Warrant held by him, the rights and obligations attaching to the relevant Warrant as set out in, and subject to, the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant, the Conditions and the applicable Final Terms issued in respect of such Warrants.

23. Style and Title (Warrants)

(A) Style

The applicable Final Terms will indicate whether the Warrants are American style Warrants ("American Style Warrants") or European style Warrants ("European Style Warrants") or such other type as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms and whether automatic exercise ("Automatic Exercise") applies to the Warrants or such other type as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms and whether the Warrants may only be exercised in Units. If Units are specified in the applicable Final Terms, Warrants must be exercised in Units and any Exercise Notice which purports to exercise Warrants in breach of this provision shall be void and of no effect.

(B) Definitive Registered Warrants

(i) Transfers of Definitive Registered Warrants

Transfers of Definitive Registered Warrants are effected upon (i) the surrender (at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) of the individual warrant certificates representing such Definitive Registered Certificates to be transferred, together with the form of transfer (which shall be available at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) endorsed on such individual warrant certificate (or another form of transfer substantially in the same form and containing the same representations and certifications (if any), unless otherwise agreed by the Issuer), duly completed and executed and any other evidence as the Principal W&C Instrument Agent may reasonably require, (ii) the recording of such transfer in the Register and (iii) the issuance of a new individual warrant certificate to the transferee.

(ii) Part Transfer of Definitive Registered Warrants

In the case of a transfer of part only of a holding of a Definitive Registered Warrant represented by one individual warrant certificate, a new individual warrant certificate shall be issued to the transferee in respect of the part transferred and a further new individual certificate in respect of the balance of the holding not transferred shall be issued to the transferor.

(C) Delivery of New Individual Warrant Certificates

Each new individual warrant certificate to be issued pursuant to this Condition 23 (Style and Title (Warrants)) shall be available for delivery within three Business Days of receipt of the form of transfer and surrender of the individual warrant certificate for exchange. Delivery of the new individual warrant certificate(s) shall be made at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, to whom delivery or surrender of such request for exchange, form of transfer, or individual warrant certificate shall have been made or, at the option of the Holder making such delivery or surrender as aforesaid and as specified in the relevant request for exchange, form of transfer or otherwise in writing, be mailed by uninsured post at the risk of the Holder entitled to the new individual warrant certificate to such address as may be so specified, unless such Holder requests otherwise and pays in advance to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, the costs of such other method of delivery and/or such insurance as it may specify.

(D) Closed Periods in respect of Definitive Registered Warrants

No Holder may require the transfer of a Definitive Registered Warrant to be registered:

- (i) during the period of 15 calendar days before any date on which Warrants may be called for automatic exercise by the Issuer at its option pursuant to Condition 24(D) (Issuer Call Option);
- (ii) after any such Warrant has been called for automatic exercise, cancellation or settlement; or
- (iii) during the period of seven calendar days ending on (and including) any Record Date and/or Additional Amount Payment Record Date.

(E) Exchange Free of Charge

Exchange and transfer of Warrants on registration, transfer, automatic exercise, settlement, cancellation or exercise of an option (as applicable) shall be effected without charge by or on behalf of the Issuer or the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, as applicable, but upon payment of any tax or other governmental charges that may be imposed in relation to it (or the giving of such indemnity as the Principal W&C Instrument Agent may require).

24. Exercise Rights (Warrants)

(A) Exercise Period

(a) American Style Warrants

American Style Warrants are exercisable on any Exercise Business Day during the Exercise Period.

If Automatic Exercise is not specified in the applicable Final Terms, in the case of Warrants represented by a Global Warrant, any such American Style Warrant with respect to which no Exercise Notice (as defined below) has been delivered in the manner set out in Condition 25 (Exercise Procedure (Warrants)), at or prior to 10.00 a.m., Brussels or Luxembourg time, as the case may be, on the Expiration Date, shall become void.

If Automatic Exercise is specified in the applicable Final Terms, in the case of Warrants represented by a Global Warrant, any such American Style Warrant with respect to which no Exercise Notice has been delivered in the manner set out in Condition 25 (Exercise Procedure (Warrants)), at or prior to 10.00 a.m., Brussels or Luxembourg time, as the case may be, on the Expiration Date and which is in the determination of the Calculation Agent "In-The-Money" shall be automatically exercised on the Expiration Date, but payment or delivery of the Entitlement is subject to the delivery of a duly completed Exercise Notice as set forth in Condition 25(E) (Exercise Procedure (Warrants) – Automatic Exercise). In such event, the provisions of Condition 25(E) (Exercise Procedure (Warrants) – Automatic Exercise) shall apply.

In the case of Warrants represented by a Global Warrant, the Exercise Business Day during the Exercise Period on which an Exercise Notice is delivered prior to 10.00 a.m., Brussels or Luxembourg time (as appropriate), to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, and, a copy thereof is delivered to Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA, as the case may be, and the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, in each case as provided in Condition 25 (Exercise Procedure (Warrants)), or, if Automatic Exercise is specified in the applicable Final Terms and the Warrants are automatically exercised on the Expiration Date as provided above, the Expiration Date, is referred to herein as the "Actual Exercise Date". If any such Exercise Notice is received by Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, or if a copy thereof is delivered to Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA, as the case may be, and the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, in each case, after 10.00 a.m., Brussels or Luxembourg time (as appropriate), on any Exercise Business Day during the Exercise Period, such Exercise Notice will be deemed to have been delivered on the next Exercise Business Day, which Exercise Business Day shall be deemed to be the Actual Exercise Date, provided that any such Warrant in respect of which no Exercise Notice has been delivered in the manner set out in Condition 25 (Exercise Procedure (Warrants)) at or prior to 10.00 a.m. Brussels or Luxembourg (as appropriate) on the Expiration Date shall (i) if Automatic Exercise is not specified in the applicable Final Terms, become void or (ii) if Automatic Exercise is specified in the applicable Final Terms, be automatically exercised or expire on the Expiration Date as provided above and in Condition 25(E) (Exercise Procedure (Warrants) – Automatic Exercise).

The expressions "exercise", "due exercise" and related expressions shall be construed to apply to any Warrants which are automatically exercised on the Expiration Date in accordance with this provision.

(b) European Style Warrants other than Credit Linked Warrants

European Style Warrants are only exercisable on the Exercise Date.

In the case of Warrants represented by a Global Warrant, if Automatic Exercise is not specified in the applicable Final Terms, any European Style Warrant with respect to which no Exercise Notice has been delivered in the manner set out in Condition 25 (Exercise Procedure (Warrants)), at or prior to 10.00 a.m., Brussels or Luxembourg time (as appropriate) on the Actual Exercise Date, shall become void. If Automatic Exercise is specified in the applicable Final Terms, any such European Style Warrant with respect to which no Exercise Notice has been delivered in the manner set out in Condition 25 (Exercise Procedure (Warrants)), at or prior to 10.00 a.m., Brussels or Luxembourg time, as the case may be, on the Actual Exercise Date and which is in the determination of the Calculation Agent "In-The-Money", shall be automatically exercised on the Actual Exercise Date and the provisions of Condition 25(E) (Exercise Procedure (Warrants) – Automatic Exercise) shall apply.

The expressions "exercise", "due exercise" and related expressions shall be construed to apply to any Warrants which are automatically exercised on the Actual Exercise Date in accordance with this provision.

(c) Credit Linked Warrants

Credit Linked Warrants shall be automatically exercised on the Long Exercise Date or the Short Exercise Date (as the case may be) in accordance with Credit Linked W&C Instruments Condition 3.

(B) Cash Settlement

In the case of Warrants which are Cash Settled Warrants, each such Warrant or, if Units are specified in the applicable Final Terms, each Unit, entitles its holder, upon due exercise, to receive from the Issuer on the Settlement Date the Cash Settlement Amount.

(C) Physical Settlement

If the Warrants are Physical Delivery Warrants (except for Rule 144A Warrants), each such Warrant or, if Units are specified in the applicable Final Terms, each Unit, as the case may be, entitles its holder, upon due exercise, and, subject to certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership, to receive from the Issuer on the Settlement Date the Entitlement or, in the case of Credit Linked Warrants, Delivery of the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement, subject to payment of the relevant Exercise Price, if any, and any other Expenses or sums payable. The method of delivery of the Entitlement is set out in the applicable Final Terms.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, Warrants or Units, as the case may be, exercised at the same time by the same Holder will be aggregated for the purpose of determining the aggregate Entitlements in respect of such Warrants or Units, as the case may be, provided that the aggregate Entitlements in respect of the same Holder will be rounded down to the nearest whole unit of the Relevant Asset or each of the Relevant Assets, as the case may be, in such manner as the Calculation Agent shall determine. Therefore, fractions of the Relevant Asset or of each of the Relevant Assets, as the case may be, will not be delivered and in lieu thereof a cash adjustment calculated by the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, shall be paid to the Holder.

Following exercise of a Share Linked Warrant or an Index Linked Warrant which is a Physical Delivery Warrant, all dividends on the relevant Shares or Fund Shares (as the case may be) to be delivered will be payable to the party that would receive such dividend according to market practice for a sale of the Shares or Fund Shares (as the case may be) executed on the relevant Actual Exercise Date and to be delivered in the same manner as such relevant Shares or Fund Shares (as the case may be). Any such dividends to be paid to a Holder will be paid to the account specified by the Holder in the relevant Exercise Notice as referred to in Condition 25(A)(a)(2)(v).

Following exercise of a Bond Linked Warrant which is a Physical Delivery Warrant, all interest or other distributions on the relevant Bonds to be delivered will be payable to the party that would receive such interest or distribution according to market practice for a sale of the Bonds executed on the relevant Actual Exercise Date and to be delivered in the same manner as such relevant Bonds. Any such interest or distributions to be paid to a Holder will be paid to the account specified by the Holder in the relevant Exercise Notice as referred to in Condition 25(A)(a)(2)(v).

All references in this Condition to "Brussels or Luxembourg time" shall, where W&C Instruments are cleared through an additional or alternative clearing system, be deemed to refer as appropriate to the time in the city where the relevant Clearing System is located.

The Guarantor will only pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in respect of any Physical Delivery W&C Instruments and any payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering any Entitlement shall constitute a complete discharge of the Guarantor's obligations in respect of such Physical Delivery W&C Instruments.

(D) Issuer Call Option

If Issuer Call Option is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer, having given not less than 10 nor more than 60 calendar days' notice (or such other Issuer Call Option Notice Period as is set out in the applicable Final Terms) to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices) (which notice shall be irrevocable), may elect that all (but not less than all) of the Warrants will be automatically exercised on the Call Option Date. If Call Option Cash Settlement is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms (a) if the Warrants are not Cash Settled Warrants, the Warrants shall be deemed to be Cash Settled Warrants and (b) the Cash Settlement Amount shall be the Call Option Cash Settlement Amount specified in the applicable Final Terms. Upon payment of the Cash Settlement Amount together with Additional Amounts (if any), no further payments shall be payable in respect of the Warrants.

If the Warrants are automatically exercised on the Call Option Date, (i) the Call Option Date shall be deemed to be the Expiration Date (in the case of American Style Warrants) or the Exercise Date (in the case of European Style Warrants), (ii) the provisions of Condition 25(E) (Exercise Procedure (Warrants) – Automatic Exercise) shall apply, (iii) the provisions of Conditions 25(C) shall apply and, (iv) the expressions "exercise", "due exercise" and related expressions shall be construed to apply to any Warrants which are automatically exercised on the Call Option Date in accordance with this provision.

(E) Mandatory Early Exercise

If Mandatory Early Exercise is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms and a Mandatory Early Exercise Event occurs, then all (but not less than all) of the Warrants will be automatically exercised on the relevant Mandatory Early Exercise Date. If Mandatory Early Exercise Cash Settlement is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms (a) if the Warrants are not Cash Settled Warrants, the Warrants shall be deemed to be Cash Settled Warrants and (b) the Cash Settlement Amount shall be the Mandatory Early Exercise Cash Settlement Amount specified in the applicable Final Terms, which shall be payable on the Mandatory Early Exercise Cash Settlement Date.

If the Warrants are automatically exercised on the Mandatory Early Exercise Date, (i) the Mandatory Early Exercise Date shall be deemed to be the Expiration Date (in the case of American Style Warrants) or the Exercise Date (in the case of European Style Warrants), (ii) the provisions of Condition 25(E) (Exercise Procedure (Warrants) – Automatic Exercise) shall apply, (iii) the provisions of Conditions 25(C) shall apply and (iv) the expressions "exercise", "due exercise" and related expressions shall be construed to apply to any Warrants which are automatically exercised on the Mandatory Early Exercise Date in accordance with this provision.

25. Exercise Procedure (Warrants)

(A) Exercise Notices

(a) Warrants represented by a Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant

Subject as provided in Condition 25(E) (Exercise Procedure (Warrants) – Automatic Exercise), Warrants represented by a Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant may only be exercised by the sending of an authenticated instruction by SWIFT message or by any other authorised communication channel, in accordance with Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg's rules and operating procedures (an "Exercise Notice") which includes the information set out in the English Law Agency Agreement (copies of which are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be in accordance with the provisions of Condition 24 (Exercise Rights (Warrants)) and this Condition. Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg will send copies of any Exercise Notices so received to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and the Principal W&C Instrument Agent will send such copies to Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA (as applicable).

(1) In the case of Cash Settled Warrants, the Exercise Notice shall, unless otherwise agreed:

- (i) specify the ISIN of the Warrants and the number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Warrants being exercised and, if Units are specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of Units being exercised;
- (ii) specify the number of the Holder's account at Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, to be debited with the Warrants being exercised;
- (iii) irrevocably instruct Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, to debit on or before the Settlement Date the Holder's account with the Warrants being exercised;
- (iv) specify the number of the Holder's account at Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, to be credited with the Cash Settlement Amount (if any) for each Warrant or Unit, as the case may be, being exercised and include an authorisation for Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg to disclose such number of the Holder's account to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent;
- (v) where appropriate, undertake to provide such various forms of certification in respect of selling restrictions under the securities, commodities and other laws of the United States as set out in the applicable Final Terms; and
- (vi) authorise the production of such Exercise Notice in applicable administrative or legal proceedings, all as provided in the English Law Agency Agreement.

(2) In the case of Physical Delivery Warrants, the Exercise Notice shall:

- (i) specify the ISIN of the Warrants and the number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Warrants being exercised and, if Units are specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of Units being exercised;
 - (ii) specify the number of the Holder's account at Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, to be debited with the Warrants being exercised;
 - (iii) irrevocably instruct Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, to debit on or before the Settlement Date the Holder's account with the Warrants being exercised;
 - (iv) irrevocably instruct Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, to debit on the Actual Exercise Date a specified account of the Holder with Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, with the aggregate Exercise Prices in respect of such Warrants or Units, as the case may be, (together with any other amounts payable);
 - (v) include such details as are required by the applicable Final Terms for delivery of the Entitlement which may include account details and/or the name and address of any person(s) into whose name evidence of the Entitlement is to be registered and/or any bank, broker or agent to whom documents evidencing the Entitlement are to be delivered and specify the name and the number of the Holder's account with Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, to be credited with any cash payable by the Issuer, either in respect of any cash amount constituting the Entitlement or any dividends or interest relating to the Entitlement or as a result of the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event and the Issuer electing to pay the Disruption Cash Settlement Price or the occurrence of a Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity and the Issuer electing to pay the Failure to Deliver Settlement Price as applicable, or in respect of any Partial Cash Settlement Amount;
 - (vi) in the case of FX Linked Warrants only, specify the number of the Holder's account at Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, to be credited with the amount due upon exercise of the Warrants;
 - (vii) certify, inter alia, that the beneficial owner of each Warrant being exercised is not a U.S. person, such Warrants were not held on behalf of a U.S. person and no cash, securities or other property has been or will be delivered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person in connection with such exercise and, where appropriate, undertake to provide such various forms of certification in respect of selling restrictions under the securities, commodities and other laws of the United States as set out in the applicable Final Terms; and
 - (viii) authorise the production of such Exercise Notice in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings,
- all as provided in the English Law Agency Agreement.
- (3) If Condition 5(C) applies, the information required to be provided in the Exercise Notice will be different from that set out above. Copies of such information required for this Exercise Notice may be obtained from Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg and the Principal W&C Instrument Agent.

- (4) If Automatic Exercise is specified in the Final Terms, an Exercise Notice is not required for Cash Settled Warrants provided that such Warrants are not Rule 144A Warrants.

(b) Irrevocable Election

Delivery of an Exercise Notice shall constitute an irrevocable election by the relevant Holder to exercise the Warrants specified. After the delivery of such Exercise Notice, such exercising Holder may not transfer such Warrants.

(B) Verification of the Holder

In the case of Warrants represented by a Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant, upon receipt of a valid Exercise Notice, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, shall verify that the person exercising the Warrants is the holder thereof according to the books of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be. Subject thereto, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, will confirm to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and, in the case of Warrants represented by a Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant, the Registrar, the ISIN and the amount of Warrants being exercised, the account number of the exercising Holder, a confirmation of the exercising Holder's certification (in the case of Physical Delivery Warrants) and the account details, if applicable, for the payment of the Cash Settlement Amount or, as the case may be, the details for the delivery of the Entitlement in respect of each Warrant or Unit, as the case may be, being exercised. Upon receipt of such confirmation, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent will inform the Issuer and, in the case of Warrants represented by a Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant, the Registrar. Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, will on or before the Settlement Date debit the account of the relevant Holder with the Warrants being exercised. If the Warrants are American Style Warrants, upon exercise of less than all the Warrants constituted by the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant, the Common Depositary will, on the instructions of, and on behalf of, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, note such exercise on the Schedule to such Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant and the number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Warrants so constituted shall be reduced by the cancellation pro tanto of the Warrants so exercised.

(C) Settlement

(a) Cash Settled Warrants

In the case of Warrants represented by a Global Warrant, the Issuer or, failing the Issuer and, with respect to Warrants other than Secured W&C Instruments, the Guarantor, through the relevant W&C Instrument Agent, shall on the Settlement Date pay or cause to be paid the Cash Settlement Amount (if any) for each duly exercised Warrant or Unit, as the case may be, to the Holder's account specified in the relevant Exercise Notice (or, if an Exercise Notice is not required, to the Holder's account specified in the Euroclear and/or Clearstream's records) for value on the Settlement Date less any Expenses not already paid.

Payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment.

(b) Physical Delivery Warrants

Subject to payment of the aggregate Exercise Prices, if any, and payment of any Expenses with regard to the relevant Warrants or Units, as the case may be, the Issuer shall on the Settlement Date deliver, or procure the delivery of, the Entitlement, or, in the case of Credit Linked Warrants, Deliver, or procure the Delivery of the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement, for each duly exercised Warrant or Unit, as the case may be, pursuant to the details specified in the Exercise Notice subject as provided in Condition 24(C).

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Entitlement will be evidenced by the delivery of the Entitlement to the securities account with such clearing system (the "Physical Delivery Clearing System") or in such other manner as shall have been specified by the Holder in the relevant Exercise Notice. The Issuer, Guarantor and Calculation Agent shall be under no obligation to register or procure the registration of a Holder in the register of members/holders of the Share Company or Fund (as the case may be).

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Entitlement will be delivered to such securities account with such Physical Delivery Clearing System or in such other manner as shall have been specified by the Holder in the relevant Exercise Notice, provided that, if, in the opinion of the Issuer, delivery of the Entitlement to the Holder in the manner specified by the Holder or through the Physical Delivery Clearing System specified by the Holder is not commercially reasonable, the Issuer shall deliver the Entitlement to the Holder through a clearing system which the Issuer determines to be commercially reasonable for such delivery and references to "Physical Delivery Clearing System" shall be deemed to be references to such clearing system selected by the Issuer. For the avoidance of doubt, the Issuer will be fully discharged of any and all obligations with respect to delivery of the Entitlement by making delivery in the manner specified by the Holder in the relevant Exercise Notice and the Guarantor will be fully discharged of any and all obligations under the applicable Guarantee by payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount.

- (c) Guarantor Payment of Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of Delivering any Entitlement

The Guarantor will only pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in respect of any Physical Delivery Warrants and any payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering the Entitlement shall constitute a complete discharge of the Guarantor's obligations in respect of such Physical Delivery Warrants

(D) Determinations

Any determination as to whether an Exercise Notice is duly completed and in proper form shall, in the case of Warrants represented by a Global Warrant, be made by the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or, in the case of Warrants represented by a Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, in consultation with the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and the relevant Holder. Subject as set out below, any Exercise Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form, or which is not sent to Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA, as the case may be, by the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, promptly after being delivered or sent to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, shall be null and void.

If such Exercise Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or, in the case of Warrants represented by a Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg in consultation with the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, it shall be deemed to be a new Exercise Notice submitted at the time such correction was delivered to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or, in the case of Warrants represented by a Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, with a copy to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA, as the case may be.

If Automatic Exercise is not specified in the applicable Final Terms, any Warrants with respect to which the Exercise Notice has not been duly completed and delivered in the manner set out above by the cut-off time specified in Condition 24(A)(a), in the case of American Style Warrants, or Condition 24(A)(b), in the case of European Style Warrants, shall become void.

Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, shall use its best efforts promptly to notify the Holder submitting an Exercise Notice if, in consultation with the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, it has determined that such Exercise Notice is incomplete or not in proper form. In the absence of negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg shall be liable to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in connection with such determination or the notification of such determination to a Holder.

(E) Automatic Exercise

This paragraph only applies to Warrants if (i) Automatic Exercise is specified in the applicable Final Terms and the Warrants are automatically exercised as provided in Condition 24(A)(a), Condition 24(A)(b) or Condition 24(A)(c) or (ii) the Warrants are automatically exercised pursuant to Condition 24(D).

Except as provided below in the last paragraph of this Condition 25(E), in order to receive the Cash Settlement Amount, if the Warrants are Cash Settled Warrants, or the Entitlement, if the Warrants are Physical Delivery Warrants, in respect of a Warrant, or if Units are specified in the applicable Final Terms, a Unit, as the case may be, the relevant Holder must in the case of Warrants represented by a Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Warrant send a duly completed Exercise Notice to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, on any Business Day until not later than 10.00 a.m., Brussels or Luxembourg time (as appropriate), on the day (the "Cut-Off Date") falling 180 calendar days after (i) the Expiration Date, in the case of American Style Warrants, (ii) the Actual Exercise Date, in the case of European Style Warrants other than Credit Linked Warrants and (iii) the Credit Cut-Off Date, in the case of Credit Linked Warrants. The Exercise Notice shall include the applicable information set out in the Exercise Notice referred to in Condition 25(A)(a). The Business Day during the period from the Expiration Date or the Actual Exercise Date, as the case may be, until the Cut-Off Date on which an Exercise Notice is delivered to Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, and a copy thereof delivered to Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA, as the case may be, by the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, is referred to in this Condition as the "Exercise Notice Delivery Date", provided that if the Exercise Notice is delivered to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, and a copy thereof delivered to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent at or after 10.00 a.m., Brussels, Luxembourg or London time (as appropriate) on a Business Day, the Exercise Notice Delivery Date shall be deemed to be the next succeeding Business Day.

Subject to the relevant Holder performing its obligations in respect of the relevant Warrant or Unit, as the case may be, in accordance with these Terms and Conditions, the Settlement Date for such Warrants or Units, as the case may be, shall be (i) in the case of Cash Settled Warrants, the fourth Business Day following the Exercise Notice Delivery Date and (ii) in the case of Physical Delivery Warrants and subject to Conditions 5(B) and 5(C), the fourth Settlement Business Day following the Exercise Notice Delivery Date. In the event that a Holder does not so deliver an Exercise Notice in accordance with this Condition prior to 10.00 a.m. Brussels, Luxembourg or London time (as appropriate) on the Cut-Off Date, such Warrants shall expire worthless, and the Issuer's obligations in respect of such Warrants and, with respect to Warrants other than Secured W&C Instruments, the Guarantor's obligations in respect of the MLBV Guarantee shall be discharged and no further liability in respect thereof shall attach to the Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, an Exercise Notice is not required in the case of Cash Settled Warrants if Automatic Exercise is specified in the applicable Final Terms in order to receive the Cash Settlement Amount, provided that the Warrants are not Rule 144A Warrants.

(F) Minimum and Maximum Number of Warrants Exercisable

(a) American Style Warrants

This paragraph (a) applies only to American Style Warrants:

- (i) The number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Warrants exercisable by any Holder on any Actual Exercise Date, as determined by the Issuer, must not be less than the Minimum Exercise Number or Notional Amount (as applicable) specified in the applicable Final Terms and, if specified in the applicable Final Terms, if a number greater than the Minimum Exercise Number or Notional Amount (as applicable), must be an integral multiple of the number specified in the applicable Final Terms. Any Exercise Notice which purports to exercise Warrants in breach of this provision shall be void and of no effect.
- (ii) If the Issuer determines that the number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Warrants being exercised on any Actual Exercise Date by any Holder or a group of Holders (whether or not acting in concert) exceeds the Maximum Exercise Number (a number equal to the Maximum Exercise Number being the "Quota"), the Issuer may deem the Actual Exercise Date for the first Quota of such Warrants, selected at the discretion of the Issuer, to be such day and the Actual Exercise Date for each additional Quota of such Warrants (and any remaining number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) thereof) to be each of the succeeding Exercise Business Days until all such Warrants have been attributed with an Actual Exercise Date, provided, however, that the deemed Actual Exercise Date for any such Warrants which would thereby fall after the Expiration Date shall fall on the Expiration Date. In any case where more than the Quota of Warrants are exercised on the same day by Holder(s), the order of settlement in respect of such Warrants shall be at the discretion of the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner).

(b) European Style Warrants

This paragraph (b) applies only to European Style Warrants:

The number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Warrants exercisable by any Holder on any Exercise Date as determined by the Issuer must not be less than the Minimum Exercise Number or Notional Amount (as applicable) specified in the applicable Final Terms and, if specified in the applicable Final Terms, if a number greater than the Minimum Exercise Number or Notional Amount (as applicable), must be an integral multiple of the number specified in the applicable Final Terms. Any Exercise Notice which purports to exercise Warrants in breach of this provision shall be void and be of no effect.

26. Additional Amounts

(A) Calculation of Additional Amounts

If so specified in the applicable Final Terms, each Warrant pays Additional Amounts from and including the Issue Date at the Additional Amount Rate payable in arrear on each Additional Amount Payment Date.

The Additional Amount payable in respect of each Warrant on each Additional Amount Payment Date will amount to the Additional Amount for the Additional Amount Period ending on (but excluding) such Additional Amount Payment Date.

If an Additional Amount is required to be calculated for a period ending other than on (but excluding) an Additional Amount Payment Date, it will be calculated on the basis of the number of calendar days from and including the most recent Additional Amount

Payment Date (or, if none, the Issue Date) to but excluding the relevant payment date and the Additional Amount Rate Day Count Fraction.

(B) Accrual of Additional Amounts

Each Warrant will cease to accrue Additional Amounts from and including the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date or, if earlier, the date on which the Warrants are cancelled (the "Cancellation Date"), if applicable, in accordance with these Terms and Conditions unless payment of the amount and/or delivery of any Entitlement due on the Settlement Date or Cancellation Date, as the case may be, is improperly withheld or refused or unless default is otherwise made in respect of the payment or delivery in which case Additional Amount(s) shall accrue from the date such amount or delivery of such Entitlement was due until such amount or delivery of such Entitlement is paid or delivered, as the case may be provided that:

- (a) if "Accrual of Additional Amounts upon Credit Event" is specified as not applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each Warrant shall cease to accrue Additional Amount from the Additional Amount Payment Date or, if applicable, the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date, immediately preceding the Event Determination Date, or if the Event Determination Date is an Additional Amount Payment Date or, if applicable, the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date, such date (or, in the case of the Event Determination Date falling on or after the Actual Exercise Date (which is an Additional Amount Payment Date), the Additional Amount Payment Date immediately preceding the Actual Exercise Date or, if applicable, the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date corresponding to such Additional Amount Payment Date) or, if the Event Determination Date falls prior to the first Additional Amount Payment Date or, if applicable, the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date, no Additional Amount shall accrue on the Warrants; or
- (b) if "Accrual of Additional Amounts upon Credit Event" is specified as being applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each Warrant shall cease to accrue Additional Amounts from the Event Determination Date.

For the avoidance of doubt, no Additional Amount on the Warrants shall accrue beyond the Exercise Date in the event that delivery of any Entitlement is postponed due to the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event.

(C) Payment of Additional Amounts

Where the Warrants pay Additional Amounts as specified in the applicable Final Terms, subject as provided below, the Issuer or failing the Issuer, the Guarantor shall pay or cause to be paid the Additional Amount for each Warrant in respect of each Additional Amount Payment Date by credit or transfer to the Holder's account with the relevant Clearing System for value on the relevant Additional Amount Payment Date, such payment to be made in accordance with the rules of the relevant Clearing System.

The Issuer or the Guarantor, as applicable, will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing System in respect of the amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of the relevant Clearing System as the holder of a particular amount of the Warrants must look solely to such Clearing System for his share of each such payment so made to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing System.

Payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment.

(D) Definitions

"30/360 (Floating)" or "30/360" or "360/360" or "Bond Basis" means the number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \left[\frac{360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1) + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360} \right]$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Additional Amount Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Additional Amount Period, unless such number would be 31 and D₁ is greater than 29, in which case D₂ will be 30.

"30E/360" or "Eurobond Basis" means the number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \left[\frac{360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1) + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360} \right]$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Additional Amount Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Additional Amount Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30.

"30E/360 (ISDA)" means the number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \left[\frac{360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1) + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360} \right]$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Additional Amount Period, unless (a) that day is the last day of February or (b) such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Additional Amount Period, unless (a) that day is the last day of February but not the Exercise Date or (b) such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30.

"Actual/360" means the actual number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 360.

"Actual/Actual (ISDA)" means the actual number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 365 (or, if any portion of that Additional Amount Period falls in a leap year, the sum of (a) the actual number of days in that portion of the Additional Amount Period falling in a leap year divided by 366; and (b) the actual number of days in that portion of the Additional Amount Period falling in a non-leap year divided by 365).

"Actual/365 (Fixed)" means the actual number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 365.

"Additional Amount" means, in respect of each Warrant and each Additional Amount Period, an amount (which shall never be less than zero) calculated by the Calculation Agent as follows:

Notional Amount per Warrant x Additional Amount Rate x Additional Amount Rate Day Count Fraction.

"Additional Amount Cut-Off Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Additional Amount Period" means the period commencing on (and including) the Issue Date to (but excluding) the first Additional Amount Payment Date (or if earlier the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date) and each period commencing on (and including) an Additional Amount Payment Date to (but excluding) the next following Additional Amount Payment Date (or if earlier the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date).

27. Terms applicable to Certificates only

Conditions 28 (Definitions (Certificates)), 29 (Form of Certificates), 30 (Type and Title (Certificates)), 31 (Exercise Rights (Certificates)), 32 (Collection Notices and Settlement (Certificates)) and 33 (Additional Amounts) apply to Certificates only.

28. Definitions (Certificates)

For the purposes of the Certificates:

"Global W&C Instrument" means, as the context so requires, a Global Certificate.

29. Form of Certificates

If the Certificates are to be issued into and transferred through accounts at Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg ("Euroclear/CBL Certificates"), such Series of Euroclear/CBL Certificates will on issue be constituted by a global certificate in registered form (the

"Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate"), which will be deposited with a depository common to Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and registered in the name of the nominee of such depository.

The Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificates are referred to herein as "Global Certificates" and each a "Global Certificate".

Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificates will be exchangeable in whole, but not in part, for individual certificates:

- (a) on the expiry of such period of notice as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms; or
- (b) at any time, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms; or
- (c) if the Issuer has been notified that Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant Clearing System is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 calendar days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or has announced an intention permanently to cease business or has in fact done so and no alternative clearing system approved by the Holders of the Certificates is available.

Whenever the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate is to be exchanged for individual certificates, the Issuer shall procure that individual certificates will be issued in number or Notional amount equal to the number or Notional amount of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificates then outstanding within five Business Days of the delivery, by or on behalf of the registered holder of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent of such information as is required to complete and deliver such individual warrant certificates (including, without limitation, the names and addresses of the persons in whose names the individual warrant certificates are to be registered and the number or Notional amount of each such person's holding) against the surrender of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent.

Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the English Law Agency Agreement and the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of Certificates scheduled thereto and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any holder, but against such indemnity as the Principal W&C Instrument Agent may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

If:

- (a) individual certificates have not been delivered by 5.00 p.m. (London time) on the thirtieth calendar day after they are due to be issued and delivered in accordance with the terms of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate; or
- (b) the date for final settlement of the Certificates has occurred and payment in full of all amounts due has not been made to the Holder of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate on the due date for payment in accordance with the terms of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate, then the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate (including the obligation to deliver individual certificates) will become void at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such thirtieth calendar day (in the case of (a) above) or at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such due date (in the case of (b) above) and the holder of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate will have no further rights thereunder (but without prejudice to the rights which the holder of the Euroclear/CBL Global Registered Certificate or others may have under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant). Under the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant, each Holder is entitled to exercise or enforce in respect of each Certificate held by him, the rights and obligations attaching to the relevant Certificate as set out in, and subject to, the W&C Instruments Deed of Covenant, the Conditions and the applicable Final Terms issued in respect of such Certificates.

30. Type and Title (Certificates)

(A) Definitive Registered Certificates

(i) Transfers of Definitive Registered Certificates

Transfers of Definitive Registered Certificates are effected upon (i) the surrender (at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) of the individual certificate representing such Definitive Registered Certificates to be transferred, together with the form of transfer (which shall be available at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) endorsed on such individual certificate (or another form of transfer substantially in the same form and containing the same representations and certifications (if any), unless otherwise agreed by the Issuer), duly completed and executed and any other evidence as the Principal W&C Instrument Agent may reasonably require, (ii) the recording of such transfer in the Register and (iii) the issuance of a new individual certificate to the transferee.

(ii) Part Transfer of Definitive Registered Certificates

In the case of a transfer of part only of a holding of a Definitive Registered Certificate represented by one individual certificate, a new individual certificate shall be issued to the transferee in respect of the part transferred and a further new individual certificate in respect of the balance of the holding not transferred shall be issued to the transferor.

(B) Delivery of New Individual Certificates

Each new individual certificate to be issued pursuant to this Condition 30 (Type and Title (Certificates)) shall be available for delivery within three Business Days of receipt of the form of transfer and surrender of the individual certificate for exchange. Delivery of the new individual certificate(s) shall be made at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent to whom delivery or surrender of such request for exchange, form of transfer, or individual certificate shall have been made or, at the option of the Holder making such delivery or surrender as aforesaid and as specified in the relevant request for exchange, form of transfer or otherwise in writing, be mailed by uninsured post at the risk of the Holder entitled to the new individual certificate to such address as may be so specified, unless such Holder requests otherwise and pays in advance to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent the costs of such other method of delivery and/or such insurance as it may specify.

(C) Closed Periods in respect of Definitive Registered Certificates

No Holder may require the transfer of a Definitive Registered Certificate to be registered:

- (i) during the period of 15 calendar days before any date on which Certificates may be called for cancellation and settlement by the Issuer at its option pursuant to Condition 31(C) (Issuer Call Option);
- (ii) after any such Certificate has been called for cancellation or settlement; or
- (iii) during the period of seven calendar days ending on (and including) any Settlement Record Date or Additional Amount Payment Record Date.

(D) Exchange Free of Charge

Exchange and transfer of Certificates on registration, transfer, cancellation, settlement or exercise of an option (as applicable) shall be effected without charge by or on behalf of the Issuer or the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, as applicable, but upon payment of any tax or other governmental charges that may be imposed in relation to it (or the giving of such indemnity as the Principal W&C Instrument Agent may require).

31. Exercise Rights (Certificates)

(A) Certificates other than Credit Linked Certificates

Certificates other than Credit Linked Certificates shall be automatically exercised on the Actual Exercise Date. If the Certificates are Cash Settled Certificates, each such Certificate entitles its Holder to receive from the Issuer on the Settlement Date the Cash Settlement Amount. If the Certificates are Physical Delivery Certificates, each such Certificate entitles its Holder, subject to certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership and to the provisions of Condition 32(A), to receive from the Issuer on the Settlement Date the Entitlement subject to payment of any Expenses.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Entitlement will be evidenced by the delivery of the Entitlement to the securities account with the Physical Delivery Clearing System or in such other manner as shall have been specified by the Holder in the relevant Collection Notice. The Issuer, (if applicable) the Guarantor and the Calculation Agent shall be under no obligation to register or procure the registration of a Holder in the register of members/holders of the Share Company or the Fund (as the case may be).

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Entitlement will be delivered to such securities account with the Physical Delivery Clearing System or in such other manner as shall have been specified by the Holder in the relevant Collection Notice, provided that, if, in the opinion of the Issuer, delivery of the Entitlement to the Holder in the manner specified by the Holder or through the Physical Delivery Clearing System specified by the Holder is not commercially reasonable, the Issuer shall deliver the Entitlement to the Holder through a clearing system which the Issuer determines to be commercially reasonable for such delivery and references to "Physical Delivery Clearing System" shall be deemed to be references to such clearing system selected by the Issuer. For the avoidance of doubt, the Issuer will be fully discharged of any and all obligations with respect to delivery of the Entitlement by making delivery in the manner specified by the Holder in the relevant Collection Notice and the Guarantor will be fully discharged of any and all obligations under the MLBV Guarantee by payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, Certificates of the same Holder automatically exercised and in respect of which a Collection Notice (as defined below) has been duly given as provided in Condition 31(A), will be aggregated for the purpose of determining the aggregate Entitlements in respect of such Certificates, provided that the aggregate Entitlements will be rounded down to the nearest whole unit of the Relevant Asset or each of the Relevant Assets, as the case may be, in such manner as the Calculation Agent shall determine. Therefore, fractions of the Relevant Asset or of each of the Relevant Assets, as the case may be, will not be delivered and in lieu thereof a cash adjustment calculated by the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, shall be paid to the Holder.

Following exercise of a Certificate relating to a specified share or a basket of shares or an Certificate relating to a specified index or a basket of indices, which is a Physical Delivery Certificate, all dividends on the relevant Shares or Fund Shares (as the case may be) to be delivered will be payable to the party that would receive such dividend according to market practice for a sale of the Shares or Fund Shares (as the case may be) executed on the Actual Exercise Date and to be delivered in the same manner as such relevant Shares or Fund Shares (as the case may be). Any such dividends to be paid to a Holder will be paid to the account specified by the Holder in the relevant Collection Notice as referred to in Condition 32(A)(a)(1)(v) or Condition 32(A)(b)(1)(iii) as applicable.

Following exercise of a Certificate relating to a specified bond or a basket of bonds, which is a Physical Delivery Certificate, all interest or other distributions on the relevant Bonds to be delivered will be payable to the party that would receive such dividend according to market practice for a sale of the Bonds executed on the Actual Exercise

Date and to be delivered in the same manner as such relevant Bonds. Any such interest or distributions to be paid to a Holder will be paid to the account specified by the Holder in the relevant Collection Notice as referred to in Condition 32(A)(a)(1)(v) or Condition 32(A)(b)(1)(iii) as applicable.

The expressions "exercise", "due exercise" and related expressions shall be construed to apply to any Certificates which are automatically exercised on the Actual Exercise Date in accordance with this provision.

(B) Credit Linked Certificates

Credit Linked Certificates shall be automatically exercised on the Long Exercise Date or the Short Exercise Date (as the case may be) in accordance with Credit Linked W&C Instruments Condition 3.

(C) Issuer Call Option

If Issuer Call Option is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms the Issuer may, having given not less than 10 nor more than 60 calendar days' notice (or such other Issuer Call Option Notice Period as is set out in the applicable Final Terms) to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices) (which notice shall be irrevocable) elect that the Exercise Date for all (but not less than all) of the Certificates be brought forward to the Call Option Date.

If Call Option Cash Settlement is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms (a) if the Certificates are not Cash Settled Certificates, the Certificates shall be deemed to be Cash Settled Certificates and (b) the Cash Settlement Amount shall be the Call Option Cash Settlement Amount specified in the applicable Final Terms. Upon payment of the Cash Settlement Amount together with Additional Amounts (if any), no further payments shall be payable in respect of the Certificates.

(D) Mandatory Early Exercise

If Mandatory Early Exercise is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms and a Mandatory Early Exercise Event occurs, the Exercise Date for all (but not less than all) of the Certificates will be brought forward to the Mandatory Early Exercise Date. If Mandatory Early Exercise Cash Settlement is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms (a) if the Certificates are not Cash Settled Certificates, the Certificates shall be deemed to be Cash Settled Certificates and (b) the Cash Settlement Amount shall be the Mandatory Early Exercise Cash Settlement Amount specified in the applicable Final Terms, which shall be payable on the Mandatory Early Exercise Cash Settlement Date.

(E) Holder Put Option

If Holder Put Option is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, a Holder may, by giving not less than 10 nor more than 60 calendar days' notice (or such other Holder Put Option Notice Period as is set out in the applicable Final Terms) as set out below elect to bring forward the Exercise Date for his Certificates to the Put Option Date set out in the relevant Put Notice (as defined below). If Put Option Cash Settlement is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms (a) if the Certificates are not Cash Settled Certificates, the Certificates shall be deemed to be Cash Settled Certificates and (b) the Cash Settlement Amount for the relevant Certificates shall be the Put Option Cash Settlement Amount specified in the applicable Final Terms. Upon payment of the Put Option Cash Settlement Amount together with Additional Amounts (if any), no further payments shall be payable in respect of the Certificates.

In order to exercise the right to bring forward the Exercise Date of a Certificate the Holder must deliver by facsimile or authenticated SWIFT message (confirmed in writing) a duly completed notice of exercise (a "Put Notice") in the form set out in the English Law Agency Agreement to (a) in the case of Euroclear/CBL Certificates, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg with a copy to the relevant Dealer and the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and (b) in the case of Definitive Registered Certificates, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent with a copy to the relevant Dealer. Copies of the Put Notice are available at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent. Once delivered a Put Notice shall be irrevocable and the Certificates the subject of such notice may not be transferred.

(F) Prescription

Definitive Registered Certificates will become void unless presented for payment or delivery within a period of ten years (in the case of principal) and five years (in the case of Additional Amounts) after the Relevant Date (as defined below) therefor.

As used herein, the "Relevant Date" means the date on which such payment or delivery first becomes due, except that, if the full amount of any moneys payable has not been duly received by the relevant W&C Instrument Agent on or prior to such due date, it means the date on which, the full amount of such moneys having been so received, notice to that effect is duly given to the Holders in accordance with Condition 12 (Notices).

Under New York's statute of limitations generally, the payment obligations of the Guarantor evidenced by the MLBV Guarantee of such Certificates must be commenced within six years after payment is due. Thereafter, such payment obligations will generally become unenforceable.

32. Collection Notices and Settlement (Certificates)

(A) Collection Notices

(a) Euroclear/CBL Certificates

If the Certificates are Euroclear/CBL Certificates, in order to receive the Entitlement in respect of a Certificate, the relevant Holder must send an instruction by authenticated SWIFT message or by any other authorised communication channel, in accordance with Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg's rules and operating procedures (a "Collection Notice") which includes the information set out in Schedule 8 Part 2 to the English Law Agency Agreement (copies of which are available for viewing and can be obtained during normal business hours at the specified office of the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, on (x) in the case of Certificates other than Credit Linked Certificates any Business Day up until not later than 10.00 a.m., Brussels or Luxembourg time (as appropriate), on the Actual Exercise Date or (y) in the case of Credit Linked Certificates, the Credit Cut-Off Date (each the "Cut-Off Date"). Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg will send a copy of any Collection Notices so received to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent. The Principal W&C Instrument Agent will send such copies to the relevant Dealer.

(1) The Collection Notice shall:

- (i) specify the Series of the Certificates and the number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Certificates the subject of such Collection Notice;
- (ii) specify the number of the Holder's account at Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, to be debited with the Certificates the subject of such Collection Notice;
- (iii) irrevocably instruct Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, to debit on or before the Settlement Date the Holder's account with the Certificates the subject of such Collection Notice;

- (iv) include an undertaking to pay all Expenses and except in the case of Definitive Registered Certificates, an authority to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, to debit a specified account of the Holder at Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, in respect thereof and to pay such Expenses;
- (v) include such details as are required by the applicable Final Terms for delivery of the Entitlement which may include account details and/or the name and address of any person(s) into whose name evidence of the Entitlement is to be registered and/or any bank, broker or agent to whom documents evidencing the Entitlement are to be delivered and specify the name and the number of the Holder's account with Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, or, in the case of a Definitive Registered Certificate, at a bank in the principal financial centre of the relevant Settlement Currency to be credited with any cash payable by the Issuer, either in respect of any cash amount constituting the Entitlement or any dividends relating to the Entitlement or as a result of the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event or a Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity and the Issuer electing to pay the Disruption Cash Settlement Price or Failure to Deliver Settlement Price, as applicable, or in respect of any Partial Cash Settlement Amount;
- (vi) in the case of FX Linked Certificates only, specify the number of the Holder's account at Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, or, in the case of a Definitive Registered Certificate, at a bank in the principal financial centre of the relevant Settlement Currency to be credited with the amount due upon exercise of the Certificates;
- (vii) certify, inter alia, that the beneficial owner of each Certificate which is the subject of such Collection Notice is not a U.S. person, the Certificate was not held on behalf of a U.S. person and no cash, securities or other property have been or will be delivered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person in connection with such exercise and, where appropriate, undertake to provide such various forms of certification in respect of selling restrictions under the securities, commodities and other laws of the United States as set out in the applicable Final Terms; and
- (viii) authorise the production of such Collection Notice in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings,

all as provided in the English Law Agency Agreement.

- (2) If Condition 5(C) applies, the information required to be provided in the Collection Notice will be different from that set out above. Copies of such information required for this Collection Notice may be obtained from Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg and the Principal W&C Instrument Agent.

(b) Definitive Registered Certificates

If the Certificates are Definitive Registered Certificates, in order to receive the Entitlement in respect of a Certificate, the relevant Holder must deliver an instruction in writing (a "Collection Notice") which includes the information set out in Schedule 8 Part 5 to the English Law Agency Agreement (copies of which may be obtained from the Principal W&C Instrument Agent) along with the relevant Definitive Registered Certificate to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent on (x) in the case of Certificates other than Credit Linked Certificates any Business Day up until not later than 10.00 a.m., Luxembourg time, on the Actual Exercise Date or (y) in the case of Credit Linked Certificates, the Credit Cut-Off Date (each the "Cut-Off Date"). The Principal W&C Instrument Agent will send a copy of any Collection Notices so received to Merrill Lynch International or BofA Securities Europe SA, as the case may be.

(1) The Collection Notice shall:

- (i) specify the Series of the Certificates and the number or aggregate Notional Amount (as applicable) of Certificates the subject of such Collection Notice;
- (ii) include an undertaking to pay all Expenses;
- (iii) include such details as are required by the applicable Final Terms for delivery of the Entitlement which may include account details and/or the name and address of any person(s) into whose name evidence of the Entitlement is to be registered and/or any bank, broker or agent to whom documents evidencing the Entitlement are to be delivered and specify the name and the number of the Holder's account at a bank in the principal financial centre of the relevant Settlement Currency to be credited with any cash payable by the Issuer, either in respect of any cash amount constituting the Entitlement or any dividends or interest relating to the Entitlement or as a result of the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event or a Failure to Deliver due to Illiquidity and the Issuer electing to pay the Disruption Cash Settlement Price or Failure to Deliver Settlement Price, as applicable, or in respect of any Partial Cash Settlement Amount;
- (iv) in the case of FX Linked Certificates only, specify the number of the Holder's account at a bank in the principal financial centre of the relevant Settlement Currency to be credited with the amount due upon exercise of the Certificates;
- (v) certify, inter alia, that the beneficial owner of each Certificate which is the subject of such Collection Notice is not a U.S. person, the Certificate was not held on behalf of a U.S. person and no cash, securities or other property have been or will be delivered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person in connection with such exercise and, where appropriate, undertake to provide such various forms of certification in respect of selling restrictions under the securities, commodities and other laws of the United States as set out in the applicable Final Terms; and
- (vi) authorise the production of such Collection Notice in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings,

all as provided in the English Law Agency Agreement.

(2) If Condition 5(C) applies, the information required to be provided in the Collection Notice will be different from that set out above. Copies of such information required for this Collection Notice may be obtained from the Principal W&C Instrument Agent.

(c) Late Delivery and Non-delivery of Collection Notice

If a Holder so delivers a duly completed Collection Notice after the Cut-Off Date, the Entitlement shall be delivered as soon as practicable after the Settlement Date or, in the case of Credit Linked Certificates, the Credit Settlement Date, provided that if a Holder does not so deliver a duly completed Collection Notice in accordance with this Condition 32(A) prior to the close of business in the place of receipt on the 90th calendar day following the Cut-Off Date, the Issuer's obligations in respect of such Certificates and, with respect to Certificates other than Secured W&C Instruments, the Guarantor's obligations in respect of the MLBV Guarantee shall be discharged and no further liability in respect thereof shall attach to the Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor. For the avoidance of doubt, in such circumstances such Holder shall not be entitled to any payment, whether of interest or otherwise as a result of such Settlement Date or Credit Settlement Date falling after the originally designated Settlement Date or Credit Settlement Date, as the case may be, and no liability in respect hereof shall attach to the Issuer or the Guarantor.

After the delivery of a Collection Notice, the relevant Holder may not transfer the Certificates to which the Collection Notice relates.

(B) Verification of the Holder

In the case of a Collection Notice submitted in respect of a Euroclear/CBL Certificate, upon receipt of a valid Collection Notice, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, shall verify that the person submitting the Collection Notice is the holder of the relevant Certificates according to the books of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be. Subject thereto, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, will confirm to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or, in the case of Registered Certificates, the Registrar, the ISIN and the amount of Certificates being exercised, the account number of the exercising Holder, a confirmation of the exercising Holder's certification (in the case of Physical Delivery Certificates), the relevant account details (if applicable) and the details for the delivery of the Entitlement in respect of each Certificate the subject of the relevant Collection Notice. Upon receipt of such confirmation, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent will inform the Issuer thereof. Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, will on or before the Settlement Date debit the account of the relevant Holder with the Certificates the subject of the relevant Collection Notice.

(C) Settlement

(a) Cash Settled Certificates

For so long as the Certificates are represented by Definitive Registered Certificates, the Issuer, or failing the Issuer and, with respect to Certificates other than Secured W&C Instruments, the Guarantor shall pay or cause to be paid the Cash Settlement Amount (if any) of each Certificate by credit or transfer to an account in the relevant Settlement Currency specified by the Holder, or at the option of the Holder, by cheque mailed to the address of the Holder in the Register on the fifteenth calendar day before the due date for such payment (such date being the "Settlement Record Date" for Definitive Registered Certificates). In order to receive the Cash Settlement Amount less any Expenses the Holder must deliver the relevant individual certificate to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent.

For so long as the Certificates are represented by a Global Certificate, subject as provided below, the Issuer or failing the Issuer and, with respect to Certificates other than Secured W&C Instruments, the Guarantor shall pay or cause to be paid the Cash Settlement Amount (if any) for each Certificate by credit or transfer to the Holder's account with the relevant Clearing System for value on the Settlement Date less any Expenses, such payment to be made in accordance with the rules of the relevant Clearing System. The Issuer or (if applicable) the Guarantor, as applicable, will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing System in respect of the amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of the relevant Clearing System as the holder of a particular amount of the Certificates must look solely to such Clearing System for his share of each such payment so made to, or to the order of such Clearing System.

Payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, a cheque may not be delivered to an address in, a credit or transfer may not be delivered to an address in, and an amount may not be transferred to an account at a bank located in, the United States by any office or agency of the Issuer, (if applicable) the Guarantor, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or the Registrar.

(b) Physical Delivery Certificates

Subject to payment of any Expenses with regard to the relevant Certificates, the Issuer shall deliver, or procure the delivery of, the Entitlement or, in the case of Credit Linked Certificates, Deliver, or procure the Delivery of the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement for each Certificate in respect of which a valid Collection Notice (and, in the case of Definitive Registered Certificates, the relevant individual certificate in respect of the Definitive Registered Certificate) has been delivered as provided in Condition 32(A) pursuant to the details specified in the Collection Notice subject as provided in Condition 5.

The Issuer shall at the risk of the relevant Holder deliver the Entitlement in respect of each Certificate or, in the case of Credit Linked Certificates, Deliver the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Entitlement in such commercially reasonable manner as the Issuer shall, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine to be appropriate for such delivery. In the case of Credit Linked Certificates, in relation to each Deliverable Obligation constituting the Entitlement, the Issuer will Deliver or procure the Delivery of the relevant Deliverable Obligation as provided above on the Credit Settlement Date provided that if all or some of the Deliverable Obligations included in the Entitlement are Undeliverable Obligations and/or Hedge Disruption Obligations, then the Issuer shall continue to attempt to Deliver all or a portion of such Undeliverable Obligations or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be, on or before the 30th Business Day following the Credit Settlement Date (the "Final Delivery Date"), provided further that if all or a portion of such Undeliverable Obligations or Hedge Disruption Obligations, as the case may be, are not Delivered by the Final Delivery Date the provisions of Credit Linked W&C Condition 10 shall apply.

(c) Guarantor Payment of Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of Delivering any Entitlement

The Guarantor will only pay the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in respect of any Physical Delivery Certificates and any payment of the Guaranteed Cash Settlement Amount in lieu of delivering any Entitlement shall constitute a complete discharge of the Guarantor's obligations in respect of such Physical Delivery Certificates.

(D) Determinations

Any determination as to whether a Collection Notice is duly completed and in proper form shall be made by the Principal W&C Instrument Agent in consultation with Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent and the relevant Holder. Subject as set out below, any Collection Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form, or which is not sent to the relevant Dealer by the Principal W&C Instrument Agent promptly after being delivered or sent to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or the Issuer, as applicable, shall be null and void.

If such Collection Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or the Issuer, as applicable, in consultation with the Principal W&C Instrument Agent (in the case of Euroclear/CBL Certificates or Definitive Registered Certificates), it shall be deemed to be a new Collection Notice submitted at the time such correction was delivered to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or the Issuer, as applicable, and copied to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or the relevant Dealer, as applicable (in the case of Euroclear/CBL Certificates).

Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or the Issuer, as applicable, shall use its best efforts promptly to notify the Holder submitting a Collection Notice if it has determined that such Collection Notice is incomplete or not in proper form. In the absence of negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg shall be liable to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in connection with such determination or the notification of such determination to a Holder.

33. Additional Amounts

(A) Calculation of Additional Amounts

If so specified in the applicable Final Terms, each Certificate pays Additional Amounts from and including the Issue Date at the Additional Amount Rate payable in arrear on each Additional Amount Payment Date.

The Additional Amount payable in respect of each Certificate on each Additional Amount Payment Date will amount to the Additional Amount for the Additional Amount Period ending on (but excluding) such Additional Amount Payment Date.

If an Additional Amount is required to be calculated for a period ending other than on (but excluding) an Additional Amount Payment Date, it will be calculated on the basis of the number of calendar days from and including the most recent Additional Amount Payment Date (or, if none, the Issue Date) to but excluding the relevant payment date and the Additional Amount Rate Day Count Fraction.

(B) Accrual of Additional Amount

Each Certificate will cease to accrue Additional Amounts from and including the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date or, if earlier, the date on which the Certificates are cancelled (the "Cancellation Date"), if applicable, in accordance with these Terms and Conditions unless payment of the amount and/or delivery of any Entitlement due on the Settlement Date or Cancellation Date, as the case may be, is improperly withheld or refused or unless default is otherwise made in respect of the payment or delivery in which case Additional Amount(s) shall accrue from the date such amount or delivery of such Entitlement was due until such amount or delivery of such Entitlement is paid or delivered, as the case may be, provided that:

- (a) if "Accrual of Additional Amounts upon Credit Event" is specified as Not Applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each Certificate shall cease to accrue Additional Amounts from the Additional Amount Payment Date or, if applicable, the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date, immediately preceding the Event Determination Date, or if the Event Determination Date is an Additional Amount Payment Date or, if applicable, the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date, such date (or, in the case of the Event Determination Date falling on or after the Actual Exercise Date (which is an Additional Amount Payment Date), the Additional Amount Payment Date immediately preceding the Actual Exercise Date or, if applicable, the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date corresponding to such Additional Amount Payment Date) or, if the Event Determination Date falls prior to the first Additional Amount Payment Date or, if applicable, the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date, no Additional Amount shall accrue on the Certificates; or

- (b) if "Accrual of Additional Amounts upon Credit Event" is specified as being Applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each Certificate shall cease to accrue Additional Amounts from the Event Determination Date.

For the avoidance of doubt, no Additional Amount on the Certificates shall accrue beyond the Exercise Date in the event that delivery of any Entitlement is postponed due to the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event.

(C) Payment of Additional Amounts

For so long as the Certificates are represented by Definitive Registered Certificates, where the Certificates pay Additional Amounts, subject as provided below, the Issuer or failing the Issuer, the Guarantor shall pay or cause to be paid the Additional Amount for each Certificate in respect of each Additional Amount Payment Date by credit or transfer to an account in the relevant Settlement Currency outside the United States (in accordance with the applicable United States Treasury Regulations) specified by the Holder or, at the option of the Holder, by cheque mailed to the address of the Holder registered in the Register on the fifteenth calendar day before the due date for such payment (such date being the "Additional Amount Payment Record Date" for such Definitive Registered Certificates) for value on the relevant Additional Amount Payment Date. In order to receive the Additional Amount the Holder must deliver the relevant individual certificate to the Principal W&C Instrument Agent.

For so long as the Certificates are represented by a Global Certificate, where the Certificates pay Additional Amounts, subject as provided below, the Issuer or failing the Issuer, the Guarantor shall pay or cause to be paid the Additional Amount for each Certificate in respect of each Additional Amount Payment Date by credit or transfer to the Holder's account with Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, for value on the relevant Additional Amount Payment Date, such payment to be made in accordance with the rules of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be.

The Issuer or the Guarantor, as applicable, will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, in respect of the amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, as the holder of a particular amount of the Certificates must look solely to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, for his share of each such payment so made to, or to the order of, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be.

Payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, a cheque may not be delivered to an address in, a credit or transfer may not be delivered to an address in, and an amount may not be transferred to an account at a bank located in, the United States by any office or agency of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Principal W&C Instrument Agent or the Registrar.

(D) Definitions

"30/360 (Floating)" or "30/360" or "360/360" or "Bond Basis" means the number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \left[\frac{360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1)[30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360} \right]$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Additional Amount Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Additional Amount Period, unless such number would be 31 and D₁ is greater than 29, in which case D₂ will be 30.

"30E/360" or "Eurobond Basis" means the number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \left[\frac{360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1)[30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360} \right]$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Additional Amount Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Additional Amount Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30.

"30E/360 (ISDA)" means the number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \left[\frac{360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1)[30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360} \right]$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Additional Amount Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Additional Amount Period, unless (a) that day is the last day of February or (b) such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Additional Amount Period, unless (a) that day is the last day of February but not the Exercise Date or (b) such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30.

"Actual/360" means the actual number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 360.

"Actual/Actual (ISDA)" means the actual number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 365 (or, if any portion of that Additional Amount Period falls in a leap year, the sum of (a) the actual number of days in that portion of the Additional Amount Period falling in a leap year divided by 366; and (b) the actual number of days in that portion of the Additional Amount Period falling in a non-leap year divided by 365).

"Actual/365 (Fixed)" means the actual number of days in the Additional Amount Period divided by 365.

"Additional Amount" means, in respect of each Certificate and each Additional Amount Period, an amount (which shall never be less than zero) calculated by the Calculation Agent as follows:

Notional Amount per Certificate x Additional Amount Rate x Additional Amount Rate Day Count Fraction.

"Additional Amount Cut-Off Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Additional Amount Period" means the period commencing on (and including) the Issue Date to (but excluding) the first Additional Amount Payment Date (or if earlier the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date) and each period commencing on (and including) an Additional Amount Payment Date to (but excluding) the next following Additional Amount Payment Date (or if earlier the Additional Amount Cut-Off Date).

USE OF PROCEEDS OF THE W&C INSTRUMENTS

MLBV intends to use the net proceeds from each issue of W&C Instruments issued by it for its general corporate purposes, including making general loans to affiliates which may use such proceeds for their general corporate purposes. A substantial portion of the proceeds from the issue of W&C Instruments may be used to hedge market risk with respect to such W&C Instruments. If, in respect of any particular issue of W&C Instruments, there is a particular identified use of proceeds, this will be stated in the applicable Final Terms.

ANNEX 1

ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR INDEX LINKED INSTRUMENTS

1. Interpretation

If specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the terms and conditions applicable to Index Linked Notes shall comprise the terms and conditions of the Notes (the "Note Conditions") and the Additional Terms and Conditions for Index Linked Instruments set out below (the "Index Linked Conditions"), in each case subject to completion and/or amendment in the applicable Final Terms. The terms and conditions applicable to Index Linked W&C Instruments shall comprise the terms and conditions of the W&C Instruments (the "W&C Instruments Conditions") and the Index Linked Conditions, in each case subject to completion and/or amendment in the applicable Final Terms. In the event of any inconsistency between the Note Conditions, in the case of Notes, and the W&C Instruments Conditions, in the case of W&C Instruments, and the Index Linked Conditions, the Index Linked Conditions shall prevail. In the event of any inconsistency between (a) the Note Conditions or the W&C Instruments Conditions and/or the Index Linked Conditions and (b) the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall prevail. References in the Index Linked Conditions to "Instrument" and "Instruments" shall be deemed to be references to "Note" and "Notes" or "W&C Instrument" and "W&C Instruments" as the context admits.

2. Definitions

For the purposes of these Index Linked Conditions:

"Administrator/Benchmark Event" means, in respect of an Index, any authorisation, registration, recognition, endorsement, equivalence decision, approval or inclusion in any official register in respect of the Index or the administrator or sponsor of the Index has not been, or will not be, obtained or has been, or will be, rejected, refused, suspended or withdrawn by the relevant competent authority or other relevant official body, or a relevant competent authority or ESMA issues a public notice under Article 24a(6) of the EU Benchmarks Regulation, in each case with the effect that either the Issuer, the Calculation Agent or any affiliate engaged in hedging transactions relating to the Instruments is not, or will not be, permitted under any applicable law or regulation to use the Index to perform its or their respective obligations under the Instruments or any related hedging transactions.

"Administrator/Benchmark Event Date" means, in respect of an Index and an Administrator/Benchmark Event, the date on which the authorisation, registration, recognition, endorsement, equivalence decision, approval or inclusion in any official register is:

- (a) required under any applicable law or regulation; or
- (b) rejected, refused, suspended or withdrawn, if the applicable law or regulation provides that the Index is not permitted to be used under the Instruments or related hedging transactions following rejection, refusal, suspension or withdrawal; or
- (c) the public notice under Article 24a(6) of the EU Benchmarks Regulation is issued, or, in each case, if such date occurs before the Strike Date, the Strike Date.

"Averaging Cut-Off Date" means:

- (a) if "Averaging Cut-Off Date (Backstopped)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, or on account of such date not being a Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, a Common Scheduled Trading Day), would have been the final Averaging

Date, or, if earlier, the Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the Common Scheduled Trading Day) falling on or immediately preceding the second Business Day immediately preceding the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made pursuant to any calculation or determination made on the relevant Averaging Dates, provided that the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall not fall prior to the original date on which the final Averaging Date was scheduled to fall and in such case the original date shall be the Averaging Cut-Off Date; or

- (b) if "Averaging Cut-Off Date (No Backstop)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, or on account of such date not being a Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, a Common Scheduled Trading Day), would have been the final Averaging Date.

"Averaging Date" means each date specified as an Averaging Date in the applicable Final Terms or, if any such date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day), or, if earlier, the Averaging Cut-Off Date. If any such day is a Disrupted Day:

- (a) if "Omission" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, then such date will be deemed not to be an Averaging Date for the purposes of determining the relevant level or price provided that, if through the operation of this provision there would not be an Averaging Date, then the provisions of the definition of "Valuation Date" will apply for purposes of determining the relevant level or price on the final Averaging Date, as if such final Averaging Date were a Valuation Date that was a Disrupted Day; or
- (b) if "Postponement" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, then the provisions of the definition of "Valuation Date" will apply for the purposes of determining the relevant level or price on that Averaging Date as if such Averaging Date were a Valuation Date that was a Disrupted Day irrespective of whether, pursuant to such determination, that deferred Averaging Date would fall on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
- (c) if "Modified Postponement" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms then:
 - (i) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a single Index, the Averaging Date shall be the first succeeding Valid Date. If the first succeeding Valid Date has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for the Index, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date), and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (a)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below;
 - (ii) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall not be applicable, the Averaging Date for each Index not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the originally designated Averaging

Date (following adjustment of such date owing to the original date not being a Scheduled Trading Day, if applicable) (the "Scheduled Averaging Date") and the Averaging Date for an Index affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Index. If the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Index has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for the Index, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date) in relation to such Index, and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (b)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below;

- (iii) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Averaging Date for each Index not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the originally designated Averaging Date (following adjustment of such date owing to the original date not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, if applicable) (the "Scheduled Averaging Date") and the Averaging Date for an Index affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Index. If the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Index has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day for the Index, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date) in relation to such Index, and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (c)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below; or
- (iv) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Common Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Averaging Date for each Index shall be the first succeeding Common Valid Date in relation to such Index. If the first succeeding Common Valid Date has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date), and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (d)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below, and, for the purposes of these Index Linked Conditions "Valid Date" means a Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day and on which another Averaging Date does not or is deemed not to occur, and "Common Valid Date" means a Common Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day for any Index, and on which another Averaging Date does not or is deemed not to occur.

"Barrier Event Determination Day" means, in respect of each Index (or in the case of a Basket of Indices, each Index in the Basket of Indices):

- (a) if the applicable Final Terms provides that the Barrier Event (intraday) provisions shall apply, and:
 - (i) if "Barrier Event Determination Day (No Extension)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each day on which the level of such

Index is published and/or disseminated by the Index Sponsor during the relevant Observation Period, regardless of whether or not such day is a Scheduled Trading Day for such Index (and if the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines that a Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Index at any time on any Barrier Event Determination Day, it shall disregard the period during which it determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner that such Market Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing for the purposes of determining whether or not a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred); or

- (ii) if "Barrier Event Determination Day (Extended)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each day on which the level of such Index is published and/or disseminated by the Index Sponsor during the relevant Observation Period, regardless of whether or not such day is a Scheduled Trading Day for such Index (and if the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines that a Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Index at any time on any Barrier Event Determination Day, subject to the proviso below, it shall disregard the period during which it determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner that such Market Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing for the purposes of determining whether or not a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred),

PROVIDED THAT, notwithstanding the foregoing, the scheduled Observation Period End Date shall be deemed as a Barrier Event Determination Day for all purposes, and if the level of such Index is not published and/or disseminated by the Index Sponsor and/or a Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Index during the 15-minute period that ends at the relevant Valuation Time on the scheduled Observation Period End Date, then the Observation Period End Date will be extended until such day on which the level of such Index is published and/or disseminated by the Index Sponsor during a period on which no Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Index, PROVIDED FURTHER THAT if no level of such Index is published and/or disseminated by the Index Sponsor during a period on which no Market Disruption Event is occurring by the Valuation Time on the eighth Scheduled Trading Day following the scheduled Observation Period End Date in respect of such Index ("Barrier Event (intraday) Cut-Off Date"), the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price of such Index in accordance with paragraph (a) of the definition of "Valuation Date" as if the Barrier Event (intraday) Cut-Off Date were the Valuation Cut-Off Date, for the purposes of determining whether or not a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred; or

- (b) if the applicable Final Terms provides that the Barrier Event (closing) provisions shall apply, each day specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, and if "Barrier Event Determination Day (Valuation Date Adjustment)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each such day shall be subject to adjustment as a Valuation Date as if each such day had been specified to be a "Valuation Date".

"Barrier Event Valuation Time (closing)" means:

- (a) in relation to an Index which is a Unitary Index, the Scheduled Closing Time on the relevant Exchange on the relevant Barrier Event Determination Day, as the case may be, in relation to each Index to be valued. If the relevant Exchange closes prior to its Scheduled Closing Time and the specified Barrier Event Valuation Time (closing) is after the actual closing time for its regular trading session, then the Barrier Event Valuation Time (closing) shall be such actual closing time;
- (b) in relation to an Index which is a Multi-Exchange Index, (i) for the purposes of determining whether a Market Disruption Event has occurred: (A) in respect of any Component Security, the Scheduled Closing Time on the relevant Exchange and (B) in respect of any options contracts or futures contracts on the Index, the close of trading on the relevant Related Exchange, and (ii) in all other circumstances, the time at which the official closing level of the Index is calculated and published by the Index Sponsor;

- (c) in relation to an Index which is a Proprietary Index, the time at which the Index Sponsor calculates and publishes the official closing level of the Index;
- (d) in relation to an Index which is a Constant Maturity Yield Index, the time at which the Index Sponsor calculates and publishes the level of the Index; or
- (e) in relation to an Index which is a Non-Exchange Traded Index, either (i) the time at which the Index Sponsor calculates and publishes the level or value of the Index, or (ii) such other time as is specified as the Valuation Time in the applicable Final Terms.

"Barrier Event Valuation Time (intraday)" means any time during the regular trading session (without regard to any after hours or any other trading outside of the regular session) on the relevant Exchange.

"Barrier Level" means, in respect of an Index, such level for such Index as is specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Basket of Indices" means, subject to adjustment in accordance with these Index Linked Conditions, a basket composed of indices in their relative proportions or number of indices, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Common Scheduled Trading Day" means, in respect of a Basket of Indices, each day which is a Scheduled Trading Day for all the Indices in the Basket of Indices.

"Component Security" means, in respect of an Index, any share or other component security, index or instrument included in such Index as determined by the Calculation Agent and related expressions shall be construed accordingly.

"Constant Maturity Yield Index" means any Index for which the "Type of Index" is specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, or if not specified, any Index the Calculation Agent determines as such.

"Disrupted Day" means:

- (a) in relation to an Index which is a Unitary Index, any Scheduled Trading Day on which a relevant Exchange or any Related Exchange fails to open for trading during its regular trading session or on which a Market Disruption Event has occurred;
- (b) in relation to an Index which is a Multi-Exchange Index, any Scheduled Trading Day on which (i) the Index Sponsor fails to publish the level of the Index (provided that the Calculation Agent may, in its discretion, determine that such event instead results in the occurrence of an Index Disruption), (ii) the Related Exchange fails to open for trading during its regular trading session or (iii) a Market Disruption Event has occurred; or
- (c) in relation to an Index which is a Proprietary Index, a Constant Maturity Yield Index or a Non-Exchange Traded Index, any Scheduled Trading Day on which a Market Disruption Event has occurred (provided that the Calculation Agent may, in its discretion, determine that such event instead results in the occurrence of an Index Disruption).

"Early Closure" means:

- (a) in relation to an Index which is a Unitary Index, the closure on any Exchange Business Day of any relevant Exchange(s) relating to securities that comprise 20 per cent. or more of the level of the relevant Index or any Related Exchange(s) prior to its Scheduled Closing Time unless such earlier closing time is announced by such Exchange(s) or Related Exchange(s) at least one hour prior to the earlier of (i) the actual closing time for the regular trading session on such Exchange(s) or Related

Exchange(s) on such Exchange Business Day and (ii) the submission deadline for orders to be entered into the Exchange or Related Exchange system for execution at the Valuation Time on such Exchange Business Day;

- (b) in relation to an Index which is a Multi-Exchange Index, the closure on any Exchange Business Day of the Exchange in respect of any Component Security or the Related Exchange prior to its Scheduled Closing Time unless such earlier closing is announced by such Exchange or Related Exchange, as the case may be, at least one hour prior to the earlier of (i) the actual closing time for the regular trading session on such Exchange or Related Exchange, as the case may be, on such Exchange Business Day, or (ii) the submission deadline for orders to be entered into on the relevant Exchange or Related Exchange system for execution at the relevant Valuation Time on such Exchange Business Day; or
- (c) in relation to an Index which is a Non-Exchange Traded Index, the closure on any day on which the Exchange in respect of any component is open for trading, of such Exchange prior to its scheduled weekday closing time, unless such earlier closing time is announced by such Exchange at least one hour prior to the earlier of (i) the actual closing time for the regular trading session on such Exchange on such day and (ii) the submission deadline for orders to be entered into such Exchange for execution at its scheduled weekday closing time on such day.

"Exchange" means:

- (a) in relation to an Index which is a Unitary Index, each exchange or quotation system specified as such for such Index in the applicable Final Terms, any successor to such exchange or quotation system or any substitute exchange or quotation system to which trading in the securities comprising such Index has temporarily relocated (provided that the Calculation Agent has determined that there is comparable liquidity relative to the securities comprising such Index on such temporary substitute exchange or quotation system as on the original Exchange);
- (b) in relation to an Index which is a Multi-Exchange Index, in respect of each Component Security, the principal stock exchange on which such Component Security is principally traded, as determined by the Calculation Agent; or
- (c) in relation to a Non-Exchange Traded Index and in respect of any component which is a share or other exchange-traded security, the principal stock exchange or quotation system on which such component is principally traded, as determined by the Calculation Agent.

"Exchange Business Day" means (a) where the relevant Index is a Unitary Index, any Scheduled Trading Day on which each Exchange and each Related Exchange are open for trading during their respective regular trading sessions, notwithstanding any such Exchange or Related Exchange closing prior to its Scheduled Closing Time or (b) where the relevant Index is a Multi-Exchange Index, any Scheduled Trading Day on which (i) the Index Sponsor publishes the level of the Index, and (ii) the Related Exchange is open for trading during its regular trading session, notwithstanding the Related Exchange closing prior to its Scheduled Closing Time.

"Exchange Disruption" means:

- (a) in relation to an Index which is a Unitary Index, any event (other than an Early Closure) that disrupts or impairs (as determined by the Calculation Agent) the ability of market participants in general (i) to effect transactions in, or obtain market values for, on any relevant Exchange(s) in securities that comprise 20 per cent. or more of the level of the relevant Index, or (ii) to effect transactions in, or obtain market values for, futures or options contracts relating to the relevant Index on any relevant Related Exchange; or
- (b) in relation to an Index which is a Multi-Exchange Index, any event (other than an Early Closure) that disrupts or impairs (as determined by the Calculation Agent) the ability of market participants in general to effect transactions in, or obtain market values for:

 (i) any Component Security on the Exchange in respect of such Component Security; or (ii) futures or options contracts relating to the Index on the relevant Related Exchange; or

- (c) in relation to an Index which is a Non-Exchange Traded Index, any event (other than an Early Closure) that disrupts or impairs (as determined by the Calculation Agent) the ability of market participants in general to effect transactions in, or obtain market values for, any component on the Exchange in respect of such component.

"Final Level" means, in respect of an Index, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Index Closing Level of such Index on the Valuation Date (or where a "Final Valuation Date" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Index Closing Level of such Index on the Final Valuation Date), subject to adjustment in accordance with these Index Linked Conditions.

"Final Valuation Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms. Such date shall be deemed to be a Valuation Date and subject to adjustment in accordance with the provisions of "Valuation Date" or as otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Hedging Arrangements" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (a) positions or contracts in securities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange or (b) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) in order to hedge individually or on a portfolio basis the Issuer's obligations under any Index Linked Instrument.

"Index" and "Indices" mean, subject to adjustment in accordance with the Index Linked Conditions, the indices or index specified in the applicable Final Terms and related expressions shall be construed accordingly.

"Index Closing Level" means:

- (a) in relation to an Index which is a Unitary Index, Multi-Exchange Index or Proprietary Index and any relevant date, subject to these Index Linked Conditions, an amount equal to the official closing level (which shall be deemed to be an amount in the Index Currency) of such Index as determined by the Calculation Agent on such date; or
- (b) in relation to an Index which is a Constant Maturity Yield Index and any relevant date, subject to these Index Linked Conditions, an amount equal to the level (if applicable, expressed as a percentage) of such Index as determined by the Calculation Agent on such date using the published level of the Constant Maturity Yield Index as published by the Index Sponsor at the Valuation Time for publication of such Constant Maturity Yield Index; or
- (c) in relation to an Index which is a Non-Exchange Traded Index and any relevant date, subject to these Index Linked Conditions, an amount equal to the level of such Index, as determined by the Calculation Agent for such date using the published level of the Non-Exchange Traded Index at the Valuation Time as published by the Index Sponsor of such Non-Exchange Traded Index.

"Index Currency" means in respect of an Index, the index currency specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Index Level" means, in respect of an Index and a time on any day, and subject to these Index Linked Conditions, the level of such Index at such time on such day as determined by the Calculation Agent.

"Index Performance" means unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, in respect of an Index and any relevant date, an amount (expressed as a percentage) determined by the Calculation Agent as being equal to (a) the Index Closing Level of such Index on such date, divided by (b) the Initial Level of such Index.

"Index-Related ETF" means, in respect of any Index and for Index Linked Instruments that are Physical Delivery Instruments, the ETF (as defined in Fund Linked Condition 7) corresponding to such Index, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Index Sponsor" means, in relation to an Index, (a) the entity as specified in the applicable Final Terms or (b) if no entity is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the corporation or other entity that (i) is responsible for setting and reviewing the rules and procedures and the methods of calculation and adjustments, if any, related to such Index and (ii) announces (directly or through an agent) the level of such Index on a regular basis during each Scheduled Trading Day.

"Index Underlying Securities" means, in relation to an Index which is a Constant Maturity Yield Index, the bonds or other debt securities issued from time-to-time by the European Union or any other issuer referenced in the rules of the Index as at the Trade Date.

"Index Underlying Securities Yield Target Maturity" means, in respect of an Index, the maturity specified for such Index in the applicable Final Terms or, if not specified, the target maturity (howsoever described) specified in the rules of the Index as at the Trade Date.

"Initial Level" means, in respect of an Index, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Index Closing Level of such Index on the Strike Date, subject to adjustment in accordance with these Index Linked Conditions.

"Multi-Exchange Index" means any Index for which the "Type of Index" is specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, or, if not specified, any Index the Calculation Agent determines as such.

"Non-Exchange Traded Index" means any Index for which the "Type of Index" is specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, or, if not specified, any Index the Calculation Agent determines as such.

"Observation Cut-Off Date" means:

- (a) if "Observation Cut-Off Date (Backstopped)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date or, if earlier, the Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the Common Scheduled Trading Day) falling on or immediately preceding the second Business Day immediately preceding the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made pursuant to any calculation or determination made on such Observation Date, provided that the Observation Cut-Off Date shall not fall prior to the original date on which such Observation Date was scheduled to fall and in such case the original date shall be the Observation Cut-Off Date; or
- (b) if "Observation Cut-Off Date (No Backstop)" is specified to be applicable in applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date.

"Observation Date" means each Observation Date specified in the applicable Final Terms, or if such date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, or if such date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day) or, if earlier, the Observation Cut-Off Date. If any such day is a Disrupted Day, then:

- (a) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a single Index, the Observation Date shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date up to, and including, the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day. In that case, or if such Observation Date falls on the Observation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for the Index, (i) the Observation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be such Observation Date (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day or not a Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, determine the relevant level or price by determining the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date in accordance with (subject to Index Linked Condition 5 below) the formula for and method of calculating the Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day (A) in respect of a Unitary Index or Multi-Exchange Index, using the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each security comprised in the Index (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day (as defined in the Share Linked Conditions in relation to a share) has occurred in respect of the relevant security on the Observation Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date), (B) in respect of a Proprietary Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, (C) in respect of a Constant Maturity Yield Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, or (D) in respect of a Non-Exchange Traded Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index or, if any event described in sub-paragraph (e) of the definition of Market Disruption Event has occurred in respect of any component comprised in the Index, its good faith estimate of the value for such component, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate the Index pursuant to the above, the Calculation Agent may adjust the formula for and method of calculating such Index, including disregarding any rebalancing rules in the relevant rules of the Index, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, PROVIDED THAT if the Calculation Agent determines that such action as set out in (C) or (D) (I) would be unlawful under any applicable law or regulation or would contravene any applicable licensing requirements for the Calculation Agent to perform such action or (II) such action would not achieve a commercially reasonable result for any of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent or the Holders ("Unlawful or Commercially Impracticable"), then the Calculation Agent shall determine the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date in its discretion, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner;

- (b) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall not be applicable, the Observation Date for each Index not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Observation Date (or, if earlier, the Observation Cut-Off Date) and the Observation Date for each Index affected (each an "Affected Index") by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Index, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date up to, and including, the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Index. In that case, or if such Observation Date falls on the Observation Cut-Off Date for an Index owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for such Index, (i) the Observation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Observation Date for such Index (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day or not a Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price using, in relation to such Index, the level of such Index determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using the level of such Index as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date in accordance with (subject to Index Linked Condition 5) the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day (A) in respect of a Unitary Index or Multi-Exchange Index, using the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each security comprised in such Index (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day (as defined in the Share Linked Conditions in relation to a share) has occurred in respect of the relevant security on the Observation Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date), (B) in respect of a Proprietary Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, (C) in respect of a Constant Maturity Yield Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, or (D) in respect of a Non-Exchange Traded Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index or, if any event described in sub-paragraph (e) of the definition of Market Disruption Event has occurred in respect of any component comprised in the Index, its good faith estimate of the value for such component, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate the Index pursuant to the above, the Calculation Agent may adjust the formula for and method of calculating such Index, including disregarding any rebalancing rules in the relevant rules of the Index, PROVIDED THAT if the Calculation Agent determines that such action as set out in (C) or (D) is Unlawful or Commercially Impracticable, then the Calculation Agent shall determine the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date in its discretion, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner;

- (c) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Observation Date for each Index not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Observation Date (or if the Scheduled Observation Date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day, or in either case, if earlier, the Observation Cut-Off Date) and the Observation Date for each Index affected (each an "Affected Index") by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Index, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date (or if such Scheduled Observation Date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day) up to, and including, the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Index. In that case, or if such Observation Date falls on the Observation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, (i) the Observation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Observation Date for such Index (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day for an Index or not a Common Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price using, in relation to such Index, the level of such Index determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using the level of such Index as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date in accordance with (subject to Index Linked Condition 5) the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day (A) in respect of a Unitary Index or Multi-Exchange Index, using the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each security comprised in such Index (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day (as defined in the Share Linked Conditions in relation to a share) has occurred in respect of the relevant security on the Observation Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date), (B) in respect of a Proprietary Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, (C) in respect of a Constant Maturity Yield Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, or (D) in respect of a Non-Exchange Traded Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index or, if any event described in sub-paragraph (e) of the definition of Market Disruption Event has occurred in respect of any component comprised in the Index, its good faith estimate of the value for such component, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate the Index pursuant to the above, the Calculation Agent may adjust the formula for and method of calculating such Index, including disregarding any rebalancing rules in the relevant rules of the Index, PROVIDED THAT if the Calculation Agent determines that such action as set out in (C) or (D) is Unlawful or Commercially Impracticable, then the Calculation Agent shall determine the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date in its discretion, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner; or

- (d) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Common Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Observation Date shall be the first succeeding Common Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day for any Index, unless each of the Common Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date up to, and including, the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day for one or more Indices. In that case, or if such Observation Date falls on the Observation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, (i) the Observation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Observation Date (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day for an Index or not a Common Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price using, in relation to each Index for which the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day or is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the level of such Index determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using the level of such Index as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date in accordance with (subject to Index Linked Condition 5) the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day (A) in respect of a Unitary Index or Multi-Exchange Index, using the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each security comprised in each Index for which the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day or is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day (as defined in the Share Linked Conditions in relation to a share) has occurred in respect of the relevant security on the Observation Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date), (B) in respect of a Proprietary Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, (C) in respect of a Constant Maturity Yield Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, or (D) in respect of a Non-Exchange Traded Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index or, if any event described in sub-paragraph (e) of the definition of Market Disruption Event has occurred in respect of any component comprised in the Index, its good faith estimate of the value for such component, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate the Index pursuant to the above, the Calculation Agent may adjust the formula for and method of calculating such Index, including disregarding any rebalancing rules in the relevant rules of the Index, PROVIDED THAT if the Calculation Agent determines that such action as set out in (C) or (D) is Unlawful or Commercially Impracticable, then the Calculation Agent shall determine the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date in its discretion, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.

"Observation Period" means, in respect of an Index:

- (a) if the consequence of "Extension" is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be applicable, each period commencing on the Observation Period Start Date, following adjustment of such date pursuant to these Index Linked Conditions or as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable (and including or excluding such Observation Period Start Date, as specified in the applicable Final Terms) and ending on the immediately following Observation Period End Date, following adjustment of such date pursuant to these Index Linked Conditions or as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable (and including or excluding such Observation Period End Date, as specified in the applicable Final Terms); or
- (b) if the consequence of "No Extension" is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be applicable, each period commencing on the Observation Period Start Date, prior to any adjustment of such date pursuant to these Index Linked Conditions or as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable (and including or excluding such Observation Period Start Date, as specified in the applicable Final Terms) and ending on the immediately following Observation Period End Date, prior to any adjustment of such date pursuant to these Index Linked Conditions or as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable (and including or excluding such Observation Period End Date, as specified in the applicable Final Terms).

"Observation Period End Date" means, in respect of an Index, each date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, subject to adjustment in accordance with the provisions of "Observation Date", "Valuation Date" or otherwise as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable.

"Observation Period Start Date" means, in respect of an Index, each date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, subject to adjustment in accordance with the provisions of "Observation Date", "Valuation Date" or otherwise as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable.

"Proprietary Index" means any Index for which the "Type of Index" is specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, or, if not specified, any Index the Calculation Agent determines as such.

"Related Exchange" means, in relation to any Unitary Index or Multi-Exchange Index, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, each exchange or quotation system where trading has a material effect (as determined by the Calculation Agent) on the overall market for futures or options contracts relating to the Index.

"Scheduled Closing Time" means, in respect of an Exchange or Related Exchange and a Scheduled Trading Day, the scheduled weekday closing time of such Exchange or Related Exchange on such Scheduled Trading Day, without regard to after hours or any other trading outside of the regular trading session hours.

"Scheduled Observation Date" means any original date that, but for the occurrence of an event causing a Disrupted Day, would have been an Observation Date.

"Scheduled Trading Day" means in respect of:

- (a) any Unitary Index, any day on which each Exchange and each Related Exchange for the Index are scheduled to be open for trading for their respective regular trading sessions;
- (b) any Multi-Exchange Index, any day on which (i) the Index Sponsor is scheduled to publish the level of the Index, and (ii) the Related Exchange for the Index is scheduled to be open for trading for its regular trading session;
- (c) any Proprietary Index, any day on, or, as the case may be, in respect of, which the Index Sponsor is scheduled to publish the level of such Index;
- (d) any Constant Maturity Yield Index, any day on, or, as the case may be, in respect of, which the Index Sponsor is scheduled to publish the level of such Index; and
- (e) any Non-Exchange Traded Index, any day on, or, as the case may be, in respect of, which the Index Sponsor is scheduled to publish the level of such Index.

"Scheduled Valuation Date" means any original date that, but for the occurrence of an event causing a Disrupted Day, would have been a Valuation Date.

"Strike Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Trade Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Trading Disruption" means:

- (a) in respect of any Unitary Index, any suspension of, or limitation imposed on, trading by any relevant Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise and whether by reason of movements in price exceeding limits permitted by the relevant Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise, (i) relating to securities that comprise 20 per cent. or more of the level of such Index on any relevant Exchange, or (ii) in futures or options contracts relating to such Index on any relevant Related Exchange;
- (b) in respect of any Multi-Exchange Index, any suspension or limitation imposed on trading by any relevant Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise, and whether by reason of movements in price exceeding limits permitted by the relevant Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise, (i) relating to any Component Security on the Exchange in respect of such Component Security, or (ii) in futures or options contracts relating to the Index on the Related Exchange; and
- (c) in respect of any Non-Exchange Traded Index, any suspension of, or limitation imposed on, trading by the relevant Exchange or otherwise, and whether by reason of movements in price exceeding limits permitted by the relevant Exchange or otherwise, relating to any component on the Exchange in respect of such component.

"Unitary Index" means any Index for which the "Type of Index" is specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, or, if not specified, any Index the Calculation Agent determines as such.

"Valuation Cut-Off Date" means:

- (a) if "Valuation Cut-Off Date (Backstopped)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date, or, if earlier, the Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the Common Scheduled Trading Day) falling on or immediately preceding the second Business Day immediately preceding the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made pursuant to any calculation or determination made on such Valuation Date, provided that the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall not fall prior to the original date on which such Valuation Date was scheduled to fall and in such case the original date shall be the Valuation Cut-Off Date; or
- (b) if "Valuation Cut-Off Date (No Backstop)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date.

"Valuation Date" means each Valuation Date specified in the applicable Final Terms, or if such date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, or if such date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day) or, if earlier, the Valuation Cut-Off Date. If such day is a Disrupted Day, then:

- (a) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a single Index, the Valuation Date shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date up to, and including, the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day. In that case, or if such Valuation Date falls on the Valuation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for the Index, (i) the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day or not a Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, determine the relevant level or price by determining the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date in accordance with (subject to Index Linked Condition 5 below) the formula for and method of calculating the Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day (A) in respect of a Unitary Index or Multi-Exchange Index, using the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each security comprised in the Index (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day (as defined in the Share Linked Conditions in relation to a share) has occurred in respect of the relevant security on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date), (B) in respect of a Proprietary Index using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, (C) in respect of a Constant Maturity Yield Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, or (D) in respect of a Non-Exchange Traded Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index or, if any event described in sub-paragraph (e) of the definition of Market Disruption Event has occurred in respect of any component comprised in the Index, its good faith estimate of the value for such component, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate the Index pursuant to the above, the Calculation Agent may adjust the formula for and method of calculating such Index, including disregarding any rebalancing rules in the relevant rules of the Index, PROVIDED THAT if the Calculation Agent determines that such action as set out in (C) or (D) is Unlawful or Commercially Impracticable, then the Calculation Agent shall determine the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date in its discretion, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner;

- (b) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall not be applicable, the Valuation Date for each Index not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Valuation Date (or, if earlier, the Valuation Cut-Off Date) and the Valuation Date for each Index affected (each an "Affected Index") by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Index, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date up to, and including, the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Index. In that case, or if such Valuation Date falls on the Valuation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for such Index, (i) the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date for such Index (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day or not a Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price using, in relation to such Index, the level of such Index determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using the level of such Index as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date in accordance with (subject to Index Linked Condition 5) the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day (A) in respect of a Unitary Index or Multi-Exchange Index, using the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each security comprised in that Index (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day (as defined in the Share Linked Conditions in relation to a share) has occurred in respect of the relevant security on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date), (B) in respect of a Proprietary Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, (C) in respect of a Constant Maturity Yield Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, or (D) in respect of a Non-Exchange Traded Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index or, if any event described in sub-paragraph (e) of the definition of Market Disruption Event has occurred in respect of any component comprised in the Index, its good faith estimate of the value for such component, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate the Index pursuant to the above, the Calculation Agent may adjust the formula for and method of calculating such Index, including disregarding any rebalancing rules in the relevant rules of the Index, PROVIDED THAT if the Calculation Agent determines that such action as set out in (C) or (D) is Unlawful or Commercially Impracticable, then the Calculation Agent shall determine the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date in its discretion, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner;

- (c) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Valuation Date for each Index not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Valuation Date (or if the Scheduled Valuation Date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day, or in either case, if earlier, the Valuation Cut-Off Date) and the Valuation Date for each Index affected (each an "Affected Index") by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Index, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date (or if the Scheduled Valuation Date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day) up to, and including, the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Index. In that case, or if such Valuation Date falls on the Valuation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, (i) the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date for such Index (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day for an Index or not a Common Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price using, in relation to such Index, the level of such Index determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using the level of that Index as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date in accordance with (subject to Index Linked Condition 5) the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day (A) in respect of a Unitary Index or Multi-Exchange Index, using the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each security comprised in such Index (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day (as defined in the Share Linked Conditions in relation to a share) has occurred in respect of the relevant security on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date), (B) in respect of a Proprietary Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, (C) in respect of a Constant Maturity Yield Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, or (D) in respect of a Non-Exchange Traded Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index or, if any event described in sub-paragraph (e) of the definition of Market Disruption Event has occurred in respect of any component comprised in the Index, its good faith estimate of the value for such component, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate the Index pursuant to the above, the Calculation Agent may adjust the formula for and method of calculating such Index, including disregarding any rebalancing rules in the relevant rules of the Index, PROVIDED THAT if the Calculation Agent determines that such action as set out in (C) or (D) is Unlawful or Commercially Impracticable, then the Calculation Agent shall determine the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date in its discretion, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner; or
- (d) where the Index Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Indices and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Common Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Valuation Date shall be the first succeeding Common Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day for any Index, unless each of the Common Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date up to, and including, the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day for one or more Indices. In that case, or if the Valuation Date falls on the Valuation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, (i) the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day for an Index or not a Common Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price using, in relation to each Index for which the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day or is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the level of such Index determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using the level of such Index as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date in accordance with (subject to Index Linked Condition 5) the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day (A) in respect of a Unitary Index or Multi-Exchange Index, using the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each security comprised in each Index for which the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day or is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day (as defined in the Share Linked Conditions in relation to a share) has occurred in respect of the relevant security on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date), (B) in respect of a Proprietary Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, (C) in respect of a Constant Maturity Yield Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index, or, if the value of any component cannot be determined at such time on such day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, or (D) in respect of a Non-Exchange Traded Index, using such levels or values as the Calculation Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date of each component comprised in the Index or, if any event described in subparagraph (e) of the definition of Market Disruption Event has occurred in respect of any component comprised in the Index, its good faith estimate of the value for such component, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate the Index pursuant to the above, the Calculation Agent may adjust the formula for and method of calculating such Index, including disregarding any rebalancing rules in the relevant rules of the Index, PROVIDED THAT if the Calculation Agent determines that such action as set out in (C) or (D) is Unlawful or Commercially Impracticable, then the Calculation Agent shall determine the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date in its discretion, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.

"Valuation Time" means:

- (a) in respect of any Unitary Index, (i) for the purposes of determining whether an Early Closure, an Exchange Disruption or a Trading Disruption has occurred in respect of (A) any Exchange, the Scheduled Closing Time of the Exchange (provided that, if the relevant Exchange closes prior to its Scheduled Closing Time, then the Valuation Time shall be such actual closing time), and (B) any options contracts or futures contracts on such Index, the close of trading on the Related Exchange, and (ii) in all other circumstances, the time at which the official closing level of the Index is calculated and published by the Index Sponsor;
- (b) in respect of any Multi-Exchange Index, (i) for the purposes of determining whether an Early Closure, an Exchange Disruption or a Trading Disruption has occurred in respect of (I) any Component Security, the Scheduled Closing Time on the Exchange in respect of such Component Security (provided that, if the relevant Exchange closes prior to its Scheduled Closing Time, then the Valuation Time shall be such actual closing time), and (II) any options contracts or futures contracts on the Index, the close of trading on the Related Exchange, and (ii) in all other circumstances, the time at which the official closing level of the Index is calculated and published by the Index Sponsor;

- (c) in respect of any Proprietary Index, the time at which the Index Sponsor calculates and publishes the official closing level of the Index;
- (d) in respect of any Constant Maturity Yield Index, (i) for the purposes of determining the Index Closing Level or whether a Market Disruption Event has occurred, the time at which the Index Sponsor calculates and publishes the level of the Index, and (ii) in all other circumstances, the time at which the level of the Index is fixed under the rules of the Index; and
- (e) in respect of any Non-Exchange Traded Index, the time at which the Index Sponsor calculates the level of the Index.

"Worst Performing Index" means, in respect of a Basket of Indices and the Valuation Date (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms), the Index with the lowest Index Performance on such day as determined by the Calculation Agent (provided that if two or more Indices have the same lowest Index Performance on such day, the Calculation Agent shall determine which Index shall be the Worst Performing Index, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, and such Index shall be the Worst Performing Index).

3. Market Disruption

"Market Disruption Event" means:

- (a) in respect of any Unitary Index, the occurrence or existence of (i) a Trading Disruption, (ii) an Exchange Disruption, which in either case the Calculation Agent determines is material, at any time during the one hour period that ends at the relevant Valuation Time or (iii) an Early Closure.

For the purposes of determining whether a Market Disruption Event in respect of a Unitary Index exists at any time, if a Market Disruption Event (as defined in the Share Linked Conditions in relation to a share) occurs in respect of a Component Security included in the Index at any time, then the relevant percentage contribution of such Component Security to the level of the Index shall be based on a comparison of (A) the portion of the level of the Index attributable to such Component Security and (B) the overall level of the Index, in each case immediately before the occurrence of such Market Disruption Event;

- (b) in respect of any Multi-Exchange Index either:
 - (i) (A) the occurrence or existence, in respect of any Component Security, of:
 - (1) a Trading Disruption, which the Calculation Agent determines is material, at any time during the one hour period that ends at the relevant Valuation Time in respect of the Exchange on which such Component Security is principally traded;
 - (2) an Exchange Disruption, which the Calculation Agent determines is material, at any time during the one hour period that ends at the relevant Valuation Time in respect of the Exchange on which such Component Security is principally traded; or
 - (3) an Early Closure; and
 - (B) the aggregate of all Component Securities in respect of which a Trading Disruption, an Exchange Disruption or an Early Closure occurs or exists, comprises 20 per cent. or more of the level of the Index; or

- (ii) the occurrence or existence, in respect of futures or options contracts relating to the Index, of (A) a Trading Disruption, (B) an Exchange Disruption which in either case the Calculation Agent determines is material, at any time during the one hour period that ends at the Valuation Time in respect of the Related Exchange or (C) an Early Closure.

For the purposes of determining whether a Market Disruption Event in respect of a Multi-Exchange Index exists at any time, if a Market Disruption Event (as defined in the Share Linked Conditions in relation to a share) occurs in respect of a Component Security at that time, then the relevant percentage contribution of such Component Security to the level of the Index shall be based on a comparison of (x) the portion of the level of the Index attributable to that Component Security and (y) the overall level of the Index, in each case using the official opening weightings as published by the Index Sponsor as part of the market "opening data".

- (c) in respect of any Proprietary Index, the failure by the Index Calculation Agent (as specified in the rules relating to the relevant Proprietary Index) to calculate, and/or the Index Sponsor to publish, the level of the Index on any Scheduled Trading Day or in respect of such Scheduled Trading Day within the scheduled timeframe for such calculation or publication.
- (d) in respect of any Constant Maturity Yield Index, any of the following:
 - (i) the failure by the entity responsible for calculating the Index (as specified in the rules relating to the relevant Constant Maturity Yield Index) to calculate, and/or the Index Sponsor to publish, the level of the Index on any Scheduled Trading Day or in respect of such Scheduled Trading Day within the scheduled timeframe for such calculation or publication;
 - (ii) any closure of markets in trading the Index Underlying Securities other than for ordinary public holidays, or any restriction, limitation or suspension in trading of the Index Underlying Securities that in each case, has a material effect (as determined by the Calculation Agent) on the ability of market participants to (A) effect transactions in such markets in the Index Underlying Securities or (B) obtain market values for Index Underlying Securities in such markets; or
 - (iii) any circumstance (or a combination of them) that may cause unexpected volatility or illiquidity in markets in the trading of the relevant Index Underlying Securities that has a material effect (as determined by the Calculation Agent) on the ability of market participants to (A) effect transactions in such markets in the Index Underlying Securities or (B) obtain market values for Index Underlying Securities in such markets, in each case, including (without limitation) if such event arises in connection with or following any default or potential default of the issuer of the Index Underlying Securities.

- (e) in respect of any Non-Exchange Traded Index,
 - (i) (A)
 - (1) the failure by the entity responsible for calculating the Index (as specified in the rules relating to the relevant Non-Exchange Traded Index) to calculate, and/or the Index Sponsor to publish, the level of the Index on any Scheduled Trading Day or in respect of such Scheduled Trading Day within the scheduled timeframe for such calculation or publication;
 - (2) the occurrence or existence, at any time during the period in which the values of the components of the Non-Exchange Traded Index are, or would be, determined for the purposes of calculating the level of the Index in respect of the relevant Scheduled Trading Day, in respect of any component of the Non-Exchange Traded Index which is a share or other exchange-traded security, of (I) a Trading Disruption, (II) an Exchange Disruption, which in either case the Calculation Agent determines is material, or (III) an Early Closure, in each case in respect of the Exchange for such component;;

- (3) the occurrence or existence, at any time during the period in which the values of the components of the Non-Exchange Traded Index are, or would be, determined for the purposes of calculating the level of the Index in respect of the relevant Scheduled Trading Day, in respect of any component of the Non-Exchange Traded Index which is a bond or other fixed-income security, of (I) any closure of markets in trading such components of the Non-Exchange Traded Index other than for ordinary public holidays, or any restriction, limitation or suspension in trading of the components of the Non-Exchange Traded Index that in each case, has a material effect (as determined by the Calculation Agent) on the ability of market participants to (A) effect transactions in such markets in such components or (B) obtain market values for such components of the Non-Exchange Traded Index in such markets, or (II) any circumstance (or a combination of them) that may cause unexpected volatility or illiquidity in markets in the trading of the relevant components of the Non-Exchange Traded Index that has a material effect (as determined by the Calculation Agent) on the ability of market participants to (A) effect transactions in such markets in such components or (B) obtain market values for such components of the Non-Exchange Traded Index in such markets; or
 - (4) a Fund Event (as defined in the Fund Linked Conditions in relation to a fund) in respect of a component of the Non-Exchange Traded Index at that time; and
- (B) the aggregate of all components in respect of which the events in (i)(A)(1), (2), (3) or (4) above occurs or exists, comprises 20 per cent. or more of the level of the Index; and the Calculation Agent determines that the occurrence or existence of such events has a material effect on the Index.

4. Barrier Event

- (a) A "Barrier Event (intraday)" means (and a Barrier Event (intraday) shall be deemed to occur if), in respect of an Index, the Calculation Agent determines that the Index Level of such Index as of the Barrier Event Valuation Time (intraday) on any Barrier Event Determination Day is less than or equal to the corresponding Barrier Level for such Index and such Barrier Event Determination Day.

For the purpose of determining whether a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred on any day in respect of a Unitary Index and a Multi-Exchange Index, the definition of Market Disruption Event specified in Index Linked Condition 3 shall be amended such that (i) all references to "during the one-hour period that ends at the relevant Valuation Time" shall be deleted, and (ii) in the definition of "Early Closure" appearing in Index Linked Condition 2, each reference to "Valuation Time" and "Scheduled Closing Time" shall be construed as a reference to "Barrier Event Valuation Time (intraday)".

- (b) A "Barrier Event (closing)" means (and a Barrier Event (closing) shall be deemed to occur if), in respect of an Index, the Calculation Agent determines that the Index Closing Level of such Index as of the Barrier Event Valuation Time (closing) on any Barrier Event Determination Day is less than or equal to the corresponding Barrier Level for such Index and such Barrier Event Determination Day.

5. Adjustments and Corrections to an Index

(a) Consequences of a Successor Index Sponsor or a Successor Index

If a relevant Index is (i) not calculated and announced by the Index Sponsor but is calculated and announced by a successor sponsor (the "Successor Index Sponsor") acceptable to the Calculation Agent, or (ii) replaced by a successor index using, in the determination of the Calculation Agent, the same or a substantially similar formula for and method of calculation as used in the calculation of that Index, then in each case that index (the "Successor Index") will be deemed to be the Index.

(b) Modification and Cessation of Calculation of an Index

If (i) on or prior to a Valuation Date, an Observation Date or an Averaging Date (or other relevant date, as determined by the Calculation Agent), the relevant Index Sponsor makes or announces that it will make a material change in the formula for or the method of calculating a relevant Index or in any other way materially modifies that Index (other than a modification prescribed in that formula or method to maintain that Index in the event of changes in constituent stock and capitalisation or contracts and other routine events) (an "Index Modification"), or permanently cancels a relevant Index and no Successor Index exists (an "Index Cancellation"), (ii) on a Valuation Date, an Observation Date or an Averaging Date (or other relevant date, as determined by the Calculation Agent), (x) the Index Sponsor or, if applicable, the Successor Index Sponsor fails to calculate and announce a relevant Index or, (y) in the case of a Constant Maturity Yield Index, the Calculation Agent determines that, regardless of or following any adjustments to the Constant Maturity Yield Index by the Index Sponsor, the level of the Index no longer represents the actual yield to maturity of a notional Index Underlying Security with a maturity exactly equal to the Index Underlying Securities Yield Target Maturity (which may occur in connection with or following any default or potential default of the issuer of the Index Underlying Securities or unexpected volatility or illiquidity in any market in or on which any Index Underlying Securities are traded), provided that, in respect of an Index which is a Multi-Exchange Index, a Proprietary Index, a Constant Maturity Yield Index or a Non-Exchange Traded Index, the Calculation Agent may, in its discretion, determine that such event instead results in the occurrence of a Disrupted Day (an "Index Disruption") or (iii) on or prior to a Valuation Date, an Observation Date or an Averaging Date (or other relevant date, as determined by the Calculation Agent), an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date has occurred in respect of a relevant Index (an Administrator/Benchmark Event, together with an Index Disruption, an Index Modification and an Index Cancellation shall each be an "Index Adjustment Event"), then the Issuer may take the action described in (A) or (B) below:

- (A) require the Calculation Agent to determine if such Index Adjustment Event has a material effect on the Index Linked Instruments and, if so, calculate (I) in the case of an Index which is not a Constant Maturity Yield Index or Non-Exchange Traded Index, the relevant level or price or using, in lieu of a published level for such Index, the level for such Index as at the Valuation Time on that Valuation Date, Observation Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, as determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the change, failure or cancellation, but using only those securities or components that comprised such Index immediately prior to that Index Adjustment Event, (II) in the case of an Index which is a Constant Maturity Yield Index, the relevant level for such Index as at the Valuation Time on that Valuation Date, Observation Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, as determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the change, failure or cancellation or (III) in the case of an Index which is a Non-Exchange Traded Index, the relevant level for such Index as at the Valuation Time on that Valuation Date, Observation Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, as determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the change, failure or cancellation, but using only those securities or components that comprised such

Index immediately prior to the Index Adjustment Event, provided that if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate the Index pursuant to the above, the Calculation Agent may adjust the formula for and method of calculating such Index, including disregarding any rebalancing rules in the relevant rules of the Index,

PROVIDED THAT, in the case of (I), (II) or (III) above, if such action is Unlawful or Commercially Impracticable, the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level in its discretion in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner;

- (B) if the Calculation Agent determines that it is not reasonably practicable (taking into account the costs involved) to calculate or continue to calculate the Index pursuant to the preceding paragraph, the Calculation Agent may substitute the Index with another index or basket of indices, as applicable, determined by the Calculation Agent to be comparable to the relevant Index, and, following such substitution, the Calculation Agent will make such adjustment(s) that it determines to be appropriate, if any, to any variable, calculation methodology, valuation, settlement, payment terms or any other terms of the Instruments to account for such substitution; or
- (C) (1) in the case of Notes, on giving notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Note Condition 14, redeem all (but not less than all) of the Notes, each Note being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or
- (2) in the case of W&C Instruments, on giving notice to Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12, cancel the W&C Instruments. If the W&C Instruments are so cancelled the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, held by him which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Index Adjustment Event, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12.

Notwithstanding anything else in these Index Linked Conditions, in the event of an Administrator/Benchmark Event, the Calculation Agent may determine not to undertake any or all of the actions described in this Index Linked Condition 5.

Upon the occurrence of an Index Adjustment Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as reasonably practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, giving details of the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto, provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of such action. The Issuer shall make available for inspection by Holders copies of any such determinations.

(c) Corrections to an Index

If the level of a relevant Index published on any Valuation Date, Observation Date or Averaging Date (or other relevant date, as determined by the Calculation Agent), as the case may be, by the relevant Index Sponsor or (if applicable) the relevant Successor Index Sponsor and which is utilised for any calculation or determination made for the purposes of the Index Linked Instruments (a "Relevant Calculation") is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Index Level") is published by the relevant Index Sponsor or (if applicable) the relevant Successor Index Sponsor no later than two Business Days prior to the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made pursuant to such Relevant Calculation, then such Corrected Index Level shall be deemed to be the relevant level for such Index on such Averaging Date, Observation Date or Valuation Date (or other relevant date, as determined by the Calculation Agent), as the case may be, and the Calculation Agent shall use such Corrected Index Level in determining the relevant level or price and/or whether the Barrier Event (closing) or Barrier Event (intraday), as the case may be, has been triggered.

6. Additional Disruption Events

- (a) "Additional Disruption Event" means any of Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging, Non-compliance Event and/or Regulatory Order, in each case if specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) (i) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (ii) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines that (A) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any relevant security comprised in an Index or (B) the Issuer will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations in relation to the Index Linked Instruments (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on the tax position of the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates).

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the equity or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the Index Linked Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s).

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents acting on its behalf would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the equity or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the Index Linked Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s), provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging.

"Non-compliance Event" means:

- (i) any non-compliance with or breach, violation or contravention by a Holder of any undertakings, obligations and/or provisions of the Relevant Selling and Transfer Restrictions for the Relevant Jurisdiction;
- (ii) any inaccuracy with respect to any representations made or deemed to be made by a Holder under the Relevant Selling and Transfer Restrictions for the Relevant Jurisdiction;
- (iii) any failure by any Holder to provide the Issuer and/or its Affiliates promptly with any information or document (including, without limitation, any "know your client" information relating to the Holder and/or its associates, affiliates or nominees), or any additional information or additional document, or
- (iv) any failure by any Holder to promptly comply with any request of the Issuer, the Guarantor or any of their respective Affiliates to execute any document, including, without limitation, any request to execute any side letter or representation letter, in each case that the Issuer, the Guarantor or any of their respective Affiliates reasonably deems necessary or appropriate in order to comply with regulations or requests of any governmental or regulatory authorities of the Relevant Jurisdiction from time to time, in each case, as determined by the Issuer.

"Relevant Jurisdiction" means each such jurisdiction as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Relevant Selling and Transfer Restrictions" means, in respect of a Relevant Jurisdiction, such selling and transfer restrictions (if any) as specified in the applicable Final Terms for such Relevant Jurisdiction.

The Relevant Selling and Transfer Restrictions shall be deemed to be incorporated into and form part of this Index Linked Condition 6 (Additional Disruption Events).

"Regulatory Order" means, and shall have occurred if, the governmental or regulatory authority of any Relevant Jurisdiction (i) has requested that the Issuer and/or its Affiliates or agent terminate or otherwise modify any Hedging Arrangements, or (ii) imposes any qualitative or quantitative limitation or any other requirements in relation to (a) any Hedging Arrangements, and/or (b) the Index Linked Instruments, and/or (c) the MLBV Guarantee, and/or (d) the Holders and/or (e) any document or matter in relation thereto, which the Issuer reasonably determines will have a material effect on any of the foregoing.

For the purposes of Non-compliance Event and Regulatory Order, the references to "Holder" mean the Holder, and where the Holder is holding the relevant Instruments in the capacity as a custodian, in addition, the beneficial owner(s) on whose behalf the custodian holds such Instruments.

- (b) If Additional Disruption Events are specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, then if an Additional Disruption Event occurs, the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may take the action described in (i) or (ii) below:
 - (i) require the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, to determine the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of the terms of these Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms to account for the Additional Disruption Event and determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
 - (ii) give notice to Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, and (A) in the case of Notes, redeem all, but not less than all, of the Notes, each nominal amount of Notes equal to the Calculation Amount being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or (B) in the case of W&C Instruments, cancel the W&C Instruments and pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, held by him which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Additional Disruption Event, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, payment being made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12.
- (c) Upon the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders stating the occurrence of the Additional Disruption Event, giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of the Additional Disruption Event.

7. Postponement of Payment Dates

If "Averaging Cut-Off Date (No Backstop)" and/or "Valuation Cut-Off Date (No Backstop)" and/or "Observation Cut-Off Date (No Backstop)" applies to any Averaging Date, Valuation Date, Observation Date or any other determination date on which any calculation or determination may have to be made (each a "Determination Date") to determine whether any payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made on a Payment Date, and if such Determination Date is postponed pursuant to the Index Linked Conditions then the applicable Payment Date may be postponed accordingly and shall fall on the later of (a) the Scheduled Payment Date (if any) and (b) the second (2nd) Business Day, or such number of Business Days as specified in the applicable Final Terms, following the Determination Date as so postponed (or, if such date falls on different dates for one or more Reference Items, the latest of these dates to occur).

For the purposes of this Index Linked Condition 7,

"Payment Date" means the Maturity Date, the Settlement Date, any Interest Payment Date, Specified Interest Payment Date, Automatic Early Redemption Date, Mandatory Early Exercise Cash Settlement Date, or any date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made, as is applicable.

"Scheduled Payment Date" means any original date that, but for the postponement of such date, would have been a Payment Date.

Each Payment Date is subject to adjustment as a Payment Day in accordance with Note Condition 6(C) (Payments – Payment Day) or W&C Instruments Condition 6(B) (General Provisions Relating to Settlement – Payment Day), as applicable.

ANNEX 2

ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR SHARE LINKED INSTRUMENTS

1. Interpretation

If specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the terms and conditions applicable to Share Linked Notes shall comprise the terms and conditions of the Notes (the "Note Conditions") and the Additional Terms and Conditions for Share Linked Instruments set out below (the "Share Linked Conditions"), in each case subject to completion and/or amendment in the applicable Final Terms. The terms and conditions applicable to Share Linked W&C Instruments shall comprise the terms and conditions of the W&C Instruments (the "W&C Instruments Conditions") and the Share Linked Conditions, in each case subject to completion and/or amendment in the applicable Final Terms. In the event of any inconsistency between the Note Conditions, in the case of Notes, and the W&C Instruments Conditions, in the case of W&C Instruments, and the Share Linked Conditions, the Share Linked Conditions shall prevail. In the event of any inconsistency between (a) the Note Conditions or the W&C Instruments Conditions and the Share Linked Conditions and (b) the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms shall prevail. References in the Share Linked Conditions to "Instrument" and "Instruments" shall be deemed to be references to "Note" and "Notes" or "W&C Instrument" and "W&C Instruments" as the context admits.

2. Definitions

For the purposes of these Share Linked Conditions:

"Averaging Cut-Off Date" means:

- (a) "Averaging Cut-Off Date (Backstopped)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, or on account of such date not being a Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, a Common Scheduled Trading Day), would have been the final Averaging Date, or, if earlier, the Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the Common Scheduled Trading Day) falling on or immediately preceding the second Business Day immediately preceding the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made pursuant to any calculation or determination made on the relevant Averaging Dates, provided that the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall not fall prior to the original date on which the final Averaging Date was scheduled to fall and in such case the original date shall be the Averaging Cut-Off Date; or
- (b) if "Averaging Cut-Off Date (No Backstop)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, or on account of such date not being a Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, a Common Scheduled Trading Day), would have been the final Averaging Date.

"Averaging Date" means each date specified as an Averaging Date in the applicable Final Terms or, if any such date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Scheduled Trading Day, (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day), or, if earlier, the Averaging Cut-Off Date. If any such day is a Disrupted Day:

- (a) if "Omission" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, then such date will be deemed not to be an Averaging Date for the purposes of determining the relevant price; provided that, if through the operation of this provision there would not be an Averaging Date, then the provisions of the definition of "Valuation Date" will apply for purposes of determining the relevant price on the final Averaging Date, as if such final Averaging Date were a Valuation Date that was a Disrupted Day; or
- (b) if "Postponement" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, then the provisions of the definition of "Valuation Date" will apply for the purposes of determining the relevant price on that Averaging Date as if such Averaging Date were a Valuation Date that was a Disrupted Day irrespective of whether, pursuant to such determination, that deferred Averaging Date would fall on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
- (c) if "Modified Postponement" is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms then:
 - (i) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a single Share, the Averaging Date shall be the first succeeding Valid Date. If the first succeeding Valid Date has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for the Share, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date), and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (a)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below;
 - (ii) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall not be applicable, the Averaging Date for each Share not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the originally designated Averaging Date (following adjustment of such date owing to the original date not being a Scheduled Trading Day, if applicable) (the "Scheduled Averaging Date") and the Averaging Date for a Share affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Share. If the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Share has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for such Share, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date) in relation to such Share, and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (b)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below;
 - (iii) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Averaging Date for each Share not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the originally designated Averaging Date (following adjustment of such date owing to the original date not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, if applicable) (the "Scheduled Averaging Date") and the Averaging Date for a Share affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Share. If the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Share has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading

Day, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date) in relation to such Share, and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (c)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below; or

- (iv) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Common Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Averaging Date for each Share shall be the first succeeding Common Valid Date in relation to such Share. If the first succeeding Common Valid Date has not occurred as of the Valuation Time on the Averaging Cut-Off Date or if such Averaging Date falls on the Averaging Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, then (A) the Averaging Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether the Averaging Cut-Off Date is already an Averaging Date), and (B) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant level or price for that Averaging Date in accordance with sub-paragraph (d)(ii) of the definition of "Valuation Date" below, and, for the purposes of these Share Linked Conditions "Valid Date" means a Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day and on which another Averaging Date does not or is deemed not to occur, and "Common Valid Date" means a Common Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day for any Share and on which another Averaging Date does not or is deemed not to occur.

"Barrier Event Determination Day" means, in respect of each Share (or in the case of a Basket of Shares, each Share in the Basket of Shares):

- (a) if the applicable Final Terms provides that the Barrier Event (intraday) provisions shall apply, and:
 - (i) if "Barrier Event Determination Day (No Extension)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each day on which the price of such Share is quoted on the relevant Exchange during the relevant Observation Period, regardless of whether or not such day is a Scheduled Trading Day for such Share (and if the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines that a Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Share at any time on any Barrier Event Determination Day, it shall disregard the period during which it determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner that such Market Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing for the purposes of determining whether or not a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred); or
 - (ii) if "Barrier Event Determination Day (Extended)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each day on which the price of such Share is quoted on the relevant Exchange during the relevant Observation Period, regardless of whether or not such day is a Scheduled Trading Day for such Share (and if the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines that a Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Share at any time on any Barrier Event Determination Day, subject to the proviso below, it shall disregard the period during which it determines in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner that such Market Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing for the purposes of determining whether or not a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred),

PROVIDED THAT, notwithstanding the foregoing, the scheduled Observation Period End Date shall be deemed as a Barrier Event Determination Day for all purposes, and if the price of such Share is not quoted on the relevant Exchange and/or a Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Share during the 15-minute period that ends at the relevant Valuation Time on the scheduled Observation Period End Date, then the Observation Period End Date will be extended until such day on which the price of such Share is quoted on the relevant Exchange during a period on which no Market Disruption Event is occurring for such Share, PROVIDED FURTHER THAT if no price of such Share is quoted on the relevant Exchange during a period on which no Market Disruption Event is occurring by the Valuation Time on the eighth Scheduled Trading Day following the scheduled Observation Period End Date in respect of such Share ("Barrier Event (intraday) Cut-Off Date"), the Calculation Agent shall determine the value of such Share in accordance with paragraph (a) of the definition of "Valuation Date" as if the Barrier Event (intraday) Cut-Off Date were the Valuation Cut-Off Date, for the purposes of determining whether or not a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred; or

- (b) if the applicable Final Terms provides that the Barrier Event (closing) provisions shall apply, each day specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, and if "Barrier Event Determination Day (Valuation Date Adjustment)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, each such day shall be subject to adjustment as a Valuation Date as if each such day had been specified to be a "Valuation Date".

"Barrier Event Valuation Time (closing)" means, in respect of each Share to be valued, the Scheduled Closing Time on the relevant Exchange on the relevant Barrier Event Determination Day. If the relevant Exchange closes prior to its Scheduled Closing Time and the specified Barrier Event Valuation Time (closing) is after the actual closing time for its regular trading session, then the Barrier Event Valuation Time (closing) shall be such actual closing time.

"Barrier Event Valuation Time (intraday)" means any time during the regular trading session (without regard to any after hours or any other trading outside of the regular session) on the Exchange.

"Barrier Level" means, in respect of a Share, such price for such Share as is specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Basket of Shares" means a basket composed of Shares in their relative proportions or number of Shares, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Cash Settled Instruments" means Instruments that entitle the holder, upon due exercise, to receive from the Issuer the Cash Settlement Amount on the Settlement Date.

"Common Scheduled Trading Day" means, in respect of a Basket of Shares, each day which is a Scheduled Trading Day for all the Shares in the Basket of Shares.

"Component Share" means, in respect of any Share which is a Stapled Share, and subject to adjustment in accordance with these Share Linked Conditions, each Share specified as such in the applicable Final Terms and related expressions shall be construed accordingly.

"Component Share Company" means, in respect of a Component Share, the issuer of such Component Share as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Disrupted Day" means any Scheduled Trading Day on which a relevant Exchange or any Related Exchange fails to open for trading during its regular trading session or on which a Market Disruption Event has occurred.

"Early Closure" means the closure on any Exchange Business Day of the relevant Exchange or any Related Exchange(s) prior to its Scheduled Closing Time unless such earlier closing time is announced by such Exchange(s) or Related Exchange(s) at least one hour prior to the earlier of (i) the actual closing time for the regular trading session on such Exchange(s) or Related Exchange(s) on such Exchange Business Day, and (ii) the submission deadline for orders to be entered into the Exchange or Related Exchange system for execution at the Valuation Time on such Exchange Business Day.

"Exchange" means, in relation to a Share, each exchange or quotation system specified as such for such Share in the applicable Final Terms, any successor to such exchange or quotation system or any substitute exchange or quotation system to which trading in the Share has temporarily relocated (provided that the Calculation Agent has determined that there is comparable liquidity relative to such Share on such temporary substitute exchange or quotation system as on the original Exchange).

"Exchange Business Day" means any Scheduled Trading Day on which each Exchange and each Related Exchange are open for trading during their respective regular trading sessions, notwithstanding any such Exchange or Related Exchange closing prior to its Scheduled Closing Time.

"Exchange Disruption" means any event (other than an Early Closure) that disrupts or impairs (as determined by the Calculation Agent) the ability of market participants in general (i) to effect transactions in, or obtain market values for, the Shares on the Exchange or (ii) to effect transactions in, or obtain market values for, futures or options contracts relating to the Share on any relevant Related Exchange.

"Final Price" means, in respect of a Share, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Share Closing Price of such Share on the Valuation Date (or where a "Final Valuation Date" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Share Closing Price of such Share on the Final Valuation Date), subject to adjustment in accordance with these Share Linked Conditions.

"Final Valuation Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms. Such date shall be deemed to be a Valuation Date and subject to adjustment in accordance with the provisions of "Valuation Date" or as otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Hedging Arrangements" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (a) positions or contracts in securities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange or (b) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) in order to hedge individually or on a portfolio basis the Issuer's obligations under any Share Linked Instrument.

"Initial Price" means, in respect of a Share, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Share Closing Price of such Share on the Strike Date, subject to adjustment in accordance with these Share Linked Conditions.

"Observation Cut-Off Date" means:

- (a) if "Observation Cut-Off Date (Backstopped)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date or, if earlier, the Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the Common Scheduled Trading Day) falling on or immediately preceding the second Business Day immediately preceding the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made pursuant to any calculation or determination made on such Observation Date, provided that the Observation Cut-Off Date shall not fall prior to the original date on which such Observation Date was scheduled to fall and in such case the original date shall be the Observation Cut-Off Date; or
- (b) if "Observation Cut-Off Date (No Backstop)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date.

"Observation Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, or if such date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, or if such date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day), or, if earlier, the Observation Cut-Off Date. If any such day is a Disrupted Day, then:

- (a) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a single Share, the Observation Date shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date up to, and including, the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day. In that case, or if such Observation Date falls on the Observation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for such Share, (i) the Observation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be such Observation Date (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day or not a Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, determine the relevant price in accordance with its good faith estimate of the relevant price as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date;
- (b) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall not be applicable, the Observation Date for each Share not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Observation Date (or, if earlier, the Observation Cut-Off Date) and the Observation Date for each Share affected (each an "Affected Share") by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Share, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date up to, and including, the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Share. In that case, or if such Observation Date falls on the Observation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for such Share, (i) the Observation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Observation Date for such Share (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day or not a Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price using, in relation to such Share, a price determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using its good faith estimate of the price for such Share as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, and otherwise in accordance with the above provisions;
- (c) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Observation Date for each Share not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Observation Date (or if the Scheduled Observation Date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day, or in either case, if earlier, the Observation Cut-Off Date) and the Observation Date for each Share affected (each an "Affected Share") by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Share, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date (or if the Scheduled Observation Date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day) up to and including the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Share. In that case, or if such Observation Date falls on the Observation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, (i) the Observation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Observation Date for such Share (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day for a Share or not a Common Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price using, in relation to such Share, a price determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using its good faith estimate of the price for such Share as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, and otherwise in accordance with the above provisions; or
- (d) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Common Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Observation Date shall be the first succeeding Common

Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day for any Share, unless each of the Common Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Observation Date up to, and including, the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day for one or more Shares. In that case, or if such Observation Date falls on the Observation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, (i) the Observation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Observation Date (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day for a Share or not a Common Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price using, in relation to each Share for which the Observation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day or is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, a price determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using its good faith estimate of the price for such Share as of the Valuation Time on the Observation Cut-Off Date, and otherwise in accordance with the above provisions.

"Observation Period" means, in respect of a Share:

- (a) if the consequence of "Extension" is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be applicable, each period commencing on, the Observation Period Start Date, following adjustment of such date pursuant to these Share Linked Conditions or as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable (and including or excluding such Observation Period Start Date, as specified in the applicable Final Terms) and ending on the immediately following Observation Period End Date, following adjustment of such date pursuant to these Share Linked Conditions or as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable (and including or excluding such Observation Period End Date, as specified in the applicable Final Terms); or
- (b) if the consequence of "No Extension" is specified in the applicable Final Terms to be applicable, each period commencing on the Observation Period Start Date, prior to any adjustment of such date pursuant to these Share Linked Conditions or as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable (and including or excluding such Observation Period Start Date, as specified in the applicable Final Terms) and ending on the immediately following Observation Period End Date, prior to any adjustment of such date pursuant to these Share Linked Conditions or as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable (and including or excluding such Observation Period End Date, as specified in the applicable Final Terms).

"Observation Period End Date" means, in respect of a Share, each date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, subject to adjustment in accordance with the provisions of "Observation Date", "Valuation Date" or otherwise as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable.

"Observation Period Start Date" means, in respect of a Share, each date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms, subject to adjustment in accordance with the provisions of "Observation Date", "Valuation Date" or otherwise as specified in the applicable Final Terms, if applicable.

"Physical Delivery Notes" means Notes issued by BAC or MLBV that are redeemed by physical delivery.

"Related Exchange" means, in relation to a Share, each exchange or quotation system specified as such for such Share in the applicable Final Terms, any successor to such exchange or quotation system or any substitute exchange or quotation system to which trading in futures or options contracts relating to such Share has temporarily relocated (provided that the Calculation Agent has determined that there is comparable liquidity relative to the futures or options contracts relating to such Share on such temporary substitute exchange or quotation system as on the original Related Exchange), provided, however, that where "All Exchanges" is specified as the Related Exchange in the applicable Final Terms, "Related Exchange" shall mean each exchange or quotation system where trading has a material effect (as determined by the Calculation Agent) on the overall market for futures or options contracts relating to such Share.

"Scheduled Closing Time" means, in respect of an Exchange or Related Exchange and a Scheduled Trading Day, the scheduled weekday closing time of such Exchange or Related Exchange on such Scheduled Trading Day, without regard to after hours or any other trading outside of the regular trading session hours.

"Scheduled Observation Date" means any original date that, but for the occurrence of an event causing a Disrupted Day, would have been an Observation Date.

"Scheduled Trading Day" means any day on which each Exchange and each Related Exchange are scheduled to be open for trading for their respective regular trading sessions.

"Scheduled Valuation Date" means any original date that, but for the occurrence of an event causing a Disrupted Day, would have been a Valuation Date.

"Shares" and "Share" mean, subject to adjustment in accordance with these Share Linked Conditions, the shares or a share specified in the applicable Final Terms and related expressions shall be construed accordingly.

"Share Closing Price" means, in respect of a Share and any relevant date, subject to these Share Linked Conditions, an amount equal to the official closing price of such Share quoted on the relevant Exchange as determined by the Calculation Agent on such date.

"Share Company" means, in respect of a Share, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Share Performance" means unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, in respect of a Share and any relevant date, an amount (expressed as a percentage) determined by the Calculation Agent as being equal to (a) the Share Closing Price of such Share on such day, divided by (b) the Initial Price of such Share.

"Share Price" means, in respect of a Share and a time on any day and subject to these Share Linked Conditions, the price of such Share at such time on such day as determined by the Calculation Agent.

"Share Substitution Criteria" means (and the Share Substitution Criteria shall be deemed to be satisfied if), unless otherwise provided in the applicable Final Terms, in respect of a Share and any other relevant share:

- (a) the relevant issuer of such other relevant share belongs to a similar economic sector as the Share Company of such Share; and
- (b) the relevant issuer of such other relevant share has a comparable market capitalisation and international standing as the Share Company in respect of such Share.

"Stapled Share" means each Share in respect of which Stapled Share is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms.

"Stapled Share Principles" means, in respect of any Share which is a Stapled Share, the principles and/or provisions in the articles of association or other constitutive document of each Component Share Company of the Component Shares of such Share, in respect of the issue, subscription, transfer, pledge, encumbrance or acquisition of the Component Shares and the rights and obligations of holders of such Share, as may be amended or supplemented from time to time.

"Strike Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Trade Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Final Terms.

"Trading Disruption" means any suspension of or limitation imposed on trading by the relevant Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise and whether by reason of movements in price exceeding limits permitted by the relevant Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise (a) relating to the Share on the Exchange or (b) in futures or options contracts relating to the Share on any relevant Related Exchange.

"Valuation Cut-Off Date" means:

- (a) if "Valuation Cut-Off Date (Backstopped)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date or, if earlier, the Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the Common Scheduled Trading Day) falling on or immediately preceding the second Business Day immediately preceding the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made pursuant to any calculation or determination made on such Valuation Date, provided that the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall not fall prior to the original date on which such Valuation Date was scheduled to fall and in such case the original date shall be the Valuation Cut-Off Date; or
- (b) if "Valuation Cut-Off Date (No Backstop)" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Final Terms, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day) immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date.

"Valuation Date" means each Valuation Date specified in the applicable Final Terms or if such date is not a Scheduled Trading Day the immediately following Scheduled Trading Day, (or, where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall be applicable, or if such date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day), or, if earlier, the Valuation Cut-Off Date. If such day is a Disrupted Day, then:

- (a) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a single Share, the Valuation Date shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days up to, and including, the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day. In that case, or if such Valuation Date falls on the Valuation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for such Share, (i) the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day or not a Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, determine the relevant price in accordance with its good faith estimate of the relevant price as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date;
- (b) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" shall not be applicable, the Valuation Date for each Share not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Valuation Date (or, if earlier, the Valuation Cut-Off Date) and the Valuation Date for each Share affected (each an "Affected Share") by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Share, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date up to, and including, the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Share. In that case, or if such Valuation Date falls on the Valuation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Scheduled Trading Day for such Share, (i) the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date for such Share (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day or not a Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price using, in relation to such Share, a price determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using its good faith estimate of the price for such Share as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, and otherwise in accordance with the above provisions;

- (c) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Valuation Date for each Share not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Valuation Date (or if the Scheduled Valuation Date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day, or in either case, if earlier, the Valuation Cut-Off Date) and the Valuation Date for each Share affected (each an "Affected Share") by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Share, unless each of the Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date (or if the Scheduled Valuation Date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the immediately following Common Scheduled Trading Day) up to, and including, the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day relating to the Affected Share. In that case, or if such Valuation Date falls on the Valuation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, (i) the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date for such Share (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day for a Share or not a Common Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price using, in relation to such Share, a price determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using its good faith estimate of the price for such Share as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, and otherwise in accordance with the above provisions; or
- (d) where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares and the applicable Final Terms provides that "Common Scheduled Trading Days" and "Common Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, the Valuation Date shall be the first succeeding Common Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day for any Share, unless each of the Common Scheduled Trading Days immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date up to, and including, the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day for one or more Shares. In that case, or if the Valuation Date falls on the Valuation Cut-Off Date owing to the original date on which it was scheduled to fall not being a Common Scheduled Trading Day, (i) the Valuation Cut-Off Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day for a Share or not a Common Scheduled Trading Day) and (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine the relevant price using, in relation to each Share for which the Valuation Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day or is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, a price determined in the manner set out in the applicable Final Terms or, if not set out or if not practicable, using its good faith estimate of the price for such Share as of the Valuation Time on the Valuation Cut-Off Date, and otherwise in accordance with the above provisions.

"Valuation Time" means the Valuation Time specified in the applicable Final Terms or, if no Valuation Time is specified, the Scheduled Closing Time on the relevant Exchange on the relevant Valuation Date, Observation Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, in relation to each Share to be valued. If the relevant Exchange closes prior to its Scheduled Closing Time and the specified Valuation Time is after the actual closing time for its regular trading session, then the Valuation Time shall be such actual closing time.

"Worst Performing Share" means, in respect of a Basket of Shares and the Valuation Date (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms), the Share with the lowest Share Performance on such day, as determined by the Calculation Agent (provided that if two or more Shares have the same lowest Share Performance on such day, the Calculation Agent shall determine which Share shall be the Worst Performing Share, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, and such Share shall be the Worst Performing Share).

3. Barrier Event

- (a) A "Barrier Event (intraday)" means (and a Barrier Event (intraday) shall be deemed to occur if), in respect of a Share, the Calculation Agent determines that the Share Price of such Share as of the Barrier Event Valuation Time (intraday) on any Barrier Event Determination Day is less than or equal to the corresponding Barrier Level for such Share and such Barrier Event Determination Day.

For the purpose of determining whether a Barrier Event (intraday) has occurred on any day, the definition of Market Disruption Event specified in Share Linked Condition 4 shall be amended such that (i) all references to "during the one-hour period that ends at the relevant Valuation Time" shall be deleted, and (ii) in the definition of "Early Closure" appearing in Share Linked Condition 2, each reference to "Valuation Time" and "Scheduled Closing Time" shall be construed as a reference to "Barrier Event Valuation Time (intraday)".

- (b) A "Barrier Event (closing)" means (and a Barrier Event (closing) shall be deemed to occur if), in respect of a Share, the Calculation Agent determines that the Share Closing Price of such Share as of the Barrier Event Valuation Time (closing) on any Barrier Event Determination Day is less than or equal to the corresponding Barrier Level for such Share and such Barrier Event Determination Day.

4. Market Disruption

"Market Disruption Event" means, in relation to a Share, the occurrence or existence of (a) a Trading Disruption, (b) an Exchange Disruption, which in either case the Calculation Agent determines is material, at any time during the one-hour period that ends at the Valuation Time for such Share or (c) an Early Closure.

5. Correction to Share Prices

If the price of a Share published on any Valuation Date, Observation Date, or an Averaging Date (or other relevant date, as determined by the Calculation Agent) as the case may be, by the relevant Exchange and which is utilised for any calculation or determination made for the purposes of the Notes (a "Relevant Calculation") is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Share Price") published by the relevant Exchange no later than two Business Days prior to the date on which payment of any amount or delivery of any assets may have to be made pursuant to such Relevant Calculation, then such Corrected Share Price shall be deemed to be the relevant price for such Share on such Averaging Date, Observation Date or Valuation Date (or other relevant date, as determined by the Calculation Agent), as the case may be, and the Calculation Agent shall use such Corrected Share Price in determining the relevant price and/or whether the Barrier Event (closing) or Barrier Event (intraday), as the case may be, has been triggered.

6. Potential Adjustment Events, Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency, Announcement Event and De-stapling Event

- (a) (1) "Potential Adjustment Event" means any of the following:
- (i) a subdivision, consolidation or reclassification of relevant Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) (unless resulting in a Merger Event or, if Tender Offer is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, a Tender Offer) or a free distribution or dividend of any such Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) to existing holders by way of bonus, capitalisation or similar issue;
 - (ii) a distribution, issue or dividend to existing holders of the relevant Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) of (A) such Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be); (B) other share capital or securities granting the right to payment of dividends and/or the proceeds of liquidation of the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) equally or proportionately with such payments to holders of such Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be); (C) share capital or other securities of another issuer acquired or owned (directly or indirectly) by the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) as a result of a spin-off or other similar transaction; or (D) any other type of securities, rights or warrants or other assets, in any case for payment (in cash or otherwise) at less than the prevailing market price as determined by the Calculation Agent;

- (iii) an extraordinary dividend as determined by the Calculation Agent;
 - (iv) a call by a Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) in respect of relevant Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) that are not fully paid;
 - (v) a repurchase by the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) or by any of their respective subsidiaries, as the case may be, of relevant Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) whether out of profits or capital and whether the consideration for such repurchase is cash, securities or otherwise;
 - (vi) in respect of a Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) an event that results in any shareholder rights being distributed or becoming separated from shares of common stock or other shares of the capital stock of such Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) pursuant to a shareholder rights plan or arrangement directed against hostile takeovers that provides upon the occurrence of certain events for a distribution of preferred stock, warrants, debt instruments or stock rights at a price below their market value as determined by the Calculation Agent, provided that any adjustment effected as a result of such an event shall be readjusted upon any redemption of such rights;
 - (vii) any other event having, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be); or
 - (viii) in respect of any Share that is a Stapled Share, the making of any amendment or supplement to the terms of the Stapled Share Principles.
- (2) Following the declaration by the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) of the terms of any Potential Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent will, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) and, if so, will make the corresponding adjustment, if any, to any one or more of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines appropriate to account for that diluting or concentrative effect (provided that no adjustments will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends stock loan rate or liquidity relative to the relevant Share or Component Share (as the case may be)) and determine the effective date of that adjustment. The Calculation Agent may, but need not, determine the appropriate adjustment by reference to the adjustment in respect of such Potential Adjustment Event made by an options exchange to options on the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) traded on that options exchange.
- (3) If "Local Tax Adjustment" is specified in the applicable Final Terms as being applicable, then, in its determinations of the existence and extent of any dilutive or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) of any Potential Adjustment Event, and any related adjustments to the terms of the Instruments, the Calculation Agent shall take into account any amounts of Local Taxes that would, in the determination of the Calculation Agent, be withheld from or paid or otherwise incurred by an Offshore Investor in connection with such Potential Adjustment Event.

"Local Jurisdiction" shall mean the jurisdiction as specified in the applicable Final Terms and, in respect of any Share that is a Stapled Share, any other jurisdiction in which the Component Share Companies are incorporated or registered, as determined to be relevant by the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, (and, where the Calculation Agent determines a Local Jurisdiction to be United States, then this shall mean the United States' federal and/or state and/or local taxes and/or any political subdivision thereof).

"Local Taxes" shall mean taxes, duties, and similar charges imposed by or that could be imposed by the taxing authority of the Local Jurisdiction as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Offshore Investor" shall mean a holder of Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) who is an institutional investor not resident in the Local Jurisdiction for the purposes of the tax laws and regulations of the Local Jurisdiction and, for the avoidance of doubt, whose jurisdiction of residence (a) shall be determined by the Calculation Agent and (b) may be the jurisdiction of residence of the Issuer or any of its affiliates or agents.

- (4) Upon the making of any such adjustment, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, stating the adjustment to the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms and giving brief details of the Potential Adjustment Event provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such adjustment.
- (b) "De-listing" means, in respect of any relevant Shares:
- (i) in the case where the Exchange is not located in the United States, such Exchange announces that pursuant to the rules of such Exchange, such Shares cease (or will cease) to be listed, traded or publicly quoted on the Exchange for any reason (other than a Merger Event or, if Tender Offer is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, a Tender Offer) and are not immediately re-listed, re-traded or re-quoted on an exchange or quotation system located in the same country as the Exchange (or, where the Exchange is within the European Union, in a member state of the European Union); or
 - (ii) in the case where the Exchange is located in the United States, such Exchange announces that pursuant to the rules of such Exchange, such Shares cease (or will cease) to be listed, traded or publicly quoted on the Exchange for any reason (other than a Merger Event or, if Tender Offer is specified as applying in the applicable Final Terms, a Tender Offer) and are not immediately re-listed, re-traded or re-quoted on any of the New York Stock Exchange, the American Stock Exchange, the NASDAQ Global Select Market or the NASDAQ Global Market (or their respective successors).

If the Shares are immediately re-listed, re-traded or re-quoted on any exchange or quotation system, such exchange or quotation system shall be deemed to be the Exchange in respect of such Shares.

"Announcement Event" means the public announcement by the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) or a third party in relation to the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) and/or the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) of an intention to enter into a transaction or take an action that, if such transaction or action were consummated or taken before the Relevant Event Cut-Off Date, would constitute a Merger Event, Nationalisation, (save in respect of a Component Share) Delisting, (save in respect of a Component Share or a Share that is not a Stapled Share) De-stapling Event or Tender Offer as determined by the Calculation Agent, regardless of whether that transaction or action is scheduled to be consummated or taken, or is actually consummated or taken, before the Relevant Event Cut-Off Date or at all. Announcements capable of falling within the description above include any announcement by the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) or a third party of an intention to pursue "strategic alternatives" or a similar announcement, or any subsequent announcement relating to the same subject matter (including a subsequent announcement that the relevant transaction, event or strategy will not be pursued or consummated, as the case may be).

"De-stapling Date" means, in respect of any Share which is a Stapled Share, the date on which the Component Shares of such Share are, or are deemed to be, no longer trading as a single stapled security on the Exchange (as determined by the Calculation Agent).

"De-stapling Event" means, in respect of any Share which is a Stapled Share, the Component Shares of such Share are, or are deemed to be, no longer trading as a single stapled security on the Exchange.

"Insolvency" means that by reason of the voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or winding-up of or any analogous proceeding affecting the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) (i) all the Shares of that Share Company or all the Component Shares of that Component Share Company (as the case may be) are required to be transferred to a trustee, liquidator or other similar official or (ii) holders of the Shares of that Share Company or holders of the Component Shares of that Component Share Company (as the case may be) become legally prohibited from transferring them.

"Merger Date" means the closing date of a Merger Event or, where a closing date cannot be determined under the local law applicable to such Merger Event, such other date as determined by the Calculation Agent.

"Merger Event" means, in respect of any relevant Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be), any (i) reclassification or change of such Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) that results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all of such Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) outstanding to another entity or person, (ii) consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange of a Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) with or into another entity or person (other than a consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange in which such Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) is the continuing entity and which does not result in a reclassification or change of all of such Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) outstanding), (iii) takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer, solicitation, proposal or other event by any entity or person to purchase or otherwise obtain 100 per cent. of the outstanding Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) of the Share Company or the Component Share Company (as the case may be) that results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all such Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) (other than such Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) owned or controlled by such other entity or person), or (iv) consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange of the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) or its subsidiaries with or into another entity in which the Share Company or the Component Share Company (as the case may be) is the continuing entity and which does not result in a reclassification or change of all such Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) outstanding but results in the outstanding Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) (other than Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) owned or controlled by such other entity) immediately prior to such event collectively representing less than 50 per cent. of the outstanding Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) immediately following such event, in each case if the Merger Date is on or before the Relevant Event Cut-off Date.

"Relevant Event Cut-off Date" means, in respect of (i) Cash Settled Instruments, the last occurring Valuation Date or Observation Date, as the case may be, or where Averaging is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the final Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Instrument or (ii) in the case of Physical Delivery Notes, the Maturity Date, or (iii) Physical Delivery W&C Instruments the relevant Settlement Date.

"Nationalisation" means that all the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) or all or substantially all the assets of the Share Company or Component Share Company

(as the case may be) are nationalised, expropriated or are otherwise required to be transferred to any governmental agency, authority, entity or instrumentality thereof.

"Tender Offer" means a takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer, solicitation, proposal or other event by any entity or person that results in such entity or person purchasing, or otherwise obtaining or having the right to obtain, by conversion or other means, greater than 10 per cent. and less than 100 per cent. of the outstanding voting shares of the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) as determined by the Calculation Agent, based upon the making of filings with governmental or self-regulatory agencies or such other information as the Calculation Agent deems relevant.

"Tender Offer Date" means, in respect of a Tender Offer, the date on which voting shares in the amount of the applicable percentage threshold are actually purchased or otherwise obtained (as determined by the Calculation Agent).

- (c) If (x) a Merger Event, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency or (in respect of a Share that is a Stapled Share) De-stapling Event occurs in relation to a Share and/or (y) if Tender Offer is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, a Tender Offer occurs and/or (z) if Announcement Event is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, an Announcement Event occurs, the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, may take the action described in (i), (ii), (iii) or (iv) below:
- (i) require the Calculation Agent to determine in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms to account for the De-listing, Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency, Announcement Event or De-stapling Event, as the case may be, and determine the effective date of that adjustment. The Calculation Agent may (but need not) determine the appropriate adjustment by reference to the adjustment in respect of the Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency, Announcement Event or De-stapling Event made by any options exchange to options on the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) traded on that options exchange and the relevant adjustments may in the case of adjustments following a Merger Event, Tender Offer, Announcement Event or De-stapling Event include, without limitation, adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be); or
 - (ii) (A) in the case of Notes, give notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Note Condition 14 and redeem all, but not less than all, of the Notes, each nominal amount of Notes equal to the Calculation Amount being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount; or
 - (B) in the case of W&C Instruments, cancel the W&C Instruments by giving notice to Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12. If the W&C Instruments are so cancelled the Issuer will pay an amount to each Holder in respect of each W&C Instrument or Unit, as the case may be, held by him which amount shall be the Early Settlement Amount, taking into account the Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency, Announcement Event or De-stapling Event, as the case may be, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Payments will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Holders in accordance with W&C Instruments Condition 12; or
 - (iii) following such adjustment to the settlement terms of options on the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) traded on such exchange(s) or quotation system(s) as the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, shall select (the "Options Exchange"), require the Calculation Agent to make a corresponding adjustment to any one or more of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms which adjustment will be effective as of the date determined by the Calculation Agent to be the effective date of the corresponding adjustment made by the Options Exchange. If options on the Shares or Component Shares (as the case may be) are not traded on the Options Exchange, the Calculation Agent will make such adjustment, if any, to any one or more of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner determines appropriate, with reference to the rules and precedents (if any) set by the Options Exchange to account for the Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency, Announcement Event or De-stapling Event, as the case may be, that in the determination of the Calculation Agent would have given rise to an adjustment by the Options Exchange if such options were so traded; or

- (iv) unless the applicable Final Terms provides that "Share Substitution" shall not be applicable, then on or after the relevant Merger Date, Tender Offer Date, De-stapling Date or the date of the Nationalisation, Insolvency, De-listing or Announcement Event (as the case may be):

- (A) Where a Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency, De-listing, Announcement Event or De-stapling Event has occurred in respect of a Share, the Calculation Agent may substitute a share (the "Substitute Share") selected by it in accordance with the Share Substitution Criteria in place of the Share (the "Affected Share") which is affected by such Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency, De-listing, Announcement Event or De-stapling Event and the Substitute Share will be deemed to be a "Share" and the relevant issuer of such share, a "Share Company" for the purposes of the Instruments, and the Calculation Agent will make such adjustment, if any, to any of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines appropriate, provided that in the event that any amount payable under the Instruments was to be determined by reference to the price of the Affected Share on the Trade Date (or any such other historical date specified in the applicable Final Terms), the relevant price of the Substitute Share will be determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the following formula:

$$A \times (B/C)$$

Where:

"A" is the official closing price of the relevant Substitute Share on the relevant exchange, as determined by the Calculation Agent on the date that the substitution is effected;

"B" is the price of the Affected Share on the Trade Date (or any such other historical date specified in the applicable Final Terms) where such price is defined in the applicable Final Terms for the purposes of calculating any value or determining any amount payable in respect of the Instruments; and

"C" is the official closing price of the relevant Affected Share on the relevant Exchange on the date that the substitution is effected.

Where the Share Linked Instruments relate to a Basket of Shares, the weighting of each Substitute Share in the basket will be equal to the weighting of the relevant Affected Share; and

- (B) In respect of a Share that is a Stapled Share, where a Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Announcement Event has occurred in respect of a Component Share of such Share ("Affected Component Share") and the Calculation Agent determines that such Affected Component Share has been replaced by a replacement share (the "Substitute Component Share") such that such Share shall comprise such Substitute Component Share and any other remaining Component Share, then the Calculation Agent may determine that the Substitute Component Share shall be deemed to be a "Component Share" in place of the Affected Component Share and the relevant issuer of such Substitute Component Share will replace the Component Share Company of the Affected Component Share, and the Calculation Agent will make such adjustment, if any, to any of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines appropriate.

Upon the occurrence of a Merger Event, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency, Announcement Event, Tender Offer or De-stapling Event, the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with Note Condition 14 or W&C Instruments Condition 12, as applicable, stating the occurrence of the Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency, Announcement Event or De-stapling Event, or as the case may be, giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto provided that any failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-listing, Nationalisation, Insolvency, Announcement Event or De-stapling Event, as the case may be.

7. Non-euro Quoted Shares

In respect of Share Linked Instruments relating to Shares originally quoted, listed and/or dealt as of the Trade Date in a currency of a member state of the European Union that has not adopted the single currency in accordance with the Treaty, if such Shares are at any time after the Trade Date quoted, listed and/or dealt exclusively in euro on the relevant Exchange or, where no Exchange is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the principal market on which those Shares are traded, then the Calculation Agent will adjust any of the terms of the Terms and Conditions and/or the applicable Final Terms as the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines to be appropriate to preserve the economic terms of the Instruments. The Calculation Agent will make any conversion necessary for purposes of any such adjustment as of the Valuation Time at an appropriate mid-market spot rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent prevailing as of the Valuation Time. No adjustments under this provision will affect the currency denomination of any payment obligation arising out of the Instruments.

8. Additional Disruption Events

- (a) "Additional Disruption Event" means any of Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging, Increased Cost of Stock Borrow, Loss of Stock Borrow, Insolvency Filing, Non-compliance Event and/or Regulatory Order, in each case if specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) (i) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (ii) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines that (A) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any relevant Share or Component Share (as the case may be) or (B) the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations in relation to the Share Linked Instruments (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on the tax position of the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates).

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the equity or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the Share Linked Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s).

"Hedging Shares" means the number of Shares that the Calculation Agent deems necessary to hedge the equity or other price risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Share Linked Instruments.

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (i) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the equity or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the Share Linked Instruments, or (ii) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s), provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates or agents shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging.

"Increased Cost of Stock Borrow" means that the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates would incur a rate to borrow Shares that is greater than the Initial Stock Loan Rate.

"Initial Stock Loan Rate" means, in respect of a Share, the Initial Stock Loan Rate specified in relation to such Share in the applicable Final Terms.

"Insolvency Filing" means that a Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) institutes or has instituted against it by a regulator, supervisor or any similar official with primary insolvency, rehabilitative or regulatory jurisdiction over it in the jurisdiction of its incorporation or organisation or the jurisdiction of its head or home office, or it consents to a proceeding seeking a judgment of insolvency or bankruptcy or any other relief under any bankruptcy or insolvency law or other similar law affecting creditors' rights, or a petition is presented for its winding-up or liquidation by it or such regulator, supervisor or similar official or it consents to such a petition, provided that proceedings instituted or petitions presented by creditors and not consented to by the Share Company or Component Share Company (as the case may be) shall not be deemed an Insolvency Filing.

"Loss of Stock Borrow" means that the Issuer and/or any affiliate is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to borrow (or maintain a borrowing of) any Share in an amount equal to the Hedging Shares at a rate equal to or less than the Maximum Stock Loan Rate.

"Maximum Stock Loan Rate" means in respect of a Share, the Maximum Stock Loan Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Non-compliance Event" means:

- (i) any non-compliance with or breach, violation or contravention by a Holder of any undertakings, obligations and/or provisions of the Relevant Selling and Transfer Restrictions for the Relevant Jurisdiction;
- (ii) any inaccuracy with respect to any representations made or deemed to be made by a Holder under the Relevant Selling and Transfer Restrictions for the Relevant Jurisdiction;
- (iii) any failure by any Holder to provide the Issuer and/or its Affiliates promptly with any information or document (including, without limitation, any "know your client" information relating to the Holder and/or its associates, affiliates or nominees), or any additional information or additional document, or

- (iv) any failure by any Holder to promptly comply with any request of the Issuer, the Guarantor or any of their respective Affiliates to execute any document, including, without limitation, any request to execute any side letter or representation letter, in each case that the Issuer, the Guarantor or any of their respective Affiliates reasonably deems necessary or appropriate in order to comply with regulations or requests of any governmental or regulatory authorities of the Relevant Jurisdiction from time to time,

in each case, as determined by the Issuer.

"Relevant Jurisdiction" means, in relation to any Share Linked Instruments and each Share, any jurisdiction in which a Share is listed and/or traded (or is proposed to be listed and/or traded) on a stock exchange located in such jurisdiction and/or any jurisdiction specified in the applicable Final Terms.

"Relevant Selling and Transfer Restrictions" means, in respect of a Relevant Jurisdiction, such selling and transfer restrictions (if any) as specified in the applicable Final Terms for such Relevant Jurisdiction.

The Relevant Selling and Transfer Restrictions shall be deemed to be incorporated into and form part of this Share Linked Condition 8 (Additional Disruption Events).
